Gromyko Says Berlin Could Touch Off War

Tells Supreme Soviet Nuclear Weapon Test Ban Needed

MOSCOW (AP) —The Soviet Union warned Thursday that Western insistence on remaining in Berlin could kindle nuclear war that would reach America.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko continued the Kremlin's campaign to force the Western Allies' out of West Berlin by predictions of nuclear war if they stay. He boasted Russia is well armed for any trouble.

Gromyko spoke at the closing session of the winter meeting of Russia's parliament, the Supreme Soviet. He also urged a ban on nuclear weapon tests without controls which the West considers necessary.

Diplomats in Washington said they found nothing new in Gromyko's speech. There was no immediate comment from the State Department.

If an end is not put to the Berlin crisis, Gromyko said, "the threat will further increase of West Berlin becoming a second Sarajevo."

This was a reference to the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand of Austria-Hungary at Sarajevo in 1914. The incident touched off World War I.

PREMIER Khrushchev has demanded that the United States, Britain and France pull their occupation troops out of West Berlin by June 1, leaving it a demilitarized free city surrounded by Communist East Germany. Western attempts to reach Berlin without East German permission would be aggression against the Soviet bloc, Khrushchev warned.

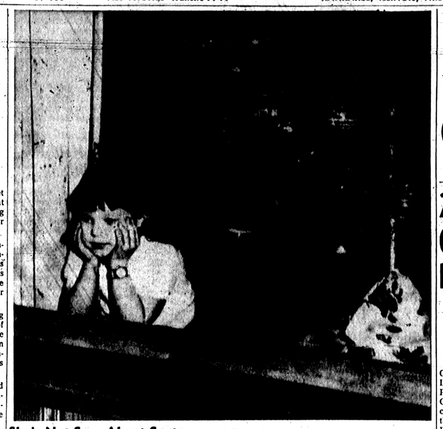
The West has pledged to stick with the 2,200,000 West Berliners, who overwhelmingly vote anti-Communist. It contends East Germany has no authority to control Western military traffic to Berlin.

Gromyko said that "any attempt at aggression against East Germany may start a new big war In which millions upon millions of people would find their death."

"The flame of war would inevitably spread to the American continent, for today's military technique has virtually eliminated the difference between distant theaters of war and those close at hand," he asserted.

The foreign minister added that Russia "has no objection to hearing proposals if the West has any — if those proposals are directed toward solving the problem and are not rejections of our solution."

He again barred, however, unofficial Western suggestions that discussions of Berlin be linked with reunification of Germany.



She's Not Sure About Santa

Julie Kerivan, 5, stares out the window of her Chicago home wondering what happened to all the Christmas presents that were under the tree when she went away with her parents to visit grandmother. A thief had broken in and stolen all of them, but Julie thought Santa had taken them back. Her parents had a hard time trying to explain. She is still wondering about Santa. (Unifax)

Mitchell Social Security Director

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today selected William L. Mitchell to direct the vast social security system.

Mitchell, a 58-year-old government career man who has been with the Social Security Administration for 22 years, now is deputy commissioner. He moves up to the top spot being vacated Jan. 1 by Charles L. Schottland, who is resigning.

Now That Christmas Is Past, Exchangers Have Their Day

The big day is all over.

Throughout the Kankakee area today, mothers gathered up the last torn shreds of Christmas wrappings and urged the youngsters to find someplace to put away their new toys.

Meal planning for the weekend centered around what was left of the turkey or Christmas ham.

Some folks were pondering what to do about gifts of the wrong size and store clerks were prepared for the usual exchange requests.

Most businessmen agreed that, if a customer has his salesslip, he may receive a cash refund, but without a salesslip must take a merchandise exchange or a credit slip for merchandise.

"IT'S BEST TO get started early," according to a clerk—about exchanging, not buying, Christmas gifts.

The stores this morning were not especially crowded, but as the day wore on, the number of exchangites increased.

"Exchangers were mostly women and, with school out, a lot of youngsters were downtown.

In a lingerie department a woman exchanging a nightgown explained, "It fits, but I wanted a different style." At the jewelry counter, another woman said, "The clasp doesn't seem to work."

Unwrapping a candy dish and handing it to the clerk, a woman said, "I like it, but I just don't need it."

In a women's clothing department, an exchanger told the clerk, "We've been married 12 years and we still have the same size," and laughed at herself when she admitted, "of course, my size has changed a few times since we were married.

At a toy counter, "It was just like that when we opened the box." And, at the record counter, a clerk, "Sorry, son, we can't exchange records."

A teenage girl wanting to exchange a metal belt—"Everyone knew I wanted one and I got FOUR."

AT LEAST ONE Kankakee man, whose name is chiefly not revealed, outfoxed himself. He wanted one of those automatic electric blending and mixing devices.

So he bought one, placed it under the tree and wrote on the tag that it was for "the wife and kids." The ending to this story is fairly easy to predict:

One of his presents from the family was the very same type of appliance he had purchased. Now he's hoping that an understanding merchant will provide a solution through the exchange method.

Negative reports, but somewhat unusual, came from Roy Beach, 329 S. Chicago Ave., and Kankakee

OAS Seeks End To Cuban War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several nations of the Western Hemisphere were reported today to be seeking some way to end Cuba's bloody civil strife.

Secret discussions by officials of various countries have been under way for weeks, It was learned, in the hope that a formula can be found. The United tSates is among the countries studying the situation.

Some members of the Organization of American States, an agency of the 21 American republics, recently explored privately the possibility of action by the OAS to end the turmoil in Cuba. The foundings produced negative reaction:

Representatives of several countries said any action by the OAS would be intervention in the internal affairs of another nation. Even if Cuba's government approved the OAS action, they felt, the precedent would be one they would not want to establish.

Diplomats of four nations said they were aware of informal discussions aimed at finding a solution. One U.S. official said "it would not be incorrect to assume that among the sister nations of the hemisphere, disturbed by the dreadful events in Cuba, sincere efforts have been made to find a solution. If a solution has been found I do not know about it. If it has been found I would be unable to mention it because any advance news about the proposal would mean its death."

HAVANA (AP) — Government forces in Las Villas province, in central Cuba, are facing increasing menace from rebels and have been reinforced.

THE FOLLOWERS of rebel chieftain Fidel Castro have intensified their fight against the forces of President Fulgencio Batista in the past few days.

The rebel campaign in Las Villas apparently is interfering seriously with the army's attempt to step up an offensive against Castro forces in Oriente province. Oriente, a rebel stronghold, is at the eastern end of Cuba. Castro has his mountain headquarters there.

The rebels claim that government communications between Las Villas and Oriente are threatened. The rebels say they have taken the cities of Cabaiguan and Sancti Spiritus, commanding the central highway between Santa Clara, capital of Las Villas, and Camaguey province, which lies between Las Villas and Oriente.

Reports from Las Villas say the army has sent in 18 armored units with a total of about 3,000 men to counter the attacks.

LOVE WON'T WASH OFF!

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — H. H. Scott is perfectly proud of the Christmas present his wife gave him — but he's not showing it off just yet.

The gift was a shiny red sports car which Mrs. Scott left with the dealer for Christmas delivery.

She got a wonderful idea. Why not paint a yuletide greeting on the car in white paint that would wash off?

Mrs. Scott bought a can of paint and dashed off to the dealer's. She had just finished painting "Love to Harold" all over the side of the car when a salesman strolled up to see how she was doing. Too late, of course. It was not water paint.

The car will have to be sanded down and repainted.

It May Be Bloodiest Christmas For Drivers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A runaway pace of fatal traffic accidents today brought a warning that this may become the nation's bloodiest Christmas holiday.

The fatal toll from death toll at 1 p.m. was 284.

"There's no indication that the traffic death toll isn't headed for an all-time high for any holiday in the nation's history," a National Safety Council official said.

The record auto toll is 706. That number was killed during the four-day Christmas period of 1956. In that weekend two years ago, accident deaths from all causes numbered 884, the highest over-all total in history.

The current Christmas weekend also is a four-day holiday. The death count while began at 9 p.m., Wednesday (local time) continues until midnight Sunday.

The first half of the 102-hour span brought an unusual number of fatal fires, including several multiple fatalities.

BUT THE HIGHWAY toll was more than five times greater than that in fires. The massive upsurge in fatal crashes came despite emergency efforts of law enforcement agencies to promote sanity on the roads. Many police agencies canceled Christmas days off for their members and assigned them to traffic duties with orders to take drunks from behind steering wheels.

The safety council spokesman said "Virtually every official effort has been redoubled to protect motorists from themselves and other drivers.

"There is only one person who can do anything more to avert accidents. That is the individual driver."

Striking Pilots Ask Clarification Of Peace Proposal

United Press International

Pilots striking against American Airlines today asked the National Mediation Board to clarify its proposal to end their week-old walkout.

Board Chairman Leverett Edwards said he would attempt to answer the request of the Air Line Pilots Association later today.

Edwards offered the "truce" proposal Tuesday. It was promptly accepted by the president of American Airlines. The union took it under advisement.

About one-third of the nation's air carrier fleet remained grounded because of labor disputes.

57 Fire Deaths Mar Christmas Holidays

2 Men Killed On Route 66 Near Braceville

Coal City, Peoria Residents Hit While Discussing Accident

BRACEVILLE (JNS) — A Coal City man, 21, who was a senior at Lewis College, Lockport, and a Peoria man, 51, were killed early Christmas Day near here while discussing a minor accident involving their two cars. While standing on Route 66 a mile north of the Braceville Road, they were hit by a car driven by Rivera Damaso, 23, of Chicago.

The victims were Charles L. Byland, 51, of Peoria, who was believed killed instantly, and Michael R. Thomas, 21, of Coal City. Thomas died shortly after being admitted to Morris Hospital of crushing internal injuries.

The accident occurred about 3:30 a.m., according to State Police district headquarters in Joliet. Thomas was en route from Joliet where he had attended Christmas midnight services. Apparently he and Byland were involved in a minor accident and had pulled their cars off on the shoulder and turned off the lights.

The car driven by Damaso came along and Damaso apparently didn't see the two men until too late, hitting them. Damaso then lost control of his car, hit the Byland car and rolled over in a ditch.

Damaso and a passenger were both injured and are hospitalized at Morris Hospital. Damaso was believed to have a fractured pelvis and head injuries and his passenger, Teodoro De LaRosa, 38, also of Chicago, was being treated for multiple contusions.

Both of the injured men speak only Spanish and state police have been unable to question them and hospital personnel have been unable to talk with them to help determine other pains or injuries. No charges have been filed yet, an inquest has been ordered by W. Clark Davis, Grundy County coroner.

Mrs. Thomas was born Nov. 9, Continued on Page 8, Column 5

Reds, Egypt May Sign Dam Pact

CAIRO (UPI)—The United Arab Republic is preparing to sign an agreement with the Soviet Union for construction of the Aswan high dam. The signing will probably take place Saturday.

A draft of the agreement covering the first phase of construction is believed to have been submitted to Moscow for approval.

Cairo newspapers said the Soviet had undertaken to carry out all the projects in the first stage of the construction. An offer from a group of West German firms will be considered for the second stage.

Thugs Overcome By Christmas?

Part Of Hacksaw, 5 Blades Surrendered

HAMILTON, Ohio (UPI)—The spirit of Christmas proved too much for a group of hard-boiled prisoners in the Butler County jail here Thursday and resulted in the men turning over five hacksaw blades and a half of a hacksaw to the sheriff.

Jailer Larry Binegar said shortly after a religious group visited the jail to sing carols and distribute presents one of the men called the sheriff to his cell and turned over the contraband.

Binegar said he didn't know how the blades were smuggled in, but he and his aides were still searching for the other half of the saw.

HE SAID THERE "are hiding places in that jail that nobody but the prisoners know about." He said the blades could have been thrown to the men through a window but he doubted it.

Binegar also added that It might not have been an entirely joyous spirit that prompted the move. He said the sheriff recently had the television set removed from the second floor as a disciplinary measure.

"We decided that maybe the boys in the second story thought if they were good, the sheriff would put the TV back for them," he said.

Ailing Danish King Rushed Home By Air

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Frederik of Denmark suffered a rupture of a lung in a violent coughing spell during his Christmas vacation, and was returned here in an ambulance plane today and put to bed.

The 40-year-old monarch suffered the injury while at his lodge at Trend in northern Jutland.

Court announcement said there was no indication of a serious illness.

9 Persons Die In Washington Farm Blaze

6 Children Victims Of 2 Tragedies In Pennsylvania

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The gay Christmas holiday period was turned into tragedy for many families across the country as fires took the lives of at least 57 persons.

Nine members of a family of 12 burned to death at the home of turkey farmer Olie Hollenbach near Auburn, Wash. The victims included Mrs. Hollenbach and eight of her children ranging from 4 to 18 years of age. The fire occurred early today.

The father, a daughter of 7 and an 80-year-old woman believed to be his mother-in-law, survived.

Many other persons were injured in flaming dwellings, some critically.

Five of the six members of a prominent Virginia family perished when flames swept their $150,000 mansion in the fashionable Windsor Farms suburb of Richmond early today.

They were Horace A. Gray Jr., 49, director of the West Virginia Pulp & Paper Co.; his wife, Catherine, 47; two sons, Thomas, 17, and Foster, 13; and a daughter, Susan Lee, 19.

ANOTHER SON, Horace A. Gray III, 22, had left the home a short time before the fire.

Two separate Pennsylvania fires each took the lives of three children.

An early Christmas morning fire killed the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Degnan at Wilkes-Barre despite a desperate effort of their parents to save them. The children were Deborah, 4; Donald, 2; and Edward Jr., 1.

At the Pittsburgh suburb of Braddock, three youngsters in the Robert Fletcher family died in flames early. They were Eddie, 7; Cary, 4; and Grace, 2 months.

The 42-year-old father and another child, Willie, 11, were critically burned. Mrs. Fletcher, 30, and other sons of 7 and 8 received less serious burns.

Propose Hospital Plan In Kankakee

A private non-profit foundation should be invited to build a 150-bed hospital for the Kankakee area, a Chamber of Commerce study subcommittee has recommended.

The organization is the Stewards Foundation, which operates hospitals in several other communities.

The study group's recommendation is made in a seven page report which will be presented to the Chamber board of directors during a luncheon meeting Jan. 7.

Headed by James Schneider, the study committee has completed an exhaustive study of hospital needs in the area. The study has been conducted during the past 10 months.

THE COMMITTEE visited and toured five hospitals and obtained information from several hospital agencies, including the State Department of Public Health.

Four methods for securing additional hospital facilities for the Kankakee area were explored:

—Additional expansion of St. Mary's Hospital.

—A hospital built by contributions from citizens of the area.

—A tax-supported hospital built by a hospital district established by voters of the district.

A hospital built by a private foundation.

Committee members learned that after St. Mary's present expansion is complete, the Kankakee area will still have a shortage of 262 "suitable" beds.

"Suitable" beds are those located in fireproof facilities. Because the older sections of St. Mary's and a portion of Hillman Memorial Hospital at Manteno do not meet this standard, they are listed as unsuitable, the report says.

This covers 166 beds at St. Mary's and 14 at Hillman.

The report points out that the state permits use of unsuitable beds, but this permission might be withdrawn at any time.

THE REPORT LISTS in detail advantages and disadvantages of the four methods.

In recommending construction by the Stewards Foundation, the report finds two main advantages to this plan:

1. A relatively low cost to the community.

2. The speed with which such facilities could be provided.

The report concludes with tributes to St. Mary's Hospital and to the Kankakee Valley Hospital Petition Committee for arousing an awareness of the need for additional hospital facilities.

Other members of the subcommittee are C. C. Erickson, R. C. Johnson, Howard McCracken, Dr. Alvin Palow, Jack Radford and George Swaim Jr.

Fireworks Expected On First Day 86th Congress Convenes

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Christmas over, Congress members will start arriving soon for the new session which may open with battles in both House and Senate.

The 86th Congress convenes Jan. 7 with much bigger Democratic majorities than the 85th Congress of 1957-58.

Normally a new Congress gets off to a slow start but this time things look different.

In the Senate, a lengthy fight is shaping up over a move by Northern Democrats and Republicans to curb filibusters. Southern Democrats in the past have used unlimited debate to block civil rights legislation.

Senate Republicans also are embroiled in a family quarrel. A group which views the present GOP command there as behind the times is pushing a rival slate for top leadership posts.

IN THE House, a block of self-styled liberals wants to limit the power of the Rules Committee to bottle up legislation. Under present House rules, that committee can keep most bills from the floor almost indefinitely.

Unless a compromise is reached ahead of time, this fight will be settled on opening day.

Another controversy confronting the House involves the disputed election of Dr. Dale Alford, a Little Rock segregation leader, to replace Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark), an avowed moderate on the segregation issue.

A special House committee recently conducted a preliminary probe of charges that irregularities figured in Alford's election as a write-in candidate. The committee recommended Alford not be seated pending a fuller inquiry by a regular House committee.

Unless the case becomes an out-and-out civil rights issue, Alford probably will be permitted to take his seat on Jan. 7.

These controversies aside, it probably will be at least a month before any legislation of consequence reaches the floor of either branch.

THE HOUSE must completely organize from scratch. The Senate, with two-thirds of its membership holdovers, has fewer organization problems.

Senate Republicans must select a new leader to replace William F. Knowland, who retired from the Senate to seek the governorship of California. He lost that race. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas continues as Senate Democratic leader.

Rep. Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) is certain to be reelected Speaker of the House — a post he has held 14 years, longer than any other man.

Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts will be floored again as House Democratic leader. Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., also of Massachusetts, will continue as Republican leader.

De Gaulle Eyes Devaluation Of Franc

PARIS (UPI)—Premier Charles de Gaulle cut short a Christmas holiday in the country and returned here today for economic talks which are expected to lead to devaluation of the franc.

De Gaulle was closeted with his cabinet's financial and budget experts on his return, a few hours after a surprise decree had shut down financial markets throughout France for the day.

The premier is expected to call a full session of the cabinet Saturday to discuss the situation.

The order closing the markets did not affect the nation's banks, which opened for business as usual. Paris banks reported "no abnormal activity" as a result of the devaluation report.

"None of our clients has shown any nervousness today as a result of these reports," one banker said.

OFFICIAL SOURCES said the markets were shut down to "avoid any inopportune reaction to the decisions which are being studied by the government."

The markets, normally closed on Saturdays and Sundays, will not reopen until Monday at earliest.

Business quarters believed the decisions under study included a 10 per cent devaluation of the franc — from its present nominal value of .24 of a U. S. cent to around .21—perhaps coupled with the creation of a new "heavy" franc worth 100 times as much as the present currency.

The franc was down to .21 of a cent on the free market Wednesday.

Area Music Pupils To Attend State Meet

Kankakee area music students will be among 1,823 from 358 communities participating in the annual Illinois All-State Music Activity at the University of Illinois Jan. 29-31.

Climaxing rehearsals beginning Jan. 29, the Junior All-State orchestra, band and chorus will play a public concert at 8 p.m. Jan. 30 in Huff Gym.

The Senior High School band, orchestra and chorus will start rehearsals the morning of Jan. 30 and present a final concert at 1:15 p.m. Jan. 31 in Huff Gym.

Five visiting conductors and two University of Illinois faculty members will lead the young musicians. They are George Reynolds, Carnegie Institute of Technology, junior band; Sylvan Ward, Chicago Teachers College, junior orchestra; Henry Wegner, Milwaukee Lutheran School, junior chorus; Mark Hindsley, director of University of Illinois bands, senior band; George Wilson, National Music Camp, Interlochen, Mich., senior orchestra; and Maynard Klein, University of Michigan, and Harold Decker, supervisor of choral activities in the U of I School of Music, both senior chorus.

KANKAKEE PUPILS selected for the Illinois All-State Music Activity are:

High School Chorus—Janet Nelson, soprano; Shirley Jean Henry, alto; Marvin Odette, tenor; Bob McLaughlin, bass.

Junior Chorus — Lavelle McKinnie, soprano; Rae Wilson, alto; David Lang and Bruce Fleisher, tenors; and Michael Lang, baritone.

High School band—Richard Johnson, cornet.

High School chorus — Carolyn Douglass, soprano; and Sonya Toliusis, alto.

Grant Park pupils are:

High School band—Carolyn Musman, clarinet.

High School chorus — Richard Johnson, baritone; and John Blanke, bass.

The largest unit will be the senior high school chorus of 821 voices, biggest chorus of high school voices in Illinois history.

The high school band will be composed of 208 members; the high school orchestra, 173; junior band, 175; junior orchestra, 135; and junior chorus, 311.

The youngsters will live on campus in residence halls during their stay at the university.

The Illinois Music Educators Association will hold its annual state meeting in conjunction with the All-State Music Activity.

Yield Right Of Way To Emergency Units: Sheriff

The sheriff's department is warning all Kankakee County motorists that they must yield the right of way to emergency vehicles traveling on emergency calls.

Sheriff Carl Mechlin said he has received complaints that motorists are not complying with a state law which requires yielding right of way to emergency vehicles.

He pointed out that drivers who do not yield are endangering their own lives and those of the persons in the emergency vehicles, as well as possibly delaying aid to someone hurt in an accident.

Illinois motor vehicle laws require that when a driver hears an audible signal, such as siren or bell, he shall immediately drive to a position as close to the right edge of the road as possible and park parallel.

The driver must remain halted until the emergency vehicle has passed, unless otherwise directed by a police officer.

Drivers of emergency vehicles also have the duty to drive with due regard for the safety of all persons using the highway, according to the information from the sheriff's department.

Rites Saturday For Robert E. Appelt, 64

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in Our Savior Lutheran Church for Robert E. Appelt, 64, 478 S. Wildwood Ave. Mr. Appelt, a retired teacher, who died suddenly in the Ottawa Hospital at 6:10 a.m. Thursday after a very short illness.

Friends may call at the Rehn and Kasser Funeral Home until 10:30 a.m. Saturday when the body will be taken to the church. The Rev. L. E. Thalacker, pastor, will conduct rites and burial will be in Memorial Gardens.

Mr. Appelt was born March 23, 1894, in Chicago and was married in 1916 at Dolton. He had been a resident of Kankakee County for 26 years. He was a member of Our Savior Lutheran Church, where he was the organist.

