Interest Shown In Organizing Chess Club

Public response to a chess exhibition in Bird Park Thursday evening, in the hopes a Kankakee Chess Club can be organized, was very good, according to a report from Roger Barnett, who organized the exhibition.

About 35 adults and nine young persons, between the ages of 9 and 18, were present.

Giving the exhibition was Mrs. Mildred Morell, Gary, Ind., Midwest women's champion and national women's speed champion chess player.

Mrs. Morell played 14 games simultaneously, won 11 and lost three. A 15th player withdrew as the game was in progress.

One of the games she lost was to a 10-year-old boy, John Tait, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Tait, 845 S. Nelson Ave. The other two winners against Mrs. Morell were Walter Gauder, 594 N. 10th Ave., and Werner Yonika, Limestone Township.

All games were completed in 3 hours and 10 minutes.

Following the exhibition an informal meeting was held to see if a local chess club could be organized. Thirty-four persons signed a tentative club membership list.

Arthur Dreke, 330 S. Fourth Ave., volunteered to act as temporary secretary until a club is officially organized.

All persons interested are asked to call Dreke for further information.

Barnett pointed out that persons

Iran Ignores Soviet Threats Over U.S. Pact

CHARGE MIKEST Country Backed Out Of Red Deal

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—Iranian officials refused today to be intimidated by Soviet threats of retaliation if Iran signs a military agreement with the United States.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai Petrov said Sunday Iran would "definitely become our enemy" if it went ahead and signed such a pact with Washington.

Iranian officials appeared unfazed by the Soviet threats.

Premier Manouchehr Eghbal told United Press International that "we are not afraid of any threats."

He took a bundle of papers which he said were the texts of Radio Moscow tirades against Iran from a tray labeled "incoming" and dropped them unopened into one marked "outgoing."

"You see, I haven't got time to read a single word of this abuse against us," he said with a smile.

Later, in an emotional speech to Parliament, Eghbal said that "we will defend our rights and interests with our last drop of blood."

Petrov lashed out at Iran in an exclusive interview. His statement followed Moscow charges that Iran proposed a non-aggression treaty with Russia then backed out because of U.S. influence.

"IRAN'S RULERS have openly insulted Premier (Nikita) Khrushchev and the Soviet people," Petrov said.

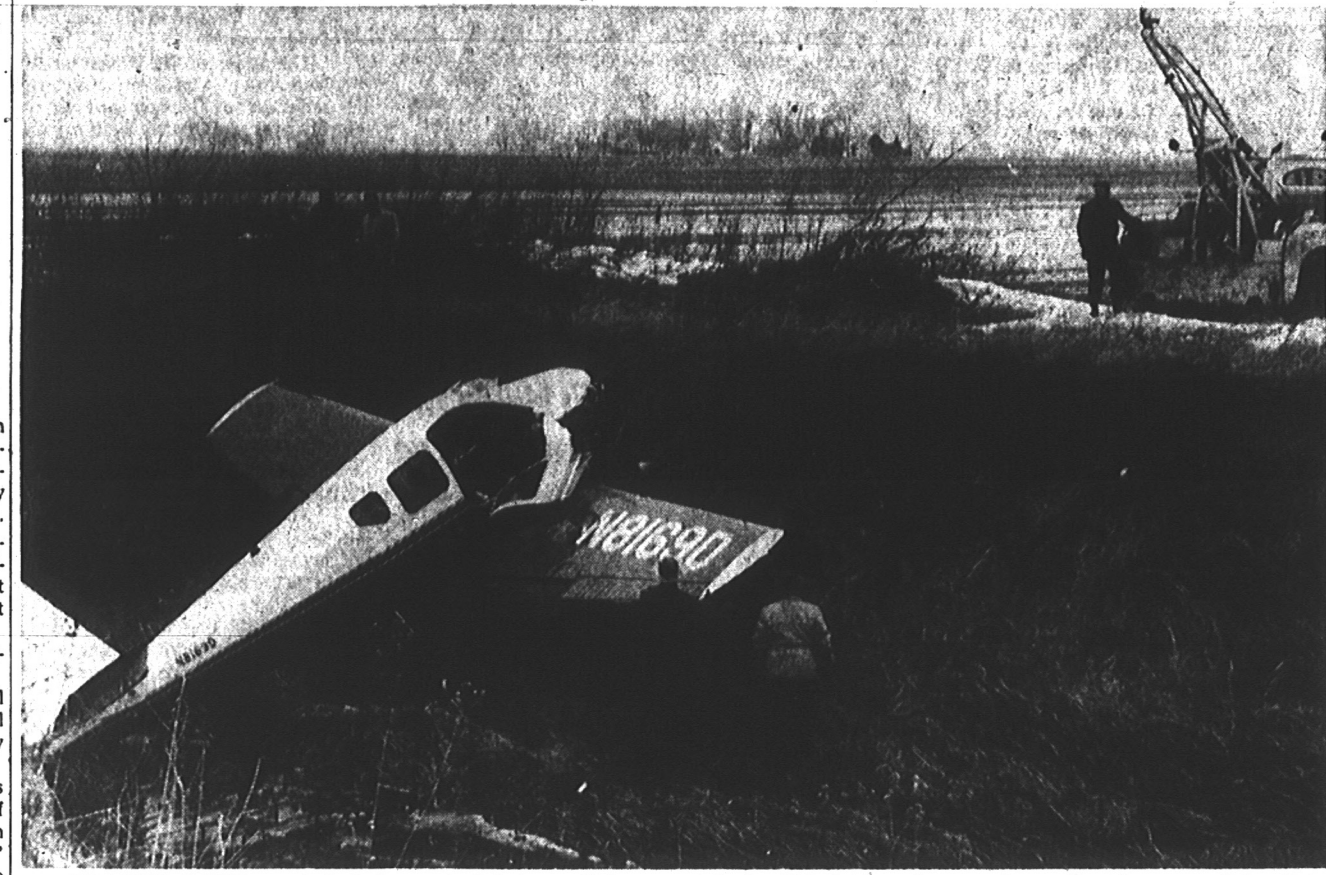

"The Shah's government invited a top Soviet delegation to Tehran to sign an agreement entirely prepared by Iran but when Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir Semenov arrived here they refused to sign it—of their very own proposal."

On informed source said Petrov here told the Spaniards that here the Russians would send troops to Azerbaijan Province on the Iranian border "the moment Iran signs a military agreement with America."

But both ambassadors denied the report.

