Nation's Youth Turning Away From Narcotics, Doctor Says

(This is the second of two dispatches on the problem of drug addiction and how it is dealt with at the U. S. Public Health Hospital in Lexington, Ky., the nation's best known center for the treatment of drug addicts.)

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI)—Drug addiction knows no age limits. "Narco" the U. S. Public Health Hospital at Lexington, one of two in the nation devoted to the care, treatment and rehabilitation of narcotics addicts—has had patients as young as 15.

But according to Dr. Murray Diamond, Narco's director, the public has an erroneous impression of the extent of juvenile addiction.

Dr. Diamond, noting that he is in his third year of duty at Lexington, bracketed patients into three age groups since the institution opened in 1935.

"IN 1935," HE SAID, "the average age (of patients) was 31 years; in 1950-51 it was 22 years with a stable segment of juvenile; in 1952, as best we can tell, the average age is 26 with only a sprinkling of juveniles."

When there was so much talk of juvenile addiction, the doctor then in charge at Lexington followed public sentiment and arranged special treatment for that group. It didn't work.

"Dr. Victor Vogel set aside a whole part of our building for juveniles," Dr. Diamond said. "Then we couldn't get them to move in. They wanted no part of it—called it 'Boys' Town.'"

"There was much talk, too, that putting young addicts in with older ones made hardened users of them. On the contrary, we've found well-selected older addicts can teach the young ones to let drugs alone."

South America Is Subject Of Amber Club In Watseka

WATSEKA (JNS)—"South America" was the topic presented by Mrs. Lela Crowder at the March meeting of the Amber Club on Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Della Purgett.

Mrs. William N. Singleton, president, reported the hospitalization of Mrs. Coraella Hester of Danforth, a member of the group.

Mrs. Mae Haug, secretary, and Miss Ora Boughton, treasurer, reported members decided guest day would be observed at the June meeting in the home of Mrs. R. C. Davis, with Mrs. Bertha Wood, Mrs. Otto Klemmer and Mrs. Singleton as assistants.

The next meeting, an evening of poetry, will be held at the home of Mrs. Bessie Brewer, with Mrs. B. F. Grice as program director.

Next time, a gradual substitute for what the patient has been taking, it is comparatively easy.

"The substitute method involving Methadone was developed here to replace the morphine formerly used. We have a careful dosage schedule and it eases the patient off. No matter if he's been taking an ounce or a bucketful, withdrawal rarely takes longer than four to seven days. We found also that tranquilizers are of no help during withdrawal."

After a patient is off drugs, he is brought to as good a physical level as possible to help guard against a relapse. The next step is diagnosis and psychiatric treatment. It involves intensive psychotherapy supplemented by vocational and social rehabilitation training.

Then, it's almost completely up to the patient himself.

Dr. Diamond said, "when we've gotten their system free of drugs and they feel wonderful, as if they could kick the world. It's an ill-fated euphoria—and the most treacherous time. I wish we could force them to stay past that."

"THEY LEAVE," HE SAID, "but they can't take any more. Then they're back at it again."

Addicts used to refer to a trip to Lexington as "4-15," meaning the stay was four months and 15 days. The hospital has extended that period to six months when possible, since it takes four months after withdrawal from drugs to get body functions back to normal.

The Lexington hospital takes male patients from all states east of the Mississippi. Women make up a fourth of its population and come to Lexington from all states. The other Federal hospital for addicts, at Fort Worth, takes no women. Seventy per cent of Lexington's patients are Negroes.

Not all of the Lexington hospital's 1,200 patients are addicts. Housed in a building near the main one are 150 psychiatric patients, all wards of the government, such as seamen, servicemen and their dependents.

Treatment, with the exception of a new substitution drug, has remained much the same through the years, but more and more weight is being placed on the psychiatric aspects of the cure.

"PATIENT CARE HAS evolved into a dynamic rather than a holding operation," Dr. Diamond said. Withdrawal from drugs is the first phase for the patient. This has been talked about, even pictured, as a nightmare that makes Edgar Allan Poe's fantasies akin to reality. Dr. Diamond says that of the most treacherous time. I wish we could force them to stay past that."

B-B School Board Defers Bond Issue Plan Until Fall

No attempt, at least on the part of the board of education of Bradley-Bourbonnais Community High School, to present a proposed bond issue to the public at a third time for expansion of the present building will be made until the fall of this year.