Surviving him are the widow; Meta; daughters, Mrs. Helen Nelson of Indianapolis, Ind., and Mrs. Ruth Smith of Normal; four grandchildren; a brother, Dr. T. C. Appelt, River Forest; and a sister, Mrs. Philip Carlson, Orlando, Fla. His parents preceded him in death.

Says Salvation Army Unable To Meet Requests

Kankakee Salvation Army Capt. B. A. MacNichol told Exchange Club members Wednesday that the Army was unable to meet all requests for Christmas baskets this year.

Reduced income from taveras collections and resale of used articles plus extra requests for grocery orders in early November from more than 70 families with only meager means were cited as some of the reasons.

Capt. MacNichol said that members of the Americ.n Legion who volunteered to man the Salvation Army Christmas kettles were an indication of wider civic support for the Army.

Fay Anderson, president of the Exchange Club, presented $47 to the Salvation Army from the club.

Leslie Gates reported that more than $400 in tickets had been sold by members during the advance sale of the club's annual New Year's Eve dance for teenagers.

Kankakee Infant Dies In Hospital

Brenda Sue Shedd, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shedd, 2642 Meibrook Dr., died Thursday night in St. Mary's Hospital.

The body was taken to Onarga, where funeral arrangements are being completed by the Natterstadt Funeral Home.

Wife's Blonde Doll Gift Traded By Hubby

RACINE, Wis. (UPI)—Warren David got just what he wanted for Christmas. But he had to take it back, anyhow.

He jokingly told his wife he wanted a blonde doll for Christmas. She obligingly placed the order in a request container at a department store.

Christmas Eve, David's package—a giant ribbon-adorned box —arrived. When he opened it, out stepped a blonde, 5 feet, 2 inches tall, measuring 36-24-36.

Mrs. David insisted he exchange the "doll" for another item.

Walter Schultz, 50, Beecher, Dies; Funeral Saturday

BEECHER (JNS)—Funeral services for Walter W. Schultz, 50, who died Tuesday in Ingalls Memorial Hospital, Harvey, will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the Hack Funeral Chapel, Beecher, and following in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Henry Hoffmeyer, pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in the church cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral chapel today and until the hour of the service.

Mr. Schultz was found unconscious following an apparent heart attack at work. He was employed as a railroader at Harvey.

He was born Jan. 20, 1906 in Lansing, the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Schultz.

Surviving are the widow, Louise; sons, Walter of Bloomington and Donald at home; a sister, Mrs. Olga Schaub, Lansing; brothers, Alfred and George of Hammond, Ind., and Arnold of Lansing. He was preceded in death by his parents and three brothers.

Fire Destroys 4-Room Home In Otto Township

Fire destroyed a four room home in Otto Township Wednesday evening while the owner was away from home.

Fire Chief Floyd Dubuque said the house is owned by Paulige Jones Bay, whom he attempted to locate and notify after the fire.

An oil stove apparently exploded and started the fire, the Dubuque said almost burned the building to the ground.

The home is located about three miles north of Chebanse on the Otto road.

Smoke damage was done to the home of Robert K. Johnson, 570 S. Curtis Ave., when an incinerator failed to function properly Wednesday evening.

West Kankakee Fire Chief Leo Desnoyer said a small explosion in the incinerator broke pipes in the burner mechanism, causing the home to fill with smoke.

Condition Of Rural Watseka Shooting Victim Improved

WATSEKA (JNS)—Everett Lavoie, 16, rural Watseka, is reported in fairly good condition today in Iroquois Hospital, having suffered a bullet wound Monday in his chest.

According to the hospital, the youth is showing improvement. He apparently shot himself accidentally while handling a .22 caliber pistol as he walked to the rural mailbox at his home northwest of Watseka.

Lavoie and his 16-year-old wife resided with his parents.

51 Mail Sorters Fired For Cheating

CHICAGO (AP) — Post Office inspectors said today that 51 particular mail sorters were discharged because they paid off a timekeeper to credit them with working in Chicago's main post office when they were absent.

The timekeeper resigned several days ago during an investigation of irregularities, said Robert R. Justus, postal regional director in Illinois.

Justus said it had not been determined whether all the employees will be prosecuted.

Sheehan To Oppose Daley In Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rep. Timothy P. Sheehan (R-Ill) lebeled Democratic Mayor Richard J. Daley "King Richard I" today in the opening blast of his campaign to unseat the incumbent city chief.

Sheehand, defeated last November in his bid for a fifth congressional term, received the GOP nomination Wednesday to oppose Daley in the city election April 7.

"Someone has to make a fight for preservation of the two-party system," said Sheehan, who admitted "reluctance" in accepting the nomination.

Sheehan added that Cook County Republicans promised him "every consideration" for 1960 GOP senatorial nomination depending on his showing against Daley.

Gary Man Slays Man, Self, Wounds One In Wild Spree

GARY, Ind. (UPI) — Kreste Glenzda, 52, was the lone survivor today of a triple shooting Christmas Eve.

Police said his assailant, Metro Planovich, 32, apparently went berserk with a .32 caliber pistol. Officers said he shot Glenzda and Milarod Tomashich, who was killed instantly before turning the weapon on himself. Glenzda was hospitalized in critical condition.

Police said Planovich went to the home of Glenzda and apparently shot him during an argument. He then went to a nearby tavern where he shot Tomasich twice in the stomach and chest, authorities said.

Planovich later went to his home where he was found dead with a bullet in the head.

Car Rolls Over, Driver Not Hurt

Ralph C. LaFaber, 38, 280 N. Seventh Ave., was apparently not injured when his car overturned about 1:30 a. m. today.

The sheriff's department said the accident happened when his car failed to make a curve on the Hopkins Park Road about 1½ miles east of Routes 1 and 17.

The car rolled over and landed on its top.

No Injuries In 4 Accidents Here

There were no injuries in four traffic accidents in Kankakee over the Christmas holiday.

Elbert E. Jowers, 20, Melrose Park, was turning his car onto Main street from Water street Christmas night when he was blinded by the light of an approaching vehicle and hit a parked car. The parked auto was owned by Elburn Carpenetr, 1168 S. Third Ave.

Frank Lee Higgins, 19, of 440 E. Locust St., was fined $25 for leaving the scene of an accident at Schuyler Ave. and Birch St. about 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

He was arrested on the complaint of Terry A. Nehls, 20, of 1077 Calista St. Nehls told police that he was sitting in a barbershop near the intersection when he saw a car hit his parked auto. Nehls left the shop and caught the other car a few blocks away. The driver was Higgins. He was fined by Magistrate Paul F. Davidson.

A westbound car driven by Kevin S. Schultz, 20, of 235 S. Michigan Ave., Bradley, and a southbound car driven by Harley Stubblefield, 26, of 757 N. Chicago Ave., collided at Station St. and Harrison Ave. Thursday afternoon. The impact pushed Stubblefield's car over the curbing and into a yard on the north side of the street.

A car driven by Clay Wilson McKee, 57, Hammond, Ind., was damaged when it sideswiped a truck driven by Cleon A. Gillespie, 34, of 200 S. Broadway, Bradley, on Route 54 near Hobbie Ave. about 12:30 p.m. Wednesday. The truck was not damaged.

Mrs. Barbara McGee notified police that someone hit her pickup truck Wednesday night while it was parked at 792 N. Ninth Ave.

Red Law Passed To Jail Air Violators

MCSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union now has a law calling for imprisonment of up to 10 years for foreign fliers who violate Soviet air space.

The provision is included in a new criminal code approved by the Supreme Soviet Thursday. Sentences also would carry fines up to 10,000 rubles.

The United States says it believes the Soviet Union still holds 11 crewmen of an Air Force transport plane that crashed in Soviet territory Sept. 2.

The Soviet Union turned over the bodies of six crewmen, but repeatedly has denied any knowledge of the other 11. The plane became lost in bad weather. The Soviet Union has denied intercepting or shooting down the plane.

2 Christmas Day Fires Cause $300 Damage

Two Christmas Day fires caused a total of $300 damage in Kankakee. One was in a home, the other in a car.

An overheated stove caused the fire in the home of Eva Payton, 836 N. Evergreen Ave., about 6:30 a.m. Thursday. The stove ignited the walls and ceiling in the building. Damage was estimated at $150.

Shortly after 1 a.m. Thursday a fire in a car owned by Clarence Le-Claire, 2285 E. Maple St., caused $150 damage. The fire was started by a cigaret, according to the fire department. The blaze took place in the 200 block of S. Fifth avenue.

There was no damage in a grass fire in the 400 block of N. Cottage avenue about 1:30 p.m. Thursday. Earlier, firemen were called to 1500 N. Fifth avenue to investigate a gas odor but found nothing amiss.

Solid Support From Electorate

A unique election in the annals of democracy chose General Charles de Gaulle as the first President of the Fifth French Republic. It was unique because, though not a direct popular vote, it was the nearest thing to it in any democracy we know of, not excluding our own. For the 81,285 grand electors of the country's electoral college in effect represented one in 50 Frenchmen.

Our electoral college is made up of the same number as the combined members of the two houses of Congress, the Senate and the House, though they are elected especially for the sole purpose of voting for the President and Vice President. In a close election here, it can happen that a man with the largest popular vote will fail of election because the distribution may be such that the electoral college majority will go to his opponent.

For instance, Lincoln fell nearly a million popular votes behind his three opponents in 1860, but was 57 votes ahead of their combined vote in the electoral college; in 1876, Hayes ran 250,000 behind Tilden but won by one electoral vote; in 1880, Garfield had a lead of only 7,000 popular votes but won by 59 electoral votes; in 1888, Benjamin Harrison led by 4,000 popular votes but won by 65 electoral votes; in 1912, Woodrow Wilson had 1,500,000 less votes than Taft and Theodore Roosevelt combined but won with an electoral vote of 435 to 96; and in 1948, Truman's popular vote was 1,413,000 under his three opponents, Dewey, Thurmond and Wallace, but his electoral majority was a comfortable 75 votes.

The French system made grand electors of all deputies and senators of the French parliament, mayors and city and county councillors, or legislators. They were not elected specifically to be presidential electors, but for their nominal offices as national, municipal and regional legislators and administrators. They gave de Gaulle 78.49 per cent of the electoral vote, dividing the remaining 21.51 per cent of their vote between two others who offered token resistance, a Communist and non-Communist Leftist.

At 68, the hero of the French resistance takes over the presidency January 8 with the most solid voluntary backing of his country of any head of government in the world.

Wake Up And Start Living!

It's time for a lot of us to wake up and live!

Science says we normally operate far below our reasonable capacity. Neurosurgeons say our skulls are crammed with far more brains than we actually need. The average man's muscle is capable of far more work than he gives it in these days of driving to the corner store and sitting all evening in front of a television screen.

One doctor is working on a pill which he thinks can double, triple or quadruple the amount of useful work a man can turn out.

Some experts say we don't realize our potential.

Look around the community. Who does most of the work on local volunteer services, committees, clubs? Almost invariably the people who are busiest in their professions and business.

Activity breeds more activity. Stir up your brains with one job and you find they function better on other jobs.

Physical exercise is good for the thinking, too. Keep the blood flowing through the arteries and some of it is bound to perk up the old gray matter too.

Even people who have had a heart attack are capable of greater activity, the doctors now tell us. That practically eliminates the last good excuse for anyone to shut off his energy and settle down to live like a vegetable.

Russians Give Us Passing Grade

Nine educators from the Soviet Union, winding up a tour of the United States, left some startling conclusions about our system of education. It was not all as bad as the comparisons made by some American educators after they toured the Soviet.

On the bad side, the Russians found the pace of our classroom instruction too slow and the work often too easy. Mathematics problems offered American students no challenge any simpler than those offered similar age students in the Soviet. Soviet students are obliged to take a full course of mathematics—plain and solid geometry, beginning and advanced algebra and trigonometry. Many American students graduate from high school with little or even none of these courses. The average American student seldom takes more than a year of chemistry and physics. His Soviet counterpart must complete four years of chemistry and five of physics, starting in the sixth grade.

On the good side, the Russian educators found generally fine buildings, modern equipment, well-equipped shops, dedicated teachers and broad public interest in education. Our students attend school for 12 years, five days a week; the Soviet student attends 10 years, six days a week. About 90 per cent of all American children enter high school to 70 per cent of Soviet children. Here, 30 per cent go on to college, in the Soviet 20 per cent.

There has been good reason for the speed-up in the Soviet Union. They have had to catch up. We may have to do a little speeding up ourselves to stay ahead.

Average Joe Blow Decides '58 Not Bad

NEW YORK (AP) — The day after Christmas most grownups are as good as they can be.

They haven't the strength to be anything else.

Worn out with the wassail bowl the struggle to put up the Christmas tree, the annual turkey bout, they appease the aching head with aspirin and the rebellious stomach with bicarbonate of soda.

Half the children's new toys were broken the night before, and the other half — including, thank heaven, the drum—will be broken by this nightfall.

But millions of Americans, stretched out on the living room couch and half-listening to a wife humming in the kitchen as she sets about preparing turkey hash, know a strange contentment.

THIS IS THE season when man likes to review the dying year. Joe Blow, the typical American, lying there on his living room couch, might put it this way—if he talked out loud.

"When you get right down to it, 1958 has been pretty great.

"It started the year running scared, but it hasn't been half bad. Not bad at all.

"The guy down the street lost his job, but he got another one three months later, and seems to be doing all right now. Everybody else in the neighborhood is working, too—whether he wants to or not.

"The boss has been pretty good to me. I thought last July he'd skip the yearend bonus this time, but he made it again—although he did say he didn't know how much longer he could stay in business. But he's been saying that ever since I was an office boy.

"THE WIFE SAYS things keep getting higher and higher, and a dollar won't buy what it used to. But looking back, I guess it never did. I guess inflation is a big danger, but I don't see what a guy my size can do about it—except join everybody else in viewing the problem with alarm.

"I thought sure this year one of those double-dome scientists would come up with a cure for baldness and the common cold; but no—all they think about is lobbing bigger and bigger baseballs into space.

"But, anyway, as long as they are busy doing that they don't have time to throw bombs back and forth. We still seem to have a new international crisis every day, and I guess it would be a real surprise to wake up some morning and find we only had yesterday's crisis to worry about.

"So what?' We still got peace, and any year they don't blow the bugle—well, it's a good year."

Manners For Moderns

If you don't understand the name of a person being introduced to you ask to have it repeated. It's better to ask in the beginning than to have to ask later.

And if you'll call the person by name once or twice during the conversation it will help you to remember the name.

Play Politics With National Budget

WASHINGTON — Naturally the "radical" Democrats are disturbed at the administration's drive to cut expenses, and are pooh-poohing the idea of a balanced budget. So they call President Eisenhower's proposal "dishonest" and "political."

Statesmen would comment differently—praising the objective and pledging themselves to carry it out. But the political game is one of taking opposite positions—for opposition's sake—no matter how worthy the objective.

David Lawrence

Sen. Byrd of Virginia, conservative Democrat, reacted as a statesman. He is all in favor of the idea of a balanced budget and will do his utmost to keep expenditures down.

The big question today is whether the administration has overestimated the amount of money that will be taken in during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1959. The government must overcome the deficit of 12 billion dollars in receipts which it has been running during the present fiscal year. First of all the expenses have been cut by $2,200,000,000. This means that somewhere between nine and 10 billions has to be collected in taxes which isn't being collected now.

FROM authoritative sources this correspondent has obtained information on how the receipts were estimated and there is every indication that the treasury has been conservative in its figures. In fact, it looks like a possible cash surplus, provided Congress cooperates in holding expenses down and in voting the postal rate increases and gasoline taxes requested by the President.

The basis for estimating the future receipts is a realistic one. It takes into account that in 1954, when there was a dip in the economy, the recovery movement in the nation brought in far more revenues than is sought now. It is necessary to collect about 10 billions above the 67 billions being collected at present to reach the 77 billions needed for the balanced budget. The gross national output has gone up 27 billions in the last 12 months. This indicates that the recovery movement is comparable to what it was in 1954 and 1955.

Already Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee that handles taxes is predicting receipts of between 75 and 78 billions from existing tax rates. The administration is counting, however, on only 76.5 billions from pervious tax rates and also is expecting about $400,000,000 from the new taxes on special kinds of income such as insurance companies and cooperatives, as well as about $100,000,000 from the so-called user's tax on government services.

THUS, THE GOAL of 77 billions seems to be in reach. All this estimating is predicted on a continuance of the mood of business that has prevailed in the last three months, but there is a psychological stimulus likely in the next few months which can give business an even bigger lift. This is related primarily to the stabilization of prices. Many plans for capital goods expenditures by private business have been shelved heretofore because of the fear of a higher price level. If, however, the budget is to be balanced, money will be more plentiful for borrowers. Likewise, if the administration can make some move to check the irresponsible strikes and exorbitant demands for higher wages, it would hearten businessmen on every side.

It is to be noted that the government's Bureau of Labor Statistics has just announced another increase in the cost of living—a peak for all time. The head of the steel workers union says wages have been chasing prices. But the government's index shows that it is in the auto field that prices have been forced upward. This, in turn, is due to wage demands by auto workers. Also, as the cost of living index goes up, the wage level goes up automatically in many industries. The wage-price spiral is operating now to weaken the purchasing power of the dollar. The consumer index is 23.9 per cent above the average of prices 10 years ago and more than double what prices were in 1939.

HIGH ADMINISTRATION officials feel that a balanced budget is a compass by which to steer in the uncharted seas of inflation and rising prices. Many things the government buys are rising in price and it is hard to keep expenses down when the price level is soaring.

"Any time a nation lets its people believe," said a high official of the government, "that the way to make money is to spend more, and that to speculate is to save, there can only be trouble ahead."

Advisers of the administration today are conservative in their estimates. They have cut needless expenditures and are proposing a balanced budget at 77 billions, but they are providing, nevertheless, the highest amounts ever spent in peacetime for national defense. Will the "radical" Democrats tear it all down next January, and reduce further the purchasing power of the dollar? The responsibility now is on the Democratic majority in the Senate and House which takes over the legislative power next month.

Voice Of The People

CHEBANSE—When death takes a loved one, the person left comes as close to the life after death as the majority of human beings comes while living. A door seems to open and receive him, and then closes in your face. And there is emptiness.

So one thinks, what is this thing called life, which is so energetic and real, but is so intangible and fleeting...when serious illness develops.

For years and years scientists have been trying to find out what causes life, but for all their search-ing in all the years, no one of them has ever found a complete explanation of what life is.

Life seems to be an all-pervading thing, but each individual has his own personality distinct from all others, which no others are ever able entirely to enter. When one dies, something unique in itself has gone.

So one turns to the teachings of Jesus. It is nearly two thousand years since Jesus was born.

During all those years there were people who opposed and attacked His teachings, even violently persecuted His followers, as they do today in many places.

Was Jesus God? There are those who say He was not.

Jesus, seemingly, was only a carpenter's son, yet His teachings have made an impression on people all over the earth, and His power and influence is still strong, though in the meantime famous and powerful governments and rulers have disappeared in all parts of the earth, and have been all but forgotten.

Most of the teachings of Jesus were about the life after death.

By George Sokolsky

President Charles de Gaulle

"L'Esprit De France" is not a fiction. This nation which rises out of its own flames to shine again as the sun of Europe is unique in its quality, not only to survive, which others have done, but to show its greatest strength at its weakest moment.

Five years ago, France was a beaten nation—beaten not only by the external forces of war but by an inner fatigue so malignant as to be the despair of Europe's friends and the hope of Europe's enemies. Not only was a quarter of the nation presumed to be in the hands of the enemy but so powerful were Moscow's servants in Paris, Thorez, Duclos and their associates, that they dragged toward them all the opportunists who thrive on a nation's misfortunes, who devised a thousand little tricks to put themselves in power. So cheap had become the premiership of France that it was a bargain-counter commodity.

SOKOLSKY

BUT AGAINST ALL THIS SAT and waited the personality of France, Charles de Gaulle. He did not join in a single political compromise. He was a country gentleman, one who lived far from the centers of greatness. He knew what France needed; he also knew what France wanted and what was wanted was unworthy. Inflation, excessive leisure, irresponsibility, failure to produce, dependence upon America for subsidies, small things these Frenchmen wanted while mother France lay sick, more soul sick than body sick.

But De Gaulle waited. To speak too soon would be to inflame the opportunists; to appear too early would raise the cry of Napoleonism. Charles de Gaulle waited. Years and years, he waited not to rule France but to save France and to save Europe.

In the circumstances that faced France, such a figure as Charles de Gaulle could only be called when he was desperately needed. The Algerian crisis brought such a day. For what Algeria came to mean was not the independence of a colony or the loss of a trade area. It came to mean the death of France.

THE REASON SO FEW FOREIGNERS understood this was that so many Frenchmen live in Algeria. It is not India, distant, remote, unrelated; Algeria has become part of France; those who live in Algeria vote as though they lived in Paris. Even the non-French of Algeria and Tunisia had, over the years, absorbed so much of L'Esprit De France that they became culturally a mixed people, partly whatever they were before and partly French. And what is so interesting about it is that those who regard themselves as of French origin on this south shore of the Mediterranean were anxious to remain French. They gave their lives in a long civil war for the preservation of France as Joan of Arc had given her for the preservation of France. It is a strictly French concept.

So in the end, they called upon De Gaulle and the vote was as close to unanimous as it is possible to get by any system of balloting. Charles de Gaulle is no Napoleon Bonaparte who seized power and held it by arms until he fell by arms; he is no Boulanger who emerges to take power and disappears; he is not even a Louis Phillippe who brought France here and there to produce a kingdom.

HE SUBMITTED HIMSELF TO THE people's will and the people's choice. For before De Gaulle could serve France, the French people had to accept the consequences of troubled times. They had to discipline themselves. They had to cast aside the enchanting miseries of inflation, non-productivity, economic dependence, political opportunism. They had to accept a serious outlook upon their own times. They had a great lesson to learn from West Germany for instance, for there is a people that went to work.

And so, now, it is President Charles de Gaulle, first president of the fifth French Republic. A new day has dawned in Europe—this may be a turning point, because nations are imitative and if the De Gaulle experiment of accepting hard times as a fact and meeting them with courage brings France forward as the leader of Europe, who can tell what an effect it will have on the rest of the western world? Certainly, the spectacle of turning the Christmas season in the United States into an orgy of strikes is not as stirring an example of national resurrection.

Business Takes Look At PR

NEW YORK (AP)—How business gets along with the public—its neighbors, customers, employes, government officials, press, and stockholders—is worrying more managements these days.

