Thar's Gold In Them Thar Suggestions

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK—The "Keepers" of the suggestion box wish that cartoonists would get a new idea. The old standby shows the boss opening the box to find the suggestion: "Dead."

Directors of industrial suggestion systems say that while rarely turns up, but funnier ones do. They cite a recent instance when a company asked employees, "What would you do if you got control of this firm tomorrow?" and received this tip: "Sell it."

Suggestions, however, are a serious business for the companies and most employees.

The National Association of Suggestion Systems reports that within one year its 800 members received more than 100,000 suggestions from employees, used 250,000, and paid seven million dollars for the ideas.

The association makes no guess on how much money industry saves each year by tips from employees but says it must run up the millions.

HERE ARE examples of the scope of a few individual suggestion systems:

Bernard F. Anderson, vice president in charge of manufacturing of Remington Rand division of Sperry Rand, says employees' ideas on how the business should be run increased both in quantity and quality in 1955. The company, which actively encourages suggestions, received 12,446, used 3,963 and paid $37,867 for them. For the first time suggestions for eliminating red tape and needless paper work topped ideas for improving production methods.

Harry W. Anderson, vice president in charge of personnel at General Motors, says workers offered 228,437 suggestions and GM paid $2,225,741 for the 54,633 it adopted. In the last 14 years, the company has paid 17 million dollars for tips.

The Ford Motor Co., paid $1,022,228 for 15,749 suggestions accepted from 7,815 submitters—all three figures being records, according to John S. Bugay, vice president-industrial relations.

Shakespeare Legal Battle Develops In Tomb Opening

LONDON (UP)—British legal experts said today an American drama critic and his British associates would run the risk of prosecution if they opened a grave in an effort to prove that Shakespeare's works were written by someone else.

The American is Calvin Hoffman of New York who hopes to open a 17th century tomb to seek proof of his theory that Shakespeare's works were written by Christopher Marlowe. "But, legal sources said he faced a $25 fine or perhaps a jail sentence if he carried out his plan."

Hoffman hopes to open the tomb of Sir Thomas Walsingham, 16th century patron of Marlowe, Maj. John Marshall, "Townsend, out of the tomb has given Hoffman permission to open it and has filed a petition to the home secretary asking for the government's consent.

Change In River Depth Is Opposed

Dam At Mommence Suggested At Flood Control, Drainage Hearing

A proposal asking the construction of a Kankakee River Dam upstream from Mommence, the restoration of the Kankakee Marshes as a recreation area and strongly opposing deepening the river channel was made here today by the Kankakee Chamber of Commerce.

W. R. Sanborn of Kankakee presented the Chamber's proposal during a public hearing in Mommence High School Auditorium, conducted by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Chicago District.

Some 350 persons attended the hearing, about half of them from the Kankakee River. The session was called to hear views on flood control and drainage problems of the Kankakee River.

William J. Santina, assistant chief of the engineering division of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, explained that the Army does not make the final plan. It merely submits proposals to Congress, taking all factors into consideration. The hearing was conducted by Col. Phillip F. Kromer Jr.

It began at 10 a.m. and concluded about 12:30 p.m. The Chamber of Commerce statement made by Sanborn came out against any lowering of the 1 1/2 mile long rock ledge which forms the river bed east of Mommence. Sanborn recounted the history of work already done on the Kankakee River.

"Entirely too many attempts to solve problems of the Kankakee River have been made at the local level, and every one of those failed to improve conditions," Sanborn said.

CHANNEL DEEPENING, a dredging operation, produced a fluctuating flow of water, destroying fishing and driving away wildlife, he said.

"Flash floods alternate with stagnant low water levels, a most unwelcome change from the clear steady stream we once enjoyed," Sanborn continued.

Mommence, Kankakee and the Kankakee State Hospital are all built on flat level lands only a few feet above normal river levels. Increases in flood stage water (through cutting down of the rock ledge) would be a serious menace to all," Sanborn stated.

