2 Britons Slain

NICOTIA, Cyprus (AP)—Two British airmen were killed and a third wounded Saturday by a mine which blew up their Royal Air Force truck in eastern Cyprus.

It was the first serious incident in the island since a ceasefire was proclaimed Nov. 22 by EOKA, the Greek Cypriot terrorist movement fighting British forces in demands for union with Greece.

The Eagle To Join Arab League In Future

Kuwait—Where West, Nasserism Rub Arms

KUWAIT (AP)—A siren sounded in the early morning over the desert. Lackey flung open doors, jerked to attention. Two hawk-faced Bedouins gingerly lifted tiny hoods from the heads of three-looking hunting falcons perched on their arms. Everyone in the harem of the ruler of this fabulously rich Arabian sheikhdom. To him it comes naturally.

THROUGH IT swept the "Eagle of the Gulf"—Sheikh Abdullah Mubarak—his long black Arab robe and swirls of fine desert sand trailing in the air behind him. The Sheikh's heavy-lidded eyes pinpointed each person lining the path he strode to his office. There were lean desert tribesmen, his favorite falconers, a British army officer, an ambassador from Saudi Arabia, a European envoy, businessmen, clerks, lackeys and news-men.

The majestic entrance to his headquarters is an affectation of Mubarak, who is the deputy ruler of this fabulously rich Arabian sheikhdom. To him it comes naturally.

His main job, as commander of the army and security forces, is to keep order in his country, not an easy one in the turbulent Middle East. And Kuwait right now is considered the most stable of Middle East countries. Powerful and aggressive, Mubarak looks massive in his flowing robes. Actually, he is only of medium height and overweight in contrast to the lean, tall tribesmen surrounding him. At first, however, this goes unnoticed. Hooded eyes conceal glint of eyes. His jaw is heavy, his complexion swarthy. All this gives the impression he is ruthless. He is, in fact, a man of great gentleness and politeness and traditions. And that's why he is so popular. He is a man of great gentleness and politeness and traditions. And that's why he is so popular.

Gen. De Gaulle New President Of France

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—Herman Konchin, a 35-year-old bookkeeper has been accused of embezzling money from his latest employer while paying off installments on a 1957 embezzlement.

Konchin was picked up in the furniture store where he had worked for eight weeks. His car was parked outside, and in it, police said, was $2,000 in cash, and $1,000 in checks made out to the store.

THE OWNER OF THE STORE, Simon Richman, said he asked detectives to investigate when he heard that Konchin was planning to leave the city. The bookkeeper is married and has two children. In 1957 Konchin was arrested on a charge of embezzling $18,000 from a automobile dealer. A $3,500 settlement was made, authorities said, and Konchin was paying it off at $10 a week.

PARIS (AP)—Premier Charles de Gaulle's bandwagon rolled on in France Sunday with his third personal voting victory. As expected, members of the Electoral College overwhelmingly elected him the first constituent of the Fifth Republic.

The wartime hero, 68, who stopped aside as premier in 1946 rather than play second fiddle to the National Assembly, now can assume the presidency for a seven-year term with greatly increased powers. He will take over the office from Rene Coty, 76, Jan. 1, 1959.

The "rule by Assembly" of the Fourth Republic collapsed just as de Gaulle had predicted. Under special powers granted him to reform the French state after the revolt last May, de Gaulle wrote a new constitution with a strong executive.

His first victory came when the new constitution was approved by an 80 per cent vote in a September election.

In November, a new National Assembly was elected with a preponderance of de Gaulle followers. In Sunday's presidential election de Gaulle got 78.5 per cent of the valid ballot of the grand electors, an Electoral College representing the French mainland and overseas territories.

De Gaulle did not vote or take part in the election. As premier he did not belong to any category of the grand electors, made up of mayors, municipal and county councilors, Parliament members and a few plain citizens.

Not 78,468 valid ballots, complete returns gave de Gaulle 62,392. The two token opposition candidates ran far behind. Communist Georges Marrasse, 70, mayor of the Paris suburb of Ivry, received 10,344 votes. Albert Chatelet, 75, a University of Paris dean and senator, received 1,000 votes.

Reds Disclose Vast Expansion Of Economy

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government today announced a vast new program of spending on scientific research, social welfare and expansion of the Soviet economy.

The biggest jump came in the projected government investments to expand the Soviet production facilities—a huge increase of 71,000,000 rubles—or nearly 18 billion dollars—over the amount spent in 1958.

Zverev said the expansion fund would total $4,300,000,000—$121,075,000,000—including direct government investments of 308,000,000 rubles and 175,000,000 rubles of profits from government enterprise to be plowed back.

The program will be particularly increased, he continued, in the iron and steel, chemical, oil and gas industries, and in engineering, transport and agriculture.

