Stewards Plan 125 Bed Hospital Here

Find Melquist Guilty; Sentence Set At 99 Years
File Suit To Condemn Land For Airport Use
Increase Size At No Extra Cost To Community

The Stewards Foundation now is planning to build a 125-bed, instead of 100-bed hospital here, James G. Schneider, chairman of the Kankakee County Citizens Hospital Committee, has announced.

This would bring the total cost of the proposed hospital to $2½ million, rather than the $2 million cost of a 100-bed hospital.

However, the Stewards Foundation is not asking the community to increase its share of the cost. But the plan for the larger hospital is contingent upon a successful community fund drive of $500,000.

Schneider said.

The firm under consideration is a position to start work soon, so an early drive for the $500,000 is anticipated. The committee, in meetings this past week, have considered that an early fund drive is advisable.

Further expediting the preliminary plans for the hospital, the steering committee has voted to incorporate as a not-for-profit corporation under the name of Kankakee County Citizens Hospital Committee, Inc.

Officers will be Schneider, president; Herman Stow, vice president; Mrs. Ronald Smiley, secretary; and James G. Schneider, treasurer.

The Stewards Foundation decision to build a 125-bed, instead of 100-bed hospital in Kankakee, is in response to the committee's request, following a study of the needs of the community for hospital beds.

Members of the board of directors of the newly incorporated committee are Mrs. Dorothy Behrman, Kankakee; Ed J. Bergeron, 875 S. Wildwood Ave.; Joseph B. B. 212 S. Myrtle Ave.; H. Brinker, 1 Chatham Circle; the Rev. Earl J. Bragg, 87 S. Greenwood; Raymond K. Gendron, 1000 E. 1st St.; Lawrence Costello, 579 Dennis Ave.; Bradley, Kenneth; 580 N. Fairview Ave.; Donald J. Gorcham, St. Anne; Byron Johnson, 28 Oakwood Dr.; Dr. Delbert K. 109 Cobb Rd.; Dr. Delbert K. 109 Cobb Rd.; Dr. Delbert K. 109 Cobb Rd.

The pledge of the physicians to support the proposed hospital is added to those of the Kankakee Area Chamber of Commerce and the Kankakee Federation of Labor.

4 White Youths Kidnap, Assault Negro Coed

Arrested After Chase In Florida; Girl, 19, Rescued

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Four young, white Floridians, armed with a shotgun and knives, kidnapped a 19-year-old Negro coed from her room before dawn Saturday and took her to a nearby house.

They were taken into custody after a high-speed automobile chase by a Florida State University police officer. The coed, who was bound with a belt and gagged with a baby diaper in the back seat of the men's car when she was kidnapped, was rescued Saturday night.

The four were taken to the Leon County Jail and held without bond. State Atty. Gen. William D. Hopkins said he expects to charge them with kidnapping.

Sheriff Bill Joyce said all four admitted kidnapping the girl.

The boy, 21, who had been attending a college dance Friday night and was still wearing his evening gown, was taken to a hospital where doctors placed her under sedation.

OFFICERS SAID the girl, her escort and another couple were parked near a drive-in theater when the four white Floridians, who apparently had been drinking, drove up.

Deputy W. W. Stapp gave an account of the act.

The Negro youths, Thomas Butler and Richard Brown, both 18, and A. & M. students from Miami, were forced to kneel on the ground while the four decided which of them would take the girl, Stapp said.

Then the youths were ordered to drive away. The second girl, a 17-year-old whose identity was withheld, ran. The four youths made no attempt to pursue her but hounded the other girl into their automobile and sped away.

THE NEGRO YOUTH said police, sending Cooke on his wild chase.

The rape "occurred in a wooded area several miles west of the A. & M. campus, officers said. They expected one of the four had raped the girl twice.

The four were listed as Patrick C. Scarborough, 28, Tallahassee; reported A.W.O.I. from Ft. Fisher, N.C.; Air Base; William Col. Haverstick, 24, Tallahassee; telephone company; and David Ervin Bagley, 18, a Tallahassee high school student, and a 16-year-old whose name was withheld as a juvenile.

The coed's name also was withheld under Florida law prohibiting identification of rape victims.

Herter Challenges Soviets To 'Honest' Negotiations

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Saturday challenged the Soviet Union to "honest" negotiations at the forthcoming Geneva conference to settle the Berlin and German problems and ease European tensions.

The secretary returned from a Paris meeting of the Western foreign ministers and flew by helicopter to Georgetown to report to President Eisenhower on the "complete agreement" the Allies reached on a "package proposal" to be handed Russia at the East-West talks beginning May 11.

PRESIDENTIAL PRESS Secretary James C. Hagerty reported that Herter described the Paris meeting as "very successful." The President talked with Herter for 75 minutes on the glassed-in sun porch of his farm home.

Herter told reporters who met him on his return from Paris that the meeting was "a success" and "a breakthrough" in making progress at Geneva if the Soviet Union demonstrated an honest desire to negotiate.

THE SECRETARY said that he and the foreign ministers of Britain, France and West Germany agreed to "every detail which came up" in working out their general plan for German reunification plus related measures dealing with the status of Berlin and arms limitation in Central Europe.

Officials who arrived with the secretary acknowledged, however, that the Western conference had not tried to agree on what they will do if the Russians as generally expected—reject the "package plan" and insist on negotiating separate issues.

THESE OFFICIALS said the West may well have to make policy on the spot at Geneva after they discuss the initial Russian reaction.

Next week, Herter plans to discuss the Allied Geneva plans with key congressmen including the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Herter is scheduled to make a radio address to the nation Thursday night on the cold war situation. He will leave Friday for Geneva.

Invaders Of Panama Put In Jail

PANAMA CITY (UPI)—Eighty-five men and a 16-year-old girl who came from Cuba to conquer Panama were clapped in jail Saturday and the National Guard went into the jungle after other rebels who chose flight rather than unconditional surrender.

Panamanian women, including the widow of the late President Jose Remon, paraded before the foreign office and the palace of President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. in a demonstration against the invasion plot that fizzled.

THEY DEMANDED that the government refuse to grant safe conduct to rebels for invasion leader Roberto Trias, who is in jail at the Brazilian embassy.

His Cubans who returned to the island Friday were seized six miles up the coast from the rebel landing site at Nombre de Dios.

National Guard patrols went into the hills to try to find several fleeing Panamanians who joined the invaders after they landed from Cuba last Saturday.

The government said it believed the invaders surrendered only half their arms and it was trying to locate the rest.

There remained fear that two more boat loads of "liberators" were en route from Cuba, despite Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's denunciation of the plan to overthrow the De la Guardia regime.

Castro Says U.S. Must Furnish Aid To Latin America

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Cuba's Fidel Castro called Saturday for vastly greater sacrifices by the United States to help the economies of Latin American countries.

In effect, he urged a Marshall Plan for Latin America to prevent social upheavals which he might bring Communist dictators.

The bearded Cuban Premier, who flew here Friday after visiting the United States, Canada and Brazil, spoke to the Committee of Solidarity of the United States, a branch of the Organization of American States which opened a conference here Tuesday.

Castro "called the usually sedate conference by his blue hour and them of all personal possessions, including jewelry and clothing."

All asked for political asylum in the United States.

5 Former Cuban Officials Land In Florida

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI)—Five former Cuban government officials, who said they had been just one jump ahead of rebel firing squads for the last four months, landed here Saturday in a small boat.

They said they had been hunted by "the dogs" ever since Fidel Castro seized control Jan. 1, and they charged that the rebels "robbed" them of their possessions.

The five, including a former Cuban minister of the interior, were welcomed by a group of Cuban exiles who had been waiting for them.

Don't Take Freedom For Granted, Cautions Speaker

A caution that Americans should not take their freedom for granted was the keynote of a speech by Speaker of the House, Charles W. McNichols, at the opening of the 1959 session of the House of Representatives.

McNichols, in his opening address, said that the American people should be ever alert to the dangers of communism and the loss of their freedoms.

Pick Winners In Sheriff's Safety Slogan Contest

"Are you an accident waiting to happen?" That thought-provoking question was the top award in Kansas City Sheriff Carl McNitt's slogan contest. It was submitted by Barbara Rhyard, 353 S. Cleveland Ave., Bradley. Other winners were: Second—"Safe driving is an art. All drivers should be artists," Linda Radke, 237 N. Myrtle Ave., Kansas City. Third—"The key to your life is in your car's ignition," Mrs. E. E. Fure, 635 N. Ninth Ave., Kansas City. McNitt said that he received more than 200 entries. A consolation award was announced for Mrs. Frank Zim of Essex, with this slogan: "Rick drive slow, see the judge." Mrs. Zim's slogan will be the first to be used in a display to be set up by the Sheriff's local organization of motorists. The Sheriff said he had enlisted this group to handle the new slogan campaign. A new slogan will be set up each month on the lawn of the county jail in conjunction with the slogan contest. The Sheriff also selected the winning slogan: "They're all affiliated with the National Hit Road Association, with auto safety as their first rule." President Mel Kempen, 635 S. Yates Ave., explained that all prospective members are carefully screened and must sign safety pledges. The young men are also dedicated to keeping their cars in top mechanical condition and hope to construct a drag strip in the future to test these vehicles. "We only have nine members now, but will expand," Kempen said. "The main thing is to keep out any wild reckless drivers who will not promise to drive safely." McNitt said prizes will be awarded to the winners. The prizes have not yet been chosen but will be selected this week. SOME OF the honorable mention slogans: "Drive your car at a slower pace, the judge won't be as fast," Earl O'Connell, 133 N. Main Ave.

Three Hurt In Crash Near Dwight

DWIGHT (JNS)—Three women were injured in a car-truck crash Friday on Route 66 at the junction of Route 47 north of Dwight.

Taken to the Martha Washington Hospital, Chicago, were Mrs. Marilyn Handman, 36, Niles, and Mrs. Delores Kunzman, 31, Skokie, driver of the car involved. A third woman, Mrs. Catherine Goodman, 40, Chicago, was treated by a physician and released.

Mrs. Handman suffered a fractured pelvis, head and body cuts. Mrs. Kunzman's injuries were less serious.

Glenn E. Millsap, 26, Hobart, Ind., driving a semi-trailer, was not hurt.

According to State Troopers John Manning and Warren Smith, the accident occurred at 9:30 a. m. Friday as the three women were heading south on Route 66 for Springfield and a convention.

The car, owned by Mrs. Goodman's husband, made a left turn at Route 47 to stop at a restaurant for coffee. That was when the car was struck broadside by the truck, which shoved the vehicle into a traffic signal island.

The car turned over on its side with the truck riding over it. Mrs. Goodman was removed from the car by a passing motorist. The other two women were pinned in the vehicle and had to await a wrecker, which managed to get the truck from the car, before being freed.

The car was a total wreck and the damage to the truck amounted to approximately $200.

