Southern States Dip Into History To Defy Court's Integration Order

(Editor's Note—In opposing the Supreme Court's ruling banning segregation in the nation's public schools, some Southern states have invoked legal doctrines rooted deep in American history. Here are the antecedents of nullification and interposition and the method in which some Southern states are using them to defy the integration decision.)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Segregationists now have tested the hot winds of defiance from the South with the doctrine of nullification and interposition.

Implicit in the nullification doctrine is the theory of states' rights which led to secession and Civil War in 1861.

Interposition, as currently interpreted, is simply a protest by a state to what it believes to be an unlawful interference in its internal affairs.

Both doctrines, rooted deep in American history, are aimed at the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in the 1954 case of Brown v. Board of Education, which declared that segregation in public schools is unconstitutional.

This is the so-called equal rights amendment, adopted after the Civil War to protect the newly won freedoms of former slaves.

The legislatures of Georgia and Alabama have declared the court's segregation decision to be "null, void and of no effect."

MISSISSIPPI, TOO, has adopted a resolution of interposition, condemning and protesting the usurpation and encroachment on the reserved powers of the state.

North Carolina's Gov. Luther Hodges has said he will urge the state legislature to adopt a protest similar to Virginia's.

In Congress seven Southern senators have sponsored a joint resolution which amounts to "interposition."

This resolution declares that the Supreme Court exceeded its authority in the segregation ruling and asks Congress to declare that the maintenance of separate but equal schools satisfies all constitutional requirements.

Historically and theoretically there is no difference between interposition and nullification, though the language of the Virginia resolution does not contain the words of nullification.

Perhaps significantly, as a measure of the South's intentions, Alabama's Gov. James Folsom has referred to the nullification resolution as a "dog baying at the moon."

In Virginia, Gov. J. B. S. Lindsay Almond Jr., has ruled formally that interposition cannot be invoked in a federal case over school desegregation.

"THE RESOLUTION," Almond wrote, "is not a legislative enactment, which has the force and effect of law."

"The resolution," he continued, "is a declaration of right invoking and interposing the sovereignty of the state against the exercise of powers seized in defiance of the creating pact, powers never surrendered."

Coleman added, "It is all right to interpose your strength and power in every legal way but talk of nullification is about like ordering the Mississippi River to run upstream or turning the eagle into the state capital to face north."

In Georgia, however, the expressed attitude of the state's political leaders has been more harsh. "The point arises as to who gave the Supreme Court the right to interpret the basic law of the land," Coleman said. "The court says it is. The key to the southern stand is found in the circumstances surrounding the establishment of the federal government."

Specifically, in the 10th Amendment, "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people."

Greece Demands U.S. Act In Cyprus Crisis

Reds Seen Ready To Exploit Fuss

By JOURNAL WIRE SERVICES

ATHENS, Greece (UP)—Greece today demanded "decisive intervention" by the United States in the explosive Cyprus dispute.

Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis told a group of visiting news editors, "Greeks demand that the United States, which leads the world, intervene decisively in the quarrel."

"IF THE UNITED STATES refused to use its power to discipline the Western world in favor of justice and liberty, one may be concerned about the future of the free world," he said.

Karamanlis said the U.S. policy as regards the future of the strategic Mediterranean island "spreading butter on Russia's toast."

"Russia will try to exploit it," he said.

Greece earlier today called off nationalist anti-British demonstrations when a church leader warned that Communist elements were planning to create trouble during the meetings.

The demonstrations were called by Greek Orthodox Archbishop Makarios from Cyprus and had the full approval of the angry Greek government.

The archbishop announced today that demonstrations had been called off just a few hours before they were to have taken place and were planned to disrupt them.

Although the government approved the demonstrations, it warned against any disorders and called off heavy concentrations of police and troops to protect British, American and Turkish nationals and property during the meetings.

RIOTING GREEKS already had vented their anger Saturday by smashing British buildings and burning British troops in the streets of Nicosia.

At Nicosia, the Seychelles, the legislative council rushed through a bill suspending the habeas corpus act and providing a three-month jail term for anyone found guilty of rioting.

Trouble At The Tracks

Police fight off irate crowd with dry ice fire extinguishers in an attempt to break up a riot at the Fayetteville, N. C., stock track Sunday. The fans, irate because Herb Thomas (the driver's seat) had forced another driver, Bob Webber of Greensboro, N. C., into the wall near the finish of the race, tried to mob the Sanford, N. C., stock jockey. Thomas escaped the riot.

The powers of the United States will send this super aircraft carrier, the most powerful vessel of its fleet, to bolster American naval forces in the Mediterranean next January.

This was disclosed by ship officers today as newsmen arrived to witness the first public demonstration of the 70,000-ton carrier's jet plane operations.

AT ANCHOR at Guantanamo Sunday night were no less than 27 warships, including the USS Forrestal, chief of naval operations, took note of this in telling Navy personnel here.

"The vast changes in weapons systems which are occurring in the Navy today are indicated by the presence in Guantanamo right now of four of the Navy's newest ships—the Boston, world's first guided missile cruiser; the Forrestal, newest, largest and most modern aircraft carrier; the USS Zumwalt, new and fast command and communications ship; and the Forrest Sherman, a new guided missile cruiser."

IN ADDITION to the fighting ships named by Burke, who came to Guantanamo from the Joint Chiefs of Staff conference in Puerto Rico, vessels here also include the 27,000-ton carrier USS Essex, 24,000-ton battleships—the New Jersey, Iowa and Wisconsin; 2 heavy cruisers, the Salem and Des Moines; 15 destroyers; and 2 submarines.