YUGOSLAVIA receives a gift of about 14 million dollars of local currency for development of health, education and agriculture, while the counterpart in dinars of 11 million dollars will be used by the U.S. government for its needs in Yugoslavia.

The newest assistance will bring to about 900 million dollars the American economic aid to Yugoslavia since 1950. The aid is aimed at helping President Tito in pursuing a course independent from Moscow.

Yugoslavia also obtained considerable military aid, estimated to total about 200 million dollars since 1950. Yugoslavia stopped the military aid last year.

It is expected here that another agreement on a long-range development program will be signed soon in Washington. The program is "badly endangered by the cancellation of a 200-million-dollar credit by the Soviet Union last spring."

LONG BEACH, Calif., 20, should have said that yawn.

He stretched so prodigiously in yawning that he dislocated his right shoulder and had to be hospitalized.

The yawn came while Cockrell was attending a class in consumer education at Long Beach State College.

Cockrell is a school teacher, himself.

It said more than 130 MIG 19s are based at airfields along the Formosa Strait.

It said Russia also has turned over some air-to-air missiles to the Red Chinese air force to offset the heat-seeking Sidewinders with which the United States has equipped Nationalist Chinese planes.

A Foreign Office spokesman told a news conference the West German firms, which he did not name, offered to contribute 200 million marks—48 million dollars—to the project.

He declined to name the other countries involved nor how much they planned to contribute.

The Aven project has been a football in world politics since the United States in 1956 withdrew an offer to put up a big chunk of the money. The project was abandoned after two billion dollars or more needed to build the dam.

Report at the clearing house on today today showed that names of the project had been requested by 57 organizations and 38 individuals.

Send Messages To Atlas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Earthmen were ready today for more two-way radio contacts with the mighty Atlas missile satellite, now in its fourth day of hurrying about the globe.

Radio contacts are attempted when the nearly 4½-ton satellite reaches a favorable position in relation to four sending and receiving stations in the United States.

Most of the words that flashed back and forth were those of voice and a radio-teletypewriter messages were transmitted to the earth.

Barrelled along at 17,000 miles an hour, the 85-foot Atlas is orbiting the earth in an egg-shaped flight pattern. After it was launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Thursday night, scientists said the satellite had a life expectancy of about 20 days.

In its first few days aloft, American scientists have conducted a number of communications tests they said could lead to such futuristic developments as space-relayed television and globe-spanning military communications.

The weekend tests involved (1) relaying Eisenhower's voice-recorded "peace on earth" message, (2) relaying in code form—that message and another by radio teletypewriter, and (3) leaving the messages in the satellite's tape recorder for a while before bringing them to earth transmission to ground stations.

Sunday afternoon, a station at Ft. Stewart, Ga., sent out seven messages to the Atlas. All seven messages, carried Eisenhower's words, then on radio command, all seven were returned from the satellite simultaneously.

THIS SEVEN-WORD test also was run, with variations, by ground stations at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., and near Los Angeles.

The weekend also brought publication of a report in which the House Space Committee's staff spoke of the danger of satellite relays. The report suggested a requirement for adequate filing of satellite flight plans.

The document was prepared before the Atlas launching—whose orbital purpose had been kept a secret since the satellite was launched from the Cape Canaveral, Fla., last Friday.

The three men and one woman set off 10 days ago from the Canary Islands to drift with the trade winds 3,000 miles to Barbados, in the West Indies.

Nothing has been heard from the balloon, the Small World.

The danger is clear and present, as the committee staff pointed out, he said.

Car Rolls 320 Feet, Driver Escapes Injury

A Kankakee man received the best Christmas present of all early today—his life.

Jay L. Griswold, 26, of the Skyway Trailer Court, emerged from the wreckage of his 1957 convertible, apparently not seriously injured.

State Trooper Robert Just said that after Griswold's car was involved in the highway it skidded and cart-wheeled over and over for 320 feet.

Damage was estimated at $2,800.

Griswold told Just that he had fallen asleep while he was driving on the highway a mile north of the junction of Route 1 and 17.

Griswold was examined in the St. Mary's Hospital emergency room, was released and is to return to the hospital for further examination. The accident happened about 3 a.m. today.

Nab 'Smith' After Wild Car Chase

CISSNA PARK (JNS)—An alleged car thief, who identifies himself as "Smith," was arrested early this morning in Cissna Park after a chase marked by speeds up to 125 miles an hour.

The chase came to a climax when the car driven by "Smith" went out of control at the curve south of Cissna Park. It left the highway and turned over for about 500 feet.

Unhurt, Smith managed to get out of the car, which was a total wreck, only to be captured by Inquis County sheriff's deputies and state troopers as he attempted to thumb a ride out of Cissna Park.

