Scouts To Mark 36th Anniversary

Forty-sixth anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America will be celebrated Feb. 6-12, Boy Scout Week, by 3,363 boys, scouts and leaders in the Kankakee Council.

The council, composed of Kankakee, Will and Grundy counties, is headed by 1,612 adults active as volunteer leaders, all of whom in some way will be celebrating with their proteges.

Most festivities will be confined to separate pack, troop and post meetings except for the Council Court of Recognition scheduled Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Kankakee High School.

The court will honor all scouts who achieved the rank of first class or above in the past year of scouting. Robert Nichols of 792 W. Calista St., chairman of the advancement committee for the council, will head the activities.

BOY SCOUT WEEK will witness the national launching of the organization's four-year program, "Onward for God and My Country," created, according to Rainbow Council officials, to help prepare America's boys to live in today's world and prepare them to carry their full share in the years ahead.

Three million boys throughout the nation together with one million adult leaders and countless former scouts attending troop reunions will join in the launching. Rainbow council is one of 538 in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Canal Zone and Puerto Rico. Kankakee District, a division of Rainbow Council, has 560 boys, 478 boy scouts, 172 explorers and 425 volunteer adult leaders.

Boy Scout Sunday will be observed in churches of all faiths Sunday, Feb. 12, with scouts attending services in uniform. Scouts who have qualified for the religious awards of their faiths will be honored at that time.

RUSSIANS TOLD ABOUT REPLY MOSCOW — Moscow radio told Russian people for the first time today that President Eisenhower had rejected Soviet Premier Bulganin's proposal for a 20-year Soviet-U. S. friendship treaty.

The Soviet government radio followed its first broadcast of the U. S. President's week-old letter immediately with the text of Bulganin's new letter asking the President to reconsider the proposal.

Heart fund tote pole was formed by these Kankakee Boy Scouts who will be among those distributing the posters shown here in the downtown district Saturday. The boys (from top) are Ronald Brethardt, Robert Jackson and Ronald Vadenconcor.

They are all members of troop 9 which is undertaking the project for the Kankakee County Heart Association. They will distribute posters of the type they are holding to Kankakee business places. Goal of the drive, which is being held during February, is $15,000. (Journal photo)

Rotarians See Film On Hearts Rheumatic fever, one of the diseases the Heart Association helps fight, was the subject of a film seen by Kankakee Rotarians Thursday.

Early detection of rheumatic fever is important, but its diagnosis is difficult, the film pointed out as it related the case history of a small boy with the disease.

Chances of recovery and avoiding new attacks are much better placed in many public places, and contributions may be mailed to the Heart Association, Box 82, Kankakee.

Dr. Charles Allison was chairman of the program. Mrs. Herman Siegle, executive secretary of the Kankakee County Heart Association, was a guest at the meeting.

The work of the Heart Association has been very fine," Dr. Allison reported.

Urges Voters To Register For Primary

Voters who are not already properly registered can avoid a last-minute rush if they register now for the April 10 primary election, according to County Clerk Raymond L. Canaday.

Numerous changes of address already are being reported at the registration office on the third floor of the courthouse.

Voters can register there from 9 a. m. to noon and 1:30 p. m. on weekdays and 9 a. m. to noon on Saturdays.

Voters who already are correctly registered need not sign up again. They can be added to the list.

Voters must be properly registered to vote in either the primary or general election.

They can register if they will reach the minimum age of 21 by the date of the primary.

A VOTER ALSO must be a citizen of the United States and have lived in the state one year, county 90 days and precinct 30 days.

Kankakee County had 38,589 registered voters at the last general election.

No great increase in registration is foreseen for the primary, but the number may jump at voters sign up before the general election this fall.

March 12 is the deadline to register to vote in the primary.

In addition to taking new registrations, clerks are busy all year around clearing the files of cards of voters who have died or moved away.

IN AUGUST the office will mail cards to every one of the county's nearly 40,000 registered voters.

If a voter has failed to notify registration officials of a change of address, his card will go to the old address and be returned by the post office.

That will result in removal of that voter's name from the registration lists.

Voters can avoid this by reporting changes of address. Mrs. Lucinda Lemmerger, deputy registrar, pointed out.

Changes of address can be reported in person, or by mail if the voter lists both his old and new addresses, she said.

A change of name by marriage is the same as a new registration, and must be reported in person.

Police Think Professional Killed Official

ST. LOUIS — Police believe a professional killer carried out a gangland-style shooting of Robert L. Brown, 41-year-old parliamentarian of the St. Louis Board of Aldermen.

"The way he was hit indicates whoever did the shooting had been before," Chief of Detectives James Chapman said Thursday in discussing the 9-day-old slaying.

Brown's body was found in an alley near 12th St. and North St. on Jan. 24. The wholesale tobacco dealer was seen getting into his car just after parking his car on front of his home. He was found 15 minutes later, shot four times.

"WHEN Brown stepped from the car, I don't think he knew he was going to be killed," Chapman said. "I think he was called back and as he turned to face the car, he was shot down. Then bullets were pumped into his brain to complete the job."

Chapman said he didn't believe Brown had any idea he was in danger either when he got into the car or stepped out in the alley.

But the officer said police were stumped as to a motive. "No one can think of any reason for the crime," he said.

Brown's widow, Ann, said in an interview Thursday that she knew her husband was a target of a "nothing to support" theory that hoodlum opposition to Brown's expanding cigarette and vending machine firm business might have resulted in the slaying.

She was born Feb. 26, 1877, at Portsmouth, Ohio. She had lived in the St. Louis area for 46 years. Her husband died June 15, 1952.

Mrs. Molen is survived by a son, Ray of Franklin Park, two grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Kevin McCray of the Methodist Church Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Harvey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Elmwood Cemetery.

Boy, 3, Hurt When Hit By Taxicab

A child escaped serious injury in a collision with a taxicab Thursday evening, police reported.

La. Hurt, Fred reported that William Coo, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Coo, 841 S. Greenwood Ave., followed some older boys who ran across River Street at Harrison avenue.

The boy was hit by a taxicab driven by Horace Henry Ford, 27, Police said the boy made contact with the right front side of the cab. He was taken home by his father and treated by a physician.

The accident occurred at 6:38 p.m. Police said the boy suffered injuries to his mouth and face but was not seriously hurt.

Mrs. Hansen was named in complaints alleging disorderly conduct and attempting to bribe Stevens.

