Demos Seen Trying To Avoid Other Vetoes

Doubt Controversial Money Bills Will Be Sent To Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Lawmakers generally agreed today the Democratic-controlled Congress won't be able to enact any controversial spending bills over an Eisenhower veto.

They said this was demonstrated when 274 of the 282 House Democrats voted Thursday to override the veto of a rural electrification bill and the attempt still fell four votes shy.

Seldom, if ever, have Democratic leaders been able to marshal such a remarkable turnout on any bill and they could not hope to do it on a budget-boosting measure. Many conservative southern Democrats usually cross party lines to side with Republicans on money bills.

It appeared likely Eisenhower would finish his eight years in office without having a veto overridden by Congress—the first president to compile that record since Warren G. Harding. Only six GOP members voted against the veto Thursday.

Republicans said the outcome proved they are in a position to sustain a veto on "wild spending" measures. Democrats said it raised the possibility of "government by veto."

"THE OVERWHELMING Democratic majority in Congress will have to vote not for what it wants in the way of housing or depressed area legislation, or for school or airports, but for what the President will accept," Rep. James M. Quigley (D-Pa.) said.

Quigley, who represents Eisenhower's home district of Gettysburg, said the REA vote showed "the President is more potent" than the 64 senators and 280 representatives who voted to override the veto.

Rep. Frank J. Becker (R-NY) said the vote was "proof conclusive that the Republicans will uphold future vetoes by the President of legislation that is purely political on the part of the Democrats to create further deficits."

Rep. Richard Bolling (D-Mo.) said there wasn't "any question" that Democrats will have a tougher time enacting a spending bill over a veto even though they have a big majority in both houses.

Herter To Issue Report To Nation Next Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will make a radio-television report to the nation next Thursday night on Allied strategy for the Big Four conference May 11 at Geneva.

Herter's scheduled speech, announced Thursday night by the White House, was expected to serve two principal purposes:

It will introduce to the nationwide audience the 64-year-old diplomat who will be President Eisenhower's foreign policy quarterback for the remainder of his administration.

It will summarize for the American people and the world the basic issues at stake in the forthcoming talks on the Berlin crisis, reunification of Germany and European security.

men were ready to surrender unconditionally and submit to Panamanian courts.

The spokesman said the government's information was that about 60 men left the Caribbean coastal town of Nombrie de Dios and the remainder of the 89-man group stayed behind.

Cesar Vega, the former Havana night-club owner who led the expeditionary force ashore six days ago, had said a quick opinion poll showed the discouraged adventurers want a quick settlement.

A government official said an agreement concluded with the help of neutral diplomats from the Organization of American States gave Vega until noon to signal a final surrender.

AFTER THAT the National Guard planned to move in and try capturing any holdouts, he said.

The invaders headed out of Nombrie de Dios well before noon for a jungle road connecting with the main highway, the government reported.

The road emerges onto the main highway about 30 miles from Panama City. The government spokesman said no contact is expected for several hours.

"We are optimistic about reaching a settlement within a few days," said a spokesman for the inter-American team of diplomats trying to end the threat to Panamanian President Ernesto de la Guardia's government.

Vega said he was responding to direct surrender appeals from Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, his brother Raul, commander of the Cuban armed forces, and the Organization of American States.

Vega and three others of his party were flown to U.S.-controlled Canal Zone Thursday to talk with the peace mission sent from Washington by the 21-nation OAS.

Insisting the expedition had no support from the Cuban government, Vega said the invaders had Continued on Page 4, Col. 1

Save 2 Fishermen Adrift On Stormy Pacific 9 Days

CLO-OOSE, B.C. (AP)—Two American fishermen who had been adrift in their disabled boat for nine days through turbulent Pacific storms were hauled to safety at this tiny Vancouver Island village Thursday.

Only four cans of soup separated Bob Madden, 40, and Bob Turner, 46, both of Aberdeen, Wash., from starvation when they reached shore.

Madden and Turner, both in good condition, left Aberdeen on April 21 on what was to have been a 13-hour run to Neah Bay in the 34-foot trawler.

The boat's engine broke down. For nine days, through some of the stormiest weather of the spring, the Thorids drifted. Madden and Turner had no radio transmitter.

The Thorids drifted close to shore near this fishing village, 80 miles northwest of Victoria, and the boat was spotted by Postmaster Joshua Edgar.

Edgar phoned Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ordway and the Ordways ran to the beach, waded in the icy water, caught a rope thrown from the Thorids, and hauled the boat through the one small gap in the reef that hems in the bay.

Light southwesterly winds are forecast for tonight with the humidity Saturday ranging from 30 to 35.

The high for the month at the Kankakee Airport weather station was 79 on the 25th. The low reached was a freezing 26 on the 13th.

Light southwesterly winds are forecast for tonight with the humidity Saturday ranging from 30 to 35.

