Having Trouble Entering College—Try This

Oxford, Ohio—If you can't find a college to accept you this spring, don't give up. Here's the place to write: College Admissions Center, Glenbrook High School, Northbrook, Ill.

You're welcome because in this case everybody benefits. The chances are you will find a college, and the school fills a place in its freshman class that otherwise might go idle.

It's all part of an idea hatched by the Assn. of College Admissions Counselors with a financial assist by the Sloan Foundation.

The clearing center plan was announced today by the association president, Harry M. Gerlach, who is also admissions director at Miami University here.

He said that although college enrollment is at a peak and many colleges are overcrowded, others are not operating at capacity.

The admissions center will start operating next June 1. Here is how it will work:

If you haven't found a college by June 1 and are a qualified high school graduate, you may ask for registration forms from the center. The center charges a $10 registration fee.

When any college has openings, its admissions director will be able to thumb through the files and select students to invite for applications.

Reds Build War Machine, Talk Peace: Dulles

West Warned Not To Drop Atom Shield In Berlin Address

BERLIN (U.S. S. Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, accused the Soviet Union today of using disarmament talk as a smoke screen to produce a world dominated by the military power of the Chinese-Soviet bloc.

He warned the West against abandoning its nuclear deterrent shield because of what he called alluring Soviet promises. He declared Soviet failure to honor international pledges constitutes a grave obstacle to working out an East-West accord.

Dulles made his attack on the Kremlin in a speech delivered to West Berlin's Parliament. Later he flew to Paris for a meeting of U. S. ambassadors. The Communists in neighboring East Berlin called for demonstration during his 45-hour stay in West Berlin, but they failed to materialize.

"IT'S JUST A big surprise that they're where they are today," said Myron Baker of 886 S. Myrtle Ave. of the topsy-turvy baseball world. "The Sox can't help but improve," he added.

CUBS FAN William Abney of 262 S. Greenwood Ave., believes the team has done all right for themselves. "I think the Cubs will win the pennant this year," the Sox fan commented.

"THEY'LL FINISH seventh," is the prediction of Jake Hill of 143 S. Orchard Ave. of the Cubs. He predicted that Walls, who has hit nine homers for the Cubs so far, will not hit over six more the rest of the season. The Sox should finish in third, Hill says.

Will Success Spoil The Cubs?

The Chicago baseball world is standing just about on end at present. The Cubs are leading the National League with a 12-7 record while the White Sox trail in the American League with a 4-11 mark.

A group of people were interviewed in downtown Kankakee this morning to get their comments on the situation.

ONE MAN WHO favors the Sox over the Cubs, said he would give any Cub fan a dollar for every game the Sox won, and he would go back to the start of the season. Any takers? Here is what they say:

LIKE ORDERS TROOPS OUT OF LITTLE ROCK

Administration, Demos Ponder Trade Measure

WASHINGTON (UP)—Democratic House leaders today liberalized the trade bill to make it more acceptable to a protectionist-minded Congress.

The administration Wednesday refused "as of now" to recommend any compromise that would make it easier for backers to save President Eisenhower's reciprocal trade bill from being gutted with tariff-boosting provisions.

Administration officials apparently did not want to share with Democratic leaders the responsibility for trying to appease the powerful high-tariff bloc that is determined to ram the measure into a protectionist bill.

BUT THERE WERE reports from both the Democratic and administration camps that administration officials would privately consult with the Democratic-controlled Ways and Means Committee in an attempt to salvage at least some semblance of the nation's 24-year-old liberal trade program.

The committee, heavily weighted on the Republican side with foes of liberal trade, planned to meet Monday to resume consideration of the administration's bill. The measure, given no chance of enactment in its present form, would extend the President's tariff-cutting powers for five years and authorize him to cut present duties by 25 per cent.

The crucial issue is the extent to which Congress will attach provisions erasing past tariff cuts and imposing rigid quotas restricting imports of foreign oil, lead, zinc and other products.

Communists Blamed For Incident

First Of Elks Club High School Post Prom Parties Saturday

Approximately 300 young people from the Bradley-Bourbonnais, Elks and Redick High Schools are expected at the Kankakee Elks Club post prom party Saturday morning.

The occasion is the first of a series of annual post-prom parties sponsored by the local Elks Club. The club closes its doors at midnight to its members and opens its facilities to young people from surrounding communities following their spring proms.

The parties begin at midnight and continue until the final couples leave.

For the first party, entertainment will be Dick Freeman, a variety comedian who appeared in Kankakee at the Chamber of Commerce.

Taylor Discusses Delinquency With Exchange Club

What causes juvenile delinquency? County Judge Irvin C. Taylor was speaker at a "Kankakee Exchange Club meeting Wednesday noon when he cited several local cases of juvenile delinquency and situations out of which they arose.

He said that in Kankakee County, delinquency is about average for communities of a similar type. There is considerable delinquency in non-attendance of schools, he reported. Most delinquency comes out of neglected homes he reported with over indulgence and divided responsibility in the home as rating second, Judge Taylor said.

Cars are involved in some way in at least 75 per cent of the cases of juvenile delinquency in the county, he reported. At a recent conference of juvenile judges, Judge Taylor said that the judges agreed the prime reason for juvenile delinquency is failure to teach youngsters respect for law. There is a declining respect for courts as well, the local jurist noted.

He related cases of local families, and specific development of delinquency problems to the club to illustrate his comments.

Prior to the program Harold Means was named as official delegate to the state Exchange Club convention in Chicago May 23-25. As many members as possible were urged to attend by Louis Ray, club president. E. G. Warmbr and Means were named captains in charge of arrangements to see a major league baseball game.

Catholics To Mark Charity Sunday

Charity Day will be marked Sunday in the Roman Catholic churches of the Joliet Diocese. On that day parishes of the diocese will contribute funds to the support of the Diocesan Catholic Charities program.

The Catholic Charities office which was officially established in the diocese in 1949 has the care of children as its major responsibility. The charities' program, by means of its services, attempts to provide all that a home implies—food, clothing, education, recreation, medical care and a wholesome Catholic atmosphere for those children who have no home of their own. Through its extensive program, many families and individuals also receive aid from the various departments of the charities.

During the year, 1,684 social service cases were given assistance by the offices of the Catholic Charities. Through the service of the Catholic Home Bureau, a department of the charities, 380 children received full-time care in foster homes and in specialized institutions. These figures do not include the 226 children receiving full-time care in the Guardian Angel Home, Joliet, and Alfred Fortin Villa, Bourbonnais.

In addition 617 children benefited from the welfare services and counseling in their own homes. The family care department assisted 619 families and individuals with financial assistance or family counseling. Aid was also given to 38 cases involving pre-natal and maternity care.

The work of the charities is administered by means of the offices in the diocese located in Joliet, Kankakee and Wheaton. The Kankakee office administers the Kankakee, Iroquois and Ford counties.

Aircraft Workers On Verge Of Strike

Nearly 100,000 aircraft workers, who make some of the nation's most important airlines and bombers, stood on the brink of strike today. At the last hour, their leaders called back handbills and picket signs prepared for the strike last night.

2 Held For Not Paying Court Costs

Two young men from Pembroke Township are being held in Kankakee County Jail until they pay $27.50 court costs, resulting from their arraignment Wednesday on charges of stealing gasoline.

Lester Lee Coleman, 18, and Winston Alexander, 18, were arrested Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Henry Thompson, after they reported they were stealing gas from school buses.

They were brought before Justice of the Peace George Genotte later in the day and given $100 suspended fines.

New Approach To Nuclear Tests

Dr. Edward Teller appears to have modified his views somewhat on possible harmful results from nuclear weapons tests while not retreating an inch from his central thesis.

The noted University of California scientist maintains with his customary vigor that the United States must continue its work on development of so-called clean nuclear explosives. He regards such weapons as essential to have as a deterrent to Communist aims. Teller holds that not to develop a clean bomb would be a crime against humanity.

