4 Killed As Bomber Crashes At Denver

88 Graduate From Bradley High School

Speaker Urges Class To 'Give More Than It Inherits'

The major responsibility of this generation is to give more than it inherited to the next generation, Bradley - Bourbonnais Community High School seniors were told Thursday night at their commencement.

Speaker was Dr. Elmer J. Clark, director of the graduate school at Indiana State Teachers College. The commencement exercises, in which 88 seniors received diplomas, were held in the high school gymnasium.

Among the highlights was the presentation of the American Legion awards to the outstanding boy and girl graduates. The awards were made to Jeanette Gerretse, valedictorian of the class, and Don Lytle, one of the top three-sport athletes in the school. The awards were presented in behalf of the Bradley American Legion post by Herman Patnaude.

Dr. Clark spoke to the graduates on the subject, "You, the Citizen." He pointed out that today's generation has inherited many opportunities, opportunities that some of the past generations didn't have.

"You have freedom, you have rights and liberties and you have the concept that the individual is important," he declared. "You can live the kind of life you want as long as you abide by certain laws. As an individual you command respect, you're not just one of the mob."

THE SPEAKER pointed out that past generations were handicapped by several "lacks"—the lack of opportunity, the lack of a democratic form of government, the lack of respect for the individual, the lack of basic freedoms.

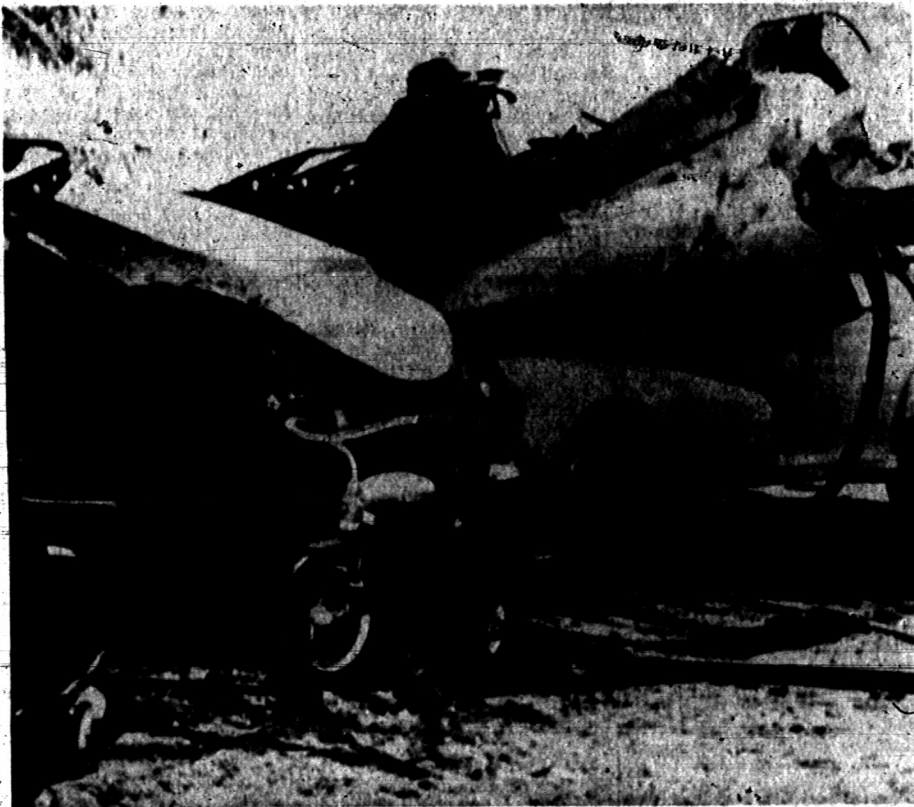

"In spite of these, however," he continued, "these generations gave us a great deal."

In discussing the America of today Dr. Clark pointed out that it is strong because of its forefathers, its natural resources, its democracy and the fact that it is a composite of many nationalities, races and religions.

"The question in your mind probably is 'how can I help?'" he said. "First you can take advantage of the opportunities available. Second you can respect the rights of other people. Third you can stand up for the rights and liberties of democracy. Fourth you can be a participating citizen. And fifth you can pass these opportunities on to the next generation."

"PEOPLE ALWAYS SAY that the current generation is going to the dogs. Somehow or other each generation always comes out on top. It is the hope of my generation that yours will accept its responsibilities so that America will continue to grow. It is my sincere hope that your generation won't have to go to war as mine did."

The valedictorian address was given by Miss Gerretse and the salutatorian by Don Lytle.

Tragedy Occurs As B-25 Limpes Back To Base

No One Hurt As Craft Hits Populated Area; 4 Aboard Survive

DENVER (UP)—An Air Force twin-engine B-25 bomber crashed and burned in a heavily populated suburban Denver area today, killing four of the eight persons aboard.

One house was set afire by the flames.

The other four persons were injured seriously and hospitalized.

One of the eight was a WAF. It was not known immediately whether she was one of the survivors.

The plane narrowly missed three homes and pieces of the wreckage came to rest within feet of the residences. Flames from the bomber set one of the houses afire.

THE PLANE HAD taken off from Lowry Air Force Base at 6:59 a.m. MST (7:59 a.m. CST). A Lowry spokesman said that two minutes later the pilot realized that he was having engine trouble and was attempting to return to the base.

The plane smashed into open ground about a mile south of Lowry in a heavily settled suburban area in Arapahoe County which adjoins Denver. It burst into flames and scattered wreckage over a 200-yard area.

The Air Force said the plane was on a cross-country flight from McCord Air Force Base in Washington state to Tyndall Air Force base near Panama City, Fla.