Mrs. Kunzman was given a ticket for failing to yield the right of way.

Loud Mufflers Bring Stiffer Fines Here

The cost of living went up sharply last week—at least for those youths who drive around Kansas City with loud mufflers. For many months, the standard Kansas City police court penalty for loud or defective mufflers was $10. This included a $6 fine and $4 costs. Last Thursday the fine was increased to $10 bringing the total penalty to $14 when court costs were added.

For second offenders, the penalty was made even stiffer. Marvin T. Ginstad, 21, RR 1, Bourbonnais, and James J. O'Connor, 18, Irwin, paid $50 each in police court Saturday after Magistrate Paul F. Davidson learned it was their second offense on a muffler charge.

Others fined $14 each Saturday were: Glenn E. Millsap, 26, Hobart, Ind., driving a semi-trailer, was not hurt.

Wife Sues Glenn Ford For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—"I am sure Glenn will be a happier alone. He isn't happy now."

So says Eleanor Powell, explaining why she sued Glenn Ford for divorce Friday. Her 16-year marriage to the movie boxoffice king had been considered one of Hollywood's happiest. Her reasons for the split:

"I sued on grounds of extreme mental cruelty and that's exactly what I mean."

"My marriage wouldn't have lasted this long except for my religion and my feeling that I should keep the marriage together."

"We did have trouble (a few years ago), but I determined to keep my marriage intact. I have tried very hard, but just isn't working. We cannot go on. I have been unhappy for a long time and this is no sudden thing."

Ford declined comment.

The former dancer's suit asked custody of the couple's 14-year-old son, Peter Newton Ford, and listed the actor's mother, Hannah L. Ford of Beverly Hills, as a codefendant. The action alleges the mother-in-law receives certain funds and properties which belong in the couple's community property. The suit did not detail any complaints.

Ralph Wayne Sanders, 46, of RR 2, Manteno, was fined for driving drunk and disturbing the peace.

The couple married in 1943. Miss Powell was 46, Ford, 43.

The annual diocesan meeting of the Girls' Friendly Society, an organization for girls of age 8 to 14, centered in Episcopal churches, will draw 123 girls to Kansas City this afternoon from cities and towns around Chicago.

But She Has Contract For 5 Pictures

Susan Would Like To Quit Now While She's Ahead

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I'd like to quit now that I'm ahead," says Susan Hayward, the Oscar-winning actress who finally found on a farm in Georgia, the happiness that had eluded her in Hollywood. "But I have commitments for five more pictures under my 'Fox contract,'" she said. "It would not be right to get out of them."

In four years, Susan has zoomed from the depths of depression—she once tried suicide—to cloud 9. The 38-year-old actress looked trim and youthful in slacks as she curled on a couch in her rented bungalow at the Beverly Hills Hotel. Her golden Oscar stood on a table nearby.

"I CAME HERE when I was 19 and I've been here 20 years," she said. "I've had it." Putting the underside of her chin, she continued: "I don't want this life where I have to have the face lifted and the wrinkles painted out in order to play leading ladies. I'd prefer to quit now and go home to Georgia. Then, if I felt like it, come back after a time and play character roles. You know me, I love to act. The heavier the better."

The lady admits to a temper. Her well-known temper, however, is pre-Georgia. Easy Southern living plus a happy home life has melted the Brooklyn redhead. She credits her husband, Eaton Chalkley, a wealthy lawyer and businessman. He formerly was FBI agent.

Chalkley is not a native Georgia. He happened there six years ago on business. Told in 1936, Carrollton, 50 miles from Atlanta, and moved there from Washington, D. C.

In 1937, Susan went there as his bride. They have a big house and guest home on 200 acres of rolling pine forest.

"The boys love Georgia," says their pretty mother. "They attend Georgia Military Academy near Atlanta and are not exposed to Hollywood tinsel."

"THEY HAVE NICE friends. It's a wonderful place to raise them. Susan had much unhappiness in Hollywood, but she isn't bitter. During her 1944-1954 marriage to actor Jess Barker she zoomed to stardom. He didn't. She became the breadwinner. This led to frequent arguments with him."

Recognition was given to the oldest mother present, Mrs. Ida Wright. The youngest mother present was Mrs. Bob Webb and the mother of the most children was Mrs. John Meredith.

The speaker was Mrs. H. Harold Williams, wife of the General Christian Church, Indianapolis, Ind. Her topic was "Mother Today and Yesterday."

Great Lakes Naval Hospital recovered from a badly fractured leg suffered in a fall on the ice at his chief petty officer. He now is in

Finds Army Paid $41,887 To Doctor

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Milwaukee doctor got $41,887 from the Army for 254 months' work taking X-rays of Army draftees in 1954, says Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.).

Proxmire said Friday he asked the House Government Information Committee to pry out this figure after "an official nine-year silence."

Proxmire said the physician was Dr. Irving Cowan. He said he was not passing any judgment on the propriety of the amount paid to Dr. Cowan, but felt the figures should be public.

In Milwaukee, Cowan said, "I have no comment to make." He is an associate clinical professor in the specialty of roentgenology at Marquette University.

PROXMIRE said "This is a splendid example of the wonderful work being done by Rep. John Moss in combating 'secret government.'" Moss (D-Calif.) is an associate clinical professor in the specialty of roentgenology at Marquette University.

Proxmire said a constituent of his, Sylvester Krolinski of Milwaukee, had been trying in vain for nine years to get the facts of the payments to Dr. Cowan.

The senator said Krolinski became interested when he read that Cowan was "earning an average of $1,123 a day, minus expenses, for taking the X-rays. He was charged $3 a picture and acknowledged that the X-ray cost $1.15 apiece."

Over Half Of Olivet College Grads Enter Teaching Field

With over half of its graduates entering the teaching field, Olivet Nazarene College is filling out one in six requests it receives for teachers.

This percentage is shown in figures from the college placement office. Mrs. Eric Jordan, assistant director of the office and in charge of the teacher placement program, said of 123 seniors expected to graduate this month, 68 or 55 per cent of the class anticipate entering the teaching field.

Twenty-eight have already signed contracts with most others considering several positions. Eight have signed contracts in the Kankakee-Bourbonnais school system with several others considering contracts.

The college will have 64 graduates trained for teaching this year, Mrs. Jordan said. With some who may not teach, plus others who may teach although they have not met all requirements, she estimates at least 68 of the 1959 graduates will be teachers next fall. This is practically the same as last year.

Only teaching grads having some difficulty in finding positions are business trainees. Elementary teachers are in the shortest supply.

Most of the Olivet graduates remained in Illinois with Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa receiving a large number in 1958. So far this

U. S. Postpones Rocket Probes At Venus Until 1961

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the Friday for the delay by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the United States has postponed three important space missions—two probes aimed at Venus and an earth satellite to swing as high as 30,000 miles.

THE PROBE at cloud-shrouded Venus had been set for June. Now they'll have to wait at least 18 months, because the planet swings in orbit around the sister planet Venus has no natural moons of its own.

A good position again until mid-January 1961. One of the Venus probes was intended to go near the planet and attempt to put an earthling moon in orbit around the sister planet.

The high satellite experiment was to try to put a moonlet into a very long, flat orbit. At its high point it would have been 30,000 miles away from earth, but would have swung back to within 250 miles of earth on each trip.

and already had been postponed at least twice. NASA said the high satellite probe that the Soviets may try to shoot at Venus this summer. These would collect information about cosmic rays and other things "on journeys millions of miles into space, in the general direction of Venus."

Bridal Shower Hostesses Fill May Calendar With Very Special Parties

A bride may be happy when the sun shines, but a bride-to-be enjoys a "shower" even more. The bride-to-be above and at far right with her sister is Miss Shirley Heck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Kirchner of 421 S. Schuyler Ave. and soon to be the bride of John Gilmore. The center picture (all taken at a recent shower in Marilyn's home) shows three of the hostesses. Above Miss Kirchner displays appreciation of a gift (a bath rug) she had just opened at her miscellaneous shower. A bride doll decoration on the gift table is framed by a trellis of flowers.

The hostesses pictured at the refreshment table (food being as much a necessity as gifts at a shower) are, from left, Mrs. John May, Mrs. Harold Topf and Miss Jane Heister. Other hostesses at the shower were Mrs. Richard Hays and Mrs. Larry Kirchner. At far right, Miss Kirchner shows her sister Carolyn, an attractive gift, receiving the customary "Oh, how lovely!" as part of the ritual of a bridal shower, an enjoyable social activity highlighted by the opening of gifts. More than one married guest has been heard to say, "Oh for a shower of household gifts now."

April showers bring May showers as well as flowers; and this month will be an exciting whirl of activity for many local brides-to-be. A well planned bridal shower can be as enjoyable for the hostesses as the guest-of-honor and to prove it, several girls who will entertain at May showers are pictured. They are planning decorations, gifts, wrappings, food and those social details which add to the enjoyment of the bride-to-be and the other guests. And they are enjoying themselves. (These pictures were taken at a recent shower.)

To say what a bridal shower means to a bride would have to be an understatement. It is part of a delightful time of her life. THE SHOWER HOSTESS may, of course, decide the type of shower and while miscellaneous showers are safest (for gift variety), many prefer to specify personal, linen or perhaps kitchen utensils in the shower invitations. From then on, the hostess may use her imagination. If you are a hostess looking for an idea, why not try a "color shower?" Base your decorations, food and gifts on the favorite color of the bride-to-be. Without actually telling friends what to buy as gifts, a hostess can tell them the color to purchase. With color, such a large factor in today's market, you can find pastels and bolder hues in everything from kitchen bowls to linens. A top favorite in fashion and with many girls are the rose and pink tones. This might suggest an "everything's rosy" shower. Invitations could be rose shapes cut from pink paper and attached to the front of pink note paper with double-face tape. Print details inside. Gifts could be wrapped in pastel papers and tied with ribbons in shades of pink. (The hostess might specify color in the invitation.) The shower motif could be announced by a child's parasol decked out like a full-blown rose. (Strips of pink tissue paper might be crushed and taped to the umbrella top in circular strips to resemble petals.) A deeper-pink ribbon rose might be tied around the center tip. Rose-colored bows could decorate the points of the umbrella. The hostess might also tie to each point a written fortune. At the end of the party, each guest selects a bow and reads her fortune. The theme can be carried out in many additional ways. Food could include tomato roses stuffed with pink seafood, pink ices or sherbets, pink petit fours or cakes and pink roses as place favors. The trick is to find out the color most favored by the bride-to-be. But no matter what the theme, make it a happy party to take its place among the wedding memories of the bride and her well-wishing friends.

