Israeli Soldiers Completing Peaceful Evacuation Of Gaza Strip Today

Israeli soldiers are completing the evacuation of the Gaza Strip today. The last of the Israeli troops are being withdrawn from the strip after 125 days of occupation. The rest will complete the withdrawal later today.

Advance elements of 2,000 U.N. troops moved into the strip at 7 p.m. from the Sinai Peninsula. The Israeli army said it would be pulled out of the area turned over to U.N. units Friday.

THE DEPARTURE from Gaza of the Israeli troops in the October-November invasion went off without any incidents reported. Some shots were heard in Gaza City during the early morning hours, but the cause of the firing was not immediately known.

The withdrawing Israeli troops were met by Egyptian soldiers of the U.N. Emergency Force set up a sentry post and barrier at 6 a.m. at the Israeli frontier, two miles from Gaza City on the northern end of the narrow strip.

Israeli border guards armed manned their own sentry posts, which had been abandoned after the Israeli push into Gaza and the Sinai Desert.

Throughout the strip, Israeli and U.N. forces moved swiftly to complete the evacuation of the area, virtually completing it 15 hours before the 24-hour deadline set by the Israeli command.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (UP) — An American Airlines DC7 with 65 persons aboard made an emergency landing at the Grand Junction Airport Wednesday because of engine trouble.

The passengers included Barney Ross, former lightweight boxing champion who had been in Hollywood while a film of his life was being made, and Leo Durocher, former manager of the New York Giants who was en route to Canada on a vacation.

Women Of All Nations Join In Day Of Prayer

Kankakee women will join those of 142 nations Friday in observing the World Day of Prayer.

Throughout the world, in churches or auditoriums, in large small towns or rural communities, the women will gather to pray for a better world and to offer thanksgiving for their many blessings.

As the sun rises on the 71st observance of the day, the service will begin in the Tonga Islands where Queen Salote, a Christian herself, will lead her subjects in prayer.

Each year an outstanding Christian woman is asked to write a service for the day. This year Mrs. Serene Vassidy, who lived behind the Iron Curtain in Hungary, has written the subject, "Nothing Can Separate Us."

In addition to the liturgy to be read throughout the world, two speakers and a group of Kankakee church women will be invited to participate in the service.

The service will be held at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. in the Kankakee First Methodist Church.

Shows will be held at 7 p.m. on March 29 and 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. on March 30.

Cost of the tickets will be 50 cents each with 30 per cent of the cost retained by the individual churches. Children under 12 years old and Girl Scouts as well as Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts will be admitted free upon presentation of their current registration card.

Funds turned over to the council will be used to sponsor a troop at the national jamboree and to make improvements to the Rainbow Council Scout Reservation.

Members of the Kankakee County Real Estate Board heard an explanation of the proposed new real estate law, giving the explanation was Robert Cook, executive vice president of the Illinois Association of Real Estate Boards.

Cook said the new law would make it harder to get a real estate agency license, in an effort to have only higher caliber people in the business. Realtors in general feel, he said, that this would protect the public when buying real estate, and would prove the standing of the association.

Thirty county realtors attended a dinner meeting in the Country Club to hear Cook's talk.

WATKINS (JNS) — Iroquois County authorities are awaiting the transfer of Charles Leokhart, 40, Danville, from the county jail to the Illinois State Prison at Joliet.

Dockhart was sentenced Tuesday to 20 years to life imprisonment for a $33,000 holdup and shooting. He pleaded guilty in Iroquois County Circuit Court to two charges of armed robbery.

Dockhart admitted a service station robbery at Millard on Jan. 15 in which Philmar R. Hulan was shot and wounded and $33 was taken. He also admitted a holdup of a Watseka service station Jan. 29 in which he robbed attendant Harold Miller of $53.

Authorities said Dockhart admitted robberies at Boswell, Ind., and Urbana, Ill.

Deny Guilt In Theft Of Money Orders

CHICAGO (UP) — Two Chicago men, Sheldon Duncan and Milton D. Hunt, pleaded innocent before Federal Judge J. Sam Perry today on an indictment charging theft of money orders.

The men were indicted by a federal grand jury Feb. 27 on counts of forgery, conspiracy, and passing fraudulent money orders.

The charges followed investigation by postal authorities of the theft of 103 money orders in Chicago last year. Only two of the money orders were mentioned in the indictment.

Chamber Asks U.S. Not To Aid Schools

WASHINGTON (UP) — A spokesman for the Illinois Chamber of Commerce today said a congressional committee that state and local governments do not need federal aid for schools.

Joseph W. Cavatoni, East St. Louis, protested a measure calling for federal aid to the states for school construction. Cavatoni is president of the Illinois Electric Works.

"Should the federal government move into the field of financing public education... there is real danger of further excessive federal taxation," he said.

"Actually, the White House Conference on Education concluded that every state in the Union has sufficient resources to finance education for its children if the people are willing to develop local and state programs accordingly," Cavatoni continued.

HE SAID SOME of the difficulty in local finances can be traced to the "soaring" cost of education, which has reduced the state and local share of the tax dollar.

The spokesman said the school aid measure would require Illinois taxpayers to contribute $23.5 million to the aid program, but they would get only $11 million in federal aid in return. In addition, he said, state and local governments would have to provide $22 million in matching funds to qualify for the aid.

He said Illinois is qualifying for the aid because of its low per capita income. He said Illinois school districts have spent more than $500 million on new school buildings and grounds since 1950.

School Problems Commission Asks $50 Million Aid Fund Hike

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — The School Problems Commission Wednesday asked an increase of $50 million in the state aid to schools fund and indicated it would like still another $50 million.

The commission presented to the Budgetary Commission a total budget request of $288,333,741 for the coming two years, a total increase of $36,551,891 over the current budget.

But School Commission Chairman Charles W. Clabaugh (R-Champaign) said this figure would be required just to maintain the state aid formula at the present rate which guarantees a state-local spending figure of $200 per pupil per year.

HE SAID MANY Illinois children were going to school in buildings which "if they were converted into sausage factories, the state would not let the kids' mothers work in them."

Other budget requests were $6 million for school bus transportation, $8 million for special education, $14 million for vocational education, $3.9 million for the Chicago Teachers College, and $1.9 million for state junior colleges.

The Long Reign Of M. Mollet

In the light of France's postwar history, no one would expect Premier Mollet to have been so long in the saddle. He has been in office for 13 months and outlasting all his predecessors of the period. Belaboring the French for the instability of their governments has been the common custom of Americans. Since, on its record, this is plainly the most stable French regime of postwar vintage, we must in fairness, voice appreciation.

Mollet seems to have a definite talent for avoiding the worst rocks of controversy.

His late-February visit with President Eisenhower stressed the solidity of his position as the backbone of the tattered U.S.-French alliance.