NONE OF THE PERSONS in the homes or on the ground in the immediate area was injured. The home of Herbert Roddy was set afire but firemen quickly extinguished it.

Italian Air Force C-45 Crashes; 4 Die

TREVISO, Italy (UP)—An Italian air force C-45 crashed near here Thursday night killing four persons including an Italian general and an American Air Force woman officer.

The plane was en route from Udine near the Yugoslav border to Vicenza, headquarters of the U. S. Army's South European Task Force, when it crashed while attempting an emergency landing at Istrana.

The dead were identified as Italian air force Gen. Aristide da Vinetti, Italian Lt. Col. Daniele Cavatoni, U. S. Air Force Maj. Jacqueline Walter and an Italian Flight Technician Remo Beltrame.

Korean Reds Claim U. N. Can't Oust Truce Teams

TOKYO (UP)—North Korea's Pyongyang radio claimed today the U. N. Command cannot legally suspend Korean truce inspection activities in South Korea and warned, "Your side will be entirely responsible for all consequences arising therefrom."

The first broadcast from the North Korean capital on the U. N. Command's decision to suspend truce inspection activities was monitored in Tokyo. It was mainly an account of the reply North Korea's Col. Lo in H. made to the allies after their Thursday announcement at Panmunjom.

Social Set Not Ruffled By Attack

LONDON (UP)—Britain's gay young social set was not a bit ruffled today by a Laborite attack in Parliament on their "silly" antics.

The deb's and swains just poured more champagne and cried, "You're only young once."

The first open reaction came Thursday night when a guard officer in evening dress leaned over a balcony at a reception celebrating the 30th anniversary of the Grenadier Guards.

"We don't forget our friends," he shouted to photographers below and lowered a bottle of champagne and two wine glasses on a string.

THE PHOTOGRAPHER did not forget him, either. They all took pictures of the gallant gesture.

Just before Queen Elizabeth, the Duke of Edinburgh and Princess Margaret arrived, the bottle and wine glasses went up. They came down again, courtesy of the same guardsman, after the royal party entered.

Shortly before the Queen left, a girl in an evening dress appeared with two officers, leaned over the balcony and poured a glass of champagne onto the striped awning. The escorts thought that was "ripping."

"There will be an inquiry," said an officer of the guards.

A London newspaper interviewed debutantes who attended spirited parties involving the 20-year-old Duke of Kent, seventh in line to the throne.

BLONDE FELICITY. Drew, 18-year-old businesswoman's daughter, said she was at the yachting party at which two of the duke's guests got a dunking in the Thames.

"I don't really see what we did that was wrong, do you?" she asked. "I mean, I know there are one and a half dozen champagne glasses at the bottom of the Thames, but everybody seems to have enjoyed themselves so it can't have been all that bad."

Lord Beaverbrook's newspaper took up the battle for the young Duke of Kent.

Mindzenty Back In Jail, Catholics Say

MUNICH, Germany (UP)—Hungarian Catholic primate Joseph Cardinal Mindzenty has been arrested again, according to the semi-official Catholic news agency.

Mindzenty was released from an Hungarian Communist jail less than a year ago, his health broken by years in dark cells.

The news agency said it had received "confirmed reports from Hungary" that the Communists put the aged primate back in jail because he refused to sign a loyalty pledge recognizing all the church laws enacted in Communist Hungary since 1945.

That was the year Mindzenty was first jailed. There was no immediate confirmation from Hungary.

Tito Visits Russia

LONDON (UP)—Yugoslav President Tito arrived in Russia today for his first visit to the Soviet Union since he broke with the late Josef Stalin eight years ago.

IRKED WIFE SAVES STATE MONEY, SAFE

CHICAGO (UP)—An angry housewife, whose sleep was disturbed by loud noises in a gangway early today, saved the state of Illinois $50 and an 800-pound safe by screaming at the persons making the disturbance.

Mrs. Lydia Biskner, 3545 N. Meade Ave., looked out the window and saw three men struggling with a heavy object in the gangway which adjoins the Secretary of State's office testing station at 6000 Addison St.

"Stop that noise and get out of here," Mrs. Biskner yelled at the men.

The men, who were moving the safe, end over end over the gangway, fled. Irving Park police said the burglars probably worked for a couple of hours in the office trying to open the safe, which the office manager said contained about $50.

Peorian Strangles Wife With Shoelace

PEORIA (UP)—Authorities announced a machinist told them today he garroted his estranged wife with a shoelace because she refused a reconciliation.

Landen C. Babb related details of the slaying, police said, shortly before he had agreed to undergo a lie test. Babb said he had gone to his office where she worked to seek a reconciliation.

POLICE CAPT. George Johnson said that Babb, 27, murmured "Okay, I did it," after staring at a photograph of his wife's body which was tossed into his lap during questioning.

Johnson said that he pointed out to Babb that he was smoking the brand of cigarettes found beside the victim's body, then tossed the picture to him, remarking, "No body could look at that picture and interpret her death as a suicide."

The captain quoted Babb as saying he "got mad" when his wife turned down his proposals for reconciliation or a property settlement.

When she refused, police quoted Babb as saying, he grabbed her and applied an arm lock on her neck. When she slumped to the floor, Babb related, he tied a

Spenard Gets 3-10 Years For Burglary

Price Placed On Probation For 2-Year Period

Shearn Lee Spenard, 18, was sentenced to three to 10 years in the penitentiary here today on a burglary charge.

Spenard, who lives at 1393 E. Chestnut St., had been indicted for two burglaries and illegal possession of dynamite.

The dynamite charge, accusing Spenard of illegally possessing sticks of the explosive, was nolle prossed this morning after he was sentenced. The other burglary charge is still pending since it involves another defendant.

