From Whisky To Baby Food

How U. S. Figures Cost Of Living

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government checks prices on items ranging from whisky to baby food to get the nation's most vital statistic.

That figure is the consumer price index announced about the 20th of each month by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The latest index registered the 13th consecutive all-time high—121.1 per cent of average 1947-49 prices. That means it cost $12.11 to buy what $10 bought 10 years ago.

How do they know? THE INDEX involves the efforts of scores of federal employees, dedicated to accuracy, who have over price changes in the average of 40,000 items. The average city wage earner or clerical worker buys with his take-home pay.

They work with the same price tags as Mrs. American housewife. Costs of basic necessities, including food, clothing, shelter, transportation, medical care, and recreation, are included in the index.

Here's an example of how it works: Specially trained agents in 46 cities are assigned to price an item—say center-cut pork chops, one of the staple items in the index. Prices charged this month in chain and independent stores are compared with last month's. If there's an increase, it's expressed in terms of per cent.

Pork chop prices from across the country are assembled here, statistically weighted and combined with the increases and decreases for the rest of the 300 goods and services.

FOR THE PAST 13 months, increases have prevailed over decreases. Changes in the price of food, which account for 30 per cent of the items in the index, have greater weight than housing or clothing.

The items in the index are included after a survey of 8,000 families and their spending habits. The average "index" family has 3.3 persons and the breadwinner brought home $4,169 after taxes in 1952.

Families nearly flitting that definition, therefore, should find the index closely reflects their increased cost-of-living.

The index family represents nearly one-third of all city dwellers, the bureau said.

Because Americans change their buying habits so often, the index must be revised frequently to keep the index valid. Recent additions to the list are from foods, television sets, prepaid medical care and home improvements.

Salt pork was dropped when the bureau's economists found it no longer was appearing so often on the dinner tables across the nation.

ABOUT 60 PART-TIME employees assist in gathering food prices each month. One hundred more check out rents. Twenty-five full-time bureau agents travel from city to city to price other items.

Slugs Bar Patron In $700 Robbery

CHICAGO (UP)—Police today caught a gunman who pistol-whipped a tavern patron who didn't move fast enough and escaped with more than $700, most of which was taken from a man who stopped to deliver meat.

The gunman took $100 from the tavern cash register and $600 from Frank Wronkiewicz, an owner of a butcher shop who had stopped to deliver meat to the tavern.

Horne was treated and released at Illinois Masonic Hospital.

770,000 Residents Added In Illinois

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Census Bureau says the latest state-by-state estimate shows Illinois gained 770,000 residents since 1950.

An announcement Sunday estimated that population increase from 1950 to July 1, 1955, Illinois had 8,712,176 residents. Last year's estimate was 8,432,000, representing a gain of 280,176.

THE BUREAU said the 12 states of the North Central region had the biggest numerical gain of any section, an increase of 4,972,000 during the six year period. Those 12 states are Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas.

Altogether, census officials reported the total population of the United States jumped 11 per cent between April, 1950 and July, 1955—from 159,807,388 to 167,158,000. Today the population is estimated at 172 million.

Set Up New School Salary Schedule Here

The results of the Kankakee School District's salary formula for the 1958-59 school year were outlined at a meeting of the board of education Monday night.

The board indicated it probably will act on the figures at its December meeting.

The formula results in an increase of $400 a year for masters degree teachers and $25 for bachelor degree teachers, in addition to the regular yearly increases on the salary scale.

This would provide a beginning salary of $4,225 and a top salary after 14 years of $5,775 for bachelor degree teachers and a start of $4,750 and a top salary of $6,300 for masters degree teachers.

The formula, based on the average of this year's salaries in 14 other school districts, is contained in a 1954 agreement between the board of education and the Kankakee Federation of Teachers. This is the last year for the application of the formula under the 1954 agreement.

THE SALARY INCREASE will mean that the district will use up its last remaining 8 cents taxing power in the educational fund in next year's budget, as well as a new 2 cent tax for transportation.

After that, board members pointed out, the ability to grant further salary increases will depend on a referendum to raise the 11 1/2 cent limit on increased state aid.

The increase for the district's 85 masters degree teachers will amount to $34,000 and that for the 137 bachelor degree teachers will amount to $44,225. An estimated $200 increase for 30 non-degree teachers would bring the cost of the increase to $88,775, according to figures presented at the meeting.

Under the salary schedule, degree teachers also receive yearly increases of $100 per year for five years and $100 through the sixth eight years. These will cost $18,500.

In addition, Supy Anthony Martin said that the district will need new teachers next year at a cost of $78,500.

Bradley Holds Action On Truck Route
A plan to amend the truck route ordinance was sidetracked when the Bradley Village Board meeting Monday night.

