Present 'O' Awards At Olivet College

A former missionary to China and a Chicago Heights pastor received the 1959 "O" award for Olivet Nazarene College alumni at the annual dinner Wednesday evening.

Selected as outstanding lay persons were Miss Mary Louise Scott, former missionary to China and Nazarene Foreign Mission Society general secretary; and the Rev. Byron M. Carmony, pastor of the Chicago Heights Church of the Nazarenes.

The awards are given annually to a minister and a lay person who have achieved success in their chosen fields and who reflect the ideals of the institution. They are selected by mail ballot among the alumni from among four nominees in each area.

Other lay person nominees were Mrs. Naomi R. Larsen, acting chairman of the Division of Fine Arts at the college; E. Fred Chaffant, president of Farmington, Mich., president of the Alumni Association; and Donald D. Starr, chairman of the Division of Natural Sciences, Malone College, Canton, Ohio, and a member of the Olivet trustees.

Pastoral nominees were Russell Birchard, missionary to Guatemala; S. L. Ludwig, general secretary of the Church of the Nazarenes; and Remus Reifeldt, general foreign missions secretary of the church.

At the banquet the 1959 graduating class were guests of the alumni and officials received into membership. A panel discussion, "The Alumnus and His College—A Continuing Relationship," was presented by Paul L. Schwab, executive secretary of the association; J. Harold M. Reed, college president; and Chaffant.

EARLIER in the day, at an alumni board of directors meeting, it was announced that Chaffant had been re-elected to his sixth year as executive secretary. William Bennett, assistant registrar of the college, was named treasurer to succeed Miss Ruth Gilley, librarian. Miss Gilley had been treasurer 10 years. D. J. Strickler was re-elected historian.

The alumni voted to decline to provide opposition for the annual T-101 Homecoming basketball game after 14 successive defeats, pointing out that they did not feel they provided effective opposition.

Memorial Day 1959, when Americans pay tribute to Americans who died serving their country and also remember their departed loved ones, will be observed in nearly all the area communities.

Programs vary from homecomings, parades, cemetery services, church rites, to visits to cemeteries by families and individuals.

Probably the most fitting Memorial Day program will take place at the Old Sherrill Cemetery on Wednesday, May 27.

State Income Tax Proposed

SPRINGFIELD (UPI)—Democratic Speaker Paul Powell has proposed a change in the state Constitution to permit a graduated income tax with a maximum rate of 3 percent.

A number of proposed new tax articles for the Constitution have been introduced this session, but Powell's is unique in that it would permit a graduated income tax.

Powell's proposed constitutional amendment was introduced Thursday. If approved by the Legislature, it would have to be voted on at the 1960 election.

Powell's proposal also would permit removal of the sales tax from food and classification of property under the property tax.

The bill would require that the Illinois Education Association, and several labor unions, be notified of the bill.

The bill also would set qualifications for board members, lengthen their terms from four years to six years, and raise salaries from $8,000 to $12,000.

Threat Of Weekend Rain May Cut Attendance At Area Parks

A year ago the Kankakee River State Park enjoyed one of its biggest days in history as approximately 16,000 swarmed into the area for Memorial Day.

Custodian C. A. Stevens isn't looking for that large attendance Saturday, however, the way the weather has been and the forecast of cloudy and possible thunderstorms.

The same applies to parks in the Kankakee Park District. The facilities are there for a heavy week end of picnicking—but the weather is figured to rear its ugly head and hold down attendance.

Actually, the inclement weather thus far this spring hasn't put too many people in the picnic mood, according to the state park custodian. He reports that they sold $700 worth of stickers for state park season admittance. This year, through May 16, the parks have totaled slightly over $300.

BIGGEST PROBLEM At the state park thus far this spring has been keeping up with the acres of rapidly growing grass. Stevens said that the persistent rains have kept the low spots soft so that some instances workers have had trouble getting their mowers into the areas.

The weather has also helped work on the new area of the park a couple miles from the state park entrance along I-120. He said the area has not been opened to public use because of the delay in establishing a road through the area, the addition of toilet facilities and the completion of the water system. As soon as weather permits, 2,200 tons of crushed rock will be moved into the area for the new road.

Both state and city park officials are holding out hopes that the weather will clear up by Saturday.

One of the bullets struck Mrs. Breyer in an arm. The money was not recovered, and of the holdup gang, at least the driver of the getaway car was still at large.

The missing pieces were reported to be among the current prints by the regime of former Cuban President Fulgencio Batista. Millions were sent out of Cuba by Batista, his supporters, and American gamblers before Castro's revolutionary movement triumphed last Jan. 1.

THE REVOLUTIONARY government had taken steps in early April to end an attempt to control the current money market. The village will be sprayed from the air with the various streets and alleys.