Circuit Judge C. D. Henry placed Lloyd Price, 28, 767 N. Wildwood Ave., on two years' probation on a burglary charge. Price had pleaded guilty to breaking into the Birch Club tavern at Hobbie Ave. and Birch St. State's Attorney Frank W. Curran said he was opposed to probation.

Spenard made no motion for release on probation.

Spenard pleaded guilty to a burglary at the Bradley Sports Shop, 453 W. Broadway, last Nov. 19. Roman Smetanski, one of the proprietors, said the resale value of items taken was $1,100, although Spenard said he did not get some of the articles listed on the indictment.

Asked why he did it, Spenard said: "More or less something to do and I wanted the stuff."

He said he kept most of the guns but traded some for other guns. He said he does not have guns as a hobby. Spenard said he went into the store alone, although a companion was driving a car.

The youth said he had expected to be sent to the penitentiary. "I did wrong and want to pay for it," he told the court.

Spenard said he has been working since his graduation from high school a year ago.

Price was ordered to repay the amount taken from the tavern he burglarized.

Bungling Gunmen Slay Pair After Robbery Try Fails

NEW YORK (UP)—Two masked gunmen killed two men, one of them a Polish-language newspaper editor accused of having Communist ties, and critically wounded a third man Thursday night during a bungled holdup attempt.

Thomas Dombrowski, 40, editor of the weekly in Detroit, was killed instantly when he lunged at one of the bandits, grabbing for his mask. The thug fired once, hitting the editor in the chest.

Frank Grodzki, 43, of New York was mortally wounded by one of the two wild shots fired by the jittery second gunman. Grodzki died undergoing surgery to remove a bullet from his head.

Walter Nogas, 72, of Newark, N.J., was in critical condition at Bellevue Hospital from a stomach wound.

The panicked gunmen, who wore handkerchiefs over their faces and hats pulled sharply down on their foreheads, escaped without any money from banquet quarters of the Club Polonia on the tough-infested lower East Side.

Police investigated a charge from unidentified Communist sources in Detroit that the killings had political implications.

Gets $100 In Gas Station Holdup

A holdup by a hooded bandit, reminiscent of those of several weeks ago, resulted in the loss of $100 at the Marquis and Lambert service station just north of Kankakee on Route 54 about 4:15 a.m. today.

Sheriff James W. Laffey said it was difficult to tell if the bandit is one who participated in previous holdups.

Authorities had little to go on since there was no clue to the man's get-away.

Rene Paquette was on duty in the station when he heard someone pushing against a large overhead door, which was locked.

"Who is it?" Paquette shouted.

"Frank," replied the person outside.

"Frank who?" asked Paquette and the voice outside said "I'll come to the front."

Then someone broke a window in the door and stuck the barrel of a pump shotgun inside.

A gunman, wearing a white cloth hood with holes cut for his eyes, ordered Paquette to put the money in a cigar box.

"Don't get funny," the bandit warned.

Seeing the gun and hood, Paquette complied.

MEANWHILE, THE MAN rushed around to the front and entered the building.

He ordered Paquette into the rest room.

When Paquette heard the intruder working with the cash register he opened the door, but the bandit warned: "Don't act funny or I'll blow your head off."

Paquette closed the rest room door, waited about five minutes, and when he came out the bandit was gone.

Paquette told State Policeman Carlyle Guenther the gunman was about 5 feet, 6 inches tall and weighed about 160 pounds. He was wearing a dark grey jacket with pin stripes and blue denim pants.

Asks Approval To Scrap War Vessels

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Navy is asking Congress for permission to sell, scrap—or even sink—107 of its old ships, including some men o' war which helped conquer the mighty Japanese navy in World War II.

Among the vessels listed for disposal are 2 pre-Pearl Harbor battleships—the California and the Tennessee—10 cruisers, 10 escort aircraft carriers, and the carrier Enterprise. The "Big E," as it was affectionately known by thousands of sailors, boasted one of the great combat records of World War II.

Paving Projects, Other Street Improvement Jobs Ready To Start

Painting of traffic, parking and pedestrian lines on city streets is expected to start within a week or 10 days and other phases of the city's street improvement program are getting under way.

Leo Trautau, superintendent of the street and alley department, said his work crews are ready to start the job as soon as the paint arrives.

TWO STREET PAVING projects have already been started and two others will be started soon. Also slated to get under way, provided the weather is warm and dry, is the street maintenance program.

City Engineer Charles F. Gregg said that resurfacing and patching of streets cannot be successfully undertaken until the weather is dry and streets are warm. One of the first of the resurfacing projects will be carried out on Station street between Indiana avenue and Harrison avenue.

Excavation and laying of a stone base has been started for the pavement of Mertens street, between Cherry avenue and Fifth avenue. Gregg said excavation has also been started leading to the paving of Cleveland avenue between Mertens and Henry streets.

Excavation is well under way for the installation of traffic signals at Court St. and Greenwood Ave. In addition several curb and gutter projects are under contract. Curb and gutters are installed by special assessments upon the property involved. The street maintenance work is financed by motor fuel tax funds.

AMONG THE PAVING projects to be started soon are the improvements to Clinton street between Eighth avenue and Kensington avenue and River street, east of Nelson avenue.

Mayor Ed P. Madison has previously requested aldermen to provide him with lists of unimproved streets in the seven wards of the city so that the city will be able to undertake additional improvement and dust control work later in the summer.

Rotary Club Panel Opposed To Federal Aid To Education

Opposition to federal aid to education was expressed by a panel discussing school finance at a meeting of the Kankakee Rotary Club Thursday.

Dr. Anthony Marinaccio, Kankakee superintendent of schools, was moderator. Panelists were Arthur Hasbargen, teacher and counselor at Kankakee High School; Mrs. Grace Bydalek, dean of girls at East Junior High School; and Earl Patton, curriculum coordinator.