On The Social Side

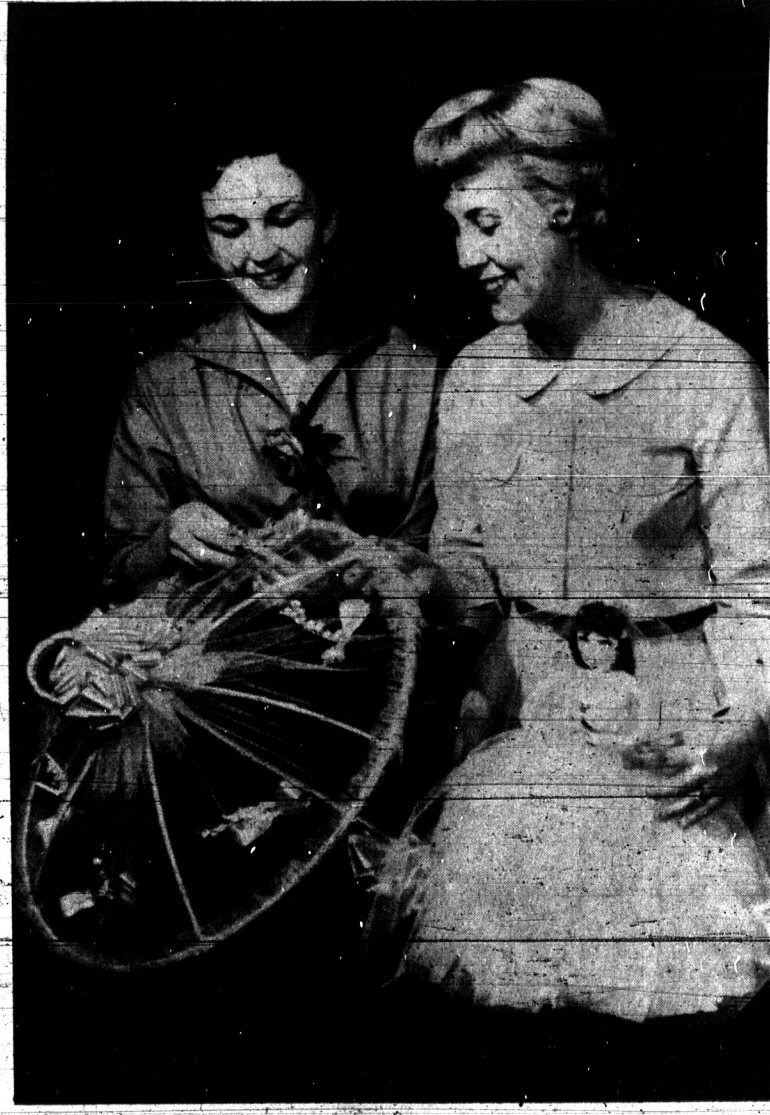

SECTION II — SOCIETY — KANKAKEE SUNDAY JOURNAL, SUNDAY, MAY 3, 1959 — PAGE 13

Shower gift shopping, Miss Nyla Weprecht (left) and Miss Rita Fredrickson (right) discuss a dainty and feminine piece of apparel with sales girl Miss Shirley Jean Henry (center). It will be appropriate for the personal bridal shower which they are planning for Miss Shirley Heck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville E. Heck of RR 1, Bourbonnais. A variety of labels are given showers for brides-to-be and types of gifts, like linens or kitchen utensils are sometimes specified. Miss Heck, whose parents are the Orville E. Hecks of RR 1, Bourbonnais, will become the bride of William A. Floyd in June. Hostesses who have already honored Miss Heck with showers are Miss Barbara Eden, and Mrs. Ronald Townsend, who gave a miscellaneous shower, and Mrs. Lawrence Floyd, Mrs. Frank Floyd and Mrs. Leslie Lindstrom, hostesses at a kitchen shower.

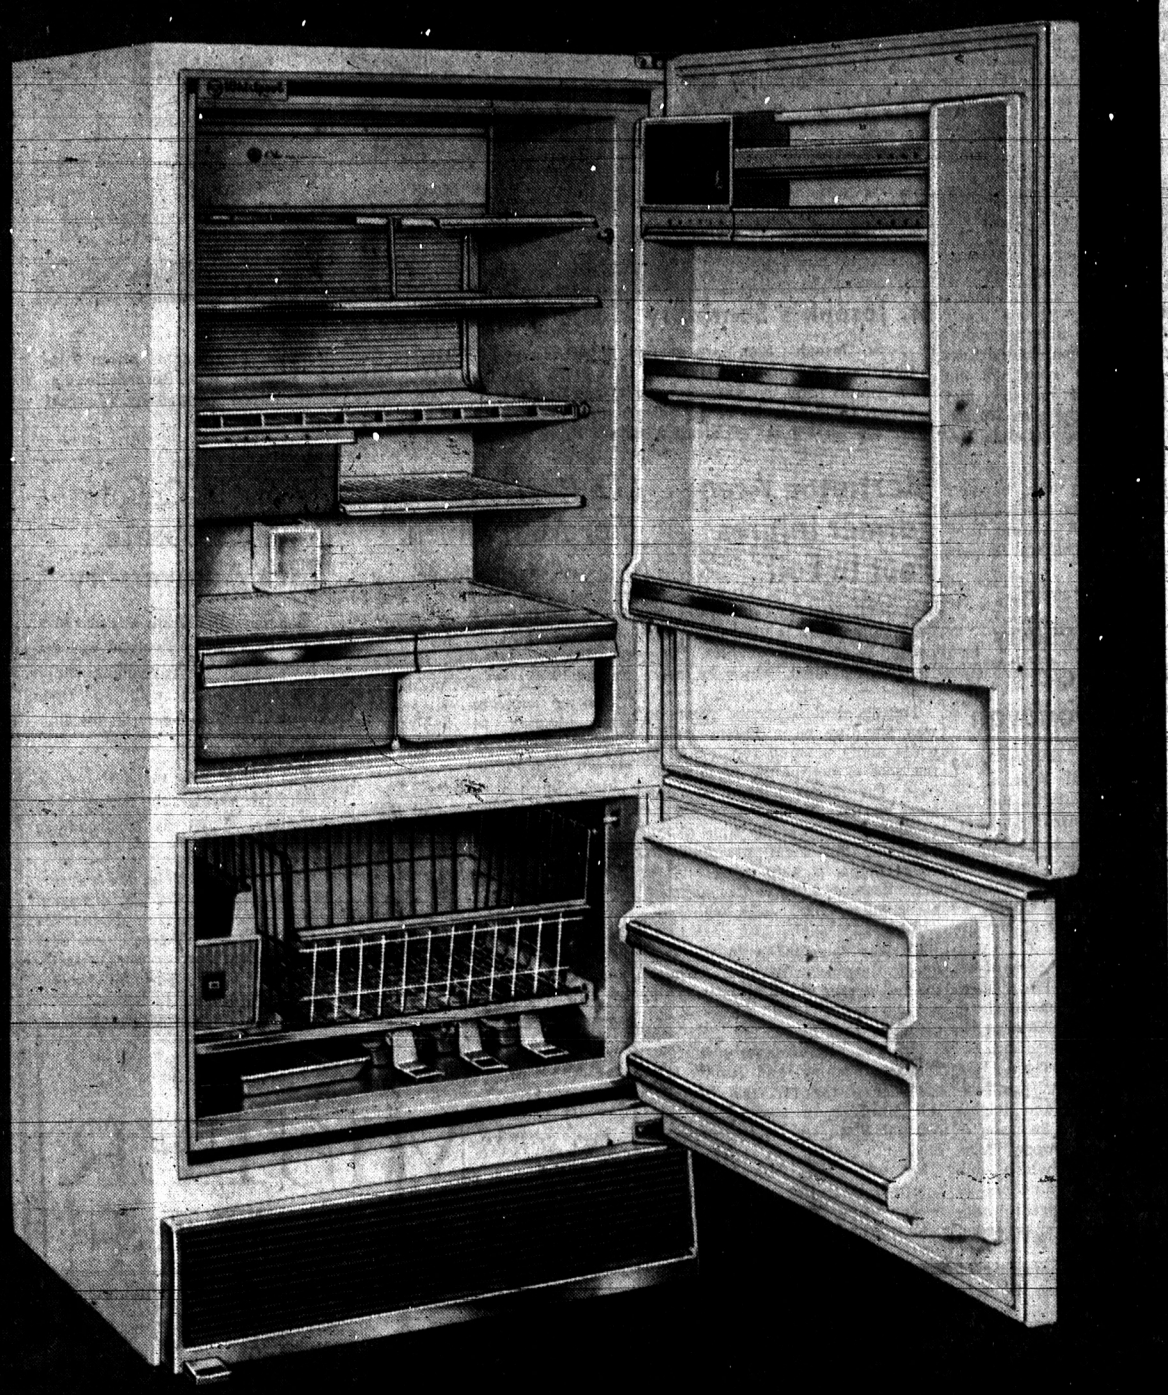

A May shower in honor of Miss Brenda Bee Belden (pictured at left) is being planned by the hostess pictured above. She is Mrs. Dick Wade of 910 E. Eagle St., shown inspecting the wide variety of wrappings and special packaging effects available for shower gifts. Great attention is often given to the wrappings of bridal shower gifts and the gift table at the shower is usually a thing of beauty. One shower suggestion is to notify guests that a certain color scheme is being used so that they may wrap their packages accordingly. Umbrella prints are familiar on paper especially designed for gifts for the bride-to-be and ribbons of every width and type are dyed to match. Miss Belden, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Belden of 1181 S. Third Ave., will be the June bride of James Regier of 189 Ray Ave., Bourbonnais. (113 114)

Mrs. John McCracken (left, above) and Mrs. Ronald Stewart will be hostesses at a May shower for June bride Fran Nicoll, former holder of the Miss Kankakee title. Mrs. McCracken and Mrs. Stewart will make it a personal shower, with guests scheduled to play bridge. Here they appear possible table decorations, the ever popular dainty umbrellas and a bride doll. Bridal shower umbrellas can be completely constructed or a hostess can begin with a child's parasol and add paper or ribbon decorations. If a plant umbrella frame is used, one suggestion is to crush strips of paper and tape them to the umbrella top in circular arrangement. Miss Nicoll, pictured at left, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Nicoll of Elmhurst and a local music teacher, will wed Thomas Pitchford in June. Mrs. McCracken and Mrs. Stewart are also teachers.

Virginia DeCarlo Weds James Pitts

The altar of St. Rose of Lima Church was decorated with baskets of pink carnations and white gladioli for the wedding of Miss Virginia DeCarlo and James Earl Pitts Saturday morning, April 26, at 10 o'clock. The Rev. John George performed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent DeCarlo of 800 Cook Blvd., Bradley. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James E. Pitts of 801 S. Main St.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of hand-clipped Belgian lace over silk tulle and tulle. It was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline with tulle insets retrimmed with sequins and pearls. The fitted bodice had long sleeves that came to points over the wrists. The bouffant skirt of Belgian lace had a tulle back of duplette tulle ending in a long aerial panel with a full sweep train.

