SUMMER WEATHER has preceded the official first day of the season Thursday and the weather has lured people of this area into the out-of-doors. It is unnecessary to travel miles to some remote section to enjoy scenic beauty, the serenity of rippling water and

Get-Tough Program Looms As Teacher Takes Sharett's Job

TEL AVIV, Israel (UP)—Mrs. Golda Myerson succeeds Moshe Sharett today as foreign minister in a cabinet shuffle that gives Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion a free hand in his policy of toughness with the Arab states. A spokesman for the Mapai (Israel Labor) Party said Sharett would formally resign at today's cabinet meeting to become secretary general of the party, which has lost ground in recent elections. Mrs. Myerson, a former Milwaukee, Wis., school teacher and now Israel's labor minister, was named to succeed Sharett. She is such a staunch observer of Ben-Gurion's policy of toughness that her appointment will give the prime minister complete control of foreign affairs, observers said.

MORDECHAI NAMIR succeeds Mrs. Myerson in the labor post. Sharett, with the support of a strong cabinet faction, had opposed Ben-Gurion on many foreign policy issues. His resignation was expected to result in at least two other major changes: 1. Abba Eban, Israel chief delegate to the United Nations and ambassador to the United States, may be recalled to serve as adviser on foreign affairs and become the right hand of the foreign minister. 2. Eliyahu Elath may be shifted from London to Washington to replace Eban. The present director general of the Foreign Ministry, Walter Eytan, has been mentioned for the Elath post.

THE INFLUENTIAL Jerusalem Post in an editorial today paying tribute to Sharett, said his resignation did not mean the country's policies were likely to change. "That there will now be belligerent activism where before there was this patient, pertinacious search for progress towards security," But observers noted the long list of differences between Sharett and Ben-Gurion including the Israeli attack on Syrian positions near the Sea of Galilee while Sharett was visiting in the United States. Sharett called this a "stab in the back."

Charge Officer With Trying To Solicit Bribe

SPRINGFIELD (U)—State Police Chief William Morris today accused a Peoria state policeman of soliciting or accepting a share of court costs from a police magistrate for arrest tickets. The officer, Jack Lanan, was suspended by Morris on June 7 for "conduct unbecoming a police officer" but details of the charges were not announced at that time. Morris filed his report with the State Police Merit Board and a hearing was tentatively set for July 10.

The police chief made these charges against Lanan, who has been on the force since 1950: 1. ON APRIL 21 while on duty Lanan personally solicited and accepted $2 from a police magistrate for a share of court costs on one arrest ticket.

2. On April 25 Lanan solicited or accepted $10 as part of court costs on disposition of six state police arrest tickets.

3. On April 28, Lanan solicited or accepted $10 on nine tickets.

4. On May 1, Lanan solicited or accepted $1.50 on one traffic ticket. Lanan, 33, will be given the chance to answer the charges at the merit board hearing. Morris requested that Lanan be removed from the force if the charges are substantiated by the board.

Vandalism In Cemetery

Maintenance police are investigating vandalism committed Sunday night at St. Joseph's Cemetery. Wilfred Bonell, left, cemetery trustee, and A. J. McNeil, superintendent, study where two stones were moved from their places, apparently when hit by a motor vehicle. Another stone the same size was dragged about 150 feet down the concrete driveway, and a number of others were damaged. Motorist also zig-zagged in and out of ditch for a mile on road along east side of cemetery, and damage also was done to nearby Elmwood Cemetery. (Journal photo)

Drunken Dad Slays Friend At Barbecue

RUSTON, La. (UP)—Police today held a 50-year old father on charges that he shot and killed a close family friend at a Father's Day barbecue while the teenage daughters of the two men watched in horror. Officers arrested Jerry Andrews, 50, shortly after the shooting and charged him with the murder of Floyd Hubbard, 43. He was held without bond.

WITNESSES TOLD police that Andrews fatally shot Hubbard and slightly wounded Hubbard's wife during a sudden, drunken outbreak that shattered a happy barbecue party on the back lawn at the Hubbard home Sunday.

Andrews' 17-year-old daughter, Elizabeth, and Gertrude Hubbard, 18, were witnesses to the shooting, but escaped unharmed. Gertrude was believed to be the fiancée of Andrews' son, Billy, an airman stationed at Del Rio, Tex.