The program chairman was Ralph Francis, chairman of the finance sub-committee of the education committee of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

Francis said education is big business today, with $30 billion invested in educational facilities and expenditures of $14 to $15 billion yearly.

A good share of tax increases here and elsewhere have been due to increased costs of operating schools, he said.

CONCERNING FEDERAL AID. Marinaccio said, "You have to decide whether you want local control or make it possible for one man in Washington to change your way of life overnight. I think it's as big as that."

Marinaccio outlined increases in school enrollments. The nation's population has increased from 77 million in 1900 to 150 million in 1950, and 204 million are expected by 1970.

The number of "war babies" entering school increased from one million in 1945-46 to 2.1 million in 1949-50, he said.

The Kankakee district's enrollment of 2,700 students in 1947 is now about 3,000 and is increasing about 200 a year, Patton told the group.

In reply to a question he said the present program will enable the district to take care of 6,300 to 6,500 students. That enrollment will be reached by 1952 or 1953, he said. He said this does not take into account any of the Arona Park District, which has approached the Kankakee District about annexing all or some of the Arona Park territory.

TO MEET THE nation's needs, Marinaccio said school facilities must be used more effectively, studies should be made of the use of television and other technical advances and that studies should be made of double sessions. He said double sessions are criticized "but no study has ever been made to see if children learn more or less."

Hasbargen discussed the federal aspect of school financing.

The biggest argument for federal aid to education, he said, is to support education in areas of the nation that can't support it themselves. Migration means that uneducated persons from other places become problems in communities like Kankakee to which they may move.

He said the National Education Association and American Federation of Teachers to which he belongs favor federal aid.

Hasbargen said he is opposed personally, because the money shirks when it goes through government channels for distribution.

Miss Marion Cleveland is executive director. She said Thursday the state will state only candidates for president and vice president.

She declined to reveal the group's choices, but there were reports from Gov. MacArthur would be slated for president.

She said petitions will be circulated next week to place the party on the ballot.

The Rev. Justine Hoffman will officiate with burial in Oakwood Cemetery, Wichert. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. today.

Mr. VanderMeer was born Dec. 1, 1878 at Roseland, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred VanderMeer. Surviving are brothers, Charles and Henry of St. Anne, and Mrs. Rose Voss and Mrs. Nellie Skima of St. Anne, and Mrs. Irene Osterhoff of Monee.

Open House Set For Sunday At Rural Parsonage

PEOTONE (JNS) — An open house will be held Sunday in connection with the consecration service at the Green Garden Methodist Church parsonage.

The open house is scheduled for 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and the service will be held at 8 a.m. The program will be led by Dr. Merrill Powers, district superintendent. Activities are under the charge of the Women's Society of Christian Service, the Young Women's Circle, and the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

On July 1, 1955, the Green Garden church and the Frankfort church separated. The Green Garden congregation voted to have a resident pastor and plans were made for a parsonage.

The Rev. and Mrs. John B. Vaurin and their daughter, Hollie Dee, moved into the new ranch style home on Feb. 21, 1956.

Plan To Put Third Party On Ballot

CHICAGO (U) — A campaign will be made to put a conservative third party on the Illinois ballot, a Chicago headquarters was opened Thursday.

The group, called the Independent Elector Plan of Illinois, is closely associated with For America, which described itself as a national patriotic education organization.

Miss Marion Cleveland is executive director. She said Thursday the state will state only candidates for president and vice president.

She declined to reveal the group's choices, but there were reports from Gov. MacArthur would be slated for president.

She said petitions will be circulated next week to place the party on the ballot.

Pays $78 Fine On 2 Charges; Traffic Arrests

A total of $78 was the fine paid by a Kankakee man today when he appeared to answer two charges before Police Magistrate Paul Davidson.

Thomas Uloseweh was arrested about 11 p.m. Thursday in the 109 block of S. East Avenue. He was charged with being drunk and resisting arrest. He was taken into custody by Lt. Edward Goetzler and Officer Russell Clemens.

Leaving his car unattended with the motor running cost Donald D. Keen, 24, of 271 North St., Bradley, $10. His car was found in the parking lot in the 200 block of N. Schuyler avenue.

Six persons were fined by Davidson on speeding charges. They were: Gerald C. Mossier, 19, of 271 S. Blaine Ave., Bradley, $20 for speeding and drag racing in the 200 block of E. Court street.

William L. Foster, 32, of 1438 E. Maple St., $10 for driving 35 miles per hour in a 20 zone in the 400 block of E. Court street.

Jack W. Lewis, 62, of 515 E. River St., $20 for speeding 50 miles per hour in a 20 zone in the 1000 block of S. Schuyler avenue.

James F. Deane, 21, of 515 E. River St., $20 for speeding 40 miles per hour in a 20 zone in the 300 block of W. Court street.

Neckcomb, 22, of 1154 S. Fifth Ave., $10 bond forfeited for speeding 40 miles per hour in a 25 zone in the 1300 block of E. River street.

One difficulty has been ineffectual in assessments, Patton declared. The assessment level in Kankakee is 10 per cent more than in Bradley, according to figures he quoted.

"We're fortunate here in Kankakee County that someone is trying to do something about it," he reported.

He said it has been recommended by some that assessment districts be made large enough to support a full-time assessor on a professional basis.

Patton said there is already federal aid to education in some areas, such as home economics and agriculture. "It's a question of who's going to control it," he stated.

In a show of hands asked by Judge Edwin Sale, the audience indicated overwhelmingly that it would prefer a one-cent increase in the sales tax to a 15 per cent increase in property taxes. Sale said either proposal would raise about the same amount of money.

