Tells Needs For Hungarian Refugees

Hungarian refugees most in need of American sponsors are women with children, according to the Rev. O. L. Liko of the Bishop's Resettlement Committee, Joliet Diocese.

In Kankakee Thursday to work with Dr. and Mrs. Leopold Casany in recruiting sponsors. The Rev. Fr. Liko explained that many mothers escaped with their children, leaving Hungary before their husbands and the husbands now are unable to leave or their whereabouts may be unknown.

Being sought for these women are types of jobs which would permit them to be with their children, such as domestic or farm work, Father Liko said.

The second group most in need of sponsors, he continued, is large families. Here, again, he suggested that housing and job facilities on farms are the type of accommodations needed.

Many requests are being made for single men and single women, he said, and applications for limited number of children are being sent to this country and that prospects are slight that these requests can be answered.

The children, he emphasized, are not adoptable for the present because time will be required to try to find their parents or legal guardians.

Dr. Casany Thursday received a $100 check from Franklin T. Griffin of Chicago, which, he wrote, "you are to use in connection with Mrs. Casany's air trip to Hungary. I cannot think of a mission that is so sacrificial as to help these distressed people. God will certainly help them in her effort to bring these to this peaceful country."

Mrs. Casany, a naturalized American citizen, came to this country as a refugee eight years ago. She will fly to Vienna, Austria, to help screen Hungarians qualified for job and housing opportunities in this community.

Father Liko pointed out that temporary housing is needed. "This may be for only a few months," he explained, "as these people will be anxious to work and re-build their lives and to be independent in a free land."

Says High Costs Limit Atomic Development
The high cost of producing electricity by atomic power limits its development in the United States, according to Elmer W. Rylander, executive assistant to the director of the Argonne National Laboratory in Chicago.

He spoke at the Thursday luncheon meeting of the Kankakee Rotary Club.

Rylander said that in a country such as the United States, which has abundant coal resources, electricity is at present produced more cheaply by conventional means rather than by an atomic reactor.

Some atomic power plants are now being built, however, and Rylander mentioned the one under construction by the Commonwealth Edison Co. at the confluence of the Kankakee and DesPlaines rivers.

Rylander commented that there is a shortage of scientists in the atomic energy field and recommended that youths interested in this field study basic mathematics, chemistry and physics in high school.

Rylander also showed slides of details of the atomic reactor constructed at the Argonne Laboratory. He said that safety factors built into the reactor made it a very expensive piece of construction.

Enlistees In Air Force Get Delay In Leaving Home
In its "Holidays at Home" program the Air Force will provide a delay in leaving home until the first week in January for men enlisting from Dec. 18 through Dec. 31.

The program was announced today by S. Sgt. Everett Gilman of the Kankakee Air Force recruiting office.

The Air Force will also send hundreds of thousands of active duty airmen home through the holidays.

It also pointed out that if those who enlist during the Dec. 18-31 period do not wish the delay, they will also accept anytime during this period.

Another Air Force policy allows eligible officers and airmen early separation from service so that they may be home for the holidays.

Sunday Marks Beginning Of Advent Season
The beginning of the church year for Catholics of the Kankakee area will be marked Sunday—a day in which the beginning of the season of Advent will also be observed.

In the liturgy of the church the "advent" signifies the last weeks prior to the great feast of Christmas. The term itself comes from the Latin "adventus" meaning "an arrival."

The four-week season anticipates the birth of Christ celebrated on Dec. 25.

In the earlier days of the church a strict penitential spirit prevailed during the season. Now purple vestments are worn denoting the penitential aspects of the season.

Sunday in Kankakee area Catholic churches the annual Peter's Pence collection, for the support and needs of the Holy Father, will be taken. The collection is taken the first Sunday of Advent each year and sent to the Holy See to be used at his discretion.

Sunday will mark the beginning of the ecclesiastical year for Catholics throughout the world.

Admiral Says Red Sub Buildup Threat To U. S. Fleet

WITH THE U.S. 6th FLEET (UP)—The commander of the U.S. 6th Fleet said today the continued buildup of the Soviet submarine force poses a "grave threat" to the West's Mediterranean supply lines.

Vice Adm. Charles R. Brown, the 6th Fleet commander, said that the U.S. maneuvers could have "obviously provocative aims."

Brown said events throughout the Middle East all have an impact on the ships and men under his command.

"IN THIS PERIOD of uneasiness I'm sitting on top of a volcano," he said. "Tomorrow could be my Pearl Harbor."

Brown called for a stepped up program of air and surface anti-submarine teams to patrol the world's seaways in case of war.

"The trans-Atlantic and Mediterranean supply lines which supply the United States could be cut in case of war," he said. "Do all my plans askew."

Christmas Club Shows Advantages Of Thrift

Amid warnings from economists that the American people are losing their sense of thrift, the announcement that more than 10,000 customers of the three banks in Kankakee and Bradley have saved $673,000 by participation in the banks' Christmas Clubs.

Bank spokesmen say this is a record both in the total of money accumulated and the number of participants.

It is important to the economic life of the community when some two thirds of a million dollars are put into circulation in the space of a few days.

Much of the money, no doubt, will go to buy Christmas gifts for loved ones and friends. Some of it will be transferred into savings accounts. Many families put aside part of their Christmas Club cash for payment of taxes, insurance premiums, year-end bills and other necessities.

The proud and sturdy American self-reliance of the past—often to the extent of refusing any outside aid—surely helped the nation survive many financial crises. For this and other reasons, thrift is a virtue that should be encouraged.

