KIDNAP TRAIL IN WASHINGTON GROWS HOTTER

Several Suspects Are Questioned by G-Men.

GUARDINGSHACK

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Federal officers questioned Fred Orrin Haynes, former convict, and Lee Haskell Fowler, under long sentence for robbery, today in their attempt to find the kidnaper who slew 10-year-old Charles Matison.

Haynes walked into the Seattle police station this morning.

"They've got me all wrapped around this kidnapping," he told Detective Captain Marshall Scaffaro, "and I didn't have anything to do with it."

Not Recognized

The former inmate of Polson, Calif., prison had been sitting unrecognized for 15 minutes on a bench in front of the station before Scaffaro arrived.

Fowler was held in the county jail at Bellingham, Wash. The jail was blockaded as a precautionary measure. Officers said they became suspicious when he suddenly pleaded guilty Tuesday to robbing a mail company Dec. 17 and was sentenced to 20 years. He has refused, they said, to discuss his whereabouts since December 27, the night Charles was kidnapped.

Since Tuesday, Polson officers, various Washington police and federal agents have been seeking Haynes. Early today, Washington police officers were combing the territory between Seattle and Everett, Wash., for Haynes and a woman companion who was furnished a protective identification of the cottage where he had been established by persons who saw photographs of Haynes.

Questioned at Length

Officers began seeking the couple during their intensive search of the area around Everett, near where young Matison was found slain Monday, 15 days after he was abducted from his Tacoma home by a lone man who left a ransom note demanding $25,000.

Captain Scaffaro summoned federal and more than an hour later the man was still in the captain's office undergoing questioning. The trend of the examination was not

Icy Streets Slow Down Auto Drivers

Motorists proceeded with caution last night as the snow storm made visibility poor and pavements slick. Early today, drivers reported in this vicinity. In one driver suffered injuries which required attention at St. Mary hospital.

Fred Dietz, 41, residing at Grand and North avenues, Bradley, sustained lacerations about the face when his auto, traveling south on highway 49 near Manteno, collided with one headed north and driven by James Witherell of Wilmette. The cars were badly damaged, according to Highway Officer James Zopf.

At Harrison and Court streets shortly after 6 o'clock last evening, autos of A. E. Anderson, 901 South Shannon and Bernard Shannon of Chicago were involved in a minor crash.

ATHLETICS IN SCHOOLS ARE BOON TO ALL

State Educator In Address Before Rotary Club.

The value of participation in athletics by all high school students was stressed by Dr. Paul Belting of Urbana, high school inspector from the state superintendent's office, who discussed the ever broadening scope of education at the Thursday meeting of the Rotary club in the Hotel Kankakee.

"Besides developing the young body physically, athletic contests teach cooperation and self-discipline," the speaker commented. "Playing football is really not play, but downright hard work. When the boys leave the field after a hard afternoon's workout, they go home and go to bed."

Good Citizens

"They don't have time to get into devilment or mischief. They deny themselves certain things like sweets and cigarettes and develop the self-discipline which is so important in molding the useful and intelligent citizens of tomorrow. An Iowa judge who has been on the bench 40 years never had to sentence a college athlete. That type seldom gets into any trouble," Mr. Belting continued.

The educator said that one of the reasons why the United States stands solidly back of the Olympic games lies in the hope that better citizenship can be taught to the other peoples of the world through friendly rivalry on a sportsmanlike basis.

High School Comic Operetta Delights Large Audience

"The Dizzy Baton," one act comic operetta, proved the spice of the program at the annual concert of the choral groups at Kankakee high school last night.

Frederic Bonner, Prof. Storand, and Roland Pontious as Herr Gillsando, who accepts the title of the world's greatest accompanist, had the crowd howling with glee as they rehearsed a singing school while the regular professor sang while the accompanist sang.

Unknown to the chorus, the two characters happened to be escaped inmates of an asylum and expressed their ultimate in sheepishness when their keepers came for them just at the climax of their dramatic effort.

Locates "A"

Clad in a frock coat, the professor wildly gestured the singers through several canzonas and choruses. After a diligent search Herr Pontious found "A" on the piano and was off in a mass of keys. So vicious was his attack on the crescendo that he had a hard time staying on his seat.

