Senate, House Battle Over Defense Slash

House Expected To Vote On $33½ Billion Measure Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—The battle over a proposed $33½ billion dollar slash in new defense funds was waged in both House and Senate today.

House leaders opened debate on a $33,542,000 defense money measure carrying some 2½ billion less than President Eisenhower requested for the fiscal year starting July 1. No votes were expected until next week, perhaps Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Chairman Chavez (D-NM) called top Army leaders before his Senate Appropriations subcommittee. Secretary of the Army Brooke and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, were lined up to present the Army's case for more money.

"We are not going to jeopardize the national defense," Chavez told newsmen in advance of the hearing.

"I'm rather partial to air power but I'll have to be satisfied they need every penny."

Sen. Eisenhower (D-La.) said in a separate interview he is convinced defense agencies could absorb the 2½ billion dollar cut recommended by the House Appropriations Committee "and more if they just wanted to do it."

While-Dispatched Secretary of Defense Wilson joined Thursday in the fight to avoid major cuts in defense outlay.

He agreed the services could take more than a billion dollars of the proposed cut, classifying this portion a bookkeeping matter. But he insisted repeatedly that the services should be cut. Otherwise, he said, this country's missile, aircraft and warship programs would be at- tended adversely.

Completion Of Belt Route Awaiting Federal Action

THIS VIEW IS LOOKING southward from Route 17 overpass where the Kankakee Belt Route will approach from the Kankakee River. The bridge is visible at right of the Kankakee River. This is part of 3¼ miles of Belt Route construction which officials say is awaiting word from Washington on right-of-way.

The go-ahead of 3¼ miles of Kankakee Belt Route construction still is awaiting action in Washington.

The section extends from the Kankakee River to Soldier Creek about two miles north of Route 17, and includes 2,300 feet of new four-lane pavement on E. Court street.

Triangle Construction Co. of Kankakee submitted the low bid of $1,147,877 at a state letting on Jan. 22.

Early in February, the State Highway Division said it was asking the federal government to file "quick take" action in federal court to acquire three tracts of right-of-way still needed for the improvement.

Several weeks ago state officials said the quick take procedure had been cleared through Washington and was in the Department of Commerce.

"They say that it will go from there to the Department of Justice, which will file the suits through the U. S. district attorney at Danville."

State highway officials say they have no further word on the case, and the U. S. attorney's office at Danville said it has not yet received the papers from Washington.

Meanwhile, a settlement has been made on one of the right-of-way tracts, it was reported locally. That is a 157 foot strip owned by Paul Hattie and Wally C. Deneen in front of 2003 E. Court St.

Ruin Embassy, 9 Americans Hurt

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese mobs wrecked the United States embassy and other buildings, burned embassy cars and beat up at least nine Americans in a series of riots today. The Nationalist government imposed limited martial law tonight.

The rioters, inflamed over the acquittal of an American soldier by a U. S. Army court-martial for the slaying of a Chinese peeping tom, overran and wrecked even the Taipei police station.

They also smashed the offices of the United States Information Service and attempted to storm the headquarters of the U. S. military advisory group.

In Washington, Nationalist Chinese Ambassador Hollington K. Tong called on the State Department and expressed his nation's "profound regret" for the incident which he described as "awful."

"He said he felt the incident was 'just an outbreak of emotion' and there was 'no deep anti-American sentiment' in Formosa."

Nationalist police stood by without acting when a few hundred persons started demonstrating in front of the embassy. But this time they were not to be taken in by the rioters.

Belatedly, the police moved in to stop the rioting and arrested a number of demonstrators. Their friends stormed the police station in an effort to free them.

Two Chinese were killed when police opened fire during the attack on the police station. One was identified as Wei Maipao, 26, a Chinese student from San Francisco. It was not definite, but he was believed to be an American citizen. Another student from San Francisco, Ling Kwei-chi, 22, was seriously injured.

The government tonight declared martial law in all areas where American installations and homes are located.

All Americans were advised to stay off the streets. Those who were trapped in the embassy when the attacks started were beaten by the rioters. An embassy official reported later that they were removed to safety. He said their injuries were not believe serious.

