3 Masked Men Loot Wisconsin Lodge Of $6,000

ELKHORN, Wis. (AP)—Three masked men escaped with at least $6,000 from the exclusive Nippers Lodge near Genoa City early today after first invading the home of an assistant manager and forcing him to give up the combination to an office safe.

They fled in a 1950 blue Chevrolet with Illinois license plates. The sprawling lodge is just three miles north of the Illinois-Wisconsin state line.

Harry Lake, controller of the summer resort, said the men went to the home of Mike Liberman, assistant manager of the lodge, about 4:30 a.m. He lives about one-half mile from the resort.

Liberman was forced at gunpoint to turn over the combination to the safe and was bound with rope. The trio then sped to the lodge.

With pistols turned on John Kowalski, the night clerk, the men went to work on one of two safes. They succeeded in opening one with the combination but they had to force open the other.

Resort officials said the loot included some $6,000 in hotel cash, an addition to an undetermined amount deposited by guests.

Steel, Union Pact Talks At Horse-Trading Stage

NEW YORK (AP)—Signs of horse-trading developed in steel pact talks today.

Negotiating activity picked up as time grew closer to a threatened industry walkout at midnight Tuesday.

The industry and union bargaining teams, which met only briefly Thursday, then recessed to re-examine their positions, repeated the process today.

After a brief joint session this morning, the management and union representatives split up with a statement saying "The parties have been exchanging data and have recessed temporarily to gather additional information needed when conferences resume."

A FURTHER meeting sometime today was definitely planned but the time was uncertain.

The stated admission that "data" was being exchanged could cover many possibilities. It left an encouraging impression. But there was no word of the industry's light against higher pay demands.

Cooper and the industry's bargaining team resumed direct talks this morning with a similar four-man steelworkers union team headed by union President David J. McDonald.

Cooper declined to say whether the industry plans to start bargaining and tapping off production this weekend in preparation for a strike. But neither side expressed any settlement hopes.

DIRECT BARGAINING was recessed most of Thursday to let both sides huddle separately to reassess their positions.

McDonald announced this morning he has succeeded in convincing the 33-man executive board and 111-man wage policy committee to support his plan to start bargaining with the board of review, in the office of Raymond Canaday, supervisor of assessments, third floor, county courthouse.

Taxpayers have been now and Aug. 1 to file written comments on their 1959 assessments with the board of review, in the office of Raymond Canaday, supervisor of assessments, third floor, county courthouse.

Legally, the board of review does not have to consider complaints filed after Aug. 1.

Technically, a taxpayer cannot file a complaint about his tax bill; only about his assessment.

It is impossible to tell from the assessments published today what the exact amounts of tax bills will be next year. Amounts depend upon how much money the various taxing bodies receive.

Area To Be Top Recreation Spot

Kankakee River State Park, already heavily used by residents of northern Illinois, will probably become one of the top recreation areas in the state when development plans are completed.

However, state funds for additional land purchase and construction of further facilities will probably not be appropriated in a large chunk.

INSTEAD THE PARK will be developed gradually under a long range program outlined by the State Department of Conservation.

Gov. William Strickland signed a bill Thursday permitting the department to issue bonds to finance park projects which bring in revenue.

Sam A. Parr, department administrative assistant, said today that expansion of family camps, with additional water and sanitary facilities, is the immediate need at Kankakee River State Park.

Many Kankakeans have worked for years for development of the local state park.

The late Sen. Victor McElmro was one of the prime movers in seeking development of the park. His brother, Vernon, for many years head of the Kankakee Area Chamber of Commerce park and river committee, has been highly active in this work.

Others aiding in the effort have included former State Rep. Louis Beckman and Rep. George E. Luchin of Kankakee and Rep. Wil-

Prisoners Moved To End Georgia Strike

250 Inmates Still Seek Improvements

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Officials reported that hunger strikers at the Reidsville State Prison dwindled to a mere 250 today and that they are being transferred elsewhere.

A spokesman for the State Department of Corrections in Atlanta said that as many as 140 are being removed to the maximum security rock quarry prison at Buford, a distance of some 200 miles.

The remainder, he added, will be dispersed to various smaller facilities in an attempt to stamp out the day-old hunger strike.

He emphasized that there has been no disorder at the 2,900 inmate state prison—that the warden and other officers were in full control at all times.

The corrections spokesman said big prison buses carrying from 30 to 40 prisoners each were mobilized for the convict transfer. Some 40 state troopers were called upon to assist.

Warden R. P. Balkcom, in the midst of blood-transfer operation, told newsmen at 8 a.m. he was busy to take in these convicts, he described the situation then as unchanged. "Some ate breakfast and some didn't," he said.

THE STRIKE began with breakfast Thursday to bolster demands for improved conditions at the prison. Varying numbers refused all three meals Thursday.