Plan Picnic For Villa Youngsters

Twenty-seven youngsters from Villa Youngsters, Catholic Youth home in Bourbonnais, will be guests of the Armour Volunteers at a picnic in the Rock Creek area of Kankakee River State Park Saturday.

The volunteers, a group of women employees of Armour Laboratories, will transport the youngsters, age 2 to 14, to and from the park and will supervise the picnic activities.

The Armour Volunteers are thought to be the only industrial group in the state which carries out recreational activities for its state mental hospital. They work with patients at Mankato State Hospital.

Trimming Car Plates Illegal, Castle Rules

It's illegal to trim the edges of your auto license plates, even if you don't deface the numbers, according to an opinion handed down by Illinois Attorney General Latham Castle.

The opinion was requested by Frank W. Curran, Kankakee County state's attorney.

Curran said the question arose in Chicago, and he wanted to get an official ruling.

He said he has received no reports of the practice locally.

The question first arose in Chicago where Jack Muller, the city's champion ticket writer, issued tickets to car owners who had trimmed the plates to fit license holders.

State Approves Wilmington Sewer System Proposals

WILMINGTON (JNS) — Plans for a sewage system which will meet state requirements were approved, according to Mayor Robert Carter. The approval was given in a letter from the state received Wednesday by Baxter and Woodman, civil and sanitary engineers, acting agents for the city.

A council meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Mayor Carter announced.

He said the council will conduct preliminary work concerning a water system to be installed in the Soldier's Widows' Home on the west side of Kankakee River.

Mayor Carter said he hoped the backstop of Water street, Van Buren street and Mills street will start by next week.

George Cole, Howard Neveau and Leo Richa, honorary pallbearers, were Howard VanMeter and Richard Karsgaard.

How tests were made: Identical new cars competed in full-throttle acceleration trials. Cars had been driven about 300 miles prior to testing. In typical test (above) one car had used only Shell Premium with TCP—the other a competitor's premium gasoline. The radar chart proved that Shell outperformed the competition. Most cars got 6 to 18% better pick-up using Shell Premium.

up to 18% faster "pick-up" with Shell Premium with TCP

TCP releases power locked in by engine deposits... stops pre-firing and spark plug "miss"

Today's high-powered cars are famous for their instant passing—for their ability to deliver acceleration at those moments when even the most careful driver needs it for safety.

But they can lose much of their flashing pick-up in less than 3000 miles of driving. Harmful deposits are to blame.

Instead of your engine delivering full power during acceleration, it lags because deposits are short-circuiting the spark plugs—causing them to "miss."

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP lets you regain this lost performance.

TCP additive neutralizes harmful deposits, stops spark plug short-circuiting—tunes your engine while you drive.

TCP's effectiveness was proved in radar-observed tests, where most cars using Shell Premium Gasoline got 6 to 18% better pick-up.

Switch to Shell and you'll agree—TCP is the greatest gasoline development in 31 years.

Warns Boaters To Stay Out Of River Dam Area

The narrow escape of a 17-year-old Kankakee boy from going over the river dam brought a warning to boat owners today from Fire Chief James P. Marnell.

Richard Panozo of 1033 S. Chicago Ave., managed to paddle his inboard motor launch to the north bank Thursday afternoon after its engine failed between the Schuyler Avenue and the Illinois Central Railroad Bridges.

Marnell warned boaters to stay out of that area since the dam is only a short way downstream and a boat is apt to be caught in the swift current and swept over the dam in event of a motor failure.

Marnell reported that a passing motorist saw Panozo's plight and called the fire department. Firemen rushed to the scene with the rescue boat, but Panozo had paddled his craft to shore with an ear.

The incident happened about 1:35 p.m. Thursday.

Graduates Now Facing Life's Great Challenge

This is graduation time, with mingled exaltation and sadness, for hundreds of young men and women of high schools in the Kankakee area.

Although study, classroom recitation and laboratory work may have seemed like pure drudgery to many of these students while they were engaged in it during the past three or four years, the graduates will look back to their high school years as among the most pleasant and rewarding of their lives.

They will long remember an environment in which their minds and personalities acquired great growth, not only because of the study of science, history, languages and mathematics, but also in ethics, cooperation and citizenship.

They have had the close kinship that comes from shared experience in work, discipline, play and accomplishment, all enhanced by the strong forces of school loyalty fostered by sports competition.

Some of the graduates are seeking summer jobs, to help finance the first year of college. Others are looking for permanent employment in the best jobs they can find, since they are now accepting the challenge of making a life for themselves.

The outlook for finding jobs is reported favorable. Still, employment will not come begging to be accepted. Even if there was a big surplus of positions, initiative would win the best choices. And many an applicant with good qualifications has been turned away because he or she failed to do a good job of presenting those qualifications.

Intelligence and industry shown in the classroom will produce results when adapted to other pursuits. But it takes personality, ambition and the spirit of service to get along well in the employ of others. The most fatal attitude of all is that of the young man or woman who, after winning a diploma, succumbs to the delusion that he or she knows all there is to learn and needs no further advice or discipline.

Whether an individual graduate is going on to college, or will immediately attack the task of becoming self-supporting, he or she will now encounter exciting new challenges, further fitting them for the responsibility of full-fledged American citizenship.

Increase In Motorist Cost Is Just Too Much

Secretary of State Carpenter says the present fee of one dollar for three years for a driver's license is paying only half the cost of administering the program. "Inasmuch as he says the state administration has adopted the philosophy that each function should pay its own way, an increase in license cost seems inevitable."

There is no good reason why management of the license law should be completely financed by driver license fees when the motorist is already paying a dozen or so taxes on the operation of his car.

