foreword

Education in all areas—social, physical, mental, spiritual—is vital for effective personal evangelism: " . . . I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some." (Corinthians 9:22).

Olivet endeavors to teach Christian principles in such a manner that they are embodied in the everyday life of the individual. Thus the person who has received a Christian education, basically grounded as he is in the Christian philosophy of life, will be equipped in every way to serve the world in which he lives, and to witness for Christ in any area in which he labors.

In every facet of our education we are educated for evangelism. Olivet educates students not only to be ministers and missionaries but to serve in various educational and business fields and to be in these areas of service personal, living witnesses for Christ and the Church.

Olivet Nazarene College is dedicated to "Education with a Christian purpose," which is another way of saying "Education for evangelism."

New Developments

Nesbitt Hall is the first building constructed as part of Olivet's three-million dollar, ten-year expansion program. The new $380,000 women's dormitory will house 150 women beginning with the fall term.

During the summer, three tennis courts with green laykold surface were constructed at a cost of $13,000. The faculty parking area was black-topped. Additional housing was also provided for junior girls by the purchase of the Hardin estate, 174 North Convent Street, and for men by the purchase of the property at 208 South Main Street.

In March 1960 the College bought the home of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown at 925 South Chicago Avenue for the President's home. It is a two-story brick structure facing the Kankakee River. It contains nine rooms and two sun porches. The new home will provide space for college social activities which normally take place in a president's home.

Dedication

Through thirteen years as an Olivet faculty member you have won the recognition of students and faculty as a dedicated and loyal Christian professor. As a teacher of the Romance Languages you are the ideal of your students: your spirit of youthful enthusiasm inspires and lifts them to a plane of greater enjoyment of their work and a greater personal dedication to Christ.

As a Christian you have manifested those qualities which St. Paul says are appropriate to "sound doctrine": you are temperate, serious in purpose, sensible, strong in faith, in love, and in patience.

You have carried your Christian witness into academic life as a professor, into social life through unnumbered activities, into religion as a Sunday School teacher and counselor, and into sports through your active interest in athletics, especially as the sponsor of the Trojan Athletic Society.

Because of the high ideals for which you stand and your achievement in bringing personal evangelism into every aspect of your life, we dedicate the 1960 Aurora to you, PROFESSOR LEO W. SLAGG.

• Student Life

A combination of mental and social activities constitute a large portion of campus life at Olivet. The mental activities stimulate a drive for success and increase our sense of responsibility. The social side supplies entertainment and develops the personality.

We become well adjusted through a proper balance of these two sides of college life by attending classes, parties, lectures, plays, and other forms of intellectual and social experiences.

In these varied activities we are broadening our education and preparing ourselves for advancing the Kingdom of God through our personal testimony.

A Backward Glance to Spring '59

"Servant in the House" by Charles Kennedy

"Eh—What?" says the Lord Bishop with his ear trumpet in his hand.

"The Servant in the House," a three-act play, was presented by the English Guild on May 16, at the Kankakee High School Auditorium. The setting of the play was the home of an English vicar who, in seeking to restore a decadent church, succeeded through the extraordinary services of the servant in the house.

The play, under the direction of Professor David Beeman, had as its cast: Ray McInturff, vicar; Connie Zachary, wife of the vicar; Carol Davidson, niece of the vicar; Don Lytle, "the servant in the house"; Lowell Thomas, bishop; Roger McMurrin, butler; and Ron Miller, plumber.

Manson describes heaven and the golden city as he sees it in a vision.

Having been separated from her father since childhood, Mary cries upon being reunited with him.

The Vicar looks on as his wife sobs under the impact of Manson's words in revealing her plot.

Cox as President

Campus activity is at its peak when election time rolls around. Party leaders jump on the band wagon, with faithful supporters riding behind them.

The Practical Party presented its candidates Don Lytle, Ken Bond, and Joanne Sprague, along with a platform emphasizing religious activity, extracurricular organizations, and student affairs and a goal of achieving greater unity in the student body.

Candidates for the Progressive Party were Larry Cox, Keith Powell, and Dorothy Acord. The Progressives' platform contained planks for promoting spiritual, academic, and social unity and "for making Olivet a better place to worship, study, and live."

After the election, the newly elected officers of the student body were presented in chapel and are now serving for the '59-'60 school year: president, Larry Cox; treasurer, Ken Bond; secretary, Dorothy Acord.

Junior-Senior Banquet . . . Upperclassmen Step Out

As the school year drew to a close, the junior and senior classes became greatly animated with anticipation of the grandest party of the year—the Junior-Senior Banquet. Each spring the upperclassmen step out in grand style for THEIR party.

Spring of 1959 brought one of the most outstanding parties the college has sponsored. The pre-party in Williams Hall was followed by the banquet proper at the exclusive Olympia Fields Country Club in Olympia Fields, Illinois. A French theme was carried out in gold and white. The dinner was followed by Mr. Rowland Myers' speech on "How We Use Words." At intervals throughout the evening, engagements of couples were announced.

The banquet was climaxed by a post-party at Chicago First Church of the Nazarene, at which refreshments were served and a movie shown on wild life of the desert.

Mr. Rowland M. Myers, guest speaker from New York, delighted listeners with his charm and wit as a language expert.

Entertainers Lewie and "Lulu" Turner reminisce on their days of courtship, with a trace of "nostalgia."

Connie and Keith are greeted with smiles and an applause of approval at the announcement of their engagement.

They agree that the party was fun, the food was good, and the company exceptional.

On the evening before Commencement, the Division of Fine Arts presents the Commencement Concert.

Graduation . . . Sheepskin . . . Memories

Upon returning to campus from their class trip, the seniors are soon busy with pre-commencement activities. Viewing their four years of work, now nearing completion, they reminisce over experiences and friendships which they will long remember.

The seniors, upon looking back four years, realize how much they have developed and matured as citizens and as Christians. For in the atmosphere at Olivet under the direction of a Christian faculty, the Olivet students get an education "with a Christian purpose."

Commencement represents the end of one phase of life for the graduate, and paves the way for the next phase—that of taking his place in the great movement of evangelizing the world.

Commencement Day 1959; seniors advance toward receipt of their diplomas.

During the Summer Months . . .

Upon leaving at the end of the school year, many students lose track of what goes on at Olivet during the summer months. They know nothing of the outdoor classes, the field trips, the various campus projects and improvements that are so much a part of the summer campus life. Some new freshmen come for summer school to get "broken in" early, and new friendships are made with students who had theretofore been lost in the crowd.

Campus life is generally calm and quiet in comparison with the busy, hectic days from September through May. But after a few months away, students are eager to return and "catch up" on their friends' summer activities.

With the coming of summer the campus blossoms out.

In the Fall Activity Gains Momentum

"Announcer" Chuck Millhuff interviews Sharon Hendricker at a Freshman orientation party.

Orientation . . .
Tests, Parties, New Acquaintances

Freshman orientation week does not consist of just a battery of tests, as some new freshmen believe, but it is also a pleasurable time in which the new students learn to adjust to college life. Every possible method is used to make the frustrated freshman feel that he is among friends. Included in the many activities which are provided are a faculty reception, a tea given by Dr. and Mrs. Reed, and an all-school party. Various new friends help them to feel that they are an essential part of the Olivet campus. The new student usually thinks that college life is going to consist of only hours and hours of endless studying, but he soon finds that at Olivet academic goals are paralleled by spiritual emphasis and Christian fellowship. Soon the new student finds various phases of Olivet's college life that interest him and he is no longer a stranger to this new way of life.

The repetition of necessary data to be written on the numerous cards adds to the deflated feeling of the student.

Registration . . . Endless Lines

Registration day has finally come. It doesn't seem possible to the freshmen that they are registering for classes in college. But it's true all right, as they will all affirm after this first experience is over. Quite an experience it is too! Closed classes and schedule conflicts add to the frustration of bewildered freshmen; for even the upperclassmen, although experienced and confident, find themselves still confused.

After everything is over one leaves exhausted, wondering if he is taking what he wants, or even if he is taking anything at all that will help him graduate.

When one nears the end of registration, facts and figures are computed in the finance line.

Classes Begin . . . Assignments and Study

With all the opening activities of school over, the students are soon swamped with classes, study assignments, and those ever-present daily quizzes.