Blanchette, village clerk, was walking in front of an automobile and was hit by a bullet. He was carrying the money. She said a reporter she was talking in front of an automobile building with a companion, Luis Avila Binder, about 9:30 p.m., when a car containing the three drove up alongside.

"One of the three men got out of the car and snatched the bag in which I was carrying the money," she said. "He gave me a shove and I fell to the ground. From the car, one of the men shot three times with the intention of killing me."

She said she recognized one of the Cubans as Arnaldo Alfonso Acosta. Police reported that just before the holdup was staged, an anonymous telephone call told them about operations of a widespread international gang dealing in the conversion and smuggling of Cuban money.

NATION Continued from Page 1 Services will be held in the amphitheater of Arlington National Cemetery. Veterans Administrator Sumner G. Whittier will speak.

At Honolulu, the U.S. Navy will hold a Memorial Day service on a platform aboard the sunken battleship Arizona—a victim of the Dec. 7, 1941, Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor. Still enshrouded in the Arizona's hulk in Pearl Harbor are 1,002 officers and men.

Also at Honolulu, schoolchildren, veterans organizations and relatives will place flower leis in the stone grave markers of 11,000 Pacific war dead buried in the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific—better known as Punch Bowl Cemetery, an extinct volcano crater overlooking downtown Honolulu.

MOST OF THOSE buried in Punch Bowl Cemetery are World War II and Korean war dead. They include several thousand unknown dead.

North of Waukegan, Ill., Civil War cannons will boom again in a program at the Lake County Museum of History. Taking part in the ceremonies will be war veterans dressed in authentic military uniforms dating from the Civil War through the Korean War.

In Chicago, military and veterans groups will stage the 91st consecutive annual Memorial Day parade, believed to be the only one remaining sponsored by the C.A.R. Memorial Association.

K.C.'s Daley Gets Tough

'Other Guy' In Trades Hurls 3 Fine Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Time was when Bud Daley was just "the other guy" in player trades. Now he's the sturdy Kansas City southpaw who has allowed just two runs while knocking out American League leaders Cleveland and Pittsburgh in his last two starts.

Daley, a lefty because his right hand was injured at birth, got his chance as a starter two weeks ago, only to lose 3-2 at New York after pitching a three-hit shutout to eight innings.

Thursday night he made his third start and followed up Saturday's fourth shutout (16-0) over Chicago with a 7-2 bounce against Cleveland that sliced the Indians' lead in a half-game and hosted the A's into fourth place.

THE WHITE SOX closed in although their meeting with Detroit was rained out with the Tigers at bat in the second inning of a scoreless game at Chicago. Third place Baltimore moved within 1 1/2 games of the lead as unbeaten Hoyt Wilhelm stretched his scoreless hitting streak to 22 with his second straight shutout over New York, winning 5-0 with a fourth-inning homer.

In the National League, Bob Friend finally won his first, four-hitting Milwaukee for a 3-0 Pittsburgh victory that cut the Braves' lead to two games after San Francisco defeated St. Louis 5-4. The Chicago Cubs beat Los Angeles 7-5 and Philadelphia defeated Cincinnati 4-3.

WILHELM (7-0), the knuckleballing right-hander who has won eight in a row starting with last September's no-hitter against the Yankees, gave up nothing but singles while striking out six and fanning five. The Orioles scored twice in the first inning, on a walk, Whitey Lockman's double and Willie Tash's single, against loser Ralph Terry (2-3) in his first appearance since rejoining the Yankees. Woodling hit a two-run homer for the Orioles.

Wilhelm Worth Million To Richards

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
Gentlemen, we give you Hoyt Wilhelm—except that Paul Richards says he can't have "even for a million dollars."

Money isn't everything and right now Wilhelm is to the pennant-minded Baltimore Orioles. No wonder!

The 35-year-old knuckleballer has won seven straight without a loss. He has a spectacular 1.12 earned run average, the capacity to pitch every third day if necessary, and the confidence that no one can hit him when he's right.

WILHELM'S LATEST effort was a 5-0 victory over the Yankees Thursday night. The triumph boosted him to within 1 1/2 games of first place in the American League, and extended Wilhelm's streak against the Yanks to 21-4 consecutive scoreless innings.

"There comes a time," said the dour Richards after the game, "when a player is worth more money to a ball club than anyone could possibly pay for him. I wouldn't consider one million dollars for Wilhelm."

GIVEN A CHANCE to start by Richards, the veteran National League castoff has now beaten the Yankees four straight times. During that span, he has allowed the most champions a total of three runs while pitching a no-hitter and a one-hitter against them.