U.S. Would Ban H-Bomb To All But 3 Powers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today said it would negotiate with Russia a disarmament treaty which would ban atomic weapons for all except the three powers that already have them. They are the United States, Russia and Britain.

This was reported on excellent authority today as Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's disarmament negotiator, carried to Washington a round of cable-net-level conferences on the next American move to be made in the disarmament talks.

Stassen was to take part later today in a meeting at the State Department with Secretary Dulles and top officials of the Defense Department, Atomic Energy Commission, and other key agencies.

He plans to leave Sunday afternoon for the resumption of London negotiations Monday. In succeeding days there, he will present the new U. S. decision to the representatives of Russia, Britain, France and Canada, who make up the United Nations Disarmament Committee.

Stassen took part Thursday in a meeting of the National Security Council under President Eisenhower's direction. He and Dulles later reported to Senate leaders on the status of negotiations and on the developing United States policy.

Stassen told the senators this country is involved in a "serious negotiation" on what he called a "first step agreement" for limited disarmament.

One of his aims in talking with the leaders obviously was to seek support for the administration's plan as they develop so that if and when a treaty is actually achieved, it will have a good prospect for winning the two-thirds Senate vote necessary for American ratification.

Meanwhile, reports available in Washington disclosed the following key points among provisions which would be included in the treaty:

In addition to the rise in food costs, prices of many other major groups of consumer goods and services also rose in April. Chicago's index rose 1.1 percent, the most since May 29. This was previously negotiated.

Opportunity Days In Full Swing

Shoppers in the Kankakee area began taking advantage of "Opportunity Days" bargains as stores opened here this morning. Approximately 75 merchants are participating in this special two-day sale program, sponsored by the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Thrifty customers are being drawn not only by marked-down prices, but also by the chance to check out the latest in the new department store, which will be opened on E. Court street in front of the Orr building.

A call to several downtown merchants at 11 a.m. revealed that registration for the free gifts was quite heavy, beginning as soon as doors opened.

According to the manager of one of the stores, the persons really interested in buying sale items usually wait until about 11 a.m. to start shopping. In this way they avoid the first crowd, mostly interested in registering for free gifts, and give themselves a better opportunity to browse around the stores for bargains.

Opportunity Days were designed to give shoppers better values when doing business in Kankakee, according to Ronald Bramson, chairman of the two-day event.

"We hope to make this an annual affair so Kankakee residents can look forward to these days and plan to seek extra values in local stores," he said.

The special sale program continues through Saturday.

Vets Mark Memorial Sunday

The Kankakee observance of Memorial Day will get underway at 9:30 a.m. Sunday when veterans organizations attend religious services at St. Rose Church.

The Rt. Rev. Magr. Emile J. Cousineau will celebrate mass and deliver a short address by a Memorial theme.

Veteran groups will assemble at the church at 8:15 a.m. On Wednesday flags will be placed on the graves of all veterans in Kankakee County.

Ritual and religious services commemorating the war dead will be held at 8 a.m. Thursday in Memorial Gardens, Mt. Calvary and Mount Grove cemeteries.

The Memorial Day parade will form in Alpiner Park at 9 a.m. Thursday. It is scheduled to start at 9:30 a.m.

The parade will proceed to the north lawn of the Kankakee County Courthouse where a program will be staged at the World War II monument.

Arrangements for the Memorial Day observance are being made by the Kankakee Veterans Council.

Boy, 11, Saved After Fall From Bridge

WILMINGTON (JNS)—An 11-year-old boy dropped approximately 80 feet from a railroad bridge into the Kankakee River here today.

Taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, the boy was walking across the Gull, Mobile and Ohio Railroad bridge when he fell between the ties and dropped into the swift moving current.

According to authorities, the boy was walking across the Gull, Mobile and Ohio Railroad bridge when he fell between the ties and dropped into the swift moving current.

Workers at Lees Co. in Wilmington near the youth fall and called the fire department. The youth was taken from the river several hundred yards from the point he entered.