Their activities during the first few days are quite disorganized, as they find it hard to adjust to classes. Extra time is at a minimum, for work and studies are already pressing.

The topic of conversation changes from "Have you met so-and-so?" to "Have you got that speech assignment?"

After the first week of adjustment, "7:30's" are the regular procedure.

Release from Tension

How does one relax in this busy whirl of college life? One can relax by listening to records played on a hi-fi, a good book before his eyes and popcorn and a Pepsi nearby—say within an arm's reach; by a lively "bull session"; or by sitting in the Universe talking with a group of students with good FM music to create a relaxing mood. Perhaps one carries on this latter activity with a special someone, or the two of them may enjoy a good talk in the pleasant lounge just off the eating area in the Universe. The reading lounges in the library provide a suitable place for one to catch up on his periodical reading. Attending Prayer Band is a helpful devotional relaxation between supper and the evening class or study period. Some more vigorous individuals may enjoy a good workout in the gymnasium—trampoline, basketball, track, or swimming.

Yes, the Olivet student can find relaxation in these and many other ways. But, too, one will find a person studying here and there. Really, a true student studies first, and then relaxes.

Short orders are available while relaxing in the "U."

Mrs. Wellman's Tea Room, a new off-campus addition, offers to the student a homey atmosphere and delicious homemade pastries.

In the Library . . .

There are as many different habits of study as there are students in the College. Of the nearly one thousand students, everyone at one time or another frequents the library. As one browses through the open stacks, reads a magazine, investigates the many reference books, or listens to records in the music library, he realizes that there is always more to learn but never enough time in which to learn it.

The library is a convenient place to study with the proper atmosphere. But not only are intellectual needs met in the library, the need for relaxation is also satisfied.

Dave and Jerry relax awhile in the current periodical section and catch up on the latest news from two of the five daily newspapers that come to our library.

Pat, Ronald, and "Lewie" find it an easy job to find the book they want in the catalogue room where index cards of all the books in the library are kept.

The individual desks on second floor supply atmosphere for really "hitting the books."

Albums of records and music scores in the music room provide the music student with educational and recreational music.

A Home Away from Home

Williams Hall

Over two hundred and fifty girls, four corridors of freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, share their friendship and tuck away memories of college life at Williams Hall. The girls find that dorm life is exciting in the opportunities it gives them, for here they have responsibilities, fun, and times of contemplation.

The laundry room, television room, and large parlor contribute to the homelike atmosphere. New ideas, new experiences, and new rules and regulations face freshmen upon arrival; but they soon become adjusted and agree that dorm life is a great life!

Do-it-yourself laundry facilities are available in the laundry room on the first floor.

Chapman Hall

Many firm friendships are fostered within the walls of Chapman Hall. Roommates, neighbors, monitors—all become close to one another, even under the rough exterior characteristic of the male sex.

Most of the men attending Olivet call Chapman Hall their home away from home.

The prayer room on fourth floor enables the fellows to find "a place of quiet rest near to the heart of God."

Twenty-four hour telephone reception service is a definite asset.

Away from home, a fellow suddenly finds himself dependent upon his own domestic skill.

Already a dime has been spent on this date.

Junior House

As Olivet's enrollment increases each year, new buildings are needed to house its students. This year, to help relieve the overcrowdedness of Williams Hall, the College purchased the Hardin house, a large white building located about a block and a half from the immediate campus.

In September, twenty-two junior girls and Miss Esther Crain, the resident counselor, moved into the house. Immediately they began planning how to turn it into a desirable, comfortable, and attractive home. With paint, soap and water, draperies, ingenuity, and lots of work, they succeeded. Now, among other comforts, the juniors have a lovely parlor, furnished with a fireplace, for entertaining guests.

Senior Houses

The quiet appearance of the senior houses is quite deceiving, for within these houses live upperclassmen with schedules full of various activities. The senior houses, located two blocks from the campus, house twenty-eight senior girls.

Comfortable living rooms in each and the kitchen in the main house provide a relaxed and homey atmosphere.

Mrs. Alta Harper is the resident counselor.

Use of the intercom system makes communication between houses fast and easy.

Societies "Rush" . . .

One of the oldest traditions at Olivet is also one of the most popular traditions: it is called "Rush Day." This is the day in mid-September that new students are "rushed" by Indian, Spartan, and Trojan Society members who are eager to sign them up for their society. On "Rush Day" a spirit of enthusiasm permeates the entire campus, and morale soars to new heights. Society officers and coaches campaign with fervor in their efforts to sign up as many new members as possible in order to strengthen the teams and fill the vacancies left by graduation of society members. Membership in a society is important to social development of the student, for it affords him many opportunities to participate not only as an athlete but as a "rooter" as well. A society member is as active in his society as he desires to be. Team participation, cheerleading, poster-making, and planning pep rallies are some of the forms of activity that a society member may enjoy.

Choosing to pledge their loyalty to the red and white of the Indian Society are these frosh.

The Spartan Society readily accepts the pledge cards from eager new members as more freshmen sign up.

There is an air of activity emanating from the club booths.

Clubs Recruit . . .

Club Day has become one of the many traditions which are so much a part of campus life. On this designated day each club sets up a booth, usually on a tennis court, at which it displays materials pertaining to the activities it engages in, and the officers sign up any students who are interested in membership. Much of the campus student life is centered around various club activities which include special speakers, vocational and professional meetings, educational films, and field trips.

Students milling about club booths glance over club information, trying to decide which clubs they will join.

Faculty Retreat to Turkey Run

Each year a day is set aside on which the faculty leaves campus for a long week end of relaxation and fun, placing upon the student leaders the responsibility of the college. This year the faculty went to Turkey Run State Park in Indiana. They enjoyed a time of fellowship and recreation, dismissing from their minds momentarily the burdens and anxieties of their respective responsibilities.

The students, meanwhile, carried on efficiently and enthusiastically, as if this were an everyday occurrence. They taught classes, managed the various offices, and handled all matters that arose during the day. The mature attitude with which the student body faces this tradition is the very thing that has enabled it to exist.

For evening devotions men and women are separated, according to custom in the old meeting house.

Larry Cox, College President

Dorothy Acord, Dean of the College

Students Assume Administration

Freshman Workday . . . Great Spirit — No Dignity

Every college initiates the incoming freshmen class in a memorable way; it's a tradition. At Olivet, the sophomore class is the aggressive faction in such an initiation, while the upper-classmen passively watch with extreme enjoyment and strong encouragement.

In the fall of '59 the freshmen were divided into units, some of which marched incessantly. Other units were assigned the challenging task of polishing leaves, while still others graciously scrubbed and dusted sidewalks. It was evident to all that the freshmen wanted to be proud of the cleanliness of the campus, and they took great pains in their work under the watchful eyes of the ruling sophomore class.

One of the traditions looked forward to with anticipation is that of the Junior Retreat. On the appointed day the juniors get up early, eat a magnificent breakfast served them in grand fashion by the senior class, and soon afterwards start on their way for a day of relaxation (for they are excused from all classes).

This year's junior class journeyed to Turkey Run State Park in Indiana for what proved to be an absolutely wonderful day. Activities included hours of rugged hiking, horseback riding, bicycle racing, ping-pong, shuffleboard, and various other pastimes. The high point of the day was at dusk, when, after devotions, the juniors gathered at the shelter for a giant steak fry, followed by a hayride through the lovely park area. Long live such traditions at Olivet!

Bob Huff has encountered two young lovelies who vie for his favor and acceptance of a twirp date.

Twirp Week . . . "Dutch Treats"

"Twirp Week" is an activity sponsored annually by the Women's Residence Association. During "Twirp Week" chivalry is the province of the ladies, for all dating customs are reversed. The lady asks the fellow of her choice, calls for him, assists him with doors, his coat, his chair—anything that he would normally do for her. She shows him a wonderful time, and at the end of the evening she picks up the check. The outstanding feature of the week this year was the hayride. Wagons made comfortable with a generous supply of hay were filled to capacity with eager riders. Students returned from the ride to cider and sandwiches prepared and served by the W.R.A.

Some girls, unfortunately, are rather shy in regard to twirping, for such an activity is a new thing for them. But generally speaking, "Twirp Week" is a great success with the student body, especially with the freshman class, for they are eager to get into the swing of college life.

