Schools Stress Safety In Carrying Pupils

Kankakee School District 111 transports 650-700 students to and from school. The district places safety first in importance in student transportation.

Safe student transportation will be more effective if the public accepts its responsibility. School bus drivers meet in the fall to discuss safety rules and regulations. Two major meetings are held during the school year at which the drivers and the school administration try to solve problems that occur.

School transportation is authorized by state statute and controlled by the local board of education. Laws determine the qualifications of the bus driver and the safety standards of school buses, which undergo stiff state inspections twice yearly.

Laws also place responsibility on the public. When a school bus stops to load or unload children, motorists traveling in the opposite, as well as in the same direction as the bus are required to stop as long as the school bus flasher lights are operating and the stop arm is extended.

He is an ordained minister in the Church of the Nazarene leaving his last pastorate as of Sunday at the Hopewell Church of the Nazarene. He has also served churches in Grand Rapids and Lansing, Mich., Oklahoma City, Okla., and Springfield.

Twice-Convicted Cuban Executed

HAVANA (UPI)—Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, Cuba's twice-convicted "war criminal No. 1," was executed early today by a firing squad to which he gave the order for his own death.

Sosa was shot at 1:16 a.m. (CST) in the dry moat surrounding Havana's Cabana Fortress prison.

Reports from the scene said he faced the firing squad bravely. "I forgive you, and I hope you forgive me," he said in a clear, steady voice, and a moment later spoke his last word:

"Fire!"

The regular commander of the firing squad administered the coup de grace, firing a 45-caliber bullet into Sosa's head to make certain he was dead.

A FIVE-MAJOR "revolutionary tribunal" headed by Maj. Gen. Cienfuegos, the army's chief of staff, Tuesday night rejected Sosa's appeal from his second conviction of crimes against Cubans during the regime of ousted dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Sosa, who was convicted for the first time in the "Roman circus atmosphere" of the Sports Palace Stadium, was found guilty Tuesday for a second time of "murder, incendiarism, looting, robbery and property damage" in a military courtroom here.

Iraqi Regime Seen Splitting With Nasser

Terminal Closed, Riders Stranded

LONDON (AP)—An agreement ending four years of bloodshed on Cyprus was signed today by the British, Turkish and Greek governments.

Turkish Foreign Minister Fatin Zorlu, in announcing the compact, said there had been no compromise and no last-minute concessions to Archbishop Makarios.

The Greek Cypriot negotiator, Nicos Demetris, said the agreement was a triumph for the people of Cyprus.

The treaty, which was signed in London, ended the Greek Cypriot rebellion against British rule.

The treaty also provided for the withdrawal of British troops from Cyprus.

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Premier Abdel Il'im Kassem's split with the followers of U.A.R. President Nasser and his close relations with Iraq's Communists are threatening to tear his revolutionary government apart and plunge the nation into fierce civil strife.

Kassem himself is still extremely popular, but there are many doubts arising about his future.

In short, the honeymoon is ending for the revolutionary forces which overthrew the pro-Western government of Nuri Said and assassinated young King Faisal last summer.

The bearded 45-year-old politician, who has been in power since the summer of 1958, has been facing many objections to his rule.

The trend appears to be toward even more of a military dictatorship, with political inspiration coming from the far left.

The government's new direction stems from Kassem's stubborn determination to rival Nasser as a candidate for eventual leadership of all the Arabs.

Daquin Arsenau, 642 S. Evergreen Ave., driver for the local bus lines for 22 years, peers through the locked door into an empty bus depot this morning. Arsenau said he was paid last week with four rolls of dimes—$20—and he was "supposed to be making $81 a week." (Journal photo)

The bus company has been in trouble with the Illinois Commerce Commission because of the condition and type of its equipment and the handling of its financial affairs.

Passengers, during the past few months, had complained that the company skipped trips frequently and had periodic equipment breakdowns.

The commerce commission halted bus service here in January because the company's liability insurance had been canceled.

When buses failed to make today's trips, they could not be located for comment.

He did not open the bus terminal and did not answer the phone or doorbell at his home. His car was missing from the garage at his home.

Mose Arsenau, owner of the bus terminal, inspected the premises this morning. An employee said three buses were missing.

The employee said he believed one of the buses was on charter for a USO tour.

At that time, Curtis believed he was going to be able to swing a deal for the purchase of five new buses.

But the deal fell through, triggering a string of troubles for the company.

His insurance was canceled and the Illinois Commerce Commission halted bus service. After learning that the insurance had been reinstated, the ICC inspected the company's buses and rejected them.

Later, the commission made a new inspection and passed them conditionally.

Then, the ICC cited the company to show cause why its operating certificate should not be revoked. A hearing on this was to be held a week from today.

On Tuesday, a commission representative served a subpoena on Mrs. Curtis asking her to produce all of the company records and accounts at the hearing.

Failure to comply with the subpoena could result in a contempt of court citation.

Golf Club Site Of Chicago 1 Of 1

CHICAGO (AP)—The University of Illinois trustees today selected the Riverside Golf Club, west of Chicago, as a site for the Chicago area branch of the university.

The site is in North Riverside, about 12 miles west of Chicago's Loop.

The university plans to build a campus to accommodate 6,000, mainly first and second year students. By that time the university must abandon its quarters on Navy Pier, where the Chicago branch has been housed for 12 years.

By 1970, under present plans, the Chicago area campus will be expanded to over 15,000 students full courses for four years.

The SITE is between Des Plaines Ave., and First Ave., and 22nd and 26th Sts. The site is owned by the Chicago Park District.

The committee report directed President David Dods Henry to negotiate to buy the private golf club and any adjacent property that may be needed.

Henry was advised to give Gov. Wm. W. Walton $100,000 on the money needed to buy the ground and to ask for $100,000 for architect's plans and initial site development.

Richard A. Harwood of Chicago, elected a trustee in November, termed the site an unhappy choice.

"I think a great university ought to be near the material it seeks—the students," he said. In all, 83 possible sites were considered.

The committee report directed the president, in the event negotiations fail, to start proceedings to take the property by eminent domain, that is, take the land without the owner's consent.

Three residents of the community opposed the move on ground that it would take the traffic problem untreatable.

The committee left the way open for a possible shift to Northridge Island in Chicago's Lakefront if certain conditions are met.

The report said the site action should be reconsidered if—within 30 days—the Chicago Park District makes a firm offer in writing to transfer the land to the university at a reasonable cost and fills in lagoons to the west of the man-built site.