Elmer Koehl, sheriff's deputy and police chief in Cissna Park, had chased the driver of the stolen car north from Rankin to Cissna Park, where it was about 2:30 a.m. today.

KOEHL SAID HE first heard the Rankin police call for aid on the police radio after they had stopped "Smith," who was driving an auto stolen earlier in Danville.

The driver of the stolen 1958 auto threatened to throw two sticks of dynamite at the Rankin policemen and drove down a back street, abandoning the auto and stealing another.

The second car was a yellow 1959 model. Koehl at Cissna Park means while rushed to the north edge of Rankin and was blocking Route 49. He was notified the man now was driving the yellow car which had just passed.

Koehl gave chase and said both cars were traveling up to 125 miles an hour. At the curve about 1 1/2 miles south of Cissna Park, the driver of the stolen auto couldn't control the car and crashed in a ditch. Uninjured, he fled on foot. Koehl and about seven cars of sheriff's deputies and state troopers blocked off Cissna Park and found "Smith" attempting to hitch-hike out of the village.

Olivet Fund Drive Sets A 1-Day Record

A new record for receipts in one day, $7,400, was set Friday in the Olivet Nazarene College 10-year, three-million dollar fund raising campaign.

Started over a year ago, the $7,400 is tops in actual cash receipts in one day. Included in the amount was a $6,000 check from a Kankakee business institution, an advance payment on its $3,000 per year pledge. Other amounts received included a $1,000 check from a Peotone firm plus a check of $200 and two $100 checks from area individuals and another business company.

Current pledges and cash total $148,631.11. The current immediate goal is $200,000 in cash and pledges to permit work to start on a new 150 bed women's residence hall. Rids will be opened Jan. 20 and work authorized as soon as the college has the $200,000 in cash and pledges.

The 10-year program is to include a new men's dormitory, a science hall, an auditorium-music hall structure, a student union and new campus entrance. Donations are being sought from three areas: local individuals and businesses; college alumni and church-related groups; and educational foundations.

Rock Dropped From Overpass Damages Car

A rock dropped from a railroad overpass in Kankakee broke out an auto windshield Saturday night.

George Warabastine, with 180 S. Fraser Ave., said he was driving west on W. River street when the rock dropped from the Illinois Central overpass.

It also damaged the hood of his car. Warabastine stopped, could see no one around and reported the incident to police.

Program Features TB Association

Activities of the Kankakee County Tuberculosis Association will be discussed during a WKAN radio program starting at 1:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Taking part will be Fred Lancaster of the Illinois TB Association and Joseph Brady, executive secretary of the Pan Group.

This is one in a series of weekly public service programs and is open to local health and social service agencies.

Cooper said he was not a candidate for the job and emphasized that Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt.) would clearly be the choice of the liberal bloc if the Vermont would make himself available.

The liberal Republican plan to meet Dec. 30 to select a slate of party leadership posts being filled by Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.) who said Sunday that the Kentucky's election would show the party "is looking to the future rather than to the past."

"I am not putting myself forth as a candidate," Cooper said in an interview. "I appreciate what Sen. Aiken has done and if selected, I would run. And I believe anyone else whose name is advanced should be willing to serve if elected."

"MY REAL CONCERN is that all of us who get together in the fight will stay together—and get others to join in the fight for the leadership."

But he said he would urge liberals to unite behind Cooper because this choice "would have a

6 Children Die In Fire; Couple In Church

KANKAKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Authorities searched the ruins of a two-story frame house today to discover the cause of a fire that swept six children to their deaths and injured their parents were in church.

The youngsters' grief-stricken parents, returned from St. Paul's Roman Catholic mass Sunday to find five of the bodies, huddled together in a first-floor bathroom. The sixth was discovered lying just outside the bathroom door.

"I WANT TO GO IN and die with my children," Mrs. Weyenberg, 30, sobbed. Her husband, also 30, pushed her aside, gripped a ladder and climbed hysterically to an upstairs window.

Neighbors said the parents' tragedy was compounded by the loss of infant twins last night.

The infant twins last night, Margaret, 5, John, 3, Barbara, 2, and Michael, 1.

Authorities believed the fire must have awakened, smoldered in a room and ran down the stairs to the bathroom, which gave protection from the flames but not from the deadly black smoke which swirled through the blazing home.

Centralia Drops 2nd In Row; Galesburg Wins

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — It was a rough weekend for fourth-ranked Centralia but Galesburg, who had been flying along with five straight victories, not only bowed to Herin Friday 72-65 but were joined the next night by underdog Harrisburg 75-54.

Harrisburg holds a mediocre 3 record and was soundly trounced Friday by West Frankfort 71-51. West Frankfort was spilled by Mount Vernon Saturday 85-61.

