2018

Queen of the Mountains

Jayden Radillo-Pettit

Olivet Nazarene University, jaymeanshappy@gmail.com

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.olivet.edu/tygr

Part of the Poetry Commons

Recommended Citation

Available at: http://digitalcommons.olivet.edu/tygr/vol2018/iss1/6

This Poetry is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Publications at Digital Commons @ Olivet. It has been accepted for inclusion in TYGR: Student Art and Literary Magazine 2018-present by an authorized editor of Digital Commons @ Olivet. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@olivet.edu.
Queen of the Mountains
By: Jayden Radillo-Pettit

The mountains are so bright, you know?
Right here, inside my mind.
They are studded with emerald trees and crowded with jasper earth
And crowned with crystal snows.
They are beautiful though far and I want to build my home up there then I'll become a soft pink jewel to decorate the topaz trail.
I dream about their precious points and about their pristine air.
A log cabin will do just fine and a sweater to keep me from the chill.
I shall climb their thickly wooded slopes and scale their rocky faces. I will live in peace and quiet then, far from the clutter of people, hidden in those lonely places.
But I have a quest, a journey now. I'll never see those slopes again.
I must travel all around the world and get to know new places.
New faces.
But when I die
and I am buried, I'll live within those mountains
Forever
Peaceful
Dreaming
Floating Flying
Alas, I will be happy within the jasper earth covered with emerald trees
and crowned with crystal snows.
At last.
The Queen of the Mountains.