What Young People Think

Teeners Vote For Big Families As 'Fun'

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Census experts predict that in the next 10 years our population will increase spectacularly—and the attitude of today's teeners about child size shows this may happen. Exactly half of the 800 young people questioned across the nation said they prefer large families. One-third of those polled said that having four children would be ideal, and nearly as many think that three children is average. "Those in favor of large families gave a number of reasons for their preference, but most of them boiled down to the idea that large families have more fun and get along together."

"QUACK, QUACK" went the duck as David Havens, right, played with 15-month-old Mike McCall. Havens and four classmates from St. Patrick Central High School paid a visit to the Phillip McCall Jr. home, 1384 N. E. Lenington Circle, to play with Mike.

With big families the desire of high school age young adults across the country, four local seniors seemed to be swept along by the tide, for five or six or seven.

The four interviewed all come from large families themselves. But they apparently didn't think large families meant real large except for Tom Terry who says he doesn't expect to be a family man anyway. Tom, 16, and a senior said if he were to rear a family he liked "a rather middle-sized family with approximately five children," and added, "I would like to have as many as I could afford," using five as his ideal size.

TOM, LIKE THE other three, is a senior at St. Patrick Central High School. He has one brother and five sisters, all younger.

Cathy Fritz, 17, of Buckingham, thought a family of six or seven was an ideal size. She thought a large family was worth the sacrifice, "because in the end happiness — yes up to a point — is the reward for the sacrifices." Cathy is the youngest of four brothers and one sister.

Laura Fitzpatrick picked the big family "because I think that one who grows up in a big family is better equipped to face the problems of adult life." She thought four or five would be a nice sized family group. She has four sisters but no brothers.

David Havens acknowledged "There are many sacrifices which would be required by both the children and the parents. The children could not go to shows as often as they would like or have as many toys as a small family. Nor could the parents attend as many dances and parties as would parents of small families."

David has five brothers. Robert G. Bane, president of ISNU, has been obtained as guest speaker.

Music will be provided by the vocal music department of the Saunemin Township High School, directed by Miss Patricia Chesbro.

WJHS Tardiness Lower Despite Bus Stoppage

There was no public bus transportation today and, as a result, West Junior High School tardiness was lower than normal.

School spokesmen said that, because of poor bus service, numerous children have had to be excused for tardiness they could not avoid.

Because the students were aware of no bus service today, they apparently made other arrangements and those normally late because of bus service were on time today.

Kankakee High School officials said tardiness was slightly higher than normal today but not excessive.

The Kankakee school administration office said it had received no calls of complaint regarding lack of public bus service. They assumed that students were alerted before school by news broadcasts.

Soviet Souvenir

This presentation of a shotgun to Soviet premier Nikita Khrushchev at Tulsa, south of Moscow, proved an apt coincidence—the Red leader, speaking of Berlin, warned the West that "if anybody should start shooting, this will mean the beginning of war."

Khrushchev, warmly clad against snow and cold, received the weapon from craftsmen at Tulsa's 230-year-old gun factory during his visit to the industrial center.

Japan's Rising Sun Red Tinted

(Editor's Note: How are we doing on our side of Red China's Bamboo Curtain? Fresh from an extensive tour of free Asia, famed author Dr. Lin Yutang has previously told why Formosa is a show-place for the free world. Now he reports on the alarming Communist penetration of Japan.)

(Copyright 1959 by NEA Service, Inc.)
NEW YORK (NEA)—I went to Japan on my tour of free Asia as a fellow Oriental, humble to learn the secret of how an Oriental nation can master the new and keep the old.

Japan has done just that. It has kept alive Zen Buddhism and the art of gardening, the love of moss and rocks and driftwood and even the old virtues of loyalty which make sense in a world of free men.

Completely modern in his office habits and organization, the Japanese man at home has been able to love and hold intact what was regarded as the finer values of life.

YET I WAS SOON to learn a new post-MacArthur Japan, where the youth of the nation, the students of the Communist youth in the 1930's of my own country.

That youth has defied the so-called bourgeois virtues of Japan, anese life as "feudalistic," denied elders, indulged in teenage violence and spurred the great collective center of gravity of Japanese nationalism—devotion to the Emperor.

Thus, while I was busy enjoying the superb beauty of Japanese landscape, the largest political party, also its captive to its left elements and its violent tactics led to the proposal for a reform of the Police Law. THIS IS NOT merely a case of all youth being radical, as in many countries, but "after of radicalism being organized by "professional" agitators and organizers to suit the political policy of a foreign nation.

Not is it a case of freedom of the press, but of infiltration through Communist cells so that pro-Moscow and pro-Peking news is played up and pro-American news played down. This in spite of the fact that the big press is owned by capitalists.

The big press tries to maintain a high standard. Criticisms of Russia during the Hungarian revolution and of the Pasternak case were published, but the news often slanted by the editors who were not Communist sympathizers.

My first encounter with a Japanese reporter was shocking. Provocative questions were shot at me. "You spoke of Khrushchev starting the Quemoy War. But don't you think that the American use of an aggressive, war-mongering nation in occupying the Formosa Strait? Why don't you focus on the Foreign Press Club luncheon, I was warned by Chinese journalists that if I attacked the U. S. and praised Moscow, my speech would not appear."

All three big papers, the Mainichi, the Asahi and the Yomiuri have English editions. In the English editions, what I said against Russia was reported, but not a word appeared in the Japanese versions, although they published everything I said about Japanese art and culture.

I cannot help thinking that as the Japanese are the greatest newspaper-receiving nation in the world, the thinking of the 40 million Japanese newspaper readers must be shaped by what they read.

Perhaps the Police Law revision bill can best bring into focus what is going on in Japan. It began with a small question of whether to allow the police to search for and the introduction of an efficiency-rating system for teachers, which in any other country could have possibly have resulted in a general strike. But in Japan it did.

THE TEACHERS' Union, led by 1,500 Communist activists and party members, not only struck themselves, but called a nationwide strike and street demonstrations in which pitched battles were fought before school gates.

The public reaction against such a cost-price squeeze, and their profits are reported down, farming is still a popular way to make a living," Charles H. Sinton, farm department manager at City National Bank, told Exchange Club members Wednesday.

He told club members there are plenty of tenant farmers looking for places to rent on their farms available.

The speaker tried to give some idea of returns on farm investment, based on value of the land and buildings, as well as good management by the farmer himself.

Included in his examples was one 100-acre farm valued at $36,000 that showed an 8.6 per cent return when averaged out over seven years. Still another farm of 168 acres valued at $50,000 showed only 7.1 per cent return over the same period of time.

