No. 1 Woman Sports Fan: That's Cissna Park Resident At 91

CISSNA PARK—The year was 1897. The place was a cow pasture at the north edge of Cissna Park. The event was a grammar school baseball game and among the spectators was Mrs. Ida May Bryan.

Today—60 years later—Mrs. Bryan, probably the village's No. 1 woman sports fan, looks back upon that event as the one that ignited her interest in sports.

The alert 91-year-old Cissna Park resident—(She'll be 92 come January)—has had a rich life of following sports. She has watched bull fighting in Mexico, lacrosse in Canada—and baseball, football, basketball, hockey, soccer, racing, and what have you from one end of the United States to the other.

SLOWED DOWN A bit in her traveling in recent years she has found a great joy in television, and whether it is baseball, football, basketball, hockey, boxing, wrestling, horse racing, etc., she's at the TV set or the radio taking in every thrilling moment.

Mrs. Bryan is the second wife of Cissna Park's first mayor. She was born in Union City, Ind., Jan. 7, 1866, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Denman. Her father, a tailor by trade, was in the Civil War.

The Denmans moved to Perry, Iowa, then returned to Illinois to live first in Midford, then Hopeston and finally in Cissna Park to which they moved in 1893. The village was just getting started.

Her parents operated a hotel in Cissna and in 1898 Mrs. Bryan became the village's third postmaster. She served for four years and later from 1907 to 1907 assisted in the post office when her brother-in-law, the late Henry Harvey, was postmaster.

Mrs. Bryan was married to Charles G. Bryan in 1895 and it was a union of two sports-minded persons. They spent a year in Decatur, returned to live in Cissna Park from 1896 to 1907, and then moved to Minneapolis.

Mr. Bryan, a salesman for the Wayne Knitting Mills, Ft. Wayne, Ind., until his retirement in 1915, died in 1933. Mrs. Bryan, however, continued residence in Minneapolis until 1937. At that time she returned to Cissna Park and has resided there since.

IT WAS DURING the 30 years she was in Minneapolis that she became such a devoted baseball fan and it still is her favorite sport. She lived in walking distance of the home of the Minneapolis Millers in the American Association, and she seldom missed a game. She had an especial association with some of the Millers' players since during her 30 years in Minneapolis she had many of the children of the players in her Sunday School classes she taught.

She was also in walking distance of the home of the Minneapolis ice hockey team and thus she saw many hockey games during the winter months.

Mrs. Bryan got a chance to see the Chicago baseball team, the Cubs and White Sox, occasionally and in the considerable vacation traveling she and her husband did about the country they saw some of the other major league teams.

She saw her first football game in Des Moines, Iowa, a half-century ago and recalls that her immediate reaction was that she "didn't want to see any more of that rough sport." She had a similar reaction to boxing.

HER OBJECTIONS to these sports soon disappeared, however, and she is a great fan of both sports.

One objection to a sport that hasn't worn off, however, was her aversion to bull fighting. She saw two bull fights and they were enough for a lifetime.

What sports Mrs. Bryan follows by radio. A devoted wood Cub fan especially the past 20 years since she has returned to Cissna Park, her greatest joy is a televised Cub doubleheader.

Thirty years of following baseball have made the Cissna Park woman a pretty good student of the game. She has seen many of the stars of yesterday and some of the great games and knows the difference between a home run and a sacrifice fly.

She has a scientific knowledge of the game and can second-guess a manager to coach as well as any other baseball fan. She prefers baseball to football primarily because it isn't quite as complicated a game. Complications of football, however, she is still at the TV set.

If Your Stomach Is Like a GAS Factory!

Recently a Kankakee lady said her stomach felt like a GAS Factory before she got SYSTON. Her food laid too long in her stomach without digesting, so she was in misery with gas. Now this lady says it's so different from other "gas" remedies.

SYSTON is helping hundreds in Kankakee. It works with your food, digests it, and keeps the gas from building up. It's the only gas remedy that doesn't hurt your stomach.