Line-up time for the parade is 1:30 p.m. at Forest Ave. and Broadway. It will begin at 2 p.m. going east on Broadway to Michigan avenue, and north on Michigan to Central Grade School, where the rally will be held on the playground.

Parade marshal will be Ray Doud, commander of American Legion District 18. Honorary marshal will be Jack LeRoy, and parade announcer, Earl Morin, Kankakee County commander of the American Legion.

Principal speaker for the rally will be Dr. Anthony Martinaccio, who recently resigned as superintendent of Kankakee School District 111. He will be introduced by Donald Palmer, master of ceremonies for the rally, and past

Suggest Municipal-Private Operation Plan For Buses

Municipal ownership coupled with private management of local transportation facilities has been suggested as a long-range solution for the bus service problems in the Kankakee area.

Adoption of such a plan, however, would depend on passage of enabling legislation recommended by the State Mass Transportation Committee.

It would also require approval of city officials and might involve a public referendum.

When asked about the suggestion today, Mayor Ed P. Madison said he would prefer to withhold comment until he has time to study the enabling legislation.

THE MAYOR SAID that as far as he knows, the proposed bill has not yet been introduced in the Legislature.

The proposal was offered by Robert H. Thompson, executive vice president of South Suburban Safety Lines Inc., at a meeting here Thursday.

"His company has been providing bus service in the Kankakee area since Feb. 27 under a 90 day permit granted by the Illinois Commerce Commission."

During this period, business and industry members of the Kankakee Area Chamber of Commerce agreed to underwrite the bus company's losses up to a total of $9,600.

RESULTS HAVE BEEN disappointing, Thompson reported.

Through April 27, the company figures it has lost $5,820.50 based on the formula agreed to by both parties when the underwriting contract was adopted.

The company reported that fare revenue totaled $14,024 through April 27, but that operating costs were $19,844.50 based on an agreed cost of $6.50 an hour for each bus.

On the brighter side, Thompson reported that the rate of the loss, or cost chargeable to the Chamber, had declined since mid-day service was reduced on March 30.

The average cost or loss per day was figured at $138 before the reduction of service but dropped to $88 per day after the reduction was put in effect.

Thompson said another possibility would be for local business interests to offset the losses with an additional small subsidy. He figures loss of bus service would cost Continued on Page 6, Column 1

6 Rebels Ordered Executed In Iraq

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—The firing squad has been ordered for six more rebels against Premier Abdul Karim Qassem's Iraqi regime.

A people's court found the colonel who commanded the garrison at Aqra and five other army officers guilty of participating in the abortive revolt in north Iraq last month.

Feels Morse Row Would Hurt Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—Clare Boothe Luce quit today as ambassador to Brazil because of her public row with Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore).

President Eisenhower regretfully announced her decision after an hour's talk with her at the White House.

In a letter to the President, Mrs. Luce said:

"It is no longer possible for me to accomplish the mission which you have entrusted to me."

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference that Eisenhower sought to persuade Mrs. Luce to reconsider her decision to quit.

"BUT HER LETTER gives the reasons why she felt she could not reconsider her decision," Hagerty said.

Mrs. Luce, solemn-faced, stood beside Hagerty as he announced her decision. She refused to make any comment on her decision other than that set out in her letter.

Her letter said the "climate of good will was poisoned by thousands of words of extraordinarily ugly charges against my person, and of distrust of the mission I was to undertake."

She did not mention Sen. Morse by name, but she noted that "the American author of these charges" is also chairman of a Senate subcommittee which handles Latin American affairs.

Morse tried to block Senate approval of her appointment but was defeated by a 79-11 vote in her favor Tuesday.

A few hours after this, Mrs. Luce caused an angry uproar by saying in New York that her troubles began when Morse was Continued on Page 6, Col. 2

Thinks Martians Made Artificial Space Stations

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet scientist said today the two tiny moons of Mars are artificial space stations, placed in orbit by a now-extinct race of Martians.

I. Shklovsky set forth his theory in the Communist youth paper, Komsomolskaya Pravda, quoted by Moscow radio.

Shklovsky said the Martian moons, Phobos and Deimos, are probably hollow. From his observations, he believes they are slowly spiraling down toward Mars and ultimately will crash on its surface.

The Soviet physicist said there is definite evidence that Phobos, the moon nearest Mars, is speeding up as it rotates about its parent planet.

"This is the same behavior as that of artificial earth satellites. Their speed is slowed down by the resistance of the atmosphere and they lose height, going faster and faster as they approach the earth."

"These two bodies may weigh about 100 million tons," Shklovsky said, "but the creation of such satellites would not be an insoluble engineering problem for intelligent beings."

DOCTORS SAID it would be at least two months before Godfrey could return to the air. Oct. 5 is Godfrey's 30th anniversary as a radio-TV performer—a career which has made him a millionaire and, at times, a controversial figure in the entertainment world.