Another top source said U.S. Deputy Under Secretary of State Loy W. Henderson promised during the recent Baghdad P a c t meeting at Karachi that the United States would defend Iran against any foreign attack.

He quoted Henderson as saying that American forces would be dispatched immediately to Iran, even at the risk of a world war, if a single Soviet soldier—or troops of any nation instigated by the Soviets—invaded Iran.

Man Dies In Airport Crash

A downwind landing at Kankakee Airport Sunday afternoon cost the life of a Detroit, Mich., pilot.

John Dempcock, 48, was instantly crushed to death by the engine of his Beechcraft Bonanza when the private plane plunged into a 15-foot drainage ditch at the north edge of the field.

A passenger with Dempcock, Arthur V. Smith, 40, also of Detroit, is reported in fair condition at St. Mary's Hospital with broken ribs, a broken wrist and facial lacerations.

This is thought to be the first fatality at Kankakee Airport.

Coroner William Spillane empaneled an inquest jury which viewed the body at the Phillips, Friday and Schreffer Funeral Home. It was to be shipped to Detroit today for burial.

Spillane said that Smith told him the two were flying from Detroit to Wichita, Kan., when they ran into bad weather beyond Kankakee which caused icing conditions on the wings of the plane.

SMITH SAID they turned back and were attempting to land at the Kankakee airport when the crash occurred.

Martin Koerner, nephew of Delbert Koerner, airport operator, said the wind was blowing from the south about 2:15 p.m. at a velocity of 10 to 25 miles per hour when Dempcock attempted to land from the same direction.

Landing speed for that type of plane is estimated at about 70 miles per hour, but the wind pushed from behind would increase that speed.

Koerner said, "I called him (Dempcock) on the radio three times to tell him he was coming in downwind, but he didn't answer."

Koerner and three other men then ran outside, pointed to the wind sock and attempted to wave the plane off.

KOERNER SAID Dempcock made three passes at the field before he landed at about the midway point of the runway. Dempcock was unable to stop his plane before it smashed into the north bank of Gar Creek drainage ditch.

Koerner said there had been "quite a few" successful landings and takeoffs at the field earlier in the day. He pointed out that there is still some frost in the ground, making the dirt runway more slippery than normal.

Sen. McBroom Rites At First Methodist

Funeral services for State Sen. Victor McBroom will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Kankakee First Methodist Church instead of Trinity Methodist Church as previously announced.

The change was made at the request of the Rev. Harold Hall, Trinity Methodist pastor, due to the limited space available in his church for the large number of public officials, local and state-wide, and the many friends of the senator who plan to attend the last rites.

Sen. and Mrs. McBroom have been long-time members of the Trinity Methodist congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Hall will handle arrangements for the services as the family's minister. Officiating clergy will be announced later.

SEN. McBroom's body will be moved to the family residence at 883 S. Washington Ave. at 5 p.m. today from the Yates Funeral Home.

Friends may call at the residence this evening, Tuesday morning, afternoon and evening, and until noon Wednesday.

At that time the body will be taken to First Methodist Church to lie in state until time for the funeral.

Gov. and Mrs. William Stratton will arrive in Kankakee by train at 8:25 a.m. Wednesday to attend the funeral. They will travel directly from a governors' session at Bloomington.

The governor will join Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman and Sec. of State Charles F. Carpenter in leading a delegation of state officials from Springfield to attend the last rites.

Lt. Gov. Chapman announced in Springfield Sunday that the customary number of senators to attend the funeral was a committee would not be appointed in this case, but that every member of the Senate has been appointed as a committee of the whole to come to Kankakee for the service.

THE SENATE WILL not convene Wednesday morning as planned.

Doctors Report General Weakens

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall weakened today. His condition remains serious.

In a medical report on the 78-year-old general, Col. George M. Powell, Army physician, said: "He shows an indication of an involvement of the urinary gland as evidenced by a definite increase in water output by way of the kidneys. This involvement has complicated his treatment."

Dr. Powell explained that the complication of treatment concerned feeding, which heretofore has been by intravenous solution and through a tube into his stomach.

The general's second stroke was accompanied by mild pneumonia. Col. Powell reported the pneumonia under control.

Marshall suffered a stroke at his winter home in Pittsburgh Jan. 15 and has been hospitalized here since. He suffered the second stroke last week.

Brazilians Approve Luce As Envoy

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—It's practically official now: Luce is ambassador to Brazil.

A Foreign Office spokesman announced today the Brazilian government, responding to an inquiry from Washington, cabled its agreement to the appointment of the author-diplomat to head the embassy here.

Mrs. Luce is the wife of magazine publisher Henry R. Luce. She was ambassador to Italy from April 1953 to November 1956.

Red Cross To Conduct Disaster Preparedness Survey With Drive

A disaster preparedness survey of Kankakee County will be taken by the Kankakee County Red Cross chapter in conjunction with the regional and rural division portions of the approaching 1959 fund campaign, it was announced today by Claude Granger, chapter chairman.

While the Red Cross volunteers are making their house-to-house canvass for funds they will also carry out the survey which is designed to establish a basis for such a survey for several years.

Mrs. Granger asserted, "Special efforts after each disaster has occurred these fields and will turn that over to the chairman of the various Red Cross societies for guides in establishing classes."

The recent flooding of the Kankakee River has pointed up the value of such a survey, the chapter chairman explained. With information on the exact locations of homes and the number of persons in each at their fingertips, rescue workers would have a much better guide in mapping out their work and in spreading warning of impending danger to persons in the path of disaster.

THE SAME VALUE OF the survey can be realized in times of torments.

Alabama Faces Action In U. S. Civil Rights Suit

What's This? George Was Born On Feb. 11!

BOSTON (UPI)—The first public celebration of George Washington's birthday was held here 180 years ago—on Feb. 11, the actual day of his birth.

John Adams, John Hancock, Samuel Adams and other leaders of the American revolution hoisted mugs in Washington's honor on that day in 1779.

Americans today, of course, mark Washington's birthday on Feb. 22, or, as in today's case, on the 23rd when the 22nd falls on a Sunday.

Prosecution Aided In Negro Voting Case

Plan To Subpoena Chief Executive John Patterson

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Federal attorneys asked U. S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. today to make the State of Alabama one of the defendants in the suit over alleged denial of Negro voting rights in Macon County.

A motion to make the state a party to the suit was filed shortly before the start of a hearing in federal court.