Verna Bevan as Donna, secretary of the singing school, and Violeta Beurne as Ellen, the chorus were nonplussed at this turn of events. During the performance Sue Keith

Progressive Bank

Previously an "honor" bank for many years because its surplus grew to equal its capital stock, the institution has further earned commendation for its soundness during the depression period and the strides it has made since.

Kankakee was fortunate during the depression because of the soundness of its financial institutions, none of which closed as a result of the depression. This integrity of the banks during that period made the crucial

Positively! The First Robin is Seen at Watseka

Watseka, Jan. 15.—(RN Special)—The warm rains which brought the first robin, long known as a harbinger of spring, to Watseka yesterday was shivering when the bird turned to snow-covered ground for the third time this season.

The bird was fed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Kremer yesterday noon, and sat on a feeding perch in a tree near the home preening its feathers after a heavy lunch of corn meal and bread crumbs.

First "Real" Snowfall Of Winter Here

With the temperature falling steadily yesterday afternoon, there occurred the season's heaviest snowfall, which covered ground already soggy from recent rains.

The fall of snow, according to the records of the Kankakee Water company, amounted to approximately one inch, which is the equivalent of a quarter inch of rain.

The snow was greeted gleefully by hunters, who have long awaited the opportunity of following rabbit tracks, but not so gleefully by the workers under Superintendent of Streets Joseph Nicholson, who had to hurry around with shovels to scatter at street intersections and hills to make auto traffic more safe.

Open highways were reported slippery today in spots, but not so much as in town where snow was packed hard, although softening somewhat today under the sun.

Blum Voted Power to Ban Volunteers Who Fight in Spain

Paris, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The French chamber of deputies responded tonight to Premier Leon Blum's plea for a "bill for peace" by unanimously voting him power to ban volunteers from Spain. The vote was 591 to 0.

M. Blum has promised to apply the power only in conjunction with like action by other nations including Britain, Germany and Italy.

The quick vote followed upon his declaration the volunteer question had become one of "saving Europe from war."

French volunteers now are fighting with Russians and Blum in defense of government nations including Britain, Germany and Italy.

The bill gives the government the power to put a ban on volunteers for six months. By that time, it was hoped, the Spanish war would be over.

Persons implicated in the enlistment of volunteers would be subject to fines up to 10,000 francs ($400) and imprisonment up to six months for the first offense and a year for the second.

The measure would not affect men already in Spain.

CHOSEN SECRETARY

Dan Sanborn was elected secretary of the Midwest Agricultural Limestone Institute at the annual meeting of the group in Chicago this week.

Acquitted On Charge of Murder

Norwich, Conn., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Robert A. Simpson, blonde band leader, was acquitted of charges of murder and rape today by a court of three judges.

The court granted the request of the defense for dismissal of charges that the young orchestra leader, criminally assaulted Ellen Sullivan, 17-year-old New London telephone operator, in the darkened hall of Danceland Casino at Ocean Beach early in the morning of July 18.

Miss Sullivan plunged that morning through a window of the hall, in the close of the meeting there will be a business session of the Iroquois county high school athletic association.

The meeting will open in the afternoon with numbers by the Watseka high school girls' glee club. There will also be violin numbers by Miss Helen B. Richardson, intermediate teacher at Danforth. NO CANDIDATES ON DEM TICKET IN FOURTH WARD

Wood and Spillane
Have Re-election
Cinched.

DEADLINE PAST

Both political parties had filed petitions of their candidates for the city primary election by 8:30 o'clock last night, three and one-half hours before the midnight deadline for filing. The primary will be Feb. 23.

Four candidates filed independently, indicating that contests will be necessary in the Second, Third and Sixth wards on the Republican ticket and in the Fifth ward of the Democratic ranks. Candidates, however, have until Tuesday to withdraw their names should they care to do so.

For the first time in many years, the Democrats conceded the Fourth ward to their opponents by not filing any candidates there. This will reflect automatically the present of a quarter inch of rain.

The snow was greeted gleefully by hunters, who have long awaited the opportunity of following rabbit tracks, but not so gleefully by the workers under Superintendent of Streets Joseph Nicholson, who had to hurry around with shovels to scatter at street intersections and hills to make auto traffic more safe.

Open highways were reported slippery today in spots, but not so much as in town where snow was packed hard, although softening somewhat today under the sun.