President William Barwegen and Trustee Charles Crosby said there had been "considerable" discussion of the proposed truck route on Forest avenue.

By not acting on the ordinance amendment the board allowed a special permit for truck use of Lincoln avenue.

The permit was granted at the board's last regular meeting. At that time, officials of Rudolf Express Co. said that their southbound trucks waiting for a break in northbound traffic to make the turn. In order to do this, they had to have a permit to use Forest avenue from Broadway to Superior street.

As a temporary measure, the board granted another special permit allowing the company's trucks to use Goodwin street from Vassar avenue to the alley between Forest and Main avenues.

Soviet May Shoot For Moon Thursday

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Soviet Union, threatening a boycott of arms talks with the West, tried to force a vote today on its demand for an 82-nation U. N. Disarmament Commission.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov called on the General Assembly's main political committee to give "priority" to a vote on his resolution over a 24-nation western disarmament measure.

He told the committee Monday the Russians no longer will take part in discussions conducted by the 12-nation Disarmament Commission or its subcommittee, composed of the five atomic powers.

THE SOVIET PROPOSALS would mean the junking of five months of arms talks conducted by the United States, Britain, France, Canada and Russia in London this summer.

The 24-nation resolution embodied the western proposals made at these talks. Kuznetsov tabbed the resolution an "ultimatum."

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said he hoped Kuznetsov's statement that Russia was through with the Disarmament Commission and its subcommittee was "just a passing thought and that wiser counsels will prevail."

"We do not believe that any nation seriously wishes to stand for all future times before the world and before recorded history as the nation which broke up and which ended humanity's effort to achieve peace," he said.

Julius Mohr of France expressed similar sentiment. British Minister of State Cndr. Allan Noble said it was a "discouraging development" that the Soviet Union was "shocked and disappointed at this Russian ultimatum."

Curran said the federal regulations apparently were changed this summer on grounds that some pinball machines are used for gambling purposes, even though they have no cash payoff devices.

Under Illinois law, Curran said, pinballs are legal unless there is a cash payoff.

Witness Won't Talk To Senate Rackets Group

Kamenow Takes Fifth Amendment; Refuses To Produce Own Records

WASHINGTON (UP)—George Kamenow, Detroit manager for Nathan W. Shefferman's labor relations firm, claimed his privilege under the Fifth Amendment today and refused to give the Senate Rackets Committee personal records or information on "union busting" activities.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said that it was "a pretty sad commentary, in my view, to business and management when they make use of agents who 'have to take the Fifth Amendment' because if they told the truth it might tend to incriminate them."

Kamenow refused to produce personal financial records under a committee subpoena or to answer "committee" questions, beginning with his occupation. Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy questioned Kamenow about a list of entertainment, gift and transportation expenses taken from Kamenow's Fifth Amendment to the Shefferman firm. He got no answers.

KENNEDY SAID the committee information is that the travel and entertainment data is significant because it includes "large sums of money expended for union busting."

The young chief counsel "explains" the union busting "game means" of union busting "as a means" as well as "more obvious means—large sums of money."

Kamenow became the second business witness—and the second of Shefferman's aides to use the Fifth Amendment in the committee's current hearings aimed at Congress in January.

His Cabinet held a preliminary discussion of the legislative and budget programs he submits to Congress in January.

But Anne Wheaton, associate White House press secretary, told a news conference late Monday that the two meetings arranged for this week reflect no emergency.

THE WHOLE OF Center street and Brookmont boulevard between Schuyler and Fifth avenues.

The whole of Fifth avenue from the north city limits to an access road which runs to the city sewage treatment plant west of Fifth avenue. The access road is also known as Brookmont boulevard. (The east end of what is commonly called Brookmont boulevard is actually officially designated as Center street between Washington and Schuyler avenues.)

The whole of the access road and about 10 acres of city-owned land along the Kankakee River. The sewage treatment plant stands on part of this land.

One of the reasons given for the annexation is the fact that city police are required to patrol streets in West Meadowview, if it is annexed to a municipality, would join Bradley, since it lies north of Brookmont and is contiguous to Bradley.

These measures and other recent developments have determined the future of West Meadowview and East Meadowview. In case these areas are annexed to existing municipalities.

Since Brookmont boulevard and N. Fifth border these areas but were not actually in the city, police when driving on "e" streets did not legally have jurisdiction.

Buy New Aerial Truck For City

Kankakee aldermen Monday night approved purchase of a $41,500 aerial truck from the Seagrave Corp. of Columbus, Ohio.

Weldon Wadleigh (R-7), chairman of the council fire committee, said the decision was made following two months of study after bids were received.

Other companies turning in bids were American Taffel at $42,200 and Ward-LaFrance at $41,500. Wadleigh said that all councilmen were polled for their choice before his motion was made.