A FINGER TIP NYLON illusion veil was attached to a heart-shaped crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of Amazon lilies and stephanotis and wore a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Nicole Raimondo of Kankakee, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Her pink princess-style floor-length gown of Venice lace and organza was styled with an organza bounce at the bottom and a bow in the back with a short jacket. She wore a matching headpiece with tiny petals of shaded colors with a circular veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Oakes of Kankakee, Miss Carol Deneau of Aurora Park and Miss Mary Lou White of Bradley, who wore gowns of blue, yellow and lavender, respectively, styled identically to that of the maid of honor. They carried matching bouquets. Each attendant wore a crystal necklace and earrings, a gift from the bride.

Miss Judy Pitts, sister of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid. She wore a ballerina-length gown of white nylon and pink net ruffles with a pink tulle cummerbund and bow. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a small colonial bouquet of pink carnations. She wore a gold locket, a gift from the bride.

James Nelson of Kankakee was best man. Groomsmen were Joseph DeCarlo of Bradley, brother of the bride; Michael Pitts, brother of the bridegroom; and Charles Wehrle, both of Kankakee. Ushers were Vincent Giacchino, cousin of the bride, and John Nelson.

A reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall from 2 to 5 p.m. Assisting were Miss Angeline Raimondo, cousin of the bride, who registered the guests, and Miss Carol Eckstrom, who served punch.

For a wedding trip to northern states, the bride wore a blue suit with black accessories. The couple plan to make their honeymoon at home at 800 Cook Blvd., Bradley.

The new Mrs. Pitts is a graduate of Kankakee High School and is employed by Gordon Electric Supply. The bridegroom is also a Kankakee High School graduate and is employed at Bar's Shoe Store.

Among the special guests introduced were Mrs. Houde, a state vice president and director of the central region; Mrs. L. A. Segur of Waukegan, first vice president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. James Krukewicz of Kankakee, 18th District president; and Mrs. David Craig of Chicago, state safety chairman. Mrs. Russell Williams of Hoopston, 18th District Junior director, was mistress of ceremonies.

Mrs. Dantes, 18th District fine arts chairman, was among those who presented annual reports. Highlights of the program was a book dramatization given by Mrs. Wendell Walker of Hoopston of the book, "Please Don't Eat the Daisies." Members of the Waukegan Junior Woman's Club were hostesses for the event.

Young Moderns

BY VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer What's your problem? If you are between 13 and 20 years, tall or short, thick or thin, smart or dumb, we'll bet you have a big problem. Usual or unusual, your problem is not unique—which may be a disconcerting factor. The chances are that all your friends have the same little pests attacking them at the time you are supposed to be home (chances are they will not be asleep anyway) to let them know how much later you will be. Going along with dad's lie that he picks you up after that dance. Chances are he'll give that up once he gets home and finds you waiting up to the wee hours for her darling daughter, may even reprimand her for staying out too late before her date is out of earshot. Or because dad insists he must pick up his girl at the dance, not trusting her to the lot of the younger set. Once a young modern realizes that this concern of act cagey about him, you can't blame your parents for becoming suspicious. YOU HATE YOURSELF... You wouldn't be a teenager if you didn't dislike yourself at times. There are times when young people can't cope with their overweight, underweight, unpopularity, lack of funds, lack of knowledge, and what have you. One way to solve the loneliness of these distresses is to seek out people who have the same problems. It is the easiest way out, and misery does love company; you'll find. You and your friends may learn how to make the best of your lot or to improve your situation so that living is easier during these years. Once you've gained maturity, you won't be bothered by such distresses. You and your friends can have fun on a diet, comparing notes to lose or gain weight. You might hand together to coral friendships and start the popularity ball rolling.

Your Family A Divorcee's Life Is Far From Easy

By DR. PAUL POPENOE Make no mistake about it—getting along in life as a divorcee isn't easy. Several hundred thousand women go through the divorce court every year, assuring themselves that divorce will set them free. They'll then be able to "live their own lives." Instead of finding "freedom," however, most of these same women encounter disillusionment—and plenty of it. Mrs. A. is one of these women.

"I divorced my husband last year," she writes. "In spite of the fact that we had two children. "Since my divorce, a number of men have been paying a great deal of attention to me. Some of them I knew when I was still single, and there are two others I've met since the divorce. "The fact is, Dr. Popenoe, that all these men seem to take me for some kind of tramp. Everyone of them is insisting on more physical intimacy than I'm prepared to permit. I had an idea that I could expect this sort of thing, but I never realized how difficult dealing with them could be and what arguments a woman has to encounter. "YET THERE ARE times when I feel my resistance slipping. Half a loaf is better than none, I tell myself. Then, too, I don't want to spend the rest of my life alone. But then, I keep telling myself that I should take my time in choosing some fine man who would me as a full-time wife and not a part-time plaything. "What am I going to do, Dr. Popenoe?"

Let me first say, Mrs. A., that it requires calmness and wisdom to face the situation in which you're put yourself. I hope you realize that, if you "let yourself go" with these men, you stand a good chance of losing your children. The court can take them away from you.

Beyond that, Mrs. A., these affairs into which you might let yourself be drawn by these men aren't going to satisfy your mental and emotional needs. In many ways, they'll leave you more frustrated and dissatisfied than you are now. They'll accentuate your loneliness and insecurity. Millions of women could testify to that if you had a chance to talk with them.

In the first place, you haven't known these men long; and in the second place, you're not at all sure that they're interested in marriage. SINCE YOU WANT to marry (and you should certainly do so if your religious affiliations don't prevent it), you ought to associate with men whose interests lie in the direction of matrimony. Include your children in your social life. Don't have any dates that must be kept hidden from your children. Don't let them learn about these friendships from other relatives or from some of your neighbors. Keep everything open and aboveboard if you really want to safeguard your future and theirs. In the meantime, why not throw yourself into some community activities. Don't be short-sighted!

Keeping in Step

By Mary Jean Houde

In a community where there are two mental hospitals, there should be a large number of volunteer workers, people who understand better than the average citizen just what happens to patients in a state hospital.

The Kankakee area has many such people, volunteer workers who have never been trained to take care of patients of any kind, but just want to help.

It is easy to understand what this type of service does for the volunteer. It makes him feel needed and very satisfied with hours well spent. What many people do not understand is how the patient feels about the volunteer, or about all the things that are happening to him. Kankakee residents were given a rare opportunity to learn what volunteer workers already know last Sunday afternoon when a Kankakee State Hospital patient was interviewed over radio station WKAN.

The interview was Dr. Armin H. Wolff, hospital superintendent. He asked questions concerning the patient's reaction upon coming to the hospital and her outlook through series of treatments and new experiences.

The patient is a woman, a very bright and responsive young woman, who told of the difficulty of leaving her children and responsibilities when she entered the hospital. But she also told of the relief she felt, and of the wonder of it all.

Volunteer workers who have helped in occupational therapy classes must have been gratified to hear how this patient attached so much importance to this activity. (She learned to crochet and do needle-point work.)

The patient also told of an opportunity to learn and to study. She was put to work as an assistant editor of the monthly newspaper published at the hospital by a group of patients, and she added that she found her confidence returning.

Of course, the important thing was that treatments, understanding and medication were given by the hospital staff. But it was also evident from the interview that volunteer workers had played an important part in the rehabilitation of this patient.

Also taking part in the radio interview was Mrs. Evelyn G. Anderson, supervisor of the volunteer services program at the hospital. Anderson, who has become vitally interested in her work with volunteers and patients, spoke directly to the listeners in the hope that they might be prospective volunteers. "It's very easy," she said, "just share your hobby with a patient."

Mental health week has been observed locally, ending with open house today at both the Kankakee and Mattoon state hospitals. The hours are 1 to 4 o'clock this afternoon.

There was a baptism announcement in the Journal during the past week concerning Michael Mathew Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fox of Mattoon.

Michael is making fashion news already. The fifth child of Mr. and Mrs. Fox, he was baptized in a dress that is 51 years old and has been used by 30 children in the family. It was originally worn by the baby's grandmother at her baptism.

Steen names are not always commercial. The name of one of Kankakee's newest downtown businesses, the Taxi and Todd shop, has a lot of meaning to the owners and operators, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Marshall.

Their two children are Taxi, 3½, and Todd, 20 months. Mrs. Marshall is the former Joan Kase and the children's clothing store represents the accomplishment of a longtime dream for the Kankakees.

The cold business world can be very personal. Expression pictures of Carol Ann Kent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Kent of 493 S. Cannon Ave., were featured in the women's section of the Journal last week. (She poses easily and can change her expression as fast as you can voice suggestions, like pout, happy or hurt.)

Not only has Carol Ann, at age 2½, already finished her first job as a photographer's model, but now she has been chosen to model clothing on a May 21 television show.

Carol Ann, who is the youngest student at a Chicago model school, can walk, pivot and pose like a professional model. Actually, that's what she is. A professional student at 2½.

Members of the Woman's Club of Kankakee and the Junior Woman's Club will be attending the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs convention in Chicago during the next week, beginning Tuesday.

When state awards are being passed out, the local clubs will be represented. It is rumored.

Spotlight On Vacuum, Sheldon

Our footballers had some pretty advanced ideas. Take the apparatus pictured above in the Sheldon home of Mrs. Holland Light (left). It's a sure of the century vacuum sweeper. Notice the end-piece and the tube, which serves as a handle and hose. The cone section contains the dirt bag and the cylinder held by Mrs. Light is the vacuum mechanism. A gentle trombone-like pumping action caused air to be sucked through the dirt bag and out the tubular handle. James Light of Sheldon has owned it since 1923. Pictured with Mrs. Light in Sheldon Centennial garb are members of the Sheldon Grandmothers Club, Mrs. Lloyd Wilson (left) and Mrs. Steven Butler, who claim this type vacuum is "new" to them. Bourbonnais Fire Chief Appointment Near

Appointment of a new fire chief for Bourbonnais and the Bourbonnais Rural Fire Protection District is expected to be resolved Monday night at a meeting between village trustees and trustees of the fire district.

The meeting was announced at the organization session of the Bourbonnais Village Board Friday night by James Hudson, chairman of the fire committee. The appointment of a new fire chief was the only item not announced at the annual meeting of village officers.

An impasse developed a year ago when the village failed to reappoint Armand LeCuyer as fire chief and named Ray Toussaint, chief of the fire district, as acting chief. LeCuyer continued as acting chief in the village while Toussaint was village chief in name only. Ap- pointive officers are for a term of one year or until new officers are appointed.

ONLY ONE CHANGE was made in the appointive officers from the previous year. John Joplin was named as meter reader to succeed Paul Roy.

Members of the retiring board met at 7 p.m. to pay all bills and conclude any business before the old board. The purchase of a water pump for $154.80 from the Arrow Construction Equipment Co. of Chicago was among the purchases authorized. The pump had been discussed previously because of the frequent need of a pump in the village in emergencies.