Adenauer In U.S. To Talk With Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived from Bonn in a chartered plane today and plans to spend Sunday with President Eisenhower at the President's Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

The 81-year-old West German leader is here for a high level talks with American officials.

Adenauer is expected to discuss military and economic assistance available for "obligation indefinite."

Ike Challenges Demos To Give Him Selective Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today challenged the Democratic-controlled Congress to give him authority for selective veto of appropriation items. He said that such power "could easily do some serious cost cutting."

The President set forth the challenge in a telephone message to a Republican party rally at Trenton, N. J.

The rally is the sixth and last of a series held around the country to whip up party enthusiasm for the battle to take control of Congress from the Democrats in next year's elections.

Democrats Seek To Control Purse Strings On Foreign Aid Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Senate Democrats predicted today President Eisenhower's aid program will undergo "drastic revision" to give Congress more control over spending abroad.

"That view came from senators Mansfield (D-Mont.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) as the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of which both are members, considered public hearings on the $3,800,000,000 military aid and $9,000,000,000 economic aid program."

The group called Sen. Secretary of Defense Mansfield D. Sprague to learn details of the administration's requests for $1,000,000,000 of military aid and $2,000,000,000 of economic support for countries with which the United States has no formal relations.

Food Price Rise Increases April Cost Of Living

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that living costs rose to another new record level in April for the eighth straight month. A sharp rise in food prices was a major factor.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said its index increased from March to April by three-tenths of 1 percent.

This was enough to give automatic pay boosts of two cents an hour to 1,600,000 workers in the auto, electrical and farm equipment manufacturing industries.

Dr. Free has made 11 trips to Europe and the Holy Land, and for four seasons has been excavating the ancient buried city of Dothan, 60 miles north of Jerusalem. His discoveries have shown that Dothan began some 5,000 years ago and had a more or less continuous existence until the days of Isaiah and Hezekiah, about 700 B. C.

Dothan is twice mentioned in the Bible, once as the place where Joseph sold his brothers, at the time when they sold him to a passing camel caravan of traders; and again, as the place where the prophet Elisha dwelt, when the king of Syria sought to capture him for revealing the secret military movements of his army at about 850 B. C.

Free's excavations have confirmed the existence of the city of Dothan at both these periods of time.

The dinner will be informal, with brief remarks by Supt. Anthony Maricucci, Fred. "Walter Knecht and Henry Holt, chairman of the senior class sponsors.

Will Iron Curtain Be Lifted?

This type of change is welcome even though we may question its sincerity. There is no question that the current Moscow regime has departed from what may be described as "established Communist tradition." The late Premier Russians are prone to the leader cult. Khrushchev may not want total power but he may not be able to escape it. His professed liberalism is only skin deep. He's a determined Communist and that means that he will pursue evil designs by any means at hand, including the so-called lifting of the Iron Curtain.

It seems that San Benito merchants were gravely concerned about the drought and its effect on business. The enterprising advertising manager of the town's newspaper came along with an idea for a two-page ad which simply asked for rain — "a good rain, a rain that is really wet."

He was also quoted as saying that Panama sentiment was "in favor of a take-over by Panama."

It is supposed to be high strategy in labor circles to speak well of certain labor leaders and to denounce others because of their relations to the "mob." Taking the history of all the unions, over all the years of their existence, it is impossible to discover such puritanism as we are now asked to recognize. It is the repetition of the big lie that makes such labor leaders little angels in 1957 who were quite devilish in the 1930's. Are we all supposed to lose our memories?

NEW YORK (U)—About this time every year the ordinary citizen can get pretty confused as to just what is happening to the tax money he sends to Washington.

The big economy drive now on in Congress makes it still harder to follow. But, even without today's headlines, it's a mess. Just that the figures are the government's. The President's budget request are for one figure. Authorizations for spending now being made by the Congress appear to be adding up to another figure. Appropriations the money to back these authorization and the money to still another and a lower one.

What the U. S. Treasury actually takes in and puts out is something else again, and seems likely to be higher than any of the others.

If taken, a trained accountant to understand the government's books on all this.

