Schedule Inquest In Death Of Clifton Woman

CLIFTON — An inquest scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Monday in the death of an 80-year-old Clifton woman whose body was found about 12:30 p. m. Tuesday in bed, authorities believe Mrs. Isabelle Lutton apparently died of fumes which filled her home after a fire became smoldering.

According to Andrew Mayotte, Sheldon, chief deputy coroner in Iroquois County, Mrs. Lutton's body was discovered by neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. George Christensen, who broke a window and were forced back by the fumes.

Mayotte said Mrs. Lutton had not been seen since Sunday. She is believed to have died sometime Monday morning. Mayotte explained the elderly woman punctually turned on her radio at 8 a. m. The radio was playing when the body was found.

Mayotte was summoned to the scene and called for a gas company representative, who examined the chimney in the home and found it clogged with chimney bricks and soot, causing the fumes to back into the house.

Power Out For About Minute In Kankakee Area

Electric power in the Kankakee area was interrupted momentarily early today when a transformer failed at Chicago Heights.

The failure, at 7:10 a. m., lasted only about a minute and a half. Radio station "WKAN" was knocked out in the middle of a record.

When the power came back on, Sergeant Ramsey Cloney was singing, "Like a bolt out of the blue."

M. D. Taylor, district superintendent for the Public Service Co., explained that power is fed into Kankakee on two main lines from Joliet and Chicago Heights.

Due to operations in the utility yard at Bradley, the Chicago Heights line was the only one being used. The failure at that end thus affected this area.

Among communities affected by the momentary "blackout" were Bradley, Bourbonnais, St. Anne, Momence and Peotone in addition to Joliet and Chicago Heights.

Bourbonnais Sets Olivet Sewage Rate

The Bourbonnais Village Board agreed on a flat rate of $2.00 per year for sewer service for Olivet Nazarene College at regular meeting Tuesday night. The board approved a recommendation made in a letter from A. A. Bursley of Warren and Van Praag Inc., Decatur, consulting engineering firm for the village's water and sewer project.

Samuel Shapiro, village attorney, reported to the board on a meeting held Saturday between representatives of the college, the engineers and the village. He said the figure was arrived at on the basis of using equivalent residential service based on enrollment, faculty employees and the fact that the campus is occupied by any great degree for only about 10 months out of the year. A figure of 700 was used in setting the ratio between the college's population and the village population of 2,500 in addition to other factors.

The rate was set up for a 23-year period after which negotiations can be reopened by either party on any day after the expiration of the period of time has not been pinned down closer than two to three years in order to study both the college's long experience in operating under the system. The rate will go into effect next water and sewerage rates commence in connection with the water and sewer improvements.

New Sewer Project Half Completed

Work on the Bourbonnais sewer project was 55.6 per cent completed with costs running 6.2 per cent under estimates, as of the end of work Tuesday, O. J. Brouse, resident inspecting engineer from Warren and Van Praag Inc., Decatur, reported Tuesday night. He made his report at the regular village board meeting.

Cost of work on the $38,105.96 phase of the project has been $43,832.50 to date, Brouse told the board. Of 12,135 feet of sewer to be laid, 2,358 has been completed. He said a total of 2,163 lineal feet of eight-inch sewer has been laid completing this phase of the project. A total of 1,612 lineal feet of 10-inch sewer has been laid, completing 51 per cent of this phase, he said.

Of the 15-inch sewer, to date 3,581 lineal feet has been laid leaving unfinished 1,418, he said. Sixteen of 22 manholes have also been constructed.

AT THE SEWER PLANT—Brouse said that the area has been cleared, grubbed and graded and the base for the trickling filter has been built up. No work has started yet on the water main work, he reported.

He issued a warning to residents to study the advance of a new ditch, the Bon Air Subdivision area, there may be some settling in trenches where the sewer was laid. He asked residents to report bad holes to the contractor or engineers.