After x-rays disclosed a chest tumor several weeks ago, Godfrey said on a TV show, "Keep your fingers crossed. I think I'll be back again one day."

Generalized figures on lung cancer from the American Cancer Society put Godfrey under 25-1 odds against complete recovery. The society considers a lung cancer victim as "surviving" if he is alive five years after treatment.

TB Still A Major Problem, Group Told

Tuberculosis, while not the killer it once was, is still a major menace to the nation's health. Eleven per cent of the Kankakee County students tuberculin-tested the past year had positive reactions. This is an increase over the 9 per cent figure in 1956.

In one class of 28 students (at Hopkins Park) there were 13 positive reactions to the tuberculin test.

These were some of the facts reported Thursday night when the annual meeting of the Kankakee County Tuberculosis Association was held at the American Legion home here.

Emphasizing the seriousness of tuberculosis was Stanton G. Mamer, association president, and A. Joseph Brady Jr., executive director of the Kankakee County group, who spoke and presented official reports.

Thankfully, the great majority of persons with positive reactions to the tuberculin tests were found to have no serious defects when given the follow-up chest X-ray examinations, reports indicated.

The tuberculin test "is a simple and highly specific test for detecting the presence of tuberculosis infection," the association reports stated. "It often reveals hidden active cases of the disease."

In other association reports it was shown that while the percentage of positive reactors had increased since 1956, the amount of money raised for the TB association had decreased.

In 1958, the sale of Christmas Seals grossed $14,050, in 1957 the total was $13,679 while only $13,029 was contributed during the past year.

The TB association was also active in bringing the state mobile X-ray unit to the county. It conducted a continuing education program during the year and helped with rehabilitation programs.

Reds Sold On Communism, TB Unit Told

The residents of Moscow have been completely and expertly sold on the merits of the Communist regime, Dr. R. H. Runde, Peoria County Tuberculosis Sanatorium District director, said Thursday night in his talk at the Kankakee County Tuberculosis Association's annual meeting.

Dr. Runde, who visited Moscow and European countries, presented color slides of his tour.

Citizens of Moscow accept the Red propaganda. "They won't believe what they see—or what was told to them by our group—but only what they read in the official Communist newspapers," Dr. Runde stated.

He said that he and others in his group were constantly asked by the Moscow people, "Why does the United States want war?" He added that it was absolutely impossible to get them to accept the real facts.

IN THE BUSINESS section were re-elected: Stanton Mamer, president; Dr. Benjamin Lipnik, 1st vice president; Dr. Dale Leonard, 2nd vice president; August Meyer, treasurer; and Mrs. Harry Stocum, secretary.

During the meeting the following persons spoke briefly: Mrs. Fannie Still, president of the Kankakee County Sanatorium Board, who discussed the history of the organization and described its operations.

Robert A. Knox, 25, 188 S. Rosswood Ave., escaped a ticket Thursday when his car left the road at Kingsley Corner, where Route 17 and the Hopkins Park road meet. However, he was ticketed by sheriff's deputies for driving too fast for conditions.

Knox's car was proceeding north about 1:30 a.m. when he failed to negotiate a curve. His auto left the road, hit a county road sign, spun around, went across a ditch and came to rest in a field.

About $100 damage was done to the engine, right front and right rear corners of the vehicle.

Law Day Points Out U.S. Way

Today is May 1, the day when Communists usually celebrate their own observance.

In order to counteract this propaganda, communities in the United States have developed their own observances.

Today for instance is Law Day, U.S.A., when the legal profession pays out a large part of the American way of life is a foundation of laws which were made by the people.

A special public service radio broadcast on station WKAN by the Kankakee County Bar Association highlighted Law Day U.S.A. locally.

And Saturday and Sunday mark the climax of Loyalty Week in Bradley, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and other cooperating veterans organizations.

A band will be held in the Bradley Central Grade School gymnasium starting at 8:30 p.m., with a parade and rally Sunday afternoon.

Sponsors of these events hope that May 1 each year will bring a new appreciation for the privileges of living in the United States.

A 57-year-old West Frankfort man, Coleman Glatton, is listed in poor condition in St. Mary's Hospital this afternoon, following an auto-truck crash Thursday at 1 p.m. at the half Route junction of Routes 54, 52, 45 and 49.

His wife, Opal, 55, is reported to be in good condition. The Glatton vehicle collided with an auto transport truck at the intersection.

Driver of the truck, Robert L. Merriman, 40, Plant, Mich., was not seriously hurt. He was treated at the hospital and released.

According to a report by state Trooper Elmer Nelson, who investigated, Glatton was headed south on city Route 54, and Merriman was going north.

At the Belt Route intersection Glatton made a left turn into the path of the transport truck. Glatton was issued a ticket for a right of way violation.