THE EXPERTS say higher prices will account for some of the rise in spending beyond the budget figures. Some spending can't be charted—such as farm price support outlays, depending upon the weather and the planting plan of farmers. Also a federal highway program isn't in the budget. Nor is the money the Treasury will put out for old-age pensions, which

There is also a lot of money around that was appropriated by former congresses, which the Treasury can be called upon to spend. And if interest rates go higher, and the Treasury must borrow more to meet its bills, the higher interest costs will be another drag.

If this isn't confusing enough, there are also guesses as to what the U.S. Treasury will take in as taxes.

Reports for the first three months of this year indicate there should be higher total corporate earnings to tax—and Congress has extended the Korean War emergency rate of 52 per cent. Higher personal income subject to taxation is also indicated—with the tax rate on these still being debated in Congress.

BUT THE HOUSE tax experts

The House tax experts think the Treasury should take in a little more than 74½ billion dollars in the next fiscal year, or 700 million dollars more than the earlier administration estimate of a bit more than 73½ billion dollars. But if the House experts are right and spending rises to 73 billion dollars, instead of the 71½ billion the President has asked, the Treasury surplus would fall 500 million dollars short of his budget estimates.

Assembly To Tackle 'Rigid' Speed Limit Bill Monday

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The Illinois Legislature will reconsider its "rigid" speed limit bill for Illinois highways when it goes back to work Monday, this time with a 60 mile per hour and night limit for automobiles.

Gov. William G. Stratton, meantime, has signed into law his 248 million dollar bond issue proposal, aimed at providing funds to "catch up" on building needs at the state's mental hospitals and higher education institutions. The bond issue must be approved by the voters before becoming effective.

The speed bill, as passed by both the House and Senate, had set the automobile speed limit at 65 miles per hour and 55 miles at night. But, a conference committee announced Thursday agreement had been reached on amendments which would remove the day and night differences in speeds.

THE SPEED LIMIT BILL is a key measure in the State's highway safety program, and the governor's office reported Stratton would not object to the changes. The bill went to conference committee when the Senate refused to approve some amendments to the bill put on in the House.

The basic change in the speed law from a "reasonable and proper" limit to a rigid mileage limit remains but the conference committee changes would limit automobiles to 65 miles per hour day or night, heavy trucks to 55 miles per hour and lighter trucks and buses to 45.

Stratton had originally proposed 55 mile night limits for automobiles along with night limits for trucks and buses. In effect, the conference committee retained a 15 mile per hour difference between the maximum speeds for trucks and the maximum for heavy trucks, which the House wrote into the bill in amendments.

But instead of lowering the speed for trucks, the committee eliminated all differences in day and night limits.

The conference proposal still has to obtain a majority vote in both houses before the bill goes to the governor for signature.

THE BOND ISSUE proposal, which includes $1 million for the University of Illinois, $1 million for mental institutions, $1 million for Southern Illinois University, and $4 million for the four state teachers colleges, will go before the voters at the November, 1958, election.

At issue is money disbursed from a fund built up from foreclosures sales of property. These payments are made periodically to persons or firms for services in foreclosures cases—including those for court reporting services and publishing notices of sales.

Adamski said an audit will be instituted. "It is a matter of records going back through the terms of Paschen, a Democrat who took office in 1954, to 1954, and Louis E. Nelson, who preceded Breza as treasurer and took office in 1946.

Breza is dead, he and Nelson were Republicans, and are now dead. Subpoenas were issued for records of the Sullivan reporting Co., a court reporting firm; the Chicago Chronicle and the Chicago Recorder.

The powers would undertake to reduce their present armament—except for 10 and 15 percent or by some specified number of types of weapons. The cut would include such weapons as airplanes and missiles capable of delivering atomic or hydrogen bombs, submarines or other warships, tanks and heavy artillery.

"We can give no assurance to a country beyond the current fiscal year that a particular project can go forward some senators have called for much sharper cuts in funds. There was a growing belief among the program's supporters that the Senate would approve a total perhaps 500 million dollars below what Eisenhower asked.

Vice President Nixon, opposing any crippling cuts in the program, said in a New York speech Thursday night that Congress "must assume its share of responsibility in the event world developments prove those cuts to have been unwise."