Andrews told police that he did not "remember anything" that took place at the Hubbard home. He said he spent the afternoon in a ditch, "fighting off mosquitoes." He was arrested several hours later on a downtown street. Mrs. Hubbard said that Andrews arrived at her house shortly before 6 p.m. Sunday.

Blame U.S. GI For German Bar Blast Hurting 17 Persons

MUNICH, Germany (U)—A hand grenade exploded in a Munich night club just before midnight Sunday and injured eight American soldiers and nine Germans. Police said the grenade was thrown by an unidentified person after U.S. Military Police ordered a group of arguing American customers to leave the bar.

German police said two Germans were in critical condition. A U.S. Army spokesman said "we assume the grenade was of American make but we have no official report yet."

German police said an American soldier hurled the grenade. The 17 injured were taken to various German and American hospitals. Two already have been released.

The night club, frequented by American soldiers, is in the Munich suburb of Freimann, near a U.S. Army barracks.

Think Blazes Started To Aid Fleeing Leader

68 British Soldiers Burned In Backfire Of Trap Set For Grivas

NIQOSIA, Cyprus (UP)—A forest fire apparently touched off by trapped leaders of the anti-British EOKA Greek Cypriot underground killed 19 British soldiers and burned scores of others, it was announced today.

Operation "Lucky Alphonse," a British army drive to capture the death-dealing guerrillas, turned into disaster for the British troops—the worst of the Cyprus rebellion.

The caged-in guerrillas were believed to have started the flames that roared through the dry pine woods of the Troodos mountains into the advancing line of soldiers. It was the worst toll in 14 months of battle.

The British army said that 19 were killed and 18 injured seriously when the fire first burst onto the cordon of troops Sunday. Another 50 casualties were being flown back to hospitals today as the blaze raged on out of control.

THE OPERATION was aimed particularly at Col. George Grivas, the British-trained Greek Cypriot leader of EOKA who once put a "price" on the head of Sir John Harding, the British military governor of Cyprus.

He was reported surrounded in the 400 square miles of pine woods and dense underbrush at one point but apparently escaped when the forest fire raged toward the tinder dry woods toward the British army.

Hospitals throughout the island were filled with burned men as British troops and civilians fought the flames.

The forest fire hit some of Britain's top troops—Marine commandos, paratroopers, armor and ground units of the Royal Air Force and the Royal Navy. Thousands of acres of highly combustible pine timber were blazing, and there was no rain in sight. The fire threatened to become the worst in Cyprus' history, but it was brought under control today.

Every military doctor and nurse on the island hurried back to duty as the injured began to stream down from the 6,000-foot mountains.

GRIVAS was surprised by a patrol as he sat beside a stream with some companions. A soldier fired at him but the 58-year-old guerrilla leader sprinted into the scrubby undergrowth he knows well. He was thought to be surrounded.

An airplane circled overhead with a loudspeaker exhorting him to "Come out. The game is lost." An army chaplain, black with smoke, told reporters the flames "came at us at about 30 miles an hour. Some of the soldiers who were burned had been fighting the fire, others were taking part in the operation against Grivas. It was Continued on Page 6, Column 1

Open Quiz Of Red Activities Among PWs

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House Committee on Un-American Activities opens hearings today on Communist propaganda activities among prisoners in Korea and their families back home.

The committee planned to call several former American POWs who were subjected to Communist propaganda tactics.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), chairman of the committee, said evidence indicates that Red propaganda among the POWs and their families "was virtually the equivalent of an enemy engagement on U. S. soil."

One witness scheduled to appear before the committee issued a statement before the hearings got underway.

Mrs. Florence Gowgeil, of Argo, Ill., chairman of the "Save Our Sons" Committee denounced as "false" charges that her organization carried on a "Communist propaganda campaign" seeking an end to the Korean War.

MRS. GOWGEIL said she became actively interested in seeking an end to the war in 1952 when her son-in-law, a former athlete, returned from Korea as a paraplegic. She said the Save Our Sons committee was formed in Springfield, Ill., on Oct. 25 and that the action was announced in letters to parents of 3,000 prisoners of war from homes in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Missouri and Indiana.

Mrs. Gowgeil said that during the 1952 presidential campaign President Eisenhower said his "first job" if elected would be to "deal with this tragic conflict which reaches into every American home."

