ORPHEUS CHOIR
A Ministry in Music
Dr. Jeff Bell, Conductor
OLIVET
NAZARENE UNIVERSITY
Dr. Jeff Bell is the fourth conductor of Olivet Nazarene University's Orpheus Choir, and has served as professor of music at Olivet Nazarene University since 1997. He earned his B.S. in music education from Olivet Nazarene University, his M.Mus. in vocal performance and literature from the University of Illinois, and his Doctor of Arts in vocal performance from Ball State University.

Dr. Bell is a past conductor of the ONU Orchestra, and is the current conductor of the Kankakee Valley Symphony Orchestra Chorus. He serves as organist for College Church of the Nazarene in Bourbonnais, Ill. He has performed in recitals, operas and oratorios, and is a published composer and arranger. He and his wife, Carole (King), have two daughters, Christin and Katie Jo.

Alma Mater, Olivet
Byron Carmony (1916-2007)

To Alma Mater, Olivet, we lift our voice in praise for noble standards which we'll hold 'til ending of our days.
The times we spent within these walls will ne'er forgotten be,
for here we learned to know of truth, and truth will make us free.
My Olivet, our Olivet, though life may lead us far apart,
I'll still revere you in my heart.
My Olivet, our Olivet, I'll love the Christ you gave first part,
and you old Olivet.

A Mighty Fortress Is Our God
Martin Luther (1483-1546); arr. Carl Mueller (1892-1982)

A mighty fortress is our God, a bulwark never failing;
Our helper He, amid the flood of mortal ills prevailing.
For still our ancient foe doth seek to work us woe;
His craft and pow'r are great, and armed with cruel hate,
On earth is not his equal.

Did we in our own strength confide, our striving would be losing,
Were not the right Man on our side, the Man of God's own choosing.
Dost ask who that may be? Christ Jesus, it is He;
Lord Sabaoth, His name, from age to age the same,
And He must win the battle.
Be Ye Glad
Michael Kelly Blanchard (b. 1948); arr. Bruce Greer (b.1961)

In these days of confused situations,
In these nights of a restless remorse;
When the heart and the soul of a nation
Lay wounded and cold as a corpse.
From the grave of the innocent Adam
Comes a song bringing joy to the sad;
O your cry has been heard and the ransom
Has been paid up in full, be ye glad.
O be ye glad, O be ye glad.
Ev'ry debt that you ever had
Has been paid up in full by the grace of the Lord.
Be ye glad, be ye glad, be ye glad.

Now from your dungeon a rumor is stirring;
You have heard it again and again;
O but this time the cell keys are turning
And outside there are faces of friends.
And though your body lay weary from wasting,
And your eyes show the sorrow they've had;
O the love that your heart is now tasting
Has opened the gate, be ye glad.
O be ye glad!

So be like lights on the rim of the water,
Giving hope in a storm of the night;
Be a refuge amidst the slaughter
Of these fugitives in their flight!
For you are timeless and part of a puzzle,
You are winsome and young as a lad;
And there is no disease or no struggle
That can pull you from God, be ye glad.

O be ye glad, O be ye glad.
Ev'ry debt that you ever had
Has been paid up in full by the grace of the Lord.
Be ye glad, be ye glad.
Jesus paid it all!
Be ye glad, be ye glad, be ye glad.
Be ye glad.
Come Let Us Sing!
Jeff Bell (b.1958); text from Psalm 95

Come, let us sing for joy to the Lord!
Let us come before Him with thanksgiving
And extol Him with music and song.
For the Lord is the great God
And He is the great King of all Gods.
(Come bow down)
In His hands are the depths of the earth,
And the mountain peaks belong to Him.
The sea is His for He made it,
And His hands formed the dry land.
Come let us sing for joy to the Lord!
Come, let us bow down in worship.
Let us kneel before the Lord, our maker.
For He is our God,
We are the people of His pasture,
The flock under His care.

hope, faith, life, love...
Eric Whitacre (b. 1970); text by e.e. cummings (1894-1962)

hope, faith, life, love,
dream, joy, truth, soul

Olivet has long enjoyed a distinguished reputation for the quality of its music program and the professional preparation afforded to its graduates.

Young musicians in growing numbers are realizing the advantages of earning a degree in music at Olivet Nazarene University.
In dulci jubilo
Matthew Culloton (b. 1976); text from traditional German carol

In dulci jubilo, (in sweet joy)
Let us our homage show,
Our hearts joy reclineth
In praesepe (in a manger)
And like a bright star shineth
Matris in gremio. (in a mother’s lap)
Alpha es et O (beginning and ending)

O Jesu parvule! (O infant Jesus)
I yearn for Thee alway!
Hear me, I beseech Thee,
O Puer optime! (O best child)
My prayer, let it reach Thee,
O Princeps gloriae, (O Prince of glory)
Trahe me post te, (draw me after You)

O Patris caritas! (O love of the Father)
O Nati lenitas! (O mercy of the Son)
Deeply were we stained,
Per nostra crimina; (through our sins)
But Thou for us hast gained
Coelorum gaudia! (the joys of heaven)
O that we were there.

Ubit sunt gaudia (where are joys?)
Where if they be not there?
There are angels singing
Nova cantica! (new songs)
And there the bells are ringing
In Regis curia. (in the King’s courts)
O that we were there!

What is your favorite aspect of Olivet?
The community. It's like no other place I've ever experienced, and I'm more thankful every day for the relationships that have been built and strengthened during my time here. I know I've made quality, godly friends for a lifetime at Olivet.

What is your favorite Orpheus memory:
On tour a few years ago, we sang "Be Ye Glad." Before the service on Saturday night, Dr. Bell encouraged us, as he does often, to focus on the text and meaning of the song. During the concert, the choir was in tears as we realized that no matter what we were going through, there truly was no disease or struggle that could pull us from God. A spontaneous prayer time occurred right after the concert, and I'll never forget the move of the Spirit that night.

What makes Orpheus unique?
One of my favorite things about Orpheus is the high musical standard to which Dr. Bell holds us. He doesn't expect us to do more than each of us can. But he doesn't expect any less than our best, either. It's that kind of attitude that has made Orpheus so consistent over the last 80 years.

What are your post-grad plans?
I love to design, and I love to take photos. Any job that would combine the two of those with some marketing, I would love. I can see myself living in Chicago and working, or perhaps moving out to the Northwest and looking for work there.

Why did you choose Olivet?
I knew the environment at Olivet would help me grow into the person I wanted to be, both academically and spiritually.

Do you have a favorite Olivet story/memory?
My freshman year, I was in the musical Godspell. I fell in love with theatre, bonded with many talented people, and grew in my relationship with the Lord.

What is your favorite thing about being a member of Orpheus?
I love how I am accepted no matter what. You are loved like you are a family member.

What is one unique or interesting thing about you?
When I visit home, my cat rides around on my shoulder like a parrot.
Love Came Gently
Marty Funderburk; arr. Mike Speck

Love came gently, soft as a baby,
Born to a lowly virgin girl.
Wrapped in rags and laid in a manger,
Love came gently to our world.

Only shepherds and the wisest
Found Him beneath the star so bright.
While the nations lay deep in slumber,
Love came gently in the night.

No applause, no fanfare of trumpets
Heralding hope had come to earth,
For the Promise tenderly entered,
Choosing instead a humble birth.

Love came gently, sweetly to save us,
Knowing the price He'd have to pay.
And to all who trust in the Savior,
Love comes gently still today.

Make His Praise Glorious
Bill Wolaver; text by Robin Wolaver

Praise the Lord of heaven,
Praise the Lord of earth,
Praise Him for His mighty pow'r,
Praise Him for His works.
Praise the Lord ye nations,
Praise the Lord ye kings,
Praise Him all creation,
Let your voices sing,
Praise the Lord!

Shout with joy to God all the earth,
Sing glory to His name;
Tell aloud His marvelous worth,
His righteousness proclaim.
Glory and honor and blessing and power
Be unto the Lord.
Come and let us make His praise glorious!
Praise the Lord with music,
Praise the Lord with strings,
Praise Him with the harp and lyre,
Let the cymbals ring.
Praise the Lord with trumpets,
And the tambourines,
Praise the Lord in chorus,
Let your voices sing,
Praise the Lord!

Shout with joy to God all the earth,
Sing glory to His name;
Tell aloud His marvelous worth,
His righteousness proclaim.
Glory and honor and blessing and power
Be unto the Lord.
Come and let us make His praise glorious!

Behold how good it is
To sing praises to our God.
How pleasant and fitting to praise Him,
Behold how good it is.

Shout with joy to God all the earth,
Sing glory to His name;
Tell aloud His marvelous worth,
His righteousness proclaim.
Glory and honor and blessing and power
Be unto the Lord.
Come and let us make His praise,
Make His praise glorious!

O crux
Knute Nystedt (b. 1915); Text by Venantius Fortunatus (530 – 609)

Spendidior cunctis astris, (more radiant than the stars)
Mundo celebris, (celebrated throughout the earth)
Hominibus multum amabilis (beloved of all the people)
Sanctori universis, (holier than all things)
Quae sola fuisti digna (which alone was found worthy)
Portare talentum mundi. (to bear the light of the world)
Dulce lignum, dulces clavos, (blessed tree, blessed nails)
Dulcia feros pondera. (bless the weight you bore)
Salva praeuentem catervam, (save the flock)
In tuis hodie, (which today)
Laudibus congregatam. (gathers to praise you)
O crux, splendidior. (O cross, most radiant)
O Let Your Soul Now Be Filled With Gladness
Swedish folk melody arr. Fred Bock (1939–1998); text by Peter Jonsson Aschan

O let your soul now be filled with gladness,
Your heart redeemed, rejoice indeed!
O may the thought banish all your sadness,
That in His blood you have been freed,
That God's unfailing love is yours,
That you the only Son were given,
That by His death He has opened heaven,
That you are ransomed as you are.

If you seem empty of any feeling,
Rejoice, you are His ransomed Bride!
If those you cherish seem not to love you,
And dark assails from every side;
Still yours the promise, come what may,
In loss and triumph, in laughter, crying;
In want and riches, in living, dying,
That you are purchased as you are.

It is a good, every good transcending,
That Christ has died for you and Me!
It is a gladness that has no ending
Therein God's wondrous love to see!
Praise be to Him the spotless Lamb,
Who through the desert my soul is leading
To that fair city of joy exceeding,
For which He bought me as I am!
O let your soul be filled with gladness!

O Mighty Cross
David Baroni and John Chisum; arr. Tom Fettke

O mighty cross, Love lifted high,
The Lord of life raised there to die;
His sacrifice on Calvary
Has made the mighty cross
A tree of life to me.

O mighty cross, my soul's release.
The stripes He bore have brought me peace.
His sacrifice on Calvary
Has made the mighty cross,
A tree of life to me.
Shiru l’Adonai
Aharon Harlap (b. 1941); text from Psalm 96

Shiru l'Adonai shir chadash (Sing unto God a new song)
Shiru l’Adonai kol haaretz: (Sing unto God, all the earth)
Shiru l’Adonai bar’chu sh’mo (Sing unto God, bless the Name)
Basru miyom l’yom (Show forth from day to day)
Y’shuato. (Eternal’s salvation)
Sap’ru vagoyim k’vodo (Declare His glory among the heathen)
B’chol haamim nifl’otav (His marvelous works among all the peoples)

The Cross
arr. Jeff Bell (b.1958); texts from the hymnal

Must Jesus bear the cross alone,
And all the world go free?
No, there’s a cross for everyone,
And there’s a cross for me.

Alas! And did my Savior bleed,
And did my Sov’reign die?
Would He devote that sacred head
For such a worm as I?

Jesus, keep me near the cross;
There a precious fountain,
Free to all, a healing stream,
Flows from Calv’ry’s mountain.

So I’ll cherish the old rugged cross,
Till my trophies at last I lay down.
I will cling to the old rugged cross,
And exchange it . . .
. . . when I survey the wondrous cross!

The Lord Bless You and Keep You
Peter Lutkin (1858-1931); text from Numbers 6:24-26

The Lord bless you and keep you.
The Lord lift His countenance upon you, and give you peace.
The Lord make His face to shine upon you and be gracious unto you. Amen.
The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul:
He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me;
Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me.
Thou prepar'est a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
Thou anointest my head with oil;
My cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever. Alleluia!

Witness
Jack Halloran (b. 1916); text: traditional spiritual

Who'll be a witness for my Lord?
I'll be a witness for my Lord!

There was a man of the Pharisees,
His name was Nicodemus and he didn't believe.
The same came to Christ by night,
Wanted to be taught out of human sight.
Nicodemus was a man who desired to know
How a man can be born when he is old.
Christ told Nicodemus as a friend, he said,
"Man, you must be born again.\nMarvel not man if you want to be wise, Repent, believe, and be baptized."

Then you'll be a witness for my Lord;
My soul is a witness for my Lord!

