May Urge Adult Class Fee Charge

CHICAGO (UP)—The Illinois School Problems Commission will study the field of adult evening courses with an eye toward recommending that school boards charge "adequate fees" for the classes. The commission took the action Thursday after rejecting a motion to seek legislation which would require that students pay for vocational and recreational courses.

Humphrey's Thoughts Stir Business Hassle

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (UP)—One pet theory widely held by businessmen—that the government will "do something" to halt any incipient recession—has been jolted by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey. It could start a first class hassle—both in its political and business world.

By "do something" businessmen mean that the government is supposed to be ready, when a downturn in business starts, to ease up on credit, cut taxes, and turn to pump priming by operating at a deficit, thus making money cheap and plentiful.

Some businessmen have questioned all along how effective such measures would be in restoring boom times. They point out that if people don't feel they should spend, just making credit available makes much difference.

BUT MOST businessmen feel that if the government steps up its own spending that would help business by taking up the slack when private spending falls off.

Secretary Humphrey thinks the disadvantages of such a course outweigh the gains. As he puts it, we cannot "spend ourselves rich." And businessmen, looking at the new federal budget, note that $10 of every $100 they pay in taxes goes to pay interest on the federal debt—acquired in previous governmental spending sprees.

Cutting tax rates is another panacea for recession that has many advocates among both politicians and businessmen. The theory is that people and corporations would thus have more money to spend, and by spending would boost business activity.

THE SECRETARY blasts at this theory by saying taxes should be cut if that means operating the government at a deficit and thereby inflating money and credit—which all too often leads to jacking up the cost of living.

Any business recession would quickly dry Treasury revenues, since these are largely based on income tax payments by individuals and corporations. The new budget anticipates a Treasury surplus of 134 billion—but only if tax collections rise as a result of a further increase in personal and corporate incomes.

Many businessmen contend that the time to cut taxes is now when business activity is high. They argue that this would increase activity, thereby swelling personal and corporate incomes, so that the Treasury would have more to tax—even if at lower rates—and thereby end up ahead on the deal.

The Treasury secretary doesn't buy this. He thinks high taxes will help him trim the federal debt.

Found Guilty Of Killing Ex-Partner

CHICAGO (UP)—Thomas A. Izzo, 42, a suburban Riverside contractor, was found guilty today of shooting and killing his former business partner.

A Criminal Court jury deliberated for six hours before returning its verdict. It recommended Izzo be sentenced to 99 years.

Izzo was charged with slaying Charles M. Kriener, 33, of Winfield, last June 6, at the Cermak Plaza Shopping Center. Izzo maintained he was the victim of a frameup.

THE SECRETARY blasts at this theory by saying taxes should be cut if that means operating the government at a deficit and thereby inflating money and credit—which all too often leads to jacking up the cost of living.

The 39 Words Of Faithfulness

"I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States. So help me God."

THE BURDEN WHICH RESTS on the shoulders of the President of the United States are great. Their weight and complexity are in high contrast with the simplicity of the oath of office. It is a stark, direct statement. As set forth in the Constitution of the United States, it is even four words shorter than given above. The last four words are added by custom. George Washington, as the first Chief Executive sworn in, whispered the words with closed eyes at the end of the oath. The oath is taken with left hand on the Bible while the right hand is raised.

Arabs Reject Ike's Doctrine For Mideast

CAIRO (UP)—An Arab summit conference rejected President Eisenhower's Mideast Doctrine Saturday and warned foreign powers—presumably, including Russia—"to keep hands off the Middle East."

A communiqué issued Saturday night said rulers of Egypt, Syria, Saudi Arabia and Jordan "all agreed on rejection of the 'vacuum' theory and decided that Arab nationalism was the sole basis on which Arab policy could be formulated."

"They also resolved never to allow their countries to become a power," the communiqué said.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT could be read as a warning to Russia as well as to the West.

A communiqué summarized the results of the conference. It said the four Arab leaders also affirmed that continued Israeli occupation of the Arab Gulf area would be "continued aggression" which "could lead to most serious consequences."

Arabia's Saud will report the Arab delegates to President Eisenhower during his coming visit to Washington.

Ike Takes Oath Of Office Today

WASHINGTON (UP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower will officially begin his second term as President today by swearing in the presence of relatives and close friends in a ceremony to "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

The oath-taking will take place in the East Room of the White House at 10:30 a.m. EST. It will be the least spectacular—but constitutionally the most important—occasion of a three-day inaugural celebration which is democracy's nearest approach to the pomp of a coronation.

BEFORE UTTERING the presidential oath specified in the Constitution, Mr. Eisenhower will be sworn in by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Both will repeat their oaths in inaugural ceremony in front of the Capitol.

The President will deliver his inaugural address at the Lincoln Memorial, which will be broadcast to the nation by radio and television.

This will be followed by a mammoth 2½-hour parade down Pennsylvania Avenue—and the evening—a glittering inaugural ball which will be split into four sections to accommodate the great throngs of Republican leaders, national and foreign dignitaries who rate invitations.

Chief Justice Earl Warren will administer both of Mr. Eisenhower's oaths. Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland, a fellow Californian, will administer both to Nixon.

THE DUAL OATH-TAKING is necessary because the terms of the Constitution require that the President be sworn in by a Chief Justice.

Probers Plan To Subpoena Union Official

WASHINGTON (UP)—A top team of federal investigators Saturday planned to subpoena a union official for a hearing on charges of racketeering.

The "witness," Frank W. Brewster, a vice president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and head of its 11-state Western Conference, also said he had no intention of complying with the Senate investigation subcommittee's demand for union records.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) announced after public hearings that he would subpoena Brewster.

Beck had declined an invitation to appear before the subcommittee's demand for union records.

Subcommittee counsel Robert F. Kennedy took the stand himself at one point and testified that in March 1953, $8,826 of Western Conference funds were used to "pay some personal bills of Mr. Beck."

KENNEDY said the subcommittee also has evidence that union funds were used to pay part of the formal investigation of Chicago, he said. Beck later said to the union for approximately $10,000.

Brewster contended, in refusing to appear, that he was not a witness to the charges. He said he was not a witness to the charges.

The announcement left three other candidates for the post: Robert Kolwiler, now a member of the village board; and Nick Colevris, present police magistrate.

None of the candidates has announced the rest of his ticket. Candidates do not run under major party labels in the village election.

Monday is the opening date for the village election.

The deadline is Feb. 25.

Lock's announcement said: "Upon reconsidering my previous indication to again become a candidate for mayor, a candidacy which was being urged by my friends, I have decided not to let my pettiness as a candidate for this office."

LOCK indicated he is supporting Barwegen for board president.

Argonne Lab Atom Power System Starts On Feb. 9

CHICAGO (UP)—The nation's first nuclear power system designed solely for experiments in generating electric power will go into operation Saturday at the Argonne National Laboratory of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The experimental boiling water reactor is now undergoing pre-operational tests at the laboratory in suburban Lemont, southwest of Chicago. It will supply 5,000 kilowatts of electric power to the laboratory.

Over the past 40 years the distribution of coal supplements in America's Sunday newspapers has reached an astonishing proportion. In large, metropolitan areas the average family enjoys the arrival of a new Sunday paper every two weeks.

Only now, however, has the practice been extended to subscribers of Sunday newspapers in the smaller cities such as Kankakee.

Created to add interest through color and smart editorial content, "Family Weekly" compares most favorably with the Sunday supplement of the large metropolitan dailies.

"Family Weekly" is produced by a small army of executives, editors, writers, artists and technicians who combine their efforts to publish a family magazine which has become a major miracle in colorpage publishing.

Over three million copies of "Family Weekly" are printed weekly and delivered to over 100,000 homes in every part of the country.

Navy Transport Skids in Snow At Seattle Field

Cool Crew Member Prevents Rescuits From Being Killed

SEATTLE (UP)—A big Navy transport plane skidded, broke up and caught fire in a landing on a snow-covered runway Saturday without serious injury to any of the 50 persons aboard.