Sometimes the difference in return is changed because of the value put on the land for sale purposes, he said. Capitalizing the land at today's market value or at what the farmer paid for it 20 years ago makes a big difference, he explained.

As to which kind of farm, grain or cattle, brings in the most profit, Sinton said there is no rule.

He said in his own department a cattle farm showed the greatest profit, but by the same token it was another cattle farm that produced the least profit.

Farming is like any other business, the speaker pointed out, much depends on management and how the land is taken care of.

Attending were the Phillips Arsenault and Lyle Doran families of St. Anne; John Gaffield of Shelton; Mr. and Mrs. Jess Francis of Kankakee; Mrs. Alicia Doran of Bradley; the Donald Wolfe and Max Judy families and Mrs. Mag. Roth of Watonia, and Mrs. Emma Markley and Clarence.

MELVIN HUCKINS, missionary to Okinawa, preached at the morning service Sunday in the Methodist Church of Christ. He showed films of his work at the evening service.

T. Duzenberg and Clark Duzenberg of Chicago were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duzenberg.

Mrs. Elwood Calteux, Mrs. Norman Marcotte, Mrs. George Doreau and Mrs. Joseph Demers. MR. AND MRS. Russell Shields and family moved Monday to Libertyville.

The Community Club will sponsor a dance in the Community Hall on Sunday night.

Only one important appeal is missing—the desire of a backward country to become a strong, industrialized state. Japan has already passed through the industrial revolution. She has the consciousness of a strong first-rate power.

I had the privilege of talking with at least a few outstanding scientists, and several important professors and leaders in the cultural field. To my surprise, they seemed to agree on the beneficial effects of Communist propaganda and infiltration.

On the whole, they say, MacArthur's liberal reforms have given the Communists less excuse for revolution. On the other hand, such democratic liberties as he initiated are putting Japan to the test of a democracy, to survive, namely, the ability of an educated, responsible public opinion for peaceful change to contest against organized violence and conspiracy.

JAPAN HAS A MUCH better economic foundation for stable progress than other Asiatic nations. On the other hand, Communist infiltration and influence of public opinion have already reached alarming proportions.

Violence begets a repression. Things will get much worse unless a responsible leadership shows the way out. I have a feeling that the innate good sense of the Japanese middle class will hold the balance against Communist onslaughts.

Japan is too previous an ally to be lost to the Communist-controlled empire of Moscow. When that happens, South Korea will be completely encircled, and Okinawa, like Formosa, will become, in President Eisenhower's phrase, "a thorn in the side of peace."

Shall these thorns then be removed and the U. S. quickly retire to Wake and Guam in the hope of a "peaceful coexistence?"

Next: Southeast Asia.

Foreign language study is "a door to new avenues of communication; a window that gives new insights on the family of man," according to Miss Mary Thompson.

Miss Thompson, director of curriculum and instruction, Glastonbury, Conn., schools, was speaking at the first annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators.

Dr. Anthony Marinaccio, superintendent of Kankakee public schools, was one of 15,000 educators from every state and territory at the meeting in Atlantic City.

THE HUMANITIES and creative arts as they relate to education received special attention. Other group meetings were held on testing, transportation, curriculum planning, business management, school administration and other educational topics.

It is better, according to Miss Thompson, to teach one language over a long period than to teach many for a short time.

A good art program in the schools, according to Mary A. McKibbin, is one way to raise the "level of creativity" of the average American. Miss McKibbin, director of art of Pittsburgh public schools, said, "a good art program makes children aware of the possibility of creative living, of approaching the new experimentally, fearlessly."

Eemarks of a worthwhile art program, she said, are: an air of eager anticipation in the art room. Discipline is self-imposed. Children get their work without confusion and are soon absorbed in it.

Condemning "split-level" classes where pupils are in classes according to age and grade—instead of ability and interest—Richard Batchelder, Newton Upper Falls, Mass., said he suspected that a tried teacher gives the bright student "more of the same work—new and challenging tasks."

IN A DEBATE, Batchelder called for ability grouping to create a learning climate. Reducing the issue to simple terms, he said, "it would be unthinkable to put children of great differences in running ability in a road race."

Paying teachers on a merit basis was analyzed in a debate between Phares E. Reeder, executive secretary of the West Virginia Education Association and Dr. William Cragg, superintendent at Ithaca, N. Y.

Dr. Reeder contended that the merit basis for teacher pay is educationally unsound, financially impractical and historically ineffective. He declared that it mines teacher morale, destroys teacher cooperation and fails to recognize individual differences.

DR. CRAGG STATED that merit rating can work because teacher quality can be evaluated and good supervisors can pass judgment on the merit basis. He pointed out that where merit rating is working, teachers share in developing it and helping it operate smoothly.

"Opposition by teachers to merit rating is a pity," he said. "They are being blinded to the opportunity to advance from the status of white collar technician to that of a professional. And they are sabotaging efforts to provide better salaries for more teachers."

Experts Predict Thousands Of Lives To Be Saved

Breakthrough Seen In Heart Disease Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Six experts today forecast "major breakthroughs" against heart and blood vessel diseases in the next 10 years which "will save thousands of lives."

They said "extraordinary advances" in the past decade foreshadow even greater progress in the next.

The prediction was made in a "report to the nation" issued by the kind, by the American Heart Association and the National Heart Institute, both just 10 years old.

SIX SPECIALISTS presented papers on "a decade of progress against cardiovascular disease" at an hour-and-a-half meeting attended by congressmen, government officials, physicians and health authorities.

Dr. Leroy Burney, surgeon general of the Public Health Service, sounded a note of caution in commenting on the papers. He reminded that heart and blood vessel diseases kill "more people than all other causes of death combined and disables countless others."

Burney said he has "no doubt that our researchers will one day begin to reduce the terrible statistics of heart disease." But he said he was "unable to predict when at what rate, and added: "I caution against the expectation of a sharp drop in the death rate."

Dr. Howard B. Sprague, lecturer on medicine at the Harvard Medical School, said the past 10 years had produced a new knowledge "through which thousands of lives have already been saved."

"These advances," Sprague said, "have brought us to the threshold of even greater developments of decisive breakthroughs that will make possible the large-scale prevention of these diseases that cut down so many people in the best years of their lives."

IN ADDITION to Sprague, the panelists were: Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston cardiologist and adviser to President Eisenhower.

Dr. Irvine M. Page, director of medicine at the Harvard Medical School, said the past 10 years had produced a new knowledge "through which thousands of lives have already been saved."