The top-ranked Galesburg team came through in solid fashion with two decisions to stay undefeated through six games. The victims were Monmouth 53-37 and Decatur Eisenhower 58-46.

HERIN EQUIPPED its win over Centralia with a 77-69 conquest of Benton to uphold its No. 2 rating and push its record to eight in a row.

Elgin's stock in the state title picture took a brighter outlook after a 63-55 tacking handed to West Aurora, a seven title with its first defeat in slatted titles. Elgin lost five wins and one loss to North Chicago.

Springfield and Alton, both stopped once this season, continued to improve as each gained double triumphs. Springfield, now showing eight victories, captured a Quilley's four-team tournament by downing Cahokia 72-53 and the school 47-34.

Alton rolled over two southwestern foes, Edwardsville and Roxana, to make it five wins to date. Among ranking teams which remain unbeaten were Rock Falls, Hinsdale, Thornton and Harvey and Rantoul, all posting easy decisions Friday.

A SIX-GAME string owned by Cathedral of Springfield was snapped Saturday by Marshall of Chicago, making their first downstate appearance this season. The defending state champions were in danger and coasted to a 62-42 verdict.

In another Saturday contest, Canton walloped Cuba 64-40 for win No. 4 against two setbacks.

East Rockford and Pekin, both beginning to gather steam, registered double victories. Once-defeated East Rockford trimmed LaSalle-Peru and Sterling while Pekin, which dropped its first two starts, pounded Peoria Manual and Peoria Limestone by lopsided margins for its third and fourth wins.

Decatur's Reds, on the other hand, continued to stumble after launching the season with four consecutive victories. The Reds were downed by Champaign and Bloom of Chicago 101-60, making it three defeats in the last four games.

Sermata of Danville took its fifth out of six attempt, in hammering Champaign 62-31.

Dixon reached a 7-0 mark with a narrow 45-43 victory over Mendota.

Colts Favored Over Giants

Howell Says: 'I'm Scared To Death'

NEW YORK (UPI) — "I'm scared to death of the Baltimore Colts," Coach Jim Lee Howell said today. But how can you believe him after what his New York Giants did to the Cleveland Browns during one of the National Football League's finest comebacks?

The Giants, two games behind the Browns after the 1958 season, won only five weeks out, topped their late-season surge Sunday by shutting out Cleveland in a playoff for the Eastern Division title.

That triumph, only the second through which the Browns have won in their 13-year history, gave the Giants the right to entertain Baltimore's Western Division champions for the league crown next Sunday at Yankee Stadium.

Although the Giants whipped the Browns on successive week ends to reach the championship game for the second time in the last three years, the oddsmakers backed Howell's appraisal of the Colts.

THE BOOKIES immediately established Coach Webb Edwards' high-scoring Colts 13-10 choices to defeat the Giants and win their first NFL championship.

The Giants forced Sunday's play-off which was held in a snowstorm in the final regular season game a week ago, 13-10. But New York's defensive unit started in that game. Sunday, with the players battling for a jackpot that could hit $200,000 for next Sunday's winners, New York's defense really sparkled in 25-degree weather.

Roosevelt Grier, Andy Robustelli, Dick Modzelewski and Jim Katcavage on the front line and linebackers Huff, Cliff Livingston and Harland Sware were the huskies who wrecked Cleveland's bid for its eighth Eastern title in nine seasons.

WHILE HUNDREDS of thousands of TV and radio fans watched and heard the game, the 61,774 rosters in Yankee Stadium gave those defensive stalwarts and their buddies a screaming cheer each time they ran off the frozen turf. The Giants limited the Browns to 24 yards on the ground and 62 in the air.

Charley Conerly, gray-haired and older player in the NFL at 39, scored the game's only touchdown. But defense put the Giants into the title game because the New York offense was shackled most of the game by Cleveland's defensive unit.

New York's defensive linemen charged so fast and with so much power and skill that Milt Plum and Jim Ninowski, Cleveland's quarterbacks, were thrown for losses totaling 52 yards while trying to pass. With Cleveland's passing game nullified, the Giants had no trouble stopping Jim Brown, the 228-pound Cleveland fullback who set an NFL rushing record of 1,537 yards during the season.

JIM GAINED only a net of eight yards while trying to pass. He had a 17-point average. He came up swinging and was thrown out of the game.

Several minutes after Summerall's second-period field goal, fullback Mel Triplett of the Giants went berserk when he was gang-tackled by the Browns. He came up swinging and was thrown out of the game.

Howell said he was afraid of the Colts because "they have the best blocking in the league and a great passer in John Unitas."

COACH PAUL Brown, who doesn't have to start planning for a championship game for the second time in 13 years, said he was confident his Browns would be able to defeat the Colts.