State Policeman Ralph Mann, who also went to the scene, said Hansen's auto halted on Route 54 south of Manteno and an auto driven by a Mr. McGowan ran into a ditch to keep from hitting it in the fog.

The Hansen were to appear before Police Magistrate Elmer Papp.

A total of $1,450 damage was reported in an accident one-half mile west of Route 45 on Des Moines road.

Mann said Paul Bucher, 38, 272 S. Fifth Ave., had just come out of a farm drive and was going slow in a heavy fog. His auto was hit from the rear by one driven by Ray St. Aubin, 17, R. R. 2, Manteno, Mann reported.

Unofficial estimates placed damage at $550 to St. Aubin's auto and $500 to Bucher's.

Fifteen minutes later an auto ran into the rear of a semi-trailer truck which was going slow in a heavy fog on Route 45 at the Manteno-Des Moines road.

The auto was driven by Warren R. Herberts, 19, Western Springs. A passenger, Michael Llewellyn, 19, of LaGrange, was cut about the face, Mann reported.

The truck was driven by John R. Legain, 25, Monroe, La. Damage to the car was estimated at $500 while the truck sustained about $15 damage.

GARBED IN NAVY BLUES and sailor caps, the world-famous Vienna Choir Boys proved it at the Kankakee High School Thursday night.

Their general excellence and childish appeal completely charmed a large audience.

Proof of the universality of music and of the boys' acting ability, demonstrated in the presentation of Mozart's comic opera, "Bastien and Bastienne."

The first portion of the program consisted of some of Mozart's better known and more serious music, while the final part was devoted to lighter compositions, including "D'Barin had 'Katz verlor'."

The precision of the 22-voice choir was emphasized in the latter number.

In response to the audience's applause the boys' 16-14 years-old, revealed their European training with old-world formality in their quick, short bows from the waist.

The only selection in English was one of five encores. "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen," which was so well received it led to still another encore.

Hourglass Figure, Split Coats Top Fashion

PARIS — Mrs. Jacques Fath displayed almost an hourglass silhouette today in her spring fashion collection. Her new line hugs the curves and embraces the waist.

What she calls her chalice line emphasizes the bust with bows and jabots. It nips in smartly at the natural waistline and has full-bodied hips. Most skirts are slim sheaths with suits and morning dresses. They become bell-shaped for late-day and evening, with a diagonal fold on the tummy pulling fullness to the sides for a panier effect.

The newest creation is a "St. Martin's coat," inspired by the legend of the saint who split his cloak in two to give half to a beggar. The Fath coats are split up the back to the shoulder blades.

They resemble long stole-scarves with sleeves.

Tips For Tourists To Titoland

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia — Although Titoland is a Communist country, it is so eager to get hold of dollars that it welcomes American tourists and has started a special campaign to induce them to vacation here.

After one week in this federation of six socialist republics I am ready to recommend heartily that tourists visit this little country, if they are prepared to leave the 20th century and vacation in a land where conditions closely resemble those when our great-grandfathers were pioneering the midwest over a century ago.

Sturdy Americans of pioneer stock with good stomachs, who like to take a bath once a week in the kitchen next the stove, will feel at home in Titoland. But those who insist on first-class hotels like the Statler or Hilton chains had better pass this country by.

HERE IN BELGRADE, the capital city of the six federated republics, there are only three hotels which are considered suitable for Americans: the Excelsior, the Majestic and the Moscow. Each is small, judged by American standards, and has only 50 or 60 rooms.

These three hotels in Yugoslavia's largest city would be rated second-class by most tourists but are considered as third class by certain British officials who live in them.

There have been living in the Excelsior for the past few days and came here since I was advised it was the best hotel in the city.

Most of the rooms are without bath, including mine, and my single bed does not have box springs or an inner-spring mattress. Instead it has a wire netting underneath the mattress so the bed sags badly in the middle when I lie down. But my room is large and comfortable and contains a table, three chairs and a sofa.

THE LITTLE self-operated elevator, which holds four people, is not working perfectly, for it refuses to stop at the third floor on which I am located. So each time I use it I have to ride to the fourth floor, get out and then walk down one flight.

But the dining room is good here and there is even a three piece orchestra which starts playing at 8 each evening.

My room costs 1,000 dinars per night, or about $2.25 at the new tourist rate of 400 dinars to the dollar which went into effect this week.

Those tourists who fear to penetrate deep into the country and to visit Belgrade could well limit their summer visit to the Adriatic Coastal resorts where they can go from Italy by ship to Dubrovnik on the Adriatic, one of Europe's most delightful vacation spots.

YUGOSLAVIA is not an exceptionally good country to visit if you like to shop and get bargains. Prices on fine quality handcraft products are rather high at a rate of 400 dinars to the dollar. You can do better at Macy's in New York, or Marshall-Field in Chicago.

Leather goods, however, are comparatively cheap and one can buy a good pigskin leather brief case for $12 or $15. But a British chap with whom I went to a movie said he bought one the other day and the stitching came loose the first day he used it.

A British woman with whom I had breakfast in the hotel dining room this morning (several employees of the British Embassy live in the hotel) said she bought a leather handbag this week and the clasp came off the first week she used it.

A friend of hers bought a lovely tablecloth with much handiwork work on it in colored designs but the first time she washed it all the colors ran and ruined the whole thing. This is because the Yugoslavs are now making their own yarns and dyes them. Apparently they haven't yet learned how to dye yarns so the colors don't run.

IN SPITE OF THESE defects in quality, one can find a few bargains in handcraft articles such as plates, cigarette boxes and holders and miniature copper coffee pots with brass handles.

I am told, too, that if one wants to buy such goods and pay for them by check, having them shipped directly to America by mail, one gets a rate of 600 dinars to the dollar. This rate is favorable enough to permit several good bargains.

All in all, travel, food and lodging in Yugoslavia are cheaper than in most western European countries and customers and customs are kinder than in the West.

WE DON'T LIKE TO BE DISCOURAGING, BUT—

By H. N. Bundsen, M.D.

Beginners At School Need Sleep

In a few days, many tiny tots across the nation will be toddling off to a big, new adventure—school. Entering kindergarten or first grade is quite a thrill for a youngster as many of you undoubtedly will remember. But it is also apt to create a few problems at home.

For one thing that youngster of yours probably will be deprived of his usual afternoon nap.