She said "no one questioned his Americanism because of that statement."

Ike Picks Bureau Of Mines Chief

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower today nominated Harding J. Ankeny, now safety director of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, to be chief of the Bureau of Mines.

Ankeny, 55-year-old Republican, served from 1947 to 1952 as chief of the coal mine inspection branch in the Bureau of Mines. From 1942 to 1947 he was the bureau's senior mining engineer.

Humid Days Are Here Again; Showers Due

"It's the humidity." We're back to that again. Kankakee Sunday enjoyed its coolest day in two weeks. The high temperature was a mild, but muggy, sticky 80 degrees. The overnight low was 65 degrees.

Sporadic showers brought .10 inch of rainfall.

Partly cloudy and continued warm and humid weather is forecast for today, tonight and Tuesday. A few scattered thunderstorms are likely. High today will be in the upper 80s and low tonight near 70. High Tuesday will be in the upper 80s again.

With the five-day forecast indicating more of the same, Kankakees will read with envy that a frost warning has been issued for parts of New England. The cool dry Canadian air surged down into New England to end a week-long heat wave. Weathermen predicted temperatures in the low 30s tonight for northern parts of that section.

IN KANKAKEE, the weather bureau said temperatures are expected to run 5 to 8 degrees higher than normal the next five days. Scattered showers and thunderstorms are probable throughout the period.

Thunderstorms, heavy rain, hail and isolated tornadoes combined with generally warm and humid temperatures today giving the nation a variety of weather.

Twisters skipped around open country in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains region Sunday night. Thunderstorms rumbled today over an area extending from the Western Plains, the mid-Mississippi River valley and Great Lakes region to the central Atlantic coast.

Secretary of the Air Force Donald A. Quarles said Saturday in Washington that the H-bomb missed its target by "somewhat less than four miles," but he added that the miss "was not great enough to have a serious effect on the success of the experiment."

Seek Military Leak About H-Test Miss

HONOLULU (UP)—The FBI is seeking the serviceman or servicewoman who disclosed that the recently air-dropped hydrogen bomb missed its target, a Honolulu newspaper said today.

The informant also said two servicemen were blinded by the blast. The newspaper said authorities consider it "imperative to find the leak on Eniwetok and plug it, no matter what service he belongs to (He was not a Navy man)."

Intelligence authorities are "far more concerned with the fact that he talked at all than with the mixture of fact and scuttlebutt he dispensed," the newspaper said.

The FBI's only comment on the story was "We are interested in any possible security violations involving the Atomic Energy Act, which we are obligated to enforce."

Nixon Confers With President, Reports Politics Not Discussed

WASHINGTON (U)—Vice President Nixon conferred with President Eisenhower at Walter Reed Hospital today but reported there was absolutely no discussion of whether Eisenhower intends to remain in the presidential race.

Nixon told a news conference after the visit that Eisenhower will "speak for himself" in answer to the big question when he feels the time is right.

Asked whether there was any discussion whatever of politics at his meeting with the President, Nixon replied: "The answer is no. That is categorical without any qualification."

Eisenhower himself, Nixon went on, will "select the time and place" for discussion of his political future.

The vice president added that he has "great confidence" the President "will weigh all the factors, concerned and make the proper decision."

French Seek U. S. Backing In Algeria

By UNITED PRESS
France is going to ask the United States to make some important commitments in foreign policy this week.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau starts three days of talks with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today.

First he intends to ask that the United States come out fully in support of French policy in Algeria.

Secondly, he will ask Dulles to accept the view of France—and of some of America's most important allies—that a historic change is under way in Russia.

Thirdly, he will urge that the United States put less emphasis on allied defense and more on seeking peace, with disarmament the first goal.

TO FRANCE, Pineau's mission is one of prime importance. Its success or failure may have considerable effect on French cooperation with the United States.

Dispatches from Paris indicate Pineau's mission will not be considered successful unless he gets some positive declarations from Dulles.

Algeria is France's No. 1 problem. Added to the determination of the Algerian Nationalists in combatting a formidable French army is the fact that Egypt and other Arab countries are openly supporting the rebels.

Pineau would like Dulles to promise France its unqualified support on its Algerian policy. This policy is to bring peace to Algeria first, by force if necessary, and only then to negotiate an agreement under which Algeria would have self-government—but not outright independence.