The new unit will replace the 1928 Seagrave wooden ladder truck the fire department is now using. This truck has become worn and outmoded. During the Troop Lumber Yard fire, the lives of firemen were endangered when the ladder fell down during use.

THE NEW TRUCK is known as a quint unit. It has an 85-foot aerial ladder hydraulically operated and can be used as a pump delivering 1,000 gallons of water per minute.

The truck carries 230 feet of wall ladders, 1,000 feet of hose and 1,000 gallons of water. The unit is mounted on a rigid chassis, with no rear trailer man needed.

The machine will be custom built to specifications called for in the contract. The Seagrave company is required to take out a $10,000 performance bond guaranteeing the delivery of the unit in 120 working days. This is a total time of about 95 months.

The contract calls for the delivery of the unit in 120 working days. This is a total time of about 95 months.

Mr. Douglas was born in Chicago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Douglas. He is survived by his wife and a brother, John, who resides in Cicero. He was preceded in death by his parents, a brother and a sister.

Funeral services will be held at 8:45 a.m. Thursday at the Cline and Crozen Funeral Home in Cicero and at 8:30 a.m. at St. Mary and Joseph's Church in Chesham. Burial will be in Bloomington.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p.m. Wednesday.

GILMAN COUNCIL Monday night tabled a petition from Gilman tavern owners requesting a reduction in the liquor license and the addition of an hour to the stipulated closing times of the taverns.

Two building permits were issued, one to John Copeland for a five-room frame dwelling on W. Third street, and another for a garage at the Ben Carr residence, N. Main street.

The board voted to transfer a street light from the city park to the alley at the rear of the Gamble store.

Carl Heacock, Paxton, group superintendent of Central Illinois Public Service Co., discussed increasing the candle power and adding more lights to the city.

The increase will cost approximately $400 to $500 more a year. A street improvement program was discussed. No action will be taken until the early part of 1958.

Removing Signs On Highways Endangers Lives

Franklin's who remove highway signs are dealing with human lives, not just state or county property, County Highway Supt. Howard Schwark pointed out here today.

A Kankakee man's car crashed Saturday night after someone had removed a "dead end" sign east of Bradley.

A death resulted recently in another county where someone had removed a stop sign.

"Youngsters may not realize the seriousness of removing highway signs," Schwark noted.

He said the sign vandals in the county has not been great considering the number of signs that are posted along the highway. But he said trouble had occurred more than once at a few trouble spots.

Schwark urged all persons, noting signs that are removed to notify the county highway office or the sheriff's office immediately.

Many times passersby apparently assume that someone else has reported the damage. As a result, the highway office may not learn right away that signs are missing.

Schwark said that anyone caught removing or damaging signs will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

"They are not only dealing with public property, but human lives," he concluded.

The principal region of foreign trade of the United States is the Western Hemisphere, half of these exports-imports being with Canada and Mexico.

Gilman Council Monday night tabled a petition from Gilman tavern owners requesting a reduction in the liquor license and the addition of an hour to the stipulated closing times of the taverns.

Two building permits were issued, one to John Copeland for a five-room frame dwelling on W. Third street, and another for a garage at the Ben Carr residence, N. Main street.

The board voted to transfer a street light from the city park to the alley at the rear of the Gamble store.

Carl Heacock, Paxton, group superintendent of Central Illinois Public Service Co., discussed increasing the candle power and adding more lights to the city.

The increase will cost approximately $400 to $500 more a year. A street improvement program was discussed. No action will be taken until the early part of 1958.

Bradley Grants License For Tavern

William Barwegen, president of the Bradley Village Board, said Monday night that he would grant a license to Lucius L. Bales, 235 N. Douglas Ave., to operate a tavern at 170 N. Kinzie Ave. (Route 54).

The application was approved by the village board license committee during Monday's board meeting.

Barwegen, as board president, is the village liquor control commissioner.

The tavern had been closed early last spring when the license committee refused to renew the license of June Varner.

Proposals for providing the village with gasoline, a 1,000 gallon storage tank and an electric pump were referred to the purchasing committee. The proposals were submitted by Baron Bros., Cities Service Oil Co. and Caydon Oil Co.

The board authorized grading and stoning of alleys included in a survey by the street and alley committee. The street and alley superintendent was authorized to pay $3.50 an hour to the operator of the township road grader.

Communications were accepted from the Illinois Division of Highways noting approval of a supplemental appropriation of $150 in motor fuel tax funds for the Riverdale drive project.

The Bradley division of the Chamber of Commerce and the Bradley Lions Club expressing support for a plan to develop a park in the village. The park committee has been working to obtain a park site but has not yet reported to the village board.