It is more important now than ever that he should get ample sleep, mingling with large groups of children he doesn't know, his first classroom experiences, the excitement of being away from home for hours at a time—all these are likely to make him keyed up.

PUPILS in elementary grades need between nine and 11 hours sleep, depending on their general health, age and physical condition. If your kindergarten child must awake at 7 a.m. to get to school on time, see that he is in bed by 8 p.m. at the latest.

As he gets older, these sleeping hours can be adjusted somewhat. But permitting him to remain up even an extra 15 minutes at night often makes it that much more difficult to get him up in the morning.

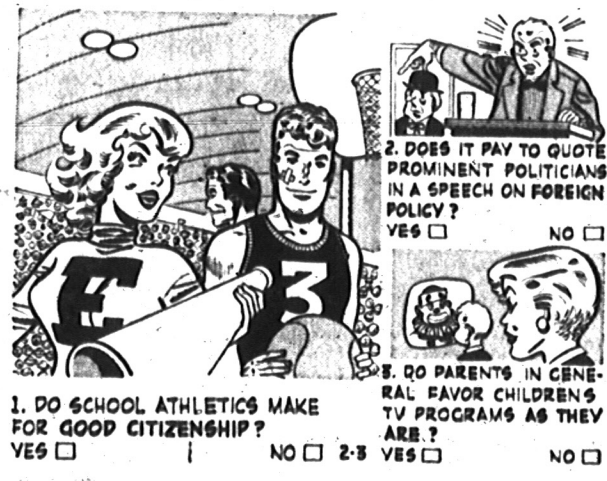

If he is tired, nervous or irritable by mid-morning, it is usually a pretty good indication that he should get to bed earlier.

Do not yank a youngster away from the television set and send him scurrying off to bed before going to sleep he should have a period of quiet relaxation, even if it is only 15 minutes.

MAYBE YOU can read to him or even tell him a bedtime story. Repeating an old familiar story

Let's Explore Your Mind

1. DO SCHOOL ATHLETICS MAKE FOR GOOD CITIZENSHIP? YES ☐ NO ☐ 2-5 YES ☐ NO ☐

Answer to Question No. 1: John L. Larson, President, American Association of School Administrators, says in "Educational Sociology," "As a coach, administrator, official and school administrator, I believe high-school athletics help develop good citizenship, help to teach fair play and good sportsmanship, foster respect for the worth of the individual regardless of race, creed, or economic background. They develop team spirit, essential to team success."

Answer to Question No. 2: Apparently not. Psychologists H. Gilkinson, S. F. Paulson, and D. J. Sikkinen, concluded, that "quoting authorities such as Ke-fauver and Secretary Dulles, for supporting evidence in a speech on foreign policy had no significant effects on the audience attitude." Speakers could not be quoted from "Let's Explore Your Mind" and cinched their arguments with the words "The difference is in the order in which the arguments were presented."

Answer to Question No. 3: A survey was made under the auspices of National Council for Churches of Christ, of 3,559 homes in New Haven, Connecticut. The results showed that 69 per cent of parents generally favored present programs, while 31 per cent of parents of children aged from four to nine indicated approval.

Positively No Visitors

I'm not only gregarious but garrulous. I like to talk, to argue, to debate, to make speeches, to fight down back talk. And what's more I easily take a violent dislike to the worm who is silent because he "finds it convenient not to get into a controversy."

So here I am living in enforced silence. The sign on the door reads "Positively No Visitors." The few words a day that I can get away with are with a nurse who has been instructed obviously to keep it down to a deal level; I do call the blood-taker a vampire, but she is used to that and has been trained to move to the next victim without too much fuss. The cardiogram girls are too serious for conversation; they are dead-pan but I might enjoy a meal if we order it a day in advance are very jolly but deaf by routine.

I DO GET A LITTLE conversation with my wife who is permitted to call on me for an hour or so. She tells me of my family and friends and Joe. But nothing has gone wrong since I have been here. In all my years, I have known no such perfection, nothing to worry about, nothing to get angry about. Obviously, I am the victim of instructions that I am to have no emotional upsets. It was like the day that my friend, Ward Greene, died. They were all here with their machines measuring the effect of it on my sick heart. But my heart took that not on how you spend your money but on how you live. I believed; they only know that a muscle in the back of my heart is bruised, but they do not know that I do not believe in death and therefore do not fear what they fear.

I would like to sit this afternoon with my old friend, Herbert Hoover, and I would like to listen to his great wisdom, arguing a point or two, but leaving with a sense of enrichment. I would like to see my friend, Fritz Kreisler, and we would talk of the 19th more than the 20th. Fritz Kreisler has a birthday this week; I think it is his 80th birthday. He is no longer playing the fiddle, but someone else will play with my friend, Fritz Kreisler, and we would talk of the 19th more than the 20th. Fritz Kreisler has a birthday this week; I think it is his 80th birthday. He is no longer playing the fiddle, but someone else will play with my friend, Fritz Kreisler, and we would talk of the 19th more than the 20th.

THE ONE IS IMPRISONED in such a room as this with a sign on the door, "Positively No Visitors." And the weeks pass and not even a telephone conversation with Dick or Roy or Bill or Glenn. What are they doing? What are they thinking? It is really possible that the earth turns on its axis without my sage wisdom? I see by the newspapers that the great men make great mistakes but they make them without first consulting me. It was even so in the time of Julius Caesar and of Napoleon and so it is now. What a blow to one's ego that it is impossible even to have a conversation about that. I wonder what they did to Stalin when he had his coronary. They never told anyone about it until after he was dead, but then he was a dictator and could fool people legitimately.

Enough of this banter. Just as I am not permitted to write this column, I shall talk to myself until they take off the sign "Positively No Visitors." I shall declaim to myself on the continuing imperfections of the human race and the impartial stupidity of politicians. I wonder why Sen. Neuberger has such bad taste; it must be pre-natal.

NOBODY BEGRUDGES an erstwhile ukelele virtuoso an occasional nostalgic romp along the old familiar "Beach at Waikiki." The throwback seldom lasts long, for what the old-timer really wants to savor is not the punky plunking but the carefree spirit of the early Twenties which is gone beyond recapture. Besides, the ukelele doesn't have a very long range. And the music isn't so much of a menace. After a few years in retirement he no longer has the wind.

