The Opening Of The St. Lawrence Seaway

Chicago Area Prepares For '4th Seacoast'

Editor's Note: The one of a series by a U.P. correspondent who toured the St. Lawrence Seaway route from Montreal to Milwaukee and Cleveland and returned to Chicago on July 15.

United Press Staff Correspondent

ALONG THE ST. LAWRENCE SEAWAY (UP)—The Midwest as it is seen from the water.

It is walking on water—along the "Seaway" which will open the heart of North America 2,300 miles inland to ocean-going vessels sailing off the Atlantic up the St. Lawrence River into the Great Lakes, and on again.

This will be a new "fourth sea," a "fourth seacoast" with 8,000 new miles of shoreline. It will put Chicago and Cleveland, Duluth and Detroit, Milwaukee and Minneapolis on the docks of the world.

Ocean freighters of 10,000 to 15,000 tons and lake-type ships of 25,000 tons—50 per cent of the world's shipping—will be able to steam up the network of canals, locks and channels deepened to 27 feet.

Grain can move from the Midwest breadbasket straight to Europe by sea. Iron ore can come from the new deposits in Labrador to feed the blast furnaces of the area which already churns out a third of America's agricultural and industrial products.

IN APRIL, 1959, the spectacular billion-dollar Canadian-American Seaway will open the Lake Erie ports of Buffalo, Cleveland and Toledo to world shipping.

In the long run, however, the entire nation can hope to benefit from the economic momentum the Seaway will generate. There will be the experts say, plenty for all to transport.

With a sober second glance, responsible officials in the Midwest today realize the shortcomings of the Seaway. It will be icebound five months a year. Some of the ports will not be ready for expanded trade. There will be no overnight ship in foreign cargo.

Every small town will not be another New York—it won't even be a Chicago or Milwaukee. The Seaway's locks will have a limited capacity which will prevent the fantastic tonnages predicted by salesmen.

New York, New Orleans, Philadelphia and the railroads are not going to roll over and play dead in the face of new competition. Nor will Houston, Baltimore, Boston and Norfolk.

Yet many of the critics who still doubt the Seaway with cold water miss the main point.

To the 40 million "lake people"—and their neighbors in booming Canada—the Seaway is not just a waterway. It is, today, a catchword, the catalyst which they hope will help them build an economic colossus rivaling the most mighty.

A generation from now it may be impossible to say whether it was "the Seaway" or "the expressway" which lured industry to the lakes. The point is that that industry came.

State Policeman Clay Boyer also charged Pippin with failure to have an operator's license.

Pippin was fined $15 on the first count and $10 on the second by Justice of the Peace Fred R. Smith Saturday.

A driver was charged with leaving too closely in an accident at 5:20 p.m. Friday, Roger Draves issued the citation against Al J. Densau, 24, Hertzler.

Draves said Anne Riotti, 51, of Manteno, had stopped to make a left turn. Her car was hit from behind by Densau's, who was unable to stop on the wet pavement. Draves reported.

Witnesses said Alwood, of Clinton, Bill Kraft, 17, Clinton, and Wayne Pison, 17, Heyworth, were splashing each other when the craft overturned. The other two boys made it to shore, but Alwood could not swim. His body was recovered in 5½ feet of water about 50 feet from shore.

Storm Contributes To 3 Auto Crashes Friday

Friday's storm contributed to three traffic accidents reported by Kankakee police today during the noon and evening.

The latest occurred at 9:30 p.m. when a car driven by Terry F. Anderson, 18, of R.R. 2, Kankakee, hit a truck in the 400 block of W. Commercial.

Police said flames on the barricade had extinguished by the driving rain.

At 4 p.m. an auto driven by Roy J. Nicholson, 24, of 243 N. New St., crashed into the rear of a second car pushing it into a third vehicle. The mishap took place in the 300 block of S. Washington avenue.

The second auto was operated by James Borrelli, 35, of 442 N. Greenwood Ave., the third car by Ralph Spauld, 27, of 27 Bell Ave. Ave., Bourbonnais. The second and third cars were stopped for traffic.

Police said that Nicholson's brakes failed when water reached the brake drums.

A few minutes earlier a similar accident occurred in the 200 block of "E" River street. Police said a truck caused a car driven by James J. Curran, 21, of Aurora Park, to crash into an auto driven by William E. Ensign, 36, of Whiting, Ind. Both were headed east.

CHATSORTH (JNS)—Noble Pearson was reelected commander of the American Legion Wednesday evening at the meeting in the Legion hall.

Other officers are Harry Birkenbiel, vice commander; Kenneth Hummel, chaplain; Curtis Stoller, finance officer; and Floyd Edwards, sergeant at arms. Pearson appointed Roger Zorn as adjutant.

During the meeting plans for a Soap Box Derby Day in September were discussed. A financial report will be made regarding the recent Color-Rama contest.

THIRTY-ONE members of the Youth Fellowship of the Evangelical United Brethren Church and their guests visited the Natural History Museum and an amusement park.

Says Wife, Her Brother, Then Self

CHICAGO (UP)—Authorities today blamed a family argument for a double murder and a suicide.

The dead were Elias Ayala, 21, his wife, Eugene, 17, and her brother, John, 14.

Dominique Tappa, 41, the stepfather of Eugene and John, said Ayala returned to the family apartment Saturday after an all-night absence. During an argument, Ayala drew a pistol and Tappa fled to telephone police.

When Tappa returned, he found all three dead from gunshot wounds.

Over 24,000 Traffic Charges In Bourbonnais

Thirty persons were fined a total of $548 including costs in Bourbonnais police magistrate court Wednesday by the Illinois Highway Department.