Nixon said "it is no time to announce to the Committee and the world that we are tired of the struggle" against Red efforts to dominate other nations.

Judge Studies Testimony In Miller Case

WASHINGTON (UP)—A federal judge today began studying more than 700 pages of testimony and legal arguments to help him decide whether playwright Arthur Miller is guilty or innocent of contempt of Congress charges.

But U. S. District Judge Charles F. McLaughlin did not plan to announce his verdict until after he examines still another defense brief, due next week. Miller's six-day trial ended Thursday. McLaughlin heard the case without a jury.

Miller's attorney, Joseph E. Rauh Jr., was given until Wednesday to file a brief supporting his contention that the House Committee on Un-American Activities "was not entitled to ask questions when it questioned the playwright last June."

RAUH INSISTS the committee called Miller as a witness to punish him for his criticism of the committee and to cash in on the publicity of the case.

Fight Looms Over Legal Adult Age Bills

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—A series of bills aimed at dropping from 21 to 18 the age at which boys become legal adults is expected to stir up a controversy in the Illinois Legislature before its session ends.

One effect of the bills, if they are finally approved, would be to permit males to buy alcoholic drinks at the age of 18 instead of 21.

The legal age for girls to be considered adults already is 18. The new proposals, sponsored in the House by Reps. Leo Pfeffer (D-Saymour) and Clyde Choate (D-Anaconda) would wipe out any distinction between legal ages of the sexes and simply define minors as persons under 18.

ONE BILL in the series, designed to lower the age at which young men can obtain marriage licenses without their parents' consent, was killed this week in committee.

Another, the key bill which would define legal age of all persons as 18 or over, was postponed until next week.

Three others in the series were sent to the House floor with "do pass" recommendations. They vary in the degree to which they change various aspects of the state law dealing with the legal age for boys from 21 to 18.

Postal Hike Bill Passage Seen In House

WASHINGTON (UP)—Key House leaders expected today House will pass the administration's multi-million-dollar postage bill before its session ends.

The bill is expected to pass the House's approval last year of a similar measure, also boosting the cost of mailing a letter by a penny.

Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.) figured all the budget talk in Congress should give the bill an added push this year.

The House Post Office Committee headed Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield a victory Thursday by approving without a single change—the rate increase.

U. S. Iron Curtain Policy Forced Japanese Outcry

Japanese Bride-To-Be Says Illinois GI Political Pawn

TOKYO in — "I will wait for ever, and if we can't marry because of this I want to die. I will throw myself on that firing range."

The speaker was petite, freckled Haru Suyama, Japanese fiancée of an American GI accused of killing a Japanese woman scavenging shell fragments on a firing range. A bitter dispute over which nation will try him is clouding American-Japanese relations.

Miss Suyama, 27, who is known as "Candy," termed the shooting "an accident" and declared her soldier sweetheart "could not kill anyone."

The soldier, Specialist 3, C. William S. Girard, 21, of Ottawa, Ill., is confined to his Army base at Camp Whittington, 40 miles north of Tokyo. Japan has demanded the right to try him, contending he was not on duty at the time of the shooting. U. S. authorities in Japan once reluctantly agreed, but that decision has been held up on orders from Washington pending a review of the case.

A JAPANESE court last weekend indicted Girard for "inflicting bodily injury causing death" in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Naka Sakai on a U. S. Army firing range last January. She was scavenging scrap metal when hit by an empty cartridge snuffed into the muzzle or grenade launcher of a rifle and propelled by a blank cartridge charge in the chamber of the rifle.

Miss Suyama and Japanese police are the only non-Army personnel who have been permitted to visit Girard.

Miss Suyama said Girard told her "he had been shot" and reports that he had "killed" the slain woman onto the range so he could kill her.

"It was an accident," Miss Suyama said, "and I regret very much Bill's responsibility for it. He could not kill anyone."

"I think the Army should handle the case," she added, "because the accident happened on a base and Bill would be able to understand the language."

