Had Gone Wading

2 Girls Drown

At Lake Manteno

An autopsy was performed today on the bodies of two young Chicago girls who drowned Wednesday at Lake Manteno, and a coroner's jury was impaneled by Morris Yates, deputy Kankakee County coroner.

The bodies of Suzanne Jones, 16, and her sister, Janice, 8, were recovered from the east side of the lake, where they had gone for an outing with their family.

A preliminary autopsy report showed that death resulted from drowning, Yates said.

A brother, Stephen, 9, said he last saw the girls wading in the water a short distance from shore. Suzanne's body was recovered in two feet of water near the spot he pointed out about 30 feet offshore and a short distance south of the bathhouse at 8:30 p.m.

THE BODY OF Janice was later located about 150 feet farther out at approximately 11:45 p.m. Searchers had believed that south-westerly winds would cause the bodies to drift in that direction.

A large crowd watched as boats dragged the waters and searchers waded near shore under flood lights from the beach and portable lights strung by firemen.

The beach, operated by the Manteno Sportsman's Club, is not yet officially open. A dozen members of the club were working to ready the beach for opening.

The girl's father, Joseph, said the family visited his sister, a patient at Manteno State Hospital, then went to the lake for a picnic, accompanied by the sister.

The children had been wading in the water, and the father said he last saw them when they went to the bathhouse.

It was their first visit to the lake, he said.

Robert Boudreau, sergeant-at-arms of the Sportsman's Club, said the children were first reported missing when he and another member, Dale Kistner, pushed the Jones auto away it became stuck about two blocks north of the bathhouse. Boudreau said he asked the family to leave because they were not club members.

BOUDREAU SAID HE was told the two girls were at the beach. On going to look for them he said he found two girls of about 16 and one of the girls' dresses by the bathhouse and one of the dresses.

Gen. Twining To Attend Soviet Aviation Day

Russian Invitation Accepted After Ikke Authorizes Approval

WASHINGTON (UP)—Some informed U.S. officials believe Moscow will follow up its successful bid to Gen. Nathan F. Twining with invitations to other American military leaders to visit Russia.

Members of the Soviet high command may be asked to come to the United States in return.

Secretary of the Air Force Donald A. Quarles announced Wednesday that "with the authorization of the President" Twining had accepted an invitation to a Soviet Aviation Day celebration June 24 Twining, Air Force chief of staff, will be accompanied by several subordinate officers.

Quarles said the decision to accept had been approved also by Secretary of Defense Wilson and Secretary of State Dulles, who is presently on a 10-day vacation. The Russian Embassy was advised of the decision.

THIS ENDED half a dozen days of speculation.

The decision for Twining to accept was speeded by a weekend report from Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen in Moscow making clear the bid was a firm one. This indicated that the Soviet government was not interested for the moment in inviting other members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Wheelchair Doesn't Keep Bradley Say Satellite Members Aided Red Air Buildup

A dream like that comes true for 17-year-old Karen Lambert, Bradley-Bourbonnais Community High School senior, tonight when she receives her high school diploma.

Karen has gained a high school diploma in spite of the fact she has spent her entire years of schooling unable to walk.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lambert, 38 River St., Bourbonnais, will receive the diploma from a wheelchair, a mode of transportation she has used throughout her high school career.

Karen's disability is the result of muscular dystrophy. She spent her grade-school years at Notre Dame Academy and for her first three years she traveled to school from a school in a wagon or sled, being pulled by a sister, Marien.

School custodian Vince Petersen would meet her at the door and would carry her to her classroom.

The Bradley senior completed her first four years of schooling in a wheelchair. She passed her fifth grade work through home study with the use of a tutor.

WHEN SHE entered sixth grade work she was back at Notre Dame, this time in a wheelchair. Thus she completed her final years of schooling from a wheelchair.

Karen's transportation today, and from school has been by taxi driven by Harold Walters. The latter each week will carry his passenger to and from the wheelchair.

The cute little brunette with the ready smile has been a prime favorite among her classmates, and her problem of getting up and

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents across the nation Memorial Day took a toll of 101 lives, about 10 per cent fewer than the 110 predicted by the National Safety Council.

Twelve states and the District of Columbia observed the holiday without a single traffic fatality. Ned H. Dearborn, safety council president, hailed the traffic picture as "encouraging" and called for greater effort to hold down the forthcoming July 4th holiday.

The holiday traffic toll this year occurred over a 30-hour period from 8 p.m. (local time) Tuesday to midnight Wednesday.

IN OTHER violent deaths, 29 persons drowned and another 30 lost their lives in miscellaneous accidents. The total of deaths from traffic, drownings and miscellaneous violence — 160 — compared with 111 reported in an Associated Press survey on May 18, a non-holiday Wednesday.

On that day, 70 traffic fatalities, 8 drownings and 33 deaths from miscellaneous mishaps were reported.

The record traffic death rate for any one-day holiday was set on Christmas 1946, when 253 persons were killed on the highways.

Ike Asks 34 To Help U.S. Map World Plans

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today invited 34 prominent Americans to help him map the world's future.

The president's "design team" will be made up of 34 people to people contacts and partnerships throughout the world.

The White House announced today that the president had selected 34 people to help him map the world's future.

Leaders in industry, publishing, education, agriculture, labor, music, law, sports, motion pictures, and Catholic, Protestant and Jewish groups were invited to meet at the White House June 12 to discuss the program.

The White House said Mr. Eisenhower would seek their ideas and help them in the "design team" to create "understanding among peoples and build a common effort to advance world peace."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty noted that Mr. Eisenhower has received many times in the past that American citizens can be of great assistance to the United States and the cause of peace in their own contacts with foreigners. The group will discuss possibilities of promoting "peace to people contacts."

Rioting Teenagers Terrorize Vessel

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A holiday outing ended in a voyage of terror for passengers aboard a Lake Erie amusement park vessel Wednesday night as teenagers rioted aboard the ship.

Reporters aboard the crowded Canadiana for the 15-mile trip from Crystal Beach amusement park in Ontario to this city described it as "a nightmare of flashing knives and screaming, frightened passengers."

Rioting aboard the Canadiana flared up after a day of disorders by white and Negro youths at the amusement park.

But F. L. Hall, general manager of the amusement park, said the disturbance there was "not a riot."

Six persons were treated for injuries at hospitals in Buffalo and Fort Erie, Ont., and at least 10 persons were treated for minor injuries at a first aid station at the park.

