Did Something About That Cold Bathroom!

Someone has finally done something about "cold" bathrooms! The answer is Bob Schaff, free lance designer, who has developed a new type of bathroom that is warm and cozy, and has a lot of room for the family.

Bob Schaff, who has been in the bathroom business for many years, has developed a new type of bathroom that is warm and cozy, and has a lot of room for the family.

The effect is pleasing to the eye, to the mind, and to the touch. That deep freeze clinical look, the trademark of most bathrooms, is missing in the Schaff bathroom. Wood paneling, has defrosted the arctic atmosphere that's a product of the harsh, unfriendly materials characteristic of this room.

Schaff made his Southern pine paneling steam resistant by applying a water-repellent pigmented resin finish. Such treatment may open up a new market for wood in bathroom paneling, according to the National Manufacturers Association and the Southern Pine Association, which helped advise Schaff on the project.

PIGMENTED RESIN FINISHES are this, tinted varnishes in which the amount of coloring pigment has been reduced so that the finish is absorbed by, and becomes part of, the wood. No special priming or other preparation of the wood surface is necessary and the finishes do not obscure the natural beauty and texture of the wood.

For Schaff's purpose, their most important feature was that they seal the pores of the wood against moisture, so prevalent in bathrooms. This sealing permits paneling to throw off moisture without damage to the wood or finish.

To make sure that his bathroom paneling would be completely steam resistant—front and back—Schaff had the wood soaked in a pigmented finish for several hours before it was nailed up. As double insurance and for the pleasing effect, Schaff chose Southern pine that had been manufactured into bevel siding—the same kind you see on the exteriors of many homes.

BEVEL SIDING is nailed up so that each piece slightly overlaps the next. This is to prevent a space from developing between the boards should any expansion of the wood occur. The way in which bevel siding is cut and applied also protects against buckling of the boards if the wood expands.

In one of his bathrooms, Schaff had the bevel siding applied horizontally. In another bathroom, the siding was nailed vertically. The pigmented finishes used on the paneling—white in one room and wheat-tone in the other—bring out all the richness of the wood, highlighting every bit of warmth and color in the grain.

Complementing this is the line-and-shadow effect of the bevel siding. The result is just what you'd expect. Schaff's bathrooms have a feel of the cold-to-the-touch, cold-to-the-mind of most bathrooms. Instead, they are warm and cozy, and have a feeling of "welcome" to the bathroom caller.

Metal Window Framing Grows In Popularity

Steel windows, designed and manufactured by the American Metal Window Co., are becoming more popular in new homes. The company's new design features a wider range of styles and sizes, and is more flexible for two reasons—the trend to larger families and the increasing number of elderly persons.

Available through most large building material dealers, steel windows may be had in conventional designs, as well as modern styles featuring picture window expanses of solid glass, casement types and styles with broad horizontal expanses of glass. There are combination types, also, with variations of casement panels teamed with solid glass areas, and horizontal panels which swing outward like awnings.

For houses of traditional design, such as the Cape Cod, steel windows have been specified in many developments. While the ready-to-install steel window arrives at the house, it is generally painted to match exterior and interior colors.

The ease with which steel windows can be installed, say manufacturers, is due to (1) simplicity of design, and (2) manufacturing techniques that develop unusual rigidity and dimension-holding ability.

The steel window is engineered so that it can be placed snugly into two-by-four framing, or into brickwork or masonry, without rect wax to use and proper maintenance is available for home owners from every manufacturer. Here are some of the fundamentals outlined by one of the best-known companies for National Home Week.

The major types of flooring in use today are linoleum, both in roll and tile form, with or without laid patterns; asphalt tile, the most popular material with "do-it-yourselfers"; vinyl plastic, in sheet or tile form; and wood, in solid or engineered planks.

The two types of floor wax are self-polishing and polishing. Self-polishing wax is a water emulsion. It always comes in liquid form and has a hard, shiny finish. It is applied with a long-handled applicator, and allowed to dry to a buff, shiny finish. It requires no buffing and can be used on any type of flooring except unsealed wood.

The other type of wax, only recently introduced by Johnson's, combines the best features of both of the above types and can be used on all kinds of flooring. It is a self-polishing wax that protects like wax, but it does not require buffing and can be used on any type of flooring except unsealed wood.

New Emphasis On Care Of Floors

The proper care of floors has become increasingly important with the turn of the trend from heavy carpeted areas toward more widespread use of polished wood and polished tile.

The problem, says a leading authority, is that many homeowners are not properly caring for their floors. The current development of new and varied types of flooring materials is it is helpful to have a wider knowledge of maintenance products and techniques.

There are three things concerning flooring that the housewife should know:

1. The material of which the flooring is made.

2. Which of the basic types of wax should be used for that material.

3. The best methods of day-to-day care between waxings.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE CORRECT WAX TO USE AND PROPER MAINTENANCE IS AVAILABLE FOR HOME OWNERS FROM EVERY MANUFACTURER.

Mansfield, Tex., May Become Test Case

Here's When U. S. May Have To Act To Enforce Integration Edict

WASHINGTON (UP)—Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas has raised a point which lies at the heart of the school integration problem. What happens when there is open defiance of a federal court order?

So far the question has been academic, but in the case of Mansfield, Tex., the case is being raised in concrete form.

A federal court ordered the Mansfield school board to stop discriminating against the admission of Negroes on the basis of color. The school board refused to obey the order.

The school board is now being sued by the federal government for contempt of court.

Shivers then sent six Texas Rangers to Mansfield to help maintain law and order, instructing them to transfer "any school children, white or colored, whose attendance or attempts to attend Mansfield High School would be reasonably calculated to incite violence."

In essence, the governor said that if violence threatened to accompany Negroes' entry to the school, they should be sent elsewhere. The Negroes dropped their attempt—at least temporarily.

Shivers denied this was defiance of the federal court, but added, "Should the resulting actions be construed as contempt of the federal court?"

So what happens? Nothing at the moment. Federal courts are blind until there is official notification of a violation. Until the interested parties—the Negroes' lawyer or the school board's—come before the court and allege that the non-discrimination order is not being obeyed, the court will take no action.

BUT IF the Negroes' or school board's attorney does appear, the court can issue a restraining order.

Jewish Holy Day, Yom Kippur Begins At Sundown Friday

The holiest of all the days in the Jewish calendar is Yom Kippur, also known as the Sabbath of Sabbaths, which begins at sundown Friday.

For 24 hours fasting and prayer will occupy Jewish persons in the Kansas City area during the traditional Kol Nidre services.

Temple B'nai Israel will begin services when the sun goes down Friday and the traditional observance will continue through the 24-hour period.

Rabbi B'nai Israel and Cantor Stanley Rosen will conduct the services in the local synagogue.

The services, calling for self-examination, repentance and forgiveness, will end the 10 high holy days following Rosh Hashanah, which last Wednesday ushered in the Hebrew year of 5717.

7 Cities Listed As Bomb Targets

CHICAGO (UP)—Seven Illinois cities have been designated possible targets for an enemy bomb attack by the Illinois Civil Defense Administration.

The designations announced Wednesday were made on the basis of industry locations. The cities are: Chicago, East St. Louis, Rockford, Springfield, Rock Island, Peoria and Decatur.

There are 71 possible target areas in the United States, the defense administration said.

Wards Observes 84th Anniversary

Back in 1872 A. Montgomery Ward started a mail order business in a 12 by 14-foot room in Chicago that was destined to grow into a nation-wide operation with 564 retail stores, 365 catalog stores, 10 metropolitan phone units and 10 mail order houses serving customers all over the world.

In observance of this 84th "birthday" Montgomery Ward and Co. is staging an anniversary merchandising event that opened in Kansas City Wednesday, C. N. Norris, store manager here, announced.

He pointed out that Wards continued solely as a mail order business for 46 years before the first retail store came into being by chance rather than plan.

In 1928 three "merchandise exhibits," forerunners of today's catalog stores, were opened to stimulate

John Stewart Service, Amerasia Case Files

Diplomat Goes To Court To Get Old Job, Pay Back

Diplomat John Stewart Service, 46, lost his fight in lower courts. Investigations of his loyalty stemmed originally from charges of communism by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson discharged Service from his $11,000-a-year post after an adverse finding by the Civil Service Commission's now-defunct loyalty review board. Service had been cleared twice by the State Department's own loyalty board.

LAST JUNE, the U.S. Court of Appeals here ordered the record cleared of findings that there was "reasonable doubt" as to Service's loyalty. But the court said he could be fired "without notice of charges, hearing or appeal."

Appealing to the Supreme Court Wednesday, Service argued that since the review board's findings against him had been cleared, he was entitled to his old job and pay.

Service, a veteran of 16 years in the foreign service, most in China.

Congregational Men Hear Talk About The Stars

Forty-five members and guests of the Men's Fellowship, First Congregational Church of Kankakee, attended an outdoor luncheon by Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. H. R. Rolland, 1450 Cobb Blvd.

During a talk following the luncheon, Rolland spoke on one of his hobbies—astronomy. In his speech, interspersed with humor relating to his subject, the Kankakee attorney told how the universe has held the interest of people since the earliest times.

Rolland cited various Biblical passages relating to the stars. He said that, although the average person in Biblical times had little formal education, the stars provided universal subject matter which they could be observed by.