Dr. Irvine M. Page, director of medicine at the Harvard Medical School, said the past 10 years had produced a new knowledge "through which thousands of lives have already been saved."

Here is a topical summary of what they reported:
Diagnosis—improved diagnostic tests, Sprague said, have made it possible to apply new treatments to many more persons. He cited as an example "the image intensified X-ray" which gives a brilliant view of the beating heart on a fluorescent screen with considerably reduced exposure of the patient to X-rays.

Surgery—"phenomenal progress" in this field, according to DeBakey, has made it possible to cure "many conditions which only a few years ago were considered hopeless."

Aneurysms, the ballooning out and thinning of an artery wall, can now be removed. DeBakey also cited replacement of diseased arteries with synthetic substitutes, and open heart surgery made possible by heart-lung machines.

HIGH BLOOD pressure—Five categories of drugs have been developed for control of hypertension. Dr. Wilkins called this "one of the greatest medical advances of the past decade."

Prevention—Dr. White said the "toughest problems in prevention are still unsolved." But he added that "there is no reason to doubt that we can protect our young people, middle-aged males, by diet, exercise, medicines and other measures from the ever-increasing threat of coronary heart disease."

Arteriosclerosis—Dr. Page said science now knows that this malady, of which arteriosclerosis is one form, "is not merely an inevitable result of aging but that it affects all age groups and may well be reversible." The disease is a common cause of heart attacks and strokes.

Aid Payments Show Increase In December

Monthly public aid payments in the six-county area including Kankakee rose by more than $7,000 in December.

Latest figures from the Illinois Public Aid Commission show that payments in this area amounted to $239,338 in December, compared with $232,189 in November. The number of persons receiving aid also rose to 6,493 from 5,945.

Gambling Comes Back To Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — The click of roulette wheels and the rattle of dice came back to Havana today like a sweet melody — for foreign tourists and well-to-do Cubans.

Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime added a little glitter to its reform program by taking the padlocks off the doors of the plush gambling casinos. But poorer Cubans were still barred from the casino employees their wages for tables. The "popular" casinos where small sums were bet will stay closed.

The multimillion-dollar industry that enriched fallen dictator Fulgencio Batista and many American racketeers resumes in 11 big Havana casinos. The revolutionary regime promised strict government control.

Under Batista the casinos paid a $25,000 licensing fee and a percentage of their profit to the government. The casino operators of ten paid out additional sums of $100,000 or more in bribes and graft.

PREMIER CASTRO laid down a new set of rules designed to root out the racketeers and enrich the nation's treasury.

The National Institute of Saving and Housing will regulate the casinos.

The new division of profits has not been announced, but the government has been considering taking 70 per cent — allocating 40 per cent for welfare and 30 per cent to promote tourism. Play in the old days often ran between one and two million dollars a night.

The reopening casinos must have new operators with financial standing and no criminal records. The operators also must pay the deficits in Bourbonnais fire and road and bridge funds showed up as of Jan. 31 in the treasurer's report read at a village board meeting Tuesday night. It was the first time deficits showed in those two funds since money was transferred into them last September wiping out long term bookkeeping deficits.

January disbursements of $427.08 in the fire fund created a deficit of $308.03 and January expenses of $1,804.91 in the road and bridge fund created a deficit of $681.47 in that account. For the first time in many months disbursements for the police department exceeded income from fines. Expenses were $334.69 and fines were only $102. The police fund shows a balance of $11,379.55.

Balances in other funds showed a bookkeeping deficit of $9,647.23 in the general fund plus $10,000 due in treasury bills receivable, a balance of $2,550.04 in the contingent fund, a balance of $4,08.48 in the water and sewage fund plus another $10,000 receivable in treasury bills, $13,827.27 in the sewer and waterworks construction fund, $8,194.61 in the River Street special assessment fund and $3,072.50 in the street improvement bond and interest account.

Camembert Supreme

Camembert is a food that can turn up at any point during a meal—as an appetizer, on a soup, with a salad, in casseroles or sauces or as a dessert. You'll especially like Camembert "all dressed up" in this fashion. This recipe makes an entirely different dish out of it. The next excuse you have for a party try this dish, and listen to your guests rave.

Appetizers Are Tasty, Colorful

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Something worthwhile: Prepare an attractive assortment of vegetable appetizers. They're popular these days because most of these tidbits are low in calories and their crisp texture, flavor and color add zest.

You don't feel like taking the time to carve radish roses? We think radish roses are just as attractive and so quick to fix. Leave some of the pretty short green tops on the radishes but cut off the root ends; wash in cold water and drain. Then just slice each radish crosswise into slices, but not all the way through. Chill in icy cold water in the refrigerator and the slices will open like an accordion.

Some of the most attractive fresh vegetable appetizers are made with carrots. One we've been fixing for years, yet there are always some guests to whom the trick is new, and old friends continue to be charmed by these bright trifles. Scoop out the center of a large carrot, or use the top part of a medium-sized one. If you use the point of a swivel-blade vegetable parer for the scooping, the carrot center comes out easily. Then slice the hollowed-out carrot into rings and draw a few short strips of watercress through each; chill until serving time. The touch of green against the orange is beguiling, and the combination tastes refreshing.

Or after you have scooped out the carrot, stuff the center with plain or seasoned cream cheese. Chill and slice just before serving. Try inserting some tidbits in pitiful olives. Slice the olive and poke a strip of carrot through each olive ring. If you like, you can use this strips of mild white turnip or black-and-white ribbles.

Green peppers make attractive holders for cheese dunks. Cut cumbers into long strips so either end can dip them into the cheese dunk. Or fill the green pepper with cheese spread and cheese and plenty of small cocktail knives on hand so the cucumber strips may be covered with the cheese mixture. (Inexpensive short knives of this sort with ceramic handles and gay fruit and vegetable modeling are widely available.) You might like to fill one green pepper with a cottage-cheese mixture and another with a sophisticated Camembert and cream-cheese combination. Camembert, you'll find, adds piquancy to the other bland cheese.

Death March Sergeant To Get Discharge

CHERRY POINT, N.C. (UPI) — Acting Cpl. Matthew McKee, central figure in the Harris Island, S. C., "death march" almost three years ago, will be honorably discharged from the Marine Corps here later this month.

A spokesman for the Marine Corps Air Station here said Wednesday a physical evaluation board had recommended that McKee be discharged because of a ruptured spinal disc. The secretary of the Navy approved the discharge Feb. 2 and McKee will leave the service as soon as the necessary paperwork is complete.

