County Joins Nation In Marking Heart Month

Kankakee County today, along with Illinois and the rest of the nation, observes the beginning of American Heart Month today.

The fund drive of the American Heart Association was begun officially Tuesday evening when Dr. Paul Dudley White, President Eisenhower's heart specialist, read a statement from the President at a national kickoff dinner in Chicago.

Ike, Eden Seek Peace Formula For Mid East

WASHINGTON (U)—American and British delegations, in the final round of Eisenhower-Eden talks, sought formulas today to secure the Middle East against Soviet power and save the peace in the Far East.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and his top advisors met with Secretary of State Dulles and State Department policy makers to try to reach some final recommendations for action by President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Eden during the afternoon.

Eden and Eisenhower agreed Tuesday that peace between Israel and the Arab states is essential to Middle East stability. Among other things they discussed the possibility of posting United Nations troops in the demilitarized zone between the hostile armies of Palestine in order to pacify the area.

U. S. officials demonstrated little enthusiasm for this possibility but an American spokesman said it had not been ruled out by Eden and Eisenhower.

EDEN AND Eisenhower gave serious attention also to new Red Chinese threats against Formosa, including the statement by the Communists that they would use war if necessary to take the island.

Britain and the United States have split in their views of Red China. Britain would be glad to see that country brought into the U. N. and trade with it expanded. This is opposed by the United States. However, Eden and Eisenhower

Brazil President Tackles Problems

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UP)—Juscelino Kubitschek, newly installed president of Brazil, met promptly with his cabinet early today to start solving the economic and political problems which have kept this country in a state of semi-crisis since August, 1954.

Kubitschek and his vice president, Jose Jango Goulart, were sworn in Tuesday at elaborate inauguration ceremonies held before a joint session of congress.

The inaugural festivities, attended by U. S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon and special missions from 60 other countries, are scheduled to go on for the rest of the week.

Red Envoys Ordered Out Of South Africa

Russians Oust Kruglov As Head Of Secret Police

Failure To Control Increase In Crimes Seen As Reason

LONDON (UP)—Radio Moscow said today Gen. Sergei N. Kruglov, who replaced liquidated Lavrenti Beria as chief of the Soviet secret police, has been "released from his duties" as interior minister.

The broadcast said Kruglov was dismissed by the Presidium (poliburo) and replaced by N. P. Dudorov, an obscure functionary previously known only as a department head in the offices of Russia's Communist Central Committee.

Kruglov was one of the few Russians of less than politburo rank who had achieved notice in the West. He was decorated by both the United States and Britain—which made him an honorary knight—for his work as Soviet security chief at the Tehran, Yalta and Potsdam conferences.

THE FORMER interior minister is the second high Soviet official who has been humiliated in the past week. The official Red radio said last week that Alexander Puzanov has been demoted from premier to vice premier of the Russian Republic, the Soviet Union's largest "state."

Kruglov is not known to have appeared in public since December. The official Soviet press paved the way for his dismissal with an outpouring of articles attacking his ministry for its failure to curb "hooliganism," robbery, drunkenness and petty crimes in Russia.

The deposed minister was one of a handful of appointees of the late Premier Josef Stalin who still hold power in Russia. The only "Stalin men" remaining in top jobs are Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and First Deputy Premier L. M. Kaganovich.

2 Airmen Feared Dead As Bomber Crashes In River

PITTSBURGH (U)—A twin-engine Air Force plane, barely clearing a high level bridge, pancaked into the icy, swift-running Monongahela River late Tuesday. Two of the airmen aboard were feared drowned.

The B23 bomber, equipped as a passenger plane, was forced down when its fuel supply ran out, an Air Force spokesman said.

Skinning over the Homestead Bridge, the faltering plane ditched in the river near another bridge, was carried downstream by swift current, and sank in about 18 feet of water.

A truck driver, police and rivermen teamed up to pull the four exhausted survivors from the 400-foot-wide stream.

Worst Snow Storm Of Winter On Way

A snow warning issued by the weather bureau indicates that Kankakee, along with most of the Midwest, is due to experience one of the worst storms of the winter.

