SEVEN REPUBLICANS ELECTED

ENCIRCLEMENT NOT THE PLAN OF GT. BRITAIN

Foreign Secretary Addresses House of Lords

London, April 19.—(P)—Foreign Secretary, Viscount Halifax, offered assurance today that Britain was not attempting a policy of "encirclement" or moves to cope with Europe's troubled situation.

In a conciliatory speech in the House of Lords, evidently intended to be heard by leaders of the Home Britain axis, the foreign secretary said:

"As to the cry of encirclement, I would be prepared at any time to give a most solemn undertaking on the authority of the government that no such idea would ever find a place in British policy."

Lord Halifax also said that Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Germany, would return to Berlin "in the ordinary way" when he had completed his report and period of leave. But he gave no further hint as to when the ambassador recalled to London March 17 "to report" after Adolf Hitler's reception of Czechoslovakia, actually would return to his post.

"What we all desire to see," Lord Halifax said, "is a comprehensive system against aggression excluding to one who will come in with us." The internal political organization of any country does not matter.

Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that Britain still was in close contact with other governments about ensuring the French-British front but without reaching to report on the progress of conversations.

French Relations
Paris, April 19.—(P)—Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet told the foreign affairs committee of the chamber of deputies today that the French government had "steadfastly" held the road opened by President Roosevelt's telegram to Hitler and Mussolini would "lead to peace."

A communique said Bonnet praised the American president's initiative at length.

He also told the deputies that French efforts to assure Soviet Russia aid to Poland, Rumania and Turkey in the event of war should soon reach a rapid and satisfactory conclusion.

Negotiations with Russia, he declared, were "aimed against no one" but were "designed solely to maintain peace."

He declared that French efforts to bring Poland and Rumania together also were "proceeding satisfactorily."

Deputies said that in informal questioning Bonnet expressed a hope that the United States new-

Chicago, April 19.—(P)—Moderate spring temperatures prevailed over most of the nation today, but rain, with some snow, continued to dampen regions from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic coast.

The wet weather played havoc with the baseball schedules.

In New York the spring's worst fog tied up shipping until noon, leaving five ocean liners. Airplane flights at Newark were grounded at night.

Poor visibility and fog caused postponement of joint army and navy coastal defense air maneuvers at Providence, R. I. There were mild thunderstorms generally over New England last night and today, with fog, although the temperatures were mild and clearing weather was in sight.

3,000 FAMILIES HERE WITHOUT REFRIGERATORS

Dealers Cooperate to Stage Exhibit Next Month

More than 3,000 families in Kankakee, Bradley and Bourbonnais do not now have mechanical refrigerators, a recent survey shows. In recognition of this need 12 electric refrigerator dealers of these communities are beginning a concerted campaign this week to reach such families through a special offer, according to the campaign committee.

Probably no single appliance has contributed more to improving American living standards than the electric refrigerator according to the committee who, in discussing the campaign, stated "We believe we can accomplish a worthwhile improvement for Kankakee homes and at the same time increase business in this area by means of this drive."

The dealers of this community, in an effort to bring electrical refrigeration within the reach of every family, are making several special offers for a limited time only to purchasers having a Kankakee, Bradley or Bourbonnais address. These include:

Free Offers
Free double convenience wall outlet, free certificate to apply on the first three installments, liberal trade-in allowance for old ice box, low initial down payment, liberal payment plan and low original cost.

During May 3, 4, 5 a refrigeration show will be held at the Speicher building, 236 East Merchant street, where all leading makes of refrigerators will be displayed, enabling the people of the community to see the remarkable advancement made in the industry the past few years.

Demonstrations will be conducted to show that electric refrigerators are economical both from a food saving and operating standpoint. Prizes will be awarded in addition to free entertainment and refreshments.

Dealers Cooperate
Dealers participating in this activity include: Hodak Motor Sales, Paul Lang, Broadway Department store, Turk Furniture company, Tatko Brothers, Lassers Furniture company, Jeffers and McBroom, The Chicago store, Baird-Swannell, Inc., Montgomery Ward and company, Sears Roebuck and company and Public Service company.