The 4-engine RSD from Los Alamitos, Calif., was making its third attempt at a landing at the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport when a light snowstorm when the crash occurred.

Coolies of a crew member prepared the passengers for a possible crash and alertness of waiting crash crews were credited by station officials with preventing a heavy loss of life.

TWICE the plane had approached the runway at the air station which fronts on Lake Washington in northeast Seattle. The first time it didn't touch down. The second time it bumped the runway, then roared into the air again.

On the third pass on what appeared to be a normal landing, the plane skidded sideways as its wheels touched and the right wing buckled. The left wing's engine broke off along the engine mountings as fuel lines burst and sprayed the hot motors.

Lurching violently as it skidded crazily down the runway, the plane dropped two of its engines, the right wing, its tail section and parts of the main fuselage.

INSIDE, THE 42 Naval reservists and eight crewmen hung from tightly fastened safety belts, the right wing, its tail section and parts of the main fuselage.

U. N. Asks Israel To Leave Gaza Strip

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP)—The General Assembly voted almost unanimously Saturday for a new resolution calling again on Israel to quit Egypt and the Gaza Strip entirely.

The resolution, ambiguously worded, requested Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld to submit a compliance report within five days.

It was adopted by a vote of 722 with two abstentions. Costa Rica and Cuba abstained.

AS SOON AS the unusual Saturday session ended, Hammarskjöld contacted the Israeli and Egyptian delegations and told them he would be available for talks.

Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban pleaded with the assembly by saying the vote not to permit the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba areas to return to the status they had before the Israeli invasion of Egypt.

Gomulka Faces Test As Poles Ballot Today

WARSAW, Poland (UP)—Poland votes today in critical national elections that could spell the end of the "iron curtain" in Europe.

The results of the balloting, heralded here as the first "free" elections since the end of World War II, could have major repercussions in other restive East European states.

The Communists cannot lose the election. What is at stake is Gomulka's experiment in "democratization." The real showdown is between Gomulka and the diehard Stalinists of the "tough" Communist line.

Gomulka faced a largely apathetic population. Fired last year by the Poznan rebellion and the subsequent ouster of the old-line Stalinists, the majority of Poles are subdued and confused by the more recent pitching up or relations with Moscow.

Forrest Group Hears Of Polish Resistance

FORREST (JNS)—The Woman's League met Thursday night in the social rooms of the Methodist Church with approximately 50 present.

Mrs. Keith Armstrong conducted the business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Earl Bletz. Mrs. Harley Honneger, ways and means chairman, reported a profit of $2.15 had been realized on the sale of "cotton" and "girl" Easter buster sets. A profit of $56.50 was cleared on Christmas and all-occasion cards.

Mrs. George Godfrey reported on the three Brownie troops or "patrols" which she has organized. They have 54 girls enrolled. Sixteen of Poland and moved by night, living on meager rations with few weapons at their disposal.

Following the end of the war, Mrs. Mosicki went to Italy to finish her medical training, and since Poland no longer existed, she was without a state. She joined the underground army. She joined the underground and nursed sick or wounded men, washed clothes, peeled potatoes and did many other tasks that needed to be done.

They arrived in July of 1951 and lived in Washington for a short time. Dr. Mosicki then came to Chicago to serve his internship. They are now living in Fairbury. The thing that struck her as most unusual in America was that no one asked what your religion was and what your political affiliations. No one seemed afraid in Europe.

Mrs. Ernest Tyler conducted the devotion and Mrs. Richard Dempsey led group singing.

Those present were: George Godfrey, Mrs. George Kinate, Mrs. Donald Stepien, Mrs. Dale Melisner, Mrs. Nelson Nusbaum, Mrs. Harold Jacobs, Mrs. Max Smith, Mrs. John Battry, Mrs. Richard Dempsey and Mrs. John Mowery.

Table Serves As Guide For Income Tax Report

CHICAGO (JNS)—The Chicago Retail Merchants' Association has announced a table which may be used as a guide by Illinois taxpayers in figuring their eligible deduction for sales tax payments in 1956 income tax returns.

The association said the table is an estimate and has not been approved by the Internal Revenue Service. The service, however, usually accepts claims for deductions if the claim is deemed "reasonable."

The table is for use by persons who claim itemized deductions instead of the standard 10 per cent deduction.

The Illinois sales tax is 2½ cents. In addition, many cities have a ½ cent sales tax. The table is based on the full 3 cents tax.

The first column shows the gross annual income. The column "A" refers to a single person, with no dependents. Column "B" refers to a married taxpayer, or a taxpayer with one dependent. Column C refers to a married taxpayer with one child. Column D refers to a married taxpayer with two children. Column E refers to a married taxpayer with three or more children.

SURROUNDED BY admiring fans, actress Ingrid Bergman poses in New York City after arriving from Paris, interrupting her self-imposed exile of nearly eight years. Miss Bergman returned to the U.S. for a 34-hour visit to accept the New York Film Critics award for her best performance in "Anastasia." (Unifax)

Time Heals Wounds, Bergman Says As She Arrives In U. S.

NEW YORK (UP)—A former Hollywood star who takes care of everything," returned to the United States Saturday, interrupting her self-imposed exile of nearly eight years with a film director Roberto Rossellini.

Miss Bergman flew here from Paris for a 34-hour visit to accept an award for the first Hollywood produced movie she has made since she left a husband and child in the United States to go to Europe for a three-month visit that changed her whole life.

The 39-year-old actress, wearing a black coat, a white kerchief over her head, a black suit and low-heeled black shoes, said she had a good night's sleep on the airplane that brought her here from Paris.

MISS BERGMAN was in high spirits as she good-naturedly answered questions at a jammed news conference at Idlewild International Airport.

Miss Bergman originally went to Italy in 1948 to make a movie for Rossellini. She bore Rossellini's son in January, 1950, and married him in May after she received a Mexican divorce from Dr. Peter Lindstrom. At that time, a Los Angeles judge denied her custody of her daughter by Lindstrom, saying she was "unfit" to be a mother.

Miss Bergman was asked if she resented the American criticism of her action.

"It was pretty tough in those days," she said, "but time takes care of everything."

The New York film critics are giving her an award tonight as the year's most outstanding film actress.

She said she had no immediate plans for going to Hollywood to make a movie but that she has a contract to do one more picture for 20th Century-Fox. She would prefer to make the movie in Europe, she said, but would have no objections to going to California.

The 39-year-old academy award-winning actress left America as Mrs. Peter Lindstrom in 1949 at the height of her career. She returned this morning as Mrs. Rossellini to accept the New York film critics' best actress award.

It was rumored that she is in line for another Oscar.

COAL CITY gave the Wildcats a lead in the first half but crumbled in the third quarter. The halftime score was 21-22 for the home five and by the end of the game the Panthers were riding high on a 51-28 score.

Dale Wurzbarger's 30 points topped the Panthers' scoring.

With 16. Doug Glaudrone was high for Coal City with 18. Wilmington won the curtain raiser 48-34.

At Gardner, the Panthers also used a second half push to win. Doug pressed the Panthers in the first half but they slipped up the pace in the third quarter.

In field goal shooting the Bollermakers hit a commendable 45.3 per cent of its attempts.

Pat St. Paul's 22 points led St. Pat's battered 35.9 with 41 baskets in 114 flings, Bradwood scored 28.5 per cent with 36 shots and 33 points. Bradwood hit 28.3 per cent with 33 out of 114.

In rebounding Bradley's one-two punch led the way with Harold Emme collecting 47 in the two games. Don Roberts 38. Woodbury 35.5. Bradley's top scorer is Dick Gayon 29. St. Pat's Terry Laflay ranked next with 27 and 26.5 for the Panthers.

Others who scored 20 or more had to use Butch Pastirik sparingly Thursday night before the Panthers.

Pat coach Bonczyk was without any service from his starting line-up.

Bradwood's 28.5 per cent. Bob was ill in the Woodland game, Ed found out later, and he was back in bed with a swollen gland.

