Ike Advocates Patience To Resolve Crisis

NEWPORT, R. I. (U.P.)—President Eisenhower was quoted as saying today "patience is the important thing" in the government's efforts to resolve the school integration crisis in Little Rock, Ark.

The President's view was reported to newsmen by a Rhode Island Republican leader who conferred with Eisenhower shortly after the vacation White House announced the Justice Department will file a suit in federal court for a court injunction in the Little Rock case.

Acting U.S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies, the department will seek to restrain Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus from barring Negroes from Little Rock's Central High School.

The government's plan to file for an injunction against Faubus later in the day was announced by White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty after he had conferred by telephone with Atty. Gen. Brownell, who was in Washington.

Hagerty relayed a report on Brownell's plans to Eisenhower shortly before the President left for his vacation at Camp David.

Ewing told a sidewalk news conference outside the vacation White House that Eisenhower is "very much concerned" about the Little Rock situation and the Middle East.

The President was reported earlier to be determined to exercise the full power of his office, if need be, into the showdown struggle between the state of Arkansas and the federal government.

But the President's vacation headquarters continued to refuse to shed any light on just how much power might be used if Arkansas Gov. Faubus remains defiant.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, did say Eisenhower hoped desegregation of schools would be accomplished peacefully in Arkansas and elsewhere in the South in the newly falling school desegregation crisis.

Supr. Marinaccio said the district added 204 regular teachers plus four special teachers this year. The teacher load, he said, is more evenly distributed than a year ago.

The annual dinner held in connection with a teachers workshop was set for Wednesday night, Sept. 23. The workshop, sponsored by the instructional council, is Sept. 22-23.

THE BOARD GRANTED R. LaCrosse, music director at West Junior High School, permission to attend the American Legion national convention with the district band and bugle corps which he directs.

A letter from Mrs. Theodore Sang, 222 W. Chestnut St., who said she injured her foot and leg in a fall on the public sidewalk in front of Lincoln School, July 5, was referred to Edwin Sale, school board attorney. Sale said the school district is not liable.

Ways to reduce the peak electrical load at the high school and East Junior High School were referred to the administrators. The rate is based on the "demand," which is determined by the peak load.

The board set up a revolving fund for the district's athletic accounts in accordance with rules of the state superintendent's office.

THE LAST PAYMENTS on the high school addition are being made from the regular yearly building fund. Payments of approximately $18,000 were approved Monday night.

The board also authorized payment of $100,000 in principal and $24,412 in interest on bonds which are coming due.

Business manager James Hines said that approximately $26,500 has been spent so far this year on classroom, shop and office equipment.

Here's What Could Happen In Arkansas

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Supreme Court's decision in the Little Rock case has set the stage for a showdown between the federal government and the state of Arkansas, as the state's National Guard is ordered to keep Negro children out of the school.

Although Davis—according to the Supreme Court's decision—has ordered Little Rock's Central High School to integrate, the state's National Guard is ordered to keep Negro children out of the school.

BUT SUPPOSE he tries the appeal. Davis said he would delay the judge but just trying to prevent disorder and bloodshed. He said a majority of the people of Little Rock opposed integration.

Twice again last week, after the troops kept the Negroes out, Davis ordered integration to proceed. But Davis kept the troops around the school.

No matter what Davis' last purpose was, the net effect of the court's order to integrate the school, if Davis could do this with impunity, all other Southern governors could do likewise.

And, if he did, the Supreme Court's ban on segregation would have no meaning. But that court's decision has the force of federal law. If state governors could nullify federal law, there would be a crisis in government.

The judge could try to send Davis to jail. But how? Davis is in Little Rock. The judge is in St. Louis. The judge would have to send a posse to St. Louis to arrest Davis.

Ordinarily, this is the procedure. The attorney general, acting in the public interest as the judge sees it, lays down reasons why a temporary injunction or restraining order should be issued.

The judge can, if he chooses, order the injunction or order with or without a hearing. If he chooses, he sometimes both the restraining order and the temporary injunction are used as separate steps.

2. THEN—USUALLY within 10 days—he issues an order to the one against whom the temporary injunction has been granted to show cause why a permanent injunction should be issued against him.

3. This show-cause order is delivered by a U.S. marshal. The person against whom the show-cause order is delivered is to present his side of the case, fully and in open court, to argue against both the temporary and permanent injunctions.

4. The judge, hearing both sides, then decides whether to issue a permanent injunction.

But this is where the story becomes complex and unpredictable. Davis has taken it step by step. Davis can issue a temporary injunction ordering Little Rock not to use the troops to keep the Negroes out of school. If Davis does, he is next served with the show-cause order by a U.S. marshal.

(If he should use troops around his mansion to keep the marshal out, and refuse to present his side of the case, the judge still could issue the permanent injunction without him.)

But suppose Davis doesn't want to obey the temporary injunction. He can go over Davis' head to the U.S. Court of Appeals, asking it to stay Davis' temporary injunction. If he wins, the

U Of I Prof Makes Report On Alcoholics

CHICAGO (UP)—Persons who are alcoholics, having hardened of the arteries, a disturbed thyroid gland, and a disturbed metabolism, are more likely to die of heart disease than other people.