There were only 21 police cases reported by the department for this year, compared with 100 for the same period last year.

Health Director Dr. Roland H. Cross said the decline probably reflects the effectiveness of the police association program.

The report also showed drops in the number of cases of whooping cough, rheumatic fever, pneumonia, measles, hepatitis and typhoid fever.

From a total of 304 whooping cough cases in the first half of 1956, the report said, the cases dropped to 173 in the first six months of this year.

Other comparisons of the first half of 1956 with the first half of this year showed a drop in rheumatic fever cases from 128 to 98; pneumonia from 1,843 to 1,014; measles from 40,611 to 8,459; hepatitis from 422 to 338; typhoid fever from 24 to 7.

Measles, disease showed increases. The number of cases jumped from 2,395 in the first half of last year to 3,324 this year, while gonorrhea cases went up from 9,344 to 9,597.

The number of chicken pox and scarlet fever cases also showed slight increases.

Smallpox has not been reported in the state since 1947.

Flood Cleanup Goes On; More Funds Needed

The long cleanup continued today for Kankakeeland families, and two industrial plants were still out of operation as a result of the flood Saturday.

Kankakee and Bradley residents were moving back into their homes, but the Red Cross shelter in the army had to remain in operation for those who still can't live in their houses.

Funds started coming in to aid the victims, but more are needed. The Red Cross also issued an appeal for more clothing, particularly for children from 1 to 4 years old. Work clothing for men also is needed.

Interviews were commencing to determine the assistance needed by flood victims.

The American-Marietta Co. factory at Fair St. and Greenwood St. and the Greenleaf Co. 323 Gaines road plant on N. Hobbs avenue were still out of production.

American-Marietta was the manufacturer of the local plants. John Ferre, plant manager, said this noon that they were only beginning to get reports on the amount of materials to estimate the amount of damage.

The company has had a full crew of 300 employees cleaning up and working to put the plant in order. Main source of trouble was the flooding of electrical apparatus in the basement. The plant is still using a temporary electric power hookup although service has been restored to the plant's electric control board.

Hundreds of electric motors for pumps located in the basement have to be dismantled, cleaned and dried out. Ferre said that there are not enough electricians available or space for them to work to put the electrical equipment back in order immediately.

HE ESTIMATED limited production might be resumed by Wednesday or Thursday but that any seasonal crop of goods would not be restored until next week.

The company's warehouse on Grinnell road was not affected and the company is still shipping merchandise, although stocks are being depleted. The firm had only one telephone line Monday and three lines were in service today.

The firm had about five feet of water in its basement which was flooding large amounts of paint pigment stored there in addition to damaging the electrical apparatus.

At the Gaines division of General Foods Co., Howard McGrath, general manager in charge of operations here said the cars showed it was traveling at 62 miles an hour and the other 55 cars per hour at the time of impact.

7 Persons Killed In Pennsylvania Highway Collision

YORK, Pa. (UP)—Seven persons were killed and two others injured seriously today in a head-on collision of two automobiles on the Lincoln Highway about four miles west of here.

Coroner Lester Sell, who has held the post for the last 12 years, described the accident as the "worst highway massacre" he has known in York County.

State police said the speedometer on one of the cars showed it was traveling at 62 miles an hour and the other 55 cars per hour at the time of impact.

Ask Liberty For GI In French Killing

PARIS (UP)—A French court today weighed a request to grant "provisional liberty" to an American soldier accused of killing an Algerian until the case comes up for trial.

The soldier, Specialist 3C De Wayne McKee of Manhasset, Long Island, N.Y., is being held at Preston Prison, south of Paris. He is accused of shooting and killing Abd El Amen Lammim May 25 in Paris hoodlums during an argument over the sale of cigarettes.

American Army officials have said McKee had "confessed" to shooting in self-defense during the argument in the club in the famed Place Pigalle.

Navy Jet Sets Record In Cross-Country Hop

NEW YORK (UP)—The Navy beat the Air Force's transcontinental speed record today by flying 2,460 miles coast to coast in 3 hours 23 minutes 81 seconds.

The previous record, set by an F4U March 9, 1955, was 3 hours 44 minutes 53.88 seconds.

A Marine pilot, Maj. John Glenn Jr., piloted a F4U Chance-Vought Crusader from Los Alamitos, Calif., naval station to Floyd Bennett Field here to set the record.

A second Crusader, which took off at dawn with Glenn, had to land at Albuquerque when it ran into refueling in the air trouble. It was piloted by Lt. Cmdr. Charles Demmler, 33, of Hastings-on-Hudson, N.Y., a test pilot.

Maj. Glenn, 36, formerly of New Concord, Ohio, is stationed in Washington with the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics.

The cross-country flight was officially billed as a test of the Crusader's sustained capability at near maximum power over long distances.

Marine Maj. John Glenn Jr. set a new transcontinental speed record today in this F4U-1P Crusader Navy Jet. He averaged an unofficial 724.6 miles an hour in a 2,460-mile flight from Los Alamitos Naval Air Station, Calif., to Floyd Bennett Naval Air Station, N.Y. The flight took 3 hours, 23 minutes. Fuel was taken on in mid-air to make the non-stop flight, a test of the Crusader's durability at near maximum power for long distances. (Ullrich)

56 Feared Dead Bradley Board Acts To Repair Flood Damage

The Bradley Village Board heard reports on flood damage Monday night.

It took the first step to rebuild flood-damaged streets, and appropriate $18,000 in motor fuel tax funds to blacktop Riverdale drive from Route 45 west to Hilltop avenue as a regular construction project.