MANY OF THE ALLUSIONS made on the heavens in those times proved to be incorrect, since the people of that time had no observation on the naked eye for observation, whereas we now have powerful telescopes, Rolland pointed out.

During a devotional period arranged by Morris Fromm, LeRoy Reese spoke on the need for increased manpower in the affairs of the church. He also urged those present to promote "a masculine religion which will produce strong and virile beliefs."

Scripture was read by William Ewart, prayer was led by Edgar Patch and three hymns were sung by a male quartet composed of Edward Nelson, John Campbell, Walter Schram and Charles Palmer.

IT WAS announced that the third annual statewide Congregational laymen's conference will be held Sept. 22 and 23 at the Illinois State Capitol in Springfield.

DULLES MADE no reference at the local group meeting to the conference.

Program Chairman E. Carroll Corkins, who also introduced Rolland as the speaker, outlined the program plans. Members of his committee are Arthur Dahms, Jerome Gerritson, Lynn Minor, Ed Nelson and the Rev. C. Eugene Askew.

Alvin Bachman, secretary of the fellowship, read the minutes of previous meetings.

Arrangements for the Tuesday evening meeting were made by Dr. Perry Taylor. Others on this committee are Edwin Benson, chairman; John Baird, James Jones, August Peterson and A. E. Anderson Jr.

Olivet Evening Registrations Being Accepted

Registrations at Olivet Nazarene College are being accepted for evening classes.

Prof. R. L. Lunford said that the registration period for the 4:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. classes will end primarily on Mondays and Thursdays.

The courses available include introduction to social sciences, mathematics and fundamentals of drawing; two art courses, measurements and child psychology.

Later evening classes include freshman mathematics, industrial psychology and music—including piano, organ, percussion instruments and voice.

Music specialists will be enrolled Saturday at Goodman Hall.

aimed at regulating international traffic through the canal—supplying pilots to guide the ships. The association would be in the role of a tenant, with Dulles as the landlord of the canal.

Prime Minister Eden put the future of his government on the line, calling for a vote of confidence on his moves for meeting the Egyptian crisis. The vote was expected to come late today, winding up two days of debate between the two sides.

An emergency session of Parliament.

Eden announced a stormy House of Commons Wednesday that the United States, Britain and France were proposing establishment of a canal users' association to take ships through the 103-mile Middle East waterway. The association would provide pilots, regulate traffic, fix rates, collect tolls and share the income.

The new proposal drew quick fire in Cairo. Egyptian officials termed it "provocation leading to war against Egypt," and a "sugarcane threat of force."

Abdel Kader Hatem, Egyptian information director, declared Egypt would not surrender legal rights and sovereignty.

Egypt has claimed sole control over the canal since President Nasser announced the nationalization of the Suez Canal Co. July 26.

In New Delhi, India, Prime Minister Nehru denounced the plan because he said it implied an intention to impose a settlement.

DULLES declined to spell out what he meant by other action. He said that if the questioner told him what the circumstances were, at that time he could then tell him what the appropriate action might be.

Dulles was asked directly whether the United States would support Britain in any attempt to send an armed convoy through the waterway which Egypt has seized.

Dulles replied that if by support, he meant the United States would take steps through the United Nations to force Egypt to give up the canal, he would not support such action.

So far as going into any kind of military action under present conditions, of course, we are not ready, they can help out all the way to Europe if the canal were closed and nations from the Middle East were forced to go around Africa.

DULLES expressed hope that Egypt, on sober reflection, would decide to cooperate with the users' association. He said he believed the program, first outlined by Eden, was not fully understood by the Egyptians.

The main aim, he said, is to take the problem out of the emotion charged atmosphere of diplomacy and hand it to practical shippers and technical authorities.

He warned the consequences would be grave.

The State Department in Washington confirmed that the United States had agreed to join in the plan, and diplomatic sources here said Secretary of State Dulles had agreed to the plan. But Washington made it clear that the United States wanted more than Big Three sponsorship. State Department statements stressed "cooperation with Egypt" and participation by other nations in the projected association.

U.S. officials were reported to have said in a statement that the U.S.-British-French canal board would be rejected by Egypt as "a bad joke" because it implied Western domination.

Honor Rev. Misch For 35 Years In Ministry

The Rev. Otto Misch, pastor of the Zion Lutheran Church located west of Kankakee on Route 17, was honored Sunday in connection with his 35th anniversary in the ministry.

The events included a service at 5 p.m. and a dinner that followed. Sons of the Misches participated in the service. The Rev. C. Ben Misch delivered the sermon and Mark, a seminary student, was organist. Paul Burck, who like Misch is a seminary student at Springfield, handled the liturgy.

The Rev. Paul E. Meyer of Millford, who had installed the Rev. Misch 35 years ago in "Moonshine," also spoke at the service.

The dinner in the evening was prepared and served by the Ladies Aid Society. Mark Misch was toastmaster; selections were presented by the quartet and a brief talk was given by the Rev. Mr. Meyer. Greetings were read from pastors including the district president, Rev. A. Werfmann of Elgin.

A purse from the congregation was presented to the Rev. Misch by the congregation.

The honoree has been pastor of the Zion Lutheran Church since 1923. He spent 30 of his 35 years in the ministry in Montana.

Plan Series Of County Youth Rallies

The Rev. Omar Brubaker of Kankakee has been elected director of the county-wide Youth For Christ rallies to be held during the next 12 months. Assistant director will be the Rev. Charles Johnson of St. Anne.

Other officers of the Youth For Christ movement in the county are the Rev. Wesley Bentley, Bourbonnais, chairman of the Kankakee County Youth For Christ committee; the Rev. Herman Riffel of Kankakee, personal workers chairman; Miss Anita Richards of Kankakee, committee secretary; the Rev. Harry Bryant of Kankakee, treasurer; Vernon Marshall of Kankakee, facilities chairman, and Lyle Ray, advertising chairman.

The Rev. Mr. Brubaker has announced that the organization's theme for the year will be "The Teenage Answer To The Teenage Problem—Youth For Christ."

He announced that rallies will be held on the first Saturday of each month. The director said that they will be held in the various churches in the county.

Each rally for a pep rally will be held on Sept. 29 as a get-acquainted time for the fall season. Time and place of the rally will be decided in a few days.

First of the 12 rallies will be on Oct. 6 at the First Baptist Church, Kankakee. Lynn T. Charter of Vinton, Iowa, will be the guest speaker at the meeting. A wide traveler has toured the United States with Youth For Christ International.

The Rev. Mr. Brubaker has invited any churches or groups in the county to join in the Youth For Christ movement. He suggested that such groups interested should contact one of the officers.

Director also emphasized that persons wishing to be placed on Youth For Christ mailing lists should contact advertising chairman Lyle Ray or himself.

Iroquois County Farmers Tour Well Managed Sheldon Farms

Iroquois County farmers toured two Sheldon farms Wednesday. The farms of W. C. Sheldon and John Rice had great similarities but differed in one important respect and that is size.

Both farms are father and son operations. Charles Sheldon operates one and Tom Rice the other. Both are successful livestock farmers. But the Sheldon farm is 400 acres in size while the Rice farm is 115 acres.

The Sheldons have a five year rotation of corn-soybean-corn-corn-soybean. An average of 34.5 per cent of the tillable land has been in hay and pasture for the past two years.

OUTSTANDING in the livestock enterprise is Charles's Angus cow herd. The herd of 60 registered cows was started by Charles' father in 1922. Charles started with an Angus heifer as a 4-H project when he was 13. The calves are sold each fall in a purebred auction sale.

Hybrid hogs and some Spotted Poland China hogs have been used on Hampshire and Spotted Poland China sows in the swine enterprise. The average number of pigs weaned per litter for the past two years has been seven.

During the past two years the farm has averaged 124.75 pounds of beef and pork per year. This is enough pork to feed 1,130 people and enough beef to feed 600 persons a year.

WHILE TOURING the farm, the farmers saw a number of labor saving ideas. For example Charles uses a power take-off operated spreader to spread straw through out his loafing barn.

On the Rice farm an average of 85,500 pounds of beef, pork and poultry meats have been produced over the past three years. This is enough pork to feed 1,200 people, which is greater than the population of Sheldon, each year, enough eggs to feed 120 persons and enough milk to supply 240 people yearly.

The 115-acre area is an example of intensive farming. And it adequately supports two families. The Rice are milking a herd of 17 registered Holsteins. They have 319 pigs from 36 spring litters, an average of 8.9 pigs weaned per litter. The eggs are sold at Gilman on a graded basis.

Over the past three years the return per $100 fed to dairy has been $183. The return on $100 fed to hogs has been $183 and the return for each $100 in feed fed poultry has been $183.

JERRY ANDREWS, University of Illinois farm economist, spoke to the group at the end of the tour. He said that on both farms the men know what they are doing and where they stand because they keep accurate records. He said there is proof that there is a lot of head and hand work on both farms. Andrews pointed out that farms are getting bigger. "The census shows us that we are headed for fewer farms and fewer farmers in the future," he said.

"FARMING HAS become a most competitive business, and it's farmers like Rice and Sheldon who are forcing the inefficient farmers into other occupations," he said that even though Rice's farm has not grown in size, it has grown in business.