NOW THAT BOBBY has won the two invitational tournaments the officials can come up with a set of records. While Bradwood's 41 baskets in 114 flings topped the individual game and tournament marks it's a pretty good idea to see how the Panthers' shooting percentage and Bradley's

The difficulties the Kankakee Park District has experienced with Mother Nature in attempting to provide a suitable and safe ice skating rink for Kankakee, again brings to the fore the fact that artificial outdoor skating rinks appear to be the solution for Kankakee.

And some people who have already been expressing that same feeling are President A. E. Kerger Sr. and his park board members.

Kankakee has a lot of ice skating enthusiasts, and with proper facilities there would be even more. From the first blast of winter until the last the skaters are crying for ice skating weather, and actually with the dependence for same on Mother Nature there aren't many days that are suitable during the winter.

Which, of course, brings emphasis to the point that the artificial outdoor rink would mean many, many more days of skating each year for local enthusiasts.

Kankakee isn't alone in this problem of providing good skating facilities. Some cities are taking steps to secure the artificial rinks and others have already established them. An Illinois city getting ready to do something about it is Moline. A Moline newspaper the other day carried a story on plans and also considerable information on artificial rinks.

Just to make ice skaters' mouths water it might be mentioned that through the use of an artificial rink park and recreation supervisors can control their own ice skating days as long as the temperature remains below 50 degrees. That would mean that under ordinary circumstances an artificial rink in Kankakee would give skaters four and possibly five months out of the year for skating.

One type of portable rink can be adapted to almost any size. Some of these installed are 70 by 140 feet and 80 by 125 feet. Said a Moline authority on the type: "Plastic piping is used in the refrigeration process which makes the portable rinks more versatile. The pipes can be laid out on asphalt tennis court during the winter and stored in the summer. The refrigeration system itself is mounted on a large flat trailer which readily can be hauled into storage during the summer."

Of course, some care is needed for the rink. One job is keeping snow, sleet and water off the ice. Putting canvas over the rink will protect it from rain and sleet. Ice shavings must be cleaned off after several hours of skating. And above all the ice must be watched carefully to see that it remains smooth.

Cost is something that the park-board members have already checked into. They've found that the entire cost of artificial rinks isn't borne by taxes in cities where the rinks are available. A fee is charged for skating and the rink thus partly pays for itself, just as a swimming pool or golf course will.

It appears to be just a matter of time before the portable rinks are quite common in the section of Illinois. Perhaps Kankakee some day soon will be among those boasting such a rink.

Mathew L. Cioetto, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Cioetto, 828 Cook Blvd., Bradley, have lived in this community the past 12 years, is now wearing the insignia of a major. He's stationed at Ellsworth Air Force Base, S. D.

Although the major hasn't exactly lived in Kankakee he considers it his residence and has spent considerable time here. In recent visits he has given talks before some of the local service clubs and organizations.

A graduate of Hall of Spring Valley High School he was studying engineering in LaSalle-Peru College when he enlisted in the service in 1941. He started out as a private and after becoming a sergeant entered cadet school at Scott Field.

With the exception of five years he has been in active service since 1941. He was recalled to active duty for the Korean War and has been in since. He, his wife and their two children spent 2½ years in French Morocco from 1952 to 1954 while he was assigned to North Africa. They've been at Ellsworth Air Base since returning to the United States.

The Martin O'Brien of Kankakee found a little special interest in the Jan. 14 copy of "Newsweek."

Included within its covers was a photograph of their son, Jack. Jack is a student at the United States Military Academy at West Point and recently was in a group of 30 cadets who made a tour of the magazine's editorial rooms.

The Jan. 14 issue carries a photograph showing eight of the youths on the tour — Jack being among the eight.

Gilman columnist George Elliott came up with a story from his town this week that we thought was worth passing on — that is, if you didn't see it in his column.

Seems that the Bill Baxter family in Gilman was watching the Red Skelton show a few weeks ago. Red was in Paris. He went into a cafe, and unable to speak French tried to get along with sign language. He pointed at something and made a sweeping gesture with both hands which many a person would recognize as indicating a well-shaped female. He got punched in the eye and was thrown out.

This occurred at two more cafes before he found one in which someone could speak English. Red pointed, made the gesture and then asked for a bottle of a soft drink.

Second grader Bill Baxter really got a bang out of the act. Laughing heartily he commented: "Boy he sure had me fooled. I thought all the time he wanted a dish of ice cream."

More Global Demonstrations Of U. S. Strength Are Expected

WASHINGTON (UP) — More global demonstrations of American air-atomic power can be expected to follow the historic round-the-world flight of B-52 hydrogen bombers, military authorities said today.

They saw the first non-stop jet circuit of the earth as one in a series of maneuvers that will make their significance felt in the Kremlin and will buoy up allied confidence in American power to deter war.

Three of the huge B-52 Stratofortresses winged into March Air Force Base, Calif., Thursday to complete a 24,325-mile flight that took just 45 hours 19 minutes at an average speed of more than 535 miles an hour. They simulated a bomb drop halfway through the mission—about 50 miles west of the Malay Peninsula.

SAC is slated to get 11 B-52 wings each with 45 bombers. Several hundred jet-propelled tankers will be built to replace the obsolescent piston-engine planes now used for in-flight refueling.

Within a single day such a force could fly missions of 12,000 miles and deliver on distant targets nuclear weapons with the destructive power of billions of tons of TNT.

President Eisenhower put maintenance of such air-atomic forces to deter aggression at the top of U. S. defense missions in the new budget just sent to Congress. The round-the-world flights were taken as visible evidence of that war-detering power.

Bottles of champagne and other wines are stored on their sides to keep the corks from drying out.

Circuit Court Grants 3 Divorces

Joseph John Finnegan was granted a divorce here Friday from Mrs. Mildred Deanna Finnegan, on March 15, 1957.

Walter Bachtold was elected clerk; Ben Bachtold, trustee; Maurice Ricketts, deacon; Roger Lindenberg, church treasurer; and Mrs. Grace Schroll, Sunday school superintendent.

The members of two standing committees were re-elected. They include Russell Lindenberg, Mrs. Robert Head and Mrs. Roger Lindenberg, clearing and altar committee, and Mrs. Elmer Elberts, Mrs. Gerald Miller, Mrs. Almita Harris and Mrs. Walter Bachtold, family night committee.