Homecoming Chapel and Coronation

Students found their respective chapel seats and waited with eagerness for the naming and crowning of the 1959-60 Homecoming Queen, while the candidates also waited anxiously in a small room adjacent to the chapel auditorium. Some students found it difficult to listen to the announcements and preliminaries or to the chapel speaker for wondering who had been chosen queen.

At the end of the program, Glimmerglass Business Manager, Byron Buker, came forward to introduce the Queen and her court. Everyone became extremely quiet and stifled their whispers as he announced, ". . . Your Homecoming Queen for 1959, MISS MARILYN TRIMBLE!" The student body broke into applause for the Queen they had chosen, as she, trembling with emotion, came forward to be crowned by Student Body President Larry Cox. This was the beginning of her reign. During the half-time ceremonies at the football game she and her beautiful court, riding in gleaming new convertibles, circled the entire field. Pausing in the open field between the alumni and college section, she was presented with the traditional white Bible by President Reed and with lovely red roses by the president of the Associated Students. Later, she and her court sat in regal state at the giant smorgasbord in Birchard Fieldhouse.

College Church made a wonderful setting for the fourth annual sacred Homecoming Concert. This was a time of reminiscing for many students and alumni. The special vocalists and instrumentalists, representing the alumni and Orpheus Choir, performed before a capacity audience.

A highlight, and perhaps the climax of the entire concert, was Orpheus' presentation of "The Creation," which thrilled singer and listener alike. This number featured alumni member Lauren Larsen ('57).

Alumni Meet, Greet, and Eat

An enjoyable atmosphere was created in Birchard Fieldhouse with the dropped ceiling in purple and gold and the white and golden draperies.

A post-game highlight, and something new among the usual homecoming activities, was the giant smorgasbord served in Birchard Fieldhouse.

The head table was graced by Queen Marilyn, her court, and their escorts; while hundreds of students, faculty, and alumni were seated by hostesses at the other tables. Beverages and desserts were served at the tables by a corps of waiters and waitresses, who busily filled and refilled coffee cups by the score.

Mr. Hayes and his crew produced delicious dishes of food in amazing quantity, and did a superb job of satisfying the hearty appetites of those who had so enthusiastically cheered their team at the football game at Bradley High School.

This new venture was indeed a successful one, for everyone who participated enjoyed it.

Oral interpretation of some Shakespearean plays was given by Professor and Mrs. Earl Harlan of Purdue University.

Lectures and Lyceums . . . Intellectual Stimuli

With the desire to learn and to become better acquainted with the changing world around them, the students and faculty of Olivet take advantage of lectures given by experts in various areas. These programs feature subjects from every period in history and from many fields of interest. This wide scope of programs keeps the students and faculty of Olivet up-to-date with the thought and progress of the day, gives them a broader outlook on life, and keeps them poised through knowledge and cultural enrichment to meet the pressures of the day.

Presenting . . .

The massed choirs and soloists combine in the singing of the moving "Hallelujah Chorus."

Olivet Nazarene College continued a tradition of more than two decades in the 24th annual presentation of George Frederick Handel's Messiah.

This year's choir included 185 voices with over half coming from Orpheus and Apollo choirs. Twenty-six church choirs of the area were represented in the mass choir, the largest number of choirs ever to participate.

The performances this year were attended once again by large and appreciative audiences.

Four new faculty members were featured in this year's performance; and for the first time a number was dedicated to the organizer, the late Dr. Walter B. Larsen. The final number, "Worthy Is the Lamb That Was Slain," was dedicated to him. Another selection, not previously sung, was added: "Behold the Lamb of God." Because of the length of the oratorio the Messiah is seldom sung in its entirety.

Halloween Party - - - "ID"

"ID," the annual Halloween Party, was held in Birchard Gymnasium and sponsored by the Junior Class.

To create a weird and desolate atmosphere, an old wooded country graveyard was used as the setting. Located in this cemetery was "The National Embalming School," where each year, on this same night, its alumni return for their annual "Homecoming."

During the course of the program some of the former students, now well-to-do witches, gathered to talk over old-times, while others displayed their still lively talents by singing.

The evening ended with refreshments of doughnuts and cider, and with the alumni of "The National Embalming School" leaving the halls of their Alma Mater hoping to return next October 31st.

The Christmas Party . . . "A Deep Winter Night"

"A Deep Winter Night," the annual semiformal Christmas party, was held in the Bourbonnais Elementary School Auditorium, which was decorated in such a manner as to create an old-fashioned atmosphere.

Activities typical of Christmas observance fifty years ago included the yule log, the Christmas carolers, the family receiving gifts at the church, and the much-anticipated trip to grandmother's. These activities constituted the program of the party.

A highlight of the evening was the delicious "old-fashioned" dinner. Platters of enticing stuffed turkeys were served by Santa's helpers and then carved by the hosts at the tables. The combination of atmosphere, entertainment, and savory food made "A Deep Winter Night" one of the most memorable all-school parties sponsored by the Social Committee this year.

Valentine Party . . . "Rue de l'Amour"- -Street of Romance

An imitation of an open-air street cafe in Paris created the atmosphere for the semiformal Valentine Party. Throughout the Small Auditorium the atmosphere of a French cafe was suggested through decorative buildings along a French street as well as by the street scenes represented.

The program was highlighted with the introduction of the Valentine Sweetheart. From the candidates chosen, Miss Carolyn Matheny, a sophomore, was elected to reign as Sweetheart over the party.

The sweet aroma of French coffee and cherry tarts, served throughout the evening, had an unusual power of putting one in a very romantic mood while visiting the Rue de l' Amour.

The painter has a sale at last; and the American tourists have an original painting from a Parisian artist's collection.

French coffee served continually adds to the romantic atmosphere of a street cafe.

As an accredited liberal arts college with a Christian heritage, Olivet Nazarene College provides the student opportunity to enlarge his general education and to lay a foundation in his special field of interest. He not only learns facts, but clarifies principles to be used in interpretation and evaluation.

A dedicated faculty is qualified to give the student an academic education and to guide him to a firm understanding of spiritual values.

Grounded in religious thought and girded with a command of specialized knowledge, the Olivet graduate is educated for evangelism.

Dr. Harold W. Reed

The President's Message

This has been an exciting year on Olivet's Campus. Many things have transpired which have been both inspirational and challenging. It has been a year of intellectual achievement and cultural contribution. It has been a year of spritual blessing, both in the chapel services and campus-wide revivals. It has been a year of wholesome fellowship and social activities. It has been a year of building and expanding the physical campus.

This year marks the completion of Nesbitt Residential Hall for women, the first of the five buildings which are contemplated in the Development Program. In the words of Mr. J. Harlan Milby, "We have one down and four to go." Some of you will be privileged to enjoy the comforts and conveniences of Nesbitt Hall. Possibly some of you will be here when the new Science Building is completed. I recall that John Ruskin once said, "We do not build for present delight, nor for present use alone, but let our work be such, as we lay stone on stone, that when our descendants look upon the labor and wrought substance they will thank us and say, 'See! this our fathers did for us.' " All of you are enjoying now the most commodious accommodations that Olivet has ever offered a student body.

My philosophy of Christian higher education is that the student is at the center or at the heart of everything that is done or planned. This is true whether it is in planning the curriculum, securing faculty members, selecting an evangelist, or erecting new buildings.

All of us at Olivet have been personally enriched by your presence, and in turn we trust your lives will be fuller and richer because you came to a college that sincerely desires to give "Education with a Christian Purpose."

Harold W. Reed

In Memoriam . . .

Charles F. Jacobs, age 63, went to his heavenly reward on January 8, 1960, after a short illness. This wonderful Christian layman left in the memory of friends and loved ones a clear and definite testimony to God's grace in saving and sanctifying power.

He had been a member of Olivet's Board of Trustees for approximately five years and was the chairman of the Olivet Development Committee for Missouri. Not only has he helped Olivet in these ways, but through him many young people have received financial assistance which enabled them to attend Olivet.

We thank God for men like Mr. Jacobs, who have unselfishly given to the building of God's kingdom.