McKee, defendant in one of the most publicized general courts martial in military history, was the Harris Island drill instructor who led a platoon of recruits into a tidal creek here, six of them drowned the night of April 19, 1956.

Disc Jockey Stays Awake 227 Hours

WALLACE, N.C. (AP) — Don Tucker, a husky disc jockey who talked, played and yawned his way to a new sleep record, was well into his first slumber in 10 days today.

Tucker, his voice hoarse and eyes nearly closed, ended a 227-hour broadcast from a furniture store show window at 8 o'clock Wednesday night. The old mark, 225 hours, was claimed last month by a Jacksonville, Fla., disc jockey, Dave Hunter.

"I feel fine," Tucker, 21, whispered as he entered Duplin County Memorial Hospital. The 6-foot-5, 240-pounder received a brief examination and moments later was asleep.

Tucker, an announcer for station WLSE, drank gallons of orange juice to keep up his strength.

2 Youths Perish In Auto Collision

ELGIN (AP) — Two teenagers have been killed and two other persons seriously injured in the collision of two autos at an intersection.

State Police said a car driven by Louis L. Dent, 17, ran a stop sign Wednesday and smashed into an auto operated by Jesse Gudeman, 58 of Hampshire, Ill.

Dent and one of his passengers, Phillip G. Strophet, 18, both of Park Ridge, Ill., were killed. Gudeman and Ted DeWiese, 17, another of Dent's passengers, also of Park Ridge, were injured. The youths were students at Matine Township High School in Des Plaines, Ill.

APETIZERS like these always win favor because they are low in calories and add color to your table. With a knife, an assortment of vegetables, cheese and hardy any trouble, you can prepare an attractive dish like this.

Protestants Open Drive To Win 1 Million Converts

CHICAGO (AP) — A huge pageant of music and prayer in the International Amphitheater Tuesday night started a Protestant campaign to win "one million souls for Christ" by 1975.

The pageant, called "The Commissioning of the Seven Thousand," was a service of dedication of ministers and denominational leaders, church officers, youth and workers in the membership campaign.

The program was so-titled because 7,000 laymen will make up the "seven thousand" who will be dedicated to the cause of Christianity in the homes of prospective or inactive church members in an effort to increase church membership during the coming weeks and months.

About 8,000 persons set in the 12,500-seat arena. Snow interfered with plans for a capacity crowd.

The giant rally was sponsored by The Church Federation of Greater Chicago, which estimates there are 800,000 churchgoers in the area. The foundation says, based on the national average, there should be 1.4 million.

Plans Blue Ballot Hearing Saturday

WAUKEGAN (AP) — Circuit Judge Sidney H. Block Saturday will hear a petition contesting the defeat of the Judicial Reform Amendment in the Nov. 4 election. The hearing, originally held at the court in Chicago, was moved to Waukegan because of a ruptured spinal disc. The secretary of the Navy approved the discharge Feb. 2 and McKee will leave the service as soon as the necessary paperwork is complete.

McKee, defendant in one of the most publicized general courts martial in military history, was the Harris Island drill instructor who led a platoon of recruits into a tidal creek here, six of them drowned the night of April 19, 1956.

Disc Jockey Stays Awake 227 Hours

WALLACE, N.C. (AP) — Don Tucker, a husky disc jockey who talked, played and yawned his way to a new sleep record, was well into his first slumber in 10 days today.

Tucker, his voice hoarse and eyes nearly closed, ended a 227-hour broadcast from a furniture store show window at 8 o'clock Wednesday night. The old mark, 225 hours, was claimed last month by a Jacksonville, Fla., disc jockey, Dave Hunter.

"I feel fine," Tucker, 21, whispered as he entered Duplin County Memorial Hospital. The 6-foot-5, 240-pounder received a brief examination and moments later was asleep.

Tucker, an announcer for station WLSE, drank gallons of orange juice to keep up his strength.

2 Youths Perish In Auto Collision

ELGIN (AP) — Two teenagers have been killed and two other persons seriously injured in the collision of two autos at an intersection.

State Police said a car driven by Louis L. Dent, 17, ran a stop sign Wednesday and smashed into an auto operated by Jesse Gudeman, 58 of Hampshire, Ill.

Dent and one of his passengers, Phillip G. Strophet, 18, both of Park Ridge, Ill., were killed. Gudeman and Ted DeWiese, 17, another of Dent's passengers, also of Park Ridge, were injured. The youths were students at Matine Township High School in Des Plaines, Ill.

SHRIMP PIE is a natural for a Lenten meal. Made with shrimp and cheese custard in a pastry shell, it can be served as a first course with pre-luncheon or dinner drinks, or as a main course for lunch or supper.

Handy Shrimp Plays Many Roles

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

No wonder Americans favor shrimp. This seafood has qualities this country admires. It's entrancing and versatile. Shrimp goes everywhere. You find it in the best houses, at lunch or supper, for family fare or company festivity.

So many roles these succulent pink morsels are ready to play. Want a certain raiser? Then your audience will applaud shelled raw shrimp cooked in electric skillet or chafing dish in garlic-flavored butter. Or shrimp paste—South-east spread for crackers or toast of finely chopped shrimp, butter and seasoning. Or shrimp—Long-ago-cooked shelled shrimp mayonnaise enriched by oodles of chopped watercress and chili sauce. Nor will eaters turn down shrimp with a regular tomato cocktail sauce, no matter how omnipresent that dish.

And here's something you may not yet have tried: Start off a supper party by bringing in a huge bowl of small-sized shrimp that have been cooked and drained, plus a dunk. The guests do the work of shucking their own portions and by the time elbows are deep in shells, formality has flown out the window, everyone's gobbling up the seafood with abandon, and the collation is off to a spirited start. If you're a cook in the know, you'll pay heed to that first lady of present-day American cooking: Irma Rombauer. Read, in her great "Joy of Cooking," her few succinct sentences under the direction for boiling shrimp: "Use the water for soup. Usually good as is, with a dash of cream added."

We've been doing this ever since. Irma's good advice came to our great "Joy of Cooking," her few succinct sentences under the direction for boiling shrimp: "Use the water for soup. Usually good as is, with a dash of cream added."

A most delicious way to use shrimp is in a hearty cheese custard bedded down in a pastry shell. This dish is similar to the French Quiche, a first course with pre-luncheon or dinner drinks. Or offer it in large pieces with a crisp green salad as a main course for lunch or supper.