It would be foolhardy to forecast that Mollet will go on indefinitely because he has come this far. France's problems with its North African lands are still a stumbling block. The future of NATO and Western defense stands in question. Inflation dangers at home continue to mount.

But there's no harm in hoping. France's friends abroad would warmly welcome the surprise of awakening on March day in 1958 to find that M. Mollet still holds the reins.

Prayers Around The World

Of particular significance this year is the World Day of Prayer which will be celebrated here and in a multitude of other communities around the world tomorrow. The United Church Women of Kankakee are sponsors of the special services which will be held Friday, in the morning and evening, at the First Methodist Church.

In the proclamation calling for this solemn observance, all citizens were urged to attend these services or to pause for a moment of prayer "at high noon to ask God to give us, in all our community, the wisdom and courage to meet and successfully solve the profound problems of our time."

Telling The Lincoln Story

ILLINOIS STATE JOURNAL

While the city council still has under consideration a resolution to establish an historical monuments commission, it might be a good idea to add a provision to it giving the commission the function of inviting visiting foreign dignitaries to come to Springfield. So far as we know, no one representing the city has the duty at present to write letters to distinguished foreign visitors urging them to visit the Lincoln shrines.

Our most recent high-placed foreign visitor, President Sukarno of Indonesia, came here of his own initiative. Since

Raps U. S. Action In Clinton School Case

WASHINGTON—Maybe there is no need for "civil rights" legislation after all. Congress will certainly be interested to discover how the Department of Justice just a few days ago in a move that has gone unnoticed generally, simply substituted the words "United States" for the word "states" in the names of a local school board as a party to a lawsuit in federal court. By that device the 10 defendants arrested for allegedly hindering a federal injunction at Clinton, Tenn., can be deprived of a LAWRENCE trial by jury and put in jail as unfairly as if they were living in some totalitarian country.

While the laws of the land under the Constitution of the United States do permit federal judges to punish for contempt certain offenses committed in a courtroom, or even outside, when the principals to a controversy refuse to obey a court order, jury trial is usually a controversy on request. But it is something novel when a lawsuit has been started by private parties to find the Department of Justice petitioning the federal court to amend the original petition and substitute the words

Here's What They Say

"India is smothering us and I appeal to the conscience of the world to save us from these methods."—Pakistani Premier H. S. SUHRAWARDY.

Federal Judge HAROLD R. MEDINA of New York, speaking on the subject that everyone must be protected against self-infliction, even Communists, said, "The historical reasons behind that part of our Bill of Rights (the fifth amendment) are just as valid today as they were when that part of the Constitution was adopted."

Former Pres. HARRY S. TRUMAN—"No price is too high for peace. (The national budget) is a lot cheaper than the price of a third world war."

National Republican chairman, MEADE ALBANY, in pledging to keep the national election—"The function of the Republican National Committee is to select the party's nominees and that is going to be our job. The selection of candidates is up to the states and the congressional districts."

"United States" for those of the complainant. This automatically bars a jury trial.

IF THE FEDERAL JUDGE in Knoxville, Tenn., approves this action, it is sustained on appeal by the courts it will not be successful in enforcing the federal injunction on "civil rights." All that will be needed is for the Department of Justice to write out the orders and the courts will uphold them.

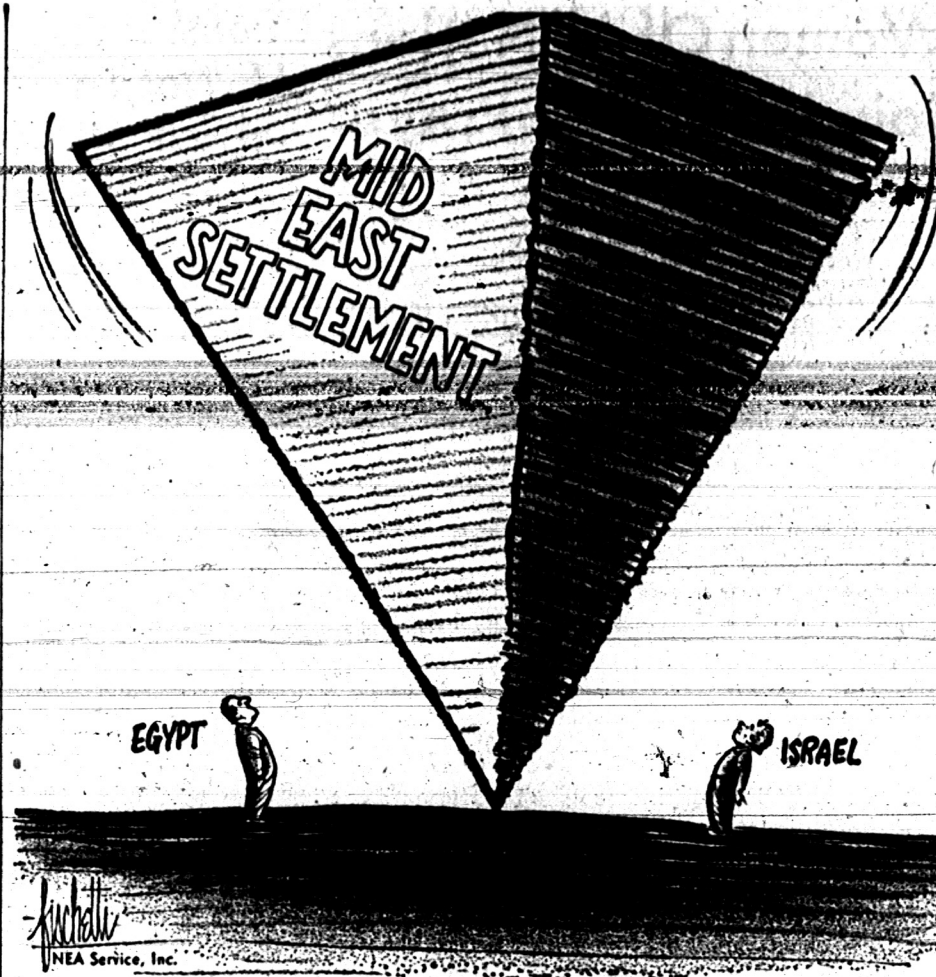

This is a flagrant abuse of power—much worse than any cited in the recent hearings before the House Judiciary Committee by the critics of the proposed "civil rights" legislation.

It is ironical that the American Civil Liberties Union—which on Feb. 26 made a commendable statement criticizing the federal court injunction issued at Clinton, Tenn., as being too broad—did not know that on Feb. 25 the same federal judge was being asked by the Department of Justice to deprive citizens of a chance for jury trial. The Civil Liberties Union statement had rightly criticized the injunction as too broad and had said that "to the extent that it enjoins specific acts of contempt, it is enforceable by contempt proceedings, or by picketing for these purposes, it is invalid."

