Test Ban Talks In Three Weeks Asked By Ike

U. S. Representatives
Named; Russia Urged
To Accept Proposition

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower called on Russia Saturday to start scientific talks at Geneva in three weeks on ways of policing a nuclear weapons test ban.

The State Department instantly picked up the President's proposal by naming three top flight U. S. scientists to meet with a Russian team and probably representatives also from Britain, France and Japan. The Red Chinese might sit in on the Soviet side.

Eisenhower's proposal was made to Soviet Premier Khrushchev in a letter delivered in Moscow by the U. S. Embassy Saturday morning and then relayed by the White House. Radically differing from many other Eisenhower-Khrushchev letters, this one was free of accusation and criticism. Eisenhower seemed to try hard to make his proposal agreeable to Khrushchev.

HE SAID THE talks could begin in three weeks, produce a progress report in 30 days and a final report within 60 days. Khrushchev in a letter May 8, agreeing to such talks, had warned against stalling.

Saying the experts from "our side" will be chosen on the basis of special competence, Eisenhower added:

"We assume that the experts on the side of the Soviet Union would be similarly chosen on the basis of special competence, so as to assure that we get scientific, not political, conclusions."

The three experts announced by the State Department to represent the United States are:

Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, a Nobel prize winner and director of the University of California Radiation Laboratory, Lawrence in the past has associated himself with Dr. Edward Teller and AEC Chairman Lewis Strauss in favor of continuing atomic and hydrogen weapons tests.

Dr. James Brown Fisk, executive vice president of Bell Telephone Laboratories and a member of the President's Science Advisory Committee.

Dr. Robert F. Bacher, chairman of the Division of Physics, Mathematics and Astronomy at California Institute of Technology and a member of Eisenhower's Science Advisory Committee.

THE NEW EISENHOWER letter to Khrushchev does not commit the United States to suspend tests nor would it commit the Soviet Union. What Eisenhower has called for is a round of practical discussions on the use of detection equipment so that in any future test ban, the United States would be able to enforce information on what enforcement steps would be needed.

Eisenhower's message specifically mentioned that the U. S. and British experts. The message had been cleared with Britain and France as well as with other NATO allies before it was sent. Officials then passed the word that Japanese have had great experience in earth shock measurements and in studying radioactivity in the air and a Japanese expert might well be among those "on our side."

The White House said the program will be carried by CBS in Washington and in the Shippingport area.

22 Hurt As Excursion Ship Hits Ohio River Lock Gate

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Twenty-two of the 1,100 persons aboard the excursion steamer Avalon were injured Saturday when the ship rammed into the gates of the Emsworth lock on the Ohio River.

The injured were not seriously hurt. Most were released from hospitals after treatment.

Many of the passengers were Girl Scouts, but practically all of the girls escaped injury.

There was no panic aboard the Avalon, in Pittsburgh from Cincinnati for excursion trips. It suffered only slight damage to its bow and was readied immediately for a moonlight cruise down the Ohio.

Most of the 1,100 passengers were from Ohio. They had come on a combined railroad-river excursion trip.

The ship was going through the locks on its trip downstream when the accident occurred. Scores of passengers were sent sprawling.

Pilot Arthur Schaefer, who was standing watch, said the damage was confined to the bow and a crumpled piece of deck. Capt. Ernest E. Wagner quickly ordered the boat through the locks, swung it around and then headed back through the locks and upstream to Pittsburgh. Police ambulances were waiting to rush the injured to hospitals.

The exact cause of the mishap was not determined. Lockmaster Elmer Graber said it was possible someone mistook the ship for a tugboat and gave it the go-ahead signal.

Asks Painted Airliners As Safety Move

Polka-Dotted Planes
Suggested By Senator
To Curb Collisions

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Charles F. Potter suggested Saturday that painting airliners orange or even polka-dotted or candy-striped might help prevent mid-air collisions.

He asked the Civil Aeronautics Administration what it thought of the idea. In a letter to CAA Administrator James T. Pyle, Potter said:

"Obviously, whatever we can do to prevent loss of life from air collisions, even if it requires painting dots or un-aesthetic combinations, should be done at once."

Potter (R-Mich.) is a member of the Senate Commerce Committee, whose aviation subcommittee has just completed a series of hearings on air traffic control.

He plans to announce hearings next week on a bill to establish a new federal airways agency to exercise traffic control over both commercial and military planes.

Aviation authorities doubted that bright or unusual color combinations could play a significant role in reducing the collision hazard.

"There already have been some experiments using varying colors, but they were inconclusive. Under certain weather and light conditions, it was found, color was a role in making a plane easier to spot. But no one color or combination was found best under all circumstances."

For example, orange or red might be a good color for night-time flying. But orange is of no value when a plane is approaching out of direct sunlight. Polka dots prove to be of little value when a plane is in a snowstorm.

Congressional concern about air safety continued high in the wake of last week's commercial-military plane collision near Brunswick, Md., which killed 12. Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) said in a statement that the commerce committee should give the highest priority to consideration of the air safety bill.

A sponsor of the bill, noted by some 2,000 passengers had been reported in the last two years in addition to the series of "tragic collisions." Case praised President Eisenhower for setting up an emergency program of safety regulations.

A flurry of rocks and eggs broke some windows in the house. Majors were splattered with eggs. He went in the house and the crowd broke up.

Condition Of Cardinal Stritch Termed 'Grave'

ROME (UPI)—Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Chicago, suffered heart damage Saturday less than a week after a cerebral stroke. A doctor said, "There is not too much hope."

A medical bulletin said: "The general condition of his excellency Cardinal Stritch is becoming grave by reason of complications brought on by an insufficiency of the cardio-circulatory system."

VATICAN PHYSICIAN Dr. Filippo Rocchi told newsmen: "There is not much hope. He does not have much time."

Shortly before Rocchi spoke to the reporters, Msgr. Angelo Delacqua arrived at the Sanatrice Clinic with a special benediction for the cardinal from Pope Pius XII.

At 6 p.m. (noon, CDT), the cardinal was administered the Viaticum, the holy communion given to those near death. It is separate and distinct from the last rite of extreme unction which the prelate received last Monday.

Msgr. Martin J. O'Connor, rector of the North American College for student priests in Rome, said the 78-year-old prelate was "weak, very weak."

"He recognized me and reacted when I spoke to him," O'Connor said. "He held my hand. It is sad, very sad."

THE MEDICAL bulletin said last Monday when the Nashville-born cardinal suffered a stroke that affected his speech and left his right side partially paralyzed.

His nephews, Father Howard Stritch, a priest, and Robert E. Stritch, who had flown to Rome from Chicago, gathered in the sickroom with O'Connor, Msgr. James C. Hardiman, the cardinal's secretary, Msgr. Ernest Primeau, the rector of "Chicago House," the study house for Chicago priests in Rome, and vice-rector Msgr. Joseph Howard. Also present were Msgr. Patrick Hayes of Holy Name Cathedral, Chicago and Msgr. Messinger of St. Ignace, Chicago.

Premier Warns Civil War Is Goal Of Rebels

Insurrection In Corsica Results In
Message To Public

PARIS (UPI)—The French crisis suddenly exploded and spread early Sunday and Premier Pierre Pflimlin, in a dramatic early morning broadcast, warned that "insurrectionaries are trying to drag us downhill into civil war."

As insurrection spread to the island of Corsica, a department of France proper, fighting broke out in Tunisia between French and Tunisian forces and a rebel tri-umvirate in Algeria hurled new defiance at Paris in hopes of toppling the republic and installing Gen. Charles de Gaulle as leader of a new regime.

Pflimlin, fighting to save the Fourth Republic and head off all-out civil strife, re-doubled precautionary police measures in Paris and went on the air at 2:15 a.m. (8 p.m. CDT) with the warning that the country is faced with insurrectionaries who are trying to destroy our civil liberties.

Pflimlin minced no words. Referring to the seizure of government control in Corsica by paratrooper-backed right wing demonstrators, and organization of Public Safety" opposed to the Paris government. Pflimlin said:

"In Algeria, the emotion of the populace was legitimate because of war there with the nationalist Moslems. But nothing justified the eruption of a similar movement in Corsica."

"SIMILAR DANGERS exist in metropolitan France. The insurrectionaries are trying to drag us downhill into civil war."

Pflimlin, interrupting a program of dance music on Paris radio for his desperate appeal for order, charged that "a handful of insurrectionaries" were challenging the government in Corsica, an island 100 miles south of France in the Mediterranean where Napoleon Bonaparte started his career as dictator of France.

Pflimlin said all taking part in the Corsican upheaval would be prosecuted. Civil and military authorities on the island were ordered to "disobey" the rebels and heed only the orders of the Paris government.

He was faced with a further problem in the eruption again of fighting in independent Tunisia. French sources reported a battle that broke out Saturday was continuing near Remada in southern Tunisia and that Tunisian forces were bringing up reinforcements.

The National Assembly was called into emergency session Monday in Paris.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Predictions that a middle-of-the-road labor reform bill will emerge from the Senate Labor Committee were made Saturday by Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.).

Kennedy told newsmen the committee's product may be one "both sides will not like—some will think it's too strong, some too weak."

Nevertheless, he said that a bill avoiding extremes is the only kind which stands a chance of becoming law.

Ives concurred with Kennedy's view. He said the committee's bill probably will go further than labor leaders want but not so far as Eisenhower has recommended.

Indications from both senators were that the committee bill would include provisions on union democracy including some election safeguards, on financial reporting by unions, on trusteeships over locals, on conflicts of interest involving union officers, on elimination of the non-Communist affidavit for union officials, and on repealing the Taft-Hartley law section which makes it impossible for strikers to vote in a bargaining election.

There appeared little or no chance the bill would contain two sections strongly pushed by management at the hearings—striking unions subject to the anti-strike and banning compulsory bargaining.

end, made sure they got the full treatment when they gathered around this pile of burning logs for a last-minute feast. The evening's activities of the 74th Infantry Division included a campfire, songs and pantomimes. Some 800 scouts camped in Kankakee River State Park this week.

2 Olivet Graduates Set Unusual Records

A straight-A record for the first time in the 50-year history of Olivet Nazarene College has been achieved by a Kankakee housewife and mother of four children who will graduate from Olivet Nazarene College Thursday.

She is Margaret Beiner, of 904 N. Ninth Ave., and wife of the manager of a Kankakee super market, Joseph E. Beiner. Mrs. Beiner's record is somewhat more unusual in that she graduated from high school in 1939 and did not enter college until four years ago. She majored in English, not a snap course at any school, with minors in education and speech. She has already signed a contract to teach next year in the Bradley-Bourbonnais Community High School.