State Corrections Director Jack Forester said that since the strike was orderly, no change in the plan to force the hand of the convicts.

"We have no rule that they have to eat," he said.

But he and the warden served notice that any rule violation will meet swift punishment and that any prearranged visit will be taken to the prison as to how the prisoners refused to eat after posting a nine-point list of demands in their cell block.

The list ranged from the minimum demand for fried eggs, instead of scrambled, to less severe demands for prisoners confined in isolation cells.

"WE'VE ENJOYED YOUR VISIT very much Mr. Kozlov, and we hope someday you will return," the three Helderman girls told Fred R. Kozlov, first deputy prime minister of Russia, Thursday as he neared completion of a tour of their father's farm near Morris. The girls are, from left, Ramona and Roberta, 15-year-old twins, and Janet, 16, daughters of James F. Helderman. Behind Kozlov, without a hat, is Mikhail Menshikov, Soviet ambassador to the U. S. ## Study Plans To Continue Road Program

Gas Tax Increase Looms As Solution To Network Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—A possible gasoline tax increase was one of several ways studied today to keep work going on the national superhighway network in the summer ahead.

An increase somewhat less than the 1 1/2 cents a gallon President Eisenhower proposed still was an important part of several compromise plans ready for consideration by the House Ways and Means Committee.

IN ADVANCE of today's session, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.) indicated no specific solution was imminent, although a number of alternatives were known to be under study.

Eisenhower proposed last January an increase to 4 1/2 cents a gallon to avoid a threatened deficit in the special highway trust fund from which federal grants are made. House Democrats balked at the plan, and the Senate rejected it as an amendment to another tax measure last month.

Without such assurance of added money, the highway fund will be too small to permit scheduled allocations to the states next month of the year starting next July 1. The allocations are made in advance of the time for the states to begin construction.

Legally, the board of review does not have to consider complaints filed after Aug. 1.

Technically, a taxpayer cannot file a complaint about his tax bill; only about his assessment.

It is impossible to tell from the assessments published today what the exact amounts of tax bills will be next year. Amounts depend upon how much money the various taxing bodies receive.

GETS NOTE 16 YEARS LATE

SWINTON, England (UPI)—Styvie Chapman slipped a note into the pocket of a Navy uniform she made in a government factory. A sailor replied asking for a date, but he was 16 years too late. Mrs. Chapman is married and has two children.

Sailor Dave Ackroyd, 18, was only three years old when Styvie put the note in the bell-bottoms. The was on and the girls at the factory slipped in messages as they sewed. Sometimes letters or dates were slipped, but Styvie's note-bearing uniform went into reserve storage.

Hubbard Frank Chapman wasn't jealous of his wife's pen pal. He said he would get a date with a neighborhood teenager.

Daughters Steal Show As Kozlov Visits Morris Farm

West Maps Proposal To End Crisis

GENEVA (AP)—The Western Allies are reported working up a new proposal to put the Berlin dispute on ice for several years and give the Soviet Union a summit conference in the fall.

The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France are expected to put the proposal to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko soon after the Big Four conference resumes here Monday.

As outlined here, the plan contains only one change in previous Western proposals. East and West Germany would be given equal representation on a subcommittee to take preliminary steps toward reunification of Germany.

Whiteside, Mack Jury Deadlocked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The three-month trial of the Richard A. Mack-Thurman Whiteside conspiracy case wound up today with a hung jury in an 11-1 decision.

There was no official report in the courtroom as to how the jurors were divided as to conviction or acquittal. The three members of the jury refused to reach a verdict.

During the dinner served Kozlov at the Helderman farm, James Jr. received an invitation from the Russian to be his personal guest if he ever got to Russia.

Nearly everything included in the ham dinner served to Kozlov was grown on the Helderman farm, just about everything except the coffee beans for the hot and iced coffee.

THE RUSSIAN guest commented the dinner was very good, but reportedly ate with moderation. When asked why he didn't take a few days of rest before considering the motions further, and proposed to rule without hearing any further arguments.

The jurors had deliberated for more than 30 hours when discharged.

Judge Matthews decided to discharge them on receiving a note from foreman Robert A. Burren which said the jury stood 11-1.

Mack, former member of the Federal Communications Commission, and Whiteside, a Miami lawyer, were accused of conspiring to rig award of Miami TV Channel 10 to Public Service Television, Inc.

Burren said the 11 jurors felt the stand of the 12th was "not consistent with reason."

The foreman asked for further instructions from the judge. Instead of giving them, the judge called the jurors into the court Continued on Page 6, Column 1

Asserts New Hospital To Be Non-Sectarian

The new $2,500,000 hospital planned for Kankakee is non-sectarian rather than Protestant.