The construction of a 10 or 15 foot dam on the rock ledge would restore the Kankakee Marshes recreation area to the situation that existed 50 years ago, allowing Congress to restore "that magnificent wildlife refuge," Sanborn pointed out.

"The dam would, of course, inundate thousands of acres of farm land, but the owners would be liberally compensated for their loss," he said.

SHE ALSO EXPLAINED that the dam would allow a steady flow of clear water for the atomic power plant under construction at the mouth of the Kankakee River.

Fred Homfeld of Lake County, Ind., owner of two farms on a half section of land, urged that farmers follow his plan of building terraces and reservoirs to hold runoff water. Since he has done this, Homfeld said his farms have attracted hundreds of pheasants and other wildlife.

Henry Brad of Kankakee spoke for the Kankakee Sportsman's Club and the Illinois Natural Survey Division. The club, he said, is against any removal of the rock ledge and the division opposes any dam.

President Plans To Hold Regular Press Parley

Hagerty Doesn't Know If He Will Announce Wednesday Morning

WASHINGTON (UN)—President Eisenhower will hold a news conference at 10:30 a.m. EST Wednesday—his regular hour for meeting the press. White House Secretary William Harbo said today that President Eisenhower would not make a statement Wednesday morning.

Hagerty also told reporters he did not know whether Eisenhower planned to make a radio and television appearance later Wednesday. That is a step the President generally expects to take after any announcement of a decision on the second term question.

Asked if there was any plan to present to ask for such broadcast, Hagerty said: "I haven't any comment on that at all."

Some time after Hagerty's announcement, Robert Montgomery, the television producer who advises Eisenhower on radio-TV appearances, turned up at the White House.

Hagerty, when asked if he were in town to help with a special presidential broadcast, replied simply: "I don't know."

Hagerty's statements were pretty much all negative except for his announcement of the planned 10:30 a.m. news conference. The press secretary said in reply to further questions there are no plans for Eisenhower to hold a second news conference Wednesday.

Dwight's Future To Be Town Meeting Subject

DWIGHT (JNS)—Every citizen who looks to this community for business, spiritual and educational services may have a vote in the town's future Thursday.

The first Dwight Town meeting, to be held at 8 p.m. in the high school gym, is the culmination of months of study and planning. Every person attending the meeting will be afforded the opportunity to express his opinion and take part in the voting which will determine the direction the program will take.

Dr. Richard W. Poston, of Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, will be the featured speaker and will explain what will be required and what will be expected in a Community Development Program.

The plan was originated on Aug. 16, 1955 when 36 people from Dwight went to Carbondale and spent the day on the campus of Southern Illinois University with Dr. Poston, director of the department of community development.

In the event the assembled citizens favorably endorse the Community Development Program a permanent organization will be completed immediately. A selection committee, of which H. C. Boyer is chairman, will be prepared to present a list of persons nominated for chairman, vice-chairman and secretary.

The committee will accept from any citizen the nomination of anyone for any given office, providing the nominee has agreed to serve in the office.

High Court Refuses To Act In Case

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Supreme Court has refused to review part of the government's entangled program to keep members of subversive groups out of federally aided, low-cost housing projects.

Before the court's refusal Monday to review a Los Angeles eviction case, state enforcement was hampered by various lower court decisions making the program valid in some states and not in others. But now there is even a conflict in different areas of a single state.

The upshot of the denial of review is that the program is outlawed in Los Angeles but effective in San Francisco. Because county appellate courts have the final word in eviction cases, the California Supreme Court cannot make a blanket decision that applies statewide.

The U. S. Supreme Court, reconvening after a four week recess, also handed down a batch of complicated decisions on tax, labor, public utility and other issues.

In a 6-3 ruling of importance to labor unions, the court held that strikes against unfair labor practices may be called without regard to the 60-day "cooling-off period" laid down in the Taft-Hartley law for routine collective bargaining.

Justice Harold H. Burton's opinion said neither the law nor a strike clause in a contract stands in the way of a work stoppage when a company penalizes its employees for lawful union activities.