MRS. BEINER'S record for getting an education after being out of school for many years is not unmatched among this year's Olivet graduates. The first straight-A average in the history of the college and a local businessman who has been working for 20 years to get his degree, Mrs. Margaret Beiner of 904 N. Ninth Ave., is shown at one of her favorite hobbies during her four year course — sewing. In her freshman year she made six coats. "Sewing is relaxing," she commented. Dwight K. Zentz, personnel manager at Armstrong Cork Co., is shown in a familiar pose in his office. Zentz has had his studies interrupted by service twice and transfers to different locations. He has been here since 1955. (Journal photos) (20 & 27)

she said she has had a lot of co-operation in her home, although she did not think the children had been neglected. "They've had a lot of fun," she said, adding "they have had to get more organized and had to stand on their own two feet."

"Ed (her husband) was all for it," she said. She has had no help with housework, cooking or laundry except from her four children, the twins, 9, Stephen, 10, and Michael, 13.

Mrs. Beiner is a graduate of Thornton Township High School in Harvey. The Beiners have been residents of Kankakee for the past nine years.

What were her roughest courses? Survey of English literature, French and Shakespeare. When it comes graduation Thursday, Mrs. Beiner says that her children are going to miss their own school to see their mother graduate. "This is too big an event in her life for them to miss."

How has a busy business man kept up with his studies. "It seems odd the old man studying while the kids are out playing," he commented. He said his studying seems to encourage his youngsters.

Zentz attributed his desire to get an education to knowing that advancement continual education is a must. "My wife deserves as much credit as I do," said Zentz. "For her patience and understanding." He said most of his studying has been done weekends when he has more time.

ACCORDING TO ZENTZ, college studying "should be done when you are young, although I believe that a man is never too old to learn."

Probably one of the more trying circumstances was the final semester when on April 17 his wife presented him with a set of twins, giving them six children. The Zentzs live at 618 S. Small Ave.

Not only has he kept an active family and business life, but he has also been busy in community activities. Zentz is a member of the board of directors of the YMCA, a Chamber of Commerce member, member of the Kankakee Personnel Manager's Group and the American Society of Safety Engineers, Chicago chapter.

ZENTZ HAS BEEN busy getting a college education since 1939. For the first two years he attended Shenandoah College at Dayton, Va., receiving a junior college diploma. From then it was work and study. He attended Tufts College at Medford, Mass., as part of a Navy program and then graduated from the midshipman's school at Cornell University in Ithaca, N.Y.

After service he went to work for the Armstrong Cork Co. at South Braintree, Mass. He enrolled at North Eastern University in Boston studying rights for two years. He spent 20 months in service during the Korean War. He was transferred to Beaver Falls, Pa., as an assistant plant manager and then in August of 1955 was transferred here.

It was in the fall of 1956 that Zentz first enrolled at Olivet taking nine hours per semester working his college and work load so he took most of his classes in the morning.

Clement Raiche Receives KC Medallion

Clement Raiche, member of St. Viateur's Council, Knights of Columbus, was in St. Mary's Hospital when he received the Illinois State Council medallion for an "illustrious record of achievement" in St. Viateur's Council and the order generally. The award was accepted for him at the state convention in Chicago by local delegates.

Visitors are acknowledged and if they indicate the desire, their offerings are forwarded to their home churches. The home churches are notified of their attendance at services here.

Ministers of participating churches serve in rotation in charge of the services, giving the sermon and making arrangements for vocal and instrumental music.

Execution Ordered For Nebraska Slayer

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Charles R. Starkweather, the red-haired killer who tormented the Midwest for four months ago, is condemned to die in Nebraska's electric chair.

A jury Friday found the 19-year-old ex-garbage hauler guilty of murder in one of the 11 killings attributed to him, and fixed the penalty at death.

Starkweather took the verdict without a sign of emotion.

"If I want to make my statement with God and be electrocuted, that's my business," he was quoted by his father, Guy, as saying recently.

Old Infantry Camp Missile Test Site

TULLAHOMA, Tenn. (AP)—This is where they shoot for the moon or Moscow.

From the ruins of an abandoned infantry camp, engineers are developing missiles for the push button war. They're also working on the vehicles that already have shot aloft the nation's first earth satellites, may later hit the moon.

AT THE ARNOLD Engineering Development Center, former site of Camp Forrest, the Air Force's Air Research and Development Command has established a vast network of wind tunnels to test missiles and aircraft. Engineers create speeds of more than 22,000 miles an hour and altitudes of 10,000 feet and up. They create temperatures hotter than the sun.

All this while steel chambers where the missiles never leave the ground. A new wind tunnel, aptly named Hotshot II, simulates speed greater than that needed to overcome the earth's gravity and escape to the moon or beyond. The missile does not have a vehicle that can move nine miles a second, but it does have the facility to test it. It can build a temperature of 4,000 degrees within test cells, far greater than the average missile can expect to encounter in space.

The nation's latest missile can get a true sampling of the frictions, temperature changes, atmospheric pressures and other stresses of outer space without ever leaving Tennessee.

TUNNEL HOTSHOT II creates the most extreme speeds and temperatures. No fan of any size can move air that fast. So Hotshot uses two chambers, one a vacuum and the other with air under extreme pressure.

Men Who Make the City National From Savings Teller to President

In the distant days of 1911, a young man known as "Charlie Mueller" became a Savings Teller at "the bank on the corner."

He learned his job quickly... and, from reading, study and experience picked up the principles of sound banking. Also, from watching the depositors who came to his window each pay day, he gained a strong appreciation of the value of thrift.

Charles A. Mueller moved along, through various positions at the bank and was elected a Director in 1924. Outside of the bank, he has been active in civic affairs and has held positions of responsibility in many local organizations. In 1947 he became President of City National... a post he has ably held over the years.

His record in Kankakee demonstrates what a good bank can do for a man... and what an alert man can do for his bank!

Clear Driver Of Right Of Way Violation

Harry A. Shekey, 291 S. Chicago Ave., was cleared of a right-of-way violation charge after a hearing before Police Magistrate Paul Davidson Saturday.

Shekey was ticketed by Trooper J. C. Jackson after an accident on Route 54 south of Kankakee last Sunday.

Shekey first asked for a change of venue from Justice of the Peace Frank Lowe and this was granted. Shekey then requested the hearing. Testimony developed that Shekey had turned onto Route 54 and his car was struck from behind by an auto driven by William A. Gilliland, 28, Park Ridge.

DAVIDSON said he had ruled for Shekey because Shekey testified that Gilliland stated he did not see Shekey's car in time. Gilliland was not present for the hearing.

DAVIDSON also noted that the crash occurred on a four-lane highway, but Gilliland apparently did not attempt to swerve out of the way of Shekey's car.

Offered $14 each for disorderly conduct were Henry M. Worley, 45, and Joseph D. Ford, 39, both of whom gave 140 N. East Ave. as their address. They were arrested Friday night at East Ave. and Merchant St.

FLOYD FRANKLIN, 900 W. Station St., was fined $30 for being drunk and disorderly after his arrest in the 100 block of W. Court street Friday night.

Richard L. Ferren, 510 N. College Ave., muffled violation, $10. Delvert Kent, 790 S. Elm Ave., speeding, $12.

Eugene Wilder, 22, 119 1/2 E. Court St., $20 for having no drivers license and no Illinois license plate. Kenneth Gumbow, Pontotoc, running a stop sign, $10.

Couple Drown

ELGIN (UP) — A man and his wife drowned Friday night when their car plunged into the Fox River here.

The victims are George J. Howles, 60, and his wife, Ruth, 60. Police said witnesses reported that the car bounced high into the air as it passed over some railroad tracks, shot along a river bank road, and then plunged into about six feet of water. The car was traveling at a high rate of speed, they said.

IC Freight, Auto Collide, Woman Dies At Bellflower

BELLFLOWER (UP)—A woman was killed and her sister injured Friday night when an Illinois Central freight train smashed into their car at an unmarked grade crossing.

Mrs. Regina Halliwell, 51, Farmer City, Ill., was killed. Her sister, Maria, 64, was rushed to a hospital in Gibson City.

Engineer Thomas Woodhall, of Harvey, Ill., told police that the Halliwell car skidded on the gravel road leading to the crossing and came to a stop in front of the speeding train.

Now We Have Flying Knockout Drops

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UP)—A drug in an ingenious flying syringe fired through a blowgun is bringing down wild dogs that have been too fast for the dog catcher.

Early models of the gun were used to capture deer on Okefenokee Island off the Georgia coast. Refinement in the gun, development of a flying syringe and tests with about 80 drugs have produced a formidable weapon.

A UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA research team experimenting with the gun on wild dogs believes that in time the device can be used to halt virus in prisons and in public places. Conceivably it could be used in wartime to capture enemy prisoners. Federal prisoners at the Atlanta Penitentiary have volunteered for experiments.

But for now, the gun and syringe is the answer to the animal trapper's prayer.

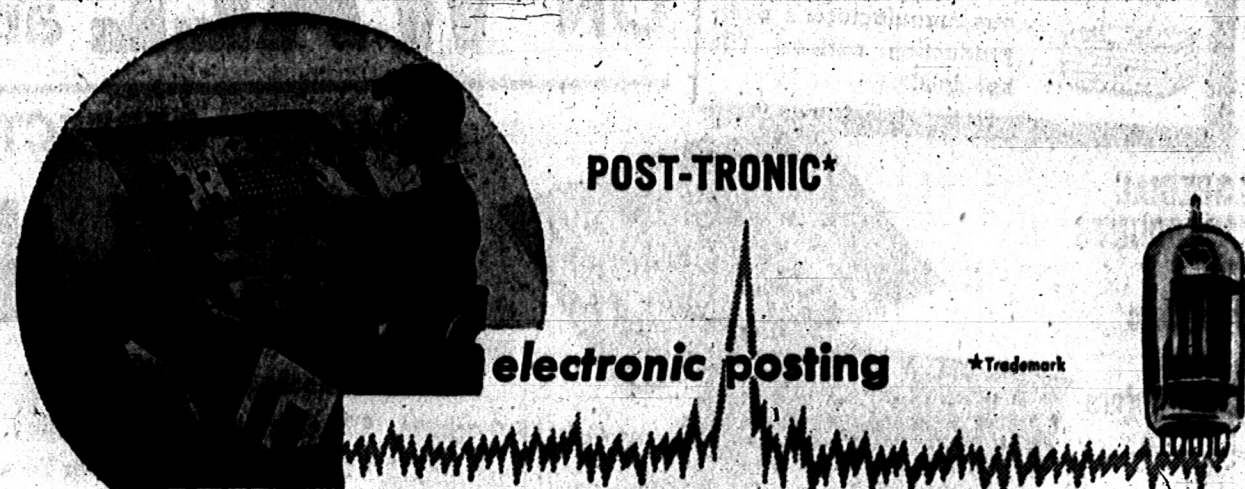

The research team got four out of five dogs fired at in field tests last week. Dr. Frank A. Hayes of the university's School of Veterinary Medicine handled the gun. Prof. James H. Jenkins of the School of Forestry and Dr. Seldon D. Feur mixed a nicotine dosage that immobilized the animals.