You read about Samson, from his birth
He was the strongest man that ever lived on earth.
Way back yonder in ancient times
He killed ten thousand of the Philistines.
The old Samson went a-wanderin' about
Samson's strength was never found out.
"Til his wife sat upon his knee, she said,
"Tell me where your strength lies, if you please!"
Well, old Samson's wife, she talked so fair;
Samson said, "Cut off my hair!
Shave my head just as clean as your hand,
And my strength will come like a natural man."

Samson was a witness for my Lord.
Soul is a witness for my Lord.
There's another witness! There's another witness!
There's another witness for my Lord!
My soul is a witness for my Lord!

Nielson and Young

Now in their 42nd year of musical collaboration that began on this campus in 1971, Stephen Nielson and Ovid Young continue as one of the world's preeminent duo-piano teams. Named to the official Steinway piano artists roster—which contains the names of Van Cliburn, Sergei Rachmaninoff, Vladimir Horowitz and Billy Joel, to name a few—Nielson & Young have made appearances at concert venues like Moscow's Tchaikovsky's Hall; Copenhagen's Tivoli Gardens; Chennai (India's) Academy of Music; Toronto's Roy Thompson Hall; London's St. Martin-in-the-Fields; dozens of university campuses, prominent cathedrals and churches in England, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Asia and Scandinavia, cruise ships, educators' conventions and countless live and television appearances throughout America and other countries.

Widely published composers/arrangers and recording artists, Nielson & Young's thousands of concert programs range from many standard classical concertos (Bach, Mozart, Poulenc, Gershwin, etc.) for two pianos with symphony orchestras, to concerts featuring familiar hymntune settings, played alone or joined by choirs and orchestras of their "friends"—presenting as they are this evening the finest music from the Great American songbook. They are pleased to be returning to their familiar geographical and musical roots this evening. They fund an annual piano scholarship to an outstanding ONU music student. Ovid, (both an organist and a pianist) currently serves as Artist-in-Residence at Olivet.

Stephen and his wife, Carolyn, reside in Dallas, Texas and are the parents of two daughters, Christiana and Caroline. Ovid and Laura are residents of Bourbonnais, have two sons, Kirk and Erik, daughter-in-law Heather and five grandchildren, Kristen, Joshua, Quincy, Adelaide and Milo.

Neal Woodruff

Neal Woodruff is a professor in the Department of Music at Olivet Nazarene University, and serves as conductor of the University Orchestra and Concert Singers. Other teaching responsibilities include applied voice/pedagogy (both classical and contemporary), and opera/music theatre. Prior to his appointment at Olivet, Dr. Woodruff served on the faculties of Malone College (Canton, Ohio), Southern Nazarene University (Bethany, Okla.), and the Herscher (Ill.) school district. In addition he has maintained numerous full and part-time church positions in Illinois, Ohio, Oklahoma, and Texas.

Dr. Woodruff is past Illinois Governor for the National Association of Teachers of Singing. His education was received at the University of Oklahoma, Stephen F. Austin State University, and Olivet Nazarene University. He is also a certified instructor of Somatic Voicework™ - The LoVetri Method. While an understudy soloist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Woodruff performed under the batons of Sir Georg Solti, Dr. Margaret Hillis, Daniel Barenboim, Zubin Mehta, and James Levine. Current and former students of Dr. Woodruff have performed leading roles with the Stephen Sondheim Center, Indianapolis Opera, Santa Fe Opera, Sugar Creek Opera, Chicago’s Symphony Center, Light Opera Works, Marriott Theatre, and Concora.

Neal and his wife, Shannon, have three children: Ryan, Kayelyn, and Kellea.

SYNOPSIS

Lillian Hellman based her book for Candide on Voltaire’s novel by the same name. The naive and starry-eyed young couple, Candide and Cunegonde, are tutored by Dr. Pangloss, who is wise mainly in his own eyes. His utopian advice in this opening number is greatly changed by the end of the show, after the couple has experienced the hardships of real life.
OPENING SCENE from

The Magic Flute (1790)

CAST

Tamino ............ Seth Lowery
Lady One ........... Sarah High
Lady Two ........... Sarah Zylstra
Lady Three ....... Ashley Sarver

SYNOPSIS

A classic tale of good vs. evil. The Magic Flute tells the story of the Prince Tamino, who must undergo trials of strength and bravery to be worthy of the maid Pamina — whose mother, the Queen of the Night, tries to wreak havoc on all things good and pure. In the opening scene, Tamino is pursued and almost killed by a huge serpent. At the crucial moment, the Three Ladies rescue him, then argue with one another over who should get the "prize" for their victory.

SYNOPSIS
Figaro (the Count’s valet) is engaged to be married to Susanna (lady-in-waiting to the Countess), but Marcellina has had her eye on Figaro for a long time, cooking up a plan to force him into marrying her because he owes her some money. The Count supports this because he has designs on Susanna. In the argument that ensues, the truth finally emerges concerning Figaro’s mysterious past, and everyone gets some surprising news!

SYNOPSIS
The wealthy, middle-aged Don Pasquale has taken a young wife. He also has to deal with a headstrong nephew who insists that he will marry only for love, not convenience (like his Uncle). Of course the household servants know everyone's business and joke about it, even as they help themselves to the finery laying about the manor, being just careful enough to avoid getting caught!

SYNOPSIS

ACT I

M onica and Toby are playing while Madame Flora ("Baba"), their abusive custodian, is away. When she returns, she is furious that they are not ready for the seance she has planned. They busily prepare, and when the three guests arrive for the seance, (it happened long ago) Monica pretends to be the teenage laughter of one (Mummy, mummy dear) and the baby son of the others. Suddenly, Madame Flora stops the seance and sends the customers away. She tells Monica she felt a hand clutch her throat during the seance. She suspects Toby at first, but as Monica tries to comfort her (Black Swan), Flora hears a voice imitating Monica's performance at the seance.

ACT II

M onica tries to console Toby by having him put on a show for her. Monica joins in the show, pretending to be Toby (Monica's Waltz). She runs off as Baba re-enters; the medium tries to cajole Toby into confessing that he was the one who touched her during the seance, or that he knows something about it. When he does not answer, she begins to whip him, but is interrupted by a knock at the door. The three clients from the previous seance enter. Baba tries to convince them they have been cheated, even having Monica perform the voices of their children. but they refuse to believe her. She throws them out, and despite Monica's protests, throws Toby out, too. Monica goes to her room, and Flora, frightened by what she has experienced, drinks herself to sleep (Afraid, am I afraid?). Toby returns, as he has on multiple previous occasions: Flora awakens, and Toby hides from her. Flora, thinking the spirit has come back, shoots wildly into the air. As Monica and Toby make their escape, Baba collapses to the floor.

Program Notes

Pièce En Forme de Habanera A habanera is a Cuban dance that gained popularity during the 19th century. The catchy habanera beat was brought over to Spain and quickly spread to English and French salons. During this time many composers wrote pieces influenced by the habanera beat and style. Jules Massenet included a habanera in his opera Le Cid and Camille Saint-Saëns composed a violin concerto Havanaise capturing the habanera style. Maurice Ravel was also inspired by the habanera and wrote this piece, Pièce en Forme de Habanera, for cello and piano.

Air This piece is the second movement of Johann Sebastian Bach's Orchestra Suite No 3 in D major. The original suite was written for Prince Leopold of Anhalt, Bach's patron. This piece has been transcribed for alto saxophone by Cecil Leeson.

Fantasy Pieces Robert Schumann wrote Fantasy Pieces in two days in February, 1849. He originally composed this for clarinet and piano but then later directed that a cello or viola could also play the clarinet part. The Fantasy Pieces has three different movements, each one describing a different mood. It was Schumann's signature to compose pieces that had sudden mood changes and this piece is a perfect example of this. The first two movements will be played in this recital, Zart und mit Ausdruck (tender and with expression) and Lebhaft, leicht (lively, light).

Creston Sonata—Movement I—With Vigor This piece by Giuseppe Guttovaggio, known as Paul Creston, was written in 1939 for piano and saxophone. This piece was written for Cecil Leeson, an established saxophonist and friend of Creston. Creston drew upon different styles of music using energy, variety, and musical interest for this sonata. The first movement With Vigor, is an exciting movement that is full of energy and contains the most tempo changes out of all the movements of the sonata. The Creston Sonata is a cornerstone piece for established saxophonists.

Élégie This piece was written by Gabriel Fauré in 1883. Fauré intended Élégie to be a cello sonata but he never wrote more movements to finish the sonata. Fauré dedicated this piece to cellist Jules Loeb posthumously, who had died three years after Fauré completed the piece. This piece is an excellent example of ABA form. It starts off with a slow and somber beginning, then drifts into an intense and fast pace middle section, and then returns to the beginning melody to end the piece.

Mazurka in G minor David Popper was an amazing cellist and also a great composer. He was the principle cellist of the Vienna State Opera and was also one of the last great cellists who did not use an endpin when he played. Popper composed a number of works but is mostly known for his book of cello etudes, High School of Cello Playing. He wrote mainly wrote pieces for cello and Mazuraka is one of them.

Great Is Thy Faithfulness This hymn was written by William Runyan with text by Thomas Chisholm. The text was based on Lamentations 3: 21-24: “Yet this I call to mind and therefore I have hope: Because of the Lord's great love we are not consumed, for his compassions never fail. They are new every morning; great is your faithfulness. I say to myself, 'The Lord is my portion, therefore I will wait for him.'” This scripture is a constant reminder to us as Christians that the Lord is faithful everyday, anytime, anywhere, no matter what the circumstance we may face in life. The Lord has used this hymn in one Runyan's life to touch the heart of another Runyan.

Pezzo Capriccioso Peter Tchaikovsky wrote this piece, Pezzo Capriccios, in 1887. He wrote this piece to express his grief over the incurable illness of his friend, Nikolay Kondratyev. He quickly composed this somber piece in one week with the help of his cellist friend Anatoly Brandukov. This piece is titled Pezzo Capriccioso ironically, because while it has many of the same characteristics of other Pezzo style pieces, it is written about a very somber and depressing subject.

On Green Dolphin Street This popular jazz standard was written by Bronislaw Kaper and Ned Washington. This tune was written for the film Green Dolphin Street and became a popular jazz standard after Miles Davis recorded it in 1958.

Mercy, Mercy, Mercy This tune was written by Joe Zawinul in 1966 for Cannonball Adderly and his album Mercy, Mercy, Mercy! Live at "The Club." This song has been re-recorded by many, and most notably by The Buckinghams. This song has become known as a jazz standard.
Miss Holaway presents this recital in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Bachelor of Music degree in Music Education with emphasis in ‘cello. She is the student of Professor Carol Semmes.

Miss Runyan presents this recital in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Bachelor of Music degree in Music Education with emphasis in saxophone. She is the student of Professor Jerry Luzeneicki.

History of Messiah

In the Baroque era, the first works called “oratorios” were religious operas, complete with costumes and staging. By Handel’s time, the scenery, costumes and actions had been abandoned, but the idea of drama was retained. Each soloist represented a specific character. Like opera, an oratorio was a work of considerable scope, requiring two or more hours to perform. It featured an accompanying orchestra and a chorus in addition to the soloists.

During the 1740s and 1750s, there flowed from Handel’s pen a remarkable series of oratorios — Messiah, Samson, Semele, Joseph and his Brethren, Hercules, Belshazzar, Judas Maccabaeus, Joshua, Susanna, Solomon, Jeptha — more than 25 in all.

In spite of Handel’s earlier successes with staging Italian Grand opera in England, by the 1740s this style was out of vogue. In 1741, Handel poured most of his money into the revival of his two Italian operas, Imeneo and Deidamia, and had met with failure. Rather than brood his time away, Handel set about writing the oratorio Messiah, working on it with consuming intensity. He must have labored constantly, and it is known that he paid little attention to the food his servant left at his door. After the completion of the “Hallelujah Chorus,” a servant found him with tears in his eyes exclaiming, “I did think I saw Heaven before me, and the great God himself!”

Handel accepted an invitation to give a series of benefit concerts in Dublin, Ireland. He thought the change from London to Dublin might do him some good as well as revitalize his finances. Also, he was a philanthropist who was sensitive to needy causes. The Dublin benefit was for the Society for Relieving Prisoners, The Charitable Infirmary and Mercer’s Hospital. By the end of 1741, Handel had traveled to Dublin and led a series of concerts. He kept Messiah “up his sleeve” until March of 1742. An open rehearsal of the work a month before its premier helped stimulate public interest so that hundreds of people had to be turned away from the first performance on April 13. An extract from the Dublin newspaper of April 10, 1742, concerning this public rehearsal reads:

“Yesterday Morning, at The Musick hall there was a public Rehearsal of the Messiah, Mr. Handel’s new sacred Oratorio, which in the opinion of the best judges, far surpasses anything of that Nature, which has been performed in this or any other Kingdom. The Elegant Entertainment was conducted in the most regular Manner, and to the entire satisfaction of the most crowded and polite assembly.”
More than 700 people squeezed into the hall for the first performance, even though advertisements asked the ladies not to wear hoops that made their dresses billow out and the men to leave their swords at home. The performance was a tremendous success.