Capt. Roy L. Johnson, native of Big Bend, La., and skipper of the Forrestal, said after this fleet in the Mediterranean by January.

Israel Charges Egyptian Forces Mass On Border

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (UP)—Israel today reported new border incidents with Egypt, Syria and Jordan and accused Egypt of concentrating troops and armored forces along the frontier in a war-like atmosphere.

In Cairo, the Arab "big three" issued a joint communique announcing completion of "all-conclusive" strategy to meet the threat of aggression from Israel and alleged political pressure from the pro-Western Baghdad Pact.

The chief of state of Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syria expressed complete support in the event of any foreign aggression against the Arab countries, endangering Arab security and disuniting the common Arab front.

Measures also were taken to retaliate against those states providing either arms or men to Israel.

In the Suez Canal an American cargo ship, the James Monroe, was moving towards Saudi Arabia with 19 U.S.-built Walker Building tanks. The ship, conveyed by Egyptian vessels, was expected to traverse the canal some time today and head for Saudi Arabia.

The United Nations Armistice Commission promised an immediate investigation of the new Israeli charges made by a spokesman for the Israeli Foreign Ministry, Israel said the troop concentrations constituted a "direct threat" to Israel's security.

Israel said increasing numbers of Egyptian fighting forces had massed in recent weeks in the Gaza Strip and the El Arish area in violation of the armistice agreement and far exceeding any defense requirements.

ISRAEL ALSO reported these new incidents along the border:

1. An Israeli army spokesman said a patrol captured three Jordan infiltrators near Lachish after a brief fight and then encountered a second group of Jordanian infiltrators and drove them off in a second fight.
2. A spokesman said Syrian troops fired several shots at an Israeli fishing vessel on Lake Kinneret. The vessel was not hit.
3. A spokesman said an Egyptian position opened fire twice on Israeli positions in the Kinef area east of the Gaza Strip. The Israelis returned the fire and there were no casualties.

Israel announced today it had protested to Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Flannery, chief of the Kankakee Emergency Squad, who was on duty at the Flannery home at 1:41 a.m. They administered a tank of oxygen and took the police chief to the hospital in the inhalator truck.

Mrs. Flannery said this morning she had been advised by physicians that it will be 48 to 72 hours after the attack before the seriousness of the ailment can be fully determined.

Senate Voting On Rigid Rice Support Test

WASHINGTON (UP)—A rigid domestic support plan for rice faces a test today in the Senate, which has rejected heavy support for wheat, cotton, corn and peanuts.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), floor manager for the farm bill, said he hopes to have it passed Tuesday night "even if we have to stay here until midnight."

Republican Knowland of California set his sights on final action Wednesday.

The Senate Agriculture Committee, which Ellender heads, proposed a trial of the two-price plan for rice under which the rice grown for domestic use would be eligible for price support at 90 per cent of parity, while the excess for overseas shipment would be sold without support at world market prices.

RICE, like other basic crops, is now supported under a flexible scale which rises when more is needed and drops when a surplus is on hand.

The Senate voted last week to retain the flexible system on wheat, cotton, corn and peanuts. The House voted 268-201 last year to return to a 90 per cent level for two years. The two houses must agree before any new farm bill can become law.

Wallace Flannery, Police Chief, Has Heart Attack

Police Chief Wallace Flannery, 48, was reported in "fair" condition at St. Mary's hospital today. Flannery was stricken suddenly with a heart ailment early Sunday morning at his home, 364 S. Evergreen Ave.

LT. Roger Regnier and Eileen Lester Chabot of the Kankakee Emergency Squad were on duty at the Flannery home at 1:41 a.m. They administered a tank of oxygen and took the police chief to the hospital in the inhalator truck.

Mrs. Flannery said this morning she had been advised by physicians that it will be 48 to 72 hours after the attack before the seriousness of the ailment can be fully determined.

8 Saw Through Jail Doors To Freedom

KENNETT, Mo. (AP)—Eight prisoners saved their way through two barred doors today and escaped from the jail here today.

The escape, the third such break from the jail in three years, was discovered by Jailer Bill Richardson today.

Sen. Ellender said the escape was a "direct threat" to Israel's security.

Israel said increasing numbers of Egyptian fighting forces had massed in recent weeks in the Gaza Strip and the El Arish area in violation of the armistice agreement and far exceeding any defense requirements.

ISRAEL ALSO reported these new incidents along the border:

Red Cross Volunteers Worked 21,347 Hours During Past Year

The Kankakee County Red Cross chapter gave a total of 21,347 volunteer hours for the community during the past year.

That was announced today by Mrs. Edwin Sale, chairman of volunteers, in the annual report of the organization.

The report came as the Red Cross moved into its final days of attempting to raise $42,912 for its operation during the next 12 months. The fund campaign, which opened on March 1, will continue through March 31.

The staggering total of more than 21,000 hours contributed for the benefit of others includes a variety of services performed by the county organization.

According to services and program the number of hours contributed by volunteers is as follows: first aid—560; nurses aid—278; staff aid—1,072; motor service—1,172; entertainment corps—4,089; canteen—785; production—146; Gray Ladies—1,186; blood program—2,505; Junior Red Cross—393; public relations—580; water safety—1,090; nursing services—942; home nursing—143; disaster—136; fund drive—2,360; the chapter made a distinction between the volunteer and the volunteer and the volunteer.