This, Thursday night, was the theme of the Rev. James G. Parker, pastor of the St. Paul's Episcopal Church, as he spoke to the kick-off meeting of the Employee Division of the campaign to raise $200,000—the community's share of the cost of the construction. The meeting was at the First Evangelical United Brotherhood Church.

The Rev. E. F. Hoffman, pastor came to Kankakee more than 15 years ago, he heard of the movie Church, Goodrich gave the incentive to start another hospital, vacation before the refreshments later, he said, there was a strong feeling toward a tax-supported program. (The Rt. Rev. Mgr. E. Hoffman said a referendum in 1957, Coussineau and Rabbi Sidney Coussineau failed to win sufficient support. He added that the whole community was subsequently behind the hospital history in the county. The Rev. Mr. PARKER traced the hospital to the long service of St. Mary's Hospital. Continued on Page 6, Column 1

Q And A On New Hospital

TODAY'S QUESTION: How will the beds serve me and my family?

ANSWER: The new hospital will permit the admission of 8,125 more patients a year. This will relieve pressure on existing facilities and assure a bed for you no matter which local hospital you prefer or in which you are selected by your physician.

Western Civilization Not Doomed: Toynbee

In the philosophy of British historian Arnold Toynbee, Western civilization is not inevitably doomed. Toynbee does not accept the somewhat popular view that civilization is like plants—with a beginning, middle and end—but rather a development stemming from a challenge which a people have faced. Sometimes certain conditions—as in the tropics—preclude a civilization but where they are less severe the development has taken place. He further believes that as long as there is a "thinking minority" that continues to lead and cope with the challenge, there is hope for the West.

Harvey Humble, associate professor of history at Olivet Nazarene College, offered this capsule view of Toynbee's philosophy at the Kankakee Rotary Club meeting Thursday.

ROTARIANS WERE introduced to Toynbee, at the outset of the program, by a filmed excerpt of

Elks Attend Grand Lodge In Chicago

Several Kankakee members were present when William S. Hawkins of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, was installed as new grand exalted ruler of the Elks to end a five-day grand lodge convention in Chicago Thursday.

Local persons attending included Leslie Riley, exalted ruler of the Kankakee lodge; Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Sellers, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kray, Toynbee believes. As an ex-ample, India has embraced it through a parliamentary form of government.

But many in the non-western nations think communism gets things done faster than democracy where most achievements are through indirection, rather than direct action.

Communism requires participation by only a few rather than the broad public acceptance which democracy demands.

Finally, the non-western nations often look to the achievements of the Soviet Union has made under communism.

IN THE LONG RANGE, however, Toynbee doubts a large number of people can live under a communist regime, which often operates like a war-time government, in war or peace.

The non-western nations need something about democracy—they need acts rather than words.

Humble suggested that the Algerian situation is a good example. There, the democratic nations, even if only by neglect, are fostering a type of colonialism which the non-western nations resent.

In the non-west, the attitude towards democracy will be determined by the peasants, who make up more than 80 per cent of the world's population. They must be convinced.

We Need Clean Used Cars TOP TRADE-IN DOLLARS FOR YOUR PRESENT CAR!

Get a new 125-bed hospital for 20 cents on the dollar — and without a cent of tax money. To raise the entire $2,500,000 ourselves would not be impossible, but would take much longer and needlessly delay the day when we could have the hospital. We need it now.

Assure a hospital bed for you when you need it. The increasing use of hospitalization insurance has helped crowd our hospitals, but the insurance is worthless if no bed is available.

Eliminate hospital waiting lists. Many cases of elective surgery have to be delayed for months; many other patients travel needless miles to other cities for hospital care.

Double the present emergency facilities. The advantages of dual emergency facilities are immeasurable in the event of epidemic or disaster, such as a tornado, fire or industrial accident.

Broaden medical practice. Advances in medical science have introduced specialists in diagnosis and treatment. No hospital can provide them all, hence an added hospital will supplement the others.

Assure economic growth. Productive strength remains basically dependent upon the health and continued efficiency of trained manpower. Industry must have hospital facilities in keeping with the needs of its employees. As industry expands, these facilities must keep pace.

The Journal's Page Of Opinion

The Difference A Few Years Make

Occasionally, in the days before World War II, a reporter from one of the democratic nations would make his way into the presence of Adolf Hitler. What he would find was a man who talked as if he held the world in the palm of his hand.

Hitler's manner was condescending, his mood indulgent, as he discussed with superior airs what he might or might not allow to happen in Europe about him.

Today we find a strange parallel in the demeanor of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. He tells the free world what he intends to do, and what he is willing to let us do. Through it all he smiles indulgently.

Behind the declaration of intentions, he holds the threat of punishment by war. Most recently, he told former Governor Harriman of New York that he would risk war to enforce his demand that West Berlin become what he calls a free city.