The court also agreed to examine the constitutionality of a Michigan law banning the sale of books which contain obscene language or descriptions "tending to corrupt the youth."

Springfield (UP)—A druggist shot and critically wounded his wife and then shot and killed himself Monday evening as they drove along a city street.

Police said Stuart Horin, 43, Springfield, shot his wife, Charlotte, 39, then fired a bullet into his own head. Mrs. Horin was driving the car, which ran off the street and onto a lawn.

The bullet glanced downward in Mrs. Horin's neck and she was reported able to talk and "slightly improved" today at St. John's Hospital.

A 22 caliber target pistol was found in the car. Passersby said Mrs. Horin got out of the car, then slumped to the ground. Her husband was dead in the rear of the car.

Police said there had been "some trouble" between the couple, who resided in an apartment above the Horin drug store. The couple had two children, Stuart William, 7, and Charlotte, 5.

The car belonged to Mrs. Horin's mother. Her relatives reported Horin called his wife a short time before the shooting and asked her to pick him up at the drug store.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said today he will ask a new special Senate committee to "continue with the investigation of gas bill lobbying . . . to get both sides of the picture."

Goldwater is a member of this bipartisan eight-man group set up last week to look into the whole range of lobbying activities, campaign contributions and outside efforts to influence the course of legislation in the Senate.

Another special group of four senators—two Democrats and two Republicans—is working against a March 10 deadline in an investigation limited to a $2,500 campaign contribution offered to Sen. Bennett came after church groups in other sections of the nation expressed concern over the year in which the Senate is expected to pass the bill.

The four-man group hoped to wind up public testimony at a hearing which four witnesses were summoned.

"Case, who previously had been inclined to support the bill, then voted against it. The measure passed the Senate 53-38. But President Eisenhower vetoed it on grounds there had been "highly questionable" methods employed in its behalf.

The Goldwater report says he wants the newly formed special committee to try to determine what sort of "pressure" it was applied to senators to get them to vote against the bill. Goldwater supported the measure.

Vice President Nixon is expected to call the new committee together Wednesday for an organization meeting at which Sen. Goldwater (D-Tenn.) may be named its chairman. Besides Goldwater and other members are Senators McClellan (D-Ark.), Anderson (D-Neb.), Kennedy (D-Mass.), Bridges (R-Miss.), Hyde (R-Minn.) and Partell (R-Calif.).

Suspensions are scheduled for an 11-year period in 1957-58, says the National Geographic Society.

The filing of delegate slates in both requires the candidate's written consent, in effect a formal declaration of candidacy. This consent must be filed by Friday in Wisconsin and by March 7 in California.

Knowland's reasoning, as related to friends, is that unless Eisenhower is prepared to sign such papers there remains the possibility that he might decide later not to run. In that event, Knowland wants to be sure his name is on the ballot in these primaries.

Peron Lives Block From U.S. Embassy

Beginning Teachers Attend Seminars

A teacher's training does not end with a college diploma. That is the reason for in-service training programs which school systems sponsor to help teachers continually improve themselves and exchange ideas.

Many teachers regularly earn additional college credits, and this is a requirement for increases on the salary schedules in Kankakee and many districts.

This professional advancement is supplemented by conferences, meetings and workshops within the school system.

A NEW FEATURE started this year in Kankakee District 111 by Supt. Anthony Marinaccio is the "Teacher's Seminar."

The meetings have proved valuable places for new teachers to discuss their problems with one another and with Marinaccio and Curriculum Coordinator Earl Patton.

They've been encouraged to talk "straight from the shoulder," the same as teachers have in getting their district-wide instructional council underway.

What are some of the problems that bother the new teachers? One was troubled by widespread reading ability within a fifth grade room.

Iroquois County Red Cross Drive Set For March

WATSEKA (JNS)—To meet the needs for the humanitarian services of the Red Cross in the 1956-1957 fiscal year, volunteers will conduct a campaign in March for members and funds.