"Since the whole structure of the Red Cross is founded on the efforts of the volunteer, its support must be continued," Mrs. Sale said. "The volunteer is the backbone of the Red Cross and a stronger Red Cross—and a better community."

"HELPING THEIR neighbors"

British Halt French Swing To Neutralism

LONDON (AP)—Britain appeared today to have halted a French swing toward neutralism that could have wrecked joint Western policy.

The two nations issued a joint communique announcing they had reached "wide agreement" and strengthened joint policy after a hurried, 24-hour meeting between the British and French prime ministers.

They reaffirmed their attachment to the Atlantic alliance and their intention to maintain and reinforce the common front of the free nations," the communique said.

French Premier Guy Mollet flew to Paris for a critical conference with Prime Minister Anthony Eden at Eden's country estate outside London.

"I CAN DECLARE with immense pleasure that Franco-British relations have never been better," Mollet told newsmen when he landed at Paris.

But he slapped down reports that France has agreed to join the British-sponsored Baghdad Pact in the Middle East. Asked about such reports he said, "That's news to me."

Eden last week issued an urgent invitation to Mollet to visit him at his Chequers estate a few hours after French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau made a disturbing speech in Paris criticizing "enormous errors" of Western policy.

Immediate fears arose in London and Washington that France was sliding towards neutralism.

Doctors Report Richmond Quads In Good Health

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The nation's latest celebrities, the Shatts quadruplets, have started their third day of life with surprisingly good health but no names and no names and no names.

The quadruplets were born Saturday to Mrs. Richard Shatts, 32, wife of a Richmond restaurant owner.

Physicians at St. Luke's Hospital said today, "they're looking better all the time."

Born more than a month premature, the quadruplets weighed a total of only 16 pounds 2½ ounces. They were placed in two double incubators.

"Everything is going particularly well," said Dr. Carolyn McCue, the pediatrician who watched over the tiny babies cradlingly.

The identical quadruplets get their first nourishment today—a sugar and water mixture. Barring adverse reactions, regular formula feeding will begin.

As to names, Papa Shatts said today, "I'm waiting for the pediatrician to make a decision."

The attending physician, Dr. William Hughes Evans, said the quadruplets were "perfectly normal" and that the mother came through her ordeal "very nicely." The babies were delivered in 14 minutes.

Winds, Brush Fires Destroy Coast Homes

By UNITED PRESS

High winds and fire harassed residents of the Los Angeles area today, the northern Midwest cleared its roads and sidewalks of snow from a far reaching weekend storm and floods or high winds plagued sections of the eastern states.

Gale-force winds up to 70 miles an hour picked up a fire in the dry brush country of Haines Canyon in the Verdugo Mountains near Los Angeles, destroyed two homes and threatened others, and drove some dwellers out of their residences. The winds destroyed buildings, broke windows, trees and power lines.

In New York State, highway crews cleared away snowdrifts piled up by 75-mile-per-hour winds in the St. Lawrence valley region, and maintenance crews repaired broken power lines. The Seneca River flooded and isolated 100 homes north of Syracuse, N.Y.

MORE BAD WEATHER hit the South and a tugboat capsized in the Gulf of Mexico from Brownsville, Tex., to Morgan City, La.

The first day of spring was only eight days away, but the midwinters were thawing out from the worst storm of the whole winter season. Temperatures were as low as 24 below zero at Bismarck, N.D., and were on the downgrade from the Rockies to the Appalachians.

Fourth Grade Is Critical One For Pupils, Teachers Told

Funeral Rites Tuesday For Harry M. Gerdes, 76

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday for Harry M. Gerdes, 76, who died at 1:45 p.m. Sunday at St. Mary's Hospital.

The services will be held at Herz Memorial Temple where friends may call after 7 p.m. today. The Rev. Myron Schmitt will officiate and interment will be made in the Memorial Gardens Cemetery.

Mr. Gerdes was born at East Friedland, Germany, Dec. 25, 1879 and came to the United States with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gerdes, when he was a year old. The family settled on a farm near Stoughton, Mo., and later moved to a farm in the Grand Park area about 20 years ago. He retired from farming 30 years ago and after spending nine years at Amarillo, Tex., as field man for a life insurance company he moved to Kankakee and has been engaged as a real estate broker for the past 11 years.

He is survived by his wife, the former Grace A. Cannon whom he married in 1942; son, Roland Gerdes, Grand Park; daughters, Miss Helen Gerdes, Chicago, and Mrs. Edna Johnson, Manteno; brothers, Martin Gerdes, Seattle, Wash., Martin Gerdes, Minook, sister, Mrs. Minnie Goodman, Minook, and three grandchildren. His first marriage was in 1902 to Gertrude E. May who died in 1929. In addition to his first wife he was preceded in death by a daughter, Mabel.

Mr. Gerdes served as supervisor of Sumner Township for several years and formerly was a director of the Farmers Elevator at Whitaker. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen, Odd Fellows and Rebekah Lodges of Kankakee.

Mr. Gerdes was born at East Friedland, Germany, Dec. 25, 1879 and came to the United States with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gerdes, when he was a year old. The family settled on a farm near Stoughton, Mo., and later moved to a farm in the Grand Park area about 20 years ago. He retired from farming 30 years ago and after spending nine years at Amarillo, Tex., as field man for a life insurance company he moved to Kankakee and has been engaged as a real estate broker for the past 11 years.