Some schools closed in parts of Iowa and Missouri as the storm hit and gathered force during the day.

Southwest Iowa had 8 inches of snow by early morning and the storm was expected to continue through Thursday. The storm was the biggest of the winter in Iowa.

In the Kankakee area two to five inches of snow are expected to sweep in from the West and add to the accumulation already on the ground. Little change in temperature is anticipated.

A MIXTURE of snow and sleet was in store for parts of Kentucky and Tennessee and hazardous driving conditions were expected to develop in that area. By tonight, this icy belt was expected to extend as far eastward as sections of Ohio and the Virginias.

Tuesday's high temperature at the Kankakee airport was 27 and the overnight low was 13. In downtown Kankakee the mercury climbed to 29 degrees and dropped to 20 during the night and early this morning.

THE SNOW STARTED in Kankakee about 9 a.m. today and continued intermittently through the morning. For the most part it was a gentle fall without much breeze to whip it around.

Traffic was slowed and there were some tieups in the St. Louis area. Many rural schools were closed. Tarkia, Mo., had a fall of 6 inches Tuesday night.

Snow, sleet and rain pelted Kansas.

A subzero chill locked in the intermountain and Rocky Mountain areas. New Meadows, Idaho, had an unofficial low of -45. Big Piney, Wyo., was -40; Woodruff, Utah, -38 and Fraser, Colo., -23.

15 Adrift On Floe Saved By Coast Guard

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UP)—Coast Guardsmen, using skiffs while a small ice breaker stood by, today rescued 15 ice fishermen from a large sheet of ice which broke loose from an ice field in Lake Erie off Sturgeon Point, 30 miles west of here.

The Coast Guard station here reported it had received word that "all were safely removed."

It was first reported that as many as 60 fishermen were caught on the section of ice when it broke off due to a shift in wind currents.

The ice breaker Ojibwa and 30 Coast Guardsmen—raced to the scene to bring the stranded men to the main body of ice.

Auto Dealers In Washington To Air Grievances

The mass visit to the Capitol highlights morning activities of delegates to the 39th annual convention of the National Automobile Dealers Association. The more than 10,000 dealers attending the convention will wind up their meeting tonight.

One of the grievances of the dealers, aired at convention sessions throughout the week, is that they are not getting a fair break from the automobile manufacturers.

The dealers loudly applauded speakers who have sympathized with their views, particularly Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) and Joseph O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), who headed committees which investigated the automobile industry. Both senators promised to fight for legislation requiring manufacturers to give dealers "more equitable" franchise terms.

In addition to better dealer-factory relations, the convention also discussed need for legislation to curb automobile bootlegging, eliminate "phantom freight" charges and dispense with unsound credit terms and "irresponsible" advertising.

"The situation doesn't look too good," said Burns' physician Dr. David Hertz. The 64-year-old movie and radio comedian has been in a coma since last Saturday. His health has been failing since he underwent surgery three years ago.

Burns fashioned a length of pipe and a whisky funnel, blew fuzzy bass notes and told jokes about his Uncle Fud, Grandpa Snatzky and other folks in Van Buren, Ark.

Charged With Engaging In Subversive Acts

Says Soviet Officials Have Incited African, Indian Population

CAPETOWN, South Africa (U)—South Africa has ordered the Soviet Union to remove its consular staff from this country by March 1.

Foreign Affairs Minister E. H. Louw said today this action is being taken because the consulate general in Pretoria has engaged in subversive activity.

No break of diplomatic relations is involved. These relations are carried on in London, since the Soviet Union has no embassy here nor has South Africa one in Moscow. The consular setup was established in World War II.

SOUTH AFRICA is the third country in the British commonwealth to accuse the Soviet Union of subversive activity in recent years. Canada uncovered a spy ring centering around the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa in 1946. In Australia, a Soviet Embassy official exposed a spy ring. Subsequently Russia broke relations with Australia.

Today's announcement was made in Parliament's House of Assembly.

Louw alleged the consulate general had cultivated contacts with subversive elements in the Union and had formed a channel of communication between them and Soviet Russia.

LOUW SAID that confirmation of the consulate's subversive contacts had been provided by radio Moscow, which had incited African and Indian populations to resist the government in South Africa.