The apparent purpose of the maneuver was to get around the possibility that other defendants who have resigned from the Macon County voter registration board might be disqualified. Without them, the government could find itself legally with no one to sue unless it was able to get the state brought into the suit.

Today's hearing could determine whether the Justice Department can proceed with its suit to prohibit Macon County authorities from discriminating against Negroes.

Will Ask Approval Of Bus Operation Here

South Suburban Safeway Lines Inc. will formally petition the Illinois Commerce Commission Wednesday for temporary authority to operate buses in Kankakee.

Officials of the commission had indicated earlier they felt they could issue an emergency operating certificate to Safeway in view of the abandonment of service here by Kankakee Motor Coach Co.

The commission's order would enable Safeway to resume service in Kankakee at 6 a.m. Thursday.

Robert Thompson, executive vice president of Safeway, says the company will be ready to operate in Kankakee today, checking bus routes and other details.

MEANWHILE, The Chamber of Commerce special transportation committee was scheduled to meet with Thompson and other Safeway officials today to work out details of an afternoon bus service.

Chamber members agreed Saturday to pledge $9,000 to underwrite Safeway's operating expenses here for 90 days. Should Safeway operate in the black, the money will be returned to the donors.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A doctor stepped up his radiation treatment of Secretary of State Dulles' cancer today because, he says, he shows no adverse side effects from the therapy.

Any final action required by the Chamber of Commerce could be concluded Wednesday when the board of directors will hold a regular meeting at noon.

Bus service came to a halt in Kankakee last Thursday when the disappearance of Victor E. Curtis and his family was discovered. He had operated Kankakee Motor Coach Co. since Jan. 1, 1958.

African Colony Riots; 50 Injured

Blast Clay Dike To Save Southern Illinois Fields

LAWRENCEVILLE (AP)—Water which covered some 33,000 acres of Illinois farm land is draining back into the Washburn River through a dynamited breach in a clay dike.

The farm land was inundated Wednesday when the swollen Washburn burst through the levee near Russellville, about 10 miles upstream from the place where farmers blasted a 100-foot long hole in the dike Saturday.

The man-made breach is on the east side of the river, across the Washburn from Vincennes, Ind. Farmers said the flow from the fields did not raise the river level, although it did slow recession of flood levels downstream.

26 Area Schools Vie In Fairbury Music District

Nearly 900 solo and ensemble entries from 38 schools will descend upon Fairbury Saturday for the first part of the 1959 IHSA district music contest. Twenty-six of the 38 area schools from the Kankakee area Fairbury is one of 16 district sites throughout the state. Soloists and ensembles will compete at the same sites on April 4. Division I winners in the districts will then compete in state contests to be held at nine different locations in the state April 17 and 18.

The district sites include Northbrook, Sandwich-Hickory, Galena, Crete, Seneca, Galesburg, Fairbury, Clinton, Pekin, Hamilton, Roseville, Waverly, Mattoon, Vandalia, and Mt. Vernon.

State meets are divided into north and south sections because of transportation problems. While district contests give little attention to classes, when the state meets are held the various school winners compete on a class basis. Schools with enrollments of 1,250 or more are in Class A, 750 to 1,250 in Class B, 500 to 750 in Class C, 250 to 500 in Class D, 100 to 250 in Class E, and 100 or less in Class F.

State meets in the north are to be at York High School (AA), Augustana College, Rock Island (A), Bradley University, Peoria (B), Millikin University, Decatur (C), and Western University, Macomb (D).

South state meets will be at Eastern University, Charleston (AA and A), Southern University, Carbondale (B), MacMurray College, Jacksonville (C), and Western Illinois University, Macomb (D).

Entered at the Fairbury district are 46 soloists, 27 ensembles and 10 bands and choruses.

Leading the entry list is Central High School of Clinton which has 85 entries. Ranking next are Dwight and Piper. Each of these schools has more than 50 entries in Gibson City which has 52.

Nineteen other schools have 20 or more entries. They include the following: Herscher, 47; Paxton, 41; Gilman, 38; Streator, 35; Sheldon, 34; Chenoa, 33; Watseka, 32; Kankakee, 30; Flanagan, 30; Grant Park, 29; Mattoon, 28; Woodland of Streator, 28; Pontiac, 25; Moline, 24; Kewanee, 23; Milledgeville, 23; Bradley-Bourbonnais, 22; Cornett, 21; Redick, 20.

Other schools and their entries are as follows: Buckley-Loda, 5; Chatsworth, 11; Cissna Park, 15; Crescent-Igou, 15; Cullman, 15; Donovan, 12; Fairbury, 11; Melvin-Sibley, 19; Odell Community, 10; St. Paul of Odell, 4; Onarga, 13; Onarga Military, 2; Roberts-Thawville, 14; St. Anne, 14; and Wellington, 14.

For the first time in many years a district sweepstakes trophy will not be awarded this year. However, state trophies will continue to be presented and thus the district contest will be as closely contested as schools attempt to qualify as many entries as possible for the state meets.

The contest at Fairbury will begin at 8 a.m. and continue through 4 p.m.

Sixteen new members were formally inducted into the Watseka High School FFA at the last meeting of the organization.

The new members include Mary Butzow, Linda Elliott, Pam Houston, Virginia Johnson, Anne Johnson, Connie Munson, Arlene Boonagard, Wendy Moore, Janet Roth, Jean Harris, Pam Elliot, Sandra Hironimus, and Ponton.

The induction ceremony, held in the cafeteria, followed a reading of purposes by the officers and a presentation of the new members.

Incomplete returns from the Greater Kankakee area show that Heart Sunday collections amounted to $3,885.

This was a door-to-door solicitation by some 1,000 volunteer workers throughout the county for the February fund drive of the Kankakee County Heart Association.

Workers left envelopes at residences where people were not at home. Contributions can be placed in these envelopes and mailed to the association.

A report from Mrs. Lester Reinke, Heart Sunday chairman for Limestone Township, said that $301 was collected there.

Many areas have not yet reported to the association.

Former Kankakee Pastor Speaks Here

Dr. Morgan Williams, former pastor of Kankakee First Methodist Church, will be guest speaker Tuesday evening at the February meeting of the Steuben PTA.

He will speak on the subject, "Influences That Create a Home."

Dr. Williams presently is associate pastor of the Chicago Temple. He served as minister of the Kankakee church for 15 years. He resigned to become executive secretary of the Methodist Foundation of the Rock River Conference, Inc., and later was named to his present position.