"When they shut you out, you know they must be doing something," Brown said. "They simply overpowered our men individually. You saw a fine team out there, gentlemen."

The Giants handed the Browns their only other whitewashing in 1958. The Giants won both regular season games with the Browns that year just as they did this season but lost the playoff for the Eastern crown, 5-3.

The Giants wouldn't be denied this time, handing the Browns two defeats in a row for only the fourth time since they were organized in 1946.

Howell said he was afraid of the Colts because "they have the best blocking in the league and a great passer in John Unitas."

COACH PAUL Brown, who doesn't have to start planning for a championship game for the second time in 13 years, said he was confident his Browns would be able to defeat the Colts.

"When they shut you out, you know they must be doing something," Brown said. "They simply overpowered our men individually. You saw a fine team out there, gentlemen."

The Giants handed the Browns their only other whitewashing in 1958. The Giants won both regular season games with the Browns that year just as they did this season but lost the playoff for the Eastern crown, 5-3.

The Giants wouldn't be denied this time, handing the Browns two defeats in a row for only the fourth time since they were organized in 1946.

NEW YORK (UPI) — "I'm scared to death of the Baltimore Colts," Coach Jim Lee Howell said today. But how can you believe him after what his New York Giants did to the Cleveland Browns during one of the National Football League's finest comebacks?

The Giants, two games behind the Browns after the 1958 season, won only five weeks out, topped their late-season surge Sunday by shutting out Cleveland in a playoff for the Eastern Division title.

That triumph, only the second through which the Browns have won in their 13-year history, gave the Giants the right to entertain Baltimore's Western Division champions for the league crown next Sunday at Yankee Stadium.

Although the Giants whipped the Browns on successive week ends to reach the championship game for the second time in the last three years, the oddsmakers backed Howell's appraisal of the Colts.

THE BOOKIES immediately established Coach Webb Edwards' high-scoring Colts 13-10 choices to defeat the Giants and win their first NFL championship.

The Giants forced Sunday's play-off which was held in a snowstorm in the final regular season game a week ago, 13-10. But New York's defensive unit started in that game. Sunday, with the players battling for a jackpot that could hit $200,000 for next Sunday's winners, New York's defense really sparkled in 25-degree weather.

Roosevelt Grier, Andy Robustelli, Dick Modzelewski and Jim Katcavage on the front line and linebackers Huff, Cliff Livingston and Harland Sware were the huskies who wrecked Cleveland's bid for its eighth Eastern title in nine seasons.

WHILE HUNDREDS of thousands of TV and radio fans watched and heard the game, the 61,774 rosters in Yankee Stadium gave those defensive stalwarts and their buddies a screaming cheer each time they ran off the frozen turf. The Giants limited the Browns to 24 yards on the ground and 62 in the air.

Charley Conerly, gray-haired and older player in the NFL at 39, scored the game's only touchdown. But defense put the Giants into the title game because the New York offense was shackled most of the game by Cleveland's defensive unit.

New York's defensive linemen charged so fast and with so much power and skill that Milt Plum and Jim Ninowski, Cleveland's quarterbacks, were thrown for losses totaling 52 yards while trying to pass. With Cleveland's passing game nullified, the Giants had no trouble stopping Jim Brown, the 228-pound Cleveland fullback who set an NFL rushing record of 1,537 yards during the season.

JIM GAINED only a net of eight yards while trying to pass. He had a 17-point average. He came up swinging and was thrown out of the game.

Several minutes after Summerall's second-period field goal, fullback Mel Triplett of the Giants went berserk when he was gang-tackled by the Browns. He came up swinging and was thrown out of the game.

Howell said he was afraid of the Colts because "they have the best blocking in the league and a great passer in John Unitas."

Bulldogs Experienced But Have Only One Win

(Third in a series of articles about teams in the ninth annual Kankakee holiday tournament.)

Waukegan's Bulldogs, consolation champions of the 1957 Kankakee holiday basketball tournament, are something of an enigma as they prepare for their second visit to the Kankakee classic next week. Coach Chuck Reid will bring a nearly all-veteran club to the ninth annual show next Monday but one which has been successful only once in five games this season.

Reid has Dick Nixon, who will be remembered by 1957 tournament-goers as a fine performer, along with guard Andy Hankins; forwards Ray Cisneros and Covance Cabell; center John Henderson; and all but Cisneros, a 6-2 sophomore, are senior lettermen.

THE BULLDOGS have the "big man" in the 6-5 Henderson but he is the only other starter who hits the 6-foot mark. Nixon is 5-11, Hankins, 5-11, and Cabell 5-11. Four reserves are 6-3 or better.

Waukegan's defeats have been administered by Hinsdale 54-37, Providence 64-55, Highland Park 52-51 and Oak Park 44-38. The Bulldogs have beaten only Barrington by a 67-50 score. Hinsdale and Providence are rated among the top teams in Northern Illinois.

