Arrest 3 Men for Molesting Girl, 14

Three bright men were arrested yesterday by Detective Don Bleau and Officer O'Neil at 9:22 o'clock Saturday evening in the 900 block of Mulberry street for investigation of charges that they molested a girl.

It was said that they tried to induce the girl, Josie May Winfield, 14, colored, of 733 North Wildwood avenue, to get into their car. In the hearing before Justice Henry R. Bauer, one of the trio, George Miller, 24, was fined $13.25 for disorderly conduct. The other two men, Kenneth Day, 38, and William Walpup, 24, were released after it was determined that Miller did the talking.

Natural Gas Dynamite Discovery Announced

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

Baltimore, April 3.—(AP)—Science disclosed today a discovery that America's vast supply of natural gas, 9 per cent of the world production, can be converted into dynamite.

Only a fraction of the gas is needed to make all the dynamite that the world could use either in peace or war.

Discovery of a new chemical synthesis announced at Purdue university last summer made the natural gas dynamite possible. The Hercules Powder company, at Wilmington, Del., has the actual explosive.

The methods by which natural gas, air and steam alone are used to make the new dynamite were described to the American Chemical Society here by Professor Henry B. Slichter, head of Purdue's chemistry department.

Natural gas contains methane, which is ordinary marsh gas, and ethane, a colorless, odorless gas. These are solidified by treatment with formaldehyde. The nitrogen is added to the compounds.

The nitrogen is extracted from the air. The steam comes in when its use extracts the necessary formaldehyde from natural gas.

Both the new products are high explosives. Both can be substituted for nitroglycerine in manufacturing dynamite. Nitroglycerine constitutes the entire explosive in dynamite, and the natural gas explosive does the same for the new dynamite.

It is claimed that the natural gas dynamite process is cheap. In wartime, glycerine for nitroglycerine has a history of multiplying its cost by more than six-fold. Besides, glycerine comes from fat, whose use diminishes the war-time food supply.

Father Held

Albert Lee Christmas, 45-year-old farmer, was jailed at Vienna, Ga., on a charge of slaying his son, Albert, Jr. (above), fifth-grade honor student, in an effort to obtain insurance. The boy's body was found in water under a railway bridge.

High School Band is First in District

The Kankakee high school band placed first in its division at the district contest held Saturday in Joliet. Winning this honor makes it eligible to compete in the next contest at LaSalle-Peru on April 29.

The band won the honor on its three selections—"Lubusa overture" by Smetana; the first movement from the Symphony in D Minor by Franz Schubert; and a waltz—"The World is Waiting for the Sunrise" arranged by Harry Alford.

The judges were H. E. Nutt of Vandevork school of music in Chicago and Capt. John H. Barabach, prominent band leader of Chicago. The sight reading contest was judged by G. V. Hendricks. The band was given first class rating by all the judges and received no mark lower than A.

George E. Peters, director, announced today that the annual spring concert would be held directly after the LaSalle-Peru contest May 5.

APRIL TERM OF SUPREME COURT OPENS TUESDAY

Perjury Conviction of James Crabb Acted On

Springfield, Ill., April 3.—(AP)—The appeal of James W. Crabb, 22, son of a former Delavan banker, from a one to 14-year prison sentence for perjury is among the 45 cases which the Illinois supreme court may rule at its April term opening Tuesday afternoon.

Crabb, now at liberty under $7,500 bond, was convicted last October 1 of perjury charges arising from the fatal shooting of his 18-year old bride Betty Collison Crabb, March 1, 1938.

Previously Crabb was tried for manslaughter but the jury disagreed. The state then filed the perjury charges on grounds he had given conflicting accounts concerning his wife's death.

The validity of a Winnetka zoning ordinance permitting public schools in a residential district but excluding private and parochial schools is involved in another case on which the court may hand down an opinion.

The Winnetka zoning board of appeals took the case to the high tribunal after the Cook county circuit court upheld the contents of the ordinance. The board, which is headed by Rev. B. J. Sheil, Catholic bishop of Chicago, said the ordinance was discriminatory and illegal and ordered he be given a building permit.

Other cases on the advisement docket, described by court attaches as the lightest in years, include those involving:

The appeal of James K. Matter, Chicago, from his conviction and 20-year prison term for slaying his wife.

The fight of Robert M. Nixon, Chicago Negro, to evade death in the electric chair for the brick slaying of Mrs. Florence Johnson, mother of two children.