Dr. G. T. TURNIPSEED, county veterinarian, said dogs he had been chasing for weeks were captured with little effort.

A metal plug inside the syringe separates water from an effervescent tablet just behind the drug solution. As the syringe flies through the air, inertia forces the plug backward, allowing water to reach the tablet. The tablet dissolves and generates carbon dioxide which rams the needle forward, automatically injecting the drug into the animal.

A story the past week about the earthquakes and volcanic eruptions that nearly buried Fajal Island in the Azores brought back memories to Mrs. Robert Benjamin, 35, N. Kewwood Ave.

Mrs. Benjamin and her three children had gone to Kumbach, Germany, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hartung. They were en route home in August, 1955 aboard the Castel Felice, an Italian ship from the Sigmars Lines.

Near the Azores one of the turbines broke down and the ship had to limp to land for repairs. Fajal Island and the port of Horta was the nearest.

Mrs. Benjamin and her children spent three days at Horta while the ship was undergoing repairs. She found the island to be rather primitive in some respects but very modern in others.

There are about 25,000 on the island with corn farming, fishing and whaling as the primary occupations. Mrs. Benjamin said there was a great deal of basket weaving going on and that fruit and vineyards were in production.

Homes were of the Spanish type with ornate iron works and balconies. Streets were narrow and the houses close together. The rich lived "up the hill" of the port.

The minute the ship docked prices in the city soared. Mrs. Benjamin discovered. In addition the language barrier was terrific since only Portuguese was spoken there.

Mrs. Benjamin has quite a few photographs of the port and the island. As of last Tuesday, however, the photographs became outdated since many of the buildings on the island were shattered by the quakes and eruptions.

Former Kankakeean William P. Killeen was buried at 11 a.m. Wednesday in Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D.C. and became one of the few if not the only Kankakeean buried in the famed cemetery.

The flying instructor, employed by California Eastern Airlines, was killed when the plane he was flying failed to pull out of a dive and crashed near Midland, Tex.

Mr. Killeen received the privilege of burial in Arlington because of his service to the Air Force in training pilots. With CEA he was instructing pilots at Moore Air Force Base, Mission, Tex. He was one of the top instructors affiliated with the Air Force on a civilian basis and had been with CEA for more than seven years. He had gone 18,000 hours in the air without an accident until the crash occurred. His death was only the second for CEA flight instructors in its 14 years and during the same time only three students have been killed.

Mr. Killeen's survivors include three sisters and two brothers. Two of the brothers, James of Des Moines, Iowa, and Glen of Houston, Tex., were in Chicago the day he was killed. They stopped at the home of a sister, Miss Florence Killeen, Chicago, to have dinner together.

After dinner they decided to give their brother a call. When James, who was doing the calling, became connected with the Killeen home and asked to speak to Bill he instead was a major. The latter informed him Bill had been killed just 30 minutes before.

Among the people who instructed the Kankakeean in flying, incidentally, were the Rev. Edgar J. Cousineau, St. Rose parish, and Walt Franklin of Kankakee. By coincidence, Walt's nephew, 2nd Lt. Red Franklin of St. Anne was in Bill's flight command when he met his death.

According to an announcement at Northwestern University the other day Kankakeean Paula Johnson, 145 E. Bourbonnais St., will be in class with a celebrity next term as she continues her drama studies at the school.

The word is that TV and movie personality Ricky Nelson is planning to enroll at NU to take some courses in drama. An instructor who made the announcement told Paula he would be in several of her classes.

Paula, incidentally, has been named to serve on the college board of a Chicago department store. As such she will be selling, modeling and assisting in the advertising of fall college fashions at the State St. store as well as the company's suburban store in Hubbard Woods. Paula, a junior at NU, will begin the work in the middle of June.

Presentation and retirement of the colors was by den 1, refreshments were served by Den 2 and a skit, "Clowns Can't Grow" was presented by den 3.

The next meeting of the pack committee will be June 2 at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker. The pack family picnic will be June 27 at Kankakee River State Park.

Chairmen attending from the Kankakee district will be Mrs. Kenneth Ott, district A; Mrs. Hurl and Clark, district B; Mrs. L. W. VanNess, district C; Mrs. Paul Corbins, district D and Mrs. Jack Moran Jr., district E.

Mrs. Stanley Trygg and Mrs. James Scheiber, chairmen of districts B and C, will assist Mrs. Sifford. A potluck dinner will be served during a social hour.

Honors Assembly At West Junior High Wednesday

West Junior High School ninth graders will be honored at an honors assembly at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Lions Club, American Legion and Exchange Club awards will be presented.

Judged on a point system based on scholarship, athletics, clubs and service activities, outstanding students will be accorded recognition.

Awards winners will be feted at 6:30 p.m. dinner Wednesday in Mainman's Restaurant. The Parent Teacher Organization will be hosts.

Promotion certificates will be distributed at ceremonies set for 10 a.m. June 3, the last day of school, according to Stanley Webber, principal.

To Get The Most Out Of Garbage Disposer

It's a good idea to know that appliances you have a yen to own before you invest in it.

Make sure you have adequate wiring for your collection of large and small electrical units, and space and facilities for other installations you plan.

A waste disposer, for instance, is an easy appliance to operate, but because of its apparent simplicity, many questions arise, says Sylvia White, director of the world's largest waste disposal manufacturers.

One housewife believes she cannot grind up corn husks, while another may attempt to throw an empty bottle down the disposal.

Both are wrong," says Mrs. White. "You cannot put anything that feels unpleasant to handle in your disposal, except glass and metal. These may cause the unit's grinding ring to wear out prematurely, and glass can stick in the sewerage line. But soggy paper napkins, cigarette butts, artichokes, pits, bones and corn husks may be ground up easily. Melon rinds should be cut up first."

It's a good idea to mix food wastes before putting them in the disposal, rather than putting them in separately, she says, "as when different types of textures rub against each other they tend to liquify more quickly."

Large amounts of waste should be fed in a steady flow to the disposal, rather than to be thrown against the grinding ring, a steel file-like object that cuts up food like a vegetable peeler.

"Most waste disposers hold waste in grind chambers until water is introduced to assure smooth passage into the sewer line. The food particles are carried off in water suspension, one reason why cold tap water should be run until the unit is shut off. Hot water will not do the job properly as it will melt the grease which will congeal and stick to cold water pipes when it hits them. Disposers need not be cleaned with chemicals, but limescale and odors may be removed by putting a tray of ice cubes or a half-gallon in the disposal."

More than half a million of these disposers were placed in sinks in 1957, says Mrs. White, and some 30 cities require installation of disposers in newly constructed homes.

"Before installing your disposer in an old home," she advises, "have sink drainage pipes thoroughly cleaned. They may be clogged with grease, which may be easily removed and kept clean later by the scouring action of the disposal waste."

It's a good idea to read directions carefully, when you buy any appliance, not only to save wear and tear on the object, but to get the best out of it.

By JOHN O.B. WALLACE

Although small in size, this house provides big living space for the carefully budgeted dollars of today's American family. This is true because of its careful engineering as well as its expansion possibilities.

Designed particularly for the House of The Week series and designated X-7, its creator, Architect Lester Cohen, calls it the "biggest little house in the world."

Its dimensions are only 28 by 31 feet 4 inches, yet with the expansion area completed, it would have 10 rooms, including four bedrooms plus two baths.

The architect's goal was to design a house that could be built at a reasonable price and be lived in comfortably while the expansion area is being finished. Room sizes, therefore, have not suffered.

The first floor area provides for two bedrooms, both nearly 13 by 11 feet, a 22-foot-wide living room, an ample kitchen and a bath with a vanity alcove.

Because different families plan their living and entertaining differently, the architect has included an optional feature on the first floor. It's up to the owner to decide whether he wants a large, family-style kitchen or a larger living room with space for a formal dining area.

THIS CHOICE is made possible by optional location of the wall between kitchen and living room. This doesn't mean tearing down partitions or worrying about how to separate these areas. The architect has shown exactly where the wall would go in either arrangement.

By placing the wall in line with the basement stairs, the living room becomes 22 by 11 feet 6 inches and the kitchen becomes 15 feet 6 inches by 8 feet 6 inches. In the latter case, the kitchen is still ample large and the formal dining area, creating an informal family room.

In the basement, four full rooms are included—a cross-ventilated laundry room, a workshop, a heater room with storage space and a playroom. There is also a built-in closet and built-in bath.

To save money, laundry and bathroom have been placed directly under the bathroom above. The average small house does not usually have enough closet or extra storage space. There is no such disadvantage in this plan. Here there are nine good-sized closets, plus a china closet, a plumbing closet and extra storage space in the basement rooms and in the expansion area.

Explaining why this is the "biggest little house in the world," the architect says:

"The expansion feature, with full basement, is most important. It is a rule of the building trade that it is cheaper to build up than out, and with a full basement you get more enclosed space and the building dollar."

"There are houses smaller than this one, but room sizes should not suffer with economies practiced, people who live in a house."

Many families today regret eight-foot bedrooms after the youngsters begin to need more space to themselves.

"This plan provides four 'double' bedrooms and a good sized living room as well. Proportions of the actual living area are excellent."

The architect decided on an optional wall between the kitchen and the living room because "no one house will suit every family and the decision on the arrangement of this space should rest not with the architect but with the owner who lives in a house."

By 1958, the Mackles had held 30,000 lots and built 22,000 homes and were just swinging into high gear.

Not all those who buy Mackle houses have low incomes. One man with a net worth of $200,000 bought the cheapest house, with one bedroom and bath.

The Mackles ran a blind ad in a magazine, addressing a list of questions to people who were on the oldest of the brothers and security payroll or approaching retirement age. They got 28,000 replies.

THE CONSENSUS: 75 per cent wanted to spend their declining years in Florida; few had any doubts about breaking old ties and heading for the tropics; their average retirement income was $100 a month.

When low-income people began yielding by thousands to the seemingly universal desire to move to Florida, the Mackles were ready. In eight pre-planned cities and subdivisions, they offered building lots for $10 down and $10 a month—total price $75.

Lot buyers could pick their own house, or they could let the Mackles pick for them.

"It would help us, I imagine," says Elliott Mackle, who at 40 is the oldest of the brothers and president of the firm.

"The great bulk of our buyers are retired people getting their first chance to enjoy life in the Florida Sun. A depression actually would benefit them, because their incomes are assured and it would make their money go farther."

In the 28th Florida building lot was gambled like poker chips and sometimes changed hands several times in a day, while prices rocketed to fantastic levels. In 1958 the boom exploded with a spectacular crash.

