New Rocket Fuel Revealed By Company

WASHINGTON (JNS)—A big new rocket engine, using solid instead of hard-to-handle liquid fuel for powering an intermediate range ballistic missile, has been developed and put under test.

This was disclosed today in a routine annual report to stockholders by the General Tire Co., which seemed to contain considerably more information about some weapons than has been announced by the Defense Department. The report said the new rocket motor went into its testing stage last October.

THE MONITOR was designed by the company's Aerojet-General Corp. and, said the report, is "the largest solid propellant power plant ever used in any ballistic missile." The motor was developed for the "Jupiter" ICBM, the company reports.

However, Army experts told a newsmen that Jupiter ICBM program does not now include use of a solid instead of liquid fuel. This appeared to indicate the new rocket engine may be intended for use by the Navy in its Polaris ICBM. The Navy started out with the Army on joint development of the Jupiter, but a few months ago announced plans to go ahead with its own project.

1958 Cage Outlook At Bradley Rosy

By GIL BRENNER

The old cry of "Wait 'til next year" may be more than just hope for Bradley-Bourbonnais High School basketball fortunes.

The Boller-makers, who posted a 19-7 record during the past season, will have almost their entire squad back, not to mention a couple of promising sophomores and perhaps an ace or two in the hole.

"Let us say," Coach Bert Nagler aptly commented in answer to a question about next year's prospects, "that we have a little feeling of optimism about next year."

Bradley coaches, players and fans, of course, are still of the opinion that only the state championship is within their grasp. The Boller-makers are in the first game of the regional tournament key at the Boller-makers from seeing second action and perhaps a little more this year. Emmie, incidentally, is still on crutches with his injury.

Be that as it may, there is no denying the fact that the Boller-makers have lost two of their best players this season, they being Bob McCarty and Jerry Sikes. McCarty was started in several games during the season, but for the most part was used as the man who came off the bench to score a rally when it was needed. Sikes was in a substitute role throughout the season, except for one game when he started. McCarty accounted for 122 points during the season and Sikes 113.

THAT MEANS THAT the returning players include juniors Don Roberts, Harold Emme, the Huguenots Larry and Jerry, Bob Pettit, Carl Beck, Frank Mulligan, Bob Mulligan and Dennis Bunnell. Although the sophomore crop is thin it will include Mel Pace who was on the varsity squad last season, Al Pachauer, Dale McClure and Mel Caise, among others.

Right now it would appear that the fine freshmen squad will probably be kept together as sophomores next year to pick up where the experience and be ready to move in as a unit two years from now. There are several factors which may develop to such an extent during the next few months to force their way into the talented junior group. Great assets of the freshmen is their size and it's not telling just how tall some of the youngsters will get. The group, for example, includes 6-3 George Wakat, 6-3 Dennis Gillford, 6-3 Steve Crews, 6-1 Jack Childs, 6-1 Dick Trout and 6-0 Bill Scavally. The "little guys" include 5-9 Keith Cromwell, 5-7 Porter Latham, 5-6 Dick Emerson and 5-5 Jerry Dressler.

Tops Bloom In Final Seconds At Hinsdale

By HERB JANNUSCH

It was generally conceded today by the 4,000-plus onlookers who witnessed Elgin's 53-52 victory over Bloom in Tuesday night's supersection game at Hinsdale that the game was a thriller. Only one of Bloom's numerous mistakes gave Elgin its chance to pull ahead in the final seconds. Only one of Bloom's numerous mistakes gave Elgin its chance to pull ahead in the final seconds.

Forddy Thinks Spartans Can Beat Tar Heels

EAST LANSING, Mich. (U.P.)

"Someone's going to snap that winning streak. It might just as well be us," said Forddy Anderson, confident young coach of the Michigan State basketball team. "This year I'll be able to see the Tar Heels' signals for the first time in years."

Rush, who suffers from astigmatism, won 17 games in 1952, his best season, and four other years he finished with 13 victories. The 31-year-old who is 6-feet-5-inches finished with a 13-10 mark last year.

ANDERSON is an oddity in the coaching fraternity in that he's an incurable optimist. He needed to be, the way things were going for his basketball team early this season. At one point, State lost four straight games, three of them in Western in the closing seconds. Two by one point each.