Dr. Williams spent 19 years in the Illinois Conference of the Methodist Church and prior to that spent 19½ years in the Rock River Conference.

While a resident of Kankakee he was active in many civic organizations and was frequently called upon to speak at organizational meetings.

Following the PTA meeting refreshments will be served.

Probe Cause Of Death Of Beecher Child

BEECHER (JNS) — An inquest will be scheduled this week into the death Saturday of a 20-month-old child.

According to Willard Wood, county coroner, an autopsy performed on the youngster, Todd Benedict Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Graham, showed death had been caused by peritonitis.

The peritonitis resulted from a rupture of the duodenum, the part of the small intestine nearest the stomach, blood said.

The child died sometime between 8 and 9 a.m. Saturday after being found by his father and prior to the arrival of Ervin Oltendick with a Hack Funerals Home Ambulance.

The Beecher funeral director took the ambulance to the Graham home after receiving a call from St. James Hospital, Chicago, where the child was being treated.

Childhood, who also is a veterinarian, said the child was ill for several days before the death. He said that no physician was present when the child succumbed.

According to Wood, Oltendick learned from the child's mother that she had reprimanded the boy in heat of anger Friday about 6 p.m. Blood said she told the deputy coroner she struck the child in the stomach with her hand.

The inquest, blood said, will determine what action, if any, will be taken by the state's attorney.

Entrance to the school was gained by breaking a window on the north side of the building.

The two juveniles were released at noon following Mrs. Edith Hane, Mrs. William Goodwin and Mrs. Hazel Pope in celebration of their birthdays.

Fire Levels Bungalow On Grinnell Road

A four-room unoccupied frame bungalow with attached garage along Grinnell road, east of Kankakee, was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning.

The owner of the bungalow, Roland Legg, who lives about two miles east on Grinnell road said the fire was discovered by a passing motorist. The motorist awakened Legg's daughter and son-in-law who reside in a larger home in front of the bungalow.

The Bourbonnais Volunteer Fire Department was summoned at 1 a.m. and fought the blaze until 3 a.m., but the home and garage burned to the ground.

Legg said the home was covered by insurance and estimated the loss at more than $5,000. Legg said the home contained only one bedroom suite and a few other items. It had been vacated to facilitate remodeling.

No cause was given for the fire. Legg said the house was heated by a gas furnace and had an oil heater to keep water pipes from freezing.

Armand Lecuyer, Bourbonnais fire chief, said the fire was out of control when the volunteers arrived at the scene.

Heavy Damage Results In Rural Mommence Blaze

MOMMENCE (JNS) — Damage estimated at $4,000 resulted Saturday night during a fire in a rural Mommence home.

One room on the east side of the John Pawlikowski home, 6½ miles east of Mommence, was completely destroyed and the audience the most enthusiastic since he has been in Kankakee.

Bands participating were the 83-member Kankakee Senior High School band which performed one-third of the concert; the combined East Junior and West Junior high schools band of 87 members; and the 235 member combined grade school band.

Concert highlights were two special numbers featuring senior high soloists. They were "Timpati," a symphony solo featuring Paul Johnson and "Juke Box," a number featuring Dale Hopper, first chair trombonist.

Highlights of the junior high band numbers were "Dance of the Apprentice" by Wagner and "The Grandeur Overture." The grade school Cadet band highlights were "The Swan Lake Waltz" and "Go-Go March."

Higginson said one of the purposes of the concert was to demonstrate to the public what can be done by band students in a short time, especially in the case of the grade school youngsters who have been practicing together for only three months. He said there are enough members to organize bands in each of the grade schools.

Tribute To A Life Of Leadership

If we are to have government of, and for, and by the people, people must participate in it, including businessmen.

State Senator Victor McBroom, whose sudden death Saturday morning left a great void in local and state public affairs, was a businessman whose life proved that a private career and public service may be paralleled, and that both can be highly successful.

Vic McBroom, once a farm lad, could remember a long ago day when there were frequent intimate demonstrations of the blessings of a cooperative society. He saw, in his own neighborhood, barn raisings, husking bees and threshing rings. The idea of men and women working together for the good of all was early implanted in his thinking, and it was a way of life that strongly influenced a long and fruitful career.

The time came when he was no longer customary for men to help each other build a barn or harvest a crop. Vic McBroom deeply regretted the passing of this phenomenon enshrined in midwest history. He found a way, however, to put energy and meaning into the idea that even today people can work together and all enjoy a richer, more secure and more happy life.

This he accomplished through what he called "politics." This much misused word, however, is woefully inadequate to encompass the toil, the dedication, the hopes, disappointments and successes that mark the public service of this able and respected organizer and leader of many good works for Kankakee and the State of Illinois.

He was a practical, hard-working businessman, with a keen mind, driving energy and a sense of direction, putting a long span of years into a family enterprise continually in operation since 1920.

A family man, he was temperate, clean speaking, clean living. Vic McBroom enjoyed the friendship and respect of many persons in very high places, yet the most humble citizen in the neighborhood could approach him for advice and friendly conversation.

The community and the state are much the better because he lived and worked among us. His interest and his hopes for the Kankakee River State Park have been largely responsible for its present worth as a recreational area for thousands. The professional levels of the state hospitals have improved because of his concern and dedication. The sound financial status of local and state governments has been accomplished largely through his interest, good sense and integrity.

However, his local and statewide contributions to civic progress are too numerous to recount here. Important as these are, materially, in the last analysis perhaps they are even more important as representative of the fulfillment of an American idea that men can rise as much in stature and accomplishment as the measure of their energy, devotion and integrity.

Through many years of hard work, careful attention to business and wise conservation of resources, Mr. and Mrs. McBroom had reached a point at which he might have, in all good grace, "slowed down" to mellow retirement.

If he had, perhaps his years might have been lengthened. However, it was characteristic of Vic McBroom that he looked upon each new day with undiminished vigor, enthusiasm, love of accomplishment and a sincere conviction he still had much to do. He would never have accepted an easy life.

In their hour of bereavement, the members of his devoted family can take comfort in the knowledge his life was full and meaningful, and that he leaves a legacy of exemplary statesmanship, good citizenship and good neighborhood.

New Evidence Just As Phony

There is nothing quite so pitiful as the sight of a fraud trying desperately to conceal his fraud, as the Russians still are doing with regard to the unarmed U.S. Air Force transport they shot down last Sept. 2.

Realizing that their phony denials aren't making much of a dent against the brutal evidence of our taped recording of their attacking pilots' air conversations, they have "found" something new.