No change in the results of the April 21 election were shown. The canvass was conducted by trustees Donald Drummond, Don Cryer and James Hudson.

Clerk Leon Blanche reported to the board that the Certified Public Accountant audit would be necessary because of a water and sewer bond ordinance requiring a CPA audit. The state does not require a CPA audit, he explained, but he said he would have a proposal for presentation at the next board meeting.

Donald Drummond, retiring board member, made the motion to adjourn the old board ending a five-year term of service. Immediately after, Clerk Blanche swore in the new board members, Dr. C. S. McClain, 111 N. Convent Ave., Francis Jordan, 485 E. Beaudoin St., newly elected to the board, and Albert LaFine Jr., 418

Active Former President Truman Will Be 75 Friday

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—In an age when emotional pressure often is an excuse for emotional collapse, Harry S. Truman still acts like a man who never had anything more pressing on his mind than the next leg meeting.

Approaching 75, there is still about him a hearty self-confidence, a fighting sense of optimism, a complicated way of looking at himself and the world.

With his brisk stride, his defiant smile, his gallant pride, his trigger-like readiness to put his foot into his mouth or a fight, there is little about this man to suggest that he once was President of the United States.

OR THAT HE: Presided over the dawn of the atomic age, the end of a world war, the entrance of the United States into the United Nations, the winning of an election over his best friend had wrapped in black crepe, the decision to fight in Korea and get public approval later, the dismissal of a fiercely popular general, and a host of other incredible strains and stresses that might have bent the psyche of other mortals.

History may record Truman as a great president or a poor president but in either case it will have to agree that this was one of the toughest jobs ever to wrestle with in the history of the world.

BUT TO HARRY Truman, there is no mystery. A man needs a simple formula to live by and his, as always, is work hard, walk fast, sleep tight and learn to relax.

Nearly every fine morning at seven, he awakes out of the large, white frame house at Truman Road and Delaware. He may take off in almost any direction, and he'll cover about a mile or a mile and a half.

His roots here go deep. Here Truman attended grade and high school. One of his schoolmates, Elizabeth Virginia Wallace, whom he married in June 1919, was a New York newspaperman, before he became Truman. Margaret has since presented the president with a grandson; and another grandchild is on the way.

Sometimes, he walks the six blocks to the stately Truman Library, where he has his office. He gets there early, often ahead of his staff consisting of a personal secretary, an administrative secretary, and a stenographer.

Warns Churches Being Infiltrated By Communists

DES MOINES (UPI)—The president of the International Council of Christian Churches said Communists are infiltrating American churches "to soften or break the resistance of Christianity to communism."

Dr. Carl McIntire told the closing session of the American Council of Christian Churches Friday night that the Communists are using "the churches as instruments to condition the West for peaceful co-existence."

California for a series of talks. There was a political address at Omaha, and a ceremony in connection with the Oregon Centennial wagon train. In Lamar, Mo., Truman attended a function marking the transfer of his birth home to the state, as a shrine. The school was topped off by three lectures to students at Columbia University, and an appearance at Washington for a citation for launching month Truman was in Southern the American Point Four program. INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Four persons died Saturday when two cars smashed together head-on on U. S. 136 northwest of Indianapolis. Four others were injured.

Killed in the collision were Robert R. Rippey, 28; Donald E. Eldridge and Lewis J. Smith, 29, all of Indianapolis; and Mrs. Elizabeth McAleer of Walnut Hill, Danville, Ill.

Kathryn Froman, 17, Clement, Ind., was injured critically. Jack McAleer, 45, husband of one of the victims, and Dr. William F. Grady, Danville, Ill., were hurt seriously. Dr. Grady's 11-year-old son, Patrick, was reported in fair condition.

State police said Rippey's car crossed the middle of the pavement on a curve and slammed into Dr. Grady's car.

DWIGHT (JNS)—The Dwight Band Parents Club held at the annual Band Award Night on Monday in the East Side Grade School gymnasium, when members of the high school and grade school bands were honored.

Townpeople Give Pontiff A Tiara

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII Saturday received a tiara from the people of Bergamo, the area in northern Italy where he was born, grew up, and worked as a young priest.

Among the 600 Bergamaschi who the pontiff received in special audience in the Vatican's Palace of Clementine Hall were some from the little town of Soto il Monte.

Under the Mount—where the Pope was born 77 years ago.

The tiara, a beehive-shaped triple crown, is valued at $65,000, said the delegation from Bergamo. It weighs slightly more than two pounds, and its precious metal is encrusted with 20 diamonds, 16 emeralds, 6 rubies, and 70 pearls.

Warren D. Kuster, superintendent of Dwight schools, presented the grade school awards to students who have had two years with the band.

McCarthy Estate Worth $127,000

APPLETON, Wis. (AP)—An estate of approximately $127,000 was left by the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) to his widow Jean. He died on May 2, 1957.

Outagamie County Judge Stanley A. Stadl approved Friday a final accounting of the senator's estate which included personal property of $33,600, insurance $36,000, and interest in jointly held property $57,000.

The total estate amounted to $127,000 but debts and claims came to about $33,000. Mrs. McCarthy is sole heir.

Home Of The Week

In her home along the Kankakee River, Miss Meta Ruble enjoys a scenic view from every room and loves to share the beauty of the area with her guests. The modern home, in which antique pieces are tastefully placed, is located on Bittersweet drive off Highland road.

The home was planned with the location in mind and, of course, there are many large windows for full appreciation of the river and wooded area.

But even without the view, the residence of Miss Ruble would have much charm. Whites, off-white and tan tones are blended for smartness and several pieces of furniture have been refinished in antique white, including a glass enclosed book case.

The home is actually shared by Miss Ruble and her brother, George, chief naturalist at Hawaii National Park. His room, with adjoining bath, is kept ready for his local visits. It is decorated in bone ivory with a bedspread of sculptured quilting. Draperies match, and a genuine llama rug secured by George Ruble in Peru is used on the floor.

Miss Ruble planned the home and moved into it last September.

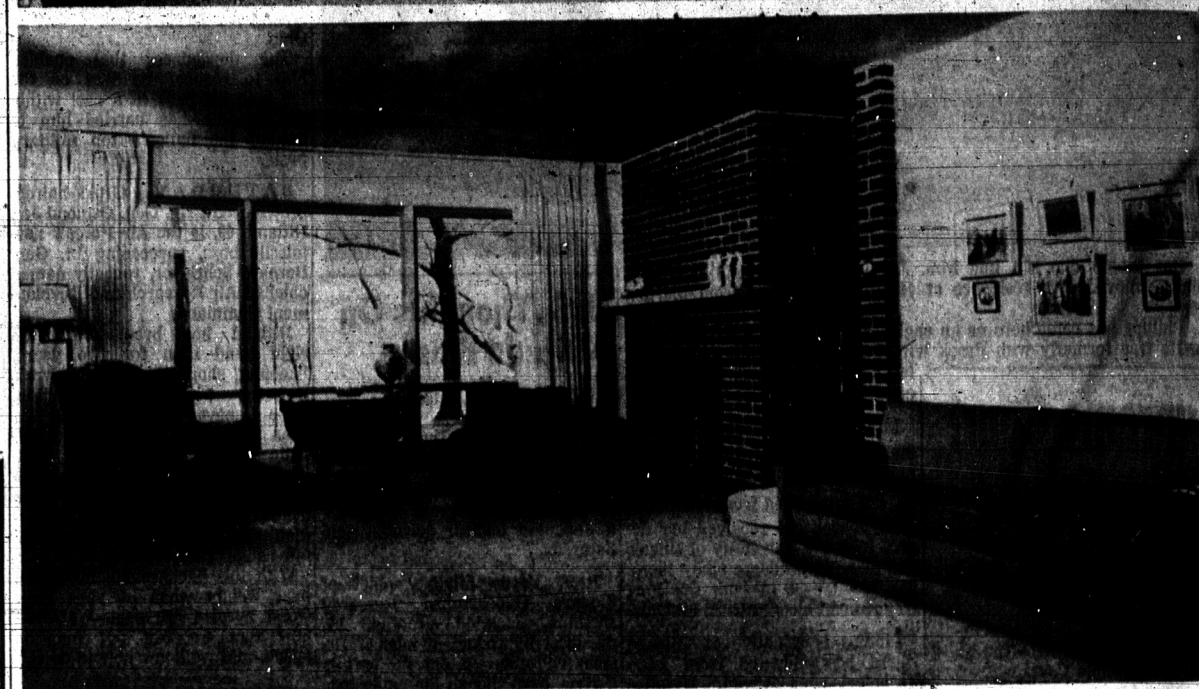

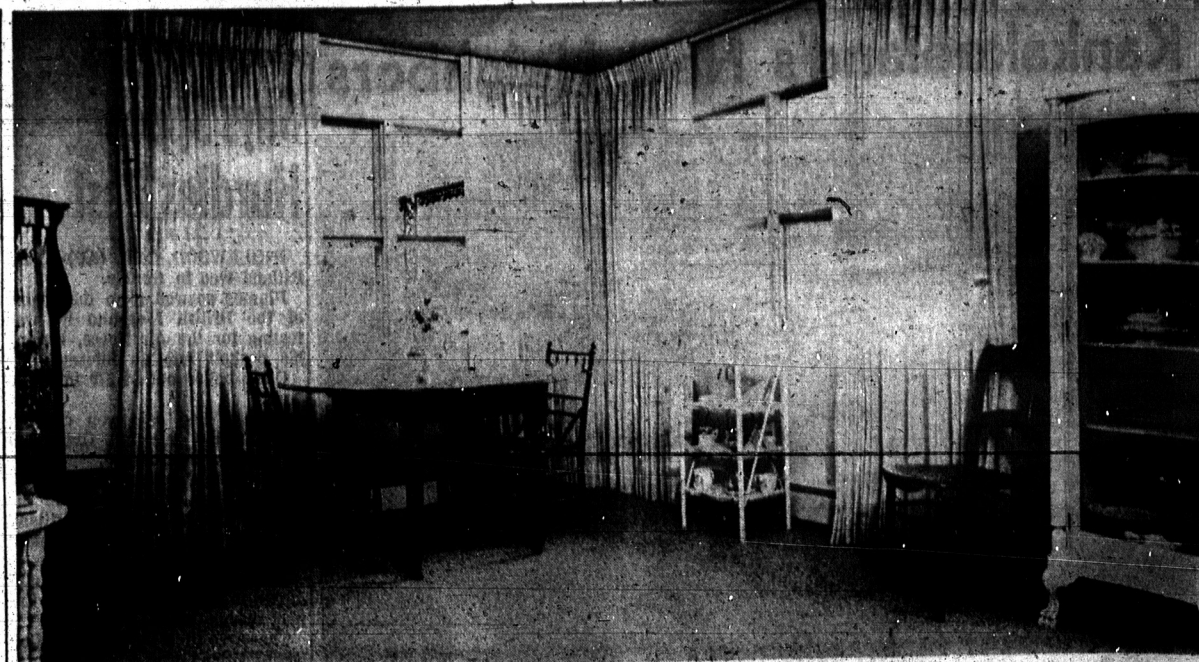

She incorporated into the modern, open planning such antique pieces as a schoolmaster's desk of solid walnut which is 200 years old. There is also a large grandfather's clock brought by her father from Switzerland.

