CONGRESS GETS HOOVER DRY PLAN

KIWANIS CLUB HAS ITS 10TH ANNIVERSARY

DANIEL WENTWORTH, CHICAGO, IS SPEAKER AT PROGRAM TODAY

TELLS CLUB NEEDS

16 Charter Members Attend Gathering At McBroome's; Cake With Ten Candles

Whoever serves his community well has no need of ancestors. The foregoing quotation from Voltaire was the theme of the address given by Attorney Daniel S. Wentworth of Chicago at the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Kankakee Kiwanis club at the "birthday" party held at noon today in McBroome's cafe.

The meeting was largely attended and in the center of the table at which 16 charter members of the club were seated was a large cake on which were ten lighted candles. The cake was cut by W. R. Hickox and served with ice cream after the dinner.

The charter members of the club are: W. A. Schneider, W. F. Brandenberg, G. W. Boyd, C. G. Beardsley, C. F. Koehler, B. B. Ferris, H. M. Stone, W. R. Hickox, Dr. E. S. Hamilton, H. J. Troup, W. C. Babst, Dr. E. L. Longpre, F. M. Lockwood, E. E. Phillips, Arthur L. Beckman and B. B. Molant. Special tribute was paid to the pioneer members of the club in a short address by W. R. Hickox who said that all honor for the accomplishments of the club is due these 16 men.

True ideals. Mr. Wentworth declared that the true Kiwanis ideals are found in the smaller towns such as Kankakee, and not in cities like Chicago. The same is true of American life in general. He also stated that the local club's advancement is not measured by its ten birthdays, but by its accomplishments during the ten years of its existence.

The speaker also pointed out defects in the club and urged the members to take "inventory" of their shortcomings often. Kiwanis is the greatest organization in Kankakee for potential community work judging by the brain power and ability of its members. He opposed membership drives and stated that a busy man does not like to waste his time with an inactive organization, but that valuable men will be glad to get into the club if it is really worth while. He also suggested that the club extend its scope beyond the city limits and all through the Kankakee trade territory.

Lytle is ill.

The speaker was introduced by W. A. Schneider, program chairman for the day. Next week's meeting will be held in the high school cafeteria. The club extended sympathy to a member, L. J. Lytle, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at St. Mary's hospital.

Mr. Wentworth was present on the night ten years ago when the local club received its charter.

The big concrete stop an' go sign on Main street was knocked to smithereens at an early hour today, an' Constable Plum don't know whether it was hit by somebody omin' home from the country club, or someone goin' home from the athletic club. Some Pithy Sentences; Enforcement

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Here are some of the pithy observations of the law enforcement commission in its first preliminary report on Prohibition.

It is impossible wholly to set off observance of the Prohibition act from the large question of the views and habits of the American people with respect to private judgment as to statutes and regulations affecting their conduct.

We must bear in mind the Puritan's objection to administration, the Whig tradition of the "right of resolution."

We must not forget the many historical examples of large-scale public disregard to laws in our past.

The reported arrest in the last fiscal year of upwards of eighty thousand persons from every part of the continental United States indicates a staggering number on what might be called focal points of infection.

To adjust the machinery of Federal administration as it has grown up for other purposes, to this huge problem of enforcement of Prohibition, is not easy, and will require much further study.

If on no other grounds than to give the law a fair trial, there are obvious and uncontested difficulties, abundantly pointed out by experience, which may, and as we think, should be met so as to make enforcement more effective.

Without prejudice to any ultimate conclusions, we think that in the interest of promoting the observance of and respect for law, the National Prohibition act may well be strengthened and its effectiveness increased.

It is anomalous that the cases are investigated and prepared by agencies entirely disconnected with and not answerable to those which are to prosecute them.

Thus, a few simple legislative enactments, in our opinion, could be made to strengthen enforcement of the National Prohibition law.

FIREMEN ANSWER TWO CALLS LAST SATURDAY NIGHT

When Frank Illinois, who resides in a small building at the rear of the Roma hotel on North Fifth avenue, took out his stovepipe Saturday evening and then failed to replace it correctly, the place caught fire.

The fire department came with companies one and two and put out the flames before much damage was done. But Mr. Illinois was arrested by Chief of Police Riley and Officer Ed Innings and locked up on a charge of being drunk.

According to Fire Chief Goudreau, the stovepipe fitted into a flue in the roof. When the tenant replaced the pipe, he failed to put it back into the flue but placed it against the roof, where the flames had direct contact with the wood. On arriving, the firemen threw the pipe and stove outside. The call was received at 4:35 o'clock.

A truck on fire in the business district later on in the evening created quite a commotion, the flames mounting so high as to appear as though a building was on fire. The truck, which is the property of Irvin, radio repairman, was in the alley at the rear of the Huff and Wolfe jewelry store and caught on fire apparently from the battery. The machine was badly damaged, but was not completely destroyed. Some radio testing instruments in the truck were also badly damaged. This fire call came in at 8:20 o'clock and was answered by companies one and two.