It is high time that automobile license charges and taxes in toto be considered rather than an extra dollar for a driver's license. It is time we think of the burden carried by the automobile owner as a result of the annual registration fee, sales tax, gasoline tax and other local and federal levies.

The driver license law in Illinois is a model and Secretary Carpenter has done an excellent job of enforcement, so today the law ranks at the top as a tool to minimize reckless driving.

The driver license law is of inestimable value, but that is no excuse to double the fee when it is possible to secure the costs from other taxes paid into the state treasury by motorists.

Let's stop piling more tax burdens on the owners of automobiles. They are already paying their full measure of costs in which the car is involved.

Woman's Equality Has A Few Disadvantages

A St. Louis pathologist has learned from statistical data assembled on 8,000 autopsies that heart attacks now kill as many women as men. Between 1910 and 1940, however, twice as many men as women died from that cause.

The implication seems to be that as the interests and habits of men and women tend to coincide, their susceptibility to physical ill may tend to be alike.

More women are smoking nowadays, more women are working in offices and in factories doing work similar to that done by men. Women patronize cocktail lounges, while only men could enter the old saloon. Career women who must face tough problems in business and the professions are more tense than their mothers, even those who stood over a hot stove all day. They live at a faster pace.

What it all adds up to is that when women demand equality with men they must accept not only the advantages which men may have seemed to enjoy exclusively, but also the disadvantages.

Benson Starts Tour Of Iowa, Nebraska

DES MOINES (UP)—Agriculture Secretary Elva Benson, enthusiastically plugging his newly launched soil bank program, set out on a tour of drought-plagued Midwest farm lands today.

The secretary said he wanted to "visit with farmers about their own problems" during his travels through Iowa counties today and in three southeast Nebraska counties Saturday.

He emphasized that his tour is strictly non-political, even though it comes three days before the Iowa primary election. GOP Sen. Bourke M. Hickenlooper, a firm backer of administration farm policies, is seeking re-election against Iowa Atty. Gen. Dayton Countyman, who stands for rigid price supports.

Benson flew to Des Moines Thursday night to begin a Midwest tour which had already been put off three times.

A short time earlier, in Washington, he announced he is launching the newly authorized soil bank plan immediately. And he promised "generous" payments to farmers who plow under some of their year's crops to become eligible for the program.

The agriculture secretary was still beaming over the soil bank program when he dropped in on a meeting of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation minutes after his arrival.

"The new farm bill is a great improvement" over the bill President Eisenhower vetoed earlier, Benson said. That program, which featured rigid price supports was a "hodgepodge" and a "mess," he said.

The administration realizes it is "very late in getting a soil bank program into operation," he said. "We will try to make it work."

The Farm Bureau Federation members responded with a standing ovation for Benson.

Benson explained he chose the Iowa and Nebraska counties for his tour because "their problems are more serious and widespread than in most areas."

"It is like to get out of Washington and talk to the farmers," he added.

Meanwhile, there were some complaints that Benson's tour had a political ring.

A congressional candidate, Rep. William F. Strickland, said Benson's tour was "a good thing."

A short time earlier, in Washington, he announced he is launching the newly authorized soil bank plan immediately. And he promised "generous" payments to farmers who plow under some of their year's crops to become eligible for the program.

The agriculture secretary was still beaming over the soil bank program when he dropped in on a meeting of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation minutes after his arrival.

"The new farm bill is a great improvement" over the bill President Eisenhower vetoed earlier, Benson said. That program, which featured rigid price supports was a "hodgepodge" and a "mess," he said.

The administration realizes it is "very late in getting a soil bank program into operation," he said. "We will try to make it work."

The Farm Bureau Federation members responded with a standing ovation for Benson.

Benson explained he chose the Iowa and Nebraska counties for his tour because "their problems are more serious and widespread than in most areas."

"It is like to get out of Washington and talk to the farmers," he added.

Meanwhile, there were some complaints that Benson's tour had a political ring.

A congressional candidate, Rep. William F. Strickland, said Benson's tour was "a good thing."

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO (U)—All grains except corn eased in wheat futures on the Board of Trade today.

Persistent light but steady selling in wheat reflected belief in crops of the cash grain at South-west terminals would be large Monday, creating increased hedging pressure in wheat futures.

Rye declined with wheat while soybeans and oats were cut back by profit taking after the advance in the previous session.

In corn the new crop months were most in demand. Buying reflected a feeling of production of this crop may be cut back by the soil bank plan, details of which were announced Thursday.

THE NEW STRUCTURE is of contemporary architecture and includes a sanctuary which will seat about 350. There is room for 245 on the main floor, 30 in the choir transept and 45 in the balcony. The sanctuary is so located that window paneling at the rear can be opened and an overflow crowd be seated in the foyer.

Consecration laying for the new St. John's Church was on Oct. 2, 1955. Ground had been broken on March 27, 1955.</

Sees Approval Of Stiffer Dope Law

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.) predicted today the House will unanimously approve his bill next week to "throw the book" at narcotics smugglers and peddlers—without a death penalty. Boggs' bill would impose jail sentences up to 40 years and fines of $50,000 or suspended sentences for anyone convicted of narcotics violations. The measure would also double the number of judges in the Federal Narcotics Bureau.

THE SENATE Thursday passed a similar bill aimed primarily at stamping out the use of heroin. It would permit a jury to impose the death sentence for conviction of selling heroin to a juvenile and for a third conviction of selling heroin to an adult.

Boggs said his bill would "throw the book" at peddlers of any kind of narcotics. He told a reporter that his bill would impose penalties just on heroin.

It was announced by the committee in charge that 5,000 bags of peanuts have been secured. Members of the club will solicit sales during the day on Walnut street, the business district of Watske.