The Ruble home includes two baths, a double garage, storage area and a utility room. It is a brick home facing the river, trimmed with wrought iron.

Rooms not pictured include Miss Ruble's own bedroom, primarily white. Her favorite decorator's colors are white and tan, and they are predominant throughout the home. Miss Ruble's bedroom is especially attractive in its whiteness because of a colorful embroidered rug. Otherwise, everything is white—walls, raw silk draperies which draw across corner windows, and bedspread.

The main bath room, off the bedroom wing hall, is decorated in portrait pink.

Miss Ruble has found much winter enjoyment along the river, but she is especially looking forward to summertime and the view from her windows.

ABOVE: The dining area, at one end of an L-shape living room in the Ruble home, takes full advantage of the river view. Antique pieces are used, including glassware which has been in the family for many years. The cupboard at right was originally a book case, which has been painted an antique white.

BELOW: The main portion of Miss Ruble's living room is located on the river side, the room reaching across the width of the house and featuring another large window opposite those (also pictured). Raw silk draperies are in white, and the blending shades of walls and carpeting is called down. One occasional chair is green and the other upholstered furniture features a tan shade. Prices from 1933 and antique pieces are among the appointments.

One of the two bedrooms in the Ruble home belongs to Miss Ruble's brother, George, who resides in Hawaii but visits occasionally. Brown and ivory are dominant colors and the bedspread, which matches the draperies, is in sculptured quilting. The rug showing in the foreground is llama from Peru.

The ladies are taking over more and more when it comes to deciding what should go into a house as well as what it should look like.

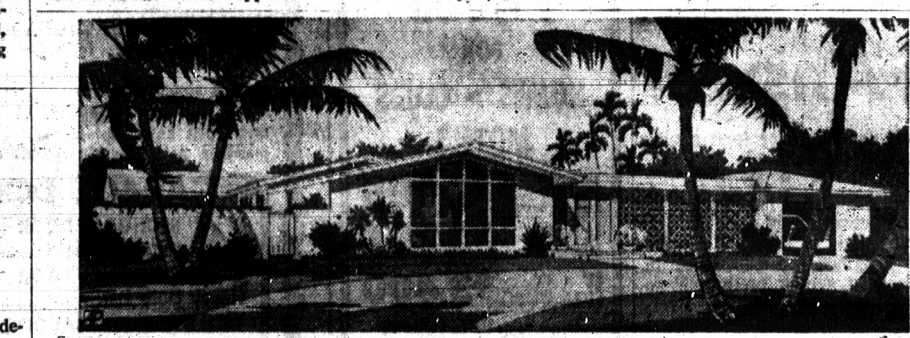

Even in home heating equipment, previously considered strictly a man's area of responsibility, the influence of women is making large inroads. Members of the nation's largest association of plumbing and heating equipment distributors, meeting in Chicago, were told that the heating industry proved through Women's Housing Congresses that housewives play a prominent role in the selection and purchase of home heating equipment.

And look at the results of a University of Houston survey, reported in the industry publication House and Home. It showed that the average amount of $1,500 spent to equip and furnish a new home in the first year, most of it went for things usually selected by the lady of the house. More than $1,000, for instance, was spent on rugs, carpets, drapes, curtains, furniture and kitchen appliances.

Far down the list was this figure: $224 for yard work and tools.

About a year ago, as part of a promotional campaign connected with a nationwide beauty homemaker contest, 40 wives were asked to state their preferences in homes and what they wanted in them. Nothing further was done. This year, the contesting homemaker again were asked the same question. Now something is being done. A "composite" home, for middle-income buyers, based on the replies of the women, is under construction in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

This three-bedroom home will feature built-in cabinets and snack bars as room dividers, huge walls of sliding glass overlooking a swimming pool and a play yard at the edge of a golf course. The house also will highlight dramatic new uses for flooring, wall, ceiling and other building products to protect against summer heat, winter frost, fire, wind, weather, up-keep costs, rust and decay. It will, in short, be a home incorporating the best ideas contained in the results of the survey.

WHAT THEY WANT: Now being constructed in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., this home will contain all the features of good living suggested by women from every state.

Driftwood in a blond finish is effective in the kitchen, blending with the white-tan color scheme of the home. Built-in appliances are conveniently placed; and the utility room and garage entrance are to the right.

Forrest Scouts Conduct Monthly Pack Meeting

FORREST (JNS)—The monthly pack meeting of the Forrest Cub and Boy Scouts was held Monday in the Legion Hall with approximately 100 present.

The theme was "Down on the Farm" and was carried out in pin, Tommy Doster, lion badge, Jimmy Mapletorpe, silver arrow under wolf badge, and Jerry Austin, silver arrow under the bear badge.

Next month's theme will be "Moral Houdini." Plans are being made for an indoor carnival.

Max Smith was appointed new "wheelbarrow" leader. Scott Walt will be the new chief of den 3 and Greg Dempsey will be chief of newly organized den 4. Mrs. Robert Clark and Mrs. Joe Yoder are den mothers of Den 4.

Wolf badges were earned by Bill Clark, John Yoder, Barry Koehi, Bobby Himsley, John Ambrose, Mike Endres, Steve Luttrell and Randy Walt.

Paul Amstutz received a bobcat pin, Tommy Doster, lion badge, Jimmy Mapletorpe, silver arrow under wolf badge, and Jerry Austin, silver arrow under the bear badge.

Den 2 had charge of the flag ceremony. Den 4 won the parade and attendance awards and were in charge of refreshments.

Den 2 won the table display award and Den 5 won the skit award.

William McIntire Elkins, an extremely wealthy Philadelphia man who died in 1947, almost always rented his evening clothes. If they were a good fit, he would buy them the next day.

A striking scene in white (draperies, carpeting and book cases as well as walls) allows to advantage a few of the antique pieces used effectively in the Ruble home off Highland road.

The grandfather clock is from Switzerland, and the corner schoolmaster's desk is 200 years old.

Kankakee Don Cryer is known as a right soft-hearted person. His latest experience, however, has even him wondering if he might be just a wee bit too tenderhearted.

Seems that Don, who is a village board member in Bourbonnais, heard that Bernard Shore, Bourbonnais chief of police, was going to dispose of a Rover that had been turned in as an overgrown rambunctious in the village. Don couldn't stand seeing the disposition so he took the dog out of the hands-to-try-to-find-it-out.

Don's first problem arose a couple days later when he learned his neighbor was the person who called Bernice about disposing of the animal because he was creating such a nuisance in the neighborhood.

His second problem came a couple days after that when the dog got hit by an automobile. Don rushed it off to an animal hospital where it received medical treatment for several days—running up a bit of a bill in doing so.

His next batch of problems are probably still ahead. You see the dog is a sh!

Been out of high school a while? Still have a yen to go to college? Worried that you might not still have the ability to make it after such a period?

Well, St. Anne resident Dick Barnhill should give you incentive to take the step. Dick was graduated from St. Anne High School in 1931 after a fine athletic career, a scholastic record that ranked him second in his class, and a record of activities participation. He went to college a year and then spent the next three of the navy. Back home he worked a year and then decided he needed that college education.

The Honors Day convocation at the University of Illinois Saturday showed how well he is doing. He was voted "class honors."

If you're one of those who has called a mystery number (listed in the Journal want-ads) during the past month and listened to the noise of terminals, silver fish, etc., don't think you're the only one making the call.

The Illinois Pest Control estimated it has averaged over 2,000 calls a day!

The folks out at Verona Park have a feeling they know of one transient who may never again visit their village.

The fellow was slumbering in the village firehouse the other night enjoying one of his best nights of sleep.

When a fire call set off the alarm which still stop a tower at the firehouse.

The wall of the siren not only brought the transient right up out of his bed—but it panicked him so he spent several minutes racing about the firehouse trying to find a way out of the building!

When Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krebs, 845 S. Wildwood Ave., returned from a two-week trip to Los Angeles, they found their home had been the scene of a mugging. Mrs. Krebs, who was alone at the time, was robbed of $100 and a watch.

Miss Rosetta Geron, Kankakee High School French teacher who can handle Spanish, Italian, French, Latin, and what have you, was recalling an embarrassing incident during a trip to Mexico with a companion one year.

The two hired a guide until they felt confident of knowing the laws of the land, their way around, etc. They noticed that everytime they left a hotel or restaurant they were always returned to the desk a moment.

The two finally learned that he was getting a 10 per cent cut from the business with the places—for bringing in American tourists. The two women were a bit miffed about the deal and (speaking in French so he wouldn't understand them) they talked him of the "old 10 per cent."

Finally, when they dismissed him and paid him he expressed his appreciation in flawless French!

With a bit of a twist on his eye "the 10 per cent" explained he was actually a French professor at the University of Mexico, working as a guide during the summer!

At the Red Cross blood program "Gallon Club" recognition dinner the other night awards were presented to the members of the various clubs—one gallon, two gallon, etc.

When Dr. Charles Allison announced the two five-gallon club members, Francis A. Gerb and Mrs. Viator House, it turned out neither was present.

"Vey" quipped one of the diners, "they're probably down at the hospital giving another gallon of blood—they'd have time to come to dinner."

In case you may have forgotten—this is the end of Mental Health Week.

And through the Volunteer Services Program you can be of aid to some of the 3,500 patients at Kankakee State Hospital. If you have a favorite hobby you can pursue it with a patient—and also help him on the road to recovery. Just two hours of your time a week can help a mentally ill person toward rehabilitation.

The two Burson children at Mark Twain School, Linda and Donald, were excited all week over the fact they were to participate in a relative's wedding during the weekend.

The mother, Mrs. Blaine Burson, RR 3, Kankakee, sent a note to Linda's teacher Friday morning asking that she be excused a little early so she could have her hair set in preparation for the Saturday wedding. The note went to teacher Mrs. Kitchen. At its conclusion Mrs. Burson commented that she certainly had two mighty excited children over the forthcoming ceremony.

Mrs. Burson signed the note—"Mrs. Kitchen."

(Let's see now—who's excited?)

Always Put Safety First

By Vivian Brown

AP Newsfeature Writer

How safe is your youngster in your home? Are you one of those parents who believes baby should be exposed to danger, that he will become rugged after those falls down stairs or that he will learn to toddle on a slippery floor if he takes a spill now and then?