Efforts of the state to collect $37,654 allegedly due from former Conservation Director Ralph E. Bradford of Pontiac and his surety.

Legality of peaceful picketing alleged to be party of a conspiracy to boycott and ruin independent Chicago milk dealers.

Thirty-one rehearing petitions are on the docket, including requests for reconsideration of decisions handed down at the February term which:

Voided an annual $3,000,000 in gas rates to customers of the Peoples Gas, Light and Coke company in Chicago.

Affirmed the death sentence of Charles Price, Chicago Negro, for the slaying of Nicholas Miller.

Four members of the student council of Kankakee high school and the sponsor attended the state convention of the group Friday and Saturday in Peoria. Sessions were held at the Peoria Central high school.

The Kankakee group included Misses Margery Lee McCracken and Melba Stella, Willard Drazzy and George Swain. They were accompanied by Raymond Harris, assistant principal.

Swain was chairman of the nominating committee which selected the officers for next year. Ralph DeShoy of Highland Park was elected president.

Over 700 members of student council and faculty advisers from 106 schools attended the two day conference. Several junior high schools were also represented. Among the speakers were Dr. Clifford Hibbler of Northwestern, Dr. F. W. Erickson of Illinois State Normal university and A. E. Mayn of the University of Illinois.

Our Duty And Yours

(An Editorial)

The duty of a newspaper is to publish information about public affairs, to support anything that benefits the community and oppose anything injurious.

The Republican-News seeks to fulfill that obligation to this community and lends its assistance to every movement which will benefit Kankakee and vicinity.

As an institution which shares the general desire for prosperity, happiness and community progress, the Republican-News is interested in good government like any citizen.

This newspaper believes that jobs for men is a paramount need in this community. It shares the general pleasure when new industries are established and existing ones are expanded.

The Republican-News has been in close touch with the circumstances which make this advancement possible. It knows that the encouragement of friendly relations between labor and industry by public-spirited local government, low tax rates and absence of governmental debts locally are the reasons.

During the past few weeks the Republican-News has presented a great deal of information about such matters to the people. This was done with tax and employment figures, photographs, information about the candidates in tomorrow's election and similar data.

All this information is on public record which any citizen can find for himself, but this newspaper, having the facilities of gathering and presenting the facts, has done so as a part of its civic duty.

All this information is strictly accurate and the Republican-News is prepared to stand behind all its statements.

We feel Kankakee county is exceptionally fortunate in having a Republican board of supervisors that has continually reduced its operating expenses, kept the county free of debt, provided modern progressive service in public improvements and humane attention to the blind, widows, aged and unfortunate.

The county board is one of the few counties in the state not enticed into levying high taxes and issuing heavy bonds encouraged and offered by federal subsidies for unnecessary and extravagant schemes.

This county has been rewarded for its efforts in this regard because no where else in the state has there been such an influx of new industries, expansion of existing industries and development of trade over a wide area.

For these reasons, the Republican-News feels that tomorrow's election is of great importance to the community and we hope that every voter will exercise his or her rights at the polls as free citizens.

For the same reasons, the Republican-News feels that the best interests of the community will be served by the election of the Republican candidates.

CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH VOTED THE TVA TODAY

Dishonesty Charges are "Without Any Foundation"

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—The Tennessee Valley Authority won a clean bill of health today from a majority of the special congressional committee which conducted a year's inquiry into the $500,000,000 New Deal agency.

The bulky report, filed this noon, declared that charges of dishonesty brought by former TVA Chairman Arthur E. Morgan against the other two directors "are without foundation, not supported by the evidence, and made without due consideration of the available facts."

It was Morgan's removal by President Roosevelt that precipitated the congressional investigation. The committee majority offered both praise and criticism of the ousted chairman.

Minority Report

A minority report signed by Senator Davis (R-Pa.) and Representative Jenkins (R-Ohio) and Wolverton (R-NJ) recommended a complete reorganization of the TVA. It accused the power agency of "waste and inefficiency" and said its policies had been "arbitrary, dictatorial and unbusiness like."

The minority recommended transfer of all flood control and power generation activities from the TVA to the army engineers. It also urged that the TVA board be increased from three to five members, and that the board operate under regulation of state utility commissions.

In a separate individual minority report, Jenkins contended that the majority report was "silent but unmistakable proof of a desire to withhold true facts rather than bring them to light."