Among the ranks will be more than 400 volunteers in Iroquois County, representing 28 townships, in charge of the Iroquois County chapter quota of $13,377. Approximately 80 per cent of this quota will remain in Iroquois County.

Iroquois County must reach this goal in order to continue its Watsela safety program and blood program.

They were sentenced Monday afternoon. Police Chief Harry Frahm of Grant Park arrested the youths early Thursday after spotting their car cruising without lights.

The case was dismissed against a fourth occupant of the car, William VonAlven, 24, RR 1, Beecher, whose authorities said had accepted an invitation from the other three to go along.

Benoit said many persons are receiving circulars through the mail asking for a dollar with an enclosed envelope to send the money to the organization's headquarters at Washington.

Files $116,000 Suit For Injuries

One hundred thousand dollars is asked on behalf of an 18-year-old plaintiff in a $116,000 law suit which has been filed here in Circuit Court.

The $100,000 is sought for injuries sustained by Arthur Finocchio, a Chicago in a collision Aug. 14, 1954, 2 1/2 miles north of Kankakee on Route 54.

Listed as defendants are Elgin Young, 26, 206 S. East Ave., formerly of Erie, driver of the other car, and Alex Gerba as operator of Club 54 just south of Manteno.

The suit alleges that Gerba's tavern served liquor to Young, causing him to be intoxicated at the time of the accident. It alleges that Young drove on the wrong side of the highway, and the collision resulted.

Finocchio's parents, Arthur Finocchio Sr. and Betty Finocchio, ask $100,000 for medical expenses and loss of support. They say they are dependent on the son for support.

How's Business?

It's Good Even Though Levelled Off On A Very High Plateau

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Signs of a leveling off in business appear to be coming from several sources. But that's all it is—a leveling off at a very high peak. The same sources could put it, just as accurately, another way: business is good—it just isn't getting much better at the moment.

Today's signs are mostly in the field of new orders. A number of companies report that production remains at a peak but new orders aren't pouring in at the same rate as a few months back.

THE BUSINESS survey committee of the National Association of Purchasing Agents says its February report "confirms the slight leveling off in industrial business conditions by purchasing executives."

New orders for machine tools have slipped from their year peak, the National Machine Tool Builders Assn. reports in Cleveland. But in spite of a drop in new orders in January and February, orders in the backlog of orders in the industry remains high. Retail trade has been leveling off. Department store sales stay above the year ago mark. But that is offset by the drop in retail auto sales and to some extent in home furnishings as home building tapers off.

The National Automobile Dealers Assn. takes a dimmer view than do the auto makers in Detroit. The Association says a check of its members show many operating at a loss in January and February.

AUTO MAKERS are more optimistic. They expect new car sales this month to top January, although to fall short of last year's record.

The steel industry goes humming along. But some doubt are now being heard. There are signs that part of the present ordering of steel is to build up inventories. This is because the industry has been warning of possible price hikes, and because in two or three months steel mill executives will be sitting down with union leaders to talk over wage and other demands.

Looking at the whole picture, Bankers Trust Co. of New York believes there'll be "a topping off in business activity in the near future, followed by a moderate slackening later in the year." It looks for a more modest demand this year for installment credit, bank loans and mortgage funds.

U. S. Male Fights Back But In Wrong Way

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Carbstone reflections of a Pavement Plato: Who should control the spending of the family income—husband or wife?

It is generally believed that women boss the spending of about 85 per cent of the expenditures in the American home.

A revolutionary new organization—"The Brotherhood of the True Man"—has been formed by publisher Carl Ruff to challenge this figure and spread the doctrine that the American male is and ought to be master of his own paycheck.

OPERATING UNDER the slogan, "Never Underestimate the Power of a Man," the organization cites a magazine survey to make the following claims:

That 4 out of 5 men buy the roofing for their home, and 7 out of 10 picked out and purchase its insulation, heating system and paint.

That 4 out of 5 American men select and buy the car they drive and the gasoline to power it.

That 9 out of 10 select and buy these automobile items: any freeze, oil, tires, car polish and spark plugs.

