3 Hunters Drown As Boat Upsets In Kankakee River

WILMINGTON (JNS)—Funeral services will be held Friday for three Will County men who drowned Thursday morning in the Kankakee River near Lorenzo, about six miles northwest of here.

Rites for Kenneth Lewis, 28, and his brother, Clayton, 16, both of Joliet, and their brother-in-law, Phillip Filides, 24, Braidwood, will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday in the St. Ignace Church, Joliet.

Services also will be held for Filides at 11 a.m. in the All Saints Greek Orthodox Church, Joliet, the Rev. Manousos Lionakis officiating.

The Rev. Curt Lundberg of the Immaculate Park Methodist Church will officiate at the funeral home triple service.

LONDON (UP)—The Conservative party closed ranks Thursday night behind Sir Anthony Eden, despite the fact that the party's official spokesman said the prime minister might give up the reins of the British government.

Disaffected Conservatives in Parliament appeared to have abandoned—for the time being—at least—a thought of a serious revolt against Eden's handling of the Suez Canal crisis.

IT WAS CONCEDED generally that nothing short of such a revolt, or a really crippling illness, could force Eden to throw in his hand.

The apparent restoration of party unity was achieved on the eve of Eden's departure tonight for a rest in Jamaica. It came at a meeting of the "1922 Committee," an organization of all Conservative members of the House of Commons who hold no office in the government.

Reports leaking out of the conference agreed that R. A. Butler, Eden's deputy and political heir apparent, and Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold Macmillan, another possible future prime minister, had succeeded in rallying the party behind the government.

The parade will begin at Hickory street, proceed north on Schuyler avenue to Court street, then east on Court street to the Kankakee County Courthouse.

Light Snow In Area; Low Of 12 Here

Kankakee awoke this morning to the first sure sign of the coming winter — snow. Although it was only a trace, many of the area's children were probably ready to get out their sleds.

The overnight low dropped to 12 degrees, the coldest since last February. The high was only slightly above freezing, a chilly 34 degrees, as reported by the Kankakee Airport weather station.

The most discouraging element in the forecast is that more cold weather is on its way. And winter does not officially begin until Dec. 21.

In downtown Kankakee the overnight low was 16 and the high 33. The five day weather forecast reports that temperatures will average 5 to 8 degrees below normal.

Up in Wisconsin the people really had a cold night. The mercury dropped to 9 below zero in Milwaukee and 8 below in Marquette.

The state highway division said packed snow was on the roads south of a line through Rock.

Don't Forget Those Left Behind: Refugees

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Seventy-three refugees from the Communist terror in Hungary's October revolt reached the land of their dreams today with the stern admonition from one of their fighting leaders to "remember now those we left behind."

The refugees, including 65 adults, six children and two babes in arms, struggled — happy but bewildered by their thronging reception — into makeshift quarantine at Milwaukee's Gen. Billy Mitchell Field.

BUT THEY STIFFENED proudly at the ringing injunction of 31-year-old Zoltan Varga, who walked 250 miles to the Austrian border with a Hungarian flag in the lapel of his trenchcoat when the Russians turned their guns on the Hungarians.

"We are thankful to be in this new land and we are grateful for all the friends who greet us," Varga said, and added "but this is a time also for something else. This is the time to remember those we left behind."

And the group, which had disembarked from the Flying Tiger DC4 after a six hour flight from Gander, Newfoundland, on the last leg to freedom, sang the Hungarian national anthem.

DR. JAN BARKOCZ, a representative of Hungarian-American groups, led the singing and gave the refugees a formal welcome. They also were addressed by a Roman Catholic priest, a Protestant minister and a Jewish rabbi.

After the reception, the refugees went through a speeded-up immigration inspection, then left the airport by bus for St. Emerie's Church where they offered up thanks for their deliverance. A fish dinner at a downtown hotel was next.

Although it was only nine degrees above zero and a frigid wind swept in off nearby Lake Michigan, several hundred persons lined the ramps as the freedom planes touched down. Many wore the red, white and green armbands of free Hungary.

YUGOSLAVS PROTEST AS NAGY VANISHES

Hungarian Tells How Reds Killed 400 In Budapest

Ex-Postal Inspector
Describes Slaughter
Upon Arrival In U.S.

CAMP KILMER, N. J. (UP)—A second "freedom flight" today brought 75 more Hungarian refugees to America, including an eyewitness to last month's Budapest bloodbath.

Less than two hours after a Transamerica DC4 landed at McGuire air force base, a one-time postal inspector told newsmen here that the Oct. 23 revolt began as a peaceful student demonstration and was turned into a mass slaying by secret police and Russian tanks.

Speaking through an interpreter for himself and several others aboard the plane, the inspector, who declined to give his name, said at least 400 men, women and children were mowed down by the tank cannon in the main square of Budapest on Oct. 24. Several died at his feet, he added.

Before sailing to newsmen, the 40-year-old inspector and the other passengers ate their first meal on American soil — oranges, scrambled eggs, bacon, toast, marmalade, hot chocolate, coffee and milk.

AFTER A FAST medical checkup and a speedy trip through customs they went to catch a few hours sleep before their processing by immigration and welfare agencies began.