That was the decision of the board of education Monday night as it met in an adjourned meeting.

The board held its monthly meeting as scheduled on March 9 but because of the great amount of business to consider has met the past two Monday nights in adjourned sessions.

Approval of the voters of the district of a $750,000 bond issue to construct an addition to the present building has been sought twice. Both times the bond issue passed by narrow margins.

A DELEGATION from the community attended the board meeting on March 9 and indicated it was eager to give leadership to a movement to have the bond issue presented a third time. The delegation sought from the board an opinion as to when might be the best time to launch such a movement.

Board members indicated at the meeting that they felt the bond issue had done as much as it could in alerting the people to the needs of the rapidly growing school by presenting the issue for balloting on two occasions. It said the next initiative would have to come from the public.

In making the decision to delay any other action until fall the board did not, however, rule out the possibility of an earlier election if the public shows enough interest in it.

S. A. Smith, principal of the school, said during the meeting the contract of Smith as principal was extended another year at a salary increase. The new term will be his 10th as principal of the district.

Resignations of two teachers effective the end of the school term have been accepted. Mrs. Janet Caron has resigned as art teacher and will be succeeded by Mrs. M. J. Caron.

The traffic signal system at the Belt Route interchange, Diesterstein said, was a particularly intricate one and the second detector for Hammes avenue was considered at the outset.

HOWEVER, THE highway division decided that the single signal might do the job and proceeded on this basis.

After the lights were installed, Diesterstein said that highway engineers found the micro-wave system was not functioning properly.

It was repaired and revised to give Hammes avenue a green light before the light changed for the Belt Route exit ramp, as had been the original plan.

It was about this time, in February, Diesterstein said, that the highway department began giving serious thought to installation of the second detector on Hammes avenue.

Approval for its installation was made only recently.

Diesterstein said that a car moving less than 10 miles an hour would not activate the micro-wave signal at Hammes avenue.

With the second device in place, a car that fails to activate the micro-wave system would be freed as soon as another auto passed over the magnetic detector.

India-Tibetan Border Scene Of New Fighting

Red China Silent On Revolt; 25,000 Rebels On March

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Reports from the Indo-Tibet border today told of fresh fighting in embattled Lhasa, with Tibetan freedom fighters using light machine-guns captured from Red Chinese troops.

The sketchy reports from the Indian frontier town of Kalimpong gave no other details of the new outbreak in the Tibetan capital, where crowds of Tibetans attacked Communist occupation troops on March 20. Rebellious tribesmen in the countryside have been fighting the Red occupiers for months.

Official sources in New Delhi said they had no word beyond Monday's statement by Prime Minister Nehru, who told Parliament the fighting in Lhasa apparently had subsided but that the situation was "delicate."

Red China kept silent about the reported revolt. Peiping radio talked about farming and industry progress in Tibet under Red rule, but made no mention of the fighting. It said they had received intelligence reports direct from Lhasa that the situation was "delicate."

Li Yung-shan, a member of the Nationalist Chinese Cabinet, said rebel reinforcements were reported marching toward Lhasa from the east. He said one column was coming from Sikang, the Chinese province adjoining Tibet, and the other moving from the south. The Tibetan trading center 105 miles southwest of Lhasa which the Nationalists claim the rebels have captured.

THE HUSKY, 170-pound collector's shoulders were wedged tight 48 feet down in the S-shaped rock shaft that four attempts to pull him free Monday failed. A rope slipped under his limp arms broke each time.

Rescuers tried to work from both ends of the hollow shaft holding Moss captive.

June Bailey, a 5-foot blonde weighing only 106 pounds, wriggled under the rock.

School Board Approves Sale Of Property For Highway

A resolution for the sale of Kankakee School District 111 property to the Illinois State Highway Department was passed by the board of education Monday night.

The board accepted the state's offer of $10,000 for 1.51 acres of a five-acre plot on N. Fifth avenue. The state will use the land to complete extension of Route 45 from the curve at Meadowview to the Court Street Bridge connection.

AT THE SAME TIME, the board instructed the buildings and ground committee, headed by Herbert Hess, to make a survey of all school district property. A summary is to be presented to the board to determine the need for future expansion and whether various properties can be termed excess and be sold.

President Roy Strama and Hess were named as a committee to enter into negotiations with a Kankakee County committee for the sale of the Central School-building to the county.

Victor Carolan, chairman, Lester Day, Howard Schwark and Donald Gray represent the county.