Experts in this gentle art—the public relations consultants—say their business has grown more in the last two years than any similar period.

For one thing, the public is taking more interest in how management behaves. And the investigating eyes of Washington quickly turn their way if trouble arises. For another, in this era of keener competition one company may have management has been slowest to accept.

To be a good counsellor the PR man must represent the public and not be just another employe. He should be able to tell management, "you are doing something bad for public relations; better do it another way."

PR costs can range from $15,000 a year for a one-man PR department to more than one million dollars on some big problem or issue attracting more than usual public attention.

If you are looking for a financial specialist, he should have heavy experience in PR counseling and communications with stockholders, potential investors, and others interested in financial aspects of your company's story.

The authors question the value of quickie public relations. This is when a management gets into hot water and wants to be bailed out fast. Many PR firms shun the term who is "looking for a fixer," the authors say.

The best way for a company to get into public relations is slowly —see to it that trouble doesn't arise. Executives are warned that "the most important and profitable use of your PR dollars is for prevention rather than cure."

Problem In Proper Bidding

By OSWALD JACOBY

Today's hand is purely an exercise in bidding. The problem is for North and South to bid to six no-trump with South as declarer. It should be simple enough, but in practice the actual expert pair that held the cards reached six spades with North as declarer and a heart lead promptly set the hand.

The correct bidding is shown in the box. North is too weak for an opening two bid and opens one club—not one spade. He wants to encourage some bid by someone and while a club bid is practically never passed all around, a spade bid may be.

South's diamond response and North's jump to two spades are almost automatic and South's jump to three no-trump should be also. One South chose to raise his partner to three spades.

After South's jump to three no-trump North might simply leap right to the slam; he might practically demand it by bidding five no-trump or he might use the Blackwood four no-trump to check for aces. I rather favor the use of four no-trump provided the partnership is one that is sure that a particular four no-trump will be read as Blackwood and not a raise in no-trump.

How About Stocks, Bonds, Real Estate Instead Of Money?

Giving To Church Can Save You Money

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

If churches operated like department stores, they would run ads in the papers today pointing out that there are "only five giving days left before the new year."

This is the time of year when foresighted taxpayers begin to brood about the fact that they will soon have to render an accounting to the Internal Revenue Service of their income and their deductions for 1958.

Gifts to churches are tax deductible. They come under a special provision of the internal revenue law which permits deductions of up to 30 per cent of adjusted gross income for contributions to churches, schools or hospitals.

NO ONE IS LIKELY to give to a church solely for tax purposes. Giving always costs something, no matter how high your tax bracket. But the tax deductibility of religious contributions is an added inducement for anyone who feels like making up, with a yearend check, for some of the Sundays when he put nothing in the collection plate.

Here are a few examples of how the tax laws operate to make it easier to give liberally to your church:

Suppose you are married and making a joint tax return. If your taxable income is $5,000 a year, you can give $100 to the church for an out-of-pocket cost of $78.

In the $10,000 a year bracket, the same contribution costs you only $74.

The wealthier you are, the less it costs you to give. Those whose taxable income is $30,000 a year recover, in tax savings, almost half of their religious contributions.

The taxpayer's share gets progressively smaller until, in the relatively uncrowded $400,000 income bracket, he is giving dollars that actually cost him only 10 cents.

Tax savings can be even greater if, instead of giving cash to the church, you sign over some kind of property like stocks, bonds or real estate which has gone up in value since you required it.

THUS WAY YOU (1) receive a tax deduction for the fair market value of the property and (2) avoid having to pay the capital gains tax which would have been due if you had converted the property into cash.

The church, being a tax-exempt institution, can liquidate the property without having to pay a capital gains tax.

If the property you want to give to the church is valued at more than 30 per cent of your income, you can spread the gift over a period of two or more years by assigning fractional interests—one-third, one-half, etc.—each year.

In recent years, churches have been learning to publicize these facts in their building fund campaigns. But the tax laws are seldom mentioned in connection with ordinary giving for operational expenses.

One reason is that most pastors know, from experience, that an overwhelming percentage of the church's financial support comes from the hard core of faithful givers who make an annual pledge and keep it paid up, week by week. Whether their contribution amounts to a tithe, or something less than that, it is the result of a conscious choice about how much they will give to the church during the year. It is not likely to be affected by year-end tax thoughts.

This reasoning, however, overlooks one of the largest potential sources of financial support for churches — the "casual givers" who toss a dollar bill in the plate when they attend church. Many of them, presumably, are sincerely interested in maintaining the institution which they periodically patronize.

Calling their attention to the tax deductibility of religious contributions is one way of getting them to stop and think for a moment about how much—or how little—they have actually given to the church in the course of the past year.

Dr. Anson L. Nickerson, 81, Dies

Funeral services will be at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in Phillips, Friday and Schreffler Funeral Home for Dr. Anson LeRoy Nickerson, 81, 1009 S. Poplar Ave., who died Thursday in St. Mary's Hospital. He had been ill briefly.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p. m. today. The Rev. Glen Sims of the First Methodist Church will conduct rites and the body will be taken to Mt. Hope Cemetery for cremation. A memorial fund has been established for St. Mary's Hospital building fund.

A native of Canada, Dr. Nickerson began his practice in 1905 in Momence and moved to Kankakee in 1919. During World War I he served as a captain at receiving base hospital 52 in France.

He had been secretary of the Kankakee County Medical Society, the Kankakee City Medical Society and the staff of St. Mary's Hospital. Active in the fight against tuberculosis, Dr. Nickerson was instrumental in getting the Bracken Law passed and was a member for many years of the Kankakee County Tuberculosis Society, which he served as president and as secretary.

IN 1953, DR. Nickerson retired from private practice and joined the staff of Kankakee State Hospital, where he served until his death. He was honored by the Illinois State Medical Society in 1954 for 50 years' practice in Illinois.

Dr. Nickerson was born Nov. 20, 1877, in Chatham, Ontario. He attended Toronto University, the University of Chicago and Rush Medical College, Chicago, from where he was graduated in 1904. He interned in Milwaukee General Hospital before opening practice in Momence.

Dr. Nickerson was a member of Kankakee Lodge 339, AF&AM, and was a past master of the Momence Masonic Lodge. He was a member of Kankakee post 85, American Legion.

In 1905, he was married to Laura Chesney, who died in 1941. He was married in 1943 to Miss Vesta Shoesmith, who died Oct. 18.

Surviving him are daughters, Mrs. Harriet DeVault of Honolulu, Hawaii; and Mrs. Helen Walcutt, Olmpia Fields.

Former Cullom Resident, Anton Ringler, 97, Dies

CULLOM (JNS)—Anton Ringler, 97, Marion, Ohio, formerly of Cullom, died Thursday in a Marion hospital following a lingering illness.

Mr. Ringler had been in a hospital in Marion since 1952. He had been a pioneer in farm management in the Cullom area, where he resided until 1925, when he moved to Normal.

He was born in Germany on Jan. 24, 1862, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ringler. He came to America as a young man.

Surviving are sons, Raymond of Lexington, Ohio; William and Harold Cardington, Ohio, and Clarence of Gibson City; a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Parrett of Danville; 11 grandchildren and three great grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his wife and two daughters.

He was married to the former Mary Lochner in Chatsworth on Dec. 25, 1889. Mr. Ringler was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Funeral services will be held in Stewart Funeral Home, Cullom, at 2 p.m. Saturday, the Rev. E. L. Serr, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in West Lawn Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 6 p.m. today.

Find Wreckage Of Crashed Plane In Alaska; 15 Dead

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) — The Air Force planned today an attempt to recover the bodies of 15 men killed when their C54 transport crashed into the side of Mt. Illanna, 130 miles south of here.

A raging storm Thursday prevented a helicopter from landing in the area, but veteran bush pilot Don Sheldon, of Talkeetnan, Alaska, got close enough to the wreckage to positively identify it as the C54 and to say that there was no sign of survivors.

The crash debris was first spotted Wednesday by Air Force planes searching for the C54 which had been missing since Monday en route from Elmendorf Air Force Base here to Shemya in the Aleutian Islands on a routine supply mission.

400,000 Eligible For New Benefits

(Following is the second of two dispatches telling about forthcoming changes in the Social Security law.)

WASHINGTON (UPI)—There are about 400,000 people in the U. S. who are newly eligible for Social Security payments.

The Social Security Administration is trying to locate them to advise them of their rights. They won't get the money unless they file claims.

You, or someone you know, may be one of them.

THEIR RIGHT TO benefits stems from a series of amendments to the Social Security law which Congress enacted at its recent session. Here are the principal groups affected:

Since 1957, disabled workers who are covered by the Old Age program and Survivors Insurance (OASI) program have been able to collect, beginning at age 50, the same monthly benefits they would have gotten had they retired at age 65. About 200,000 disabled workers are drawing these benefits.

Now, for the first time, their dependents also are eligible for benefits—on the same basis as dependents of retired workers. There are about 150,000 of them. But they must file applications at local security offices.

ALSO, THOUSANDS of disabled workers who were previously turned down are now eligible for insurance benefits. The law used to contain two requirements for eligibility. First, the worker needed to have Social Security credit for at least five out of the ten years before he became disabled. And second, he had to show that he had been working at a job covered by Social Security for at least one and a half out of the last three years before he became disabled.

THE SECOND OF these requirements has been abolished. Any disabled worker who was turned down because of it should immediately file a new application.

The new legislation liberalizes the conditions under which survivors' benefits are payable to parents who were dependent on a worker covered by Social Security. Previously, dependent parents were not eligible for benefits if the deceased worker also was survived by a spouse or child. Now dependent parents who survive an insured worker are entitled to benefits regardless of whether other members of the worker's family are drawing survivor's checks.

There are about 60,000 such dependent parents. Social Security is having a very hard time locating them. They must file applications to get their checks.

UNDER THE OLD law, a child must have been adopted at least three years before an insured worker died in order to be counted in figuring the family's survivor's benefits. That restriction has now been eliminated. An adopted child counts like any other child, regardless of the time of adoption.

In the past, disabled children over 18 years of age qualified for benefits as dependents only if it was shown they had been receiving at least half of their support from a retired or deceased parent who was covered by Social Security insurance. Now disabled children over 18 count the same as children under 18 in computing dependent benefits, without any necessity of showing that they got half their support from the insured parent.

Funeral Saturday In Milford For Mrs. Zumwalt, 83

MILFORD (JNS)—Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Stockland Methodist Church for Mrs. Mary Zumwalt, 83, who died at 7:40 a.m. today in Iroquois Hospital, Watseka.

The Rev. James McClarey, pastor of the Methodist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Sugar Creek Cemetery. Friends may call at the Baker Funeral Home, Milford, today and until the hour of the service.

Mrs. Zumwalt was born in Iroquois County on March 4, 1875, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Diggle. She was married to Charles Zumwalt on Feb. 1, 1899. He died Jan. 13, 1930.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Suttles, and a brother, George Diggle, both of Watseka.

Mrs. Zumwalt was a member of the Stockland Methodist Church.

2 Air Hostesses Rescue Woman

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two airline hostesses, one from the Chicago area, raced into a blazing apartment building Thursday night to rescue a panic-stricken 78-year-old woman. But flames prevented them from reaching another woman, who died in the fire.

The hostesses, Janet Siegel, 22, Arlington Heights, Ill., and Nancy Curley, 23, Louisville, Ky., employes of American Airlines, ran into the three-story frame building in Queens when they saw smoke from their apartment across the street. In a second floor room, they found Mrs. Mary Stalker cringing in terror. They carried her to safety.

Returning, they tried to enter another second-floor room, where Ann Brennan, 45, was trapped. But they were driven back by flames.

Cub Pack 114 Receives Charter

Cub Scout pack 114, St. John's United Church of Christ, received its 1959 charter at a pack meeting held last Friday evening.

Bobcat pins were presented to Duane Windmiller and Jeffrey Levin. Arthur Prouty received one gold arrow and three silver arrows on his bear badge.

A chili supper was announced for Jan. 19 at the church. A Christmas party and gift exchange were held. No pack meeting will be held in January, it was reported.

Sore Corn Leads To Loda Knifing

LODA (JNS) — An offended foot corn resulted in a knife slashing Thursday evening in this community.

Being sought by Iroquois County authorities on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon is Jack Martin, 30, Paris, Tenn.

According to the sheriff's office, Harold Reddick, 28, who resided in a trailer court in this community, was severely cut by Martin following an argument set off by the sore corn.

Reddick told authorities he and Martin were discussing the sale of beagle hounds when Reddick accidently stepped on Martin's toe, which had a corn.

One word led to another, Reddick explained, and Martin slashed him near the left eye with a knife. The three-inch head gash was followed by a four-inch slash across his back below the ribs.

The sheriff's office is looking for Martin.

Rites For William Buchmeier, 67, At Monee Saturday

MONEE (JNS) — William Buchmeier, 67, died Wednesday at Silver Cross Hospital, Joliet, following a brief illness.

Mr. Buchmeier was born March 28, 1891 in Monee. He was married. He resided in Monee for the past 16 years where he was a carpenter.

Survivors included the widow, Lillian; daughters, Mrs. Evelyn Beckman, Mrs. Ethel Peters, Mrs. Lillian Miller and Mrs. Luella Wehrmann; brothers, Louis, John, Charles and Edward; sisters, Mrs. Anna Schmidt, Mrs. Emma Schneeweis and Mrs. Sophia Seaman; and 12 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at St. Paul's United Church of Christ here. The Rev. Phillip Krause will officiate. Burial will be in St. Paul's Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Fedde-Helfrich Funeral Home in Peotone this evening.

Rites For Marie Brouillette In Kankakee Monday

Funeral services for Miss Marie Brouillette, 53, of Amarillo, Tex., a former resident who died Monday night will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at St. Rose Church. Burial will be in Mt. Calvary Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Phillips-Friday and Schreffler Funeral home beginning at 7 p.m. Saturday and until the services.

Miss Brouillette was born in Kankakee Nov. 16, 1905. Survivors include brothers, Harvey of Champaign and Maurille of Chicago and a sister, Mrs. George Charboneau of Momence.

Miss Brouillette was the first woman nurse from Illinois to volunteer for Army service at the start of World War II. She attained the rank of captain, retiring after eight years service. She is a graduate of St. Joseph's Seminary here and the John D. Murphy School of Nursing in Chicago.

Spanish Balloonist Plans Ocean Hop; 4 Still Missing

MADRID (UPI) — A veteran Spanish pilot said today he would attempt to cross the Atlantic in a balloon next spring, following the trail of the adventurous English crew of the balloon Small World.

Jose Maria Ansaldo, a director of Spain's Iberian Airlines and an experienced balloonist, said he began making plans for the trip before the Spanish civil war broke out in 1936, and that he hopes to be able to fulfill them next year.

Ansaldo said in an interview in the newspaper Arriba that he would leave from the Canary Islands and follow the same general course as the crew of the Small World.

The three men and one woman aboard the Small World left Tenerife Dec. 12, but no reports from them have been received here since Dec. 16, when their last radio report was heard in the Canary Islands.

A Study Of The American Educator

College Professor No Different Than Average Man

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—The American college professor is a special breed of cat. But he apparently lacks none of the tensions, foibles or tribulations of the average man.

He feels overworked and underpaid; likes his job but thinks it should be better; feels unappreciated and often doesn't get along with his boss. Although the off-campus grass looks greener, he's reluctant to give up the ivy-covered comfort he has.

Surprisingly, money is neither the top root of his troubles nor society's town of his goals. The average college teacher puts learning and intellectual superiority higher than financial security.

THESE ARE SOME of the conclusions drawn in a preliminary report by a University of Maryland research team which spent a year interviewing 1,800 professors, former professors and associates.

They were asked why they became teachers, what they like and don't like about their jobs, and in the case of former teachers, why they quit.

The Southern Regional Education Board financed the study. Work was headed by Dr. Allen G. Gould, psychology professor and director of the University of Maryland Counseling Center.

The study was limited to teachers and former teachers of English, psychology and chemistry—representing the humanities, social and biological sciences and natural sciences, the three major areas of the college curriculum.

While the Hollywood stereotype—tweedy, pipe-smoking and absent-minded—failed to show up, the researchers came up with this picture of the average professor:

He comes from a middle income family, is conscientious and careful, hardnosed and theoretical in his approach to life. He's not the overly friendly type and tends to join very few groups.

The report, touching 158 colleges and universities in 16 Southern states, listed three areas in which immediate and drastic improvements should be made:

1. More money for salaries, classrooms, laboratories, secretarial assistants and for other things which enable teachers to do their jobs better.

2. HUMAN RELATIONS. "... There is an abyss between the teacher and the administrator across which neither can communicate his feelings, ideas and problems."

3. Individual problems. "Some (teachers) are in serious conflict about their goals, occupationally, socially and personally. Such conflicts lead in many cases, to irrational behavior."

Many teachers reported the college administration did not know whether they were really doing a good teaching job but paid lip service to it while really paying off on "academic yardage."

Said one angry chemistry teacher: "I can't get promoted unless I do research. But how the hell am I going to do that when I teach 18 hours a week, have no laboratory and no equipment? I could be a chore-boy for the dean, but I have my self-respect to consider."

Research was one of six main lacks cited by former teachers as reason they left their campus jobs. Others were salary, independence, recognition, advancement and security.

Forty-two per cent of the former English teachers interviewed, 22 per cent of the former psychology teachers and 24 per cent of the former chemistry teachers went to equal or poorer paying jobs.

Only a handful admitted they were fired or quit before they were fired, the report said. Some had been involved in campus politics and found themselves on the losing side.

College President Missing; Think He May Attend Game

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The search for Dr. M. Earle Collins, president of Missouri Valley College, turned to Florida today without success.

His wife notified police at Marshall, Mo., when he did not return home from Christmas Eve church services.

A son-in-law, Jamie Hogue, said the 55-year-old college president planned to leave on Christmas Day for Orlando where the school plays East Texas State Saturday in the Tangerine Bowl football game. "We are not worried about him," he said.

A WESTERN Union messenger and the train crew of the Atlantic Coast Line "West Coast Champion" went through the train when it stopped at Jacksonville today trying to find Collins, but he did not answer his name.

A check with airlines in Jacksonville brought no information either.

At Orlando, Coach Volney Ashford of the Missouri team said he assumed the president was on a train bound for Orlando.

Collins' car was found near the railroad station in Springfield, Mo., where a ticket agent identified a photograph as a man who produced a Frisco Railroad pass for travel to Birmingham. The agent said the man bought a ticket for Orlando.

A search was made of the train at Birmingham, Ala., but Dr. Collins was not found.

Russian Children Turn Mansion Into School

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a handsome old three-story mansion that once belonged to a happy capitalist, children of the Soviet diplomatic corps here are taught the Russian equivalent of the three R's.

Strictly insulated from contact with 50 boys and girls are enrolled at the embassy in a no-nonsense school operated by two Russian women teachers.

Courses run from the first through the fourth grade. Children in older grades are educated in Moscow.

A UNITED PRESS International reporter visited the embassy school after making the necessary arrangements through second secretary Anatoli M. Goryachev.

The children looked freshly scrubbed. The teachers, and some of the girl pupils, wore shiny black patent-leather shoes. All conversation with them was through a translator, Goryachev.

The school appears to run on a strict scholastic routine with no frills save for whatever softening effect may be produced by the old-fashioned decor of the house which once was owned by the father-in-law of the late Evelyn Walsh McLean, owner of the Hope diamond.

TWICE GORYACHEV picked up at random one of the almost identical little briefcases brought to class by the children. In neither case did the owner so much as blink an eye. But Goryachev found no contraband. The briefcases contained no comic books or anything else having a western taint—just the texts, copybooks, pens and pencils supplied from Russia.

The pink and black linoleum on the floor, the blackboards and the school desks contrast with the gold brocade on the walls, the white paneling and the gilt-edged mirrors that grace the old home. Somber pictures of Lenin stare down from the walls of what used to be the drawing room. There weren't any pictures of Stalin.

The school operates on 6 six-day schedule with daily sessions beginning at 8 a.m. and ending at 1 p.m. Each child is given enough homework to keep him busy for an hour or an hour and a half after school.

FIRST AND second graders meet in one room, the third and fourth grades in another across the old entrance hall. The two teachers alternate between the rooms.

In each room, when one grade is reciting, the other maintains complete silence.

In one of the briefcases snatched up by Goryachev, a second grader's, were two copybooks filled with beautifully penned arithmetic and writing exercises, a reading primer, a Russian language text and an arithmetic text.

THE ARITHMETIC problems looked like those you might see in any children's textbook. In Russia as in America 3 times 3 equals 9. But the reading primer had a national flavor. Its topics ranged from the Soviet Army to Russian May Day celebrations.

U.S. Navy Rescues 734 In Morocco

LONDON (AP)—The U.S. Navy rescued 134 persons and delivered food to 3,000 persons in flood-ravaged northwestern Morocco, naval headquarters reported today.

The rescue operation, with helicopters and planes based near Port Lyautey, started on Christmas and continued on a diminishing scale today.

Heavy rains caused flooding of the Ouergha and Sebou rivers. Highways from Rabat and Tangier were closed. Many villages and farmers were isolated.

Japanese Plan April Wedding

TOKYO (UPI) — An imperial household committee has decided that Crown Prince Akihito's wedding to Michiko Shoda should be held sometime between the middle and end of April.

The committee, which is making preparations for the wedding, set the approximate date at a meeting Thursday. The imperial family and the cabinet are expected to approve.

Mikoyan Issued 3-Month U.S. Visa

MOSCOW (AP)—The U.S. Embassy today issued a three-month diplomatic visa to Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan for his forthcoming visit to the United States.

An embassy spokesman said it was understood Mikoyan is to leave early in January for about two weeks in the United States. He will travel by commercial planes.

Mikoyan will be subject to travel restrictions within the United States because similar restrictions are placed on Americans in the Soviet Union.

Satellite Passing Over U.S. In Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atlas satellite for the next three days will make its passes over southern and southwestern U. S. cities during daytime when sighting will be difficult or impossible.

The big satellite completed its 110th circuit around the earth at 9:30 a.m. today.

Firm Withdraws Low Palace Bid

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese construction company today withdrew its offer to build Crown Prince Akihito's new Tokyo palace for $27.7?.

Instead the seven building firms that bid on the job agreed to participate jointly in the construction of the 45-room palace. The building is expected to cost $200,000,000.