We of course have no thought of bowing to this or any similar demand. But still it may not be quite clear to Khrushchev how thoroughly different today's circumstances are from the days of Hitler when free men had the shakes and sought to appease him.

The Queen, A Symbol Of Dignity

This country was happy once again to offer warm welcome to Queen Elizabeth II on the occasion of her brief visit to Chicago. Never before has a ruling British monarch come to the nation's rich midlands.

As always, the queen moved among friendly Americans—including many Kankakeans—with grace and ease, exhibiting in every act and gesture her remarkable blend of dignity and warmth.

In this age when old symbols of authority are being cast aside in many parts of the globe, one hears complaints in some places that Elizabeth II must still be acknowledged as a symbol of spiritual unity.

It is not the business of Americans to tell members of the British Commonwealth how they should feel and act toward their queen.

Yet it seems fair to suggest that the whole free world would lose much if she did not stand before us as a kind of living ideal, an embodiment of man's aspirations for dignity, quality and moral uprightness.

We have few such symbols left to us. Queen Elizabeth II's warm humanity, so graciously borne, speaks to people everywhere of the best that is in them.

Changing Life Of A Teacher

A six-month investigation into the working conditions of public school teachers and school administrators shows they have made great strides in personal freedom in the last 20 years.

In the big cities a teacher can smoke, drop into a local bar or spend a weekend out of town. In some small communities and rural areas, their lives are still restricted.

A horrible example was unearthed recently of a life with teacher 35 years ago in a 1923 Idaho teacher's contract.

It paid $5 a month on these conditions: that she remain single and not keep company with men; that she be at home during the hours of 8 p.m. and 6 a.m.; that she does not loiter in ice cream parlors; does not smoke cigars, nor drink beer, wine or whiskey; does not leave town without permission, nor ride in an automobile or carriage with a man other than her father or brother; does not dress in bright colors, dye her hair, or use face powder, mascara or lipstick; that she wear at least two petticoats; that she sweep the classroom at least once daily, scrub the floor at least once weekly and start a fire at 7 a.m. on school days.

That of course is unheard of today. But the idea of teachers being an example rightly persists in small urban communities and the country. The dedicated teacher imposes restrictions on herself because she knows it is what she does, not what she wants. That makes her a success.

Dear That Made Milwaukee Famous

NEW YORK (AP)—"I always $1 a night in small cabarets. La said: 'You never reach the point wanted to make money while I live, as a famous artist, recording where you can improve yourself and get a lot of money out of it.'"

"I did it with my photograph up to $20,000 a week. Hildegarde journeyed more than 100,000 miles and now I hope to do it 'I still practice on the piano a million miles by car, train and air, and sing lessons,' she ship before she got over her fear of the airplane. Now she uses the sky."

HILDEGARDE HAS a fabulous collection of gowns costing $400 up to $10,000. She has many pairs of shoes, many of them made by her own hands. She has a complete wardrobe of handkerchiefs she uses in her act. They cost from $25 to $75 apiece.

"You have to live for others as well as yourself if you are to find any happiness. You should try to make this world a better place, not only by religion but by your own behavior," is her philosophy.

"We hear so much about evil, more and more about evil. I think we should stress good, more and more about good."

Hildegarde has never married. "I've been on the verge many times," she said, "but I'm still a bachelorette—trying to find Mr. Right."

"I wonder if I ever will. Every body seems married lately."

Reform Due In National Chairmanship

WASHINGTON—There's something more fundamental than a mere difference of opinion on party policies in the controversy that has arisen between Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and the two Democratic leaders in Congress—House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

The real question is whether anyone ought to hold the post of national chairman who is not a member of the party itself in Congress.

A national chairman nowadays has no responsibility for party policy. He is not a part of the legislative process. Nor is he part of any branch of the government.

There was a time when postmaster general could serve as national chairman, and at least this identified them with the President's cabinet. Today, while the Democrats control only Congress, the leaders in the Senate and House do shape party policy nationally.

PLAINLY IT IS IN Congress where national issues have their origin and where one party or the other must take responsibility for the kind of laws that are passed and for the way the public's money is spent.

THE AIRPLANE. Now she uses the sky. Hildegarde has a fabulous collection of gowns costing $400 up to $10,000. She has many pairs of shoes, many of them made by her own hands. She has a complete wardrobe of handkerchiefs she uses in her act. They cost from $25 to $75 apiece.

The Congress

The realistic difficulty that the present Congress faces is that whereas it has enough votes to ruin President Eisenhower and the Republican party, the same men among the Democrats do not wish to ruin the United States in the process. An increasingly swift inflation could so affect the American economy as to leave our people in difficulties for at least another generation.

This is the fundamental quarrel between the Democratic leadership of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn and the ADA group. The latter feel that the Democrats have the votes in the Senate and House of Representatives to override a veto by the President and that they ought to use the present Congress to win the 1950 election, come what may. This may be sound party politics but it is not sound from the standpoint of the United States.