They say the wreckage of our plane contained the remains of special technical equipment "whereby the plane could not lose its course." Their conclusion is that it deliberately flew over Soviet soil.

Griffin Says TV Needs New Faces

NEW YORK (AP)—If the faces that ever for great instrumentalists, for example, to get talented, familiar, there's a reason.

Assuming just for argument's sake that some sort of precision guidance equipment was carried (there is no U.S. confirmation), we have also to accept the possibility that it might have been faulty at the time, or in conflict with purposely deceptive Soviet radio signals.

In any event, only an investigation by the manufacturer of such equipment, made right after the crash in the perfect assurance it had not later been tampered with, could provide any real proof whether or not the device was working properly at the time.

To the Russians it would be as meaningless as picking up a piece of ancient junk from the town dump.

"YOU LEARN HOW to please any kind of audience. You learn what music has universal appeal. . . . Where can you get that kind of training now? The bands don't play around so much today."

Griffin thinks the discovery of fresh talent today is largely a hit-or-miss matter.

"A kid runs out and makes a record, rolls it to the nearest company. They usually toss it into the wastebasket," he said. "But suppose they do put it out, and it becomes an overnight hit. The kid usually dies overnight, too. Very few last. They don't get the training."

"I figured that with that kind of money I could buy the university in a couple of years, and issue myself any diplomas I needed," he recalled, smiling. Three years later he quit to tour with Freddie Martin's band at only $150 a week on new talent.

Cyprus Settlement Aids Military

The military results of a settlement of the status of Cyprus would be helpful to the free world.

First, and certainly most important, would be the healing of the rift in NATO. As between Greece and Turkey, feeling ran so high at one time as to cause the withdrawal of the Greek officers from the NATO staff at Izmir, headquarters of the Allied Land Forces South-east Europe.

This headquarters is vital to the defense of both Greece and Turkey, including the strategically important Turkish Straits. Not only does the Izmir headquarters provide for coordination of Turkish and Greek forces in such a defense, but it forms a connecting link with U.S. and British forces operating through the Mediterranean.

IN CASE OF ATTACK, the British air bases on Cyprus would be an invaluable point of support, by direct behind the big NATO air base of Adana on the Turkish coast, and the port complex on the shores of the Gulf of Iskenderun. The defense plans for all this cooperation must not only be complete, they must be revised constantly and kept up to date in accordance with changing conditions and technology. The restoration of cordial cooperation among Greece, Turkey and Britain is necessary to this end.

It will also be helpful to have the British forces on Cyprus relieved of the burden of internal security. The number of troops kept there can be reduced, thus strengthening the depleted "strategic reserve" in the United Kingdom; and a force of perhaps brigade-group strength can be maintained on Cyprus in a state of readiness to deal with threats to British interests in the Persian Gulf, Aden or elsewhere in the Middle East. With Britannia transport aircraft coming into service this year for long-range strategic airlift, such a force would have a wide radius of action and should be a stabilizing factor in an ever-uncertain area.

A SETTLEMENT OF the political side of the Cyprus problem, bringing with it these military advantages, will of course not be received with any pleasure in Moscow, and no doubt all the Soviet and other powers will be alerted to gear-box will be supplied by shovelfuls.

The present, therefore, seems an excellent moment to reconsider constantly and kept up to date in accordance with changing conditions and technology. The restoration of cordial cooperation among

Many Unknown Diabetics

There are about 2,000,000 diabetics in America.

Approximately half of these persons know they have diabetes and are under the care of doctors. Some of them can manage the disease simply by watching their diets. Others must also take insulin, either by injection or in the newer tablet form.

The remaining 1,000,000 persons who don't know they have diabetes. Who are these people? Could you be one of them?

Well, the majority of these "unknown" diabetics are women, since diabetes is the only known major cause of death in which the female mortality rate exceeds male mortality.

Chances at birth that a woman will die of diabetes before reaching the age of 65 or 52 per 1,000. For a man, the chances are only 35 per 1,000.

THE "UNKNOWN" diabetic probably is 40 or older. Diabetes, you see, is a major disease among the elderly.

The unsuspecting diabetic more often is married. Statistics show that the death rate is higher for single women prior to the age of 45, but it is much greater for married women after this age.

Chances are that this person with this so-called "hidden" disease is overweight and might even have a history of diabetes in the family. Some 80 per cent of the diabetics who seek medical treatment are overweight.

As for heredity, you are considerably more likely to be diabetic if both parents had the disease than if only one had it.

This unsuspecting diabetic really should be aware of his trouble, since he probably has many symptoms which plainly point to diabetes, or at least to some kind of physical trouble.

Chances are he feels tired and generally weak most of the time, and maybe he has a sore, itching or slow-healing wound.

LOSS OF WEIGHT and itching are other symptoms. And, of

Canada's Problems

Although Canada is growing in population and wealth, it is not growing fast enough to overtake the United States. In fact, its population is only a million or so larger than New York State despite the fact that its territory being as large as the United States. The Canadians enjoy giving the impression of enormous independence of the United States which is neither geographically nor economically possible.

E. D. Fulton, minister of justice of Canada, came here recently to address the annual meeting of the New York State Bar Association. His speech is of considerable significance because of the divergent views of the two countries concerning trusts, cartels, subsidiaries and stock-selling firms.

ALTHOUGH CANADA IS OPPOSED to monopolies in restraint of trade, it has tolerated open cartels particularly as they affect the United States. And although Fulton says that Canada does not favor price-fixing, his statement is not confirmed by experiences in the paper and whiskey markets.

And although Canada does not desire to see American companies swindled by Canadian phony stocks, the fact is that such stocks have been sold to Americans.

With great politeness and a scholarly approach, Fulton made the point:

"Now it is accepted, of course, that in certain cases the courts of one country will direct decrees to persons within their territorial jurisdiction which will have effects beyond such jurisdiction, and will assume jurisdiction in respect of certain activities taking place beyond such territorial jurisdiction. Nevertheless, the degree to which, and the purposes for which, this extra-territorial application of the anti-trust laws has for some time now been asserted, is causing serious misgivings in a number of countries friendly to the United States, including Canada."

WHAT THIS MEANS, IN EFFECT, is that if an American company invests capital in Canada, providing work for Canadians and even buying its raw materials there, the Canadian government will take action to determine the policy of its own subsidiaries.