SEEK SPEEDY TRIAL FOR NEGRO

New York authorities made plans for a speedy murder trial with a demand for death in the electric chair for Major Greene, 33-year-old Negro porter, who, they say, confessed the bathtub slaying of Mrs. Mary Robinson Case, Greene (right) is shown as he was booked after making his confession. At left is Detective James A. Sullivan.

School Bands' Concert Will Be Jan. 27th

An event which music-minded townspeople have been waiting for the mid-winter concert of the Kankakee high school concert band will be held at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, Jan. 27, according to announcement today by George E. Pierrol, director.

Many added attractions will make the program of unusual interest this year. The junior band will be augmented by the military band to present a short concert. A piano accordion quartet will be accompanied by the band and the Steuben school children will present a military drill.

Tentatively scheduled also is the appearance of a prominent organ soloist playing an electric organ, addition to accompanying the band in several numbers.

The concert will be sponsored by the Bandmothers' club of which Mrs. R. E. Brown, 905 South Elm avenue, is president. Mrs. Brown announces that tickets are now on sale by members of all school bands.

Two More Jurors to Report Feb. 1

The names of two additional petit jurors, Philip Panton of Summer township and Paul Marth of Salina, have been drawn by County Clerk Walter J. Richter and Circuit Clerk Albert Tetrault.

They are to replace Fred Beauman, formerly of Kankakee, and W. J. Bernier, formerly of Otto township, who could not be found. The jurors are to report to Circuit Judge W. R. Hunter at 10 o'clock the morning of Feb. 1.

CHECKS DELAYED

Old age assistance checks have been delayed this month, according to Mrs. Luella Tanner, head of the Kankakee county department of welfare. They are expected to arrive about Monday.

They told me I wouldn't be a regular newspaper writer until I started gettin' some squawks, so I started gettin' 'em all right. I done got a squawk.

The other day, in one of my daily articles, I mentioned some-thin' about women talkin' a lot. Well, Sir, it seems like I touched off a bomb under myself.

A committee of women from the Woman's Betterment League, or somethin' like that, called on me at my house and said they read that article and they was bound and determined to stop all that propaganda about women talkin' so much. Not only did they make me promise never to make such a statement again, but they demanded an apology for what I'd done said.

So right now, I'm apologizin' to all the women of the country for what I said about women talkin' so much. I would have apologized to the women's committee when they stop talkin' long enough.

STREAMS SURGE OVER BANKS IN MANY SECTIONS

Conditions Said To Be Most Acute in Several Years.

HEAVY DAMAGE

Chicago, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Rain swollen streams surged over their banks in the middle west and east today, flooding lowlands and menacing a wide expanse of territory from Missouri to Pennsylvania.

Torrential rains which reached cloudburst proportions created the most acute flood conditions in years in many communities. Streams approached or reached flood stage in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Missouri and Illinois.

Forecasts of colder weather raised hopes for abatement of rains in some sections. Meanwhile, many families prepared to evacuate their homes if indicated rises in river stages materialized.

More than 100 families near Hamilton, Ohio, a like number in Poplar Bluff, Mo., 75 in Williamsville, Mo., and hundreds in Indiana fled from their homes yesterday. Police and firemen used boats to rescue families marooned by flood waters near Indianapolis, Dayton and Columbus. National guardsmen were on duty at Poplar Bluff to enforce an evacuation order. Red Cross and state officials mobilized relief for refugees.

Schools closed by flood waters in some southern Indiana and Ohio communities. Water covered the business district of Portland, Ind. Herrin, Ill., was virtually isolated by flood waters near Indianapolis, Dayton and Columbus. National guardsmen were on duty at Poplar Bluff to enforce an evacuation order. Red Cross and state officials mobilized relief for refugees.

Hunter Escapes Horrible Death in Quagmire Pit

Detroit, Jan. 15.—(IN)—A harrowing experience in which he was sucked down into a seemingly bottomless pit of quagmire and rescued with only his head and arms above the surface, was about related today by Charles W. Newberry.

Newberry, a Wayne county official, had gone deer hunting with a party of six in the marshy, timbered area adjacent to Lake George, in Calumet county, Indiana, on starting a big four-legged deer. He had glimpsed earlier, he was ahead of his party and into a marsh.

"Before I realized what was happening I found myself knee-deep in quagmire, and within a few seconds I was up to my chest. The harder I worked to extricate myself, the faster I sank into the seemingly bottomless quagmire."