That 4 out of 5 select and buy the liquor, beer and wine consumed in their home.

That 4 out of 5 buy their own suit, hats, shoes, cigars and razor blades.

It isn't that I'm against a woman. It's just that I'm against a woman who is trying to take money away from me. That only makes me stronger and more determined. The true way to cross up women is to hand the control of money over to them—and make them feel responsible for spending it.

A man doesn't get ulcers from earning money, which can be fun, but from figuring out what to do with it after he gets it. If he turns this problem over to his wife, maybe she'll get the ulcers instead of him.

That 9 out of 10 buy their own cigars, 7 out of 10 their own shaving cream.

That 3 out of 5 pick the brand of shirts they wear, and 1 out of 2 actually go to the store themselves and purchase them.

RUFF HAS INVITED me to join in his new fight for "Male Freedom," but he has picked the wrong fellow. This is one revolution I'm going to sit out.

It isn't that I'm against a woman. It's just that I'm against a woman who is trying to take money away from me. That only makes me stronger and more determined. The true way to cross up women is to hand the control of money over to them—and make them feel responsible for spending it.

Peotone Man, 27, Dies In Crash

Kankakee County's 1956 traffic fatality toll stood at five today, after a Peotone man was killed when his car overturned near Grant Park about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Four of the five auto deaths have occurred since last Saturday. By March 1 last year, 8 traffic deaths had been counted.

The latest victim is Robert H. Pribe, 27. He was killed instantly when his southbound car plunged off a curve two miles southeast of Grant Park on Route 17.

Officer Harry Frahm reported that the car struck a bank, skidded and rolled about 285 feet, knocked over two mailboxes and a highway sign and caught fire. Pribe was thrown out of the car and his body was found about 10 feet from the vehicle.

The Grant Park fire department was called to the scene, but passenger had extinguished the fire by the time they arrived.

Senate Donation Investigators Turn To Iowa Cash Offer

WASHINGTON (UP)—The blue-ribbon Senate committee investigating the activities of oil lobbyist John M. Neff today summoned Republican National Committeeman Robert K. Goodwin of Iowa in an effort to get to the bottom of a conflicting testimony.

The committee also recalled President Howard B. Keck of the Superior Oil Co. and Elmer Patman, Superior Oil's Texas attorney.

Neff told the committee Tuesday he never offered a political contribution to Republican National Committeeman Robert K. Goodwin of Iowa last November.

Goodwin said at Des Moines, Iowa, that Neff offered a $2,500 contribution if he could arrange a meeting between Neff and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa). Goodwin said Neff offered the money for Hickenlooper's campaign fund.

Patman has testified he gave money from Keck's personal funds to Neff for contributions.

Mollet Criticized For Ultimatum To Rebels

PARIS (AP)—Most Paris papers were critical today of Premier Guy Mollet's call for Algerian rebels to cease firing or face intensified French military action.

Gen. Augustin Guillaume, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, was reported to have offered the resignation because of differences with several cabinet members over the proposed military measures.

There was no immediate indication whether Guillaume was against Mollet's plans or trying to defend them against opponents within the coalition cabinet, but a defense minister spokesman said the matter "might be brought up" at a cabinet meeting today.

An Algerian guerrilla leader in Cairo, Mohammed Ben Bella, warned that the rebels may seek the matter "might be brought up" at a cabinet meeting today.

Mollet set no time limit for acceptance or rejection of his cease-fire plea, but promised to hold "genuinely free elections" within three months after fighting stops to produce an Algerian leadership with which France could negotiate.

First reports from the revolt-torn North African territory said both French and Moslem rebels also were disappointed by the Premier's radio-television speech Tuesday. The Moslems thought he hadn't conceded enough to

Other Eisenhower Conference Topics

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower said today he hasn't the slightest idea whether his veto of the natural gas bill has hurt him politically.

The President, who favored the bill's objectives, repeated his explanation that he rejected the measure because a minor segment of a great industry engaged in arrogant and indefensible acts in lobbying for its passage.