In that same statement, moreover, the right to jury trial was vigorously upheld by the ACLU even for those defendants who had been charged with actually "hindering" or "obstructing" the operation of a court order. The ACLU said:

"UNDER THE FEDERAL LAW a person in contempt of a federal court order is entitled to a jury trial. It is a violation of the federal or state law is entitled, if he resists it, to a trial by jury. The protection of individual rights was originally written into the law to guard against possible biased judicial decisions in labor injunction cases and now covers all contempt issues. Similarly, as the acts charged against the 18 persons now facing trial allege violations of federal and state laws, these defendants can ask for a jury trial. Therefore no civil liberties issue is raised unless the jury trial is denied, which is unlikely in view of the clear instruction of the law."

But what the ACLU didn't know when it issued that statement and what most people throughout the United States didn't know because it wasn't reported in the press generally is that the Department of Justice had resorted to a stratagem by seeking to make the "United States" a party to the suit, which—according to a law of Congress governing contempt cases—eliminates trial by jury.

Acute Housing Shortage In Belgrade

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia—Belgrade's 300,000 inhabitants are crowded into quarters which were originally meant for half this number. The result is a state of overcrowding which is frightful. Even officials of foreign consulates are adversely affected by the shortage and frequently complete. It is the favorite topic in private conversation.

At the present time, for example, there are 16 single persons, five married couples and five married couples with children, working for the American Embassy who are without housing. They are living in scattered hotels patently waiting for a break. Some have been here a year and still no private dwellings available.

Eventually, however, foreign embassy personnel manage to find "dwellings" usually small and not what they want but better than nothing. Their plight is a minor one, however, compared with the Yugoslavians themselves.

BELGRADE HAS BEEN like a magnet since the war and has attracted scores of thousands from the provinces and farm villages. They keep pouring into the city year after year, housing or no housing. It is not too unusual to find families of seven living in one room.

It is more typical, however, to find two or three persons living in one room. A two-room apartment, for example, may have five or six people living in it. Most of the rooms are small, very simply furnished and not too modern.

First of all, let me assure you that most cases of TB can be cured provided treatment is begun in time. Through the use of various drugs we can usually bring the germs under control in some cases, surgery is necessary. By operation we can remove damaged parts of the body or remove the lung to make it more quickly. Two other things also are very important in treating tuberculosis without any danger of relapse during the early stages of the treatment. And a properly prepared, balanced, wholesome diet is essential.

It stands to reason, of course, that you will get better treatment and better care in a hospital. But in case you plan to argue that you might be better off at home, let me point out the advantages of going to a hospital for treatment of TB. First, a hospital furnishes the most up-to-date medical, surgical and nursing care. Certain types of treatment can be given nowhere else.

Your family and friends are better protected from the disease than in the hospital since there is less chance they will catch it. Hospital personnel can show you how to take care of yourself after leaving and can help you prepare for your return to your family and job.

Once you leave the hospital, the doctors will examine you frequently to determine whether the evidence of active TB has vanished. If it has, you can safely go back to work and mingle with others without any danger of infecting them. Periodic examinations are necessary to make sure that there are no recurrences of the disease. The most dangerous source of infection is a person who has the disease but doesn't know it.

Has Day Of Frustration

WASHINGTON (NEA)—My Day, Washington is usually such a lovely city it raises the spirits, but last Monday our nation's capital was a day of frustration.

It was just some backwash from a three-week trip around the world. It seems only yesterday he bid us goodby. Sometimes it seems people travel so fast they don't know where they've been.

But Hollister told a most interesting story about getting lost in the snow, driving down the Kabul River gorge over unfinished mountain roads of Afghanistan. Fortunately, a camel train with quite old horses took him out of the snow.

LATER, MET HOLLISTER in the hall. He said he had many other interesting experiences. In India he had to lay a wreath on Mahatma Gandhi's burning ghat, or funeral pyre.

In Ethiopia, as his car drove along the road, the natives fell to the ground, thinking the emperor was passing. They were most annoyed when they looked up and saw it was only Hollister.

After lunch most of these same reporters and some others went to a briefing by Benjamin Fairless. He is the former steel company executive who is now coordinator of the President's Citizens Advisory Committee.

Fairless and his associates, including John L. Lewis, who wasn't there, have just come back from a 50-day trip around the world. They also went to inspect our foreign aid program, but they took more time to do it than Hollister.

By the way, Hollister said that when former Congressman James P. Richards goes to inspect possibilities for our new foreign aid program in the Middle East, he will take two months.

THE REPORT WHICH FAIRLESS and his committee filed is very short and to the point. But you will read the report in vain if you are looking for a list of places they went or what they saw or the people they talked to and what they were told.

They "name no names," as Fairless said. He thought it would be out of order for his committee of citizens to say that the amount of money we have spent in any country was too much. He also said: "It would be ridiculous to say that not one dollar had been wasted, and I'm not saying it."

Fairless and his associates make 40 recommendations for changing our mutual security program. But in spite of that, they find that it should and it can be continued at its present level of about eight billion dollars a year, for the indefinite future. They say that "The American taxpayers have received a fair return for their money."

Next we all went to the White House, where an official whose name I do not remember revealed some of the President's new drought relief message and program.

IT WAS JUST LIKE old times to go back to the White House. It was so reminiscent of the days when Henry Wallace and Rexford Guy Tugwell were explaining the Triple-A and all those other dear old New Deal programs. Only this official whose name I do not permit to reveal explained some New Deal programs that are still going strong.

This official whose name it is not permitted to reveal, had no idea what the new drought relief program cost. He said in the last 3½ years the administration had spent 638 million dollars on disaster relief of all kinds. But he had no idea how much had gone for drought relief or flood relief or hurricane relief or blizzard relief.

Then he gave us some figures on the various kinds of relief the administration had handed out for beef and pork purchases, government surplus, credit, and so forth. They all added up to $42 million dollars.

What a day.

Nasser Grab May Backfire

President Gamel Abdel Nasser of Egypt may be very sorry some day that he seized control of the Suez Canal.

There are strong indications that, long the world's most important waterway, may never regain the importance it held before Nasser nationalized it and then blocked it because of the Israeli-British-French invasion.

It is not too difficult to see that a great part of the world's supply of oil, the life blood of modern industry, was at the mercy of one man.

CONSTRUCTION OF a gigantic canal, which would carry the Red Sea to the Mediterranean, has been started.

But in addition, plans are being worked out by interested governments and commercial interests to build pipelines which would take oil direct to the Mediterranean Sea and thus by-pass the canal.

It's Tornado Season—Central U. S. Rates As Most Favorable

PEOTONE (JNS)—The spectacular storms produced by nature generally occur, here, according to the United States Weather Bureau. Just a year ago on March 6 a tornado hit near Buckley destroying eight farm homes and injuring four persons.