The new plan was proposed after adverse criticism of earlier acceptance of the low bid.

Halsey Ailing

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Retired Fleet Adm. William S. Halsey, Jr., 76, was reported in fair condition today at Delaware Hospital.

The World War II commander of the Third Fleet in the Pacific has been here Wednesday from the home of relatives at Greenville after being stricken with a respiratory ailment.

Bodies Sought In Cave Disaster

ZICHEM ZUSSEN BOLDER, Belgium (AP) — Hope has been abandoned for an estimated 12 mushroom farmers trapped in a network of caves and tunnels near here, but rescue workers today were still trying to recover the bodies. Seven bodies have been recovered since some of the tunnels caved in Dec. 23.

French Seize TNT

ORAN, Algeria (UPI) — French naval forces seized 40 tons of dynamite Thursday from the Danish ship Granlian, which was steaming off the North Atlantic coast toward Casablanca. The French navy said the cargo was destined for the Algerian rebel organization in Morocco.

BUT IT STILL HURTS

CORONADO, Calif. (AP)—Retired Marine Corps Maj. Gen. Walter G. Farrell testified he was bitten by a Chinese poodle. He had sued retired navy Capt. Theodore J. Schultz, the poodle's owner, for $100,000 damages. Schultz' attorney contended Farrell was bitten by his own Labrador retriever while separating the fighting dogs. The jury denied any damages.

Brooklyn Artist Makes Huge Hit In Denmark

COPENHAGEN — (UPI) — A boy from Brooklyn, N.Y., who has painted his way into the hearts of Danish art lovers, 'midst the cheers of the critics, is a little astonished by it all. So are the Danes who do not normally see much, or hear much, about American artists.

Warren D. Baumgarten, 29, came to Denmark for the first time four years ago. He has been home since then, and also travelled in France, Spain, Italy, Germany, Holland, Belgium and all the Scandinavian countries, but he makes Copenhagen his European headquarters.

HE HAS BEEN compared by one local newspaper to Van Gogh. And one distinguished Danish critic has likened his work to such modern French painters as Bazaine, Lapique and Vlaminck.

Baumgarten, who has held three exhibitions in Denmark, came to this country, he said, as a guest lecturer at the International People's College, Elsinore. He holds a Master of Fine Arts degree and is planning soon to return to New York to seek a Ph.D. in the arts at Columbia University.

But first he hopes to go to Italy again—"if someone can help me find the money"—to stage his first exhibition outside Scandinavia.

Baumgarten does not look like an artist, at least by Danish standards. A well-built dark-haired man, he manages to look more American than anything else. He has made one concession to European preferences by adapting a pipe. And he confesses to a passion for smoorrebrod—Danish smorgasbord.

HE PAINTS primarily in a style described by Danish critics as partly cubism. He favors dark greens and blues, and in subject matter tends to abstract landscapes and cityscapes.

Baumgarten, asked why he thought Denmark and the other Scandinavian countries have not contributed much to the great art of the world, replied:

"I have a theory about that. I think the reason may be that the artists in Scandinavia do not stand apart from people—or set themselves apart—as artists often do in other countries. Hence, working as they do as part of the community, their art reflects the community, and stays a part of it."

NOW—

Police Capt. George Fredd:

They both received no ties for Christmas.

Police Chief Wallace Flannery reported he got "one of those Perry Como sweaters. You know, real loose fitting."

Near St. Anne, someone helped themselves to Christmas dinner, Frank Giasson, RR 4, St. Anne, reported to the sheriff's department that someone stole a hog from his farm on Christmas Eve.

The 100-pound hog was killed on the farm, dragged about 40 feet, lifted over a fence and loaded into a vehicle.

GIASSON SAID he heard his dogs barking about 11 p.m. but did not miss the hog until Thursday morning.

Christmas passed quietly in the county. Only a few auto accidents were reported, with no serious injuries, up to noon today.

Until that time, no traffic fatalities occurred here despite a heavy toll in other sections of the state and in the nation.

Local authorities crossed their fingers and hoped that the county's record total of 37 traffic deaths this year would go no higher.

So far the most part, Christmas news from the Kankakee area was almost non-existent. In this case, know news was good news.

It meant that most everyone had a happy holiday.

9 PERSONS—

Pennsylvania, Paul Winger Sr., 32, and his son, Paul Jr., 3, perished in their flaming home shortly after eating Christmas dinner. Winger's wife and four other children in the family escaped. A sixth child was away.

Three persons were killed early today in a fire which swept the Admiral Inn, a two-story wooden lodging house at Northampton, Mass.

4 Legislators Without Offices As Congress Starts Maneuvers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Four newly elected House members have no place to hang their hats. In a drawing for office assignments they came in last, and as of today there wasn't enough space to go around.

Reps. John Brademar (D-Ind), Seymour Halpern (R-N.Y.), Robert W. Kastenmeier (D-Wis) and J. Edward Roush (D-Ind) will be cared for eventually, but probably not before the frantic climax of what may turn out to be a hectic game of musical chairs.

The game will be played—some members say fought might be a better word—in the two House office buildings in the first few days of January.

Hundreds of mozes are involved. Moving men will outrank and may outnumber congressmen as departed and retired members move out, hold-over members grab the choice of spots, and 81 new members—including the four who so far don't know which way to turn —take whatever is left.

MOVING DAY in the House Office Building is rugged with the start of every Congress. This time the turnover was bigger than usual. And compounding the complications is the fact that House leaders ordered part of the fanciest, newest, biggest suites withheld from the shuffle.

These offices, all being vacated by outgoing Republicans, reported-ly are to be saved for chairmen of additional committees which so far haven't been created. That means they may not be assigned until the first round of musical chairs has been played — and their assignment may start the whole mad game going again.

Choice of office space among House members is by an elaborate picking order, based mainly on seniority and including appropriate tie-breaking devices for use where members of equal rank fixed an eye on the same space. Low men in the shuffle are the first-timers. This group drew lots on Dec. 5.

Santa's Visit To Tot Makes Him Happy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Christmas wishing face of a little girl in a hospital, her eyes dancing as she waited for Santa, brought home "the meaning of Christmas—love, faith and truth" to a bachelor reporter.

"Her name is Gail Marie, aged 4," wrote James Schurz of the San Francisco Examiner, "and for as long as she can remember her legs and feet have been imprisoned in heavy plaster casts."

Schurz was walking down a corridor of the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children at 9:15 a.m. when Gail Marie, who had been awake since 6 waiting for Santa's scheduled 9:30 arrival, couldn't contain her excitement.

"Merry Christmas," she called. "Come here." Then, in a conspiritive tone: "You'd better wait here with me—Santa's coming."

Santa doesn't arrive by night on a sleigh at the hospital. The children there know well that he comes Christmas morning on a fire engine.

SCHURZ—LIKE THAT — fell in love, and waited.

A trumpet in the corridor heralded Santa's arrival and Gail Marie began trembling. The trembling mounted when seven firemen in full uniform appeared and finally Santa Claus, laden with gifts.

Packages with her name and age held a stocking full of fruit, a Cinderella doll, a coral-tinted telephone and a fully equipped doctor's black bag.

Gail Marie wanted to give the telephone to Schurz because he didn't get anything. He assured her that Santa had visited him earlier and there were a lot of telephones back at the office.

Plugging her toy stethoscope into her ears, she listened to his heart.

"I don't hear anything. I don't think it's beating," she said.

"It was beating all right, Gail," he wrote, "as you may learn when you are old enough to read this. And thank you for a happy Christmas."

Harry To Lecture At Columbia

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman said today he will give a series of lectures at Columbia University next year on the presidency.

The lectures will be similar to ones he has made at other universities.

Truman, during his customary morning stroll, extended wishes for peace and prosperity to the whole world in the coming year.

Truman said he had "a great time", watching his 15-month-old grandson open his Christmas presents at the home of his son-in-law, Clifton Daniel, and his daughter, Margaret.

As for himself, like millions of American fathers and grandfathers, "I got the usual ties, shirts and socks, which are always acceptable and useful."

South Wilmington Girl Has Party

U.S. Railroads Expect Better Year In 1959

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation's railroads bumped along in 1958, but a smoother ride is in prospect for 1959.

The recession bit hard into the earnings of the Class I roads, dropping them to about $550 million from $714 million in 1957. And no great upswing since 1949. And the hike would have been bigger had it not been for a February rate hike and a $58-million retroactive mail pay.

However, anticipated increases in traffic, coupled with continued tight cost control, should lift 1959 earnings above the deflated 1958 figures.

The railroads received some favorable legislation in 1958, but, according to Daniel P. Loomis, president of the Association of American Railroads, it was only "interim action" and the roads will press for further remedial action in the new Congress.

THE PROVISIONS of the Transportation Act of 1958 include Federal government guarantees of up to $500 million of private loans to railroads, and authorization for the Interstate Commerce Commission to permit discontinuance of unprofitable trains and ferries where interstate service is provided.

Little was done, however, to restore the rail industry to equal competitive footing with its rivals, and depreciation allowances were not liberalized. The heart of the passenger problem was ignored, and the 10 per cent war-time levy on passenger travel was not eliminated.

The year 1959 may find fewer railroads on the scene. A merger fever has gripped the eastern roads which have finally realized three are too many lines competing for too little business.

The nation's two largest railroads —the Pennsylvania and the New York Central—have been actively discussing a marriage for about a year. An Erie-Lackawanna-Delaware & Hudson merger also has been studied for some time, and now the Norfolk & Western and the Virginian, five New England roads, and the Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Airline railroads all have started merger talks.

THESE LINES could start a trend that some railroad men believe is the only solution to the railroad industry's problems. Some have said that the nation's 130 major railroads should be mergered into six to ten major systems.

Meanwhile, the huge passenger deficit continues, and many roads are discontinuing lines and stations in an effort to reduce it. But there are some roads, particularly in the West, that are experimenting with means not only ofkeeping passengers but of increasing them. Slumber coaches, package meal-travel plans, off-day tours, and travel-tray meals on coaches, among other things, all are getting try-outs.

Braidwood Carolers Visit Ill, Confined

BRAIDWOOD (JNS)—The seventh and eighth grade classes of the grade school sang Christmas carols throughout the town Wednesday.

They called on those confined to their homes because of illness. Following the caroling, refreshments were served in the grade school by Mrs. Mitchel Ruffino, Emmett Fleming and Lewis Ulrich.

THE LADIES AID Society of the Presbyterian Church held an installation of new officers. They are Mrs. John Renner, president; Mrs. George Bohac, vice president; Mrs. James McCreery, secretary; Mrs. Clyde Samuels, treasurer.

The mystery package was awarded to Mrs. James Patterson Jr. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Craig Kilpatrick on Jan. 15.

MR. AND MRS. Ray Aldridge of Wayward, Wis., are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Scott.

Lewis Ullrich is spending the holidays in the home of his parents in Heyworth. Emmett Fleming is spending his vacation in Penfield with his parents.

Mrs. Donald Bauter's Sunday school class went caroling on Sunday and was treated to lunch in the Sunday school room.

Hold Christmas Eve Service In Saunemin Church

SAUNEMIN (JNS) — The Rev. Daniel Buck, pastor of the Methodist Church, conducted a candlelighting service on Christmas Eve.

Two altar candelabra, gifts to the church, were dedicated. These were lighted by junior ushers Alan Bennett and William Short. Special organ music was played by Mrs. Gladys Short.

MRS. DORIS Koerner, Charles City, Iowa, is making an extended visit at the Methodist parsonage with her son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Buck, and family. Other guests on Christmas Day included the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Buck, Bloomington.

Pope Visits Inmates Of Rome Jail

ROME (AP) — Rome's grubby but celestially named prison on the Tiber unrolled a rented red rug today to welcome Pope John XXIII—the first pontiff in modern history to visit a jail.

The directors of Regina Coeli—Queen of Heaven—jail also took a few precautions, such as sprinkling a few plainclothesmen among the prisoners.

"You could not come to see me," said the supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, "so it is right that I come to you."

The 1,500 prisoners, most of whom were permitted to look down on the Pope from their four floors of cells, cheered lustily and rhythemetically. "Viva il Papa! Viva il Papa!"

They chanted so loud and long ignoring guards' orders to stop, that one guard shouted "shut up."

Superintendent Carmine Scalia, called an aide and whispered: "Remind the guard that they are to follow today's instructions. They must act sweetly."

POPE JOHN made a quick visit to the jail's infirmary and to one wing of cells. He stopped frequently to slip his hand through the bars so prisoners could kiss his ring.

At one cell he asked: "What do you think of my visit here?"

The prisoner replied with tears in his eyes. "It has made today the most memorable day of my life."

"Of mine too," replied Pope John.

The pontiff and his party left an hour and a half after they had entered the jail.

Later it was announced that Pope John had given prison authorities several million lire to buy Christmas presents for Regina Coeli's inmates — Another first. A million lire is worth $1,600.

Fire Kills Woman

EAST ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mrs. Janie Taylor, 65, perished today in a fire that swept her basement apartment.

The cause was not determined. Firemen estimated damage to the one-story frame house at $2,400.

Braidwood Sunday School Classes Hold Yule Program

BRAIDWOOD (JNS)—The United Presbyterian Church held its Sunday school Christmas program on Sunday with the Rev. Albert Ossentjuk as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Donald Bauter's class led the processional, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear." Mrs. Lorraine Sharp's class recited "A Christmas Lantern." Mrs. Raymond Tryner's class presented "Christ Is Born." Mrs. John Ghilain's class presented "The Invisible Box" and "Who Is This?" "Away In a Manger" was sung by the Sunday school classes. Mrs. Ben Valentine's class presented a dialogue, "O Little Town of Bethlehem." Mrs. Doris Bottens' class gave a recital on "Christmas," and Mrs. Emma Kilpatrick's class presented "The Star and the Bible."

Instead of a gift exchange, an offering was given to the missionaries. The pastor presented year books with Mrs. Mitchel Ruffino assisting. Two-year bars were presented to Janet Bone, Linda McCreery, Sharon Jennings, Lawrence Jennings, Rosalee Bohac, Marilyn Jones, Janet Clark, Judy Sharp, Carl Bauter, Sharon Clark, Phyllis Weidner, Philip Weidner, Judy Kay Bohac, Dana Ruffino, Judy Stahl, Susan Bauter, Joy Sharp, Jimmy White, Marie Wilta, Janice Sharp, Sandra Stahl, Debra Ferrari, Bobby Valentine and Merle Elam.

One-year bars were presented to Randy Clark, Donald Schultz, Billie Field and Susan Schultz. Nineteen pins went to Martha Sue McCreery and Pamela Bottens. Three-month pins went to Jimmy Joe Dalziel and Phyllis Bottens. The adults receiving two-year bars were Mrs. John Kilpatrick, Mrs. Billie Valentine and Mrs. Mitchel Ruffino.

The recessional was led by Mrs. Donald Bauter's class, singing "O Come All Ye Faithful."

Altar Guild Holds Tuesday Meeting In Ashkum Church

ASHKUM (JNS) — The Altar Guild of Zion Lutheran Church met in the home of Mrs. Hazel Muehlenfordt on Tuesday afternoon.

The Rev. C. J. Kumpf opened the meeting. He continued his topic, "Is It True" from last month.

Mrs. Kumpf, directress, opened the business session. Mrs. Andrew Schuler, secretary, read the minutes and Mrs. Dave Monk, treasurer, reported.

Miss Evelyn Ziehr, Sunday school superintendent, thanked the guild for the gifts and food provided for the Christmas program.

A "thank you" note from Mrs. Luella Billerbeck for flowers was read. Mrs. Billerbeck will provide flowers for the altar on Jan. 25 in memory of her husband. The flower committee for January will include Mrs. Arthur Anderson, Jan. 4; Mrs. Walter Anderson, Jan. 11; Mrs. Ernest Peters, Jan. 18, and Mrs. Orval Peters, Jan. 25. A motion was carried to allow members of the flower committee to send "thank you" notes to the donors of flowers on the day the member serves on the committee.

An election of officers was held. Re-elected were Mrs. C J Kumpf, directress; Mrs. Hazel Muehlenfordt, assistant directress; Mrs. Andrew Schuler, secretary; Mrs. Dave Monk, treasurer; Mrs. Ivan Johnson and Mrs. Ed Tholen, laundresses; Mrs. Ernest Peters, reporter.

A gift exchange was held and refreshments were served by the hostess with Mrs. Orval Peters as co-hostess.

SEVEN MEMBERS of the Junior Catholic Daughters of America and five guests, with Mrs. Leland Hubert as counselor, went caroling Monday night.

Guests included Madeline Gillespie, Sharon Lawson, Ruth Petersen, Linda Phelps and June Helton. Following the caroling, the girls went to the Hubert home for lunch and held a Christmas gift exchange. Members received gifts from their mystery pals and guests had a grab bag.

Hour Glass, Candles Set Mood For New Year Buffet

By GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Food and Markets Editor

Happy New Year! Have lots of fun as the old year passes and the infant 1959 steps over the threshold. Of course, a gayly decorated buffet table belongs in this picture, plus good substantial food that's easy to serve and easy to eat.

Your stationer has a tall hour glass come New Year's emblems to be strung inside or placed around it—a clock, a miniature Father Time with golden sickle, a mask. Nine tall red candles in a stand decorated by Christmas greens add more charm to the buffet. Almost unbreakable melamine dinnerware in rainbow pattern adds gaiety, too, also banishes worry over breakage.

New Year's Day, of course, means eggnog parties. So let's collect a recipe or two from experts of the National Dairy Council suggest these:

A Simple Pleasing Eggnog
(Serves 18 half-cup portions)

Five eggs, separated; ½ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup sugar, 1 pint heavy cream, chilled and whipped; 1 pint milk, chilled; 2 teaspoons rum extract, nutmeg.

Beat egg whites until fluffy; add salt; continue beating until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add sugar beating until stiff. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored; fold into egg whites. Fold egg mixture and whipped cream into milk and rum extract until blended. Pour into chilled punch bowl. Sprinkle with nutmeg.

Almond Eggnog
(Serves about 16 half-cup portions)

Six eggs, separated; ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup sugar, 6 cups milk, scalded; 1 tablespoon almond flavoring, 1 tablespoon vanilla, few grains nutmeg, slivered almonds.

Beat egg yolks until light; add salt and sugar; blend. Add hot milk. Cool and add flavorings. Set in refrigerator several hours to chill thoroughly. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold into mixture. Pour into cups. Sprinkle with a few grains nutmeg and slivered almonds.

These eggnogs can be flavored with rum, brandy, bourbon or blended whisky, or with nothing more high-spirited than vanilla.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Hamburger patties, pickle relish, cream of potatoes, canned peas, split and toasted rolls, butter or margarine, canned fruit, oatmeal nut cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

Reds Broadcast Yule Message

LONDON (UPI) — The officially atheistic Soviet Union broadcast a religious Christmas message Thursday.

Alexander Karev, head of the Union of Baptists of the USSR, delivered the Christmas message to Britain over Moscow radio.

"My best wishes at this joyous Christmas season to all the people of Britain on behalf of the Union of Baptists of my country," Karev said.

The angels in Bethlehem who sang the wonderful song of peace at the birth of Jesus Christ remind the faithful to pray earnestly for world peace and do all they can to build that peace," he said.

The reference to Jesus was unusual for Moscow radio, which usually echoes the official Soviet line that Jesus never existed and that stories about him are pure capitalistic mythology.

Gun-Toting Dad Admits Killing Tot

CHICAGO (UPI) — Police today held a cowboy-fancying laborer who they said admitted accidentally killing his infant son while practicing fast draws in the family's gaily decorated apartment.

Dead was 14-month-old Wyatt Earp Bender, named after the legendary western marshal.

The baby's father, Jack, 25, kept while, telling police how his cowboy ambitions killed his son.

Bender told Police Lt. John McInery he donned a 10-gallon hat Christmas Eve and began fastdrawing with a .22 caliber Buntline Special pistol, while little Wyatt Earp played on the floor with his father's .32 caliber pistol.

BENDER SAID HE had clicked the trigger several times, thinking the gun was unloaded, when the pistol suddenly fired. Wyatt Earp, who had toddled into the line of fire, was struck in the abdomen.

Bender, a furnace installer and father of five, had a collection of 22 guns, police said. The apartment's walls were punctured with 75 bullet holes.

McInery said the soubing father appeared drinking there or four quarts of beer before shooting Wyatt Earp.

Scientists Hold Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top scientists gathered today to swap ideas and report developments that could have great significance as the world races into the space age.

One advance reported indicated that U.S. weaponeers may have come up with a new type of H-bomb—a lithium bomb packing a hydrogen-explosion punch at lower cost.

The report stemmed from observation of a strange air glow over the antarctic. This glow and a man-made aurora, the first ever sighted, were believed linked to U.S. atomic blasts last summer in the South Pacific.

The observation came during the 18-month International Geophysical Year, now drawing to a close.

IGY doings and other topics were among the 1,800 reports listed for presentation at the 125th meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Top speakers included President Eisenhower's science adviser, Dr. James R. Killian; the association president, Dr. Wallace R. Brode; an the British biologist-writer Julian Huxley.

HUGH ODISHAW, executive director of the U.S. National Committee of the IGY, told about the lithium discovery in reporting on IGY highlights in the Journal of "Science." The IGY is scheduled to end Dec. 31.

Odishaw said an everslde glow in the south polar skies had been spotted with sensitive instruments. The glow was attributed to lithium in the high atmosphere, not previously known to be there.

A plain inference is that these new manifestations (the lithium glow) could be related to nuclear tests carried out during the same period as the IGY program," Odishaw said.

The United States conducted high altitude nuclear tests in the Pacific last August.

The Atomic Energy Commission declined to say whether it uses lithium, but some other scientists theorized that the antarctic glow means the AEC has found a less expensive H-bomb.

Bishop Oxnam Hurt In Cab Accident

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, injured in a taxicab mishap Wednesday, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Roosevelt Hospital.

The 67-year-old bishop, the top-ranking official of the Methodist Church, received a fractured left arm and head cut when his overcoat became caught in a taxi door and he was dragged to the curb.

4 Legislators Without Offices As Congress Starts Maneuvers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Four newly elected House members have no place to hang their hats. In a drawing for office assignments they came in last, and as of today there wasn't enough space to go around.