Anderson was muttering about taking a canoe out on the Red Cedar River that flows through the Michigan State campus and kicking a hole in the bottom.

TO ADD TO HIS troubles, guard Jack Quigley, State's leading scorer, broke training rule and was left behind on a road trip to punishment.

Then Michigan State started its recent climb from the cellar to the top of the standings in rugged Western Conference play. It won in straight, climactic fashion by beating Indiana to share the Big Ten title with the all-weather Hoosiers.

Redleg Rookie Gets In Home Run Swing

ORLANDO, Fla. (U.P.)

Tighe Blasts Tigers' Lack Of Hustle

LAKELEND, Fla. (U.P.)

"There's an explosion coming on this club," said manager Jack Tighe of the Detroit Tigers. "There are some guys who have been on this ball club a long time, guys who are getting a lot of money and aren't earning it."

Tighe, the usually easy-going "nice guy" who was picked to replace Bucky Harris and put some "fire" into the Tigers, hit the fuse after Detroit's 1-0 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday.

Is Presidential Aspirant Williams Shaking Off CIO?

WASHINGTON (UP)—Reports from Michigan indicated that Gov. G. Mennen Williams is making motions to rid himself of the CIO label.

A nationally-advertised show of independence from his friends in the United Automobile Workers would seem to be a pre-condition for any serious Williams campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960.

The UAW, a dominant force in the Michigan Democratic party, was one of the two dominant unions in the CIO before the AFL-CIO merger. Walter P. Reuther, the last CIO president, is president of the UAW and a vice president of the AFL-CIO.

Williams has made some recent judicial appointments without consulting Reuther. Although Reuther was understood to support the appointments, he was reported to have been consulted.

In Michigan, Williams' action was interpreted as a move to show he was not the handmaiden of the CIO, even though he still would welcome its support.

Although Williams' political plans have not been announced, he is expected to run for a sixth two-year term as governor next year and is regarded as an aspirant for the presidency in 1960.

His appeal would be to the left wing of the Democratic party—those who want to go on from where the New Deal and the Fair Deal stopped. His nomination would mean the party was swinging to the left.

WITH PRESIDENT Eisenhower's program firmly identified with the middle of the road (a little to the left of it to some Republicans), a substantial segment of the Democratic party believes it must go left. This line of argument holds that the party must take an aggressive line to woo back the

2 Proposals Added To The Banking Bill

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Tuesday approved two legislative proposals resulting from the state auditor embezzlement scandal in Illinois last year.

One proposal would require disclosure of bank stock ownership. The other would limit contributions by banks and bankers to political candidates.

The two proposals, both approved by voice vote, were adopted as amendments to an omnibus banking bill under debate in the Senate.

They were regarded as direct outgrowths of the $2.5 million embezzlement scandal which sent former Illinois State Auditor Orville Hodge to jail.

THE STOCK ownership amendment would require bank stockholders of record to report the real owners—those receiving the dividends—in each case in which an individual held 5 per cent or more of the bank's stock.

The other amendment would forbid political contributions to any individual candidate for a job having authority to invest public funds. The ban would apply to banks or other financial institutions insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. or the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp. It also would cover their officers and directors.

Tax Collections Total $42.5 Million

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—State tax collections on major taxes totaled $42,588,494 in February, the Revenue Department reported today.

The total was $2,118,601 higher than for February, 1956, but compared with a total collection of $42,261,800 collected in January this year.

The February collections included $22,638,246 from the sales tax, $12,465,865 from the use tax, $2,550,397 from the cigarette tax, $2,115,064 in liquor taxes, $1,666,645 in gas taxes and $1,230,416 in public utility taxes.

Killer, Found Sane, Goes Berserk

Screaming and covering his face with his shirt, Stephen Nash is led back to his cell at Los Angeles Tuesday by deputies after a jury found him legally sane and thus doomed him to die.

Nash, who was convicted for the slaying of Larry Rice, 14, confessed to a total of 11 killings. (Unifax)

Postmen Motorized

DECATUR, Ga. (UP)—Postmen are making their rounds on three-wheeled "mailsters" today in this first city in the nation to get a 100 per cent motorized mail delivery.