The weather bureau points out that tornadoes occur in many parts of the world and are more numerous in the central United States. The number of tornadoes normally starts to increase in February through the eastern gulf states reaching a peak in March.

The increase spreads northwestward to reach a peak in Iowa and Kansas during May and June. From July until January there is a rapid decline in the number of houses above the ground, generally reducing damage to the buildings.

In the Illinois-Indiana area, March through June generally have the greatest number of tornadoes. The worst tornado in the state in the past 30 years was March 19, 1948 when 33 persons were killed in the north and east sides of the house above the ground, generally reducing damage to the buildings.

When a tornado warning is received, factories should shut down. Advance preparation should be made for shutting off electrical circuits and fuel lines if and when warning service.

A film "Tornado" will be shown on a Chicago television station at 2:45 p.m. Friday, March 15, showing scenes of approaching tornadoes and the destruction that can result in a few minutes. The film shows precautionary measures that can be taken by both communities and individuals to reduce loss of life and property and the operation of tornado forecast electrical circuits and fuel lines if and when warning service.

Loyola Official, Seized On Picture Charge, Kills Self

CHICAGO (U)—A young member of the Loyola University staff, who police said was to be questioned for allegedly taking pictures of a young woman in connection with the recent multiple murders of children, shot himself to death Wednesday night.

David Burch, 26, assistant to the dean of admissions at Loyola University, was found in his room, 308, 10th St., where his mother was talking to a detective in another room in Burch's North Side home.

THE DETECTIVE, James Fitzgerald, said Burch's mother, Mrs. J. Norval Burch, did not know he was a police officer and had believed her son had gone upstairs to pack some clothes for a briefcase.

However, Fitzgerald said, he had gone with Burch to his home to get some photographs he had taken of a 16-year-old girl. The detective said he agreed with Burch's mother that Burch had been charged with crime against two Chicago banks "and others who may be involved."

The action, centering on $24,771 in funds from forged endorsements on warrants where the payees listed said they did not receive the money.

Additional litigation would cover about $700,000 in dubious transactions and $227,000 in questionable travel voucher payments, Roberts said. The two banks against whom the state has already brought claims are the Southwestern Bank and Trust Co. and the First National Bank of Chicago.

Further recovery is also being sought through liquidation of $500,000 in property turned over to the state by Burch and his wife, Margaret, as restitution. Gov. Stratton Wednesday named state Auditor Elbert S. Smith as trustee for the liquidation, succeeding Lloyd Moroy who resigned.

Set School Expansion Election In Mokena

MOKENA (JNS)—The board of education of the Mokena Community Unit Schools announced plans to expand two present school sites as part of a plan to provide for necessary future expansion to meet for increased enrollments.

Notice has been given of an election to be held March 23. Voters will be asked to approve the purchase of two separate parcels of land. One tract, approximately 13 acres, is located west of 2nd St. and south of 1st St. The other, a seven-acre tract, is south of and adjacent to the present Loraine Elementary School.

The board, in taking this step, is following the recommendations of three separate agencies. The office of field services, University of Illinois, recommended the purchase of these two sites following a 1952 survey. In 1953, the Mokena Advisory Council made the same recommendation. The report released in June, 1956, by Everett Kinsland and Associates, planning consultants for the City of Mokena, also stressed the need to expand present sites at both locations before these suitable locations were adapted to other use.

No bond issue is planned. The board will use current building fund revenue to cover the cost of acquiring the additional land if voter approval is obtained.

The circuit comprises Kankakee, Iroquois and Will counties. Circuit judges will be elected to six-year terms all over the state June 3.

The Republican convention will be held at Kankakee March 21. All three county GOP conventions have been reported yet in any of the three counties.

The Kankakee County Democratic committee selected delegates without endorsing any candidates. Will County Democrats have not yet held their convention. It was reported.

Legislation has been introduced at Springfield which would give the 12th Circuit an additional judge, principally because of the growth of legal work in Will County, most populous of the three.

Judge Henry is currently spending two weeks hearing cases in Will County.

G-Men Make Heroes Of Old West Look Like Pikers As Gun Slingers

NEW YORK (NEA) — As pistol slingers, those romantic gun fighters of the Old West were pikers alongside J. Edgar Hoover's 6,000 agents in the FBI.

Most of today's FBI agents, largely lawyers and accountants, don't shoot. Wyatt Earp, the cowboy, was a professional. He was a class the police departments of the country.

For over the years the FBI has developed to a science the old-fashioned Western technique of the lightning draw and rapid fire from the hip. Every agent and supervisor, right up to the director himself, is steeped in it.

Called combat, or instinctive, double-action, hip-level shooting, it is the traditional marksmanship training of standing before a target, taking aim at shoulder level and firing. For speed and accuracy in a pinch, it's unequalled. It could easily mean the difference between survival or death.

IN THIS WAY, the agent concentrated his primary vision on his target and still kept his gun on the outer vision, giving it some direction.

The weakness of the Western draw was that the six-shooter was simply twisted out of the holster and fired too close to the hip to be seen. This way, according to the FBI experts, it's easy to miss a man at 10 yards.

The FBI man is trained to visualize his foe as if he were in the framework of a door and to shoot at the door.

Simultaneously, his right arm flashed back, swept aside his jacket entirely; his right hand grasped the muzzle against the top of the special, quick-draw holster. This gave greater momentum to the motion draw.

The gun hand, still held low, thrust forward from the body as far as possible. Firing commenced instinctively with neither aim nor sighting, as in pointing a finger. The left hand followed the right for a fast shift of weapons if necessary. (Agents are taught to fire with both hands.)

Consequently, most agents can draw and fire five rounds in about three seconds. Their best shot is to do it under two.

AFTER LONG STUDY, the bureau found most gun battles start at 21 feet. So the agents are expected to draw, fire five shots, reload and fire another five shots all within 25 seconds.

The inflexible FBI rule is: Never point a gun unless you're ready to kill. When you fire, fire to kill.

Police departments, universally held this was impossible to teach. So police were trained by conventional target practice—cocking the hammer in advance, then firing at the bull's-eye, which takes a finger pressure of only two-and-a-half pounds.