The tour was arranged by Kenneth Imig, farm adviser; Arlin Obst, assistant farm adviser; Ted Meyer, Farm Bureau Farm Management fieldman.

Farm Machine Makers Will Raise Prices

CHICAGO (UPI)—Farm equipment manufacturers were cautious in predicting price increases for the coming year, but they agreed that prices would rise.

The makers of farm machinery were united in their stand that they have no other choice but to raise prices.

The manufacturers took the position that when the cost of making and selling a tractor becomes higher than the price received for it, prices must go up. And they all pointed to higher costs of steel and copper, and higher labor and transportation costs as the causes of such a situation.

INTERNATIONAL Harvester, generally considered first in manufacture of farm equipment, this month announced a 5 per cent price increase on all farm equipment machines. At the same time the firm reported a 16.5 per cent drop in sales of such equipment since early spring.

The company also ordered substantial layoffs in the spring and summer months, and has not yet recalled any of its workers. If a back-to-work call is issued, it will not come until winter, when manufacturing is expected to be in a spring surge of buying, so it is a long time before the company can take them out of trouble.

But a firm like Deere & Co., which claims second place in the industry, has a different view. It says that its sales have been steady, and that it has no intention of raising prices. It says that it has lost 30 to 35 million dollars in sales this year, but that it is in a strike in the future, it is thinking about it. If they haven't laid off workers, they are switching the men to other jobs.

DIVERSIFIED companies like International Harvester, Caterpillar and Allis Chalmers, manufacturers of other lines, such as construction equipment, which is booming at the present time. These companies and others like them can take their losses in farm equipment and make up the profit elsewhere.

But now prices are improving, crops are good, and the soil bank will put cash into farmers' hands, a Deere representative said.

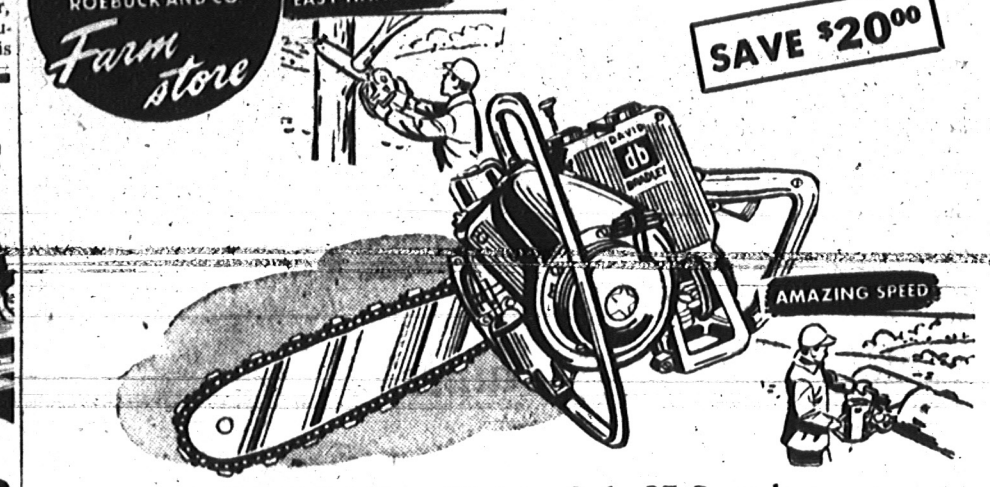

In addition, farm labor costs are rising, and the uncertainty of prices, threat of drought, and the threat of a strike. Deere also expects to raise prices.

Talmadge Winner In Georgia Race

ATLANTA (UPI)—Georgia's successor to veteran U. S. Sen. Walter F. George will be Herman E. Talmadge, 42, a staunch racial segregationist.

Talmadge, a former governor, won the election by a landslide, receiving more than 100,000 votes, or more than a fifth of the total.

Talmadge led in all the counties heard from—147 of a total of 159—and had 378 of the decisive county units in his column to none for his rival. He had appeared in his campaign for an "overwhelming mandate" to carry his battle for "local self-determination" and racial segregation — to the Congress.

The regular vote count from 1,286 of the state's 1,788 precincts gave Talmadge 372,907, Thompson 150,907.

The 77-year-old George, now President Eisenhower's personal representative to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, first announced his renomination but changed his mind in the face of a Talmadge threat of a hot summer political fight.

Six of the state's 10 U. S. representatives had opposition but all were defeated.

At Carlinville, he held a meeting of Republican women's administration for Macoupin County 5½ million dollars worth of highway improvements since it took office in 1953. He cited $2.5 million spent on U. S. 66, $721,000 improving Rte. 67 from Medora south, $256,000 improving Rte. 4 from Bend to Gillespie, and $53,000 for a highway department storage garage at Carlinville.

Financial figures also were listed in Peoria, where Stratton's opponent, Richard B. Austin, was addressing area Democratic leaders.

AUSTIN rapped Stratton and the state Republican administration because of a 1½ million dollar scandal in the state auditor's office that sent Orville E. Hodge to prison for 15 years.

Republican Sen. Everett M. Dirksen expressed confidence in the GOP's election chances during a luncheon in Chicago. He told the Republican women's Democratic Victory Monday in Maine should not bring to the GOP a loss of confidence.

Candidates On Vote Trail In Illinois

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Illinois voters are getting constant verbal reminders of the approach of November elections from top candidates of both major parties touring the state.

Gov. Stratton Wednesday told Macoupin and Montgomery County voters his Republican administration has made big strides in bettering state highway construction.

At Carlinville, he held a meeting of Republican women's administration for Macoupin County 5½ million dollars worth of highway improvements since it took office in 1953. He cited $2.5 million spent on U. S. 66, $721,000 improving Rte. 67 from Medora south, $256,000 improving Rte. 4 from Bend to Gillespie, and $53,000 for a highway department storage garage at Carlinville.

Welcome Dinner Held For Kankakee Teaching Staff

About 150 persons attended a welcome dinner for new members of the Kankakee teaching staff given Tuesday night by the Kankakee Federation of Teachers at F. J. Junior High School.

The program included a poem by Miss Violet Koerner giving a history of the teachers' union, and a satire on "Sixteen Tons" by Everett Uphoff. Miss Lula Martin spoke on "Why I Should Join the Kankakee Federation."

Mrs. Grace Bydalek, federation president, introduced the executive board, which includes Charles McCarthy, vice president; Wilfred Moss, corresponding secretary; Miss Laverne Coleman, executive secretary; Mrs. Grace Holt, financial secretary; Mrs. Victoria Paichek, legislative chairman; Mrs. Evelyn Porter, parliamentarian; and Miss Eunice Egges, outgoing president.

Arthur Hasbagen, editor of the federation's new newsletter, also was introduced.

Co-editors Named For KHS Yearbook And Newspaper

The Kankakee student newspaper and yearbook at Kankakee High School have co-editors this year.

Editors of the paper are Melissa Blanke and Carol Worrell.

Editors of the yearbook are John Dooley and Jack Hensel.

Yearbook editors are Carol Shuler and Judy Hildenbrand.

Judy Johnson is assistant editor. Joyce Lutes is the business manager and Janice Hansen and Elva Martell are advertising managers. Mary Nelson is sports editor. Jim Weik is student photographer for both publications.

The staffs are in the midst of their subscription campaign which will be climaxed by a dance Sept. 21 following the Danville football game. The subscription contest will determine who is to be crowned queen at the dance.

The candidates are Pat Salmer and Sue Small, seniors; Linda Long and Judy Utermarck, juniors; and Janet Ruby and Joyce Carpenter, sophomores.

The yearbook and paper are published through a journalism class taught by Miss Helen Hess.

Former Lawmaker And Wife Die Only An Hour Apart

CHICAGO (UPI)—Funeral services will be held Saturday for former U. S. Rep. Carl Chindblom (R-Ill.), 86, and his wife, Christine, 74, who died Wednesday—one hour apart.

Mrs. Chindblom died in her husband's arms, a family friend said. Chindblom died shortly afterward as he sat in a chair while a physician was telephoning news of his wife's death to their daughter.

Mrs. Chindblom had complained of breathing difficulties Tuesday. She had not been ill previously.

Chindblom, a retired lawyer who served in Congress from 1919 to 1933, had a heart condition.

The Chindbloms were married 48 years.

They are survived by a son, Richard N., a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Carlson, and four grandchildren.

Services Saturday will be held in Getsemane Lutheran Church.

Geologists estimate that the weirdly shaped rocks now visible in Colorado's Garden of the Gods lay at the bottom of a sea that once covered Colorado hundreds of millions of years ago.

New Classified Advertising Service At Journal

The latest customer service made available by the Kankakee Daily Journal classified advertising department is the establishment of a specially trained ad-taker stationed at a convenient place in the lobby of the Journal building. Shown at work is Mrs. Alfred Hubert, one of the new ad-takers.

This is a new addition to the classified department and will make possible prompt, personalized service to customers, both business customers and the general public. This ad-taker will also help handle the many phone calls for classified ad service. James Greenwood, classified advertising manager, points out that this latest service is part of a continuing program of improvement in the Journal's classified advertising department.

World Methodist Delegates Ask Fewer Talks, More Discussion

LAKE JUNALUSKA, N. C. — Fewer speeches. More time for discussion. That was the sentiment of delegates to the World Methodist Conference, at the end of 12 days of meetings — at which more than 60 lectures were delivered.