He is survived by his wife, the former Grace A. Cannon whom he married in 1942; son, Roland Gerdes, Grand Park; daughters, Miss Helen Gerdes, Chicago, and Mrs. Edna Johnson, Manteno; brothers, Martin Gerdes, Seattle, Wash., Martin Gerdes, Minook, sister, Mrs. Minnie Goodman, Minook, and three grandchildren. His first marriage was in 1902 to Gertrude E. May who died in 1929. In addition to his first wife he was preceded in death by a daughter, Mabel.

Even this system will not provide a simple answer, Kottmeyer asserted.

BUT HE SAID it is easier to adjust materials to each pupil's level in the primary grades than in the middle grades or above.

This is better, he said, than "letting them sit in the middle grades three or four years and then creating opportunity rooms to solve the problem... or loading the problem onto the English department in high school."

He also declared that every teacher has a responsibility to make the vocabulary of his particular subject familiar to the student—whether it be mathematics, science or any other field.

And he said nothing can compare to the understanding teacher who is determined to teach the youngster "something" that you know he must have.

"The tremendous change in the nature of the school population is difficult to realize," Kottmeyer asserted.

"FIFTY YEARS AGO, 50 per cent of the children never saw the fifth grade," he declared, because those who "do not take well to learning" dropped out of school.

Today, 99 per cent of the children in St. Louis enter high school, and two out of three stay for up to four years, Kottmeyer reported.

For this reason, he believes, comparisons with schools of 50 years ago are irrelevant to today's problems.

Dr. Shpiner To Take Part In State Conference

Dr. Leonard B. Shpiner, president of the Kankakee County Heart Association, will take part in a statewide conference on "Care and Prevention of Rheumatic Fever" in Peoria March 29.

The conference will be sponsored by the Illinois Heart Association as part of its educational program for professional persons.

Doctors and nurses from the 99 counties served by the IHA, social workers, PTA representatives and Home Bureau health chairmen are being invited to attend.

He stressed the importance of the meeting by pointing out that "rheumatic fever is recurrent and each attack poses a threat to the heart. This disease and the heart damage that may result from it cause more chronic disabling illness in children than any other disease, and it is an important cause of illness and disability in adults."

Dr. Shpiner will act as moderator of a symposium on "Requirements for the Control and Prevention of Rheumatic Fever" during the conference.

Vice Presidency Now An Important Office

Alexander Throttelbottom, in the musical comedy "Of Thee I Sing" was nominated for vice president by the simple process of putting a number of names on slips of paper in a hat and pulling one out.

Throttelbottom didn't win. He lost—that is, he had his name drawn for vice president.

That wouldn't seem so funny today, when the vice presidency is recognized as a responsible, highly powerful, even potent office.

Our republic's founding fathers envisioned the runner-up in the electoral college balloting as becoming the vice president. In their original concept, both men—the winner and the runner-up—would have all the qualifications to be president.

When political parties developed, however, political considerations began dictating the choice of the vice presidential nominee. But, once the election was over, the vice president became a sort of forgotten man. In this century, however, the position began to change.

There has been a steady trend toward delegating more duties and responsibilities to the vice president. This began with President Herbert Hoover, who said in a recent interview:

"I think I was the first to try to enlarge the field of the vice president. I invited Mr. Charles Curtis to join in sessions of the cabinet, so that he would know what was going on in the executive branch of the government and would be better prepared to take over the presidency if necessary."

President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon have added still more prestige and importance to the office. As Mr. Hoover put it:

"They have greatly enlarged the vice president's field in two directions. The vice president now represents the president in public occasions at home and abroad. He has been brought into the cabinet, the security council and some other important branches of government. He takes part very extensively in policy-making."

Herscher Blaze Shows Mass Movement Effect

The Cold War has been with us so long, with so much talk about the dangers of surprise attack, that it has become tiresome and old-fashioned to talk about organized civil defense.

Every so often, however, something happens to give us a small illustration of what would happen if there was an attack upon this community or a city near us.

The explosion from a defective pipe line near Herscher Friday night, and the resulting flames lighting the skies, brought out thousands of automobiles rushing toward the village. Within a few minutes traffic was hopelessly stalled at road intersections and for a long time there was a great deal of confusion, horn-honking and reckless driving.

Suppose that instead of a throng of curiosity seekers going to see a spectacle, there was a great outpouring of people responding to the elemental urges of self-preservation, fleeing in utter panic from a catastrophe that threatened the entire community. Or a big city like Chicago?

Perhaps little can be done in preparation that could eliminate or even mitigate the confusion, panic and ruthless action accompanying such a disaster. However, a spectacular occasion, like the explosion at Herscher, demonstrates how mob reaction could add immeasurably to the effects of any tragic occurrence.

Final War Predicted Century Ago By Perry

Just 100 years ago, Commodore Matthew Galbraith Perry, who opened Japan to modern commerce, envisioned a fierce and final battle between the United States and Russia, in an address to the American Geographical and Statistical Society.

His warning was so little heeded that it was not even reported in the newspaper accounts of the speech. It has just been brought to light by former Congressman George H. Tinkham (Mass.).

Perry predicted the final battle in Southeast Asia and "on its issues will depend the freedom or the slavery of the world, despotism or rational liberty must be the fate of the civilized man."

Perry's vision sounds like a report of events today. With his background of knowledge of Asia, it is strange that such prophetic words should have been disdained so long. How much suffering might have been prevented had they been heeded.