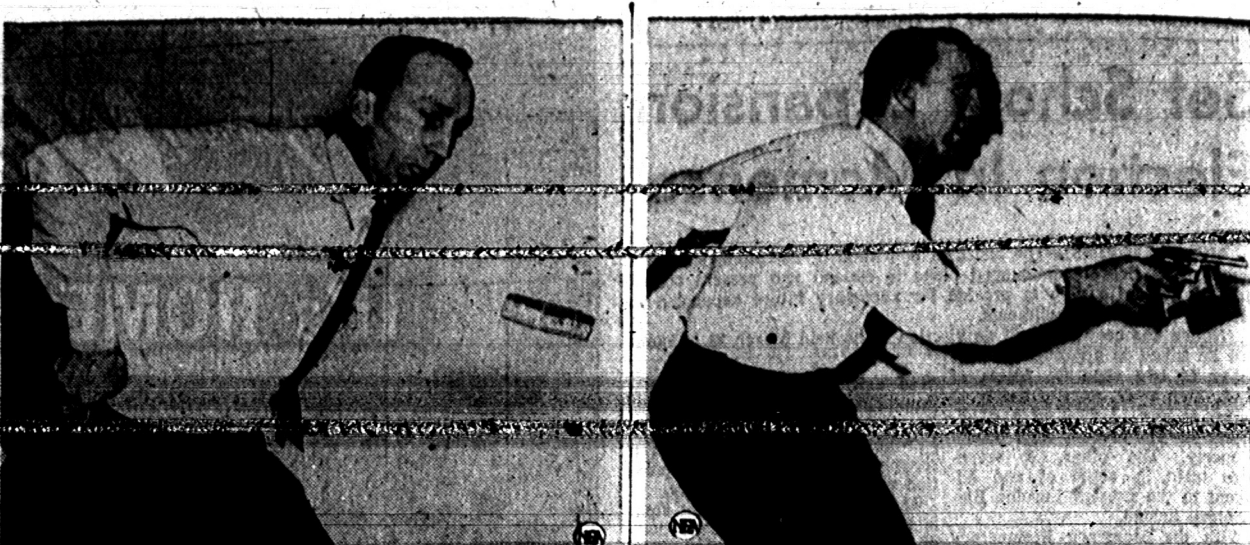

BUT, CAUGHT in actual combat, they must resort to double-action. With no training, they were unable to control the gun, hence most of their shots go wild in a running fire.

All FBI agents are taught double-action by a special technique known as the "quick draw." Perfection, they say, is achieved when they can out-draw the reflection.

REACHING FOR IT: FBI's Roger Robinson has just tossed empty box into air, so it demonstrates his split-second draw ...

FASTER THAN EYE: Box doesn't stand chance as Robinson has gun beside it while box seems to hang in mid-air.

Extradition Hearing Planned For Bennie

CHICAGO (UP)—Edward Bennie, the DuSable, will be extradited to Illinois officials on an attempt by the state to recover a $10,000 bond.

The hearing was granted Wednesday as Florida authorities announced they would send the death penalty if he is indicted there.

Judge said papers requesting Bennie's extradition should reach the desk of Florida Gov. Leroy Collins today.

In Springfield, Hansen said no hearing date would be set until the extradition papers are received from the Florida governor.

SMITH SAID THE TAXPAYERS ARE

SMITH SAID THE TAXPAYERS ARE aroused over the size of the budget, and that responsibility for cutting expenditures rests "right here in the House."

Republicans called the Democratic bill a "monstrosity" and a "raid on the United States Treasury." They contended it would cost from $80 million to a billion dollars, and predicted President Eisenhower would veto it, if it is passed.

Rep. Poague (D-Tex.), who with Cooley sponsored the bill, estimated its top cost at $90 million dollars.

Republicans were backing a bill by Rep. Anderson (R-Minn.). It would support at 75 per cent of parity—a price standard deemed fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Corn farmers also would be eligible under this bill for practicalities for placing 15 per cent of their cropland in the soil bank.

Soil bank cost of the Anderson bill presumably would not exceed the 217 million dollars already earmarked for corn payments this year.

Wilmington Upset 49-48 By Coal City

MAZON (JNS) — Top-seeded Wilmington, Coal Valley, Conference champion and winner of 22 out of 23 games, upset the second-seeded Coal City in a semi-final game Wednesday night by Coal City in a well fought game, 49-48.

The victory, which evened a four-game series between the two CVC rivals at two wins apiece, put the Coalers into the Friday night game against the top-seeded night's game vs. Pontiac semi-final.

DOUG GAUDRONNE's side shot with two seconds remaining in the game gave Coal City the victory. Dean Kelley, whose play was a big factor in Wilmington's rally from a seven-point deficit, had scored a basket which gave the Wildcats a 44-41 lead with 11 seconds to go.

Both teams played cautiously and the lead changed hands frequently throughout. Wilmington had a 10-8 first quarter lead but was behind at the half 23-22. Coal City added its bulge to 31-23 at the third quarter and then pulled away to a 37-30 advantage in the final round before the Wildcats rallied to tie the score at 40-40.

WILMINGTON went ahead for the first time in the second half at 43-41 and from then on the teams exchanged baskets.

Gaudronne's 21 points and Glenn Poglino's 12 led the victors. At half, Dale Wurzbarger, although held to two baskets in the second half, paced Wilmington with 18 points. Kelley got 15.

Oldster Spurns Parent-Protecting

"Why don't you write something about the dangers of over-protecting parents?" a young woman of 70 wants to know. Here's her point.

"Most parents today know that there is such a thing as over-protecting a child, but a lot of them, including my three sons and two daughters, don't seem to realize that you can over-protect parents, too."

"I'll admit I'm not young. I was 70 my last birthday. But I'm not ready to be put back into second childhood, either."

"Yet, with kind and loving intentions, my children are over-protecting me to the point where I either have to fight them or give in to being dependent on them. So far, I'm still fighting."

"They have all kinds of so-called good reasons why I should not live alone, even though I am perfectly capable of making a home for myself and much prefer to have my own home."

"They have decided that I've 'earned a rest'—even though I know I would be miserable if I couldn't find enough to do."

"NO MATTER WHAT kind of decision I have to make—personal or financial—they all jump in to give me advice. I am sure they think it is only shyness on my part that makes me feel I am perfectly capable of deciding things for myself."

"I have always made it a policy not to try to run my children's lives. Yet each of the five is actually trying to run mine. They can't seem to understand that I want and need to be independent as long as I am physically able. Can't you write something about over-protecting parents being as big a mistake as over-protecting children?"

"I don't need to. My correspondent has written it for me. And I suggest that she send a copy of her 'column' to each of her children."

Any other parent who feels he is being over-protected—might do the same. Chances are there are a lot of grown children who don't know that self-reliance is as important to the old as to the young.

The Worry Clinic

Love Can Easily Be Developed

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Rachel B. 28, is a very attractive school teacher.

"Dr. Crane, I met Rachel on a blind date just before I went to North Africa two years ago with the Air Corps," said a man named Jack, who is 31.

"And we corresponded for the two years I was gone from the States. We fell in love by means of our letters."

"But when I returned and called on Rachel, we both felt rather stiff and formal. And I don't believe either of us is ardently in love with the other."

"Yet I know we are admirably suited to each other. We have the same hobbies and religious outlook and racial background, etc."