SHRIMP AND CHEESE PIE
Ingredients: 1 pound shrimp (fresh or frozen), 1/4 pound Swiss cheese (grated), 1 package (6 ounces) Gruyere cheese (grated), 1 table-spoon flour, 3 eggs, 1 cup light cream, 1/4 teaspoon salt, pepper, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 3-inch unbaked pastry shell.

Method: Clean and devein shrimp; cut in small pieces; toss with Swiss and Gruyere cheese and flour. Beat together until just blended the eggs, cream, salt, a dash of pepper, mustard and Worcestershire sauce. Spread 3/4 of the cheese mixture in the pastry shell. Add shrimp and cover with remaining cheese. Pour shrimp. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 15 minutes; turn oven heat to low (325 degrees) and continue baking 30 to 40 minutes, or until silver knife inserted halfway between edge and center comes out clean. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Serve warm. Makes 8 to 10 appetizer servings, 6 luncheon or supper servings.

Bomb Scare Hoax Unveils Fortune In Dope

ATLANTA (UPI) — Authorities alerted through a freak set of circumstances involving a bomb scare, boarded an airplane today and arrested a passenger suspected of leaving behind in New York a suitcase full of narcotics.

March Of Dimes Drive To Equal 1958 Campaign

Even though Kankakee County's 1959 March of Dimes is not going to reach the $45,000 goal that was set, it is going to match or slightly better the 1958 campaign.

This was revealed Wednesday in an announcement from Dr. Charles H. Wheeler, March of Dimes chairman, and Mrs. Melvin Grob, secretary.

The total for this year's drive should be a little more than $14,000, compared to $13,470.55 in 1958. So far $12,603.38 has been turned in from the 1959 campaign, with slightly more than $2,000 to be turned in yet.

Still to be turned in are some Mothers' March money, school cards and a few mailers.

These are the specific amounts contributed by 14 communities in Kankakee County: Kankakee, $6,811.48; Bradley, $2,106.52; Bourbonnais, $484.65; Aroma Park, $331.13; Hopkins Park, $603.10; Essex, $155.34; and Buckingham-Herscher, $529.15.

Also, Union Hill, $39.24; Red-dick, $203.01; Grant Park, $414.89; Bonfield, $76.11; DeSelm, $19.72; St. George, $17.92; and Manteno, $232.20.

Largest single event that brought the biggest collection was the Mothers' March, with a county total of $5,161.13.

A federal Treasury agent and local police entered the Capital Airline prop-jet viscount shortly before 3 a.m. and took into custody a man identified as Richard Alston, 44, who gave two addresses, Jamaica, Long Island, N.Y., and in the Harlem section of New York City.

Alston was booked at local police headquarters on suspicion of possession of narcotics. Agents said he would be returned to New York where federal authorities Wednesday night seized a bag left behind in a baggage check resulting from the bomb scare.

THE CASE WOULD NOT have broken, Capital officials said, had they not received the bomb warning and said they were not to claim the bag.

Atlanta Police Capt. W. M. Riley said no baggage check was found in Alston's possession, but that two small holes in his ticket indicated a claim check had been attached and later removed.

John Anderson, Washington public relations man for the airline, said the bag contained 51 packages of heroin, which he estimated would be worth about a half million dollars on the illicit market.

Investigators searched Alston at the terminal and said they found in his clothing a number of objects normally used by practitioners of voodoo, along with a switchblade knife and a slip of paper bearing an Atlanta telephone number.

THEY FOUND NO narcotics, however, and the only luggage Alston had with him was a small valise containing magazines.

Officers said the "voodoo" devices consisted of particles of rabbit bones, glass and sand, wrapped in a cloth and tied. One of the objects, known locally as "mo-joes," was tied around Alston's waist with a string.

Agents who questioned the suspect at the airport said Alston appeared to have no knowledge of the suitcase. The ticket under which he was traveling was purchased under the name W. Hatchett. Alston said a man by that name bought the ticket for him.

He told W. B. Prothro, the health officer, he felt tipsy when he finished his job each day. He said things were getting so bad that his wife had threatened to leave him and his boss had accused him of dipping.

The health department discovered the man worked with trichlorethylene, an industrial solvent, and the fumes were making him woozy.

Global Traveler Gives WC Picture Of World Affairs

Our diplomatic ambassadors should be trained similarly to the way any person is trained for any other type of profession, John Morley, world-traveler columnist, correspondent, told members and guests of the Kankakee Woman's Club Wednesday.

"I am critical of the systematic way an ambassador is selected to represent this country," he said, continuing to explain that an ambassador is selected only on the basis of what he can do or has done for either party whether it be Republican or Democrat.

As there is a West Point Academy for military training so should there be an academy for ambassadorial training, he said.

IN SPEAKING ON "The Global Picture . . . Uncensored," Morley, who has just returned from his fifth complete trip around the world and his 21st assignment to Russia, explained that in the voting system in the Soviet Union there is only one name, a Communist's, on the ballot. He further explained that on this ballot there is also a line in which persons may write in a non-Communist's name. But in order to do this he must step inside a booth. This designates to the officials what the voter is doing and he never lives to do it again.

In touching on education Morley said, "All we ever hear about is how terrible the American educational system is as compared with Russia's, but I feel we have the finest system in the world."

MORLEY WHO HAS BEEN a correspondent for 28 years commented that here in America "we don't play up our progress as an industrial system as compared with Russia's, but I feel we have the finest system in the world."

"We have what it takes. We have more atomic bombs now than Russia could build in years," he said. He explained that the reason the Eisenhower administration is concentrating on the short range missile is because it's more accurate than the long range missile. He praised the President in saying that this former supreme commander of the Allied Forces knew military strategy better than a professional politician.

"When Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan visited the United States about a month ago, many of us saw him on our television screens when he pretended not to speak English. But I have heard him swear me out in perfect English," Morley said.

The speaker praised Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for his devotion and service to his country. He began service in the United States in 1919 and since then has served with Wilson, Coolidge, Harding, Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower. Although a Republican, Dulles set up the Japanese Peace Treaty during Truman's presidency.

"I HAVE SEEN NOTHING that suggests to me that Russia could successfully attack—the United States and win. If so, they would have done it a long time ago. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was quoted as saying that if the United States landed 15,000 Marines in Lebanon there would be war. There was none. He said that if Britain, France and Israel invaded Egypt there would be war. There was none. And now he's saying if we don't accept the Soviet's program on Berlin by May 27 there will be war. Let's hope there will be none," he said.

Our greatest hope to defeat communism is through the growth of religion in Russia, he said. Among Russia's population of 225 million persons there are 150 million Christians compared to the 6½ million Communists.

