Faculty Member of the Year 1985-86

C. William Ellwanger has served as Associate Professor of Practical Theology at Olivet for the past eight years. During this time he has also been the sponsor for Olivet's Ministerial Fellowship.

Prior to coming to Olivet, Dr. Ellwanger distinguished himself as the senior pastor of Kansas City First Church of the Nazarene for nearly 12 years. During this time he served on the General Board of the Church of the Nazarene for eight years, two of which he served as the President of the Board. He was also a member of the Board of Trustees of Nazarene Theological Seminary for eight years.

Raised in the Wesleyan Church in the East, Dr. Ellwanger joined the Church of the Nazarene while a student at Olivet. Following graduation from Nazarene Theological Seminary, he began an evangelistic and pastoral ministry which spanned more than 31 years. In 1966, Olivet honored Dr. Ellwanger by granting him the Doctor of Divinity degree. Recently he finished his residency for the Doctor of Missiology degree from Trinity Evangelical Divinity School. He will finish his major project for the D.Miss. degree this year.

Dr. Ellwanger speaks to retreat groups and camp-meetings, fills pulpit assignments, and writes articles for the Herald of Holiness and other general church publications.

Dr. Ellwanger's wife Twylah, a graduate of Bethany Nazarene College and the University of Missouri/Kansas City, travels worldwide as the World Mission Hostess for Overseas Travel for the Church of the Nazarene. Their son Chuck graduated from Olivet in 1982, and is now a management executive for Neiman Marcus in Dallas, Texas.

Staff Member of the Year 1985-86

John Mongerson was born and raised in Moline, Illinois, where his parents pioneered and pastored the Moline Community Church of the Nazarene for twenty-eight years. After graduating from Olivet Nazarene College, John served as the youth pastor at First Church of the Nazarene in Hoopston, Illinois. In 1981, he was ordained an elder on the Northwest Illinois District.

John returned to Olivet in 1979 to fill the position of Associate Director of Admissions. He is now beginning his second full year as the Director of Admissions at Olivet. In addition to the responsibilities of the office, John is also involved in recruiting and ministering in Nazarene churches on the Olivet Zone on weekends. Under John's leadership the freshman class enrollment increased last fall for the first time in several years. An increase is expected again this year.

In 1984, John married Jana McCormick, a 1981 summa cum laude graduate of Olivet. Jana is a 4th grade teacher at Aroma Park Grade School.

ALMA MATER, OLIVET

Byron M. Carmony

To Alma Mater, Olivet, We lift our voice in praise
For noble standards which we'll hold 'till ending of our days.
The time we spent within these halls will ne'er forgotten be,
For here we learned to know of truth, and truth will make us free.

My Olivet, Our Olivet! Though life may lead us far apart,
I'll still revere you in my heart.
My Olivet, Our Olivet. I'll love the Christ you gave first part,
And you, old Olivet!

75-Year Heritage Mural

Olivet Nazarene College

Ludwig Center, 1966

An artistic expression of Olivet's history and ideals by Harvey Collins

Ludwig Center
and
Kelley Prayer Chapel

Olivet Nazarene College
Kankakee, Illinois 60901
Leslie Parrott, President

While most horizontal murals begin at the left and read across to the right, the 75th Anniversary Heritage Mural has a focal point at the very center. The far left panel portrays the early days of the college, and the far right panel portrays the present year, 1982. Across the top of the three central panels are the opening words of Olivet's Alma Mater.' Across the bottom of all the panels are names of outstanding presidents of Olivet, listed in chronological order. This 75-foot long mural is mounted in the main dining room of Ludwig Center. It was unveiled October 5, 1982.

Panel One

The major subject is the burning administration building on the old Olivet campus south of Danville. Until that disastrous day in November 1939, it housed classrooms, library, laboratories and offices for administrators and faculty.

The historic camp meeting tabernacle at the bottom of this panel played a major role in campus life. In the upper left is the "Old Lincoln House," in which Abraham Lincoln often spent the night during his days as a traveling lawyer. This house served the college as a dormitory for a time.

The old school house at the right dates back to the earliest days of the college. In front of this building are two cars which were typical of the days when classes were held there.