That was the conclusion of Dr. G. Kenneth Lewis, a clinical associate professor of ear, nose and throat diseases at the University of Illinois at Chicago, in a report delivered Monday.

Lewis, who is also plastic surgeon at the Cook County Hospital and other hospitals, has made a study of the effects of alcohol on the heart and blood vessels.

Lewis said that, notwithstanding the fact that alcohol is a stimulant, it has a depressing effect on the heart and blood vessels.

What then? Lewis could tell him for contempt for ignoring or disobeying the temporary injunction. Then he could try Davis for civil contempt and clap him in jail until he obeyed or try him for criminal contempt and give him a flat jail sentence for disobedience.

But that raises a question: Suppose Davis ignored the temporary injunction by keeping troops around the school and then refused to go or let himself be taken to court to face trial on contempt charges.

The judge could try to send Davis to jail. But how? Davis is in Little Rock. The judge is in St. Louis. The judge would have to send a posse to St. Louis to arrest Davis.

Pentagon Not Impressed When It Finds Venutians Root For West

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Pentagon has been listening to some "voices from Venus."

But the men assigned to listening to "voices from Venus" are not impressed.

A fellow named Wayne S. Also tuned the Pentagon in last month on a little recorded Venutian chit-chat as translated by a Dayton, Ohio, medium.

The medium was identified as Enid Brady. The Venutians were identified as Cyranal, Huma Matra and two "flying saucer pilots" Mandall and John.

The Pentagon's reaction to the 1 1/2 hours' worth of listening was: "Unimpressed and unconvincing." One spokesman indicated that was understating the case.

BUT AHO, WHO asked the military to listen to the recordings and his associates aren't giving up. "Aho," a former Air Force intelligence officer, argues that the time for ridicule over so-called flying saucers "is long since past."

Enid Brady said Venus, Venus, Venus, has perfected a "new globe" one which will not scorch the earth when it lands. A "moderate" speed for the new ship is 4,000 to 5,000 miles per hour "as you measure it."

In part of the recordings also played for the United Press Monday and heard earlier by the Defense Department, one of the "voices" said: "I have a message to tell you of the trouble I had with the old ones. They went out of control when they reached earth."

The Venutians said they were speaking from a space station 40,000 miles above earth and claimed to be speaking from over frequencies of a "higher rate of vibration" than you are used to.

Both regular and former members of the club take part in the group's summer theater activities.

Teen Drama Club Play Saturday

The Kanabek park district Teenage Drama Club will present a three-act comedy at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Civic Auditorium.

The performance of "TV or Not TV" will climax the club's summer theater season.

One of the highlights of the play is a scene where the family members act as the television writer.

The play is directed by John Thalacker, his wife by Norma Hosen, the television writer by Francis Ernest and a television actress who proves to be the villain of the play by Lynne Casper.

The play is directed by Miss Dorothy Lynne, assistant director of recreation for the park district.

Both regular and former members of the club take part in the group's summer theater activities.

THE VENUTIAN said their space station No. 3 "beams health and vitality" to the earth.

Moreover, they said (via Enid): Life on Venus—its residents are six-foot tall or more, have fair hair and "other features" than do we.

They live in domed houses and do not eat the flesh or blood of any living thing. They visit other planets and find the constellations "very pretty social."

Mars is not of the "Tobacco" type of the "Venus" supplying metal to Venus in exchange for grain that Venus has.

observe U.S. tests of rockets and missiles and one sent up last month was very nice to see. We could have taken it of course. They would like to help the U.S. and Britain in their advanced space satellite ahead of the "people you call as Russians."

Enid related the good relationship that the Venutians are "well aware of the problem" of proof of their existence.

They suggested that pilots who sight a "flying saucer" blink three times with a red or white light instead of calling ahead for military aircraft. The Venutians will answer back.

ST. ANNE (JNS)—A retired farmer, Charles Paradis, died in his home here at noon Monday after one month's illness. He was born in France Dec. 18, 1872. He married N. Stockton Feb. 8, 1898 at Martinton.

Search Bars For Trace Of Student

CHICAGO (UP)—The search for a pretty Loyola University coed, missing since Wednesday, spread today to student hangouts in the vicinity of the school's near North Side branch.

Police said they hoped to trace the movements of Marcia Horan, 21, after she last was seen boarding a southbound bus in the loop.

Although police said there were no indications of foul play, the girls' family said they believed she would run off, especially before a celebration of her 21st birthday Monday.

Police also are fearful in view of the gruesome slaying of 15-year-old Judith Mae Anderson last month. She vanished Aug. 18 and her body was found in a ditch six days later stuffed in a car floating in a North Side harbor. The slaying is still unsolved.

DETROIT (UP)—Police learned Monday the Horan girl withdrew $250 from her bank account shortly before she disappeared.

How the girl was lured away is not known, but her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Horan, she intended to pay her university tuition and do some shopping.