But he takes note of the outcry in many parts of the world against nuclear blasts which some authorities have testified pollute the atmosphere and threaten the future of the human race. He suggests that while our tests must be continued, they be carried out in such a way as to limit the amount of radiation set loose in the earth's atmosphere.

Teller's statement on this point makes mention of the fact he has long said that radioactivity produced by nuclear testing is not dangerous. Then he goes on to say:

"However, to some small extent there is a possibility that it may become dangerous. People are worried. Therefore, we should propose an agreement whereby the total amount of potentially dangerous radiation in the atmosphere would be limited."

Under his proposal the main testing grounds would be below the surface of the earth and in outer space. Also, tests that result in radioactivity in the earth's atmosphere would be continued but on a reduced scale.

Teller says the underground nuclear explosive test in Nevada last year proved that radio activity can be confined underground, where it can do no harm. And he says the earth would be safe from harmful fallout from outer space tests because our atmosphere would act as a barrier to such fallout.

His proposed international agreement would provide for the setting of a small quota of radioactivity to be allowed from tests as we know them today, the amount to be set on an annual basis. Teller says a method of checking the amount of radiation in the atmosphere could be set up on a cooperative basis. He feels this could be done through the United Nations.

Teller has offered his plan as a way to solve the dilemma of how testing, which he regards as essential to our security and for the good of humanity, can be continued while at the same time reducing or eliminating any dangers. He urges the U.S. to take the initiative to seek an agreement with other countries, including Russia, on the plan. As the father of the H-Bomb, Teller's views command respect. In the absence of a full-scale disarmament agreement, his plan merits attention as a possible way out of dangers from continued testing and, on the other side, the preponderance of Soviet strength in military manpower and non-atomic weapons.

Hoover Writes About Wilson

Former President Herbert Hoover, recovering well from a bout with the surgeons, must be gaining some of his good spirits from the warm reception accorded his new book on "The Ordeal of Woodrow Wilson."

History records no other instance of an American president doing a biography of another president after he himself had served in the White House. That Mr. Hoover felt the urge to delve into Woodrow Wilson's story is a mark of his consuming interest in the pageant of American life.

His concern for America's World War I president may have been sparked partly by the fact that he worked for Wilson, directing the relief of millions in Belgium and France. It seems evident, too, that he was highly sensitive to the elements of both triumph and tragedy that colored Mr. Wilson's presidential career.

Whatever his motives, Mr. Hoover has mastered his self-imposed assignment with commendable scholarship and complete freedom from partisanship. He is a frank admirer of the wartime president's values and standards. His sympathy may have been heightened by the fact that, as Wilson endured the bitter ordeal of the losing fight for the League of Nations, so his onetime relief commissioner suffered the trials of the greatest economic decline in U.S. history.

Yet Mr. Hoover does not attempt, in presenting his sympathetic portrait, to gloss over the tragic failure which darkened Wilson's last days—beset with crippling, incapacitating illness. The end result is a unique and remarkable document which stands at once as a compassionate yet hard-headed contribution to our understanding of Woodrow Wilson, and as a measure of the breadth and depth of a Republican president who found a moving, significant life story to tell.

Did Nehru Shock Complacent Party?

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has been compelled to concede that he is India's indispensable man.

After a week of crisis in his Congress party, Nehru has agreed to abandon his plan to give up the prime ministry and go into semi-retirement as India's elder statesman.

Instead, Nehru has settled for a six-week vacation in an isolated valley of the Himalayan Mountains near the Tibetan frontier.

There, he plans to work on his autobiography and study the many problems which beset India and the Congress party.

Here Is What They Say

The United States will never give up the defense of the free world no matter how much it costs. What goes around comes off second best in a game of this type?—Army Secretary WILBUR BRUCKER.

When the highly paid American man gets home, he becomes the most expensive manual laborer the world has ever known. No other civilization has ever let responsible and important men take care of little babies to the extent American culture has today.—Anthropologist MARGARET MEAD.

When we cooperate with the West, that does not mean any allegiance to the West. My ally in Russia does not mean any allegiance to the Soviet Union.—GAMAL ABDEL NASSER, president of United Arab Republic.

How many times have most of us, because of our inability to using it (The Star-Spangled Banner) properly, remained mute or lowered our voices during the rendition?—Rep. HERBERT ZIEGLER (D-NY), saying he will introduce his bill in Congress making a "singable" version of National Anthem official.

It all started back in March. Nehru then began to tell his fellow cabinet ministers that he was physically tired and mentally exhausted after leading his country as a benevolent dictator since it attained its independence on August 15, 1947. He said that he wanted to retire from active politics for 40 years.

HE IS FOREIGN minister and head of the department for atomic energy as well as prime minister, and he attends meetings as of the parliament to answer questions, directs the legislative program and make frequent speeches.

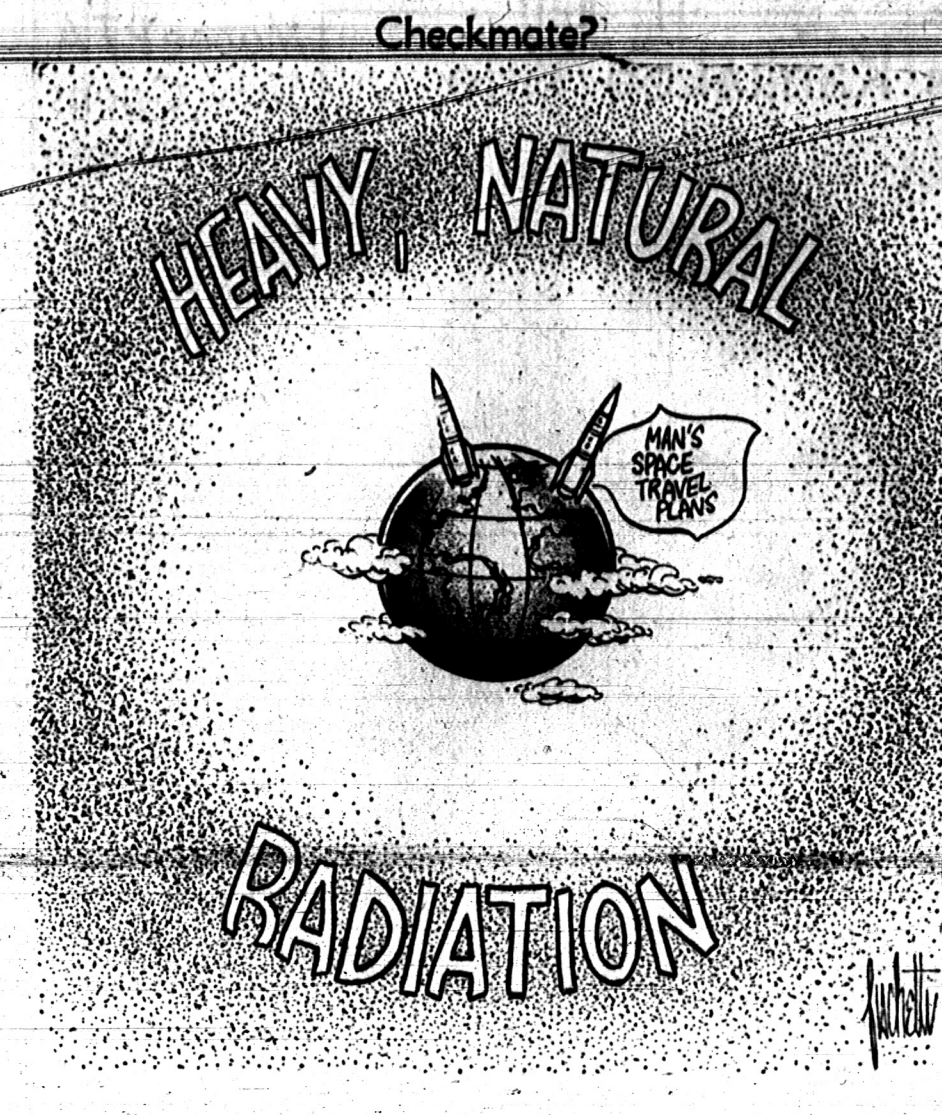

The report that Nehru wanted to retire leaked out first in a newspaper. It caused little excitement. He had said the same thing during a period of depression four years ago.