Their plane landed at McGuire in the middle of a cold night and they immediately boarded buses for Kilmer.

The group as a whole looked young with most of the adults in their 20s and 30s. The oldest man aboard was James Scenerly, 57. They were reasonably well dressed with many of the women wearing slacks and leather boots.

A man carrying a sleeping child was the first passenger off the four-engine ship which had bucked headwinds in its 35-hour flight from Vienna.

Only a few newsmen were on hand in contrast to the hundreds of press, radio and television representatives who jammed the airport at noon Wednesday when the first plane carrying 600 escapees from Communist tyranny landed.

BRIG. GEN. Sidney C. Woolen, commander of Camp Kilmer, greeted the newcomers. A group of Camden citizens, who had walked half the night, presented toys to the children as they boarded the buses.

Two more plane loads of refugees are scheduled to arrive today.

Location Of County Line Has Bearing On Court Case

Does the Kankakee-Will county line run down the center line of Warner Bridge?

That was a question posed this morning in Kankakee County Court where a case involving a bridge is being tried on a charge of driving after his operator's license was revoked.

Deputy Sheriff Tom White said that Bell, driving down the west side of the bridge, crossed over onto the east side to pass a truck where White was on duty.

According to White, the east half of the bridge is in Kankakee County, the west half in Will County, but his qualifications to testify on this point were challenged.

If the vehicle White spotted didn't cross over into Kankakee County this case would belong in Will, rather than Kankakee County.

Howard Schwark, county superintendent of highways was slated as a witness later today to testify about the location of the county line.

U.S. Opposing Former Allies On Withdrawal

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP)—The United States, over British and French opposition, today supported a demand by 21 nations of the Afro-Asian bloc calling for all foreign forces to get out of Egypt at once.

With British and French leaders expressing reluctance to quit the Suez Canal Zone until the United Nations emergency force has completely taken over, the Assembly headed into a new word storm with the possibility of a lengthy debate delaying a vote until Saturday.

U.S. Tries To Snap Deadlock In Dock Strike

WASHINGTON (UP)—Federal mediators called in shipping and longshoremen representatives to discuss a last-minute effort to end the coastwide dock strike without resorting to a Taft-Hartley injunction.

At the same time a special presidential fact-finding board speeded hearings that would clear the way for a special strike stopping injunction in New York Federal Court if the peace efforts fail.

President Eisenhower established the board Thursday under the Taft-Hartley law.

The board is scheduled to report to the President sometime late tonight.

IN AN UNEXPECTED development move, Federal Mediation Chief James F. Finnegan scheduled talks this afternoon with top officials of the New York Shipping Assn. and the International Longshoremen's Assn.

The fact-finding board inquiry is the last step preliminary to a presidential request to the Justice Department to seek an injunction stopping the walkout of 60,000 I.L.A. members.

The shipping association presented its case to the fact finders Thursday night. The union testified today.

It appeared likely that the fact-finding board's report would be delivered to the White House too late for any injunction to be sought until Saturday.

NOT THANKFUL

CAMDEN, N. J. (UP)—The police heard it, Mrs. Anna Redrow decided she'd had enough husbandly advice on how to roast the Thanksgiving turkey. She threw the bird at her husband, Redrow decided.

The turkey crashed through a kitchen window, Redrow faced a hearing today on assault and battery charges. Mrs. Redrow said he struck her.

Safety Pledged By Hungary, Not Reds

BELGRADE (UP)—Yugoslavia protested to Hungary today that Imre Nagy and his associates who left the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest Thursday under guarantee of safety have not returned to their homes. The Yugoslav announcement said nothing about their fate but protest indicates this country fears they are under arrest.

Kadar Regime Gives Pledges To End Strike

Nagy is the moderate "independent" Communist leader whose brief premiership during early stages of the Hungarian revolution was ended by Soviet guns. He and his associates took refuge in the Yugoslav Embassy in an effort to avoid arrest.

DOBRIVOJE Vidic, Yugoslav undersecretary for foreign affairs, called in the Hungarian chargé d'affaires this morning and told him the Nagy party, which left asylum in the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest voluntarily under an agreement that none of them would be persecuted, were not in their homes.

Vidic declared if they did not return this would be "a flagrant violation of the existing good relations between Yugoslavia and Hungary and a violation of international law."

Vidic said Nagy and his party left the embassy in a bus which was put at their disposition by the Hungarian government.

Among those departing were Nagy, Geza Losonci, Ferenc Donat, Gabor Tamas, Sándor Haraszti, János József, György Szekely, János Sallay, Ujhelyi Vasvárhelyi, and Julia Rajk, widow of László Rajk, the Hungarian foreign minister who was executed as a traitor in October 1949.

In addition, Vidic said, there were 15 women and 17 children.

VIDIC ASKED specifically why they had not yet returned to their homes and stressed that the Hungarian government had given guarantees not to persecute them.

The action taken by the Yugoslavians will no doubt complicate relations between the Tito regime and the present Hungarian government, informed sources said.

But they added that Yugoslavia will make every effort to see that the Hungarian government abides by its promise.