He added the liquor act which prohibits supply of liquor to natives in the Union of South Africa, had not been observed on the consulate premises.

Other relations between the Union and Russia would not be affected by the consulate closing, Louw said, and could be continued through representatives of both countries in London.

He pointed out that the Soviet consulate had been established during World War II when the Union and Russia were allies. In postwar years, the situation had changed, he said, and this was another reason for the government's action.

Discusses Budgets In 2nd Class Of Marriage Series

Budgets should be like giraffes—firm enough to give support but not tight enough that they bother too much.

That was the suggestion of Dr. Sylvanus Duval, marriage counselor, college professor and author of "Successful Marriage and Family Life." The series is sponsored by the YMCA and local churches and is being presented at Kansas City's Methodist Church.

Dr. Duval spoke of budgets while discussing the subject "How Can We Live On Our Income?" "Budgets are important to successful family finances," he told the married couples. "Main purpose of them is to enable you to buy things you didn't think you could afford."

In discussing the financial problems faced by families it was pointed out that the major problem faced by families is that the high-income comes when it is needed least and the low income comes when it is needed most.

The speaker emphasized that statistics show an average married couple after 10 years has an increase in income of 25 per cent and an increase in expenditures of 58 per cent. At the end of 20 years, he said, income is up 41 per cent and expenditures are up 75 per cent.

Oil Underlying Factor In U.S., British Talks

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — Oil is the big factor underlying the talks of President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Eden this week over what to do about the Russian threat to the Middle East.

Two thirds of the world's proved reserves of petroleum lie under the sands of that area—nearly 100 billion barrels, one of the world's richest prizes.

There is keen rivalry between American and British companies operating in the Middle East.

Western Europe relies more and more on Middle East oil to meet its fast growing demand for power to run its industries.

Russia doubtless eyes the area with keen interest in not only a peace prize, but also because military experts believe that Middle East oil might prove a prime incentive to her if a third world war should ever come.

So, the Washington talks may range over the political and military aspects of the Egyptian-Israeli dispute, the Cyprus crisis and the Communist arms to Egypt, and the other Middle East problems.

BUT YOU WOULDN'T have to go very deep under the Washington talks to find out that some 22 American oil companies are interested in the Middle East. British, Dutch and French companies operate in the region.

Western Europe, which once looked to the Atlantic for its oil, now gets about four-fifths of its supply from the Middle East. If this should be cut off, either by Communist penetration or by war, Western Europe would be hard put to find a quick alternate source.

American companies profit richly by their peacetime output in the Middle East. But if the source should be cut off by war, the United States could get by easily through speeding up its own production (now held back by state regulations) and by importing more from Venezuela and other Western Hemisphere oil fields.

It's the peacetime development of the Middle East that interests American oilmen most directly. They have such oil concessions there. And they have been building pipelines to get oil to the Mediterranean, expanding their oil tanker fleets, and putting up refineries in England and on the continent to feed the fast growing demand of European industries for power and European motorists for gasoline.

M. L. RATHBONE, president of Jersey Standard Oil, told shareholders this week that in the next 20 years he expects Western Europe's oil consumption to be 2½ times. This increase would equal the present combined output of Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and Iraq.

His company is planning to spend around $1½ billion dollars this year on expansion.

MOTHERS' MARCH Nets $4,000 For Polio Fund

Funds collected in the Mothers' March on Polio in Kansas City and 13 surrounding communities were still being tabulated today and it was estimated that the final count would reach $4,000.

The fund drive was organized by the county March of Dimes. Co-chairmen Sara Chaney and Mrs. C. J. Spurgin, who said the 400 marchers represented 50 women's organizations, today issued a public "thank you" to all persons who helped make the project a success and lauded the women and the Loyd Order of Moose protectors for their work.

The $4,000 would bring the unofficial total collections in the county to $21,000, still short of the $25,000 goal. Officials of the fund drive today urged residents who have not yet contributed to "please do so."

Canisters will remain in stores and business establishments for a few more days.