Girard, in military police custody for nearly three months, now is working as a clerk on the base. Miss Suyama said he is "worried" and has lost weight, but has become more of a man. They had planned to marry in March.

MISS SUYAMA blamed members of the opposition Socialist party for the Japanese outcry over the case.

"Bill said he hopes America and Japan will work out the problem smoothly," she said, "but somebody is always waiting to make two friends become enemies."

She has visited Girard daily, often taking some of his favorite Japanese food. Each day before leaving for the visit, she kneels before an altar and prays that "Bill will be cleared" and America and Japan will settle their quarrel.

ARMY OFFICIALS have quoted Girard as saying he "may" have fired the shot that killed the woman.

Japanese police say he said he fired only as a warning to scrap collectors to get off the range, that he did not aim at anyone.

Army buddies describe Girard as a "good soldier," Japanese who know him call him "a nice man who liked Japanese people and Angry editorials followed, leftists took up the cry. Parliament made it an issue, internal political expediency dictated that Japan demand the right to try the soldier from Illinois.

Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi, pressed by the outcry, told stomach this.

THE U. S.-Japanese agreement on jurisdiction over American servicemen provides for a Japanese trial only when the alleged offender acts while off U. S. premises and off duty. But one clause gives Japanese judges the right to decide whether the GI was on or off duty.

While negotiations over Girard went on, the furor gradually subsided. Then U. S. military officials in Japan announced last week that the Japanese would try the soldier.

Members of Congress and others back home erupted in protest. Sen. Butler (D-Mo.) called it an agreement "to throw an American soldier to the wolves."

U. S. Defense Secretary Wilson ordered the Army to hold on to Girard pending a complete review of the case. JAPANESE editorial writers went into action again, angrily accusing the United States of breaking faith. They renewed their attacks on Girard personally, on U. S. Army bases in Japan, on the Army, and on America.

Others counseled both Japan and America to keep cool and to avoid an international wrangle that would harm both countries.

The big Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri, pressing "tagged" anti-American feelings, and increased demands for revision of the U. S.-Japan joint security agreement if Girard is not brought to Japanese trial. Later the paper referred to Girard as a "mad soldier... who killed Japanese for fun."

The Tokyo Shimbun, with a circulation of one million, said Japan should not give up "the right to try this outrageous soldier" and repeated the contention that Girard had "fired" the woman into a spot where she could be killed.

The million-circulation Sankei-shi, however, predicted the controversy would be amicably settled by "cool and businesslike" negotiations "after a cooling-off period." It counseled its readers to remember that the present American public uproar (for Girard) is sentimental, just as the earlier Japanese public uproar (against Girard) was sentimental.

MEANWHILE, Girard remains restricted to his base more than a month after he expected to return to the United States — caught in the middle of an international controversy aggravated by bad handling.

Americans who watched the case from the start are convinced the situation could have been largely avoided if the Army had not clamped up in the beginning.

Indiana, OSU Favorites In Big 10 Track

EVANSTON — Indiana and Ohio State were expected to battle for defending champion Michigan's title as the 7th annual Big Ten track and field championships open at Dyche Stadium today.

After nearly a solid week of rain, favorable weather was predicted for the preliminary phase of the two-day championships which will produce six new meet records.

Indoor champion Michigan is paced by Olympic broad-jump champion Greg Bell, who will be shooting at the world record jump of 25 feet 8 1/2 inches set by Jesse Owens of Ohio State in the 1935 Big Ten meet at Ann Arbor, Mich.

BELL, WHO LAST WEEK cleared 26-1/2, also is a favorite in the 100 and the 220 yard dashes. Ohio State's title bid will rest mainly on Glenn Davis, Olympic champion in the 400 meter hurdles. Davis, defending Big Ten low hurdles champion, also is entered in the 100 yard dash and the 200 yard dash, the 120 yard high hurdles and will run anchor on the Buckeye's mile relay team.

In last year's indoor championship, Indiana won the title by beating Ohio State, 275 to 215. The two teams were tied in the closing mile relay event.

Rated as having the best chance of breaking up the Indiana vs. Ohio State title showdown are defending champion Michigan and Michigan State. However, neither appeared to have the balance needed to roll up a sizable point total. The remainder of the field boasts individual stars but not enough squad strength to crash into the title race.