"Soon the surface of the mire had slipped to my belt and I realized that a horrible death stared me in the face."

"I should have helped, hoping the others would help me and reach me before I could cover my body."

"As I felt the mud crawl slowly up my body, like quicksand, I raised both arms above my head, then my legs, and in a few moments I was up to my chest. The harder I worked to extricate myself, the faster I sank into the seemingly bottomless quagmire."

Pig Shuns Mother, Prefers a Spaniel

Chardon, Ohio, Jan. 15.—(IN)—A little pig reared on dog's milk now shuns his own mother.

"Lad," a springer spaniel owned by Mrs. E. J. Schuch of Xenia, Ohio, gave birth to her third litter of pigs, on Jan. 10.

White sow on the farm farrowed a litter of 10 pigs.

The sow was unable to care for such a large family, and one of the pups, a piglet named "Lad," was taken from her and given to "Lad" to provide for him. In a day or two, the pig was quite at home with his new mother, and "Lad" saw that he was well fed.

At the end of four weeks, the pig was removed to a store to be sold, and the pig was returned to his own mother.

"Milk for Cats"— Insurance Item

Greely, Colo., Jan. 15.—(IN)—"Milk for cats" is an item which appears always on the annual budget of a grain elevator company here.

The company appropriates from its income amounting between $10 and $15 with which to buy a quart of milk a day for the ten or 20 cats which it keeps on the premises.

Management considers it cheap insurance because the cats act as an insurance against the loss of grain stored there.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright of Greely, Colo., were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tade Buckley on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark went to Chicago on Tuesday to help care for her sister Mrs. William Koerner and other members of the family who are ill.

Mrs. James Cassidy and children Ann and Bernard accompanied her sister Mrs. B. H. Mettelle to her home in Joliet, for several days.

Marwood Hendrix and his Sunday school class of boys held a skating party at the pond on Monday evening. Refreshments were served.

Curiosity Made Their Eyes Tear

Beard, Ore., Jan. 15.—(IN)—Curiosity of the sort that is supposed to have once killed a cat, emptied a barrel of powder here in record time.

It happened when a customer found a queer-looking object lying on top of a safe in the billiard room of the hotel.

The customer, who was a stranger, about a string which dangled from one end of the object, so he pulled it and set off a terrific explosion which the owner had been keeping for a special occasion.

Reliable reports indicate the billiard parlor was empty in less than four seconds.

The purpose, like the shark, is a ruthless destroyer of food fish.

REGROUP PLAN ECONOMY WILL BE QUESTIONED

Uncertainty Seems to Prevail About Washington.

FDR'S ATTITUDE

By LYLE C. WILSON
(Copyright, 1937, by United Press)
Washington, Jan. 15—(UP)—Uncertainty among President Roosevelt's advisers and congressional leaders about concrete economies possible under government reorganization today further obscured the outlook for fundamental change in the executive branch of government. From many quarters has been heard talk about hoped-for economies since Mr. Roosevelt's reorganization plan was submitted to congress this week. But it has been in confusingly general terms. Mr. Roosevelt and his own reorganization committee do not agree on economy. In two press conferences Mr. Roosevelt has emphasized that his principal objective is efficient government and that scant economy would flow from his reorganization plan.

The three experts who drafted the program submitted to congress were more optimistic. In their report, which the president endorsed, they said:

Efficiency vs. Economy

"The need for reorganization rests not alone on savings, considerable as they may be. It will be noted that we have made no estimate of the amount of money that will be saved. We have not made such an estimate because of the fact that we are convinced that the establishment of the managerial agencies and the reorganization of the administrative departments that we have recommended will result in large savings, not only of money but of time and effort."

There is no certainty whether Mr. Roosevelt undertook reorganization for both economy and efficiency and later was persuaded small economies would result, or whether he merely prefers to emphasize the efficiency objective beyond any money saving. It is understood that in preliminary talks with some members of congress the president suggested savings of three to four per cent might be realized by reorganization but later abandoned that optimism.

A four per cent economy in the 1938 fiscal year would have amounted to approximately $240,000,000. Expenditures that year, not including the soldiers bonus and charges for interest and debt retirement, were about $6,000,000,000.

A four per cent saving probably would satisfy most congressional critics of the Roosevelt plan. Sen. Harry P. Byrd, D., Va., is one of the foremost senate economizers and critics of Roosevelt reorganization. As governor of Virginia, Byrd said he reorganized the state government saving five per cent.