Nixon, third leading scorer in 1958 tournament at 15.1 points per game, is currently leading the Bulldogs with a 17-point average. He is regarded as one of the best outshooters in the Suburban circuit.

Waukegan plays topspeeded in the first game of the 1958 tournament at 8 o'clock next Monday. The Bulldogs started last year's meet with a loss to Ottawa 2,500, will be one of the biggest schools in the tournament.

The Role Of Exercise In Control Of Weight

By IDA JEAN KAIN

For years, we have tended to dismiss exercise as being of little value for reducing or controlling weight. Indeed, we do everything we can to take the physical exertion out of daily living.

"Exercise is the most underestimated factor in overweight today," declared Dr. Jean Mayer of the Harvard School of Public Health in a recent talk before the American Dietetic Association in Philadelphia.

According to this authority, two common misconceptions regarding exercise are that exercise does not burn many calories and that it always increases appetite. While both of these arguments against exercise sound plausible, both are very wrong, Dr. Mayer pointed out.

WE HAVE BEEN led astray by such statements as "A pound of fat can be worked off only by walking 35 hours." What is not made clear is that one hour of brisk walking uses 200 calories, and that moderate exercise such as walking regularly can fend off as much as ten pounds which might otherwise pile on in a single year, the doctor averred.

We are now a nation on wheels, and machinery has taken the place of muscles. "Obesity has become a disease of civilization," this scientist stated. He went on to point out that most adolescent children actually eat less than normal weight children eat, but they are extraordinarily inactive. "Children who need exercise do not mindlessly have a little more exciting than from exercise," he explained.

AP Newsfeatures

Now is the time for all good parents to plan holiday parties for their children.

Food is even more important than decorations in small parties. If you can make so much as a centerpiece for a party table, it's sure to be a success. One bright idea is to use popcorn balls for a snowman centerpiece. The children will have fun popping the corn and making the balls in advance, and after the party the young guests can eat the decorations.

The snowman centerpiece has a body made of one huge white popcorn ball with a smaller one for a head. Use chocolate for his eyes, maraschino cherries for nose and mouth and a cherry-topped ice cream cone for his hat.

For popcorn balls at each place setting, add to the festive look by using red and green food coloring to some of the balls, colored red and green maraschino cherries to others.

Chair Group Carols After Holiday Dinner

After a Christmas dinner for the Emmanuel Baptist Church choir Friday evening, the group went caroling at the homes of shunins who are members of the choir. The dinner was served by members of the Bexon Light Class in the church basement, which was decorated in a Christmas motif.

A humorous skit was presented by several members, directed by the choir president, Darwynne Puck. The pastor Dr. Louis R. Johnson spoke and made trio sang during the evening.

The carols were directed by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall True, who are choir director and organist, respectively, for the group. There were 40 members and guests attending the event.

Don't Let Stains Spoil Holiday Fun

Holiday food stains can make your table linen as sad a sight as a turkey carcass. But if you work fast while you know what made the stain and before it sets in the fabric, the cloth can be as good as new for another celebration.

Dr. Ruth Galtbraith, associate professor of home economics at the University of Illinois, recommends using these procedures:

To remove cranberry stain, stretch the stained area over a bowl and pour boiling water from a teakettle held about three feet above the cloth. The water should strike the cloth with force. Now wash the cloth in a synthetic detergent and hot water. Do not use soap, because soaps set stains. Rub gently with a dull knife, and then wash the linen in hot, soapy water.

Spilled coffee shouldn't spoil your day, because you can remove coffee stains in this same way.

But change your method before working on stains made by meat juices, gravies or cream. Because hot water sets these stains, upon them with cold or lukewarm water, and then wash in warm, soapy water.

Don't let fear of splattered soup keep you from using candles. Simply scrape off as much wax as possible with a dull knife, and then wash the linen in hot, soapy water. If the candles are colored, remove any remaining dye stain by bleaching.

When bleaching colored table linens, first test the effect of the bleach on the inside of the hem.

Christmas Gifts Grow On A Small Table Tree

By JEANNE D'ARCY

No matter how carefully you plan your Christmas list, there always seems to be someone who's been overlooked. That's why we suggest a "small table tree" to help you remember to keep them handy for giving, why not use them as decorations for a tiny table tree?

Perfect for this purpose is a box of four crystal bottles, each containing a famous French perfume. Each is already packed in a small box tied with a ribbon, so it's ready to hang on a table tree.

Under the tree, you can place other extras. At this season of the year, many come gift-wrapped.

Hand lotion, for example, is wrapped in sparkling green sleeve embellished with frothy feather topping. Look for lipstick, which serves as a chimney for an outfit Santa. Consider a gypsy tambourine used as packaging for a small vial of perfume or a drum rolling with two cakes of soap.