But the attic of this country about in mildewed saxophones, cornets and trombones that are a constant temptation to putting householders who have reached the age when they have time on their hands. These deadly instruments get an enormous amount of use and peace and quiet of all comfortable neighborhoods.

THE TROUBLE with a wind instrument is not only that it has great carrying power but that nearly everybody who owns one thinks he can play it. This is usually a sad condition from the outset and it becomes sadder and sadder with the passing of time.

Musical virtuosity is an ephemeral thing. Once it's achieved it must be carefully nurtured from day to day or it is soon lost. The great artists know this. They practice for hours every day and can notice the difference when they skip a day.

But the dilettante hornblower who abandons music for some form of gainful employment never quite gets over the notion that he can pick it up again where he left off anytime the spirit moves him.

Other than you might think, it is his artificial dentures that spare the neighbors the ordeal of his dilapidation.

If he can't blow he never finds out that he no longer can play the horn anyway.

Your Income Tax —No. 5—

Don't Ignore Exclusions

Reporting your income on your tax return is basically the simple process of reducing your total income to your taxable income. The tax law gives you three main ways of whittling your total income down to the amount that is taxable. These are—exemptions, deductions and exclusions. Exemptions, discussed in the second article of this series, gives you a tax-free living allowance of $600 for each person dependent on your income.

Deductions and exclusions are both deductions, but with a difference. You get deductions, discussed in the third article of this series, according to the way you spend your income—you don't have to pay tax on income, for instance, that you spend in paying interest.

Exclusions (which, in company with a discussion of who must make estimated tax payments, is the subject of this article) depend not on how you spend your income, but on how you receive it. Exclusions, which are dealt with separately and differently from deductions, are:

MANY of your exclusions never show up in your tax return. This is because they are exempt income—income that need not be reported at all. Other exclusions are reported on your return, but they are deducted from your income. These are:

First, the exempt income, that need not be reported:

Gifts (this must be money or something else of value for which you performed no service whatever)—inheritances—death benefits of life insurance policies—amounts up to $5,000 given by an employer to the family of a deceased employee (if more than one employer the exclusion for pay you receive from your employer when you are absent from work due to sickness or injury—discussed in Article No. 3—is an example of a partial exclusion. The law limits the exclusion to a rate of $100 a week, where the employee has not contributed to his sick pay plan.

AN EXCLUSION may also be partial only in the case of a parsonage, if a cash rental allowance, instead of a parsonage, is provided. The cash allowance may be excluded from taxable income only to the extent it is used to pay rent or purchase a home. Pension pay, to be dealt with in a special article, may also be partly excluded from your taxable income.

If your employer transfers you, the expense money he gives you for the move may be excluded up to the amount actually spent in moving.

Employees need not report as income the value of meals they receive from the employer, when the meals are taken at the place of business, and for the employer's convenience. Lodging received from your employer need not be reported, if the lodging is at the place of business, the employee lives in for the convenience of the employer, and if living in is a condition of the job.

Whether the meals and lodging exclusions apply to domestics is something the Revenue Service is still mulling over. There is a good chance the Service will rule that in the case of domestics the "place of business" is the employer's home, and that the exclusions therefore do apply.

Who must file an estimated tax form, and make estimated tax payments? The withholding rates on wages are not sufficient to keep most taxpayers fully paid up. Consequently some taxpayers are required to file (by April 15, except in the case of farmers, who get until Jan. 15, 1957) a Declaration of Estimated Tax and make quarterly payments. You do this on special Form 1040-ES. This is mailed to most taxpayers who have been estimating. You can get the form from any Revenue office, and from banks, postoffices and other public places.

THOSE WHO MUST estimate first into two classes. The estimate class is taxpayers whose total income can reasonably be expected to consist of wages subject to withholding and not more than $100 of other income, and to exceed $10,000.

$10,000 in the case of a taxpayer in the special head of household class, or a widow or widower entitled to special tax rates.

$5,000 for other single taxpayers.

$3,000 for a married individual NOT entitled to file a joint return.

$5,000 for a married individual entitled to file a joint return, where the combined income of husband and wife will exceed $10,000.

The second class consists of taxpayers whose total income can reasonably be expected to include more than $100 not subject to withholding, and to exceed the sum of the following:

1. $500 for each of the taxpayer's exemptions.

2. Plus $400.

Penalties for under-estimating are mandatory. They are described on page 13 of the instructions booklet. But you cannot be penalized if you estimate your 1956 income to be the same as your 1955 income, or if you compute the tax on the tax rates in effect when you file your declaration for 1956.

Driscoll Starts New Job With Bears At 60

CHICAGO (U-P)—Football's oldtimers were scratching their heads today trying to remember when a man as old as Paddy Driscoll, who is 60, ever achieved appointment as head coach of a major gridiron power. Many think it is unprecedented.

George Halas, the 61st year old coach of the Chicago Bears, named Driscoll as his successor as head coach of the Chicago Bears.

Paddy had been on the Bears staff the last 15 years and a Halas favorite ever since the two played together on the Great Lakes team which defeated Marquette in 1919 and 1920 Rose Bowl game.

"Paddy's career in football includes starting at halfback for Northwestern University, playing with the Chicago Cardinals and also coaching them in 1921 and 1922. He played with the Bears in 1926 and retired as a player in 1928.

Driscoll was an all-time great as a dropkick, now a lost art. He dropped 40 field goals during his career.

Kays Make Big Title Bid

Must Defeat Argo, Bloom To Stay In Race

By HERB JANNUSCH
In another 24 hours or so, Kankakee's title-minded hopefuls should know whether they're going to stay in the South Suburban League championship race right on down to the wire or suffer a quick KO.

A win tonight at home over Argo at home and another Saturday at Bloom in Chicago Heights would leave the Maroon and Blue with comparatively smooth sailing to at least a co-championship. A defeat in either contest would just about write them off as a title contender.

Tonight's game is the first at home for Kankakee since Jan. 13 and only the second home contest since the holiday truce in late December.

After the weekend firing, the Kays have four conference games on their slate but only one of these is against a first division team—league-leading Thornton of Harvey—and that's at home. On the other hand, all of the other three first division outlets will have at least two games apiece with each other. More important, three of them will be in the hands of the Kays' arch-rivals, Bloom, Leyden and Kane.

While the Kays' first have to dispose of Argo tonight, a team on which they lowered the boom 65-38 Dec. 9 and which was only twice in eight league contests, coach Earl Jones' young men can't be blamed if they consider Saturday's scrap of less importance.