The Dublin Journal of April 17 contained this report:

"On Tuesday last Mr. Handel's Sacred Grand Oratorio, the MESSIAH, was performed at the New Musick-Hall in Fishamble-street; The best Judges allowed it to be the most finished piece of Musick. Words are wanting to express the exquisite Delight it afforded to the admiring crowded Audience. The Sublime, the Grand, and the Tender, adapted to the most elevated, majestic, and moving Words, conspired to transport and charm the ravished Heart and Ear."

The oratorio Messiah differs from other oratorios chiefly in that its text is entirely scriptural, and it has no part for a narrator, who describes the events of a story through song. Further, certain of Handel's oratorios are mythological (as in Semele) while others are allegorical (as in Alexander's Feast). Messiah is a contemplation on the Christian faith, starting with a section on prophecy and Christ's birth, followed by a vivid evocation of His suffering and death, and concluding with the triumph of the Resurrection and Redemption for all mankind. Like his other oratorios, Messiah was written to be performed in the concert hall during the Lenten season, during which time the performance of opera was forbidden.

The text, solely scripture, is drawn from seven Old Testament and five New Testament books. Although close to the original narrative, the text was rewritten in recitatives (sometimes prose, sometimes rhymed verse), arias and choruses. Strangely, there is some conjecture as to who arranged the Bible verses for the oratorio. It is known who sent the text to Handel: a Charles Jennens, who is described by Dr. Samuel Johnson's cutting tongue as "a pompous, conceited, wealthy fop who imagined himself to be a literary genius." Despite this controversy, the masterly skill exhibited in the integration of text and music is unequivocally Handelian.

One well-known tradition has developed regarding Messiah. At the first performance in London on March 23, 1743, King George II was reportedly so awed by the "Hallelujah Chorus" that he rose and stood at his seat. In that era, when the monarch stood, everyone stood. So the King's spontaneous action became a tradition that is often followed today.
Welcome and Invocation
Part One

Overture

Recitative

Mr. Lowery

Comfort ye, My people, saith your God. Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry to her that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned. The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness. Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God. (Isaiah 40:1-3)

Aria

Mr. Lowery

Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill made low; the crooked straight, and the rough places plain. (Isaiah 40:4)

Chorus

And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together, for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it. (Isaiah 40:5)

Recitative

Mr. Geeding

Thus saith the Lord, the Lord of Hosts: Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens and the earth, the sea and the dry land; and the desire of all nations shall come. The Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to His temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in; behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of Hosts. (Haggai 2:6, 7; Malachi 3:1)

Aria

Mr. Geeding

But who may abide the day of His coming? And who shall stand when He appeareth? For He is like a refiner's fire. (Malachi 3:2)

Recitative

Miss Eddins

Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Emmanuel: God with us. (Isaiah 7:14; Matthew 2:23)

Aria with Chorus

Miss Eddins

O thou that tellest good tidings to Zion, get thee up into the high mountain! O thou that tellest good tidings to Jerusalem, lift up thy voice with strength! Lift it up, be not afraid! Say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God! O thou that tellest good tidings to Zion, arise, shine, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee! (Isaiah 40:9)
Recitative
Mr. Rice

For, behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people; but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and His glory shall be seen upon thee, and the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising. (Isaiah 60:2, 3)

Aria
Mr. Rice

The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: and they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined. (Isaiah 9:2)

Chorus

For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon His shoulder; and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (Isaiah 9:6)

Pastoral Symphony

Recitative
Miss Raffauf

There were shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And lo! The angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them, and they were sore afraid. (Luke 2:8–9)

Recitative
Miss Raffauf

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord. (Luke 2:10–11)

Recitative
Miss Raffauf

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying: (Luke 2:13)

Chorus

Glory to God in the highest, and peace on earth, good will toward men. (Luke 2:14)

Aria
Miss Fernette

Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; Shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy king cometh unto thee. He is the righteous Saviour, and He shall speak peace unto the heathen. (Zechariah 9:9-10)
Recitative Miss Eddins

Then shall the eyes of the blind be opened, and the ears of the deaf unstopped. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing. (Isaiah 35:5-6)

Aria Miss Eddins

He shall feed His flock like a shepherd, and He shall gather the lambs with His arm, and carry them in His bosom, and gently lead those that are with young. (Isaiah 40:11)

Aria Miss Raffauf

Come unto Him all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and He will give you rest. Take His yoke upon you, and learn of Him, for He is meek and lowly of heart, and ye shall find rest unto your souls. (Matthew 11:28-29)

Aria Miss Guenseth

He was despised and rejected of men, a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief. (Isaiah 53:3)

Chorus

Surely He hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows; He was wounded for our transgressions; He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon Him. (Isaiah 53:4-5)

Recitative Mr. Lowery

Thy rebuke hath broken His heart; He is full of heaviness; He looked for some to have pity on Him, but there was no man, neither found He any to comfort Him. (Psalm 69:20)

Aria Mr. Lowery

Behold and see if there be any sorrow like unto His sorrow. (Lamentations 1:12)

Recitative Mr. Lowery

He was cut off out of the land of the living; for the transgression of Thy people was He stricken. (Isaiah 53:8)

Aria Mr. Lowery

But Thou didst not leave His soul in hell; nor didst Thou suffer Thy Holy One to see corruption. (Psalm 16:10)
Chorus

Hallelujah! For the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth. The kingdom of the world is become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and He shall reign for ever and ever, King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, Hallelujah! (Revelation 19:6; 21:15; 19:16)

Part Three

Aria Miss Raffauf

I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that He shall stand at the latter day upon the earth. And though worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God. For now is Christ risen from the dead, the first fruits of them that sleep. (Job 19:25-26)

Recitative Mr. Rice

Behold, I tell you a mystery; we shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. (1 Corinthians 15:51-52)

Aria Mr. Rice

The trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. (1 Corinthians 15:52-53)

Chorus

Worthy is the Lamb that was slain, and hath redeemed us to God by His blood, to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing. Blessing and honour, glory and power, be unto Him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb, for ever and ever. Amen. (Revelation 5:12-13)

About the Quintet

Since 2004, the Gaudete Brass Quintet has committed itself to presenting serious brass chamber music through compelling concerts, commissioning new works and adventurous recordings. The group has engaged in live performances at venues such as Merkin Hall and Symphony Space in New York City and Millennium Park in Chicago, commissioned new works from noted composers such as David Sampson, Jonathan Newman, John Cheetham, Steven Bryant and Stacy Garrop, and appeared on radio broadcasts on WFMT in Chicago and Nashville Public Radio. While keeping this rigorous performance schedule, Gaudete has recorded three albums: Brass Outings (2006), winner of the CDBaby Editors’ Choice distinction and nominee for Just Plain Folks Best Classical Chamber Album; Conversations in Time with organist R. Benjamin Dobey (2011, Pro Organa); and Chicago Moves, produced by Grammy winner Judith Sherman and featuring several of its commissioned works (2012, Cedille Records). The quintet has also presented educational programs and concerts at prominent institutions including The Juilliard School, Eastman School of Music, and Arizona State University and starting in the fall of 2013 the GBQ has joined Roosevelt University’s Chicago College of Performing Arts faculty as ensemble-in-residence. About the Music

Joan Tower writes about her composition, Copperwave, “My father was a geologist and mining engineer and I grew up loving everything to do with minerals and rocks. Copper is a heavy but flexible mineral that is used for many different purposes and most brass instruments are made of copper. The ideas in this piece move in waves, sometimes heavy ones and at other times lighter—also in circles, turning around on the same notes. Occasionally, there is a Latin-type of rhythm that appears, which is a reminder of my years growing up in South America where my father was working as a mining engineer.”

Giaches De Wert was a Franco-Flemish composer from the village of Weert who moved to Italy and became a master of the Italian Madrigal. Wert’s madrigals were highly influential on Gabrieli and foreshadow the development baroque style and opera. Brass players in the Renaissance would have played this music in ensembles along with singers or string and wind instrumentalists. They also adapted this music and performed it as their own, a practice that the GBQ gladly continues.

sevenfive by Steven Bryant is constructed on intervals of 7ths and 5ths with rhythmic groupings of 7 and 5 and therefore very appropriately titled. The piece opens with a rhythmic motif that is played in the four muted upper brass that eventually moves entirely to the horn creating the same driving effect with dextrous stopping and unstopping while the trumpets and low brass pair off with increasingly energetic melodic material. The
A piece was written for the GBQ as the program opener for Gaudete’s concert celebrating John Corigliano’s 75th birthday.

David Sampson’s music has played an integral part in establishing a repertoire of substance for the brass quintet. His goal is to not only create powerful music for the brass quintet but also to create works of great diversity, each one different from the last. Still, his 10th work for brass quintet, is a work of subtle beauty and slowly developing sound colors, a remarkable aesthetic for instruments usually known for playing fanfares. Still was written for the Gaudete Brass Quintet in 2013. David also wrote Chicago Moves for the GBQ in 2011.

Jeremy Howard Beck’s ROAR takes the idea of a roar and develops it into this short piece for brass quintet. The roar may be heard in the individual gestures, that are rhetorical in an onomatopoeiaic way, as well as the entire piece which is one giant ROAR.

Michael Praetorius was a phenomenally prolific composer active in Germany at the early part of the 17th century. He was influential in bringing elements of the new Italian Baroque music to Germany. His music remains frequently performed today but his vast catalogue of compositions means that many gems are rarely (or never) heard. This 5 part polyphonic setting of the Easter text Christ lag in Todeshanden is one of these gems that is excellent chamber music for the brass quintet.

Anthony Plog’s Songs of War and Loss was written for the American Brass Quintet. This is one of the rare works for brass quintet with voice and it is truly monumental in both its scope and material. Whitman’s Civil War poetry conveys both pain and oppressiveness as well as glimpses of humanity in the small moments of the great conflict. It is a special privilege for Gaudete to bring this moving chamber work to our audience.

Program Notes

Love Bade Me Welcome

This piece comes from a set of "Five Mystical Songs" composed by Ralph Vaughan Williams; each of these uses the text of a different poem by George Herbert from the early 17th century. This poem is a beautiful description of an encounter between God and man.

These selections offer two different settings of the German poem, "Mignon" by Johann Wolfgang von Goethe. Beethoven takes an adventurous and joyful look at the poem, while Liszt colors with moments of light, darkness, and anticipation.

I'd Rather Have Jesus

Ben Cherney originally arranged this medley for piano only. One afternoon, Ben and I were on a time crunch to arrange an Orpheus tour offertory. He began to play this arrangement, and I added some violin improvisation. Since then we have played this song together in churches and District Assemblies across the Olivet region.

Charlie Rutlage

This is a very unique piece that uses voice and piano to vividly describe the story of Charlie Rutlage, a cowboy who eventually meets a crushing fate during a stampede.

Much More and Not for the Life of Me, both of these songs express a desire to leave home life and to soar into the great unknown! Yet I enjoy both small town living and big city lights. My personal connection to these songs comes down to the idea of breaking out of my comfort zone, becoming a lover of life, and embracing change.

Translations:

Regnava nel silenzio The night, deep and dark, reigned in the silence a pale ray from the gloomy moon shone on the fountain when a low sigh was heard throughout the air; and there on the fountain's edge the shadow appeared to me! Ah! Her lips moved as if speaking, and with her lifeless hand she seemed to call me. She stood there, motionless, when she suddenly disappeared. And the water, earlier so limpid, became as red as the blood. Ah! This dread warning forebodes dire disaster from my mind to blot now forever his dear image I fain must endeavor. Yet I cannot; I cannot, no, I cannot! He is my soul's master he is my dear solace, my only solace midst all my woe.

Susanna, or via sortite! COUNT: Susanna, come out of there come out, I command you. COUNTESS: No, stop...listen...she can't come out. SUSANNA: What's this row about? Where has the page got to? COUNT: And who dares forbid it? COUNTESS: Decency forbids it. She's in there trying on her wedding dress. COUNT: It's all too plain; there's a lover in there. COUNTESS: It's all too horrible: Whatever will happen? SUSANNA: I think I understand: Let's see how things work out. COUNT: Well, at least speak, Susanna, if you're there. COUNTESS: No, no, you're not to. I order you, be silent. COUNTESS and COUNT: Be careful, pray! Try to avoid an open scandal. SUSANNA: Oh heaven! There's bound to be a catastrophe, an open scandal.

Thank you for turning off cell phones and for not using flash photography.
L'Heure Exquise The white moon shines in the woods. From each branch springs a voice beneath the arbor. Oh my beloved... Like a deep mirror the pond reflects the silhouette of the black willow where the wind weeps. Let us dream! It is the hour... A vast and tender calm seems to descend from a sky made iridescent by the moon. It is the exquisite hour!

Extase On your pale breast my heart is sleeping a sleep as sweet as death exquisite death, death perfumed by the breath of the beloved on your pale breast my heart is sleeping sleep as sweet as death.