"So what can I do to inject a greater 'spark' into our relations?"

"Our romance is too platonic. We are just good friends, but don't get butterflies in our stomachs when we meet."

There are two varieties of romance. One is love at first sight. The other is what we term "learned" love. In the latter case, you cast your net wide, but don't get butterflies in our stomachs when we meet."

MAYBE THEY attend a restaurant and enjoy a delicious meal. The gastronomic pleasure is then chalked up to the credit of the other companion.

Then they go to a movie. If it is exciting and romantic, that mood also becomes linked to the companion with whom they shared it.

In like manner, if they attend the opera or an art museum or go on a picnic, they will begin to develop pleasurable emotional memories that will inevitably be linked with each other.

This "conditioning" works in the field of love exactly as it does regarding foods.

Children may prefer hot dogs to steak and fried chicken.

They simply fall in love with hot dogs because the latter are linked with the childhood emotional delights of picnics, bonfires, circuses, ball games and other gala events.

"Do it yourself" is now the slogan for home owners. And many books and tool kits are being offered for sale to let you make your own household repairs.

Well, we psychologists recommend that you employ the same "do it yourself" strategy when it comes to building true romance. Pick your prospective mate by logical analysis. Use your head instead of your heart.

BE SURE YOU also think ahead to your future unborn children, for you cast their proxy votes when you pick their other parent.

Then fall in love afterwards, if need be, for you can take a total stranger and be ardently in love in less than three months if you will simply share many happy experiences together during that interval.

And always be liberal with honest compliments. For when you tell that person's voice on the telephone, "Full of life and fresh as the season's roses," you are personally paired off strangers and prescribed their social program in butterflies—in your stomach—and all they soon were ardent sweethearts all over just at the sound of hearts.

JOHNSON PHARMACY SAYS:

Lavoies Honored On Anniversary

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Everyday movements seem to neglect certain muscle areas. The front of the thighline is one of those muscular dead areas.

It is surprising that the muscles controlling this area are used in everyday movements such as rising from a sitting position, in the forward swing of the leg in walking, and tonically contracted in standing. But these thigh muscles, and for that matter the outer thigh muscles, get very little exercise in ordinary movements.

Here are specific toning measures: Let's start with an easy one, leg circling. Floradara style—

Position: Standing, erect, left hand on chair back for balance, right knee flexed.

Movement: With knee point, describe circles, circling for ten counts in one direction, then ten counts in the opposite direction. Repeat, using left knee.

Creole Sauce Peps Up Omelet

Wondering how to vary your omelet? Try this recipe. It's a variation on the classic omelet, but with a twist. The sauce is one that you can use in all basic cook books, and still, under the name of "Creole," it's a variation on the classic omelet, but with a twist.

The sauce is one that you can use in all basic cook books, and still, under the name of "Creole," it's a variation on the classic omelet, but with a twist.

If your family is fond of a big fluffy American-style omelet, we urge you to try the following recipe and serve the Creole Sauce with it. The omelet that results is the best of its type—it holds its shape well and yet is not too dry when you eat it.

And if English muffins are a favorite at your house, do use this suggestion for lunch: split, toast and butter the muffins; top each with a slice of cheddar cheese and broil until the cheese begins to melt; add poached eggs and Creole Sauce.

American Omelet
with Creole Sauce

Ingredients: 4 eggs (separated), 1/4 cup cold water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, Creole Sauce, parsley (if desired).

Method: Beat egg whites with water and salt until they hold peaks that stand straight up when the rotary beater (hand or electric) is slowly withdrawn. Without washing beater, beat egg yolks until they begin to get thick and are lemon-colored. Fold the egg yolks into the egg whites. Heat a 10-inch heavy iron skillet until drops of water sizzle on its surface when it is heated. Add butter to the hot skillet, increasing the heat a little and spreading it over the bottom and sides of the pan. Add the egg mixture; spread evenly with a spatula. Cook slowly until the eggs have puffed up and are slightly browned on the bottom; this should take about 3 minutes; to test, lift an edge of the omelet with a small spatula. Place in a slow (325-350) oven until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean—12 to 15 minutes. Cut part way through center at right angles to the pan handle; fold omelet over away from handle with a wide spatula. Slip from pan onto hot plate. Turn out easily, grasp the handle in your left hand and with your right hand hold the plate close to the top of the skillet. Lift up top of omelet with a wide spatula and spoon Creole Sauce over bottom; fold top down. Some of the sauce will run down appetizingly; serve with parsley sprigs if you like. Makes 4 servings.

Children Awarded $32,000 Over Death Of Parents

CHICAGO — Two children whose parents were asphyxiated while asleep in their North Side apartment were awarded $32,000 damages by a Circuit Court jury Wednesday.

The parents of Robert Urban, 6, and his sister, Carol, 6, were William, 28, an accountant, and Clara, 25, who died May 25, 1959. The verdict was against J. M. Michaelson, real-estate man and owner of the apartment building where the Urban family lived. The asphyxiation, it was alleged in the suit, was caused by a hot water heater and a defective chimney and Michaelson was accused of negligence. The verdict climaxed a 10-day trial.

The children have been adopted by a maternal aunt, Mrs. Mildred Ciskicki.

Adventures in Good Eating By Duncan Hines

Here's Special Pot Roast

Dorothy and Harry Daves decided to go into the restaurant business and opened their first White Turkey Inn just north of Danbury, Conn., right after the war. This stroke of fate led them to open other White Turkeys in New York City, where their three charming restaurants have become a success story. The restaurant's growth and popularity of these eating houses is due to the clever ideas and hard work of the Daves. They run their restaurants exactly as they would have them run if they themselves were the guests. Take their pot roast, for example. The White Turkeys in New York City make it taste almost like roast beef. It is cooked entirely on top of the stove, in a Dutch oven. Not an ounce of water is added to this cut of beef and every bit of flavor is retained.

LENTEN RECIPES SUGGESTED BY Mrs. Sanders include FISH PARISIENNE, pictured here. The annual search for meatless recipes begins with Lent. Among the other recipes included here are casseroles, fish moid and a soufflé.

Lent Can Inspire Use Of New Foods On Menu

By MARY JEAN HOUDÉ

Fish will receive special billing during the next meatless week and while fish is having its day, homemakers are stocking up on meatless recipes.

Mrs. Leo Sanders of 854 Bourbonnais Rd., president of the St. Anne Sodality of St. Rose Church, has chosen several meatless dishes from her recipe file. They are printed here.

Food can be versatile even during the Lenten season. Dairy products are ideal in Lenten menus. Milk, cheese, and cottage cheese are high in protein but also high in calcium and other minerals and vitamins. Dairy foods can also be combined with eggs, seafoods or vegetables to make highly nutritious main dishes, creamed soups and salads for the non-day or evening meal.