Bloom is one of the two teams that defeated the Kankakees, and the other is the Trojans, who are tied with the Jansons for second place.

There was Bloom that landed the Kays their first defeat of the current campaign, after they had won six straight games. If Kankakee tonight it will have to win a six-game winning streak to lay on the line against the Trojans.

It is important to the Kays because it gives them a chance to square accounts in the long and holy contest of the Kays' and Bloom. Bloom stands at 32 victories for the Chicago Heights club and 31 for Kankakee.

BERT MOORE, the Bloom coach, has made only one change in his starting lineup since the first meeting of the two teams, but he has made several alterations in the personnel of his squad. He has elevated two sophomores and added a freshman from his crack freshman-sophomore team and one of these sophomores, Chuck Green, has moved into starting role, replacing Paul Goebel at the guard.

The other starters are Grady McCollum, and Bob Bell, 6-3, forward; Bob Tewes, 6-6, center; and Jerry Calangino, 6-1, guard. Green is 6-2 and helps make the Trojans a team of tremendous overall height. They average 6-3, an inch more than even the rangy Kays.

Moore's club has great scoring balance and fine reserve strength, too, although McCollum and reserve guard Bob Strider are the only two seniors on the first 10. Against Kankakee in December, Moore used but five players and scored between 9 and 16 points a piece. McCollum, a great rebounder, is the leader among the Bloom point-makers with his 16-point average. He ranks fifth among the league scorers with his 133 points in eight games.

MCCOLLUM GOT 16 AGAINST Kankakee, Bell 11, Calangino and Goebel 10 each and Tewes nine. Bob Bagwell of Kankakee, who is tied for third place in the league scoring with 136 points, was a dazzling display of a record 64-60 game against the Trojans with 23. Moore's defense held the other Kankakee scorers, Bob Schmidt, to six points. Schmidt is seventh in the league with 116.

The Kays are basing their hopes of reversing the decision Saturday night on the fact that they have shown much improvement in recent weeks and are in better physical condition than they were at the time of their defeat.

For Thursday night's 20 defeat by the pace-setting Canadians led by one point behind the late second place New York Rangers and 14 points behind Montreal.

ST. LOUIS GOT INTO an early hole at Wichita and trailed 48-37 at the half before catching fire. Big Charley Tyra, as usual, was high for Louisville, which tumbled to 10-10 on the Missouri side of the Mississippi, which is counted among the Illinois kill. The bag at Horseshoe Lake was 14,500, at Union County 2,500, and at Crab Orchard 6,500.

THE HARVEST figures for 1955 included 1,200 on the Missouri side of the Mississippi, which is counted among the Illinois kill. The bag at Horseshoe Lake was 14,500, at Union County 2,500, and at Crab Orchard 6,500.

Salkelds Win In GKBL By 108-46 Score

A runaway which saw the winning team top the 100 point mark and two close games featured the competition in the Greater Kankakee Basketball League Thursday night.

Salkeld's roared to a 108-46 victory over Company A, Florence Steve tipped Mantoro 65-39 and Altkem squeezed by Bradley AG 71-74.

Altkem was out in front of Bradley all the way but had to quell a last half rally to take the victory. The winners had a 19-4 first quarter lead and were on top 35-29 at halftime. Ed Bertrand and Mel Saathoff paced the winners with 29 and 26 points respectively while Benny Rasmussen pitched in 23 for Bradley.

In the Florence Stove-Mantoro game it was another case of the losing team cutting loose with a late rally only to fall short. Mantoro trailed 50-33 going into the final quarter and then gradually cut the margin to six points. Forward Fry was tops for the winners with 30 points while Jerry Jarvis collected 16.

SALKELD'S HAD an easy time with Company A as six players on the winning squad flipped in 12 or more points. Center Bill Gross headed the parade with 31.

Pasqual, A 'Dud' For Nats, 'Most Valuable' In Cuba

Little Camilo Pasqual of Washington, the apple of Charlie Dresser's eye, was named the "Most Valuable Player" in the Cuban Winter League.

Despite the 2-1 record Pasqual posted with Washington last year, he was named the "Most Valuable Player" in the Cuban Winter League.

The Arthur Gardner Trophy, emblematic of the most valuable player award in Cuba, will be presented to the 196-pound Pasqual in a special ceremony Sunday. Gardner, the U.S. ambassador to Cuba, will make the presentation personally.

Even while receiving the good news from Cuba, the Senators were busy signing players. The club announced the receipt of signed contracts from pitchers Ted Abernathy and Connie Grob and outfielder Vern Morgan from the Chicago Cubs and then assigned him to Chattanooga of the Southern Association where he will be converted into a pitcher.

Veteran Greg Staley, a National League castoff, and youthful Ralph Terry, a 16-year winner in the Phillies, were signed by Staley.

Argo did not score from the field until midway in the third quarter. West held a 39-10 margin with Argo hitting nine of 11 free tosses in the opening two quarters.

John Volkman paced the West team with 12 points, Mike Martin collected 11 and Marvin St. John 10.

Such professionalists as Cary Midgloff (72), two-time winners Jim Demaret (73) and Lloyd Mangrum (74), 1955 winners, were Open season players.

Open season players were Jack Fick (73) were taking a back seat to the lesser known Lloyd Herbert. But the tournament picture was still uncertain.

Ten players were within three strokes of the leader. Most signed out were dark horses, while a scattering, such as Bo Winger, at 60, Jack Burke and the related Palmer, Johnny and Arnold, at 70, could be regarded as definite threats.

benches, Bloom should have a big edge. Moore backs up his front line with Strider and Goebel, both of whom were regulars until laid low by injuries; Homer Thurman, 64, freshman center who has improved by leaps and bounds; and Leroy Jackson, sophomore guard.

JONES SAID Thursday that Jan Hall, one of three guards who have been battling for the fifth starting job, will open against Argo, but he will have to be sharp to keep either Bob Boer or Tom Palmerator from moving in on his job.

Even if the Kays beat both Argo and Bloom, there isn't much chance that they'll gain on Thornton. The Wildcats play twice, too, but against second division teams.

Indiana's nationally televised game at Ohio State Saturday (2 p.m. CST) heads a program of three Big Ten basketball engagements involving for the most part the conference's also-rans.