THERE ARE NUMEROUS DEMOCRATIC candidates for the presidency and some of them are recognizing that this is their only chance. Should Vice President Nixon or Stuart Symington be nominated by the Democrats and elected, it would eliminate these other Democrats altogether.

For instance, the nomination of Sen. John Kennedy by the Democrats looked very promising for a while, but it is now much in doubt. Unfortunately, his following is too mixed, as, for instance, Irish Catholic conservatives and ADA radicals. Only Franklin D. Roosevelt was able to compose such a mixture and he did it while in office, when he was aiming at a second term. He managed to establish a composite of antagonistic elements in the New Deal, but nobody has been able to do that since, although the modern Republicans hoped to for President Eisenhower.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey was made no attempt to organize such a composite group. He has taken his stand as an ADA radical. However, in that position he is meeting a competitor Adlai Stevenson, who has twice failed of election, but who apparently is being supported by most of the Democrats. But the ADA radicals such as Mr. Eleanor Roosevelt, Sen. Herbert Lehman and their following.

THE STEVENSON MOVEMENT IS STRONG and is developing its greatest force in New York where it is making a frontal attack on Carmine De Sapio, the ADA Democrats are being assisted by the Rockefeller administration in New York State which is uncovering scandals in New York City. Politically, the purpose of the current spasm of muckraking is designed to gain the majority of New York for a fusion candidate, supported by the Republicans. Adlai, if Rockefeller can destroy the Democratic organization in New York, he will be proved to be one of the most astute political leaders.

If Adlai Stevenson can get the New York delegation, his vice presidential candidate could be Gov. Pat Brown of California, a Roman Catholic and a labor man. This would eliminate John Kennedy altogether.

REUBEN PUT ALL HIS EGGS IN ONE basket, vigorously supporting Walter Reuther against Jimmy Hoffa. John Kennedy and his brother, Robert, have been the principal factors in the violent attack on Hoffa before the McClellan Committee. But the ADA radicals have not been destroyed. He is in command of the largest and most vicious labor union in the United States and he means to remain in that position at any cost. There can be little doubt but that the manpower and the treasury of the teamsters union will be for anybody who can defeat Kennedy. The Reuther may be with Kennedy but not the politics.

Asks Stratton To Approve Transit Bills

LOMBARD (AP)—A group working for restoration of Chicago Aurora and Elgin Railway service will ask the governor to approve two transit bills passed by the General Assembly.

The action was decided upon Thursday night at a meeting of the executive group of the West Suburban Mayors Committee for the Chicago Aurora and Elgin.

The electric railway linking Chicago and populus and growing west suburban communities has dropped its service as unprofitable.

One of the bills, entitled HB 1003 and introduced by Rep. John N. Eldersheim (R-Eldersheim), would permit the formation of transit authorities by cities, townships or county governments. These authorities would have taxing powers enabling them to form, buy or lease transit lines.

The other bill, HB 1024, sponsored by Rep. William Redmond (D-Bensenville), would permit diversion of funds from motor fuel tax sources for the financing of transit authorities.

REDMAN TOLD the group his measure aimed at meeting objections of those who contend too much of the tax burden is levied upon real estate.

He added that any use of fuel tax money for mass transit would be a safety factor since it would reduce the number of automobiles in daily use. It also would cut the cost of road maintenance, Redmond said.

The group said that if and when Gov. Stratton signs the bills, the committee would take steps toward a referendum to determine if a transit authority is wanted in York, Milton and Winfield.

Russia's Kozlov Takes 4-Hour Tour Of Grundy County Farm

By REINHART WESSING

Frol R. Kozlov, 51-year-old first deputy prime minister of Soviet Russia, smiled and nodded his way through a 4-hour and 15-minute agricultural tour in Grundy County Thursday afternoon, admitting that the corn crop looked "very nice," and the farm machinery "very good."

Kozlov, a 1936 graduate of Leningrad Polytechnical Institute with a degree in metallurgical engineering, asked on arrival in the United States to see a corn farm.

He got his chance Thursday, when he viewed with marked interest most of the 87 acres of corn belonging to James F. Holderman, 49, RR 1, Morris.

Dressed in a gray summer business suit, white shirt, blue tie and straw hat, Kozlov arrived at the Holderman 280-acre corn field west of Coal City right on schedule, 11:30 a.m.

Kozlov showed more interest during his brief stop at the corn field than he did the rest of the day, looking at a dairy farm and viewing machinery at the Holderman farm, much of which was inherited by Holderman himself.

He petted a young calf, shook the hand of Hauschild's 17-year-old granddaughter, Deborah Jones, and passed for a soft drink.

When introduced to the young parents of Deborah, Phyllis, 18, and Lee, 19, Kozlov commented, "You marry them together."