Education and Psychology

In preparing for a profession in the educational field, the student finds himself playing children's games, gathering ideas, and making lesson plans. He finds too that through a wider background in psychology he can better understand the learning processes and be more able to help the child. Through the Departments of Education, Psychology, and Physical Education, the student gathers information which helps him in his preparation to teach others. The student teaching program gives the prospective teacher opportunity to apply in a practical way the lessons he learns in the classroom.

Working in harmony with state and local groups, the Division attempts to bring about better methods of teaching and higher professional standards.

In-service teachers are encouraged to take classes in psychology and education which stress practical methods of teaching.

An attempt is made to help the student to understand human behavior and, in keeping with the aims of the college, to realize the opportunities Christian teachers have in this field.

Student teaching gives actual on-the-job training to those majoring in education.

Testing the I.Q. of a child fulfills a requirement in the class in mental testing.

Child psychology courses become practical when the student teacher observes a child as she draws a man.

Natural Sciences

Through the lectures and through laboratory periods in which students get first-hand experience in biology, chemistry, physics, calculus, botany, and other sciences, the Division of Natural Sciences develops in students the ability to deal with scientific problems now and in their future life work. Scientists and doctors who in the future further the progress of civilization possibly will have studied in the laboratories of Olivet.

Students who attend these classes are not necessarily planning to go into science, medicine, or mathematics as a vocation. These courses are an integral part of the liberal arts education a young person receives here at Olivet. Under the teaching of professors dedicated to the cause of Christ, the student is made aware of the wonders of God's creative work. The student learns to seek the truth scientifically, with an open mind, but always assured that God's work is to be seen in every scientific achievement.

Religion and Philosophy
Diversion: preaching; watching athletic sports.

Religion and Philosophy

The Division of Religion and Philosophy strives primarily to direct the student to self-realization of Christ through a full commitment to Him. This is done by acquainting the student with the religious, cultural and scriptural heritage of the Christian faith. The courses in this division help the student apply Christian principles to the socio-economic and cultural problems of his day.

In Biblical literature classes an attempt is made to lead students to an intelligent appreciation of the Bible as the foundation of our Christian faith and as a vital factor in our civilization.

Through the philosophy courses the student is awakened to the necessity and importance of reflective thinking, and is aided in making purposeful personal adjustments to life.

The Department of Theology cultivates a richer appreciation of the doctrines and institutions of the Christian Church by giving the student a more adequate knowledge of their origin, development, and historical importance. Young ministers receive through this department aids for effectiveness in preaching and in pastoral methods.

In addition to classroom instruction, lectures and workshops sponsored by the department are of great benefit to theology students.

This informal philosophy discussion gives the students an opportunity to exercise their power of thinking under the guidance of the professor.

A diagram helps in the understanding of a difficult concept.

Ministerial students gain experience in preaching while filling the pulpit in Prayer Band and in area churches.

Social Sciences

In keeping with the objectives of Olivet Nazarene College the Division of Social Sciences attempts through its course of study to develop the ideals of Christian democracy, to promote a knowledge of the institutions of modern society, and to help students understand the problems that face the world today. An attempt is made to promote an appreciation of other cultures and an understanding of the peoples they represent.

The curriculum provides vocational opportunities in such areas as business administration, home economics, and social service. Every student is given opportunity to enrich his understanding of his own society through liberal arts courses offered in the division.

Through these courses the general students as well as the students specializing are able to increase their effectiveness as Christians in their dealings with other people.

Fine Arts

The Division of Fine Arts provides the opportunity for each student to participate actively in its program. The choirs, the orchestra, and the band are open to all students with the desire and ability to take part. Those who do not wish to participate may enjoy the presentation of Handel's Messiah, the student recitals, or the exhibits of original paintings by contemporary artists.

The Fine Arts curriculum is designed to train those who wish to make a serious study of art and music to take their place as useful Christian artists, teachers, and ministers of music. And aware that fine arts is an integral part of the liberal arts curriculum also, the Division attempts to give every student of the college a fundamental appreciation of art and music.

The Art Department enriches the culture of the entire student body by library-loaned exhibits as well as through student art displays.

Brass instruments may present many problems to the beginner, but with practice and experienced advice even the most difficult score can be mastered.

The music student prepares for a life of Christian service through class or private lessons and hours of diligent practice.

Languages and Literature

In the division of Language and Literature a student is exposed to Classical, English, and Modern cultures through the study of their languages and literature. These studies broaden the student's own cultural background. Works of literature are closely related to the social, religious, and political ideals of the peoples involved, and a study of them increases the student's understanding of the peoples they represent.

During the day, one can hear foreign language classes singing songs in the languages studied. In the language laboratory students are concentrating on the new idiom conveyed to them through the earphones. As a result they advance rapidly in their knowledge and appreciation of the languages and cultures being studied.

Some unusual noises are heard from time to time issuing from a lively speech class, where the students are not only learning the fundamentals of speech but are developing, we hope, an appreciation for the true and the beautiful in oral expression.

Throughout the year the Speech Club and English Guild give opportunities to students to utilize their talents in verbal expression and expose them to many areas of literary culture.

Following in his book phrases spoken on the tape recorder the student gains a better understanding of a foreign language.

Speech exercises help the student relax and feel at ease in front of an audience, besides perfecting his technique.

Who's Who

Olivet is proud to present her outstanding senior students elected to WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. These students were chosen on the basis of character, scholarship, participation in extra-curricular activities, service to the school, and potentiality for future usefulness in business and society. Each is presented with a certificate of recognition and the privilege to wear the official key – the symbol of outstanding achievement in college. A biographical sketch of each student appears in the current volume of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, one function of which is to serve as a guide for personnel managers who are seeking for capable college graduates.

To these honored students Olivet Nazarene College extends her heartiest congratulations.

". . . The times we've spent within these halls will ne'er forgotten be. . ." These words ring true in the hearts of all of us seniors as we look back over the four years of our college career. This year has been filled with interviews, comprehensives, placements, and a definite facing of the future. College years have supplied experiences, the memories of which will ever live in our hearts. These experiences will serve as foundation stones upon which to build the future. Olivet, our Alma Mater, we can be assured of a successful future if we faithfully follow ". . . the Christ you gave first part."

". . . for here we learn to know the truth, and truth will make us free." Upper division courses have aided us in our search for the truth.

This year began by renewing acquaintances. As juniors, we returned to Olivet and picked up the reins of campus life. After the student body elections were held, we found that juniors had been elected to most of the offices. Olivet has meant more to us this year than ever before, because we have contributed more to Olivet. Olivet has helped us to find the Truth—and "Truth will make us free."

". . . for noble standards which we hold . . ." we are indebted to Olivet. In the past two years we have established definite Christian standards for ourselves. These standards have been a measuring device for our spiritual and academic advancement.

Eagerly we arrived on campus and renewed old friendships. Initiating the freshmen gave us a sense of superiority. Innumerable extracurricular activities as well as the more difficult curricular ones assured us of our new status. Faced with increased responsibility and decisions to be made, we are grateful for noble standards.

Freshmen

"To Alma Mater Olivet we lift our voice in praise . . ." We freshmen started our first year with mixed emotions. We had left some dear friends at home but were meeting and enjoying new-found friends that would eventually mean even more to us. There have been orientation, registration, work day, exams, and final grades. We have become accustomed to roommates, the Resident Counselors, rules, and a host of letters and boxes of food from home. In our activities we have found talent, musical, athletic, and social. For all of these we can "lift our voice in praise" for what Olivet has meant to us already in our first year.

Ministerial Studies

The Ministerial Studies program is designed for candidates for the ministry who do not qualify for college entrance. It is an adult education course which enables students to meet the educational requirements for ordination.

The Ministerial Studies students have an organization for the purpose of providing social fellowship, especially among their families. Two of their activities this year were a carry-in dinner at the Chicago Central District Center during the Christmas season and the Annual Spring Banquet. Officers for the year were Walter Williams, president and student council representative; Sam Starnes, vice-president; James Stephens, secretary-treasurer; and Prof. R. L. Lunsford, sponsor.

Activities

Life would become monotonous if it weren't for the diversions provided in the midst of the student's busy schedule. Olivet offers a variety of activities for everyone. These activities are sufficiently varied to fit each student's personal desires —athletics, school publications, clubs and organizations, music, and religious activities.