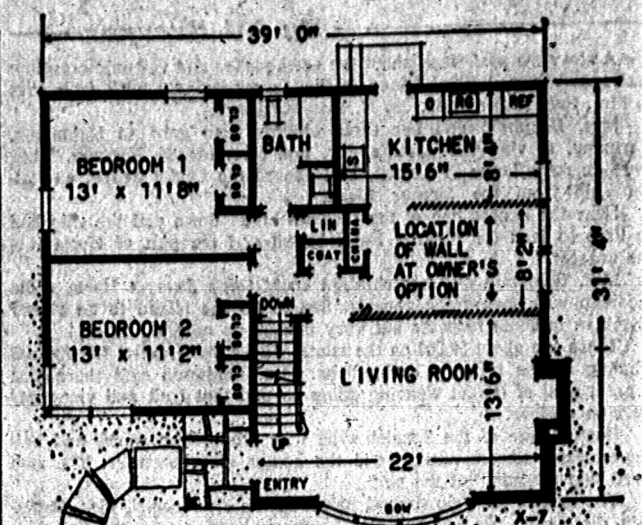

Today Florida believes it is better equipped than many states to

U. S. Jobless Toll Drops For 4th Week

WASHINGTON (UP)—The number of jobless workers drawing unemployment compensation benefits has declined for the fourth straight week.

The Labor Department reported Friday night the number dropped by $3,500 in the week ended May 18—the biggest one-week decline since August, 1956.

Meanwhile, reports circulated among congressional tax experts that President Eisenhower was standing firm in his opposition to any immediate broadscale tax cuts to help fight the recession. That appraisal followed a conference by Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson with Democratic House leaders.

Democratic leaders and Anderson did not answer the question of whether the administration might recommend some excise tax reductions when it asks Congress to extend certain excise and corporation levies.

A Scrapbook History, Old And New, Compiled By The Kankakee County Historical Society

Kankakee History

More than 100 years ago, the family of Samuel Davis, residing on what is still known as Davis Creek a few miles northwest of Bourbonnais, was stricken by the terrible scourge, cholera. In 1851 a party of 26 or 28 French immigrants from Canada was on its way to Bourbonnais. They had with them the body of a child that had died the day before at Joliet. The next morning one of their number was stricken down by the terrible scourge. The weather was very warm and the travelers had been lodged in Noel Vasseur's large barn. By 11 o'clock the same day eight or 10 more were taken ill and before 12 o'clock that night 18 of the number had been seized and all died. The panic created was such that, when a member of a family was stricken down, the rest fled in terror and left the helpless victim to perish alone.

In July of 1851 members of the Davis family were stricken by the cholera and on the 21st Samuel Davis died. A daughter, Virginia and a son Nathaniel, died on July 25, and on the following day another son, Henry D.C., had died. These bodies were interred in the old VanMeter cemetery in what then was the private burying ground of the Van Meters Thomas R.; James H. and Daniel T.

IT IS RELATED BY Burt E. Burroughs in his volume, "Legends and Tales of Homebush on the Kankakee," published in 1933, that "the daughter, Virginia, who at the time was working at old Middleport, then the county-seat of Iroquois County, made the trip home the day of her father's funeral. It so happened that on her way out to the home beyond Bourbonnais she met the funeral party on its way to the Van Meter cemetery with the body of her father. . . . She insisted that the coffin be opened so that she might again look upon her father's face. It was a handsome thing to do and those in charge remonstrated with her, but without avail."

"On arriving at the cemetery the coffin was opened, and Virginia looked upon the remains of her father." One week later, she too was dead.

"Cholera was more or less prevalent in the neighborhood of Bourbonnais for three years, and it is said that Dr. C. W. Knott was the only physician at that time who was not a victim of the disease."

The keeping of death records by the counties of Illinois was not compulsory prior to 1877, therefore there is no record of the number of deaths of members of the Davis family. During the course of clearing the tangle of heavy undergrowth and fallen trees in the current restoration of the pioneer cemetery, individual headstones of the Davis family have been found. There are those of SAMUEL DAVIS; MARGARET, his first wife, who died in 1838; HENRY D. C. a 13-year-old son; a fragment of the headstone of a Davis child who died on Sept. 7, 1838. A fragment of a stone bearing the name NATHANIEL has been found, however, the stone of VIRGINIA DAVIS, the daughter who died a week after her father passed away, which was seen when the cemetery was visited in March has since disappeared. It is feared that boys living in the vicinity who have made a practice of smashing the old markers have done away with the old relic of the past.

The actual work is being done by residents of Riverdale Subdivision, with the permission of David Davis, who owns the cemetery. The project is being assisted by a dozen or so of their neighbors and friends who are anxious to beautify and preserve the old burying ground.

Home Handy Men Can Tackle Maintenance Of Roll Roofing

By MR. FIX

Distributed by NEA Service

If you have a flat-roofed garage, porch or car port covered with roll roofing, its maintenance is a chore that you can handle. A "flat" roof usually has a slope of about 1/4 inch per foot to permit rain runoff, so you'll hardly need mountain-climbing skills to tackle the job. Just watch your step.

SEVERAL HOW-TO

Some people follow a yearly program of coating the entire roof with asphalt roll coating whether or not the impregnated felt needs renewing. On older roofs, where tiny cracks are likely to be numerous, this is a wise plan. The liquid coating is easily applied with a long-handled brush or an old broom.

LEAKS DEVELOP usually when minor cracks in roll roofing are neglected. Occasionally you may find a place where the roofing is beginning to bulge.

Cut the roofing at that point so that it can be flattened. Then cut a new piece of roofing that is larger than the area to be repaired.

Remove fragments of old roofing at point of damage. It may be necessary to remove a small strip of the roofing to lie perfectly flat. Trowel some heavy cement over the slit. Spread generously.

When the cement is still wet, place the previously cut patch of roll roofing over the spot. Press firmly, making the patch as smooth as possible.

Nail the edges of the patch. Use galvanized or some other rust-proof nails. Once the patch is nailed in place, cover the edges with more cement. Cover nailheads, too.

Smaller cracks can be repaired with heavy roll cement alone. Trowel in plenty to fill the crack.

Flat roof repairs are within the range of a handy man's ability. Follow these pointers and you'll be able to handle them.

Workover: Pick a relatively cool, calm day when the sun is not too hot. The hot sun keeps the cement from drying, makes your work slower.

Resurface Bourbonnais Street

A $55,000 project for which Bourbonnais residents have waited many years, the surfacing of River street from Main avenue to the west village limits, should be completed by the end of this week according to the contractor, the Asarco Construction Co. Laying of curb and gutter and gravel base was completed last fall. Here a crew is shown laying the primer asphalt coat Friday afternoon. The project is 3,700 feet long with cost shared by special assessment, to property owners, motor fuel tax funds and the village. (Journal photo) (2)

Terraces and patio need planters to add that touch of green. The handy, rugged casters make them in a few hours at little expense.

Here's one, designed for construction in the home workshop, composed of three tapered boxes, each nesting inside the other. And if you want to make it easier for the little woman, effix the planter to rubber-wheeled casters to make it mobile; no more tugging and shoving, then, to move a flower box, heavy with earth, from one location to another. A happy choice of lumber would be western red cedar beveled siding. This is inexpensive, has a natural resistance to rot, and has a long life, whether painted or unpainted. Place Curbs On Service Jet Flights

WASHINGTON — The armed services, bowing to mounting demands for prompt action to cut the risk of air collisions, invoked emergency curbs on military jet flights below 20,000 feet.

The offer by the services to curtail lower level flights, announced at a White House news conference by Lt. Gen. Elwood R. Quesada, chairman of the President's Air Coordinating Committee, went into effect Saturday.

Calling the action a temporary measure, Quesada said the restrictions would not affect military defense patrols or fighter scrambles in the event of an alert.

BE CAREFUL, too, in driving the lower screws because the siding is thinner on the bottom edge. Now cut the plywood in a square piece so it will extend out about a quarter inch on all sides of the bottom of the lower box.

Rip a two-inch strip off the thick edge of the remaining length of siding and use this to form a flange for the edge of the platform. Place this flange also in the "continuous lay" method, using either nails or screws, and let it rise about half an inch above the platform.

The lower part of the facing will hang below the platform, producing a skirt to conceal the casters. The casters must be of the plate variety, which mount with screws.

The wheels, not smaller than 1 1/2 inches, should be rubber. Composition or cast iron wheels will not roll smoothly over terraces, patios, driveways or walks as the planter is moved around.

Nest the three boxes inside each other—and joyfully call the little woman to come and inspect your masterpiece.

Quesada said the new procedure would affect a substantial amount of military flying and would tend to push military jet flights above altitudes generally used by commercial planes.

A White House statement said other steps being considered in all times.

Late Spring Farm Work Moves Along At Fast Clip

Corn planting and other late spring field work has advanced rapidly in the Kankakee farming area with about 85 per cent of the corn crop already seeded and a healthy percentage of the soybeans in the ground.

Early planted corn and even some soybeans are beginning to show in many fields. Rain this past week should give the crop a needed boost and help sprout corn and soybeans already planted.

Hay and pasture growth has been retarded by lack of rain, but small grain prospects continue good in the area.

THIS CENTRAL Illinois area has probably had the best spring for getting work done than anywhere else in the state. Up until just recently the south has been plagued with heavy rains which have kept farming at a standstill.

Now southern Illinois farmers are making rapid progress in plowing and some planting is under way.

Across the state 72 per cent of corn has been seeded. This compares with only 15 per cent at this time last year and an average of 60 per cent. Soybean planting is about 45 per cent complete throughout the state.

IN SOME southern areas the excessive moisture is still a problem, but is less severe than in recent weeks.

Already the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that crop prospects generally are good—very good. Pasture conditions nationally on May 1 were 4 per cent better than last year—and the best since 1921. Hay prospects were 2 per cent better than last year and the best since 1922.

Compared with last spring the most improvement is in the range country of the Great Plains and the Rocky Mountains.

In Illinois pasture conditions were 4 per cent below last year and hay prospects down 1 per cent.

Corn production prospects for 1958 continue favorable throughout most of the major grain producing areas with a record yielding winter wheat crop indicated.

LATE SPRING field work has been moving at a rapid pace throughout the Kankakee area. Dale Rieks is pictured above working a corn field with a rotary hoe. The farm belongs to Dale's father-in-law, Ernest Rieks, and is located south of Bonfield. (Journal photo) (45)

Sheep Breeder Annual Picnic Here Sunday

The Illinois Purbred Sheep Breeders Association will hold its annual field day and picnic at Camp Shaw-waw-saw on June 1, a week earlier than formally announced. A basket picnic dinner with the association furnishing roast lamb sandwiches and cold drinks will be held at noon.