Morley described how armies in the past have been responsible for defeating and overthrowing their own governments and advised the club members to keep their eyes on the Russian Army.

Morley concluded that he has seen evidence of what all kinds of Woman's Clubs and service clubs have done internationally to promote world peace.

DURING THE DAY Morley was presented to students of Kankakee High School, St. Patrick Central High School and St. Joseph's Seminary in two convocations through the courtesy of the Woman's Club.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Powhatan Breeden, Mrs. Carleton C. Marth, chairman of the home and education department which was in charge of the evening meeting, presided.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Eugene Hoffman, principal of St. Patrick Central High School. The courtesy to talent committee was composed of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Hamilton.

Earlier in the day the club's Book Review Group met to hear Mrs. J. LeRoy Strasma of Kankakee review "Elephant Hill" by Robert White.

Mrs. William C. Bohne announced the club's next meeting will be Feb. 25 which was originally the meeting scheduled for Jan. 21, postponed due to the hazardous weather conditions.

College Women Begin Service To Future Students With Tea

Perhaps the first step in forming a city Panhellenic, a group representative of women who are affiliated with national college social sororities, was begun Wednesday when sorority alumnae met at the home of Mrs. Len Small of Route 113 S.

During the meeting, plans were begun for a spring tea which the women will give for high school girls who are prospective college students. The date has been tentatively set for April 12. The 39 women present at the meeting represented 13 social sororities and colleges from over the United States. Sororities represented included Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Phi, Alpha Sigma Tau, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Mu, Phi Sigma Sigma, Beta Phi and Sigma Sigma Sigma.

One of the main purposes of the group would be to acquaint high school senior girls planning to attend college with both college and sorority life.

It would also serve the purpose of introducing Kankakee sorority women with each other.

Delay Action On Moving Iroquois Fair

Board Receives Offer Of Site Near Crescent City

The Iroquois County Fair Association delayed action on moving the fair from Milford to Watseka for about a month at a board meeting held Thursday night at Milford.

A committee was appointed to investigate an offer of 20 acres of land made by the county board of supervisors and the new offer of a site made by a group from Crescent City.

The board of supervisors at a meeting Feb. 10 offered the fair association 20 acres of the county farm property on a 40 to 50-year lease with option of leasing it for 40 more years. Plans are to disband the county farm which is located one-half mile south of the Routes 1 and 24 junction east of Watseka.

TWO MEN representing the Crescent City Chamber of Commerce told the board members that the Chamber has option on 40 acres of wooded property located two miles west of Crescent City on Route 24 that it would offer to lease or sell to the fair board.

The men were Orville Schweigert, Chamber president, and Robert Meyer. They told the board that Crescent City is the ideal place to relocate the fair since it's geographically located in the center of the county.

"If the fair plans to move, the Crescent City area is the logical place to locate," Meyer said this morning.

IT WAS POINTED OUT at Thursday's meeting that the fair association had not approached the board of supervisors for the county farm land. Instead the supervisors have asked the fair board to consider taking over a portion of the farm for a fair site.

The board said that moving the fair would be a tremendous undertaking especially to undeveloped ground.

The Iroquois fair has been held annually at Milford since 1934. It has had the free use of the high school facilities and adjoining Davis Park.

IN RECENT YEARS the fair has outgrown the eight-acre site. Some critics of the Milford site say the land is low, humid and usually too hot for livestock.

Since the fair association does not own or have a long term lease, it cannot build permanent buildings. The state will share costs up to $4,000 for any permanent structures a fair association builds.

The board tentatively set March 18 as the date the committee will report on the possibility of moving the fair site. Members of the committee are Carl Simpson, LeRoy Eaken, Loren Lockhart, G. Curtis Sile, Jesse Keen, Ellis Gillette, Thomas Owens and Walter Anderson.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A burst of white light high in the sky early today marked the explosive ending of an Atlas ICBM after a three minute flight.

The powerful war rocket shattered to bits in a spectacular fireworks display over the Atlantic when an undetermined malfunction occurred, the Air Force announced.

The 80-foot missile was blazing at full steam on the start of what reportedly was a 4,000-mile flight test when it burst apart.

No Multiplier To Be Put On Kankakee Valuations

For the first time since 1946, that individual tax bills will be any larger or smaller.

It does mean that valuations will stand as published last summer to personal property and real estate assessed.

THE AMOUNT OF A tax bill depends upon the valuation placed on property or real estate, as well as the tax rate levied by the taxing bodies—cities, villages, school districts, townships, the county, and the local multiplier.

County Clerk Patrick J. Cleary was notified of the state action by State Revenue Director Richard Lyons.

Technically, Kankakee County was given a multiplier of 1. But such a multiplier does not raise the valuation and for practical purposes is the same as no multiplier at all.

Cleary and State Rep. George E. Luehrs, who conferred with the revenue department in Springfield about the local multiplier last week, said they were informed that a majority of Illinois counties had received multipliers above 1.

Cleary said this means that assessments made last year by the office of supervisor of assessments, working in conjunction with 17 township assessors, have been certified as fair and equitable.

Kankakee Bus Service Remains At Standstill

Bus service remained at a standstill in Kankakee today and there was no clear indication when it might be resumed.

Victor E. Curtis, operator of the Kankakee Motor Coach Co., was still among the missing.

Curtis, his wife and children and three of the company's buses disappeared Thursday and riders served by the company were left stranded.

Outside of rumors and wild guesses, there was no certain information about where Curtis had gone.

Higher Food Prices Blamed For Slight Cost Of Living Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher food prices—reversing five months of decline—sent the government's cost-of-living index up one-tenth of one per cent in January.

At the same time, average take-home earnings of factory workers reached a record for any January.

The new monthly high was the first since 1957 when the business recession set in.

The Labor Department reported today the rise in its living cost index, noted it was still slightly below the November 1958, record high.

The index stood at 123.8 percent of the 1947-49 average.

Evan Clague, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the five months since April 1958, have been the longest period of comparative price stability since the index was established on its present basis in 1940.

It has fluctuated within a range of four-tenths of a point on the index scale.

The post office windows will be open from 7 to 9 a. m. for business firms to pick up mail and to sell stamps. There will be no home deliveries, but mail will be dispatched as usual.

Kankakee Federal Savings and Loan will be completely closed, but Marycrest Savings and Loan will remain open.

Schools will hold classes as usual.

Operator Full Of Promises But Now City Left Without Buses

By ROBERT FINN
Like a reluctant suitor, Victor E. Curtis was full of promise. But he never reached the altar.