Communities participating in the Mothers' March were Kansas City, Lawrence, Topeka, Olathe, Overland Park, Shawnee, Lenexa, Leawood, and other communities.

Survivors are children, Isabelle Lariviere of Montreal, Canada, Catherine Carlock of Chicago, Theodore Aubin and Archie Aubin, both of Chicago, and six grandchildren.

Buraiim Oasis on the disputed frontier of Saudi Arabia, the British Iraq Petroleum Co. is seeking oil there. Saudi Arabia regards any oil found in the area as its own.

The Arabian-American Oil Co. has oil concessions from Saudi Arabia. This company is owned by four of the American giants—California Standard, Texas Co., Jersey Standard, each with 30 per cent, and Socony Mobil with the remaining 10 per cent.

This trouble spot is known to have been discussed by the President and the Prime Minister. The whole problem of Middle East oil and its protection will underlie all the talks.

Tells Lions Club Of Plans For Hospital

Backers of a Kansas County Hospital District believe that both the Lions Club and the proposed hospital district are needed, members of the Lions Club were told at their meeting Tuesday.

The speaker was Herman W. Snow, attorney for backers of the hospital district. A petition asking an election on the proposal is pending in County Court.

One of the basic reasons for going ahead with hospital construction now is that federal funds for approximately one-third of the cost are available, Snow stated.

"THE COUNTY hospital proponents believe all of us should do all we can to help St. Mary's get its program underway and completed," said Snow.

But the hospital district backers believe additional facilities also will be required to take care of the county's hospital needs, the speaker reported.

The county hospital program would be a long-range project, said the speaker. He estimated that legal requirements, planning, and construction would require four to five years before the first patient could be received at the hospital.

Snow said a hospital district is somewhat comparable to a school district.

THE FIRST STEP in its formation was to obtain petitions signed by 5 per cent of the legal voters in each township. These are on file in County Court, and on objections to them were received when the Jan. 26 deadline for objections passed, Snow reported.

In March the court will hold a hearing for the purpose of calling an election to see if the voters favor the proposal, he continued.

The proposed district comprises all of Kansas County except the villages of Reddick, Gabery and Chabasco.

If a hospital district is approved, the County Court appoints a board of directors consisting of nine persons. Terms are for three years on a staggered basis.

Snow said he feels the County Court would consider geographic distribution so the various areas of the district would be represented.

DIRECTORS MUST be interested in public health and cannot be in public office holders, he stated.

Robert Hoch was introduced as a new member of the club.

Ike's Name To Be Entered In 2 Primaries

WASHINGTON (JNS)—Sen. Thye (R-Minn.) announced he is entering day at St. Mary's Hospital and the proposed hospital district are needed, members of the Lions Club were told at their meeting Tuesday.

This followed by a day the statement by Republican Gov. George N. Craig of Indiana that he is willing to "take the responsibility" for filing Eisenhower's name in the May 9 Indiana primary. There are differing opinions as to whether a candidate's consent is required.

CRAIG PREDICTED after a White House visit Tuesday that Eisenhower will be a candidate "if his health is sufficient."

Thye predicted in a statement that Eisenhower would be re-elected by a "landslide vote." He said the president has "breathed new life and has injected hope and faith in a sagging world."

Consent of the candidate is not required in Minnesota. But the law provides that Eisenhower could remove his name from the ballot by filing by Feb. 25 an affidavit saying he is not a candidate.

Short Circuit Causes Scare At St. Patrick's Church

Minor damage was caused this morning when a short circuit developed in the electrical relay box which provides power to the organ at St. Patrick's Church.

Firemen were called to the church at 7:20 a.m. and remained on the scene about 10 minutes until the circuit had been disconnected and the danger of fire was past. Electricians were summoned immediately to repair the damage to the electrical wiring.

Acting Fire Chief James P. Marshall said no estimate was made of the damage but it was slight and confined to the wiring.

Skids Into Pole

A icy pavement at Court St. and Sixth Ave. caused his car to slide into a power pole at 11:20 p.m. Tuesday, Donald F. Glado, 18, of the Indiana hospital four months ago.

The hospital at Logansport was notified and Glado is being held while transportation arrangements are made.