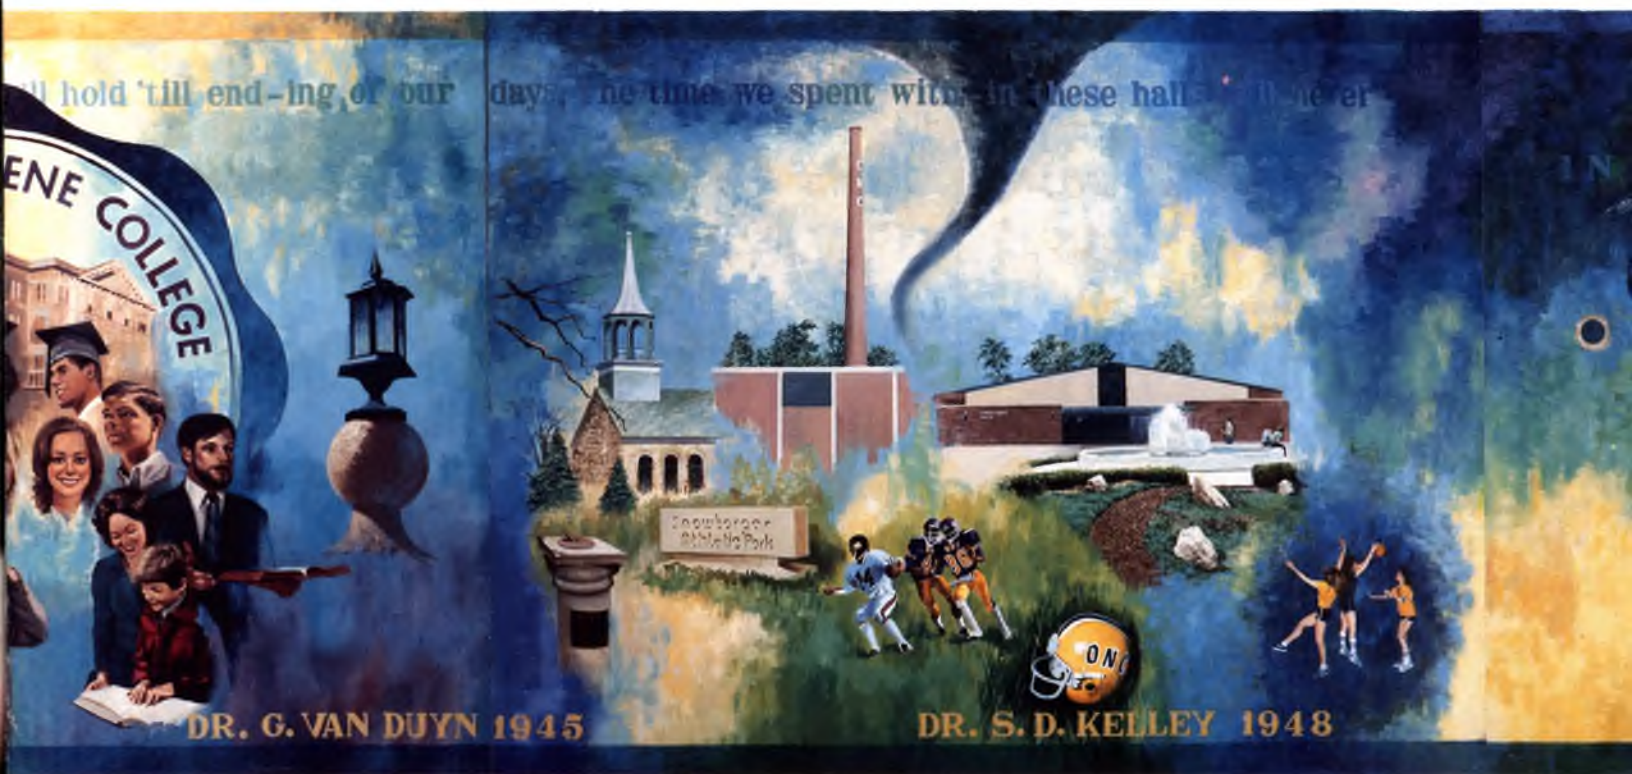

Panel Two

This panel features the Benner Library and Learning Resource Center, highlighting specialized areas in its facilities: WKOC radio station, computer science, research books and index cards, a portrait of a technician operating equipment representing the television and communications area

Also in this panel are Wisner Hall for Nursing Education graced by a portrait of a young nursing student, College Church of the Nazarene, the Milby Clock Tower and Kelley Prayer Chapel.

Panel Three

Sports activities are emphasized in this panel: basketball represented by three life-size players, Birchard Field House, Ward Field with its stadium seating for football and track, a growling Tiger — Olivet's mascot, and the beautiful Bedford limestone sign at the plaza entrance to the campus. The proudly waving flags in addition to the United States flag at the center represent the four states of Olivet's educational region — from left, Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana and Illinois.

Panel Four

This central panel is the focal point for the entire mural. In its center is the large circle of the college seal. Inside the circle is Burke Administration Building . . . the heart of the campus. Graduates of the college are shown in front, representing men and women from each decade and also several specializations including business, the preaching ministry, teaching and sports.

The lamps of the front of Burke Administration Building are displayed on either side. Each lamp, representing knowledge; has the lighted side of its round base on the inside, closest to the college emblem. This suggests that the source of our light and inspiration comes from the heart of the college and its theme "Education with a Christian Purpose."

Panel Five

The awesome tornado of 1963 dominates this panel. Although it brought extensive damage to five college buildings, none of the damage has been illustrated, since most of the buildings were fully restored.

The largest building in this section is Chalfant Auditorium. Beside it is the Brodien Power Plant and "Ol' Smokey" which was rebuilt after the tornado. At the left of the power plant is the Maternity Catholic church steeple. This beautiful church was an important part of the original campus of St. Viator's College founded on this site in 1868. Just below the church is the entrance sign for Snowbarger Athletic Park and a sundial donated by the St. Viator Class of 1917. This sundial was one of several college memorabilia moved out to the church area in 1978. Other sports activities are depicted in this panel, including football, and women's basketball.