About $800 damage was done to the truck, but the Claxton car was demolished.

Issue Gas Heat Permits To 41,500 More Customers

Gas house heat permits will be mailed to about 41,500 residential customers on Northern Illinois Gas Co.'s waiting list about May 4. Edward D. Sheehan, executive vice president of the utility, announced today.

Sheehan's announcement followed Illinois Commerce Commission approval today of NIG's plans to construct a 140-mile pipeline from East Dubuque to Des Plaines.

The ICC action came after final approval last Friday by the Federal Power Commission of Northern Natural Gas Co.'s petition to furnish 50 million cubic feet of gas daily to NIG's at its East Dubuque terminus.

The permits to be sent out next week will take care of NIG's house heat waiting list for individual new homes (homes not occupied when applications were made) through Nov. 7, 1957, and for existing homes (homes occupied when applications were made) through Feb. 27, 1958.

Maurice Chevalier Meets His Idol, Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maurice Chevalier, the French singer, got a special happy appointment at the White House today and shook hands with President Eisenhower.

Mrs. Eisenhower really was responsible. Chevalier entertained Thursday at a luncheon, met the First Lady, and told her he would like to shake hands with his idol.

Mrs. Eisenhower told him he would have to come in early this morning since she and the President were leaving for Gettysburg, Pa., around noon. That's what happened. Chevalier was there at 8 a.m.

Whitsett said the company also plans to open offices in Joliet and South Bend, Ind., later this year.

Service Is Main Job Of Government

There are lots of ways to run municipal government. One is for the elected officials to lay back and do nothing until the public forces action on this or that issue.

Another approach is that of taking the initiative, of anticipating the needs of the city and acting before situations become critical. This latter method is obviously the one adopted by the present Kankakee city administration.

Mayor Ed P. Madison, in an address to the newly-organized city council Wednesday night, put plenty of emphasis on the city's needs for the future. Since finances play such an important part in government, a considerable portion of his talk concerned the prospects of being able to afford some of the improvements that are needed.

He was fairly optimistic that the city could operate for the next two years without asking for any additional revenue. He cautioned that any need for emergency spending might alter this assumption.

There may be a reduction in city revenue, particularly since a lower assessed valuation of real estate could mean that there will be $15,000 less coming in from taxes.

On the action side the mayor referred to the need for the city's participation in the financing of a revised City Plan.

Other taxing units in the area have approved the revision and the city is expected to earmark funds to help pay for the engineering study.

The mayor also called attention to the need for the expansion of the sewerage treatment plant and the improvement of existing sewer lines.

Steps will be taken leading to the construction of the new Southside fire station. Mayor Madison said that council will have to consider the need for many street projects, other than the Court street project which is scheduled to start this year.

He touched on other city programs including the possible city ownership of water treatment and distribution installations, removal of dead trees, the renovating of the City Hall, the building of sidewalks in the vicinity of new schools and the need for a study of municipal license fees.

Better enforcement of city ordinances was urged. Mayor Madison stated: "Without proper policing, people become careless and lose respect for law."

It is up to the city council to help make Kankakee a more progressive community in which to live, the mayor admonished.

We heartily endorse the mayor's philosophy: "City government is a business of providing services."

Speed Isn't The Only Killer

There have been plenty of reports in the last month or so, from both government agencies and highway experts elsewhere, demonstrating from accident records that speed is not a decisive factor in most traffic fatalities.

Some people misunderstand the figures produced by these study groups. They think there are less high-speed accidents, relatively, because less people drive at high speed. But all such figures are weighed to make them comparable. What counts is the number of accidents per 100 million miles driven at the various stated speeds.

No, the accidents occur at medium to slow speeds. When high speed is involved, it can severely aggravate the intensity of a mishap. But it does not make one more likely.

Anyone who persists in asserting that excessive speed is the great killer ought to drive standard U.S. highways regularly. Get off the super-roads and have a look. The roads are cluttered with the 25-mile-an-hour boys. They set the pattern. And they have the accidents.

Thelma Ritter Likes Brass' Star Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—Veteran actress Thelma Ritter says she quite a problem in figure just how Hollywood could take a tip from the Pentagon.

The word "star" has been kicked around so much it has lost its meaning, she said. "Some very fine actors aren't stars, and some very big film stars aren't actors."

"There should be one star stars, two-star stars and three-star stars—just as the military has one-star generals, two-star generals and three-star generals."

If the movie industry ever uses such a system, it would be on them now, she thinks of them as pretty wonderful.

During that time she met and married a young actor, Joseph Morán, now a retired advertising executive. They have been married more than 30 years, have two children.

"YOUNG ACTORS now need jobs, the equipment, I needed when I started," she said. "Except for the work of a few writers such as Eugene O'Neill, the plays were started young. She was born in Brooklyn, the only child of a church sexton and his wife."