Adventure On A Liner

Newspaper columnists who must meet a daily deadline cannot afford to take the time to travel by steamship when they cross the Atlantic. That is why my last 14 ocean crossings have been by air.

But last month I finally decided to take a five days' vacation and cross from France to New York by the Queen Elizabeth, I have a story to tell you about the giant Cunard liner which closely resembles a luxury sky scraper hotel built on water instead of land.

The Cunard company, that the Queen is the world's largest steamship, is about one-fifth of a mile long. If stood up on end it would be 80 stories high or twice as high as the Washington Monument. If you could pick the ship up out of the water and set it down in a typical town, it would stretch for about three and a half blocks.

I believed that since the ship was tremendous and had stabilizers my crossing would be smoother than I had a somewhat smaller liner. But the third day out from Cherbourg over 90 per cent of the passengers were so seasick they failed to show up in the dining room for meals.

THE SCORES of white-coated stewards and white garbed stewardesses were kept constantly busy cleaning up the passageway floors and lobbies with sawdust, chemicals, mops, buckets and water. One middle-aged, stern-visaged stewardess said to me rather bitterly:

"There really isn't much excuse for all this seasickness. It is largely psychological, anyhow. You will notice old people seldom get seasick nor do babies nor mothers with children to care for."

"Passengers get sick when they have too little to think about. Those girls or boys who quickly find themselves a boy friend seldom if ever get seasick, while those who fail to meet a nice boy invariably grow sick and retreat to their cabins."

Among the 1,400 passengers on the Queen were the usual quota of diplomats, executives and "stars" traveling in lonely splendor first-class.

The 800 tourist class passengers were a mixture of people from the ends of the earth—Chinese, Indians, Africans, Israelis and a wide assortment of Europeans from both sides of the iron curtain.

I heard at least a dozen different languages being spoken, with German and French heard as often as English.

OF THE MORE THAN 100 passengers I met or interviewed, the most interesting by far was a young Polish chap, Jan K., from Krakow, whom I dubbed Mortimer. Snerd the Second because of his close physical resemblance to that character. He shared my cabin and boarded the ship at Cherbourg when I did. He was dressed in simple peasant garb, he wore a pair of worn-out shoes and a pair of boots, unpressed dirty brown trousers and jacket, a faded colored shirt without tie and underneath everything, long heavy underwear.

He didn't speak a word of English, so I talked with him in German, which he had learned as a prisoner of war in Germany. When he boarded the Queen he found himself in a strange and terrifying new world. Timid and alone, he sat quietly for hours in his cabin on his bunk, afraid to venture forth for fear he couldn't find his way back to his cabin.

This was a well-justified fear for with his eight levels of underwear, his long hair and his long beard, he was a sight to behold. He had been a prisoner of war in Germany. When he boarded the Queen he found himself in a strange and terrifying new world. Timid and alone, he sat quietly for hours in his cabin on his bunk, afraid to venture forth for fear he couldn't find his way back to his cabin.

As each day passed he grew more and more worried about his farm boys and finally took quite a fancy to my heavy brown sports shoes which I had purchased a couple of years earlier. He finally persuaded me to sell them to him for French francs. As a gesture of comradeship I let him have them and he was the proudest passenger on board ship.

WE WERE SCHEDULED to dock in New York on Thursday morning at 8:30. Mortimer was so excited the last night on board he couldn't sleep. At 3:30 a.m. he got up and started preparing for landing. He shaved, he trimmed his hair, he put on his good suit and new second-hand brown shoes. Then he puttered around for hours, checking and re-checking his passport, money and other precious papers in a folder wrapped inside another folder which he kept next to his skin under his underwear over his boots.

The first night he slept with his clothes on, removing only his underwear and his boots. The second night he did a little better: he removed his trousers in addition to his boots.

ON TWO DIFFERENT nights gala parties were held aboard ship. Every evening dressed up in his best, I tried to get Mortimer to put on his best clothes, but he stubbornly refused.

I am saving my good shirt and Sunday suit till I get to America," he answered simply. "My every-

Are You In List Of Ten Top Bores?

NEW YORK (U. S. I) — I set out to find the 10 most boring types of people in America.

You may be more sophisticated than I am, but I really was surprised by the results.

My research pool was made among men only. The odd thing about it was I bow in pride to the irreducible gallantry of the male sex that no man raised the possibility that a woman, as such, could possibly be boring.

Anger him, yes! Confused him, certainly! Bore him? Never! Hoppen!

Some might question, if I were running an honest dog-poll of who are the 10 most common types of bores in America, why I heard at least a dozen different languages being spoken, with German and French heard as often as English.

Frankly, as a fellow who feels he knows more about women than they do about themselves, I thought it would be a waste of time. I knew the answer. Obviously, to a woman, the 10 most boring people she knew would be the last 10 people who did what she wanted.

WELL, NOW, with sex out of the way (at last), we can get down to facts.

Every thoughtful person has his own ideas about our most common American bores, but here are the 10 that resulted from my quick survey:

1. The hobbyists. A new sports car from Germany, a fresh stamp from Abyssinia, a rosy rocket that might reach the moon, three misadventures of a woman, as such, could possibly be boring.

2. The hoboists. A new sports car from Germany, a fresh stamp from Abyssinia, a rosy rocket that might reach the moon, three misadventures of a woman, as such, could possibly be boring.