The board approved payment of $3,222.96 to the Azzarelli Construction Co. for work completed. It was the payment made by the village. Previously they made a payment of $21,669.81. The report, dated Jan. 31, said work was 28 per cent completed as of that date.

Keep Order While You Sleep

(Twelfth of A Series)

As you lie in your bed tonight, oblivious to the world around you, nine chances out of 10 you won't think about the officers of the law who stay up all night to maintain order in the community. If they weren't on duty you'd probably soon realize it when troublemakers began acting up.

Paul Blanchette, 364 W. Stone St., is one of the men who helps keep order in Kankakee at night. Officer Blanchette works from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. as a relief man, which means he does a little of everything. He works at the desk, walks the beat or drives a squad car.

A graduate of Kankakee High School, he joined the police department July 12, 1956, and has been on nights since.

Prior to becoming a policeman he spent three years in the Marines and worked at a downtown department store.

On many night jobs there are times when you hit a lull. At such times most night workers take to reading.

While in the Marines, Blanchette worked for a while checking supplies and developed into a high-speed reader. Consequently when such a lull occurs while he is on the desk he is able to read two pocket books in a few hours.

Duties of night police officers include checking doors and windows of business places, questioning loiterers and suspicious persons, and of course having to listen to both sides of numerous family arguments.

Blanchette says these family arguments take a lot of patience and tact on the part of policemen. "Sometimes all you can do is be sympathetic to both sides and warn them against any violence."

Even if the streets are deserted while walking the beat, officers in Kankakee can always plan on seeing "Snips." Snips is only a nickname, and he is the kind of person of which every community has a few.

In Kankakee, Snips comes downtown every morning about 1 o'clock to make the rounds of all the parking meters, looking for change people who have dropped.

'I Lived Beyond My Means'

Morris Civic Leader Tells Why He Turned Bank Robber

CHICAGO (AP)—The story of a debt-ridden community leader who turned to bank robbery to solve his financial problems unfolded Tuesday in U. S. District Court.

Maynard Davis, 47, member of the Morris School Board and a prominent family, pleaded guilty Tuesday to the $664 holdup of a Seneca bank Jan. 7.

"I lived beyond my means," Davis said. "I spent more than I earned. I had $6,000 in debt—a little more than my yearly income. For a 24-hour period I thought robbing the bank would solve my problems."

Davis told federal officers the 24-hour period ended when he realized police inevitably would catch him. He surrendered the day after the robbery and confessed.

DAVIS, one of whose brothers is a Morris alderman and another Grundy County Coroner, hastened to add the revolver he used in the holdup was not loaded.

Morris, about 70 miles southwest of Chicago, is a community of some 7,000. Seneca, 10 miles away, has about 1,500 residents.

Davis' friends, who at first refused to believe he was connected with the holdup, have stood by him. One offered him enough to give him a chance to get back on his feet.

"I don't know whether I'll get a long term or a short term," Davis said. "But when I get out, I'm going back to Morris. That's where my home is, my family, and my friends."

Judge Michael L. Igou set March 30 for sentencing.

Ike Forgets Cold, Meets Scientists

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower didn't let a cold dampen a coming out party for the nation's top scientists at the White House Tuesday night.

Smiling and reporting he felt much better, the President presided with Mrs. Eisenhower at the first state dinner to which leading scientists were invited.

Although it was actually a science-military dinner, the scientists, including four Nobel Prize winners, were in the majority among the 98 guests.

There was a special air of excitement because most of the guests had never been to a glittering White House formal affair and because while the dinner was under way the Navy was trying to launch its Vanguard rocket.

SOME THREE HOURS after the guests had left the White House the Vanguard fizzled again.

Vanguard project director John P. Hagen drank a toast in champagne "to our baby" and then stayed up to await word from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The President had greeted both Hagen and Werner von Braun, designer of the Army rocket that launched the Explorer satellite.