Reps. John Brademas (D-Ind), Seymour Halpern (R-N.Y.), Robert W. Kastenmeier (D-Wis) and E. Edward Rousb (D-Ind) will be cared for eventually, but probably not before the frantic climax of what may turn out to be a hectic game of musical chairs.

The game will be played—some members say fought might be a better word—in the two House office buildings in the first few days in January.

Hundreds of moves are involved. Moving men will outrank and may outnumber congressmen as defeated and retired members move out, hold-over members grab choice oi spots, and 81 new members—including the four who so far don't know which way to turn —take whatever is left.

MONDAY in the House Office Building is rugged with the start of every Congress. This time the turnover was bigger than usual. And compounding the complications is the fact that House leaders ordered four of the fanciest, choicest, biggest suites withheld from the shuffle.

These offices, all being vacated by outgoing Republicans, reported-ly are to be saved for chairmen of additional committees which so far haven't even been created. That means they may not be assigned until the first round of musical chairs has been played — and their assignment may start the whole mad game going again.

Choice of office space among House members is by an elaborate picking order, based mainly on seniority and including appropriate tie-breaking devices for use where members of equal rank fixed an eye on the same space. Low men in the shuffle are the first-timers. This group drew lots on Dec. 5.

Santa's Visit To Tot Makes Him Happy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Christmas morning face of a little girl in a hospital, her eyes dancing as she waited for Santa, brought home the meaning of Christmas—love, faith and truth" to a bachelor reporter.

"Her name is Gail Marie, aged 4," wrote James Schurz of the San Francisco Examiner, "and for as long as she can remember her legs and feet have been imprisoned in heavy plaster casts."

Schurz was walking down a corridor of the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children at 9:15 a.m. when Gail Marie, who had been awake since 6 waiting for Santa's scheduled 9:30 arrival, couldn't contain her excitement.

"Merry Christmas," she called. "Come here!" Then, in a conspirative tone: "You'd better wait here with me—Santa's coming."

Santa doesn't arrive by night on a sleigh at the hospital. The 60 children there know well that he comes Christmas morning on a fire engine.

SCHURZ—LIKE THAT — fell in love, and waited.

A trumpet in the corridor heralded Santa's arrival and Gail Marie began trembling. The trembling mounted when seven firemen in full uniform appeared and finally Santa Claus, laden with gifts.

Packages with her name and age held a stocking full of fruit, a Cinderella doll, a coordinated telephone and a fully equipped doctor's black bag.

Gail Marie wanted to give the telephone to Schurz because he didn't get anything. He assured her that Santa had visited him earlier and there were a lot of telephones back at the office.

Hugging her toy stethoscope into her ears, she listened to his heart.

"I don't hear anything. I don't think it's beating," she said.

"It was beating all right, Gail," he wrote, "as you may learn when you are old enough to read this. And thank you for a happy Christmas."

Harry To Lecture At Columbia

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman said today he will give a series of lectures at Columbia University next year on the presidency.

The lectures will be similar to ones he has made at other universities.

Truman, during his customary morning stroll, extended wishes for peace and prosperity to the whole world in the coming year.

Truman said he had "a great time", watching his 18-month-old grandson open his Christmas presents at the home of his son-in-law, Clifton Daniel, and his daughter, Margaret.

As for himself, like millions of American fathers and grandfathers, "I got the usual ties, shirts and socks, which are always acceptable and useful."

South Wilmington Girl Has Party

SOUTH WILMINGTON (JNS)—Lynn Marie Vota celebrated her birthday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Vota, on Saturday evening.

A social period was held and refreshments were served, featuring a birthday cake. The honored guest received gifts and cards.

Royal Neighbors Of S. Wilmington Elect Officers

SOUTH WILMINGTON (JNS)—Officers were elected Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Royal Neighbors of America.

Elected were Miss Marie Tordelli, oracle; Mrs. W. H. Ulbrich, vice oracle; Mrs. Thomas Britton, past oracle; Mrs. Clinton Jones, chancellor; Mrs. David Gaddo, receiver; Mrs. Frances Ulbrich, Mrs. Josephine Purdy, marshal; Mrs. Lena Cornale, assistant Marshal; Mrs. Mary Allen, inner sentinel; Mrs. Olympia Berta, outer sentinel; Mrs. Joseph Gaddo, Mrs. Cyril Finn and Mrs. Mary Jerbi, managers.

In the social period following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Clinton Jones, Mrs. W. H. Ulbrich and Mrs. Olympia Berta.

Mrs. Cyril Finn received a special award. An installation of officers will be held at the next meeting, Jan. 27, with Mrs. David Gaddo as installing officer.

Martinton Church School Presents Yuletide Program

MARTINTON (JNS)—A Christmas program of songs and recitations was presented by the Sunday school children Sunday night in the Church of Christ.

The program was announced by the pastor, Gene Hoke. Mrs. Harry Morrison, Mrs. Robert McCutchan and Mrs. Harold McGill arranged and directed the program presentation. Miss Linda Morrison did the prompting.

After the program, the congregation joined in singing of Christmas carols. Treats were given to everyone present. Mr. Hoke and a group from the church went caroling after the program.

MR. AND MRS. James Davis were hosts to approximately 20 relatives at a pre-Christmas dinner party in their home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hoke and children and Miss Mary McDaniels have gone to Flora for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. George McDaniels.

Spend Vacation In S. Wilmington

SOUTH WILMINGTON (JNS)—Several South Wilmington students are visiting their homes here over the holidays.

Included are Miss Donna Constantine, Don Gaddo, Marvin and Melvin Smith, Robert Zanello and Melvin Cassetto, students at Illinois State Normal University. Larry Grigilone of the School of Mines, Rolla, Mo., and Larry Residori the University of Illinois.

MRS. MARY Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Zerbogiio and Mrs. Lester Allen were in Chicago Saturday to attend the 25th wedding anniversary party for Mr. and Mrs. William Boustead. Mrs. Boustead is the former Lucille Walker, daughter of Mrs. Lena Walker and the late Hugh Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Glynn left Wednesday for St. Petersburg, Fla., to spend the holiday vacation.

Mrs. David Holden is in Silver Cross Hospital, Joliet, following injuries suffered when she fell leaving the hospital, where her husband is a patient.

The village officials announced the deadline for purchasing vehicle tax stickers is Jan. 31.

U.S. Railroads Expect Better Year In 1959

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation's railroads bumped along in 1958, but a smoother ride is in prospect for 1959.

The recession bit hard into the earnings of the Class I roads, dropping them to about $550 million from $656 million in 1957, and to-prost showing since 1949. And the bite would have been bigger had it not been for a February rate hike and a $58-million retroactive mail pay.

However, anticipated increases in traffic, coupled with continued tight cost control, should lift 1959 earnings above the deflated 1958 figures.

The railroads received some favorable legislation in 1958, but, according to Daniel P. Loomis, president of the Association of American Railroads, it was only "interim action" and the roads will press for further remedial action in the new Congress.

THE PROVISIONS of the Transportation Act of 1958 include Federal government guarantees of up to $500 million of private loans to railroads, and authorization for the Interstate Commerce Commission to permit discontinuance of unprofitable trains and ferries where interstate service is provided.

Little was done, however, to restore the rail industry to equal competitive footing with its rivals, and depreciation allowances were not liberalized. The heart of the passenger problem was ignored, and the 10 per cent war-time levy on passenger travel was not eliminated.

The year 1959 may find fewer railroads on the scene. A merger fever has gripped the eastern roads which have finally realized three or too many lines competing for too little business.

The nation's two largest railroads —the Pennsylvania and the New York Central—have been actively discussing a merger for almost a year. An Erie-Lackawanna-Delaware & Hudson merger also has been studied for some time, and now the Norfolk & Western and the Virginian, five New England roads, and the Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Airline railroads all have started merger talks.

THESE LINES could start a trend that some railroad men believe is the only solution to the railroad industry's problems. Some have said that the nation's 130 major railroads should be merger-ed into six to ten major systems.

Meanwhile, the huge passenger deficit continues, and many roads are discontinuing lines and stations in an effort to reduce it. But there are some roads, particularly in the West, that are experimenting with means not only ofkeeping passengers but of increasing them. Slumber coaches, package meal-travel plans, off-day tours, and travel-tray meals on coaches, among other things, all are getting try-outs.

Braidwood Carolers Visit Ill, Confined

BRAIDWOOD (JNS)—The seventh and eighth grade classes of the grade school sang Christmas carols throughout the town Wednesday.

They called on those confined to their homes because of illness. Following the caroling, refreshments were served in the grade school by Mrs. Mitchel Ruffino, Emmett Fleming and Lewis Uhrich.

THE LADIES AID Society of the Presbyterian Church held an installation of new officers. They are Mrs. John Renner, president; Mrs. George Bohac, vice president; Mrs. James McCreery, secretary; Mrs. Clyde Samuels, treasurer.

The mystery package was awarded to Mrs. James Patterson Jr. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Craig Kilpatrick on Jan. 15.

MR. AND MRS. Ray Aldridge of Wayward, Wis., are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Scott.

Lewis Ullrich is spending the holidays in the home of his parents in Heyworth. Emmett Fleming is spending his vacation in Penfield with his parents.

Mrs. Donald Bauter's Sunday school class went caroling on Sunday and was treated to lunch in the Sunday school room.

Hold Christmas Eve Service In Saunemin Church

SAUNEMIN (JNS) — The Rev. Daniel Buck, pastor of the Methodist Church, conducted a candle-lighting service on Christmas Eve.

Two altar candelabra, gifts to the church, were dedicated. These were lighted by junior ushers Alan Bennett and William Short. Special organ music was played by Mrs. Gladys Short.

MRS. DORIS Koerner, Charles City, Iowa, is making an extended visit at the Methodist parsonage with her son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Buck, and family. Other guests on Christmas Day included the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Buck, Bloomington.

Pope Visits Inmates Of Rome Jail

ROME (AP) — Rome's grubby but celestially named prison on the Tiber unrolled a rented red rug today to welcome Pope John XXIII—the first pontiff in modern history to visit a jail.

The directors of Regina Coeli—Queen of Heaven—jail also took a few precautions, such as sprinkling a few plainclothesmen among the prisoners.

"You could not come to see me," said the supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, "so it is right that I come to you."

The 1,500 prisoners, most of whom were permitted to look down on the Pope from their four floors of cells, cheered lustily and rhythmetically, "Viva il Papa! Viva il Papa!"

They chanted so loud and long ignoring guards' orders to stop, that one guard shouted "shut up."

Superintendent Carmine Scalia, called an aide and whispered: "Remind the guard that they are to follow today's instructions. They must act sweetly."

The prisoner replied with tears in his eyes. "It has made today the most memorable day of my life," he said.

"Of mine too," replied Pope John.

The pontiff and his party left an hour and a half after they had entered the jail.

Later it was announced that Pope John had given prison authorities several million lire to buy Christmas presents for Regina Coeli's inmates — Another first. A million lire is worth $1,600.

Fire Kills Woman

EAST ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mrs. Janie Taylor, 65, perished today in a fire that swept her basement apartment.

The cause was not determined. Firemen estimated damage to the one-story frame house at $2,400.

Braidwood Sunday School Classes Hold Yule Program

BRAIDWOOD (JNS)—The United Presbyterian Church held its Sunday school Christmas program on Sunday with the Rev. Albert Osseniuk as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Donald Bauter's class led the processional, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear." Mrs. Lorraine Sharp's class recited "A Christmas Lesson." Mrs. Raymodd Tryon's class presented "Christ Is Born." Mrs. John Ghilain's class presented "The Invisible Box" and "Who Is This? Away In a Manger" was sung by the Sunday school classes. Mrs. Billie Valentine's class presented a dialogue, "O Little Town of Bethlehem." Mrs. Doris Bottens' class gave a recitation, "Christmas," and Mrs. Emma Kilpatrick's class presented "The Star and the Bible."

Instead of a gift exchange, an offering was given to the missionaries. The pastor presented year pins, with Mrs. Mitchel Ruffino receiving a two-year pin and presented to Janet Bone, Linda McCreery, Sharon Jennings, Lawrence Jennings, Rosalee Bohac, Marilyn Jones, Janet Clark, Judy Sharp, Carl Bauter, Sharon Clark, Phyllis Weidner, Philip Weidner, Judy Kay Bohac, Dana Ruffino, Judy Stahl, Susan Bauter, Joy Sharp, Jimmy White, Marie Wita, Janice Sharp, Sandra Stahl, Debra Ferrari, Bobby Valentine and Merle Elam.

One-year bars were presented to Randy Clark, Donald Billefield, Billie Field and Susan Schultz. Nine-month pins went to Martha Sue McCreery and Pamela Bottens. Three-month pins went to Jimmy Joe Dalziel and Phyllis Bottens. The adults receiving two-year bars were Mrs. John Kilpatrick, Mrs. Willie Valentine and Mrs. Mitchel Ruffino.

The recessional was led by Mrs. Donald Bauter's class, singing "O Come All Ye Faithful,"

Altar Guild Holds Tuesday Meeting In Ashkum Church

ASHKUM (JNS) — The Altar Guild of Zion Lutheran Church met in the home of Mrs. Hazel Muehlenpfordt on Tuesday afternoon.

The Rev. C. J. Kumpf opened the meeting. He continued his topic, "Is It True" from last month.

Mrs. Kumpf, directress, opened the business session. Mrs. Andrew Schuler, secretary, read the minutes and Mrs. Dave Monk, treasurer, reported.

Miss Evelyn Ziehr, Sunday school superintendent, thanked the guild for the angel robes provided for the Christmas program.

A "thank you" note from Mrs. Luella Billerbeck for flowers was read. Mrs. Billerbeck will provide flowers for the altar on Jan. 25 in memory of her husband. The flower committee for January will include Mrs. Arthur Anderson, Jan. 4, Mrs. Walter Anderson, Jan. 11; Mrs. Ernest Peters, Jan. 18, and Mrs. Orval Peters, Jan. 25. A motion was carried to allow members of the flower committee to send "thank you" notes to the donors of flowers on the day the member serves on the committee.

An election of officers was held. Re-elected were Mrs. C J Kumpf, directress; Mrs Hazel Muehlenpfordt, assistant directress; Mrs Andrew Schuler, secretary; Mrs. Dave Monk, treasurer; Mrs. Tony Johnson and Mrs. Ed Tholen, laundresses; Mrs. Ernest Peters, reporter.

A gift exchange was held and refreshments were served by the hostess with Mrs. Orval Peters as co-hostess.

SEVEN MEMBERS of the Junior Catholic Daughters of America and five guests, with Mrs. Leland Hubert as counselor, went caroling Monday night.

Guests included Madeline Gillespie, Sharon Lawson, Ruth Petersen, Linda Phelps and June Helton. Following the caroling, the girls went to the Hubert home for lunch and held a Christmas gift exchange. Members received gifts from their mystery pals and guests had a grab bag.

Hour Glass, Candles Set Mood For New Year Buffet

By GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Food and Markets Editor

Happy New Year! Have lots of fun as the old year passes and the infant 1959 steps over the threshold. Of course, a gayly decorated buffet table belongs in this picture, plus good substantial food that's easy to serve and easy to eat.

Your stationer has a tall hour glass to time and trim. With the hour glass come New Year's emblems to be strung inside or placed around the cake, a miniature Father Time with golden sickle, a mask. Nine tall red candles in a stand decorated by Christmas greens add more charm to the buffet. Almost unbreakable melamine dinnerware in rainbow pattern adds gaiety, too, also banishes worry over breakage.

New Year's Day, of course, means eggnog parties. So let's collect a recipe or two, a keen favorite of the National Dairy Council suggest these:

A Simple Pleasing Eggnog
(Serves 16 half-cup portions)

Five eggs, separated; ¾ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup sugar, 1 pint heavy cream, chilled and whipped; 1½ cups milk, chilled; 2 teaspoons rum extract, nutmeg.

Beat egg whites until moist; add salt; continue beating until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add sugar beating until stiff. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored; fold into egg whites. Fold egg mixture and whipped cream into milk and rum extract until blended. Pour into chilled punch bowl. Sprinkle with nutmeg.

Almond Eggnog
(Serves about 16 half-cup portions)

Six eggs, separated; ¾ teaspoon salt, ½ cup sugar, 6 cups milk, scalded; 1 tablespoon almond flavoring, 1 tablespoon vanilla, few grains nutmeg, slivered almonds.

Beat egg yolks until light; add salt and sugar; blend. Add hot milk. Cool and add flavorings. Set in refrigerator several hours to chill thoroughly. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold into mixture. Pour into cups. Sprinkle with a few grains nutmeg and slivered almonds.

These eggnogs can be flavored with rum, brandy, bourbon or blended whisky, or with nothing more high-spirited than vanilla.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Hamburger patties, pickle relish, creamed potatoes, canned peas, split and toasted rolls, butter or margarine, canned fruit, oatmeal nut cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

Reds Broadcast Yule Message

LONDON (UPI) — The officially atheistic Soviet Union broadcast a religious Christmas message Thursday.

Alexander Karev, head of the Union of Baptists of the USSR, delivered the Christmas message to Britain over Moscow radio.

"My best wishes at this joyous Christmas season to all the people of Britain on behalf of the Union of Baptists of my country," Karev said.

"The angels in Bethlehem who sang the wonderful song of peace at the birth of Jesus Christ remind the faithful to pray earnestly for world peace and do all they can to build that peace," he said.

The reference to Jesus was unusual for Moscow radio, which usually echoes the official Soviet line that Jesus never existed and that stories about him are pure capitalistic mythology.

Gun-Toting Dad Admits Killing Tot

CHICAGO (UPI) — Police today held a cowboy-fancying laborer who they said admitted accidentally killing his infant son while practicing fast draws in the family's gayly decorated apartment.

Dead was 14-month-old Wyatt Earp Bender, named after the legendary western marshal.

The baby's father, Jack, 29, wept while telling police how his cowboy ambitions killed his son.

Bender told Police Lt. John McInery he donned a 10-gallon hat Christmas Eve and began fast-drawing with a .22 caliber Bunline Special pistol, while little Wyatt Earp played on the floor with his father's .32 caliber pistol.

BENDER SAID HE had clicked the trigger several times, thinking the gun was unloaded, when the pistol suddenly fired. Wyatt Earp, who had toddled into the line of fire, was struck in the abdomen.

Bender, a furnace installer and father of five, had a collection of 22 guns, police said. The apartment's walls were punctured with 75 bullet holes.

McInery said the soobing father admitted drinking three or four quarts of beer before shooting Wyatt Earp.

Has Second Child On Christmas Day

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Mrs. Carol Stamps Kinnebrew, who was born on Christmas Day, gave birth to her second child on Thursday — one year to the day after her first child was born.

Scientists Hold Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top scientists gathered today to swap ideas and report developments that could have great significance as the world races into the space age.

One advance report indicated that U.S. weaponeers may have come up with a new type of H-bomb—a lithium bomb packing a hydrogen-explosion punch at lower cost.

The report stemmed from observation of a strange air glow over the antarctic. This glow and a man-made aurora, the first ever sighted, were believed linked to U.S. atomic blasts last summer in the South Pacific.

The observation came during the 18-month International Geophysical Year, now drawing to a close.

IGY doings and other topics were among the 1,500 reports listed for presentation at the 125th meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Top speakers included President Eisenhower's science adviser, Dr. James R. Killian; the association president, Dr. Wallace R. Brode; and the British biologist-writer Julian Huxley.

HUGH ODISHAW, executive director of the U.S. National Committee of the IGY, told about the lithium discovery in reporting on IGY highlights in the Journal "Science." The IGY is scheduled to end Dec. 31.

Odishaw said an everslde glow in the south polar skies had been noted with sensitive instruments. The glow was attributed to lithium in the high atmosphere, not previously known to be there.

A plain inference is that these new manifestations (the lithium glow) could be related to nuclear tests carried out during the same period as the IGY program," Odishaw said.

The United States conducted high altitude nuclear tests in the Pacific last August.

The Atomic Energy Commission declined to say whether it uses lithium, but some other scientists theorized that the antarctic glow means the AEC has found a less expensive H-bomb.

Bishop Oxnam Hurt In Cab Accident

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, injured in a taxicab mishap Wednesday, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Roosevelt Hospital.

The 67-year-old bishop, the top-ranking official of the Methodist Church, received a fractured left arm and head cut when his overcoat became caught in a taxi door and he was dragged to the curb.

De Gaulle Named AP Man Of Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Old Soldier Charles de Gaulle, summoned from retirement to lead his beloved France out of the political wilderness, is the Man of the Year for 1958.

De Gaulle, 67 and out of the limelight nearly five years, was the runaway choice as the year's top newsmaker, in the annual Associated Press poll of the nation's news editors.

The towering, taciturn Frenchman came to power as riots echoed in the streets of Paris, rebellious Army officers held sway in Algeria and France teetered helplessly on the brink of civil war.

His first move as premier was to suspend the National Assembly and pack the bickering, factious deputies off on an enforced "vacation." This enabled him to rule alone.

THEN HE SET about the herculean task of completely devising the French political system through a new constitution which would give more power to the president and less to the chaotic Assembly.

The constitution was voted in by an overwhelming margin and the 12-year-old Fourth French Republic passed out of existence to be replaced by the Fifth Republic. New president: Charles de Gaulle.

Second to de Gaulle as a newsmaker, in the opinion of the news editors, was Nelson Rockefeller, a Republican newcomer to politics who leaped high on the list of presidential possibilities by winning the governorship of New York amid a Democratic sweep elsewhere.

De Gaulle also proved to be the top man in foreign affairs, winning the distinction by a narrow margin over John Foster Dulles, America's much-traveled secretary of state.

Pope John XVIII, spiritual ruler of the Roman Catholic Church, broke evangelist Billy Graham's hold on the title of Man of the Year in Religion. Graham was the winner in the past four years.

RUNNER-UP to the new Pope in the editors' poll was the old one, Pius XII, who died in October after a long reign of nearly 20 years. Billy Graham was third.

Boris Pasternak, a Russian who won a Nobel Prize for a book critical of communism and then was forced by the Soviets to turn down the award, was the editors' choice as Man of the Year in Literature.

The book "Dr. Zhivago" was published in the United States for the first time in 1958 and moved quickly to the head of the best seller lists. The controversy put Pasternak far ahead in the poll's literary field.

For the second year in a row, Wernher von Braun, the German-born scientist who is now a leader in American missile and space efforts, was the editors' top man in science.

American successes in the field during 1958—particularly its satellite launchings—gave von Braun the nod over his runnerup, Adm. Hyman Rickover, developer of the atomic submarine.