The camp is located six miles northwest of Kankakee on Route 112N.

A full schedule of events has been planned for the day by area sheep breeders. These include a judging contest for men, women and children, a showmanship contest, a demonstration on spinning wool into thread and weaving it into a garment, a demonstration on foot trimming, morning and a sheep dog show.

The main speaker will be Dr. Ralph McCall, research manager for cattle and sheep feeds for Quaker Oats Co. Anyone interested in sheep may attend whether his interest is in purebreds or grades.

Christmas Tree Growers To Meet At Havana June 20

Members of the Illinois Christmas Tree Growers Association will hold their summer meeting June 20 and 21 at Havana, announces Robert Schrader, secretary-treasurer.

On June 20 the group will register, attend dinner and business meetings. A tour of the Mason State Park Nursery will be held June 21. They will also tour the Ralph E. Heinhorst tree farm located 18 miles east of Havana.

Heinhorst has 80 acres of jack, red, scotch and white pines. An old house on the property will be used for a road side market and flocking operations.

At 1 p. m. the group will leave for the 5,000 acre Mason State Forest where they will see proper pruning methods for lumber production. The forest has 2,500 acres planted to pines.

Those interested in more information should write Ralph E. Heinhorst at Forest City. The association was organized in January of 1957. Among its objectives is to promote the interests of the Christmas tree growing industry in Illinois.

Turkey Prices May Swing Up

WASHINGTON — Prices for this year's Thanksgiving turkeys may average considerably higher than last year.

The Agriculture Department reported that turkey hatchings so far this year indicate a 1958 crop perhaps 10 per cent below last year's record of 81 million birds. It said the reduced hatch reflects low prices producers received last fall.

Farmers Asked To Follow Soil Bank Orders

Farmers have been asked to be careful about their responsibilities under the acreage reserve of the soil bank if they want to get the full benefit of that program, said Richard Grob, chairman Kankakee County ASC committee.

In a planting season reminder to farmers, Grob said the signer of an acreage reserve agreement has undertaken a binding commitment to hold his reserve tract out of production during the 1958 growing season.

"It will be too bad if a farmer goes into the acreage reserve conditionally but fails to keep informed about requirements and deadlines and loses his payment through carelessness," said Grob.

With regard to the acreage reserve tract, Grob said that requirements must be observed: No crops may be planted for harvest on the reserve area before Jan. 1, 1959. However, such crops as wheat, rye and barley can be seeded in the fall of 1958 for harvest in 1959.

There can be no pasturing of the area and no crops can be harvested during the year. It is further required that noxious weeds be prevented from producing seed.

In addition to observing these requirements, Grob said the farmer must comply with any other acreage allotments on his farm and must keep within the farm's total permitted acreage. The permitted acreage is the soil bank base—two-thirds average of grain and row crops—less land placed in the soil bank.

By willfully failing to comply with his acreage reserve agreement, Grob said a farmer will lose his payment and may, under certain circumstances, be subject to a civil penalty equal to 50 per cent of the payment he would otherwise have earned.

Area Farmers To See Dwarf Corn Plots

Kankakee and Iroquois County farm groups will get a chance to observe one of the latest developments in corn breeding this summer.

Demonstration plots on which different strains of dwarf hybrid corn have been planted are located in each county. Four different strains of the corn were planted by Everett Hendrix near Bushongh.

Three strains were planted on the Ben West farm near Watseka. The Iroquois County demonstration plot is located on the west side of Route 1, just one-half mile south of the intersection of Routes 1 and 24 at Watseka.

INTEREST IN THE dwarf hybrid corn is due to its short stalk which greatly reduces the danger of stalk breakage before harvest. It is also felt that the short stalk may offer greater resistance to corn borer damage than the normal varieties.

These shells can be moved easily and quickly by removing the cover in sections, unbolting the rafters at the peak and pulling out the stalks.

The plots are under the supervision of the county farm adviser and planned as part of the extension service program.

THIS PAST WEEK an experimental plot of five varieties of soybeans was planted on the A. J. Butz and Son farm, west of Kankakee.

Included in the plot are Harosoy, Adams, Chippewa, Hawkeye and Lincoln. Grob, chairman Kankakee County ASC committee.

He also said that farmers with soybeans under loan are asked to inform the ASC office by Thursday if they plan to pay off the loan or deliver the beans.

Dispute Over Will Co. Fair Funds Goes To Court Soon

The battle over a disputed $7,018 between the Peotone and Monee fair groups may be decided this coming week at a hearing at the Will County Circuit Court in Joliet.

For the second time since the state Fair and Exposition Fund was put into law the Monee Fair District has filed for its share of the $55,000 allotted to Will County.

In 1955 the Monee district filed for its share of the fund money. The case went to the appellate court in Ottawa where the decision favoring the Peotone group was sustained.

THE MONEE district fair has not been held in over 10 years. This is one reason why the attorney general says the Monee group is not entitled to receive the money. Just who runs the Monee District Fair is also a mystery.

Scott McLaughlin, 225 Doris St. Joliet, is listed as the secretary, but McLaughlin will not dispute who the other officers or directors are. Until his death a short time ago, Charles O'Neil, Manteno horse breeder, had a financial interest in the fair.

If the Peotone fair gets the $55,332 it plans to build a 50-foot addition onto the exhibition hall. Since the fair has been receiving the Fair and Exposition Fund money, it has built the 150 by 60 foot exhibition building and a roofed grandstand which will seat 2,500 persons.

THE FAIR AND Exposition Fund this year.

The money is divided among the county fairs that apply for it according to the county's population. If the fair applies for the Fair and Exposition Fund money it cannot apply for money from the Peotone Fair which normally helps sponsor most county fairs. Twelve fairs, including Peotone and Monee, applied for the Fair and Exposition Fund this year.

Build Low Cost Livestock Shelter Out Of Plastic

Agricultural engineers at the University of Illinois have developed a low-cost livestock shelter using plastic sheets over a simple steel frame.

Framework for these shelters is ordinary steel fence posts with angle irons welded across the top for rafters. These frames are driven into the ground 6 feet apart, and pieces or 2 by 2 inch lumber are run across the top for bracing. Black polyethylene plastic sheets are used for cover.

Shelters made at the University of Illinois are 15 feet wide and 7 feet high, depending on the length of fence post used. They can be any length.

Cost has been about 13 cents a square foot of floor space. The shelters have proven excellent for calves, sheep, hogs and poultry, but are probably not rugged enough for full grown cattle.

These shelters can be moved easily and quickly by removing the cover in sections, unbolting the rafters at the peak and pulling out the stakes.

What has a satellite to do with Fertilizer?

Some farmers are spending money for fertilizer as if they are shooting for the moon. They may just as well be as to blindly spend money for plant food, which isn't needed.

The count down will be started soon—are you ready? You better be sure that your fertility program includes a good soil test, which will show the actual plant food needs for optimum yields.

Be sure that your fertility program isn't just a "blast" on your pocketbook, that would not raise the yields, but only expense.

Dropo Homers, Sox Win 4-3

The four trackmen in white suits, from Limestone Grade School, are the top relay runners in the Illinois Elementary School Association. They set a new state record at the association's track meet in Champaign-Urbana Saturday. From left, Paul Steinko, Donald Engelman, Bob Turner and Glenn Woodall.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Big Walt Dropo cleared his first home run of the year Saturday to break an eighth inning tie and give the Chicago White Sox a 4-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles and a sweep of their three-game series.

Dropo lined his shot off starter Billy O'Dell into the lower left field seats as he led off for the White Sox in the eighth. The blow was Dropo's third hit in four trips to the plate and shattered a 3-3 deadlock after the Orioles had come from behind twice to pull even.

It was the third straight win for the White Sox; their best victory string so far this season.

THE SOX SCORED twice in the first and once in the sixth, and Baltimore scored two runs in the second and one in the seventh to account for the deadlock.

Willie Miranda's error and a fluke single by Dropo helped the Sox to their pair of first inning runs. Bill Fischer, the winner who relieved starter Bob Keegan in the sixth, doubled off the right field wall to score Jim Landis in the Sox' half of the inning. Baltimore got its first run on O'Dell's first home run of the season. The southpaw blasted Keegan's first offering to him in the second inning into the right field stands.

Billy Gardner singled in the same inning, and scored on Al Piliak's long single to center field.

Bob Nieman belted his fourth home run, putting the ball into the lower left field stands on Fischer's first pitch to him in the seventh.

Plate umpire Larry Napp left the game in the eighth inning when he was hit in the head by a pitch from the Sox' pitcher, Dick Groat. Groat's ball bounced off Foster Castellan's bat, struck Napp's shoe and came up and hit him in the lower abdomen. John Stevens finished the game behind the plate.

Cub Reliever Fails, Phillies Victors 5-4

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Willie Jones singled home the winning run in the eighth inning Saturday to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 5-4 victory over Chicago and hand Cub reliever Don Elston his first reverse after five wins.

Jones' deciding line smash to center field scored Gran Hamner from third base and made a winner out of relief pitcher Dick Farrell for the first time this season.

Farrell took over in the seventh after the Cubs tied the score, 4-4, on starter Curt Simmons' single.

Elston, a former Dodger, relieved Dick Drott in the seventh and pitched a scoreless eighth.

The Cubs then went ahead on three unearned runs in the third. Drott was safe on Hamner's two-base wild throw, and then, with two out, Dark doubled. Banks tripled and Moryn singled.

The Phils regained the lead in the fifth when rookie Chuck Essegian hit his fourth homer behind a walk to Richie Ashburn. A pinch single by Bobby Adams, a sacrifice and a two-out double by Banks tied the score in the seventh and brought on Farrell.

Chicago, 603 000 100-4-9-0 Philadelphia, 118 000 000-5-1-2 Drott, Elston (7) and Newman, Tappe (6); Simmons, Farrell (7) and Lopata, W-Farrell, L-Elston.

Home runs—Philadelphia, Anderson (4), Essegian (4).

Limestone Team Sets Record In State Meet

Four runners from Limestone Grade School proved Saturday they are the best in the state for their division and association.

The four youngsters, runners at a shuttle relay team, set a new state record for the lightweight division at the Illinois Elementary School Association track meet at Champaign-Urbana. They ran the 400-yard race in 5:14 seconds, bettering the old mark of 5:15.

THE SIX TRACKMEN from Limestone entered in the meet also piled up enough points to win the fourth place trophy, the eighth trophy the school's athletes have won this year.

Members of the relay team were Glenn Woodall, Donald Engelman, Bob Turner and Paul Steinko. The other two trackmen from the rural Kankakee school were Wayne Coplea and Elmer Tanner.

By winning the sectional meet at Lexington two weeks ago the Limestone contingent won its birth in the state meet.

DETROIT (UPI)—Frank Lary fired a seven-hitter Saturday to lead the Detroit Tigers to a 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees and bring to a halt the longest winning and losing streaks in the majors this season.