Provincial police arrested nine teenagers who made up the majority of the passengers.

The Negro youths were charged with "disorderly conduct" and "whites with creating a disturbance."

Ike Plans 'Energetic' Campaign, Asks For Republican Congress

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today cheering GOP campaign workers today that he is feeling fine and intends to campaign for reelection "as cheerfully, energetically and enthusiastically as it is possible to do so."

He said he feels so good that he wouldn't even know he had a heart attack last fall except that "the doctors keep reminding me of it."

Mr. Eisenhower told leaders of the recently reorganized Citizens for Eisenhower movement that he was perfectly ready to go forward.

He urged them to go out and fight the election.

But, clearly, there will never be enough diplomats and information officers at work in the world to get the job done. It will have to be done from the rest of us," the President wrote.

"Indeed, if my American ideology is eventually to win out in the great struggle being waged between the two opposing forces of peace and progress, it will require the energetic and enthusiastic support of thousands of individual Americans acting through private groups and individuals and of millions of individual Americans acting through mass communication in foreign lands."

The President said he is calling the 34 leaders to the White House as a preliminary to calling upon all Americans to help the government in explaining to others "the truth of our peaceful goals and the prospects of the rights of others."

Safety Belt's Record Directs General Use

Why aren't automobile safety belts in more general use in the Kankakee area?

There is plenty of evidence by now that the safety belts do help to minimize injuries in auto accidents. One of the latest reports to this effect comes from John Moore, director of the Division of Automobile Accident Injury Research of Cornell University Medical College.

Moore says research has shown ejection from a moving vehicle more than doubles the risk of injury, from moderate to fatal. He adds that if the seat belt does no more than control ejection, a very significant improvement can be expected in both frequency and severity of injuries.

He adds that other recommendations about the belts have been developed from study of injury-producing accidents and engineering research on safety belts in Cornell's aeronautical laboratory. Some of these are:

The belt should be no less than two inches wide. Buckles, end attachments and take-up devices in the belt should have a minimum breaking strength of 1,500 pounds, but the buckle should release or open with a maximum of 45 pounds of force.

Each belt should be for only one person. The belt should be adjustable to fit on the lap and over the pelvis and make an angle of about 45 degrees with the horizontal. There should never be more than four inches of slack.

The Cornell safety expert says that persons wearing safety belts have been in accidents at speeds up to 90 miles an hour without ejection from the smashed vehicles and without evidence of injury.

One safety belt manufacturer notes that highway patrols of more than 20 states now use safety belts. This manufacturer also reported that most children like to wear them. It's like playing an airplane, spaceplane game.

If the general excuse for not using them is that they are confining, so is a coffin.

Depressed Areas Can Best Help Themselves

DANVILLE COMMERCIAL NEWS

Congress is currently studying a federal aid plan for so-called depressed areas, including a large part of southern Illinois. Legislation would provide federal loans and other aids to stimulate construction of industrial plants in areas where there is a surplus of labor.

We don't believe this is the right approach. There are scores of communities in this country which have recovered through their own efforts. They have accepted the facts about themselves and by working diligently, cooperatively and intelligently managed to survive and expand.

In these times when inventive genius is developing even more goods and services, employing more and more people, we doubt the advisability of "made work" proposals.

Practically all national firms are decentralizing at a rapid pace today. Dozens of industrial plants are out looking over communities for prospective plants. The sites are picked on sound business and social principles. Government-financed plants in areas where firms do not see fit to locate now could hardly compete in the long run.

Communities are only as big as their leaders. The government should not be regarded as a delayed Santa Claus. The incentive energy and plans must come from within if dying communities want to recover.

Value Of Newspapers To Education Cited

John J. DeBoer, professor of education at the University of Illinois, told a recent Chicago educators' conference that "reading of newspapers is essential to education."

We've often heard arguments pro and con as to just what constitutes an education. Some say it is learning how to make a living; others maintain it is learning how to live, while still others would have one believe it is getting acquainted with what has been said and thought through the centuries, or developing the mind by picking the newspapers, he said.

We lean to the thought that education is learning to understand what is going on and Professor DeBoer happens to think the same way.

DeBoer told of giving a current events quiz to a group of bright university seniors. Most could only answer seven out of 27 questions. "They were too busy doing their homework to read the newspapers," he said.

U. S. Faces Big Problem

WASHINGTON—When the Soviet government wants to make a psychological move and weigh the probable impact on the people of Britain or America, they call in Burgess and Maclean, who are intimately familiar with the political weaknesses of the West.

But when the United States is confronted with the move that could affect the psychology of the people behind the Iron Curtain, nobody with a knowledge of the process of reasoning of the Russians sits David Lawrence in at the top councils. Decisions are made here on the basis of what American officials think is or will be the Russian reaction.

Thus today there is a big problem facing decision by the United States government. It is whether to open the policy-making group and now States Joint Chiefs of Staff to visit Moscow and to let the highest military commanders of the Soviet regime come here.

On the face of it, the American mind seems not wrong with it—just another means of creating a better "climate for peace."

BUT THE MEN who have knowledge of the Russian underground—the emigres who have fled from behind the Iron Curtain—are constantly warning that the United States must not appear to be giving sanction to permanent rule by the Moscow tyrants.

On the face of it, the American mind seems not wrong with it—just another means of creating a better "climate for peace."

Dr. Vladimir Porokhin, president of the National Alliance of Russian Solidarists—an organization that carries on underground activities in the United States—has written a few days ago and, in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report, he discusses the recent visit of Khrushchev and Bulganin to England. He says:

"I THINK KHRUSHCHEV and Bulganin have a double aim. The first aim, which we consider the main one, is to consolidate their prestige within their own country by showing their people that they are being well received abroad, and to use this prestige to stifle domestic opposition. They arrive particularly to deceive their people of the support from the free world."

Their second aim, which we regard as secondary, is to try once more to deceive the West, in accordance with the Leninist line to which they have now returned. Lenin was very optimistic concerning the possibility of fooling people in the West, because he knew that there were many fools there."

"What is your opinion concerning the wisdom or the unwisdom of the Geneva Conference?" He was asked. Here is his reply:

"I think that, because of the prevailing atmosphere in the world today, because of everyone's fear of war, it would have been difficult to take the meeting at Geneva. Personally, I would rather it had not taken place. Whether or not such meetings can be avoided in the future will depend on public opinion in the West. Only public opinion can give the Western governments solid ground to stand upon in refusing to participate in such meetings."