VAN CLIBURN, bushy-haired Texas pianist who leaped from obscurity by winning the International Tchaikovsky Piano Competition in Moscow, was adjudged the year's biggest newsmaker in entertainment.

In the business and industrial field, the editors' plaudits went to George W. Romney, president of American Motors, which took advantage of a big demand for small, economical cars to roll up large profits in a year when other automakers were taking losses or cutting profits.

Second to Romney was Bernard Goldfine, the Boston industrialist whose gift-giving friendship with Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams raised such a furor that Adams was forced to resign.

The editors' choice in the sports field was Casey Stengel, who piloted his New York Yankees to victory in the World Series after they had fallen behind the Milwaukee Braves, three games to one.

Roy Campanella, catcher for the Los Angeles (nee Brooklyn) Dodgers whose baseball career was ended by a paralyzing auto accident, was second to Stengel.

Mother Has Baby During Car Crash

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Mrs. Walter Dredden gave birth to a baby girl Thursday night after her husband, racing to beat the stork, failed to make a curve and crashed over a concrete curbing.

Trooper Donald Ebert found Mrs. Dredden and her baby trapped in the back of the car. He got them out and severed the birth by tying off the infant's umbilical cord with the lacing of his boot.

An ambulance took the Dredens to the hospital where all were reported doing nicely. They were unhurt in the accident.

Your Family And You

'I'll Never Understand Women!'

By DR. PAUL POPENOE

Sigmund Freud is considered by many to be the greatest psychologist that ever lived. But even Freud admitted, late in life, that there was one problem which had stumped him.

"Despite 30 years of research into the feminine soul," said Freud, "I have not yet been able to answer the great question: What does a woman want?"

If, then, Freud failed, who am I to pretend that I can do better? But either Mr. N. had great confidence in me or he just wanted someone to talk to when he came to see me at my office at the American Institute of Family Relations.

"When it's said that women aren't able to keep secrets," Mr. N. began, "I guess that applies only to other people's secrets. They can certainly keep their own secrets—or a least my wife can. Let me give you an illustration, Dr. Popenoe.

"MY WIFE HAS obviously been nursing some grudge against me now for three days. But when I ask her what's the matter, she says nothing, but with such a martyred air that it's evident she wants to let me know she's suffering. Maybe if I knew what was wrong, I might be able to help her! But I'm no mind reader!"

"You ought to be," I interrupted, "if you expect to hold your wife. Every husband has to be."

"You mean other wives behave that way?" Mr. N. asked.

"Certainly, they all do. You really have no idea why your wife is acting?"

"Must be something I've done. Only thing I can think of is that we had talked about a trip to the coast this summer and I told her lately that it was out of the question. She should have known that, then refuse to tell me the reason? Why do women behave that way?"

"PROBABLY FOR A good many reasons," I responded, "but students of human nature mostly agree that a woman has a tendency to live, you might say, inwardly. From girlhood, a lot of important things that have happened to her have happened on the inside. She forms the habit of retreating inside herself, becoming devious and silent, brooding over all kinds of casual remarks. Men, on the other hand, live more externally. They come right out and tell you what's the matter."

Mr. N. thought this over. "Does-n't make much sense to me," he said finally.

"You could be right. There's another explanation often given. A woman feels that she should be very important in the life of her husband. But if she has to tell him what she wants or doesn't want, she feels that it's a reflection on her. If she were as attractive and important as she wants to be, he'd know without her telling him.

"Maybe you've noticed," I continued, "how hard it is for your wife to tell you that she wants affection. She may crave love, but if you make any advances she'll push you away. You discover afterward that she was really longing for love, but apparently trying to deceive you into thinking she wasn't."

"YOU'RE RIGHT — SHE often does that. Seems to me a crazy way to behave."

"To you, yes. But to her it seems logical—otherwise she wouldn't behave that way. She's a woman! It's supposed to be the man's role to be the aggressor. She thinks she should be so seductive and alluring that you couldn't keep away from her. If she has to tell you that she's alluring, she feels more or less unconsciously that she has failed as a woman, that she must be lacking in normal femininity. So she leans over backward to make you outguess her. She thinks she should be so irresistible that you will conquer her even if she makes it appear that she doesn't want to be conquered. If you do, then she knows she's irresistible, and she's satisfied with herself."

"These women!" groaned Mr. N. "These women!"

Q. Why is it that the number of annulments of marriage is increasing in the United States?

A. Partly because some people have found that they can break up a marriage in this way, even in a state with a very strict divorce law. Also, some who object to divorce on religious grounds seem to feel more comfortable if they can get an annulment. In other words, it's sometimes a way to get around the law—or to get around yourself!

Q. I'd like my daughter-in-law to call me mother but she never does. Is there any way I can get her to call me that?

A. I think you'd be unwise to try. Let your daughter-in-law call you by whatever name makes her feel most comfortable. There would be no advantage to you to have her call you mother if she did it only under compulsion.

2 Junior CDA Troops Have Potluck Dinner, Carol For Shut-Ins

Troop St. Anne and Troop St. Bernadette, Junior Catholic Daughters of America, of St. Patrick's Parish held a Christmas potluck dinner Tuesday evening at the home of their counselor, Mrs. George Hilgert of 229 S. Wildwood Ave.

Following dinner, the group went caroling at the Bertha Slaughter Nursing Home, St. Patrick's Sisters' Convent and shut-ins homes. Fruit was distributed at the homes where the girls caroled. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George Hilgert, Mrs. Peggy Tobin and Mrs. Maynard Lambert.

They returned to the Hilgert home for a gift exchange and dessert following the caroling.

Women Of The Moose Hear Special Reports

Special reports were presented at the Tuesday meeting of the Women of the Moose in the lodge rooms.

Reports were given by Mrs. Robert White, social service; Mrs. Henry Ulveling, alumni; Miss Joan Stahl, membership; Mrs. Ralph Hampton, publicity and Mrs. Eugene Blanchette, Mooseheaven.

Mrs. Harold Coates, president, conducted the business meeting.

Games were played and prizes were awarded. Miss Diana Cleyden, the student nurse which the chapter sponsors, was introduced and presented with gifts. A gift exchange was held and lunch was served by Mrs. Coates and her officers.

Mrs. Myrtle Hayhurst, hospitality chairman, registered guests and presented special prizes to Mrs. Coates and Mrs. Orville Cheffer.

Mrs. Eugene Fraser and members of the child care committee will observe their chapter night when the group meets Jan. 13.

The engagement of Miss Sandra Sullivan is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sullivan of Grant Park. Her fiance is Allen Jehling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jehling of Galva. The couple attends Illinois State Normal University in Normal. An August wedding is being planned.

Keep In Trim

Do-It-Yourself Reducing

By IDA JEAN KAIN

So many of you wish wistfully that you could afford to go to some de luxe place and emerge a few weeks later beautifully streamlined. Well, take it from Washington's Number One hostess, Perle Mesta, the best plan is a do-it-yourself system at home.

When Mrs. Mesta made up her mind to reduce, she started at one of those fancy spots. After a stay of two weeks and a loss of a mere 3 pounds, she decided that the rate of exchange was too high. So this hostess who is known to have a "whim of iron" came home and worked out her own reducing diet by the calorie method. On 1,000 calories a day, she reduced 26 pounds.

The real victory in reducing is to keep the pounds off. This dietitian is happy to report that Mrs. Mesta has controlled her weight by the calorie system and has not regained a single pound.

MRS. MESTA'S SYSTEM is to "go light at dinner." But how can a hostess who entertains on such a grand scale and who is entertained continually at lavish affairs manage to curb calories diplomatically—especially at dinner? The technique is to "camouflage diet with conversation," according to the hostess with the mostes' in diplomacy. "Ask questions and be absorbingly interested in your host's conversation, and no one will notice that you are eating very little," Mrs. Mesta confided.

At a dinner party when the food is passed, she takes only small helpings. By this plain, even though six courses are served, she can, with her conversation plan, keep the calories on the light side.

Her "diet" breakfast is novel. She has a luscious fresh pear, an ounce of Swiss cheese and black coffee. Luncheon at home is often a green salad with a generous serving of cottage cheese and a glass of skim milk. Three hours later, she might have a piece of fruit. On trips, this world traveller carries along powdered skim milk so she will have it on hand.

WHEN DINNER IS to be served late, she finds that it is good strategy to cut ahead of hunger by having a late day pick-up such as a hard cooked egg or a glass of buttermilk.

Mrs. Mesta is a very understanding hostess. While she likes to serve balanced meals and delicious food, she doesn't mind in the least when a guest says, "No, thank you." In this weight conscious age, we need a new concept on social calories. Thank you, Mrs. Mesta, for leading the way.

Well, there you are friends. It's comforting to know that calories are democratic. Even if we were all millionaires, to reduce we would still have to keep the calorie score and cut below the number used daily. There is no other way to lose weight.

Sarah Circle Meets For Salad Luncheon

Thirteen members of Sarah Circle of First Methodist Church and one guest met for a salad luncheon Tuesday morning in Wesley Hall. Hostesses were Mrs. Harry Crede, Mrs. Scott Lane and Mrs. Robert Cook.

Mrs. Clarence Walters presented a program on Christmas customs and carols of other lands. The program was followed by group singing of carols.

Devotions on the theme of "St. Francis and the First Creche" were given, followed by a prayer by Mrs. Floyd Anderson.

Plans were made for the group to serve a potluck luncheon in January. A Christmas basket was filled for a needy family.

Mrs. Fred Keast Jr. of 1351 S. Fifth Ave. will be hostess for the next meeting Jan. 20. She will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Kelly and Mrs. Wendell McKissick.

Olive, Celery Soup

This cream soup is an elegant basis for a light dinner—or as a main course for lunch. To serve 6:

Dice enough celery and chop leaves to make 2 cups, mince 2 small onions and cook with celery in ½ cup water and 1 teaspoon salt, until tender. Chop 1 cup pitted green olives and cook in 3 tablespoons butter for 2 minutes. Stir ½ cup flour in to the olives and gradually add 3 cups milk, let cook until thickened. Combine the 2 mixtures, reheat and serve.

Chatsworth MYF Feted Monday By EUB Fellowship

CHATSWORTH (JNS)—The Evangelical United Brethren Fellowship entertained the Methodist Youth Fellowship at a caroling party Monday evening.

Warren Schade, president of the EUB group, welcomed the guests.

A group of 40 carolers left the Evangelical Church to sing at the homes of elderly, sick or shut-in people. After the caroling, the group was invited to the Arthur Bachtold home for a party. Mrs. Leslie Schade and Mrs. Frank Anderson assisted Mrs. Bachtold in serving the buffet supper.

Sponsors accompanying the young people were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Sharp, Arthur Bachtold, the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Fleck, Mrs. John Dale and Mrs. E. R. Stoutemyer. The Rev. and Mrs. Fleck led the singing.

Dale Bennett, president of MYF, expressed appreciation for his group to the EUB young people and the Bachtolds.

A group of 20 members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship also went caroling on Monday evening. After the carol singing, they returned to the church for games and refreshments. There was a gift exchange and election of officers.

Newly chosen officers are Shirley Pearson, president; Francis Boruff, vice president; Frances Ford, secretary, and Billy Fortna, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fields, sponsors, assisted the young people with their party.

Ashkum Church Society To Serve Supper Jan. 15

ASHKUM (JNS)—The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Monday night in the Methodist church.

"I Would Celebrate My Lord" was read by Mrs. Edward Bushman, who was in charge of devotions. Christmas hymns were sung, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Jerry Nichols. Mrs. Wayne Spannenberg, president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Millard Cox, secretary, read the minutes and called the roll with 18 members and a guest, Mrs. Jerry Wood, answering. New members are Mrs. Clay Boyer, Mrs. Kathryn Kroll, Mrs. Thomas Chandler and Mrs. Jerry Woods.

The group will serve the volunteer firemen's supper Jan. 15 in the Community Building. Plans were discussed.

The president read a letter from the Iroquois County Mental Health Clinic asking for donations. Mrs. Jerry Nichols invited the group to hold the January meeting in the parsonage, Clifton.

A Christmas gift exchange was held. Mystery pals were revealed and names were drawn for next year. Lunch was served by hostesses, Mrs. Carroll Anderson and Mrs. Donald Petersen.

The Ashkum volunteer firemen were called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adlore Sorrell on Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. An outside gas tank had exploded and flames went into the basement through a window. Damage was confined to the window and screen.

Holiday Bowls Start Saturday

College Yule Tournaments Start Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kansas State, a team with a lot of making up to do on the tournament level, gets its chance tonight as a college basketball resumes with a vengeance from its Christmas lull.

The Wildcats, who turned woeful in the NCAA championship finals last March, meet Missouri in the Big Eight Conference's Holiday Tourney, one of four major tournaments.

This is the second wave of basketball's holiday hi-jinks, touching off a spree of festive competition that continues almost without interruption through the first week of January.

THE ECAC Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden opened with an afternoon doubleheader matching Cornell (4-1) with Utah (4-3) and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (6-1), the favorite, against Syracuse (3-2). Tonight a pair of unbeatens, Dayton (6-0) and Niagara (5-0), have a showdown followed by Holy Cross (3-1) against St. Joseph's of New York: (5-1).

First round play in the Southwest Conference tourney had favored Texas Christian (5-1) against Baylor (4-3) and SMU (5-2) against Arkansas (2-3) in afternoon games, and a night double-header matching Rice (4-3) with (3-0-0) and Texas Tech (4-2) with Texas A&M (5-1).

The oldest of all the Christmas tournaments, the All-College at Oklahoma City, had an afternoon schedule of Wichita (4-3) vs Bowling Green (2-2) and Tulsa (4-3) vs Duquesne (2-4) and a night program of favored Xavier of Ohio (5-1) vs Oregon (4-1) and Oklahoma City (5-1) vs San Francisco (2-5).

JUST TO KEEP everyone happy, two more major and numerous smaller tournaments begin Saturday. Oregon State is the favorite in the Far West Classic at Corvallis, Ore., which also includes Air Force, Iowa and Wyoming. Brigham Young, only team to beat Kansas State this season, is favored over Dartmouth, Seton Hall and Canisius in the Queen City Tournament in Buffalo, N.Y. also beginning Saturday.

The Big Eight at Kansas City spreads its first round over two days. Oklahoma meets Iowa State in the other game tonight. Saturday Kansas faces Colorado and Nebraska meets Oklahoma State.

In case the four big tournaments aren't enough, there's the Hoosier Classic beginning in Indianapolis with Purdue meeting Butler and Indiana facing Notre Dame tonight, and the four-team Evansville (Ind) invitational with Tennessee Tech, St. Mary's (Calif), Washington (St.Louis) and Evansville entered.

TV Will Carry 3 Of 4 Games Scheduled

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

College football's annual post-season holiday competition gets into full swing Saturday with four games, three of which will be televised nationally for armchair quarterbacks.

Saturday's features are the Cotton Bowl game at Jacksonville, Fla.; the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala.; the East-West Shrine game at San Francisco, and the North-South night contest at Miami, Fla. All except the Miami game will be carried on national TV and radio networks.

Mississippi (6-2) will meet Florida (6-3-1) in the Gator Bowl before about 40,000 and the television audience at 1 p.m. CST. The Blue-Gray game before a capacity crowd of 25,000 at 1 p.m., CST, and the East-West clash before a capacity crowd of 60,000 at 3:45 p.m., CST. The North-South game at Miami, which figures to draw a crowd of 40,000, will be on radio.

Thus the four games figure to draw 165,000 fans in addition to large TV radio audiences.

MISSISSIPPI, WHICH depends mainly on its passing game, arrived in Jacksonville Christmas Day and held a light workout. Florida, which arrived at Ponte Vedra Beach near Jacksonville Monday, also held a light workout. Florida made its reputation this year on defense but most observers look for a high-scoring, wide-open Gator Bowl game.

Coach Johnny Vaught's Mississippi team, led by quarterback Bobby Franklin, halfbacks Jim Woodruff and Parnell Dickinson and fullback Charley Flowers, led the Southeastern Conferences in rushing yardage this season and was equally adept at running or passing, scored six touchdowns and completed 56 of 121 throws for 12 touchdowns.

He may have some fun Saturday because Gainesville, Western Florida's big weakness this year. Florida has a tiny but capable passer in Jimmy Dunn, a 142-pound quarterback.

THE WEST SUFFERED a serious blow for its clash with the East in the Shrine Game at San Francisco when it lost Buddy Dial. Dial, star end from Rice, sprained an ankle in practice and it was feared Thursday that he definitely will not play. Bill Steiger, who played both end and in the backfield for Washington State this year, may have to play at both spots at various times Saturday because of the loss of Dial.

Lee Grosscup of Utah will start at quarterback for the West while Bob Ptacek of Michigan probably will be the starting signal-caller for the East.

Dick Longfellow, West Virginia quarterback who ranked sixth among the nation's passers this year, will lead a favored North team against the South in the 21st Blue-Gray game. Jim Wood of Oklahoma State and Gene O'Pella of Villanova are expected to be Longfellow's favorite targets. Bill Austin of Rutgers, the North's key runner, is hampered by a torn ligament.

BILLY HOLSCLAW of Virginia Tech, a quarterback who ranked sixth in the country in total offense this year, and halfback Bobby Cravens of Kentucky appear to be the South's key offensive performers. Holsclaw is expected to throw most of his passes to Sonny Randle of Virginia and Doug Padgett of Duke.

Bill Kaliden of Pittsburgh and Al Jacks of Penn State will share the quarterback chores for the North in the Senior Bowl game at Miami while the South's signalcaller will be Buddy Humphrey of Baylor. Buddy and former college passers this season.

The Miami contest will be played under professional rules. The teams will use unlimited substitutions. The team that is behind may elect to receive kickoffs at any time.

Forddy Can't Say How Good Spartans Are

CHICAGO (UPI)—Michigan State's basketball team may be one of the nation's best, but its coach wants to wait a while and find out if it's the best in the Big, Ten.

"We haven't been tested," Forddy Anderson said. "We thought we would be by now, but we haven't been. And it's not because we're playing easy games. It's because something has hurt the teams we've beaten."

Yet the Spartans are undefeated after matches with Detroit, Butler, Notre Dame and Nebraska and head into next week's Dixie Classic rated as the nation's fourth best ball club.

"That's what'll tell us," Anderson said. "If we can get by the next week, I'll know better whether we belong in the top group. We're in the bracket to play Duke the first night and then either North Carolina or Yale. So we'll play three games in three nights, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, then fly back and play Indiana Saturday and then fly to play Iowa on Monday.

"THAT'S FIVE GAMES in a week and Indiana is never a pushover and Iowa is always tough. But I'll say one thing. We'll have one of the most interesting teams that ever played Big Ten basketball, and how good we'll be I'll know in another two weeks."

Michigan State wasn't figured to be a Big Ten power this season, even though it finished tied for second in the race last year, and retained center John Green and forward Bob Anderegg. But sophomore Horace Walker has turned out to be a jumping jack rebounder and dependable scorer, and both Lance Olson and Tom Rand have developed into capable guards.

"Green can handle a-tall man as good as anybody in the country, even though he's only 6-5," Anderson said, "and Walker is doing real well, even though he's only 6-3. Olson, Rand and Anderegg are good solid ball players. We've got real good balance and the thing I like most is we're active and we're mobile. And we've got some key substitutes that help us."

SO FAR ANDEREGG has averaged 19 points a game, Green has pitched in 15, and Walker 15. But Walker has been picking off 17 rebounds a game and Green 15.

"They're the two greatest rebounders I ever saw," Notre Dame's Coach Johnny Jordan said. "And Forddy has got a better team than he had last year."

That was a high compliment but Anderson wouldn't accept it—yet.

"It's too early to tell," he said. "One thing going for us, we're in good shape physically and everybody's eligible. Next month I'll know whether we're better than last year, or even good."

Althea Woman Athlete Of Year Again

Writers Name Miss Gibson Woman Athlete Of Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Althea Gibson, the temporarily retired queen of tennis, today had another glorious chapter added to her Cinderella story. The one-time bobby of Harlem was choosing outstanding female athlete of 1958 in the annual Associated Press yearend poll.

This is the second straight year the tall, tenacious Negro lass has been awarded the honor by a nationwide panel of sportswriters and sportscasters. She won it again by a whopping margin in recognition of her second successive victories of the U.S. and Wimbledon championships.

She received the 31-year-old star among the all-time great of sport — a position she had been aiming for ever since she broke into the major tournament set.

Althea received 133 first place votes out of a possible 202 and 456 points. Points were counted on a basis of three for first place, two for second, one for third.

CAROL HEISS, the blonde, pretty, 18-year-old world figure skating champion from New York, was a distant second with 21 first placers and 199 points.

Beverly Hanson, leading money-winning golf pro from Indio, Calif. was third with 10 first placers and 126 points. Ilse Konrads, 14-year-old Australian swim phenom, was fourth with 82 points (10-firsts) and Dawn Fraser, another Australian swimming record-holder, was fifth with 42 points (one first).

Miss Gibson became the first consecutive double winner in the AP poll since Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly, the former tennis champion, won it in 1951, 1952 and 1953. The other only consecutive repeaters were Alice Marble, another court queen, in 1939 and 1940, and the fabulous Babe Didrikson Zaharias in 1945, 1946 and 1947 for golf.

One of the two prized trophies Miss Gibson will receive is named in memory of the Babe. The other is the Fraternal Order of the Eagles' dinner in Milwaukee, Feb. 9, when Australia's Herb Elliott, the mile-miler, will be given the male athlete of the year trophy.

East Will Run, West Throw In Shrine Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Despite prospects of a wet field, look for a passing vs running battle when East meets West in the Shrine's 34th annual charity classic Saturday.

East Coach Duffy Daugherty announced his lineup today, and clearly the emphasis is on an East running game.

The offensive backfield consists of Bob Ptacek of Michigan, quarterback, Ohio State's Don Clark at the running halfback spot, Dick Haley of Pittsburgh or Tom Lorino of Auburn, at right half, and Nick Pietrosante of Notre Dame at fullback.

Up front offensively, the Easterners, 6½ point favorites, will have Jerry Wilson, Auburn, and Tom Franckhauser, Purdue, ends; Dan Fromm, Ohio State, and Al Ecuyer, Notre Dame, Guards, and Bernie Evendsen, Minnesota, center.