Mignon Knowest thou where the lemon blossom grows, in foliage dark the orange golden glows, a gentle breeze blows from the azure sky, still stands the myrtle, and the laurel high? Dost know it well? 'Tis there! 'Tis there would I with thee, oh my beloved, fare. Knowest the house, its roof on columns fine? Its hall glows brightly and its chambers shine, and marble figures stand and gaze at me: What have they done, oh wretched child to thee? Dost know it well? 'Tis there! 'Tis there would I with thee, oh my protector, fare. Knowest the mountain with the misty shrouds? The mule is seeking passage through the clouds; in caverns dwells the dragons' ancient brood; the cliff rocks plunge under the rushing flood! Dost know it well? 'Tis there! 'Tis there leads our path! Oh father, let us fare.

Mignon's Lied Dost know the land where-in the citrons bloom? Like gold the orange gleams thro' the leafy gloom a gentle wind from azure heaven blows and with the myrtle high the laurel grows. Dost know it well? 'Tis there, 'tis there, 'tis there I would with the my dearest one, repair 'tis there, 'tis there, 'tis there I would with thee, my dearest, with thee my dearest one, repair! Dost know the house? Great columns bear its walls; how gay the rooms, how splendid shine the halls! And marble statues watching silently would ask: "Poor child, is fate unkind to thee?" Dost know it well? 'Tis there, 'tis there, 'tis there would with thee, protector kind, repair 'tis there, 'tis there, 'tis there I would with thee repair with thee, protector kind, repair. Dost know the path along the mountain steep where thro' the mist the patient mules do creep; in caverns dwell the dragons and the brood down crashing rocks rushes the foaming flood know it well? Know it well? Know the land; know the house, the mountain steep, dost know them well? 'Tis there, 'tis there I know our way doth lie; O father, let us go! 'Tis there, 'tis there I know our way doth lie; O father, O father, Let us go! O father, let us go! 'Tis there our way doth lie, O father, O my protector My dear one, 'tis there!

Ich Liebe Dich I love you as you love me, in the evening and the morning, or was there a day when you and I did not share our troubles. And when we shared them they became easier to bear; you comforted me in my distress, and I wept in your laments. Therefore may God's blessing be upon you, you, my life's joy. God protect you, keep you for me and protect and keep us both.

O du mein holder Abenstern Like a portent of death, twilight shrouds the earth and envelops the valley in its sable robe; the soul, that yearns for those heights, dreads to take its dark and awful flight. There you shine, o fairest of the stars, and shed your gentle light from afar; your friendly beam penetrates the twilight gloom and points the way out from the valley. O my fair evenstar, I always gladly greeted thee: from a heart that never betrayed its faith, greet her when she passes, when she soars above this earthly valley to become a blessed angel in Heaven.
Après un Rêve  In a slumber which held your image spellbound I dreamt of happiness, passionate mirage, your eyes were softer, your voice pure and sonorous, you shone like a sky lit up by the dawn; you called me and I left the earth to run away with you towards the light, the skies opened their clouds for us, unknown splendors, divine flashes glimpsed, Alas! Alas! Sad awakening from dreams! I call you, o night, give me back your lies, return, return radiant, return, o mysterious night.

Le charme When your smile surprised me, I felt trembling through all my being, but that which overcame my spirit, I did not at first know it. When your glance fell on me, I felt my soul melt, but what this emotion would be, I could not at first understand. What vanquished me forever was a more painful charm; and I did not know that I loved you, until I saw your first tear.

Per me giunto Tis I, dear Carlos! You are about to leave this ghastly tomb. I am glad at heart in my arms now to feel you! I've saved your life! And I have come here, have come farewell to tell you. O, my Carlos! My last day has come, we shall meet no more, God will unite us in Heaven, He rewards his followers. I see tears in your eyes, why weep now, why? Take heart Carlos, my last breath will be joyful for I die for you.

È sogno? o realtà Am I dreaming? Or is this reality? I feel two monstrous horns that grow from my forehead! Am I dreaming? Master Ford! Master Ford! Dreaming? Rouse yourself! Up! To action! Your wife betrays you, betrays your reputation and your name, and your honor, and her virtue! Planned to the minute! Prepared to betray you! You are mocked and derided! They dare to tell us that a sensible husband's never jealous! Behind my back I seem to hear my neighbors laugh when they see me murmuring and jeering. O holy wedlock, I curse you! Woman, I curse you! Who but a fool puts his faith in a woman! I could entrust all my beer to a German, all of my larder to a greedy Dutchman, Entrust my whisky to an Irish toper - not my wife with my honor! O cruel misfortune! And that hideous word again torments me: A cuckold! Jackass! Buffoon! Blockhead! Fool of a husband! Ah! A cuckold! A cuckold! But you will not escape! No! Filthy, guilty, accursed lascivious lecher! First let him meet her, and then I'll catch them! I'm choking! I shall avenge this outrage! O jealous heart, I thank you, my eyes are blind no more! You'll not deceive me!

J. Corigliano
Translations:

Cangio d'aspetto Cruel destiny has changed its aspect and in my breast is reborn; complete happiness. I no longer feel pain and suffering now that my heart has turned to joy.

Musique Anodine: No.1 I shall lament in silence this bitter fate I cherish; ask not my love to perish, this love of mine won't die. Unjust! Have I offended? You cause me pain, but why?

Seit ich ihn gesehen Since I first saw him I think I must be blind: wherever I look I see only him, as if in a trance, his image hovers before me, emerging from the deepest gloom even brighter. All else is dark and colorless in my surroundings; my sisters' games interest me no longer. I would rather weep quietly in my room since I first saw him. I think I must be blind.

Années de pèlerinage translates into “Years of Pilgrimage”. Liszt wrote three collections of pieces, which were inspired by his travels throughout Europe. Tonight’s piece comes from his third pilgrimage. Many of Liszt’s pieces describe a specific subject matter through musical elements. Liszt was inspired to write this programmatic piece by a grove of cypresses he had passed during his journey.

Translations:

Les Berceaux Along the quay, the great ships, that ride the swell in silence, take no notice of the cradles that the hands of the women rock. But the day of farewells will come, when the women must weep, and curious men are tempted towards the horizons that lure them! And that day the great ships, sailing away from the diminishing port, feel their bulk held back by the spirits of the distant cradles.

Romance The vanishing and suffering soul, the sweet soul, the fragrant soul of divine lilies that I have ticked in the garden of your thoughts. where, then, have the winds chased it, this charming soul of the lilies? Is there no longer a perfume that remains of the celestial sweetness of the days when you enveloped me in a supernatural haze, made of hope, of faithful love, of bliss and of peace?

Er, der Herrlichste von Allen.- Robert Schumann

He, the most glorious of all, o how mild, so good! Lovely lips, clear eyes, bright mind and steadfast courage, just as yonder in the blue depths, bright and glorious, that star, so he is in my heavens, bright and glorious, lofty and distant. Meander, meander thy paths, but to observe thy gleam, but to observe in meekness, but to be blissful and sad! Hear not my silent prayer, consecrated only to thy happiness, hou mays't not know me, lowly maid, lofty star of glory! Only the worthiest of all, may make happy thy choice, and I will bless her, the lofty one, many thousand times. I will rejoice then and weep, blissful, blissful I'll be then, if my heart should also break, break, O heart, what of it?

A staple of the piano duet repertoire, Fantasia in F Minor is one of Schubert’s most important piano works. This piece consists of four continuous movements separated by definite cadences. The first movement presents the theme and expounds upon it throughout the movement. The second movement is characterized by over-dotted rhythms and trills. The third movement is quick with eighth note arpeggiation while the fourth movement is a recapitulation with a fugue.

Written by the same man who composed Malagueña, Lecouna was deemed the “Cuban Gershwin” by the famous composer, Ravel. Rapsodia Negra is a collection of Spanish dances placed beautifully throughout a piano concerto. This concerto moves from one dance to the next with improvisatory transitions. This piece is one of the many pieces by Lecouna that celebrates the rich tradition of Spanish music.

Program Notes & Translations

Wie Melodien: Like melodies it pervades my senses softly, like spring flowers it blooms and drifts along like fragrance. But when a word comes and grasps it and brings it before the eye, like gray mist it fades and vanishes like a breath - and vanishes like a breath. And yet there remains in the rhyme a certain hidden fragrance, which gently from the dormant bud, a tearful eye evokes - which gently from the dormant bud, a tearful, a tearful eye evokes.

Jemand: Another of the Myrthenlieder to which the original poem by Burns is easily adapted. Passionate, almost willful, there is a graphic intensity in Schumann’s declaration, which calls for a studied judgment in the changes of tempo.

My heart is sad I dare na tell, my heart is sad for somebody, o I could wake a winter night for the sake, for the sake of somebody, O ho for somebody, hey for somebody, o I could range the world around for the sake of somebody. Ye powers that smile on virtuous love, Oh sweetly smile on somebody. Feel like danger keep him free, and send me safe my somebody! O ho for somebody, O hey for somebody. O I wad do what wad I not, for the sake of somebody.
'O sole mio!: What a beautiful thing, it's a sunny day the gentle breeze after the storm the air's so fresh, it feels like a celebration what a beautiful thing, it's a sunny day but another sun, that's even brighter it's my own sun that's upon your face! When night comes and the sun sets down I almost start to feel blue I'd stay below your window when night comes and the sun sets down but another sun, that's even brighter it's my own sun that's upon your face!

La Serenata: Fly, o serenade: My delight is alone, and, with her beautiful abandoned head, fly between her sheets: O serenade, fly. O serenade, fly. The moon shines brightly, silence extends its wings, and behind the shadows of the dark alcove the lamp burns. The moon shines brightly. The moon shines brightly. Fly, o serenade, fly, o serenade, fly. Ah! there. Ah! there. Fly, o serenade: My delight is alone, but, still smiling half muted, return between her sheets: O serenade, fly. O serenade, fly. The wave dreams on the shore, and the wind on the branch; and my blonde lady still denies a place for my kisses. The wave dreams on the shore. The wave dreams on the shore. Fly, o serenade, fly, o serenade, fly.

Se Tu M'ami: If you love me, if you sigh, only for me, dear shepherd, I am sorrowful for your sufferings; yet I delight in your love. But if you think that I must in return love only you, little shepherd, you are subject to deceiving yourself easily. The beautiful purple rose will Silvio choose today; with the excuse of its thorns, tomorrow, then, will he despise it. But the advice of the men I will not follow just because the lily pleases me, I do not have to despise the other flowers.

Die Liebe Hat Gelogen: The love has lied, the sorrow weighs heavily. Everyone around has deceived me. Hot drops flow always down the cheeks. Stop you poor heart. Stop.

Marienwurchen: Ladybird, sit on my hand - I will do you no harm. No harm shall come to you; I only wish to see your colorful wings: your colorful wings are my joy. Ladybird, fly away, your house is burning, your children are crying so much, so much. The evil spider is spinning her web around them; Ladybird, fly home, your children are crying so. Ladybird, fly to the neighbor's children, they will do you no harm. No harm will come to you: they only wish to see your colorful wings, and greet them both for me.

Chacun a son goute
In this favorite Viennese operetta the epicene Prince Orlofsky is giving a glorious party. He declares his hedonistic philosophy in this strophic air.

I enjoy inviting guests over; they have a truly grand time at my house. They chat with each other as people will, often up until the light of day. In truth, I’m always bored with what they do and say; meanwhile, what I am free to be as host I don’t endure among the guests. And if I see that someone is getting bored here at my house, then I send him off quite unabashedly - I throw him out the door. And should you ask, if you please, why I do that, it’s just the custom at my house: each to his own taste! Whenever I sit with others by the wine and empty bottle after bottle, everyone has to be thirsty with me, or else I become very uncivil. And as I fill glass after glass I don’t endure opposition; I can’t bear it when they cry, “I don’t want to-I’ve had enough!” Whoever doesn’t equal me in drinking, politely refuses like a ninny- I’ll quite unabashedly toss the bottle at his head.

Bonjour Suzon: Good morning, Susie, my flower of the woods! Are you still the prettiest? I return to see you from a great journey to Italy, through paradise I have made a tour; I have made some verses and made love too. What’s it to you? I pass before your house, open your door! Good morning, Susie! When I saw you in the time of lilacs, your heart was full of newfound joy and you said, "I do not wish, I do not wish to be loved yet." What have you done since I left? He who leaves too soon, comes back too late; but what's it to me? I pass before your house; open your door! Good morning, Susie!

Moritat vom Mackie Messer: And the shark, he has teeth and he wears them in his face and MacLeath, he has a knife but the knife you don't see on a beautiful blue Sunday lies a dead man on the strand and a man goes around the corner whom they call Mack the Knife and Schmul Meier is missing and many a rich man and his money has Mack the Knife.
on whom they can't pin anything. Jenny Towler was found with a knife in her chest and on the wharf walks Mack the Knife, who knows nothing about all this. And the minor-aged widow, whose name everyone knows, woke up and was violated Mack, what was your price? And some are in the darkness and the others in the light but you only see those in the light those in the darkness you don't see.

Standchen: The moon hangs over the mountain, so fitting for love-struck people. In the garden trickles a fountain, otherwise, it is still far and wide. Near the wall, in shadows, there stand the students three: with flute and fiddle and zither, they sing and play there. The sounds waft up to the loveliest of women, gently entering her dreams. She gazes on her blond beloved and whispers: "Forget me not!"