GEN. TWINING, chief of the U.S. Air Force, probably will go to Moscow for the air show next month along with air generals from Britain and France. But if the Russians invite the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff as a whole and the invitation is accepted, then the Russian chiefs will want to come here, too. It would mean also that Khrushchev and Bulganin would feel that the United States could not fail to invite them. A number of military missions from Soviet Russia to Moscow are expected in the near future.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Freer Satellites, Tito Aim

President Tito of Yugoslavia is likely to ask Russia next week to loosen its grip on its eastern European satellite governments.

Tito, the only Communist leader who ever successfully defied Joseph Stalin, is due to arrive in Moscow Tuesday.

He is returning the humiliating visit which Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev paid him one year ago this month.

Mr. B. and Mr. K. went to Belgrade to apologize for the savage attacks which Stalin—and they themselves—had made on Tito as the result of his break with Kremlin Communism in 1948.

Mr. B. and Mr. K. invited Tito during their visit to go to Moscow. It has taken him long to plan the time. Mr. A. seems pretty clear that he has decided to go now because he thinks the situation which arose from Stalin's denouncing is developing favorably.

TITO TOLD A United Press correspondent last week in Belgrade that he intends to discuss a wide range of subjects including Yugoslav-Russian relations and international diplomatic problems.

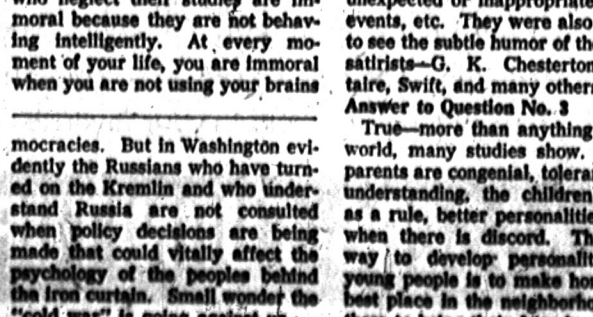

"Tito said that he regarded the denouncing of Stalin as marking a 'great historical change' in Russian history."

This change, he said, would affect future developments both in Russia itself and in other eastern countries.

He especially emphasized that the change has brought about the possibility of different states being able to take different paths to socialism.

That referred to Russia's satellite states.

Quick Action In Case Of Poisoning

Weed killers and other gardening poisons can be found in most homes this time of year.

These are just one group of poisons which you must protect your children against. Sleeping pills are another—and there are many more.

Quick action is essential in any case of accidental poisoning. Labels of most poisons contain instructions for administering antidotes. Read the label even before you open the container—just to be prepared.

Here are some steps you should follow even before you take the time to find an antidote.

If someone in your home should swallow an overdose of any sleeping drug or liquor, or take any gardening or vermin extermination poison, 1-0-1 is a sure remedy.

1—Force him to swallow large quantities of water containing baking soda or soda (not detergent soda). If no soda or soap is immediately handy, make him drink a lot of lukewarm tap water. This helps to dilute the poison as well as induce vomiting.

2—Make the patient vomit repeatedly until the fluid is as clear as when it was swallowed.

3—Give him a dose of epsom salts—a glass of water containing one heaping teaspoon.

4—Then give him any antidote which might be on the label of the bottle which contained the poison swallowed.

One more word about sleeping pills. If the patient has taken an overdose of one of them, you should continue treatment after following the above procedures by giving him strong black coffee in easy doses. But be careful not to exhaust him.

Don't give coffee or any other stimulant to anyone who has swallowed strychnine.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J. G.: What causes brown spots on the skin and what can be done for them?

By George E. Sokolsky

A Point Of View

I got to talking to a window washer—you know, a fellow who stands on a window ledge a dozen or two stories above the street, looking out to a leaden sky, washing windows, hopping from window ledge to window ledge, and causing a sensitive person to look away for fear that he might drop.

This was a rather good-looking fellow who somehow made me feel that he ought to be in an office. I asked a girl in my office why she thought he risked his life washing windows and she was sure it was for the pay. But how much pay could he get? I couldn't remember whether he was paid as much as the young lady.

So we finally got the story. The fellow had been in the Marines. And he went to college and learned some kind of stuff under the GI Bill of Rights which required him to work indoors, at a desk, in an office. It made him nervous.

He could not eat. He could not sleep nights. He smoked too much. He became a nervous wreck. Inside work was not for an ex-Marine.

Q. Sokolsky lost all his nervousness. He can stand on a ledge, 20 stories or more above the sidewalk, washing a window and he feels fine.

He now says well. He sleeps well. Everything is OK. So it only goes to show that what is one man's meat is another man's poison and that nobody can set up rules that hold for everybody.

For instance, even in this country, we now have a propaganda to turn out more scientists and engineers and the college boys are being mangled and mangled until they get not an education but a training which is a very different thing. That Jockey, Bill Pearson, on "The $64,000 Question," seems to me to be an educated man, but I have met many important engineers and scientists and men who are regarded as wonders in their fields but who know no history, no art, no philosophy, no music. In a word, they have lived long and prosperously but without education. They have no culture.

PERHAPS WE NEED to become a nation of chess players to develop realistic, competent minds that can think beyond the advertiser's slogans to the components of a problem and the facts that challenge human conduct. In a word, here we face a coldly statistical fact that two nations, Soviet Russia and Red China, which were of slight significance a decade ago, now are strong enough to challenge our existence and we still live in a realm of rook and pawn concepts. It is not only scientists and engineers that we need but men of independent thought and imaginative action. We need more educated men and women who can think for the doers.

Teachers and professors are very touchy people and they get very excited if one criticizes their little realm. But the question at issue is what has happened to that brilliant, initiating, competent, go-getting American mind that developed our great industrial base not by the routine of unimaginative, over-cautious applied management that concerns itself principally with security and seniority and fringe benefits, but that took chances and risks and built a private, personal fortune to be used at will and left after death to a family? There was ambition in that process and a tremendous excitement over life.

THE WINDOW WASHER who left the fringe benefits of an office to stand on a ledge and wash windows because that is what he wants to do seems to me to be a smart man who is doing what he chooses to do, for himself and for his own satisfaction. He will not die of ulcers or a nervous breakdown even if he never gets any fringe benefits. He has the courage of his convictions and risks his neck for them which he finds a more interesting life experience than shinning his trousers on a towel chair waiting for a pension.

And after the pension—what job? Surely after retirement and a pension must either come another job or work for decay and death.