Explain Street Improvement Plans To Sheldon Board

SHeldon (JNS)—Plans and specifications for the improvement of Center street were explained during a meeting of the village board.

Tracy Pitzer, Paxton, engineer, led the discussion of the proposed new curbing and surfacing.

Reese Bowton was asked to check on the street light at Fourth and Concord. It is believed there is a short in the light.

John Julien, drainage chairman, reported the need for new redoubt equipment. He said a few catch basins are to be cleaned and two more installed.

The board discussed the incorporation by resolution of the unincorporated area at the southeast corner of the village.

Joe Laneck reported having a short street between the Steve Butler and Clarence McKimmon properties improved. Some trees were cut and a sidewalk was built along E. Center street in front of the Gene Reiley residence.

The board approved a motion to allow Bill Hoagland to erect a business sign at Main and Fourth streets on Village property.

President Robert Magginnon announced work on cleaning and repainting the water tower will be done in the spring instead of the fall to obtain better results.

Leo Stahler reported the real estate on which the town hall is located is shared equally by the village and the township.

He also reported the moving of 15 water meters inside of homes. The present liquor license ordinance also was discussed.

ROOM AND BOARD By Gene Ahern

THE FIRST THING we've got to do here is somehow give our secondary school teachers more prestige and something like the authority with talented pupils which they have in Russia. And I deliberately place this as the first requisite.

"The really significant aspect of Russia's scientific progress is the method they use of finding and educating their best scientific talent," he said in an exclusive interview with NEA Service.

"Their education system is geared to seek out from all over the country the youngsters with the most promise for succeeding in the sciences," he added. "They just don't let a smart young man or woman slip through their fingers."

"THEN WHEN they get hold of these youngsters they make sure that nothing interferes with educating them right through the doctorate stage. But, that's only if they prove that they really have the early ability they showed."

"We don't waste time, like we sometimes do, trying to educate persons without ability."

In recent years, the 65-year-old, peppery, plain-talking, Dr. Bush has devoted more and more of his time trying to improve the caliber of scientific education in the U.S.

Before taking his present position with M.I.T., he served as professor, dean of engineering and vice president of the famed institution.

During World War II, Dr. Bush was director of the Office of Scientific Research and Development and the first chairman of the Research and Development Board which was created after the war.

During the war he was a key figure in guiding the development of the first atomic bomb.

FRONTIERS VANTAGE point Dr. Bush has seen a steady deterioration in the Pentagon, which he has said in the past stems from a lack of adequate unification of the services.

He said he does not want to comment on that aspect of Russia's apparent leadership in the scientific-military fields at this time.

"A final comment I do want to make, however," he said, "concerns the fact that in Russia a professor is paid eight times what a common laborer gets, while in the U.S., the average professor only gets about two-and-a-half times the wage of a day laborer."

The total damage in all accidents in the United States in 1956 would have built one million new single family homes on a basis of an average cost of $10,000 for each house.

The Worry Clinic

For More Efficient Government

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 July 23, is our daughter, who suggested that we ought to re-analyze the purpose of our public schools.

You'll recall that Judy wanted compulsory free public schooling to stop at the eighth grade. She thought this would let the disinterested and the dullards and the playboys, contentedly mull with athletics or dances, drop out. But they COULD continue into high school by paying tuition. And any child of a poor home whose average marks during the sixth, seventh and eighth grades had been "D" or better, would be entitled to a free scholarship for public high school as long as he kept up that "D" average therein.

Since about 80 per cent of our high school kids make less than a "D" average, their parents would then have to pay a cash tuition if they wanted their teenagers to continue in school.

Thus, the taxpayer would be somewhat relieved of the burden of paying for the compulsory education of dullards or disinterested kids.

Efficiency engineering is a vital branch of Applied Psychology, and it pertains to government as well as to industrial relations.

Maybe our well-meaning do-gooders have also fostered an unwise code upon America by trying to stop all child labor.

ACTUALLY, THE SHORT working hours in America nowadays and the hygienic working conditions, plus "coffee breaks" and power machinery to do all the hard work, have altered conditions.

Couldn't 15-year-olds spend 5 or 6 hours at a job with no more injury to their health than the same number of hours they now devote to the classroom?

Isn't exercise on the basketball floor or football and baseball fields just as fatiguing as that at a typewriter desk or shop lathe?

In some states, the do-gooders have even been sniping at the wholesome American policy of letting children earn their own spending money by operating newspaper routes at such "tender" ages as 14 or 15 years!

Being a newspaper carrier is one of the finest forms of education in our American "free enterprise" system.

Even our schools have nothing remotely to compare with it. For a newspaper boy operates his own private business on what we call the "small merchant plan."

He purchases his papers at wholesale. Then he merchandises them and does his own delivering. Meanwhile, he tries to sell some extras to his customers and placate irate old cunts.