With a fleet of 18 of the partly enclosed motor scooters the postmen are making all residential rounds on wheels in this bustling Atlanta suburb for the first time.

The Post Office considers this as 100 per cent mechanization although much of the business district will continue to be covered on foot.

The compactly built "mailster" has an electric starter, protection from the weather, directional signals, and windshield wipers.

IT CARRIES 500 POUNDS of mail, thus saving countless minutes spent by foot-borne mailmen in returning for additional pickups at the post office and storage boxes.

"A carrier serving a typical route of 450 stops can now cover approximately 30 per cent more in his 'mailster'," Gary Wilmer, assistant regional post office director, said.

"These little cars will stop a lot of dog bites and sore feet," Postman J. L. Reeves added.

The Post Office Department has 1,500 "mailsters" on order from a Lincoln, Neb., firm for use in the Southeast, the Southwest and California.

A few of the motorized mail carriers will be assigned to northern states for testing in snow and cold weather.

County Officers Elected At Special Meeting Of WC

New officers of the Kankakee County Federation of Women's Clubs were elected at the annual county meeting held Tuesday at the Civic Auditorium.

The Kankakee Woman's Club was hostess for the event and members from the Momence, Chesham and Manteno clubs were guests.

Officers elected included Mrs. Thomas Z. Jones of Momence, president; Mrs. L. E. Hilsenrath of Manteno, vice president; and Mrs. William Winterroth of Chesham, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Edward J. Boulger, Kankakee County president, was in charge of the meeting. She introduced the special guests, Mrs. Marvin Craig of Onarga, president of the 18th District of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Thomas Baird, second vice president of the 18th District; Mrs. John Jackson, former county president; Mrs. Harding P. Fedde, district chairman of finance and Mrs. T. R. Houde, president of the Kankakee Junior Woman's Club, junior editor of the Illinois Club Woman and member of the district press committee.

MRS. CRAIG TOLD the group that the plans which are made by the federation officers are put into effect by the local clubs. She said that scholarships are given for music, art, cancer research, occupational therapy, conservation and Indian work.

"The scope of our work is wide," Mrs. Craig stated and listed achievements in the fields of education, veterans, mental health and the community, as being the most outstanding.

"The newest project for the IFWC," she continued "is the Puerto Rican Community Center located on the near south side of Chicago where a population of 20,000 Puerto Ricans is confined within a six block area."

She announced that program auditions are set for March 29 in Bloomington; a legislative tour is planned for April 30 to Springfield and the 18th District convention will be April 10 in Onarga starting with a coffee hour from 9 to 10 a.m.

The latter event will feature W. J. Goreham, president of the Illinois Educational Association as speaker. Mrs. Irvin J. Hooley, president of the IFWC and Mrs. Vernon E. Barnes, vice president director of the central region, will also appear.

IN LISTING THE main activities of the Manteno Woman's Club Mrs. Luther Meyer, president, cited its support of all federation projects and all national health drives and the addition of assistance to brain research, arthritis and rheumatism foundations this year.

The club honored faculty members of the Manteno schools at a reception in September; it sponsors two troops of Girl Scouts and Brownies; has given a ward party at the Manteno State Hospital; sponsors the Sub-Debs fan organization of 45 high school girls that carries on a program similar to the Women's Club and is now working toward a tea to be given at the dedication of the new wing of Hillman Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Lloyd Burling of Chesham, president, said her club has been stressing the cancer dressing project in addition to taking part in all federation projects. This year members contacted local organizations for CARE donations which were sent in under the sponsorship of the Woman's Club. It also sponsored a Kankakee State Hospital party.

Mrs. Paul Sweeney, Momence WC president, reported her club's participation in planning and preparing Manteno State Hospital parties through the year; taking part in community activities and supporting all federation projects.

THE MAJOR PROGRAM for the year for the Kankakee Junior Woman's Club was cited by Mrs. Claude as the civil defense program. She said JWC members will act as social workers for civil defense under the official CD department of Civilian Auxiliaries.

She also reported that the club has contributed $100 to the Junior Illinois Federation project, scholarship for teachers of exceptional children and $25 to the Mabel F. Brock scholarship fund as a district project.

Two major camp scholarships have been purchased by the club and donations have been made to all major local fund drives and all federation projects.