Nagy had been in the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest for 18 days. His presence was a cause of concern for the Yugoslav government, which was sensitive to any charge that it might be interfering in internal political development of its neighbor.

NO WORD that Nagy had taken shelter in the embassy was published here. Officially the Yugoslavians learned this when their newspapers announced Thursday night Nagy had decided to leave the embassy.

YUGOSLAVIA said the Nagy party left in a bus provided by the Hungarian government, which had promised to guarantee their safety. But today, Yugoslavia protested that they group had not returned to their homes and demanded an explanation. This reflected a fear that the Nagy group had been put Nagy into the premises.

Egypt Protests Slow Withdrawal Of British And French Soldiers

CAIRO (UP)—The commander of the British-French forces in Egypt announced today that British will withdraw one battalion "almost immediately" from the Port Said area. This evidently is the token withdrawal which the British had promised U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Gen. Sir Charles Keightley, who commands the allies' headquarters on Cyprus, said in Port Said that "as fast as U. N. troops arrive, the British and French will get out."

The French have announced they have already withdrawn about a third of the forces they landed in the Suez Canal zone.

DESPITE Keightley's assurance, Britain's Acting Prime Minister told the House of Commons Thursday that the British and French

Cardosi Heads State Refugee Plan Group

A Kankakee man, Victor N. Cardosi, is chairman of a committee which is swinging into action to coordinate the handling of Hungarian refugees in Illinois.

The coordinating agency is the Governor's Committee for the Refugee Program.

Kankakeean Aids Refugees In Hungary

Now an American, Mrs. Clarice Cardosi, will return to Europe and try to help Hungarian refugees as America helped her eight years ago.

Mrs. Cardosi is asking Hungarians to participate in this country's invitation to 5,000 Hungarian refugees to take them in the United States.

She asks that companies offer job opportunities and that individuals, churches and other organizations offer housing.

Mrs. Cardosi says she will fly to Vienna next week to meet with government officials and authorized agencies in screening refugees who could qualify for jobs in the Kankakee area.

WITH THE MEDICINE she is taking for the refugees—donated by Chicago hospitals—she wants to take the names of those from Kankakee who can help the displaced Hungarians begin a new life in the United States.

A native of Budapest, Hungary, Mrs. Cardosi recalls, "I went through 81 bombings and fled at times—I know what it means and I know what they're going through."

"Good help me to come here and I feel I must go back and do what I can."

Firms who have jobs to offer and individuals or groups who can offer housing for Hungarian refugees, may contact Mrs. Cardosi at Kankakee State Hospital, where her husband is a doctor.

Dr. and Mrs. Cardosi and their son, George, now 20, came here eight years ago as displaced persons. They have become naturalized citizens.

THE FIRST PLANE loads of Hungarian refugees already have arrived in the United States. The intergovernmental committee for European migration operations is paying transportation costs to bring 5,000 to this country.

Thousands of the victims of Russian reprisals are being given refuge in eight countries and some U. S. government officials are advocating that the 5,000 coming to the United States be raised to 17,000.

The State Department has announced that all 5,000 persons to be admitted under the emergency program may already be assured of jobs. Offers to sponsor the refugees are pouring in, the State Department said.

Burglars Take Over $900 From Cleaners

Burglars who braved tear gas stole $900 to $1,000 from the Superior Drive-In Cleaners and Shirt Laundry, 438 S. Schuyler Ave., Bradley, over the Thanksgiving holiday.

August Bertrand, who operates the company, in partnership with his son, Kenneth, said tear gas discharged when the combination was forced out of the safe.

The burglars apparently waited for the gas to clear before breaking open a cash box inside the safe, Bertrand reported.

The burglary apparently was a professional job. There was no sign of forcible entry, the intruders apparently used a master key or otherwise opened a door lock.

The building is well lighted and the safe is visible from the street, Bertrand said.

KENNETH BERTRAND discovered the burglary when he checked the building about 5 p.m. Thursday. The building was locked about 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Bradley Police Chief William Harvegen and officer Ed Burr investigated.

They said the thieves left by a rear door which has a complicated lock. The door had been broken open by a burglar.

Apparently nothing else was taken, the doctor reported, and the house was not ransacked.

The Baron-Huot Off Co., 100 N. West Ave., had a west window broken in by someone who entered the office early today. Nothing was discovered missing.

48 Couples Renew Vows At Bourbonnais

It was an emotional Thanksgiving morning for the Bourbonnais residents who participated in a solemn high mass of thanksgiving for couples married 25 years or more.

Maternity Church in Bourbonnais was the scene of the unique celebration, which included renewal of the marriage vows of 48 couples and a procession of the celebrants.

The driver of the truck, which police said sidestepped Nims' auto, was charged with reckless driving and operating a vehicle without a license. He is William Nichols of Big Stone Gap, Va.

It had originally been planned that the procession would be held out-of-doors, but because of freezing temperatures it was held in the church. The procession was led by grandchildren of the couples, dressed as miniature brides and grooms. The choir sang and a Knights of Columbus color guard took part.

The couples received accolades of benediction from Pope Pius XII. A sermon was given by the Very Rev. James M. Keane, D.D., pastor, who planned the celebration, explains that it was his aim "to bring the Christian families closer together."