This is unsound reasoning, and many a child has suffered permanent injury or fatal accident because Mom takes the attitude that coping with danger is part of baby's development.

There are ways to child-proof your home, until your little one can take baby steps in stride. Older folk will thank you too for some consideration in that respect.

If floors are bare and slippery, an inexpensive burp or felt may be put down in the room where baby toddles. It may be tucked at strategic spots and removed when company comes. Get a fabric that is wide enough to roll up and leave it on the tube so that you can just as easily roll it back up.

Keep baby away from stairs. A gate is a good idea at lower stairs to keep baby from climbing, but don't trust a gate upstairs. Many a mother has forgotten to lock an upstairs gate, and her young one has taken a bad fall.

The upper section of bookcases is a good place to keep matches, lighters and other breakable items.

IT'S A GOOD IDEA to keep floor free of clutter. Toys, books and above the lampshade, during the day. Also be sure that kitchen appliance cords do not dangle to attract your children who could pull them down, and that pot handles on the stove are not left sticking out for the same reason. It's best to place barricades at tables to keep baby from crawling underneath as this is a likely spot for bad head bumps.

It may be a good investment to change the lock on the bathroom door to one of the new "child safety" type. These may be opened from the outside even if locked within. Some parents seal the windows so they only open from the top.

There should be no need to remind anyone that unused refrigerators should have the doors removed unless they are to be disposed of at once, but still every year a great many small children have been killed by their own curiosity, due entirely to the carelessness of adults.

Keep out of sight small objects that children might put in their mouths. Many small children have choked on little objects that parents do not consider dangerous, such as tiny balls, candy, small rattles, nuts, mints. Children bones fall into this category.

QUESTION: I have been doing some cutting of sheet metal lately with a pair of snips. It's something I have no experience in. I've been getting pretty fair results, except for one thing. Every once in a while the metal gets a slight sideways tear in at the joint where the blades of the snips come together. Can you tell me what causes this?

ANSWER: You've answered it yourself. The metal material will get a little tear in it because you bring the tips of the blades together. The trick is to open the blades wide and cut into the metal, but to stop before the tips meet and then start a new stroke.

QUESTION: I have an old oil stove that I have been using for years. I have always used light oil on it, but a friend of mine tells me that an alcohol and glycerine mixture is better. Is this true?

ANSWER: Many professional workers say an equal mixture of alcohol and glycerine is better for an oil stove. They maintain that it does not clog as easily.

QUESTION: There is a rough flooring in the expansion area of our house. We expect to finish the attic soon and want to use one of the resilient tiles for the floor. Can the tiles be applied directly over the rough flooring—and is it necessary to put down felt first?

ANSWER: Tiles should not be laid on a single floor. Place plywood or board underlayment over the rough flooring and you won't have to bother with felt. The underlayment usually comes in 4x4 sheets. There should be a space of 1/8th of an inch between each sheet.

QUESTION: I plan on putting up a new roof on my house this summer. I've done a lot of inspecting lately to be sure I know what I'm doing. One thing puzzles me. I note what appears to be tar around the heads of the nails which hold up the gutter hangers. Can you tell me whether this tar is applied after the nails have been driven in?

ANSWER: The black roofing compound, wherever you saw this cement, you can be sure the workman did a careful job. It means that he drove in each nail part way, then applied roofing cement around the head of the nail. When the nail was driven home, this cement formed a tight seal and thus FORREST (JNS) — Mr. and Mrs. Forrest J. Smith attended the Kentucky Derby Saturday.

Airline Pilot Gives Up Flying For The Birds On Farm Near Martinton

NESTS FOR 4,500 HENS ARE SUSPENDED FROM THE CEILING IN THIS 22 BY 210 FOOT LAYING HOUSE NORTH OF MARTINTON. THE HOUSE, ONE OF FIVE PROPOSED UNITS, IS OWNED BY RICHARD ORMAN WHO IS PRESENTLY TEACHING AT CHEBANSE GRADE SCHOOL. ORMAN DOESN'T NORMALLY USE A single basket to collect eggs as pictured above. He has a cart he moves down the aisle. Cage floors slant forward so that eggs roll out from under the hen. (Journal photo)

From the glamor of an airline pilot to the drab life of a chicken farmer seems to be a step backwards, but that's just what Richard Orman of Martinton has done.

Until a year ago Orman was a pilot for American Airlines. At first he planned to get into the egg business to give him something to do between flight duties.

But that idea hit a snag when he came up for transfer. His hen house was already under construction, so he decided to quit flying and go into farming.

His windowless building is 210 by 22 feet, contains 22 rows of laying cages, a room for cleaning the eggs and a walk in cooler with a capacity of 200 cases.

Fluorescent lighting simulates daylight conditions in the house. Lights are automatically timed so the hens have a much longer day than they normally would.

The hens are fed water automatically, but the feed is distributed by hand. Orman said it takes him 40 minutes a day to feed the hens and an hour to "canner" and wash the eggs. He also puts in 1 1/2 hours a day casing eggs.

Orman said that some people may think that confining the hens in such a small cage is cruel, but the hens are content.

By keeping the hens individually penned and off the floor, disease problems are very minor. "I can also check the production on individual hens. When one fails off production, she is watched closely for sickness. If her production continues poor, she's replaced," he said.

Orman is getting extremely high production from his hens. Wednesday of this past week they hit 92 per cent.

An excellent forced air ventilation system completely changes the air in the house every 15 minutes. It takes seven one-half horsepower motors to keep the air moving.

The manure is cleaned out from under the cages every six months. Orman figures on replacing 1,000 birds every four months. He buys his replacements as 18-week-old pullets and wants to keep them laying for 18 months.

His feed is augured into the house from a bulk tank at the side. He purchases feed at the rate of 4 tons a week. Up to now Orman's egg enterprise has been a part time job. During this past year he has worked as a teacher at the Chebanse Grade School, but plans to give up teaching at the end of this term.

Orman is a graduate in agricultural economics from Purdue University. He has 400 acres of land on three farms north of Martinton, but does no farming himself.

Orman has been selling his eggs to Kroger. They are picked up at his farm and trucked to Wabash, Ind., where they are graded and packaged.

He realizes this is a poor time to be in the egg business when prices are the lowest in years. But he can keep his head above water now, he'll do all right when prices go up.

Orman augers his feed from a bulk storage tank located at the side of the building. The hens consume about four tons of feed weekly. His daily chore takes about 40 minutes. It takes him another hour to collect and clean eggs and another 1 1/2 to case them. (Journal photo)

Farmers Asked To Take Look At Crop Plans

GIANT SILO GOES UP NEAR MANTENO

Workmen completed construction of one of the largest cement silos in Illinois this past week on the Dr. R. C. Bubolz farm near Manteno. The silo measures 36 feet in diameter and is 66 feet high. It will hold almost 1,000 tons of silage when filled. Dr. Bubolz plans to expand his dairy herd to 100 milking cows and feed about 200 beef cattle. He will feed out of the silo the year around. (Journal photo)

Two University of Illinois agricultural economists ask farmers to take a careful look at their corn and soybean planting plans. Here is how W. N. Thompson and T. A. Hieronymus size up this year's situation.

On March 1 farmers indicated that they would plant 12 per cent more corn and 7 per cent less soybeans. If they follow these intentions and get average yields, corn prices will not go above the $1.12 support rate.

Soybean production may be less this year than will be used in the year following harvest. But a large carryover expected from the 1958 crop will keep prices from rising very far. If the Commodity Credit Corp. decides to sell its stocks.

In Illinois, soybean price supports will range from about $1.91 to $1.93. Corn price supports will be close to the $1.12 national average. Soybeans are expected to have a better chance to rise above the loan than corn. If unfavorable weather should cut average yields, corn bean prices are much more likely to show a strong price rise than corn.

If a farm operator wants to figure out his best choice of corn and soybean acreage, the economists suggest he take the expected yield of corn or soybeans and multiply it by the support rate of $1.12 for corn and $1.92 for soybeans. If he wants to be a little more optimistic, he might use $2 for soybeans, they said.

But even though corn will probably show a larger gross income per acre, it doesn't tell the whole story. Crop expenses run about $3 an acre higher for corn than soybeans. More labor is required and fertilizer costs are usually higher for corn. Corn yields are often harder to bring about.

IF CORN YIELDS ON A FARM usually run about three times as high as soybean yields, a farmer would be justified in shifting to more corn. If the ratio is nearer to the state average of 2.4 or lower, he would be more justified in holding acreage about the same or shifting to more soybeans, Thompson and Hieronymus said.

For example, a farm that can produce 90 bushels of corn and only 30 bushels of beans an acre would be better off to shift to corn. If the ratio is nearer to the state average of 2.4 or lower, he would be more justified in holding acreage about the same or shifting to more soybeans, Thompson and Hieronymus said.

If the ratio is nearer to the state average of 2.4 or lower, he would be more justified in holding acreage about the same or shifting to more soybeans, Thompson and Hieronymus said.

But each farmer faces certain questions on his farm that must not be overlooked. Storage space, available machinery, labor for planting and harvesting are factors previously given on the field must all be considered.

Looking at the farm production situation as a whole, the economists point out that corn is in more surplus trouble than soybeans. If there is not much difference in the gains in growing one over the other, the farmer would help the over all situation by planting soybeans.

Corn prices were strong on low delivery markets and cash house buying. May contracts had good demand from local traders, and elevator-shipping house interests bought July. On the cash market, free stocks increased due to fewer shipping outlets and heavier supplies. Cash prices were 1 1/2 cents lower.

Some liquidation continued in May. A backing and filling action took place in nearby futures after early stop-loss buying. Old crop soybeans maintained a steady undertone, but new crop deliveries were under greater pressure. Free stocks continued to shrink and the cash prices were off a cent.

Outside markets were mixed.

Foreign Countries Export More Ham

WASHINGTON (AP) — Yugoslavia is taking steps to join Poland in exporting canned hams to the United States.

The Yugoslav government has certified two packing plants as qualified for exporting this kind of meat to this country. Shipments will begin as soon as the U. S. Agriculture Department formally approves the Yugoslav action. Several importers have already started arranging details for this trade.

Except for the seedling diseases that chemical seed treatments can control, developing disease-resistant hybrids is the best way to control the major Illinois corn diseases, according to a University of Illinois plant pathologist.

Two From County Visit Springfield

Kankakee's representatives will be Everett Hendrix, Buckingham, county president, and J. Joseph Shearer, director of organization.

The government says the census will be of great value to farmers themselves in determining future plans and operations, as well as to others.

Who Owns This Farm?