IF THERE BE ANY televised sports events that slip by Cissna Park's Mrs. Ida May Bryan it's strictly an oversight. The 91-year-old woman has lost none of her enthusiasm for sports down through the years and is an avid follower of baseball, football, basketball, hockey, boxing, etc. Although in her younger days she has been in the stands for the games, in her advanced years she has found television and the sports pages of newspapers her best medium for keeping abreast of happenings in the athletic world. Here she is found in a familiar position—tuning in on a college football game. (Journal photo.)

Alaskan Highway Bridge Collapses

TAYLOR, B.C.—Left without support from the shale crumbled beneath a 3,000-ton anchor block, the north span of the four-mile-long, 2,200-foot Alaska Highway suspension bridge crashed into the Peace River Wednesday.

No one was injured and 3,000 persons watched as the 465-foot section buckled and dropped with a tremendous roar, seven hours after engineers had noted the northern anchor was sinking.

Half-a-million to some 200 to 300 vehicles a day—was quickly rerouted to a small ferry 10 miles down stream.

The bridge—600 miles north of Vancouver, B.C., and 40 miles northwest of Dawson Creek, B.C., starting point of the highway.

The bridge, largest of 133 on the northern road, was built in 1942 by the United States Army.

MISFIRE—OKLAHOMA CITY (JNS)—Newspapers were alerted; TV stations notified; and radio stations were informed that a Midland, Tex., firm would demonstrate its latest fire-fighting equipment at a local airport. Lesson, "Ironing Made Easier," will be given by Mrs. Vaughn Lamm and Mrs. L. E. McDonald. The minor lesson will be "Make Your Home Safe."

West Germany To Break With Yugoslavia

Parliament Fails To Back Adenauer But He'll Severe Relations

BONN, Germany (UP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer failed to win parliamentary support for his decision to break diplomatic relations with Yugoslavia today but government sources said he would carry out his decision anyway.

Adenauer decided on the break because the Bonn government wants to draft a voluminous document outlining its position and send it to Belgrade together with notification of the break.

The chancellor informed a parliamentary committee of the government move this morning.

The 28-map committee, which included representatives of all parties in the Bundestag (lower house), met in the afternoon.

BONN HAS DECLARED frequently it will have no official dealings with nations recognizing the East Zone Communist regime. The only exception to this basic plank of foreign policy is the Soviet Union.

West Germany fears if it allows the Yugoslav move to pass without action it will open the door for other countries to recognize East Germany and thus hamper German reunification hopes. Yugoslavia was the first non-Soviet country to recognize the eastern government.

The decision was taken at an emergency cabinet meeting Thursday. The United States, Britain and France told the Bonn government they supported its view that a country should not have diplomatic relations with both East and West Germany.

Brentano planned to call in Yugoslav Ambassador Dusan Kveder and urge him to leave the country. Although Kveder was not supposed to know of the move, officials said he was known to the press. The German chargé d'affaires in Belgrade planned to call at the foreign office today to ask for the passports of his staff. The post of German ambassador in Belgrade was vacant since the death of the late German ambassador, Dr. Heinrich Krieger.

Secret Navy Test Sends 20,000 Feet Into Air

LONDON (JNS)—A Soviet mathematician said today that a Soviet lunar physical station, to be called Minerva, may soon appear on the moon.

Alexander Alexandrov, rector of Leningrad University, made this statement in a Soviet government newspaper. Moscow radio broadcast a brief English language account of the article but gave no details of the station.

Presumably it would be some sort of automatic unmanned station since scientists in both the East and West have predicted that the first step in man's attempt to reach the moon.

There has been considerable speculation that the Russians would mark the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution Nov. 7 with some new space project as a follow-up to their Sputnik, the artificial satellite circling the earth.

Navy officials at Minneapolis said the flight, "Stratolab High No. 40," was the biggest, fastest and most difficult of the series.

The Soviet moon station apparently will be a lunar probe, the feminine form of "peaceful."

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (JNS)—Prodded by Syria and the Soviet Union, the 82-nation U.N. Assembly called an urgent session today to take up charges the United States and Turkey are about to touch off a Middle East war.