Services To Make Reappraisal Of Future War Roles

WASHINGTON (U.S.—Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson is going to take his quarterly military family to the annual four-day picnic where security is supposed to reign.

Perhaps the expected presence of the commander in chief, President Eisenhower, will help induce harmony at this fourth annual "secretaries' conference."

Or maybe it will be like other picnics, and the little ants of disunity will crawl over the table, while the Army and the Air Force and the Navy regash their disputed claims to roles and missions.

The dates this year are June 21-24. The agenda follows the pattern of the three previous conferences called by Wilson—to provide a chance for golf and swimming and relaxation combined with an opportunity for the civilian and military chiefs to talk shop. This year, the latter has interesting possibilities.

What about that good old question, now renewed in another controversial exchange: If war comes, what service should do what with which weapon?

The 1956 model of the argument now is built around a dispute between the Army and the Air Force over aircraft, missiles and missions in general. The Army is unhappy too over its shrinking share of the defense dollar. The Navy in the past never has been reluctant to join in.

Roles and missions assignments for the armed forces were supposed to have been pretty well pinned down and defined by the "Key West" and "Newport" papers. The first defense secretary, James Forrestal, succeeded in getting the Army, Navy and Air Force to agree, in the documents, on the general function of each. The documents are still in existence, but events have reduced their value.

1. THE LONGEST—Treaching Army weapon which could lob a shell no farther than immediately behind an enemy line. The Army's scope of operation thus was entirely tactical, on the battlefield itself. Today the Army has guided and unguided—missiles—which, armed with nuclear warheads, can reach from 50 to 300 miles back of the front line.

2. The Air Force has unmanned guided bombers in the category of missiles—which can strike at targets hundreds or even thousands of miles away. It is working toward intercontinental ballistic missiles. A ballistic missile is basically a form of artillery—it is pre-aimed, it travels through a trajectory. The Army is the traditional user of artillery and bombardment rockets. Is the "Air Force encroaching on an Army mission?"

3. When the Key West Agreement was made, the Navy still was using planes of comparatively short range, capable of handling only conventional bombs, and operating from carriers which then could carry no bigger or heavier aircraft. Today, the Navy has the Forrestal class carrier and planes able to tote nuclear bombs. The radius of action of the new carrier aircraft is stepped up to over 1,000 miles. Is the Navy prepared to join in strategic warfare against targets well inland? The Key West Agreement said the Air Force was to be "responsible for strategic air warfare."

Ohio High Court Upholds Conviction Of Sheppard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP)—The Ohio Supreme Court has upheld the conviction of Dr. Sam Sheppard. His only recourse now to gain freedom is the U. S. Supreme Court.

Ohio's highest tribunal, in a 5-2 majority opinion Thursday, dimmed the hopes of the 32-year-old Cleveland osteopath for a new trial.

Sheppard got the news through the "grapevine" at Ohio Penitentiary, where he is serving a life sentence for the July 4, 1954, slaying of his 31-year-old pregnant wife Marilyn.

DR. SAM, as newspapers had referred to him during his sensational trial, has steadfastly maintained his innocence.

Sheppard's appeal mentioned 29 alleged errors made by the trial court. Three of these, the majority opinion said, were stressed in its arguments.

The Supreme Court said no two of the three contentions warranted a change of venue should have been granted because of widespread publicity in Cleveland about the murder.

That permitting jurors to contact their families by phone during deliberations should require identify the origin of each flower and shrub. She spends the mornings working in the garden and the evenings reading in her home.

Dealer Bill Okayed Cullom Schedules Evening Mass

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee approved a bill Thursday to permit automobile dealers to bring damage suits in federal courts against manufacturers who cancel their franchises.

Sheppard, who entered Ohio Penitentiary July 20, 1955, has worked as a nurse.

He never failed in his insistence that a bush-haired intruder beat his wife to death in a second-floor bedroom while he slept on a couch downstairs.

He said he was aroused by screams and the intruder knocked him out during their initial struggle and again after a chase to the beach behind his suburban Cleveland home in Bay Village.

Prosecution attorneys contended Sheppard invented the story to cover up his own crime. The murder weapon was never found.

Fear Light California Balloting

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee appeared locked in a close battle for California's critical 68 Democratic presidential nominating votes.

In a campaign sharpened with bitterness, the two rivals left almost no part of sprawling California unvisited in their quest for votes in the last and most important of the nation's presidential primaries here next Tuesday.

But there were signs that the candidates themselves were much more concerned about the outcome than the average California voter. Street corner and supermarket crowds were generally small. The apathy spelled out the prospect of a relatively light turnout among the state's 3,500,373 registered Democrats.

BY AND LARGE, Stevenson's crowds were bigger than those which came out to hear Kefauver, particularly after Stevenson's victory in the Florida primary last Tuesday. Kefauver's backers attributed this to better organization work than they could provide for their catch-up campaign.

Both candidates expressed confidence about the outcome. Stevenson, campaigning in the San Joaquin Valley, said he thinks he knows "what the voters want" when they answer what he called "personal attacks" against him by Kefauver. He said "hurt the Democratic party."

Kefauver said "I think I'm doing all right" in what he called his "do-or-die effort to demonstrate to the forthcoming Democratic National Convention that he is the choice of the average voter."

F. Joseph Donohue, Kefauver's national campaign manager, said he was "cautiously optimistic." But Paul Ziffren, Democratic national committee chairman, predicted a 100,000-vote margin for Stevenson, who is supporting him.

50,000 Indians Try To Halt Nehru Party Session

BOMBAY, India (UP)—An estimated 50,000 "peaceful resistance" workers tried to halt the session of the Indian National Congress party here today.

Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's decision to make Bombay a federal district, authorities reported, drew a series of demonstrations. Nehru was reported on both sides, but there were no fatalities reported.