Dr. Morgan, the report said, "was largely responsible for the excellent engineering work done by the authority for its enlightened labor policy, and for certain other progressive aspects of its work."

Internal Strifes

At the same time his differences with the other directors, David E. Lilienthal and Dr. Harcourt A. Morgan, were declared to have "led to serious internal stresses in the organization that hampered its effectiveness."

The majority report criticized former TVA budgeting and accounting methods, but praised the agency's far-flung activities, predicted that power income eventually would repay most costs, and called TVA rates a "fair yardstick" for the private utility industry.

Approve Paving of 3 City Streets

Three street improvement projects drawn up recently by the city council and submitted to state highway department authorities were approved today. They total $21,300.

At tonight's council meeting resolutions will be presented calling for improvement of two more thoroughfares with proceeds from the city's share of state gas tax funds.

Those approved today include a 20-foot concrete slab on Sycamore street from Schuyler to Indiana avenue, connecting highways 49 and 113, a $5,900 job; and bituminous surface treatment construction on two other streets—East Mulberry from Greenwood to Hobble, $9,000; and West Mulberry from Fifth to Entrance, $6,400.

The improvement listed for the latter street also includes the short strip on Entrance avenue from Mulberry south to the N. Y. C. tracks, thus connecting with the pavement south of the railroad crossing.

Two new projects which are being drafted include the 100 and 200 blocks on South Greenwood avenue and West Stone street from Fifth to Tenth avenue.

Traffic Accidents Claim Toll of Six

At least six persons were killed in traffic accidents in Illinois during the week-end, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Two Peorians, Carl Pezer and William Wilson, both 23, were killed when the auto in which they were riding on route 24 crashed into the rear of truck a mile north of Kings-ton. The truck was driven by Paul Kaufman of Genoa.

Mrs. Ella Zeyer, 18, was injured fatally when struck by an automobile near her home in Garden Prairie. The driver did not stop. Mrs. Zeyer was the twin sister of Circuit Judge William L. Pierce of Belvidere.

Elmer Eichhorst, 18, of Lombard, was killed when his brother's automobile crashed into a hayrack on a highway near Lombard.

The collision of two automobiles in Evanston killed Miss Lois Campbell, 28, of Evanston. It was the community's first auto fatality in 91 days.

One traffic fatality was reported in Chicago.

1 Of Every 7 Kankakeeans Use Hospital

New York, April 3.—(RN Special)—More use was made last year by residents of Kankakee and suburbs of the city's hospital facilities than was the case generally in other parts of the country. The data is contained in a report of the American Medical association.

A total of 3,134 patients, equivalent to one out of every 7 in Kankakee, were cared for. In the country at large one person in 14 became a hospital bed patient in the 1,656 hospitals, sanatoriums and related institutions registered by the association.

Kankakee state hospital admitted 749 patients and St. Mary hospital, 2,385.

Illinois, in its 260 hospitals and sanatoriums, registered about one in every 12 in the state. The beds in these hospitals were in use 66.2 per cent of the time.

The country's record for 1938 indicates that every 335 seconds in the year another person was admitted to a hospital. He stayed an average of 12.5 days.

At the same time his differences with the other directors, David E. Lilienthal and Dr. Harcourt A. Morgan, were declared to have "led to serious internal stresses in the organization that hampered its effectiveness."

Yankee Clipper Hops 300 Miles to Marseilles

Marseilles, France, April 3.—(AP)—The Yankee Clipper arrived at the Marignane seaplane base here at 9:47 a. m. (3:47 a. m. c. s. t.) today after a brief flight from Biscarosse base, Bordeaux.

The 42-ton Pan American Airways' transatlantic craft left Biscarosse at 7:28 a. m. (1:28 a. m. c. s. t.), and flew approximately 300 miles in two hours 19 minutes.

Her schedule had called for a direct flight to Marseilles from Lisbon, Portugal, but adverse winds caused her to alight at Biscarosse at 3:35 p. m. (9:45 a. m. c. s. t.) yesterday after five and a half hours in the air. She is due to fly tomorrow to Southampton, England, and then to the United States, completing a survey flight.

1 Injured, 1 Arrested in Week-end Crashes

One person was injured and one motorist was jailed for driving while intoxicated in six auto crashes reported to police Saturday and Sunday. The personal injury accident occurred outside the city limits.