Bishop Fred P. Corson of Philadelphia, who presided over the conference, summed up the conference as "a time of bearing Christian witness in a new and better atmosphere."

The Rev. Dr. Harold Roberts, a British theologian and educator, was elected to succeed Bishop Corson.

In his summary, Bishop Corson reported these findings of some of the most important discussion groups:

Basis of Christian authority: Individuals, institutions and experience contribute to Christian authority. The main guide is the Bible.

Church and state: Man's first responsibility is to God. The church is not his master. It is necessary to

Teenagers Favor Sex Education; But Think It's Too Late For Them

By EUGENE GILBERT

Teenagers interviewed by the Kankakee Daily Journal are insisting that while sex education at the high school level is certainly a necessity, it already is too late for them to be taught.

"My goodness," exclaimed a Jersey City teenager, "don't you think we know all the facts of life by then? Why, by the time I was 10 I knew all about the birds and bees. If we are to be taught correctly at all, it must be in grammar school."

The young people interviewed from public high schools throughout the country are not particularly interested in sex education as far as they are concerned. They claim they have already gleaned their knowledge, for better or worse. It is for their younger sisters and brothers and future generations that they are concerned.

"I surely don't want my kids to hear about it the way I did," a Boston youngster responded. "My friends really had me frightened at 10 years old."

But there were four plenty more who were not so sure. They were interviewed without exception the youngsters interviewed were able to pinpoint the source of their earliest contact with the facts of life. (45.5 percent of the girls) had their first brush with the subject in discussions among themselves.

The highest percentage of instructors were schoolmates and street friends. To a much lesser degree, parents were instrumental in educating their children. Several youngsters credited their knowledge to conversations with hygiene instructors, camp counselors, close relatives, clerics, doctors and nurses.

On the whole, it was revealed that their approach to this normal stage of physical development was guided by persons least qualified to render this vital service.

A more completed and perhaps less dangerous awakening to the facts of life was shared by the 15.6 percent of the boys and 13.3 percent of the girls who read up on the subject—either in medical books, church pamphlets or sex manuals.

ALTHOUGH THE VAST majority of youngsters interviewed had not yet learned about sex from their parents (60.1 percent of the boys and 59.7 percent of the girls), another major study by our organization showed that the youngsters felt parents were not equipped to teach them about sex and the school would do the best job.

Besides, both boys and girls were unanimous in deploring the lack of sufficient clinical instruction. A large percentage told our interviewers that while they preferred to gain first sex knowledge from their mothers or fathers, they would appreciate the clinical explanation that would be added by a course in school.

"Sure, a parent should be the first to let you in on the secret," observed a Milwaukee boy. "But most parents wouldn't know how. Maybe there should be a course to teach parents to teach children. That would solve the whole problem."

Since 60 percent of all the teenagers interviewed say they learned something about sex before reaching their teens, they are firm in their insistence that junior high school—and even elementary school—is the place for initial instruction.

"Going steady" is becoming more and more popular among younger and younger teens. So, if 13 through 15 year-olds are going to start heavy dating, they surely should be given sufficient sex education to protect them.

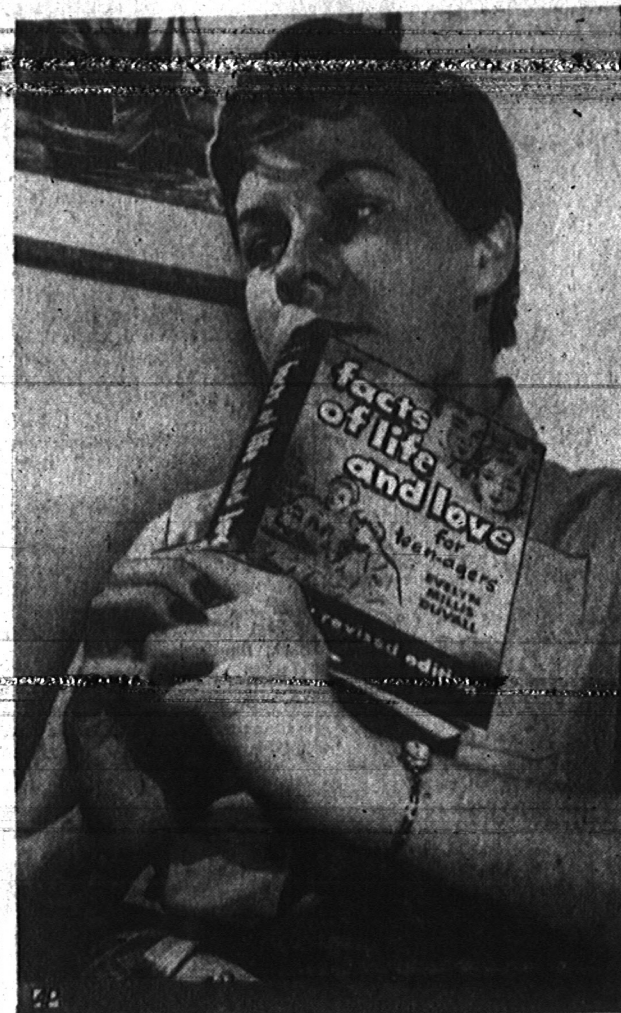

"Going steady" is becoming more and more popular among younger and younger teens. So, if 13 through 15 year-olds are going to start heavy dating, they surely should be given sufficient sex education to protect them.

STATISTICS SHOW that 4 percent of women giving birth to their first child are under 15 years of age and 26 percent are between the ages of 15 and 19. This means that 30 percent of American women are 19 and under when they have their first child. Certainly this is ample evidence of the need for early and sound education.

A definite lack of embarrassment was shown by both boys and girls (in ratio of 30) when we asked if they were or would be embarrassed by their teachers talking to them on the subject. In fact, many commented that it is far too serious a topic for such childish behavior.

But one-fourth of those interviewed said that teachers talking about sex were embarrassing. Many did not voice an opinion.

Youth today seems to agree that a natural, matter-of-fact presentation would be an excellent antidote to the misinformation and unnecessary shame brought about by derivative approaches to this all-important subject.

ONE IN SIX turns to books for the facts of life.

St. Anne Church Plans Promotion Day, Rally Day

ST. ANNE (JNS)—Approximately 25 attended the Sunday school teachers and workers meeting Monday evening in the Presbyterian Church.

Miss Carrie Marie Kierce presided at the meeting. Plans were formulated for Promotion day, Sept. 30, and for Rally Day, Oct. 7.

Two new Sunday school teachers were introduced, Miss Janice Thelen and Miss Mary Ann Chaffer.

Announcement was made of the area Sunday school conference to be held in the Immanuel Baptist Church in Kankakee Sept. 17.

The Rev. Charles Johnson presented the Bible study lesson which was on the First Book of Kings. A written quiz was given.

MR. AND MRS. PETER Salm and Miss Neil Salm left Monday for Dulcic, N.M., where Miss Salm will teach English in the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Salm left Sunday for Carbondale where he will attend Southern State Teachers College.

Surgeons Warned By Archbishop

CHICAGO (UP)—Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago, has cautioned surgeons against using every surgical technique known to them.

Addressing the annual banquet of the International College of Surgeons, Cardinal Stritch said surgeons must be aware that a "higher law than science and art" governs their work. Because of this law, he said, a "surgeon may not do all that surgery makes possible."

The Catholic prelate said experimentation sometimes is mistaken for progress when it does not "see vision the wholeness and dignity of the human person."

He cited the "horror and disgust" stemming from experiments on living men by Nazi doctors and scientists.

High School Tests For Persons Over 21 To Be Given

Tests for persons over 21 who want to get a high school diploma will be offered Sept. 20-21 at Kankakee High School.

They are the GED—general educational development—tests, given three times annually. The tests will be offered Dec. 11-12 and again in March.

At the high school office, they should be signed by the principal of the school from which the applicants want to get their diploma. Applicants must be at least 21 years of age.

The tests were devised during World War II to aid veterans who were unable to finish high school because of entry into service.

Now they are given to both veterans and non-veterans, according to Arthur Hasbargen of the faculty, who administers them.

They cover the areas of natural and physical science, mathematics, literature, mastery of the English language. A citizen-type test also is included in accordance with state law and social studies. Two days are required to complete the examinations.

They are held commencing at 8 a. m. each of the two days. Normally three to 15 persons take the tests here, Hasbargen said.

Seek Ex-Client For Trying To Kill Attorney

CHICAGO (UP)—An attorney told police he escaped injury Wednesday night when a former client poked a gun through a cab window and fired four shots at him.

Sgt. Hurwitz, 50, said he escaped injury by dropping to the ground and crawling away from his cab.

Hurwitz, who maintains offices in the Loop, identified his assailant as Milton Kramer, 40. Kramer has not been found.

Hurwitz said he saw Kramer as he left his office and again spotted him sitting in a cab near his home. When the man in the cab poked a gun through a window and began firing, the lawyer said he dropped to the ground. Four spent 32 caliber shells were found by police.

The attorney said Kramer threatened him two years ago when he handled disposal of a $2,000 estate belonging to Kramer's mother. He said Kramer also threatened him by telephone recently.