Through these varied activities the student not only broadens his outlook on life, but develops his personality and increases his powers of communication; thus the diversions at Olivet prepare the student to be a better witness of the Gospel of Christ – more effective in evangelism.

Faculty Advisor

A highly successful yearbook is a combination of pictures and words united by a central idea and presented with feeling and imagination. Work on the yearbook provides a student with opportunities for expression of talent and exercise of important responsibilities. The staff strives to make the Aurora a record of the year, a good reference book, and a public-relations medium of the school.

The Aurora provides an unusual history of the year in recording student life, new developments, and campus events. In most schools, the yearbook is the only permanent record of the history of the year.

In addition to preparing this yearbook the Aurora staff co-sponsored with the Glimmerglass staff the election of the 1959 Homecoming Queen.

Functioning as an echo of Olivet's campus life, the Glimmerglass attempts to reflect a variety of academic, social, and spiritual activities. A total of 1250 copies of each issue circulates to the students, district superintendents, alumni, and friends of the college.

A great deal of work is done on each issue before it reaches the reader's hands. Under the direction of Marilyn Kremer, editor-in-chief, the staff writes copy, makes lay-out, and sells advertising. Dr. J. F. Leist and Miss Vivian Musnug give able and willing assistance as faculty advisors.

A banquet climaxes Student-Administrative Workshop.

"Campus Leadership" was the theme of the third annual Student-Administrative Workshop sponsored by the Student Council in conjunction with the Administration. At the banquet which climaxed the workshop, Bryon Carmony, noted song writer and pastor, was the guest speaker.

The Student Council is the governing unit of the Associated Students of Olivet Nazarene College. Membership in the Council is by election.

College - community relations were strengthened through the Student Council project.

A Christmas party named "An Old Fashioned Christmas," with a family style turkey dinner, and a Valentine party, "Rue de l'Amour," were the two all school functions sponsored by the Social Committee. The Social Committee, membership of which is made up of two representatives from each class and a chairman appointed from the Student Council, is responsible for the planning of major all-school parties designated for Student Council sponsorship.

Student Tribunal

The Student Tribunal, a subsidiary organization of the Student Council, has the responsibility of interpreting the Student Handbook and settling disputes concerning the Constitution of the Student Body. Under the direction of chairman James Erwin and advisor Dr. Ottis Sayes, the Tribunal carried out the function of the judiciary branch of student government.

Women's Residence Association

Among the activities sponsored by the WRA were an "Old Fashioned Box Social" and a Christmas Tree Trimming Party. Open house was held several times, thus permitting a chance to "show off" the interior of the dormitories and junior and senior houses. Pajama parties on the evening before the vacation periods put the girls in a festive mood.

Each floor has a chaplain who is in charge of floor prayer meetings. During revival emphasis, dorm prayer meetings are held.

Men's Residence Hall Association

The men of the MRHA elected for the first time this year a "Valentine Sweetheart" at the annual Valentine Party. Miss Carolyn Matheny of St. Louis, Missouri, was chosen as the "Sweetheart."

The MRHA also planned a party for the men in the dorm, which consisted of a film and refreshments.

The MRHA, governing body for the men's dormitory, is responsible for the discipline of the men's residence hall. Leon James served as president for the past school year.

Students Education Association

The Student Education Association aims to better acquaint students with the problems, opportunities, and benefits of the teacher of today. This year, a delegation of eight members and the sponsor, Dr. Vernon Groves, attended the Illinois Education Association Convention held at Wheaton College. Educators spoke to the club on various occasions. Dr. Scandrette from Wheaton College lectured on the topic "Personal Characteristics Important in Teaching;" and Mr. Myron Walker, a principal in the Danville, Illinois, school system, spoke to the S. E. A. on "Grouping in the Elementary School."

Alpha Tau Delta (Olivet Honor Society)

Alpha Tau Delta, whose membership requirement is a cumulative grade-point average of 3.2 for juniors and seniors, and 3.35 for sophomores, has had an active year. Among the varied activities were a debate on American recognition of Red China, a film on mental therapy, discussion of Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress led by Dr. Bangs, a reading of French poetry by Prof. Walmsley, presentation of scholarly papers by members of the club, and a program on art by Prof. Brank.

Speech Club

This newly organized club has been in the spotlight many times this year with its debating groups, its Speaker's Bureau, and its presentation of several one-act plays and Olivet's annual three-act play. A speech contest between the two Toastmaster Clubs of Kankakee and the Olivet Speech Club proved to be very stimulating.

English Guild

The production of Olive Leaves dominated the activities of the English Guild this year. Olive Leaves is a literary publication consisting of original poems and prose selections written by Olivet students. Other activities included seeing Shakespeare's Comedy of Errors at Northwestern University and taking a vicarious trip to the habitats of several famous American authors via picture slides.

Sociology Club

This year Sociology Club's field trips included tours of Chicago's Skid Row, Harbor Light Mission, China Town, Maxwell Street, Hull House, Midway Airport, and Cook County Jail, and the Kankakee State Hospital. Members provided a social hour for patients in the ward of the Kankakee State Hospital. Club programs included films and speakers on local as well as national problems.

Commerce Club

The theme of the Annual Businessmen's Conference, which was sponsored by the Commerce Club, was "Utilizing Policies of Large-Scale Industry for Small Business." Speakers included Mr. Richard Jones, Mr. Donald Durick, Mr. Phillip Knisley, Mr. Joseph Gennaro, and Mr. Charles Rundberg—all successful businessmen and alumni of O. N. C. A field trip to Chicago included stops at various places of interest to the business-minded.

Science Club

Professor Paul Johnson of Purdue University and Professor Strickler gave lectures to the Science Club on "Agricultural Engineering" and "Photography in Science," respectively. Films were shown about zinc and about space flight. A visit to the Turner-Henry Range in Kankakee, where roses are grown without soil, and a trip to observe a skin grafting operation at Cook County Hospital proved to be very informative and interesting experiences.

Home Economics Club

"Fashion Fanfare" was the theme of the fashion review sponsored by the Home Economics Club. The Club also sponsored the Annual Homecoming Alumni Tea and in December visited with shut-ins and gave them freshly baked cookies. In addition to various activities on campus, it sent delegations to state Home Economics meetings and to the Province VII Workshop of American Home Economics Association.

Ministerial Fellowship

Part of the purpose of the Ministerial Fellowship is to provide ministers-in-training the opportunity to hear representative speakers from various departments of our church. A film, "In Times Like These" was sponsored by the Club for the enjoyment of the entire student body. Guest speakers this year were Rev. Donald Snow, Dr. Paul Updike, Dr. Delbert Rose, and Rev. Mark Moore. Rev. Sidney Martin from the British Isles was guest speaker at the annual banquet.

Platonian Philosophical Society

Papers were presented at various meetings of the Platonian Philosophical Society. Dr. Bangs gave a paper entitled "Divine Election." "Psychology and Theology: friends or foes?" was the topic of Dr. Cotner's paper read at an evening dinner meeting of the club. Students also developed papers to be shared with their colleagues.

For a special project, the club collected used clothing to be sent to the British Isles Nazarene College, a college for primarily prospective ministers.

Missionary Band

Miss Mary Scott, General Secretary of the Nazarene Foreign Missionary Society, was the main speaker at the Missionary Convention sponsored by the Missionary Band, March 4-6. The project of the year was to raise money to build a much-needed chapel in Trinidad. Every Wednesday a half-hour was set aside as prayer time for missions.

Public Affairs

The Public Affairs Club seeks to awaken the student's mind to the importance of national and international political and civil affairs. Activities this year included an address by Dr. Timothy Smith, Nazarene historian, a film on the threat of Communism, an address by the local A. F. of L. president on Labor's part in the steel settlement, and cooperative sponsorship of an address by Senator Paul Douglas.

Music Educators

The Music Educators' Club is an organization for all music majors, particularly those planning to teach music in the public schools. This year special speakers and films were presented. The Chicago Woodwind Quintet and instrumental clinics were other interesting attractions. A field trip was taken to Chicago to hear the Chicago Symphony Orchestra under the conductorship of Fritz Riener.

Organ Guild

Attending the organ concert of Dr. Robert Noehren of the University of Michigan and the concert of Dr. Alexander Schreiner of the Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City, Utah, was a definte highlight of the year for Organ Guild members.