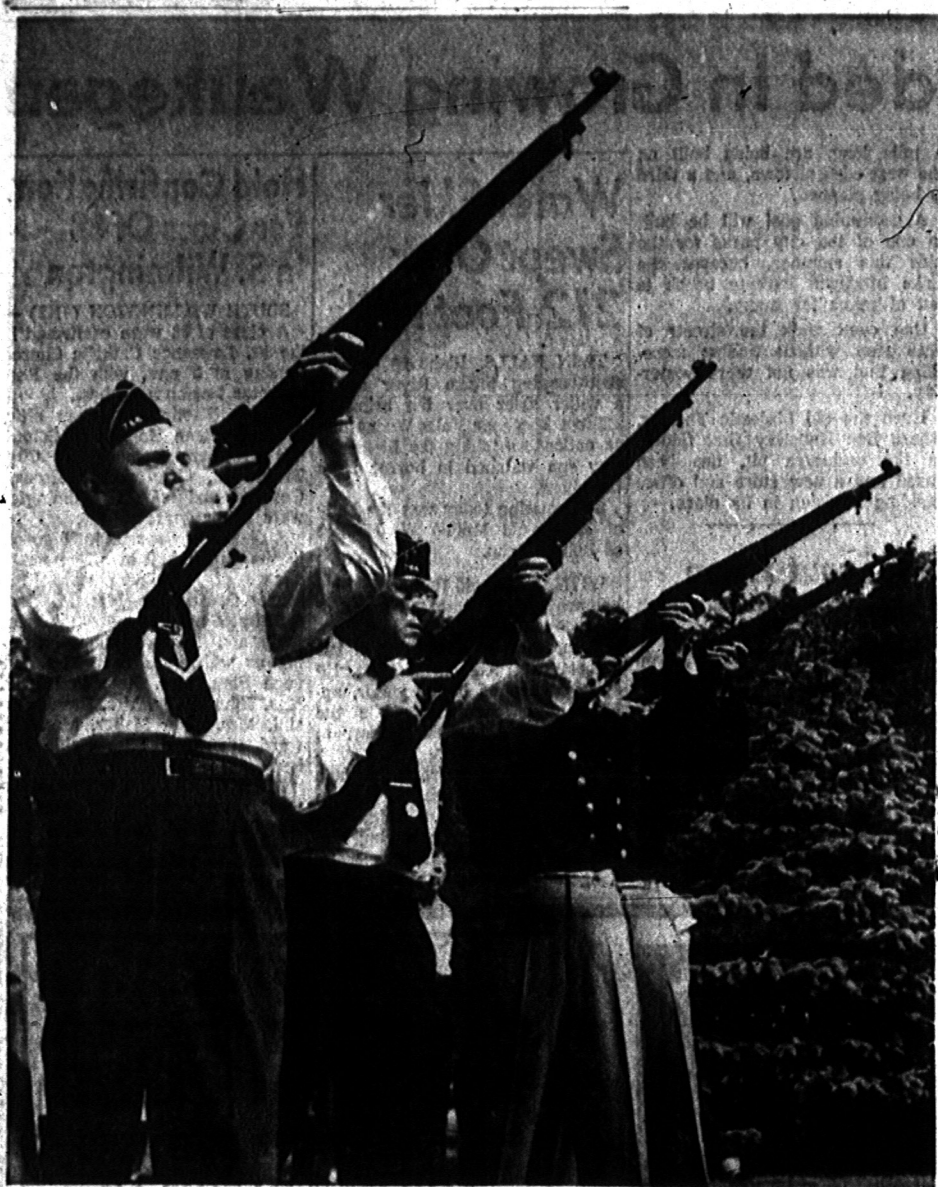

WISHING WELL

Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 8 or more, subtract 8 from the number to get your score. If the number is less than 8, subtract 1 from the number to get your score. Then look at the list of wishes and see how many you can fulfill.

Bradley, Other Towns Mark Memorial Day

Bradley, Momence and Manteno joined communities of the Kankakee area and nation Wednesday in individual parades honoring America's war dead.

Albert Green, 70, Gilman, Found Dead In Room

GILMAN (JNS) — Albert J. Green, 70, was found dead this morning in his room on N. Central street.

Mr. Green was found by his son, Francis, who had gone to check on his father when he didn't show up for breakfast. He apparently had died fully clothed in a chair in his room.

The Iroquois County coroner will conduct an inquiry into the death. Mr. Green had been known to have been ill for some time.

Mr. Green was born Dec. 23, 1868, in Gilman. He attended Gilman schools and was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

He was married Aug. 20, 1913 to the former Daisy Ward in Kenosha, Wis.

Surviving are the widow, sons, Francis and LaVerne, all of Gilman, daughters, Mrs. Helen Gercken of Watseka and Mrs. Eloise Sheer of Tuscola; a brother, Charles Green, and a sister, Mrs. Clarence Solberg, both of Gilman, and four grandsons.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Reilly Funeral Chapel. Burial will be in Gilman Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday after 2 p.m. and until the hour of the service.

AMERICAN LEGION and Veterans of Foreign Wars post of Bradley carry the colors in a Memorial Day parade which attracted a great portion of the village's population to the ceremonies honoring the war dead. School, club, business and industry, police and fire units also participated in the parade and ensuing memorial program at the American Legion building and in Bourbonnais Cemetery.

Woman's Relief Corps and included Ziegls gave the principal speech. Experts estimate Russia has 20,000 first line combat planes and 20,000 reserves.

PREPARING TO FIRE a rifle salute to Bradley's deceased war veterans are members of the Bradley American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars units. The salute was fired, the war honor roll was read and flower girls decorated crosses at the plaque located at the American Legion building on W. Broadway. (Journal photos)

The Baron Huot Oil Co. office, 200 N. West Ave., was entered sometime Tuesday night or early Wednesday and the thief obtained $10 from a petty cash box, police said. The thief broke the front door glass to gain entry to the building.

YOU WILL HAVE TROUBLE FINDING CHARLIE'S RESTAURANT IN MOMENCE

But if you still want to try, we are six blocks north of the hotel and four blocks east. Why ANYONE in his right mind would put a restaurant in that location, NO ONE will ever know, not even Charlie.

But here we are, and here you come (we hope)! If you get lost, ask anyone where Charlie's is, they're all used to being asked that question by now. We serve from 5:30 P.M. until 9:30 P.M. every evening. Diners are from $1.10 to $2.00, and sandwiches from 25c to 55c.