Golden Key For Home Owners

Cooper (left) marked the construction of the 100,000th National Home. The celebration home, being erected in Kankakee, will be owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin and son, Gary, pictured accepting the key from Cooper. This will be the first home owned by the Martins, who now live at 1817 S. Fourth Ave. The home is completed and ready for occupancy in about three weeks. In observance of constructing its 100,000th celebration home in Cooper's Hillcrest, National Homes honored the Martin family at a luncheon Wednesday, to which city officials were invited. $17,000 Gown Makes Wheels Grind To A Stop

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)—The roulette wheels in this gambling resort city all but stopped turning Wednesday night when actress Zsa Zsa Gabor made her debut in a daring low-cut $17,000 gown. The well-formed dress was made up of pale peach-colored chiffon panels and topped only with a glitter of simulated diamonds.

Miss Gabor also stopped the show with laughter when the audience was allowed to ask her questions and one girl said: "I have a boy friend who has 100 oil wells and a gold mine and I want to know how to handle him." Miss Gabor replied, "I think I'd better handle this one myself."

'Body' Has A Girl
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Actress Marie (The Body) McDonald was reported "doing well" at Cedars of Lebanon hospital after giving birth to a 4-pound, 6-ounce girl. The baby was born by cesarean section Wednesday. Miss McDonald, who recently obtained a divorce from show executive Harry Karl, suffered six previous miscarriages during eight years of marriage to Karl.

Spectators May Try Talents At Art League Show

Spectators at the Kankakee Art League's "Clothesline Show" Sunday at Gov. Small Memorial Park will have the opportunity to discover any latent artistic talents they might possess.

The show, which is open to the public, will start at 1:30 p. m. More than 100 paintings representative of the league members' work will be exhibited on "clothesline" on the porch and grounds adjoining the Civic Auditorium.

Other highlights of the exhibit will be "quicks" sketches of spectators made by Joe Campbell, Richard Gale and Mrs. Harold Mathews; a ceramic exhibit display by Mrs. James Carpenter of Joliet and the presentation to someone attending of an original, stiff life painting by Joe Campbell.

Mrs. Arthur Hayes is chairman of arrangements for the show.

Mental Health No. 1 Problem, Exchanges Told

VICTOR, N.Y. (UP)—Representative of Manteno State Hospital answered her own question when she spoke Wednesday noon to members of the Kankakee Exchange Club.

The question was, "Why is mental health everybody's business?"

Because, answered the speaker, mental illness is the nation's number one health problem.

"Every other hospital bed is occupied by a mental patient and in the nation the cost for care alone is $2 1/2 billion dollars, not to mention the loss of salary of patients," Miss Acord pointed out.

The public will help to lick the problem only when it understands how big the problem is, she said, citing the fact that 250,000 patients a year are admitted to state hospitals.

Miss Acord, herself a former patient at Manteno, is a former newspaperwoman who took up her present job because she became personally interested over the problem of the mentally ill.

The average stay of a patient in a state hospital is eight years, she said. "And it is estimated that 70 per cent could leave in six months if better facilities for care and treatment were available."

Manteno State Hospital is 50 per cent overcrowded, she told the group, and only 26 physicians are on the staff, while it is estimated that 40 are needed for proper patient care. One doctor has to care for about 300 patients.

Low salaries are one cause of charging him with extreme cruelty.

Gussy Wants Out
NEW YORK (UP)—Former tennis star Gertrude (Gussy) Moran, famed for wearing lace-edged panties under her short, court skirt, has filed an annulment action against her husband of five weeks.

Miss Moran, 31, was married Aug. 7 to Thomas J. Corbally, 35-year-old industrial engineer.

Since then, she contended Wednesday in State Supreme Court, she and Corbally never lived as man and wife.

After retiring from tennis competition, Miss Moran became a radio-TV sports commentator.

Corbally's attorney said his client would not contest the suit.

"Well, if it's quantity they want and not quality," "I have nothing to add," Miss Dietrich is here making a film.

'If It's Quantity And Not Quality'
ROME (UP)—Marlene Dietrich, when told today that Zsa Zsa Gabor opened in Las Vegas Wednesday night in a dress which made her own during Las Vegas gown look "like a bulky overcoat," said: "Well, if it's quantity they want and not quality."

Evergreen Park Tests Veteran Irish Friday

By JIM TISCHE
Three weeks of basic training will come to an end for the St. Patrick Central gridders Friday night and the Fighting Irish will find out under fire how well they have learned their football lessons. The Fighting Irish will play host to Evergreen Park in the opening game of the season at Alumni Field. Activities will start at 6 p.m. with a freshman-sophomore game between the two schools and the varsity battle is scheduled for 8 p.m.

This will be the first meeting between Evergreen Park and St. Patrick Central. The visiting team will be playing its fourth-year football. Last year the Evergreen Park eleven compiled a 17 record.

Coach Jim Nylander has 12 returning lettermen from last year but claims his team will be of an unknown quality.

"ONLY GAME experience will give the answer," Nylander remarked. "We are mixing last year's very successful sophomore squad with a very unproven freshman team hoping for the best."

While the varsity was only able to win one game last season, the sophomore team won the Southwestern Conference championship. The 1955 Evergreen Park sophomores were undefeated and also had a perfect state as freshmen.

Nylander said his starting eleven would include eight seniors and three juniors. The visitors will put a good sized line on the field in front of a small backfield.

Evergreen Park's line, with light boys at two positions, will have an average of 160 pounds per man. This average is cut down considerably by Ron Muehler, a 145-pound end and Larry Wood, 135-pound guard.

THE BACKS are small with Joe Raymond, a 160-pound halfback, the biggest boy. Nylander said his backfield has average speed but nothing of the "blazing variety."

Friday's game will mark the first appearance of the Irish under the coaching of Frank McManis, who is the new head football coach and is being assisted by Ed Bonney, Dick Clancy and Jim Harty.

McManis, who has been three years at the helm, is a former varsity player and has been a coach for 15 years.

Right here, and on the next two nights, is where you'll learn the difference between a champion and a golfer.

Ward imperiously stroked his golf ball with a club and his opponent, 20-year-old Frank Boynton, of Orlando, Fla., jabbed at a four-footer and missed. Patton whispered again: "On the next hole Ward poked a four iron shot off a double tree and a half from the pin and won with a conceded deuce after Boynton had three putts from across the green. And the Irish captain, who had been three up after the first five holes, saw his last hope vanish with a shot that went into a trap on the 18th."

IT WAS TRULY a champion's finish Wednesday when a lot of real good golfers couldn't win. The Irish captain, who had been three up after the first five holes, saw his last hope vanish with a shot that went into a trap on the 18th."

Kays Remember 20-19 Loss In 1955 Inaugural

By HERB JANNUSCH

If past work means anything, there won't be enough difference between the Kankakee and Streator High Schools' football teams when they meet Friday night for both schools to provide even the point difference that separated the two eleven in 1955.

The varsity game, the 1956 inaugural for both teams, starts at 8 o'clock following a freshman-sophomore preliminary starting at 6:30 at the Streator field.

Both the Kays and the Bulldogs will field inexperienced teams manned mainly by promising newcomers. Not many players on either side had a hand in that 20-19 loss in the inaugural game last year.

The Kays' coach, George A. Sireator, has back in Captain Wayne Champlin, 186-pound senior fullback, and Bill Christian, 168-pound senior end.

He is Ron Goerner, 175-pound senior halfback, who scored two of Streator's three touchdowns last year, one of them on a scoring 85-yard run. The only other regulars Sireator Coach George A. Boilermaker Starters?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bradley-Bourbonnais High School's starting eleven could look something like this Friday night as the Boilermakers step into the tough Corn Belt Conference and face rough Pontiac. Of course, with the terrific battle for positions that has been going on this fall Coach Jerry Lemon is reserving the right to make any last-minute changes and the starters could find any 10 or 11 other fellows in the posts. This possible starting lineup, at any rate, includes the following, left to right: line—Bruce Reeves, Harold Emme, Ron Nees, Wayne Sims, Ed Moersich, Bill Beck and Ed Johnson; backfield—Rennie King, Darel Grohous, Dave Reedy and Jim Regnier. (Journal photo)

Dodgers Shrug Off Defeat But Braves Call 8-7 Win 'Biggest Yet'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Milwaukee Braves call it "the biggest one yet."

The Brooklyn Dodgers kiss it off with a "who who?"

They both could be right about that humdrum of a comeback 8-7 victory the Braves grabbed from the Dodgers at Ebbets Field Wednesday, regaining undisputed possession of first place in the National League race.

Whether or not they were pumny from pennant pressure, the victory definitely was "the biggest one yet" for the Braves.

It had to pick them up, relax some of the tension as they moved into Philadelphia for a two-night doubleheader tonight against the Phillies—on the line for the first time in 1956.

Preps Kick Off; E. St. Louis Eyes 43rd In Row

By UNITED PRESS

Illinois prep footballers kick off the 1956 season Friday night with most teams playing non-conference games.

The state's longest unbeaten streak will be on the line in a top game at Beaumont, Mo., where the East St. Louis Flyers will be trying to run their undefeated string to 43 games.

The only tie in the Flyers' record was handed them last season by University High of St. Louis.