THE ARAB COUNTRIES now threaten to try to put the Algerian problem before the United Nations Security Council.

The word from U. N. headquarters is that the United States, as of now, leans toward a hands-off policy. That means that it would abstain from a vote if the question of putting Algeria on the council's agenda came up.

Pineau is a firm friend of the United States. France has not yet come out of the ordeal it went through in World War II. It wants to end the Algerian rebellion, and wants the firm moral support of its friends in ending it.

PyF Members Hold Session; Members Admit Summer Camp

Members of the Pilgrim Youth Fellowship of the First Congregational Church participated in a discussion on the detrimental effects of gambling when the group met Sunday night at the church parsonage, 1179 S. Evergreen Ave.

Lucille Ewart led the discussion on the subject, "You Bet Your Life." Charles Nelson, president, conducted the business meeting and announced that a piano had been donated for the use of the fellowship.

Four members of the PYF, Sandra Hicks, Janet Nelson, Sharon Meier and Mary Ament, are attending a summer camp session at the Congregational campsite on Lake Michigan, near Sawyer, Mich.

The burglary, investigated this morning by Deputy Sheriff Tom White, occurred between 6 p.m. and 8 a.m. The Mark Twain School is the one near Baker School at the east end of Kankakee.

ALGIERES (UPI)—Rebel violence was reported for the first time today in Algiers, French North Africa, when a group of nationalists in the Place des Chateaux (square of the castles) in the heart of the town, one person was killed and 18 were wounded.

French reports said the grenade throwers apparently were aiming at Jewish stores but injured only 18.

Those who complete the five sessions will receive a graduation certificate.

Church leaders indicated that the question of the union will be finally settled at the Omaha meeting, and later this year when the Evangelical and Reformed Church holds its meeting of the General Synod.

Merger Plan Top Parley Debate Item

OMAHA (UPI)—A unification plan joining the Congregational and Reformed Churches will be debated during the annual meeting of the Congregational and Reformed Churches meets here June 20-27.

If the two denominations merge, it will mean the formation of one of the six largest American Protestant denominations, with 1,300,000 Congregationalists and 700,000 Evangelical and Reformed members joining together.

The plan for union, which has been under consideration for many years, has met stiff opposition. Leading the fight against it is the committee for continuation of the Congregational and Christian Churches.

IN 1949, a Brooklyn church group took the unification matter to court. An injunction was won, but an appeals court ruled that civil courts do not interfere with religious matters when the "temporal rights" of the members "are not involved."

Church leaders indicated that the question of the union will be finally settled at the Omaha meeting, and later this year when the Evangelical and Reformed Church holds its meeting of the General Synod.

Named Pastor
In Arkansas

The Rev. Leland W. Kuns, former pastor of Kankakee's First Presbyterian Church, has accepted a call to the Central Presbyterian Church at Russellville, Ark. He will assume his new duties there early in August.

The Central Presbyterian Church pulpit committee voted unanimously to extend the call to the Rev. Mr. Kuns who had preached at the Russellville church May 6. Action by the entire congregation came June 3 on which date the Russellville church bulletin stated the appointment of Rev. Mr. Kuns would result in "accelerated activity greater zeal for the church and its mission and enlarged service to the church and community."

Located in a region of lakes and rivers in the Arkansas River valley, Russellville is a county-seat community and the home of a state college. The Central Presbyterian Church was founded in 1871 and the present gothic-styled church building was completed in 1923.

Rev. Mr. Kuns, who came to Kankakee in 1953 after completing graduate study and receiving a master of theology degree at Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary had previously served 10 years as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Beloit, Wis. At Beloit the church grew from 300 to 1,000 participating members during his pastorate.

Serving the First Presbyterian Church here until the fall of 1955, Rev. Mr. Kuns was chairman of the Red Cross blood bank committee, secretary of the Kankakee Municipal Association, financial committee member for the Presbyterian Home in Springfield and Chicago Presbyterian committee member.

Rev. and Mrs. Kuns and their four children have been living at their Minnesota summer home since leaving here in May.

After the joint conference, Dulles was alone with Eisenhower for about 10 minutes on what press secretary James C. Hagerty described as "State Department matters."
The 8 a.m. medical bulletin issued before he received Nixon and Dulles, said he now weighs 163 pounds—seven pounds less than when he was admitted to the hospital June 8 for emergency abdominal surgery.