William Barwegen, village board president, said St. Dearborn boulevard in the middle where a sewer was laid. He said this condition extends from Franklin street to South street.

Liberty street between LaSalle and Fulton avenues also must be repaired, it was reported.

Howard Schrank, the village's engineer for motor fuel tax projects, estimated the cost at $12,000. He said he will ask the state's permission to spend more money on the two streets, even though they are not arterial streets.

SCHWARK SAID the setting of the street apparently was due to the unusual flood and not to any fault in the where the sewer was laid.

Don Giron, Bradley street superintendent, said the village is furnishing trucks to haul rubbish away for flood victims. He said garbage will have to be picked up by the regular contractor.

Barwegen said a clothing distribution center for Bradley flood victims will be set up in the village hall, he said.

He said volunteers working in conjunction with the Red Cross are making a house-to-house survey of needs in Bradley's flooded areas.

Anyone with clothing to contribute may contact Mrs. William Lustig or bring it to the village hall, he said.

KLM listed the nationalities of the missing as 53 Dutch and 3 Britons.

Four of the survivors were seriously injured.

THE LOCKHEED Super-Constellation, carrying 58 passengers and a crew of 5, plunged into 6 feet of water shortly before dawn five miles off Bali Island. One early report said the plane was in flames when it crashed but a KLM spokesman did not mention a fire.

The plane, the Neutron, was on regular flight to Amsterdam from way of Manila, Jakarta, Bangkok, Rangoon, Karachi, Beirut and Rome.

Most of those aboard were civil servants or navy men and their families.

Bali island is the largest of the Schouten group off the northern coast of Western New Guinea, a Dutch colony.

Save 12 At Tragedy Sites Northwest Of New Guinea

A Dutch airliner plunged into the sea off northwest New Guinea before dawn today. By early afternoon the hope was being abandoned for finding alive any of 56 persons listed as missing.

There were 17 children aboard the KLM plane and most were believed among the missing. At least one child was among the 11 passengers and one crew member—the stewardess—who were rescued.

Native boats and launches from the Dutch destroyer Kortenaar searched the area for survivors recovered 11 bodies.

Wahneke, the village in the flooded area Sunday and Monday, he said.

Why Reds Decried 'Clean' Bomb

Laments of the Russians that Americans are going to develop "a notorious clean H-bomb with which they can destroy mankind with greater precision" have a hypocritical ring. Fact is, prospect of a clean H-bomb almost of radioactive fallout doesn't fit in with Soviet propaganda.

The Russians have the world's largest land army, and certainly the biggest if not the most powerful air force. Beyond their military establishment is well equipped with conventional arms, whatever may be Russia's stock of nuclear weapons.

The human beings who would be killed by the conventional bullets and bombs used by this army would be just as dead as anyone killed by an H-bomb, clean or otherwise.

What the Soviets seem to be saying is that it is all right to kill people singly or in modest hundreds of thousands, but it is wicked to kill them in tens or hundreds of thousands.

Leaving aside all arguments of moral character and of damage to innocent millions through fallout, it is plain that a clean bomb would increase our advantage. It would mean that we could use nuclear weapons tactically with no fear that our own troops and our own population would be fatally contaminated by lethal side effects.

Wouldn't you prefer not to use them at all? We would prefer not to use conventional weapons. We genuinely want effective disarmament. But there is nothing contradictory in going ahead to perfect our weapons at the same time we discuss disarmament.

Much as we desire peace, we must be prepared for war; prepared to help ourselves and the whole free world, until the moment when real, enforceable disarmament comes into actual being.

Haytime Dangerous On Farms

Hay harvest time brings more fatal farm accidents than any other harvest season, according to the National Safety Council, which says this is due to the many machines involved, such as balers and field choppers.

If a few simple rules are followed, haying can be much safer. Always shut off power before cleaning, oiling or repairing any power-driven machine. Keep the power takeoff and all other safety shields in place; they are put there for the operator's protection.

Do not permit extra passengers on tractors or loaded hay wagons. Falls from wagons, mows, silos and stacks are far too frequent.

Handle tractors with care, particularly on public roads and in raking and mowing where higher operation speeds are used. Packing silage in trench silos with tractors has proved highly hazardous. Operators should be well qualified and aware of the danger.

Pitchforks and hayhooks are dangerous unless handled with respect and skill. Hay safely, farmers. Don't contribute to the already high accident rate this year.

Future Needs For Automation

STREATOR DAILY TIMES-PRESS

Projected statistics are always interesting, for they provide an insight into future conditions, the preview making it possible to plan future action. Sometimes the projection is entirely accurate; but it is possible, because of unexpected changes in situations that estimations fail to materialize.

Male workers in the United States are divided into three groups: those between 14 and 24 years of age, those between 25 and 44 and those over 45. The middle group is classified as the prime working group, for upon their shoulders falls the greater responsibility of producing the nation's needs.

Economists have projected the number of those in each age group in 1965 in comparison with those employed in 1956, finding that the younger group will increase 2.7 million or 33 per cent, and the over-45 group 2.3 million or 13 per cent. The prime working group will not increase numerically, for all the while it is possible, because of unexpected changes in situations that estimations fail to materialize.

Faced with this situation, American industry will turn more and more to automation; more and more to machines which can be made to produce by the younger and older men. Productivity cannot depend upon man power of the middle group if the wants and needs of the people are to be satisfied. Capabilities of the untrained younger men and of those over 45 will have to be more fully trained.

U. S. Needs Small, Highly Trained Army

The United States does not need as large an Army—active or reserve—as the Soviet Union does.