Several Ways To Prepare Cranberries For Holidays

By JEAN MARTIN

A small red berry, well-known as a cranberry, can be a huge success in brightening up any holiday table as well as adding brightness to your Christmas tree.

Mrs. William Bohne of 1097 S. Poplar Ave., not only strings cranberries on her Christmas tree but serves them to her family and holiday guests in a CRANBERRY CHRISTMAS MOLD and a CRANBERRY BREAD. These two recipes are included in today's kitchenette.

Other ways cranberries may be served during the holidays include a cranberry nut dessert or a cranberry pie.

Another one of Mrs. Bohne's recipes which is tops in eye-appeal is her HOLIDAY PIE. She combines a light red filling with a mint green crust which carries out the traditional red and green seasonal color scheme.

Mrs. Bohne explains that her POORMAN'S CAKE gets its name from being eggless, milkless and butterless.

Mrs. Bohne is a past president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church; a member of the Woman's Club and its chorus and chairman of the home department and home and shut-in department of the First Methodist Church.

The Bohnes have three children, Mrs. Albert Miller of Aroma Park, and Wayne and Marilynne, at home.

Her recipes are as follows:

THOSE LITTLE EXTRAS that can come from your kitchen will add a gay touch to your holiday. Mrs. Bohne's CRANBERRY CHRISTMAS MOLD and CRANBERRY BREAD are the best of eating, pretty too, and say Merry Christmas in so many different ways.

CRANBERRY CHRISTMAS MOLD

Dissolve: 2 packages red jello 3 1/2 cups water 1 cup sugar pinch of salt Grind:

2 cups fresh cranberries 2 whole oranges including skin Add the latter two ingredients to above mixture with 1/2 cup chopped nuts and 1 cup drained pineapple. When mixture begins to thicken pour into well oiled mold. Serve on lettuce leaf.

CRANBERRY BREAD

Sift together: 1 cup sifted flour 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 teaspoon baking powder 1/2 teaspoon soda

4 eggs whites 1 teaspoon cream of tartar 1 pinch of salt 4 drops green coloring Beat until stiff and dry, do not overbeat. Fold in 1 cup sugar. Four over crumbs in pie tin and shape like a pie crust. Bake in a 250 degrees F. oven for 1 hour.

FILLING: Add 1/2 cup or more of coconut to 1/2 pint whipping cream, whipped, and four drops of red coloring. Pour into shell and spread with slivered almonds.

SHOPPERS' GUIDE: The quality of cranberries on the market is very good and they're priced about the same as they were at the Thanksgiving holiday. Now would be the time to freeze cranberries since there won't be too many on the market long after the first of the year.

Citrus fruits including oranges, apples and lemons will still be inexpensive this week. There will be a good supply of bananas which will be priced very low.

Along the added vegetable line, lettuce will be very inexpensive. Celery, tomatoes, peppers and cucumbers will also be reasonable.

In cooking vegetables, rutabaga, turnips, brussels sprouts and broccoli will be featured items. The price of green beans won't be too high for this time of year.

There's still a good supply of potatoes arriving. In good quality and very reasonable. They are as inexpensive now as they were at harvest time.

Rudy's RECIPE for a MERRY CHRISTMAS

TAKE THE CRISP COLD of a December night . . . add two parts of snow . . . stir in air so clear that it tinkles.

Into a generous heart, mix the wonder of a little girl . . . the sparkle of a young boy's glance . . . the love of parents . . . and set gently before the chimney side.

Add the lightest touch of reindeer hooves . . . a sprig of holly . . . a scent of fir.

Set the mixture to rise in the warmth of a dream of Good Will To Man. It will be almost ready to serve when it bubbles with warm good feeling.

Bedeck with the light of a star set in the East . . . garnish with shining globes of gold, silver and red.

Serve to the tune of an ancient carol in the middle of the family table.

This recipe is sufficient for all the men and women you will ever meet.

...With Best Wishes for a very MERRY CHRISTMAS . . . from all of us at Rudy's Markets . . .

Unity, Peace, Pope's Appeal For Christmas

Fears His Plea Will Fall On Deaf Ears In Red Lands

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII, in his first Christmas address, urged the world to Christian unity and peace today. But he said his plea was not likely to be heard in Communist-ruled lands.

The 77-year-old ruler of the Roman Catholic Church asked men of faith to put aside military and violent thoughts.

"Then, in the next breath, he warned them to be vigilant 'in the night that is darkening' and ready to defend Christian principles against the 'insidiousness of the enemies of God'—a clear reference to atheistic communism.

The Pope paid high tribute to his predecessor, the late Pope Pius XII, who during his long reign delivered 18 Christmas messages to the world in which he invariably pleaded for peace and Christian unity.