Lent need not be considered a difficult time for meal planners but an ideal opportunity to try some new and perhaps even more healthful foods.

Mrs. Sanders' recipes follow:

Fish Parisienne

1 1/2 pounds fish
1 tablespoon maitre d'hotel
Speck of salt
2 tablespoons butter
Speck of pepper
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 pound asparagus (cooked)
Wash fish with maitre d'hotel in shallow baking dish; sprinkle with salt. Bake in oven 25 degrees F. for 20 minutes. Melt butter in double boiler; stir in the flour, pepper and salt; stir until thoroughly blended and smooth. Add milk gradually, while stirring, and cook over boiling water until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Add parsley and lemon juice.

Arrange asparagus around fish. Cover with sauce. Place under broiler until lightly browned.

Tuna and Mushroom Casserole

4 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups tuna fish, coarsely flaked
3/4 cup salted, sliced mushrooms
2 1/2 cups milk
1 package (3 or 4 ounces) potato chips, crushed
2 cups tuna fish, coarsely flaked
3/4 cup salted, sliced mushrooms
Melt butter in double boiler; stir in flour and pepper; stir in milk gradually. Cook until smooth and thickened. Combine 1/2 of the crushed potato chips, the tuna, mushrooms and the sauce. Pour into a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole; top with the rest of the crushed potato chips. Bake in a moderately hot oven of 375 degrees F. for 30 minutes.

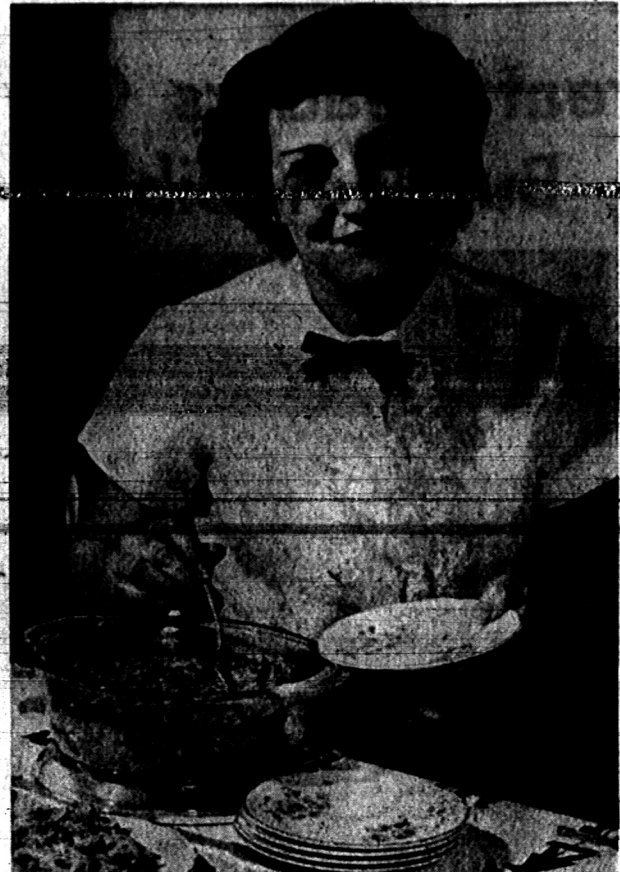

Tuna-Tomato Aspic

1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 cups tomato juice
7 ounces can tuna
1 cup chopped celery
1 teaspoon minced onion
Lettuce
2 hard cooked eggs
Combine sugar, salt, pepper and gelatin in quart sauce pan; add tomato juice; stir over medium heat until gelatin dissolves (about 5 minutes). Remove from heat; chill until thick and sirupy. Break tuna into flakes; mix with the tuna oil; then fold into gelatin mixture with celery and onions. Pour into 4 large individual molds or custard cups. Chill about 2 hours or until firm. Unmold in curls of lettuce; garnish with sliced eggs.

Cucumber Cream Dressing

1/2 cup cream
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup chopped cucumber
Combine all ingredients and gently mix with the cucumber.
Cheese and Cern Soufflé
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
1/2 cup grated cheese
cup drained whole kernel corn
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
2 eggs
Make a white sauce of the first

Few caterers have enjoyed such a quick and continued success as the Duncan Hines Gelatin Salad. The reason for such success is an unusual variety of well prepared, appetizing-looking food attractively displayed that tastes even better than it looks. This eating house creates unique combinations in the interesting dishes they serve. For instance, their Black Cherry Gelatin Salad will amaze you! The stuffed olives reclining within it creates a most pleasing taste sensation. To serve 8: Dissolve a package of lemon gelatin in 1 cup boiling water. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and 1 cup black cherry juice to the gelatin mixture and let cool. When the gelatin begins to set, add 1/2 cup stuffed olives—pitted, 1 cup black cherries—pitted, and 1 cup broken almonds. Stir well and pour into individual molds. BIRD WATCHING TIME

YAKIMA, Wash. — Bluebird trouble is plaguing the mallard up Wenah Creek.

Mrs. and Mrs. Carl Longmire were perplexed to find their mallard. Investigation showed a mating pair of bluebirds were kicking it out of their commandeered bungalow.

The Longmires fixed an emergency mailbox out of tin cans. They reckoned they could wait out the hatching period.

Five bluebirds, green, prospered and flew away.

But not the parents. Now there are four new eggs in the mailbox nest and the mallard still is using the tin can mailbox.

"Something like this," mused the patient Mrs. Longmire, "could go on all summer."

Fish, Beef Still Top Buys For Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With the advent of Lent, fish will force beef to share the bargain counter this week.

Fresh fish in fillets and steaks, frozen specialties and such canned items as tuna all will be featured at special prices at the meat counters.

Beef which has almost monopolized the center of the supermarket since the war, is not doing the best possible selling job, however. Round and sirloin steaks, chuck, pot roast, ground beef and stew beef all will be featured in some places.

Housewives who wish to vary their menus from fish will be happy to "fish" for a little cheaper this week, by two to four cents a pound. The surplus of beef is expected to continue for some time, too, so there's little likelihood of any immediate price rise.

To even things out a little for poultry farmers, chickens are up two to four cents a pound in some areas this week. Lamb, too, is two to four cents more expensive in scattered sections.

PORK PRICES, it is said, will hold above last year until November or December, when they may drop sharply.

Outstanding vegetable buys are potatoes from the Long Island Maine fall crops, Arizona and California lettuce, old cabbage from fall crop and such vegetables as beets, parsnips and turnips. Best fruit buys are still the citrus standbys, oranges and tangerines.

New potatoes from California and Florida, plus the old Florida ones, are rated as good buys, along with topped carrots, Western sweet corn from Florida, yellow onions and green leaf lettuce and spinach.