Government A Household Word For These Wives

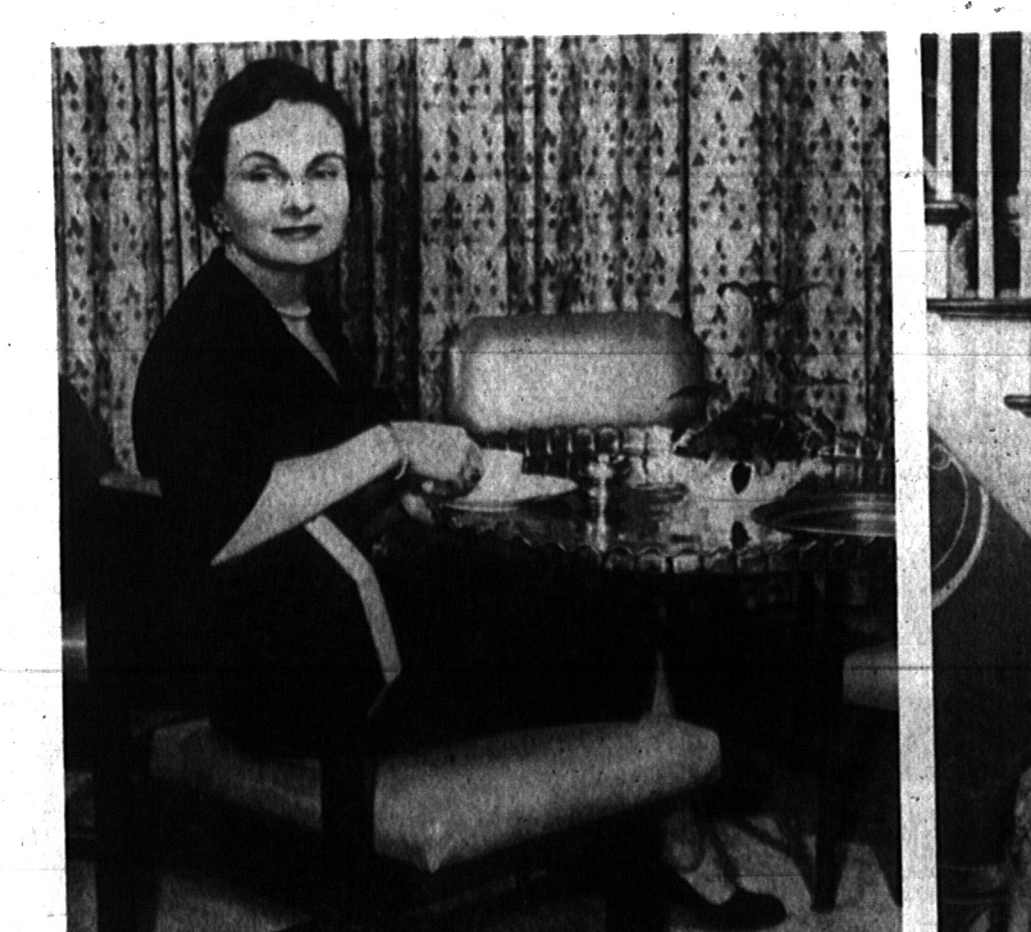

ABOVE: Mrs. William G. Stratton, wife of the governor of Illinois, poses with her daily schedule book, containing dates of meetings she will attend with her husband, notes for her secretary and housekeeper, daily menus and various appointments. Mrs. Stratton has a 28-room home to manage and the 100-year-old executive mansion in Springfield is decorated according to her specifications. The first lady of Illinois plans all the menus for her household and is in close contact with all happenings and her staff of 13. There are two Stratton daughters, Sandra and Diane who, according to Mrs. Stratton, do their share of entertaining at the mansion.

RIGHT: Mrs. Victor McBroom, wife of the state senator, is well known to local residents. The McBrooms reside at 983 S. Washington Ave. Mrs. McBroom is particularly sentimental about her family, friends and Kankakee's South Side. She has been instrumental in the organization and continuance of several local groups. The senator's wife is the former Leona Jeffers. She and her husband have two children, Mrs. Wendell Frerichs and Edward, and two grandchildren. Mrs. McBroom takes an active interest in government and feels that it is a citizen's responsibility to become informed on the subject. Music is also important to Mrs. McBroom and she is currently studying voice.

Mrs. Paul Douglas, whose husband is a U.S. senator from Illinois, was herself once a congresswoman-at-large from her state. In fact, she is the first wife to precede her husband in Congress. Mrs. Douglas attended the University of Chicago and received an honorary degree at MacMurray College. She is the author of "Apples and Pears," a story for juveniles about Johnny Apples. She has one daughter.

Mrs. Leslie C. Arends met and married Congressman Arends in Washington. They have one daughter, Letty, 9, who has been attending school in Washington where the congressman must be with Congress in session for the greater part of the year. Each year after Congress adjourns the Arends family returns to their home in Melvin. Having to spend part of a year in Washington and another part in Melvin is the annual family problem. While demands are great on the wife of a member of Congress, Mrs. Arends follows the rule that family affairs come first. She says, "It is a hectic life but a fascinating and thoroughly enjoyable one." (Glogau photo)

Mrs. Louis E. Beckman, wife of State Rep. Beckman, resides at 8 Chatham Circle. The Beckmans have two children, Nancy, 5, and Louis E., 7. Mrs. Beckman plans her schedule so that she can spend as much time as possible with her family. She also enjoys participation in her husband's activities. Mrs. Beckman is a member of the Kankakee Club and St. Patrick's Church. Tennis and golf are her sports interests. Mr. and Mrs. Beckman left Wednesday for a two-week vacation in the West Indies.

Mrs. Samuel H. Shapiro, whose husband is one of the two state representatives residing in Kankakee, claims gardening as her hobby. She not only enjoys horticulture but also loves to arrange flowers. A special interest for Mrs. Shapiro is the new temple building for the B'nai Israel Synagogue. She initiated the building fund as a project in the B'nai Israel Sisterhood. Mrs. Shapiro is also a member of the Kankakee Club and the Woman's Club of Kankakee. She feels that every one should be interested in government, how it is run, and the privilege of voting.

Mrs. William C. Harris, wife of State Rep. Harris, is the mother of one child. He is 14-month-old Charles Matthew Harris. The Harris family resides on a farm south of Pontiac. After Pontiac High School, Mrs. Harris graduated from Kean College in California. She taught for one year in a rural school and a year in the Pontiac grade schools. Swimming and skiing are among Mrs. Harris' interests. She and her husband are skiing in northern Michigan this week. During campaigns, Mrs. Harris accompanies her husband wherever possible.

An ordinary can of pears can be transformed into an exotic dessert with a few quick tricks, and then baked. The following simple process makes them become rich and delectable. To serve 6 Baked Pears:

Roll six drained pear halves in 1/4 cup crushed cereal and place cut side up in a well buttered baking dish. Remove the pits from 6 to 8 cooked prunes and place prunes singly with cut ends in the center of the dish. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F) for 20 minutes or until browned.

Keep In Trim Toning Measures To Improve Contour

By IDA JEAN KAIN
With fashion emphasis on the bosom, a common query is: Can sagging of the bust be corrected when the cause is not faulty posture or excess weight?

In many instances the answer is yes, but first, it is important to understand about the glands, ligaments and muscles. While the breasts are not composed of muscle, they are held in place by muscles and ligaments. Also, the bust is infiltrated with fatty tissue. The tone of the muscle supporting the bust influences the position and contour of the bust.

Weight normalizing, on a prote-carb, following down the whole length of the sternum, and fan out across each side of the chest. The handles of the fan insert into groove in upper arm.

The sagging breast is most always due to lack of tone in the ligaments and supporting muscles, resulting either from general loss of body tone or from the strain of excess weight, or slumped posture. Excess weight cannot be overlooked, since it tends to exaggerate the sagging. This not only points up the importance of weight normalizing, on a prote-carb, but also the need to wear a well-fitted uplift bra. Particularly in this necessary during special periods such as pregnancy and nursing. Of equal importance are follow up exercises to restore tone.

If the sagging has continued for many years, no one can promise that the muscles and ligaments can be fully restored to tone. But exercise is a definite help for improvement.

Position: Sitting or standing, the exercise movement must be toward the median line or the sternum. Here are two most effective toner-uppers.

Carole Kershaw Becomes Bride Of Al Serafini Saturday

The wedding of Miss Carole Elizabeth Kershaw and Al Serafini took place Saturday at 1 p. m. at St. Rose of Lima Church.

The Rev. A. A. Bergeron performed the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked with arrangements of white snapdragons and red carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kershaw of 1718 E. Pine St. are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Nella Serafini of 543 N. Dearborn Ave.

Mrs. Nancy Milburn, organist, accompanied Miss Carolyn Barker as she sang "Ave Maria" before the ceremony and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" during the ceremony. Mrs. Milburn also played traditional processional and recessional wedding marches.

FOR HER WEDDING the bride selected a floor length gown of traditional white algerian satin. The fitted bodice was designed with French imported lace on a scalloped boat neckline. The bouffant skirt was worn over a Dior hosiery and swept into a chapel length train.

Her fingertip length veil of French imported lace cascaded from a Juliet cap trimmed with sword pearls. On a prayerbook she carried a white orchid with streamers of ivy and stephanotis.

Miss Mary Jo Manahan was maid of honor. She was attired in a street length sheath ensemble of peacock blue velvet. The empire waistline featured a sash and bow at the back with streamers. The bodice was fashioned with a scalloped neckline. She wore a scalloped headband and gloves which matched her dress and were trimmed with seed pearls. Her colonial bouquet was composed of white pompons and red carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Caryl Randless and Miss Ruth Phelps. Junior bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Kershaw, sister of the bride, and Miss Janet Kershaw, cousin of the bride.