But on April 23, Nehru broke the news officially at a meeting of Congress party members of parliament. He said that he wanted to step out from under his heavy burden of leadership, and get relief from his day-to-day duties.

The party was thrown into panic. A series of secret party meetings followed. Nehru became angry "at first. He asked that he be permitted at least to give up leadership temporarily. But the party passed a formal resolution saying that he absolutely could not be spared. Nehru gave in.

IN AN EFFORT to counteract this impression, Adm. Dufek decided to fly correspondents in the South Pole base established by the United States and supplied by air. When Fuchs was a mile or two from the Pole, a party went out to meet him. Fuchs greeted them warmly, says Adm. Dufek. There were no hard feelings between the two explorers, and the party was in high spirits.

Later Fuchs told Hillary that it was right for him to have sent the dispatch, advising an end to the expedition. But Fuchs pointed out that he had gone into debt some $50,000 to finance his expedition. His men were on a year's leave. It would be impossible for them to come back next year. He had to make it this year or never. Hillary then flew back to his

An Example Of Soviet Culture

WASHINGTON — America has just given a tragic example of what the Soviet government means by "cultural exchange." It sent to the United States a consummate liar—with the confident expectation that many Americans would be fooled or duped.

The story starts with an innocent effort by a Chicago bus driver who wanted, as a gesture of international good will, to arrange a visit with Russian war veterans who were at the American River Elbe in World War II. It wasn't an official exchange, but the American government granted the visit anyhow. The Soviet radio exploited the visit as an example of Soviet-American "solidarity."

The five Russians—hand-picked by the Moscow government—came to the United States on April 21 and were in Washington and New York City until April 30, when they flew back to Moscow. BORIS POLOVOY, chief of the Union of Soviet Writers who had come to America in 1935 as the spokesman of the Soviet delegation of newsmen, was again the head of the visiting group. He came and departed without being asked the big question that has been raised in cultural circles about the punitive measures taken by the Soviets toward writers who do not agree with their government.

POLOVOY SAID THAT he could, through the usual anti-Soviet slanders. Fortunately, Polovoy said, he was in a position to refute the charges. A woman who could go on a diet without bragging. Anyone who could keep a simple way to attract a waiter's attention. A politician who ever gave a constituent a free cigar—or any other thing.

POLOVOY answered, and this was witnessed by too many people that night to be denied. But after Polovoy had gone home, after the U.S. press had stood up well in the Southern Hemisphere during the International Geophysical Year, says Adm. Dufek. This country announced in 1954 it would establish seven bases, including a South Pole base, and it did.

The Russians announced in 1955 they would set up a South Pole base, but they yielded when the United States announced that it would duplicate this effort. Instead, the Russians announced they would establish bases at the magnetic South Pole and at the "Pole of Inaccessibility," as Adm. Dufek called it. This is 14,000 feet high, in the center of the continent. Last reports told the Russians still 500 miles from their goal.

BUT THE RUSSIANS are apparently in Antarctica to stay. So the U.S. press has been cutting off during the IGY summer, there have been as many as 6,000 people in Antarctica, not counting the penguins. In winter the human population is reduced to 1,000 observers and caretakers, including 350 Americans. The Russians have been between 50 and 100 men in Antarctica.

"Why do the Soviets want these cultural exchanges?" So that they may keep their noses clean over their own radio jingoism. The American government supposedly accepts the Soviet viewpoint on the IGY summer, but it is designed to weaken the hopes of the Soviet people that they might someday gain the moral support of the United States in their efforts to get rid of despotism.

Sen. William Knowland

Undoubtedly the most spectacular campaign this year will be the nomination and election of Sen. William F. Knowland as governor of California. Sen. Knowland is the leader of the Republican party in the United States Senate. He could have been renominated and re-elected to the Senate. He deliberately declined the sure thing and chose to risk himself for the governorship of his state.

Against him are already gathering mighty forces, particularly the professional labor barons who earn their living out of the work of other men. They object to Knowland because he has supported the American right-to-work doctrine which is as fundamental as free speech, namely, that no man and no group of men may enter into a conspiracy to prevent other humans from earning a living. The right-to-work doctrine is basic in American life, going back to the earliest days before alien influences subordinated American freedom to one form or another of Marxist enslavement of the individual to the prevailing forces in society.

IT HAS BEEN SUGGESTED THAT Sen. Knowland's campaign would have been a smarter political move had he not advocated the right-to-work doctrine until after he had been elected governor. Then the labor barons might not have poured millions of dollars into California to elect him. He treats such politician's proposals as if they were the proposals of a man who is not himself and if the price of being elected is to be a liar, Knowland rejects the whole thing.

His opposition has already developed a normal ADA campaign which is to produce no arguments against Knowland's character or his record, but to repeat endlessly the unprovable statement that he cannot be elected. This, no one can know until after an election actually has taken place, for the will of the people is not expressed in estimates but in the voting booths where secrecy and truth prevail.

Bill Knowland is obstinate in another regard. He is still a United States senator and the Republican leader of the Senate and he takes his responsibilities seriously. He refuses to neglect his duties in the Senate while he is running for office in California. He flies to California for weekend campaigning but back to Washington as long as Congress is in session. This is an old-fashioned sense of responsibility, but it is very refreshing in an era when the word, duty, seems to have lost all meaning.

HOWEVER, HIS CHARMING WIFE, Helen, is on the circuit, campaigning for her husband which is always a great help. I am told that Helen Knowland is a brilliant speaker and that Sen. Knowland's daughters also appear at meetings. Such a family has been mobilized for civic duty and responsibility.

The Republican party needs the kind of leadership that Sen. Knowland has given it. It is the responsible leadership which some men call conservatism, but which, in fact, is a revolt against opportunism, against the betrayal of the American tradition of personal freedom and freedom of opportunity by those who advocate statism in any guise. Sen. Knowland was quite young when Sen. Robert A. Taft selected Knowland as his successor to the leadership. As the years passed, it was obvious that Taft's insight into the man's character was indeed precise.

ONE OF THE GREATEST ISSUES TO face the American people during the next decade will be the division of powers and authorities between the federal government in Washington and the 48 states. The encroachment of the federal government upon the states since 1933 has been beyond belief. The current Supreme Court, presided over by Chief Justice Earl Warren, seems bent upon destroying the authority of the states altogether. The federal government takes so much of the earned income of the people out of each state as to leave the states without adequate revenue to perform their proper local functions.

Under our Constitution and our system of government, this course can only lead to chaos and anarchy. It is therefore necessary for each state to elect a strong governor, a man of uncompromising character, who will protect the dignity of his state and the rights of his people.

Those who know him well and who have followed his record in the Senate believe that Sen. Knowland is such a man.

How Many Have You Met?

NEW YORK — Characters we've heard about but never expect to meet. Statesmen who would rather be right than president. A woman who could go on a diet without bragging.

A politician who ever gave a constituent a free cigar—or any other thing. An unscrupulous cat that leaped into the water to save its drowning master.

A wife too proud to go through her husband's pockets, particularly on a night when he has returned home after playing poker. A husband too honorable to peek at his wife's diary.

A BIG SPENDER who steps up to the bar and announces "Drinks for the house—or on me."

A newspaperman who wore his hat on the back of his head—or cursed out his city editor in his face.

A private detective who leaped into a cab and shouted to the driver, "Follow that cat-hare's a five-spot to it for you if you don't lose him."

A doctor who, after losing a patient in surgery, said, "Well, you can't win 'em all."

A columnist who would admit his job was easier than working for a living.