'His Highness'

As we approach the great wedding which is to take the mind of all men of all his troubles and wars and confusions, the subject naturally becomes increasingly interesting. It is a subject which is really important. At any rate, Grace Kelly of Philadelphia and Rainier Grimaldi of Monaco have established that subsequent to their marriage the aforesaid Grace will no longer pay the bills which must be very upsetting to those who had planned to make money out of her. However, they can console themselves by projecting old film in which she appears or they can produce a documentary of the wedding which ought to be interesting, like the coronation of Queen Elizabeth which was quite a show.

I note that when Grace Kelly refers to her betrothed she calls him, "His Highness," which is not characteristic of Americans who do not go in for titles. I thought that Grimaldi was "His Serene Highness" which is quite fancy, although it seemed to me to be something like the "Honorable" which congressmen and such put in front of their names to designate them as persons apart. Even I receive letters occasionally addressed to the "Honorable" whereas for my postman, Mister, even abbreviated to Mr., would seem to be far more required courtesy.

WHEN AMERICANS grow fanciful, they sometimes go to excesses, like speaking of the prospective groom as "His Highness," which is just a crude way of saying, "Look what a fish I caught!"

During my recent and for that matter still current illness, I have been reading areas of old newspapers which I used to skip over as not essential to my life. Those areas are the long columns telling of the doings of all sorts of people unknown to me. It would seem that some of the items deal with marriage, divorce, adultery and seduction and that marriage is regarded as the more incidental occurrence. In fact, some of these writers are able to predict divorce before the parties at issue know about them, this phenomenon being scientifically proved by denials by the parties at issue.

Maybe marriage has a greater survival value for the future of a marriage is for the husband and wife to lunch together at some such public place as Sardi's Restaurant, where they smile and hold hands and are duly photographed. Then the "estranged" persons go get their divorce. It appears that a divorce is accompanied by some kind of courtship. Also I note from these reports that it is customary for these "estranged" persons to be seen together demonstrably affectionate. In various eating houses, holding hands under the table or dancing cheek to cheek. Nevertheless, they get a divorce on the grounds of mental cruelty.

THESE NEW SOCIAL customs are nearly as mad as our current politics but unless you read these reports, you would not know about them because most human beings still do not encounter such occurrences in their own lives or among their friends. No matter what the statistics show, most folks who get married, stay that way for better or for worse, and who can really tell which is which? Also, if there is a bust-up, it is generally the real thing with much anger and shouting and all the neighbors wondering what got into them. So these items are of interest because they are unusual and deal generally with celebrities who are people that can afford to hire a press agent to keep their names before the public.

Sometimes as I read these peculiar items, I thought that maybe these poor souls were still very much in love and only give out the story of estrangement because the press agent is short of items to keep their names in display. It is not possible so but it would take more research than is worth while to check on all the estrangements to discover whether they are really still living together under one roof. Maybe marriage has a greater survival value among these celebrities than the news items would indicate.

Another thing about this new sociology is the phrase, "mental cruelty," which seems to imply a mentality or a sensibility among the parties at issue. But the question does arise—it really must—whether thoughtful or sensitive persons would permit their private lives to be exposed so casually. This is a psychological rather than a sociological problem and we shall leave it.

Jailed Girls Finally Freed In Kidnap Hoax

NEWTON, Iowa (UP)—Four sheepish high school girls, fresh from the jail where they paid for a $1,000 kidnap hoax, went back to classes today.

They said they had learned their lesson and their parents, teachers, and law officers hoped they were right.

The girls were freed from the Independence, Kan., jail Sunday after serving two days and three nights of a 30-day sentence for disturbing the peace.

City Judge Walter L. McVey had put them behind bars for turning up with a "kidnap" story which sent 28 carloads of officers scouring in a hunt for nonexistent abductors last week.

The girls, 15-year-olds Gloria Jansma and Lois Davis and 17-year-olds Jeanne Fahney and Judy Damman, finally admitted they had merely gone for a ride Wednesday and thought up the kidnap story.

Independence officials were not amused. They estimated the prank had cost about $1,000 and federal officials referred the matter to Washington.

AFTER THEIR PAROLE, one of the chastened girls said "We're just tickled to death we got off so easy. You can be sure we'll never do anything like this again."

They walked out of jail into the arms of their parents and then piled into four waiting cars for the long ride back to Newton. The trip took 10 hours and was held up by a flat tire on one of the cars.

Back home, the four runaways tumbled into bed and dropped off to sleep immediately. The clean sheets were a welcome change from their jail cell cots in Independence.

Their big worry was whether they could go back to school. Principal Harold Lynn quipped their fears.

"The best thing for the girls is to be left alone," he said. "We'd like to forget the whole affair and get their adjusted without any more publicity so the episode won't leave any more marks on them."

"I think everyone has learned a lesson."

Ashkum Woman Named County Blood Chairman

ASHKUM (JNS)—Representatives of the Iroquois County chapter of American Red Cross attended the Peoria Regional quarterly blood meeting on Thursday.

Mrs. Mike Rush, Ashkum, county blood chairman, was named donor recruitment chairman of the Peoria regional center, which consists of 26 chapters of the American Red Cross in the Midwestern area.

Iroquois County's blood quota will be 1,162 pints, providing there is no extra quota for civil defense.

Mrs. Forrest Chadwick, Martinton, was compensated for the response of 6 negative and 0 positive blood donors at the Martinton bloodmobile visit on Feb. 29 in answer to an emergency call from the center. A total of 149 pints of blood were given at this visit.