Jesse Chayer, 46, of 847 South Main street, was arrested by Officer Percy LaGesse at 7:49 o'clock Sunday evening after his car crashed into one driven by Phillip Hendrick, 36, of Springfield, at Main and Water streets.

The latter, headed south, stopped for traffic to clear so that he could make a left turn. Chayer, driving on the wrong side of the thoroughfare, crashed into the Hendrick auto, according to police reports.

At 3:50 o'clock Sunday morning, Lorraine Rickett, 28, of 404 West Broadway avenue, Bradley, sustained painful bruises and lacerations when she fell out of a car when the door came open as the vehicle rounded the sharp curve on highway 49 at Fair and Indiana avenues. The auto was driven by Sam Bell, 29, of 503 North Indiana avenue.

Joseph Degnan of Chicago reported that his auto ran into the rear of another at 2:30 o'clock this morning at River and East avenues, but the driver of the other car kept on going.

Other crashes involved vehicles of William Bijard of Bourbonnais and Esther Brammer of 643 North Harrison avenue at Chestnut and Schuyler; R. G. Hawkins of Bradley and E. L. Allgaier of route 1, Kankakee, in the 300 block on East Court street; and Vernon Pelletier of 414 South Harrison avenue and L. M. Chisley of Redick in the 500 block on East Court street.

Shot at Twice, Jackson Escaped Assassination

PROBABLY no American President ever saw death closer than did Andrew Jackson. He escaped it as a matter of fact, although many times, and the last of his many escapes have been able to clear up the mystery.

The attempted assassination occurred just 101 years ago in the Capitol as the President was returning with cabinet members from the funeral of William H. Davis of South Carolina. It was planned by one Richard Lawrence, a Washington pianist, afterward adjudged insane.

As the President left the House of Representatives with the secretaries of treasury on his left arm, Lawrence, with pistol concealed beneath his coat, stepped out from behind a marble column and raised his aim to fire. There was an explosion but the gun did not go off, merely the percussion cap! Almost instantly then advanced to attack the assassin, but before they could reach him he calmly raised his left arm and aimed a second pistol. But it too failed to fire.

By this time, of course, presidential aides and even Jackson himself were upon the assassin. He was easily overpowered, carried away by policemen.

So was "Old Hickory" saved for his country. He is shown above as a U. S. Stamp of the series of 1887 Great Purple, engraved (Scott Cat. 149, NIA Series, Inc.).

The froth is so thick, in fact, that three of the 16 fugitives from the big top have failed to win half or more of their games. This makes it possible for followers of all except the Cleveland Indians, Philadelphia Phils and Boston Bees to point with pride to the startling strides of these heroes.

REPORT AVERS BUND FOSTERS GERMAN IDEALS

Contains No Recommendations for Legal Action

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—Attorney General Murphy made public today a 14-volume report on the German-American Bund which asserted one of its principal objectives was to foster "Germanism and German ideals" in this country.

The report was compiled by the federal bureau of investigation in 1937. It was given out at the suggestion of Chairman Dies (Tex.) of the house committee on un-American activities.

The bund report, which included 125 photographs, pamphlets and miscellaneous exhibits, contained no recommendations for legal action. It was confined principally to a description of the bund's origin and activities.

6,617 Members

When investigated by the federal agents, the report said, the organization had a membership of 6,617 persons distributed among 50 local units. It added that Fritz Kuhn, the national leader, estimated total membership at 8,220.

In a statement released coincidentally with the report, the justice department said the bund's constitution included an 11-point program which called on members "above all to uphold and defend the constitution and the laws of the United States; ...

"To promote good will and friendship between the United States and Germany;

"To defend with all lawful means the honor of the mother country (Germany) against defamation, propaganda, et cetera; ...

"To act as honorable descendants of the Germanic race for the purpose of creating good will toward the German people and their government;

Nazi Saluting

"To advocate the right of every civilized nation to attend to its own business without any interference from outsiders;

"To promote friendship among nations and peace among mankind; ...

At various bund gatherings, particularly at "health" camps, the statement added, "there is considerable marching, Nazi saluting, helling, flag waving, drilling of the uniformed organizations, speeches, and athletics."

"Generally there are speeches by the leaders which are interrupted by Nazi salutes and bells by the various uniformed organizations and by the speakers. The speeches generally have to do with Communism, the Jewish boycotts of German goods, Germany and her place in world affairs and many other topics having to do with fostering Germanism and German ideals."