It is true that Americans have changed a good deal in recent years as to saving. It used to be that individuals were entirely responsible for old age security. Today more emphasis is placed upon private pension from corporations and upon federal assistance called social security.

The latter, however, was designed to be a sort of foundation upon which additional investments in property, savings, endowment policies or private pension plans would provide old age security.

The banks' Christmas Clubs serve—not only to stimulate prosperity and provide holiday gifts—but to give practical demonstration to many thousands of people that it is easy to set aside specific amounts of cash periodically and never miss the money.

Tests May Show Effect Of Trucks On Highways

DANVILLE COMMERCIAL NEWS. All sorts of claims and denials are made about the damage caused to modern highways by heavy truck traffic. We may soon have the correct answer, based on scientific data.

Through a cooperative effort, a nine-mile test road, biggest and most important ever built, is being constructed near Ottawa. Tests conducted on it are expected to give definite data on the effect of various types of traffic on various kinds of highway construction.

Each section of the road will be made up of various thicknesses and types of highway construction, including bases and sub-bases. Different traffic loads will be operated over the various sections and checks made of the effect different loads have on different kinds of construction.

Most motorists are of the opinion that, heavy trucks do a great deal of damage to the highways and that they do not pay their fair share of the cost of highway construction through license fees. The average motorist has a strong belief that as a result he is taxed unfairly for highway expenses and is standing the cost of providing a highway for the operation of huge trucks.

Truckers insist this is not the case; that they pay their share of the cost and that trucks are not responsible for the crumbling of the highways. The tests at Ottawa, in which the whole country is joining, should provide the answer to some of these claims and accusations. They should determine the best types of highway construction and provide a basis for an equitable levying of the highway tax burden. It is high time for such a test.

Desolate Polar Colony Has Living Advantages

In troubled areas all over the globe, people are elbowing and sniping at each other as they struggle for control of the earth's warm, productive areas.

It's not so crowded at the south pole, nor is the situation all as explosive, where eight Navy Sealers and 11 sled dogs have set up residence. The Americans are going to build a base for the use of scientists who will spend a winter there making observations as part of our country's contribution to the international geophysical year. This is a time set aside for special study of the earth and atmosphere.

Being in that desolate land will have some compensations. Nobody is likely to accuse these pioneers of not abiding by property lines and zoning restrictions. No Russian tanks are likely to appear suddenly out of the snowy mists. There's something to be said for being first on the scene.

A Time To Cool Things Off

WASHINGTON—This is a time to keep things cool. It is not a time for recriminations. The outbreak of anti-American feeling in the British and French press is understandable. Nobody likes oil rationing.

It wasn't the American government which blocked the Suez Canal. It was the British. It was the British who set up the pipelines in Syria. These were the consequences, not the cause, of the national passions were aroused.

The present situation now is how to cool things down. It is not how to inflame them more. The British and French are now pointing to the "disruption" of the Western alliance—and the angry expressions of some of the conservatives in the British Parliament who think America is not cooperating in getting oil to Europe, but in classing the British and French for their use of force—will not help move things toward a solution.

If there is to be a post-mortem on mistakes and errors of policy in the last few years Americans could refer back to the British resistance which stopped the United Nations armies from using maximum military power in Korea and securing a victory there. Yet one of the London editors proudly claims now that Britain "backed America to the hilt in Korea."

IT ISN'T ALL WHITE or all black. To conduct international relations in a world of turmoil is very difficult, indeed, especially in a world that has not been truly stabilized for a long time.

America is not the only country where there is a growing concern about the British and French started when they sent their forces into Syria. There is a growing concern about the British and French, having its immediate debate on the subject. Lester Pearson, foreign minister at Ottawa, says the whole British Commonwealth came near "dissolution" a fortnight or so ago. He asserts boldly that Canada will not be tied up either to Britain or to the United States in shaping policy.

Clearly any tendencies to "go it alone" are ominous. Even when the United States endeavors now to do so, the British and French are trying not to throw her pleading for a course that can lead to a peaceful settlement—the bricks are just the same.

Then there's the matter of paying for the Suez mess. The United States is expected abroad to put up the cash to get the oil so that the automobile users of Western Europe can enjoy normal conditions once more. American taxpayers are generous but will not be brow-beaten by French or British spokesmen in the press or in the Parliaments. Congress holds the purse strings and is sensitive about foreign criticism.

The demands for America to side with Britain and France and to pay for the Suez mess are not new. They have happened only too often to the complications. London and Paris should know that American hearts are close to the British and French people no matter what the issues or the criticisms. President Eisenhower tried to express just that in his radio address to the United States on Tuesday.

BUT WHEN ALL is said and done, a realistic course has to be followed by the United States. A policy has to be shaped to fit the changing circumstances of a troubled world. It will not avail to have the United States play the part of a leader who tries to boss the show and tell others what to do. There can be only an appeal to reason—a setting forth calmly of the basic principles that must govern all free nations in their relations to each other and in their efforts to liberate the oppressed peoples in those lands where dictators still hold sway.

America is not on anybody's side except the side of justice. The question that has influenced the world in recent days are susceptible of solution if there is a return to considerations of moral law in the world.

Obviously the Soviets have been at the bottom of the Middle East trouble. They sent arms to Egypt for the purpose of alarming the Israelis. It was inevitable that a clash would occur when the Communists started to fish in waters already troubled by years of strife. The Soviets now are brazenly adding to the tensions in the Middle East by sending arms to Syria.

But can one government be allowed to threaten the peace of the world and incite other nations to make war on each other? How can small nations be assured of their political independence and the protection of their territorial integrity? It is important for American spokesmen not to lose sight of these basic issues.