The President slipped champagne and showed little sign of discomfort from the slight cold and sore throat which first had been reported at a late afternoon White House press conference.

Perhaps von Braun spoke for many of the scientists when he said holding the dinner "certainly is an indication of appreciation of the importance of science."

Blanchette says these family arguments take a lot of patience and tact on the part of policemen. "Sometimes all you can do is be sympathetic to both sides and warn them against any violence."

16 TONS AND WHAT DO YOU GET?

You get an idea of how much food passes through this door at Rudy's in less than a day!

16 tons — that's equal to a freight car load.

In just a week's time, approximately 154 tons of food are received, stocked, and sold at Rudy's — more than nine freight cars!

That's a hefty heap of merchandise. And it is significant because it means, simply, that more and more families are buying more and more food at Rudy's.

Rudy's volume is growing like a snowball rolling downhill. And the beauty of it is — the more food Rudy sells, the more savings he can pass on to his customers. That's because Rudy's policy is based on the fact that operating costs decrease as volume increases. As volume goes up, we actually save on operating costs because this larger volume can be handled on the same fixed costs. Then, we pass these savings on to YOU in the form of everyday low prices. (And these lower prices attract still more customers and create still greater volume!)

This high-volume policy enables Rudy to guarantee savings on a typical shopping list, not on just a few scattered items which represent only a small portion of the total purchase.

Look, folks . . . before you "get another day older," you'd better switch to Rudy's and watch your savings soar.

Scouting Theme Set At Annual Trails Meeting

"Men, money, membership" was the theme set for the scouting program in the Kankakee Trails District by Francis Detweiler, newly elected district chairman, at the annual district meeting and banquet Tuesday night. The meeting was held in the Knights of Columbus ballroom.

Detweiler outlined a five point activity program for 1958, continuing to build an active and aggressive district committee, an increase in boy memberships, expansion of the leadership training program, development of an adequate district activity program to supplement the unit programs, and to raise sufficient finances to meet the aims.

Detweiler was elected as successor to Fred English. He served as finance chairman during the past year. Elected as vice chairman were Dr. John Bernatovich who was re-elected and Ray Perron. John Gerth was recommended for reappointment for his third year as district commissioner.

The national 1958 Boy Scout project, the National Safety Good Turn, was kicked off locally with a speech by State Police Sgt. Thomas D. McNamara, district safety director. McNamara told the group that safe driving is an attitude. He said that the National Safety Good Turn can do a great service by making the future drivers and present drivers safety-conscious.

Safety Good Turn shields were presented to 30 of the 44 scouting units in the district who have signed they would participate in the national project. The shields were made by Thomas Billa-deau, health and safety committee member.

The meeting was conducted by English. Approximately 90 persons attended the banquet and meeting. Special guests included Sam Monti, executive secretary of the Community Chest; Kenneth Cote, Community Chest vice president; and Frank Geiger, council scout executive and Mrs. Geiger.

New York Acts To Cut Down On School Violence

NEW YORK (UP)—The board of education pressed today for speedy segregation of juvenile delinquents as part of a newly adopted six-point program to cut crime and violence in New York's harried public schools.

At the same time the board defended the great majority of pupils with a declaration that problem children total "less than one per cent" of the city's nearly one million students.

It said a solution to youthful lawlessness lies up to the entire community, and added pointedly, "Discipline does not begin and end at the school door. Proper respect for law and order is the responsibility of the family" as well as of authorities concerned with children's daily living.

Every point of the program drawn up by a special mayor's committee and adopted Tuesday night by the board has been under long previous consideration.

THE PROGRAM calls for: Addition of six special schools to the five already in operation at which trouble makers would be segregated for teaching and special guidance.

State provision of added correctional institutions for young offenders, and removal from normal schools.

Until such facilities are set up, immediate study of what to do with convicted delinquents who are returned to school on parole or probation.