Nuit D'étoiles: Night of stars, beneath your veils, beneath your breezes and your scents, a sad lyre that sighs, I dream of dead loves. The serene melancholy comes bursting in the depth of my heart, and I hear the soul of my love tremble in the dreaming woods. In the leafy shadows, when I sigh very quietly, you return, poor awakened soul, all white in your shroud. I see again at our fountain your gaze, blue as the sky, this rose, it is your breath, and these stars are your eyes.

L'amour est un oiseau rebelle: Love is a rebel bird that no one can domesticate. And it's in vain that we call for it. It's the one we've just been denied. Nothing does it, threats or prayers. One talks well, the other one doesn't talk, and that's the other one I prefer. He didn't say anything but I like him. Love, love, love, love. Love is Bohemia's child. It has never known any law. If you don't love me, I love you, if I love you beware. If you don't love me, I love you. But if I love you, if I love you, beware. The bird you thought you surprised flapped its wings and flew away. Love is far, you can wait for it. You don't wait for it anymore, it's here all around you, fast, fast. It comes, leaves and then comes back. You think you hold it, it avoids you. You think you avoid it, it holds you. Love, love, love, love. Love is Bohemia's child. It has never known any law. If you don't love me, I love you. If I love you beware. If you don't love me I love you. But if I love you, if I love you, beware.

Three Songs of Innocence: These three songs for soprano, clarinet (performed tonight by violin), and piano are a collection of some of Arnold Cooke's best vocal compositions. In Three Songs of Innocence, Cooke has set three poems from William Blake's Songs of Innocence (1789). The first two poems are fairly straightforward pastoral scenes. In the first, the poet, represented by a shepherd, pipes his happy songs, is directed by a child on a cloud to write them down "that all may read" and "every child may joy to hear." In both, the child and the lamb are symbols of innocence as well as Christianity, and innocence may be read as both the innocence of youth and the innocent in heart. The third poem, "The Echoing Green," contains darker undertones as it contrasts youth and age, joys present and joys past, the sunlit green and the darkening green.

Mandoline: The givers of serenades and the lovely women who listen exchange insipid words under the singing branches. There is Thyrsis and Amyntas and there's the eternal Clytander, and there's Damis who, for many a Heartless woman, wrote many a tender verse. Their short silk coats, their long dresses with trains, their elegance, their joy and their soft blue shadows, whirl around in the ecstasy of a pink and grey moon, and the mandolin prattles among the shivers from the breeze.

La Vie En Rose: With eyes which make mine lower, a smile which is lost on his lips, that's the unembellished portrait of the man to whom I belong. When he takes me in his arms he speaks to me in a low voice, I see life as if it were rose-tinted. He whispers words to declare to me his love words of the everyday and that does something to me. He has entered into my heart a piece of happiness the cause of which I know full well. It's him for me, me for him in life the said that to me, swore to me "forever." And as soon as I see him so I feel in me my heart which beats.

Occhi immortali: Immortal eyes, the glory and splendor of love, arm yourselves with flame and golden arrows. Here is my heart! Here is my heart, which rushes eagerly to the battleground. To arms, warrior eyes. To arms, love. Arise, I invite you. Arise, I invite you, fervent sighs, resound. Hope guides the heart and compassion has given it powerful weapons. Night and day, you will hear my plaints, my fervent and burning sighs will always be circling about you.

Son ancor pargoletta: I am still a little girl and have not yet known love. But I am like a young plant, I have leaves, but no flowers or fruit. And so, Lily laughs at love, and sings.

Why Do I Love You?: This charming song is from Rodgers and Kern's "Showboat." Six years falling in love on Cap'n Andy's showboat, Gaylord and Magnolia have moved to Chicago, where they make a precarious living from Gaylord's gambling. At first they are rich and enjoying the good life, singing the song "Why Do I Love You?"

Make Believe: Earlier in "Showboat," the handsome riverboat gambler, Gaylord Ravenal, appears on the levee and is taken with eighteen-year-old Magnolia ("Nolie") Hawks, an aspiring performer and the daughter of Cap'n Andy and his wife Parthy Ann. Magnolia is likewise smitten with Ravenal as they first meet during this song.
The Light in the Piazza: When Clara and her wealthy mother, Margaret, take an extended trip to Italy, Clara finds unexpected love. A beautiful woman who was kicked in the head by a Shetland pony, and the accident has caused her mental and emotional abilities to develop abnormally. Still, nothing can separate Clara and her love for Fabrizio. No matter what Margaret tries to dissuade Clara's love, her daughter refuses to give her an inch, culminating into a painful confrontation where Margaret slaps Clara across the face. Clara erupts with a torrent of feeling, centered on Fabrizio and the nature of love in this song, "The Light in the Piazza."

Children Will Listen: At the end of Sondheim's epic story of fairy tale creatures, the characters reenter the stage to share the final moral of the show. The Witch leads the others in this song of wisdom and love.

A Cockeyed Optimist: In Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific," an unsophisticated, hopeful young U.S. Navy nurse named Nellie meets French island planter, Emile. In "A Cockeyed Optimist," Nellie tells Emile that she is sure everything will turn out all right, even though everyone else is worried about the outcome of the war.

Jerry Cohagan is in his 12th year as director of the theatre program at Olivet Nazarene University, and is thrilled to present this beautiful production with such a talented ensemble of actors. Before joining the faculty, he and his longtime comedy partner, Stephen Hicks, spent 25 years performing original comedy and drama with a Christian perspective throughout the United States. He has authored more than 25 books of sketches and one-act plays, and has directed and appeared in more than 40 productions and musicals. A musical he co-authored, Sweet River County, is currently on tour with the performance company Mad Dogs & Englishmen. This past year, he was invited to perform at the Orlando Repertory Theatre as part of a showcase for the True Acting Institute based in Florida. He is the recipient of an honorary Dove Award from the Gospel Music Association for his years of contribution to the arts.

the Cast

Nick Allen (Salesman/Townsperson) Nick is a junior majoring in multimedia studies with a concentration in film and a minor in theatre. He is no stranger to the Olivet stage, having been involved with the University's productions of God's Favorite, The Foreigner, Little Shop of Horrors and many others. He is beyond blessed to be a part of such an array of talented people. He is also an officer of the Drama Club Green Room, as well as a resident assistant in Hills Hall.

Ben Barnes (Townsperson) This is Ben's first production with Olivet. He is a freshman Christian education major with a minor in communications. He is from Normal, Ill., where he starred as Oliver Hix in The Music Man during his senior year in high school.

Brady Bettis (Tommy Djilas) Brady is super-pumped to be a part of his very first college musical. He is a freshman majoring in English education and has a huge passion for all things music and theatre. He has been in several musicals, including Annie, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum and Once Upon A Mattress. Brady would like to thank his family and his choir friends for pushing him to pursue his passions.

Marisa Bishop (Townsperson) Marisa is a returning student from Trevecca. She rejoined Olivet this spring and is an English education major. She is also returning for a second round with The Music Man, having been a chorus member when she was a child. This is her first production at Olivet. She would love to thank her incredible father and God for giving her the gift of song, fun and laughter.
Emma Brown (Townsperson) Emmaline is a sophomore at Olivet. She has been in five previous musicals — Seussical, Footloose, The Pajama Game, Bye Bye Birdie and Wizard of Oz. This is her second stage appearance at Olivet. She was also in last year’s fall production, Almost, Maine. “I am majoring in communications and hope to make a life for myself helping and communicating with others.”

Joe Brunker (Oliver Hix) Joe is a recent transfer from Evangel University. He has a love for the theatre and is very excited to be in his first play in six years.

Annette Carr (Teen Dancer) This is Annette’s first appearance on the Olivet stage. She is a sophomore communication studies major and is from Orangeville, Ill., where she performed in shows such as Aida and Annie Warbucks.

Christine Caven (Marian Paroo) Christine is a senior music ministry major. She is from Boise, Idaho. She has participated in several Olivet productions, including The Medium (Monica) and Once Upon A Mattress (lady in waiting). She has also enjoyed participating in three years of Olivet’s Broadway Revue. Christine would like to say a special thank you to her 13-year-old sister, Julia, for the hours of help with play memorization over Christmas break.
Caleb Crawford (Winthrop Paroo) Caleb is a seventh grade homeschooled student from Bourbonnais, Ill. He is the son of Olivet alumni Dennis ’95 and Alana ’97 (Byarley) Crawford. He has been a part of several musical productions at his home church, River Valley Christian Fellowship, in Bourbonnais. He aspires to officially join Olivet’s student body in the fall of 2019.

JT Cummings (Teen Dancer) Fame! All Shook Up. Aida. Xanadu! Once Upon A Mattress. What do all of these productions have in common? One incredible person named JT Cummings. As a corporate communication student with a musical theatre minor, he has a heart for musical theatre and is very excited to take part in Olivet’s production of The Music Man. He’ll see you center stage!

Cody Curtis (Salesman/Townsperson) This is Cody’s first play at Olivet, and he is very excited to be a part of the show.

Ron Gamache III (Conductor/Constable Locke) Ron, who is from Flint, Mich., is a senior corporate communication major with a minor in theatre. This is Ron’s tenth production at Olivet, and he couldn’t be more excited to take the stage again. He has been the director of Broadway Revue for the last two years and is currently serving as the co-president of Olivet’s Green Room. Most recently, he’s been seen on Olivet’s stage as Ben Benjamin in God’s Favorite, as Prince Dauntless in Once Upon A Mattress and as the smooth radio broadcaster in These Shining Lives. He has always had a great love for theatre, as well as for camping and computer repair. He’d like to thank his friends, family and loved ones for their support throughout the years.
Ben Geeding (Harold Hill)  Ben is excited to be a part of his second Olivet main stage musical performance. Ben is a senior music ministry major who hails from Manteno, Ill. Last year, he appeared as Seymour in Olivet’s performance of Little Shop of Horrors. He is involved with Orpheus Choir, Concert Singers and The Olivetians. He was the music director for the most recent Broadway Revue and co-directs Olivet’s show choir. Ben would like to dedicate this performance to his parents, who have always supported him and pushed him toward his goals.

Benjamin Green (Townsperson)  Ben is a homeschooled fifth grader. He has four siblings. He has performed in the Kankakee Valley Theatre for Wizard of Oz and Little Mermaid, and has been in various church plays. He is very excited to be in such a “huge” production and to share the stage with his sisters and brother — Samantha, Luke and Libby.

Elizabeth Green (Townsperson)  Libby is a homeschooled second grader and is Luke’s twin sister. She has been in church plays and was seen in the Kankakee Valley Theatre production of Mulan Jr. (Grandma Fa). She is very excited to dress up, to wear make-up and to be in a play with her siblings.

Luke Green (Townsperson)  Luke is a homeschooled second grader and is one of Ben’s brothers. He is very excited to be in his first play because he gets to be on a “huge” stage with lots of people watching.
the Cast

Samantha Green (Amaryllis) This is Samantha's first production with Olivet. She is a homeschooled freshman from Bonfield, Ill., and she has been involved with the Kankakee Valley Theatre since 2009. Two of Samantha's favorite productions were Oliver (Artful Dodger) and The Phantom Tollbooth Jr. (Milo). She would like to thank the directors for casting her, her family for their support, and God for blessing her with such an amazing opportunity.

Cameron Gunter (Salesman/Teen Dancer) Cameron is a junior music major from Olathe, Kan. He has been in Broadway Revue twice and appeared as Aaron Schultz in Kankakee Valley Theatre's production of Legally Blonde. He is excited to work with such a great cast of amazing people. God bless.

Mary Hall (Teen Dancer) Mary is a junior multimedia studies and Spanish double major. She grew up in Ecuador and currently lives in St. Louis. Her love for theatre started in high school and has continued in her years at Olivet. This is her third production and first musical at Olivet. She was previously in Metamorphoses (2012) and in Almost, Maine (2013).

Jessa Hendricker (Townsperson) Jessa, who is from Clinton, Ill., is a freshman social work major with a musical theatre minor. This is her fifth appearance on the Olivet stage. She appeared in this year's Broadway Revue and in Almost, Maine (Marvalyn). She is also the publicity chair of Diakonia (Social Work Club) and a member of Orpheus Choir. She would like to thank her family and friends for their constant support, God for instilling her passion for music and theatre, and the entire cast of The Music Man, who has become like family to her. To Him, be all the glory. Isaiah 41:10

Sarah High (Townsperson)  Sarah is a junior music ministry major from Champaign, Ill. She has been in many productions and has loved being in two of Olivet’s Broadway Revue productions. She also loves being in The Olivetians and Orpheus Choir. This summer, she is getting married and will become Mrs. Mowry. She feels so blessed and hopes you enjoy this wonderful production of The Music Man.

Matthew Jones (Mayor Shinn) This is Matthew’s second time on the Olivet stage. He appeared as King Sextimus in Once Upon A Mattress. He is also a member of Spoons4Forks, Olivet’s Improv Comedy Troupe. Apart from Olivet, he has been involved in theatre back home in Eureka, Ill., both in the community and at Eureka High School. He is grateful for another chance to bring a wonderful character to life.