County Cancer Fund Gifts Reach $7,046

Kankakee County chapter, American Cancer Society, has received donations totaling $7,046.19 during its 1958 fund campaign. Announcement of the campaign total was made by Paul Robertson, chairman, during a report-luncheon meeting Wednesday noon.

The county goal is $9,500, meaning that almost $2,500 is still needed to meet that goal. Some division chairmen have not made reports and some business and industry donations have not been received.

About 20 division chairmen attended the report meeting. Speaker was William H. Morgan, on the administrative staff of Manton State Hospital. He told how the hospital's 4,000 employees have formed a sort of united fund appeal, which was responsible for a donation to the cancer fund of $354, compared to 1957's $80 when there was no united appeal.

MORGAN SAID THE hospital's Middle Management Board, consisting of about 40 department heads, originated the united appeal. Let the employees elect their own chairman, team captain and make their own solicitation.

"Allowing the employees to have personal contact with the appeal has done much to make a success of the solicitation," he said. "Then, too, they knew they would be asked to give only once."

Response to the appeal totaled more than $2,500. When it came to distributing this money employees were again given a chance to vote. Forms were circulated, listing the four organizations seeking funds at the hospital. Each employee was asked to place a check in the box for the organization of his choice.

SMILES OF APPRECIATION and satisfaction light the faces of these cancer society officials and a Manton State Hospital representative as they consider the hospital's terrific increase in the donation to the 1958 fund campaign. This year's donation from hospital employees was $354 compared to $80 last year. Pointing to the big figure are, from left: Walter J. play was to state what he thought each should get.

The cancer society was in top position with $54. Next came polo with $610, then heart fund, $600 and Red Cross, $410.

MARGAN SAID HE thought the cancer society got a great deal of help from the hospital's employees who are becoming increasingly aware of the dangers of cancer, and no cancer campaign had been held at the hospital this year. Other groups had already received more money.

Another outstanding increase in contributions came from Moneys which went from about $35 last year to more than $400 this year.

For the first time in the history of the county chapter a solicitor was made in Hopkins Park. It netted more than $30.

Grow 3 Or 4 Garden Crops In Same Plot

Home gardeners who find a lack of space a problem can harvest three or four crops from the same area where one grew before by interplanting such vegetables as squash, pumpkin, cucumbers and muskmelons in the same rows and at the same time when sweet-corn is planted.

Sweet corn is a comparatively shallow root plant in comparison with the vine crops. There will be but little competition for nutrients in the soil among the plants and the vine crop will not interfere severely with cultivation.

The corn plants will furnish shade for the squash, muskmelon and cucumber plants and protect them from the hot summer sun. There will be better pollination of the vine crops due to lower atmospheric temperature.

The crops can all be planted early this month. TWO OF THREE grains of sweet corn seed should be planted per hill 30 inches apart and the rows can be narrowed to 30 inches. At least two rows of sweet corn should be made in the same planting to get the desired pollination of the corn. Plant four or five varieties of sweet corn with different dates. There will be but little competition for nutrients in the soil among the plants and the vine crop will not interfere severely with cultivation.

Good varieties of cucumbers include Marketier, Straight Eight, and new Smoothie. Hale's Best 36, Hearts-Of-Gold and Pride of Wisconsin are recommended for the vine crops. The safe countless thousands of needy veterans will benefit.

Those Dirty Coyotes

Missouri Suspects Hunters Of Kansas

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UP) — State conservation officials today took issue with charges that Missouri bounty hunters are bootlegging bogus fox ears in Illinois.

But at the same time, they admitted to a "neaking suspicion" that Kansas nimrod are peddling coyotes in Missouri to collect the bounty here.

Illinois authorities revealed Wednesday that county clerks are paying large sums for a rash of fox ears, believed to be hand made from Missouri fox pelts. The Illinois bounty ranges from $1 to $5 per pair of ears.

NOVA NASH OF THE Missouri Conservation Commission countered that he didn't think it would "be worth a man's time to take fox ears to Illinois" at least not while Missouri pays up to $15 for the ears of wolves, coyotes and wildcats.

"We've suspected for a long time that Kansas hunters may be bringing their dead coyotes to Missouri to collect the bounty," Nash said. "We just don't have a lot of country in our state that coyotes like to live in. And most of the bounties have been paid in counties that border Kansas."

Class For KSH Volunteers To Start May 15

The second session includes a portrayal of how Protestant and Catholic chaplains minister to the mentally ill, the treatment program, the activities therapies, the veterans service program and the showing of a movie, "Man to Man."

Both sessions will be held in the hospital's diagnostic staff room. Tours of the hospital will be conducted on both days. The volunteers will be served luncheon as guests of the hospital.

Reservations for the class can be made by calling the hospital's volunteer service office, 2-7433, extension 405.

The damage suit resulted from an accident between Bissell's car and Bertrand's truck, seven miles east of Kankakee on Route 17, Jan. 18, 1953.

Litigation was begun Dec. 27, 1953, and a trial held soon after, but the jury delivered a split decision and new trial was required.

In the Peoria Heraldian competition Helen Dunn had a $313-40; Martha Hayes $212-40 and Celia Wagner $212-40. Other finalists were Rosemond Kuntz $918-41, Lola Holder $918-41 and Betty Bowman $625-41.

Line Deaneau had the day's low gross score with a 49.

Three players tied for honors in the first Ladies Day of the 1958 golf season at the Kankakee Valley Elks Club Wednesday.

Rebel Street Names Win In Park Forest

PARK FOREST (U) — The Yankees got whupped by pro-Rebel namedrops in a gooberish verbal rumpus in this peaceful southwest Chicago suburb.

The action centered in the Lincolnwood subdivision, named, of course, after Abraham Lincoln.

What the unionists objected to was the way the names of some Confederate gentlemen popped up on the area's streetsigns—fellows like Lee and Stonewall Jackson and Jefferson Davis.

"WE FEEL THAT IT IS just inappropriate to include any Confederate men in the memorial to Lincoln," said the most outspoken Yankee, Robert Nyberg. His grandpa fought for the North in the 24th Illinois Infantry regular.

Some of his friends agreed with him too, Nyberg told a newsman.

But the other folks, the developers, American Community Builders, Inc., said they innocently chose the rebel names on the basis that they too are associated with Lincoln.

They didn't propose to change them.

Last week the Park Forest Board of Trustees, said Manager John Scott, approved the plans for the subdivision as is. Rebel street names too.

325 School Officials Discuss Problems Here

Kankakee was host Wednesday night to approximately 325 school board members, administrators and county superintendents in Will-Rock District of the Illinois Association of School Boards.

Each school district tried to have a representative at each of the five discussion panels. Returning home, they planned to put the information they gathered, used it to improve the operation of their districts.

Response in the question and answer periods after each panel discussion was very high.

Of interest on the part of school men regarding their duties and responsibilities to pupils and the public.

"Duties of the Board of Education" were discussed by a panel headed by Armand Miranda of the Taft School board, Lockport, and member of the state executive committee, IASB. Joseph Ackerman, president of the Elmhurst Elementary Board of Education and vice president of the IASB; Louis Ansel, Chicago attorney; and Roger Cummings, president of the Coal City High School Board of Education.

All three emphasized the responsibility of the school board to keep the public informed.

"One of our most important duties," Ackerman declared, "is to constantly review our purposes, goals, aims and philosophy and to keep the public informed of our status."

The job of determining curriculum, Ackerman declared, is not that of the administrator, but of the school board. The administrator must advise the board members, who must decide the curriculum, he said.

"Keeping the public informed," he contended, "makes our job easier. The school board should not only invite, but should insist that the public attend its meetings. If the public has an understanding of what takes place and why, members of the public may be able to help solve our problems. We have a responsibility to encourage the press to attend our meetings and to report our actions," Ackerman concluded.