He adds that he felt it would be worthwhile for the younger couples to see the happiness of men and women "who have endured the hardships of life."

One of the celebrants, Frank Ader, said "this is just like our wedding. We feel like starting all over again."

1 Traffic Death In Area Mars Holiday

One highway death marred a Thanksgiving holiday that was comparatively free of traffic accidents in the Kankakee area.

Three other deaths occurred in a boating accident on the Kankakee River near Wilmington.

The traffic fatality was Kankakee County's 27th of the year.

It happened when a passenger was thrown from a sports car into the path of another auto north of Kankakee at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

The victim, Gerald Cohen, 21, Chicago, was returning home from the University of Illinois for the holiday.

His death was not counted in the official holiday toll, however, since that count did not commence until 6 p.m. Wednesday.

COHEN WAS RIDING in an English sports car driven by a fellow student, Frederick D. Mallice, 24, also of Chicago.

The northbound car went onto the shoulder of Route 54, then spun around as it came back on to the highway, according to Deputy Sheriff Dan O'Loughlin and Matt Egan.

Cohen was thrown out of the car onto the pavement.

A southbound auto went into the "third" lane but couldn't avoid hitting Cohen, who was caught 45-54 south of Kankakee, under the car and dragged about 100 feet, the officers reported.

The southbound car, owned by the Public Service Co., was operated by James E. White, 181 S. Rosewood Ave.

The sports car continued spinning around and hit a truck parked on the west shoulder of the four-lane highway. The truck was operated by Nile S. Taylor, 26, Saybrook.

COHEN SUSTAINED a skull fracture, and multiple internal injuries, the officers said. An ambulance, funeral director who happened by in his ambulance took Cohen to St. Mary's Hospital, where he died about 3 p.m.

The accident occurred five miles north of Kankakee.

Corner Morris Yates has tentatively set an inquest for 10 a.m. Tuesday.

He was preceded in death by a son Raymond, three sisters and a brother.

Thanksgiving Auto Crashes Kill 150

CHICAGO (UP)—A holiday death toll in excess of National Safety Council predictions grimly closed the Thanksgiving Day festivities. The council had hoped the death toll between 6 p.m. Wednesday and midnight Thursday would fall below the 110 traffic deaths for a non-holiday Thursday at this time of year.

A United Press count for the period showed 150 persons were killed in traffic accidents. Fifteen died in fires, two in a plane crash, and 22 from miscellaneous causes, for an overall holiday death toll of 189.

Michigan turned in the worst record, with 15 traffic deaths during the 26-hour period. Pennsylvania was next with 11, Illinois had 12, Ohio 9, and California 8. The worst single accident occurred on U. S. 36 west of Springfield, Ill., where five members of one family died in a head-on collision.

icy and snow-packed highways in some sections of the nation had been expected by safety experts to curb the fatality toll by forcing motorists to exercise extreme caution. But numerous minor collisions and accidents were reported in these areas.

At Waukegan, Wis., a 17-car pileup resulted when several autos skidded out of control and blocked the road. No one was injured.

Urges State Police To Expand Traffic Law Enforcement

State police have been urged to "expand present enforcement activities in every possible way in an effort to assure Illinois citizens of a reduction in traffic fatalities for 1956."

In a personal letter to all 600 highway policemen, Supt. William H. Morris pointed out that "the fatality experience for the first 10 months of 1956 is running about equal to that of last year."

This has been accomplished while nationwide averages show an 8 per cent increase, he pointed out. Morris congratulated the men for their activity, but urged even more vigilant contact for the remaining weeks of the year.

The program of stepped-up enforcement follows recommendations of the National Safety Council and the President's Committee for Traffic Safety.

Morris said there is strong evidence that stepped-up activity against traffic violators is starting to bring a reduction in accidents. He warned that continued violations such as speeding and driving while intoxicated, the major causes of 600 deaths in the Nation during last year's "black Christmas" highway massacre.

Messiah To Be Presented 3 Times By Olivet Singers

The 200-voice combined Orpheus and Apollo Choirs of Olivet Nazarene College and community church choirs of the Kankakee area will give the 20th annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" on Dec. 7 and 9 in College Church of the Nazarene, Bourbonnais.

Because of public demand for this concert at the Christmas season, three performances will be held this year: Friday, Dec. 7, at 8 p.m. and Sunday, Dec. 9, at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. It is open to the public. Admission is by ticket only and tickets may be secured by persons calling Olivet Nazarene College.

The choir will be under the direction of Dr. Walter B. Larsen, who has conducted the Messiah presentations by the college since they were first inaugurated 20 years ago. Kenneth Bode will accompany at the console of the new pipe organ to be used for the first time for a Messiah performance. A 20-piece orchestra will also assist in the concert.

There will be 12 soloists for the three performances, including a new venture in using a combination of artist students, faculty members, and professional artists. On Friday evening they will be: Monaghan Trotter, Flint, Mich., and Louise Falls, Oskaloosa, Iowa, soprano; Nancie Davis, Indianapolis, Ind., contralto; John Schreffler, Kankakee, tenor; and Wayne Gallup, Reading, Mich., bass.