George F. Harding Funeral Tuesday

Chicago, April 3.—(AP)—George F. Harding, long a power in Republican politics and Republican national committeeman from Illinois, died yesterday at his home following a long illness. He was 70.

Harding began his political career in 1903 as a Chicago alderman. He held the office 10 years and then served a term in the state senate. Next he served as city comptroller under Mayor William Hale Thompson. In later years, Harding and "Big Bill" became political rivals.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at the home here with the Rev. Von Ogden Vogt of the First Unitarian church officiating. Burial will be in the family lot at Mountmorris, Ill., on Wednesday.

Honorary pallbearers included C. Wayland Brooks, Charles G. Dawes, Charles S. Deneen, John W. Dierhart, Louis L. Emmerson, O. L. F. Glenn, Herbert Hoover, Col. Frank Knox, Alfred Landon, Frank O. Lowden, Thomas Lamont, Col. Robert R. McCormick, M. C. Meigs and William Hale Thompson.

Harding underwent an operation for removal of his gall bladder last January and never recovered fully. At his bedside when he died were his daughter, Mrs. Mary Thompson, and his secretary, Miss Jessie Katz. His major interest outside of politics was his large collection of antique armor. This and his art collection were valued at $5,000,000. His business holdings chiefly were in the loop and south side real estate.

His first wife, Ellen Osborn Davis of Neenah, Wis., died in 1896. Harding later married Catherine Fay of Peoria, now dead.

Claim State Laws Restrict Agricultural Trade in U. S.

Chicago, April 3.—(AP)—State laws enacted to protect home-grown farm products have become legal fences restricting the nation's huge internal agricultural trade, the council of state governments reported today.

A research report made public by the council said virtually every state had one or more laws curbing free exchanging of farm products—among the more important being measures on dairy products, oil, margarine and wines—and agricultural quarantine laws.

Governors, legislators or administrative officials of the 48 states, and federal officials, planned to attack the problem at a three-day national conference on interstate trade barriers here beginning Wednesday.

Dr. F. E. Melder, economic adviser to the council, said that in the dairy field it was "nearly impossible" to distinguish between public regulation intended to safeguard health and legal control for protection of the milk producers' market, but that measures tending to exclude milk producers from a market they were ready and able to serve "must be considered to constitute trade barriers."

Thirty states have either excise taxes, averaging about 10 cents per pound or license fees, averaging about $100, on oleomargarine, the report continued. It said many such states had been subject to boycotts or retaliation and the tendency of special excise taxes on out-of-state products to spread constituted "a serious disruption of internal trade and a bar to complete economic recovery."

Quarantines at state borders on plants, animals and agricultural products were applied to prevent spread of disease and insect pests, said the report. "The study of quarantine legislation shows a bewildering variety of regulations which entomologists, veterinarians and other competent experts seem to be unable to justify on biological grounds."

"Many entomologists and nurserymen regard most of these measures as trade barriers, in that they make it more costly or difficult to ship plants in interstate commerce than in intrastate commerce, without improving the quality of the product from a biological standpoint."

"Twenty-seven states erected legal barriers on wine to protect home grape-growers and wineries, the report said.

Robert Montgomery Says He Has Never Met Miss Mae West

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—Robert Montgomery, the movie actor, told a senate group today that a proposed bill to eliminate block booking would "cut in half the production schedules of the motion picture industry."

The dark-haired actor, whose presence drew a number of girl admirers to the hearing room of an interstate commerce subcommittee, appeared as a member of the directors of the Screen Actors guild. Capitol stenographers and secretaries besieged him for autographs.

At one point in Montgomery's discussion of motion picture work, Chairman Smith (D-SC) asked him if he had met Mae West. Montgomery replied that "Unfortunately I haven't had the pleasure."

"Goodness gracious," said Smith. "Senator Neely (D-WV) joined in the by-play with the observation that Montgomery had been working 'with 2,000 or 3,000 other attractive ladies in the Hollywood studios.'"

After Montgomery testified that the bill would slash production in half, Neely asked if it hadn't declined by that amount between 1927 and 1937.

"Is that right?" Montgomery softly asked C. C. Pettigrew, general counsel of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

"No," said Pettigrew. "No," testified the actor. Then he pointed out he wasn't in pictures in 1927.