SPEAKING OF individual responsibility of board members, Cummings said, "After a decision has been made by the majority of the board, individual members have the duty of respecting that

"TEACHER MORALE" PROBLEMS can have their lighter side, too, according to school board members. Standing are, left, Clarence Oswald and Stanley Smith of the Willington Board of Education and seated, left, Clarence Abrams and Irvyn Lewis of the Ludwig Board of Education, Lockport. (H)

American School System Superior To European, Educators Told

The American educational system was compared to the European system and found superior by Dr. Eric H. Johnson, first assistant to the Illinois Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Johnson was the keynote speaker at the Illinois Association of School Boards, Will-Rock district, meeting in Kankakee Wednesday night.

Following Johnson's talk, the group was divided to hear panel discussions on five topics: "Transportation, Special Education and Driver Training," "Duties of the Board of Education," "Teacher Morale," "Judging the Quality of Schools," and "Accounting Systems."

JOHNSON TOLD SOME 325 school board members, administrators and county superintendents that the United States educates a higher percentage of its people and turns out better quality students than Russia or European countries.

He explained that, in the European system, students are evaluated by tests at about ages 8, 10 or 12 years. Only those showing promise of great potential are selected for higher education. "From these they get their leadership," he said.

"We give non-winners of scholarships an opportunity to choose whether to continue school. We don't cut them off as the Russians do."

Speaking of recent criticisms of the American educational system, Johnson said, "I don't intend to be an apologist for the system, but I feel we should look at our blessings."

HE POINTED OUT that the United States believes in respect for the individual and that if you

High School Board of Education; Roy Clark, assistant superintendent, Department of Public Instruction; Hans Olson, professor of education at Eastern Illinois University; and Carl E. Peterson, president of the Beecher Community Unit Board of Education and director of the IASB.

The panel considered that minimum standards of education should be set up by the state office and be based on American values. It found that a criteria for judging schools and their goals should be set up.

Continual evaluation to determine whether the goals and ends actually are being achieved is a necessity, the panel felt.

Emphasizing that changing patterns of behavior is the purpose of schools, the group indicated that a school institution is a service agency to serve people and not to save money.

In stressing the need of educational programs designed to help keeping of minutes of the meeting, financial records and amendments. Ansel advised school boards to shorten their meetings by sending all members copies of the minutes of the previous meeting a week in advance of the next meeting. Members can study these minutes and approve them at the next meeting, he explained.

President Roy Stamas of the Kankakee Board of Education was the panelist on the topic, "Teacher Morale." The session brought out that many factors affect teachers' morale but that certainly an adequate salary is a prerequisite to good morale.

OTHER FACTORS bearing on morale are competent administration, adequate materials, a good equipment, a de qu a buildings, community recognition, a reasonable class size and support of teachers in matters of discipline.

Competent administration, the panel felt, includes recognition of good work, yet a firm hand in directing the educational machinery.

The question of merit rating was brought up. It was the panel's feeling that this subject requires a vast amount of study before it can be introduced in large measure in schools generally.

Merit rating is being tested now in isolated cases with varying results. Many questions regarding

AEC Admits Bomb Tested In Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission has confirmed the opening of this country's long-heralded nuclear test series in the Pacific.

The AEC gave test confirmation, but no details, Wednesday after Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore.) announced in the House that a nuclear blast has been scheduled for April 28.

Porter, who has just returned from the Pacific Proving Grounds, made the announcement while calling again for an end to such testing lest it accelerates the atomic arms race.

THE OREGON congressman said he did not see the test and that he was not at liberty to give any information on the nature of the blast. Porter said his speech had been cleared by the AEC which confirmed the Eniwetok explosion but would not verify Porter's statement that it was the first of 30 nuclear blasts planned for the test series.

The government announced some time ago that the nuclear tests would start this spring and run through the summer. The AEC and the Defense Department said the purpose of the tests is to develop weapons for defense against air, sea and land attack and to try to reduce further the radioactive fallout from nuclear weapons.

FONDI, Italy (AP)—A Protestant minister, walked off in a bawling palace by a Roman Catholic land, hauled food in through the window today for a long sleep.

It was the Rev. Umberto Righetti's second day behind the brick-up door of his church rooms.

With a 20-foot rope and a bucket, he hauled up a plate of steamed pasta and a bundle of groceries his followers bought for him. The strange case of the Protestant church with the Catholic door began when the 33-year-old evangelist of the First Church of Christ rented two upstairs rooms in the old palace. His flock of 350 began to hold services there.

The only entrance to the church rooms was through a door owned by a ground-floor tenant, Mrs. Gemma Rastali, a Catholic.

She would not stand for Protestants trooping in and out her door and got a court order permitting her to brick up the church entrance.

Religious Experts See Nothing Wrong In Space Exploration

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

"... And God said unto them, 'replenish the earth and subdue it; and have dominion... over every living thing that moveth on the earth.'"

These words, the original assignment given to humanity in Genesis 1:28, didn't include outer space in man's province of rule.

But now he's reaching into that sector, is he overstepping his bounds?

Not in any geographical sense, said the Very Rev. Mgr. Charles Walsh, of the Roman Catholic Confederation of Christian Doctors.

"The Book of Genesis is not that literalistic."

THIS SEEMS TO be the general religious view. Catholic, Protestant and Jewish, although there is some opinion to the contrary.

Unlike bygone ages when new scientific strides sometimes stirred church protests, no such wide repercussions have come from space flight projects.

However, some biblical experts do question it on ethical grounds or from direct Scripture as set forth in Genesis.

"We have been given the right to master the forces of the earth," said Dr. Abraham Heschel, one of Judaism's foremost scholars. "We were not given the right to master the forces of outer space."

Most religious leaders, however, have raised no theological objections to space exploration so far as physical boundaries are concerned.

The Rev. Dr. Robert Brown, of the interdenominational Union Theological Seminary, noted that while the Genesis verse does not specifically include space in man's realm of activity, it also does not exclude it.

BOTH HE AND Mgr. Walsh suggested the term "earth," in the Old Testament setting, referred to the whole created order.

Some theologians, however, question the ethical basis for man's leap into space, and the motives.

Dr. Samuel Terrien, a noted Old Testament scholar, said that in a sense the step is a "manifestation of man's craving for unlimited power, for self-sufficiency in the universe, to be like God."

He noted, was the mistake of Adam.

In certain ways, however, some religious leaders believe space exploration may even bring kindness to the earth, how much greater in the past.

Women Told Delinquency To Increase

CHICAGO (UP)—Delegates to the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs annual convention today on officers for the coming year.

A report from the elections committee was expected late today naming the winners. Competing for the group's top post were Mrs. Marshall E. Bruce, East St. Louis, and Mrs. George Mattingly, Chicago.

Mrs. Bruce is presently first vice president of the federation and Mrs. Mattingly is second vice president.

At a meeting Wednesday night, a Denver, Colo., judge told the clubwomen that juvenile delinquency could increase 100 per cent in the next decade.

Judge Philip B. Gilliam, a juvenile court jurist, said a related moral code, "easy living," and a desire to be thought sophisticated have combined to produce juvenile trouble-makers.

Woman Bleeds 10 Weeks, Operate To Seek Source

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Eva Newton has been bleeding steadily for 30 weeks, apparently from some blood vessel deep in the body.

She would not stand for a hysterectomy. Doctors have been unable to locate the source of the bleeding. They cannot perform an exploratory operation because of the nature of the malady.

Mrs. Newton has required transfusion of a pint of blood a day since late February to replace that lost through bleeding.

Hemophilia is a condition characterized by excessive bleeding due to failure of blood to clot.

Stratton To Make Awards To 25 History Students

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Gov. Stratton will present student historians of the year awards to 25 outstanding history students from Illinois schools in ceremonies at the state fairgrounds here Friday.

The "history teacher of the year" and two top state student historians also will be named at the ceremony.

Honors are based on articles published in the Illinois history magazine, sponsored by the State Historical Society.

Ike Plans Party For Chief Justice

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower entertain tonight at a White House state dinner for Chief Justice Earl Warren and the Supreme Court.

Att. Gen. William Rogers will be among some 700 guests at the formal dinner.