The Soviet Union charged that the United States is masterminding the alleged plot. The Russians said the Turks plot to attack the Arab border than their representatives and allies at the U.N. Queen 8 Minutes Late On Tour Of Gallery Of Art

WASHINGTON (JNS)—Queen Elizabeth II of Britain started a royal whirl around Washington today on a cultural note and eight minutes behind schedule.

The young British monarch was to visit as she left the White House for the National gallery of art. There she inspected 24 of the exhibition galleries of renowned paintings and sculptural pieces.

While Elizabeth was at the White House and received from the United States and Canada as chairman.

The award was for his bringing "to millions a better understanding of our planet and its people." It was given mainly in recognition of Philip's 40,000-mile world trip which took him to many far outposts of the British Empire last year.

The information was to be some sort of automatic unmanned station since scientists in both the East and West have predicted that the first step in man's attempt to reach the moon.

"BUT I VIOLATED A TRAFFIC LAW, so, I am guilty; even though, I think, I am a careful driver."

Since the sender cloaked his or her identity Decatur police were stymied in answering the letter. But they wanted to assure the motorist that $10 was enough.

Expect Plan To Be Aired At Macmillan, Eisenhower Parley

WASHINGTON (JNS)—President Eisenhower is developing a "far-reaching proposal to pool the scientific brainpower and creative resources of the North American Alliance. The aim is to meet the challenge of Russia's weapon advances as well as its progress in the conquest of space."

Along this line came in the toast Eisenhower proposed to Britain's Queen Elizabeth Thursday night.

Informal officials said today the project may be the major topic of discussion when Eisenhower meets British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan here next Wednesday.

What the President has in mind, however, according to persons familiar with his planning, is more than a British-American partnership. It is designed to bring into play resources of the whole Western Hemisphere.

Eisenhower gave the up-lift in this portion of his toast to the Queen at a White House dinner. "We have the power, the resources, the ability to do it together. The scientists must work together. NATO should not be thought of merely as a military alliance. NATO is a way of grouping ability of our manhood, our resources, of our industries and our factories."

Presumably the total assets of the free world are far greater than those of our potential enemies, but he added "we are too much separated by things that concern us locally."

The President's proposal would lead eventually to a request by him for modifications in the law barring the disclosure of much basic atomic weapons information to Britain or any other country.

More immediately, however, the Eisenhower proposition, which follows a series of meetings with his science advisers and other officials over the past two weeks, is evidently designed to deal with the challenge of Russia's intercontinental missile and its threat of earth satellite.

The information was to be some sort of automatic unmanned station since scientists in both the East and West have predicted that the first step in man's attempt to reach the moon.

A. O. Smith Report Shows Increase In Sales, Income

Significant increases in the sales of Harvesters during the fiscal year which ended July 31 are noted in the annual report to stockholders of A. O. Smith Corp.

The glassless steel crop storage units are manufactured in Kankakee.

The first year's operation of a complete dealer organization resulted in materially increased sales and a profitable operation, the report said.

The company also reported increased acceptance of the Derramas storage unit, an adaptation of the Harvestor for industrial uses.

Glass-lined Permaglas water heater and heating and air conditioning equipment operations in Kankakee were also successful and profitable, the report said.

The company's sales and net income hit a new high for the fiscal year.

Sales were up 12 per cent to $26,393,188, while income after taxes rose 34 per cent to $9,706,365.

Sales in the previous fiscal year were $23.2 million dollars while net income was $7.1 million dollars.

Income per share was $4.85 compared to $3.58 for the previous year. Both figures are based on the two million shares outstanding after a stock split declaration last month.

Average company employment was 13,252 compared to 13,406 the previous year.

Employment Up 375 In 2 Months

Employment increased by 375 during the two-month period ending Sept. 15 at 78 firms in Kankakee County.

These figures were announced in Labor Market Trends, a publication from Roy Robinson, manager of the local Illinois State Employment Service.

Employment on Sept. 15, 1957, numbered 14,261, compared to 13,883 on July 15, 1957 and 13,820 on Sept. 15, 1956.

Responding to improved business conditions, unemployment in Kankakee County as of Sept. 15 was estimated at 3.75, as compared with the July 15 figure of 7.00.