Wets Win By Only 2 Votes At Iroquois

Sheldon, April 19.—(P)—Special—Two Iroquois county villages went "wet" in their respective elections held yesterday.

The village of Sheldon decided to continue sale of alcoholic beverages by a vote of 321 to 217. Two weeks ago that part of Sheldon township lying outside the village limits voted dry by a margin of seven votes. This result has been contested and the case was being argued in county court at Watseka today.

In the village of Iroquois, the vote won yesterday by a vote of 69 to 67. This township also went "dry" by a small margin two weeks ago.

In these two communities, village board members were elected without opposition—Walter Madden, John Jost and John Summers in Sheldon; and Clint Owen, Verle McCarty and Steve Dubea in Iroquois. In the latter village D. C. Strand was also chosen town clerk.

FATHER AND SON WILL DIE FOR CRIMES

Triple Execution is Scheduled in Ohio Tonight

Columbus, O., April 19.—(P)—Partners in crime, a father and son steeled themselves in the solitude of Ohio penitentiary's death row today for a march to the electric chair.

Harry and Henry Dingleline of Springfield, O., and Harry Chapman of Chicago, were scheduled to pay with their lives shortly after 8 o'clock tonight for the slaying of two Springfield peace officers.

It will be the third triple execution since the chair was installed in the prison in 1897—and the state's first father-and-son execution.

Before 56-year old Harry Dingleline was the added ordeal of witnessing his son's march to the brilliantly lighted death chamber.

Refuses to Intervene
Chapman was scheduled to die first, followed by Dingleline's 29-year old son, then the father. The order of execution, prison officials said, was determined by the order in which they were checked into the prison 13 months ago.

Gov. John W. Bricker yesterday refused for a second time to intervene in the executions, saying "There is no new evidence, and I see no reason for going beyond the courts."

The three were convicted jointly of the slaying of Patrolman Martin Randolph during a police raid on a resort at Crystal Lake in Clark county, Sept. 3, 1937, shortly after the robbery of a Springfield cafe proprietor. The Dinglelines were convicted of killing Edward Furry, a sheriff's deputy, during the wild exchange of gunfire.

Robert Cornette, a bandit, was slain during the battle, and Chapman and young Dingleline were wounded. The father escaped with his injured son to Michigan, where they were captured a day later. Chapman was seized at the resort.

Divorce Granted But to a Husband Instead of Wife

Kansas City, Kan., April 19.—(UP)—It is impossible for a husband to violate the privacy of his wife's bath and his presence there doesn't constitute grounds for divorce, Judge Joseph A. Brady said today.

He granted a divorce to Cam Sanderson on a cross-complaint of neglect of duty after he had refused Mrs. Sanderson a divorce. She pleaded that her husband did not knock before entering the room where she was bathing and that she had no privacy.

"Why in some homes, the husband is asked to wash his wife's back," the judge said.

Must Renew Tavern Licenses by Apr. 29

Kankakee tavern owners who expect to renew their liquor licenses for the ensuing fiscal year were reminded today by Alderman William Spillane, chairman of the license committee of the city council, that the expiration date for all licenses is April 30.

Since that date falls on Sunday this year, all applications for renewals must be in the hands of the city clerk not later than Saturday, April 29. Those received later than this date will be treated as new licenses which must await their turn.

Any outstanding obligations which such persons have with the city must also be paid before the new licenses will be issued, it was stated.

This applies not only to tavern-keepers, but to all businesses licensed to operate in the city, Spillane said.

Dismiss Election Contest Petition

Waukegan, April 19.—(P)—The suit to contest the election in the Sheldon town election two weeks ago was dismissed this morning by Danville.

The case was thrown out because of insufficient bonds and because the petitioners were not verified. The county court has final jurisdiction in all such election matters, so that part of Sheldon township outside the village limits will remain dry.

In yesterday's election the village of Sheldon voted wet 321 to 217.