Winners Of Annual Safety Poster Contest

Among year-end activities at Kansas City High School was the awarding of prizes by United Commercial Travelers in its annual safety poster contest. Winners (left to right) are Anita Hertz, first; Maria LaVelle, third; and Edward Leuderbach, second. First, second and third cash awards of $5, $3 and $2 were made. Miss Hertz's poster urged drivers to learn to recognize traffic signs by their colors, shape and size, as well as by lettering. LaVelle's poster pointed out that many accidents happen in the home and Leuderbach's picture cautions against driving and drinking. (Journal photo)

President Prays In Nearly Empty Church

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower prayed in a nearly empty church Wednesday for the nation's gallant war dead. The President led the nation in the 8th observance of Memorial Day when he walked from the White House across Lafayette Park and knelt for a few minutes in historic St. John's Episcopal Church.

Wife Shoots Lock To Get At Duggan

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Commentator Tom Duggan's bride shot the lock off the door of his television Friday's apartment Wednesday while he was there but his assistant wasn't hurt, police reported.

Mrs. Ann Ruggan, 36, was booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

But she was released shortly from the West Los Angeles police station without being placed in a cell. She was freed on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by her husband, who also arranged her $1,500 bail. Police quoted him as saying he would not prosecute. His wife said the two revolver shots were accidental.

DETROIVE SGT. Jack Goch said the principals in the incident gave this account:

Duggan, 40, formerly a Chicago commentator, and his bride of less than three months got into a spat at their home.

Duggan left and went to the Wilshire Boulevard apartment of Judith Des Jones, who as Judy Jones answers telephone queries from viewers and occasionally sings on his live-tv weekly late-evening show on a local TV station.

He explained later to police that he didn't go to a hotel "because somebody might see me and make something of it."

He said Miss Jones admitted him to the apartment but left shortly thereafter to go fishing with a man friend.

HIS WIFE, meanwhile, drove to the apartment and saw Duggan's car parked at the curb. Presently the two 38-caliber revolver shots went through the apartment door.

Mrs. Duggan said later: "I'm sorry it happened. I was knocking on the door with the gun when it went off. It was an accident."

The building manager, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Torrey, prohibited the shots and refused to admit her to the apartment while she was armed. Mrs. Duggan strode away, telephoned police and left her gun.

Werner W. Schroeder, vice chairman of the CTA, put the suggestion forward Wednesday as a "personal idea for discussion" by public officials. It may be a possible solution to such problems as the plight of the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin Railroad, he said.

SCHROEDER suggested corporations created by the state legislature with authority to issue bonds and levy taxes to retire bonds and construction of such facilities as highways in the median strip of new super highways.

The new corporations would be operated by the CTA on a rent basis under the proposal. Schroeder began studying the problem as a research project two years ago in cooperation with Northwestern University. The project was an alternative to a legislative inquiry into CTA affairs.

The population of the Republic of Ireland has been virtually unchanged since 1926.

From Flour Sacks To Guided Missiles

Only The Cast Of Characters Has Changed In U. S. Interservice Bickering

ONLY THE CAST—Following is the first of a two-part series recalling past instances of interservice bickering and reviewing the latest flap of military rivalry.

WASHINGTON (UP)—A zealous pilot who dropped a sack of flour on an Army command post more than three decades ago probably touched off the air-soldier wrangle over military missions.

The argument—stemming from pride of service and sincerity of purpose—has lived on. It is still here, new only in the cast of characters and the stage setting of guided missiles, jet planes and atomic weapons.

Details of the flour sack incident—the time, the place, the man—have been crowded from the record by all the angry words uttered since.

A FEW OLD soldiers and fliers recall that back in the early 1920s an Army maneuver was being carried out. The pilot of one of the stick-and-rod biplanes was assigned to scout for the cavalry.

He decided to inject a third dimension into battle. From a commissary he acquired a bag of flour. Flying over "enemy" headquarters, he dropped the flour, marking in white for all to see the spot where the "bomb" hit.

As weapons and the art of war have changed, so have some of the doctrines and aspirations of the services.

The Army today has its own "organic aviation," planes and helicopters used for a variety of missions of the battlefield, including the airlift of small units of troops and the resupply of forward battle positions.

It has more. Today the Army has missiles—short-range rockets, anti-aircraft guided missiles, medium-range bombardment guided missiles, a 300-mile range ballistic missile—and a project to build one of 1,500 miles range, "the Jupiter."

WITHIN THE Air Force there is feeling that all this new flexibility of the Army means it is stretching its mission to intrude upon that of the Air Force.

One of the points now in controversy concerns an Air Force project to adopt and improve upon a Navy-designed anti-aircraft missile, the Talos, to be used by the Air Force for defense of its bases. It doesn't need or want the Army's Nike missile which, says the Air Force, with some support from the Defense Department, will be inferior in range and performance.

THE growing Navy carrier program and the expanding heavy bomber project of the Air Force have added fuel to the fire.

Two top Air generals recently pointed up the argument before congressional committees.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, chief of the strategic air command, says that in strategy-making "we never are able to plan definitely on the first because we don't know where they are going to be."

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, based his attack on two contentions:

1. The range of carrier-based planes "is relatively short" compared with that of land-based bombers.

2. "We must be realistic about such factors as the probable location of the carriers, as well as the amount of striking power they could contribute to the strategic attack."

ADM. ARLEIGH Burke, chief of naval operations, reiterates the Navy's publicly proclaimed position—its "primary role" is to maintain control of the sea. He says the Navy is the world's most powerful and will continue to develop the capability of striking the source of air threats.

President Eisenhower has added forward an aircraft carrier to the Navy. At a news conference, the commander in chief declared the U.S. Navy is the world's most powerful and will continue to develop the capability of striking the source of air threats.

Then he added that no matter how efficient in range, the farther forward an aircraft carrier is carried before taking off, the less time it needs to spend in the air and "the more efficient it operates in war."

Young Adults, Chatsworth, Will Meet

CHATSORTH (JNS)—The Young Adults will meet in the Methodist Church dining room Sunday at 6:30 p.m. for a potluck supper.

Mrs. J. R. Kesterson will lead the devotions. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kyburz will have charge of the program, which will include a motion picture, "Never Alone," produced this year and released by the National Council of Temperance.

The picture is built around a young athlete and is beamed to teenagers and young adults.

The David Hill family and the James Dunn family, who are moving from the community, will be special guests. The social committee for the evening includes Mr. and Mrs. William Rosenblatt, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dehm and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Collins.