The bridesmaids' gowns were identical to that of the maid of honor. The junior bridesmaids wore peacock blue ballerina length ensembles over Dior hosiery.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Civic Auditorium. Guests were registered by Miss Jackie Dameron. Mrs. William James poured coffee and Mrs. Norma Desautel served punch. Mrs. Richard Lehnig, Mrs. James Foster and Miss Doreen Mitchell were in charge of gifts. The wedding cake was served by the Misses Vi and Dolores Kersch.

JOSEPH SERAFINI, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Roger Quibot and Wayne Reed. Kenneth Woodridge and Ralph St. Pierre were ushers.

The Worry Clinic

How To Become A Memory Expert

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Homer J. 43, is a high salaried insurance executive. "Dr. Crane, my big problem is a poor memory," he began. "I have a terrible time recalling names and faces. Why, I may be introduced to a man at a party and not recall his name two minutes later when I wish to present him to my wife or some other associate." "And a poor memory for names and faces actually hurts a man in his business relations."

"So what do you suggest as a

AND HE PAID OFF the two whom he failed to recall, with $5 each.

"How is it possible for you to have such a phenomenal memory," asked the banker, chairman of the banquet.

"Well, sir, if you had to pay $5 to everybody whom you failed to recall," replied the memory expert, "you'd be surprised at what a fine memory you'd have for names and faces!"

A second aid to a good memory, is to react positively to the new names.

In psychology we distinguish between "active" vs. "passive" learning. You can read and re-read the pages of a textbook a dozen times and still not know all the facts it mentions.

But let the professor give you a test after just one reading, and the next time you thumb through those pages, watch how eagerly you begin to look for specific answers to the questions you missed or couldn't solve.

Applied to memorizing names a few weeks!

names and faces, this means take frequent tests. For example, as soon as you get home that night, challenge your wife to a memory contest.

Each of you can then write down the names of all the strangers whom you met. Compare lists and see whose is longer.

If you men folks combine this strategy with the additional technique of offering your wife $5 or even $1 for each name by which she surpasses your record; you'll be a memory wizard in a few weeks!

Hospital Auxiliary To Meet

By Mary Jean Houde

Process of adoption provides an interesting subject for consideration. But the word adoption is rarely a very sweet one to Mrs. William F. Lynch of 796 N. 10th Ave.

She has recently become a mother, not by due processes of nature, but through adoption. "And I couldn't feel more like my mother," says Mrs. Lynch.

The recipient of her love is 2-month-old Randy Michael who "looks just like me," Mrs. Lynch says that not only do friends comment that the baby resembles both Mr. and Mrs. Lynch, but her own mother says that Randy looks just like Stella Lynch did when she was a baby.

Reaction from friends is also normal for new babies. Congratulatory messages have been received and Mrs. Lynch was even honored at a baby clothing shower.

Mrs. Lynch has words of encouragement for anyone who is considering adoption. She and her husband had been waiting for their adopted child for 2 1/2 years. There were interviews, which even delved into the couple's childhood, and then the long wait for a French Canadian baby. Those are the nationalities of the mother and father.

Mrs. Lynch thinks a wonderful job was done in matching features, coloring and personality. "It was worth waiting for," she comments.

In six months, from the time the couple took the baby home, he may be legally adopted. "When the adoption does become final," says Mrs. Lynch, "we will ask for another child — a little girl, this time!"

Stork showers are the key words here. On Friday evening, Mrs. Paul Davidson was the guest of honor at a surprise stork shower. The hostess was Mrs. Ray Hill of 366 W. River St.

Another stork shower during the past week turned out to be more of a surprise for the hostess and other guests than for the mother-to-be. When the guests arrived at the home of Mrs. Warren Chamberlain at 346 S. Osborn Ave. on Monday evening, they found the guest-of-honor absent. Mrs. Richard Kron had already had her baby that afternoon. So the girls went ahead with their party, minus the gift-opening. The gifts were put into a big box, along with the table decorations and some refreshments, and given to the proud father to take to his wife.

One sign of Kankakee's growth in the right direction is the Occupational Therapy center at 1088 W. Station St. It is learned that on Tuesday, the center will begin operations with its first patient. Five patients have been referred to the center (three children and two adults) and treatment will be under doctors' supervision.

Kankakeeans have taken a very close-to-home view of the Hungarian refugee situation during the past week. Probably the most satisfying of stories was that of Frank Viri, a handsome young refugee boy of 17. He has come to Kankakee to make his home with the Zygmunt Lipkas, who are themselves Polish refugees but have become American citizens.

The boy, who was a freedom fighter in Budapest has many experiences to tell. But one story told about him seemed quite revealing. When being interviewed in Vienna he was asked, "What is your religion?" The boy replied, "What religion should I say? He wanted especially to say the right thing and be allowed to come to America. It was then explained that in America, one need not be afraid to designate religious background. "Well then," he said, "I'm a Catholic."

The afternoon performance of "Thumbelina" is the story of a little girl. After planning a grain of barley-corn, a woman was amazed to see it grow into a beautiful flower. In the middle of the flower sat the tiniest girl one can imagine. She was not even as large as one's thumb—and that is why she was called "Thumbelina."

The story is that of "Thumbelina," the many adventures she had and of how she eventually became queen of all the beautiful flowers.

The afternoon performance of "Thumbelina" is the story of a little girl. After planning a grain of barley-corn, a woman was amazed to see it grow into a beautiful flower. Keeping in Step

By Mary Jean Houde

Process of adoption provides an interesting subject for consideration. But the word adoption is rarely a very sweet one to Mrs. William F. Lynch of 796 N. 10th Ave.

She has recently become a mother, not by due processes of nature, but through adoption. "And I couldn't feel more like my mother," says Mrs. Lynch.

The recipient of her love is 2-month-old Randy Michael who "looks just like me," Mrs. Lynch says that not only do friends comment that the baby resembles both Mr. and Mrs. Lynch, but her own mother says that Randy looks just like Stella Lynch did when she was a baby.

Reaction from friends is also normal for new babies. Congratulatory messages have been received and Mrs. Lynch was even honored at a baby clothing shower.

Mrs. Lynch has words of encouragement for anyone who is considering adoption. She and her husband had been waiting for their adopted child for 2 1/2 years. There were interviews, which even delved into the couple's childhood, and then the long wait for a French Canadian baby. Those are the nationalities of the mother and father.

Mrs. Lynch thinks a wonderful job was done in matching features, coloring and personality. "It was worth waiting for," she comments.

In six months, from the time the couple took the baby home, he may be legally adopted. "When the adoption does become final," says Mrs. Lynch, "we will ask for another child — a little girl, this time!"

Stork showers are the key words here. On Friday evening, Mrs. Paul Davidson was the guest of honor at a surprise stork shower. The hostess was Mrs. Ray Hill of 366 W. River St.

Another stork shower during the past week turned out to be more of a surprise for the hostess and other guests than for the mother-to-be. When the guests arrived at the home of Mrs. Warren Chamberlain at 346 S. Osborn Ave. on Monday evening, they found the guest-of-honor absent. Mrs. Richard Kron had already had her baby that afternoon. So the girls went ahead with their party, minus the gift-opening. The gifts were put into a big box, along with the table decorations and some refreshments, and given to the proud father to take to his wife.

One sign of Kankakee's growth in the right direction is the Occupational Therapy center at 1088 W. Station St. It is learned that on Tuesday, the center will begin operations with its first patient. Five patients have been referred to the center (three children and two adults) and treatment will be under doctors' supervision.

Kankakeeans have taken a very close-to-home view of the Hungarian refugee situation during the past week. Probably the most satisfying of stories was that of Frank Viri, a handsome young refugee boy of 17. He has come to Kankakee to make his home with the Zygmunt Lipkas, who are themselves Polish refugees but have become American citizens.