We have no land frontiers to defend. We are unlikely to be involved in full-scale warfare in Europe or Asia under foreseeable circumstances. We must, of course, keep our commitments to NATO, and our defensive position in Korea. Beyond that, the most likely demands on our Army are found in the field of internal warfare.

These demands call for a fully ready, highly mobile, sea-and-air transportable force of Regular troops, emphasizing quality rather than mass quantity, backed by National Guard and Reserve forces of sufficient strength to meet a Korea-type emergency quickly and vigorously.

Again, quality rather than quantity. But quality we must have, and quantity must be sufficient. Numerical comparisons with the Soviet armies can be misleading unless these facts are remembered.

The USSR must defend vast land frontiers, stretching thousands of miles from the Arctic Ocean across Europe to the Black Sea and then east clear across Asia to the shores of the Pacific.

ON THE OTHER SIDE of these frontiers are many possible enemies. There is China, with its vast armies and with purposes and policies which may not always keep its government friendly to Moscow. There is the ever-present threat of a renewed and resurgent Germany, seeking recovery of its lost provinces in the East. There is also the satellites to keep under the iron heel. Finally, there is the necessity of controlling the various peoples of the Soviet Union itself. The Soviet Army is the main power element at the disposal of the Soviet government for this purpose.

Consequently, the USSR maintains a huge army, based on universal service which includes every able-bodied man from the age of 18 to the age of 50.

The Soviet youth is called up for three years' active service in the autumn following his 18th birthday. When he has finished his active service, he passes to a unit of the reserve line, where he remains until his 25th birthday. During this period, he undergoes 10 months of training of 90 days each (90 days if he is a noncommissioned officer).

From age 35 to 45, he serves in a second-line reserve unit, and is called up for five 30-day training periods. Finally, from 45 to 50 (when his reserve service ends) he serves in a home-guard unit and does one 30-day training period.

BASED ON THIS SYSTEM of service, the Soviet army can, within a very few days, bring all its 175 active divisions to full strength and mobilize 225 fully-trained reserve divisions to reinforce them. But—except on its western frontier—the USSR can bring only a small percentage of this huge army to any one point on its enormous perimeter quickly and with assured supply lines behind it.

Further, in limited "sneaking" operations, the USSR is not going to take unlimited risks.

Is End In Sight For Wide-Open Probes?

WASHINGTON (UP)—The era of free-wheeling congressional investigations of communism apparently is at an end.

Twice in this century, each time after a world war, this country has gone through an emotional Red-hunting phase. The first petered out. The second was slowing down and the courts put a further brake on it.

Atty. Gen. A. Mitchell Palmer led the Red raids after World War I, when this country was worried about the spread of communism. That was also a period of anti-Negro, anti-Jewish, anti-Roman Catholic feeling.

Congressional committees resumed the Red hunting on a big scale after World War II. They got public support and added impetus through their disclosures that Communists, past or present or suspected, had gotten into the government.

The committees became increasingly free-wheeling in the questions they covered, the questions they asked, and in their disregard for individuals and their rights to privacy, thought and association.

The RED-HUNTING began to recede after the Senate condemned some actions of the late Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) although not specifically his tactics in Red-hunting. The Senate motion was based largely on the way he treated senators.

Last month the Supreme Court said who to the committees, taking his cue from this, Federal Dist. Judge Luther A. Youngdahl said the same thing last week.

The high court threw out the contempt of Congress conviction of John T. Watkins, who told the House Committee on Un-American Activities he had never been a Communist but, for a while, cooperated with Communists.

He talked freely about himself but balked at questions about people he knew who might have been Communists. Youngdahl threw out the conviction.

Neither man claimed the protection of the Fifth Amendment. The contempt conviction was based on refusal to answer questions. The contempt motion was based on refusal to answer questions.

IF SUCH COMMITTEES in the future expect to get people co-operated with Communists, they must be able to answer questions, then.

Status Of Forces Treaty

In 1951, the United States entered upon treaties with 13 countries—NATO countries—by which the Constitutional rights of American soldiers were secured while they were stationed in those countries.

There is no such treaty with Japan and all references in such a treaty to the rights of American soldiers are null and void.

ALTHOUGH NO AGENCY of government may deprive an American citizen of his Constitutional rights, it actually can be done by the President, Congress, any official, even a policeman, unless G. Sokolsky

Second—the right to be tried by a fair and impartial court. Third—reasonable time to prepare defense after being informed of charges.

Fourth—the right to be present at his trial. Fifth—the right to be presumed innocent until proven guilty.

Sixth—the burden of proof on the government in all criminal cases to prove guilty beyond reasonable doubt. Seventh—the right not to have involuntary confessions used against him.

Eighth—the right not to be compelled to testify against himself. Ninth—the right to cross examine the witnesses against him.

Tenth—protection against self-incrimination. Eleventh—protection against ex post facto laws.

Twelfth—protection against bills of attainder.

THIS ROUND DOZEN of rights reflects some of the most important in our lives and liberties. The Girard case brought this matter to a head, but the significance of the problem transcended Girard personally, who probably can get a better deal out of a Japanese court than out of an American court-martial.

These rights were intended to be limitations upon the government in the interest of the individual. And while it may be true that it would be more convenient for this or any government that these rights were not so specific, it is also true that the founding fathers intended that we should have them and established an orderly government of law based on them.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE were not aware of the Status of Forces treaty or its implications when it was ratified. Gradually the burden of proof on the government in all criminal cases to prove guilty beyond reasonable doubt.

Flood Question Discussed By Momen Council

MOMENCE (JNS)—Flood conditions and possible effects on the government in the city council.