Glado said he was attempting to make a left turn onto Sixth while traveling west on Court. His auto skidded on the ice and slammed into the pole.

He was not injured.

Scottie Clopper Has Clipped A Lot Of Mugs In 50 Years

A smashed finger was the deciding factor in the career of Scottie Clopper, official barber at St. Mary's Hospital.

When he was 14, Clopper started learning the printing trade. One day he smashed a finger in a job press and was taken next door to the barber shop for first aid.

Joshing the young boy, who was trying to hold back the tears, the barber said, "You don't want to learn that business—you'll lose all your fingers. Why don't you learn to be a barber?"

When the finger was healed, Clopper returned to the barber shop and was hired. He learned the trade well, and when his employer went to Oklahoma Territory to open another shop, Clopper went with him. They were there when Oklahoma became a state in 1907.

Clopper, who has been barbering in Kankakee since 1911, isn't sorry he switched to this trade. The work not only has given him an opportunity to meet many famous people—he also likes the work. When Clopper "retired" two years ago from the shop business, he continued as surgical and general barber for male patients at St. Mary's Hospital. Like a doctor, he's on 24-hour call for emergencies and goes to the hospital each morning to do surgical preparatory work.

"Sometimes a fellow with doctor and hospital bills just doesn't have the money for a shave and a haircut, but I do it anyway," Clopper explains.

IN ADDITION to the hospital service, Clopper takes care of the tonorial needs of 25 shut-ins at their homes.

After he was recalled in St. Mary's in 1951, Clopper recalls reading an ad:

"First class barber wanted. No cigarette fluffs need apply."

That's when Clopper came here to work for Nap Taylor. Having previously owned two shops, Clopper didn't relish working for someone else and soon bought out Parkhurst in the Building and Loan location. He subsequently owned shops in the Arcade Building and the First National Bank Building.

"A famous people I have clipped," Clopper says, "include Gov. Len Small, Clarence Darrow, the renowned criminal lawyer; World War I Ace Eddie Rickenbacker; William Jennings Bryan and 'Uncle Joe' Cannon, the colorful Vermilion County congressman. I have clipped many others."

BILLY SUNDAY, "the greatest evangelist who ever lived, was one of the sweetest fellows I ever met," Clopper recalls.

Clopper went to Sunday's hotel room every morning to shave him when the evangelist was conducting services at Rantoul.

"He was a great showman and gave a lot of entertainment with his services," Clopper said, recalling that he attended Sunday's services nearly every night.

"But when I shaved him, he never talked religion—just baseball. He was a great baseball fan."

Uncle Joe Cannon and William Jennings Bryan both stopped in Illinois on campaign tours. Bryan, campaigning for the presidency, spoke from a hayrack pulled up in front of Clopper's shop.

"I have a letter signed by Gov. Small that I'll never give up," Clopper said. He recalled asking the governor, one day as he was shaving him, "I would be pleased for Clopper and his wife to go through the state penitentiary at Joliet. The governor returned to me."

Elliard pointed out that the alcoholic has symptoms of mental illness, though not always as serious as those of other patients in state hospitals.