In their second year under Coach Fred Cameron, the Flyers will be out this year to surpass the all-time unbeaten record of 45 games now held by Fenger High of Chicago.

In the tough "Big 12" Conference where Champion Tigers start the season against Zeigler, No. 11 Eastern Illinois will be looking for a repeat of last year's success.

The Panthers' starting eleven will probably include eight seniors and three juniors—and that smacks of considerable experience.

At the ends will probably be two boys who are both taller and heavier than anything the Boilermakers can put on the field. At right end will be Ken McCoy, 196-pound all-conference player shooting for his third title this year. At the other end will be Byron Coit, 191-pound regular from last year.

Filling the guard spots will be Capt. Jerry Johnson, 182-pound returning regular, and Don Beck, 170-pound senior. Tackles will be Fred Jacobs, 168 pounds, who rated a varsity berth last year as a sophomore, and Bill Silveci, a rangy senior who tips the scales at 190 pounds.

The center will be the lightest man in the line whether it be the No. 1 candidate Stan Reedy, 145-pound junior, or Carl Weber, 152-pound junior.

PONTIAC'S BACKFIELD is light but has depth and is figured to have plenty of speed. Jerry Armbruster, 163-pound junior will probably get the call at fullback—and Bradleys don't have to be reminded of the name Armbruster since it was just a short time ago that brother Dave was running through and over the Boilermakers' line. Leading the backfield contingent are two regulars, the coach's son Gordon (138) and John Gundy (152).

The quarterback slot may not be as questionable as Coach Williamson's fears since the leading candidate is 6-2 Don Pierce, a 164-pound senior who is returning to the squad after a year's absence.

The Bradleys are thankful of one thing—that they won't have to contend with Fred Page, the hard-hitting fullback who caused them so much trouble last year. However, they will have to contend with the passing team of Williamson to McCoy—a combination that counted twice last year in the Pontiac 18-0 victory.

Coach Jerry Lemon worked his Boilermakers under the lights Wednesday night and this afternoon will put the finishing touches on the practice period with a light work-out.

Jerry Armbruster, 163-pound junior will probably get the call at fullback—and Bradleys don't have to be reminded of the name Armbruster since it was just a short time ago that brother Dave was running through and over the Boilermakers' line. Leading the backfield contingent are two regulars, the coach's son Gordon (138) and John Gundy (152).

The quarterback slot may not be as questionable as Coach Williamson's fears since the leading candidate is 6-2 Don Pierce, a 164-pound senior who is returning to the squad after a year's absence.

The Bradleys are thankful of one thing—that they won't have to contend with Fred Page, the hard-hitting fullback who caused them so much trouble last year. However, they will have to contend with the passing team of Williamson to McCoy—a combination that counted twice last year in the Pontiac 18-0 victory.

Coach Jerry Lemon worked his Boilermakers under the lights Wednesday night and this afternoon will put the finishing touches on the practice period with a light work-out.

4 Women Win KV Golf Club Event

A foursome made up of Ellen Wolf, Celia Wagner, Toni Betomere and Marie Reising won the best ball foursome event at Wednesday's Kankakee Valley Golf Club's 18-hole tournament.

The winning foursome was 12 under par.

The "booby" prize went to Lola Roy, Evelyn Hancock, Dora Babcock and Connie Judy, who finished two under par.

Despite the fact Wisconsin has one of its smallest squads in the state, the Badgers, who have won 155 state titles, are far from pessimistic.

"We're awfully thin and I don't feel we'll be an outstanding team," said Bruhn. "But we'll be a team that's quite a bit of desire and we hope to give somebody a headache every time we play. If it can't do it, we'll better last year's record."

BRUNTON's eighth-inning single checked a 4-1 deficit in the sixth inning. Bruhn's two-run triple in the seventh inning gave the Badgers a 5-4 victory over the Marquette Red Sox.

MRS. WAYNE PREISEL presides over the soup kettle (producing GERMAN POTATO SOUP) while her daughters prepare dinner. The left, SOUP CREAM CHOCOLATE CAKE. The right, SOUP CREAM CHOCOLATE CAKE. The right, SOUP CREAM CHOCOLATE CAKE.

Cooking Is Mother-Daughters Enterprise At Preisel Home

By MARY JEAN HOUBE

The kitchen of the Wayne-Preisels home on Grinnell road is designed for living "well," with plenty of room and lots of atmosphere—functional and attractive. Mrs. Preisel and the two Preisel daughters take full advantage of the kitchen with a sincere interest in the preparation of appetizing foods.

Cooking is almost a family hobby. Out of the modern Preisel kitchen comes baked bread and many of the so-called "old-fashioned" foods which often come via short cuts these days. The Preisels appreciate the short cuts but don't use them exclusively. Cooking isn't work, it's fun for the Preisels.

The daughters are Sharon, 14, and Carol, 10. Mrs. Preisel busies herself (outside of her kitchen) with First Methodist Church work and PTA activities.

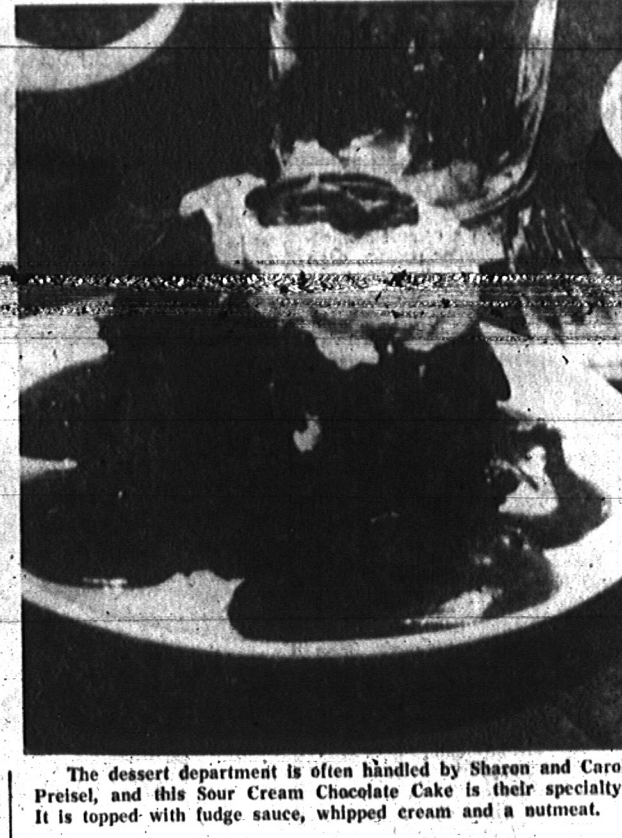

Recipes suggested by mother and daughters:

German Potato Soup
1 1/2 pounds fresh side pork
2 1/2 quarts water

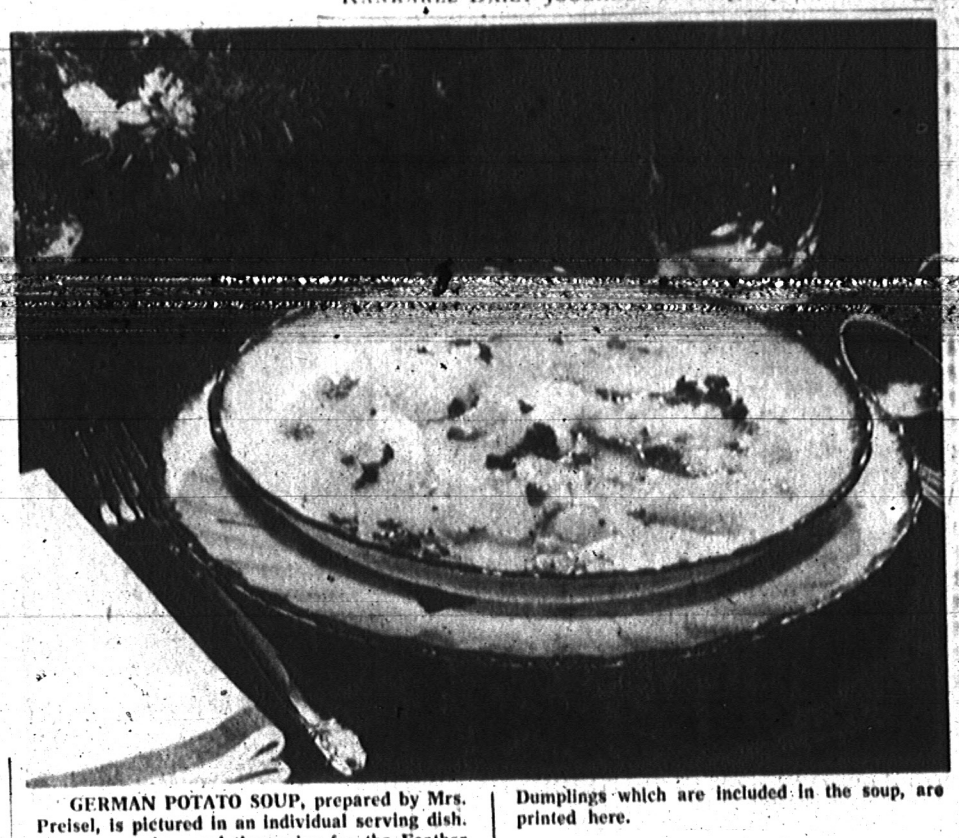

Apple Steam Pudding
2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup shortening
Milk
5 apples (pared and thinly sliced)
1/2 cup sugar
Butter and nutmeg
Mix and sift first four dry ingredients. Cut in shortening. Add enough milk to make medium soft dough. Turn out on floured surface. Knead just enough to shape into ball. Pat or roll dough into circle, large enough to line baking dish and fold back over apples, which are thinly sliced and mounded in center (quart and a half casserole is good size.)
Sprinkle 1/2 cup sugar over apples, dot with butter and few dashes nutmeg. Fold dough over apples getting. Fold dough over apples.