What seemed to impress the first deputy prime minister most at the dairy farm was the bulk tank truck that came to pick up milk just as he was looking at the milk house and its cooler tanks.

At the dairy farm of John Hauschild, Coal City, while the rest of the visiting party goes into the barn.

PHILLIPS, Lloyd Taylor, Gordon and Holderman, the entire party reassembled at the Holderman farm for a 1:45 p.m. tour of operations.

The hosts were William Limbach, Russell Benson, Edwin Williams said he was driving behind another car when it stopped the street and Williams stopped behind it.

The driver got out, accused Williams of following him, pulled him in the face, Williams said he kicked the man, jumped back into his auto and drove away.

Williams described the man's appearance and said he did not know him.

Keep In Trim

Personal Movie Jolts Overweight Into Action

By IDA JEAN KAIN

In the movies, the story is often told through revealing flashbacks. This technique allows the viewer to see the past and the present. The writer of today's letter found this personal experience to be a real eye-opener.

"The other night, my husband and I were looking at home movies that were taken just five years ago.

As picture after picture of a slim, trim me flashed into view, he exclaimed, 'Gee, you looked so much younger then, didn't you?'

"Well, that did it! I determined then and there to get busy and start to lose this load of fat that has somehow piled on and has made me look and feel years older."

Why Bracers Seek Work In U. S.

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — People point their finger at Adolfo Duran Gomez and say, "You're a slave."

Others say, "You're poorly housed, underprivileged."

And a third group angrily charges, "You're taking jobs from U.S. workers."

Adolfo Duran Gomez, a little and shriveled powerful shoulders under his cotton shirt.

YOU CAN'T convince him he's a slave, not at 30 U.S. dollars a week.

Privileges? He has discovered indoor plumbing. That to Adolfo is a mark of privilege he never had before.

Taking jobs from U.S. workers he knows that few citizens north of the border want the jobs he gets.

In the labor camp here, Adolfo tells how it was in his village of Aquilón, southwest of Mexico City, where he faced the hard facts of survival for his wife, his son and himself.

He worked in the fields when he could find a job. The pay ranged from 45 to 85 cents a day. It was hardly a living.

But back to Aquilón from the north came other villagers. They took of a country where Gomez could earn as much in an hour as he earned all day in Mexico.

Gomez is an uneducated country man. He can't read or write. He believes he's 21 though he isn't certain. But wages like 100 a week he is learning to write. He and his wife scurried for a little grubstake. He boarded a bus for Mexico City.

IN MEXICO CITY he saw that marvelous invention, a railroad train. He also viewed for the first time that accomplishment of science, indoor plumbing. He paid for through their own labor association. They tell us association how players' treatment. But they say more workers they need, pay a "head fee" of $15 per worker, and the association handles the red tape. If a farmer contracts for workers already within the United States, the fee is only $6.

When Adolfo isn't working, he remains at the labor camp at Hidalgo, Tex., near here. He has a bunk, locker and cooking facilities. A commissary gives him a subsistence allowance. In cotton picking time he easily can make $60 a week.

"Sometime I will have enough money to buy my own home," he says. "I send all my money home."

Gomez is known throughout the United States as a bracer. And it doesn't worry the country man a bit that he and 400,000 like him are extremely concentrated figures in a tiny area.

Adolfo is legal. His opposite, the wetback — called that because he sneaked across the Rio Grande to work — is a vanishing breed.

At one time an estimated million wetbacks hid against each other for jobs in the United States.

ADOLFO DOESN'T bid against anyone. He is protected by minimum wages. These range from 50 cents to $1.18 an hour.

Adolfo's employer must provide proper shelter. He has hospital and accident insurance.

Last year, Adolfo and Bracers made $20 million for the country. That gave a big boost to the time that accomplishment of science, indoor plumbing. He paid for

Woman's Finger, Stuck In Washing Machine, Creates Crisis In London

LONDON (AP)—Olga Minter's washing machine, a button and Mrs. Minter's finger tied up 15 firemen, two policemen, an ambulance crew and a doctor for two hours Thursday.

A button lodged in the washer's drain pipe, Mrs. Minter, 30, stuck her finger into the pipe to try to dislodge the button.

The finger wouldn't budge.

She tried again and again.

She sat on the floor beside the machine and tugged. The finger stayed stuck.

THE TELEPHONE BEGAN RINGING. Mrs. Minter kicked the washer a couple of times but it wouldn't let go.

She tried to reach the telephone by dragging the labor-saving device along with her. This hurt her finger so much she had to stop.

Water leaking from the machine spread a puddle about her, soaking her backside. And then her 3-year-old baby began howling for dinner.

At this point a neighbor fortunately walked in, slipped up the situation and dialed an emergency number on the telephone.

The firemen, the cops and the ambulance all arrived at the same time.