About 200 additional guests, including judges of lower courts in the Washington area, have been invited to a musicale after the dinner.

Leaves $500,000 Joliet Estate

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Bernice Faulkner, vice president of the Joliet Wrought Washer Co., Joliet, left an estate estimated at $500,000, according to a will filed for probate Wednesday.

Mrs. Faulkner died April 24. The will leaves $250 to each of three friends with the remainder to be placed in two equal trusts, one for her husband's band, Worth, and the other for a daughter, Mrs. Bernice Work, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Man, Buried 20 Minutes, Rescued Alive
 PORTLAND, Ore.—A sewer well caved in on Hank Washington Wednesday and buried him under four feet of dirt. Rescuers dug him out unharmed 20 minutes later.
 Washington, 45, was rushed to a hospital but suffered no injuries after an examination. A hospital spokesman said he suffered no injuries whatsoever.
 Washington was attempting to shore up the 18-foot-deep cut when one of its walls toppled over on him.
 The 6-1, 200-pound Washington said he never lost consciousness. But he added: "It was 40 years to me: I could hear them digging. I could hear them talking and that made me feel good."
 "I always breathed. I know I believe in God, because that's the only thing that saved me. God had them working."

Hear More Evidence In Trial Of Convicted Evanston Marine

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (U)—A general court-martial convenes today to hear mitigating evidence in the case of Marine Pvt. Peter H. Green, 19.
 Green, who maintains he is a conscientious objector, was convicted Wednesday of unauthorized absence, disrespect to a superior officer and a general charge of three parts: 1. Possession of a liberty card with intent to deceive; 2. Publishing statements defamatory to the Marine Corps; and 3. Publishing statements malicious to the Marine Corps.
 AFTER TODAY'S hearing, the court will recess for deliberations before sentencing Green, of Evanston, Ill.
 Green's conviction last year of disobeying orders by refusing to handle a rifle was set aside after he had served one month of a four month special court-martial sentence.
 The charge involving Green's statements published in an Ocean side, Calif., newspaper, was convicted Wednesday of unauthorized absence, disrespect to a superior officer and a general charge of three parts: 1. Possession of a liberty card with intent to deceive; 2. Publishing statements defamatory to the Marine Corps; and 3. Publishing statements malicious to the Marine Corps.
 Green, who has attempted since March 1957 to be classified as a conscientious objector, faces a maximum sentence of four months on the liberty card count, and six months each on the absence without leave and disrespect counts. The court has not decided what the maximum penalty could be on Green's statements.

Told Politics, Marriage Don't Mix

Congresswoman Urged Not To Run Again

OKLEE, Minn. (UP) — A stay-at-home husband has put it on the line to his traveling wife: politics and marriage don't mix. Especially if the politician is a woman.

Andrew Knutson, husband of congresswoman Coya Knutson, 46, issued a public statement Wednesday urging his wife not to run for a third term.

Knutson said his reasons were:

The couple has no home life anymore. They rarely spend holidays together.

CONGRESSWOMAN KNUTSON does not run her own office anymore.

Knutson, in his middle 50's and manager of the Oklee Hotel, said he had asked his wife to withdraw from this year's congressional campaign in Minnesota's 9th Congressional District for "several reasons."

"First and most important," he said, "is that since her election four years ago our home life has deteriorated to the extent that it is practically non-existent."

MRS. KNUTSON, A DEMOCRAT, was a school teacher before she ran for the Minnesota House of Representatives in 1954. Four years later, the attractive congresswoman campaigned against and defeated Rep. Harold Hagen, a six-term congressional veteran.

Knutson also said he didn't care for Mrs. Knutson's executive secretary, Bill Kjeldsen.

All these, Knutson indicated, would be reason enough to "expect her to comply with my request."

May Charge Rock 'n' Roll King Incited Riot In Boston

BOSTON (UP) — A district attorney sought today to indict rock 'n' roll king Alan Freed for inciting a riot during a performance last Saturday night.

Suffolk County District Attorney Garrett H. Byrne said he would begin presenting evidence shortly before a grand jury with "a view toward obtaining an indictment against Freed." He said he felt an indictment was warranted on the basis of police statements and interviews with "scores" of witnesses to a riot which erupted outside the arena early Sunday morning.

FIFTEEN PERSONS, including several women, were injured or assaulted as frenzied teenagers poured out of the arena. One, a 19-year-old sailor, was stabbed and critically wounded. At least three reported they were robbed.

The indictment effort was the latest in a series of developments involving Freed, who calls himself the "father of rock 'n' roll." As a result of the Boston incident, authorities cancelled scheduled performances of the Freed troupe in New Haven, Conn., Newark, N.J., and Troy, N.Y. In addition, city officials in New Britain, Conn., Wednesday ruled that city out-of-bounds to rock 'n' roll shows.

charged Massachusetts authorities were "trying to undermine our concert."

The Newark sponsor, Izell Graves, said he would picket City Hall today in protest against the ban on Saturday's show.

Wednesday night, however, a performance went on as scheduled in Providence, R.I., but with strict restrictions, as laid down by Mayor Walter Reynolds. About 3,500 teenagers attended the "Big Beat" show in the Rhode Island auditorium.

ALSO IN ATTENDANCE were 20 uniformed policemen, a detail of plainclothes police men and women and a group of Youth Service Board representatives who volunteered as chaperones.

Freed, who was master of ceremonies at the Boston show, did not appear.

Earlier, Freed went into Common Pleas Court in New Haven to answer an unsuccessful attempt to obtain an injunction to keep Mayor Richard C. Lee from enforcing a ban on a performance by the Freed troupe tonight.

Sidney Cohen, promoter of the show in Providence and Boston, said the next meeting will be June 1.

Man Only Nuisance In Space Trip Now, Expert Claims

PASADENA, Calif. (U)—What would be gained by sending a man into space?

Very little, aside from prestige, Dr. Lee A. DuBridge said Wednesday. The president of California Institute of Technology told a Red Cross luncheon that a satellite passenger would be "an unmitigated nuisance."

"As long as you are measuring things like some cosmic rays, magnetic fields, gravity effects, radio transmission effects, astronomical effects, etc., automatic instruments are necessary any way, and the human being is quite an unnecessary encumbrance," he said.

Democrats Name Ronan Again As Party Chief

Expect Guyer To Be Reelected Illinois GOP Chairman

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The Republican state central committee met today to reorganize following the April 8 primary, with Stanley H. Guyer, Rockford, expected to be reelected chairman.

The Democratic state central committee met Wednesday and reelected James A. Ronan, Chicago, as chairman. One member of both parties' committees was elected from each of the 13 congressional districts in the state in the primary election.

Guyer's reelection was virtually assured Wednesday, when Gov. Stratton strongly endorsed him despite Guyer's stand in opposition to the judicial reform amendment to be voted on in November. The governor, who is strongly backing the amendment to reform the state court system, said he would not oppose Guyer for reelection, and knew of no opposition to the committee chairman's reelection.

THE DEMOCRATIC group, meanwhile, in addition to Ronan, elected Mayor Alvin G. Fields, East St. Louis, to another term as vice chairman of the committee. John F. Pettit, Elgin, was elected 2nd vice chairman, and Joseph Knight, Dow, was reelected treasurer.

J. Paul Madison, Table Grove, was elected secretary after Pettit, and previous secretary, was named 2nd vice chairman.

The committee named Peter F. Coaster, former Sangamon County Democratic chairman and former head of the Democratic county chairman's organization, as the amendment to reform the state court system, said he would not oppose Guyer for reelection, and knew of no opposition to the committee chairman's reelection.

A Victim Dies

HIROSHIMA (UP)—Authorities reported the death today of 51-year-old Koume Matsuo from what officials said were the after-effects of the 1945 American atomic bombing of this city. Matsuo lived less than a mile from the city's center at the time of the bombing and had long suffered from leukemia, said to have been caused by atomic radiation.