The board of education also instructed the school district's attorney, Edwin W. Sale to notify Ray J. Benoit, contractor, that the school board had until May 15, a community group or a non-profit organization.

The board authorized transfer of $10,000 from the building fund to the building bond and interest fund for payment of a bill.

The superintendent also reported that, following a state inspection, the Kankakee High School pool was given a double-A rating, with recommendations that the illumination be improved; that liquid soap be substituted for bar soap for safety purposes; and that a flowing water bath be changed to a flowing water bath.

Oliver Nazarene College's request to use the gymnasium Nov. 7, 1959, for its homecoming basketball game was granted.

Herbert Hess, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee, reported that installation of new wiring and a lighting control box backstage in the high school auditorium has been completed.

THE TROOPERS, Paul Ellison, Elmhurst, formerly of State Police District 2 at Elgin, tend to resign because of the 15 following charges that he allegedly accepted money from drivers for the Material Contracting Co., Evanston, to pass over loaded trucks.

THE INVESTIGATION was launched after trooper Paul Ellison was ticketed John S. Ferris, a driver for the Evanston firm, for running through a state police weigh station to avoid a check as required by law.

STATE POLICE chief William H. Morris said at the time that two of the three sergeants had been implicated verbally in the case by James Edelen, another driver for the Evanston firm, who was under suspicion previously for the same charges.

But Morris would not disclose which of the sergeants had been implicated by Edelen and which of the three had been implicated by the Evanston company, refused to answer the board's questions.

Wordsen and Stephanis both have been assigned to District 7 with headquarters at Rock Island, while Barauski worked out of District 1 at Sterling.

During the investigation Morris said he was considering more frequent transfers of state police personnel to avoid "embarrassing friendships between troopers and interests in their districts."

Doctors Separate Siamese Twins; Parents Not Told

LONDON (UPI)—Ten-month-old Siamese twins boys separated by a rare operation struggled for life today in hospital after the doctors were joined at the head at birth.

Officials at St. Bartholomew's Hospital in suburban St. Alban's said the operation was successful but that the boys were in critical condition.

The twins were Timothy and Jeremy Thackeray, part of triplets born to 37-year-old Mrs. Kathleen Thackeray last May 2. The third child, Peter Martin, was normal.

Their father, Heron bank manager Reginald Thackeray, said neither he nor his wife was told beforehand of the operation performed by the hospital's neuro-surgical unit.

The Story And Meaning Of Easter — 2

Jesus Arrives In Jerusalem — Who Rejected Him?

By LOUIS CASSELL
United Press International

Jesus of Nazareth was one of thousands of Jewish pilgrims who came to the holy city of Jerusalem to celebrate the Feast of the Passover in the spring of the year 30 A. D.

Five days after he arrived, he was seized and slain.

Why? The young teacher's reputation had reached Jerusalem long before he did. For at least a year, and probably two years, he had been attracting huge crowds in his travels through his home province of Galilee. The religious leaders in the capital had heard that he healed the sick, that he associated freely with publicans and sinners, that he broke many of the strict rules they had laid down about such things as fasting and keeping the Sabbath.

MOST SHOCKING of all, he claimed the power to forgive sins. This, to the guardians of orthodox Judaism, was a blasphemous usurpation of the authority of God.

Soon after he arrived in Jerusalem, Jesus went to the Temple. He found its courtyard filled with the booths of money-changers, pigeon-merchants and other concessionaires who were charging pilgrims required to make the pilgrimage to Jerusalem to celebrate the Feast of the Passover.

Jesus went to the Temple. Seizing a whip of knotted cords, Jesus drove them out of the Temple, heaping up their tables. He said they were turning his Father's house into a den of thieves.

Powerful members of the religious hierarchy had an interest in the Temple racket. They were now convinced that this troublemaker had to go.

While they were plotting how to seize him without creating an uproar among the general population, they were approached by one of Jesus' disciples, a man named Judas Iscariot. For reasons that can only be guessed—perhaps because he was disillusioned with Jesus' refusal to become the political liberator that many devout Jews expected the Messiah to be—Judas offered to betray his master. The high priests sealed the deal with 30 pieces of silver.