League-leading Illinois (5-0) is idle and second-place Iowa (4-1) entertains Wichita in outdoor competition. A third non-league game sends Washington University to Michigan.

In other Big Ten action, Minnesota (2-4) is at Purdue (5-3) and Wisconsin (4-1) at Northwestern (5-0).

Indiana will be operating without its top scorer, Charlie Brown, who was ruled scholastically ineligible soon after another Hoosier sophomore, Paxton L. M. p. k. n., was floored the same way. Both were stars in the Indiana-DuSable game that went to the finals of the state tournament.

The nation's TV fans will get an early chance to see Ohio State's sensational scorer, Robin Freeman. He has made 75 out of 106 field goal attempts and 48 out of 59 free throws in six conference games, for 199 points at a 33.2 average.

Unable To Keep Waterway Open, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice Adm. Alfred C. Richmond, commander of the Coast Guard, says the Illinois River Waterway cannot be kept open under severe icing conditions.

Richmond, in testimony before a House appropriations subcommittee, said his service would continue to perform icebreaking work on the river with its own equipment. Richmond's testimony was made public Thursday. He appeared before the subcommittee Jan. 24.

Rep. Murray (D-Ill.) asked if Richmond believed the river could be kept open by the Coast Guard in icy weather. Richmond replied: "No sir, we do not."

The Coast Guard commandant said the service does not plan contracting private operators for icebreakers.

HE SAID "The river originally was kept open primarily to relieve an emergency which then existed." He said it was later continued as a defense measure with a $250,000 appropriation from the now defunct Defense Transportation Administration.

Murray asked why no study had been made before the agency and the appropriation were discontinued. Murray added that the City of Chicago "has become dependent on the river being open for its supplies and in view of the increased port activity."

A letter from Chicago's Mayor Daley was inserted in the record by Murray in which the Mayor said the city was dependent on the river for its fuel supply.

Daley's letter also said that a warm, early winter was responsible for the city's escaping a fuel shortage so far this season. "I am of the firm conviction that the waterway from St. Louis through to Chicago and intermediate ports should be an all-year-round navigation project," the mayor wrote.

Dwight Couple Has Anniversary

DWIGHT (JNS)—Mr. and Mrs. William K. McConnell celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday with about 175 guests present throughout the day.

The couple's home was decorated with seasonal flowers. The table was centered with a large decorated cake which was served by Mrs. Helen McConnell and Mrs. Frank Clausen.

Pouring were Miss Evelyn McConnell, Mrs. Donald Tock, Mrs. Albert Telford and Mrs. Douglas Trudeau.

Others assisting with the serving were Mrs. Pearl Gemmill, Mrs. Carl Sancken, Mrs. Lola Brady, Mrs. Elmer Bundersen and two great-nieces, Miss Jean Ann McConnell and Miss Phyllis McConnell. Guests were registered by Miss Sharon Sandeen, a grand-daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. McConnell were married Jan. 31, 1906 in the parsonage of the Congregational Church in Emington. They lived on a farm near Emington until McConnell retired in 1930. At that time they built their present home in Dwight.

They are members of the Congregational Church in Dwight, also the Rebekah Lodge and Odd Fellows Lodge. Due to Mrs. McConnell's health her activities for the past years have been confined to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. McConnell are parents of a daughter, Mrs. Mildred E. McConnell. Two other children are deceased.

They also have three grandchildren.

Squaw Squad Has Potluck Supper With Husbands As Guests

Those who played with prizes going to Mrs. Lawrence Cote, Mrs. Alfred Becker, Mrs. Melvin Breese, Mrs. George Pierlot, Mrs. Lester Landrie and William Braun.

Mrs. Cote received the floating prize. A birthday was presented to Mrs. Hoffner from her mystery pal.

The Feb. 15 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Cote of 1430 S. Fifth Ave.

Tells Club How Waste Land Was Transformed

Mrs. John D. West of Manitowac, Wis., told members of the Woman's Club Wednesday of her experiences in transforming six acres of Wisconsin waste land into a lovely garden.

Located on the west shore of Lake Michigan, the spot in its original state consisted of clay soil covered with quack grass. It was devoid of a single tree or shrub.

Mrs. West changed it into an area resplendent in flowering beauty. Starting in early spring with the blooming of 25,000 tulips, (each planted by hand) there are flowers in bloom throughout the summer.

The talk was supplemented with colored slides which showed different phases of the blooming season in the 12 gardens.

Mrs. West told her audience the land was purchased in 1932 and three years later she and her husband built a small modern home there, the first of the new well-populated lake shore. They first planted grass, trees and shrubs.

As an example of their inexperience, she related how the first 32 pounds of the most expensive grass seed planted was whisked off the hard top soil by the wind.

The couple also planted all flowers with the exception of root plants, such as peonies, and bulb flowers such as tulips, narcissus, etc. Only one full time gardener and a part time helper maintain the gardens today, Mrs. West said she serves as a very active overseer.

SHE SAID THE gardens are most beautiful when the tulips are at their peak, the last Sunday in May or the first of June. They are open to the public at that time.

Mrs. Leslie F. Jennings, president, conducted the meeting, welcoming members of the Kankakee Kultivators, who were guests.

The meeting was given by Mrs. Sidney Kase, representing B'nai Israel. Mrs. R. J. Lordan led the pledge to the flag.

New members introduced by Mrs. Earl Ruby were the Mesdames Clarence Casper, Harry Cede, Earl Grober, Mae Lind, Macy Galloway, Thomas Hester, Blanche Cyrier, Herman Ruffel, Charles Redman and Yvonne Boivert.

Mrs. Thomas Baird gave the timely topic on "World Religions." She classified the religions as to countries and spoke briefly on the 11 great living religions of the world today, all of which are documented and have temples and shrines for worship.

From the many definitions of religion she selected the one by Menies, "Religion is the worship of powers from a sense of need." "Fear is thought by some to be at the base of religion because man becomes afraid," she said.

Mrs. Baird also referred to the essay contest which the General Federation of Women's Clubs is sponsoring. The theme is "Religion, the basis of international understanding." Those wishing to enter.

True, I can't see a bit of difference between the frankly selfish person and the one who selfishly forces generosity on another. But wouldn't the widow's friend be amazed if you told him?