There is a God-given opportunity now for American statesmen to persuade all peoples that the time has come to assert their will so that tyrants and war-mongering dictators will be driven from power. It's a great chance to mobilize public opinion in Asia, Europe and Latin America behind moral law. If that should fail, military force will regretably become the only answer.

German Rearmament Attitudes

The brutal suppression by the Russians of the revolt in Hungary has apparently had little or no effect on the desire of the West Germans for rearmament. The Germans plan to proceed to re-arm slowly and are considered building an armed force of about 300,000 men originally planned.

One of the immediate effects of the events in Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia, East, however, was a renewed effort on the part of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and other leaders to stress the importance of the German press and by political leaders in Bonn was expressed against the position taken by Prince Hubertus zu Loewenstein, a prominent member of the opposition Free Democratic party (FDP).

Even stronger condemnation by the German press and by political leaders in Bonn was expressed against the position taken by Prince Hubertus zu Loewenstein, a prominent member of the opposition Free Democratic party (FDP).

Only one or two German leaders have made statements relative to the military situation which could possibly be called provocative.

Loewenstein, after a recent two-week trip to Hungary, allegedly expressed the opinion that Germany's reunification could be achieved only through a revolt in the Soviet Zone similar to that which took place in Hungary.

Presumably when such an East German revolt took place, the Prince envisaged a West German armed force coming to the aid of their Eastern brothers.

Other leaders of the FDP quickly declared that Loewenstein's views were not those of the party to which he belonged, but that he was speaking for himself alone. The party's leaders declared application of force must under all circumstances be excluded in the solution of political problems.

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN of the powerful Social Democratic party went even further. It described Loewenstein's proposal as an invitation to commit suicide, meaning a third world war and bloody suppression.

The startling degree of pacifism and opposition to becoming soldiers which still prevails among German youth was evidenced during late October in figures reported by the newspapers showing the percentage of youth who failed to register for the draft as required.

In Cologne, one of Germany's biggest cities and the home of Chancellor Adenauer, 44 per cent of the youth who were scheduled to report and register for the draft on Oct. 26 failed to appear.

In Remagen, on the Rhine River, the leading for the draft was to be extended, because at the end of the allotted time only 30 per cent of the draftees had reported.

Even worse conditions prevailed in Munich. According to the Frankfurter Rundschau, of 706 draftees from the class of 1938, supposed to have registered on Oct. 22 and 23, only 144 appeared. German newspapers reported that the situation in Cologne, Remagen and Munich was duplicated in other leading cities, including Hamburg, Stuttgart, Frankfurt and Karlsruhe.

It is evident from these figures that the American indoctrination of German youth from 1945 to 1950 in pacifism and anti-militarism is still bearing fruit. It took the Korean War from 1950 to 1952 to reverse American policy towards the rearming of the Germans.

BESIDES THE powerful pacifist movement in Germany, there is another group which has opposed German rearmament during the past five years. Many of the members of this group are to be found in the Social Democratic party. They take the position that they are not opposed to German rearmament but that, if there is to be rearmament, it would be better to rearm only after Germany is a member and a member of a general European collective defense system.

Still a third group opposes rearmament, not because they are opposed to arms, but because they are dissatisfied with the scale of German rearmament permitted. They want Germany rearmed to the point where a German armed force could stop the Russians dead in their tracks, and even successfully counterattack. They fear the present scale of NATO arms and German rearmament would not prevent the Reds from sweeping over Western Germany and making it the theater of operations of World War III.

Pique Or Policy

It is impossible to say that economic sanctions have not been levied upon Great Britain and France in the sense that these two countries, on the approach of winter, are unable to obtain the fuel essential for a modern industrial state. These sanctions are also being levied upon other Western European nations which have not come within the displeasure of the President of the United States whose authority has sustained them throughout the period of the cold war and whose authority can now reduce them to the economic and social level of these Asiatic and African nations who now seem to hold the balance of power in the United Nations.

Should these economic sanctions last long enough, it could result in unemployment of such dimensions in Western Europe as could force upon the people a submission to Soviet Russia. This is the picture which may today seem extreme but which could within a month be a ghastly reality and rather than wait a month to be proved right, it is preferable to say it now with the hope that the prophecy may be proven wrong.

THE QUESTION ARISES whether these economic sanctions are a matter of pique or policy. Sir Winston Churchill once said to me that he, Churchill, had to go along with Franklin D. Roosevelt in this matter because Britain was a dependent nation. How dependent the British are upon the United States is fully apparent now when the British have taken a step on their own to prevent, if possible, the absorption of the Arab world in the Soviet universal state. This step was taken without prior consultation with the United States, whereupon the full force of American antagonism is implemented notwithstanding the now indisputable fact that Soviet Russia had made a puppet of Nasser, had established an enormous arsenal in Sinai, and Syria, and was undermining existing governments in other Arab countries.

Despite this, the Hungarians were ordered played down in the United Nations so as not to outrage public opinion sufficiently to divert attention from Egypt. It is a situation not unlike that which helped to destroy the League of Nations and did eventually reduce Japan from the stabilizing power in Asia to a minor state. From about 1915 to 1931, Japan engaged in imperialistic acts in Manchuria, ending in the conquest of that part of China and the establishment of Manchukuo. The problem that Japan faced was to prevent Manchuria and eastern inner Mongolia from being absorbed by Soviet Russia. In the handling of this situation, particularly after the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917, Japan made some very serious mistakes.

BUT THE MAIN OBJECTIVE was not an error, namely that as China was unable to defend her boundaries, if Japan did not step in Russia would, and that Russia would use this area as a springboard for revolution throughout Asia. Japan would have succeeded in stopping Russian conquest of Manchuria but for the intervention of the United States, which also defeated Japan.