Ralph Terry, obtained from Kansas City earlier in the week, faced Wilhelm Thursday night and hurled away although charged with his fifth defeat. The Orioles nipped him for three runs on four hits during the first seven innings, then picked up their final runs when Gene Woodling hit a two-run homer off reliever Bobby Shantz in the eighth.

Ex-Cub Pitcher, Ken Penner, Dies
SACRAMENTO (AP) — Ken Penner, 66, who pitched for the Yankees, gave up nothing but singles while striking out six and fanning five. Safety Stressed For '500' Drivers

By ED SAINSBURY
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Speedway drivers get a final word of caution today in the last, pre-race before Saturday's 500-mile annual 500-mile dash against death in an effort to prevent the chase from adding a 51st victim to the track fatality list.

There will be no cars running on the 3 1/2 mile oval track today and all drivers with their pit crews were to show up at 1 p.m. to get a lecture on racing rules from chief steward Harlan Fenger.

Fenger said he'd be stiffer than ever in his annual lecture to warn the pilots that driving regulations would be strictly enforced and that violations might cost victory, which would mean about half of the total purse of a record $300,000.

PARTICULARLY HE'LL warn against tricks on the pace lap and the first lap of the race in an effort to prevent any repetition of last year's debacle in which the first three cars made one more pace lap than the rest of the field and barely got into position when the race began. The goal was blundered partially in some quarters for the first lap crack-up, involving 15 cars, in which Pat O'Connor was killed.

The chances were against another mishap since last year's starting formula was dropped and this time 11 rows of 3 cars each will make a parade lap in their proper alignment and then will begin the race. The goal was blundered partially in some quarters for the first lap crack-up, involving 15 cars, in which Pat O'Connor was killed.

Youthful Misbehavior Traced Mostly To Home, Jurist Says

Chief Justice Irving Ben Cooper is head of the Court of Special Sessions of New York City, one of the largest criminal courts in the world. His court includes jurisdiction over young offenders between 16 and 18. After 21 years on the bench, he has some strong ideas about juvenile delinquency. This is the second of three dispatches presenting his views.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Who is to blame for juvenile delinquency, the new increase and steady rise across our nation?

Is it due to comic books, television, movies, slums, laxness in the schools, too lenient courts, some wild upsurge in the new generation, our abandonment of responsibility because the H-bomb hangs over our heads?

I can tell you where the fault lies. As a matter of fact, you know it already. Everyone really knows it, but almost none of us are willing to face up to it.

IN THE VAST MAJORITY of cases the parents are to blame—mothers, fathers or both. Other factors at times enter into it, but let's face up to it—the basic root of youthful misbehavior is traceable to the home.

I sit in my court and watch this endless stream of youthful offenders. There are not the sensational cases you read about in your newspapers—the young hoodlums with the smoking gun. Those cases really make up only a small part of the total number of youths emmeshed in the criminal law. The ones I am talking about are young people very much like your own. In almost every case, mark me, the youngster's attack on society is the result of an inadequate upbringing. As far as parents are concerned, Dr. Albert Schweitzer puts his finger right on the situation with his observation: "Example is not the main thing in influencing others; it is the only thing."

POVERTY is BY no means the principle factor in the vast majority of cases. The boys who come before me are far better dressed and fed than my contemporaries and I never even in my young manhood remember speaking to a high school student poor not long ago. I was trying to establish a bond with them and began talking of my own youth. I recalled the misery of our poverty. They were unimpressed.

Afterwards the principal told me the youngsters couldn't envision anyone in my position ever having had to scrape for a bare existence—"they thought it was gaudy." They had never heard of "scraping" anything like it themselves, although they came from low income families.

One breakdown of home life has widened into a community pattern. Young people constantly encounter this indifference to life's real values—"make the big buck," "just don't get caught," "don't stick your neck out." Integrity, honor, responsibility—"that's for the Sc.".

ON THE ONE SIDE of its face the community registers horror of the situation presented by crime rates. On the other, public consumption of crime news by newspapers, magazines, books, movies, radio, television and gossip on the part of adults and children is literally beyond comprehension. Short of an act which discredits the community and its comfort, we immerse ourselves and luxuriate in delinquency.

We pay dearly for the "big news" into the house of law. It is the sensational or "outstanding" crime news which is the criterion of what is "important" to the community. We must not look to the degree of the crime itself and meet the needs of young offenders who can be saved. Rehabilitation comes first in importance as much as an arm of correction as Sing Sing and Alcatraz, and not less important.

Whenever I sentence a young man or girl, I get the parents into court if it is at all possible. I want them to feel the burden just as much as the youngster. And if I put the boy or girl on probation, I want them to share or his or her effort to make good.