Valley sweet corn from Florida moved this week into the good buy class.

The housewife looking for something unusual may find a new item grown in California named a "peripartea." About the size of a large orange, the fruit is greenish in color now, but ripens to an orange-yellow shade and is supposed to taste like pineapple custard.

Find Alcohol Eases Pain Of Cancer

HOUSTON, Tex. — A method of relieving pain in dying cancer patients without the use of narcotics or brain operations was announced today by two Texas medical researchers.

The procedure requires the injection of a small amount of pure alcohol in the spinal cord. A single treatment can banish pain for three to six months, said Dr. Richard C. Hay and Dr. William Derrick of the M. D. Anderson Hospital here.

Dr. Hay and Dr. Derrick described the results of 31 cases to the 11th annual Symposium on "Fundamental Cancer Research." The meeting is sponsored by the University of Texas at Houston and the medical branch of the University of Texas.

Intrathecal pain is one of the worst features of the final stage of cancer. Narcotics relieve the agony for a while but eventually the patient becomes so tolerant of the drugs that they do little good. The alcohol treatment was given to five or all five of the cases, the physicians said.

Schools Asked To Push Air Education

WASHINGTON, D.C. — L. G. Derthick, U. S. commissioner of education, suggested today that America's schools stress aviation in their educational programs.

"We must study our educational system with an eye to making certain that our children grow up aware of the air potential of our world," Derthick said in a talk prepared for a conference of educators.

"Aviation is no longer a toy. It is a big business, military weapon, and pleasant pastime rolled up in to one great science."

The days are gone forever when variety meats were only occasionally served to the family. Variety meats have graduated into a class of demanded items in the meat retailer's display case.

Especially prominent in this field of variety meats is liver, known because it's a rich source of iron, the blood builder.

It is well to remember that beef, pork, veal and lamb liver are all excellent sources of essential food nutrients. Pork liver is especially rich in iron and the B vitamins.

Liver is so important to adults as well as youngsters because it helps to retard listlessness, a feeling that often accompanies anemia.

With the number of ways liver can be prepared, it's a boon to the homemaker who wish to give the spring meals in their homes a changeover.

Liver is especially adaptable to braising, broiling, pan-frying and deep-fat frying. French-fried liver strips will spark any appetite.

Children will readily go for ground liver dishes. When preparing such a recipe, be sure to cook the liver slowly on both sides in 2 to 3 tablespoons lard or drippings for about 8 minutes. You'll find this makes grinding much easier.

Cannons Used To Blast Avalanches Out Of Rockies

DENVER — Artillery shells fired from a standard 75mm. cannon are helping defeat the avalanches and snowslides in the Colorado Rockies.

The artillery also has an important part in keeping winter traffic moving over 21 Colorado mountain passes, most of them 10,000 feet or more above sea level.

The 75mm. shells knock down potential avalanches before they can roar, uncontrolled, down mountain slopes to spread death and destruction.

THE COLORADO HIGHWAY Department is particularly proud of its record so far this year. No travelers have been lost, no one has been killed because of a slide and no one hurt.

Veteran members of the Highway Department staff whose memories go back to 1921 say the weeks of Jan. 4-10 and Jan. 24-26 were the most for snow slides in the Rockies.

During those two critical weeks this year ideal avalanche conditions prevailed — heavy snow and high wind.

IN ONE 24-HOUR PERIOD Jan. 8-10 there were 40 slides. All were triggered, either by nature or by 75mm. shells, without causing serious damage.

All avalanches seem to come from the same place — the vibration of a truck. Sometimes a chunk of snow dropping from a tree at the right spot and the right time will send tons of snow hurtling down a mountain.

The Highway Department thinks that its continuous program of avalanche study and control, plus an improved warning system, has helped keep the roads open.

TRUE, SOME HEAVY TRUCKS were trapped in deep snow, newly fallen and in slides. At least two trucks still are missing after being hit by a series of slides on Wolf Creek Pass at 10,850 feet in southwestern Colorado. Drivers, however, had either left their trucks before the slides hit or were able to climb out of the slide to safety.

To the east, several narrow-gauge freight trains on a branch line of the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad were trapped at 10,825-foot Cummins Pass near the Colorado-New Mexico border.

Industry Wary Of Investing In Foreign Lands

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Many an American taxpayer getting up the cash for the year after year series of "what-ifs" that call for billions of dollars to solve the puzzle of "How Long, Oh Lord!"

An answer comes today from a citizen's blue ribbon foreign aid advisory committee in its report to President Eisenhower.

For a long time to come.

But, the seven-man committee headed by Benjamin F. DeLoach, former U. S. steel chairman, urges the government to try to cut its spending both here and abroad.

And it says greater stress should be put on encouraging more normal commercial trade between nations — and especially on increasing private investment overseas as far as possible to U. S. government grants or loans.

This in turn, however, raises two more problems bothering businessmen.

Increasing foreign trade often brings opposition from American manufacturers who feel they will be hurt.

For an example you need go back no further than Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal from the company that built it and had treaty rights to it for 12 more years.

American corporations — particularly the big oil companies with large holdings in the Middle East — were quick to point out that flooding of treaty and property rights was no way to encourage further investment abroad.

The Fairless report says the U. S. government should increase its efforts to induce foreign countries to make investments by private U. S. capital attractive.

It suggests further that Washington provide "more equitable taxation of foreign business income."

THE REPORT SAYS that the U. S. must go on spending at the current rate until economics can be made eventually — largely through encouragement of trade and investment. Last year, the report adds, total foreign aid, including spending for U. S. civilian and armed forces overseas, came to eight billion dollars.

With the taxpayer in mind, the Fairless report urges the president to try to reverse the trend of government spending both here and abroad. Too great a drain on the taxpayer could undermine national security which, in turn, would imperil our defense.

It's businessmen's opinion that private industry could do a lot of the foreign aid job — given the right investment climate.

ASHKUM (JNS)—The Karion Class of the Ashkum Methodist Church met Sunday evening in the church basement.

Carroll Anderson, president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Marvin Meyer, secretary, read the minutes. The group discussed selling candy to raise money.

Games were played, with prizes awarded. Mr. and Mrs. Meyer were in charge of entertainment, and served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers will be in charge of entertainment and refreshments next month.

Mrs. MAX SIEZEL of Ft. Atkinson, Wis., Mrs. Harry Neipert of Lake Mill, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoffel of Oak Park, Ill., Jimmy Buckner of Gilman, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sprenberg of St. Anna and Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Gerdes of Fairbury spent Sunday with Mrs. Gertrude Gerdes.

Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dirks and family were the Misses Ruth and Carol Remick and Wilbur Wrede of Melrose Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Gurth of South Bend, Ind., spent the weekend with the latter's mother, Mrs. Harriet Frum, and sister, Miss Catherine Frum.