Aroma Park 8th Grade Promotion Set For Friday

AROMA PARK (JNS)—Eighth grade promotion exercises will be held Friday at 8 p.m. in the grade school gymnasium.

Fortnight will receive diploma, presented by Ruel Hall, county superintendent of schools. The Rev. Charles Robertson of St. Anne will be the main speaker.

Widow Remembers Famed Warrior

CACHE, Okla. (UP)—Quash Parker was remembered Wednesday by Topsy, the last surviving widow of the famed Comanche Indian chief.

The old and crippled Indian woman visited Parker's grave and said she is "looking forward to joining him." The chief died 45 years ago, but Topsy, the last of his eight wives, has lost track of her age. She admits to having married Parker when she was 25.

Natives Up To Date

Dreamy South Sea Isles Gone Forever

HONOLULU (U)—The dreamy, unsophisticated South Pacific is no more. The island natives, via radio and war gained knowledge, are strictly up to date.

Join clad baseball teams sporting pitchers with a wicked curve, school teachers strictly up on the racial situation and natives who turn down cigarettes of the wrong brand are the things that travelers find now.

The Navy destroyer escort Whitehurst found the baseball team on a palm-ringed atoll named Lukonor. The chief of the island challenged the sailors to a game.

"The natives were made of palm leaves and driftwood and there was an outrigger canoe in center field. The natives had no gloves or shoes and their uniforms were loin clothes, but they could play baseball."

Lt. (JG) Tom Kelleher from Salem, Mass., the ship's athletic officer got up a team of pretty confident sailors — until they got to bat.

The natives won 7 to 4. "The only reason we got any runs at all was because their second baseman couldn't field a ground ball," Kelleher said.

The lieutenant struck out the first time up, and singled the second. It was the only really solid hit the sailors got.

"I never saw anything like that pitcher. He had a really wicked curve," said Kelleher, who played three years of college ball.

David B. George of Honolulu, back from an eight months cruise in the South Seas, said he visited an island in the Fiji group that hadn't had a white man on it in 20 years.

"A NATIVE walked up and asked him: 'Mac, how are you handling the'"

Mixes Old With New In Home, Farm Retreat

Is the modern homemaker spoiled... with all of her new household gadgets, streamlined for efficiency and time-saving? If you think so, and if you should visit Mrs. Gordon Graves at 488 S. May Ave., you would have a good example of homemaking at its easiest.

Take Mrs. Graves' kitchen for example. It is planned to save steps with a stainless steel oven built into the wall and the latest of all inventions planned to make housework easier than ever before. Pretty odd!

But wait... Visit Mrs. Graves again on Sunday when she and her husband go to the cottage or rather "the farm." Like many other Kankakeans, the Graves have a country retreat for weekends or summer days when they want to "get away from it all."

One thing the Graves are "getting away from" is modern convenience. At their farm, everything is as it was almost 100 years ago. The kitchen is a striking contrast to their in-town room of the same name. In one corner stands an old fashioned cook stove with a corn cob for building a fire, warming bricks and a huge coffee pot which could take care of many a farm hand. An old fashioned coffee grinder and an oil lamp with reflector adorn the wall and on the kitchen floor is a large rug dated (in embroidery) 1883. There is outdoor plumbing, a clock with instructions on how to tell time and a cupboard full of old fashioned liniments and remedies.

Special prizes were won by Mrs. Susan Clodi, mother of the oldest child; Mrs. George Lochner, mother of the most children; Mrs. James Webber, youngest mother and Mrs. Earl Frerichs, mother of the youngest child.

Other prize winners were Mrs. Bejt, Mrs. Rudes, Mrs. Russell Jordan and Mrs. Oliver Fritz.

Lunch was served by a committee composed of the Mesdames Laverne A. Wagner, chairman; Walt Gienney, Henry Bertrand, Art Barscheffeld, Ernest Schnell, Alfred Theupen, Earl Frerichs and James Webber.

THE OLD FASHIONED... Showing a marked contrast to her modern kitchen, Mrs. Graves prepares to start a cob fire in the old cook stove, on the farm. Mr. and Mrs. Graves spend Sundays and many summer days at their "farm" which lacks modern conveniences but is filled with reminders of the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schumaker and Pearl of 108 S. Alma Ave. have returned home from a week's vacation at New York City, N. Y.

Mrs. William Dwyer of Essex is home after spending the winter months in Florida.

Miss Josephine Agatone Honored At Shower
Miss Josephine Agatone was honored at a personal bridal shower Sunday at her home at 445 S. Lincoln Ave.

Hostesses were the Mesdames Barbara Agatone, Rose Roberto, Virginia DeCarlo and Amelia Mazza. The honored guest received gifts. She opened them at a table decorated with a pink chiffon umbrella and centered with a two tiered cake.

Game prize winners were Miss Audrey Francouer, Mrs. Leo Clacelo, Miss Mary Hodak and Mrs. Vallo Roberto.

Miss Agatone will become the bride of August J. Leone at 10 a. m. June 16 at St. Rose of Lima Church.

Charles Garland of 442 N. Washington Ave., is home following a week's vacation trip to Lake Reelfoot, Memphis, Muscle Shoals, Nashville and Mammoth Cave, all in Tennessee and Kentucky.

The honored guests received gifts. The evening was spent socially and games were played.

"LIVE BETTER FOR LESS"

Spur-Of-Moment Sunday Food

Is Sunday supper at your house sometimes a spur-of-the-moment affair? Does the cook go into the kitchen late that lazy afternoon to prepare what she's moved to put on the table for a casual meal?

If you're a wise family planner, you'll have natural cheddar cheese on hand. The cheese makes so many good dishes when it is teamed with everyday ingredients.

Nowadays natural cheddar comes packaged in vacuum-sealed transparent wrapping. The plastic bags are shrink-to-fit the cheese so no air can get in; this means that the cheese may be safely refrigerated for many weeks.

Here are some spur-of-the-moment cheddar cheese dishes for which you do not need meticulous recipes.

GRILLED CHEESE SANDWICHES—Our favorite way to prepare these is to grill the sandwiches in butter in an iron skillet. A large skillet will take three sandwiches—two whole ones and one cut in half. The first trick in making these sandwiches is to use plenty of butter—1 tablespoon for each side of each sandwich. If you're feeling extravagant and are not calorie conscious, the second trick is to grill the sandwiches slowly.