Curtis purchased the Kankakee Motor Coach Co. Jan. 1, 1958, but didn't announce it until a month or more afterwards.

When Curtis dropped in to the Journal office to report acquisition of the bus company, he described himself as a man dedicated to the transportation business.

He portrayed an extensive career in the bus business although he was a little vague about details. However, he said that most recently he had operated a charter service near Chicago.

"THINGS SEEMED TO run smoothly for a while. Then, during the summer, Curtis petitioned the Illinois Commerce Commission for permission to discontinue Monday evening service and to consolidate the seven bus routes into five.

Curtis made a big pitch for the consolidation, claiming his plan for five "circle routes" would serve a greater number of people.

This was questionable. The Kankakee city plan, prepared by experts, contended direct routes on major streets would best serve the population.

Macmillan Hopes To Thaw Cool Russians

Reds Blast Big 4 Plan For German Talks; May Negotiate

LONDON (AP)—The Soviets today gave a chilly reception to Western proposals for a Big Four foreign ministers conference on Germany but will left the door open to direct negotiations.

An English-language commentator on Moscow radio said the Western notes handed the Kremlin Monday, "do not contain a single more or less constructive suggestion capable of facilitating settlement of questions either of Berlin or of Germany. It all boils down to the same invariable 'no'."

The belief grew in the West that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev would press for Big Four summit talks—rather than a foreign ministers meeting—when he receives British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan this weekend.

WITH U. S. Secretary of State Dulles alluding to the Soviet, British premier appeared emerging as the coordinator of Allied policy in dealing with the Soviets. He told the House of Commons Thursday night that after his talks with the Continued on Page 6, Column 2

IC Officials Discuss Train Service Here

Three Illinois Central Railroad officials met with Chamber of Commerce manager Henry Brandt today to discuss commuter service for Kankakees.

They are F. K. Sanford, superintendent; Herman Bieslerfeld, general passenger agent; and R. E. Jones, Arthur Scanlon, the Kankakee district traffic agent also attended the meeting.

They called in response to a letter to the railroad from Brandt in which he proposed that the IC might consider having the north-bound train stop at Kankakee.

Currently, the train stops in Kankakee only to discharge passengers. The north-bound train leaves Kankakee at 8:25 a. m. daily.

Although no decision was reached, the railroad officials promised to study the proposal.

They also discussed use of self-propelled Diesel cars to provide service between Chicago and Kankakee and establishment of regular commuter train service.

Mayor Ed P. Madison attended the meeting at the invitation of the mayor and a committee of citizens formed recently to obtain better service for Kankakees who are employed in Chicago.

Police Aid Injured Monee Man

Lee Williams, 44, Monee, is helped onto a stretcher here by Bradley Police Officer Darrell Larkins, after an accident at 8:45 a. m. on Route 84. Williams' pickup truck crashed into the rear of a stalled semi-trailer truck. He is reported in good condition in St. Mary's Hospital. Bradley police assisted state Trooper Ray Behnke in making an investigation. (News story on page 6.) (Journal photo)

Manteno Expects Use Of Sewers In June

Manteno residents should have the use of their new $500,000 sewer system and sewage treatment plant by June, according to information from the contractors in charge of the project.

Azzarelli Construction Co., Kankakee, says it has completed installation of the sewer lines, and they are ready to be connected at the plant.

Seger and Sons, Bartlett, the firm building the treatment plant, says it is 75 per cent complete, and hopes to have remaining work done by June.

It has been reported that when the system is put in operation the village will require that all cess pools and septic tanks be opened and filled with sand, thus avoiding any danger from cave-ins which could cause serious trouble.

WORK ON THE SEWER system and treatment plant began early in 1958, following voter approval of a $500,000 revenue bond issue to help pay for the project. Previously, voters approved a general obligation bond issue of $172,000 at a special election March 11, 1958.

Ike Pleased By Warm Welcome In Mexico

ACAPULCO, Mexico (UPI)—President Eisenhower and Mexican-American relations thrived today on a lavish diet of "amistad"—the Spanish word for friendship—embellished on trees, light poles and the rooftops of small native homes here.

Soldiers here Eisenhower were more pleased by his reception in a foreign country as he started the second day of his whirlwind visit to this Mexican Riviera at the guest of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

THE SERIOUS SIDE of their conversations dealing with such weighty items as the United States' export quotas on lead, zinc and copper, and possible American financing of the new Diabolo Dam on the Rio Grande were necessary elements of diplomacy.

But what seemed to please Eisenhower more was the genuine enthusiasm received by him every time he ventured out of his palatial temporary White House behind the Pacific Ocean at the Hotel Marqués Hotel.

The President planned a morning free of formality, probably lounging around the hotel grounds (UPI).

Costello Faces Deportation To Native Italy

Former Underworld Prime Minister Serves U. S. Term

NEW YORK (AP)—The citizenship of Frank Costello was revoked today by U. S. Dist. Judge Archie O. Dawson.

Costello, 68, and troubled by throat cancer and a heart ailment, presently is serving a five-year sentence for federal income tax evasion.

Neither Costello nor his lawyer was present when Judge Dawson placed a lengthy written decision on file. The judge had heard testimony and arguments in court between Dec. 11 and Jan. 8.

There was no immediate indication whether Costello would appeal.

THE GOVERNMENT has waged a long legal battle to strip from Costello the U. S. citizenship it claimed he obtained through fraud and misrepresentation in 1925.

The Dawson's action paved the way for what is expected to be the government's next move—to deport Costello to his native Italy.

The government had tried once before to denaturalize him. The case was thrown out by a federal court in 1956 on the ground that the government evidence was "permeated with the fruit of illegal wire taps."

The government then set out again to achieve its goal employing evidence it said was not obtained by wiretaps.

Costello long has been regarded as one of the topmost men in the underworld, and at one time was dubbed its "prime minister."

HIS VOICE became familiar to many millions of Americans a few years ago during the nationally televised New York hearings on crime conducted by the U. S. Senate committee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Only Costello's voice was heard during his witness chair appearance because of his demand that his face not be shown. Viewers now and then caught a glimpse of his hands as he doled verdicts from Rudolph Halley, chief counsel of the committee.

At the Atlanta prison, Warden Fred T. Wilkinson said Costello was on light duty because of his age and physical condition.

The warden said there had been no recurrence of a type of malignant tumor which was removed from Costello's throat in an operation 10 years ago.

As for the heart condition, Wilkinson termed it arteriosclerosis and said Costello might die of it at any time but that this did not imply he was in a dying condition by any means.