Barbershop Owners Vite Against Hike

CHICAGO (U) — Barbershop owners have voted not to clip their customers with a boost in the price of haircuts, despite demands by union barbers for wage increases.

The price of haircuts has been $1.75 for three years. It's $2 for a clipping on Saturdays and days preceding holidays.

Members of the Master Barbers Association, Wednesday night followed the advice of their veteran secretary and treasurer, Frank Allotta, in voting to hold the line on haircut prices.

ALLOTTA TOLD the members: "This is no time to raise the price of haircuts. We are in a recession. People are buying cheaper cuts of meat in butcher shops, and they don't have extra money to spend on haircuts." Referring to the union barbers, he said, "Let them strike if they want. We can't afford to raise prices."

Union barbers are asking a minimum wage of $15 a week and 70 per cent of their earnings over $10 a week. They now get a minimum of $9 and 60 per cent of earnings over $55. They also want a 40-hour work week instead of 48.

Gilman Woman Uses Vegetable 'Bribe'

If your family needs "bribing" before vegetables are eaten, Mrs. Nelson St. Peter of Gilman has a suggestion for an appetizing combination of creamed meat and green beans.

Mrs. St. Peter serves the meat-bean dish with a Parsley Supper Ring which adds the finishing touch. (See photo).

Among the other recipes suggested by the Gilman homemaker, who is chairman of the Gilman Home Bureau unit, are recipes for—

Mixed Fruit Salad with a cool and refreshing look, and Sausage Muffins that combine dough and uncooked sausage meat. All in all, the recipes are inviting.

Mrs. St. Peter has six children.

SHOPPER'S GUIDE: Salad vegetables for Mother's Day dinner this weekend will be less expensive than they have been, according to local reports. Tomatoes and cucumbers have been high priced but will be featured at lowest prices since the first of the year.

Tomatoes and head lettuce are cheaper and the same is true for radishes and green onions. While celery is considered high, it is no higher in price than other years at this time.

Carrots will be a low price feature. Other good news for budget-minded vegetarians will be found in the prices of cauliflower and green beans. Potatoes will be a low price weekend feature.

There is still some of the old apple crop on hand but it is very expensive, the highest in a long time. Oranges have taken quite a drop and are much cheaper than they have been.

Luxury items at the market are fed by the strawberries from Louisiana. They are still fairly expensive but Tennessee strawberries were also expected this week and a bumper crop is expected from the central states. The quality is very good this year.

affiliation, Mrs. St. Peter is vice chairman of the National Council of Catholic Women of Ford-Rio-Quinto district, a Brownie troop leader and a member of the Altar and Rosary Society of the Immaculate Conception Church in Gilman.

PARSLEY SUPPER RING

Soften 1 package yeast, compressed or dry granular, in 1 cup lukewarm water. Add 3 tablespoons melted shortening, 2 teaspoons salt, and 2 tablespoons salt.

Blend in 1 egg. Add gradually 3 cups sifted enriched flour, mix until well blended and soft. Turn into greased, 8-inch ring mold. Let rise in warm place (80 to 85 degrees F.) until light, about 45 minutes.

Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 25 minutes. Cut into thick slices; spread generously with parsley or garlic butter and serve with the following:

CREAMED MEAT AND GREEN BEANS

Melt 1/4 cup shortening in skillet. Blend in 1 cup cubed luncheon meat or any cooked meat, 1/4 cup enriched flour, 1 teaspoon pepper, and 2 cups milk. Cook until thickened, stirring

MIXED FRUIT SALAD

(Four Servings)

4 small bunches frosted Tokay grapes
4 orange slices, rind removed
1 banana
1/2 cup chopped nuts
4 canned figs
1 No. 2 can fruits for salads
4 lettuce leaf cups

To frost grapes, wash and dry thoroughly. Then dip into slightly beaten egg white, and roll in confectioners' sugar. Place on waxed paper or in a sieve to dry. (Don't try to frost each grape in the cluster; coating the outside ones or the end ones is sufficient.)

Prepare banana for salad by cutting lengthwise, into quarters, then crosswise into halves. Dip in finely chopped nuts, coating well on all sides.

To arrange salad platter, place lettuce cups filled with orange slices, canned fruits for salads, and figs on large chop plate. Fill corners or plate with frosted grapes and nut-coated banana fingers. Serve with golden dressing.

Open Chicago Heights Drive For Industry

CHICAGO (UP)—A suburb which wants to woo industry has embarked on a two-month cultural fling to romance the wives of business executives.

Businessmen of factory-dotted Chicago Heights, 24 miles south of Chicago's Loop, are going all-out to prove that their city of 30,000 is a good place in which to live as well as work.

They launched the "Chicago Heights Culturalama," a two-month spring festival last weekend with a clean-up campaign. The cultural binge will end June 28 with a pageant and coronation of a queen.

Culturalama will run the gamut from art fairs to symphony concerts to dog shows. It will bring to the city Metropolitan Opera star Jan Peerce, Woody Herman's orchestra, Hoosier fencer Herb Shriner, Olympic track star Jesse Owens and dramatic critic Vincent Price.

"We've got culture," said Peirce Vandercook, executive secretary of the committee, "and we want to tell the world about it."

THE COMMITTEE, an industrial chamber of commerce, is picking up the $25,000 tab for the festival. It hopes to recapture $15,000 in admission fees.

Just about everyone in Chicago Heights will get into the act one way or another. First major event on the program is a pop concert May 11 featuring Woody Herman's band.

Other May events include a flower show, talent show, musical by combined church choirs, a little theater presentation and children's music, dramatic and arts-crafts shows.

In June there will be a fashion show, dog show, sports car exhibition, pastry contest, cooking school, art show, dramatic program, various athletic events and a pageant of progress at which 111 industrial, retail and business firms will exhibit their wares.

Montana Hostess Reveals Secrets

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor—Get a Montana hostess talking about her favorite subject, good food and how to serve it, and she lets you in on her secrets. Although she is now Ruby Swanson's profession, she doesn't hold back a trick. Trained in personnel work, she switched fields. She has charge of meals at her family's lodge for summer vacations near Troy.

But men like her. Ruby's apt to emphasize because she believes satisfying masculine tastes is a real challenge. At the top of her list is home-baked bread.

"Serve it right out of the oven and its aroma will announce it," she says. "You'll find your extra beaming before they even get to the table." Ruby's Limp, a recipe that's part of her Scandinavian heritage, is the most popular of her breads. "It's a combination of white, rye and whole-wheat flours, brown sugar, molasses and orange rind," Ruby explains, as we help ourselves to our third slice of her delicious loaf.

No wonder men like vegetables as Miss Ruby cooks them! Here are some of her flavor tricks: Add grated onion—leeks, zucchini, carrots and butter to chopped cooked spinach. Try her way with that old combination of buttered snap beans and silvered almonds—a dash of garlic salt. Give cole slaw some zing by adding a dash of lemon juice.

"And when you're giving a supper party, don't forget the go-along for the meat," Ruby urges, all friendly enthusiasm. "People love to help themselves to relishes." In spring and summer she runs equal parts of shubert and onion through the food chopper, then cooks the combination, until thick, with brown sugar, cinnamon, cloves and allspice. Can't you smell that spicy concoction simmering on the stove?

Top slices of baked ham with pineapple chunks warmed in butter and sugar, then serve with Ruby's sauce. "Just mix equal quantities of current jelly and prepared mustard, but not too thoroughly," Ruby cautions, eager to have other cooks succeed.

Ruby's recipes are constantly requested. A few years ago she cut down on typing them out by publishing a homespun little book called "Favorite Recipes from Swanson Mountain—View Lodge." Here's how to make her Limp, as directed in her book.

SWEDISH BREAD (LIMP)
Ingredients: 2 packages active dry yeast, 1 teaspoon sugar, 4½ cups warm (not hot) water, 7 to 8 cups sifted white flour, 1½ tablespoons salt, 1 cup dark brown sugar, 1½ cups rye flour, 1½ cups whole wheat flour, orange (grated rind) only, 1 teaspoon caraway seed (optional).