It was not, as I wrote in my book "The Tinder Box of Asia," in 1932, a question of Japan vs. China; it was a question of Japan vs. Soviet Russia, just as today, it is not a question of Great Britain vs. Egypt, but it is a question of Great Britain vs. Soviet Russia in the Middle East.

And again the United States has intervened on a doctrinaire principle which is a correct principle in its statement but dangerous in its implementation because somehow it always works out in favor of the imperialism of Soviet Russia. It is unfortunate that since 1917, so many efforts for world peace have been wrecked upon the shoals of totalitarianism, either the mythical form devised by Hitler or the pragmatic devised by Stalin.

The Western countries have been a match for Hitler because he employed profanities which they understood. The West is constantly being tricked and fooled by the Russians who employ a dialectic which is so alien to the Western mind that it rationalizes what it cannot understand and generally rationalizes in favor of the Russians while assuming that it is doing something against them.

It is because of this that Soviet Russia has been able to achieve a split of vast dimensions between the United States and Great Britain. Neither Kaiser Wilhelm nor Hitler nor another American Britisher nor anti-British Americans could achieve as much.

WISHING WELL

Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 4 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 4, add 1. The result is your X number. Mark at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your X numbers. 40 X's will make the letters in the word "WISHING WELL" appear. (Copyright 1958, by William J. ILLINOIS DEPARTMENT of Public Welfare personnel will utilize suggestions of volunteer workers in planning its Volunteer Services Program for the next year. In the fourth annual VSP conference here Wednesday through today, more than 200 volunteers of 10 state mental hospitals and the Dixon School for the Mentally Retarded were honored. Pictured from left, studying volunteers' recommendations are Jane Phillips, of the state office; Elsie Lofton, state VSP coordinator; Alfred Slicer, assistant deputy director of the Mental Health Services and acting VSP director; and Miss Isabel Bergman of the state office. Study Ways To Expand Volunteer Services

Suggestions of volunteer workers on improving and expanding the Volunteer Services Program, are being considered by Illinois Public Welfare Department personnel.

The volunteers, honored at a luncheon here during the fourth annual VSP conference, made the recommendations Wednesday. Personnel of the state office and VSP supervisors of 10 state mental hospitals, in session here Thursday and today, studied the reports of group sessions held earlier.

Alfred Slicer, acting state VSP supervisor, said volunteers asked that information regarding the hospital's needs be made available to them. Volunteers feel they need this knowledge in their efforts to recruit new volunteers and to aid in improving hospital-community relationships.

CLARIFICATION of several specific regulations of the department was asked and increased uniformity requested in some areas.

Volunteers also sought means in which they can assist the department from a legislative standpoint in such matters of increased appropriations for the care of the mentally ill.

Department spokesmen pointed out that, as citizens, volunteers may advise their legislators of

Education More Important

Elvis Haircut Clipped

Robert Phernetton, of nearby Washington, surrendered to a school ban against break-style long hair Thursday and had a barber put the shears to his sideburns.

Robert was barred from the Romeo School Nov. 2 for refusing to comply with a school edict against such haircuts. More than 50 other students who obeyed the order to bar their long haircuts were allowed to stay in school.

BUT ROBERT AND HIS MOTHER, Mrs. Alice Phernetton, who said she considered the ban a form of "dictatorship" decided to fight it.

Mrs. Phernetton asked the Macomb County Circuit Court to order the school board to take Robert back in class, hair and all. The court rejected the request.

Mrs. Phernetton and her son gave in Thursday.

"Robert's education is too important," Mrs. Phernetton said. "I'm not happy," Robert said when the barber finished. "It will take years and years to train my hair again."

Paris Stilled As Gas Shortage Hits French

PARIS (UP)—The roar of Paris traffic was stilled almost to a hush today as the full effect of gasoline rationing hit French motorists.

The city looks like a vast open-air garage, with thousands of automobiles parked along the streets. A decreasing number of the cars move from the curbs as more tanks run dry.

The French Cabinet Tuesday ordered a gasoline ration ranging from about five gallons to nearly eight gallons a month, depending on the size of the car. Most French cars, much smaller than those in America, can do better than 120 miles on this. But it still means much more walking or bicycling.

EVERYONE grumbles. The motorists because they can't get enough gas. The service stations because they aren't being paid for the extra clerical work that rationing requires.

The French system requires every driver to register at a gas station near his home. He may not go any place else. No tickets are issued — to prevent their black market sale — and the ration must go directly in the tank. No cans may be filled. The amount issued is stamped by the garage on the back of the automobile's log.

To make matters worse, many service stations have not received expected deliveries and have to tell their customers to return. Only half of December's ration can be issued now. The rest will follow after Dec. 17.

Red Cross Supply Sale Labeled False

WASHINGTON (UP)—A spokesman for the American Red Cross denied Thursday night that Red Cross supplies are being sold on the black market in Hungary or used for political purposes by the Hungarian Communist regime.

Harry Martin, director of public relations, said such rumors are circulating in Austria and coming out of Hungary. He said they are without foundation.

The spokesman said that since Nov. 17, an International Red Cross committee staff of Swiss workers in Budapest have been working under an agreement detailing the method of distribution of IRC supplies. This agreement was signed by the Hungarian government, the Hungarian Red Cross and the international committee.

TERMS OF THE agreement give the international committee complete control of distribution, the spokesman said. He added that the agreement states distribution shall be carried out with "strict impartiality and without discrimination whatsoever other than that of the needs of the persons to be assisted."