Expansion of school attendance, counseling and guidance staffs. School board cooperation with juvenile agencies in deterring the worst trouble makers.

"Continuing full support" of "reasonable" disciplinary measures taken by teachers and administrators.

World Unrest Worries U.S. Oil Industry

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (UP)—The oil industry's problems multiply today at home and abroad. Here there are scattered gasoline price wars and threats to the price structure of crude oil because of large stocks despite sharp cutbacks in output.

Overseas the trouble ranges from nationalization trends in some areas to a threat to the long established 50-50 split of the profits. With any change Americans likely would be on the short end.

There are some of the developments American oilmen are watching.

The Indonesian government has withdrawn concessions to exploit oil fields in two areas once granted to the Royal Dutch Shell subsidiary B. P. M. whose investors include American, British and French interest as well as Dutch. Americans also hold other interest in Indonesia.

IN VENEZUELA American oil companies have a 50-50 arrangement with the government for oil profits.

In Saudi Arabia, where American and the world's largest oil company has a 50-50 basis, a private Japanese company has negotiated a 50-50 agreement.

And finally, Egypt and Syria's union with a bid for all Arabs to join under a long range threat to the 50-50 split obtaining in most Middle East oil fields.

Officials of Jersey Standard Oil, America's and the world's largest oil concern, defines the 50-50 principle as simply meaning that the foreign government's "income from royalties and taxes must be equal to the company's profits after such payments; hence the country will benefit equally with the oil company within that country."

BUT GOVERNMENTS have other ways of making money on oil, notably in new concessions. For example, Venezuela recently got 600 million dollars in cash for letting new concessions to highly desirable acreage on or near existing oil fields.

As for the Iranian-Iranian 75-25 deal, the Jersey men point out that since the Iranian government owns half of the company formed to exploit the concessions it must pay half of the costs of developing the fields if oil is found and that it waived the substantial bonus payments it might have received on the highly attractive land. This takes much of the bloom off the 75-25 deal.

"50-50 removes the country's financial risk and places that risk upon the company and any basis other than 50-50 could create an imbalance of interests which would reduce the attractiveness of the venture for one or the other of the parties."

Algerian Quarter: Terror In Paris

PARIS (NEA) — Terrorism and gang warfare are darkening the City of Light as the Algerian quarter in the center of Paris has been the scene of the last 30 months, and Parisians are getting alarmed.

Of the 40,000 Algerians registered in France, around 130,000 live in the capital and its immediate "zones" and suburbs.

Soon after the trouble started in Algeria the rival nationalist movements, the F.L.N. (Front de Liberation National) and the M.N.A. (Mouvement National Algerien) started taking the law in their own hands in France.

Scarcely a week has gone by without some Algerian being shot in broad daylight by one of his countrymen or executed in the cellar of either one of the terrorist headquarters after hours of grilling and torture. The first week of November there were 19 killed and 20 wounded in the department of the Seine alone, not counting shootings in Lyons, Lille and other industrial provincial towns.

IN THE NEAR-SUM district known as the "Goutte d'Or" (Drop of Gold) in Northeast Paris is the "media" or native quarter where today few Parisians care to loiter. Six thousand Algerians live here, and every weekend 25,000 more North Africans come in from the outskirts of the city. It is the market place, the meeting place and the scene of bloody battles.

The Paris "media" (which starts some two blocks away from Place Pigalle) dates back to 1900. Nearly half a century later the occupation and the liberation of Paris speeded up the integration of Arabs, especially of Algerians, who are French citizens.

While the majority were hired by the various industries in and around Paris, they also became very active in the black market. The "didi" or Algerians call them, sold American cigarettes, small arms and other army supplies, while the "goutte" acquired illicitly, as well as the traditional rugs, crudely-made naive leather goods and bangles. They also peddled drugs. Their favorite hunting grounds have always been the cafes on the Left Bank and Montmartre.