Embellish the sandwiches, if you like, by adding whatever is in the refrigerator to the cheese: thin slices of boiled ham, a layer of chutney or sweet pickle relish, strips of dates and sliced walnuts.

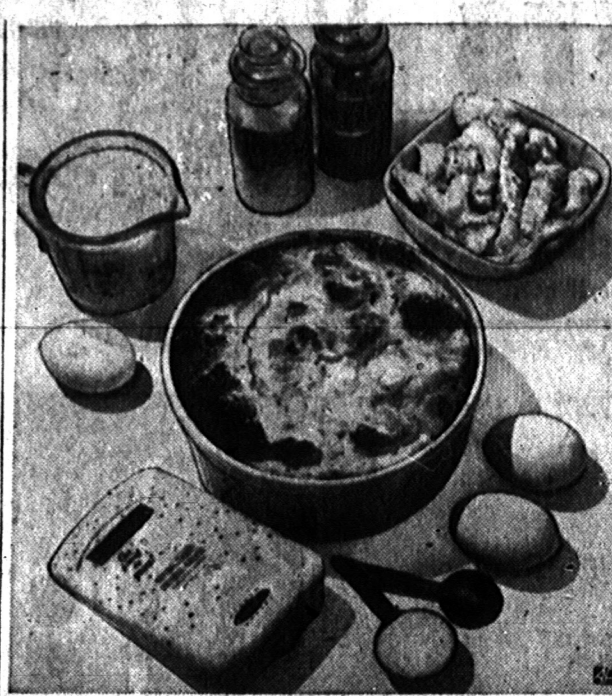

CHEESE RABBIT—For this make a medium cream sauce with plenty of grated cheese stirred in after the sauce has thickened. The rabbit is delicious served over toast or crisp crackers and topped with tomatoes.

If the tomatoes in the house are fresh, cut them in half crosswise, sprinkle the cut surface with salt, pepper and dried crushed basil, then dot with butter or margarine before broiling.

If the tomatoes come out of a can from your pantry shelf, heat them carefully so as not to break them; then drain well with a large slotted kitchen spoon and use these for your topping.

If you have stewed tomatoes on hand, you'll use these of course without further seasoning. If the canned tomatoes are the plain sort, you may add seasonings during the heating: salt, pepper, a dash of sugar, basil.

The juice left from the tomatoes may be refrigerated and added to a soup, a sauce or a gravy.

CHEESE FONDUE — Do you know this good dish? Along with the cheese, it uses milk, bread, butter or margarine, eggs, salt and dry mustard. Serve the fondue with tomato aspic (it comes in cans) on salad greens. Or serve a fresh salad of sliced tomatoes and cucumbers, lettuce and green onions. Here's the recipe for the fondue:

CHEESE FONDUE

Ingredients: 1 cup milk, 1 cup fresh bread crumbs, 4 ounces cheddar cheese (chopped), 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 3 eggs (separated).

Beat yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Slowly but vigorously stir cheese mixture into yolks. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Fold into cheese-yolk mixture. Pour into buttered 1-quart baking or soufflé dish. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven for 30 minutes. Fondue will stand up a little longer if left in the oven with door ajar an additional 10 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Fruit Spread Is Tasty And Useful

THREE FRUITS—Fresh pineapple, dried apricots and a whole orange—go into a sweet spread we find wonderfully useful. We like to prepare a batch of this fruit preserve—it makes 3 pints—and store it in our refrigerator. When we want to give guests take-home gifts, we ladle some of it into small jars; we use the rest in various ways. When we made this spread recently, we put the pineapple and whole orange through the fine blade of an electric foodgrinder; the apricots were put through the coarse blade so they would add nuggets of color and flavor. The electric grinder is particularly efficient for this job. It's easy to change from fine to coarse blade. Then, too, the fruit juices drip down through the blade with the fruit pulp.

FRUIT FOR SPREAD—A fresh pineapple, dried apricots and an orange combine in a unusual delicacy. An electric grinder is a big help in making it.

The grinder is so simple to clean we're inclined to believe a woman designed it. Its base has no recesses, corners or open grills to catch food; a damp cloth wipes it off in a moment.

And summer hostesses take note: an ice crusher attachment comes with this grinder. No work at all to interchange grinder and crusher attachments.

PINEAPPLE APRICOT SPREAD

Ingredients: 1 large pineapple, 1

of food grinder. Put apricots through coarse blade of food grinder. Turn pineapple pulp, pineapple juice, ground whole orange and apricots into a large kettle with sugar and 2 cups water. Stir over low heat until sugar dissolves. Cook rapidly, stirring about every 5 minutes to prevent scorching, until thickened—about 20 minutes. Makes about 3 pints. Store in refrigerator.

Note: This makes a spread that is not over-sweet.

USING YOUR SPREAD

Add brandy flavoring to the spread and use as a filling for a layer of sponge cake. (Cut the cake in half crosswise with a serrated bread knife). Frost the cake with whipped cream sweetened with confectioners' sugar and flavored with vanilla; sprinkle with chopped toasted blanched almonds if desired.

Make sandwiches using the spread as a filling. Cut each sandwich into three strips. Dip strips in a French toast egg-and-milk mixture and fry in butter until golden brown. Serve at once; dust with a little confectioners' sugar. Serve the spread with well-buttered toasted English muffins; it's just tart enough for this use.

PRETTY CENTERPIECE and pretty housewife add attractiveness to a glass tray of Butterscotch Chip Cookies. The housewife is Mrs. Clarence Ivanoski, a new resident of Kankakee.

New Resident Makes Her Cookies With Butterscotch Chips

By MARY JEAN HOUDÉ

"If I only had time to bake!" How many working wives have made that statement.

Mrs. Clarence Ivanoski, a newcomer to Kankakee who resides at 1600 E. Maple St., was a working wife before moving to Kankakee but now she spends her daytime hours at home. She makes those hours count by performing such housewife duties as baking.

Of the foods she has baked in recent months (they moved here last January), Mrs. Ivanoski has a favorite cookie which she could well brag about. It is a Butterscotch Chip Cookie, which could also be a Chocolate Chip Cookie.

Mrs. Ivanoski says that either butterscotch or chocolate chips are good but the butterscotch chips are newer. The cookies are frosted and really worth the effort of any housewife, working or not.

Mrs. Ivanoski is a native of Racine, Wis. She plays the piano

Bradley Church To Show Film

"Beyond the Bells," a 50-minute sound motion picture in full color depicting the life story of Jack Anderson, missionary in Bolivia South America since the age of 12, is scheduled to be shown Sunday at 7:45 p.m. in the Bradley Four-square Church, 704 E. Broadway. The Rev. Delmar S. Walker, pastor.