Residents from the north side of the community, badly hit by the rains, were not so specific, it is also true that the founding fathers intended that we should have them and established an orderly government of law based on them.

The council, after spending most of the evening reviewing the situation, decided to call in Donald Tyson, Kankakee County engineer-surveyor, to check the water situation and make suggestions as to solutions to the problem.

Need for additional or new drainage facilities in the area was discussed. One home on the north side of the city is low and catches water draining down from Baker Hill. The ordinary water apparently is unable to handle the heavy amount.

Basements of homes on the north side were flooded almost to the first floor. As of Monday night, some still hadn't drained and were being pumped out. One home on Hill street, where the owners are away, has water running out of the basement windows.

Another flood situation is on Franklin and River streets, where basements were filled. It is believed the storm sewer in this area may have been blocked. The council ordered the drain cleaned on a basis of a $100 fine for each overflow installed on the west side.

In other council action, the Veterans' Foreign War was given permission to use a part of the city parking lot on Washington street for a food procession stand during the Glad Festival.

The council also voted $500 to cover salaries of library personnel. A proposal by the American Maize Products Co. to rent the city-acquired federal building on Washington street as a warehouse for seed corn and office and laboratory facilities will be taken under consideration.

At a special meeting last week, the council awarded the contract for supplying the city with a new picnic casserole.

Mays Does It To Cubs Again

CHICAGO (UP)—Willie Mays, the New York Giant centerfielder star, once again proved to be too much for the Chicago Cubs Monday.

Willie, who had hit a homer in the 12th inning Sunday to help defeat the Cubs 4-6, turned on the Chicagoans again. His two-run homer capped a three-run outbreak in the third inning Monday to carry the Giants to a 5-3 victory over the Cubs.

Lockman. One run scored on an infield off before Mays unloaded his tape-measure homer.

Johnny Antonelli was the victor and Don Elston suffered his second defeat in four decisions. Don Mueller put the Giants ahead with a homer in the second but the Cubs roared back to take a 3-1 lead.

WITH TWO OUT, Bob Speake, Jim Joliet and Walt Morin all singled for one run and Ernie Banks slammed out a triple for two more.

Elston couldn't hang onto the lead, losing his second straight game and dished up a double to Whitey.

The Chicago White Sox, idle Monday, resume their chase for the American League lead against the pesky Baltimore Orioles to night.

The Cubs move to Pittsburgh to meet where Bob Rush (1-3) will hurl against Bob Friend (6-11) on Sunday, will pitch.

Now It's Phillies' Turn in Lead

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—For the first time in over three years, the Philadelphia Phillies looked down on the rest of the pack from first place today, and a club executive said, "The front office is just as surprised as any fan."

Philadelphia's decisive 6-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Monday night pushed the Phillies on top by half a game, the first they've held the lead in the National League since May 18, 1954. And at that time they shared the lead with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Philly Boss Thinks They Can Stay On Top

BEARING proudly, Phillies General Manager Roy Hamey said, "The front office is just as surprised as any fan in the stands at the heights the club has attained."

"BUT LET ME say that our players feel they are just as good as any of the five contending teams. With the hustle we've been playing now and the fact that we're out of our hitting slump, we'll be in there all the way now."

The vacillating Phillies were five games behind a five other year game losing streak just two weeks ago. Since then they've caught fire, winning 12 of their last 14 games and 9 of their last 10.

The man who deserves much of the credit is right-hander Jack Sanford, who hurled a five-hitter Monday night for his 12th victory against two defeats. He has the most wins in the league.

The 28-year-old Wellesley, Mass., native has pitched the Phillies into second place three times this season.

Flem Opens Defense Of Tennis Title

RIVER FOREST (UP)—Defending champion Flem Ruppel today opens his co-quest for a second straight men's singles title in the U.S. Lawn Assn's National City Courts Championships.

The Beverly Hills, Calif., star-credited No. 1 drew a first-round bye and begins action with a second-round match against William Cullen, Southampton, Conn., who also had a first-round bye.

Meanwhile, Althea Gibson, first Negro to win the Wimbledon women's single title, easily swept past Lois Smith of Glenview, Ill., in straight sets, 6-0, 6-4 for a first-round triumph.

Miss Gibson, top favorite in the women's field, wasn't expected to encounter any difficulty either in her second-round match against Sally Boeckwinkle, River Forest.

Althea beginning play today was the word today for a repeat No. 2, and Darlene Hard, Montebello, Calif., who lost to Miss Gibson for the Wimbledon crown this year.

Cubs Likely To Set Strikeout Record

NEW YORK (UP)—The Chicago Cubs, at their current pace, will wind up the 1957 season by setting a new record for the most strikeouts in a season.

In 76 games, the National League cellar-dwellers have struck out 333 times—an average of about seven per game. At that rate, Cub batters would win more than 1,000 times for the season.

Major Wagner, however, said he would be the one to make the record. "The story is premature. Our report will be ready in three weeks."

San Francisco (UP)—Some shocking discoveries have upset the major's rosy dream of throwing out the first ball for the 1958 season.

The pay television system which was supposed to lure the New York Giants to the West Coast will cost from 30 to 60 million dollars to install in the San Francisco Bay Area, Mayor George Christopher recently reported Monday.

And, he said, the job of installing the cables and circuits for the Skatron television system will take three to four years.

The cold facts on cost and time come from President Mark Sullivan of Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co., who also observed that the 30 to 60 million dollars was not forthcoming immediately.

In other words, the money isn't in sight.

"This is very disappointing for us who want major league baseball here next year," Mayor told newsmen after advising them of Sullivan's report to him.