The agreement provides, he said, that assistance be given first to the sick, wounded of all kinds, infants, expectant mothers and the aged and infirmed.

Just Kept Eating, Man, 105, Says On His Birthday

GREENFIELD (UP)—Sylvester Melvin celebrated his 105th birthday Thursday and attributed his long life to the fact that "I keep eating and I guess I just didn't die."

President Eisenhower sent Melvin a greeting in which he said "please accept my good wishes for a very pleasant birthday."

Melvin is still active in business as secretary of the Greene County Mutual Insurance Co., which he helped to organize in 1900 and as partner with two grandsons in the operation of a 364 acre cattle farm.

Melvin's wife died two years ago at 96. They had two sons and two daughters, 11 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Jury Finds Death Driver In Wrong Lane When 5 Died

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—A coroner's jury has found that William Clayton, 22, Jacksonville, was driving in the wrong lane at the time his car collided with another Thanksgiving Day and killed five members of a family.

The jury did not recommend any action against Clayton, but Asst. State's Atty. J. Yalob Ackerman Jr., said his office will study the evidence and possibly take the case before the grand jury.

A truck driver testified that Clayton sped past him shortly before the accident. Clayton admitted drinking beer before the crash in the early hours of Thanksgiving morning.

Clayton has already been charged in a warrant with driving without a proper license at the time of the accident. His Illinois driving privileges had been revoked a year ago for driving while intoxicated.

John Zimmer, 26, his wife and child and his parents, all of Jacksonville, were killed in the collision.

Outgoing Cook Co. Recorder Rook Dies

CHICAGO (UP)—Joseph F. Ropa, Cook County recorder, died Thursday night after a heart attack in his home.

Ropa, 53, was defeated for reelection in the Nov. 6 election. His successor, Republican Edmund J. Kucharski, takes office Monday.

Ropa owned a real estate business and also held an interest in a family savings and loan association. The widow, Nell, and a daughter survive.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Hoosier Trucker Killed Near LaSalle

LA SALLE (UP)—Donald Oexmann, 34, of Vincennes, Ind., was fatally injured today in a collision of his trailer truck and a smaller truck on U. S. Route 6 east of LaSalle.

LaSalle County sheriff's deputies said Oexmann's truck sideswiped a pickup truck driven by Henry Blenarich, 40, of LaSalle, ripped up 30 feet of guard rail and struck several trees. Blenarich escaped injury.

RARE CIRCUIT

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (UP)—The prosecution of Harvey C. Anderson on a speeding charge wasn't pressed in town court when the policeman, who arrested him, agreed that the electrically operated timing device he'd used to clock Anderson at 45 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone may have been short-circuited.

Drive Over 75 MPH?

Then You're Listed As Hurricane Driver

CHICAGO—Are you a hurricane driver? You are if you drive 75 miles an hour or more, the National Safety Council said today.

For at that pace, warned the Council, you can destroy yourself and anything in your path as quickly as a hurricane.

"The U. S. weather bureau considers winds of 75 miles and over of hurricane proportion," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council, "and motorists should remember that a car driven at the same speed is propelled with the same destructive force."

Because of the emergency traffic situation, with its rising toll, Dearborn said a year-round "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents" campaign, being launched this December, will continue through 1957. The purpose of the campaign is to encourage public officials to step up the attack and to stimulate citizens to back the attack on traffic accidents.

During December campaign emphasis will be on speed, drinking drivers and pedestrians, night driving and pedestrian hazards. Speed was a large factor last year in the 600 Christmas traffic deaths, the Council said. Driving too fast for conditions or in excess of the speed limit was a factor in 85 per cent of the fatal accidents, compared with an annual average of 35 per cent.

To determine a safe speed, the Council said, drivers must take into consideration:

1. Weather and visibility. Fog, rain, snow, bright sunlight, or darkness are caution signs that demand a slower speed.
2. Mechanical factors. Engine power, ability to hold the road, and efficiency of all mechanical parts have a definite bearing on selection of a safe speed.
3. Physical factors. Whether a road is rough, smooth, hilly, flat, curving or straight are considerations that should influence speed.
4. Personal factors. The driver's physical and mental condition and the speed at which he can safely control his car are important factors.

5. Traffic conditions. Drivers should adapt their speed to the traffic they meet. A safe speed on a highway is different from a safe speed in a city street.

Since the state limits use of motor fuel tax funds, Schwark told the board that money from this fund should be used to blacktop the median strip on the street. A special assessment will provide funds for blacktopping the parking strip and installation of curbing.

Village clerk John Grimes Sr. said a public hearing will be required to set the special assessment machinery in action.

The board also discussed naming a number of other streets in newly annexed areas as arterial thoroughfares. Engineer Schwark was authorized to investigate state regulations on this matter and report back to the board.

Bourbonnais OKs River Street Project

The Bourbonnais village board approved an appropriation to complete the River street storm sewer project and agreed on a plan to finance curbing and resurfacing of the thoroughfare at a special meeting Thursday night.

The $6,200 appropriation will come from motor fuel tax funds approved and must be approved by the State Division of Highways. Village engineer Howard Schwark, who presented the plan for board approval, predicted the project will be started this spring.

Motor fuel tax funds and a special assessment will be employed to finance blacktopping and installation of curbs along the 1,800 feet of roadway.

Since the state limits use of motor fuel tax funds, Schwark told the board that money from this fund should be used to blacktop the median strip on the street. A special assessment will provide funds for blacktopping the parking strip and installation of curbing.

Village clerk John Grimes Sr. said a public hearing will be required to set the special assessment machinery in action.