Soloists for Sunday afternoon will be: Elizabeth Hatcher, Detroit, Mich., soprano; Ruth McClain, graduate student from the University of Illinois, alto; Charles Haselberg, instructor in voice, tenor; and Bruce Froese, bass. The evening concert will feature Linda Luttrell, Columbus, Ind., soprano; Naomi Larsen, contralto; Daniel Liddell, tenor; and Froese.

Larceny Suspects Await FBI In Iroquois County

WATSEKA (JNS) — The suspicions of a state police officer were confirmed when two teenage youths from Paducah, Ky., allegedly admitted having a stolen car after he stopped them Thursday about a mile north of Gilman on Route 54.

State Police Officer Ralph Locke became suspicious of 18-year-old Richard Newton and his 16-year-old companion and stopped their 1950 model coupe. He asked first to see the driver's license of the youth who was driving. The 16-year-old was operating the vehicle, but apparently the license was Newton's. Locke took one of them into his squad car and had the other drive the coupe.

Locke found enough variances in the stories the teenagers told to increase his suspicions. After further questioning, Locke said they produced false papers for the car and finally admitted taking the car in Chicago.

The owner is T. Campbell of Chicago. Locke explained the youths told him they took the car last Tuesday, drove to Kankakee, where they picked up some people and drove them to Chicago. He said while in Kentucky the teenagers were picked up by police on suspicion of car theft and released on $200 bond and were to have appeared today before Kentucky authorities. The youths were heading south when Locke took them into custody.

They are to appear before Watsika Police Magistrate Harry L. Hall while awaiting the arrival of authorities from the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Sheldon Scouts To Attend 1957 National Jamboree

SHELDON (JNS)—Scoutmaster Tom Shrimplin of Sheldon troop 54, Boy Scouts and three of his explorer scouts will attend the 1957 Boy Scout national jamboree at Valley Forge State Park, Pa., July 12-18.

The national jamboree will be a mass of more than 30,000 scouts and leaders from every state and many foreign countries. Scout activities of every kind will be conducted throughout the week, from wrapping uniform patches with boys from other states and countries to watching treacherous scout pageants with 100,000 other people.

Qualifications of scouts attending are that they must be in good standing, at least 12 years old by Jan. 1, and at least a second class scout by the time of departure for the jamboree. Plankshaw Council has been allowed to send a total of 24 scouts and six leaders.

That amounts to approximately one scout from each chartered troop and explorer post in the council. Some units are not sending a scout, which accounts for the Sheldon troop being permitted to send three of its members.

The entire council group will leave about July 10, either by train or chartered bus, and will return about July 21.

Elvis Defends Self Against Irate Hubby

TOLEDO, Ohio (U-P)—Nineteen-year-old Elvis Presley took a swing at entertainer Elvis Presley in a downtown bar early today, but no one was hurt.

Hauled into Municipal Court today on a charge of disturbing the peace, Ballint pleaded guilty and was fined $10 plus costs of $4.84. When he could not produce the money, he was sentenced to serve out the penalty by spending seven days in the workhouse.

Yule Season Opens Officially In U.S. Stores

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (U-P)—The Christmas season opens officially today in the nation's stores.

In the next four weeks they should do about one fourth of their entire year's business. It's the season that makes or breaks the year for most of them. And most still think sales will top last year's record volume by a fair margin.

ACTUALLY MANY stores put up their Yuletide decorations and spread out their gift wares before Thanksgiving.

But the real drive starts today. And shoppers will have to show more of a buying spirit than they have in the last four weeks if the hopes for a record sales volume are realized. Unseasonably warm weather in November got the blame in many cities for sluggish sales.

The rather slow start worries some merchants who have loaded up with large stocks in expectation of record sales.

And they have other problems. Finding extra clerical help is harder this year—with the nation's total employment already at a record high. Some stores are turning to temporary workers.

SOME RETAILERS have foreign purchases tied up by the dock strike, although in most cases the imports started arriving in volume in October. Importers count upon this being the largest Christmas season for foreign goods.

Another worry for merchants is what effect the recurring war scares will have on consumers' buying tendencies. And still another, the reaction to the higher prices this year, on many items, but most merchants regard heavy discounts on goods as being offered as lures to temporary workers.

Presley said he wasn't going to press charges.

Special Programs Held At EJHS For Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving activities in East Junior High School included four special assemblies Monday and Tuesday, which permitted all students to attend the play, "A Note to Myself."

Mrs. Robert McCall directed the ninth grade dramatics-art class. The play was "A Note to Myself," written by Julia Long. Terry Fleischer, Don Baron, Geraldine Coomes, Babbette Carter, Joe Mayer, Ed Garner, Rose Korup, Nancy Smith and Phyllis Corbin.

Dorothy Flint and Jane Strasma, vocalists, were accompanied by Shirley Flannery and Dave McGroder. They sang "The Christmas Song."

Wednesday, seventh grade music students staged a musical play, "The First Thanksgiving," at a Thanksgiving assembly in the senior high school auditorium.

Directed by Miss Virginia Clark, a mixed chorus sang and the scenes were pantomimed by two seventh grade music classes. The Rev. Herman H. Rittel, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, was guest speaker and talked on the theme of Thanksgiving.