Aaron Best Since Hornsby, Says Haney

BROOKLYN (UP)—Milwaukee's Hank Aaron has blossomed into baseball's greatest right-handed batter since Rogers Hornsby, his manager, Fred Haney, declared today.

"Aaron is the best hitter in the game," asserted Haney, who once played with Ty Cobb, "and he hasn't even reached his full maturity yet. I predict that in another year or two they'll be talking about him in the same breath with Hornsby, Harry Heilmann and some of the other great right-handed hitters."

Aaron's mutual admiration society is growing stronger day by day. Brooklyn's Roy Campanella calls Haney the toughest batter in the league to pitch to, Milwaukee's Rod Schickel says Aaron is the best right-handed hitter he's ever seen and has more power than Stan Musial, his boom friend and former teammate.

"I BELIEVE Aaron is a better hitter than Willie Mays," said Rod, who spent a few seasons with the Giants. "Willie may hit a ball harder to left field but Haney gets more wood on it than Willie. Aaron can be pitched to but not Aaron. That boy has any kind of pitch he can find. There isn't a ball in the league where he can't hit the ball over the right field fence."

The 23-year-old Braves' outfielder, in his fourth season in the major leagues, currently is second in National League batting with .343, and leads in home runs with 28, and in runs batted in with 75. Only one point behind Musial in the batting race, he has a good chance to become the first right-handed slugger to lead the league since Joe Medwick achieved the feat with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1937. Last year Aaron led the league in hitting with a .329 average.

Favorable Report On New Dodger Home 'Premature'

NEW YORK (UP)—"Premature" was the word today for a report that an engineering survey has found the construction of a new ball park to keep the Dodgers in Brooklyn "practical" from the city's standpoint.

The story was published Monday by two New York newspapers, which added that the three-member Brooklyn sports authority will urge immediate approval of the project at the next meeting of the Board of Estimate July 25.

Mayor Wagner, however, said he knew nothing about the report, and had "no idea" what the engineering firm had recommended.

Walter O'Malley, Dodger president, said he "would prefer to wait for the actual report before making any comment."

A spokesman for the engineering firm making the survey would above the long-delayed project. "The story is premature. Our report will be ready in three weeks."

Legion Plays Tourney Game Here Today

First round games in the Watseka district Junior American Legion baseball tournament will be played at the same time at Hoopston. Both games were originally scheduled to be played at Watseka but last Friday's torrential rain has left the Watseka diamond unplayable.

The championship game will be played Wednesday afternoon, at 5:30, but the site won't be decided until after the results of today's games are known, tourney officials said. If Kankakee wins, the championship game will probably be played here, they said, but if Hoopston wins, the contest is expected to be staged at Hoopston.

Mickey Boudreau, Kankakee manager, said he expects to stick to his original mound choice of either Jerry Verellone or Al Bourk for the opening game. If the Kankakees win, Kenny Pakmeyer will probably pitch the championship contest.

Four of the five regular Junior Legion League games scheduled for today and Wednesday had to be postponed because of the tourney games, it was announced. Of today's games the St. Anne vs. Spaworth and the Middles vs. Cadotte engagements have been called off. The Bradley vs. Mateno game at Mateno, however, is still scheduled.

The two games scheduled for Wednesday—Middles at Bradley and Bradley vs. Mateno—were postponed.

Score Hopes To Start Workouts

CLEVELAND (UP)—Herb Score and new recruit find in Cleveland early today and the Cleveland Indians' star southpaw said he hopes his work will give him a good lead into Wednesday afternoon.

But the 24-year-old, strikeout king doesn't believe he will be ready to pitch for the Tribe until mid-August. He anticipates a conditioning program tougher than spring training.

Score has been out of action since the night of May 7 when a line drive off the bat of Gil McDougald struck him in the right eye. His nose was fractured and the retina of the eye was swollen.

Human Radiation Tolerance Stalls A-Plane

ATOMIC PLANE'S PROFILE: Cut-away drawings of what nuclear-powered airplane may look like when it is built for the U.S. Air Force were made public by Lockheed Aircraft.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The development of an atomic-powered airplane is stalled until it is possible to determine the human body can tolerate the radiation from the reactor. It has been discovered that it is probably not possible, and definitely not practical, to build an A-plane with a radiation shield giving complete protection to flight and ground crews.

A shield with 100 per cent protection would be too heavy for a plane to lift. Or it would make the plane so slow as to be worthless as a weapon.

That, there either has to be a breakthrough on the shield design, or it has to be determined that crews can safely absorb a lot more radiation than has hitherto been believed possible before the atomic plane can be declared a useful reality.

When the intense studies now being made on the human tolerance to radioactivity are completed much light will also be shed on the problems delaying the A-plane. It is reported by Lawrence L. Johnson and F. A. Cleveland, engineers for Lockheed Corp., the firm with an atomic aircraft frame. They say:

"Determination of the tolerable human radiation dose is very difficult and may well prove to be one of the most complex research areas in the attainment of operational atomic aircraft. Gamma rays and neutrons of the same intensity damage the body in different ways and the effects of each vary with the energy of the radiation.

As a further complication, variations in the degree of radiation, and the effects on these organs become cumulative, sometimes times after exposure.

In the meantime, work on A-planes has been slowed down. But it is still proceeding on the assumption that crews will be able to take certain minimum exposures. A plane has been designed which puts the crew far forward in the nose of the plane, encased in a shielding shell, with the reactor far back in the tail section.