Alec Templeton, Blind Pianist, Pleases Crowd

For almost two hours Wednesday night a slim Englishman, blind since birth, held a Kankakee audience almost breathless at times with the wizardry of his ability as a pianist.

The pianist was Alec Templeton, playing a return engagement for Kankakee. The auditorium was filled to capacity for this musical evening, which marked the last of the second year of concerts sponsored by the Woman's Club.

Prolonged applause greeted Templeton the moment he came onto the stage for his first selection. A remarkable factor about the concert was the complete influence the artist exerted over the audience.

So enrapt were the patrons, which included a large number of children and high school students, that many times during the evening a complete silence engulfed the auditorium broken only by the melody woven by the pianist.

Humor and Artistry
His program was arranged to please the inveterate concert-goer as well as those who prefer a lighter type of music, for he has a delightful sense of humor along with his great artistry.

Three movements of Beethoven's Sonata in O sharp minor, more familiarly known as the Moonlight sonata, were played in magnificent style the adagio sostenuto, allegretto and presto agitato—as the main number on his program. Other selections were a prelude and fugue in O sharp major by Bach, rondo in B flat by Mozart and works from the pen of Chopin, Lecuona and Debussy.

In the second portion, Mr. Templeton demonstrated his own ability as a composer, a weaver of melodies and a humorist.

INCENDIARISM SUSPECTED AS VESSEL BURNS

Luxury Liner Paris
Sinks in LeHavre
Harbor

LeHavre, France, April 19.—The liner Paris, which the flagship of the French merchant fleet, died over and settled in 36 feet of water today, burned through the hull which officials suspected was set by foreign saboteurs.

Two persons were killed and two others seriously injured in the night-long fight against the flames which flames said spread from two widely separated parts of the ship. One point of origin was behind the main boiler room.

Investigators said preliminary investigations strengthened belief the 34,000-ton liner deliberately was set on fire.

An Italian dockworker was held for questioning by LeHavre police. A shipment of warplanes made in the United States for the French army was taken off the vessel only an hour before it started burning in the center of the port. The planes had not been unloaded from the Paris, which arrived from New York Saturday, before the fire started.

Art Objects Saved
Stewards also were able to $500,000 worth of French art objects, which had just been loaded in shipment to the New York world's fair.

Joseph Leon Meyer of LeHavre told the Associated Press in his opinion "incendiaries" were responsible for the burning.

Fire fighters said the main blaze originated in the ships bakery. The heavy door of the bakery was locked and French sailors had to open it. Meanwhile the fire gained uncontrollable headway.

The other blaze started in the barber shop, two decks above the bakery.

Two days ago LeBureau, national secret service, warned both the French line, owners of the Paris, and the ministry of marine an effort at sabotage would be made at LeHavre.

The Paris was destroyed despite precautions taken in response to that warning.

With her superstructure eaten away by the fires that started at 10 o'clock last night, the Paris began to list heavily at dawn and a little later was listing at her starboard.

Turns Over And Sinks
Suddenly, with a great roar, the liner wrenched loose from her moorings, turned on her side and sank slowly in the center of the port.

A prompt investigation by French experts indicated the liner had not touched bottom but was settling rapidly.

They expressed fear the bulk would have to be broken up to clear the port and permit the liner Normandie, French line flagship, to be taken from drydock where she was undergoing a propeller change.

The Paris, with a capacity of 3,240 passengers, and unofficially valued at $15,000,000, was to have sailed today.

The French line made immediate arrangements to substitute the liner Champlain, which had been in dock for overhauling for the summer season, for the Paris.

The Champlain will sail at 2 p. m. Thursday with the passengers and cargo of the Paris. It was announced.

Americans Book Passage
Among the passengers were many Americans who had booked passage home because of the European crisis.

Firemen remaining aboard the heavily submerged liner said they had succeeded in putting out the last of the flames at 11:30 a. m. (4:30 a. m. est), more than 13 hours after they started.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

MY WORD, GERALD, THE WAY YOU DISPATCHED THE BOUNDER WAS SUPERB! THE ONLY OTHER MAN WHO COULD HAVE DONE THAT DEED WAS JOHN L. SULLIVAN, WHO FOR YEARS, AFORE SAID, IGNORED MY CHALLENGE TO MEET HIM AT FISTLES!