The boy, who was a freedom fighter in Budapest has many experiences to tell. But one story told about him seemed quite revealing. When being interviewed in Vienna he was asked, "What is your religion?" The boy replied, "What religion should I say? He wanted especially to say the right thing and be allowed to come to America. It was then explained that in America, one need not be afraid to designate religious background. "Well then," he said, "I'm a Catholic."

Wilmington VFW Auxiliary To Meet

WILMINGTON (JNS) — The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary will meet Monday evening in the post home here.

A social will be held. MR. AND MRS. Thomas Simson retired from the tailoring and cleaning business after 12 years. They sold their business to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hayes of Wilmington.

Home Of The Week

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Camille Curby, RR 1, Bourbonnais, aptly fits the description "little jewel box" for it seems to sparkle both inside and out.

The Curbys first saw their home when it was in the process of being built. Life long city dwellers they had long harbored a desire to live in the country and the partially built home seemed an attractive prospect for making this dream a reality. After some consideration they decided to buy it.

Mrs. Curby put her nimble fingers and attractive taste to work on the home, both inside and out. The decorating is the result of her efforts from start to finish, including the painting and making of curtains and draperies throughout.

"We've never regretted our decision to move out of town. The view here is lovely in the evening as the house overlooks a large wooded tract, and we've enjoyed every minute of work we've done — painting, landscaping, etc."

The floor plan includes three bedrooms, living room, kitchen, bath, utility room and attached garage and breezeway. Light blue is used for the exterior with gray and white trim. Three brick planters enhance the overall appearance of the exterior. Gas heat is used and there are hardwood floors throughout.

Mr. and Mrs. Curby have a daughter, Mrs. Gloria Heddlch of Kankakee, and a granddaughter, Donna Lee.

Off-white walls and draperies (Mrs. Curby's handwork) give a feeling of light spaciousness in the living room. Carpeting is a pale gray and upholstered pieces lipstick red and gray. Mrs. Curby, pictured here with her granddaughter, Donna Lee, selected gold and black for accents. Wood surfaces are limed oak. Colorful pottery and china knick-knacks decorate the shelves which separate the kitchen area. Exterior doorway is at left foreground and hallway leading to bedrooms and bath is in right foreground.

God Doesn't Help You Do Nothing

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Gardner Cowles Jr., 30, is one of America's famous editors. And editors are usually very astute psychologists for they have had a unique vantage point for observing human behavior.

"Things do not happen," thus stated Cowles in a challenge that should wake up every thinking person.

"They are MADE to happen."

Yet millions of adults still act like glib children and sit back waiting for success and happiness and other rewards to fall into their laps.

"Lord, I want an 'A' grade on my exam," students thus pray in wishfulfilling fashion.

"Oh, God, I want my marriage to remain permanently happy," most brides may whisper to the Almighty.

But if they don't meanwhile help God produce those results, they are not likely to get any aid from the Lord.

For God works in a partnership arrangement. He accomplishes miracles right now in modern America, but only as a result of team-work.

God doesn't help you if you are a do-nothing.

They have learned long ago what causes the ringing knock and what will remove it.

In medicine, too, we have learned what causes many "knocks" in the human motor (heart attacks) and what can be done to alleviate or prevent them.

In the automobile realm, don't use low test gasoline which stokes and thus fouls up the valves of your motor.

In human physiology, don't use tobacco and "foul up your heart and artery walls as a result of the evil effect of such smoke. Be logical.

God likes partners who are loyal and smart. He thus expects you to employ your brains if you wish him to give you long life and health and happiness.

IT IS RIGHT AND proper for you to ask God to help you avoid divorce, and, yes, your children, wisely so they become honest adults.

For God has plenty of allies in the efficient mechanists in garages who can solve that mechanical dilemma.

But prayer is not enough. You must put your shoulder to the

What are you doing to make your dreams come true and your marriage stay happy and your children become self-reliant moral individuals?

Prayer is an insult to God unless you meanwhile team-up with the Lord to make the good things happen which you desire.

You Can Add To A Dining Theme

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures Writer

Home is getting to be a coordinated decorating project. One takes a theme or a color scheme and develops it into the home decor. Sometimes the decorative accent in a rug or draperies sets the idea in motion.

One way to experiment with this idea is in the dining room. Here you can coordinate your table — linens, glassware, china, silver.

You may choose your favorite design in tableware and use it even in a mobile to provide interest above the table. If you love a particular season—spring, summer, autumn—play up that theme all the year round with a design of seashells, boats or floral shapes for summer, leaves, acorns and golden hues for autumn.

The woodland mobile modeled after a set of everyday crystal is always attractive.

Making it requires heavy paper, pencil, scissors, small round-nose pliers, an awl or center punch. Use gauge sheet metal (brass was used to provide a gold color without painting). It gauge galvanized iron wire, a spray-paint in orange.

Here is the construction procedure: Draw, free-hand, the designs from glassware or china on the paper, cut out the shapes and trace them on the sheet metal. Cut the shapes from the sheet metal with scissors. With a center punch, make a hole in the shapes about one-half inch from the top. Choose two shapes you wish to appear at the bottom, placing them as far apart as you want them to be, measure that distance on the wire, adding an inch and a half for the connecting loops and balance loop. At each end of the wire arm, make a loop by bending the wire back against itself with the pliers.

You can find the balance point of the arm by resting the arm (with two shapes attached) across your forehead. Make a loop at this point by bending the wire arm back against itself and on around to its original position. Choose the shape you wish to appear above the first two, measure the arm, attach the shape to one end of the arm, making a connecting loop at the other end. Attach this loop to the balance loop of the first arm. Find the point of balance by holding this arm at various places until the mobile is balanced to suit your taste, make a balance loop, and proceed in this fashion until all of the shapes are attached and the mobile is completed.

Spread newspapers on the floor, place the mobile and living and spray the shapes that require paint. Then hang your woodland mobile up to dry.

ON THE HOUSE

By DAVID O. BAREUTHER, AP Real Estate Editor

AP Newsfeatures

Few persons give enough attention to the proper selection of wall materials when it comes time to build a finished room in the attic or basement, add an extra room to the house or put up new walls.

Most of the time the choice of a particular material is made because it looked good in some one else's house . . . or in a showroom . . . or because a neighbor or a relative used it and recommended it.

These reasons are all right in their way—and should have some bearing on your decision—but the ultimate selection should be based on your own needs. The room you are finishing may be used for an entirely different purpose than the one you admired, which might make the wall material in the already-completed room highly impractical for you.

THERE ARE MANY "dry wall" materials readily available to the retail purchaser these days. Each has its own characteristics . . . and it's the wise buyer who knows why he is spending his money for a particular type of product.

Gypsum board, the least expensive of these materials, is a form of plaster covered on both sides with strong paper. It is sometimes erroneously referred to as plaster board, a term which is hard object is pushed against it. Most kinds of gypsum board must be painted or papered and the seams filled with tape and cement.

Gypsum board costing a bit more can be obtained with special finishes of plaster which require neither paper nor paint.

Asbestos cement board is a first cousin of gypsum board, but is priced about twice as high, which is still less than many other wall materials. This is made of asbestos fibers and portland cement pressed into rigid panels. It is fireproof and water resistant, making it excellent for laundry rooms,

New wonder ingredient—poly-AM—makes SPRED SATIN outperform all other interior paints because it dries as two paint films in one with colors that may brighten—keep your rooms new-looking until you want to change the color scheme. Colors are bound into a protective latex film by a strong, interlocking film of poly-AM which makes SPRED SATIN so durable you can wash and scrub it for years without damage or fading.

Nothing is more washable than latex and every gallon of SPRED SATIN contains over four pounds of Rapid Latex. Comparative new-looking wall only one coat of this at this amount. The result—superior performance with SPRED SATIN.

Ranch Life On That 60-Foot Lot

Help Beat Building, Land Costs

Good design offers you the best way to get around high land and building costs when you plan a new home. This is shown in The House of the Week, HW-36—a smart ranch house for a small lot. The one-story house remains the most popular of all types of homes in virtually every community. Its principal handicap, the need for land with a wide frontage, is overcome in this plan by clever and efficient room arrangement.