Method: Dissolve yeast and sugar in ½ cup of the water. Add remaining water and enough white flour (about 4 cups) to make a soft sponge. Let stand in a warm place until it becomes bubbly. Add remaining ingredients, in order given, beating well. Add enough of remaining white flour to make dough stiff enough to knead. Put into a greased bowl and set in a warm place to rise. When double in bulk, knead and let rise again. Then shape into 4 loaves. Place in greased loaf pans and let rise. (Or shape into round loaves.) Bake in a moderate oven, 375 degrees, about 40 minutes.

2 Scientists Say Study Of Stars Flop

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP) — Two Navy scientists who soared eight miles high in an open gondola swinging dizzily beneath a balloon were disappointed in attempts to study the stars but produced medical information valuable for future manned satellite flights.

The scientists said their efforts to use a telescope in the high sky where stars shine instead of twinkling failed.

But the medical phase of their 16-hour flight, in which their reactions to the cold, rarefied air of the stratosphere were recorded "apparently was successful," they said Wednesday night at a news conference.

Astronomer Alfred H. Mikessell and veteran balloonist Cmdr. Malcolm D. Root described their flight in an 80-foot open gondola balloon which they brought down safely early Wednesday near Dubuque, Iowa, after a nightlong flight from Crosby, Minn. They were flown by plane from Dubuque to Minneapolis.

Mikessell said the flight, during which the balloon dropped to a low of 78 degrees below zero at the eight-mile altitude, was "tiring but not very comfortable."

"We were hampered by the cold weather," heavy clothing, bulky equipment and the motion of the gondola on its cable," the 44-year-old astronomer said.

Mikessell admitted he was "scared, especially during the first phases of the flight."

The crew said that at one point during their descent they heard voices in the air.

"We heard voices of people saying something about going in for hot coffee, when we were over La Crosse, Wis.," Mikessell said.

"We dug our coffee out and found that it and our cheese sandwiches had frozen."

Adventures In Good Eating By Duncan Hines
If you enjoy a sweet salad, try this Pineapple concoction. The Tick Tock Restaurants in Los Angeles, Calif., serve this rich pineapple salad as a dessert luncheon with crackers and cheese. Grated American cheese contrasts the sweetness of the crushed pineapple. Mold in your favorite mold and top with this special Pine Dressing.

This recipe serves 6 people:
Heat together 1 cup crushed pineapple, the juice of ½ lemon and ½ cup sugar. Soak 1 tablespoon gelatin in ½ cup cold water and add to the hot mixture. Let cool. When the mixture begins to congeal add 1 cup of grated American cheese and ½ cup whipped cream and mix well. Serve with Pine Dressing.

This ½ cup mayonnaise with 1 tablespoon pineapple juice. Fold 1 tablespoon crushed pimento, 1 stalk celery cut fine and 1 tablespoon crushed pineapple into the mayonnaise. Serve on a lettuce leaf.

2 Scientists Say Study Of Stars Flop

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP) — Two Navy scientists who soared eight miles high in an open gondola swinging dizzily beneath a balloon were disappointed in attempts to study the stars but produced medical information valuable for future manned satellite flights.

The scientists said their efforts to use a telescope in the high sky where stars shine instead of twinkling failed.

But the medical phase of their 16-hour flight, in which their reactions to the cold, rarefied air of the stratosphere were recorded "apparently was successful," they said Wednesday night at a news conference.

Astronomer Alfred H. Mikessell and veteran balloonist Cmdr. Malcolm D. Root described their flight in an 80-foot open gondola balloon which they brought down safely early Wednesday near Dubuque, Iowa, after a nightlong flight from Crosby, Minn. They were flown by plane from Dubuque to Minneapolis.

Mikessell said the flight, during which the balloon dropped to a low of 78 degrees below zero at the eight-mile altitude, was "tiring but not very comfortable."

"We were hampered by the cold weather," heavy clothing, bulky equipment and the motion of the gondola on its cable," the 44-year-old astronomer said.

Mikessell admitted he was "scared, especially during the first phases of the flight."

The crew said that at one point during their descent they heard voices in the air.

"We heard voices of people saying something about going in for hot coffee, when we were over La Crosse, Wis.," Mikessell said.

"We dug our coffee out and found that it and our cheese sandwiches had frozen."

Chuck Roast, Chickens Top Food Bargains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Housewives and mothers get some cheerful news at their favorite store for Mother's Day week—cheaper, more plentiful vegetables and a wide variety of economy cuts of meat.

Unresponsive standbys such as chuck roast, ground beef, and chickens will be featured. True, these specials are more costly than they once were, but at least they're less dear than steak and other fancy cuts.

Meat also will be the No. 1 item in some stores, reflecting the current plentiful supply. Veal is more popular than in recent weeks with offerings ranging from stew as low as 29 cents a pound to chops at 59 and 59 cents a pound.

SUPPLIES OF fish also are approaching their peak season with offerings of cod, haddock, flounder and salmon.

Good buys this week are cabbage, cucumbers, spinach, escarole, radishes, carrots, tomatoes and potatoes. New arrivals from California are augmenting the last of week's stock.

The crew said that at one point during their descent they heard voices in the air.

"We heard voices of people saying something about going in for hot coffee, when we were over La Crosse, Wis.," Mikessell said.

"We dug our coffee out and found that it and our cheese sandwiches had frozen."

Strawberry Loves To Play Field

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

The strawberry is a little and loves to change partners. Some fine cooks long ago discovered its nutritious character and teamed the inviting ripe-red morsels with other fruit.

Ever taste the sheer refreshment of strawberries, gently mixed with fine sugar and cubes of orange, or lemon ice or vanilla ice cream?

Have you succumbed to the wiles of the scarlet berries and fresh pineapple? You've probably seen this combination artfully arranged in color photographs food artists dream up. Here's how to achieve a picture-perfect look. Place a slice of pineapple on each plate. Cut the halved strawberries into even lengthwise slices. Arrange a layer of the berry slices over the pineapple like the spokes of a wheel; add another layer to extend over the spaces left by the first slices. Top each arrangement with one juicy-ripe and perfect green-capped berry.

Strawberries have a glorious affinity for pink hobnob rhubarb, and here's a way to make the most of it. Bake this cobbler and serve it warm with a drizzle of whipped cream.

Strawberry Rhubarb

Ingredients: 1 pint basket rhubarb, cut in 1-inch lengths; 3 cups sugar; 1 cup sifted flour; 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1/4 cup butter or margarine; 1 egg; 1/2 cup sugar; 3 tablespoons milk; 1/4 teaspoon vanilla.

Method: Rinse strawberries in cold water, hull and drain. Mix berries, rhubarb and 3/4 cup sugar in a heat-resistant glass baking dish (10 by 13 inches). Stir together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in butter until mixture is like fine crumbs. Beat egg and sugar until thick and ivory-colored; beat in milk and vanilla. Fold into rhubarb mixture; do not beat smooth. Pour over fruit and spread. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 45 minutes. Place on wire rack to cool for 5 or 10 minutes and serve hot with unsweetened whipped cream. Makes 6 servings. Make sure topping is baked through. A cake tester inserted is not reliable in this recipe.

Indonesians, U.S. Reach Agreement On Intervention

JAKARTA, Indonesia (U) — Foreign Minister Subandono said today that an understanding has been reached with U.S. Ambassador Howard Jones on the problem of foreign intervention in Indonesia's civil war.

A government spokesman charged Wednesday that the Indonesian rebels have received arms and ammunition with the knowledge and direction of the U. S. government.

This was promptly denied by the U. S. State Department.

An Indonesian officer had charged that R. S. Hirsch of the American Sales Co. of San Francisco was the rebel's telegram early in April offering up to 50,000 rifles and 15 million rounds of ammunition. Hirsch said in San Francisco that his offer had not been cleared with the State Department.