GERALD FEINTED AND THEN DISPATCHED A FIST FULL OF KNUCKLES, AIRMAIL, THAT SENT HIM TO THE DEAD-LETTER OFFICE!

LOOK, HE PUT CREASES IN THAT PAIR OF TAIL THAN A PRUNE HAS WRINKLES!

MY MAM, I TOOK IN WASHING AND I HAD TO WRING OUT THE C-CLOTHES WITH MY HANDS AND IT MADE ME PRETTY STRONG, I GUESS!

HE DOESN'T KNOW HIS OWN STRENGTH!

The Wishing Well

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 6. If the number is less than 6, add 6. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures spell out.

WANTED: A PEACE PROPOSAL
Europe poises trembling on the brink of the abyss. Every thinking leader in every country knows that a long-drawn-out general war, sweeping from Asia and North Africa across all Europe to Gibraltar and Land's End, would be a death blow to civilization as we have known it.

Yet not one responsible European leader will put upon his hand legs and attempt to organize peace instead of war. By peace, we mean organized peace, not a mere staid and tame truce between war while feverishly preparing for the next.

The continual state of crisis, the crushing burden of arms, the suspicion, the hatred that mark the present state of not-war, is only less destructive than war itself. This is not peace.

Let us suppose that war comes. After brilliant initial victories, the struggle will bog back into another long, slogging, endurance contest of blood-letting, with victory going to that country or alliance of countries which is last to give way to internal revolution and chaos.

Then will come the peace conference. And how else can such a conference end than in the last one ended? Into the next "peace" will be distilled the hatreds, the fears, the jealousies, the desperation of the next war. It can not be otherwise.

Is there no way to speak to the peoples themselves? They do not want war. They never want war. They know all too well that they are the ones, not the leaders, who must die on the barbed wire.

Is there not one responsible statesman in Europe willing to "make a fool of himself" by demanding that a peace conference be held now, instead of amid the ruins of Europe five years later?

It would be hard or his appeal to reach people in those countries where press and radio are so rigidly censored, but it could to some extent be done. The rashest dictator will hesitate if even a part of his people can be told what looms ahead. The people of every country are fit to meet to sacrifice much for peace. Some have already sacrificed much. Whatever consideration is given in Europe to President Roosevelt's peace proposal will be given because some of the plain people have heard it.

The peoples of the world—all of them—want peace. Are there not in the world other leaders beside our own President who will make even a gesture to try to give it to them?

EIGHTY PER CENT GOT JOBS
It's been a tough pull and a long pull for young people during the past 10 years. Any glimmers of light on a horizon which has looked dark indeed for years are most welcome.

When nearly 80 per cent of 211 graduates of New York university's college of engineering get jobs, that's news and welcome news, too.

A survey of last June's graduates was made. Of 211 graduates, 167 are working, 78.2 per cent.

Weekly salaries ranged as low as $15, but as high as $60, and averaged $29 a week. That is not munificent for engineering graduates, but it is possible for less than a year out of college halls.

But the best augury is that when engineers work, others work. The job of the engineer is such that when he works the result of his work usually means work for many times as many less specialized workers.

Thus the employment of 80 per cent of a class of engineering graduates is a hopeful sign not only for young men of that profession, but for everybody else as well.

SERIOUS FLOOD THREATS ALONG THE OHIO RIVER

Mississippi River Also Raging; Rain Continues

By United Press
Melting snows and heavy rain from a storm moving across the Midwest poured into the great Ohio and Mississippi valleys today and sent both rivers surging toward flood stages.

The Mississippi was rising steadily in southwestern Illinois, slowing the fall of the Ohio which had been expected to reach a crest near Cairo, Ill., late this week.