NIXON WENT on to say that "our primary interest at this time" is to help bring about Eisenhower's complete recovery.
After the conference with Nixon and Dulles, the President spent 25 minutes handling a variety of government business with his chief aide, Sherman Adams, and other White House staffers.
During that period the President:

1. Signed 10 bills passed by Congress and vetoed 1.

2. Signed a series of nominations for government jobs to be sent to the Senate.

3. Approved a request to Congress for supplemental appropriations totaling $2,608,396 to meet damage claims against the government and contingent expenses of the House of Representatives.

5. Signed two atomic energy documents, one dealing with an agreement between the United States and Australia regarding civilian uses of atomic energy, the other amending an agreement between the United States and Canada. Details were not made public.

6. Signed a technical memorandum for the State Department authorizing issuance of commissions to foreign service officers.

Episcopalians
Begin New Finance Plan

Members of St. Paul's Episcopal Church embarked Sunday night upon what one of the parish lay leaders called "a new and breath-taking experience."

St. Paul's parishioners, it was announced, are cutting loose, after 33 years, from the system of annual pledges of support on a "pledge and sacrifice" basis.

Cash-lump-sum gifts are discouraged, giving preference to a practice of regular, conscious acceptance of responsibility for the parish's life and work from every communicant.

Episcopalians of the annual every-member canvasses, parishioners are being asked to make continuous weekly pledges of support on a "pledge and sacrifice" basis.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the same school.

The Worry Clinic

Foresee Future Event Before A Rash Act

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Judy, aged 21, is our only daughter who went to Europe last year with a group of about 50 college students to tour a dozen countries and spend a semester at the University of Vienna.

Miss Nancy Koehler was organist and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. William Perring, as she sang, "I Love You Truly," and "Through the Years," before, and "The Lord's Prayer," during the ceremony. Traditional processional and recessional wedding marches were used.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of nylon tulle underlined with slipper satin. It was styled with a scoop neckline applied with lace, short sleeves and a lace applied skirt that extended into a train.

When the couple departed on their honeymoon trip the new Mrs. Skinner was wearing a black linen sheath dress with matching duster and white accessories. They will reside on Sand Bar Road, Kankakee.

The bride is a graduate of Central High School and has been employed at the Western Adjustment and Inspection Co. as a secretary.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the same school.

During the business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Virgil Stewart, 512 East Second St., Mrs. George Godfrey conducted the spiritual meditation on the Cathedral of the Pines in New Hampshire.

Mrs. Marion Rieger directed the worship service.

The program, based on the theme, "The World—Beginning in My Community," was given by the Mothers Circle.

Mrs. James Coleman presented the introductory to the program. Two plays, "The Caravels," and "The Christians," were presented by Mrs. Richard Merritt, Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. Keith Amerman, Mrs. Alvin Kennedy, Mrs. Glen Walbel, Mrs. Joe Yoder, Mrs. James Dennis, Mrs. Robert Gee, Mrs. Kenneth Steidinger and Mrs. John Griesemer.

Hostesses were Mrs. Nellie Wallace, Mrs. Daisy Quinlan, Mrs. A. H. Randolph, Mrs. Robert Caughey, Mrs. John Esay, Mrs. James Makinson, Mrs. Elmer Bailey, Mrs. Frank Thomas, Mrs. Anna Swartzwalder, Mrs. Alfred Tomlinson, Mrs. Clarence Baker and Mrs. Jay King.

Ralph Gee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gee, is en route to California where he will work this summer. He plans to return later in the summer and continue his education at the University of Illinois.

Let's join the parade, Judy. They give you a free meal and it will be a lark!"

"Don't be stupid," Judy immediately responded. "Think ahead. Suppose they take pictures of you in the Communist parade. They'll use those pictures to put you up in America when you wish to apply for a job in a defense plant or run for political office."

YOU WOULD THEN be labelled as a Communist, as some of our American movie stars found to their sorrow. And your chances might be ruined.

"So look ahead. Think of the future and be smart. Have nothing to do with this Communist parade."

At the risk of being charged with undue parental partiality, I must laud Judy for showing such unusual foresight.

One of the best tests of maturity is this tendency to think ahead and thus anticipate the future complications that MIGHT arise from apparently innocent action today.