Feather Dumplings
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg, well beaten
3 tablespoons melted butter
Milk (about 1/2 cup)
Sift dry ingredients together. Add egg, melted butter and enough milk to make stiff batter. Drop by teaspoons into boiling liquid.
Sour Cream Chocolate Cake
2 egg yolks
1 cup thick sour cream
1/2 cup sugar
2 1-ounce squares unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup hot water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

cover while dumplings are cooking. Add sour cream. Serve.

The dessert department is often handled by Sharon and Carol Preisel, and this Sour Cream Chocolate Cake is their specialty. It is topped with fudge sauce, whipped cream and a nutmeat.

GERMAN POTATO SOUP, prepared by Mrs. Preisel, is pictured in an individual serving dish. The soup recipe, and the recipe for the Feather Dumplings which are included in the soup, are printed here.

SHOPPERS' GUIDE: Peaches

are still available in the market, but the supply will be coming to an end fast. The variety still available is Albertas.

There is a big supply of apples available, such varieties as Jonathans, Macintosh, Wealthys and Wolf Rivers. There is a big crop and they should remain fairly cheap all season.

Blue Concord grapes have started to arrive on the local scene. They will be a popular item during the next 30 days.

There is still time to can Italian prunes and Bartlett pears. The quality is very good and they are sold at an average price for this time of the year.

Locally grown tomatoes are in good supply. They can be purchased at a fairly reasonable price and the quality is good. Other locally grown items now available and inexpensive are cucumbers, peppers, cabbage and acorn squash.

Potatoes, the biggest crop in history, will be featured as a bargain for weekend shoppers.

Pinch edges together to seal. Place in steamer and steam for 1 1/2 or 2 hours until apples are tender.

New Equipment Installed in Wilmington Park

WILMINGTON (JNS)—The Wilmington Park Board bought and installed new playground equipment on the North Island. There are a sliding board, swings and other gym equipment.

This is the first time there have been swings in the park.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kline are now living on the Island in their trailer as caretakers.

Wilmington Brownie Scout Troop 37, under the leadership of Mrs. Chris Peterson, held its first meeting of the season Monday afternoon after school in the Presbyterian Church parlor.

The Ruth Circle Class of the Presbyterian Church will hold its fall rummage sale Sept. 20 and 21 in the building just north of the Locker Plant. For pickup, call 5331 or 9497.

Philadelphia Pair Visit in Piper City

PIPER CITY (JNS)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keegan of Philadelphia, Pa., visited Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Galtus.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Billingsley were hosts at a birthday supper honoring their son, Kenneth, Sunday evening. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Cletis Grier of Chatsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Towell and Mrs. Bill Twichaus and daughter, Billie Mae, of Cul-lon.

Mrs. Spencer Lee Alexander and son, Bobby, of Lakeland, Fla., are spending a two-week vacation with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Alexander and also with relatives in Kankakee, and Fairbury.

Mr. and Mrs. John Crandall and children, Jim and Susan, of Washington left Monday after a week's visit with the former's mother, Mrs. W. R. Crandall.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kewley and son Karl, left Saturday for a week's fishing trip to Hayworth, Wis.

Ham, Chicken, Lamb Top Buys For Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With beef selling at a premium, chuck roast, beef tongue and beef liver are just about the only beef items at popular prices.

One large national chain reported sirloin steaks were up from 2 to 10 cents virtually everywhere, with rib roasts up from 3 to 6 cents in many places. Another supermarket man pegged the price of beef at 7 1/2 cents above a year ago and said it would probably be higher next week.

The high prices reflect last month's high wholesale prices. What will be offered to the nation's housewives then, in big print and small prices?

HAMS, LEG of lamb, lamb chops, turkeys and chickens—fryers, broilers and cut-up parts—will be pushed in a few areas.

Pork prices are expected to go down in the weeks ahead, but the spring pig crop, which provides the nation with pork during the summer months, is not expected to go down as much as last year.

Among the vegetables, corn, lettuce and such greens as spinach, endive and escarole are all rated outstanding buys by produce men.

Beans of all kinds also are moderately priced, along with cauliflower, potatoes and tomatoes.

Venezuela Ready To Step Up Oil Output In Crisis

CARACAS, Venezuela (UP)—A cabinet minister said today Venezuela is prepared to step up its oil production if the Canal crisis causes any interruption of Middle East petroleum shipments.

Edmundo Luengo Cabello, minister of mines and hydrocarbons, said Venezuela "can increase oil production by 500,000 barrels a day, if necessary."

However, some observers considered the statement as too optimistic. Production for the past six months has averaged 2,364,000 barrels a day, and some experts believed it might be difficult to add another 500,000 barrels a day in a short time.

The minister's statement was the first official comment on the Venezuela prepared to play off Middle East oil supplies are cut off. It was presumed to have been based on expectations from new concessions for oil explorations recently granted by the government to various countries.

FBI Agent Testifies At Brink's Robbery Suspects' Trial

BOSTON (UP)—An FBI agent has told of finding guns in an apartment where two Brink's defendants were captured last May during a struggle with investigators.

Special Agent Ronald J. Wefer came to testify Wednesday on the 26th day of trial of the eight men accused of looting Brink's of $1,218,311 on Jan. 17, 1956, the nation's largest cash haul.

Wefer's testimony came as the government tried to show that defendants James J. Foherty and Thomas J. Richardson were prepared to shoot their way out if necessary.

The men, captured in a dingy apartment in Boston's Dorchester section May 16, had been sought since January when 11 suspects were indicted on armed robbery and conspiracy charges in connection with the Brink's holdup.

Hawaii, U.S. In Global Series Final

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Hawaii and the United States meet tonight in the 1956 Global World Series of Baseball. The same teams were finalists in the first series last year with the U. S. taking the crown.

The Hawaii Red Sox gained the championship round Wednesday night by turning back Japan 3-0 on the five hit pitching of John Sardinia. It was the second straight triumph for Hawaii over the Japanese.

Each team will take one defeat into the final game. Hawaii suffered its only loss of the tournament last Saturday when beaten by the U. S. 3-3. The U. S. champions were topped by Japan 6-3 last Monday.

2,000 Request Adult Classes At Schools

Two thousand requests for classes have been received by Kankakee School District 111 in a survey it conducted to determine the need for adult evening courses.

Courses to be offered will be announced in about a week, according to Edwin Pearson, acting director of the program.

Pearson listed 34 courses, in addition to a high school study program, which are being considered on the basis of requests.

Adult evening classes, he indicated as final plans are completed. Officials hope to get the first classes started about Oct. 1.

School officials are meeting with representatives of industry, business and labor to see what courses they believe are specifically needed.

This information and the results of the survey will be weighed against the availability of qualified instructors.

"THE SCHOOLS ARE trying not to duplicate courses already available locally," Pearson said.

"We are attempting to make this a community service rather than just attempting to promote a group of classes," Pearson stated.

The requests for courses included 277 for college credit; 29 for high school diplomas; 12 for physical handicapped; 37 in the general classification such as mathematics, public speaking, income tax, 362 in business, 237 in industrial fields, 599 in home and recreation activities, and 133 for clinics and discussion groups.

As a result of the survey, the schools are considering the following courses, Pearson said:

College credit—business administration, psychology, French, Spanish, labor relations.

High school—a study program to enable students, particularly those over regular school age, to earn high school credit.

General—mathematics review, public speaking, human relations, practical psychology, reading acceleration.

Personal management—public relations, remembering names and faces, sales psychology, sales training for part-time workers in stores.

INDUSTRIAL—electricity for appliance manufacturing, practical mathematics, supervision of industrial workers, fundamental drafting, machine shop, automotive testing.

Hobbies and recreation—bridge, photography, swimming, sewing, interior home decoration, wood-working, painting for fun, crafts.

Discussion groups, clinics—major religions of the world, world problems, travel, home owner's clinic.

Some courses which can not be offered this semester might possibly be made available next semester, Pearson said.

Continue Picking Jurors In Trial Of Canton Cabbie

CARTHAGE (UP)—A panel of 50 veniremen was called today in an effort to complete the jury for the rape-murder trial of Lloyd Miller Jr., 28, a Canton taxicab driver.

Four jurors were chosen Wednesday, boosting the number of jurors seated to eight.

After Wednesday there were four women and four men seated on the jury.

Miller is on trial for the second time for sex slaying of Janice May, 8, Canton, last November.

An earlier trial at Canton was called off because of alleged prejudice against Miller in Fulton County.

Miller sat calm and apparently unconcerned Wednesday as he watched selection of the jury.

Prosecution attorneys have indicated they will ask the death penalty for Miller.