However, police said, the university reported the girl failed to register by speaking from over frequencies of a "higher rate of vibration" than you are used to.

Police said they were given a list of student bars and taverns by one of the girl's friends, Ronald Symonds, 23, a pre-medical student at Spring Hill College in Mobile, Ala.

Symonds said he searched more than 30 taverns and nightspots over the weekend, but failed to turn up any leads to the girl's whereabouts.

Settle Sher Crash Death Suit Out Of Court For $18,000

FAIRMONT, Minn. (UP)—Suits totaling $17,500 growing out of traffic deaths of a Chicago coed and her daughter, who died in a crash Sunday, now 6, have been settled out of court.

The suit was filed on behalf of the girl's father, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sher, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sher, were killed in a car collision Aug. 22, 1948. The Sher car was driven by Eugene Burleigh, 22, Frankfort, Mich., soldier returning from leave, killed eight miles east of Fairmont.

Zierke, Fairmont attorney named trustee in the suit, filed documents in the settlement with the clerk of district court of Fairmont Monday.

Robb was the center of a child custody controversy in Chicago following the accident. She was awarded to her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Zelman, Chicago.

Says U. S. Reds Down To 10,000

NEW YORK (UP)—Discontent and dissension have sharply reduced membership and caused a crisis in the American Communist Party, according to a report by the Daily Worker, the Communist organ in the United States, said the party's U. S. membership declined by 45 per cent. in the last year.

National party officials confirmed the sharp drop, saying the party lost 7,000 members during the past year.

The present membership, a spokesman said, stands at 10,000, the lowest figure since 1931 when there were 8,000 members.

The high point in U.S. membership was reached in 1945, at the end of World War II, when American Communists claimed 20,000 members.

Gates said it was difficult to analyze the "fundamental causes" of the membership decline. But he listed dissension within the party along with membership decline as the primary methods were largely responsible for the drop.

Gates' statement was, in effect, a reply to one published in the Daily Worker Monday by Joseph Clark, announcing his resignation as the newspaper's foreign editor and from party membership.

Clark, a Communist for 25 years, openly admitted his disillusionment with the American Communist party.

Principal reason for dropping the early election was that in president-elect years, Maine had to bear the costs of two elections—one for its own state and one for the President.

The state has voted on the second election in September since it broke away from Massachusetts and became a state in 1820-1827 from flaming gasoline in his father's workshop.

Just the other day a visitor from Cleveland, Ohio, set down his name and address. When it came to filling in the line about his company, he wrote a single word—"Volcano."

At the finish of the meal you will feel that you could eat more. But try this: Eat the vegetables, and take seconds of them if you wish. Have salad, but do not eat it. Eat the food, but do not eat it. Eat the food, but do not eat it.

Another writes: "I have been fat ever since I was at least 4 years old. The children at school laugh at me. I am now 13½ years old and weigh 145 pounds. I have tried every way I could to lose weight, but I just can't stay on it. Please help me."

All overweight teenagers, tune in here. Stop thinking that the scale is your enemy. You don't need to go hungry. Eat three moderate meals a day, including the foods which give glowing good looks, and in thirty days you will prefer this new way of eating.

WHEN DO YOU START the plan? At the very next meal. Of course you come to the table ravenously hungry. Try a new taste experiment... chew every mouthful of good food thoroughly... really taste it. You don't just eat the first few mouthfuls, but the whole meal! Show eating will keep you from wanting to eat more.

Busy Working Day Helps Career Gals Stay Young

By JEANNE D'ARCY
The woman who works in an office seemingly stays young forever. What's the secret?

It's people. A working woman is with them from 9 to 5. Because of this, she takes extra pains with her appearance. She naturally—it's feminine nature—wants to attract favorable notice.

This is true of the teenage office worker or of the older woman who's been down a job for 30 or 40 years. The latter, in fact, is apt to be even more chic and attractive than younger co-workers.

Years of experience have taught her how to dress—simple clothes with good lines in basic colors. Nothing too flashy for this lady. Nothing too glittering or garish, either.

Her make-up is well done, too. If she's wise—and she usually is—she replaces the bloom of the teen years with the glow of maturity. She doesn't try to simulate a youth-

Teenage Overweights—Get On Right Course

By IDA JEAN KAIN
Letters from overweight teenagers seeking help in reducing invariably reveal a tone of almost desperate urgency. With a sudden awareness of the handicaps that come with excess pounds in terms of appearance and social life, these teenagers long to be rid of the burdensome pounds without further ado.

This is a typical letter: "I am a girl of 15 and I am 115 pounds overweight. On me it does not look good... my hips and legs are really large. I just can't seem to stop overeating. I say to myself, 'I'll eat this now and go on a diet tomorrow.' Tomorrow I've eaten some. What can I do to lose weight in a hurry? Please publish this because I am sure other girls suffer the same thing."

Another writes: "I have been fat ever since I was at least 4 years old. The children at school laugh at me. I am now 13½ years old and weigh 145 pounds. I have tried every way I could to lose weight, but I just can't stay on it. Please help me."