Hospital Officials To Visit St. Mary's

Jerome Ray, inspector for the bureau of hospitals of the Illinois department of public welfare, and representatives of the United States Public Health Service, will inspect the facilities of St. Mary's Hospital Nov. 27 in connection with approval of the new addition planned and the granting of federal and state funds to assist in the financing of the project.

In announcing the anticipated visit, Sister Mary Anselm, hospital administrator, said that the inspection is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. on that day.

She also reported that plans for the new addition have been examined by state and federal authorities but that a report from them has not yet been received.

Sister Mary Anselm announced that local pledges in the hospital fund campaign completed recently have now reached $60,200.28. At a meeting of the hospital advisory committee Tuesday it was announced that $102,000 has been collected thus far toward the money pledged. According to the various divisions of the drive, the amount is divided as follows: medical — $30,000; general — $35,000; clubs and organizations — $25,000; and miscellaneous — $12,000.

Nicaragua is the largest of the six Central American republics, roughly the size of the state of Michigan.

Carol Burkard, Paul Cotter Say Vows Thanksgiving Day

ESCORTED TO THE altar by her father, the bride wore a chapel-length gown of chiton tulle. Freedom Of Divorce Is Lonely Triumph

Judging from my mail the big problem of divorcees is: "How to get a husband?"

Some times with the dissatisfied wives who write me could read the letters from divorcees.

The unhappy wife is miserable because her husband has faults or because her marriage seems dull or because her husband isn't easy to live with, the divorcee is miserable because she hasn't got a man of her own.

Many of these divorcees are in their 30's and 40's and 50's and even those who have jobs claim they have no way of meeting eligible men.

As one puts it: "I've been divorced a year and a half and I am getting so tired of working all day and coming home to a lonely apartment. About all I do for recreation is go out with some of the girls from the office on Saturday night. But that doesn't help me. If I could just find a husband I would do everything in the world to try and make him happy."

The sad thing about these letters is that these women once had husbands. Did they fully appreciate the husbands they once had? Were they willing when they were married to make all the compromises necessary to make their marriages work? Or did they expect too much of men and too much of marriage?

Any wife who ever felt the thought of divorce enter her head should think about these lonely divorcees who, now that they have their freedom, want just one thing—to get married again.

It may be a lot easier to hold onto the husband you have than to find a new one and even fighting with a husband may be a less lonely life than living alone.

Think it over, wives, before you ever mention the word "divorce."

The Worry Clinic

Too Many Experts—Not Enough Horse Sense

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Dean Matthew H. Schoenbaum, of Loyola University in Chicago, recently served as moderator at a state conference on youth problems. The psychology of the adolescent was the subject of the conference and social workers all tend to classify adults and youngsters without recognition as to individual needs.

"They tell parents what a child's reactions ought to be at a certain age. If the child does not live up to these specifications, the parents are blamed."

"Parents are so intimidated by the experts, they're afraid to use their own common sense. Millions grow worried about problems, yet they are old bachelors. Others try to tell you how to rear children, yet they never had any of their own."

We even have multi-divorced psychologists in America who set themselves up as marriage counselors, yet they can't maintain a happy home of their own.

TEXTBOOK WRITERS on child psychology may sit and observe a few kids in a special laboratory situation and then decide they are authorities on juvenile problems.

One reason why I launched this column was to help free you readers from "brain-truster" experts who can't practice what they preach.

I introduced my own five children as cases from time to time to show you not only that youngsters are much alike all over the land, but also to indicate that I know more about kids than can be learned by looking through a one-way screen at a special laboratory group.

You can't fully understand children in that kind of artificial environment.

You must be with them all day, and all night long. You must sit beside their sick beds when they are burning up with fever.

You must see their dejection when they come home defeated from an important athletic contest or a school election, or with a low grade in some school subject.

"Horse sense" is another term for good old-fashioned American common sense.

Alas, some educators have little horse sense. In fact, there is a small group in every profession who also are "textbook" experts and brain-trusters.

Teacher Shortage Topic Of Longfellow PTA Talk

Walter Knecht, principal of Kankakee High School, was guest speaker at the Tuesday meeting of the Longfellow Parent Teacher Association. His subject was "Teacher Shortage and Recruitment."

Knecht pointed out, "The teacher shortage is a serious problem with too few people doing anything about it."

"Between now and 1950, 80,000 additional elementary and 50,000 high school teachers will be needed. It will be necessary to have 6,570 new teachers each year until 1950."

"Many 'thrift' teachers do not teach in our state, but go to Iowa and Michigan because these states are ahead of us in salaries. Young men often cannot continue their teaching careers after marriage because of additional expenses. Summer jobs are taken to supplement their salaries sometimes taking the teacher to enter business."

Knecht said, "The present pay scale doesn't attract the boy or girl going to college. Parents should be careful never to criticize teachers in front of their children."

The Rev. Richard Wauson, chaplain of the school, opened the meeting with a prayer.

Mrs. and Mrs. Brault conducted the meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gleason, the group's regional representatives, reported on the last regional meeting. It was announced that a conference will be held in January.