Here are other facts and problems about the A-plane revealed by Johnson and Cleveland for the first time:

Four turbojet engines will be clustered around the reactor in the fuselage to transform the atomic heat into usable thrust. The plane will take off and land with a non-atomic chemical fuel. Flight crews will have to be rotated frequently to prevent them from absorbing too much radiation. The duration of flights will be limited by this factor. And the nuclear fuel core will be removed from the plane on the ground to make it safer for ground crews to do their maintenance work.

A phenomenon called "after heat" exists in the reactor for a week or two after the fusion process is stopped. This requires special cooling system. But if the plane's engines should suddenly

NOW THEY'RE GOING TO TAKE THE ENGLISH OUT OF WALNUTS

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Agriculture Department announced today that it's going to stop calling English walnuts "English."

Effective Aug. 18 with the adoption of a new set of official crop standards, they will be just plain walnuts, the department said.

Officials said all commercial walnut production in the U.S. today is concentrated on the Pacific Coast—as far away from England as you can get in this country. The name "English" is a misnomer carried over from the time when the walnuts were brought to this country in English ships, the department said.

The British embassy commented that "her majesty's government makes no claims to the name, although we like the thought of using the term 'English walnuts.'"

Walnut production in the U.S. is estimated at 100,000 tons a year. The work is being written by No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

Why industries grow on the Illinois Central?

Industries must have transportation that fits their growing, changing day-to-day needs.

Illinois Central communities have the kind of transport service that attracts new industry and creates new jobs and new pay checks.

True, there are other kinds of transportation. But no other transport system handles everything from heavy machinery to zippers in lots of 100 carloads or 100 pounds.

Each year the Illinois Central spends many millions on new diesel locomotives, new freight cars, better rail, better signals, better ways of serving customers, old and new.

Bettering our service to industry helps you to enjoy more of the good things of everyday living in Mid-America.

Plan Community Drive To Aid Flood Victims

Organizations Hold Preliminary Meeting To Start Appeal

Ground was being laid in the Kankakee today for a community-wide appeal for funds to aid the scores of victims of the past weekend's devastating floods. A meeting was held at the Kankakee Chamber of Commerce this morning to explore the possibilities of carrying on such an appeal. The meeting was called by the Kankakee County chapter of Red Cross which is asking organizations, groups, churches, clubs, etc., in the community to join with it in the effort. Attending the meeting were representatives of many groups which have indicated they will participate in such an appeal.

Joe Berr is serving as general chairman of the effort with William Gehring as vice chairman. Berr said that any civic, fraternal and veterans' organizations, churches, clubs and other groups in the community which wish to cooperate in the appeal should immediately contact the Kankakee County chapter of Red Cross, 183 N. Indiana Ave. (Telephone 3-6627).

HE SAID IT IS hoped that any organizations which have launched fund appeals for flood victims will cooperate with this community-wide effort.

Further meetings of committees are scheduled for the rest of the day as organizational plans are being made to begin the appeal as soon as possible.

Organizations which were represented at this morning's meeting and which have offered to supply workers for the appeal include the following: Kankakee Exchange, Kankakee Kiwanis, Bradley Lodge, Kankakee Lions, Zonta International, American Association of University Women, Salvation Army, Loyd Order of Moose, Knights of Columbus, Kankakee County Ministerial Association, Elks Lodge, Bradley Lodge, Kankakee American Legion Auxiliary, village of Bradley, village of Bourbonnais, city of Kankakee, Catholic churches represented by the Rt. Report Colombian Violence Toll 102

BOGOTA, Colombia (UP)—At least 102 persons were killed last week in a new eruption of violence throughout Colombia, according to reports today.

An official statement reported 80 deaths. Unofficial reports said an additional 22 persons were killed in "outrage" attacks on the town of Calamar in the state of Tolima.

Interior Minister Jose Maria Villarreal recently expressed confidence that an agreement would soon be reached to normalize the situation in the eastern plains where large armed groups still are active.

No deaths of the various acts of violence were reported.

Shoulders was booked on a battery charge pending the filing of more serious charges. His bond was set at $4,000.

Lake said Shoulders told him he was under indictment at St. Louis in the 1955 slaying of Bobbie Carr, an East St. Louis club driver. The officer said Shoulders told him he was free under $25,000 bond for the case.

No deaths of the various acts of violence were reported.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Testimony ended today in the bribery-conspiracy trial of James Earl Ray, charged with the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., by the Midwest boss of the Teamsters Union installing him as king of the Chicago underworld.

The government contends—and Cheasty has testified—that Hoffa hired Cheasty to get a job on the staff of the committee and feed him confidential information on its operations.

Hoffa insisted he hired Cheasty only as a lawyer to help represent the Midwest Teamsters Conference at the hearings. Not until he himself was arrested on March 13, Hoffa said, did he know Cheasty worked for the committee.

EDWARD BENNETT Williams, Hoffa's lawyer, completed the defense case upon completion of cross-examination of Hoffa by U.S. Atty. Edward P. Tamm. Final arguments are scheduled for Thursday.

In cross-examining Hoffa, Tamm suggested Hoffa tell the jury what information he gave to Hoffa, and what Hoffa told him in return.

Hoffa, a Teamsters Union vice president is being tried on charges that he bribed Cheasty to get a job with the Senate Rackets Committee and feed it secrets to him.

Cheasty, the government's star witness in the case, already has testified he furnished Hoffa with information from committee files, but only after disclosing his identity and purpose to the committee.

Conduct Meeting Of United Workers In Bonfield Church

BONFIELD (JNS)—The United Workers Class of the Methodist Church met Friday evening in the church basement.

Devotions were led by Lavern Meyer, president. Roll call was answered by 17 members. The class voted to sponsor an ice cream social at the church on July 24.