"I'VE NEVER FELT SO RIDICULOUS in my whole life as when all those men walked in," said Mrs. Minter.

Hold Hamburger Fry In Crescent

CRESCENT CITY (JNS) — Mr. and Mrs. George Gochen of Crescent City entertained at their 16th birthday fry Sunday evening, honoring their son, Richard, on his 16th birthday.

Approximately 30 friends and relatives attended the birthday party. Those attending were from Kankakee, Mifflin, Cresco, Park, Watseka and Crescent City.

The Rev. James L. Vizzard, representing the National Catholic Rural Life Conference, told a congressional committee last year the bracero program is "a none too subtle substitute for slavery."

Death Date Set For Murderer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Harvey M. Glavin, of Los Angeles, confessed attack-slayer of three women, has been sentenced to die in the gas chamber Sept. 18. Superior Judge John A. Hewitt Thursday set the execution date for the 31-year-old amateur photographer. Glavin met his victims by advertising for photography models. He then strangled them with a cord and left their bodies in lonely desert areas.

Russians May Put Man On Moon In 9 Months

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The Soviet Union is making preparations for an attempt to send a man to the moon within the next nine months.

The United States will not be in a position to send a man to the moon for at least several years after the Russian try—the first shot goes according to schedule.

There are two reasons for the U.S. lag.

We don't have the powerful rocket motors necessary for the job. The U.S.S.R. does.

We're going at the job more cautiously because men's lives are at stake.

Ironically, the recent U.S. success in sending monkeys Able and Baker into space and bringing them back alive—any provide missing information the Russians need to beat American aims to the moon.

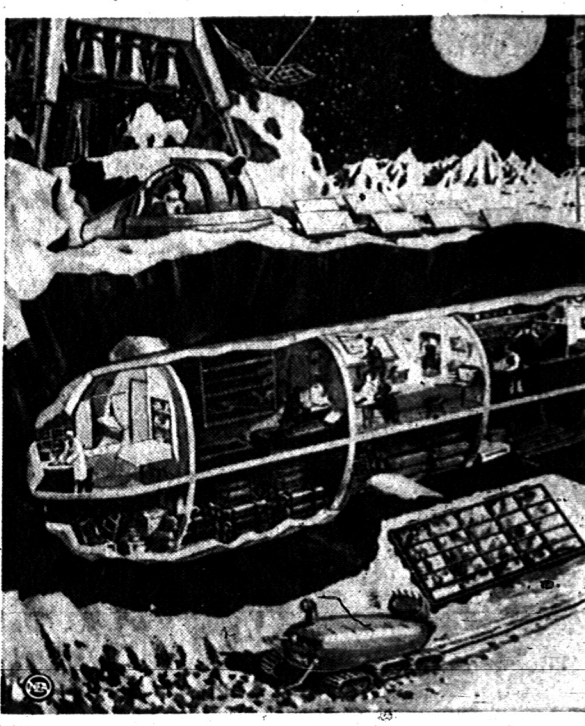

Soviet scientific artists have already prepared a series of drawings showing scientists landing on the moon, a lunar scientific station and a lunar space ship.

PRESENT. RUSSIAN plans call for sending a series of unmanned missiles to the moon first. These unmanned, but guided from earth, rockets would land a radio beacon on the moon to help guide the explorers in, and carry in rocket fuel, food and other supplies, including a "ractor" for exploring the moon.

Possibly one early flight—unmanned—will circle the moon with a television monitor, relaying a satellite view of the lunar surface back to Earth. A robot mobile TV camera also would be landed on the moon to survey the surface close up.

Then a manned rocket would be sent to the moon. Academician N. P. Barabashov, director of the Kharkov Astronomical Observatory, Ukrainian Academy of Sciences, calculates the earth-moon trip will take 33 hours.

A green house would supply the capsule of the Soviet return vehicle, it is understood, would be somewhat "similar" in appearance to the capsule in the U.S. project Mercury. At the end of the flight, water, fuel, spare parts and back to Earth, the Soviet moon

NEARLY, the Soviets plan a space station on the moon. One concept is shown in the Soviet magazine Tekhnika Molodezhi. A Soviet writer describes it as a "cylindrical two-deck affair," the upper deck of which would contain a laboratory, the control room, the communications room and living quarters. The lower deck would contain storage facilities for oxygen, water, fuel, spare parts and return trips to the Earth.

These Soviet scientists expect that man will create artificial clouds on the moon, and cause rains to fall, making it possible to cultivate the moon. This, say Soviet scientists, will take a century or maybe less.

Then, says F. Zigel, man will use the moon as a way station for the conquest and settlement of Mars and Venus.