NAVAL PARLEY DELEGATES IN DAILY CONFAB

AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVES SPEEDING TO LONDON ON GEORGE WASHINGTON

SURVEY OF TASK

British Send Note To The French Relative The Conference

By BYRON PRICE

(Associated Press Staff Writer)
S. S. George Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—After three days of almost complete rest the American delegation to the forthcoming London naval conference today began the final round of consultation preparatory to opening of the conference one week from tomorrow.

The first meeting of the delegation since the Washington sailed last Thursday was understood to have been called for today for a general survey of the task ahead with the purpose of going into detailed subjects later.

Although these meetings will continue during the remainder of the voyage it is unlikely that there will be any public announcement regarding them since all the major points of the American position have already been determined and were announced before the delegation left Washington. The present discussions are concerned rather with methods and procedure.

The change to a program of work was reflected in the more business-like atmosphere of the delegation headquarters on the ship, now well past the tip of Newfoundland, pointed out its coasted bow north-eastward on a direct course for the English channel.

A blue-coated marine—one of the detail assigned the delegation thru the conference—took his station in the lounge outside the door of the suite of Colonel Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State and delegation chief to act as his messenger in summoning the delegates and advisers.

London, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A note from the British government to the French, published today, tacitly asked that France not come to the forthcoming London naval conference with a reconceived stand from which it might be difficult to recede.

The note reaffirmed the British expression of faith in the Kellogg anti-war pact as a basis for prospective naval limitation in contrast to the French view that the covenant of the League of Nations should be the basis.

The British note expressed preference for handling of limitation by classes, types, and categories, rather than on the French thesis of global tonnage. The British gave little encouragement to the French suggestion of a pact of non-aggression and mutual security in the Mediterranean.

The note was the answer of Mr. MacDonald's government to the French communication of December 20 in which various French views with reference to the coming conference were set forth. Although London after publication of that note saw no insurmountable obstacles to a naval agreement in its expressions, certain Washington circles regarded it as distinctly clouding in possibility of a five-power agreement.

Jasper Torreau, born and reared in Kankakee county and survived by a large number of friends and relatives in this community, died Saturday morning, January 11, at Jefferson, South Dakota.

YOUNG BOYS ON A "PARTY" WITH FRIEND'S BOOZE

Three young men, all in their teens, appeared in Judge Bert L. Fitzgerald's court this morning for the purpose of giving information regarding the source of liquor with which they are said to have put on a "party" yesterday.

Mike Stokes, Jr., 16; Casimir Wieliczka, 17; and Tony St. John, 16, are the names of the three youngsters. Samuel Riberto, 16, is said to have been a member of the party, but did not appear in court. It is said that one of the boys partook so freely that he "passed out" completely.

Young Stokes, who said he did not drink because he "wasn't feeling very well," was alleged to have supplied the liquor to his friends without cost. Young St. John signed a warrant for the search of the Stokes home, 239 East Sycamore avenue, and the place was searched by Chief of Police Riley, Officers Manning and Neuman. They report no liquor found.

Clifford Cross, 1098 West Hickory street, reported to police headquarters Saturday evening that his car had smashed into the ornamental light post at Station street and Schuyler avenue, and had damaged the post.

He claims that his car was struck by another auto driven by Mrs. Albert Goepfer, living 3 miles west and 1 1/2 miles north of Kankakee. He stated that the shock of the collision forced him into the pole.

COURT ACTION ON JUDGMENT IS DEFERRED

CASE CONTINUED ONE WEEK; WILL FILE ADDITIONAL AFFIDAVITS

$123,000 IS AT STAKE

Seven Defendants Seek To Show Lack Of Consideration On Large Note

The petition of seven former directors of the defunct American Trust and Savings bank for the dismissal of the $123,000 judgment filed against them by W. R. Hunter and W. W. Huchins has been continued for one week in circuit court by Judge A. W. DeSelm.

Both sides concluded arguments in the case Saturday evening and Attorney L. N. Legris, representing the seven men in the judgment, requested more time to submit additional affidavits in which to show a lack of consideration in the accommodation note which the seven signed. The court set the hour for hearing such affidavits at 10 o'clock next Saturday morning.

The defendants contend that they signed the note, on which judgment was rendered, with the understanding that other directors would also sign. They claim the note is nullified by the failure of the other directors to live up to their promise and sign with them.

Those against whom the judgment was filed include F. E. Legris, Sr., F. E. Legris, Jr., J. W. Mortell, Sr., Philip T. Lambert, F. P. Somers and A. S. Legris.

The filing of this judgment on Nov. 27 last resulted in the bank being closed by State Auditor Oscar Nelson one month later and in Lambert declaring himself a voluntary bankrupt for the protection of creditors. Shortly after the filing of the judgment statements were made by Hunter and Huchins that the judgment dispute had been satisfactorily adjusted and that the affairs of the bank were in a sound condition. The depositors, however, continued to withdraw funds rapidly until stopped by the state examiner.

About 20 Kankakee county farmers, members of the Soil and Crop association, left this morning to attend the agricultural short course being held this week at the University of Illinois.