ON THURSDAY evening Jesus took his disciples to the upper room of a Jerusalem home for pilgrims required to make the pilgrimage to Jerusalem to celebrate the Feast of the Passover. Mark's Gospel indicates that Jesus, knowing what lay ahead of him the next day, decided to celebrate the Passover one day in advance. But recent discoveries, including the Dead Sea Scrolls, suggest another explanation. It was customary in those days for rabbis and their pupils to meet on the eve of a great feast day to share a simple "fellowship meal."

Jesus invested this meal with a special significance for his followers. He said, "This is my blood of the new covenant which is shed for you."

He also said, "This is my body which is broken for you." He said, "This is my blood of the new covenant which is shed for you."

ers, and its re-enactment later became the central feature of Christian worship.

The earliest account of the simple rite which Jesus performed and commended to his disciples is given in the 11th chapter of Paul's first letter to the Corinthians.

"THE LORD JESUS on the night when he was betrayed took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it, and said, 'This is my body which is broken for you. Do this in remembrance of me.'"

In the same way also the cup, after supper, saying this cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me."

Jesus remained with his disciples in the upper room for several hours. He repeated many of his teachings, urging them to prove their discipleship by loving one another and by serving others with humility and unselfishly.

He told them what was going to happen to him, and sought to explain why.

Actually, there were two trials. One, during the waning hours of the night before an illegal rump session of the Jewish Sanhedrin, and the other early in the morning before the Roman procurator, Pontius Pilate. Both were travesties of justice, the first because the jury had reached a verdict before the prisoner was brought in, and the second because the judge reversed his ruling in order to appease a mob.

Scholars have made many attempts to support the blame for Jesus' condemnation between the Pharisees and Pilate. To the pioneer reader, however, the fact that stands out is that Jesus was condemned by the most respectable elements of society—the duly constituted representatives of established religion and of Roman civilization.

He was rejected, not by the people of his own nation, but by the custodians of the status quo who rightly regarded him as one who was "turning the world upside down by his teachings."

Plan Easter Parties In City Parks

Easter parties will be held in five Kankakee Park District parks this week for youngsters participating in the district's recreation program, according to Mrs. Ada Mae Casper, assistant recreation director.

The measure is designed to provide federal help in getting new industries for areas stricken by mine and mill shutdowns and heavy unemployment.

The 385-million-dollar measure now goes to the House, which has been working in committee on similar legislation.

THE 43-48 SENATE vote was far short of the two-thirds which would be needed to override a presidential veto.

Senate Republicans leaders freely predicted Eisenhower would seek to kill the bill if it were sent to him in the form it passed the Senate.

The narrow victory margin was surprising to the Senate supporters of the bill. Last year, they passed almost the same measure 49-43.

The House chopped 100 million off the Senate version in 1958 but the President nevertheless killed it with a pocket veto after the Congress adjourned.

Senators passed the bill last Monday with a vote of 54-45, with 45 Democrats and only four Republicans.

Sponsors of the bill said it should help to put back on their feet communities which have lost their jobs and severe job situation.

Examples, they said, would be coal towns or communities depending heavily on now-abandoned industries.

THE SENATE BILL carries three provisions: 1. It provides for the creation of a new federal agency, the Federal Office of Economic Development.

2. It provides for the creation of a new federal agency, the Federal Office of Economic Development.

Benson Says Both Parties Carry Burden

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson said today both major political parties share responsibility for a farm surplus problem which threatens the solvency of the nation.

"Let us be candid," he said, "both major parties share responsibility for the situation we now find ourselves in. But, more important is the responsibility for getting to the solution."

In the past, Benson had laid prime responsibility for current surplus on programs enacted during previous Democratic administrations.

In a talk prepared for the annual Farm and Home Week at Cornell University, Benson said he is still required to administer within the strait jacket of out moded laws the most costly, irrational, hedge - hedge program ever patched together. It is the result of 25 years of political attempts to solve economic problems, seemingly with an avowed determination to pretend that economics does not exist."

Benson outlined administration proposals calling for lower farm prices supports to reduce government outlays. Furthermore, he said, lower supports would tend to encourage greater sales and, in some cases, discourage over-production.

Ezra Slams Farm Program As Costly

ITHACA, N. Y. (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson said today the present federal farm program is a "costly, irrational hedge-podge" which is threatening the farm economy and the solvency of the entire nation.