Today the 45,000 French residents and shopkeepers of the Goutte d'Or section are slowly but surely being squeezed out by the Algerians.

"THERE IS NOTHING picturesque or exotic about the Paris 'media'." The streets are poor and gray and living conditions grim. Over 500 Moslems occupy small lodgings. There are the "sheds," the poorest of the poor, where Algerians live in filthy, bare hotel rooms which they have to share with three or four, sometimes more compatriots.

Awards were presented by LeRoy Norder, assistant cubmaster, to Craig Branga, who received a gold arrow under the wolf badge; Larry Hill, gold arrow under the lion badge; Jim Hill, wolf badge and golden silver arrow; Jon Hall, denner stripe and three year service pin.

"Beat the Clock" games were played. Refreshments were served.

How to start an investment account—and keep it going

To begin with, you must decide what you primarily want from investing—income, stability or long-term growth. Then you must familiarize yourself with the "how's" and "why's" of securities.

Next, you'll study the securities which appear to meet your specifications and decide which of them you will buy. Then, once you have bought, you'll keep an eye on the over-all market, and particularly on the industries and companies that you have invested in.

We, of course, are in a position to help you at every step by supplying information and giving you our suggestions whenever you would like them. For a starter, we suggest that you let us send you our newly written booklet "Opening an Account." It's an ideal beginning. No charge or obligation. Just use the coupon below.

Wonder If Reds Want Recess Before Talks

President, Dulles Confer With U.S. Envoy To Russia

WASHINGTON (JNS) — Top U.S. officials are looking into the possibility that the Soviet Union wants a breathing spell in the cold war badly enough to make some limited disarmament agreements.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are working on a prompt reply to Premier Nikita Khrushchev's note of last Sunday about summit conference issues. They intend to keep the way open for a possible meeting.

One aim reportedly is to explore all the possibilities of agreement which may be desired by the Soviet Union and to make the West — in spite of the lack of encouragement which Eisenhower has expressed — more ready to meet the Soviet challenge.

THE NEW Soviet ambassador, Mikhail A. Menshikov, is due here late today. Diplomats wonder whether the accession of George N. Zarubin, who left last month, will have fresh instructions from Moscow.

Eisenhower conferred for an hour with Dulles and Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, the U.S. envoy to Moscow who came home 10 days ago for consultations.

Thompson gave the President his estimate of the present situation in Russia and the possibilities of Soviet interest in easing off the cold war. Then Dulles talked with Eisenhower for an additional hour.

Earlier, the President himself told a news conference that he and his advisers "are working very hard" to see whether there is any possible approach that we can make that will be appealing and which might lead after proper preparation — to some kind of a meeting.

BUT HE indicated that Khrushchev's letters on the subject had given little encouragement to that prospect.

Although some officials consider Khrushchev's series of letters only propaganda efforts, others believe that the Soviets, because of internal problems, actually feel the need of breathing spell sufficiently to agree to some measure of arms limitation and control.

One internal problem, according to the best information available to Washington authorities, is that the Soviet people urgently want assurance of peace. The public opinion is something the Kremlin must reckon with.

Nasser Negotiating With Yemen On Joining Union

CAIRO (JNS) — President Nasser begins negotiations today to determine just how far his dictatorship over Egypt and Syria will extend over Yemen.

Yemeni Crown Prince Seif el Islam el Badr, who is also president of the United Arab Republic, the father, Imam Ahmad, is absolute ruler of the 4 1/2 million people in the undeveloped country on the Arabian Peninsula.

El Badr arrived in time to hear Nasser outline the sweeping powers he will have as head of the U.A.R. in a speech to the Egyptian National Assembly. Nasser listed 17 major points of a "provisional" constitution providing for presidential appointment of a single legislature and executive councils for the "provinces" of Syria and Egypt, presumably an extension of Egypt's present single political party, which Nasser controls.