Robinson said that construction is expected to continue at its present high level as long as weather conditions permit and trade will reflect expanded buying for the holidays.

Estimates indicate a slight reduction in employment during the next few months, caused largely by the publication says, by lack of orders and reduced production in fabricated metals, non-electrical machinery and chemicals.

A New Look At The High School Set — Last Of Four Articles

Frown On Student Owned Cars

By JAMES FENDER

Justified or not, the frown of the Kankakee High School principal, Kankakee High School, has done as much as any one thing to give teenagers a bad reputation.

School officials, while they can't control students off the school grounds, have taken a number of steps against any reckless student driving.

In the first place, they warn parents they are only inviting trouble if they let a youngster have a car of his own.

Working is laudable, but these educators believe it is misdirected when students do it to buy an auto.

It's much better, they believe, to let students use the family car. FOR ONE THING, IT'S harder for other youngsters to "pressure" a boy into misbehaving with the family car.

Seventy-five per cent of juvenile cases involve automobiles, according to County Judge Irwin C. Taylor. "We are strictly opposed to students owning their own cars," says Principal S. A. Smith of Bradley-Bourbonnais High School.

Youngsters slight their school work and try to get out of classes early to work to buy gasoline, he has found.

Knecht believes, however, that youngsters attach less importance to a car than they did as recently as two years ago.

KANKAKEE HIGH School has no excessive difficulty with speeding and improper driving around the school, Knecht reports.

Bradley High School requires students to drive sensibly and to four school. Offenders are reported to the Bradley police, who take quick action.

Only about half as many students are driving cars at Bradley as they did in other years.

At St. Patrick Central High School, students may not leave the grounds from 8:45 a.m. until 3:15 p.m. This means they may not drive cars during the lunch period.

There is little trouble with cars around the school, points out the Rev. Eugene Hoffman, principal, Momence High School is trying to drive cars during the lunch period.

Signs of delinquency include a D.A. haircut, blue leather jackets and engineer boots. Sheriff James W. Laffey told 350 parents at a meeting of the St. Patrick Central High School Parent Teacher Club Thursday evening.

Laffey, former St. Patrick faculty member, spoke about "Signs of Delinquency."

Laffey also discussed the difference between delinquents and dependents and between juvenile and adult offenders.

The Rev. E. F. Hoffman, principal of the school, introduced faculty members.

Tom Fitzpatrick discussed the book rental program which is scheduled to begin in September, 1958.

X-Ray Clinic Closes Shop After 37 Years

The Kankakee X-ray and Clinical Laboratories, founded in 1920 by Raymond and E. J. Roy, has been closed after 37 years of business. Raymond retired several weeks ago. His brother, E. J., retired in 1950 and now lives at Madeira Beach, Fla. Raymond's son, David, who had been with his father since the retirement of E. J. Roy, is now a chemist with a Kankakee industry.

This is actually the second retirement for Raymond. He retired in 1950 with his brother, but was persuaded by interested parties to reopen the laboratories. He did so with the help of his son, who had been a laboratory technician in Florida.

Kankakee X-ray and Clinical Laboratories were opened here when X-ray was such a new thing that general knowledge about it was extremely skimpy. Much of the work done at the laboratories was in the pioneer field.

The first X-rays were taken about 1897, but the process was so laborious and the pictures so poor that they were not of much use. In 1917 the first effective X-ray tube was developed, but it still took almost five minutes to get a picture. Now exposures can be made in a quarter of a second. This fast exposure is necessary to get good pictures of organs such as the stomach which are constantly in motion.

Before X-ray film was developed, pictures were made on chemically treated glass plates. With the invention of the gas tube, then the hot anode electron tube and finally the rotating anode tube high quality X-rays which were of real value to physicians could be made.

When the Roy brothers opened their laboratories here there were three or four doctors who had X-ray equipment. Because of the newness of the device and the technicalities involved the doctors could not end of their equipment and used the Roy laboratories.