The case which Fulton cited is an action brought against General Electric, Westinghouse and N. V. Philips Co. in New York charging a violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law. The alleged violation is that these companies through their subsidiaries in Canada have joined with Canadian companies in a patent pool and that the patent pool, in effect, a cartel in restraint of trade. Involved is commerce between the United States and Canada.

Canadian Minister of Justice Fulton said:

"Needless to say, the real issue, for us, in an anti-trust case such as this launched in the United States, is not the merits or defects of the institutions or arrangements in Canada which the case seeks to alter. It is rather that in important aspects such cases appear to be directed against arrangements entered into by Canadian companies in Canada which are matters of Canadian commerce governed by Canadian laws including the anti-combines legislation and the patent legislation."

BUT ARE THESE CANADIAN COMPANIES? Actually, some of them—the principal ones—are American companies. The American courts will have to decide whether an American-owned company may establish a wholly-owned subsidiary in a foreign country and through such a subsidiary engage in practices which are legal in the foreign country but may be illegal in the United States. It is an interesting legal question.

"Our specific objections to an action such as this are threefold: That it is concerned not so much with strict compliance with United States laws in the United States as it is concerned with actions in Canada of Canadian companies which actions are in accord with Canadian laws and commercial policy; that compliance with the decree sought may bring these companies in Canada into conflict with Canadian laws and/or policy; and thirdly that the only way effect could be given to such a decree is if American directors of U. S. companies give instructions to directors of Canadian companies to do something in Canada which is not in accord with Canadian business or commercial policy but is dictated by American policy. Nothing could more clearly illustrate the objectionable extra-territorial effect of the action taken."

But is the policy such as Fulton describes it to be and if it is, is it legal ethics for a minister of justice of a foreign country to do so, however apologetically, before a bar association, and discuss it while it is still "sub judice"?

George's Good Old Days

NEW YORK (AP)—George and Martha Washington didn't have a government consumer price index to tell them if their living costs were rising.

They never even heard of that sort of government activity. A lot of the things you buy cost them much less. A lot of things you use they never heard of.

The government has just told us that it cost a bit more to live in by business—terms of time consumed in relation to what could happen in some distant spot on the map that most of us only hear about when something does happen there.

The essential requirement for dealing with such problems is to have effective and highly mobile forces ready to act quickly. Their presence and their readiness will not be overlooked. Neither will their absence or their preoccupation with troubles that prevent their prompt movement in case of emergency.

Of course there is always the budget problem. The trend is toward more mobile forces, but less. The opportunities offered by a change of scene in Cyprus should be used as a stepping stone to better and wider application of the principle of mobility—global mobility. Whether this will be done in fact remains in considerable doubt.

Why Rebels Ordered Executions

(For almost two months the guns of firing squads have been echoing along the length of Cuba. Dispatches tell of new executions almost daily, with perhaps a terse and superficial explanation. What is the underlying story? An Associated Press correspondent has dug into it, looking at the records and interviewing scores of Cubans. Robert Berrellez comes from Arizona and speaks Spanish fluently. This is the first of three stories he will write this week on the atrocities of the Batista regime and their aftermath.)

HAVANA (AP)—Hundreds tortured or killed . . . scores executed in retaliation.

They are figures, good round figures, and with repetition they come to have special meaning.

But behind them, getting down to individual cases, they have a shocking meaning. They are the fruit of a dictatorship and of a revolution which conquered it.

The full scope of the atrocities charged to Fulgencio Batista's police state may never be known.

FIDEL CASTRO's revolutionary government estimates 20,000 Cubans—hundreds of them in no way connected with the rebellion—were tortured and killed by Batista's national police and army.

Brutal as this country Jan. 1, and his government fell apart. The Castro forces took over. So far, Castro's military tribunals have executed more than 300 men—former policemen and soldiers—for taking part in the Batista killings.

Many more will face firing squads before the book is closed.

Whatever the verdict of history, there are piles of evidence to show the way things went under the fallen Batista's regime. His men were tortured and killed by Batista's national police and army.

One man alone, Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, was accused of responsibility for the massacre of 15 persons at one village.

The revolutionary government made no attempt to prove its entire case against Sosa Blanco. The prosecution rested after calling 82 of its 92 witnesses. The testimony, circumstantial and direct, concerned 29 assassinations and homicides.

Nine of the victims were members of one family suspected of being rebel sympathizers, near Bayamo in Oriente province. This was the family of farm worker Martin Argote who was machine-gunned by soldiers as Sosa Blanco stood by, witnesses testified.

How were these atrocities kept from the public outside Cuba? Havana conveyed to the outside scene of timeless gawdy. Elements that might have shown the true picture were trapped by censorship, lack of evidence and fear. The local press was muzzled. Responsible foreign news correspondents could not get beyond the thin top layer of scrambled truth and scuttlebutt. The judicial arm of government was impotent. Disbelief and distrust, ruled quarters that might have helped. Thus, Cubans now outraged by present criticism of their military tribunals, the world was unprepared to accept as fact the scene depicted by the collapse of the Batista dictatorship.

MIGUEL LORENTE, the 10th person in the Argote family line, survived through a freakish run-out in Oriente province. This was the family of farm worker Martin Argote who was machine-gunned by soldiers as Sosa Blanco stood by, witnesses testified.

Questioned on his qualifications as an eyewitness, Lorente told the court:

"No, I didn't see the shooting. All I know is I was alive in front of the guns, expecting to be dead in minutes. Then I woke up with all the others dead around me."

The defense, seeking to show Argote was victims of a battle between rebels and troops, noted that the body of a soldier was found near Argote's.

But Lorente testified the soldier was executed under Sosa Blanco's orders when he balked at firing on the family.

Elements that might have shown the true picture were trapped by censorship, lack of evidence and fear. The local press was muzzled. # Preps Close Cage Season

Bradley Meets St. Anne In Makeup Game

Unless Mr. Weatherman sticks his nose into things again, Bradley-Bourbonnais and St. Anne cage teams will play a game Tuesday night that was scheduled for Jan. 23. The tilt, postponed because of weather conditions, is set for 8:30 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Back on Jan. 23, the outcome of the games might have had a bearing on the Wilcox-Kee Conference finish since at that time Bradley was very much in the thick of things. Since then, however, the Bulldogs have taken enough knocks to make the game meaningless as far as the outcome of the race is concerned.

The two teams have met once this season and, unless Mr. Upset comes himself into the regional tourney to set up a St. Anne-Bradley semifinal tilt, this should be the last meeting of the two clubs this year.