The gas bill veto was one of several issues Mr. Eisenhower discussed at a news conference largely dominated by his second-term campaign announcement.

These points: Eisenhower accompanied his second-term announcement today with glowing praise for Vice President Richard M. Nixon. But he declined to discuss a second term running mate until the Republican convention picks a presidential nominee.

He went on to say that his decision involves so many factors that it was impossible for him to express it in terms of a simple yes or no.

For that reason, he added, he was asking the TV-radio networks for time tonight to speak to the American people.

Eisenhower said he did not know for sure whether either the Republican party or the people generally want him to serve another four years, but that was going to be the question.

My Answer Will Be Positive-Affirmative

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower announced today he is available for a second term.

The President's dramatic announcement came at a tense, record capacity news conference.

"My answer will be positive-affirmative," Eisenhower said in giving reporters permission to quote him directly.

Eisenhower's second term announcement had been expected at today's news conference, on the basis of his own earlier remarks, but up to the moment he walked into the conference room there was no certainty it would come.

FOR THE FIRST eight minutes of the session, the President, calm and collected, tantalized the newsmen by talking first about various other matters—such things as the Red Cross drive for funds, the President 'Explains' Decision At 9 P.M.

NEW YORK (UP)—President Eisenhower will explain his decision to stand again for the presidency to the nation at 9 p.m. CST on all radio and television networks.

Network spokesmen said the President's talk was expected to be shorter than a half hour but the full 9 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. slot had been reserved for him.

Mr. Eisenhower will make his talk from the radio-TV room in the White House.

With the nation mounting, Eisenhower finally turned to the subject everyone had been waiting for to discuss—his attitude regarding a second term.

He said he had an announcement which was something more personal in nature, and recalled that he had promised the newsmen that he would disclose his decision to the nation.

"I could be worked out that way," Eisenhower then said he had reached a decision whether to bid for another four years in the White House.

He went on to say that his decision involves so many factors that it was impossible for him to express it in terms of a simple yes or no.

For that reason, he added, he was asking the TV-radio networks for time tonight to speak to the American people.

Federal Court In Birmingham Hears Authorine Lucy Case Today

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Authorine Lucy today renewed her court struggle to crack Alabama's rigid segregation barriers.

For Federal Judge H. Hobart Croom to hear the case, whether the 26-year-old Negro, a former schoolteacher, should be returned to the all-white University of Alabama campus at Tuscaloosa. A mob drove her off the campus Feb. 6.

The Lucy case has assumed enormous significance here as a test of the federal court's willingness to make a stand against the orders despite the state's powerful, pro-segregation sentiments.

In Montgomery, Gov. James E. Folsom again said he would maintain law and order at the university regardless of the outcome of the hearing.

"I DON'T EXPECT trouble," he said. "I expect the good old ways of common sense to prevail."

Then he added: "I want all the mothers and fathers of students at the university to know I am doing all in my power to keep them out of harm from getting hurt."

For 29 months Miss Lucy has sought the right to be educated at the 125-year-old university, once a training school for Confederate officers.

With the aid of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People she fought the case through to the U.S. Supreme Court and won. Last July 1 Judge Croom ordered her admission as a student. She enrolled for the ninth semester, but when she actually tried to attend classes she was met by an egg-and-rock-throwing mob of 3,000.

IN THE WAKE of the riot the university's Board of Trustees barred her from the campus "for her own safety."

Miss Lucy's attorney Arthur D. Shores promptly sought contempt of court proceedings against 13 officers and trustees of the university and four men identified only as members of the mob.

In addition, Shores has asked that the dean of women, Sarah Healy, be ordered to provide Miss Lucy with a dormitory room and permit her to use the dining facilities.

In a last-minute move yesterday, a legal situation was further complicated by attorneys for the university officials, who asked that each defendant be tried separately and before a jury.

Among the 17 defendants are William F. Adams, dean of admissions; University President Oliver C. Carmichael; and Thomas S. Lawson, a trustee and associate justice of the Alabama Supreme Court.