Abagail Lalumendre (Teen Dancer) Abby is a senior intercultural studies major with a not-for-profit management minor. For the past three years, she has appeared in Olivet’s Broadway Revue.

Seth K. Lowery (Marcellus) Seth is a music performance major from Kankakee, Ill. He has performed in Olivet’s productions of Once Upon A Mattress and Little Shop of Horrors. He has also been featured as a soloist in Handel’s Messiah and in Olivet’s Commencement Concert, as well as other venues. He is thrilled to return to the Olivet stage with this wonderful cast.
the Cast

Dominic Mancini (Teen Dancer)  Born and raised in southeastern Michigan, Dominic is a freshman, studying music (vocal performance) at Olivet. He has participated in several high school plays and musicals, and recently appeared in Olivet’s Broadway Revue. He also participates in marching/concert band and choir at Olivet. He has been involved with music performances his entire life, has taken private voice and piano lessons and plays many instruments.

Joe Mantarian (Salesman/Teen Dancer)  Joe is a sophomore multimedia production major from Bourbonnais, Ill. This is his first theatre production, and he is excited to have such an opportunity. He is also a member of The Narrow, a ministry team at Olivet.

Miles Kolby Meador (Charlie Cowell)  Kolby is a junior seeking a degree in multimedia studies with a film concentration and a theatre minor. His goal is to be an actor on the screen and to use his job as a platform for his faith. He has previously appeared on Olivet’s stage in God’s Favorite, The Foreigner and Almost, Maine. Soli Deo Gloria!

Andrew Moore (Olin Britt)  This is Andrew’s first performance in an Olivet spring musical. He is a music education major and is a member of Orpheus Choir, Concert Singers, Orchestra and Wind Symphony. Andrew is from Hastings, Mich., where he performed in several musicals, including Beauty and the Beast and Into the Woods.
Brad Palmer (Salesman/Townsperson) Brad, who is from Franklin, Ind., is a senior criminal justice major with a music minor. He has appeared on Olivet’s stage in Broadway Revue. He is also a member of Orpheus Choir and of the ministry team, The Narrow.

Genesis Perez (Townsperson) Genesis is a junior from Kahului, Hawaii. He is majoring in multimedia studies with a concentration in film studies. This is his first production. He has been dancing hip-hop for more than six years. In addition, he has six months of ballet and jazz training from the American Dance Center. He has a joyful, loving and humble spirit. He loves to dance and express himself in many different forms. He loves God with all of his heart. He is excited for this piece and is ready to have fun. Aloha!

Cassandra Petrie (Mrs. Paroo) Cassandra is in her junior year as a vocal performance and music education major with a musical theatre minor. She is thrilled to be a part of the very talented cast of The Music Man. Cassandra was last seen on the Kresge stage as Baba in the opera The Medium. She has been in several Broadway Revue performances and was a member of the chorus in Once Upon A Mattress and in Les Miserables at the Fort Wayne Civic Theatre. She was Brooke Wyndham in Kankakee Valley Community Theatre’s production of Legally Blonde. She would like to praise God for her gifts in music and theatre, and thank her family and friends for their love and support.

Reilly Roberts (Maud Dunlop) Reilly is from Dixon, Ill. She is a freshman vocal performance major. In her hometown, she appeared in several productions, such as Legally Blonde, Chicago and Grease. This is her first appearance on the Olivet stage. She would like to thank God for this wonderful opportunity.
Leah Roth (Zaneeta Shinn) Leah is a sophomore biology major from Morton, Ill. She has been involved in theatre since the age of 10 and has appeared in many shows, such as Into the Woods (Cinderella), Arsenic and Old Lace (Martha) and Hello, Dolly! (Ermengarde). At Olivet, she has appeared in Broadway Revue, The Clefhangers Show Choir and 24-Hour Theatre. She wishes to thank her great directors for their hard work and encouragement, her family for their continued love and support, and God for the opportunity to do what she loves most. To Him be all the glory.

Ashley Sarver (Eulalie MacKecknie Shinn) Ashley is a junior journalism major with a theatre minor. From Springfield, Ohio, she has appeared on Olivet's stage in Once Upon A Mattress (Queen Aggravain) and in Little Shop of Horrors (Chiffon). She is a member of Orpheus Choir and The Olivetians. She would like to thank her mom and dad for their continual support, as well as her “kindred sisters” for keeping her sane with bluegrass music.

Brian Shaw (Salesman/Teen Dancer) Brian is a sophomore music composition major at Olivet. He has been involved in the marching, jazz and concert bands, as well as gospel choir. He is excited to be a part of his first theatrical performance at Olivet.

McKenzie Smith (Alma Hicks) McKenzie is a corporate communications major with a business minor. She is from Columbia City, Ind. She is a member of Orpheus Choir and has appeared on the Olivet stage in Broadway Revue: Louder Than Words.
the Cast

Michael-Andrew Spalding (Ewart Dunlop) Michael-Andrew is a sophomore graphic design major with a music minor in vocal performance. He has been a part of the Broadway Revue productions for the past two years and looks forward to his first spring musical with Olivet. He is a member of Orpheus Choir and enjoys long walks on the beach at sunset.

Wesley Taylor (Jacey Squires) Wesley is a senior marketing major from Joliet, Ill. He has appeared in Olivet's productions of Godspell (Jeffrey), Once Upon A Mattress (Minstrel) and Little Shop of Horrors (Audrey II). A member of The Olivetians, Orpheus Choir and Concert Singers, he is a lover of music. He is very thankful for one more chance to perform with friends, both new and old, on the Kresge stage. He also looks forward to appearing as Donkey in Kankakee Valley Theatre's production of Shrek later this spring. He extends special thanks to his family, professors and friends for their love and support throughout his busy college career.

Grace Tervin (Mrs. Squires) Grace is a freshman nursing major at Olivet. She is excited to be playing the role of Mrs. Squires. Grace has been walking the boards since she was five years old. You may have seen her in Broadway Revue. Some of her favorite roles include Dorothy in The Wizard of Oz, Fantine in Les Misérables and Little Red Riding Hood in Into The Woods. She would like to thank everyone who has been a part of this production for their dedication and hard work, especially the directors. Last but not least, she would like to thank her family for always supporting her passion for musical theatre and God for blessing her with this wonderful opportunity to be able to do what she loves with such a positive Christian cast.

Marissa Vander Ploeg (Gracie Shinn) Marissa is a freshman communications major with a concentration in theatre and a double minor in English. This is Marissa's first appearance on stage with Olivet, but she recently appeared in the female ensemble of Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat with The Drama Group; as Sarah in Sarah, Plain and Tall; and as Dogberry in Much Ado About Nothing.
Hillary Vaughn (Teen Dancer)  Hillary is a senior intercultural studies major with a music minor. Glad to have been a part of Orpheus Choir throughout her four years at Olivet and she is blessed to be in her first Olivet musical production during her last semester.

Allison Jean Walsh (Teen Dancer)  Allison is a senior marketing and business administration double major. She is from Orland Park, Ill. She has been dancing since the age of four and is very thankful that she has been able to choreograph the Ollie’s Follies Variety Show and Olivet’s 2013 Broadway Revue. She will graduate in May and is thrilled to dance on the Olivet stage one last time.

Sarah Zylstra (Ethel Toffelmier)  Sarah is from Munster, Ind., and is a sophomore at Olivet. She is in Concert Singers and Orpheus Choir. She is an undeclared major and is really looking forward to being in her first production at Olivet.

Program Notes

A Shortcut Home is a rousing and rather elaborate fanfare that features each section of the ensemble. Drawing upon various jazz styles, the music proclaims and cascades, always driving towards the “home” of the final C major chord.

A Movement for Rosa. On December 1, 1955, Rosa Parks was arrested for refusing to give up her seat to a white man on a segregated city bus in Montgomery, Alabama. Mrs. Parks earned the title of “Mother of a Movement” for her act of personal courage, sparking the Civil Rights movement of the 1950’s. So significant and inspiring was her peaceful act of defiance that the Rev Dr Martin Luther King, Jr., inscribed the following words on the frontispiece of his book, Stride Toward Freedom, a copy of which he gave to Mrs. Parks: “To Rosa Parks, whose creative witness was the great force that led to the modern stride toward freedom.”

A Movement for Rosa contains three contrasting sections. Section I evokes Rosa’s early years, from her birth in 1913 to her marriage in 1932. Section II portrays years of racial strife in Montgomery, Alabama and the quest for social equality. The song “We Shall Overcome” is foreshadowed in the first two sections and is heard in its entirety near the end. The work’s final measures serve as an ominous reminder of racism’s lingering presence in modern American society.

Lincoln Portrait. One of Copland’s most popular pieces, Lincoln Portrait was commissioned during the early years of World War II by conductor Andre Kostelanetz for a program of three new works by American composers. Copland chose excerpts from Lincoln’s own words for the narration. According to Copland, “The composition is roughly divided into three main sections. In the opening section, I wanted to suggest something of the mysterious sense of fatality that surrounds Lincoln’s personality. Also, near the end of that section, something of his greatness and simplicity of spirit [Springfield Mountain is the thematic basis of this portion.] The quick middle section briefly sketches in the background of the times during which he lived. [Fragments of Stephen Foster’s Camptown Races figure prominently in this passage.] This merges into the concluding section, where my sole purpose was to draw a simple but impressive frame around the words of Lincoln.”

Program Notes

Beethoven Concerto 4 Movement 4 - This is a piece that is supposed to represent two different groups and one is very tyrant and the other voice is calming. Throughout the piece the tyrant tries to fight the calm and rational person, but in the end the tyrant calms down and gets along with the calm person.

Beads of Glass - Gordon Stout was born in 1952 in America and is still alive today. He has studied composition with big names such as Joseph Schwantner and Samuel Adler as well as having performing in various venues all around the world. One of Stout's most recent pieces for solo marimba, Beads of Glass, written in 2004, is a beautiful tapestry of tonal sounds for a five octave marimba. The work is about 8 minutes long and showcases the beautiful sounds of the middle and low registers of the marimba. It is dedicated to Leigh Howard Stevens.

Notturno and Homesickness - These two pieces are part of Grieg’s Lyric Pieces. In his piece Homesickness, Grieg is reflecting of his time back home and how he misses it so. You can hear it throughout the piece.

Four pieces for Timpani - has become a major part of the standard timpani repertoire and John Bergamo has gained much acclaim for this piece from performers and educators alike. Each of the four pieces use four drums and is very different in style. In the first movement Bergamo explores the concept of a "conversation" between two people which is interpreted by changes in dynamics as well as short bursts of the conversation. In the second movement, Perpetual Motion, the unmetered constant flow of notes creates a bed for the performer to develop their own ideas of phrasing, melody, and counterpoint among the drums. In Elegia, the composer induces an ominous feeling and accompanies it with the sounds of a sort of bell tolling in the distance. The final movement, Finale, is loud, fast, and bombastic. The tempo marking is literally "As fast as possible, with barbaric ferocity." Coordination around the drums as well as producing a fierce sound makes the piece challenging yet very exciting.

Carnival of the Animals: Pianists and Swan - These two pieces are a part of Saint-Saens piano duets. Pianists is one that gives you an inside look at what the piano player does which is practice scales. The Swan was originally written for a cello. The piano so eloquently plays the theme of the Swan in this transcribed edition of it.

Ganda Yina - The gyil is a fourteen key frame xylophone that originated in Burkino Faso and is utilized greatly in West Africa. Instead of metal resonators, which are used on western keyboard instruments, the gyil implements hollowed out gourds with spider web casings that produce a buzzing sound. The mallets are thicker pieces of wood with melted tire rubber formed around the end of the mallet.

There are many types of music associated with gyil. Ganda Yina is a tune the people would play for funerals. Gyil players have a tendency to be very honest with their opinions through their playing. The music directly correlates to the language and therefore what is played can be interpreted in the language. In other cases of honest gyil players, can include many opinions of the deceased, either flattering or not so flattering. Ganda Yina is a piece that is played for someone who was well respected in the community and will be greatly missed. The town's people know that they will need to pick up the slack for the one they have lost.

Jesus Loves Me - This is a piece that is near and dear to my heart. My old worship pastor, Chuck Sinclair, wrote this arrangement of Jesus Loves Me. I was so honored when he had decided that he had wanted to give me the music so that I could learn it. I will always cherish this piece.

Cohesion, composed by Matt Moore, is a funky and fun-to-play multiple percussion piece for two performers. The core of the instrument setup is the mirrored placement of bass drum and snare, further augmented by an array of cymbals, toms, and Latin percussion instruments. The many metric modulations and frequently changing time signatures keep the performers on their toes.

Program Notes

* A Shortcut Home is a rousing and rather elaborate fanfare that features each section of the ensemble. Drawing upon various jazz styles, the music proclaims and cascades, always driving towards the “home” of the final C major chord.