The board also discussed naming a number of other streets in newly annexed areas as arterial thoroughfares. Engineer Schwark was authorized to investigate state regulations on this matter and report back to the board.

Slot Machine Pirate Slain In Chicago Area

CHICAGO (AP)—A 27-year-old man, described by police as a looter of slot machines, was fatally shot and his body dumped in a gutter in suburban Stickney last night.

Police identified the victim of the gangland style slaying as Alan (Duke) Holt of Chicago.

Police Chief Edward Strosky said the back of Holt's head had been blown away by a blast from a shotgun. The victim's body was found by a young girl on her way home from a Girl Scout meeting.

CHICAGO POLICE said they had learned Holt had been pirating slot machines in the Chicago area for the last two years and estimated he and an accomplice had looted the machines of at least $30,000.

Chief Deputy Coroner Harry Glos said Max Gretschel Jr., 27, a cab driver, admitted he had been associated with Holt in the slot machine racket but had quit two months ago after they had been warned to "get out of the business or else."

The warning, Glos said Gretschel told him, was given by three unidentified men who had stopped their car in suburban Downers Grove.

Glos said Gretschel also related that he and Holt had been warned earlier to stay away from places where slot machines were operated. Glos said Gretschel told him alone had looted from 40 to 50 slot machines and estimated Holt had taken money from 30 to 400 machines. He said they would average $75 a night.

GRETSCHEL said he and Holt would visit places where the slot machines were used and pretend to play them. Instead, he told Glos, with the use of special tools they would empty the contents of the machines.

Glos said a notebook found in Holt's pocket contained about 500 names of people in several cities. He also found a summons for appearance in Waukegan, Ill., police court on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was arrested Nov. 24 while fighting in a Waukegan tavern.

Gretschel told Glos Holt was married and his wife, Carrie, and two children lived in Tampa, Fla. Gretschel was placed in protective custody on recommendation of Glos, who said "he could be another man marked for a ride."

Sales-Thrift Drives Keep Buyer In Middle

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (U-P)—Business starts the final sprint of the year with three big question marks.
Will shoppers come through as hoped and make this the biggest Christmas season for the stores which have large stocks on hand? Will industry go ahead with even larger expansion plans and, if so, where will the money come from?
AND THE BIGGEST question of all: Will some trigger-happy nation start shooting?
There's little business men or their customers can do about the third one but wait and see how international affairs work out.
But the first two find the consumer in the middle.

On one hand he is being urged by the banks and other financial institutions to save more money so that they will have more to lend to expanding business and end the tight money squeeze.
On the other hand the individual is being urged to spend freely to keep all the consumer goods industries and the merchants happy. You have only to look at the advertising in your newspaper to see that a record drive is on to coax dollars out of your pocket.
But on the other hand the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York in a December survey out today says: "Thrift has become a respectable again." It notes the clamor of industry for more funds to finance its grandiose expansion schemes and says that only through savings can this demand be met.

THE PRESSING need for more capital also runs like a thread through all the meetings this week in Florida of the Investment Bankers Association of America. Industries saying they must have more growth funds include steel, aluminum, railroads, electric utilities.
The bank agrees, saying "The economy appears to be facing a period of growth and expansion as spontaneous and dynamic as any that occurred in the past." It says the needs of a growing population and the progress of industrial technology in creating new products and also whole new industries. But if savings don't furnish the financial life blood for this growth, the alternatives are "inhibited growth, inflation, or a combination of the two."

THE FIRST National City Bank of New York's executive vice president, Alan H. Temple, agrees that savings must be encouraged as the best way to end the tight money bind.
There are doubts in some quarters, however, that industrial expansion will continue at the remarkable rate it set this year. They note as weakening incentives for such investment the rising costs of doing business and what they see as the slowdown in the gains in productivity (amount of goods and services turned out per man hour of labor). Together these forces are narrowing profit margins.

Plane In Distress Still Missing

CHICAGO (U-P)—Police are trying to find out what happened to a low-flying plane which dropped flames near Roosevelt Rd. and Illinois Route 59 in DuPage County and then apparently went on to Kane County.
Sheriff's police were alerted when motorists reported seeing the plane, apparently in distress, drop the flames.
The DuPage County airport at Wheaton was lighted, in the event of an emergency landing, but the plane did not appear there.
Kane County authorities were told the plane was flying in a westerly direction and to watch for it. But they reported that no such aircraft turned up, and pre-

Centuries Of British, French Culture Go Down Drain

'Egyptianization' Newest Nasser Order

(Editor's Note: This dispatch is by an Associated Press correspondent who has just arrived in Rome from Cairo, where he was stationed during the British-French invasion of Egypt. He is an American normally assigned to the AP London bureau. Egyptian censorship prevented transmission of this revealing dispatch from Egypt.)

By EDWIN SHANKE
ROME (U-P)—An Egyptian policeman rolled down the shutters of a French bookstore in the heart of Cairo one day soon after the British-French assault on Egypt began. It symbolized one way the attack on Egypt has backfired on the British and French in a country where their influence has been dominant for decades.
"Egyptianization" is the new watchword of President Nasser's regime. Behind the headlines about Port Said and the U. N. emergency police force, a thorough purge of all British, French influence and interests is taking place, from the business world through the professions, schools and cultural activities of every description. Even history is being rewritten, as Stalin did it in Russia.

DAY BY DAY, the government-controlled Egyptian press is revealing the extent of the upheaval — unprecedented in Egypt's long history. Neutral observers generally consider the British-French invasion has finished them in Egypt and the repercussions will spread throughout the Arab world.
Many an Egyptian educated in England and France — and there are thousands — say, "they can't Egyptianize our minds." But the process goes ahead steadily, mainly under Egyptian military orders numbered 4 and 5, published Nov. 11 after the British-Israeli assault began.