Others attending the meeting were Dr. and Mrs. Henry Pommer, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Olson and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kibler.

The next meeting will be held Friday, Nov. 30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olson of 572 S. Nelson St.

Never Fun To Be Fat, Worse For Teenager

By IDA JEAN KAIN

It's never fun to be fat, but it's worse for the teenager. All too often, excess pounds result in unhappiness for the adolescent girl when she observes how much more successful her slimmer classmates are on the social popularity score.

Many factors are responsible for teenage overweight, including pure food habits — but a leading cause in this age group appears to be lack of exercise rather than overeating. Scientists at the Nutrition Department of Harvard report their conclusion is based on a recently completed study of two groups of high school girls — 25 overweight and 25 normal weight. Both groups were similar in height, age and school grade.

COMPARISON of calorie intake with energy used in daily activities revealed that inactivity was more important than "overeating" in the development and maintenance of obesity. The startling fact was this — the overweight girls actually had a lower calorie intake than the normal weights. The added pounds in the overweight group resulted from under-exercise. In other words, these girls gained weight because they were over-eating in relation to their low expenditure of energy. And, teenagers, take notice — when these fatigues get more exercise, they all slimmed down!

Naturally, your immediate reaction will be that exercise — only makes you hungrier. Granted, exercise may give you a better appetite, but not necessarily a bigger one. With a keen appetite you will enjoy the meals your mother prepares, rather than slighting good nutrition and catering to your sweet tooth. Girls, it's not the main course of the meal that piles on pounds. It's the practice of indulging up on desserts and eating too many sweet snacks that soars the calories.

Back to exercise — what kind is best? The kind you enjoy most, for then you'll be more apt to do it. If you can, take a course in modern dance or ballet. Don't let false pride keep you from joining a dance class. Knowing that you can look better in a few short weeks will give you the courage to start.

Grooming Can Win You The Big Job You Want

By JEANNE D'ARCY

Do you make snap decisions about people? It's not fair but, let's face it, so often it is. It's a split-second survey that determines how a person rates with you.

This is especially true when the person doing the surveying is a personnel manager and the individual getting the quick appraisal is one, there'll be time later to discover the truth.

The first impression — made by appearance — is apt to be the one that counts. Should it be a favorable one, there'll be time later to discover the truth.

Plan Christmas Party At Meeting Of Cabery Club

CABERY (JNS)—The Cabery Club met Monday night in the home of Mrs. Charles Smicker with 11 members and a guest, Mrs. Ada Watson present.

Plans were completed for the annual Christmas party to be held in Kankakee on Dec. 17 with dinner at 6:30 p.m. Each member may bring a guest. There will be a gift exchange.

After the business meeting, "50" was played with prizes awarded to Mrs. Orman Olson, Mrs. Milton Colthurst and Mrs. Francis Adams. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Milton Colthurst on Jan. 21.

cover your qualifications and qualities. If it's an unfavorable impression, your chances for the job go right out that office door with you.

So, with this in mind, make-up and dress carefully when an interview is scheduled.

Neatness, of course, is of primary importance. Your clothes must be sparkling clean, nicely pressed. Things like slightly-soiled white gloves, a wrinkled dress, are two strikes against you before you even write down your name on a job application blank.

Daintiness is all-important, too! The morning of the interview is no day to save time by skipping that morning shower or forgetting to apply deodorant.

Moderation is a good rule when you're deciding what to wear. Avoid extremes in clothes, hair-dos and make-up. You'll make a good impression if you look clean, neat and tailored, so beware frills, and avoid heavy make-up and heavy perfume.

Veal Chops, An Ideal Dinner-Party Dish

Gourmets with educated palates, as well as those who love good food, snack their lips after tasting these Veal Chops Cooked in Wine. It's ideal for a dinner party, too, because you can partially prepare them, and put aside until a half hour before serving time.

To serve 4, have your butcher cut the veal chops at least 2 inches thick with the kidney still in. Dip chops lightly in flour which has been seasoned with salt and pepper, and saute in 1/4 pound of butter until a golden brown. Remove chops and place in a casserole. Add 1 cup white wine to the drippings the chops were cooked in and simmer until syrupy. Pour over the chops. Saute 1/4 pound fresh mushrooms, chopped, and 1 grated onion in 1/4 pound butter, slowly for 8 minutes. Pour around the chops. Cover the baking dish with buttered heavy paper tied tight and bake in 375 F. oven for 30 minutes.

The Reds Meant To Kill Him

(Editor's Note: A 36-year-old mechanic who led 35 men in their fight for freedom against the Communists in Budapest was among the first group of refugees to reach the United States. Adopting the new name of Lure Nedder, he is still in Hungary, he has written for the United Press an account of his experiences. His story, translated from Hungarian, follows.)

CAMP KILMER, N. J. (UP)—I have no money. The only clothes I own are on my back. I do not know the fate of my parents and sister in Hungary. But I still had 100 times more reason to be thankful on my first Thanksgiving Day than most Americans.

I am thankful to be alive in a country where there is more freedom than anywhere else in the world, and where I can go out and earn a living and live at last like a free human being.