"The French have an old saying, 'An only child makes three fools,'" she said. "And there is some truth to it."

"But an only child has a great luxury—the luxury of being lonely. People today don't appreciate the advantages of being lonely individually. They seek loneliness in crowds."

Stand Firm On Broad Plan For Soviets

PARIS—What a familiar paradox!—50 reporters unsuccessfully pressing an American government spokesman to tell them what the Western Allies plan to agree to at the forthcoming Geneva conference, while a French afternoon newspaper prints the details of the so-called "package plan" which is to be offered to the Soviets.

Forty years ago it was much the same. This correspondent then watched the American delegation keep faith on the secretary rule while the British and French "briefed" their own newsmen at that time on important new developments at the Paris Peace Conference. It did not matter then, because the enemy was not to be present anyway at the "summit" conference in Paris and everything agreed upon by the Allies was to be submitted to the defeated adversary to be signed later on the dotted line.

But today the "enemy" is very much in evidence. The Communists, of course, have plenty of stooges in Paris nowadays, but they only have to read the French press to get vital information before the negotiations start.

NOTWITHSTANDING these handicaps, it is apparent that Secretary of State Herbert H. Lehman is standing firmly on a broad plan that offers the Soviets a palatable program—if they are in a conciliatory mood—but one that does not alter the substance of things. Thus, the idea now is to present a three-point plan—described in some detail by the French press—with the ultimate purpose of establishing a unified Germany through free elections. When former Secretary Dulles recently abandoned temporarily the concept of free elections as a requisite to discussions with the Soviets, it did not mean that the United States was giving up the proposal altogether. It took a little while to reassure the Western European government on this point. But now all is fully understood in Bonn.

The program now, in the first place, is to issue a number of declarations of a "non-aggression" character, along with the establishment of a bridge.

THE "BRIDGE" now need 10 years to build. The equipment, I needed when I started," she said. "Except for the work of a few writers such as Eugene O'Neill, the plays were started young. She was born in Brooklyn, the only child of a church sexton and his wife."

"The French have an old saying, 'An only child makes three fools,'" she said. "And there is some truth to it."

A Bad Strike

The possession of a union charter is not an authorization to destroy our way of life. The American people have long preferred to organize hospitals, orphanages, and similar institutions for the welfare of unfortunate people, out of their charity, not out of the goodness of their hearts, rather than by compulsory taxes.

In New York City there are 81 non-profit voluntary hospitals most of which were founded by religious groups but which, in this complex metropolitan city, are really undenominational. The non-profit voluntary hospitals usually have free wards and free clinics and perform a significant service for the community. There are also 22 municipal hospitals paid for out of taxes.

FEW, IF ANY, OF THEM ARE ever in the black and their officers are practically all mendicants, raising funds to keep going. Even those that are heavily endowed find themselves, at the present time, faced by inflationary conditions which affect all costs. It is true that the non-medical workers in hospitals are underpaid and they should not be. In fact, it would be preferable for patients if some of the hospitals could afford a higher grade of both skilled and unskilled workers. It is the uncertainty of income which very often explains the inefficiency of administration in some hospitals, because if the funds are not available to have the most efficient workers, things are not what they should be. Elevator operators, cleaning women, cooks, and all that sort of personnel are usually underpaid and they get what the hospital can afford to pay which is not enough. In some instances, such workers depend upon tips to help out but the unscrupulous workers get no tips.

THE NEW OWNER bought all stock and fixtures, but not the building, and will continue operation of the business under the name of Koehler temporarily. Hebert is a graduate of Hines School of Pharmacy, Chicago, and worked for the Grand Martin Pharmacy in St. Anne before coming to Kankakee. He has been associated with the Jaffe Drug Co. here since 1938.

He is an X-ray technician as well as a pharmacist and worked at that capacity at St. Mary's Hospital for 25 years.

The Heberts live at 54 W. Stockton Heights, Bourbonnais. Evening and Sunday hours have been instituted for the drug store by his new owner. Week day hours will be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Sunday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

THE UNIONS SEEKING TO INVADE the hospitals in New York are cagey. They selected six hospitals, as a trial, leaving 75 hospitals alone. They must have assumed that these six were the most vulnerable for many reasons. One was that they were not successful. The lawlessness and callousness of the labor union organizer best displayed in this situation. For the organizer, getting union recognition is good business; death, what can matter to him? This is particularly true of a Marxist labor organizer who is prepared to sacrifice the few for the many as one step on the way to kill all who may damage some shrunken.

So somebody will die because it is impossible to operate on him during a strike. Does the organizer not worry about that when he is seeking recognition for his union? It could be just another injury in the history of unionism! Another danger is that if the voluntary hospitals are eliminated by strikes, the burden on the taxpayer will mount.

Stratton Says Illinois To Study Economic Aspects Of Car Crashes

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A survey into the economic aspects of motor vehicle accidents in Illinois soon will be launched by the State Highway Division, Gov. Stratton disclosed today.