"The challenge of the film so dramatically and professionally presented is tremendous," reveals the Rev. Mr. Walker. "This fascinating story of a missionary's work over many years among the Siriono Indians in the Green Hell country of Bolivia shows the transformation of a tribe from savage heathenism to civilized Christians."

SHOPPERS' GUIDE: Illinois strawberries are in full swing now... coming from the central and southern parts of the state. The quality is very good and the price very reasonable. Most stores will feature strawberries for weekend shoppers.

Tomatoes from Florida and Texas should be available at a lower price. Lettuce, peppers and cucumbers will be much higher this weekend.

The leaf lettuce, radishes and asparagus on the market are locally grown—good in quality and fairly reasonable in price. Spinach and green beans are coming from southern Illinois.

The potato market is a little higher this weekend but reasonable compared to other foods. The new potatoes are from the southern and western states. There are watermelons from Florida (very good and reasonable for this time of the year). Bing cherries and plums have begun to arrive. Grapes are strictly a luxury.

Bananas will be a featured item for the weekend.

HOW BIG IS BIG? That's what we're wondering here at RUDY'S. What size shopping carts do we need? The reason we're wondering is because MORE and MORE fine Kankakeeland folks are buying MORE and MORE food at RUDY'S!

Think we'll ever get to the size pictured above? This is the "World's Largest Shopping Cart." It attracted a lot of attention at the Supermarket Institute convention recently at Cleveland, so we got Rudy to pose with it to give you folks an idea of just what a whopper it really is.

This was just one of many exhibits at Cleveland. Seriously, the annual Supermarket Institute Convention is one great stimulating gathering of supermarket men and supermarket ideas.

We at Rudy's attend all such vital meetings. That's because we want to keep "in-the-know" concerning the latest techniques which enable Rudy's to bring you the very finest in service and quality at the lowest everyday prices in Kankakeeland.

SATURDAY SUPPER
Quick trick with
Hamburgers with Tomato Sauce
Buttered Noodles
Broccoli Crusty Bread

Ingredients: 1 pound ground beef, 1 medium-sized onion, 1 tablespoon fat, salt and pepper, 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) spaghetti sauce with mushrooms (meatless), 2 tablespoons cooking sherry.

Method: Make 8 thin flat oval patties of the beef. Cut 4 very thin round slices from the middle of the onion, do not separate into rings. Place an onion slice in the center of four of the patties; cover with remaining 4 patties; press edges together well. Heat fat in 10-inch skillet; brown patties quickly on both sides, sprinkling them with salt and pepper; turn heat low and cook to desired doneness, turning as necessary. Pour off fat from skillet, but leave browned particles. Add spaghetti sauce to skillet; heat slowly, scraping up browned particles from bottom of skillet with wooden spoon. Stir in sherry. Makes 4 servings.

Note: Tightly wrap the part of the onion not used in waxed paper and store in refrigerator crisper for other use.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the difficult jobs of house-keeping is to wax linoleum and asphalt tile floors. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it's no longer necessary to wax and scrub; just apply Glaxo about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that repels dirt, cleans, dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor.

SWANNELL'S

Fresh Strawberry Pie Is A Real Taste Treat

Up at the lovely Lowell Inn, Stillwater, Minn., they'll tell you that if you like Strawberry Pie, you will love about their Open Fresh Strawberry Pie, and if you have never liked strawberry pie, you'll certainly enjoy it now. At any rate, you will agree with me that this is the "strawberriest" pie that you've ever tasted.

To make the rich crust pie shell, blend thoroughly 1 cup flour and 1/2 cup shortening. Then mix together 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon cold water and add to the above mixture. Roll out and bake in a 9-inch pie plate in 425 F. oven for 15 minutes.

To make the filling, mix together 1 cup crushed fresh strawberries and 1 cup sugar, with 1 tablespoon cornstarch — and let boil until transparent. Put enough fresh strawberries in the pie shell to fill the pie and pour the hot berry syrup over the fresh berries. Chill and serve.

Note: Tightly wrap the part of the onion not used in waxed paper and store in refrigerator crisper for other use.

Take the rich crust pie shell, blend thoroughly 1 cup flour and 1/2 cup shortening. Then mix together 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon cold water and add to the above mixture. Roll out and bake in a 9-inch pie plate in 425 F. oven for 15 minutes.

To make the filling, mix together 1 cup crushed fresh strawberries and 1 cup sugar, with 1 tablespoon cornstarch — and let boil until transparent. Put enough fresh strawberries in the pie shell to fill the pie and pour the hot berry syrup over the fresh berries. Chill and serve.

And It Cuts Price Of Home

Future Kitchen 'Shows Off' Cook

CHICAGO (UP)—The dining room was the first to go, and now a design expert says the kitchen is on its way out.

Frank Carioti contends that the kitchen as a separate room is about as outmoded as the wash tub and the corrugated scrub board.

Carioti, market specialist for the Dave Chapman industrial design office, said the "kitchen of tomorrow" will be part of a single, large family-living area.

HE SOUNDS enthusiastic about it, too.

But in an unguarded moment he will tell that separate kitchens are expensive, and doing away with them would help builders keep the price of small homes within reach.

"The separate kitchen will disappear because it is no longer useful in the way it was intended," Carioti expounded.

"There was a need for a closed-in kitchen when food preparation was a messy kind of drudgery."

"But now, with automatic appliances and with food coming into the house—pre-cleaned, frozen, packaged and sometimes even pre-cooked, most of the labor and mess have been done away with."

Carioti said householders should shed their old-fashioned notions and "forget all the corny jokes about dishwashing and kitchen drudgery."

"These activities can be fun for the whole family," he said, and with a straight face, too.

SO FAR, CARIOTI said, the trend has been to bring kitchen equipment into the living area with "perhaps no more change than the addition of color."

"But for the home of tomorrow," he said, "designers are giving kitchen appliances, cabinets and furnishings a graceful living room look."

He said dining tables will be equipped with outlets for "hand-some new appliances" which already are available. These are designed not only for cooking but for keeping food at proper temperatures.

And just how will the housewife like the idea of cooking in full view of her guests?

"Exhibition cooking adds a note of showmanship that appeals to both the man and woman of the house," Carioti said.

He said the cook takes on "added glamor."