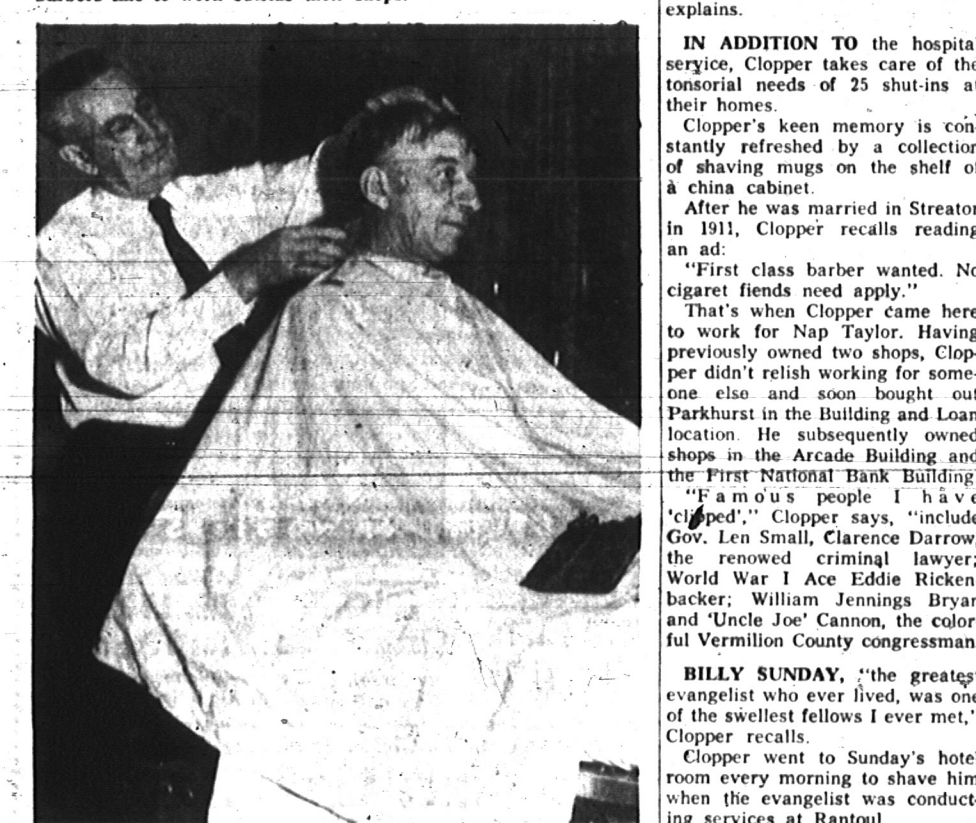

"It is hoped that medicine or psychiatry will find an answer to the alcoholic problem," Elliard said, "but at present, the therapies known to us work only for certain people and only to a limited extent."

He defined such therapies as several revivals "cures" offered by private institutions and the Alcoholics Anonymous movement.

"Some peculiar mental illness generates the need for alcohol," Elliard said. "Some psychologists believe this need arises from some deep-seated experiences in an individual's early life."

"When you take alcohol away, you must supply something else to take its place and it must be a compulsive type of substitution."

GARFIELD SWARTZ of Gilman sits up in bed at St. Mary's Hospital as Clopper drapes a cloth around him and gives a hair cut. Also surgical barber for male patients, Clopper is on 24-hour call for emergencies.

Alcoholism An Economic Problem, Researcher Reports

MANTENO—"Alcoholism is an economic problem, as well as a personal and a family problem," according to a researcher at Manteno State Hospital.

Arthur Elliard Jr., Manteno staff psychologist reported to 100 hospital volunteer and staff workers, regarding research he has been conducting in "The Alcoholic Problem."

his office and wrote a letter of admission for Clopper.

"We were treated like visiting royalty," Clopper says of their tour of the pen.

RICKENBACKER stopped in Kankakee as a recruiter shortly after he was made one of the four aces during World War I. Clopper recalls that he was a "nice looking man and an interesting fellow."

A waitress at the Lafayette Hotel where Rickenbacker stayed, became so enamored with Rickenbacker that, when an automobile manufacturing firm produced an auto named for the great flyer, she ran right out and spent her life savings to buy one, Clopper said.

Bob Fitzsimmons, Battling Nelson and John Ringling also were among Clopper's customers. Ringling was a "fleshy, nice looking man" and gave Clopper two passes to the circus. Fitzsimmons was "a slender fellow and wore his hair in a short pompadour."

An arson case brought Clarence Darrow to Kankakee in February, 1924. Clopper's about five morning before going to Circuit Court.

Two brothers had pled guilty to setting fire to their clothing store on East avenue and had implicated Joe Clark of Chicago, an insurance adjuster. Clark pled not guilty and retained Darrow to defend him.

Wayne H. Dyer was state's attorney, assisted by Assistant Attorney General Al Marfield.

During the trial two defense witnesses admitted to and were arrested for perjury. The next morning in the barber shop, Darrow suggested that Clopper be in court that day for a surprise. Clopper tried to get Darrow to devolve the surprise and Darrow only said, "I'm not going to tell you—you'll just have to be there to find out."