IS THIS YOUR FARM? Attractive white building highlights the week's Mystery Farm. The farm home, at the lower portion of the picture, is a story and a half frame house surrounded by an attractive lawn. A machine shed can be seen to the left of the house and the crib above that. Another machine shed is located between the crib and the barn at the top of the picture. If the owner or operator can identify this farm, he may have the picture by dropping it in the Daily Journal office. (Journal aerial photo)

Last week's Mystery Farm was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Matthais and is operated by their son, Eldon. The 160-acre farm is located 2 1/2 miles south of Grand Rapids, Ill. It has 120 acres of corn, soybeans, oats and hay. He also farms an additional 120 acres. The farm has been in the Matthais family for 40 years. The father retired from farming about five years ago. Eldon and his wife have one son, Bruce.

Check Speedometer Accuracy

State police are patrolling in the Kankakee area with this specially equipped car which enables motorists to check the accuracy of their speedometer. Sgt. Ralph Mann says drivers should check the special car as soon as they have checked their speedometer against the meter on the squad car. This gives other drivers a chance. The unit will patrol in this area today and Monday. (Journal photo)

Boston Defeats White Sox 5-4

CHICAGO (UPI)—Murray Wall came on for the Boston Red Sox in the eighth inning Saturday to help the Sox win their third straight victory of the season, a 5-4 decision over the Chicago White Sox.

Delock, who permitted only three singles through seven innings, was tagged for a two-run White Sox rally in the eighth on Nellie Fox's triple.

THE WHITE SOX rapped Wall for two runs in the ninth, when Larry American belted his third home run of the year behind Bubba Phillips' single after one out.

THE RED SOX collected 14 hits in three innings, including Jackie Jensen's fourth home run of the year.

Boston struck the unbeaten Delock to a quick one-run lead in the first inning on Day's double, single, Marty Keough's double and Pete Runnels' infield out.

THE RED SOX added two more runs in the third when Jensen lined a shot into the lower left field seats to his second victory of the year, striking out 13, a new high for him against the Yankees.

THE STRUCK OUT 11 Yankees on Aug. 21, 1956, in his last previous victory over them. He gave up only six singles Saturday.

Power, Colavito and Martin hit home runs off Tom Starnward, who dropped his first game, and they drove in all the runs.

Jim Piersall was safe on a wide throw by Bobby Richardson in the third, and Power followed with his fourth home run of the year, which went over the right field fence. After the Yankees' eighth run in the fourth and eighth, Colavito slammed his fifth of the season in the sixth to break the tie.

GEORGE STRICKLAND singled in the seventh and Martin then lifted his third home run of the year over the left field fence to give Score's cushion.

Score, who relieved once against the Yankees last year, was stronger at the start. He retired the last 10 men in a row, five of them on strike outs.

Power, Colavito and Martin hit home runs off Tom Starnward, who dropped his first game, and they drove in all the runs.

Jim Piersall was safe on a wide throw by Bobby Richardson in the third, and Power followed with his fourth home run of the year, which went over the right field fence. After the Yankees' eighth run in the fourth and eighth, Colavito slammed his fifth of the season in the sixth to break the tie.

GEORGE STRICKLAND singled in the seventh and Martin then lifted his third home run of the year over the left field fence to give Score's cushion.

Score, who relieved once against the Yankees last year, was stronger at the start. He retired the last 10 men in a row, five of them on strike outs.

He probably would have scored a shutout if it had not been for his wild pitches. McDougald singled in the fourth, took second on a wild pitch and scored on Yogi Berra's single to left field. The Sox, who got three of the six singles off Score, singled in the sixth, took second on a wild pitch and then tied the score on Tony Kucuk's single to center.

THE BASEBALL, which continued in Cleveland when a crowd of more than 30,000 came out. Of these, 14,000 paid admission, a record for the Sox.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Yankees' season was on a roll Saturday night as they defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5-4, in a game that was a double and a home run.

Liberal walks from Dodger pitchers play a half dozen extra base hits helped Cincinnati score the 10 runs with only 13 hits.

Robinson collected a single-double-triple-home run cycle while Pison belted his run-batted-in to 22 with a single, a double and a home run.

Judges Disallow Claim Of Foul

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Tommy Lee, an English colt owned by wealthy Texan Fred Turner Jr., nosed out Sword Dancer after a scorching stretch battle in the Kentucky Derby. Then the judges disallowed the claim of foul.

Tommy Lee is only the second foreign-bred horse in history to win the race. It was one of the most dramatic finishes ever seen in America's most glamorous horse race, and the scorching finish matched the weather. The temperature zoomed to 92 degrees, making it the hottest Derby Day since they began keeping such records in 1927.

Seventeen horses started in the $105,720 race, second richest in the history of the Kentucky Derby. Banks, including Christopher T. Chenery's First Landing, the champion 3-year-old of 1958, finished third behind Tommy Lee and the Brooklyn-bred Sword Dancer.

THESE WERE 2 1/2 lengths between the second and third horses, while Mrs. Jacques Braunstein's Royal Orbit was fourth, another length away.

Jockey Bill Boland, who won the 1959 Derby with Middleburg, lodged two foul claims against Tommy Lee.

Boland was riding Sword Dancer. Tommy Lee was jockey Willie Shoemaker, who was involved in the most recent Derby fiasco two years ago, in the 1957 Derby. He was charged with fouling the race.

Northeastern Part Of Illinois Hit By Storm

Roads Near Peotone, Wilmington Closed During Heavy Rain

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
Most of Illinois' weather in 30 to 40 degrees heat Sunday, but the Chicago area was blasted with an electrical storm that played havoc with the summery weather and power lines.

Many communities in the northeastern part of the state had brief power failures that were blamed on lightning, fallen trees and squirrels.

Part of Winnetka was without power for an hour when a transformer was struck by a lightning bolt. A Chicago radio station was out for about half an hour because of a shorted power line.

Chicago suffered 30 brief power failures due to fallen trees.

One man in North Chicago was knocked unconscious when a falling tree struck him in the head.

The highest alert May temperature in the past 10 years was 90 on May 3 in 1955. It was 90 on May 3, 1955.

The thunderstorm Sunday evening forced a private plane to land on Route 45 south of Chicago.

The pilot said he was flying from Canada to Indianapolis and he could not find an airport in the area.

He took off from the highway a short time later and landed at Kankakee Airport after receiving directions from landers. Name of the pilot was not learned.

Water was reported temporarily over highways in many areas around Kankakee. A fallen tree limb knocked down telephone service for a time in a section of West Kankakee.

Forced Creek played havoc with the highway community, doing the worst damage about four miles south of Kankakee.

In a struggle to retain possession of his briefcase, Furst said he was put out of the car. Furst, suffering a shoulder wound, staggered to a telephone booth.

Furst said he was on route to Washington, D.C., on business.

Guard Rush Red Diplomat Out Of Burma

Report He Sought Political Asylum; Tried To Kill Self

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—A Soviet military attaché apparently had tried to escape by leaping from a hospital window when out of Raungon on a Communist plane Sunday.

A screen of 40 helmy guards from the Soviet Embassy rushed upon newsmen and prevented them from questioning him.

Hospital sources said the attaché was Col. Mikhail I. Styruguine, who apparently wanted to get political asylum in Burma.

The embassy neither confirmed nor denied published reports of his identity.

The slightly built, haggard looking man was brought to the airport in a Soviet Embassy car minutes before a Chinese Communist transport plane took off for Kankakee.

He was hustled about by his associates at the embassy with his personal baggage was left behind.

A WEeping woman identified as his wife, a Soviet nurse and two guards accompanied him.

Hospital sources said Styruguine was brought to the hospital a week ago suffering from an overdose of sleeping pills. It was reported he had tried to commit suicide when he had to return to the Soviet Union.

Pick Headquarters For Hospital Drive

The Kankakee County Citizens Hospital Committee today began setting up campaign headquarters for a $500,000 fund drive.

The money will go to the Stewards Foundation as the Kankakee area's share of a $25-million 125-bed general hospital.

James Schneider, president of the incorporated committee, announced that the headquarters will be located in the old Kankakee Federal Savings and Loan Association building at Schuyler Ave. and Merchant St.

Schneider also said that the committee has voted to hire the law firm of Ketchum Inc., Pitts- burg, Pa., to conduct the drive.

Kenneth McDowell, who arrived in Kankakee today to begin preliminary work, will be the professional drive director.

Schneider said the committee is a volunteer campaign organization will be announced later this week.

The committee president emphasized that the new hospital will be built without tax money.

If the local drive is successful, the Stewards Foundation will secure enough money for the 125-bed hospital, rather than the 100-bed building originally planned.

Find Girl's Body In Columbia River Slough

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP)—The body of a little girl, found bobbing in a Columbia River slough today, provided a probable solution to the baffling mystery of the missing girl from a family of Portland.

The body, found Sunday and identified as that of 11-year-old Susan Martin, had been in the water for a considerable time, said Coroner Paul Mylan. It may have been submerged since the Dec. 7 disappearance of Ken Martin, 54, his wife, 48, and their three pretty young daughters — Barbara, 14, Virginia, 13, and Susan.

Police, who have run down scores of clues in the five-month-old case, believe the Martin car plunged off a highway into the Columbia River or one of its tributaries. The body of Susan apparently floated free of the wreckage in the spring current and was washed to a backwater slough near Camas, Wash., a few miles east of this lower Columbia River.

DR. E. A. WATERMAN, the Martin's dentist, examined the body and said he was certain it was that of the missing girl.

The body was clad in red and white striped pajamas and a blue quilted coat. Friends and relatives of the Martins said Susan was wearing similar pajamas the day the family vanished and that the coat belonged to Virginia.

The family, after telling friends they were on their way to the woods to get Christmas greens, happily climbed into their red and white station wagon Sunday morning, Dec. 7, and drove east up the Oregon side of the Columbia River to Cascade Locks where Martin purchased a small amount of gasoline. Then they disappeared.

After ground and aerial searches of the heavily wooded areas failed to turn up clues, police speculated that the Martins had plunged into the river. It was the most unusual search operation ever undertaken in the area.

The body of the Columbia was halted by an upstream dam while skin divers and a small airplane searched for the missing car.

A sister, Miss Margaret Martin, a Seattle school teacher, said she was saddened by the "mystery" disappearance of her family. "Now, at least I have some idea of what happened to the family," she said.

A SIMILAR AIRLINE disappearance of a Minnesota building contractor, his wife and their five children last Dec. 28 remains a mystery to authorities here.

Shirley Loom, Oshkosh, Wis., said no clues have been received by his office in the case of the disappearance of the family.

Churchill Wings Way Toward U.S.

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill flew off to see President Eisenhower today—walking stick in his hand and a bull on his neck.

The trip by British aviator was the 64-year-old statesman's first flight. After three days as Eisenhower's guest at the White House, he will visit in New York with another old friend, Bernard Baruch.

"I'M FEELING very fine," Churchill told American Ambassador John Hay Whitney, who saw Sir Winston off at the airport.

"I know it's going to be a wonderful trip," said Whitney. "God bless you and speed you until your return."

The bull looked as if it had already burst, but the spot was still red.