IF I HAD NOT fled from my homeland, I'm certain I would be dead by now. Thousands of Hungarians men have been deported by the Russians to Siberia, but if I had stayed, I don't think they would have bothered to send me away. I would have been shot on the spot. My sins against the Communists were too great.

I was the leader of a 35-man rebel group that fought against the Communists. The Russians had me under arrest for 26 months, and almost killed me once. Their aim was not so good, however; they only wounded me in the ankle. My companion was shot in the chest, even though we were unarmed at the time and carried white flags.

MY TROUBLE with the Communists began in July, 1944, when I was really a concentration camp. As struggling-to-make-a-living it was surrounded by wire and

Bradley Shot Misfires
Bradley High School's cagers had many a good shot Wednesday night against Bloom, but this one by Larry Huggins, just wasn't dropping in. Huggins' shot here came in the final period of the game won by Bloom 49-45.

KANSAS CITY—Whether the pivotman would be Schmidt or Van Miller, Kansas City hit 24 out of 65 shots for a .369 average while the Trojans were scoring 18 times in the second quarter. At one time, Donahoe had four "upshots" on the floor but the parabolic school lads outscored the Kays 18-17 in the period to trail 32-27 at the half.

TERRY LAFFEY's basket and pair of free throws made it 32-26 in the first 30 seconds of the third period against the first string Kays but that's as close as the score ever got, although the Irish rallied again to restore the six-point margin, 42-36, at the end of three quarters.

Donahoe and Terry LaFey, a junior guard, each scored 15 points to be high men for both teams, but after these two the Irish individual scoring fell off to the six points contributed by Dick Roy.

Jones, while expressing disappointment in Kenny Palmateer's ability to hit only one basket in 12 shots, reiterated his pre-game statement that he figures he is well-fixed for guards in Donley Palmateer, Roger Johnson, Walter Johnson and Ed Tyrrell. He plans to stick with his original choices for the forward berths, Juniors Windmiller and Carl Coleman, despite the fact that Coleman got only four shots and two baskets. The two forwards played little more than a half.

KANSAS CITY, if its opening game is any criterion, apparently will be more of a "pattern" team than any Jones has coached in his 10 years at the Kansas City helm. Until St. Pat's defense stiffened, these net plays worked well, even though the center had not yet been worked into the pattern to any extent because Jones was not sure

Bloom Fails To Dim B-B Hopes

Bradleyans See Good Season Despite Loss

By GIL BRENNER
The Boiler-makers of Bradley, hopeful of a winning season after last year's loss, have already discovered the caliber of some of Illinois' best basketball of 1966-67.

The Bradleyans gained their "lesson" Wednesday night when they bowed to a tall, talented Bloom quintet 69-45.

Coach-Edmund Moore's veterans had too much height, too much savvy—and on top of that, had too much shooting ability for the young Boiler-makers.

Although the Bradley crew stayed within hailing distance the first 10 minutes of the tilt, their inability to "hit" finally caught up with them. Using their height to great advantage with a tight zone defense, Bloom forced the Bradleyans to shoot from a distance. The inability of the Bradley team to sag anything beyond 10 or 12 feet during the night indicated just how helpless they were in the face of the Trojan zone.

IN THE TOTAL, the Bradleyans attempted to battle Bloom's 48.2 per cent shooting with 30.7 per cent marksmanship. The Trojan sagged 27 baskets in 56 tries while coach Bert Nafziger's charges were frigid with only 16 successes in 50 attempts.

The Boiler-makers jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the first half-minute on a drive by Don Roberts—but the "joy" in the Bradley camp was short-lived since that was the only time in the tilt their favorites were in front. Bloom roared back to take a 10-4 margin but the Boiler-makers weren't quite ready to toss in the towel.

roll banged home eight points in the final five minutes of the game, and the manner in which the Bradleyans perked up when Jerry Huggins entered the game. The latter still carries a cast on his fractured left arm and has been handicapped with this far season.

WITH SUBSTITUTES being used freely by both coaches during the game, only three players in the tilt managed to hit the two figures. Bloom's Bell led all scorers with 15 points, Bradley's Enme led his team with 14 and Trojan Thurman ranked next in line with 13.

In individual shooting Bell cracked home 6 of 11, Bob Teves had 4 for 8 and Thurman and Jerry Colangelo 4 for 9. Only Boiler-maker to hit with any consistency from the field was Enme who hit 4 of 9.

A gift shot by Bob Huggman started the second period pace with an 11-9 advantage but Enme tied the score at 11-11 from underneath. At this point Bradley had opportunities to take the lead on a free throw attempt by Enme and a couple of cripplers but nothing would go in.

PAST THIS CRISIS, the Trojan began to roll and punched home 14 straight points before Bradley was able to score again. Bloom counted on fast breaks, rebounds and long shots during this stretch with Enme and Thurman and Bob Bell sharing honors by halving eight points each.

By halftime Bloom was in front 29-15 and the handwriting was on the wall.

Enme and Roberts kept the Bradleyans within 15-20 point range during the third quarter but by the close of the period the Trojan had bright spots in the Bradley picture. The final quarter was the play of Bob Pettit, who in a substitute