At the monthly meetings, senior organ recitalists gave reviews of their recitals with notes on the composers. Professor Robert Brown and Professor Wanda Kranich each gave a talk on "The Church Organist" and "The Field of an Organist," respectively.

"O" Club

The "O" Club is an organization made up of letter winners from the Intramural Athletic Program. Introduction of old members, and presentation of the athletic letters took place at half-time ceremonies at one of the first basketball games of the season. Sports films of the "Harlem Globetrotters" and "All-American Football" were shown at two of the regular monthly meetings. The "O" Club Banquet in the spring featured All-American Bob Davenport, head football coach at Taylor University, Upland, Indiana, as guest speaker.

Chess Club

The Chess Club was established not only for the pleasurable entertainment its members derive from chess, but also for the intellectual application required of the players. Regular meetings were held and chess instruction was given in the Wagon Wheel. A chess tournament and a banquet highlighted the year.

Olivet Alumni Association

The purpose of the Association is to promote the interests of O. N. C. and to cultivate the spirit of fellowship among its alumni. (An ex-student who has attended Olivet two or more semesters can be recognized as an alumnus.) The promotion of good fellowship, good public relations, financial support of the college, and student recruitment are appropriate and useful areas of alumni activity.

August and September, 1959, saw two new chapters formed of the Olivet Alumni Association. In Acornhoek, East Transvaal, Africa, a meeting was held in connection with the August Missionary Council Meeting on the African District. Norman Zurcher ('55) was elected President and Juanita Pate, Secretary-Treasurer. Fifty-one Olivet alumni met September 3, 1959, on the Pasadena College campus and organized Olivet's California Alumni Chapter. The California organization is the fourth off-zone chapter. Other chapters have been organized in Kansas City, Missouri; Bethany, Oklahoma; and East Transvaal, Africa. The Association is comprised of fourteen district chapters along with these four off-zone chapters.

"O" Awards

Two cherished awards, the recipients of which are chosen by vote of the Alumni, were presented at the 1959 Annual Alumni Dinner held in Miller Dining Hall May 27. Mary L. Scott ('29) was presented the "O" Award for the oustanding alumnus layman by Fred Chalfant, Alumni President. Mary Scott served as missionary to China from 1940 to 1949. Since 1950 she has been the General Secretary to the Nazarene Foreign Missionary Society. Bryon Carmony ('39), noted song writer and author of the school song "Alma Mater Olivet," received the "O" Award for the outstanding alumnus minister. Rev. Carmony has pastored the Chicago Heights Church of the Nazarene for the past thirteen years.

"Telethon"

A large part of the activity of the Olivet Alumni Association this year has been directed toward raising funds for the indebtedness of Nesbitt Hall; its goal is $100,000. Part of the campaign was a series of fourteen District Alumni dinner meetings. These meetings were devoted to raising funds for Nesbitt Hall from the Alumni and associates.

An unusual aspect of the fund-raising campaign was the "Telethon." For six week ends, Friday and Saturday evenings, six telephones were in constant use from 6:00 to 8:00 p. m. Those participating in the Telethon called alumni in a 7-state Midwest area. The Illinois Bell Telephone Company provided special operators on their long-distance switchboard for the project.

The general range of pledges was from $25 to $125, with some as high as $250 and only a few in the $5 and $10 class. The cost averaged only 3½% of the amount of the pledges.

Music

The role that music plays in the lives of Olivetians cannot be overestimated. Goodwin Hall, as the musical center of the campus, houses facilities of the Division of Fine Arts.

Here the freshmen student eagerly, yet anxiously, begins his long, trying climb to musical achievement. He practices diligently and faithfully, often becomes discouraged and almost yields to the temptation to give up – yet he triumphantly completes the rigid and time-consuming course of study and finally arrives as an accepted and capable musician.

This tale is repeated each and every year by the arrival of awkward, beginning music majors and the departure of poised, mature musicians.

Faculty Recital

The talents of the faculty members of the Division of Fine Arts were brilliantly displayed at the third annual faculty recital, an event of November 6. The compositions representing music of a wide variety and many composers were interpreted with finesse by the faculty musicians.

Senior Recitals

In fulfillment of requirements for his Bachelor of Science degree in Music Education, the senior music major must present a recital comprising compositions from all periods in music history. These events are customarily presented jointly by two graduating performers.

Initiating the series of recitals was Gladys True, organist, who was assisted by Boyd Fees, baritone. Subsequent programs were presented by Barbara Sass, organist, assisted by Ted Griffin, baritone; Spencer Jakeway, tenor, and Anna Ruth Sterne, pianist; Geneene Morrisson, soprano; Don Spotloe, baritone, and Lee Bolland, contralto; Shirley Sanderson, soprano, and Deloris Cavins, organist; and Norman Smith, French horn, and Carleton Wood, tenor.

Orpheus Choir

Cascades of harmony, created by competent musicians, characterized the twenty-ninth year's activity of the Orpheus Choir.

"A Ministry in Music" was the goal of Mrs. Naomi Larsen and the singers as they began their annual tour through Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan. A feature of the concert tour was a choral and orchestral arrangement by Richard Shores of the hymn "He Lifted Me," commissioned for this year's Orpheus Choir.

A large number of performances kept the members of Orpheus on the move. The Choir began its choral year by entertaining the district Teachers' Meeting at Kankakee High School, and throughout the year it was kept busy with College Church services, Messiah rehearsals, and other activities, climaxed by the long-awaited spring tour and Orpheus banquet on May 13.

Paul Cunningham, the efficient president of the choir, was assisted by vice-presidents Dave Culross and Shirley Collier. Other officers included Marilyn Kremer, secretary; Keith Powell, treasurer; Roy Smith, chaplain; Gale Guyer, librarian; and Anna Ruth Sterne and June Shirkey, robe custodians.

Prof. Robert Brown was the accompanist of the group.

Apollo Choir

Apollo Choir has had another successful season as one of Olivet's younger musical groups. It sang at College Church worship services throughout the year, and performed at various other occasions. Under the enthusiastic baton of Mr. Donald Murray, the choir consistently improved this year and enjoyed a very rewarding tour which took them through Missouri, Iowa, and Illinois.

May 13 was the date of the annual choir banquet, the social highlight of the year for the hard-working members. Earlier in the semester, Apollo appeared in Chicago's Orchestra Hall to sing for the Sunday Evening Club.

Apollo officers this year were Dave Strawn, president; Lowell Thomas, vice-president; Laura Rees, secretary; and Terry Curtis, treasurer. Serving as librarians were Ralph Close and Paul Mayfield and as robe custodians Violet Smith and Barbara Stonefish.

Olivet Marching Band

The Olivet Marching Band, under the direction of Prof. Harlow Hopkins, rounded out another year of marching and concert engagements, including the Homecoming football game, as well as regularly-played contests. Its activities also included outstanding concerts on December 4 and 19. A feature of the Christmas concert was a delightful interpretation of Clement Clark Moore's "A Visit from St. Nicholas" by Prof. Athel McCombs, head of the speech department, with a background of instrumental music by the band.

Always ready to promote enthusiasm, the band added much to the enjoyment of the society cage games.

Leading the band in the capacity of drum major was four-year member Jim Erwin. Decidedly an asset to the band, Jim's enthusiasm was greatly appreciated by both band members and the student body. Band officers for the year were Bob Stiles, prexy; Duane Askew, vice-president; Pat Tyler, secretary; Norman Smith, treasurer; and Jeriel Beard, librarian.

Olivet Symphony

The Olivet Symphony for another year has proved its competence as an interpreter of good music.

Prof. Harlow Hopkins conducted the orchestra in a number of appearances in which the musicians presented a well-balanced program. A highlight of the year was Miss Jo Ann Noble's performance of Robert Schumann's Piano concerto, Opus 54, in the February 27 concert.

The Olivet Symphony also performed at the Commencement Concert, May 25, and accompanied vocal and instrumental student soloists from the Division of Fine Arts.

President of the orchestra was Duane Askew. Assisting in supporting roles were Roger Lane, vice-president; Paul King, secretary-treasurer; and Jeriel Beard, librarian.

Brass Choir

The flashy and ear-shattering, yet harmonious sounds of brass come from one of the youngest musical organizations on campus. The brief period of time this organization has been functioning is deceptive, if used as a criterion of performance, for the Brass Choir more-than-capably performs the music it attempts.