THE DEFENSIVE backfield lists Frank Kremblas, Ohio State; Sid Williams, Wisconsin; Wray Carlton, Duke, and Jon Hobbs, Wisconsin.

Viewers watching the contest at 4 p. m. CST over nationwide television will see this starting East defensive line:

Sammy Williams, Michigan State and Bob Pepe, No. Carolina State, ends; Bronko Nagurski, Notre Dame, and Emil Karas, Dayton, tackles, John Guzik, Pittsburgh, and Ellison Kelly, Michigan. State, guards, and Dick Tegzk, Wisconsin, center, Art Gob, Pittsburgh end, will play both offense and defense, Daugherty said.

West Coach Jack Curtice was still mulling over his starting lineup, but it's a cinch Lee Grosscup of Utah, a co-captain with guard Charles Horton of Baylor, and Bobby Newman of Washington State will do plenty of passing.

Kankakee Area Fives In Tourney Tilts

Four area basketball teams are involved in hardwood contests today and tomorrow of three at the Crete-Monee holiday tourney and one each at Mazon and Rantoul meets.

Grant Park runs into Oak Lawn at 7 o'clock and Peotone faces defending champion Evergreen Park in the 8 o'clock tussle at Crete.

At Mazon, Gardner meets Saunemin at 7 o'clock and Newark plays host Mazon at 8:15 o'clock.

Watseka (6-1) angles with rugged Armstrong (6-2) in the 7 o'clock battle and defending champion Rantoul (8-0) goes against Rankin (3-2) at 8 o'clock this evening at Rantoul.

This afternoon, several games were being played around the holiday tourney circuit. At Crete, the hosts tangled with Manteno at 1:30 p.m. and Beecher scrapped with St. Anne at 3 p.m.

That tournament continues Saturday with games set for 7 and 8:30 o'clock in the evening, and winds up Monday night with a 7 o'clock consolation tilt and 8:30 o'clock finale.

At Monticello, Roberts-Thawville collided with Cerro-Gordo in a 3 p.m. match. That meet continues with 1:30, 7 and 8:30 o'clock games Saturday afternoon and evening and will be wrapped up Monday night.

Robertson Slips But He Still Tops Scorers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oscar Robertson and Cincinnati have slumped a bit, but Big O and the Bearcats are tops in major college basketball scoring races.

Robertson, the All-America who took the individual scoring crown as a sophomore last season, has slipped below a 40-point average for the first time this season, according to NCAA Service Bureau statistics of games through last Saturday. He's only averaging 38.3 (down from 42.7) after scoring 27 points as Cincinnati beat St. Louis 67-50.

That also shaved the unbeaten Bearcats' output a bit, but they jumped from second to first in the team race with a 91.2 average. They had been rolling at a 93.7-point-a-game clip, but moved up as Ohio University plunked from a hold 101.7 average to 83.5 and skidded from first to eighth.

JIMMY HAGAN of Tennessee Tech, up from fifth place, became the new challenger to Robertson's runaway. Hagan scored 29 points against Louisiana Tech and upped his average to 33.0, passing Mississippi State's 6'3 Jerry Howell, who now is third with a 32.1 average.

Pittsburgh's little Don Hennon, another All - America, and Jon Cincebox of Syracuse round out the top five in individual scoring. Hennon's game average is 29.7. Cincebox has a 27.0 average.

Mississippi State (89.9), Tennessee Tech (88.4), Miami of Florida (88.0) and Auburn (85.2) fall in behind Cincinnati for the top five spots in team scoring. St. John's of Brooklyn is the new sixth behind Auburn with an 85.17 average.

Hank Stein of Xavier (Ohio) retained the free throw lead with a .943 percentage, sinking 33 of 35. Ralph Greenberg, Western Kentucky, the defending champ, took the field goal lead with a .648 mark, scoring on 35 of 54. Howell has the best rebound recovery rate, .325.

Stanford (49.3) took over the team-defense lead with Providence (50.4) and San Francisco (50.6) right behind. Oklahoma State, the scoring lead, slipped to eighth with 82.7.

Elliott Guards Against 2nd Half Letdown

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—University of California Coach Pete Elliott promised today to have the "spare parts" to his Bear football machine in working order for the Rose Bowl game.

Elliott and most of his boys were to take off for Pasadena this morning to gather with some 15 Cal football mates who took advantage of a one-day Christmas break to spend the holiday at their southern California homes.

Elliott has been giving all 46 members of his squad plenty of hard work during the training period with the hope that it will more often recently the Pacific Coast Conference representative in the Rose Bowl game will be played regularly during the first half and then folded.

"I want these men to play together as much as possible so I can spell any man who gets tired without weakening the overall team strength," Elliott said. "I figure that if any man is needed at any spot on New Year's Day he'll be ready and anxious to get into the game."

His rotating is such that even at this date there are still a couple of starting assignments open.

Banks Also Wins National League Slugging Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Ernie Banks, hard-hitting Chicago Cubs' shortstop, today added the National League slugging championship to his long list of 1958 laurels.

Banks, the circuit's Most Valuable Player, home run and runs batted in leader, captured the slugging title with a .614 mark. The official statistics showed Banks collected 379 total bases in 617 times at bat.

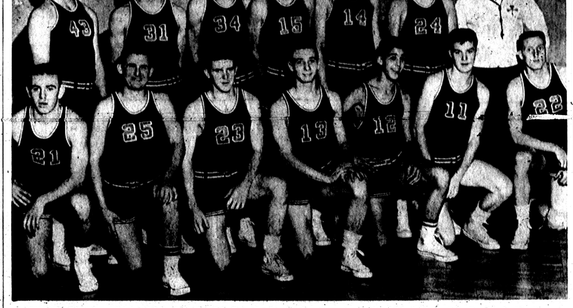
Willie Mays of San Francisco, runnerup to Richie Ashburn in the batting race, also finished second in slugging. Mays had 359 total bases in 600 tries for a .583 slugging percentage.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee was third with .546, followed by Frank Thomas of Pittsburgh and Stan Musial of St. Louis with .528 each.

Ashburn, the Phillies' lead - off man, led the league in bases on balls with 97. Harry Anderson, also of the Phils, struck out the most times, 95.

Musial tied a league record by receiving 26 intentional walks. Statistics on this category were not maintained until 1955.

Gene Green of St. Louis grounded into the most doubleplays, 24. Jim Davenport, San Francisco rookie, grounded into the fewest—



THESE ARE THE Fighting Irish of St. Patrick Central who meet highly-touted Ottawa Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the ninth annual Kankakee holiday tournament. The Irish are (read down, from left): Fred Moriarty, Jim Rayman, Len O'Connor (out for the season with back injury), Ron Bouchard, Joe Romary, Danny Laffey, Jim Cardoni (back row) Don Mackey, Pat McCann, Fran Gianotti, Jack Erickson, Duane Kilbride, Gary Kligos, and head Coach Ed Bonczyk. Bonczyk Frets About His Irish As Tourney Nears

(Sixth in a series of articles about teams entered in ninth annual Kankakee holiday tournament Dec. 29-31.)

By JOHN BOWMAN

St. Patrick Central's cagers are breezing along with the best record in town, but their young and demanding coach, Ed Bonczyk is not quite satisfied.

The Irish, who run into third-seeded Ottawa in the 3:30 o'clock game Monday afternoon of the Kankakee holiday tourney have a shiny 5-1 record. Only Joliet Township's rangy and once-beaten quint has managed to blemish the St. Patrick record.

In recent performances, however, the Bonczyk crew has been unimpressive. Granted, the Irish had little trouble in routing weak St. Anne two weeks ago by 31 points or in racing to a comfortable 13 point bulge over Central of Clifton a week ago Friday. But the Greens and Whites are not yet as smooth as Coach Bonczyk hoped they would be at this point in the season.

"THE BOYS HAVE been sluggish this week in practice," commented Bonczyk, "sure, they are hitting the basket but they are careless in important areas such as passing and ball handling."

When it was suggested that the Irish laxity is due to their fast few easy victories, Coach Bonczyk disagreed. "No, I don't think they are relaxing because of their good win-loss record, they're just a little ragged, probably because of the lull in our record this week."

He was quick to add, "I certainly hope they work out of it, because if we play against Ottawa like we played in practice early this week, we're going to get drubbed. If we play the kind of game we are capable of playing, we can give anybody in the tourney a hard time."

Coach Bonczyk did not look past the Ottawa game, because he said his boys will be doing a good job if they get by the LaSalle County quint. "This should be a very exciting tournament from the fans' viewpoint," said Bonczyk, "because it is my feeling the tourney field is very well balanced . . . any team could go all the way."

WHILE COMMENTING about individual performers on his squad, Bonczyk had a few words of praise for three of his non-starters, seniors Fred Moriarty and Jim Cardosi and sophomore Joe Romary.

"Those three boys have been looking pretty good," replied the Irish pilot, "and all three will see tourney action, as we plan to do the subbing which is always necessary in a tournament."

Man for man, Ottawa is bigger than St. Patrick, so the Irish will have to depend on the shooting and sticky defensive play which pulled them through against crosstown rival Kankakee a week ago.

Coach Bonczyk's starting quintet in the Ottawa game will be the same unit he's been playing, including: Pat McCann (6-0) and Dewey Kilbride (6-2) at the forwards; Ron Bouchard (5-10) and Danny Laffey (6-0) at the guards; and Jack Erickson (6-3) at center. Ken Jones and

Hart Boasts He Will KO Dupas For TV Fans Tonight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Garnet (Sugar) Hart said he came here to knock out Ralph Dupas in their scheduled 10-round main event at Miami Beach Auditorium tonight.

The welterweight fight will be nationally televised at 9 p. m. EST.

Despite Hart's supreme confidence and his record of flattening 20 of his 29 opponents, he looms as a 7-5 underdog when the opening bell rings. The critics just can't see him matching the ringcraft and experience of the New Orleans battler.

Dupas has had 89 fights, with 74 victories, 9 defeats and 6 draws. Although only 23, he rates as a veteran campaigner.

Hart, who has been training in his home town of Philadelphia, arrived here Wednesday.

Hart has been kayoed twice himself, once by Fred Perry when he was a preliminary boy, and the other time by Virgil Akins, who handed him his last defeat, in August, 1957.

Celts, Hawks Pad Leads In Pro Leagues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christmas night brought nothing but woe to the opponents of the Boston Celtics and St. Louis Hawks, National Basketball Association divisional leaders.

The New York Knicks, rolled to their eighth straight victory in the nightcap of a Christmas night doubleheader at New York, defeating the second place Knicks, 129-120.

St. Louis, six games up on second place Detroit, got help from Cincinnati Royal Castoff Clyde Lovellette to beat the Royals 100-92.

Detroit edged the Minneapolis Lakers 98-97 in overtime in the first game of the New York twin-bill to round out Thursday night's activity.

Boston came from a six-point halftime deficit to win. Frank Ramsey, Bill Russell, Sam Jones and Bob Cousy put together nine straight points to bring the Celtics from a 103-99 score to take an advantage they never relinquished. Lovellette scored 21 points in 29 playing minutes to give St. Louis the impetus to stay ahead of the Royals. Lovellette teamed with Bob Leslie and Cliff Hagan to gain a 52-45 halftime margin and put the game out of reach in the fourth period after Wayne Embry scored nine straight points while Bob Pettit and Jack Coleman each got 27 for the winners.

Phil Jordon hit two straight baskets midway in overtime to give Syracuse a victory Detroit ahead.

Unitas Worries Both Ewbanks, Howell

NEW YORK (AP) — "Stop Unitas" was the New York Giants watchword today as they prepared for their final long workout for the National League Football championship game against the Baltimore Colts Sunday.

The scrimmage was designed to set up what Coach Jim Lee Howell hopes will be an impregnable defense against the passing of the Colts' star quarterback Johnny Unitas.

That meant defensive coach Tom Landry's famous foursome—pass defenders Jim Patton, Cliff Livingston, Lindon Crow and Emlen Tunnell—were in for some extra heavy work trying to knock down the heaves of Chuck Conerly, Don Heinrich and Joe Kemp.

IT IS NO secret that along with the Colts' massive forward wall, the Giants fear Unitas the most. They have not forgotten their 24-21 victory over Baltimore was achieved with Unitas on the sidelines, nursing a couple of cracked ribs. They are fully aware that Unitas has thrown at least one touchdown pass in his last 25 games, a league record.

The Giants are rightfully proud of the fact they did not permit the Cleveland Browns to throw a single touchdown pass, either in the final game of the regular season or in the playoff. The Giants won both by scores of 10-0 and 10-0. In the first game Jimmy Brown scored on a 65-yard run.

Despite the heavy concentration on Unitas, Howell isn't underestimating Alan Ameche and Lenny Moore, even in regards to the rest of the best running backs in the league.

"Ameche and Moore are two of the best running backs in football," Howell said. "I figure that if any man is needed at any spot on New Year's Day he'll be ready and anxious to get into the game."

That was the attitude of Unitas, Howell's pet target, who said, "I'm not underestimating Alan Ameche and Lenny Moore, even in regards to the rest of the best running backs in the league."

BALTIMORE (AP) — Johnny Unitas, the rifle-armed passer for the Baltimore Colts, is sure he'll have his aerials on target for the big battle against the New York Giants Sunday.

One thing was evident in Christmas Day drills: Unitas pegs were evidently up to holiday hi-jinks.

The star quarterback who has connected on better than 50 per cent of his passes during the season was often jilting the dirt or sailing the ball like a satellite over the receiver.

Coach Weeb Ewbank was a bit disturbed but Unitas assured him. "Don't worry coach. I'll be all right."

MEANWHILE, the Western Conference titlists of the National Football League brushed up on a specialty — their pass interception.

To help get his charges used to the Giant backfield men, Ewbank had offensive players wear jerseys with the same numbers worn by the likes of quarterback Charley Connerly and halfback Frank Gifford.

Baltimore defenders managed to snare 35 enemy aerials during the 12-game season for an average of almost three a game. The 35 pilfered interceptions totaled a hefty 514 yards.

Andy Nelson and Raymond Brown were the most proficient pilferers. Each snagged eight. Nelson returned them for a total of 199 yards including a touchdown. Brown rolled up 149 yards on runbacks.

Big 10 Basketball Teams Return To Action Tonight

CHICAGO (UPI) — Big Ten basketball teams swing back into action tonight in two games after nearly a week of holiday layoff.

Purdue and Indiana moved into the two-night Hoosier Classic opener at Butler and Notre Dame with tonight's pairings putting the Hoosiers against the Irish and Purdue against Butler. Saturday it will be Butler-Indiana and Notre Dame-Purdue.

Other Saturday games will be Minnesota at Washington, Princeton at Ohio State in the afternoon television game, Iowa in the West Coast tournament at Corvallis and Minnesota at Washington. Northwestern plays West Virginia in Chicago Stadium double-header with Loyola and Seattle in the second game.

Hoop Band Wins Christmas 'Cap

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Dr. Ralph W. Walton, 71, a one-armed physician from Monticelo, N.J., survived a 350-foot plunge down an embankment when his car left the Blue Ridge Parkway. The car did not turn over. The doctor crawled back to the highway and flagged help.

Canadiens Now Unbeaten In 12 Games

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The Montreal Canadiens and the Toronto Maple Leafs, who occupy berths at opposite ends of the National Hockey League, posted the holiday's most notable triumphs.

The pace - setting Canadiens stretched their unbeaten string to 12 games by upending the New York Rangers 6-1 while goalie Ed Chadwick marked his return to the Maple Leaf's lineup by blanking the Detroit Red Wings 2-0.

IN ANOTHER Christmas night game, the Boston Bruins tied Detroit for second place by knocking off the Chicago Black Hawks, 4-2.

Andy Bathgate of the Rangers became the first NHL player to score 20 goals this season when he drilled in a 45-foot screen shot to give New York a 1-0 lead in the first period at Madison Square Garden. Floyd Hillman of the Canadiens went ahead for good on second period drives by Ab McDonald and Andre Pronovost. Tom Johnson and Claude Provost tallied for Montreal in the final session.

Uneasy World Observes Christmas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Much of the world today let out its belt to accommodate Christmas overeating, continued its holiday into the weekend and looked forward to New Year celebrations.

An uneasy peace generally marked this year's observance of the birth of Christ. There were more threats of war from Moscow, but the only major fighting apparently was going on in Cuba, between President Fulgencia Batista's army and Fidel Castro's rebels.

There was only slight shooting on the world's other two active war fronts—the Nationalist islands off the coast of Communist China and Algeria, where the French have been battling a rebellion.

THE TENSIONS OF the old year were temporarily shelved by the holidayers.

But troops of the Western Allies and the United Nations were on watch, keeping the cold war cold.

American soldiers at the barbed wire barricades marking the Iron Curtain in Europe had hot turkey dinners brought to their posts. In other parts of Europe U.S. servicemen entertained 75,000 orphans, refugees and hospital patients.

In Communist-ruled East Berlin Julius Cardinal Doepfner preached a sermon attacking the Red regime in his first appearance since he was named a cardinal of the Roman Catholic Church.

U.S. troops in Morocco heard a Christmas message from Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, president of the National Council of Churches. He told them to strive for an inner peace and added: "From this inner peace there could come the wider peace of the world for which all nations now wait."

THE ROMAN Catholic archbishop of New York, Francis Cardinal Spellman, celebrated Christmas Masses for U.S. forces in Germany. He said: "More than we realize do we need the help of God for only God can quell the malice of his enemies and ours."

U.N. secretary General Dag Hammarskjold paid his annual Christmas visit to troops of the U.N.' Emergency Force in the Gaza Strip, keeping peace between Israel and Egypt.

It was a busy day for Pope John XXIII. After celebrating midnight Mass Christmas Eve in the presence of the diplomatic corps of the Holy See he celebrated another at St. Peter's Basilica at noon. He then visited two Rome hospitals.

Later, receiving 60 orphans and 20 mutilated and crippled children in the Vatican, he broke down and cried. Smiling through the tears he told the children: "You know, in this life you only cry twice. The very young, and the old, they can cry."

The Viennese talked of a Christmas Eve miracle which spared the lives of all 34 persons aboard an Air France Constellation that crashed short of the Vienna airport and exploded. Five Americans were among those aboard.

"It feels like a miracle — like the herald angels were our guardian angels," said Shirley Hind man, 34, of San Bernardino, Calif., a crash survivor.

A BRIGHT folksy Christmas greeting to the world came from Britain's Queen Elizabeth. On radio and TV she said, "It seems to me that Christmas is just the time to be grateful to those who add fullness to our lives . . . the prophets and dreamers, philosophers, men of ideas and poets, artists in paint, sculpture and music. . . .

"Even so, we need something more. We all need the kind of security that one gets from a happy and united family."

She thanked those who had written to say they would like to see Princess Anne and Prince Charles on TV but said, "We believe that public life is not a fair burden to place on growing children."

President Eisenhower, following a quiet family Christmas at the White House, was going today to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm to work on messages to the new Congress. The Eisenhowers planned to stay at the farm through New Year's.

Peiping radio said Christmas in Red China was observed by Protestants and Catholics in their churches and homes.

In Algeria, only one terrorist incident was reported, the explosion of a time-fused mortar shell hidden in a tire on a parked car. One person was killed and nine were wounded. No unusual French or rebel military action was reported. French troops celebrated with turkey and champagne.

Michigan City Crash Kills 4; 4 Others Hurt

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (UPI)—Four persons, including a young couple and their son, were killed in a 100-mile-an-hour collision of two cars near here. Four other persons were injured critically.

Dead in the crash Thursday, 10 miles west on U.S. 20 were Juan Castaneda, 25, Chicago; his wife, Lydia, 22; their son, John, 3; and William Jadymak, 17, Crown Point, Ind.

State police said Castaneda was driving east when a westbound vehicle driven by Julius Czazasty, 20, Gary, failed to make a curve at more than 100 miles per hour and careened into Castaneda's car. Czazasty suffered a skull fracture and was in critical condition in a Michigan City hospital along with two of his companions and three other members of the Castaneda family who were injured.

Four persons, including William Jadymak, were riding in Castaneda's car. Castaneda's vehicle contained his wife, three children and his 11-year-old brother-in-law.

Former War Hero Captured After Fleeing Prison

ABERDEEN, Scotland (UPI) — Safecracker and ex - commando Johnny Ramensky, 53, was captured today after his third escape from prison this year.

Ramensky's safecracking knowledge made him a hero during World War II but kept him in prison most of the rest of his life. He was parachuted into Italy and Germany to blast official safes, including Hermann Goering's. But when he engaged in private enterprise safecracking, he was in trouble.

Two policemen, part of the force of hundreds that spent Christmas week searching for the convict, arrested Ramensky near here today, 40 miles from Peterhead Prison.

They had been alerted by a bus driver's report that a man who looked like Ramensky was walking along a road near Aberdeen.

Ramensky's escape from Peterhead Dec. 17 was so slick that prison officials believed for days that he was still somewhere within the walls, perhaps in the sewer system. It was his fifth break from Peterhead.

Church Membership Hit Peak During Past Year

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Boom conditions prevailed in 1958 in all areas of American religious life that can be measured by statistics.

Church membership rose to a new high of 104 million persons, 61 per cent of the population. Sunday School enrollment, Bible sales and contributions to religious causes set new records. Church building snapped back from a brief recession to total 1959's breathtaking outlay of $865,000,000.

Not all church leaders found these figures comforting. Some felt, with the Christian Century magazine, that America's popular piety was superficial and self-centered, that it was often no more than a vague "faith in faith."

But an increasing number of clergymen saw a genuine quest for ultimate truths by millions of people who no longer believe that science has all the answers, or that material prosperity is all you need to be happy.

DESPITE THE external evidence of a continuing religious revival, few church leaders were ready to say that America had become a "nation under God." For 1958 also witnessed outbreaks of hatred and violence, a rising incidence of crime, divorce and alcoholism, and other symptoms of moral deterioration in American society.

The disturbing development of the year, to many churchmen, was a sharp rise in racial tensions. Leaders of every major denomination expressed concern about the ugly passions aroused by the school desegregation disputes. All appealed to church members to work calmly and courageously for a Christian solution.

This attempt to carry out a "ministry of reconciliation" in the racial crisis is likely to be a major preoccupation of the churches in the coming year.

Old-Time Bible Leaders Meet

CHICAGO (AP) — Evangelical leaders from throughout the United States met today to call for acceptance of the Bible as the inspired word of God, and warn against any other interpretation.