* A Movement for Rosa. On December 1, 1955, Rosa Parks was arrested for refusing to give up her seat to a white man on a segregated city bus in Montgomery, Alabama. Mrs. Parks earned the title of “Mother of a Movement” for her act of personal courage, sparking the Civil Rights movement of the 1950’s. So significant and inspiring was her peaceful act of defiance that the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., inscribed the following words on the frontispiece of his book, Stride Toward Freedom, a copy of which he gave to Mrs. Parks: “To Rosa Parks, whose creative witness was the great force that led to the modern stride toward freedom.”

* A Movement for Rosa contains three contrasting sections. Section I evokes Rosa’s early years, from her birth in 1913 to her marriage in 1932. Section II portrays years of racial strife in Montgomery, Alabama and the quest for social equality. The song “We Shall Overcome” is foreshadowed in the first two sections and is heard in its entirety near the end. The work’s final measures serve as an ominous reminder of racism’s lingering presence in modern American society.

* Lincoln Portrait. One of Copland’s most popular pieces, Lincoln Portrait was commissioned during the early years of World War II by conductor Andre Kostelanetz for a program of three new works by American composers. Copland chose excerpts from Lincoln’s own words for the narration. According to Copland, “The composition is roughly divided into three main sections. In the opening section, I wanted to suggest something of the mysterious sense of fatalism that surrounds Lincoln’s personality. Also, near the end of that section, something of his greatness and simplicity of spirit. [Springfield Mountain is the thematic basis of this portion.] The quick middle section briefly sketches in the background of the times during which he lived. [Fragments of Stephen Foster’s Camptown Races figure prominently in this passage.] This merges into the concluding section, where my sole purpose was to draw a simple but impressive frame around the words of Lincoln.”

Program Notes

Dover - Written for wind band and duo synthesizers, Dover is my first composition of any sort for a large wind ensemble. Historically, the port of Dover served as one of the major points of entry and trade from England to the rest of Europe, serving as the doorway for exotic goods, visiting dignitaries, on-the-run outlaws, and, most importantly, new ideas. Thus, the driving percussion, electronic timbres, and clusters of sound all serve to embody the constant movement, raucous energy, and diverse mix of characters that the location entails.

Suspension of Disbelief is a free form composition written for violin, viola, and violoncello. While no particular message served as its inspiration, a major goal of the trio was to promote an egalitarian interplay between the three parts, in particular giving greater prominence to the viola than is most often afforded to this middle voice. The piece is loosely divided into a rhythmically driven, "fluid" beginning, a "crystalline," chorale-like middle section, and a final section that commences "tentatively" and builds to an "intenful" demeanor that parallels the atmosphere of the first section. Set in an atonal, through-composed landscape, "Suspension of Disbelief" prompts the listener to temporarily suspend musical convention and introspect purely with the impetus of sound.

Gemini - This piece was written as a first attempt at conventional tonal harmony and counterpoint, and is written for two E♭ alto saxophones and piano. Little literature exists for the saxophone and much of what the instruments have is transcribed from violin or another 17th century instrument. This is an attempt at writing accessible literature for saxophone players to give them a greater variety of pieces to perform.

Poly-Swirl - This piece does not like to sit still. Swirling between different key signatures, "Poly-Swirl" will take you freely between G major and its relative minor, oscillating and dancing as the rhythms shift to and fro towards a climactic and exciting tonal finish. This piece is not intentionally programmatic, but I am sure it will carry each of us along our stories as we relate to this music. Being my first composition, I am very excited to share this with you. I hope that you each find it enjoyable.

Metamorphosis is a work based on a set of 12 tones. It uses all 12 pitches possible in a scale before repeating the process in a different order. This set of tones morphed from an abstract mixture of random thoughts into a cohesive group that interacts with each musical element presented. Throughout the piece, there are chords using all of the pitches to signify a change in thought. The use of two-voice counterpoint creates a more complicated and cohesive process. The ending long tones bring all of the pitches together in a final thought.

Ethos - The goal for this set of six pieces was to capture different aspects of the spirit of film music. The modern film soundtrack has become an innovative art form, drawing from the best of classical, pop, and other music styles. A good soundtrack, or score, not only conveys the tone of the film, but also connects the listener emotionally to a story. Because of the way that stories progress, the emotional tone of soundtracks varies from whimsical to foreboding, sorrowful to aggressive, often within the same cue. While Ethos is without an obvious story, a number of repetitive elements are woven throughout the work, bringing a feeling of continuity to some dramatically different sounds. Composing in this style gave me the opportunity to write for and work with some specific instruments and techniques that are heard often in film, but are seldom seen in traditional writing.

Downers Grove, Illinois

A graduate of St. Olaf College and Indiana University, Elizabeth K. Walden, M.M., is director of music ministries at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, Downers Grove, Ill. She plays for all services, weddings and funerals; directs the church’s adult choir, preschool choir and advanced bell choir; and leads the music and worship life of the congregation. Her organ studies were with Douglas Cleveland, John Ferguson, Jane Holstein and Larry Smith. Betsy has been an organ collaborator with the Salt Creek Sinfonietta, the Downers Grove Choral Society, and concertizes with trumpeter Michael Brozick and friends. In addition, she and her husband, timpanist Craig Felde, play in the rock band Kill Bill/KB Ensemble. She serves on the board of the Fox Valley Chapter of the American Guild of Organists and teaches private piano lessons.

“All true and deeply felt music, whether sacred or profane, journeys to heights where art and religion can always meet.”

Señor Hector Guzman

Dallas, Texas

A recipient of the 2012 “For the Love of Art” Lifetime Achievement Award and the 2012 “Man of the Year” award by New York-based “Madison’s Who Is Who.” Maestro Hector Guzman is music director of Texas’ Plano Symphony Orchestra, the Irving Symphony and the San Angelo Symphony in the United States. In 2004, he was declared winner of the “Seven Conductors - One Baton” International Conducting competition and appointed music director of the Jalisco Philharmonic in Mexico. Since 2010 and for the first time in its history, the Jalisco Philharmonic named him “Conductor Emeritus.”

In his native Mexico, Señor Guzman achieved an impressive reputation as an organist by taking first prize in the “Chamber Soloists” competition and the “Manuel Ponce” national organ competition. In the United States, he earned further distinction by winning solo competitions at Southern Methodist University and the University of North Texas. In 1978, he gained acclaim when he became the first Latin American ever chosen as a finalist in France’s “Grand Prix de Chartres” — the world’s most prestigious international organ competition. Also as an organist, he has appeared as soloist in venues such as the Meyerson Symphony Center in Dallas and the Spivey Hall Distinguished Artist Series in Atlanta — among many other major concert halls and cathedrals of the world.

He holds degrees from the Conservatory of Music in Mexico City, the University of North Texas and Southern Methodist University. He has studied with numerous illustrious musicians, including Helmuth Rilling, Anshel Brusilow and Carlo Maria Giulini at the Accademia Musicale Chigiana in Siena, Italy. For several years, he was a protégé of the late Maestro Eduardo Mata, Conductor Emeritus of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra.

Now in demand internationally as an organ recitalist and conductor, he was accorded the “Outstanding National Young Artist” award from the government of Mexico, the “Golden Lyre” award given by the Mexican Union of Musicians and the DeVry Institute’s “Director Par Excellence” award. In 2000, he was featured in the “Outstanding Musicians of the XX Century,” published by the International Biographical Centre in Cambridge, England. In 2006, he was the recipient of the “Artistic Silver Medal” awarded by the government of his native state, Zacatecas, Mexico. In 2008, he was given the “Mozart Medal,” the highest musical honor in Mexico, awarded by the Embassy of Austria and the Mozart Academy in Mexico City.

Señor Guzman’s guest appearance today has been underwritten by a generous gift to this series by Kenneth Bade, long-time Kankakee church organist and teacher. Mr. Bade is a graduate of Olivet Nazarene University and the University of Illinois. ONU gratefully acknowledges his enthusiastic support of the Festival of Organ Music.

David Schrader is a performer of wide ranging interests and accomplishments. He is equally at home in front of a harpsichord, organ, piano, or fortepiano. Mr. Schrader has been invited to perform at the American Guild of Organists’ national convention on three occasions, performing as a featured artist with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra (1994), the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra (1984), and the Colorado Symphony Orchestra (1998). He has appeared as a soloist on organ and harpsichord with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, performing under the direction of Sir Georg Solti, Daniel Barenboim, and Pierre Boulez. He has also appeared with the Grant Park Symphony under Carlos Kalmar, and with many other orchestras throughout the United States and Canada.

Dr. Schrader has appeared at the Brooklyn Academy of Music as the repetiteur and principal harpsichordist in Chicago Opera Theater’s highly-acclaimed production of “Orfeo” under Jane Glover. He has appeared at numerous music festivals throughout the United States and Europe. At the prestigious Irving Gilmore Keyboard Festival, he was the featured performer for five separate concerts, performing on organ, harpsichord and clavichord. He performed as the Artist of the Year at the Oulunsalo Soi Music Festival in Oulu, Finland. In 2000, he was the harpsichord soloist with the Nagaokakayo Chamber Ensemble in a tour of Japan under Yuko Mori and the Canadian baroque orchestra Tafelmusik in a European tour. He has also performed at the Aspen Music Festival, the Michigan Mozartfest with Roger Norrington, the Connecticut Early Music Festival, the Manitou Music Festival, and the Woodstock (Ill.) Mozart Festival where he performed as soloist and conductor.

“I, too, played the organ frequently in my youth, but my nerves could not withstand the power of this gigantic instrument. I should place an organist who is master of his instrument at the head of all virtuosos.”

– Ludwig von Beethoven
A resident of Chicago, Mr. Schrader leads an active musical life at home. He performs with Music of the Baroque, the Newberry Consort and Bach Week in Evanston. He has appeared with Chicago Chamber Musicians, Contemporary Chamber Players, Chicago Baroque Ensemble, The City Musick and as a soloist at the Ravinia Festival. He is a frequent guest on WFMT radio 98.7 FM (Chicago) on recordings and in live broadcasts as part of WFMT’s “Live From Studio One” programming.

Dr. Schrader’s newest recording of music for organ and orchestra by American composers with the Grant Park Symphony is the first recording of the Casavant Frères organ in Chicago’s Symphony Center. His other recordings include concerti of J. S. Bach with the Stuttgart Chamber Orchestra, and with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra for both recordings of Sir Georg Solti’s “Creation,” “St. Matthew Passion” and “Messiah.” He has many releases of solo repertoire on the Cedille label, and has also recorded for the Centaur and CRI labels.

Dr. Schrader has been on the Roosevelt University faculty since 1986. He has also taught at the Music Institute of Chicago and was director of the Collegium Musicum at Northwestern University from 1993 to 1995. For 20 years, he has been the organist of Chicago’s Church of the Ascension.

He received a Doctor of Music degree in organ from Indiana University, as well as the coveted Performer’s Certificate. He also holds a Bachelor of Music in piano and a Bachelor of Music in organ from the University of Colorado.

PROGRAM

Dr. Schrader will announce his selections from the stage.

Translations & Program Notes

M'appari tutt' amor
She appeared to me, purest of love. I discovered with my eyes this vision of delight. Lovely was she, that my hungry heart, in a snap, to her did fly; I was hurt, I was charmed by that beauty from above. Love is etched in my heart, and cannot now be erased. The mere thought that our hearts with sweet love might beat as one is enough to forget all the sorrow that fills my heart. She appeared to me, purest of love. I discovered with my eyes this vision of delight. Lovely was she, that my hungry heart, in a snap to her did fly. Marta, Marta, you have left me, and my heart along with yours has vanished away! You've taken away my peace, I will surely die of pain.

Una furtive lagrima
A furtive tear appeared in her eyes. Those festive youths seemed to provoke its envy. What more searching need I do? She loves me, I see it. For just one moment the beating of her hot pulse could be felt. With her sighing confounding momentarily my sighs! Oh heaven, I could die. I cannot ask for more. Ah! Heaven, yes, I could die. I cannot ask for more.

A Mazurka is an improvisatory Polish folk dance for a circle of couples, characterized by stamping feet and clicking heels and traditionally danced to the music of bagpipes. The music is in triple meter with a forceful accent on the second or third beat. Karol Szymanowski from Poland composed this set of mazurkas as a twentieth-century endeavor to capture his culture's native music and dance. His mazurkas contain unusual dissonances with sharpened fourths and flattened sevenths, melodic ornamentation, and irregular phrase lengths. The dotted rhythms and articulations give the impression of dancers leaping in the air with freedom and spontaneity.

Standchen
The moon hangs over the mountain, so fitting for love-struck people. In the garden splashes a fountain. Otherwise, it is still far and wide. By the wall, in the shadow, there stand the students three. With flute and fiddle and zither they sing and play there. The sounds waft up to the most beautiful, gently entering her dreams. She gazes on her blond beloved and whispers "forget not me!"

Der gang Zum Liebchen - The moon gleams down, I should yet again go to my darling - how does she fare? Alas, she's despondent and laments and laments that I will never see her again in her life! The moon sinks. I hurry off briskly hurrying so that no one shall steal my love away. O coo, you dove! O whir, you breezes! - so that no one shall steal my love away.