Panel Six

The natural sciences are represented in this panel. At the center is the science complex: the Reed Hall of Science and Strickler Planetarium. At the top is the moon, representing rapid advances in the space program in recent years, and portraits of Einstein and Newton, whose accomplishments have strongly influenced the natural sciences.

In the sky just beneath the moon are the words "In the beginning, God." These words also grace the lobby of the Science Auditorium. The organ pipes at the right side of the panel continue into panel Seven, thus uniting the sciences with the arts.

Panel Seven

The climax of the mural emphasizes the fine arts. At the center is the newly dedicated Larsen Fine Arts Center. To the left is the completed organ pipe section begun in Panel Six, and an organ console with the musical score for the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah."

The sculpture of David by Michelangelo depicts youth and energy as it did when it represented the city of Florence, Italy, during the Renaissance. Above "David" are two singers representing vocal music. The stained glass window unites the areas of vocal and instrumental music. It is an exact replica of the window in College Church of the Nazarene. Several instrumentalists and a conductor are shown just below the Larsen Fine arts Center.

On the far right, near the top, is the Hardy C. Powers' President's Home finished this year. On the lower right corner is the proposed Les Parrott Physical Education center, illustrated in the blueprint stage.

"The Spirit and the Word"

Mural in the Kelley Prayer Chapel

“The Spirit and the Word”

Mural by Harvey Collins
1980

The basic design is a “triptych” — three panels combined into one - suggesting the Holy Trinity of God: Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

Unlike usual altar paintings, this mural reaches from ceiling to floor, suggesting that God reaches out to us — right where we live. Heaven and earth are indeed brought together in this place.

All lines of the painting lead the eye directly to the symbol of the Holy Spirit — the Dove. These lines extend through the borders of brass all the way to the brick walls on either side, as God could not and can never be contained.

The overall color harmony is based upon the primary colors of red, yellow and blue. All other colors are made from these three. It is God alone who creates the primary colors; man can and does design beauty of great variation and of many colors as imagination and inspiration guide.

... Our will must become His Will, and in so doing we allow Him the full use of our talents to be used as instruments of His choosing. Our ambitions, goals and successes develop into caring and meaningful experiences in direct proportion to our giving to God every talent and strength we possess.

Historically, the colors red, yellow and blue have significant and symbolic meaning. Red signifies an ardent love, a burning zeal for the faith. Blue represents the color of the clear sky and the purity of water. Yellow or gold signifies love, dignity and wisdom. In a spiritual sense, gold represents light and heaven.

The focal point in the painting is the Dove, symbol of the presence of the Holy Spirit. The Dove is a most appropriate symbol for it is the embodiment of motion and swiftness, just as the Spirit is the image of powerful motion and life.

Three rays of light descend from the Dove upon the scripture verse, joining it to the source of power, the Dove or Holy Spirit.

Kelley Prayer Chapel

The seven-tongued Flame of Fire suggests the power of the Holy Spirit. The gifts of grace enumerated in the historic “Book of Common Prayer” are:

The spirit of wisdom and understanding — intellectual gifts.

The spirit of counsel and ghostly strength — moral gifts.

The spirit of knowledge and true godliness — spiritual gifts.

The spirit of holy fear — fear of the Lord.

The chalice holds the wine which is consecrated at the Lord’s Supper. After uttering the words, “I am the Bread of Life, he who comes to Me shall not hunger, and he who believes in Me shall never thirst,” Jesus knelt and took the towel, symbol of servitude, and began to wash the feet of the disciples. The only proper symbol of the Christian Church for this age is the towel of service.

The ancient monogram “IHS” consists of the first two and the last letters of the Greek word for “Jesus” — IHCOYC. These letters are seen in varied art-forms: separated or as a monogram, the “I” or “H” sometimes lengthened and made into a cross by use of the sign of contribution.

Dr. Leslie Parrott, Olivet’s president, suggested the scripture verse that is emblazoned on the Open Bible — James 5:15. “The Prayer of faith . . .” suggests an incomplete statement which is to be completed as the believing Christian finds personal needs met at the place of prayer.

Heritage Mural Depicts History of Olivet

Professor Harvey Collins, head of Olivet's Art Department, created this mural depicting the 75-year history of the college. It was unveiled in Ludwig Center's main dining room at a Heritage Day Dinner, October 5, 1982. He made the mural with acrylic paints on heavy canvas in seven panels. The finished mural is 8 feet tall and 75 feet long. An additional 25-foot section of the east wall may be used to complete the mural for the 100th Anniversary of the college in 2007.

Harvey A. Collins, M.F.A., Litt.D., is Chairman of the Department of Art at Olivet. Other murals by Dr. Collins hang in the Nazarene International Headquarters, Kansas City, Missouri; and in St. Mary's Hospital, Kankakee, Illinois.