THERE'S SWANK in this long roof sweep, big window wall and low planting boxes under brickwork.

Measuring less than 60 feet wide, including a side barbecue terrace and garage, this house will fit well on a 60-foot lot. The house itself is less than 33 feet wide, making it suitable without a garage for a lot of 50 feet or less. However, the terrace and the long sweep of the roof line over the garage are features that more than justify the little added land they need.

THIS IS A HOUSE with definite charm. Its big front window wall rising to the roof and a combination of brick veneer and vertical wood siding create an exterior that would be a distinctive asset to any neighborhood.

A fair size house, it covers 1,698 square feet, exclusive of its garage and terrace, which figure separately in building estimates. There are two bedrooms, two bathrooms, a large, light-living room, a separate dining room, and a most interesting kitchen with a built-in bar, a basement laundry, and a shop.

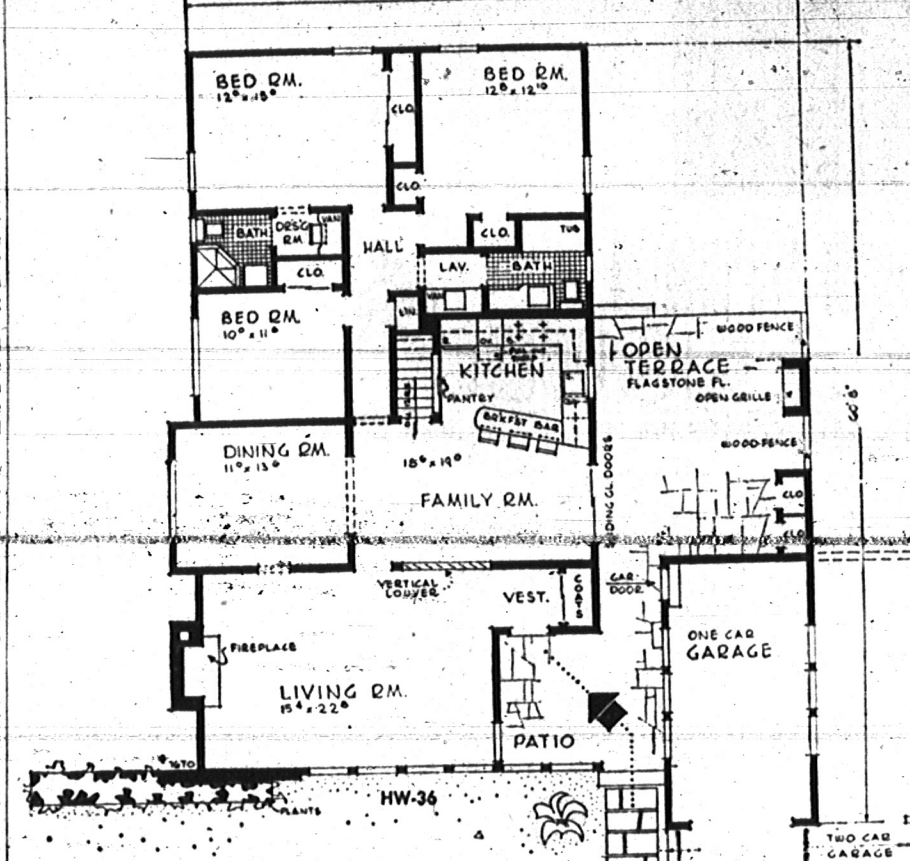

Smart use is made of modern economical construction methods throughout this plan. Careful rising to the roof and a combination of brick veneer and vertical wood siding create an exterior that would be a distinctive asset to any neighborhood.

Two nieces of this plan are also featured in the foundation. One is a detached garage with a built-in vanity table adjoining the master bedroom and its private bath with stall shower. The other is a detached bathroom off the main hall with a completely covered by the main roof. A continuation of the glass front of the living room shields this patio and the front door from wind and rain.

With this information you will know whether you will want to proceed with construction by ordering working blueprints direct from the architect and asking for bids for the work.

MAKE A notch first. USING A HACKSAW
AP Newsfeatures
DO... be certain in placing a hacksaw blade in the frame that the teeth point away from the handle.
DO... use blades with 14 or 18 teeth per inch for cutting hard metal of fairly thick stock, those with 24 and 32 teeth per inch for light tubing and sheet metal.
DO... always have the metal in the vise so that the line being cut is fairly close to the vise jaws and always file a notch in the metal as a starting point.
DO... bear in mind that a hacksaw cuts only on the forward stroke, therefore release your pressure as you bring the blade back.
DON'T... try to resharpen a hacksaw blade, since it cannot be done satisfactorily; always keep extra blades on hand to replace dull and broken ones.

DON'T... overlook a trick used by professionals to determine whether the proper tension is present. Pluck the blade lightly after setting it in place. A slight hum means the blade has the correct tension.
DON'T... try to chop your way through the metal. Use a long, sweeping stroke, with the blade in a straight line on the stock.
DON'T... try to save money by buying cheap blades, a good one that costs only a little more will give far better service and last much longer.

Feeding 500 Head Is Quite A Chore

RIGHT — Irvin Schwelbert, foreman, and Andy Sident take a break after the morning chore of feeding better than 500 head of Herefords at the 2,500 acre Tallmadge Ranch in Pembroke Township. Feeding takes about 3 hours and in the current sub-zero weather it is done twice a day. Ted DeYoung is the third employee on the ranch.

BELOW — Hereford cows don't seem to mind the bitter cold when it comes time to eat. The ranch has 2,000 acres in crop-land, 30 in hay, 425 in pasture and 102 acres set aside as wildlife refuges, according to the county soil conservation district records.

Cattle are pictured above stretched out over one-quarter of a mile during feeding time at the Tallmadge ranch. In the photo above are 245 Hereford breeding cows. In other fields there are 250 calves. In the picture below, the hungry cows crowd around the truck before the bales of hay can be tossed out. Ten thousand bales of hay are stored in an outside stack. Cows are bred to call between April and September.

Farm Adviser Finds Own County Used As Example

"Hiram County" was a fictitious name used in a two day extension program planning workshop at the University of Illinois recently, relates Argold B. Rowland, Ford County farm adviser.

The Hiram County people seemed to have some real problems, he said. Over 50 per cent of the farms produced less than $10,000 worth of farm products. Tenants operated 61 per cent of the farms and 50 per cent of the farm houses were built before 1919.

Only 37 per cent had central heat and less than 50 per cent had piped running water. There seemed to be a health problem, too. Less than 50 per cent of the preschool children were vaccinated against diphtheria and tetanus. There was also a high incidence of dental caries among the children.

Hiram County figures, taken from the university staffs, were according to the university staffs, were taken from the data for an actual county, Illinois' "Hiram County."

Peterson Talks To Farm Bureau

The 45th annual meeting of the Kankakee County Farm Bureau and service Co. will start at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Kankakee High School auditorium, said Glenn Mann, president.

Feature speaker, who will talk about 1:30 p.m., will be W. B. Peterson, secretary of marketing of the Illinois Agricultural Association.

Peterson got his start with the organization in 1933 in Kankakee when the county soil crop improvement association became the Kankakee County Farm Bureau.

Peterson will speak on what farm bureau has done to maintain and improve the economic status of the farmer over the past 40 years. He will deal with the accomplishments in the legislative, business and educational fields.

During the morning session the Service Co. will hold its annual meeting. Clair Mann, cooperative president, said that patronage dividends this year will amount to $40,454 and stock dividends $10,832.

The Rev. Harold Edds will give the invocation and directors will be elected from the first seven districts. Directors to be elected on the farm bureau board will be from Saline, Norton, Otto, Bourbonnais, Manteno, Yellowhead, Ganeer and St. Anne.

At noon a lunch will be served by the home bureau women. Mann said the meeting will adjourn at 3 p.m.

AFTERMATH OF THE HOTEL RIVERVIEW FIRE
By HAROLD W. SIMMONS

Kankakee has had its share of spectacular and disastrous fires since it was platted in 1853. Conflagrations which removed all traces of the building. One such blaze took place on Nov. 12, 1897 at 2:30 a.m. and that date, for years, was referred to as "the night the Riverview burned down."