THE EGYPTIAN Parliament passed its approval and nomination of Nasser to be the U.A.R.'s first President. President Sukki Kuwaiti made the same report to his Parliament, nominated Nasser, and gave the same unanimous approval.

Celebrations throughout Syria were reported and the government declared a three-day holiday.

Nasser's unopposed nomination and the provisional constitution will be ratified in a plebiscite Feb. 21. Egyptian officials said the transition period until a permanent constitution is written will last about six months.

There was no indication what will happen to Kuwaiti.

Plans Bill To Hike Jobless Pay Benefits

WASHINGTON (JNS) — Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass) planned today to introduce legislation to increase unemployment compensation payments and extend coverage to more workers.

Kennedy said the bill was designed to bring improvements which President Eisenhower has urged the states to make. He said one state has done so.

Legislation is needed now, he said, because "unemployment has passed the four million mark and may well reach five million in the near future."

Under Gore's proposals, the federal government would provide a billion dollars for state, county and local public works projects which would use workers on the jobless rolls. Federal funds would pay 90 percent of the project's cost.

Kennedy's bill would set up federal requirements for many aspects of the unemployment program now left to state determination.

Italians Support U.S. Missile Bases

ROME (JNS) — Turning back a Communist challenge, the Italian Chamber of Deputies Wednesday night backed Premier Adone Zoli's pro-Western foreign policies and refused to bar the government from accepting U.S. missile bases in Italy.

The vote was by a show of hands with no count and was recorded as an informal confidence test.

THE TEST range safety officer then pushed a button and the whole rocket was destroyed at about 20,000 feet. Some parts fell into the Atlantic but others dropped to the grassy shore.

Salvaged particles are now being studied, along with movies and instrument readings, to get a more accurate idea of what went wrong with the three-stage vehicle.

The same kind of post-mortem was held after the first unsuccessful Vanguard attempt last Dec. 6. Less was learned then, however, because the rocket rose only about four feet.

Two more such tests are scheduled for Wednesday afternoon. The first attempt to hurl a 26-inch man-made moon into orbit around the globe. The Navy promised to do this in March but that no longer is definite.

Navy Doubts It'll Send Up Moon Soon; Army, AF Ready Satellites

WASHINGTON (JNS) — The Navy, studying the remains of the Vanguard rocket that failed, was uncertain today whether it could or should launch a fully instrumented earth satellite on schedule next month.

Instead, Navy spokesmen were talking about doing it sometime within the International Geophysical Year. That is their basic commitment. The IGY, a world-wide cooperative research effort, will end Dec. 31.

Meanwhile, it was learned the Air Force has told the Defense Department it believes it could launch a thousand-pound space vehicle by next June. The Air Force would use its Thor intermediate range ballistic missile for such a launch.

EARLIER THIS week, Army officials — who have launched this country's only successfully orbiting earth satellite — were reported proposing to send aloft an instrumented satellite weighing about 700 pounds. This big satellite, proposed for firing before the end of the year, would be intended to gather data for building a space station.

Project Vanguard headquarters at the Naval Research Laboratory gave a preliminary explanation of Wednesday's second Navy failure.

It said the 72-foot, 11-ton Vanguard, carrying a six-inch test satellite, took off "normally" from Cape Canaveral, Fla., for 57 seconds everything was fine.

Between the 57th and 60th seconds after takeoff, small irregularities occurred in the first-stage engine control system. After the 60th second a failure in the control system caused the engine to deflect far to the right, and the resultant abnormal high forces caused the rocket to break

PROBERS DIFFER Over Course Of FCC Quiz

Some Subcommittee Members Suspect No Wrongdoing

WASHINGTON (JNS) — Dissension within a House subcommittee left in doubt today the future course of its hearings on allegations of improper conduct against members of the Federal Communications Commission.

Several of the FCC commissioners, denying any misconduct or impropriety, asked for more specific charges.