Stratton told the annual Illinois Traffic Safety Seminar that the direct mail and personal interview survey will be undertaken shortly in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

STRESSING THE "dollars and cents of motor vehicle accidents," Stratton said that information gathered in the survey will be used to aid in the construction of safer streets and highways and the planning and use of traffic controls.

"To date," Stratton said, "Massachusetts and New Mexico are the only other states to have attempted this study and the results have been extremely effective in planning and improvement of the total safety effort."

"Further details will be announced shortly as the program of personal interviews and direct mail questionnaires reach a significant sampling of our state drivers."

As an example of the cost of traffic accidents to the taxpayer, Stratton said that 1958's share of the annual national economic loss amounts to more than 250 million dollars, according to National Safety Council statistics. He told the newspaper group:

"I AM DEEPLY grateful for the cooperation and assistance you are continuing to provide us through the pages of your newspapers. This media of public information has done as much to advance the cause of safety as any other group and to you we owe a great deal."

Stratton also touched on the advances in highway safety achieved in Illinois since the enactment of a safety program by the 1957 state Legislature. He said the traffic death rate in Illinois dropped to 5.8 per 100 million vehicle miles, the lowest rate ever recorded.

Greatest gains in fatality reduction last year were made on state and federal highways, he added, where an expanded State Police force, helped bring about a 22.2 per cent reduction.

The seminar will act Saturday on resolutions, one of which urges the Legislature not to allow drivers under 16 to operate motor scooters or any other kind of motor vehicle in congested traffic areas.

A pending bill in the Legislature would permit youngsters 14 and 15 to drive scooters if they passed special tests administered by the secretary of state's office. The bill is opposed by Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter.

The seminar also featured a resolution condemning "all auto racing as a glorification of reckless driving."

Openings In Kankakee National Guard Company

The Kankakee National Guard company has a limited number of openings for young men interested in meeting their military obligation through the six-month active duty program and six years training with the National Guard.

The announcement was made by M. Sgt. Ronald Arsenau, first sergeant. Three additional men were enlisted Tuesday night and will leave May 10 for Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., for their six months training. Sgt. Arsenau reported that brings to 12 the group leaving in a 15-day period. A group of nine left last Sunday.

Unit strength is now 124 enlisted men and four officers, Arsenau said.

The three new enlistees are Robert E. Tuttle, 313 E. Oak St., Watseka, Robert E. Thomas, R.R. 2, Onarga, and Robert W. Segebrugg, R.R. 1, Watseka.

Promotion Of Dillon Welcomed

WASHINGTON (AP)—C. Douglas Dillon's elevation by President Eisenhower to the No. 2 spot in the State Department was welcomed with enthusiasm at Capitol Hill today.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), assistant Senate majority leader, said "Mr. Eisenhower could not have made a better choice" when he nominated the former New York investment banker Thursday to replace Christian A. Herter in the second-ranking position.

The senator also predicted speedy approval of administration legislation to enable Dillon to continue to handle the international economic matters. Such matters, including the foreign aid program, have been Dillon's principal area of responsibility since he was named undersecretary for economic affairs in the No. 3 spot. Dillon moves up to Herter's former position.

The agreement between the Chamber and the bus company expires June 6.

To continue bus service until a municipal ownership plan might be adopted would require a new agreement of some sort.

Thompson said he was very confident that the recommendations offered by the mass transportation committee would be adopted by the state legislature during this term.

The recommendation is almost tantamount to passage," he said.

BUT THOMPSON INDICATED that service he was unwilling to continue bus service without the state's guarantee to protect the company against losses until a municipal ownership plan could be worked out.

Responsibility for working out such an agreement will rest with the Chamber of Commerce and its bus committee, headed by Paul Robertson.

He and other Chamber members met with Thompson Thursday to review bus operations to date.

Under the municipal ownership plan, the city would purchase the bus company rolling stock and other equipment and employ an operator to manage the company for a fixed percentage fee.

Municipal ownership would relieve the bus company of motor fuel taxes, high license plate fees and property taxes.

timeliness observed the day quickly.

Communists dominated the celebrations in Tokyo for the most part but the demonstrators went off peacefully. Sharp denunciations of Japan's security pact with the United States was the theme of the orators. Rightist factions held a separate rally denouncing May Day celebrations but drew only a small crowd.

In Rome, Pope John XXIII in a Mass Christian observance of May Day invoked the protection of St. Joseph—humble carpenter of Nazareth—for all workers of the world. The pontiff called on his listeners to try to bring the followers of Marx to Christianity.

More than 35,000 workers of Italian Catholic Action stood in St. Peter's, the world's biggest church, as the pontiff spoke. Another 10,000 overflowed into St. Peter's Square where loud speakers brought them the pontiff's words.