The writer, Zigel points out, would be a "lunar station" for launching point for space vehicles. A green house would supply the capsule of the Soviet return vehicle, it is understood, would be somewhat "similar" in appearance to the capsule in the U.S. project Mercury. At the end of the flight, water, fuel, spare parts and back to Earth, the Soviet moon

Thousands Ponder Rhyming Name For 7th Child

TOKYO (AP)—Thousands of Americans in the Far East are being asked to help a U.S. Army couple name their seventh child. It's not as easy as it sounds. Names of the first six children rhyme, a 15-year family tradition. Sgt. Jack Lovett, in Korea, and his wife, back home in Texas, would like to keep up.

The seventh child is due after October. Lovett wrote the military newspaper Stars & Stripes saying they had just barely found a rhyming name for the sixth a year ago.

Stars & Stripes asked its readers to send in rhyming names, keeping in mind the new baby may be either a boy or a girl.

Lovett's wife, the former Geraldine Gravette, is living at 313 Water St., Whitesboro, Tex.

With her are Lindsay Fay, Larry Ray, Garry Jay, Glinda Kay, Brinda May and Winda Gay.

Of course, would not be possible for many years—probably a decade or more.

BUT THE SOVIET scientists are even now dreaming of longer range moon plans. They're talking of getting air and water for lunar habitations from the lunar earth by "physical-chemical" methods.

They predict that the moon has uranium ore, which would make atomic power possible. Eventually, they surmise, atomic power plants could create and renew an artificial atmosphere, synthesizing nitrogen, oxygen and other gases from the chemical elements in the lunar crust.

These Soviet scientists expect that man will create artificial clouds on the moon, and cause rains to fall, making it possible to cultivate the moon. This, say Soviet scientists, will take a century or maybe less.

Underwater Missile Base

Shown above is scale model of the USS George Washington, the Navy's first submarine specifically designed to fire the Polaris missile. The sub's hull, 300 feet long, is a revolving air duct to combine with its nuclear engine. A crew of about 100 men operate the ship which has a surface displacement of 5,000 tons and uses one big propeller. Interior space is roughly twice as large as in conventional submarines.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill for water projects in Illinois.

The bill passed by the Senate today provides $24,910,000 for planning and building water projects in Illinois.

The Illinois appropriations are contained in a bill carrying a total of $1,258,830,300 for public works throughout the nation in the fiscal year which began July 1.

The Senate voted 82-7 Thursday to approve the bill without changing the recommendations made Wednesday by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The bill passed by the Senate provides $147,000 more for Illinois projects than did a similar bill passed by the House.

The Senate bill now goes to a conference committee of senators and representatives to adjust the difference between the Senate and House bills.

Butler reiterated that Democrats in the House and Senate were too willing to compromise with Republicans and were proceeding too cautiously.

While standing on his criticism, Butler tempered his new conference remarks with a prediction that the Democratic-controlled Congress would make a strong record by the time it winds up its work in 1960.

HE CLAIMED that a similar prediction was ignored in recent accounts of his television interview last Sunday when he shocked much of the Democratic hierarchy by asserting in effect that the party's "progressive" legislative program.

The attack produced a backlash in which many Democrats decried Butler's views or he ousted.

Butler amplified his remarks Saturday at the close of a two-day party relations conference in Dallas, Texas, attended by about 100 Democrats from 24 states.

Just before the conference adjourned, it adopted a resolution expressing indignation over the attacks on Butler.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic Congress will cut President Eisenhower's budget requests by up to a billion dollars, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson said Saturday.

Johnson said the House Judiciary Committee would cut the President's request for $1.2 billion for the defense program which seems closest to Eisenhower's heart at this time.

Johnson said on the television program recorded for Florida stations that he is convinced there is "a general partisan political campaign to smear this Congress." He mentioned specifically the spending "label" some Republicans have hung on Congress.

Without reference to the methods used, Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the GOP national chairman, said Republicans "are on the offensive more strongly than at any time since 1952."

The result, Morton said in a Wichita, Kan., speech, has been to put the Democrats on the defensive.

More Pleasant Weather On Tap

Fair and pleasant weather was forecast today by the Weather Bureau. The temperature is expected to climb near 80 and then dip into the 70s during the night.

The outlook for Monday was fair with little change in temperature.

Saturday was a pleasant day except for the threatening clouds that passed over Kankakee from time to time. But they merely threatened, there wasn't any rain to mar the day.

Von Braun Tells U.S. Not To Look Back In Race

HONOLULU (AP)—Wernher Von Braun, Army missile expert, says the United States "can fall into a dangerous trap" in the missile race with Russia. "If we persist in looking back to see how the other fellow is running," he believes us to run just as fast as we can and let him worry about keeping pace.

Von Braun told a meeting Thursday night of the Association of the United States Army, an officer organization.

He said the United States must not look back in the missile race with Russia. "If we persist in looking back to see how the other fellow is running," he believes us to run just as fast as we can and let him worry about keeping pace.