Es kehret der Maien
May returns, the meadow blooms. The breezes blow so softly, so mildly. Chattering, the brooks now flow. The swallow returns to her hospitable roof, she builds so eagerly her bridal chamber. Love shall dwell there. She brings so busily from all directions many soft pieces for the bridal bed, many warm pieces for the little ones. Now live the couple together so faithfully. What winter has separated, May has joined. All who love, it knows how to unite. May returns, the meadow blooms. The breezes blow so softly, so mildly. But I cannot journey from here. For all who love, the spring unites, but for our love, no spring appears, and tears are its only consolation.

Sonata No. 4 in E-Flat Major, op. 7 - The classical period sonata consists of three or four contrasting movements, each with a unique dimension to contribute to the whole masterpiece. One way of understanding how the movements fit together is by comparing them to the various components that make up the human persona. Using this analogy, the first movement represents the intellectual, complex mind of the person. Opening with sparks of energy in the repeated notes of the left hand, its driving rhythm and web of melody leave little time for rest, similar to the rapid thought process of the brain. In the second movement, the heart of the person speaks through the steady, passionate chords alternated with silences. This movement is a restful pause from the vigor of the first. The third movement is parallel to physical action.

Thank you for turning off cell phones and for not using flash photography.
The first section is joyous, marked by simplicity and grace in motion. But the cheerful dance is interrupted by a dark and stormy trio section that contrasts with the naivety and optimism from the preceding measures. Nevertheless, the storm eventually dissipates back to the sunshine of the opening. The final movement ties the sonata together and reveals the personality of the individual. The character speaks through the lyricism of the melody, describing both peaceful and turbulent events that have shaped their identity. The development section delves into many distant keys but at last returns to tonic in the closing page, suggesting that the wanderer has found home—a place of safety, acceptance, and belonging.

Le Rêve de Des Grieux

Charming moment where all fear is set aside, where we two can be alone. Listen, Manon... while walking, I just had a dream. Closing my eyes, I see over there a humble retreat, a little house all white in the depth of the woods! Beneath its tranquil shade the clear and joyful brooks, in which the foliage is mirrored, sing with the birds! It is paradise! Oh, no! Everything there is sad and gloomy, for there is one thing missing. It still needs Manon! Come! There our life will be, if you want it, oh Manon!

Après un Rêve

In a slumber enchanted by your image I dreamt of happiness—passionate mirage. Your eyes were softer, your voice pure and resonant. You shone like a sky lit up by the dawn. You called me and I left the earth to run away with you towards the light. The skies opened their clouds for us, unknown splendors, divine flashes glimpsed. Alas! Alas! Sad awakening from dreams. I call you, O night, give me back your lies. Return, return radiant, return, O mysterious night.

Piano Concerto, op. 38 - Barber's Piano Concerto was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 1963, signifying the apex of his public acclaim. The second movement, Canzone, showcases Barber's gift for writing intensely emotional music. The second piano part, which is a reduced rendition of the standard orchestral accompaniment, opens with a gentle undulation in which the listener imagines the sounds of woodwinds and strings in the orchestra. There is a magical, mysterious sensation, as the two pianos wistfully weave a bittersweet dialogue.

Giants in the Sky - Stephen Sondheim's Into the Woods is a musical fractured fairytale. This selection is sung by Jack shortly after he returns from his first adventure up the beanstalk. Mr. Carr had the privilege of playing Jack in his high school's production of the show. This song was also the first song that Mr. Carr ever performed at Olivet Nazarene University, using this as his scholarship audition piece as an incoming freshman.

Bring Him Home - Night has fallen following the first attack on the revolutionaries at the barricade. As the revolutionaries sleep, Jean Valjean sings this prayer over Marius, the beloved of Valjean's adopted daughter Cosette.

Christ The Lord is Risen Today is one of several hymns written by Charles Wesley. Several hundred years later, it has been arranged as a duet for two vocalists by Olivet Nazarene University's Artist-in-Residence Dr. Ovid Young.

Barry Houser

B.M.E., University of Florida; M.M. in Conducting, University of Illinois

Barry L. Houser is the Assistant Director of Bands and Director of Athletic Bands where his responsibilities include conducting the Wind Orchestra, the Athletic Bands, and the Marching Illini in addition to teaching marching band procedures and other courses. Professor Houser's teaching experience encompasses both extensive public school and university experiences.

A native of Indiana, Professor Houser served as Director of Bands and Performing Arts Director at NorthWood High School in Nappanee, Indiana, where his bands developed a reputation for great musicianship which in turn earned the program state and national recognition. Prior to his position at NorthWood, Mr. Houser served as the Assistant Director of Bands at Buchholz High School in Gainesville, Florida. Bands under Houser have performed at the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, the NBC Today Show, the ISSMA State Marching Finals, and the IMEA State Convention. Other performances include the Indianapolis 500 Parade, the Target Thanksgiving Day Parade, the Outback Bowl Parade and Half-Time Show, the Hollywood Christmas Parade, the Washington DC National Memorial Parade, Chicago Bears Game, and performances with Maynard Ferguson and the Dallas Brass.

Houser holds professional memberships in the College Band Directors National Association, National Band Association, MENC, Golden Key National Honor Society, Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, Kappa Kappa Psi International Band Fraternity, Honorary member of Tau Beta Sigma, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, and has been honored by the Indiana General Assembly and the US House of Representatives. He is the recipient of the Indianapolis Star Academic All Star Award, the WNDU Channel 16 Excellence in Education Award, as well as being listed in various “Who’s Who” publications throughout his career.

Professor Houser is active nationally as a guest conductor and clinician in both the marching and concert mediums. He is one of the directors of the Macy’s Great American Marching Band and has served as Co-Director of the National Events Mass Band, which performs annually at the Chick-Fil-A Bowl in Atlanta, Georgia. He is a recent contributing author for the popular marching band textbook "The System" by Gary Smith. Recently appointed, Houser is starting his first term as Governor of the North Central District of Kappa Kappa Psi. Houser is also the Director and Head Clinician for the renowned Smith Walbridge Clinics, one of the largest marching band / leadership camps of its type in the country.
THE HOPKINS SCHOLARSHIP

The Hopkins Family Instrumental Scholarship was established by Dr. and Mrs. Harlow Hopkins in memory of his parents. The scholarship is available to music majors whose applied instrument is in the area of winds, strings, or percussion, and it is awarded annually through a competitive audition.

Dr. Harlow Hopkins was a member of the ONU music faculty from 1953 until 1996. For most of those years he served as conductor of the Concert Band and from 1974 until his retirement in 1996, he served as Chairman of the Division of Fine Arts and the Department of Music.

Barrington Coleman
B.M., Illinois Wesleyan University; M.M., Northwestern University; D.M.A., Juilliard School of Music.

Prior to his appointment at the University of Illinois, Professor Coleman was assistant professor of voice at Illinois Wesleyan University and conductor of the Limited Edition Jazz Choral Ensemble. He has performed and recorded as a tenor soloist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and Chorus, Music of the Baroque Ensemble, Royal Opera House of Covent Garden, La Fenice (Venice, Italy), Glyndebourne Opera, London Philharmonic and Symphony orchestras, and the Sunday Evening Club of WTTW-TV in Chicago. He has collaborated with such prominent composers as Coleridge Taylor Perkinson and Doug McConnell on various premiere and standard works for voice, as well as performing as jazz pianist with many prominent jazz artists, including Christian McBride, Lonnie Plaxico, and Sam Rivers. Professor Coleman is presently director, arranger, pianist, and vocalist of The Barrington Coleman Trio and a frequent freelance solo jazz artist.

In 1990, he and his wife, internationally acclaimed lyric soprano and assistant professor of voice at the University of Illinois, Cynthia Haymon, performed in the world premiere of Richard Blackford's King. Professors Coleman and Haymon also performed in an EMI-label recording and film of Gershwin's Porgy and Bess. In January 1999, Professor Coleman was guest conductor and clinician for the Illinois Music Educators Association All-State High School Chorus, as well as guest conductor for the American Association of Choral Conductors Central Region Male Chorus Conference in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Professor Coleman has served as a guest lecturer and performer for the Krannert Center of the Performing Arts Jazz Immersion concert series and also directed an ensemble at the nationally recognized arts education endeavor, Black Sacred Music Symposium of Illinois, held on the University of Illinois campus in 1999 and 2003. In addition to directing and performing, Professor Coleman has served as an adjudicator for arts programs of universities, high schools, community arts organizations, churches, and an array of professional music associations in America as a classical, jazz, and gospel artist.

THE HALE-WILDER VOICE SCHOLARSHIP

The scholarship is available to music majors with Voice as their applied area. Selection is made through a competitive audition in which participants sing four pieces, one each in English, Italian, French, and German.

THE BENEFACTORS

ROBERT HALE, distinguished leading bass-baritone of NYC’s Metropolitan Opera- as well as nearly every major opera house on four continents- has enjoyed a singing career spanning more than five decades. The late DEAN WILDER was chairman of the voice departments of Westminster Choir College (Princeton, NJ) and William Jewell College (Liberty, MO).

Concurrent with their individual professional commitments, Messers Hale & Wilder collaborated in a joint singing career (1964-1984) which resulted in 15 albums of music and some 4,000 personal appearances throughout the world, most of them performed with pianist-conductor-arranger, Ovid Young. Several of those concerts took place on ONU’s campus.

Tammie Walker
B.M., University of Wisconsin; M.M., University of Illinois; D.M.A., University of Illinois

Performance, summa cum laude, from the University of Wisconsin at Eau Claire, where she studied with Penelope Cecchini, and the M.M. and D.M.A. degrees in Piano Performance and Literature from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, where she studied with Ian Hobson and was a winner of the University of Illinois Concerto Competition. An active solo and collaborative pianist, Dr. Walker has concertized throughout the continental U.S., Hawaii, and western Europe, having given over 300 performances since her hire at WIU. Recent highlights include performances in Oregon, Texas, Georgia, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Ohio, Nebraska, Hawaii, and London, ENGLAND and concerto performances in Quincy, IL (Shostakovich Concerto No. 1 for Piano, Trumpet and Strings [Dr. Bruce Briney, trumpet]), Omaha, NE (premiere of Joseph Kreines band arrangement of Grieg Piano Concerto at CBDNA conference) and at WIU (Rachmaninoff Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini).

Walker is in demand as a clinician, presenting frequently throughout the region (Springfield, Chicago, Naperville, Champaign, Peoria, Galesburg, Quincy and the Quad Cities), at ISMTA conferences, and most recently at The Intersection of Jazz and Classical Music Conference at West Virginia University; she has given more than 70 lectures and masterclasses since her hire at WIU. She is also in demand as an adjudicator, having served on international juries in Atlanta, GA and Las Vegas, NV and at many competitions throughout the Midwest. She is currently Coordinator of the Music Teachers National Association (MTNA) Collegiate and Chamber Music Competitions for the East Central Division (Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin).

A committed teacher, Walker's students have been finalists in several competitions (including MTNA) and have been accepted to summer programs throughout the United States and Germany. Her students have been admitted to many of the top graduate programs around the country, with several students currently pursuing DMA degrees in Piano Performance, all on full assistantships. Dr. Walker was awarded the 2012 Outstanding Teacher Award from the College of Fine Arts and Communication.

Tammie Walker resides in Macomb, IL with her husband Chad (a wind instrument repair technician), and their four children. Dr. Walker has been on the piano faculty at WIU since 1998 and is coordinator of the keyboard area.
THE NIELSON/YOUNG PIANO SCHOLARSHIP

Duo-pianists Stephen Nielson and Ovid Young are the benefactors that make possible this scholarship. They met while both faculty members of the Olivet Nazarene University Music Department, and they continue to maintain busy careers in performances throughout the world. Prof. Young has since returned to ONU as Artist-in-Residence.

The Scholarship is available to Music Majors whose applied instrument is piano, and it is awarded through a competitive audition where the pianists must play a fifteen-minute program including works from at least three style periods.

Artist Biography

An active performer and passionate educator, percussionist Andy Miller currently co-directs the percussion and world percussion ensembles as an adjunct faculty member at Olivet Nazarene University in Bourbonnais, Illinois. Originally from Dayton, Ohio, Andy holds degrees in percussion performance from both Wright State University and the University of Illinois where he was named the Swanson Family Percussion Fellow, studying under renowned marimbist William Moersch.

At the University of Illinois, Andy won the 2010 concerto competition, performing with both the Wind Symphony and Symphony Orchestra as part of a percussion trio. Navigating the diverse world of percussion with technical and musical precision, Andy has performed in North America, South America, Asia and with groups as diverse as the Dayton Philharmonic Orchestra, members of the Bang on a Can All-Stars, the Mark Morris Dance Company and the Afro-pop group Rhythm Manding.

He was awarded a prestigious Fulbright fellowship from the U.S. Government to Colombia in 2011, where he studied both traditional music from the Caribbean and Pacific coasts as well as contemporary music, completing a series of concerts given in Bogotá premiering newly commissioned works by American and Colombian composers. Andy is currently the percussionist and artistic director of the Archaea Tree Ensemble and a co-founder of the traditional Colombian music group Costas, both based in Urbana, Illinois.