"THE NEW PONTIFF said man's unwillingness to submit to the grace of God in unity and peace 'was the most terrible problem of human history and of the lives of individual men and people.'

Pope John said the broken unity of 'the hereditary Christ' continues to be a grave problem, but that his own efforts would be unflagging toward 'those dead, separated brothers who bow to the name of Christ and read the holy Bible.'

Then the pope added, in a sharp criticism of Communist-ruled lands, 'in many parts of the world there is no far for this invitation (to unity and peace)'. In those areas, he said, 'the most sacred concepts are suffocated or have been suppressed.'

Woman Denies Hiring Men To Kill Daughter-In-Law

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—"It's a lie, of course," says Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan of the charge that she hired two men to kill her daughter-in-law. "Those men were trying to blackmail me."

Authorities say Mrs. Duncan, 54, and five times widowed, hired the murder of Olga Kupczyk Duncan, 30, because she was fiercely jealous of her son, a Santa Barbara lawyer.

"I feel terrible about it," Mrs. Duncan told newsmen when they asked how she felt when informed that Olga's body had been found.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's plan for a 77-billion-dollar balanced budget next year was described by Democrats as unrealistic today, but Republicans called it a welcome Christmas present to the taxpayers.

Eisenhower's announcement of his budget plans, unprecedented in advance of the opening of Congress, said defense spending would be higher and other expenditures "consistent with the public interest" without any general increase in taxes.

His approximate 77-billion-dollar spending figure would be two billions below this year's estimated $79,200,000,000 total. At that level, a 12-billion-dollar deficit is expected this year, partly because the recession cut expected federal revenues.

EISENHOWER originally had forecast a 500-million-dollar surplus for this year, based on lower spending, higher revenues and a postal rate increase higher than that Congress later provided.

Without giving details, Eisenhower said "reductions in part by reason of the ending of temporary programs in agriculture, unemployment insurance and housing."

Due to expire next year are part of the soil bank program and a recession-born program of extended unemployment compensation benefits.

Although no general tax increase is to be asked, Eisenhower said—again without giving details—that his budget will request higher postal rates and gasoline taxes and some new charges for government services.

Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.), whose house appropriations committee will have first crack at Eisenhower's appropriations requests, said he is gratified at the plan for a balanced budget.

"I am quite dubious about it. I don't see how he is going to get the extra revenue," SEN. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okl.) said the announcement seemed to him to include "more wishful thinking than any realistic approach" to budgetary problems.

AN EASTERN spokesman said the budget is in balance, and it is up to Congress to keep it that way, said Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.), House Republican leader. The economy, he said, will have trouble, too, in getting Congress to vote another increase in postal rates.

Similar emphasis on financial stability came from Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, and Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn.

WATSEKA (JNS)—A 16-year-old rural Watseka boy remains in critical condition today in Iroquois Hospital after suffering a bullet wound in his chest.

Receiving blood transfusions in preparation for surgery to remove the bullet in Everett Davis, 16, who resides with his wife and parents on a farm five miles north and a mile west of Watseka.

According to Iroquois County authorities, Laviole apparently shot himself accidentally while on his way to pick up the mail from a rural box in front of the farm home.

Laviole is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Laviole, who were in Massachusetts, where another of their children is ill and scheduled for an operation.

Sheriff's officers said young Laviole's wife of a few months, the former Karen Perry, 16 formerly of Watseka, was at the farm with him at the time of the accident.

During the investigation by sheriff's officers, Mrs. Laviole said her husband was in the habit of shooting at targets and birds around the farm and carried a .22 caliber pistol with him.

HE HAD BEEN shooting about the time of the mishap as he went to the mail box. After a moment, he returned to the farm house with the mail and told his wife he was shot. With that she slipped to the floor.

Mrs. Laviole summoned her husband's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Laviole, who arrived shortly after and called the hospital.

Just how the accident occurred has not been determined since the youth has not regained consciousness.

A 22 caliber long rifle bullet entered his chest on the right side about six inches below the shoulder, and traveled downward, piercing the lung.

Sheriff's investigators said there were three empty and three loaded shells in the gun, which had six chambers. Several empty shells were found in the area of the accident.

The after-effects of the shooting edged back up last month to their record peak of last July. And, at the same time, average earnings of factory workers climbed to record heights.

Influenced chiefly by the higher prices for 1959 automobiles, the cost of living index rose two-tenths of one per cent between October and November to 123.9 per cent of the 1947-49 base. This equals the record reached last July and is about two per cent higher than in November of last year.

Reporting this today, the Labor Department said November also saw a sharp rise in factory workers' spendable earnings and buying power. This resulted both from higher hourly pay and increasing work hours.