Insists on Economy

Chairman James P. Buchanan of the house appropriations committee also insists on reorganization economy, but so far has placed his objective at about 1 1/2 per cent of 1937 regular and recovery and relief expenditures—$50,000,000 to $100,000,000. Buchanan said that much could be saved by abolishing 15 or 20 of the independent agencies which have accumulated in the past 50 years.

The non-partisan Brookings Institution, reporting to Senator Byrd's senate reorganization committee, proposed consolidations and liquidations of government lending agencies to save approximately $30,000,000 and will propose further savings and changes later. The $30,000,000 would be an economy of approximately 1/2 of 1 per cent of 1938 fiscal year expenditures.

Congressional discussion of reorganization has shifted to the senate which next will consider the house proposal for a joint congressional committee to consider reorganization proposals. The Byrd committee has recessed until after the inauguration.

New Tractor Belt Made of Rubber; Easy on Highways

New York, Jan. 15—(INS)—Development of a new rubber tractor belt that can operate on the finest hard surface roads without damage to the pavement is throwing open 358,078 miles of paved highways to public works contractors and other users of "track laying" tractors.

The new endless-belt solid rubber tracks forecast a new era in highway equipment serving for heavy hauling and highway transportation, according to J. D. Tew, president of the B. F. Goodrich company, whose engineers perfected the new tractor belt.

"The ability to operate on soft surfaces, and slip-proof traction are characteristics of the new track," Mr. Tew stated. "Tractors equipped with solid rubber belts can move freely from the portions of road under construction to the finished pavement, thus solving one of the major problems of all such work."

"Tests have shown that it makes possible speeds up to 6 miles an hour and in performance a saving of 50 per cent in power consumption at 30 miles an hour."

An indication of the mobility of a machine equipped with rubber traction belts is seen in the report that it will "coast" after the clutch is disengaged from the motor.

Plans for 1937 Cleveland Show Are Announced

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 15—(INS)—Preliminary plans for the 1937 Great Lakes exposition on Cleveland's downtown waterfront, a show which last summer attracted nearly 2,500,000 out-of-town visitors to the city, have been announced with the election of W. T. Holliday, president of the Standard Oil Co., of Ohio, as exposition president for this year.

The exposition will open May 29, a month earlier than in 1936, for 101 days through Sept. 6.

Holliday declared that the 1936 show was responsible for an expenditure of $30,000,000 by visitors, and for construction, materials and payrolls for construction work on the site by contractors, concessionaires and exhibitors.