A spokesman for the group, which has no formal designation or organizational set-up, said up to 100 leaders of Protestant Fundamentalism are expected to attend the two-day meeting.

The leaders were summoned to Chicago by Dr. Bob Jones, head of the university which bears his name in Greenville, S. C., and Dr. John R. Rice, editor of a Wheaton, Ill., evangelistic weekly newspaper.

Purpose of the meeting, Dr. Jones said, is "to rally old-time Bible-believing Christians to oppose a tendency on the part of some religious leaders toward unscriptural concepts with modernism and neo-orthodoxy."

TESTING METHOD

WASHINGTON—The aircraft industry is now using TV-like pictures to test the jet plane that hasn't as yet been built.

Planes, official publication of the Aircraft Industries Association, says that through the use of an electronic flight simulator, engineers can determine the flight characteristics of new designs before they are still on the drawing board.

Police Baffled By Murder In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — After nine days, the murder of James S. Bullock still remains a riddle.

Police have checked a multitude of tips, anonymous telephone calls and unsigned notes. But apparently officers still are without a solid lead in St. Louis' most publicized mystery in recent years.

Bullock was shot to death Dec. 17, shortly after dark. His killer fired three .22 caliber bullets into him near the city art museum in Forest Park.

Sgt. Frank O'Neill of the homicide Squad has promised anonymity to anyone who offers new information.

Bullock, a bridegroom of six months, was a $400-a-month clerk at an electric company and -a rising incidence of crime, divorce and alcoholism, and other symptoms of moral deterioration in American society.

The disturbing development of the year, to many churchmen, was a sharp rise in racial tensions. Leaders of every major denomination expressed concern about the ugly passions aroused by the school desegregation disputes. All appealed to church members to work calmly and courageously for a Christian solution.

This attempt to carry out a "ministry of reconciliation" in the racial crisis is likely to be a major preoccupation of the churches in the coming year.

Dozing Pilot Finally Crash-Lands Plane

MONROE, Wis. (AP) — Carl V. Anderson was flying over Green County Christmas Day when he dozed at the controls.

Herbert Mohns, a farmer living about 10 miles southeast of Monroe, said he watched the single-engine, light plane circle lazily for about 12 minutes, gradually losing altitude.

When the plane was about 100 feet above the ground, the 37-year-old Anderson, of Route 2, Poynette, Wis., regained control and crash-landed on a town road. The plane skidded about 100 feet and nosed over.

Anderson suffered lacerations to one knee and was in satisfactory condition at a hospital here. The plane was damaged extensively.

Details of the incident were contained in a sheriff's department report which also said that Anderson was en route to Ottawa, Ill.

REAL CLEANUP

HARTSDALE, N. Y. (UP)—The pop of champagne bottles being opened was heard somewhere in Hartsdale Thursday night, but not at the home of Mrs. John Blake.

Mrs. Blake had put three bottles of the bubbly stuff outside her doorstep to cool as she continued preparing Christmas dinner. When she went to get them later, they were gone.

The mystery remains unsolved. The answer may lie, however, in a Hartsdale tradition of giving sanitation men something for the holiday.

Former Agronomy Head At U Of I Dies

URBANA (UPI) — Dr. William Leonidas Burlison, 76, former head of the agronomy department in the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, died Christmas Day in his sleep.

Burlison, who was retired from the university in 1946, was known as and international recognition for his direction of research in the development of corn hybrids and of soybeans.

Services will be held Saturday afternoon.

USDA Considers New Program For Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower Administration has been giving some, thought to a new program for wheat. It would end controls, reduce price supports and freeze current record surpluses held by the government.

Such a plan has been considered along with another that would greatly tighten production controls and reduce price supports to a lesser extent. This latter plan would be used only until the surpluses were disposed of.

Under the first plan, the wheat support would be reduced to around 52 per cent of parity, compared with the present minimum of 75 per cent. Such a support would be around $1.25 a bushel compared with the present $1.82.

PARITY IS A standard for measuring farm prices deemed fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Under the tightened control plan, the national planting allotment would be cut from the present 55-million-acre minimum to around 40 to 45 million acres.

Administration farm leaders have not yet indicated what they would recommend to Congress. Legislation would be required for either approach.

Under the plan that would end controls, the surpluses would be used in export programs financed largely by the government. None of this grain could be permitted to move into domestic markets or into regular export channels.

Midwest Pupils Consume More Milk In Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Midwest exceeds other regions in per pupil consumption of milk in schools serving it.

The Agriculture Department report also showed today that total milk sales to pupils in that region are greater than in any other area.

A relatively large volume of milk is sold in schools in the Northeast and Southeast. Sur milk sales in the Southwest and West are only slightly more than half as great as in the other three regions.

W. Europe Nations Readjust Currency

Britain Extends Convertibility Of Pound

Other Countries Follow With More Liberal Policies

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe plunged Saturday into gigantic monetary and economic readjustments. The outstanding features were a large extension of convertibility of the British pound and devaluation of the French franc.

These two moves were followed swiftly by a liberalization of financial policies in other states. France, Western Germany, Denmark, Holland, Norway, Italy, Sweden, Belgium and Luxembourg joined Britain in the convertibility parade. Most of them announced that their currencies would be convertible as of Monday.

The British action, benefitting mostly nonresidents, means that large sums in pounds held in Britain by any foreigners who are not sterling area residents may be converted into dollars or other currencies at a single official rate. This is $2.72 to $2.82 to the pound, generally $2.80.

THE IMMEDIATE effect of the franc devaluation—from 420 to 493.7 to the dollar—will be to give the American tourist on the Champs Elysees an extra 15 cents in spending money when he converts his dollar. For the Frenchman the new move adds up to less spending money.

The overall readjustments in Britain, France and the rest of Europe were expected to cause widespread repercussions in trade and finance. The European Payments Union, a scheme enabling European nations to defer full payment of sums they owe each other, goes out of existence.

EPU is replaced by the European Monetary Agreement, which will insist on full payments. EMA does set up a 600-million-dollar fund to give short-term credits to nations with unfavorable trade balances.

In some quarters it was believed the British move to make sterling a more attractive currency might touch off a trade war between Britain and six nations — France, Western Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—which will pair their common market plan into operation Jan. 1.

THIS IS A SCHEME aimed at an eventual common tariff area and the welding together of a solid trading bloc.

Britain, because of special commitments to its partners in the Commonwealth, has kept out of the common market plan. There were charges on the continent that Britain was out to torpedo the whole scheme of making its money readily convertible.

A British Treasury spokesman denied any such intent, saying the liberalization of convertibility was

France Cuts Franc To Set Off Upheaval

Devalued 17.55 Per Cent In Effort To Restore Trade

PARIS (AP) — The government overhauled the feeble franc Saturday night in an attempt to restore France's place in the forepoint of the European trading community. This touched off the biggest currency upheaval in Europe in a decade.

The franc was devalued by 17.55 per cent. This will cheapen the price of French goods so they can compete in the common market of six European nations that comes into being Jan. 1. The old rate was 420 to the dollar. The new rate is 493.7 to the dollar.

A NEW SO-CALLED heavy franc will be put into circulation gradually next year. It will have no effect on prices or wages. It will be worth about 100 of the present franc. The effect simply is to make the franc a less unwieldy monetary unit.

The franc also was made more freely convertible into other currencies. Many other European countries, led by Britain and West Germany promptly took the same step.

Convertibility was described as a measure designed to stimulate world trade. But the French insist Britain launched the convertibility plan to wreck the common market.

THE FAR REACHING Cabinet decisions came just ahead of France's entry, along with Italy, Belgium, Germany, Holland, Luxembourg and Belgium, into the six-nation common market.

The result is expected to promote a big spurt in trade within the common market countries.

The common market was born out of a desire to wipe out trade restrictions in the heartland of Europe, making commerce as free as it is among the states in the United States.

Aid came in the form of Capt. Curt Fredd and Officer Russell Clemens. Meanwhile Barber and Bennington had been jockeying for position and Barber had fired two shots between Jacobs' legs to attempt to encourage the fugitive to give up.

WHEN FREDD AND Clemens arrived, Barber took a side look to see where they were coming and Jacobs gave Barber a powerful kick in the groin sending him reeling. One of the officers got a crack at Jacobs with a night stick and then another hit Jacobs during which time Barber turned to run. Clemens took off after him, finally tackling him from behind to bring him down. He just missed getting slashed with the bottle himself. The officers wrestled with Jacobs, finally handcuffing and subduing him.

The officers then returned Jacobs to the hospital about 2:45 and made a quick trip home to change their clothes which had become muddied and dirty in the scuffle. Barber went to the doctor for an examination. He finished up his shift Saturday night, but still was feeling the effects of the kick and is to have a further examination Monday.

Battle To Block Rebels From Splitting Cuba

Castro's Forces Call For Reinforcements To Fight Government

HAVANA (UPI)—A rebel radio called for reinforcements Saturday to turn back a government force fighting to prevent the rebels from splitting Cuba in two.

A rebel transmitter monitored in Havana said Fidel Castro's revolutionary forces were "under bombardment" at Ranchuelo, 12½ miles west of Santa Clara, the capital of Las Villas province and a goal of the rebels in their attempt to cut through the "waistband" of the 750-mile long island.

The radio did not indicate whether the government attack was by air or ground, but observers in Havana assumed it was a ground attack since the radio called for reinforcements from the rebel commander at Cruces, nine miles away.

BUT SHORTLY AFTER the appeal, the rebel transmitter at Cruces asked for permission from higher headquarters to "make a strategic withdrawal" from the area. The appeal was directed to the rebel commander at Sancti Spiritus, the ancient Las Villas city seized by the rebels Christmas Eve.

Ranchuelo is a major rail and road hub west of Santa Clara, straddling routes to the seaport of Cienfuegos.

The radio reported the capture of the seaport of Puerto Padre on the northwest coast of Oriente province, the eastern home base. The American-owned Delicias and Chaparra sugar mills use Puerto Padre for their shipping.

THE REBELS CLAIMED the capture of 120 soldiers and a Catalina flying boat in their raid on Puerto Padre.

President Fulgencio Batista reshuffled the central army command and rushed 2,000 reinforcements to Las Villas province to stop the rebel drive that, if successful, would give Castro control of the eastern half of Cuba and leave Batista with the western half.

The government failed directly to contradict the rebel announcement that Santa Clara would fall to Castro's insurgents, but said the claim was "premature."

Call Off Balloon Search; Reported Landing A Hoax

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Venezuelan authorities Saturday night called off search for the transatlantic balloon Small World. They said they were convinced reports it had landed in Venezuela Friday were a hoax.

Venezuelan planes had searched 16 hours for the balloon, which left the Canary Islands for the West Indies two weeks ago. Its whereabouts had been a mystery since its radio went silent a week ago.

Before returning to Caracas, the searchers landed at Piarco airport in Trinidad, near the Venezuelan Orinoco delta where the balloon was, reported to have landed.

AIRPORT CAPT. William Lead informed the Venezuelans that Trinidad also had called off the search for lack of substantial evidence that the balloon had landed.

The mystery of the balloon's fate with four Britons — three men and a woman — aboard, grew Saturday night when conflicting reports as to its whereabouts.

A day-long air search brought no trace of the inflated plastic bag or its occupants in the jungle swamps of eastern Venezuela where an amateur radio operator reported it had grounded.

CARL AUGUSTINI, civil aviation director of Trinidad, expressed fear the "Small World" might be confronting problems in Midatlantic if meteorological reports are considered."

Airmen who skimmed over the mangrove swamps at the mouth of the Orinoco River in planes and helicopters expressed doubt the quilted plastic air bag carrying a crew of four had dropped in that region.

ARTHUR COOKE of The London Daily Mail, which financed the aerial expedition, said the last message he had received from the balloon was during the Christmas holiday giving a position in the midatlantic.

Cooke said in Trinidad Saturday morning that the message was garbled but that the balloonists had reported they were preparing a Christmas dinner.

The hunt centered at the mouth of the Orinoco River. This is 300 miles southeast of Barbados Island—target of the balloon on set-

Hold Ex-Con In Slaying At St. Louis

ST.LOUIS (AP) — Ex-convict Thomas Lindell Lawrence, 41, arrested Saturday in the mysterious 16-day-old slaying of James S. Bullock, has agreed to a lie detector test.

Police said Lawrence, who served a prison term for manslaughter and once served two years for selling narcotics, lived across the street from the office of Dr. Glennon E. Engleman, and was acquainted with the dentist, the first husband of Bullock's shapely widow, Edna Ruth, 23.

Officers said Lawrence at first agreed to take a lie detector test then balked when they prepared to take him to police headquarters.

LAWRENCE WAS booked on suspicion of homicide. Later he agreed to the test when told the questions would be limited to the Bullock case. Police said if Lawrence is still willing Sunday morning, the test will be given then.

In another baffling development, police learned Bullock apparently tried to be admitted as a patient in a St. Louis County sanitarium just four days before he was killed.

William Copely, administrator of Sunset Sanitarium, said a young man who gave his name only as Bullock, appeared at the institution Dec. 13 and asked to be admitted, giving no reason. Copley said he advised him a physician's order would be required, and the man left with no further conversation.

COPLEY WAS SHOWN a photograph of Bullock and said it appeared to be of the man who came to the sanitarium.

Bullock had been pictured by his acquaintances as a popular, well-adjusted worker and student.

Police Lt. Adrian P. Pierce said Lawrence denied any knowledge of the slaying but could not account for his movements at the time Bullock was shot to death

Auto Deaths Slacken; Pace Still High

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic	437

The holiday death toll rose less sharply Saturday than it did in the first bloody hours Christmas Eve.

Improved driver behavior has slowed the traffic death rate, the National Safety Council said as the Christmas holiday went past the two-thirds mark.

But, added the council, auto fatalities still are occurring at a rate substantially ahead of the pace which would result in the 6,500 deaths it predicted for the four-day period.

THE EASING OF the rate of climb also means there is a good chance the toll will not go down as the worst in any holiday period, the statement continued.

"If there is the continued improvement in traffic behavior evident in the recent hours there is no reason why a record should be set," said the council.

In the early hours of the 102-hour period, fatalities set a pace which threatened to surpass the record holiday mark of 706 set in the four-day Christmas holiday in 1956.

THE TOLL ALREADY has passed the number of highway deaths counted by The Associated Press in a non-holiday weekend. An AP survey of a period from 6 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 10, to midnight Sunday, Dec. 14, showed 341 persons died in traffic accidents, 106 in fires and 105 in miscellaneous accidents.

The Christmas holiday toll passed the 400 mark before 3 p.m. EST Saturday.

Nab Bottle-Wielding Escapee From KSH

A 6-foot, 190-pound Kankakee State Hospital escapee madly wielding a broken beer bottle gave four Kankakee city police officers more than their share of excitement early Saturday afternoon.

What started as a routine call to pick up a reported drunk man in the 800 block of Fair street ended up in a call for reinforcements by the two officers assigned to the call. Their subject, they found, was Bruce Jacobs, 27, who escaped from the Kankakee State Hospital Friday night. Jacobs had skipped away when he and other members of his ward were being brought back to their quarters from a dance at the hospital. Jacobs was admitted to the hospital Oct. 10 from Chicago and police were alerted because he has threatened his wife with a knife shortly before being committed to the hospital.

OFFICERS HENRY Barber Jr. and Robert Pennington were dispatched to the scene routinely by desk officer Virgil Jordan at 1:56 p.m. "The two stepped up to the car, awakened the subject and ordered him out. Upon stepping from the car, Jacobs suddenly grabbed a bottle and broke it, waving the jagged edge at the officers. Seeing the situation, one of the two radioed for help.

Aid came in the form of Capt. Curt Fredd and Officer Russell Clemens. Meanwhile Barber and Bennington had been jockeying for position and Barber had fired two shots between Jacobs' legs to attempt to encourage the fugitive to give up.

WHEN FREDD AND Clemens arrived, Barber took a side look to see where they were coming and Jacobs gave Barber a powerful kick in the groin sending him reeling. One of the officers got a crack at Jacobs with a night stick and then another hit Jacobs during which time Barber turned to run. Clemens took off after him, finally tackling him from behind to bring him down. He just missed getting slashed with the bottle himself. The officers wrestled with Jacobs, finally handcuffing and subduing him.

The officers then returned Jacobs to the hospital about 2:45 and made a quick trip home to change their clothes which had become muddied and dirty in the scuffle. Barber went to the doctor for an examination. He finished up his shift Saturday night, but still was feeling the effects of the kick and is to have a further examination Monday.

Rain, Snow Sweep Across Several Areas

United Press International

Rain and snow swept across several areas of the nation Saturday and gave promise of scattered white endings for the Christmas holiday.

Snow fell across northern Michigan and Minnesota and on a line from Montana to the Sierras of California.

But weathermen warned that snow would push into parts of the Dakotas and Nebraska and from Pennsylvania through western New England into New England by Sunday evening.

THE EASTERN snow was expected to mushroom out of a rain storm that pushed through the lower Mississippi Valley into Kentucky and southern Indiana and the Carolinas Saturday. Mixed with freezing temperatures, the rain formed ice accumulations on highways in the North Carolina hills.

The rain was heading northeastward and expected to reach the Appalachians Saturday night, with rain on either side of the mountain range and ice or snow in the higher elevations of Virginia and the Keystone state.

MEANWHILE, THE western snow accompanied coo. Pacific air pushing toward the Rockies. Rain spread from the storm to the southern California coast as far south as Santa Barbara.

The Michigan-Minnesota snow was blamed on a disturbance moving across southern Canada, which also dumped a mixture of rain, snow and sleet on the southeast corner of the Michigan upper peninsula.

Elsewhere, fair to cloudy skies and mild temperatures were reported.

U.S. Population Over 175 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will enter 1959 with a population of slightly more than 175½ million, a gain of 24½ million since the 1950 census.

Youngsters and oldsters have shown the greatest percentage increases, the Census Bureau said Saturday in a yearend memorandum, because of the high birth rate and lengthening life span.

Women and girls continued to gain numerically over men and boys. There were 87,500,000 females at midyear and 86,200,000 males. Females made up 50.5 per cent of the population as against 50.2 per cent in 1950.

There were 19½ million infants and toddlers under 3.

Scientist Says Man Able To Orbit Earth 6,000 Miles Out

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. James A. Van Allen, leading U. S. authority on space conditions, said Saturday the Army's Pioneer III moon rocket proved that man could orbit the earth at an altitude of 6,000 miles without danger from radiation.

He said that data recorded during the rocket's 63,000 - mile high flight showed there are two hazardous "doughnuts" of radiation in space instead of the one which was known about before. But he said that an earth satellite launched in a polar direction could escape these bands and go into orbit in a safe zone between them.

THE SCIENTIST, head of Iowa State University physics department made his report to the American Astronautical Society at a meeting held in connection with the 1958 meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS).

Van Allen, who discovered the earlier - known radiation belt as well as the new one, told a news conference after making his report that the United States should try next to send a satellite into a pole-to-pole orbit at an altitude ranging from 200 to 40,000 miles.

He said such a vehicle, equipped with a 100 - pound payload of instruments could remain in orbit long and effectively enough to fill in data that could not be obtained from Pioneer III, which stayed in the air 38 hours with its 13-pound payload.

BUT VAN ALLEN emphasized that on the basis of what Pioneer III — equipped with two cigaret-size geiger counters—showed, the hazards of radiation to a space traveler were "not nearly so bad as it first looked."

He said this was because "there is a hollow in between" the 2,000-mile thick radiation band starting about 1,400 miles from the earth and the 4,000-mile thick band lying between 8,000 and 12,000 miles from this planet.

Van Allen reported his findings after Hugh L. Dryden, deputy chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, described this country's Atlas "talking" satellite as the first step toward world-wide television broadcasts.

THE NASA OFFICIAL said the mighty 4½ ton missile, offspring of the Defense Department rather than his civilian agency, had opened the way "toward an economically sound, reliable world-wide communications system," using satellites as relay stations.

Dryden said that the Atlas, which has been orbiting since Dec. 18 and repeating spoken and teletyped massages from ground stations, was also the "first practicable application" of a weather satellite. Such a space vehicle, he said, would "increase the accuracy of weather forecasts with very large monetary savings."

THE SIX-DAY meeting, which got under way Friday, is being attended by about 5,000 delegates from all fields of science.

Hit, Run Driver Stops Long Enough To Punch Victim

CHICAGO (AP)—A woman hit-and-run victim Saturday told police the motorist who struck her stopped his car long enough to punch her in the face when she tried to get his car's license number.

Mrs. Mildred Ward, 43, was treated for facial bruises, a black eye and cut lip.

She told officers an old sedan knocked her down as she tried to cross an alley. The driver, whom she described as in his early twenties, got out and offered to take her to a hospital. She said he stepped up when she tried to get a look at the car's rear license, muttered "I don't want any trouble," and struck her in the face four times.

Then he drove off.

Aroma Park Boy Injured In Fall From House Roof

A 20-foot fall off a roof about 4 p.m. Saturday sent a rural Aroma Park lad to St. Mary's hospital with a double fracture of the right arm and shoulder and a possible skull fracture.

Harold Van Wingo, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Van Wingo of Rt. 2, Aroma Park, was listed in fair condition Saturday evening. He was injured when he tripped or lost his balance and fell off the roof of a house his father is building. He had just brought a supply of nails to his father. The boy is not usually permitted on the roof, his mother reported.

The Aroma Park fire department ambulance was summoned and brought the boy to the hospital. He was admitted at 4:45 p.m.

FOLLOWED by A BRICK WALL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police said a brick wall followed Bob Bailey home Saturday.

Well, not all of it. Officers said they found a 15-block trail of bricks and mortar from the demolished front wall of a bar to Bailey's garage.

Inside the garage, officers said, was Bailey's car—well-splattered with debris.

Bailey, booked on suspicion of misdemeanor hit-and-run, acknowledged to officers that his car "nudged" the wall.

4 Children Die As Home Burns

GRANITE FALLS, N. C. (UPI)—Four children died Saturday in a fire that apparently started from an overheated stove and was fed by the aging timbers of an old house.

A fifth child escaped the blaze by leaping from a second story window.

The parents were away from home at the time of the tragedy.

The boy who escaped and an unidentified youth ran to the Granite Falls department to report the fire.

The victims were identified as the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson: Danny Ross, 12, Willard, 5, Patricia Ann, 4 and Woodrow 1.