A permanent addition to the practices of the JWC is the establishment this year of the Alice Weeks Achievement Award. A Junior club member will be honored for her contributions in church, community and club.

A CLUB NEWSPAPER was initiated this year with features on members and news stories on club projects, and a goal of 50 new members was reached during January by the membership chairman, Mrs. Burling gave the meditation.

Mrs. Albert Neff, president of the hostess club welcomed the guests and Mrs. Sweeney gave the response. Mrs. Clarence Conrad gave the registration report.

The Worry Clinic
Extrovert Attention To Banish Fear, Misery
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Verna W. is a discolored high school senior. "Dr. Crane, I can't go to school," Verna began, and started to cry. "Nobody likes me and I am ashamed even to attend school parties for I know the boys will make fun of me."

"For you can see the fuzz on my lip! Why, it is awful! It looks like a mustache!"
"Oh, can't something be done to get rid of that?"
These physical blemishes assume monstrous size to inexperienced and self-centered youth. So one of the first antidotes to help teenagers get a wider perspective. For then their former mountain may become a molehill. "I'll help you," I agreed, "but tomorrow I am going out to Hines Hospital and I want you to go along with me."

She assented. So we visited the wards where brave boys during the last war are now hospitalized. Plastic surgeons were doing a valiant job of trying to remodel his features by using cartilage from his ribs and skin grafts.

He told us about the most recent operation on his face. "Dr. Crane, how does it look now?" he asked eagerly, hopefully. I rubbed my fingers across the new skin graft and told him it looked fine.

Before we left his room, Verna saw the boy reach over to his radio and turn the knob with his teeth so he could then listen to a sports broadcast.

"Verna, didn't you tell me yesterday that life wasn't worth living because of that night fuz on your upper lip?" I asked as we headed back to my office.

She was crying. For her attention had been extorted to that maimed soldier at Hines Hospital. Her tears were for him.

Indeed, one of the great benefits of religion and its "Compliment Club" is to force attention off our own selfish ego and turn it outward upon others.

Lately, shy and classless folks usually are very selfish. For they keep themselves in the focus of their attention.

They keep dwelling upon their own misfortunes and feeling sorry for themselves.

FEARFUL PEOPLE are also selfish, for the very fact they are afraid, means the spotlight is on SELF.

A mother bird is also afraid of a cat as long as she is concerned with her own safety.

Advice For Hostess: Be Kind To People

When House Beautiful magazine asked a number of successful hostesses for pointers on how to give good parties, one responded with words of advice any woman might well remember. She said: "My formula is too simple. Be kind to people if you want them to enjoy themselves."

Too many hostesses worry too much about having something "different" to eat, having the house look like a magazine illustration and having a centerpiece the women guests will rave over.

Will the meal be served promptly? Some hostesses dread serving so long guests begin to wonder if they were invited for cocktails instead of for dinner.

IF THE MEAL is a buffet, does every guest have a place to put his plate? Few persons can be thoroughly relaxed and at ease while eating standing up or managing a plate on their laps.

Can the hostess keep the big talkers from entirely monopolizing the conversation?

Can she manage, somehow, to have a few personal words with every guest? If she can't the party is too large. It may enable her to "pay back a lot of obligations," but it doesn't mean any more than that to her guests.

A party is primarily food, or an impressive background, or a scintillating hostess.

Can she manage, somehow, to have a few personal words with every guest? If she can't the party is too large. It may enable her to "pay back a lot of obligations," but it doesn't mean any more than that to her guests.

Family Solidarity Improving

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor
Viewers-with-alarm might take some comfort from present evidence of a strictly wholesome revolution in the pattern of American family life.

Family solidarity is on the up-grade, and Mom, Pop and the children are more likely to be doing things together these days than at any time in the last generation.

PROBABLY it all began with television, providing a new means of recreation at home.

Having started there, the family participation routine has gone further. There has been an increase in the sale of the kind of parties games in which all members of the family may take part—quiz games, billiards and baseball and football games in particular.

And recently another American phenomenon has become evident in big and little towns throughout the land—shopping night.

How can a gal appear attractive if her make-up doesn't have something to do with the family? Consider harmony, too, when you select fashion accessories.