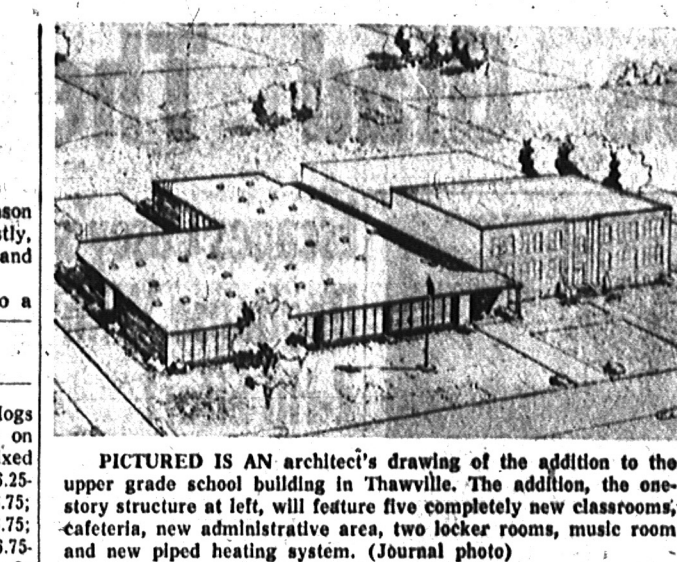

Benson demanded again in a farm and home week meeting at Cornell University that Congress act quickly on his request for authority to make a sweeping reorganization of the farm program and to support production controls.

"The only general agreement among his opponents, Benson said, is this: 'Let's saddle Benson with all the bills of agriculture, and especially with the cost of the mess we helped to make for him.'"

Benson said the cost of present farm programs is "indefensible." He pointed out the federal investment in price-supported farm commodities will probably top 10 billion dollars by July 1, 1960.

This mounting cost and the growing farm surplus pile, he said, is the result of 25 years of political attempts to solve economic problems, seemingly with an avowed determination to pretend that economics does not exist."

Benson added that to act "as though there is no limit to what the Treasury can spend is an open road to the destruction of private enterprise and its replacement by a socialist economy."

Roberts-Thawville Election Saturday

THAWVILLE (JNS) — Residents of Roberts-Thawville Community Unit School District 5 will go to the polls Saturday to vote on a proposal calling for additions and alterations to existing school buildings.

The board of education feels the old grade building at Thawville has outlived its usefulness and should be abandoned. This will mean constructing an additional building to the present upper grade building. In addition to providing modern facilities, the board contends, this will remove the danger inherent in children crossing a busy street between the two schools during the day.

THE BOARD ALSO proposes to add a music room at the existing building with the stages of the gymnasium. This will provide adequate space for music and eliminate the present disturbance to academic classrooms.

Residents buildings will have fire and smoke doors installed to comply with regulations governing public safety which became effective this year.

The work at the grade school in Thawville will include addition of five completely new classrooms and a new piped heating system in the existing building, a cafeteria seating 130, new administrative area, two new locker rooms with showers, new acoustical treatment for the existing music room, new fire alarm system for present building, and new piped heating system in the new addition which also will serve the existing building.

Faculty Grant Again Available

General Foods has given Kankakee School District 111 its second annual $1,000 faculty fellowship grant, which was accepted by the board of education Monday night.

Purpose of the fellowships is to provide financial aid to Kankakee teachers wishing to complete additional summer studies beyond certificate requirements.

Harold McGrath, manager of General Foods operations at Kankakee, notified the board that his company again makes the fellowship available.

Commanding the board of education on its administration of the grant last year, McGrath's letter instructed the board that it again may make use of the grant "as it deems best, with no stipulations."

As last year, a committee will be named to select recipients for the award from among applicants.

Mrs. Lillian Palmer, high school Spanish teacher; Mrs. Barbara Chase, high school English teacher; and George W. Kestner, West Junior High School civics, geography and ancient history teacher, were named recipients of the General Foods first annual fellowship grant.

Iraq Quits Pact; British Won't Alter Policies

Arabs Allow Air Base To Remain West Of Baghdad

LONDON (AP)—Britain's policy of supplying arms to Iraq will remain unaffected by the decision of the Iraqi government to withdraw from the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact, a Foreign Office spokesman said today.

Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem Tuesday announced the decision to pull out of the alliance. His move may have been intended to mollify both the pan-Arab followers of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and the Communist bloc.

The Foreign Office spokesman said Iraq has not asked for liquidation of Britain's air staging base at Habbaniyah, west of Baghdad, where about 800 Royal Air Force personnel and several planes are stationed. But he said the position "and various other bilateral arrangements between ourselves and the Iraqis are under discussion."