FINALLY, HE IS HIS OWN credit man, for he collects on weekends and then performs the rare function of "balancing his books." A thing that even Uncle Sam seems unable to do.

Would that Uncle Sam and other politicians had worked for at least a year in their youth as self-reliant newspaper boys.

Our "free enterprise" game, called the American Way of Life, has laid some wonderful golden eggs, permitting us the highest living standard on earth.

But politicians are reaching the point where they are threatening to strangle this goose in order to get more tax-bigger tax "eggs" from her.

Democrats and Republicans must combine in demanding efficiency engineering in state and federal legislatures.

A former U.S. senator recently showed me a plan by which our post office could be operated at much less cost and still render as good or better service to taxpayers.

And our taxes could be raised much more cheaply, thus permitting billions of dollars reduction in federal budgets annually.

Couple To Reside In Bradley

Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony G. Barber will reside at 160 S. Kinzie Ave., Bradley, following their honeymoon to southern states. The new Mrs. Barber is the former Barbara L. Almyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Almyer of RR 1, Bourbonnais. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Barber of 601 N. Fifth Ave. The couple exchanged vows at Maternity Church, Bourbonnais, with the Rev. Joseph Donahue officiating. (Colonial photo)

Keep In Trim

The real test of character for a dieter who has an overwhelming amount of weight to lose is whether she has the courage to keep on aiming toward the goal when the going gets tough. Jean, the young woman who set out to lose a mountain of excess pounds, has now passed the crucial test, and is once again on her slimming course.

To those of you who do not know her story, here are the pertinent facts: Jean had been enormously overweight since childhood when she was seriously ill and put on an astounding gain of 250 pounds. She was also 60 and weighed 410 pounds.

In the spring of 1936, Jean began her reducing program. Making a start was the initial hurdle, for she had the feeling the whole world would cave in. You readers will feel gratified to know that the initial incentive came from your success letters. Taking hope from her achievements, Jean wrote "eggs" from her.

At YOUR DIETITIAN'S request, a dieter who lived in the same city called on Jean and offered moral support. When this new friend won the TOPS award for reducing from 212 to 132 pounds, Jean launched her program with much less cost and still render as good or better service to taxpayers.

And our taxes could be raised much more cheaply, thus permitting billions of dollars reduction in federal budgets annually.

Female Egos Get Boost At Beauty Parlors

NEW YORK (NEA)—"Really, Ethel, I feel like a new woman. And remember, don't breathe a word of what I've told you to a soul."

With this admonition, Mrs. America touches her newest hairdo—"just meant for you, honey!"—and a glance in a mirror reveals a crowd of chrome-capped faces and marches out of the beauty parlor.

THE LITTLE WOMAN may not emerge looking like Marilyn Monroe, but if she feels important and satisfied with herself, then the mission has been accomplished.

Ask any man why women go regularly to beauty parlors and then prepare to hold your ears, especially if it is his billfold that is being clipped.

But two women, a psychologist and sociologist, analyzed the situation. And, according to them, it is a happy day when the wife goes her need for a change. And as a topper she gets mild physical therapy. All this, according to psychologists, cuts down on alyssa's bills.

TAKE, FOR EXAMPLE, when one of the girls tells her hair down. No one sweeps it into a wastebasket. Someone listens sympathetically.

According to barber shop lore, the barber talks incessantly. The poor male with a hot towel over his face is a captive audience. But not in a beauty parlor. A survey reveals that 90 per cent of the ladies talk to their beauticians and mostly about personal problems.

The house was in good condition when they bought it, so there were no major repairs staring them in the face. But there were all sorts of possibilities for making small changes that would make the house more convenient and attractive.

There was the solid door they replaced with a glass door to give the house a more open feeling. The dining room turned into a den, the dining room made cozy by built-in corner cupboards, the living room windows at each side of the fireplace that had been turned into book shelves.

THESE WEREN'T just improvements. They were projects a husband and wife accomplished together, with all the enthusiasm and eagerness of a young couple fixing up their first home.

"If we had bought a new house," said the woman, "there wouldn't have been anything left for us to do to it. We would have moved in and sat down."

But by buying an older house that is in good condition, a retired couple can have all the fun and satisfaction of making it truly their own by all the little change and improvements that almost ask to be done.

"Another thing," she added as she finished taking me through her charming house, "tell the couple who are retiring not to get rid of the furniture they have lived with for years, especially the pieces that have a sentimental value."

It is so much easier to make a strange house in a strange town feel like home if you are surrounded by the things that have always been a part of your home wherever you have lived.

Retired Couple In Second Home

"If you ever write a column for retired couples like us," the energetic, sweet-faced woman said, "be sure to tell them that in choosing their retirement home to look for one that doesn't need to be fixed up — but asks to be."