Doctors and the Roy brothers pooled their knowledge in an effort to improve the quality of exposures and to get better readings. There was no such person as a radiologist, who specializes in reading and analyzing X-rays. Although the Roy brothers helped the doctors obtain better results, all interpretation of films and diagnosis was done by the medical men.

When the Roy brothers opened their laboratories here there were three or four doctors who had X-ray equipment. Because of the newness of the device and the technicalities involved the doctors could not end of their equipment and used the Roy laboratories.

Pigs Wallow In Luxury, Not Mud

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — The pig, a noble meat producer, is beginning to live these days in air-conditioned luxury with all manner of self-service and automatic gadgets at his command. Increasingly the feeder-size pigs are moving into places of porcine magnificence or swank which are described as "Pig Palaces," "Pig Palaces," "Swine Saloons," and "Pig Cafeterias."

No more wallowing in the mud. In fact pigs could probably never wallow in the mud anyway, if they had any other way to keep cool on hot days. Pigs have no sweat glands, and that's why they crave cool comfort.

THE MORE fortunate pigs stay delightfully cool now on the hot

THIS HUNTING SCENE will be enacted many times throughout Kankakee and all of Illinois Saturday. The state's 70-day waterfowl season starts Saturday and continues through Dec. 27. Ducks have been set out and can be seen floating in the background. The hunter, Gerald George of 1580 W. Hickory St., and his dog are waiting for the duck flight to start. (Journal photo)

Duck Hunting Starts Here Saturday; Outlook Good

Another banner year of duck hunting can be expected in Illinois, according to advance reports from Canada.

The impressive buildup of waterfowl in the Canada prairie region is elating shotgun artists everywhere.

The waterfowl season gets underway here Saturday one-half hour before sunrise and closes at sunset.

The 70-day season will be one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

From every source comes the same report—there are plenty of ducks in Canada ready to fly when cold weather hits.

Last year, Bert W. Cartwright, chief naturalist of Ducks Unlimited, reported the best duck population in Canada in 15 years. This year, Cartwright reports another good hatch—just as big as the 1956 crop.

THE LAST REPORT of the Ducks Unlimited group said that ducks are starting to group for the flight south. Weather conditions in Canada were still dry and warm, the report said, and the ducks are not yet on the move.

Cartwright claims that this year's flight will be just as good or better than last year's. Sharper and wetter weather is needed to bring the ducks down from Canada and bring joy to the hearts of Illinois hunters.

AS ALWAYS, guns must conform to rules. No gun must be capable of firing more than three consecutive shots. If the shotgun is capable of firing more than three, it must be fitted with a permanent plug or otherwise altered to render it incapable of firing more than three consecutive shots.

Some tips on conduct of hunters are: "Should and must get permission from landowners before hunting. The conservation officer said he has been getting complaints from landowners concerning hunters trespassing on their property. These hunters have been after quail and doves."

"THIS PROBLEM of hunting without permission has to stop. Gamekeepers are not to be trifled with. At the end of the hunt thank the landowner and offer to share your game with him."

Flu Revising College Grid Schedules

BY UNITED PRESS

Outbreaks of Asian flu spread have with college elevens today with more than a dozen football games cancelled or postponed as a result of the illness.

Other teams, however, their schedules revised by flu, pointed to go ahead with their weekend commitments and let the record books tell the final story.

The flu invasion caused the cancellation of Western Michigan University's homecoming game with Washington University of St. Louis, due to illness on the Washington squad. Officials at WMU said they would continue to search for a suitable opponent to fill the schedule Saturday.

ON THE EAST Coast, flu caused a series of cancellations and postponements among them the Boston College—Williams College match at Williamstown, Mass., and the game between Colby College and Trinity College of Hartford, Conn.

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute scheduled to meet Union College at Troy, N.Y., scratched its engagement, as did Slippery Rock and its opponent, Western Reserve University, slated to play at Slippery Rock, Pa. Washington and Jefferson College at Washington, Pa., and the game between Colby College and Trinity College of Hartford, Conn.

Bradley University at Peoria, Ill., had its homecoming plans marred when flu struck down players at the University of Omaha Bradley, however, arranged a game with Colorado State University which, in turn, had found its game with Drake University cancelled due to flu.