AS TO ARMS for Iraq, Britain has been reported considering resuming shipments which were stopped when Kassem's revolt last July overthrew the pro-Western monarchy and government.

Ever since last July, Iraq's withdrawal from the Baghdad Pact had been expected. The alliance took its name from the Iraqi capital, where the pact was signed in 1955 by Iraq, Iran, Pakistan, Turkey and Britain. The other four governments and the United States already had written off Iraq as a military ally. Kassem had boycotted all past activities since his revolutionaries overthrew the pro-Western monarchy last July, and the alliance's headquarters are now in Ankara, the Turkish capital.

The first reaction from the United Arab Republic was one of disquiet. The semiofficial Middle East News Agency, repeating the old charge that the pact sought to destroy Arab nationalism, said this was the aim of "Kassem's policy as well as the penetration of Communist imperialism into Iraq."

Posse Seeks Gunman Who Shot Officer

BROWNVILLE, Ore. (AP)—Armed possesmen searched warily today for a gunman who abducted a police chief, then shot and killed him before hiding in the timbered Cascade Mountain foothills.

Sheriff George Miller said the gunman was Richard Allen Hunt, 27, of Harrisburg, Ore., dairy farmer armed with a pistol, a .30 caliber carbine and 300 rounds of ammunition.

More than 100 policemen were pressed into the search for Hunt. They were joined by FBI agents from Portland.

The FBI said the 5-10, 160-pound Hunt, a former inmate of the Montana State Prison, was sought on a federal warrant for kidnapping and interstate transportation of a stolen car.

Late Tuesday, Police Chief Ernest McPhee at Harrisburg sought to arrest Hunt for having improper license plates on his car. McPhee was taken prisoner at gun point. He was released 10 miles out of town.

McPhee, picked up by another motorist, then phoned to Brownville, alerting Police Chief Robert Kennow and state policeman Gene Richardson.

A few minutes later, they spotted Hunt refueling his car in a service station there, and gave chase as the dairy worker sped out of town.

On the outskirts of Brownville Hunt's car veered out of control into a ditch.

Hunt raced from the car into a nearby barn.

In the exchange of shots that followed, Kennow fell with a bullet wound in the head. Residents saw Hunt flee from the barn, splash across a waist-deep creek and vanish into a timbered ridge.

The wounded police chief was taken to nearby Lebanon, where a doctor said: "I think Kennow has a chance for recovery."

Ike Urges Big Steel To Avoid Price Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower strongly appealed to the steel industry today to avoid a price increase which might lead to an inflationary wage-price spiral.

The President told his news conference that normally it was not the function of the federal government to inject itself into collective bargaining. But he said he could not keep silent in the face of what a reporter described as union leaders' plans for a steel strike this summer.

Eisenhower said it would be completely out of character for him to wash his hands of this issue like a Pontius Pilate.

HE SAID IF THE United States was going to continue on the road of a progressive, free economy, the price of steel must not go up and thus lead to demands for higher wages.

The President made no direct reference to steelworkers dropping wage increase demands. He said the impending wage-price picture in steel made it necessary for labor and manage-

County Assessors Meet, Prepare For Annual Survey

Township assessors from Kankakee County met with State Department of Revenue officials today in preparation for annual valuation work starting April 1.

Assessors this year will be concerned mainly with personal property, since the real estate assessments have been set for four years. However, they will note new homes and any changes in value of property due to improvements, etc.

The assessors today adopted a personal property schedule for 1959. This will be the figure later used in determining tax bills. The 55 per cent figure conforms to the prevailing real estate values.

Train Kills Piper City Postmaster

PIPER CITY (JNS)—Seth Lane, 41, Piper City postmaster, was killed instantly early today when his car was struck by a train as he drove to work.

The accident occurred at 5:50 a.m. as Lane drove across the tracks at Green street. His northbound car was hit by a Toledo, Peoria and Western freight train, which was heading east.

The train crashed into the left side of the car and dragged the vehicle about four blocks. Lane suffered severe head, leg and internal injuries. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

A witness to the accident, Mrs. Vera Soran, who operates a restaurant, said the Lane car slowed for the crossing and then continued. Flasher signals at the crossing were reported operating.

It is believed the postmaster failed to notice the approaching danger.