3 IAC Spring Sports Titles To Be Decided

CHARLESTON — Track, tennis and golf championships in the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference will be determined this weekend.

In the track meet today and Saturday, there's strong prospect that six records may fall in the trials at Eastern Illinois State College. These are in the shot put, broad jump, pole vault, 120 yard hurdles, two mile run and mile relay.

Eastern Michigan, paced by Jerry Host who has bettered the league two mile record of 8:42.

Other top contenders are Northern Illinois and Eastern Illinois. In the golf championship, Western Illinois is a strong favorite with its second consecutive title at the 1956 meet.

Clifton's annual meet will open the season against Illinois. The Central States meet has been raised out of the season.

Other KV games will send Beecher to Dwight and Manteno to Beecher. The Kankakee Tigers will be idle.

Other John Sullivan games include a four-run rally in the last of the seventh for the Sox. The winners now have a 3-0 record in the league.

Joe Romano was the winning pitcher, scattering 10 hits and striking out nine men. Gordon McCullough took the loss, giving up seven hits.

Chuck Christopherson of the Yankees paced the hitters with three-for-three.

Wilmington Ace Loses 3-Hitter To Palmeteer

Kankakee's Kays, a ticket to the Danville sectional safely tucked in their hip pockets, have yet to lose a baseball game to a non-conference foe this spring.

The Kays seemed on the verge of defeat several times Thursday afternoon at Beckman Park, but struggled out of the tight spots to take a 2-1 13-inning marathon over Wilmington's Wildcats in the final of the regional tourney.

The victory sends the Kays to Danville where they will tangle with the winner of the Warrensburg-Lathrop regional tournament Tuesday. But before taking on the Sox, the Kays will close out their South Suburban League schedule with a game at Thornton Fractional this afternoon.

Kenny Palmeteer of Kankakee and the Wilmington hurler, Bernie Southall, hooked up in a pitching duel that was a thriller to the end. A grand total of 10 hits was collected in the 13-innings of competition.

Palmeteer, in picking up the victory, scattered seven hits, walked five, hit one batsman and whiffed 12 men. The key pitcher was the speedy White Sox.

Discovery Of Gross Brightens Reds Hopes

BY THE UNITED PRESS

Manager Birdie Tebbets of the Cincinnati Reds was really chirping today over the sudden emergence of southpaw Don Gross as a starting pitcher.

Strapped for pitching talent three weeks ago, Tebbets pulled Gross out of the bullpen and started working by drawing a base on balls. Jim Windmiller put down a sacrifice bunt and all hands were safe when Southall decided to play for the runner at second. Southall's throw to second was too late to catch Johnson sliding into the sack.

John Denley was called out for interference on an attempted bunt and then Johnson stole third base to set up the winning score. Catcher Al Black failed to handle a low pitch by Southall and Johnson scrambled home on the passed ball.

Wilmington Opened the season in third inning and for a while it appeared that the home crowd would hold out for a victory. With one man out, Vern Corbett hit a home run to tie the game.

Bill Spurlin played a bunt down the first base line which appeared to be foul. The ball slowly curved in fair territory, catching the defenders flat-footed as Spurlin raced to first with a single and Chaney to second. Gary Woolwine bounced to the pitcher who tossed to Denley for the force at third base but the relay to second was too late for a double play.

Jerry Woolwine lashed a single to center field to stop Spurlin and give Wilmington a 1-0 lead. Southall walked and then Palmeteer whiffed Dale Wurzbarger to end the rally.

In Thursday night's game—the only scheduled major league contest—manager Fred Robinson struck by switching third baseman Roy Boyer to center field, moving shortstop Eddie Kasko to third and using Eddie Miksis in right field.

BUT WITH GROSS tossing that change-up pitch, the Cardinals pitcher is the story of one extra pitch he needed to win, explained Tebbets. "Many were made by finding it. For instance, Carl Haise with his screwball, Erroy Face with his forkball, and Bob Friend and Hal Jeffcoat with their sliders."