Before he addressed the big throng, the 77-year-old supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church celebrated Mass. It was the first time that a pontiff celebrated such a May Day Mass and continued the church's efforts in recent years to break Communist and Socialist monopoly of the holiday.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The limited and spotty trading in the grain futures market today was attributed mainly to short covering in old crop contracts, principally May.

Probably more than half the volume of business done on the Board of Trade was in the few deliveries. Demand in evening up commitments in those few short interests had their position for the week-end under no obligation to deliver the grains were negligible.

Turkish Illiteracy NATO Enemy

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI)—The free world has a stake in Turkey's battle against illiteracy. Although about 45 per cent of the nation's 24,000,000 population is illiterate, the Turkish army, a major factor in the NATO defense network, still must keep itself in fighting trim with up-to-date weapons manned by experts. This means teaching army recruits how to read and write even before they are taught the manual of arms.

BECAUSE OF AN all-out campaign against illiteracy, the 600,000-man Turkish army's illiteracy rate now is down to 60 per cent and the figure, already better than the "civilian" rate, is decreasing every day.

The strength of Turkey's army relates to the free world because of the country's geographic position. A link with Europe and Asia, Turkey is the West's first line of defense against possible Communist aggression either in the Middle East or Europe.

In 1948 the government spent three billion, 580 million dollars for her armed forces, of which 880 million dollars came from United States military aid.

The 15,000-man air force was strengthened recently by F-84 and F-86F jets from Canada. The air force also is receiving F-100 Sabre jets.

EVERY YEAR, 200 to 250 jet pilots join the Turkish air force and they spend two years training in the U. S. or Canada. These pilots are top-notch. Those participating in the NATO air demonstration in Italy last year came away with first place in air-to-air and air-to-ground shooting and in acrobatics.

Turkey's army also is being equipped with Honest John and Nike missiles, heavy artillery, automatic radar-equipped anti-aircraft guns and heavy tanks. Radar

Competence Marks Dulles' Understudy

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The new acting second in command at the U. S. State Department, C. Douglas Dillon, is one of the most colorful and one of the most colorful big shots in Washington.

He plays a little golf when he can find the time—which is rarely. Democratic Sen. J. William Fulbright, new chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is a frequent partner. They live across the street from each other, in what is sometimes called the "Dillon Hill" section of Washington.

Dillon's five bedroom home is the more pretentious of the two, however; it's a big white brick mansion reported to have cost $150,000. It houses a few of the Dillon collection of French impressionist paintings, which is just about the only Dillon hobby. The paintings are mostly Monets and Van Dicks.

ONE OTHER THING that distinguishes Dillon is that he owns the Chateau Haut Brion vineyard, inherited from his father. It is famous for one of the best Bordeaux red wines, usually selling here for $15 a bottle.

If these little sidelights indicate that Doug Dillon is an unusual character, that is correct. He has been unusual since he was graduated from Harvard in 1931. That was the year he bought a seat on the New York Stock Exchange for

Royal Neighbors Of Gilman Plan For District Event

GILMAN (ONS) — The Royal Neighbors of America met Thursday evening in Ode Follow Hall.

Mrs. J. Post, orator, presided. Mrs. Nettie Fanyo of Watseka, district deputy, was present.

Plans were made for a district meeting to be held in Gilman on June 11. Refreshments were served.

Dillon was called home in February 1947 to become Deputy Under Secretary of State for Economic Affairs. That November he was put in charge of all foreign aid programs. A year later he was made Under Secretary and designated third in command at State.

These rapid promotions indicate better than anything else the importance of the job that Dillon has done.

He has made the Foreign Service professionals realize that economic policy can't be separated from straight political diplomacy in carrying out American international relations.

Dillon puts in full work days from before nine in the morning to nearly eight at night. Then he takes home big piles of paper for night work and for weekends.

The fact that he does his homework is a frequent partner.

CWBC Takes Bosses On 'Trip To The Orient'

At the speaker's table at the Credit Women's Breakfast Club's bosses dinner Thursday evening in Ode Follow Hall were Mrs. Lee Otter, left, president, who gave the welcoming address; Dayton Howe, who presented the response for the bosses and Mrs. Blanch Fortin, vice president. (Journal photos)

The setting of the 19th annual bosses dinner of the Credit Women's Breakfast Club resembled a scene from the movie "Sayonara," with all of its Oriental decorations. Japanese lanterns lit the way and aquined butterflies flapped their wings in the Camero Room of the Knights of Columbus Hall.

On the CWBC imaginary "Trip to the Orient" with their bosses as honored guests the group of 160 saw a huge backdrop behind the speaker's table which featured a dragon spitting fire. The room was centered with an arched bridge with a Japanese gowned mannequin at its foot. Each table was centered with a colorful Japanese doll. Miniature butterflies in an array of colors adorned each napkin and each member and her boss received Japanese style favors.