Clopper was there when Darrow's client changed his plea to guilty, saving face for the famous criminal lawyer. According to local newspaper accounts, it was brought out in the trial that Darrow had not known his witnesses were lying.

Set February As Sign Up Month For Navy

February has been designated "Navy Sign Up Month" in proclamations by Gov. William G. Stratton and Mayor Ed P. Madison.

The proclamations were issued as part of a program to spur enlistments in the Navy and to help build Navy personnel up to the authorized number.

Jim Chammess, local Navy recruiter, said young men who successfully pass entrance examinations may start training immediately. The enlistees will receive recruit training at Great Lakes.

Emphasis is being placed on four-year enlistments. If enough men volunteer for the Navy a draft of personnel will not be necessary. Enlistment is open in all branches of the Navy, including the regular Navy, Naval reserve, Naval air reserve, WAVES, and in Officer programs.

To give the enlistment drive a boost, Chammess said friends may enlist together and be assured of going through recruit training with one another and of returning home on recruit furloughs at the same time.

Chammess said part of the Navy's need for men at the present time is due to the fact that many men who joined the Navy during the Korean War are completing their enlistments and returning to civilian life.

Youth Slays Nurse Who Rejected Him

BOSTON (U)—A love-struck youth today was accused of shooting to death an attractive student nurse who had rejected him as a suitor.

Miss Rose Marie Da Silva, 18, of Brockton was slain in front of the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital nurses' home as three companion student nurses looked on in horror.

Shortly after the shooting last night, Charles Atwood Jr., 21, of East Bridgewater, walked into a police station and admitted the slaying. He was booked on "suspicion of murder."

POLICE LT. Warren Blair quoted Atwood as saying that he tried for about an hour and half Tuesday to win back the affection of Miss Da Silva.

He said that after the attractive, dark-haired nurse refused him, he waited outside the hospital and as she came down the front stairs, fired several shots at her.

Hospital attaches rushed out and carried Miss Da Silva inside. She was dead with five bullets in her head, neck and chest.

Blair said Atwood told him that he kept company with Miss Da Silva last year but she left him for another youth.

Atwood was given a medical discharge from the Army because of a nervous condition after service in Korea. Until two weeks ago he was employed in a Brockton shoe factory.

Boyle Adds Depth To Poll--What It Takes To Be A Good Boss

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—If hired hands could pick their own boss, what kind of a boss would they pick? You'd think that the average employee would rather walk under a falling ladder than risk stirring up the office peasants by asking them a question like that.

Not at all. Business was so good last year that the 16,000 executives who belong to the National Office Man's Association had enough spare time to brood over just that question—and set out to find the answer.

They polled 20,000 office workers throughout the United States and Canada on the qualities of an "ideal boss"—and got replies from 6,877, or about one third of the total.

Surprisingly, the gripes were few. Not one wrote:

"MY IDEA of an ideal boss is a guy who will figure out a way to solve the most vexing problem in the room."

In its own summary of the returns, the executives' association said the ideal boss was pictured as "a man between 40 and 49 with a high degree of managerial skill who is eminently fair to workers and has a good deal of common sense."

The breakdown revealed further:

1. Laziness isn't held against him. What is going on in the boss's mind is his business.

2. Young women workers want him to have "an understanding nature," and not be grouchy.

3. Older women demand that he have a good appearance, a high degree of intelligence, and a sense of humor.

4. Young workers don't like a superior attitude.

5. Older workers don't object if he has a temper but insist that he must lie.

6. Most workers don't mind if a boss is impatient so long as he is fair. They think he should "be ready with a pat on the back for good work, and to sort of let people know what is going on in the business."

THE RESULTS of this poll probably are pretty enlightening to the executives themselves. But I still wonder about the 13,000 office workers who didn't return their questionnaires. Why not? Couldn't they afford a three-cent stamp? Were they afraid it might be a subtle management trick to trap them into saying something unwise? (It wasn't).

I decided to make a short poll of my own. So I went out to the street during lunch hour and asked the first five office workers I met their idea of a perfect boss.