"This change-up pitch could make Gross," the articulate City center fielder said. "I'm still going around looking for that famous worm that always supposed to turn."

Benny Tests His Arm

Benny Hooper tries out his pitching arm in a game at the Danville sectional tournament. Hooper, a 19-year-old sophomore, recuperating from his 24-hour stay at the bottom of a well, was visited by Danville and received a letter from the Danville club. Confident White Sox Seek 10th In Row Tonight

CHICAGO — Riding high on a nine-game winning streak and a three-game lead in the American League, optimism flowed among the Chicago White Sox like the flood that covered the earth in Noah's time.

The enthusiasm is best expressed by the confidence shown by Manager Al Lopez. Says he: "I'm more convinced than ever we can take the Yankees and win the pennant."

The Sox had already made a two-game sweep of its series with the Yankees and are in Cleveland, resting before opening tonight's four-game series with second-place Cleveland.

LOPEZ prediction was based on the Yankee predicament in losing both New York games. "I don't believe I've ever seen the Yankees appear quite as bad as they did Wednesday," he said. "They didn't have that cool, confident drive that would flatten you if you gave them just a little opening."

For tonight's opener, Jack Harshman (3-1) will start against the Indians' Bob Lemon (2-4). The Cubs, one game out of the National League cellar were to open a four-game series today with Milwaukee. The front office announced a player deal in which it obtained Don Elston, right-handed pitcher, from the Brooklyn Dodgers, for Jackie Colman and Vito Valentini to Los Angeles and Colman to Montreal.

Moore Drabowsky (1-3) was to start for the Cubs today against the Cardinals.

5-0 against non-conference foe, Wilmington has an 18-2 mark. The Wildcats finish their season today when they play Cretone-Memo in the finals of the Wil-Rock Conference tournament at Wilmington.

Court May Open 'Garden' To All Ring Promoters

NEW YORK — Independent boxing promoters today saw a crack of light in what for many years had been a very black world.

The crack was opened by Federal Judge J. Edgar Hoover, who presided over the hearing in the government's case against the International Boxing Club and Madison Square Garden.

He indicated during testimony by IBC Secretary Truman Gibson that he may direct New York's famous Eighth Avenue sports arena to "open its doors" to independent fight promoters at a fixed, reasonable fee.

The government, in a civil action seeking to dissolve the boxing empire of James D. Norris and his associates, Norris, who leads both the Garden and the IBC, his partner Arthur Wirtz, the Garden and the International Boxing Club of New York and Chicago are the defendants.

THE LAST TIME an independent promoter took his show into the Garden was in 1934, when the late Mike Jacobs staged a Joe Louis-Bob Pastor fight. Subsequent promoters have been barred from the Garden.

"I am heading in the direction of a decree that will compel Madison Square Garden to lease the Garden to any promoter for a fixed, reasonable rental," Judge Ryan said.

"I have the power to direct that there be a compulsory rental on a reasonable basis and I am inclined to think I should exercise that power," he added.

And if it were not enough to gladden the hearts of the independent promoters, Judge Ryan went on to say that if a promoter cannot get a reasonable fee, he should be able to come to court and ask the court to fix a reasonable rental.

THIS WOULD put the end to a move to curtail the IBC's far-flung operations. The judge's comments indicated that such outdoor events as Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds would also be available for independently promoted championship fights. The IBC has exclusive contracts to these two sites.

Judge Ryan hinted he is close to a decision before he adjourned proceedings until Wednesday. Gibson and the government counsel indicated constantly on the position of Norris and Arthur M. Wirtz.

Aikins, Beecham Clash In TV Bout

WASHINGTON (UP) — Veterans Virgil Aikins and young Jimmy Beecham, a pair of "hungry" sluggers, clash tonight in a nationally televised 10-round welterweight bout at Capital Arena.

The powerfully built Aikins, 35, is a former contender for Carmen Basilio's welterweight crown, a 7-5 favorite over Beecham.

Beecham, 24, is a "puncher" who never stops coming. He is substituting for Randy Sander, who suffered a cut eye in training.