Aside from the campus concerts, the Olivet Brass Choir played at the First Congregational Church of Kankakee, the Redeemer Covenant Church of Chicago, and Chicago First Church of the Nazarene.

Dr. Carl Bangs provides the demanding, yet inspiring leadership for the Brass Choir. Student officers are Jeriel Beard, president; Pat Tyler, secretary-treasurer; and Roger Lane, librarian.

Front row: J. Erwin, T. Griffin, K. Roth, D. Weed, O. Young, N. Smith.

THE CRUSADERS—Roger McMurrin, Roger Kennedy, Robert Huff, and Ovid Young—were called upon to sing at the Cadle Tabernacle Annual Midwinter Camp Meeting at Indianapolis, Indiana; at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for a television program; and for a number of other engagements during the school year. The Crusaders will represent the school at the General Assembly in Kansas City, Missouri, during June. Kennedy and Huff are from Flint, Michigan, and Roger McMurrin and Ovid Young are from Birmingham, Iowa, and Portsmouth, Ohio, respectively.

THE AMBASSADORS—Jim Beard, Larry Harshman, Les Beals, and Gary Wilson—were active throughout the school year, singing at many campus functions, as well as serving as representatives of Olivet in special services at Clearwater, Florida, during the spring vacation. They will be traveling many miles this summer as one of the school's official traveling groups. They hail from Saint Louis, Missouri; Griggsville, Illinois; Flint, Michigan; and Clearwater, Florida, respectively.

David Hughes, accompanist, will be assisting Jim Bohi as they represent the College this summer at the district assemblies and in the local churches. A sophomore, Dave is from Indianapolis, Indiana, and is a music education major with his applied concentration in piano.

Traveling Groups

James Bohi, soloist, will visit the district assemblies in representation work this summer, traveling with Rev. J. W. Swearengen, executive field secretary. A veteran of extensive experience as a gospel singer, Jim, will be assisted by his accompanist, Dave Hughes. The two are tentatively planning a two-week tour of Canada upon the completion of their summer travels.

THE TREBLEAIRES—Marilyn Kremer, Karen Swineheart, and Faith Reynolds—appeared in several towns on Olivet's educational zone as one of the two women's trios functioning this year. Points in their travels included Berne and Elkhart, Indiana; Decatur and Rantoul, Illinois; and Beloit, Wisconsin. Marilyn is a native of Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Karen's home is Elkhart, Indiana; and Faith comes from Monticello, Illinois.

THE AEOLIAN TRIO is composed of Gratia Thomas of Cambridge City, Indiana; Nancy Rhodes of Portsmouth, Ohio; and Joenne Heinmiller of Detroit, Michigan. These three freshmen sang in special services at Hammond, Indiana, at the College Church Youth Revival, and for Kankakee Valley Youth for Christ. They have also been featured in many campus events.

Religion

"The glory of His presence" . . . personal . . . vital . . . central . . . meaningful. Religion at Olivet is the most outstanding feature of the campus life. The reality of His presence comes during private devotions in the dorm, or perhaps at family worship in chapel services. It is felt during regular and revival services in chapel or at College Church. It is felt during prayer services of the Student Prayer Band and the Missionary Band, and in the visitation of the Evangels at nursing homes and hospitals. It sometimes manifests itself in a classroom through a truth taught "with a Christian purpose" or caught from a professor's life. "The glory of His presence"—religion at Olivet.

Chapel . . .

A Devotional Break

At our mid-morning devotional break, all classroom procedures cease, and faculty and students on Olivet's campus unite in Howe Chapel for a period of spiritual refreshment.

During this period of worship together, missionaries, ministers, faculty, and students present many challenging messages that stir the hearts of the listeners. Other students and friends add to the atmosphere of the service through their testimony in song.

Chapel is not only a time of enjoyment, but a time of spiritual refreshment, preparing to meet and solve with courage and wisdom the immediate problems of the day, as well as those they will encounter in the future.

Prayer Band . . .

A Place of Christian Fellowship

The hustle and bustle of campus life is balanced by a time of spiritual enrichment at the twilight hour.

Four times weekly the Kelley Prayer Chapel provides a forum for individual religious expression, an auditorium for vibrant Gospel music, and an atmosphere for sacred communion with God.

Many Olivet students make attendance at these prayer services a regular practice and will readily testify to the spiritual uplift they derive from it.

The purpose of the Student Prayer Band is to develop the Christian life of the individual through the media of song, testimony, and prayer. The ultimate goal of the organization is to stimulate a campus-wide spiritual life that will encourage vital Christian experience in each member of the student body.

Tom Thompson leads the group in songs which lift the heart.

Evangels . . . Obeying Christ's Command

"Go ye . . ." is one of Christ's commands that students called "Evangels" are literally fulfilling here at Olivet.

The Evangels do Christian service in nursing homes in the Kankakee area and in the Manteno State Hospital.

Their primary interest is to bring cheer, comfort, and hope to those who are in need of such. The results from their efforts are both inspiring and rewarding.

It is the Evangel's goal to possess and share the Christ-like spirit. Witnessing is one way to realize his goal. An Evangel soon finds this work a part of his life and finds, too, a real joy in giving his time for God through this service.

Sharing ideas strengthen both mind and spirit.

Religious literature and a friendly word offer much inspiration.

A song for the shut-ins cheers their hearts.

Bill is taking advantage of the prayer room in the boys' dormitory which provides a place of solitude for private devotions.

Lucy enjoys the times when she can sit and meditate on the Word of God.

Personal Devotions . . .

Alone with God

"There is a place of quiet rest . . ." —and students seek this place for moments of true devotion. Students may spend these times of devotion in their own rooms or in the prayer rooms provided in each of the dormitories.

This time of meditation gives students a desired depth in their Christian experience and a glowing testimony to others. It is a time when the cares of the campus life can be forgotten and a sweet communion with Jesus experienced.

Students have found that daily devotions are not only a necessity to maintain a Christian life, but also a wonderful privilege that they enjoy.

Revivals . . .

A Time of Spiritual Insight

For the truly devoted Christian, periods of revival at Olivet are characterized both by joy and burden. During these times Christians add strength to their Christian experience, unsaved souls find Christ as a true reality in their lives, and others are cleansed from sin.

Three revivals are held annually, known as the Fall Revival, the Youth Revival, and the Spring Revival. These occur usually in October, in January, and March or April, respectively. This year, however, an additional opportunity for spiritual enrichment was given to the students through the Prayer Band evangelistic campaign in February and early March.

Rev. Forrest Nash . . .

College Church Pastor

"Education for Evangelism"—an appropriate theme indeed for a most beautiful yearbook! It is the outgrowth of the purpose and character of Olivet Nazarene College. Thus it is not unusual for a science professor or historian to be an evangelist in his own right. Nor would it be unusual for any specialist in any department or field of learning; for to bring men to a full knowledge of Jesus Christ is the becoming distinction of a holiness college. This takes precedence over everything else at all times and places. Being a witness and a soul winner for Christ is the basic qualification of an acceptable student or teacher at Olivet. It is the purpose of our Christian living; it is the reason for training and preparation.

The spirit of evangelism is accentuated during evangelistic campaigns on the campus. It also permeates every daily class and activity, and by its continued existence we preserve our glorious heritage. The personal, indwelling presence of the Holy Spirit is the creative life of evangelism here at O. N. C. It is by a total response to Him that we live according to St. Paul's admonition, "Walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called."

Graduates of 1960, we congratulate you and wish for you God's best as you carry into life this spirit which you have known here at Olivet Nazarene College.

Forrest W. Nash

College Church . . .

Center of Worship

College church is pastored by Rev. Forrest Nash. It is located very conveniently on Olivet's campus so each student may share in its services.

Chancel Choir, directed by Mrs. Naomi Larsen, is the regular church choir; however, Apollo and Orpheus choirs share in the music. Robert Brown, the organist, directs the newly organized Junior Choir.

College Church provides Sunday morning and evening services plus the midweek prayer service. Prayer meeting is always enriched by the testimonies of students and professors.

The college group has a separate N. Y. P. S. program with a student as its leader; and in addition to the three main services of the week there is a missionary chapter for the college students.