Building Program In Spain Studied

WASHINGTON (UP)—The 200-million-dollar program for building a series of American-operated air bases in Spain is undergoing a routine "re-evaluation" Pentagon sources say no changes had been decided upon so far.

In answer to questions about reports that cuts have been ordered in the program for economy reasons, including cancellation of one projected fighter field, an Air Force spokesman said the program is being "re-evaluated." He said, "There has been no cancellation of projects."

Presidential Car Museum Piece

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—A Cadillac convertible that transported three Presidents of the United States has found a permanent home in St. Petersburg.

Dr. Paul F. Wallace, an automobile hobbyist, bought the nine-seat car last week after the White House replaced it with a later model.

The car was used by Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower. Wallace said he had spent $15,000 on the car, which he had been planning to sell as a museum piece.

He did not disclose the price he paid a Cadillac agency for the 1938 model.

A Real Canning Project
"Can if you can" is a theory shared by many of the 125 students of the Junior-Senior High School in Chicago. The students are harvesting and canning their own produce. In the foreground, Mrs. Alfred Dione, at left, and Connie Rasmussen, also 5, (Journal photo) are shown canning. In the background, other students are working on their projects. The school is a terminus in downtown Chicago in case the train did not stop at Des Plaines.

At a hearing later in the day, Conville, after hearing the charge remain in the hospital until she is physically able to appear in child's custody.

Movie Being Shown At High School

The movie, "People, Products and Progress: 1975," depicting the push-button world of tomorrow, is being shown to Kankakee High School students, according to Prin. Walter Knecht.

The film was produced by the national Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with various trade associations.

Identification cards, which will be taken Monday and Tuesday, while the senior pictures are scheduled for Oct. 18, Knecht said.

Chicago, Illinois covers 212 square miles.

Indiana Extradites Suspect To Face Kidnaping Charge

OAKLAND, Calif. (UP)—Novel DeGrove, 42-year-old San Leandro nurseryman, was ordered extradited to Angola, Ind., Wednesday to face charges of kidnaping and molesting an 8-year-old girl last May.

DeGrove, formerly of Chicago, was arrested in Oakland after a search of three small Chicago boys.

Authorities said he was cleared of that crime, but was held for molesting an East Bay child. Later he was identified through FBI circulars as a suspect in the Angola girl case.

Pretty to look at with nourishment and flavor aplenty. A rolled pot-roast cooked slowly by being pressed a tender, juicy dish from a less tender cut of meat. It's a fall meal standout when served with spiced peaches.

There's always a spot in any homemaker's recipe repertoire for a new culinary combination. For one serving idea with a different flavor and appearance do this: Serve the rolled rump pot-roast with spiced peaches or on a bed of hot buttered rice accented with spiced fruit and beef combination.

The menu is dressed enough for company, try it sometime. To serve pot-roasts at their best keep these few suggestions in mind. Pot-roasts, being less tender cuts of beef, must be cooked by a slow moist method known as braising. In braising, first dredge the meat with seasoned flour. Remember, season the flour before dredging the meat. Brown the meat in lard or drippings. Brown slowly for self-over even browning.

Next add a small amount of liquid. Add just about 3/4 to 1 cup of liquid as needed. Cooking time will be from 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 hours depending on the size of the pot-roast. When the roast is done, remove the meat and thicken the liquid for gravy.

This is just the basic method of preparing a pot-roast. There are many liquid and seasoning variations which can produce a different type main meat entree using the same meat cut.

Tomato juice is a favorite liquid to use in place of water. This liquid can produce a different type main meat entree using the same meat cut.

Seasoning such as bay leaf, and caraway are also used. Kidney beans and cranberries are also interesting additions to use with the flavor of beef. Apple juice, diluted vinegar or buttermilk make other interesting gravy ingredients for a pot-roast.

THE ANNUAL REUNION of the San Hanson family was held at the Papineau home of Lynn Hanson Sunday with 49 in attendance.

John Bingham of Lake Village, Ind. 50, was the oldest one present and Jesse Rutherford, 1, of Downers Grove, was the youngest.

Members were present from Cullman, Ga., Cedar Lake, Lake Village and Morocco, Ind., Chicago, Downers Grove, Monomee, Bradley, Morris and Papineau.

An afternoon of sociability followed the basket dinner at noon.

The W. J. Parish family returned Sunday from Rochester, Minn., where the daughter, Catherine Ann, underwent surgery on both feet two weeks ago.

'Users' To Confer On Suez Issue

Secretary Of State
Dulles Expected In London Wednesday

LONDON (AP)—The Western Big Three moved swiftly today to set up a Suez Canal users' association with the prospect U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles may make a hurried flight to London.

A British diplomatic spokesman said the invitation list for an international conference is still being drawn up—but the invitations would go out shortly.

Whether Dulles reported trip was to take part in the conference or merely to discuss proposals was not clear.

THE WAR jitters that gripped this capital—and a large part of the world—after the idea of the Suez users' association was first raised—have subsided somewhat in the wake of Prime Minister Eden's qualified promise to seek U. N. action before resorting to force.

But the Institute of London Underwriters announced big increases in "war risk" insurance rates for ships calling at Egypt and sailing through the Suez Canal.

The British Embassy in Cairo this morning warned British businessmen that if they have no compelling reason for remaining.

And another British aircraft carrier was ordered to sail Saturday for the eastern Mediterranean.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd was busy existing support for the proposed users' association—although membership would be open to all of the world's maritime nations.

THERE WAS an urgency to get the association into operation in view of the mass walkout of non-Egyptian canal pilots set for midnight (4 p.m. CST) tonight.

Lloyd met with the Scandinavian ambassadors this morning. The Eden government told Parliament that the association was still regarded as grave.

Grocer Grabs Gun From Bandit; Assistant Shot

Clues, including a sawed-off 20-gauge shotgun, found at the scene of an attempted hold-up and shooting in Kankakee Thursday night are scheduled to be examined at the state crime laboratory in Springfield.

Police Chief Wallace Flannery said that the shotgun, a paper sack which the would-be bandit wore over his head and a spent shotgun shell would be examined at the laboratory.

Authorities will attempt to link up the latest crime with the series of robberies during the last several months in the Kankakee area, all done by one or two masked men.

SHOT IN THE right hand, forearm and side was Paul Schimpf, 36, of 545 S. Poplar Ave., a part-time helper at the grocery store operated by M. C. Skinner at 1600 E. River St.

Schimpf is reported to be in fairly good condition at St. Mary's Hospital.

Skinner told the story of the incident to Lt. Curt Fredrick this way: "My daughter Virginia and Schimpf were putting away merchandise shortly after the store closed at 9 p.m. A rear door leading to the alley was unlocked. He was to be questioned this afternoon."

THE YOUTH was held in jail while police checked his identity. He was to be questioned this afternoon.

These were the first words that 26-year-old Rosemary Webster heard at 6:45 a.m. today when she was awakened by a young man with a white cloth mask over the lower part of his face.

She lives at 608 S. Rosewood Ave. and ordinarily leaves for work at the General Foods Corp. about 7:30 a.m. Miss Webster was alone in the house when the man walked in.

He described him as about 18 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighing about 130 pounds, with light colored hair. He was wearing blue jeans, a jacket of the name material as the trousers and a T-shirt.

After making his first threat by the throat and threatened her, Miss Webster fled to the back of the store. The man followed her. She was unable to remove it. Then the girl related, she told the police.

Third Negro Enters School In Kentucky

CLAY, Ky. — A third negro child today enrolled in the Clay school despite an opinion of the state's attorney general that the school's 500 white students continued their boycott.

Adj. Gen. J. B. Williams personally escorted the two Gordon children, James, 10, and Teresa, 8, in the school along with another Negro child, Bobbie Carl Copeland, 12.

Only 11 Clay residents were on hand to watch the children and 12 of the school's 17 teachers file the building.

Willbur Collins, Webster County superintendent of schools, told newsmen the school board would meet at 7:30 tonight and issue a policy statement.

HE SAID he had not received any word from J. M. Ferguson's opinion on the board would report of it he felt the board would not be integrated this year.

Collins met inside the school with several teachers and a major from the Kentucky National Guard unit patrolling the school.

Only one white child showed up at the school and he left shortly after picking up personal belongings.

Williams quoted Mrs. James Gordon, mother of the two children around whom the integration storm swirled, said the Copeland boy's mother, Mrs. Horace Copeland, phoned her and asked that her son be picked up. He previously had been enrolled in an all-Negro school at Providence, Ky.

GUARDMEN stationed at Clay said 200 of the 500-man detachment were being given weekend passes. Many of the Guardsmen are college students and must register for classes.

Williams made it plain he planned no mass troop withdrawal because of the legal opinion. The attorney general said in an opinion written for the Webster County Board of Education that continued on Page 6, Column 1.

THE LETTER—believed to be the 10th in the Eisenhower-Bulganin series—was delivered to the State Department Thursday by Russian Ambassador Georgi N. Tolstobin. Soviet sources touted the Bulgarian letter as "containing some constructive steps toward solution of disarmament and all important issues at stake."

American sources said on the basis of a quick look at the letter that it "covered the waterfront" including Germany and disarmament. "White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said it definitely was not about the Suez crisis."

Zarobinski also said earlier the letter had nothing to say about Suez.