JUNIATA COLLEGE, Kalamazoo, Mich., set up a game with Kutztown Teachers College when its regularly scheduled rival, Lycoming College, was forced to cancel the match.

A respiratory illness closed down Alfred University entirely, closing out its game with Hobart College.

Such a lineup would be the youngest started by Lemmon this season, it including four sophomores, three juniors and four seniors.

Bradley experienced a rather rugged week of injuries. Regular linebacker Bob Pettit, who had planned on seeing some action against the Irish after recovering from a knee fracture he suffered in pre-season practice, is definitely out for the rest of the year with his hernia of the foot. Fullback Harold Emme, who missed the St. Pat game with a knee injury he incurred against Gilman, is expected to miss the Mommence game as well.

The Kankakee and Bradley post office will sell about 500 duck stamps in a normal year.

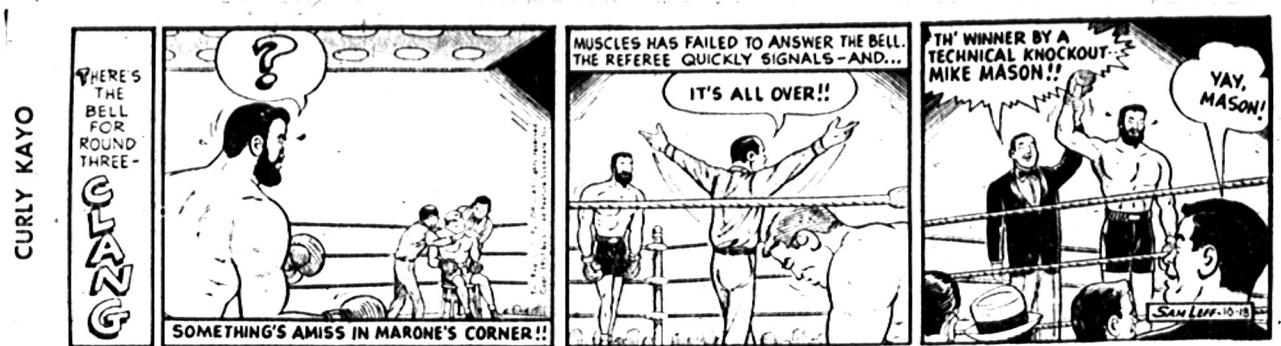

The daily limit for ducks is four with a possession limit of eight. Game officials report that the sale of duck stamps is going well.

All persons 16 years of age or older are required to have a valid federal migratory bird hunting stamp in possession when hunting migratory waterfowl.

Monitors, likewise, has its problems from injuries and illness, with the most costly injury being a pulled muscle being nursed by quarterback John Bisher. The key to Mommence's defense this season with his passing as well as running and generalship, he may see no action tonight.

Ask permission from the landowner before hunting and invite him to join the hunting party. Do not hunt close to buildings shoot only wild game. Aimless shooting at crows, hawks or other birds indicates the hunter is a rank amateur.

Do not damage fences or leave gates open. Be careful of fire. At the end of the hunt thank the landowner and offer to share your game with him.

Montreal hockey fans will have eyes for only one player Saturday night.

Chances are his every shift will start a roar and every shot signal a general pandemonium.

The player, of course, is Maurice (Rocket) Richard, one goal away from the 300-goal mark in the regular season National Hockey League play.

The 26-year-old Canadiens star scored twice Thursday night as the Canadiens shipped Toronto 9-3.

The win was Montreal's third along with two ties in five games.

Organize Greek Society Here

The local chapter of the Philoptochos Society of the Greek Orthodox Church which was recently organized through the efforts of the Rev. Peter Rexinis, pastor of the local church, has received its charter.

Newly elected officers are Mrs. Chris Economos, president; Mrs. Gus Leland, vice president; Mrs. Harry Dandelis, secretary; Mrs. Harry Dandelis, treasurer.

The society, a combined church and community organization, is open to all women of the church. The organization was founded in November 1931 by the Fourth General Clergy-Lay Assembly of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese in the Annunciation Church of New York.