New York had won 10 games in a row and the Tigers had dropped nine straight before Lary, ever a Yankee nemesis, brought both of the streaks to an abrupt halt.

It marked the eleventh time in his career that Lary had been able to turn back the Yankees. New York has beaten him on only four occasions.

The Yankees grabbed a quick 1-0 lead in the first inning on a double by Yogi Berra, an infield single by Tony Kubek and an infield out.

But the Tigers evened matters in the second on a bunt single by Al Kaline, a walk, a sacrifice and an infield out. Harvey Kukenor gave Detroit a 2-1 lead on an inning later with his third homer of the year.

New York evened matters in the sixth on a walk to Kubek and successive singles by Mickey Mantle and Gil McGoldrick.

The Tigers came right back on an inning later to tag 41-year-old Sal Maglie with his first setback of the season when Frank Bolling opened with a single, took second on a sacrifice and scored on Al Kaline's line double to left.

Ben Kerner, president of the Hawks, said Phillip accepted a one-year contract. His salary was not divulged. He replaces Al Hannum.

Phillip, 35 and a native of Granite City, Ill., has been a member of the Boston Celtics for the past two years. He announced his retirement as an active player last month.

He won All-Big Ten and All-American honors in basketball at the "White Edge" of the University of Illinois in 1943.

Relief Hurling Helps Cincy Edge LA 5-4

CINCINNATI (UPI)—The Cincinnati Redlegs made the most of 10 hits and tight relief pitching by Brooks Lawrence Saturday for a second straight victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4.

Walters distributed by Los Angeles starter Don Newcombe and reliever Sandy Kousser also added the Redlegs' lead. Jerry Lynch had four hits in four times at bat for the Redlegs.

Lawrence, who hasn't been able to complete a starting assignment this season, came in the sixth after John Roseboro and Carl Furillo had hit home runs off Cincinnati starter Johnny Klippstein. He stopped the Dodgers with three hits the rest of the way but Klippstein received credit for the victory.

The loser was Newcombe.

In the third, Gus Bell opened with a walk and Alex Grammas' single was followed by a sacrifice and Jerry Lynch's two-run double.

The Dodgers used three pitchers in the fifth. Another walk to Bell, an infield out and singles by Klippstein, Lynch and Robinson produced two runs and sent Newcombe to the hovel.

Illini, Winning Only 2 Events, Capture Big 10 Track Crown

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI)—Illinois won the Big Ten Conference track title Saturday, scoring points in 11 of the 14 events, but Ohio State's Olympic champion Glenn Davis took individual honors with a world record equalling 440 yard hurdles run, was timed at :45.8 for the 440 yards Saturday.

More astounding, his performance was around two curves, compared to the record performance of Jack Lee of the U. S. Olympic team in 1956 around one turn.

Davis' performance broke the Big Ten and national collegiate record set in 1948 by Illinois' Herb McKenley of :46.2, also around one turn.

IN ALL, FIVE Big Ten records were set and another tied as Illinois, which finished fourth in the meet a year ago with 18 points, racked up 46 points to beat out defending champion Indiana, which wound up with 41 points.

Ohio State finished third with 35. Michigan State fourth with 23½, then Minnesota with 16, Iowa 15, Purdue 13, Michigan 11½, Wisconsin 8, and Northwestern 7.

Other conference records were set by Minnesota's Bob Henry in the shot put with a loss of 56 feet 11½ inches, and Buddy Eddels with a two-mile clocking of 9:03.2 by Michigan State's Dave Leani with a time of 1:50.1 in the half mile, and by Indiana's mile relay team with a 3:11.7 performance. The record was by Indiana's Willie May, with :14.0 in the 120 yard hurdles.

Five defending individual champions retained their titles, among them May in the 120 yard hurdles and Leani in the half mile. Others who were successful were Iowa's Charles Deacon Jones in the mile, where he was timed in 4:09.2, the second fastest in conference history. Willmer Fowler of Northwestern with :0.6 in the 100 yard dash, and Indiana's Greg Bell in the broad jump with a leap of 25 feet 4½ inches.

FOUR DEFENDING champions were dethroned. The 440 winner a year ago, Wisconsin's Jesse Nixon, who won his heat over Dave Friess, was fourth, while Fowler, who was fourth last year, was fourth also. Jones, who won both the mile and two mile last year, finished third in the mile, and Leani wound up third in the 220 yard hurdles he won a year ago.

Illinois, though it won only two events, with Bob Mitchell in the 220 yard dash and Ron Mitchell in the high jump, grabbed second place in six events, third in another and fourth in two others.

Mitchell grabbed high point honors with 13, finishing second in both the 100 yard dash and the broad jump. Dave took second in the 220 and fifth in the broad jump for 10 points, while Ohio State's Jim Marshall, winner of the discus and third in the shot, and Bell, with fifth in the 220 and fourth in the 100, each tallied eight.

THE VICTORY went to Milwaukee reliever Don McMahon, now 2-0, who replaced Gene Conley in the eighth, when he was unable to hold a 3-2 lead inherited from Mike McCormick in the sixth. Worthington is now 2-1.

Braves outfielder Billy Brunt, reinstated to the active list Saturday, made his first appearance since last July 11. He cleared the game in the ninth.

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—A pair of substitutes shortstop—Billy Mauer for Boston and Billy Hunter for Kansas City—became the hero and the goat Saturday as the Red Sox snatched a 5-4 come-from-behind victory over Kansas City.

Klaus, who came into the game after Don Budd had gone out for a pinch hitter in the eighth, hit a ninth inning single that scored Jackie Jensen with the winning run.

Hunter had replaced Joe DeMaestri who was hit by a pitch in the sixth inning. He set the scene for Klaus' blow with an error that should have retired the side.

With the score tied 4-4, Hunter threw out Frankie Malzone but Jensen drew a walk off reliever Tom Gorman. After Sammy Whitford out, Ted Lepore hit a routine grounder to Hunter who fumbled the ball. Klaus then delivered the killing blow by hitting Mauer.

The Athletics made a bid in the ninth to keep Boston from sweeping the three game series but southern LeRoy Klenz came in to get left-handed hitting Bob Marlyn on an easy grounder for the final out with Hal Smith on second base.

THE HAWKEYES collected 5½ points to shade Illinois which finished with 4½. Michigan was third with 4½ points.

Art Andrews and Bob Postath of Iowa won their singles crowns and teamed up to defeat Hugh Tierney and Dave Healey of Minnesota in the semifinals and John Harris and Don Erickson of Michigan in the No. 1 doubles final.

2-4, 2-4, 6-4. Andrews trounced Lennie Partridge of Indiana, 6-1, for his singles victory while Postath swamped Harris, 6-0, 6-3.

Other schools in order of finish were: Northwestern, 32 points; Indiana, 25½; Michigan State, 14½; Minnesota, 11½; Wisconsin, 9½; Ohio State, 4½; and Purdue, 3½.

THE VICTORY went to Chuck Stobbs, who went out for a pinch hitter in the rally. Bud Ryerly pitched the last two innings and Stobbs pitched 6½. Ryerly was 2-0 in the last two innings. Stobbs pitched 6½. Ryerly was 2-0 in the last two innings. Stobbs pitched 6½. Ryerly was 2-0 in the last two innings.

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Right-hander pitcher Bob Friend Saturday became the first National League pitcher to win seven games this season as he went the route in beating the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 6-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Friend, who now has a 7-2 record, gave up 10 hits. He was backed up by fine defensive work including three double plays. Two of the hits he allowed were singles by veteran Stan Musial, who flied out on his other two appearances.

Larry Jackson gave up 12 hits as he went down to his second loss against two victories. Until the eighth, Jackson was tight in the clutches.

TWO WERE OUT in the eighth when the Pirates exploded. Bob Clemente scored second base and scored what proved to be the winning run on Bill Mazeroski's single.

Friend beat out a hit after Danny Kravitz had been walked intentionally. Then came a two-run double by Bill Virdone, an intentional walk and a two-run double by Dick Groat who had knocked in the Pirates' first run in the third inning.

The Cards got their only run in the seventh on singles by Ken Boyer and Hobie Landish.

Minnesota Whips Spartans Twice; Takes Big 10 Title

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—Minnesota won the Big Ten Conference baseball title Saturday by sweeping both ends of a double-header from Michigan State, 3-2 and 2-1.

Fred Bruckbauer, a sophomore from Sleepy Eye, Minn., won the crown for the Gophers by saving the second game after pitching the entire nine innings of the opening game.

Bruckbauer relieved Saxe Roberts in the bottom of the seventh and final inning of the nightcap after the Spartans collected an unearned run with two out and had men on second and third.

Bruckbauer, who gave up only five hits in the opener, faced only one man, striking out Dick Peterson. The Gophers had scored their two runs in the second inning when Roberts and Dennis Klark both walked to force in runs.

A 385-FOOT HOME RUN by Warren (Skeeter) Nelson, with Dick Erickson and Klark on base, gave Minnesota its three runs in the first game.

It was the second baseball crown in three years for Minnesota, which finished the season with an 11-1 conference record.

CHAMPAIGN (UPI)—Illinois defeated Ohio State 10-5 and 5-1 Saturday to finish fourth in the Big Ten baseball race.

Russ Martin smacked two doubles and a single to drive in four runs in the first game while Frank Schwartz limited the Buckeyes to five hits in taking the seven-inning nightcap.

Shipments Of Quail, Pheasants Due In June

BY JIM TISCHE
The first hatch of pheasants at the Department of Conservation's game farm at Yorkville will come off early this week, according to Glen D. Palmer, conservation director.

Nesting is well ahead of last year and delivery of pheasant chicks to cooperative clubs will begin early in June.

First quail hatch at the Mount Vernon farm already has come off, and nesting conditions are excellent, Palmer said. Delivery of quail chicks will begin shortly, the director reported.

One of the cooperative groups which will receive pheasants and quail is the Kankakee County Sportsman's organization. The pens for the chicks are at the Kankakee State Hospital and are maintained by the Kankakee Sportsman's Club.

This year the Kankakee group will receive 2,000 pheasants and 1,000 quail from the state. The pheasant shipment is expected the first week in June while the quail will not be delivered until the last week in June.

Clubs taking part in this project are Grassy Park, Monmouth, St. Anne, Exline, Hercher and Kankakee. All clubs share the expense equally and then late in the summer each group receives its share of the birds. The birds are planted in different sections of the county to improve hunting.

When the department of conservation clubs its breeding stock in the fall, Kankakee County will receive 200 to 400 more adult pheasants to release.

Also at the state farms, the first hatch of mallards at the Des Plaines Wildlife area is due this week, and will be followed by a hatch of wild turkeys in about two weeks.