There are lots of people like him. Often they are mothers who over-protect their children. They may be fathers who "do everything" for their young—except allow them to lead their own lives. They are the patronizing type of ladies beautiful who make a big production of their concern for the less fortunate. I suspect it was this class of do-gooders to whom a psychologist referred when he said that we all know people who "live just for others"—and added that we can tell by their drawn, harassed faces the people who are being lived for, too!

AN EMINENT clergyman recently commented that many persons who are under the impression that they love God and their neighbors should try to find out "what impression they are making on God and neighbors." I'm inclined to go even a little farther and suggest that some of these compulsive do-gooders are stuffing a bit for the benefit of God and spectators.

The Bible certainly says it is more blessed to give than to receive but a really generous person will understand that others also enjoy the occasional role of donor and will accept favors with a grace that makes the other happy, too.

The widow's friend wants to feel needed, useful—no, do we all—and that's not bad. What does seem a shame, however, is that the man got so upset at a small thoughtful gift—"Your very nice heavy face cloth."

Traffic Slowed As Blizzard Sweeps Texas
Stores Closed, Main Streets Blocked In Many Communities
PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP)—The worst blizzard in 50 years, with stiff winds piling drifts as deep as nine feet, paralyzed much of the Texas Panhandle and south plains Saturday. Many stores closed and some main streets were blocked in Plainview, Hereford, Amarillo, Canyon and Borger. Amarillo and Lubbock city buses had quit running Friday. Most intercity buses quit running after a number were stranded. Passengers had to be rescued by tractor. The heavy snow held out promise of restoring depleted subsoil moisture. Plainview and Hereford, both with two feet or more of snow, were hardest hit by the blizzard which blew through the Panhandle Friday night and Saturday. The snow continued Saturday. Snow drifted to the eaves of homes in Plainview. Six and eight foot drifts blocked streets. Mayor C. L. Abernethy sent city trucks and road maintainers out to try to break paths. Most Texas cities do not have adequate snow-removal equipment. The snow piled up in broad areas where farmers had been receiving federal aid because of prolonged drought. Russia May Shift Industry To Less Vulnerable Area

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press has just announced new plans for a vast development of industry in the strategically vital, vulnerable east Siberian and central Asian regions of the U.S.S.R. The scheme is similar to those which built up huge industrial complexes in the Urals before, during and immediately after World War II. That program was credited by many with a great role in Soviet resistance to the Nazi invasion. Leading Soviet authorities said the development of a whole new industrial system in previously undeveloped regions. Writing in Izvestia, D. Kunayev, chairman of the Kazakh Republic of Ministers, said more money would be invested in that Soviet Republic in the next five years than in the 38 years since the Russian Revolution. The program, he said, would include factories for production of trucks, tractors, diesel locomotives, mining and metallurgical equipment, which never have been manufactured in that region. V. Krotov, economic chief of the east Siberian branch of the Academy of Sciences, wrote that the Soviet Union's biggest aluminum plant would be established in Irkutsk, using power from the world's two biggest hydroelectric stations, the Bratsk and the Kravtsovsk stations, scheduled to have an output of 3,200,000 KWH each. The program, he said, would include factories for production of trucks, tractors, diesel locomotives, mining and metallurgical equipment, which never have been manufactured in that region.

Sailor Found Frozen In Refrigerator Car

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP)—A young AWOL Navy recruit who was trapped three to five days in a sealed railroad refrigerator car was hauled out Saturday. Charles William Love, 18, of Reeds, Ky., was brought by ambulance from Chicago to the U. S. Naval Hospital at Great Lakes Saturday. Navy doctors said his condition was "fair" but would not permit questioning for 24 hours. However, his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Fenwick, 34, talked to him for a few minutes before he was removed from a Chicago hospital. She said he offered no reason for being in the refrigerator car but that she believes he was attempting to "go home."

CHICAGO POLICE also questioned him before his return to Great Lakes. They said he told them he couldn't remember how he got into the car or what happened to him during his imprisonment. The youth, stiff and unconscious, was found in the car on Chicago's South Side Friday by workmen who went inside to wash it. He was rushed to a South Side hospital where doctors said his body temperature possibly had dropped as low as 88 degrees. Normal temperature is 98.6. He was "thawed" gradually by being placed in bed with all windows in the room opened. As his temperature started to rise he was covered with blankets. Doctors said his arms and legs escaped freezing and that no amputation would be necessary. His temperature was back to normal Saturday. Love had been AWOL from Great Lakes since Monday.

Heavy artillery batteries started during the night and continued Saturday between the Nationalist garrison Quemo and the Reds at Amoy, four miles away in Fuku-kien Province. The Communists said the Nationalists fired four separate barrages in the Amoy area, killing 5 persons, injuring 2 others and destroying a fishing boat. A radio Peiping broadcast heard in Tokyo said the dead were residents of Tatong Island.

FBI Opens Probe In Senate Bribe Case

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Justice Department Saturday ordered a full FBI investigation of an alleged attempt to bribe Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) in connection with the pending natural gas bill. It moved in after Senate Democratic and Republican leaders announced they will act Monday to set up a special investigating committee to look into Case's sensational charge that an unnamed lawyer tried to contribute $2,500 to his campaign funds, after ascertaining that Case favored the controversial gas bill.

Case himself defied an ultimatum from Senate leaders that he identify the lawyer before a resolution authorizing the inquiry is brought before the Senate Monday. But he said he would "welcome an investigation by any properly constituted authority."

ACTING ATTY. Gen. William R. Rogers announced that the FBI, acting at his request, had "interviewed" Case. Case indicated he gave the FBI the names of the lawyer and all other persons involved in the matter. He would not say directly what he told the FBI, but reminded newspapermen that he had promised to cooperate with "any responsible agency."

Asked whether he answered all FBI questions, Case said he did his best to do so. LEGALLY, CASE could have refused to answer FBI questions. The Constitution stipulates that senators are not required to account outside the Senate, for remarks they make on the Senate floor. Rogers said he had instructed the FBI to "conduct such other investigations as may be necessary" to enable the Justice Department to "determine whether there has been a violation of federal laws."

A Justice Department spokesman said the FBI investigation was "Rogers' own idea, and was not requested by any member of the Senate." Rogers is in charge of the department in the absence of Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., who has been on an official visit to Puerto Rico.

CASE ALSO emphasized that it was other senators—not himself—who used the term "attempted bribe" to describe the affair. He said the unnamed lawyer was neither adding to nor subtracting from the story he told the Senate. He said the unnamed lawyer told a $2,500 campaign contribution before a friend of his, after satisfying himself that Case favored the bill.