Following the business meeting, darts were played. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. George Balford and Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Meyer.

The next meeting will be a picnic on Aug. 11 at the church.

U. S. Winding Up Evidence In Tennessee Race Hearing

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Federal attorneys were calling the last key witnesses today in their effort to prove that 15 segregationists conspired to keep Negro students out of a previously all-white school in Clinton, Tenn.

"Proof is developing very nicely," said U.S. Dist. Atty. John C. Crawford Jr.

He had already put one of his big guns on the witness stand. The Rev. Paul Turner, the Baptist minister, described how he was beaten—so that his blood spilled over a parking automobile—after he accompanied six Negro students to the school last Dec. 4.

Further details of that episode, possibly implicating persons yet unnamed, are still to come.

Other witnesses will fill in the story of the events leading up to the anti-integration violence in Clinton last fall.

ON TRIAL ARE 14 Tennesseeans, including a woman, and Northern segregationist John Kasper, their alleged leader. The government accuses all 15 of "acting in concert" to prevent Negro students from attending the school. It charges they knowingly violated a federal injunction against such interference.

An all-white jury is hearing the case, now in its second week. Legal experts believe the outcome may have important bearing on other civil rights cases in the South.

In a low, composed voice, Turner described how he went to the Negro section of Clinton last Dec. 4 and escorted the Negro students from attending the school. He charges they knowingly violated a federal injunction against such interference.

Ike Against Use Of Force In Civil Rights

Says Talks By Zhukov, Wilson May Aid World

President Remains Firm On Enforcing Pacts Covering GI's

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower said today that he can not imagine any circumstances which would induce him to try to enforce a school desegregation through use of troops.

Eisenhower stuck by his statement of Tuesday night that he wants four objectives met in any civil rights bill which the Senate finally acts.

In the statement the President said he wants enforcement, without jury trial, of voting rights and similar enforcement of "other" rights.

He mentioned establishment of a civil rights investigating committee and the addition of a civil rights division in the Justice Department.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference his attitude toward an amendment by Sen. Anderson (D-MN) and Aiken (R-CT) which would look out of the bill a provision under which school integration and desegregation in public places would be enforced by injunction only.

He was asked if he would be satisfied with a bill which involved only voting rights. Eisenhower replied that the voting rights aspect of the measure should be emphasized.

Eisenhower said he had been told by some persons that the section of the bill which authorizes injunctive action to enforce civil rights in general—sections 3—might involve great dangers.

A reporter pressed Eisenhower on the question whether he favors permitting the attorney general on his own motion to go to court to enforce school integration.

NO, THE PRESIDENT replied, when it is stated that way, without some request from local authorities for action.

Ahead of Eisenhower's discussion of civil rights, Republican senators held a closed-door strategy session to plan for the all-out fight now under way in the Senate.

One senator, who came from the meeting while it was still under way told a reporter:

"No compromises have been proposed or agreed upon. We are discussing all phases of the bill."

With the critical battle touched off by President Eisenhower's firm support of all the basic provisions of the bill.

Eisenhower's statement was issued by the White House minutes after the Senate voted 71-25 on Tuesday night.

House Prepares To Vote On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (UP)—House voting on foreign aid begins today with Eisenhower supporters expressing confidence they can beat the "rollback" bill.

The Foreign Aid Committee recommended a ceiling of $3,247,233,000, about 600 million dollars below what President Eisenhower asked and 375 million less than the Senate approved for the new fiscal year.

A motion by Rep. Selden (D-Ala.) to knock out the long-term feature of a new economic development bill, "He said he proposed to have consideration of his proposal as a separate bill."

As approved by the Foreign Aid Committee, the foreign aid bill would permit use of $60 million dollars a year for the next three years for a new loan for projects designed to promote economic development overseas.

Foreign aid officials say the long-range authority is essential to all sound planning for the projects.

Selden, seeking to strike out the long-range authority, said the Supreme Court to sustain its decision to turn over to Japan for trial, certain information about the atomic bomb would not have become public.

Rep. Davis (D-Tenn), chairman of the subcommittee handling the bill, said it now has only 10 projects objected to by the administration, compared with 47 per cent of the total in the bill, compared with 374 per cent in the original bill.

Can't Imagine When He'd Send Troops South

Backs Enforcement Without Jury Trial, Bill's Voting Rights

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower said today that he can not imagine any circumstances which would induce him to try to enforce a school desegregation through use of troops.

Eisenhower stuck by his statement of Tuesday night that he wants four objectives met in any civil rights bill which the Senate finally acts.

In the statement the President said he wants enforcement, without jury trial, of voting rights and similar enforcement of "other" rights.

He mentioned establishment of a civil rights investigating committee and the addition of a civil rights division in the Justice Department.

Committee Okays $13 Billion In U.S. Water Projects

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House Public Works Committee today approved a bill to authorize future construction of numerous water projects costing slightly less than $13 billion.

As reported to the House by the committee, the bill would authorize construction of 1,450,461,800, a cut of nearly 100 million from the bill as it passed the Senate earlier this year.

The bill is quite similar to the one which Congress passed last year but which President Eisenhower subsequently vetoed.

In vetoing the measure last year, Eisenhower said he had these objections:

"That Army engineer reports on numerous projects are not being completed; that some of the projects should not be authorized, and that in some instances local interests should make larger contributions toward construction of the projects."

Rep. Davis (D-Tenn), chairman of the subcommittee handling the bill, said it now has only 10 projects objected to by the administration, compared with 47 per cent of the total in the bill, compared with 374 per cent in the original bill.