Wild turkey has been planted in the central and southern part of the state. The mallards are kept on the game farm until they are old and then released on the game refuge.

FISHING STILL seems to be the river in the Kankakee River. The river is low and there is a large amount of moss. Some pole fishermen are doing fair and the night line addicts seem to be having good luck.

The department of conservation weekly fishing bulletin lists the river as fair to good for channel cat, northern pike and carp.

Campy Better But Still Paralyzed

NEW YORK (UP) — The latest word on the condition of injured baseball star Roy Campanella is "no progress" in physical rehabilitation but "no change in the degree of paralysis."

Campanella, the Los Angeles Dodgers' ace catcher, has been paralyzed since he suffered a broken neck in an auto accident on Jan. 23. Since May 1 he has been a patient at the NYU-Bellevue Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.

DR. HOWARD A. Ross, director of the institute, issued this bulletin on Campanella Friday.

"Mr. Campanella has had an excellent week and has made some progress in his rehabilitation program, although there is no change in the degree of paralysis. He has been fitted with an especially designed brace to support his head and neck and is now getting up on a tilt table for exercise, increasing amounts of time. He has been up on the table for as long as an hour. His spirits remain excellent and he is working at the program with great determination."

AT THE TIME of his admission to the institute, doctors said Campanella would be trained for "ordinary living" but expressed the opinion that "total recovery would be unusual."

Turley Yields Run, Statisticians Relieved

DETROIT scored a run off Bob Turley in the ninth inning Friday night and sent the feverish baseball statisticians home happy.

Not because the Tigers lost another, an 8-1 decision to New York. Not because it was the 10th consecutive victory for the Yankees and the ninth straight loss for Detroit. Not because it was Turley's seventh successive triumph without a defeat.

BUT BECAUSE Turley was shooting for so many targets the poor fellows just couldn't keep up with him.

Here's what Turley has been shooting at:

1. Most consecutive shutouts—4—Doc White, Chicago White Sox, 1904.

2. Most consecutive scoreless innings—26—Walter Johnson, Washington Senators, 1912.

3. Most complete games in a season also consecutive—21—Jack Taylor, St. Louis Cardinals, 1904.

4. Turley lost out on only two objectives—consecutive shutouts and consecutive scoreless innings—because he won his seventh game in his seventh start, all complete.

5. Turley lost out on only two objectives—consecutive shutouts and consecutive scoreless innings—because he won his seventh game in his seventh start, all complete.

Kankakee Judge Joins In Pectone PTA Panel Talks

PEOTONE (JNS)—County Judge Irvin C. Taylor, Kankakee, was a member of a panel which led a discussion, "The Home, Church and School's Responsibility in the Matter of Juvenile Delinquency," at the Wednesday evening meeting of the Parent Teacher Association.

The other members of the panel were Mrs. Schubert Dankers, the Rev. Roy Meyer, Mrs. Marvin Vanilen and Mrs. Fred Zornow. Judge Taylor said few children who are given the proper religious background in their homes, end up in trouble. Another point stressed was that the ideals and morals of parents and teachers are definitely passed on to and accepted by some of the youth of today.

T. L. Clinton presided at the first business session which preceded the program. The flags were presented by Cub Scout Den 3. The Rev. Curtis M. Cluck gave the invocation. A report showed a profit of $234 on the basketball game.

Mrs. William Harris was commended for having missed only one meeting in the last ten years. Mrs. George Bobbin reported on the state convention and Mrs. Donald Lehnert reported on the council meeting.

Mrs. Harry Voigt, president of the council, installed the following new officers: Mrs. Leo Lewis, president; Mrs. Norbert Behrens, vice president; Mrs. Floyd Frohner, secretary; and Mrs. Gordon Flint, treasurer.

Mrs. Warnecke's room and the senior class won the attendance prizes. Refreshments were served. This was the final meeting until September.

Keeping in Step

Mrs. Henry Leavitt of 180 N. Harrison Ave. left Thursday for a trip around the world.

How is she traveling? That takes a little more explanation. Mrs. Leavitt will use at least eight different modes of transportation through her summer's trip—train, boat, plane, automobile, camel, automobile and sump.

From San Francisco, Mrs. Leavitt will cruise by boat to the Orient (The Orient is the only spot in her travels that she had not previously visited). She will use the railway of course in Japan.

An elephant trip is planned during her stay in India and in Egypt, she will take a camel trip. The sump travel will be on a river in China. There are many other countries included in Mrs. Leavitt's itinerary, including France, Italy, Pakistan and Spain and Hongkong in Thailand.

Mrs. Leavitt, one of Kankakee's most "traveled" residents, has been in almost every part of the world. She is accustomed to unusual modes of travel and has even used a dog sled in Alaska.

She has, however, planned her current trip so that she will have a minimum of packing and re-packing. She will use her cruise ship as a base of operations, leaving the ship for side excursions with just a little packing involved.

When Mrs. Leavitt returns to the United States next fall, she will conclude her trip with a visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Franks, Westley Hills, Mass., and a little literary fishing.

ANOTHER TRIP. FOR Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Devard of 309 N. Forest Ave., Bradley, began Saturday.

The Devards, who are natives of Switzerland but have resided here for the past 20 years, will visit relatives in St. Croix, Switzerland. They will also travel in Germany and France.

In June, the son and daughter-in-law of the Devards, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Devard of Wood River, will join the couple in Europe.

The Devards expect to return late in September. They had not visited their homeland for the past 10 years.

MARY SUZANNE SCANLON

The situation creates a problem. The parents, proud as they are of their graduating twins, cannot attend the two ceremonies. Mary Scanlon is graduating from Marquette University, Indianapolis, Ind., with a bachelor of arts degree in education. Her twin brother, Michael, will receive a bachelor of arts degree in journalism at Notre Dame University, Notre Dame, Ind.

Mrs. Scanlon will attend her son's graduation and Scanlon will be on hand to see his daughter graduate.

The twins were born in 1927 in Indianapolis. They attended Lady of Lourdes school here for five years, moving to Kankakee in 1937. They completed grade school at St. Patrick's, attended St. Patrick's for their freshman and sophomore years of high school, then transferred to Kankakee High School. They graduated with the class of 1954.

Mary Scanlon attended St. Mary's of the Lake, Notre Dame, Ind., during her freshman and sophomore years of college and transferred to Marquette College in Indianapolis during her junior year. She will enter the teaching profession next September in the Indianapolis public school system.

Michael has attended Notre Dame University for four years. He plans to begin a journalistic career with newspaper work.

Betty Stille left Kankakee Friday morning for a vacation and family visit in Florida and Georgia.

In Jacksonville, Fla., Betty will visit her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Haddock; and in Ft. Benning, Ga., she will visit her brother and sister-in-law, Col. and Mrs. Harry A. Stille. Betty is making the trip by plane.

MRS. EVELYN CONTOS of Kankakee is vacationing in Arizona with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bertrand of Douglas.

Before she left for a several-month stay in Arizona, she was visited by her son-in-law and daughter, former Kankakees Mr. and Mrs. Hiram W. Weeks of Bloomington, and her granddaughter, Mrs. Gene A. James and daughter Debra.

James Weeks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram A. Weeks, was recently initiated into Alpha Kappa Psi, professional honor society, at the University of Illinois. He is a Junior in the School of Commerce at the university.

Jenny Lynn Jacquet, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Jacquet of RR 3, Kankakee, had her first talk with a nurse the other day; and it made an impression.

The nurse, talking with Jenny Lynn after a visit to the dentist, explained how to brush teeth. In order to help Jenny remember, the nurse told her to brush "upstairs teeth" up, and the "downstairs teeth" down.

At home later, Mrs. Jacquet supervised while Jenny brushed her teeth. After a while, she called to Jenny who was suspiciously quiet. "But you just finished brushing your teeth downstairs," said Mrs. Jacquet.

Then Jenny explained, just as the nurse had suggested, Jenny was brushing her upstairs teeth up (stairs) and her downstairs teeth down (stairs).

Keep In Trim Make Your Calories Count For Full Protection

Calories will always be the key to weight control, for calories are the measure of the fuel content of various foods. However, there seems to be considerable confusion about calories. Many of you who write to ask why various calorie charts differ widely, particularly the calories on meats.

In many charts the meat calories are given for raw weights, also the fat of the meat has been included in the count. But today, people are trimming off the fat from the meat, and therefore should not be "charged" for those calories.

In the Revised Calorie Chart now available, two sets of values are given on meats, the calories on strictly lean meat and the calories on lean-and-marbled meat. These new values are based on research conducted at the Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station. These values are on cooked meats.

The protective foods provide bargains in calories. A new diet is being readied for you—one that includes the new meat calories and the bargain calories in protective foods. Watch for this next week.

Send long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for REVISED CALORIE CHART. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of Daily Journal. Post card requests can not be answered.

KANKAKEE SUNDAY JOURNAL
42 Sunday, May 25, 1958

For months Mr. and Mrs. John Grosso drove past a wooded tract that seemed to them the ideal site for a home.

At the time (approximately four years ago) they owned their own home on Route 17W, a half mile down the road from the spot that had caught their fancy.

They decided to check the possibilities of purchasing the desired site, which, they learned, amounted to 60 acres. Although this was certainly more land than they needed on which to build they nevertheless chose to buy.

The Grossos built their home in the exact spot they had admired for so long—a tree shaded hill which provided a handsome view of the surrounding countryside.