IT'S A SPORTS oddity in the community when both the Cardinals and Boilemakers, perennial basketball powers, are embroiled in losing seasons. Such is the case this year and while the Cardinals have absolutely no chance of winning a 50-50 season the Boilemakers would have to make a Bradley to the Sweet Sixteen to balance their budget.

Coach Bill Gross' outfit is 3-17 for the season and 2-7 in the Wilcox-Kee. Bradley, on the other hand, is 6-14 for the season and 4-6 in the conference. The Cardinals still have a chance of escaping the cellar but to do so likely will need wins in these final two games with Bradley and Morningside on Feb. 27.

The Boilemakers, on the other hand, are a fixture in third place behind St. Patrick Central and Wilmington.

The first meeting of the two clubs saw Bradley escape with a 65-50 triumph. The Cardinals had an 18-17 edge in field goals but fell short 28-34 at the charity stripe to suffer the loss. The St. Anne crew was whittled down by fouls for infractions while Bert Natigier's charges incurred but 14 fouls and that spelled the difference.

THE TWO Teams had slow first quarters, the score was 8-6 Bradley, but the Boilemakers exploded for 27 points the second eight minutes and St. Anne was able to catch up. The half-time count was 35-23 and the final period started with Bradley in front 43-31.

Bradley's Danny Glassford led scorers with 16 and St. Anne's Wayne Miller ranked with 15. St. Anne enters the game in the midst of a three-game losing streak, having dropped decisions to Beecher, Central and Gilman since beating Herscher Feb. 13. Bradley, an up and down outfit since breaking a seven game losing streak during December and January, has won two of its last six games. Last weekend it fell to St. Patrick Friday and then defeated Morningside Saturday.

Ford Gets Raise But Must Watch His Diet

Ed (Whitey) Ford, who must follow a strict diet, and Frank Thomas, who hopes to give added weight to Cincinnati's batting attack, have signed their 1959 contracts.

Ford, the New York Yankees' ace left-hander, came to terms for an estimated $50,000 Sunday. This was about $3,000 more than he received last season when he won 14 games and lost seven.

Thomas, who moved to the Reds from Pittsburgh in a six-player transaction last month, signed for $25,000—an increase of $7,000. The slugger hit 33 homers and drove in 109 runs last season.

Another first stringer to come to terms was catcher Sammy White, who hit 239 in '58, joining the Sox at their new training base in Scottsdale, Ariz.

MSU Watches Rivals Knock Each Other Off

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State, lacking one victory to clinch its third undisputed Big Ten basketball championship, sits back tonight to see how many of the teams with a chance for a title tie will be eliminated.

No less than six clubs retain a mathematical chance of sharing the crown with the Spartans and five of them will be in action tonight.

Indiana, Purdue, Illinois and Iowa are locked in second place with identical 6-3 records. MSU rules the roost with a 9-2 mark and three games to play. Minnesota and Michigan, both 5-5, also have a chance.

Northwestern (5-6), Ohio State (4-6) and Wisconsin (4-6) are out of the running but both Northwestern and Ohio State have hopes of finishing in the first division.

WHILE Michigan State continues to enjoy its 9-4-7 triumph over Purdue which insured the Spartans at least a title tie, eight teams swing into action tonight. Northwestern plays at Minnesota, Ohio State at Indiana, Purdue at Iowa and Wisconsin at Michigan.

The actual clinching of the crown could come Saturday when Michigan State invades Indiana in a regionally televised matchup. If the Spartans fall at Bloomington, then they certainly should wrap it up Monday when they meet last place Wisconsin at East Lansing.

Indiana clinches out of the season at home against Iowa, March 7. MSU Coach Fordy Anderson, who has coached the Spartans since 1946, said his team will win its final three games thereby giving someone else a chance at a share of the title, would make no championship predictions.

"WE NOW FEEL" the pressure is on our opponents," said Anderson after his Spartans had beaten Purdue. "We know that to win this one we would have to keep constant pressure on Purdue during the entire game. We did just that. Purdue should be congratulated. They have once lost but put up a fight and with a few breaks could have won."

Delany Needs Push For 4:00 Indoor Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The four-minute mile indoors was closer to a reality today than ever and the fellow who is on the hot spot is Ron Delany.

After his record-breaking 4:02.5 in the National AAU championship, Delany is scheduled to compete in the Madison Square Garden, the only question that remains is: When will Delany choose to do it?

If he follows his normal modus operandi it will depend on his opposition.

If Ivan Rozsvalogyi, Brian Hewson of a Co. can push him, he'll hit the tape in four minutes, but he won't fight the clock.

ROZSVALOGYI pushed him to his record-breaking in the AAU, Hewson's a Co. can push him, he'll hit the tape in four minutes, but he won't fight the clock.

BIG PARRY O'Brien, the Los Angeles banker who holds every world record, indoors and outdoors, then predicted that he'd be broken in the AAU meet, in addition to Delany, Thomas and Hewson. The record was broken.

Besides the four-minute indoor O'Brien, L. Bill Dellinger of the mile, there likely will be a 7-2 U.S. Air Force, out almost seven high jump and a 65-foot shot put with a 13-7 clocking and Bob John Thomas, Boston University, backus shattered his own 35-1/2 year-old freshman, weight 2-pound weight throw mark with a 15 in his high jump, beating even the Trojans' own standard.

He started to sprint with over two laps to go—almost a quarter of a mile—and Delany had to keep up with him. That, in a nutshell, is how the record was broken.

A Scrapbook History, Old And New, Compiled By The Kankakee County Historical Society

Kankakee History
 ODDS AND ENDS FROM OLD KANKAKEE GAZETTES
 BY HAROLD W. SIMMONS

Nov. 11, 1875: "A PIECE OF VILLAINY. Mr. Charow and his son, blacksmiths on Station street, near Schuyler avenue, were victims of an outrage one morning last week which resulted in an escape from a horrible death only by a miracle. During the night someone suspended a bottle filled with powder in the chimney of the forge at a height about equal to a man's head, evidently intending to have the chimney blown out and the workers at the forge killed."

"Fortunately, as it proved, the suspending cord was burned off and the bottle dropped into the fire. The explosion which instantly ensued was a violent one, but neither Mr. Charow nor his son were injured, though they were standing close by. It would seem that nothing but a murderous intent could have prompted the execution of such a piece of villainy. The perpetrator is unknown."