NEHRU'S LIMOUSINE had to be diverted to escape the fury of the crowd. The car of Bombay Chief Minister Morarji Desai was attacked and the windshield smashed.

The clash came as Nehru's ruling Congress Party met here to discuss the report of a special commission for alteration of India's state boundaries along language lines.

Congress Party delegates met under a huge canvas tent, while members of the Maharashtrian language group met in protest nearby.

Trouble started when thousands of Maharashtrian sympathizers pressed toward the Congress campsite where other demonstrators already were squabbling on the ground in "peaceful resistance" protest. Some carried red flags and chanted, "We Want Bombay."

Father McLaughlin described it this way:

"I found I couldn't release the parachute ring—ring you put to pull the ripcord. I was falling head first."

"I was pulling on this ring and I said 'Lord, don't let me die. I've got too much yet to do for Thee.' With that, the hand of God must have pulled that ripcord. The parachute was immediately released."

All three lived in the tent house on the William Brown farm in the small rural community of Eureka, about four miles from this east Tennessee city of about 5,000 population.

Russ Church Leader Refuses To Repudiate Germ Warfare Charge

NEW YORK (UP)—Russia's second-ranking Orthodox Church leader refused Saturday to repudiate a charge he made several years ago that the United States used germ warfare in Korea.

The Metropolitan Nicolai, leader of an eight-million member Russian church officials who arrived here Saturday for a 14-day tour, said he did not think it was worth while to bring up what took place four or five years ago.

Nicolai was asked at a press conference whether he considered the germ warfare charges too old to be worth while for us to go back that far.

"The news conference, held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel shortly after the eight churchmen arrived by airplane from Russia, was carried on through an interpreter. It is not worth while for us to go back that far," he said.

"I consider that that question refers to such a period in the distant past that it is not worth discussing, because now we are seeking ways of understanding and strengthening the ties of friendship," he said.

Asked whether his comment was a "repudiation" of the germ war charges, Nicolai replied:

"I want to say that there was a time when in our country there was a feeling of mutual tension. Now, when we are seeking ways of growing closer together and strengthening the friendship, in my opinion it is not worth while bringing up what took place four or five years ago."

Asked again whether that was a repudiation of his charges, he said, "I simply repeat my answer. It is not worth while for us to go back that far."

MOSCOW (UP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia, arriving for a three-day state visit, declared Saturday the Communist nations would never again be split as they were when the Kremlin tossed Tito aside in 1948.

Tito, president in his gold braided marshal's uniform and with a chain of thousands of Russian medals around his neck, said in a speech broadcast from a gaily decorated Kievsky railroad station:

French Slay 300 Trapped Guerrillas

ALGIERS (UP)—Two French divisions snatched up a deadly trap Saturday on five Algerian rebel groups under turbulent General Amrouche, killing nearly 300.

French authorities called it "the biggest battle of the year."

They said French troops also captured more than 150 in three days of fighting in the wild Petite Kabylie Mountains, 35 miles south of Algiers.

SEVERAL HUNDRED rebels were reported fleeing Saturday under constant hammering by field artillery and war planes.

The rebels under General Amrouche were said to be regrouping, apparently for a desperate attempt to break out of the triangle trap near Lafayette.

For four months the rebels ruled the area between Algiers and the north. Borel Bou Arreridj in the north and Lafayette in the east.

French troops drove the center of the craggy, cave-studded area. Guerrillas used machine guns and snipers to snipe at the troops and gun butts in scattered fighting.

Army sources said the mop-up operation in eastern Algeria was the 29th Infantry Division has linked up with the 7th Rapid Mechanized Division that carried the brunt of the three-day battle.

FIGHTING STARTED when Amrouche's units were engaged by French troops in the 7th Division. French sources uncovered camouflaged repair shops, a dug-in ammunition workshop, tons of supplies, two workshops turning out hand-grenades and a stock of U. S. army uniforms and equipment.

Scattered rebel bands struck back elsewhere in the 947,522-square mile Algerian interior.

Rebel "commandos" terrorized Phillipeville in eastern Algeria, where they killed 12 French soldiers, attacked a hospital, and killed a French soldier.

Other attacks a homeguard unit in the Algerian interior. They killed nine, wounded three.

All three lived in the tent house on the William Brown farm in the small rural community of Eureka, about four miles from this east Tennessee city of about 5,000 population.

The father, John Davis, 35, an oil worker, was killed in the crash. He was married to Robert Dooling, 25, of nearby Havertown.

Popelignores Doctor To Hold Audience

VATICAN CITY (UP)—Pope Pius XII, his voice faint and hoarse from fatigue, beamed 20,000 pilgrims in St. Peter's Basilica Saturday in an appearance made against his doctor's orders.

The 80-year-old pontiff had to be helped by aids to mount the seven steps leading to the golden papal throne. But the Pope put duty before health, and stayed on the throne 11 minutes giving his blessings to the crowd.

The Roman Catholic spiritual leader showed "the fatigue" which seized him this week as a result of years of overwork and heat and forced him to suspend audiences for the past several days.

His voice sounded tired as he began speaking to the pilgrims. It grew weaker as he went on to bless the throng in Italian, French, English, German and Spanish.

THE POPE was borne into the Basilica as the assembled pilgrims cheered and shouted, "Vive il Papa." Long Live The Pope.

He notified Dewey D. Davis, State Republics Chairman, that his diplomatic post was "a strong and undeniable claim upon whatever efforts I may be able to devote."

His telegram was sent from a Boston, Mass., hospital, where he is undergoing a physical checkup. It was made public last night.

Cooper, who has twice served as a U.S. Senator from Kentucky, told Davis that his decision against running was "difficult."