College students are high in IQ but often they stampee like sheep. If Judy hadn't offered her sobering advice to her American companions, they would very likely have joined the Communist parade on May Day, thinking it was just a lark and a chance at a free feed. BUT SOME OF THEM might have regretted such thoughtless action the rest of their lives, for Judy was quite right.

Watch Your Belt Line

By JEANNE D'ARCY

If a girl has a slim, trim figure and an enviable waistline, there's one sure way to call attention to it with a belt!

It's for this reason belts are important accessories.

Seen any of the new ones? Some are wonderfully wide, some are leathers in every fashionable shade—red, pastel, orange. Others, for evening, have jewel trim. With belts, as with everything else, there are a few beauty rules to observe. The slim girl can pretty well skip them all. Her figure shows off beautifully in almost any kind of a belt from the high, wide and handsome ones that contrast with her dress or her blouse-skirt outfit, to the ones that are covered to match the fabric of her frock.

The plump lady must, with belts as with other wardrobe items, be a conservative. No brightly colored belts for her. No belts in contrasting colors, either. They'll only make her look fatter. They'll focus attention on too-wide hips and on that ugly over-ward-line roll. Her best bet is to wear a belt that's the same color as her dress.

Another tip to remember is this:

Make sure your belt slides through the belt loops provided for it on the side seams of a dress. The loops were put there for a reason. They hold the belt in place, keep it from sliding up. If they break, don't be a lazy gal and forget about them. Mend them.

Remember that a belt can add or subtract from the way you look. When it starts getting worn, discard it. Buy a new one. If your appearance is perfect, why mar it by looking shabby at the waistline?

Grimm Makes Haney Look Good In Bow

Puts Adcock In Lineup, His 3 Homers Win 2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Charlie Grimm's last official act as manager of Milwaukee was to announce Joe Adcock would play both games at Brooklyn Sunday. It was one of the best moves he ever made — for the new manager, Fred Haney.

Before Grimm knew he was going to resign, he told the players Saturday he was taking Adcock off the bench and starting him at first base as a reward for his pinch-hitting in Saturday's game. Before the night was over, Grimm was out and Haney was in.

Adcock hit three home runs for Milwaukee Sunday, one of them the first ever hit over the left field stands at Ebbets Field, as the Braves swept a doubleheader for Haney 5-4 and 3-1.

Despite a possible defeat by St. Louis, the Pittsburgh Pirates still held the National League lead in half games. The Cardinals dropped the Pirates 3-1 on Sunday. Milwaukee's two-run homer and 8-3 or better by Hank Sauer and Bob Delaney.

Bob Sweikert Dies In Auto Race Crash

INDIANAPOLIS (U.P.)—Bob Sweikert, a fearless champion on the track but "scared to death on the highway," met an auto racer's death Sunday after he crashed on a high-banked Salem Speedway.

Sweikert, the 1955 winner at Indianapolis, brushed the wall with his sprint car while trying to pass a race driver's wife.

JACKSON, Tenn. (U.P.)—Mrs. Bob Sweikert, widow of the National driving champion who was killed at Salem, Ind., Sunday, said last night that she did not want her husband to give up racing because "that's his life."

Mrs. Sweikert said she did not want her husband to stop racing because "that's his life." She said she would not want him to stop racing because "that's his life."

Joe Adcock's home runs were a tremendous blast over the left field roof and out of the park. It came in the sixth inning, off right-hander Ed Rebeck, and snapped a 4-4 first game tie.

In all, Adcock has hit 21 home runs at Ebbets Field, a mark bettered only by Stan Musial's 30 among active players.

"I CAN'T EXPLAIN why I've always hit so well here," Adcock said. "I know I like to hit here—more than in any other park. I know I can't hit with Kluwek, Sider, Mays or Hodges but I know I played here last season I believe I hit as many homers as they do."

Adcock's big blast was believed to be the first ever hit out of the park in left field.

The split kept the Cubs in sixth place, two full games ahead of New York and 5½ games ahead of the fifth-place Milwaukee Braves.

The Sox dropped a half game to the Yankees Sunday and trail the lead by 10½ games but remain 1½ games ahead of the third-place Boston Red Sox who trailed behind Cleveland.

The 628-year Illinois Country Club course with a women's par of 75 is the scene of the tournament.