January, 1882: "A. B. Nichols, the auctioneer, conducted the sale of farm property belonging to Mrs. C. Lafontaine, of Bourbonnais last Monday, and among the articles cried off was an old wagon which possesses a history. Nearly fifty years ago the wagon was one of a government train which brought a large sum of money from Detroit to Chicago to pay off the Indians in the last treaty of Fort Dearborn. The wagon was on that trip driven by Charles Lafontaine, then only 17 years of age. In 1837 the wagon was sold by Robert King to Mr. Marcotte, father of the Marcotte boys now residing in Bourbonnais. Five years afterward Charles Lafontaine bought it and it has remained in the family up to its sale on Monday last. Lafontaine took it into the Wisconsin pineries and used it there for years, and it has been in constant use ever since. Though it brought only $5 at the auction sale it was in good condition and capable of several years of service yet. Mr. Nichols was not able to remember by whom it was purchased. Truly the old wagon is one of Kankakee County's pioneers."

May 2, 1882: "Louis Lecour is the latest addition to the wheelmen of Kankakee. He is riding a 50-inch Standard Columbia. There are now 5 bicycles in town, with a prospect of further additions during the season."

"A word of caution may not be out of place here. While the people of Kankakee have given the new vehicle a kind reception, recognizing the gracefulness and utility of the sport, and there have been no accidents from frightened horses worth mentioning, we hope the boys will never forget to exercise due caution. In passing teams be certain that you are not going to frighten them; give the horses all the advantage even to the extent of personal inconvenience to yourself; and be good constituted and courteous, even if some nervous driver gives vent to his fright in hard language."

"On the other hand drivers should exercise caution with their horses. There's nothing terrible about the bicycle. Very few horses get frightened by it, and after seeing it a few times will not mind it any more than they do any other vehicle. It is no more than a fast rider, drivers should remember that the bicycle has a perfect right to the streets. This point has been decided many times in some of the highest courts. But it is a new thing, and once in a while a man is found who is so old, foggy and intolerant that he would be glad to see them banished from the streets. It is a pretty sport and should be encouraged as long as the bicyclists conduct themselves properly and do not indulge in reckless riding."

Aug. 28: "Farmers should look out for peddlers selling insect powder, which they palm off in packages, warranted to kill any kind of insects, bugs or worms. These packages are not to be opened until used, and when thus opened are found to contain two little wooden blocks, with the direction to catch the bug and smash it between the blocks. A sure cure."

Michigan Is Broke; Crisis Grows Worse

LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Michigan is so broke it can't pay out-of-state transportation to its officials unless they can bring back more money than they spend.

A virtual ban on travel to other states is the latest in a series of cash crises that finds red tape hampering efforts to bail the state out of red ink.

State Controller James Miller said he will not approve travel requests unless a "direct and immediate" financial gain for the state can be shown.

MICHIGAN'S FIGHT against Chicago's bid for additional diversion of Lake Michigan water has been hampered because state attorneys can't get around to hearings. And there was no empty chair last week in Omaha, Neb., at a national conference on the menace of the Japanese beetle.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams' secretaries and the more than 30,000 other state employees felt the effects of the cash crisis Monday when a planned holiday in observance of George Washington's birthday was called off because the state couldn't afford to pay overtime for essential services.

The impact of fiscal collapse reached far beyond Williams' office. THERE IS A THREAT of payless paydays.

The Big Ten universities of Michigan and Michigan State are three months behind in receipt of state appropriations. They tried borrowing from banks, but credit ran out.

Secondary schools have been forced to borrow about $50 million dollars because the state can't meet its school aid obligations.

The state has been meeting its welfare grants — but only by running up a 15-million-dollar deficit. The deficit for the entire state is expected to reach 110 million dollars by July 1.

The Michigan plight was eased earlier this month when big business advanced 32 million dollars in tax money not due until next spring.

The advance payments, made in response to a plea by a governor-elect, will enable the state to stave off bankruptcy until mid-April.

Williams has suggested the state borrow its way out of the immediate crisis—and then raise 140 million dollars in new revenue, primarily through a graduated income tax, to meet the long range needs.

Refuses Call For Ministers Parley

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev turned down today the West's proposals on Berlin and nuclear test suspension.

Speaking at an election rally, Khrushchev flatly rejected last week's Western call for a Big Four foreign ministers conference on Berlin and Germany. He said it would be "unbusinesslike" and "unacceptable."

He called again for full and formal summit talks to decide the German question, nuclear test bans and the whole field of East-West dispute.

THE SPEECH appeared to blast hopes of a new approach to the German stalemate just when Khrushchev's "little summit" talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain had created fresh hopes.

In Washington, U.S. officials commented that an electioneering speech by Khrushchev did not sound like a final reply. They noted that the Western nations conference on Berlin and Germany were formal and official communications and, as such, required a similar reply.

He rejected it but we shall have to continue with our nuclear tests," he added.

KHRUSHCHEV SAID a conference of foreign ministers as suggested by the West to threaten the problems of Berlin, Germany and overall European security could last for many months or years.

"It would be more expedient if the Western powers agreed on a conference of heads of government which could make decisions," he said.

Khrushchev objected to the exclusion of Poland and Czechoslovakia, which he described as "first victims of German invasion in World War II and Germany's neighbors from any talks on Germany."

He noted that the West's latest notes called for East and West Germany to have "consultative votes" at an East-West conference.

"Thus they admit the existence of the two states," he said. He said that once this is conceded it is only logical to "admit their right to decide their own destinies."

THE WEST DOES NOT recognize East Germany. The Khrushchev speech, delivered on Feb. 23, continued on Page 6, Column 1.

Civil Rights Case Slated March 5

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The U.S. Justice Department is awaiting word on whether it may proceed with its suit against alleged denial of Negro voting rights in Alabama County.

Legal points which could spell out future success or failure of the complaint were left unsettled Monday in a two-hour hearing before U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr.

"The just set another hearing for March 5."

Charge Atheism Is Being Taught In Texas Schools

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Some of Texas' most prominent educators of learning, including Southern Methodist University, were accused Monday of teaching atheism.

A group of four state representatives hinted at a legislative probe as church and education leaders denied or questioned the charges of godlessness.

Reps. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, Ben Lewis of Dallas, and George W. Brown of Dallas, charged that they termed religious legislation.

The legislators said they would introduce a bill requiring an annual oath from teachers in state schools and colleges affirming a belief in a supreme being.

Dr. Robert Maile, pastor of the First Unitarian Church in Dallas, said they were "a little bit off."