Don't be like a gal we know who goes on the first hat her hand finds in the closet—be it red, blue, black or yellow, without regard to how it will look with the outfit she is wearing.

We remember seeing her once in a brilliant turquoise felt skirt, with a scarlet red cummerbund, white blouse and gold hat. It was a bright, but far from beautiful, outfit.

All too often, you see a gal wearing make-up base that's darker than her skin. It shows up around the hairline and eye-sockets.

Italy Was Never Like This

Immigrants Love American Way Of Life

DETROIT (AP)—It didn't take the Rotondo family long to strike firm roots in a new country.

They arrived from Italy more than two years ago under somewhat special circumstances — on the 10,000th entry visa issued to Italians under the 1953 Refugee Act.

Today they consider Detroit their home town, and they love the American way of life.

You call at their home in a comfortable middle-class area. GIOVANNI ROTONDO presents his wife Elia and their daughters Maria, 14, and Josephine, 10.

You ask them how they like the United States by this time. "Mi piace!" Rotondo says. Mrs. Rotondo smilingly nods agreement.

Learning a new language has been a problem for the parents. The girls learned English in a few months. They act as interpreters.

"We can't speak English yet, but we're trying," says Rotondo. "It just takes time. And just think, Maria makes an A in just English at the parochial school."

Back in Italy Rotondo was a substantial citizen in the village of San Angelo near Cassino. He lived on a farm but worked part time as a construction supervisor.

He served as a mayor and also as local secretary of the Christian Democratic party.

"I like it better here," says Rotondo. "In Italy, I worked practically nothing. In this country, I have an opportunity to earn money and get ahead."

But it is better that they stay at home with their children. What has been the biggest problem? "It's not the language."

"We can make our way around the city all right," she said, adding laughingly. "The main problem is money."

"I would like to have enough money to buy our own home," she says. The Rotondos are living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vettiglio, in the upstairs apartment of a cozy duplex brick house owned by Vettiglio.

In the downstairs apartment are Vettiglio's son Anthony, his wife and their two children—Tommy, 6, and Susan, 2.

IT'S ONE BIG happy family and there's a lot of visiting back and forth.

The Rotondo apartment is furnished like many American homes with the divan opposite the inevitable TV set.

Life is easier in this country for Mrs. Rotondo. Back on the farm in Italy, she had to get up at 4 a.m. to milk the cows.

Recently a Kankakee man said he had so much distress, due to gas, that he used to feel like a swollen balloon after every meal. Had headaches daily. Was terribly rundown. This man is one of hundreds in this city who now praise S-Y-S-T-O-N-E. He states he was amazed at the results.

NEW YORK (NPA)—This is the age of do-it-yourself. This is the only thing an adventurous man won't tackle in doing his own suit. But alteration tailors in the better suit shops will tell you that the average man today knows a lot about how a suit should look, even if he can't make one.

Correct fit is vital to good appearance. An expensive suit looks shoddy if it doesn't fit precisely.

Here are some tips, prepared by manufacturers, on how a suit should look:

THE JACKET COLLAR should lie close to the neck and leave room for about three-eighths of an inch of the shirt collar to show above it.

Armholes should be deep enough to permit easy movement.

Sleeves should be comfortably full, slightly tapered to the cuff, and should be short enough so that about one-half inch of the shirt cuff shows when the arms are at the sides.

The coat should be full, with enough material for comfort. It should hang easily and full from the shoulders, both front and back. The trouser fit depends on precise measurement of waist, inseam and seat. They should have a slight taper and smooth, unpleeked cuffs.

To make sure they're comfortable, test them standing, sitting and walking.

And wear whatever you usually carry in your pockets while being fitted.

WASHINGTON (UP)—American farmers are expected to produce a bumper crop on the smallest acreage in 40 years.

The Agricultural Department estimated that the basis of land for planting intentions as of March 1; this year's crop will be grown on 334 million acres—12 million acres or 3.5 per cent under the 1956 acreage which was 346 million acres.

Planted in 1956, 1957 and 1958, farmers planted 331 million, but produced a crop far off the 1956 total.

The record official acreage for 1956 was 346 million acres, counting on a crop production comparable to the acreage reduction in 1955. The 1956 crop was 346 million acres, increasing their yields on reduced acreage with better types of seed, better fertilizers and other advances in agricultural technology. They have proved it before.