The next county bloodmobile visit will be in the Sheldon Methodist Church on March 28 from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. Other visits in the county will be at Milford, April 24, and Watseka, May 29.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Forrest Chadwick, Martinton, township blood chairman; Mrs. Arthur Martin, Cissna Park, branch chairman for Dagon Grove; Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Watseka, recruitment chairman; Mrs. Mike Rush, county blood chairman, and Mrs. Lila Cassell, executive secretary for the chapter.

Student Expelled For Part In Alabama Riot

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UP)—University of Alabama trustees today expelled one student, suspended three others and approved lesser punishment for 21 more in disciplinary action arising from student rioting against Autherine Lucy, the school's first Negro student.

Leonard Wilson, 30-year-old Selma, Ala., sophomore was expelled. Miss Lucy was excluded from class after rioting Feb. 6. She was expelled Feb. 29 after unproved charges that university officials were in conspiracy with the mob.

Discipleship Is Topic Of Ashkum Woman's Society

ASHKUM (JNS)—"Ventures In Discipleship" was the topic of Mrs. Delbert Dasher who led devotions at the Woman's Society of Christian Service meeting in the Methodist Church on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Wayne Sparenberg assisted Mrs. Dasher in a dialogue, discussing how we can be good disciples. Points brought out included the meaning of discipleship, three marks of discipleship, dangers and rewards of discipleship and some of the possibilities.

Ten members were present with Mrs. Edward Bushman in charge. The possibility of giving a silver tea and a silent auction may be made at the next meeting. Wednesday when members plan to paint the church basement and all help will be appreciated Wednesday, March 14 afternoon and evening.

Members will design an Easter hat and bring it to the next meeting. A prize will be given for the most original.

A scramble game was played, supervised by Mrs. John Orman who was in charge of recreation. Mrs. Anna Rabideau and Miss Jessie Reichen served lunch.

At the next meeting, Mrs. John Orman will lead the devotion and will discuss "Christian Discipleship Today." Mrs. Edward Bushman will be in charge of recreation.

Indian American Is Topic Of Watseka Society

WATSEKA (JNS)—The Indian American Society was discussed by Mrs. Gail Rice at the meeting Wednesday of the Women's Society of the Christian Service of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Robert C. Grant, president, opened the meeting with a prayer written by an Indian chief. Mrs. Dale Markwalder gave the devotion. Mrs. L. M. Goodyear sang, accompanied by Mrs. Earl Potter. Mrs. Grant announced a Family Night potluck supper and program would be held today at 6:30 p. m. in the church. Members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will be in charge of the program.

The group voted to send contributions of $10 each to the Salvation Army and the Red Cross and to increase the pledge to missions.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ernest H. Dilling, Mrs. Mervin Dilling, Mrs. Ben West Jr., and Mrs. James Brown. The St. Patrick theme was carried out at the table with Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Markwalder presided.

Gilman Woman Is Delegated To Convention

GILMAN (JNS)—The Women's Guild of the Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church met Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Otto Trepson, president, had charge of the business meeting. Plans for an Easter breakfast in the church on Easter morning were made.

Mrs. Hulda Tannen was elected delegate to the convention to be held in April in Palestine.

The women will clean the church on Tuesday.

Mrs. Otto Schriber's group of the guild held a foot after the meeting. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be on April 13 in the church.

EDWARD SUMMER IV, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Summer, attained a perfect "A" scholastic index at Purdue University during the first semester of the current academic year.

To achieve the perfect index, Summer made the highest grade possible under the grading system in each subject carried during the semester.

Notice of Summer's honor came in an announcement from the office of C. E. Damman, registrar and director of admissions.

12 'Newcomers' In Super Meets

Rockford West Favored To Win Second Title

By THE UNITED PRESS
Four repeaters from last year and 12 newcomers will battle for survival in the Illinois high school basketball tournament "super-sectionals" at eight sites around the state.

Leading the list of 16 finalists is Rockford West, expected to follow Elgin and Mount Vernon in winning two state championships in a row. The champion Warriors have two of their three big boys back from last year, rebounding wizard, Rolden Genry, high-scoring John Wessels, both 6 feet, 7 inches.

Fred Boshela, the hard-fighting forward of last year's team is gone, but replacing him is Don Slaughter, 6-3, and reported to be a better scorer than Boshela. The Warriors guards are 6-3 and 6-4.

WEST will run up against Gop forward Mace Jackson, 6-3, and won't have a chance to win in the state, in the Moline super-sectional Tuesday. Galsburg will have to win heavily on 6-5 Bill Granting to counter the Gentry-Wessels combination.

High-scoring Russ Lind and Jerry Odell and sparkplug Mike Owens head a fast-moving Galsburg team. Galsburg also has a 6-4 forward, Moline was the only team to lose three players who played in the 6-foot mark, will take on high-scoring, hard-rebounding Edwardsville, which also lacks height, but little else.

In this game, to be played at Salem, St. Anthony will have to win with the NIAA tournament at Kansas City. That 32-team field starts eliminations tonight. The championship will be crowned Saturday.

AT MADISON Square Garden in New York, it's Temple (23-3) vs. Holy Cross (22-4) and North Carolina State (24-3) vs. Canisius (17-4).

Tuesday night, another Garden twin bill matches Connecticut (16-9) vs. Manhattan (16-7) and Dartmouth (16-10) vs. West Virginia (14-11).

The four winners travel to Philadelphia for a two-night set this weekend.