College Church has given the students ample opportunity to deepen their Christian experience and it has become an important part of the students' college life.

• Athletics

Sports hold an important spot in the lives of Olivet students and faculty. Whether in participating or observing we find great enthusiasm and relaxation in organized physical activities.

The desire to win and the need for relaxation provide a means for health improvement through sport participation. Christian sportsmanship encourages better mental attitudes, and both player and spectator find relaxation and enjoyment. Through this emphasis on recreation and wholesome competition, sports at Olivet enable athletes to develop a healthy body and healthy spirit, where the Holy Spirit can live and make His temple to further His cause of evangelism.

Men's Softball

"Will the champs for the last five years be able to hold on to the crown?" was the big question on the softball diamond this year. Since all the teams were very nearly equal in batting power, it was questionable whether the Trojans were to be the dominating team. Going into the last round of play, it was all tied with each team having two games to play. The Trojans came through with two victories to take the crown for the sixth year in a row. Looking forward to next year it should be an exciting one since each team will be losing only one player.

Women's Softball

Although softball season was late in getting started, the sport came through with flying colors. Adding to the interest of the games were the new uniforms used this year.

Champions this year were the Trojans. Their great influx of freshmen players helped them clinch the trophy.

Coming in second were the Indians who fought hard for the trophy. Their outstanding players, both new and returned, helped provide an exciting season.

This year's Spartan team wound up on bottom, but not without a real sporting try. Their "never-give-up" spirit kept them always in the game.

Next year all three teams will be ready again to try for that trophy!

"Action" was the word that Coach Ward and Coacl MacKay were stressing to the fellows who went out fo football. The two coaches divided the candidates fo football into two teams. The two teams were to pla two games, the first of which was to be an exhibitio game two weeks before the Homecoming game.

The exhibition game found the two teams battlin to a score of 0-0. This game was played to help iron ou the rough places and get in shape for the Homecomin game.

The Golden Bears coached by Coach MacKa moved the ball 111 yards on the ground and scored on touchdown in the first quarter. Halfbacks Louis Burrell Howard Owens, and Tom Thompson, fullback Do Spotloe, and quarterbacks Darel Grothaus and Bo itchell gave everyone a thrill with their free-running yle. The Golden Bears rolled up 214 yards on the ound and 3 yards in the air for a total of 217 yards ined.

Coach Ward's Purple Tigers were putting on an rial attack against the Bears with the passing of halfck Dale Reedy and quarterback Russ Anderson. Halfck Dave Reedy and fullback Ron Erwine gave the igers the extra power to do just a little more than the ears.

The game was not won by the Tigers until all but minutes of the fourth quarter was played. Then the igers recovered a Bear fumble on the 30-yard line of e Bears. In two plays the Tigers marched across the al line to score the all important extra point. This was ough to give the Tigers the lead and the game.

Men's "O" Club

"Will the 'O' Club hit the hundred mark again?" This was the big question among the Olivetians as they trooped to Birchard Field House to cheer the Tigers on to another victory.

The team proved its offensive power by defeating some of the best church teams of the educational zone. Balanced scoring, led by the sharp shooting of Howard Owens, Harry Fulton, and Monty Lobb, pushed the Tigers' scoring over the one hundred point mark six times during the season. Many games ended with every man on the squad reaching the scoring column.

Opposing teams were often amazed as the Tigers broke easily through their defensive alignments. The season proved very successful, as Olivet won ten games and dropped only two.

Basketball

The highlight of the season was a trip to Detroit to play Detroit First Church. The Tigers clawed through the Detroit team for a score of 116-44. But more important than the game was the wonderful spirit felt in the Sunday morning church service, as the team members witnessed to the young people about the Christ they serve.

Olivet's Tigers displayed teamwork and sportsmanship which could have been attained only through the spirit of Christian fellowship that existed among the team members. Team prayer meetings were held often, with Coach Ward or a team member bringing a devotional message.

The season was successful, not only from the standpoint of games won, but also from a spiritual standpoint, through the consciousness of being Christian witnesses playing and witnessing—"all to the glory of God."

Society Men's Basketball

Soeiety basketball this year, marked by many elose deeisions and new faees, displayed a new and exeiting brand of round ball. The Indians, not satisfied with their role as eo-ehampions last year were determined to take a solo title this year. Using their team depth and fast breaking offense, the Big Red jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the first round.

The Trojans and Spartans were determined not to be door mats, though. All the teams fought hard, and as a result many games ended with a difference of only one or two points between quintets.

But the Indians proved they were this year's team of destiny by playing hard and eventually eapturing the erown.

Women's Basketball

Earning and winning the women's basketball championship this year were the Trojans. An element tending to aid them reach their goal was the return of their letter women from previous years and the new members of enthusiastic, loyal, and skillful freshmen.

The Indian women were victorious in gaining second place. They fought untiringly to regain a foothold in women's sports, many times scoring a thrilling game.

Landing on the bottom were the Spartans. However, they too have played a complimentary season, losing the majority of their games by only a few points.

The guards, as well as the forwards, have greatly contributed to the exciting game of basketball this year at Olivet.

Women's "O" Club Basketball

A new attraction to women's sports this year was the women's "O" Club team. This team was comprised of returned letter-women of all three societies. Together they formed an undefeated team.

Their first game of the season was the All-School team. Even though the All-School team pooled every ounce of wisdom and skill they had, they were no match for the "O" Club team.

The second game of the year was with the semi-professional team, "Bradley Comets." Once again, "O" Club came through beautifully for the "purple and gold."

The championship team received a big boost from their loyal fans. The consistent scoring and good offense, added to the defensive effort, played an important part in the complete success of the team.

Field Day

Another annual Field Day at Olivet dawned with no indication of the excitement and enthusiasm that was to occur. The weather conditions were perfect for all the activities planned for the day.

With the dismissal of classes, Olivetians turned out in great numbers to cheer their societies on to victory. Field Day's excitement was set at a high pitch in the morning with the running of the track and field events. Cheers resounded as the participants ran, jumped, and threw for the desired first-place ribbons.

At the conclusion of the track and field events, the tired athletes and sunburned spectators made quick dispatch of the food served at the All-School Picnic on the lawn behind the dining hall.

After the feast, the agenda called for the Field Day Band Concert. During the intermission Coach Ward presented the All-Sports Trophy and the Individual Sports Awards of the year.

Field Day with exciting sports competition, a wonderful picnic, and a soothing band concert proved to be a high day to every Olivetian.

We've left this page open for the greetings of your friends and classmates. The friendships you make at Olivet will last you a lifetime, and are far more important than any advertising we could insert here.

However, we do invite you to open a safe, profitable savings account which can serve you well by providing the means for accomplishing many of your life's goals. You'll always be welcome at Kankakee's only mutual savings institution—now 75 years old.

The Last Word . . .

A quiet emptiness has settled down after the hum of activity which for several weeks has filled the office of the Aurora. Already a feeling of pride in our finished product is being sensed. It is our sincere hope that you have been pleased with this book, because your pleasure will make those many days and those long nights seem not in vain.

The publication of the 1960 Aurora marks another milestone in the history of Olivet Nazarene College. This achievement could not have been possible without the help of the many who aided us. We, the staff, should like to express our sincere appreciation to all who made the delivery of our book possible. First of all, we wish to thank Professor D. J. Strickler, our faculty advisor, who spent many long hours helping us with the photography and in an advisory capacity; Mrs. Harriet Demaray, who so willingly gave of her time and effort to the checking of the write-ups; and Mr. William Bennett for assistance in determining the accuracy of the names. Thanks to Blankenburg Studio for a superb job of taking and developing pictures; to Mr. Robert Merriman, who helped us in selecting a suitable cover for our theme; and to the Durand Company for the beautiful cover. To the Interstate Printers we owe a "Thank-you" for transforming our efforts into this book of fond college memories. Finally, we wish sincerely to thank the churches, districts, merchants, and businessmen of the community who have purchased advertising space in the Aurora, for without their generosity the yearbook could not have become a reality.

The future will bring new faces and many changes to the campus of Olivet, but you will have this record of the things you did and the friends you knew, which will bring golden memories for years to come. With this purpose in mind, we, the Aurora staff of 1960, have presented the Aurora to you.