Then to illustrate what she meant, she showed me through the house she and her husband had bought several years ago.

The house was in good condition when they bought it, so there were no major repairs staring them in the face. But there were all sorts of possibilities for making small changes that would make the house more convenient and attractive.

There was the solid door they replaced with a glass door to give the house a more open feeling. The dining room turned into a den, the dining room made cozy by built-in corner cupboards, the living room windows at each side of the fireplace that had been turned into book shelves.

THESE WEREN'T just improvements. They were projects a husband and wife accomplished together, with all the enthusiasm and eagerness of a young couple fixing up their first home.

"If we had bought a new house," said the woman, "there wouldn't have been anything left for us to do to it. We would have moved in and sat down."

But by buying an older house that is in good condition, a retired couple can have all the fun and satisfaction of making it truly their own by all the little change and improvements that almost ask to be done.

"Another thing," she added as she finished taking me through her charming house, "tell the couple who are retiring not to get rid of the furniture they have lived with for years, especially the pieces that have a sentimental value."

It is so much easier to make a strange house in a strange town feel like home if you are surrounded by the things that have always been a part of your home wherever you have lived.

Happy Hour Canasta Club Has Meeting With Mrs. Jack Kirk

YOU SAY AM I A WIMP? MY EYES ARE SHUTTING UP! UNLESS SHE WAS BORN AFTER MY MOTHER WAS CAPTURED BY THE ENEMY.

HAVEN'T YOU EVER WONDERED WHY HARRY'S STORY IS ALWAYS CAPTURED BY THE ENEMY?

BUT THERE WAS THE BLOODSHED AND HARRY'S STORY IS ALWAYS CAPTURED BY THE ENEMY.

IF TRUE, WHY DOES HARRY ALWAYS SAY HE'S A WIMP? WHY HAS HE KEPT IT A SECRET? AND WHY HAS HE BEEN CAPTURED BY THE ENEMY?

MARY WORTH

CAN YOU NOT TALK TO ME WITH A LITTLE MORE NOISE? NO, FRIEND!—JUST BE QUIET!—I'M TRYING TO TALK TO THE WOMEN PEOPLE!

ACTUALLY I DON'T WANT TO TAKE ANY PLUMS FOR MYSELF! I WANT THEM FOR THE OTHER WOMEN! MEET HER!

THEN CALL AND TELL HER I WANT TO MEET HER! CAN'T YOU?

NO ANSWER!—I HEARD THE AIR HORN!—SO I THINK I'LL DRESS AND WALK OVER TO HER HOME!

LAREDO CROCKET

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, YOU ALL KNOW ANNIE. ANNIE JAMES! THAT LITTLE GIRL, RESCUED FROM THE CLUTCHES OF THE SAVAGES BY COURAGEOUS WILLIAM KEECE.

WHY SHE HAD YELLOW HAIR IN PIG-TAILS. IN THE WEE TWE ONLY TWO FULL HOURS HIGH—

COURSE, HIT WAS A LONG TIME AGO. ONE COULD HAVE GROWN AS TALL AS YOU—SHE MIGHT HAVE GROWN AS WIDE TOO.

ANNIE, YOU ARE THE ONLY ONE AMONG US WHO ACTUALLY LIKES WILLIAM KEECE.

THAT OLD MAN SAYS HE'S WILLIAM KEECE! HE'S NOT! HE'S A LIAR!

SNUPPY SMITH

IS JUHAID MIZ SMIF? HE'S OUT PLAYIN' WIT' TH' FELLERS. ANNIE, YOU'RE RIGHT. ANNIE, YOU'RE RIGHT. ANNIE, YOU'RE RIGHT.

GOODY! THAT'LL GIVE US TWO FULL HOURS.

TWO FULL HOURS PER WHAT?

SO'S I CAN HELP MY WIFE SUPPER AN' MY LITTLE LILLY LIVES LITTLE COOKIES.

I CAN'T STAND ENNY HELP TODAY. HONEY-POT, I'M LATE ALREADY.

ALLEY OOP

YOU WANT ME TO FINGER NEEDS TO BE DONE AROUND HERE? THAT'S RIGHT, COY. STARTIN' NOW!

DOUNY

YOU WANT ME TO FINGER NEEDS TO BE DONE AROUND HERE? THAT'S RIGHT, COY. STARTIN' NOW!

DIXIE DUGAN

LOVE IT STILL, BUT I'VE GOT TO GO. AS MY FATHER ALWAYS SAID, YOU'RE IN THE PINK OF FIT!

I'M GOING TO HAVE HIM BURN HIM! WHILE YOUR BROTHER, LIES WITH HIS STRONG!