According to the Rev. Mr. Rexinis it was named Philoptochos, Society of Greek Women because with these words, he explains, the entire wealth of the womanly heart is interpreted; it is better suited to womanhood's place and it proclaims more widely her divine mission and her life throughout the centuries.

The society assists the holy work of the Archdiocese and churches and it cultivates the spirit of mutual acquaintance, brotherhood and love among its members.

The work of the society is basically spiritual and ethical and has undertaken work for the younger generation and its establishment in Illinois.

FOR MOST MISSIONARIES stationed around the globe, a furlough back in the United States doesn't mean a vacation. While it offers a change from the rigorous life in foreign lands, many of them far from the civilized world, the work of spreading the gospel continues. Typical of the missionaries who relate their experiences, and endeavors in distant places during their stay in the states is Mrs. Vernon Farnham, (standing) a missionary to Japan. Last week, Mrs. Farnham spoke and showed slides of the mission program in Japan at a meeting of the Women's Society of World Service in the Redick Evangelical United Brethren Church. Shows with her (front, from left) are Joan Flesner, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Flesner, Bonfield; Mrs. Clarence Winger, Bonfield, and Mrs. Howard Boyer. Bonfield WSCS members were guests of the Redick society. (Journal photo)

Women Tackle Homemaking On A Neighborhood Scale

NEW YORK (UP)—More and more women are working at home-making on a neighborhood scale. They're clearing slums and improving the neighborhoods in which they live. Currently, they're particularly interested in civic action to make the multi-billion dollar federal highway construction program a means of riding their home communities of unsightly or unhealthy areas.

A SPOKESMAN for the non-profit, non-political organization called ACTION, the American Council to Improve our Neighborhoods, said women make up close to half of the leader-correspondents in its 750 member groups, and are joining the 2,000 organized groups in the country in ever-increasing numbers.

THE FEDERAL highway construction program and city planning around it is high on the agenda of ACTION activities in the coming months. It will have top priority at the Pacific Coast urban renewal clinic to be held in Berkeley, California, Oct. 17 and 18, as it did in the East Coast clinic which was held in New York on Sept. 22 and 24.

The urban renewal clinics, which zeals are vitally interested in its program is shown by the fact that several hundred cities in 25 states, some 1,000 letters a month asking for literature and information about how to form ACTION groups reach-

UAW Offer Turned Down By Kohler

Kohler, president of the Kohler Company, has turned down a proposal by United Auto Worker President Walter Reuther to settle the nation's longest strike.

Reuther offered to call off the strike early this week if Kohler officials would agree to abide by the recommendations of the National Labor Relations Board.

George Downing, NLRB trial examiner, ruled last weekend that the company was guilty of unfair labor practices in the dispute which began April 5, 1954. Downing called for the reinstatement of fired strikers and attempts to negotiate a settlement.

Kohler replied to Reuther Thursday that the plumbingware firm would not meet with UAW representatives "under the conditions" Reuther stipulated.

"Your suggestion of a meeting and for termination of the strike," Kohler said, "is conditioned on the company's waiving its right to appeal from the report and recommendations from the trial examiner."

"The UAW is greatly disappointed."

"This further rejection of the union's offer to terminate the strike is another demonstration of this company's irresponsibility. The union is responsible for this strike."

Work To Eliminate Deadly "S" Curve Near Grant Park

The deadly "S" curve a few miles northeast of Grant Park on Route 1 will become a thing of the past by spring of 1958. Work is under way to straighten the highway section, which has been the scene of fatal auto accidents in the last several years. A new two-lane stretch approximately five miles long is being constructed. The old highway will be torn up. The huge construction units shown above are preparing a roadbed for the concrete surface. Telephone company crews are busy moving poles for the new stretch. It is expected the road bed will be completed this fall. The section extends from the Indiana state line to just east of Grant Park. Girl Victim Spots Stabber, Dad Nabs Him

CHICAGO (UP)—The father of a teenage stabber victim has captured her attacker, apparently preventing another stabbing today.