IN CHARGE OF arrangements and decorations for the dinner was Mrs. A. J. Huntley, chairman of the club's program and entertainment committee. Assisting her were Miss Marie Decker and Mrs. Johanne Peters, co-chairmen.

Guests spoke at the banquet. Mrs. Lee Otter, president, gave the welcoming address and introduced each boss. The bosses response was presented by Dayton Howe. The Rev. C. L. Henderson of Olivet College gave the invocation.

Robert Murphy of Montgomery Ward and Co. was presented with the 1959 boss of the year trophy. Guest speaker was Harry E. Manzer, general agent for a Madison, Wis., insurance agency, who not only spoke with enthusiasm but on "Enthusiasm."

MANZER POINTED out that "No one is successful who doesn't show a lot of enthusiasm in his work."

He posed the question, "How do you think the St. Lawrence Seaway, the Golden Gate Bridge and the Illinois Toll Road were built?" He answered, "They all got their start from one man who had an idea, who got excited about it, dreamed about it and got others interested in it and eventually indifference on the part of the doctor as to whether or not she should be reduced fare jolted her.

"What's more," continued the doctor, "I shall warn your family not to pay any attention to what you eat. This is your problem. Diet is the only solution. You're the one who will have to take the full responsibility for reducing."

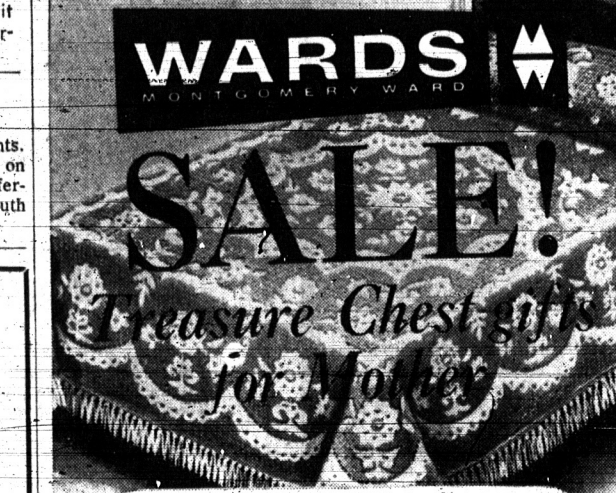

THE WOMAN SHED some tears before she returned. The doctor didn't recognize her. She had dropped her weight to 150 pounds. She was confident and jubilant.

The Best Way To Help Your Husband Succeed

By DR. PAUL POPPENE
If a wife wants to help her husband succeed, one of the best things she can do is keep him out of auto accidents.

There are many other ways a wife can help her husband—I'll be talking about them frequently—but here's an important one that wives sometimes fail to understand.
Your husband probably drives an automobile. Very likely he drives back and forth to work. Studies of accidents have shown a disproportionate number occur when a man is driving to work in the morning after a quarrel with his wife. There are too many quarrels around breakfast time, anyhow. Sometimes the wife follows her husband to the door with complaints and criticisms; she should be sending him away with a smile and a kiss. Circumstances as they are, he slams the door, jumps in the car, steps on the gas, tears down the street, and smashes into somebody or something. It wouldn't have happened if he had left home in a pleasant frame of mind.

OF COURSE, ALCOHOL is a continuous source of accidents. A wife can't always control that, but she can frequently help. Many wives would profit by really studying the subject. Write me in care of this newspaper, with stamped, self-addressed envelope, for FREE reading list on Alcoholism.

As almost everyone knows, the drinking driver has been involved in more than half the fatal accidents during the past 10 years. Carl R. Miles at Yale University showed long ago that even one bottle of beer will slow very markedly the movements of the eye from side to side, that is so important for seeing traffic coming into the road.

A very extensive study of driver behavior in North Carolina found that most persons convicted of careless driving or of causing accidents had been drinking. One can hardly exaggerate the importance of marriage and the family in this whole very serious question of accidents in driving.

High school driving courses are good. Students who have taken them appear to be about twice as safe on the road as those who have not, but home environment is the major safety factor.

By the way you handle your children now, you are helping to determine whether they will have automobile accidents in future years. By the way you handle your husband now, you are helping to determine whether he will have automobile accidents in future years.

Q. What should I talk about in the evening when my husband gets home from work, when nothing really exciting has happened during the day?

A. I can't imagine such a day! Read your newspaper! But you don't have to live entirely on excitement. Talk about some of the things you can do together to make this world a better place to live in.

Q. Do highly intelligent people have the most mental breakdowns?

A. Quite the reverse. The Army found most such occurrences among the illiterates. Patients committed to state hospitals are largely from the lower levels of education.

Q. Do you think the average woman, if she can't be married, would rather be a widow than a spinster?

A. Of course. In one survey 90 per cent of the women said so.