SOME OF THE HOMES of course are hopeless and nothing of course can say or do is going to change them for the better. That is where the properly trained probation officer is of great value. He becomes for many of these young people the most important person in their lives. He becomes the father they never had. He is tough with them if they don't behave, but he gives them the sympathy and understanding which they need. He has the means of enforcing that authority. In most cases, he gives them real friendship, a sense of belonging, a feeling that they, too, count.

I want you to hear the words of one boy and what he had to say about what produced me as I am: "His first name was Leo. His father was shiftless and irresponsible. The boy, then 16, had been in his father's possession when arrested. He had tried to demolish a parking meter to secure 15 cents to ride rather than walk home. He summed up what he conceived the attitude of what he termed his father in an unforgettable phrase: "This hellering world."

Find $13,088 In Bank Loot In Dog Pen

ADVANCE, Mo. (AP)—Authorities searched the home and yard of an admitted bank robber Thursday night and located the missing loot in the Advance, Mo., bank holdup—$13,088.

Highway Patrolman Jack Small found the money—in 10s and 20s—in a zipper bag in a big dog pen in the yard of Robert Lee Hager, 26, of Fairfield, Mo.

Li. E. F. Damp of the patrol said authorities pieced together statements made by Hager and his two confederates—decided to search Hager's Fordgit home.

Damp also said that Hager, James A. Fox, 25, of Trenton, N. J., and Walter S. Nicholson, 33, of Livermore, Calif., had orally admitted taking part in the Wednesday night robbery. All are soldiers at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

IN ALL, $13,088 was taken at gunpoint after Hager and Fox herded five bank employees into a vault, business and did what I pleased of doing and I wasn't worried about the next guy or the guy after him.

Bulk Of Dulles Estate Goes To His Widow

NEW YORK (AP)—John Foster Dulles has left the bulk of his estate to his widow in his will filed Thursday in Surrogate's Court.

The former secretary of state, who died of cancer May 24, made specific bequests of more than a quarter of a million dollars. However, associates said it was too early to estimate of his total estate.

Under the will the estate eventually goes to two of the three Dulles children.

Dulles' son, the Rev. Avery Dulles, was left only $5,000. But the will emphasized that this was "not because of lack of affection for him but because appropriate circumstances in his case made further provision seem inappropriate and unnecessary."

BEFORE DULLES entered government service, he was in the law firm of Sullivan and Cronwell here.

The will, dated July 25, 1958, bequeathed personal property, household effects and the bulk of his estate in trust to the widow, Mrs. Janet Avery Dulles.

Upon her death, income from half the trust goes to a daughter, Mrs. Lillian Dulles-Monahan, and the other half to her son, John Foster Dulles, Jr.

The other half goes outright to Dulles' other son, John Watson Dulles, who receives an additional $100,000 from the will.

Dulles also bequeathed $10,000 to his alma mater, Princeton University, where he graduated in 1908.

Phyllis Orr, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Porter Orr of Gilman, Md., was named executor of the will.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Beebe of Danforth, Mo., were named executors of the will.

Widow Loses Transit Plea Before PSC

GENOA (AP)—A plucky little widow learned unpleasantly today that she had lost her right to sue the Chicago Transit Authority.

Mrs. Marie Eisenhower had invited the 51 men and women from local homes for the aged and the blind for a White House luncheon.

But she says she got along with the bus service past her 40-acre farm.

The Illinois Public Service Commission authorized the Greyhound bus to drop on one week's notice its one round trip daily bus between Chicago and Rockford through the B. & O. R. R. and the Chicago and Rockford.

UNDER A TREE NEAR THE President's golfing green, she stood on a square of pale green carpet in her pink silk dress and told them "I am awfully happy you came."

Mrs. Eisenhower complimented the women on what they were wearing, worried that wheelchairs were sticking in ruts in the grass and that the 30-degree heat might be too much for the elderly guests.

But they took it all in happy stride, enjoying refreshments served at two bright red and white striped awnings. They sat on chairs and listened to the Marine Corps band in scarlet and white uniforms playing on a knoll across the lawn.

THE OLD FELLOWS and Rebecca Lodges of Gilman will hold their joint memorial service Monday following the business session of the Old Fellows.

The seventh grade entertained the eighth grade at a picnic on Monday in the village park.

The first and second grades and their teachers, Mrs. Dale Walsh and Mrs. Claude Weirman, held a picnic Tuesday in the village park.

MR. AND MRS. NICK ADAMS were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams, Bloomington. The occasion was the birthday of Charles Adams.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT L. SENGIEL of Bloomington spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Sengiel.

MISS MARIE TORDOLI presided at a meeting of the Royal Neighbors of America. During the social hour, refreshments were served by Mrs. Clinton Jones and Mrs. Olympia Birt. Mrs. Cyril Finn received a special award.

MISS FARRIS SWANSON and her family were the guests of Mrs. Mary Swanson.