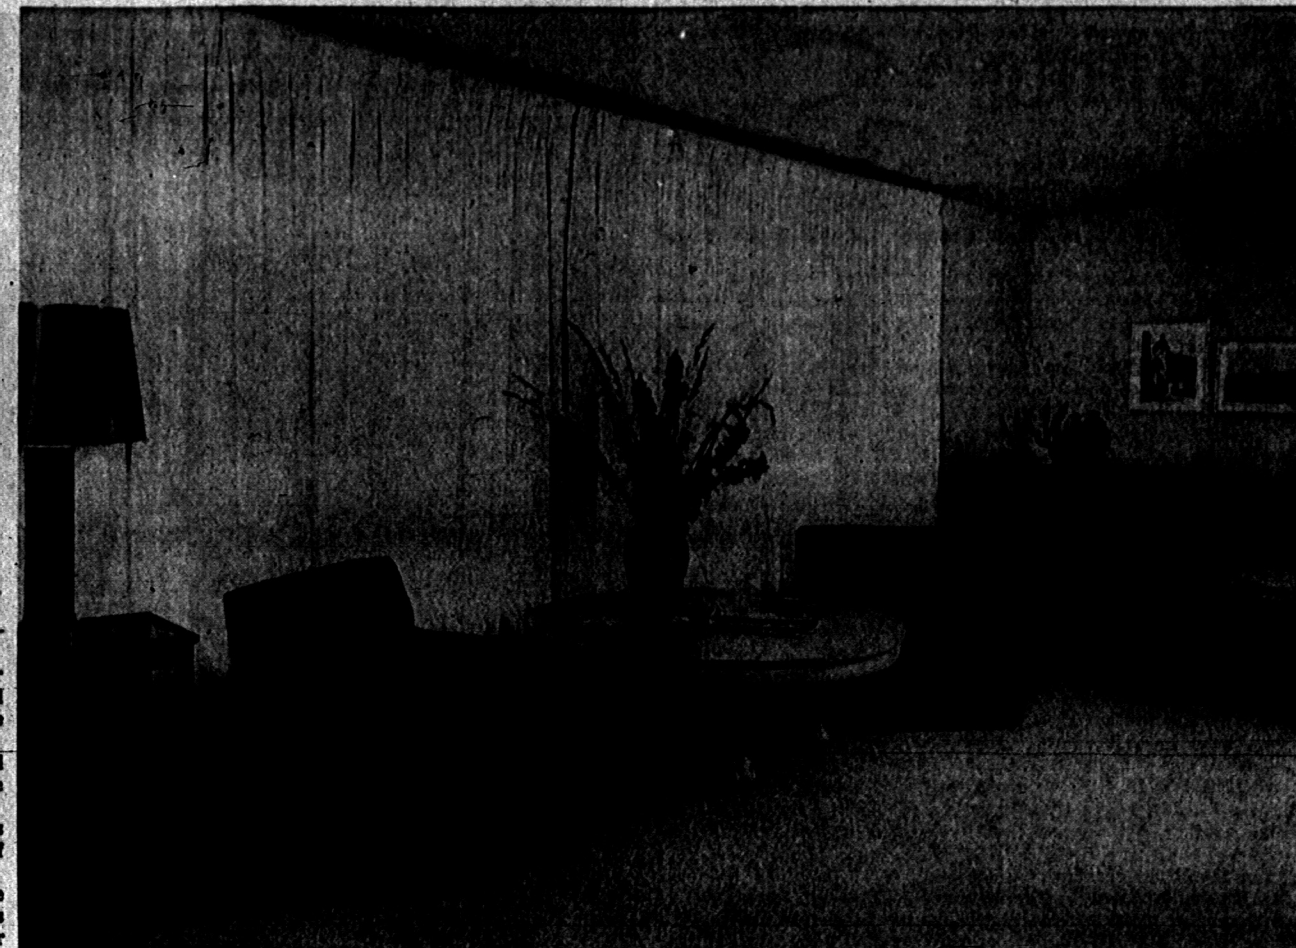

The U-shaped plan was based on one they had seen in a national magazine and includes kitchen, dinette area, living room, two bedrooms, den, double garage, bath and a half, patio, and basement under the west wing. All rooms are spacious with large window areas and the natural stone house has a low-slung rambling appearance on the exterior. Oil heat is used.

Because of its hill location it is wafted by every breath of air and in summer is cool and pleasant. Mrs. Grosso says "if there's the slightest breeze—we're sure to get it."

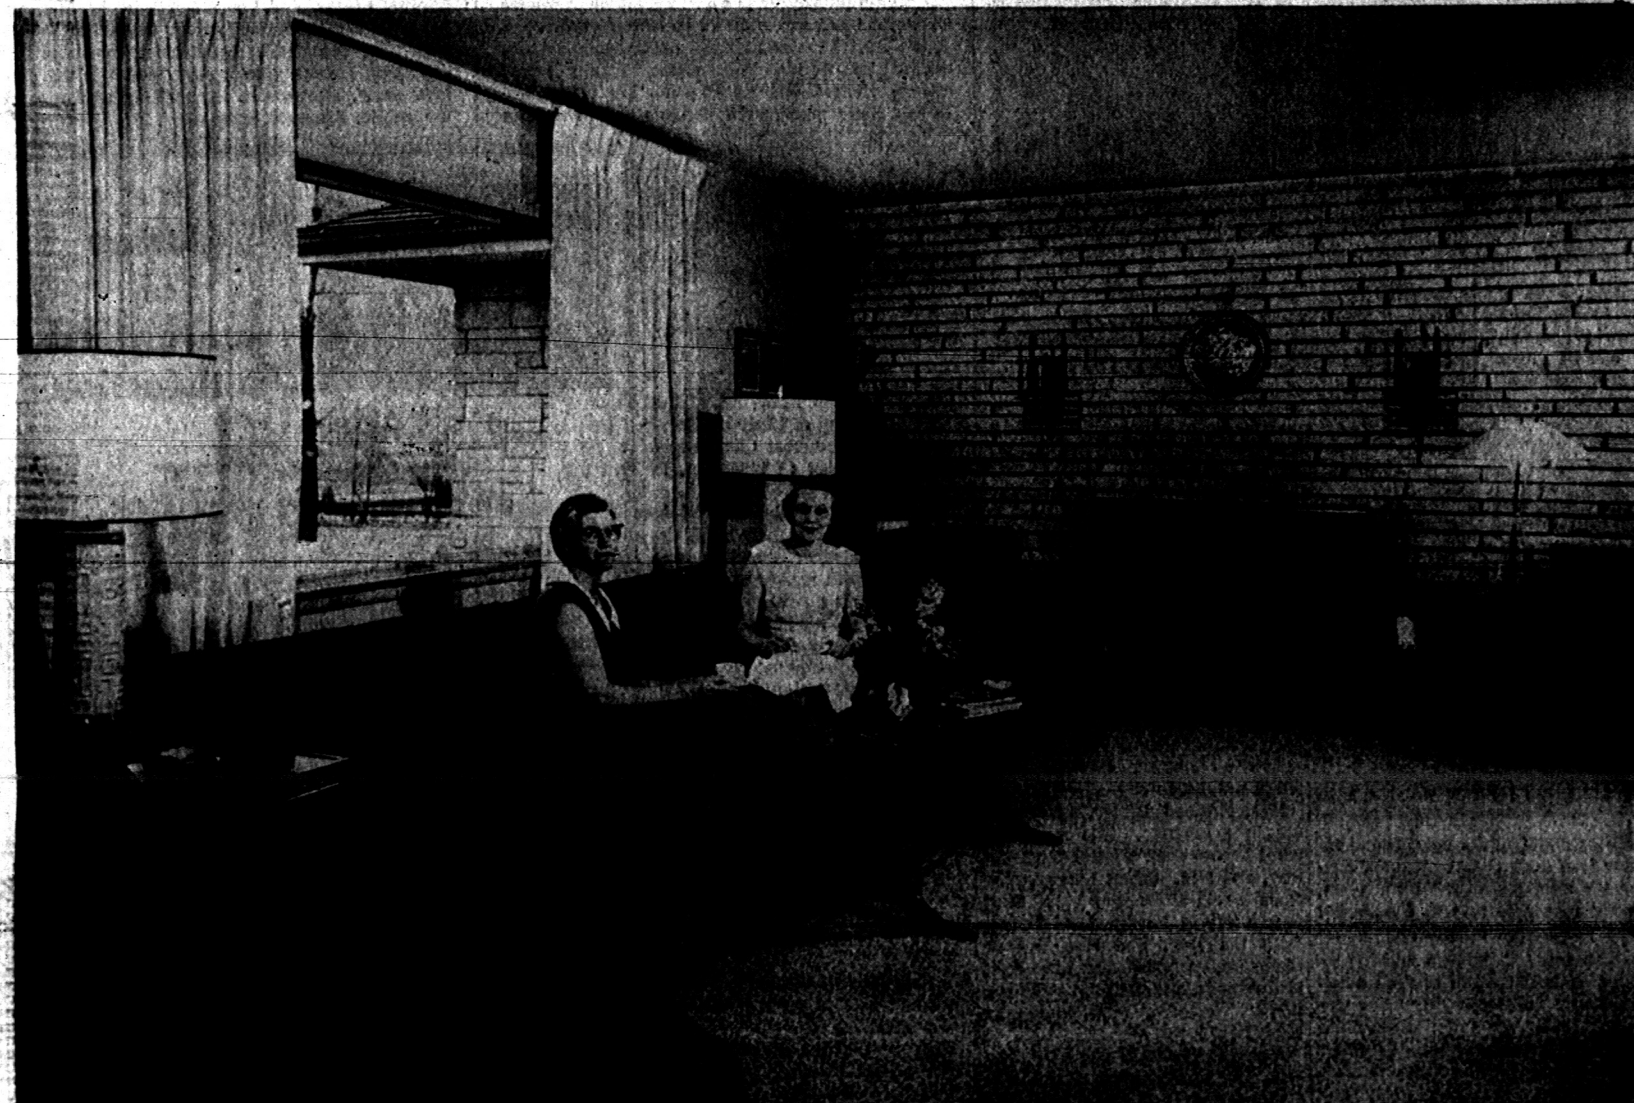

Mr. and Mrs. Grosso did their own decorating. The color schemes were her choice and reflect her blonde tastes. Pale beige, shades of blue green, browns and burnt orange predominate.

Grosso installed an artificial pond, several hundred feet from the back patio and constructed a cabin nearby where the family entertains at barbecues and other informal parties during summer months. Their sons are Jack, 19 and Joe, 15.

Double picture windows in the living room take advantage of the home's hilltop location and provide sweeping view of the countryside both front and back. Large table was cut down and refinished by Mrs. Grosso and centers the window which overlooks the patio at the back of the house. Chairs are a cool teal.

MILWAUKEE (U.S. — Raymond) from the front. Ruditsky, 19, reported to the police. Police, upon investigation, said the only thing wrong with the story was that nobody did those things to Ruditsky. He did them to himself, then cut him off. Edward Zibalski, 17, when he came.

Champagne walls and draperies are combined with beige tweed carpeting in the living room to provide a handsome setting for the coons sofa, burnt orange fireside chairs, beige lamps and mahogany woods. Natural stone fireplace wall is the focal point of the spacious room. Entry hall, in foreground out of view, has walls finished in antique gold. Room accents are also gold. Mrs. Arthur Rolph at left, is pictured with her sister, Mrs. Grosso.

HENDERSON, Ky. (U.S. — Charlie) porter and baggage man, was given Ray, retiring after 30 years as a party by fellow workers.

All recalled that he always was [and] house for train passengers. Couple of gifts — big, shiny, new cheerful while carrying luggage. Then they presented him with a pulcates.

Overall dimensions of kitchen and dinette are 14 by 16 feet and like the other rooms in the home, the room is light and bright due to large window areas and cheerful color schemes. Mrs. Grosso selected turquoise for the walls as a background for beige and silver-toned breakfast set, yellow counter tops, and copper and brass accents.

Curtains in the dinette and kitchen match—have white background with Early American print that repeats the room's color scheme. Terrazzo inlaid linoleum is in shades of beige and cup-