Case said he ordered the money returned and now planned to vote against the bill. Case said "no one would be more revealed the fate of 450 missing American servicemen."

WHEN the armistice was signed in July, 1953, the U. N. command was convinced the missing soldiers, airmen, marines and sailors were in Communist hands. However, repeated requests to Adlai Stevenson on down, this torrent of abuse has sought to mislead the American people into believing that it has been Mr. Dulles who brought us to the "brink of war" in recent years.

Craig said the "cold, hard facts" were that Communism "encouraged" the "democratic" strategy of the Truman administration, was responsible for the "crisis of recent years."

THIS "SOIL BANK" plan is part of the Eisenhower administration proposals, but Democrats claim it is their own. They say they thought of it first but the Republicans took it over in this election year when they first opposing it. Chairman Ellender (D-La.) reported general agreement on the proposals to offer soil bank payments in an effort to cut production that has put billions of dollars worth of farm products into government warehouses.

Complicating plans to push the farm bill on to the Senate next week was the old battle over high and rapid vs. lower and flexible farm price supports. Even before a formal vote, Ellender predicted a majority of the Senate would support the plan for mandatory high-level supports.

Sen. Anderson (D-Mn.), a former secretary of agriculture who has backed the flexible supports advocated by the President and Secretary Benson, said: "There could be an 8.7 vote for the 90 cent support level." Congress provided 50 million for free milk during the current fiscal year which ends June 30. This fund would be upped 10 million for use before July 1 while 75 million would be provided during each of the next two fiscal years.

DESPITE MOINES (UP)—Gov. George Craig of Indiana said Saturday night leading Democrats "from Adlai Stevenson on down" have tried to "mislead the American public" about Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' "brink of war" statement. Craig told delegates attending the Young Republican National Federation annual meeting that Democratic leadership has opened the worst campaign of "deceit, distortion, deformation and despair" in American political history.

THE current venomous attacks upon Secretary of State Dulles provide us with a good illustration of the Democrats' strategy," Craig said. "Without exception, from Adlai Stevenson on down, this torrent of abuse has sought to mislead the American people into believing that it has been Mr. Dulles who brought us to the 'brink of war' in recent years."

Craig said the "cold, hard facts" were that Communism "encouraged" the "democratic" strategy of the Truman administration, was responsible for the "crisis of recent years."

FBI Opens Probe In Senate Bribe Case

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Justice Department Saturday ordered a full FBI investigation of an alleged attempt to bribe Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) in connection with the pending natural gas bill. It moved in after Senate Democratic and Republican leaders announced they will act Monday to set up a special investigating committee to look into Case's sensational charge that an unnamed lawyer tried to contribute $2,500 to his campaign funds, after ascertaining that Case favored the controversial gas bill.

Case himself defied an ultimatum from Senate leaders that he identify the lawyer before a resolution authorizing the inquiry is brought before the Senate Monday. But he said he would "welcome an investigation by any properly constituted authority."

ACTING ATTY. Gen. William R. Rogers announced that the FBI, acting at his request, had "interviewed" Case. Case indicated he gave the FBI the names of the lawyer and all other persons involved in the matter. He would not say directly what he told the FBI, but reminded newspapermen that he had promised to cooperate with "any responsible agency."

Asked whether he answered all FBI questions, Case said he did his best to do so. LEGALLY, CASE could have refused to answer FBI questions. The Constitution stipulates that senators are not required to account outside the Senate, for remarks they make on the Senate floor. Rogers said he had instructed the FBI to "conduct such other investigations as may be necessary" to enable the Justice Department to "determine whether there has been a violation of federal laws."

A Justice Department spokesman said the FBI investigation was "Rogers' own idea, and was not requested by any member of the Senate." Rogers is in charge of the department in the absence of Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., who has been on an official visit to Puerto Rico.

CASE ALSO emphasized that it was other senators—not himself—who used the term "attempted bribe" to describe the affair. He said the unnamed lawyer was neither adding to nor subtracting from the story he told the Senate. He said the unnamed lawyer told a $2,500 campaign contribution before a friend of his, after satisfying himself that Case favored the bill.

Case said he ordered the money returned and now planned to vote against the bill. Case said "no one would be more revealed the fate of 450 missing American servicemen."

WHEN the armistice was signed in July, 1953, the U. N. command was convinced the missing soldiers, airmen, marines and sailors were in Communist hands. However, repeated requests to Adlai Stevenson on down, this torrent of abuse has sought to mislead the American people into believing that it has been Mr. Dulles who brought us to the "brink of war" in recent years.

Craig said the "cold, hard facts" were that Communism "encouraged" the "democratic" strategy of the Truman administration, was responsible for the "crisis of recent years."

THIS "SOIL BANK" plan is part of the Eisenhower administration proposals, but Democrats claim it is their own. They say they thought of it first but the Republicans took it over in this election year when they first opposing it. Chairman Ellender (D-La.) reported general agreement on the proposals to offer soil bank payments in an effort to cut production that has put billions of dollars worth of farm products into government warehouses.

Complicating plans to push the farm bill on to the Senate next week was the old battle over high and rapid vs. lower and flexible farm price supports. Even before a formal vote, Ellender predicted a majority of the Senate would support the plan for mandatory high-level supports.

Sen. Anderson (D-Mn.), a former secretary of agriculture who has backed the flexible supports advocated by the President and Secretary Benson, said: "There could be an 8.7 vote for the 90 cent support level." Congress provided 50 million for free milk during the current fiscal year which ends June 30. This fund would be upped 10 million for use before July 1 while 75 million would be provided during each of the next two fiscal years.

DESPITE MOINES (UP)—Gov. George Craig of Indiana said Saturday night leading Democrats "from Adlai Stevenson on down" have tried to "mislead the American public" about Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' "brink of war" statement. Craig told delegates attending the Young Republican National Federation annual meeting that Democratic leadership has opened the worst campaign of "deceit, distortion, deformation and despair" in American political history.

THE current venomous attacks upon Secretary of State Dulles provide us with a good illustration of the Democrats' strategy," Craig said. "Without exception, from Adlai Stevenson on down, this torrent of abuse has sought to mislead the American people into believing that it has been Mr. Dulles who brought us to the 'brink of war' in recent years."