AT Fort Wayne's Coliseum to night, DePaul (13-7) meets Wayne (17-4) and Marshall (18-4) plays Morehead (10-5) State (17-3). This weekend, the DePaul-Wayne winner will meet Kentucky (18-9) in the consolation game.

AT SEATTLE tonight, Idaho State (17-4) and Seattle (16-7) meet. Their annual set in the first of the Western regionals. The winner meets Utah (22-5) Friday at Corvallis, Ore.

The 230 players for the tournament opened festivities Sunday night with a "tip off" banquet. Eight games are scheduled again Tuesday and Wednesday, with the quarterfinals Thursday, the semifinals Friday and the championship Saturday. Adrena-Broadway State making its first bid in the NAIA tournament.

A NEW CHAMPION is sure to be crowned this year. The team from Delta State is expected to be the one to take Delta state's place, and even defeat Wheaton third.

The Boston Bruins moved back into contention for a berth in the National Hockey League playoffs today on the wings of a stunning 4-0 game sweep over the league-leading Montreal Canadiens.

After whipping the Canadiens, 4-0, on Saturday night, the Bruins came storming back for three goals in the first period last night at Boston and breezed to a repeat triumph, 3-1. The two wins moved Boston within a single point of fourth-place Toronto, each with two games to go this week.

Shamrocks Win Mommence Tournament

MOMENCE (JNS)—A second half rally which netted 19 points gave St. Patrick's High School Shamrocks of Kankakee a 36-29 victory over St. Teresa in the championship game of the first annual St. Patrick's of Mommence Invitational Basketball tournament Sunday night.

The Shamrocks had to overcome a two-point halftime deficit to take the win. St. Patrick's rushed to a 15-2 first quarter margin and then failed to score in the second quarter as St. Teresa battled to a 17-15 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, the Shamrocks again went out in front and gradually increased the margin in the last frame. Jim Rayman paced the winners with 11 points, Steve Haynes had 10 and John Bart. Jerry Kelly was high for St. Teresa with 11 and Vance Wadleigh had 10.

The afternoon games found St. Teresa defeating St. Patrick's of Mommence 32-11 and the Shamrocks upsetting St. Rose in an overtime 32-30. Wadleigh sparked St. Teresa with nine points and Rayman paced the Shamrocks with 12.

St. Rose won the third place game from the Mommence St. Pat's five.

Watska and Rantoul dominated the 10-man Waukesa All-League basketball team which was selected by the conference coaches, according to a release today by A. J. McKinney, secretary of the conference.

Watska and Rantoul placed three men on the roster. Paxton two and Hoopes and Gibson City one apiece. Rantoul and Paxton were co-champs of the league while Watska finished third.

Named to the team from Watska were Frank Schauberg, Porter Martin and Robert Williams. Dave Moran, Jerry Zachary and Bob Lathrop were the choices from Rantoul while Larry Pilcher and Ron Franzen represented Paxton.

The state basketball team, still a hero of U. S. track fans, was permanently suspended by the AAU last month for accepting excessive money at track meets he participated in.

A record crowd of 10,000 fans at the Milwaukee Games made it known Saturday night, however, that they still love the Kansas Amateur. They cheered him on as he won a "special race" that Olympic hopefuls boycotted so they wouldn't lose their amateur standing or Olympic eligibility.

The fans "know that you can't live for $12 or $15 a day, not in a city," Santos said. "A lot of people forget that when a man leaves college he's no longer subsidized by a college, where when he enters a meet he's paying his expenses."

Loes' answer is one word — "Nuts."

"THE WAY they talk you'd think I was a losing pitcher," Loes lamented. "Heck, I've never had a losing season since I've been with the club. Okay, so I never won 20 in 14 did, but I'd say you should have won 25."

The only guys who complain are the writers. They call me a "loser" because I pitched only 128 innings last year. They say I should pitch at least 250 innings. I don't consider that I had a sore arm. "One of the smartest statements I ever heard was by Birdie Tebb. He said 'I'm 28 outtings, while the Indians have an 18-8 mark."

MELVIN DAVIS, a 6-4 forward, will be the Duhar spearhead threat, with center Charles "Brooklyn" Davis. "Brooklyn" had no pitcher who won more than 15 games. But we won the pennant. You know why? Because nobody lost in double figures. I had 13 and 8. The next year I had 14 and 8, and then 13 and 5 and last year, it was 18-4.

Dropo Looking For Better Season
TAMPA, Fla. (UP)—Walt Dropo, Chicago White Sox first baseman, has had a good year in 1955, looking for better things this season.

Big Walt, 31, has his sights set on 100 home runs. "I've had a bad season in 1954 with Detroit, 18, and the Knicks trounced Fort Wayne, 122-96. Each has two games left; tonight the Nets meet St. Louis and the Knicks play Minneapolis.

In the other Sunday game, the St. Louis Hawks clinched a first round bye in the Western Division by beating Boston, 127-121.

Stilbesterol Shows Impact On Fall Market

Stilbesterol feeding may be responsible for heavier weight of some of the steers marketed last fall—up to 15 pounds more per steer than a year earlier.

Results of stilbesterol feeding at the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Research Center, Beltsville, Md., were reported recently by T. C. Byerly, assistant director of livestock research. He said that receiving stilbesterol in the fattening ration must be fed just as long to attain desirable finish as cattle not given stilbesterol.

Since it has been established that cattle gain faster and more per pound of feed when fed stilbesterol, it's only logical that widespread use of the chemical would lead to marketing heavier cattle.