He is a manic-depressive who is near-sighted and has a terrible memory, a sore throat and a passion for playing golf.

Here are the explanatory comments of those polled:

"I been reading up on psychiatry and I read that a manic-depressive is a guy who throws money around when he's feeling high, and don't like to be around nobody when he's feeling low. What's wrong with a boss like that?"

"A NEAR-SIGHTED boss can't tell you you are even if he spies you sneaking downstairs for an extra coffee break."

"Bosses should be seen and not heard. I have tender ears. A boss with a sore throat can't bawl you out without hurting himself more than he hurts you."

"A boss that likes to play golf doesn't hang around the office all afternoon. That gives you a chance to sneak home early your own self."

Neither of these polls proves anything. But taken together they may give a more rounded picture of "the ideal boss" than either does separately.

U.S. Presses For Westinghouse Strike Settlement

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government today applied new pressure toward settling the 10-day Westinghouse strike.

Terminating the strike "intolerable," Federal Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan invited top bargaining representatives to both sides to meet with him here today.

Finnegan said his move was "not a departure from the administration's policy of not bringing labor-management disputes to Washington."

He said today's meeting was to "review and consider the status of Westinghouse strike negotiations to date."

Normal Weather Seen In February

WASHINGTON (U)—The Weather Bureau predicted Tuesday that February temperatures would average below seasonal normals in most of the country west of the Mississippi, with greatest departures in the Great Plains.

"In the eastern third of the nation temperatures are expected to average near normal except above in the northeast and south Atlantic states," the Weather Bureau forecast.

Vienna Choir To Sing All-Mozart Program

An all-Mozart program, including a costume opera in one act, will be presented by the Vienna Choir Boys at the Kankakee High School Thursday night.

The all-Mozart program is planned in observance of the 200th birth anniversary of the Austrian composer, Wolfgang Mozart, whose actual birthday was Jan. 27.

Sponsored by the Kankakee Civic Music Association, the program will open with five selections by the 22-voice choir of 8 to 10-year-old boys. They will sing "Sancta Maria Mater Dei," "Sub Tuum Praesidium," "Ave Verum," "Laudate Dominum," and "Alleluia."

After the first intermission, the famous choir will stage "Bastien and Bastienne," composed by Mozart when he was 12 years old. The comic story concerns Bastienne, a shepherdess, Bastien, her lover, and Colas, a sorcerer.

When Bastienne believes her lover has left her, the sorcerer advises her to pretend indifference. Bastien returns and proclaims to Colas his intention to marry Bastienne. Colas tells Bastien the shepherdess prefers another and Bastien asks Colas' help.

The Rev. Donald G. Cox, president, said the association has been besieged by requests for single admission tickets to this performance, but has had to turn them down.

Rev. Cox explained that admission is by membership only. The association annually conducts a membership drive and sells only season tickets to the four concerts it brings each season. The association books and pays for the concert series in advance, necessitating the advance sale of season tickets.

The association currently is organizing plans to conduct its membership campaign for the 1956-57 season.

RECOVERING FROM the last in his series of eight operations for intestinal ailment is Gregory Hummel, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Hummel, Cabery. Unable to attend school full time since his first operation last July, Gregory's spare time, when not in the hospital, is spent at home watching television, playing with his dog, King, and spending some time at his pool table. Many hours also are spent entertaining his sister, Marna Rae, 15 months. His father is employed as a trucker while his mother sees that all goes well at home. (Journal photo)

Cabery Boy Recuperates Following 8th Operation

CABERY (JNS)—A 7-year-old Cabery boy has undergone more major operations in the last seven months than most people in a lifetime.

Gregory Hummel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Hummel, already has been in surgery eight times. And his future holds at least two more operations.

The youngster has had an ailment caused by the absence of a nerve needed to help move matter through his intestines.

Seven operations to remedy the situation were performed in St. Mary's Hospital, Kankakee. Another operation was done in Children's Memorial Hospital, Chicago. Complications following the first operation brought the need for the others. Gregory will be on his feet in a few days.

The youngster's many surgical experiences and numerous weeks in the hospital recuperating have resulted in considerable expense, thousands of dollars, to the parents.