American Red Cross officials at Washington reported that "serious flood situations" were developing along the Ohio and its tributaries from Point Pleasant, W. Va., to Cairo, Ill., and estimated that 2,600 families would have to be evacuated. Field representatives reported that unless rains cease in the area, 75 families would be removed from Huntington, W. Va., 300 at Catlettsburg, Ky., 300 at Newport, Ky., and 1,000 in the vicinity of Cincinnati.

Approximately 2,000 persons already had been removed in West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and southern Indiana. Thousands of acres of lowland along the rivers and their tributaries were inundated.

Streams in eastern Missouri also were over their banks. The Missouri river had flooded farmlands near Chesterfield and was expected to reach a crest of 29 feet at St. Charles today. At St. Louis, the Mississippi had reached a level of 28 feet—two feet under flood stage—and continued a slow rise.

Near Flood Stage
The Ohio crested yesterday at a foot and a half below flood stage at Pittsburgh, dispelling a flood threat to the golden triangle.

Government meteorologists said the Ohio valley had had the worst of its rain and predicted fair weather by tomorrow. Mostly cloudy weather was expected throughout the area today.

U. S. Forecaster C. A. Donnel at Chicago said the freakish spring storm which brought rain, snow, and sleet to the eastern half of the nation was centered today over southern Michigan. In a path it followed through Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin, snow plows were taken out of summer storage to clear highways piled with drifts.

The number of deaths from tornadoes, floods and blizzards during the past four days had reached 47 today. The Red Cross reported that 41 persons were killed and 200 injured seriously in the tornadoes which swept eight southern and central states during the week-end. Five persons drowned in flood waters in Ohio, Indiana and western Virginia and one man died in a blizzard in Colorado.

Cloudy weather was predicted generally for most central and eastern states today and those sections were expected to miss the opportunity to see a partial eclipse of the sun between 9:20 and 11:33 a. m. (est). Weather permitting, the eclipse will be visible over most of North America with the best conditions in Alaska.

Wets And Drys Both Win in Various Parts Of Illinois

By the Associated Press

The wet-dry issue — perennial bone of contention in many communities — was settled temporarily yesterday in local option contests held in scores of Illinois cities and villages.

In some communities the wets won by wide margins; others gave the dries similar victories, while the contest was close in others. The vote in Roberts officially was termed a tie—113 votes for each side. Five spoiled ballots were discarded. Prairie City reported one of the closest votes—with the dries gaining victory by four votes, 102 to 98. They also captured the contest in Tuscola by a slim margin—29 votes out of a total of 1200. In Clay City, the wets won by a margin of 60 votes, while in Louisville the voters rejected liquor sales by a majority of 84. In the village of Dakota the dries were winners, 90 to 52.

White Hall, in Green county, dry since 1869, voted to remain in the dry column. In Jacksonville the wets captured the local option contest by more than two to one.

Four out of five cities and villages in Fayette county voted to ban the sale of liquor, while Vandalia, the county seat, approved the sales by 400 votes. Voting dry were Brownstone, Bingham, Ramsey and Farina. The dries also were given majorities in Fairfield and in the nearby village of Cighe.

Marion, voting wet, reported a heavy ballot. In Carroll county,

Milledgeville gave the dries a victory, but Chadwick approved the sale of liquor. In adjoining Whiteside county, voters in Fulton approved closing of saloons on Sunday.

Reports from scattered sections of the state gave the dries victories in Muncie, Indiana, Arrowsmith, Stanford, Cooksville, Saybrook, Fisher, Carrier Mills and Galatia.

Voting wet were Eldorado, Chatsworth, Ellsworth, Fairbury, Melvin, Forrest, Deland, Maroa, Hudson, Waynesville, Mt. Carmel, Allendale, Tampico, Hoopston, Rossville, Oakwood, Ridgefarm, Catlin, Rankin, Waverly, Winchester, Bluffs, Brighton, Rushville and Orangeville.

Mount Zion, in Macon county, does not now have a tavern, but the village voted dry in the local option contest as an insurance, church people said, against one. In the same county, Maroa and Warrensburg both retained liquor sales by substantial majorities. The territory outside the two villages, however, will be dry as a result of township elections two weeks ago.