The Hotel Riverview was built as a summer hotel in 1897 occupying approximately the area of the triangle at the intersection of S. Chicago and Greenwood avenues. Those streets were not laid out until after the hotel was destroyed and the road to the grounds was but a drive through the woods. The hotel flourished as a summer resort for the first few years and then became an apartment hotel, its rooms being occupied by many of the prominent families of the city.

The first story regarding the Hotel Riverview appearing in the "Up 'til Now" column was published in the Journal on June 8, 1948 and, as items or pictures were discovered, additional articles were written. With the three items following the Kankakee County Historical Society has a complete history of the Hotel Riverview.

Nov. 24, 1897—Mrs. McColl recovered 300 pieces of her jewelry from the Riverview ruins yesterday. Among them was her gold watch, the cases intact, but the works ruined, with the hands pointing at 3:35. She also found a diamond, a wedding ring and several silver spoons. The ruins are still smoking.

Dec. 9, 1897—"The work of searching the ashes and ruins of the burned Hotel Riverview for the recovery of valuables continues from day to day. A sieve has been used almost exclusively up to this time, but now several sluices have been constructed and the search is being pushed by the hydraulic method, water being secured from the city mains. The ashes are dumped into a sluice in which water is running. The deposit is examined and the operation is repeated. Joe and Oliver Forgue and Henry Coash are employed in the task."

Dec. 29, 1897—"The debris from the ruins of the cremated Hotel Riverview is being carted away and dumped along the river bank opposite the hospital pumping station. It makes a pile of considerable size and consists principally of broken brick, stone and ashes, sheet iron, etc. There is very little that could be used for kindling wood. Seldom is a frame building so completely consumed by fire as was the Riverview. Most of the loose debris has been cleared up. It is understood that the stone walls will not be torn down this winter. Eventually, it is said, Mr. Cobb proposes to open up Greenwood avenue to the river and lay the hotel property into residence lots."

KANKAKEE, ILLINOIS SUNDAY, JANUARY 20, 1957

We attacked again and again. Our commander, General Lyon, was dead.

He had been way out in front, cheering us on, when he died.

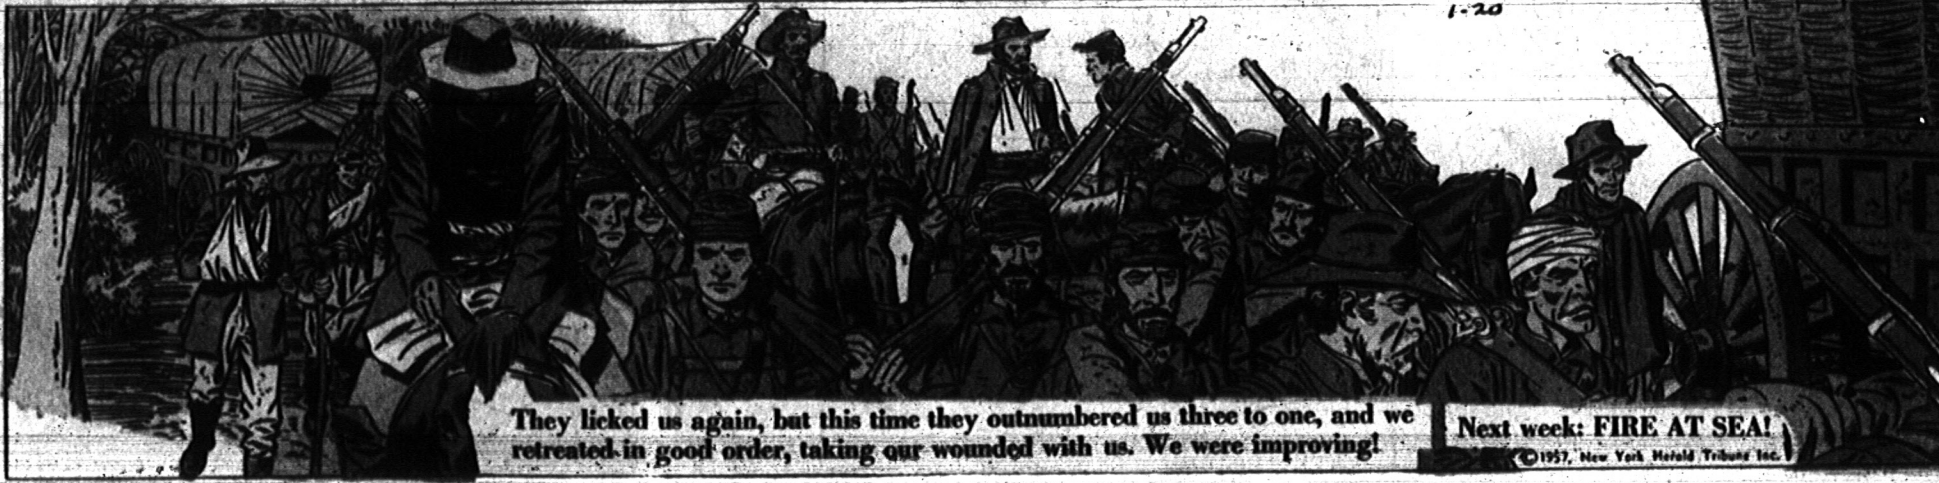

It was no use. Finally, the officers gave the order to retreat.

We were the rear guard for the retreat. We had to fight our way home.

We stopped the Confederate advance. Our main body withdrew safely.

They licked us again, but this time they outnumbered us three to one, and we retreated in good order, taking our wounded with us. We were improving!

"TAKE IT AWAY, PIPPA! I HAVE EATEN THE LAST MORSEL OF FOOD THAT WILL EVER PASS MY LIPS!"

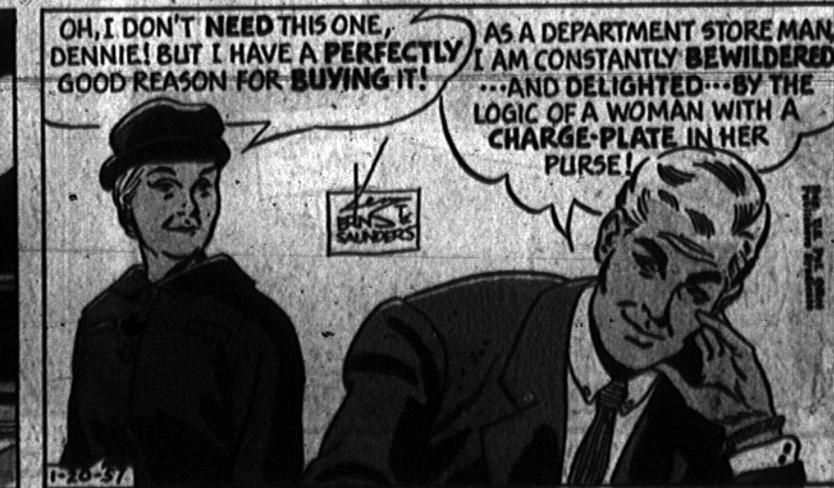

"MEANWHILE...HEY! WHAT BRINGS MY SON'S FAVORITE GREAT-GRANDMOTHER INTO OUR EMPORIUM TODAY?"

"WRAP IT UP, PLEASE! I'M TAKING IT WITH ME!"

"NOW, I'M NOT TRYING TO BOSS YOUR BUDGET, GRAM...BUT DIDN'T YOU TELL SEPTEMBER JUST LAST NIGHT THAT YOU HAD BLOUSES YOU'D NEVER WORN?"

"OH, I DON'T NEED THIS ONE, DENNIE! BUT I HAVE A PERFECTLY GOOD REASON FOR BUYING IT!"

"AS A DEPARTMENT STORE MAN I AM CONSTANTLY BEWILDERED...AND DELIGHTED...BY THE LOGIC OF A WOMAN WITH A CHARGE PLATE IN HER PURSE!"