The investigation involves allegations by the subcommittee staff that five of the FCC's seven members improperly accepted favors from the broadcasting industry they are charged with regulating.

SEVERAL subcommittee members supported the protesting commissioners in a hearing marked by wrangling over procedure. One member, Rep. Moss (D-Calif.), described the argument as almost a "bustle."

Focus of the wrangling was the manner in which subcommittee counsel Bernard Schwartz questioned FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer.

At the end of the day, Rep. Moulder (D-Mo), subcommittee chairman, told reporters the subcommittee would meet for three days next week, beginning Monday, with the FCC still under inquiry.

Doerfer was charged with having accepted a $5,000 loan from a broadcasting company, which he had to repay. The loan was made in 1954.

Public deaths — resulting from catastrophes, fires and railroad and airplane accidents — totaled 18,000, a 13 per cent increase over the 1956 toll.

Some 20,700 persons died in falls last year, a 2 per cent increase over 1956. There were 6,700 deaths from burns, 6,700 from drowning and 2,200 from firearms.

President Gets Emergency Bill

WASHINGTON (JNS) — The House completed congressional action today on an emergency defense appropriation providing an extra $1,410,000,000 to speed up missile and space projects.

Minutes later, the Senate overwhelmingly approved a resolution to set up a special Senate committee to recommend whether the government's space programs should be under civilian or military control.

The Senate action came on a resolution sponsored by Sen. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) and his Sen. Republican ally, Sen. Charles McNichols (Iowa).

The resolution was introduced only Wednesday — 24 hours after President Eisenhower was disclosed to have directed his science advisers to study and recommend whether the space programs should be controlled by the military or the civilian.

Johnson urged quick approval as soon as the Senate met today. The vote came less than an hour after he said early action was necessary because "there is an urgent need to lodge specific recommendations with the public."

THE OFFICERS gave chase and arrested Raul and Perkins.

Texas authorities said two men who had been in the government of Waco, and previously kidnapped, were being held for space conquest.

Nab Murder Suspects After Kidnap

NEW ORLEANS (JNS) — Police are holding two men they say are wanted in Texas for questioning in the slaying of a filing station operator and the kidnapping of a San Antonio insurance man.

The two, identified as Allen Franklin Perkins, 28, Houston, were arrested in the kidnapping of a New Orleans photographer.

Cold Causes Like To Cancel Meetings

WASHINGTON (JNS) — President Eisenhower's cold caused cancellation of one of his engagements today. Two other appointments remained on his schedule.

They are a meeting of the National Security Council and a meeting with a delegation from the American College of Surgeons.

The President, who has been bothered by a sore throat and hoarseness, cancelled plans to attend a breakfast prayer meeting sponsored by the International Council for Christian Leadership.

Eisenhower's cold and sore throat developed Sunday night after he had returned from a week-end of golf and bridge at Augusta, Ga.

ICC Plans St. Louis, Chicago Train Probe

Whether or not three Chicago passenger trains will be consolidated into one train each way a day, affecting transportation to and from Kankakee, depends on the results of an investigation planned by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

The commission announced the investigation today of investigating passenger service between the two points provided by the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio, Illinois Central and Wabash Railroads.

Books, records, revenue and expenses of the three railroads, plus a study of the frequency of train schedules will be the subject of the investigation.

Trains serving Kankakee which the ICC wishes to consolidate are the Daylight, Green Diamond and Night Diamond. All three now make daily trips through Kankakee, north and south. Kankakee, said the service now being provided "is not being utilized to the extent necessary to produce sufficient earnings to warrant the operations."

"We feel that the airlines and the completion of Route 66 have taken these two important terminals (Chicago-St. Louis) far diverted much of the traffic. To what extent rail service is needed to serve the area is a matter of public investigation," he said.

Perkins said the intention of the commission was to investigate the service provided to the end that operating railroads may be aided in their financial plight, and also that public convenience and necessity will not be harmed.