The 1956 official acreage was 346 million acres, or 1.5 per cent over the 1955 official acreage, or 1.5 per cent over the 1956 official acreage.

THE PARTMENT reported prospective crop plantings "this year at 74.4 million acres. If yields approximate the 1951 average, production would amount to 2.8 billion bushels.

The intended planted acreage is 74.4 million acres, a long stretch, dating back to President Cleveland's first term when the federal government began to provide persons to feed. But the prospec-

Oats acreage is expected to be 43.5 million, 3 per cent less than last year and only slightly less than 1956.

Barley may be planted on 16 million acres, up nearly 9 per cent from 1955, but only slightly more than 1956.

SOYBEAN ACREAGE at 22.7 million acres, up 3.5 per cent from 1955, but only slightly more than 1956.

Sorghums may total 26.5 million acres, up 1 per cent from 1955 and 75 per cent above 1956.

Hay acres at 72.8 million acres, up 1 per cent from 1955 and 2 per cent from 1956.

TOBACCO AT 1,132,000 acres is 1 per cent less than 1956, and nearly one-third less, than the average.

But the total acreage at 14 million is up less than 1 per cent from 1956 while the prospective acreage for the late summer and fall crops is down 1.5 per cent from

Farmers Almost Exhaust State Pine Seedlings

Orders from farmers for pine seedlings from the two state nurseries have risen at least 25 per cent in the past year, said Glen D. Palmer, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

A year ago on March 15, the forestry division had received orders for 14 million seedlings of white and mulletinae. On March 15, the orders had passed the 14 million mark, but the staff was unable to keep up with the daily batch of mail.

The state supply of red pine and mulletinae was exhausted early in April and the supplies of red gum, tulip and shortleaf pine are already exhausted.

E. E. Nuttall, state forester, said it has been several years since the state has completely sold out of major species.

FRESNO, Calif. — Secretaries of Agriculture Ezra Taft Hootch and a press conference Tuesday said it is futile to try to hold down prices of agricultural products.

Emphasis should be on research for new markets and new products, he said. Our problem is to learn to live with abundance.

He advocated sale of farm products in any amounts available, communist countries a provided the "favorable" market.

He said the government should not interfere with the free market, adding dealing with Russia and Russia should be eliminated.

live acreage for 1957, is only 33 million bushels of corn, whereas in 1953 35 million bushels of the second largest crop in history — was harvested. Corn production has grown on an acreage 11 per cent smaller than average.

Illinois Extension report indicated that many farmers are reducing their acreage on such basic crops as corn, soybeans, wheat, and tobacco, but are increasing the use of crop land for other purposes.

The report on soil bank participation showed that about 20 million acres of cropland have been placed in a soil bank acreage reserve and about 3.5 million acres have been put in to the conservation reserve.

It was estimated that about 23.5 million acres on which farmers will receive government payments for soil bank participation.

The soil bank acreage is almost double the 12 million acres they have been planting in the average year from the overall acreage total.

SPECIFIC PLANTING Intention for crop plantings.

Spring wheat plantings may total only 32.8 million acres, the lowest in 10 years, and soybeans smaller than 1956 and one-third smaller than average.

Farm Bureau To Farm Bureau To Hold Meeting In Springfield Monday

Farm Bureau leaders from around the state—an expected 1,000—will meet in Springfield Monday for the annual spring leadership gathering.

The conference will start at 8 a. m. Monday at the Hotel Hamilton auditorium. Otto Steffy, president of the Illinois Agricultural Union, will preside.

Purpose of the conference is to report to the leaders on current farm problems and to encourage them to listen to comments and suggestions from the farmers and the Farm Bureau members who work in the county level.

Attention will be given to attendance at the annual Farm Bureau and extension service. Steffy will report on a meeting with legislators and representatives of other farm organizations on the progress made in following a memorandum meeting in culture Ezra Tatt Benson issued in 1954.

That memorandum he said

In red pine, the orders up to March 15 last year totaled 1,000,000 bushels, or 20 per cent of the 5,000,000 bushels of red pine lumber which has been ordered. Even white pine, which normally runs well below 100,000 bushels, has been ordered to the bottom of the storehouse, he said.