These orders "canceled the British and French as 'enemy nationals,' provided for the confiscation of their assets and prohibited transactions with British and French citizens."
Egyptians appointed by the minister of finance renounced the managers of firms controlled by the British and French. A number of banks and wholesale and retail firms were affected. Shell Oil, one of Britain's biggest enterprises in Egypt, was among them.

Responsible informants said "no one apart perhaps from a few authorities, really knows what is going to happen pending some final agreed settlement. Technically, the Egyptians could do practically anything with the businesses — sell them, give them away or even reorganize the firms and then themselves."
ONE DETRIMENT factor is the fact that the British have frozen 280 million dollars in Egyptian assets in the hands of the British government.
Estimates of the total value of the businesses affected range all the way from 210 million dollars to a top of $500 million dollars.

Finance Minister Abdel Moneim Kassoob, has instructed banks to furnish every facility to Egyptian citizens wishing to acquire shares of "enemy" companies under sequestration to ensure that they are "speedily Egyptianized." Cairo newspapers chronicle the systematic stripping of British-French influence from Egyptian life.
Organizations regularly contribute for a boycott of all British and French products.
The government has ruled that British and French firms no longer can sue in any Egyptian court.

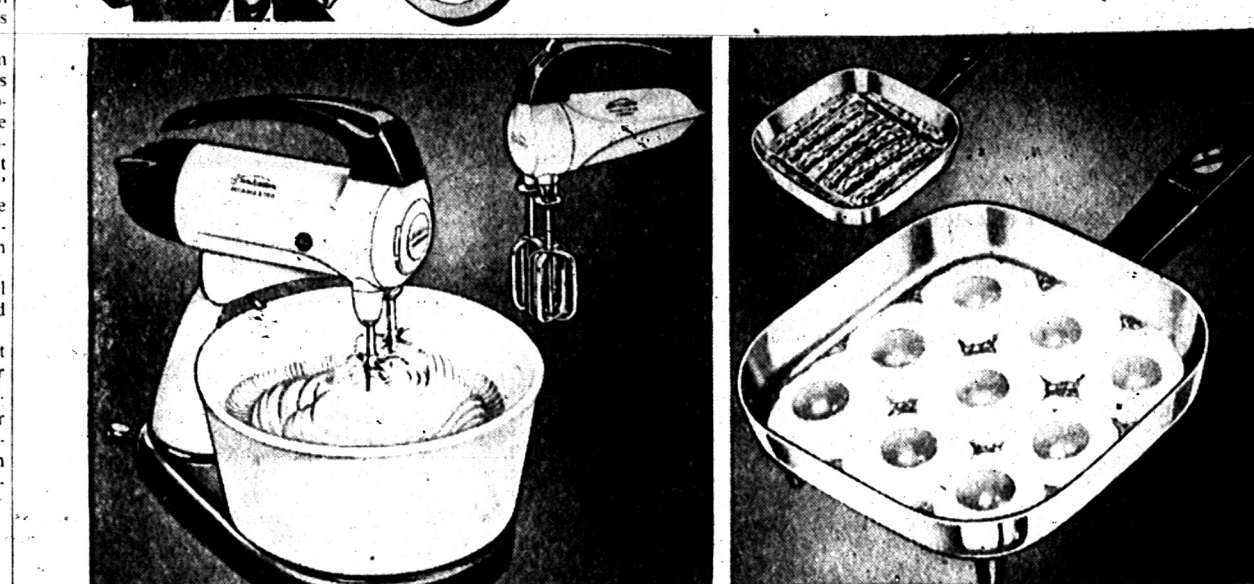

DEPUTY Education Minister Hamed Nabil announced severance of all cultural relations with Britain and France. He told newsmen his ministry was "reviewing with a view to removing from English and French books and them any trace connected with syllabuses now in use in schools Britain and France and their universities throughout Egypt."

Delay Irked American Socialite

Hawaiian Prince To Wed Over Family's Objections

DALLAS, Tex. (U-P)—Prince Keawe, scion of Hawaii's royal dynasty and millionaire ship owner, said today he plans to go ahead with his marriage to a twice-divorced American socialite despite objections from his family and a mixup in plans.

"The time and place is a secret. I'm not telling anyone," the prince told United Press.
Mrs. Jane Tomberlin of Honolulu and Denver had expected the prince to marry her Wednesday in Denver, and was "darned mad" when he failed to show up.

"ACTUALLY, my brother, Walter, kept me tied up with business matters and this prevented me from returning to Denver," Prince Keawe explained Thursday night.
Mrs. Tomberlin said in Denver Wednesday night she was reassured of his love, and was no longer angry.

She accused the prince's brother, Walter McMillan of Pensacola, Fla., of kidnapping her bridegroom in a chartered plane Wednesday to frustrate the marriage.

His former wife lived in Rome and he said they were still "the best of friends." In fact, he said, he had discussed with her his forthcoming wedding to Mrs. Tomberlin.
Prince Keawe is vice president of the Amesen Company of Hong Kong and Singapore. Mrs. Tomberlin, a former California dress designer, is the ex-wife of millionaire oilman William Tomberlin of California.

Favors were from Washington, LaSalle, Grant Park, Park Forest, Max Lyndon, Midlothian and Chicago Heights units. They were used to decorate the tables and trays.

Games were played and prizes presented to winners. All guests received cigars.