FUNERAL SERVICES will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Methodist Church, the Rev. Lewis Rott, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Lincoln cemetery.

Mr. Lane was born April 17, 1917 in Farmington, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lane. He was married to the former Naomi Barnhart in Chicago on Sept. 10, 1939.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. William T. Raymond, 32, and St. Clair. Continued on Page 6, Column 2

Propose Radiation Rocket That Will Soar 25,000 Miles

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Only a question of time, say scientists here, before a rocket will climb 25,000 miles and a stepped up Navy-military space campaign are the highlights of the American Rocket Society's tight scheduling conference that ends today.

The society members—700-mile scientists and engineers—and their three-day session with a brief and tour of the Cape Canaveral launching site.

Dr. Homer J. Stewart, director of planning and evaluation for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, told newsmen Tuesday that the satellite will be launched in a four-stage version of the Thor-Able rocket.

He said the satellite, weighing several hundred pounds, would seek a radical orbit ranging from 25,000 to 150 miles above the earth to gather more complete information on the two doughnut-shaped radiation fields.

The chief of Navy missile plant, Rear Adm. John T. Haynes, said the satellite will be launched in the next few days. He said it would be a "big step" in the development of long-range missile communications and navigation satellites, possibly before the end of the year.

Compulsory Daylight Time Passes House; Sponsor Kills Bingo Bill

SPRINGFIELD (UPI)—The House today passed by an overwhelming 140-4 vote a bill calling for compulsory daylight saving time statewide from the last Sunday in April through the last Sunday in October.

The bill now goes to the Senate. At the same time House sponsors of a proposal to legalizing bingo killed the measure because of opposition from church groups.

Rep. W. J. Murphy (R-Ill.) introduced the proposal to legalize bingo. He said the measure would go back to a maximum of 20 weeks so long as the level of unemployment remained below 3.25 per cent of the job force.

When it exceeded that level, bingo would be automatically extended to 30 weeks.

Samuel Bernstein, chief of the Unemployment Division, Tuesday urged the Senate to act fast before the House bill expires.

Admits Nikita Only Source To Agreement

Macmillan Differs; Thinks It Imperative To Hold Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower indirectly warned Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today against trying to force a summit meeting through bluff or blackmail. But he said that in seeking real settlements Khrushchev is the man to negotiate with.

Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan split apart in the lines they took in a summit meeting through bluff or blackmail. But he said that in seeking real settlements Khrushchev is the man to negotiate with.

Here is what happened: At his first news conference in Washington since conferring with Macmillan last weekend, Eisenhower said he is willing to go to a summit meeting if it is justified. He spelled out his view of what that means—that an earlier East-West foreign ministers conference should make progress toward easing world tensions.

IN AN APPEARANCE before Parliament in London about the same time, Macmillan was asked what he thought about the prospects for a summit meeting this year regardless of the outcome of the foreign ministers' negotiations.

He replied "As regards the likelihood of a summit meeting, I would say that everybody seems to think that there will be one."

The emphasis in the two press conferences was different. Eisenhower emphasized his requirement for prior progress before a summit conference. Macmillan treated a summit conference as almost if not entirely inevitable.

Under questioning Eisenhower said it is clear that Khrushchev is the only man who has the authority really to negotiate.

Therefore, Eisenhower said, he thinks there is some validity in the argument that there should be talks with the Kremlin top man. He's got to be in the picture pretty well, Eisenhower said.

THE UNITED STATES, Britain, France and West Germany have agreed on the wording of different but similar notes to Moscow concerning both a May meeting of East-West foreign ministers at Geneva and an offer to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev a session of government chiefs. Allied nations approved the texts today at a NATO Council meeting in Paris and the Big Three notes will be delivered Thursday. West Germany's note will reach Moscow later.

Further, it was learned that the British, French, U.S. and West German foreign ministers plan a meeting of their own in Paris next month to complete the strategy they will follow and the proposals they will present in the May conference with the Soviets at Geneva.

General Says: No Berlin Compromise

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle said today that West Berlin blockade by East Germany would bring Soviet troops in the area to face with the West.

De Gaulle said that the Western powers must not accept anything that might compromise the right of their troops to stay in Berlin or their passage to West Germany.

De Gaulle spoke to a group of 600 newsmen gathered for his first news conference as President of the Fifth Republic. It was also the first full-scale press conference ever held by a president at the Elysee Palace.

Previously the chief of state in France has been a figurehead.