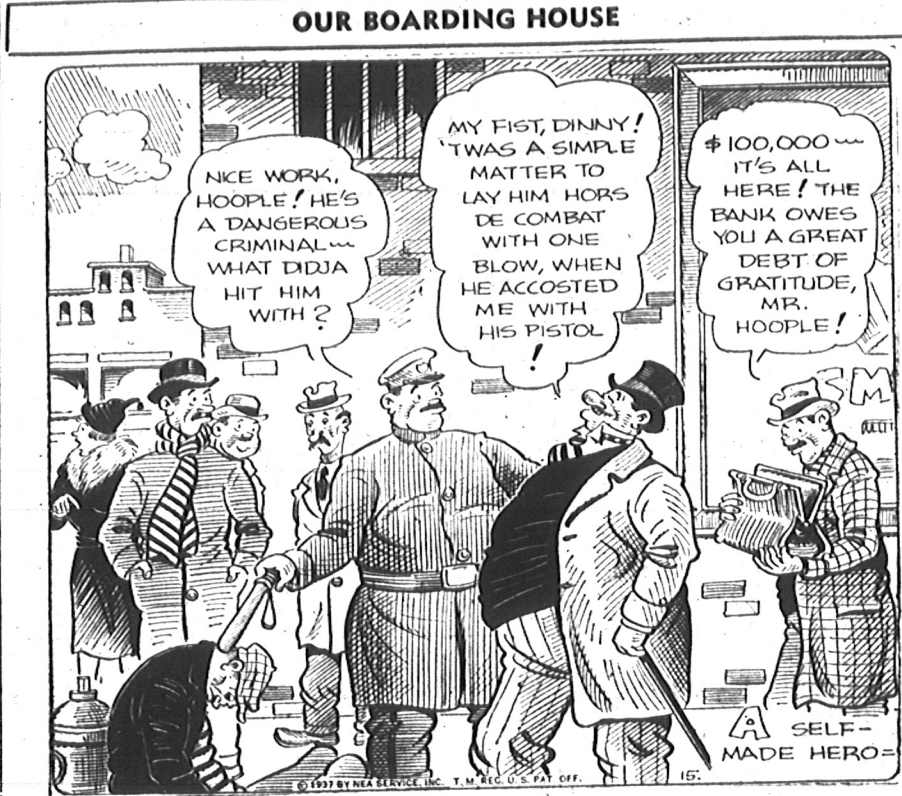

The 1937 exposition will be the dramatization of the industrial and agricultural resources of the entire Great Lakes region, and plans include many new features, entertainments and exhibits on the 150 acres on the shore of Lake Erie.

Lincoln G. Dickey continues as general manager for this year. Mayor Harold H. Burton again will be honorary chairman of the exposition committee, and Dudley S. Blossom, general chairman.

Other officers selected by the board of trustees are H. G. Dalton, A. C. Ernst, I. P. Freiberger, and L. B. Williams, vice presidents; J. J. Raymond, secretary; and John C. McHannan, treasurer.

Center of a huge inland trading area, Cleveland will draw its visitors overnight from a population of 26,000,000, the greatest potential attendance ever offered any exposition, according to the officials.

Drunkness, some scientists say, is caused by loss of oxygen in the body.

Officials Study Names of Guests for Coronation

London, Jan. 15—(INS)—Harassed officials who will have the task of announcing important guests at the coronation functions have gone into seclusion with text books, old documents, and other helpful data.

Between now and May they have to memorize how to pronounce hundreds of tongue-twisting names, and, perhaps more important, to give the correct pronunciation to famous English names which are not pronounced as spelled.

The officials have no easy task ahead, particularly as most of the owners of such names are extremely touchy about having themselves properly pronounced, down to the last tongue-twisting syllable.

Who, for instance, would think of announcing Lord Bertie of Thame as "Lord Barty of Tame," or Lord Ruthven as "Lord Ruyven?" And who would believe that Lord Bethune was not being called out of his name when he was announced as "Lord Beeton?"

Following are a few of the examples of curious Anglicize pronunciations of well-known names, most of the bearers of which will be taking important parts at the coronation celebrations:

Abergavenny, pronounced Aber-gavenny; Beauchamp, as Beecham; Blyth, as Bly; Brougham, as Broom; Carew as Cary; Dalsell, as Dee-ell; Lygon, as Ligon; Tyrwhitt, as Tirrit; Weyss, as Weems.

Beauclerk, as Bo-clare; Boling-broke, as Bullingbrook; Buccleuch, as Buckloo; Clywd, as Cloo-ud; De-cies, as Deches; St. John, as Sin-jun; Majoribanks, as Marchbanks; St. Maur, as Seomore; Featherstonehaugh, as Festonhogg; Heathcote, as Heth-cut.

CALIFORNIA TOURISM GAINS

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 15—(UP)—Year-end statistics show that 1,517,864 tourists visited southern California in 1936 against 1,270,078 in 1935. Those visiting the 10 southern counties spent $188,891,159 a gain of $33,127,737 over 1935.

Many interstate rates, for calls of more than 42 miles, are affected. The reductions for the first three minutes range from 5c. to $1.00, depending on distance.

The new rates make it easier to keep in touch with distant friends or relatives—easier to do business in other cities. Sample Long Distance service soon. It's two-ways. It's quick, clear, personal—and above all, more economical than ever.

Representative rates are listed at the right.

Two Lawyers End Quarrel in Duel

Budapest, Jan. 15—(INS)—Two Budapest lawyers, Dr. Alexander Masgon and Dr. Andrew Detschberger, had heavy arguments during a trial. The remarks they made on each others' legal science were not all flattering. At the end of the trial Dr. Weisberger challenged his colleague in the lobby of the court.

Two days later they met at Santelli's gymnasium with heavy cavalry sabres. The second who conducted the duel was Dr. Andrew Kabos, world champion of fencing.

"Go ahead," he shouted and the two berristers started to chop each other. The duel had fourteen rounds and lasted 25 minutes. Both were injured on the chest arms and face, but not too dangerously. After the duel they shook hands and had lunch together in a fashionable restaurant.