Frederick Donner, 41, whose daughter Sharon, 14, was one of two young girls stabbed in Elmwood Park Monday, caught the young boy after Sharon pointed him out as he rode a bicycle.

Sharon was released from the hospital Thursday and accompanied her father as they drove through the city looking for the stabber.

They pursued the boy, Ronald Click, 13, an eighth-grade student, and nabbed him as he turned his bike into an alley.

POLICE CHIEF Charles L. Woods said Click admitted the stabbings, giving no other reason than that he felt an "urge." Woods said the boy used a sharp compass to stab the girls. It had been thought the girls were stabbed with an ice pick.

Woods said that other items found on the boy, among them a pair of scissors, the compass, and several hair pins, indicated Click was a "stalker."

Click was taken to the Cook County Jail and charged with two counts of aggravated battery.

Follows Orders To Escape Fiery Death

ALAMEDA, Idaho (UP)—An 8-year-old girl who did "just what she told me to do" avoided serious injury and possible death.

Kerry Lee Thurman was in the kitchen making soup for her father, C. G. Thurman, Kerry Lee reached into a cupboard and her dress caught fire from an electric range.

Later she strode into another room and told her father, "Look daddy, I burned my dress. I got down and rolled."

Kerry Lee exhibited her burned dress, singed hair, two charred petticoats and a minor arm burn. The third-grader was in school last week when Alameda firemen handed out junior fire helmets.

Man Denies He Killed Wife, Wounded Self

CHICAGO (UP)—A lawyer and adventurer accused of fatally shooting his former wife in her car on Chicago's North Side contends the slaying was the work of robbers.

But Bailey Stanton, departing Thursday from Illinois Masonic Hospital refused to elaborate on his story, or to identify the alleged killers.

Stanton was blinded in the double shooting which last June took the life of his twice-divorced wife, Dr. Margaret Stanton. Authorities said Stanton left notes detailing a suicide pact.

BUT POLICE maintained the couple argued before the shooting about Dr. Stanton's intentions to marry another man, that there was no suicide pact, and that Stanton killed his ex-wife, after which they made preparations to go to California.

Stanton had $1,947 in cash on his person, he said. "I was going to buy traveler's checks. When the police found me I had only $6.50."

He added the shooting was done by one of two gunmen who robbed them and "I know the guns that were used."

Dr. Stanton was slain as she was at the wheel of her automobile. Police say Stanton, at her side, shot himself. He was wounded in the head.

A little later cooked rice may be used in canned condensed tomato soup.

8,000 Pictures Of Sun Rim Taken From Balloon

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—Scientists today began processing thousands of pictures of the sun taken by a camera-telescope from an altitude of 82,000 feet.

A huge plastic balloon carried the delicate photographic equipment on a nine-hour flight into the stratosphere Thursday.

The balloon was launched at 8:15 a. m. cdt. from the Huron, S. D., airport, and the camera-telescope snapped 8,000 shots of the sun's rim during the almost seven hours it was at ceiling altitude.

The flight was the second phase of Operation Stratoscope, a Navy-sponsored program aimed at unlocking the secrets of gas storms on the sun.

A similar flight last month, scientists said a camera mounted directly into the sun recorded the clearest pictures ever taken of the center of the solar system.

The 200-foot balloon released its cargo in the afternoon and it parachuted to earth at 1:15 p. m. on a farm near Scarville, Iowa, about two miles south of the Minnesota-Iowa border.

MATERIAL EFFECT—Novel touch to men's fashion show in Paris is achieved by draping three masked models with types of material males will be wearing in the coming season.

STATUE MODEL—Jo Ann Brobst, 20-year-old student at the University of California, poses the statue model for Mexico's new statue of liberty. Original sculpture toppled during last summer's earthquake in Mexico City.

DESIGN IN MINIATURE—A three-wheeled one-man vehicle named Mopetta is unveiled by its inventor at a Frankfurt exhibition. The German-manufactured car has 2½ horsepower air-cooled engine, can cruise at 27 miles per hour and sells for $250.

ARMY CADET—Syrian army cadet stands at review prior to receiving officer's commission at Hama. Graduating cadets were told to be alert "to battle imperialism any time."