I DON'T SEE WHY YOU'RE SO WORRIED. KEEP WHAT BUSINESS IT IS OF YOURS. I'VE GOT TO GO TO THE CONNOR!

I'M WARNING YOU! WELL—YOU'RE TUFFY!

MANDRAKE

JAMIE IS INTERRUPTED BY THE BUZZING. HE PUTS DOWN THE PHONE TO INVESTIGATE. HE PUTS DOWN THE PHONE TO INVESTIGATE.

WHO DO YOU WANT ME TO TURN OVER TO HAVE HER MOTHERS GOOD LUCK, HELP DEAD!

THEN AS CLIENT RUSHES BACK TO A HIGH-WAY PHONE BOOTH TO REPORT THE ACCIDENT.

STEVE ROBER

THESE REPORTS LOOK FINE. STEVE, WHICH DO YOU THINK IS MORE GOOD THAN ALL THE DOCTORS' MEDICINE?

DR. GREENE AND HIS WOMAN SHOULD BE TEACHING SOME JUST ABOUT NOW, HARRY.

AND, 1000 MILES SHE WAS IN HER ROOM WHEN I WENT TO BED. DR. GREENE.

PHONE THE DOCTOR AND TELL THEM I MAY BE LATE. VERY LATE.

WINT DOCTORS A CAR JUST PULLED INTO THE DRIVE!

JIGGS

I HATE THE WAY THE DAYS BEFORE PAYDAY.

YEAH, NO ONE HAS ANY DOUGH TO GET SOME MONEY.

LET'S GO OVER TO THE BANK. I'LL GET SOME MONEY.

GEE, COMBO, I DON'T KNOW WHAT A BANK ACCOUNT.

I DON'T KNOW WHAT SHE'S SAYIN'—BUT I'M SURE SHE'S SCOUTIN' ME!

IT WAS ONLY A BOOK AGENT. BRILL! BOUGHT A BOOK JUST TO GET OUT HER!

WELL, WHAT REASON DID SHE GIVE FOR YOU?

NO REASON AT ALL. SHE SAID SHE WAS A BOOK AGENT.

PRISCILLA'S POP

MY FOLKS ARE GOING DOWN TO VOTE FOR MORE SCHOOLS. SO ARE MINE!

WELL, I'M VOTING AGAINST IT.

DON'T BE ABSURD. START VOTING FOR MORE SCHOOLS.

CHILDREN AREN'T ALLOWED TO VOTE.

YOU MEAN WE DON'T EVEN GET TO DEFEND OURSELVES?

CRASH!

OAGWOOD, I WISH CAREFUL WIFE WOULD CARE FOR MYSELF. I'M AS HARD TO GET AS SHE.

YOU FORGET THERE ARE MORE MEN IN THE WORLD THAN MEN.

YOU CAN'T THINK OF STATISTICS. WALKING UP A LADDER.

NICKY MOUSE

PITCH IN, FELLERS!

WOULDN'T MESSY AND I AM STARRING!

MUST BE MY IMAGINATION... BUT I SAW SAVAGE HANDS AT THE TABLE.

DOTTY

PROBABLY A POOR MOSE AT THE SHALLOO GET DID CLIMB UP THE LADDER.

LET ME HANDLE IT, DOTTY—TWO GOT TO BE RESISTANCE FOR THESE BELLY ACHES.

WE DON'T WANT—AH—ER—UH—

DOTTY! HELP!!

4 Pro Grid Coaches' Jobs In Jeopardy

By HARRY WISMER
Written For The United Press

NEW YORK (UP)—Look for more upheavals in the coaching ranks in pro football after the close of this season, than we've had in quite a few years.

There'll be denials from every corner but there'll be a switch in the field boss at Los Angeles where Sid Gillman now holds sway. At Green Bay, Luke Blackburn, a native of high school and college coaching in the Badger State, is due to be let go. Hugh Devore is serving his last season with the Philadelphia Eagles.

There's anything but satisfaction in the ranks of the Chicago Bears and the Detroit Lions. Rumblings are continuous in Chicago about the fate of Paddy Driscoll, Detroit, named as co-coach in the Western Conference has taken a pounding, and their 33 record is anything but impressive. And Webb Ewbank of the Colts is also in trouble.

RIGHT NOW THE San Francisco 49ers, behind the sensational play of Y. A. Little, are leading the league in last season with a record of 11-4. The 49ers are scoring points in the NFL. In the east, the leading Browns are easily the defensive leaders. They've only had 63 points scored against them in six games, 31 less than the Giants who are in second place.

It's going to be mighty hard to stop either the 49ers or the Browns.

They're selecting the competing teams for the big bowl games in the press. Right now Oklahoma, the Texas Aggies and Oregon are the choices to represent their conference in the Orange, Cotton and Rose bowls.

