Alma Mater, Olivet

Byron M. Carmony

To Alma Mater, Olivet, We lift our voice in praise
For noble standards which we'll hold 'till ending of our days.
The time we spent within these halls will ne'er forgotten be,
For here we learned to know of truth, and truth will make us free.

My Olivet, Our Olivet, Tho' life may lead us far apart,
I'll still revere you in my heart.

My Olivet, Our Olivet, I'll love the Christ you gave first part and you old Olivet.

David Atkinson lived his early years in Upstate New York in the beautiful five Finger Lakes area. After graduating from Central High School, Binghamton, New York, David attended Eastern Nazarene College and earned the B. S. degree in 1964. Three years later he completed the M. A. degree in mathematics from Boston University while teaching at his alma mater. He was honored with a "teaching fellowship" at Boston University.

David and his wife, Ann, moved to Bourbonnais in 1970, when he joined the Mathematics Department at Olivet. During these past twelve years, Cindy, age 10 and Brad, age 7, joined the family. David received the Ph.D. degree in mathematics education from the University of Illinois in 1975.

David's professional career began in Easton Junior High School in Easton, Massachusetts. He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi honor society, National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, Mathematical Association of America, and the Association for Educational Data Systems. Among his achievements are the co-authorship of the book Probability and Statistics published in 1976, membership on the Advisory Panel of the National Science Foundation to evaluate proposals submitted to the Comprehensive Assistance to Undergraduate Science Education, scholarly articles in the American Mathematical Monthly, a panelist and speaker at workshops on numerous occasions at the University of Illinois, and a presenter of papers at the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics. He attends these professional societies regularly and participates in their programming frequently.

David's Christian character comes from having defined a set of values from which he will not deviate. There is a strong resolution to maintain personal integrity. He leads his family in spiritual activities. The Atkinson family prays together, worships together, plays together and works together to build a strong spiritual atmosphere in their home. His personal life exemplifies the ideals of Olivet.

The chairman of Olivet's Mathematics Department is a friend of students. Availability and accessibility coupled with intellectual honesty is attractive to students. His Northeastern training gave him a cosmopolitan cultural environment that enables him to be his own man and also be supportive of his colleagues at Olivet.

Recognitions

Gordon Wickersham, Olivet's Director of Publicity, was born in Binghamton, New York and graduated from Binghamton Central High School. He enrolled at Olivet Nazarene College and graduated with honors in 1947 with a double major in English and philosophy. In the fall of 1947 Gordon entered Boston University with an assistantship from the renowned philosopher Edgar S. Brightman. After his work at Boston University, he attended the Nazarene Theological Seminary. He received the M. A. degree from Boston University in 1951 and the B. D. degree from the seminary in 1952.

Following his academic preparation for life, he pastored Nazarene churches in Texas, Illinois and Indiana. In 1960 he moved to Bethany Nazarene College as Director of Publicity and Alumni Coordinator. After twelve years, he came to Olivet as a recruiter and shortly was appointed Director of Publicity. He has filled this role for ten years.

Gordon's training in English and philosophy gives him a unique background for his duties. His philosophy background enables him to analyze cultural media technology. His insight into present-day photographic and printing techniques and information ideologies comes through clearly in his rapport with media people and methods. His schooling in English has provided him with the skills to communicate his message. In a competitive information-oriented society, he is delivering his services with grace and excellence. The blend of insight and skills coupled with experience give to Olivet a man for the present times.

Gordon has developed one of the finest publicity items of any college in The Olivet Collegian. This quality publication catches the character of Olivet in 45,000 copies ten times a year. His emphasis on personalities in action maintains human interest. He has developed a fine working relationship with the media in the Kankakee area. His work shows innovation, versatility, artfulness, originality, and humanness as his hand is seen in all of the publicity of the college.

Gordon is supported by a fine family of three children and an attentive wife. Marva has shared in his work and has been a professional piano teacher for 20 years. His three children John, Judy and Carol are all Nazarene college graduates and are engaged in work that refines society.

Olivet's publicity director has fulfilled his role by keeping the college visible.