Gifts from the gift shop were wrapped decoratively following selection and also wrapped for mailing. Overeating Comes From Appetite—Not Hunger

By IDA JEAN KAIN
There is a distinct difference between appetite and hunger. However, it is not always easy to see where hunger leaves off and appetite carries on to overeating. So, let's check the facts.
Hunger is physical and represents a need for food. We are born with the hunger instinct and hunger contractions are not influenced by our eating habits. Appetite, while associated with hunger, is partly in the mind and is force of habit rather than a real need. Think of appetite as desire for certain foods. Appetite tempts us to overeat on favorite foods. Then, overeating makes it more difficult to resist overeating. We might say that appetite "grows" with overeating. Here a physical factor is involved. To get the picture, think of the stomach as an elastic arrangement with walls that expand. The nice satisfied feeling of having had enough to eat comes when tension is exerted on the muscular walls of the stomach. But since overeating stretches the stomach, it takes time for the stomach to shrink to its normal size. The increased appetite, caused by a bigger food capacity and that continued overeating helps to keep the appetite enlarged, it is easy to see where this can lead. And, alas, it is a sobering fact that

Journal Hosts All W-R-K Party Sunday

For the eighth straight year, members of the Wil-Ro-Kee football team and their coaches will be guests of the Kankakee Daily Journal and a Chicago pro team at a Sunday afternoon grid game.

This year the Wil-Ro-Kee members will be the Sunday guests of the Chicago Cardinals, currently one of the hottest teams in the Eastern Division of the National Football League.

And if the Cardinals need some sound football advice in their crucial game against Green Bay at Comiskey Park Sunday, they will find 20 experts on hand from the local conference. Members of the two teams on the 10th annual Daily Journal all-conference squad will be at the game.

The players and coaches will meet at 8:30 a. m. at the Daily Journal building at 11th and Main streets. The game will start at 1:30 p. m.

On the return trip, the football party will be the dinner guests of the Daily Journal at a Chicago restaurant.

Sunday's game between the Cardinals and Green Bay Packers should be a real battle. The Cardinals are currently in second place in the Eastern Division, one half game out of first place.

Coach Ray Richards' Cards will be fighting hard to stay in the first place race and gain a place in the championship playoff.

The resurgent Packers can give the Cardinals a long afternoon of football. Thanksgiving Day, the Packers upset the Western Division leaders, Detroit, behind the fine passing of quarterback Tobin Rojo.

The big boy in the Cardinals of defense again this year is Ollie Matson. He is second in rushing in the professional league. Matson has gained 74 yards in 145 attempts for an average of 52 yards per carry.

MEMBERS OF THE all-conference team and the coaches going to the game are: Coach Jerry Lemmon, William Brock, Ronald King, James Begleiter, Charles O'Toole.

St. Anne-Coach James Reed, Jerry Jockstak, Cliff Yarbrough.

St. Patrick Central-Coach Frank Chiodo, Lee Guilford, Ron Lambert, Alex Kress, Mike Lane, Ray Marzack.

Negro Sees Completion Of Desegregation In 50 Years

CHICAGO (UP)—A noted Negro educator from the Deep South predicts that desegregation will take 50 years.

Lincoln Authority Kills Self Fearing He Was Fatally Ill

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Benjamin Platt Thomas, 54, one of the nation's top authorities on Abraham Lincoln, killed himself Thursday because he thought he was dying of cancer.

Thomas' wife found a suicide note on the kitchen table, she told police, and then went to the basement where she found her husband's body.

Thomas was sitting in a chair with a .32 caliber police revolver in his hand. There was a bullet wound in his right temple.

In the note left by Thomas, he said he was taking his own life because he thought he was suffering from cancer.

Coroner W. C. Telford listed Thomas' death as an apparent suicide.

Thomas' most famous work was a one-volume biography, "Abraham Lincoln," published in 1952. He had written numerous studies and biographic papers on the Civil War president.

He was editorial advisor to the "Collected Works of Lincoln" project and associate editor of the Lincoln Quarterly.

He is survived by his wife Sally, and three children: George K. of Springfield; Martha L. of San Francisco and Sara H., a student at Goucher College.

Dickson Signs For 14th Season

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Murry Dickson, who'll celebrate his 41st birthday during the 1957 National League pennant race, has signed for his 14th major league campaign. Dickson, who compiled a 13-11 won-lost record in 1956, became the sixth St. Louis Card to sign for the coming season.

Charges Tax Idles Cabaret Employes

WASHINGTON (UP)—Band leader Meyer Davis, protesting the 20 per cent federal cabaret tax, said today "the average wage earner no evening out on the town."

Davis, representing the American Federation of Musicians, was one of a number of witnesses prepared to appear before a house subcommittee studying excise taxes.

He said in a statement that the cabaret levy is causing unemployment not only among musicians but also among other groups.

"TENS OF THOUSANDS of persons not even remotely connected with show business have been thrown out of work when hundreds of clubs and restaurants throughout the country closed," he said, adding:

"Patrons of clubs and restaurants now stay home to avoid paying a tab padded by Uncle Sam."

The committee Thursday heard complaints that the excise taxes on musical instruments and phonograph records were intended only as wartime measures, but have been continued to the disadvantage of education.

The birth records of Mrs. Sandoval, who applied to a Chicago firm for her health and hospital insurance, were destroyed in a fire. But Roman Catholic Church records in Walsenburg, Colo., disclose she was a member of the parish in 1855.

Longshoremen reported for work in normal numbers on the first shift, but conducted their work of loading and unloading ships at a slower than normal pace.

Some of the dock workers said they resented working without a contract. A federal court injunction last Saturday ended a nine-day longshoremen's strike called after a deadlock developed in negotiations for a new contract.