THE BIG TEN's representative in the Rose can be either Ohio State or Michigan State. Ohio State, unbeaten in conference play, has the best change but still has to get by Purdue, Iowa and Michigan.

Conference-wise, the Spartans face only Minnesota, and Duke Daugherty's boys have only been beaten once. A tie and Georgia Tech are the only challenges in the West.

South with Mississippi also being in the picture. Auburn, the logical choice can play. They're on probation.

Navy and Army, whoever wins their traditional rivalry, will also be a factor.

Only three of the top 10 teams are still in the unbeaten column. Only four have 10 or more wins.

Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis and his wife, Rose Morgan, shown in happier days, have agreed to a final separation because their business interests keep them apart. They were married Dec. 25, 1935. The announcement was made Monday in Chicago by their attorney. (Unifax)

Sooner Fans Irked; Foes Coming Close

NORMAN, Okla. (UP)—Oklahoma is riding a 46-game football winning streak, and is No. 2 in the nation, but this isn't satisfying Sooner followers.

Fair-weather spectators are unhappy because Oklahoma isn't putting up 5 and 7 touchdowns.

The situation was brought into focus Saturday as the Sooners, a 5-touchdown favorite, had a hard time beating weak Kansas State 13-0. A 14-13 victory over Colorado in another Big Eight Conference game didn't set well with some.

It is the first time in the 25 year history of football at the parochial school that Oklahoma has lost a game. The 201 writers and broadcasters voting in this week's poll, have given Oklahoma a 215-point rating.

But this is the first time since 1931 that Oklahoma has been held to only two touchdowns on successive Saturdays—losing the top position to Texas A&M's week after a 14-13 victory against Colorado and barely holding second place last Saturday.

TEXAS A&M, now 7-0 after a 7-6 score from Arkansas, moved from a 38-point edge over the Sooners to the 14-13 score against Colorado. The 201 writers and broadcasters voting in this week's poll, have given Oklahoma a 215-point rating.

Oklahoma Slips Because Of 2nd Close Call

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK (UP)—Oklahoma's lead in the college football ratings was shaken last week by a close call against Texas A&M.

Not only retained, but strengthened its hold on the No. 1 ranking in the Associated Press college football poll this week—the first college football poll other than Oklahoma to stay on top for two straight weeks since mid-1955.

Not only Oklahoma took the top spot from their mighty Maryland in the eighth week of the '55 campaign have the Sooners been unable to bounce back after a week, they have been out of the No. 1 position only twice, stepping back for Tennessee and Michigan State last year.

But this is the first time since 1951 that Oklahoma has been held to only two touchdowns on successive Saturdays—losing the top position to Texas A&M's week after a 14-13 victory against Colorado and barely holding second place last Saturday.

Vanishing Players Hurt Bradley

Now that the Bradley football team has failed in two of its aims this year—an early season and a conference title—Bradley fans will have to content themselves with the rest of the season in discussing what "might" have happened, rather than what "did" happen.

Following the 1956 season coach Jerry Lennon looked over the 20 varsity boys he figured to have back for the 1957 season and made up a list of 20 players.

Whether that depth will come as the season rolls along will be one of the questions.

Prophetic words were because the depth didn't develop and Bradley will be settling for a season of "might" rather than what "did" happen.

ONE REASON the depth didn't materialize was the fact that those 20 returned divided to a mere shadow by the start of the 1957 season and coach Lennon has spent the season bringing up sophomores, improving sophomores and bringing back seniors.

The story of the "vanishing" players is a rather startling one. When the Bradley football team was at its peak in the fall of 1956, it was the season last September seven of the 20 were not around. Four other boys (over and above the 20) were who were figured to provide some of the depth, likewise, were not present.

Central became the first team to complete as many as 6 passes and gain as much as 68 yards from passing against the Bradleys this season and the third team to have more than 100 yards on the ground.

THE BASEBALL Rule Committee, composed of members of the Writers Association, declared the zone ineligible in September. The committee met during the World Series and set a standard for determining a player's eligibility.

At the meeting the committee voted to ban a player from consideration for the rookie award if he had more than 75 at bats in any previous season.

Malzone, 27, a native of New York, finished the 1956 season with 252. The Ontario, N.Y., resident drove in 163 runs on 185 hits. His blows included 13 home runs and 31 doubles.

Malzone Named 'Soph Of Year' In American

NEW YORK (UP)—Frank Malzone of the Boston Red Sox, a last-minute, ineligible candidate for 1957 American League Rookie-of-the-Year honors, was an overwhelming selection today as the best sophomore in the AL.

The slugging third baseman earned the league's sophomore award by a landslide in the annual Associated Press poll of members of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Malzone