DEPOSIT BOX REVEALS NO MISSING CASH

PAPERS, HOWEVER, CONNECT A. R. WILLIAMS WITH BANK TELLER

IN CIRCUIT COURT

Humphreys Case To Jury At Noon; New Case Started At 1:30

Although no large amount of money or bonds was found in the safety deposit box of A. R. Williams at the City National bank when it was opened by court order Saturday evening, authorities are still of the belief that Williams is none other than Albert Seaman, missing New York bank teller who absconded with over $31,000.

All that was found in the box was a few insurance policies which tend to connect the man known here as Williams with Seaman. Attorney Benjamin Gower has not submitted his report of the contents of the box to Judge DeSelm, but stated that nothing of any great value was found therein.

The $10,000 damage suit brought by the estate of B. J. McMan against Mrs. Callista Humphreys was given to the jury at noon today and court attaches anticipated a verdict before night.

The trial of Jesse J. Burson and others vs. Thomas Prange, administrator, was started at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. The afternoon was spent in selecting the jurors to try the case.

George Guertin, indicted by the grand jury for rape, was expected to be arraigned in court this evening. Four other defendants in criminal actions for the current term of court were arraigned before Judge DeSelm Saturday evening and must file their pleas at 5 o'clock tomorrow night.

Killer Arraigned. Lawrence Branigan indicted with Clarence Bertrand for the murder of Fred Strahl, was one of the four criminals arraigned Saturday. Copies of four indictments against him for murder and assault with intent to rob, individually and jointly, were given him by the court. He was told to be prepared to enter his plea this week. Branigan stated that he had retained the firm of Butt and Taylor as his attorneys.

Attorney Victor N. Cardow was appointed by the court to defend William Condon, indicted for forgery. Condon stated that he was unable to employ an attorney to defend himself. Marvel Denis and Amos Cross, charged with burglary and larceny, were also given copies of their indictments. They are represented by Attorney T. S. Sawyer.

W. B. BURSON DIES SEVEN WEEKS AFTER WIFE IS SUMMONED

Wellington B. Burson, age 32, died suddenly Saturday evening at the home of his son, M. R. Burson, 285 North Dearborn avenue. Death was due to a chronic heart ailment and advanced age. He resided in Kankakee the past 25 years.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the Phillips and Friday funeral home where the body will lie in state until the hour of the services. The Rev. W. H. Craine of the First Methodist church will officiate and burial will be in Mount Grove cemetery.

The death of Mr. Burson closed a long and useful career in the service of mankind. During his younger years he was a school teacher in Indiana. He was later admitted to the bar and practiced law. He also studied at Valparaiso university and was qualified as a civil engineer. He served as city engineer at Streator, Ill., for 17 years and was later employed by the New York Central railroad.

Mr. Burson was born at Van Wert, Ohio, July 8, 1897. He was married to Mary Lucy Uperash at Winamac, Ind., March 29, 1917.

Mrs. Burson had been ill for many years prior to her death and her husband had been her constant companion and nurse during her long illness. Her death is believed to have materially contributed toward his falling health which resulted in his demise.

Mr. Burson is survived by two sons, M. R. Burson of 285 North Dearborn and L. G. Burson of 136 South Rosewood avenue. Both are New York Central engineers. He also leaves one brother, Judge George Burson of Winamac, Ind. Three other brothers were killed in the Civil war.

ENFORCEMENT COMMISSION SUBMITS REPORT DEALING WITH FEDERAL PROHIBITION

Executive In Brief Message

Commission's Dry Law Report

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Three days before the tenth anniversary of prohibition, President Hoover today submitted to congress an array of opinions and recommendations for strengthening enforcement which brought that question into even greater relief than any of the recent controversies that have surrounded it.

In the main these recommendations prepared by the law enforcement commission, Attorney General Mitchell and Secretary Mellon, were: Reorganization of the Federal court structure so as to give relief from congestion.

Consolidation of the various agencies engaged in prevention of the smuggling of liquor, narcotics, other merchandise and aliens over the American frontiers.

Provision of adequate court and prosecuting machinery. Expansion of Federal prisons and reorganization of parole and other practices.

In submitting these recommendations the president said that "while some sections of the American people may disagree upon the merits of some of the questions involved, every responsible citizen supports the fundamental principle that the law of the land must be enforced."

The law enforcement commission, in this, its first and preliminary report, reserved judgment as to its ultimate prohibition conclusions.

"If on no other grounds than to give the law a fair trial," it said, "there are obvious and uncontested difficulties, pointed out by experience, which may, and as we think, should be met to make enforcement more effective."

On the subject of observance of the commission said "it is wholly impossible to get off observance of the prohibition act from the large question of the views and habits of the American people with respect to private judgment as to statutes and regulations affecting their conduct."

On the enforcement, the commission, in a report dated November 21, 1929, directed attention that there were 18,700 miles of American boundary and short line "at every point of which infection is possible."

"There are no satisfactory estimates of the number of roads into the United States from Mexico and Canada," the commission added. "The number of smuggling roads from Canada is reported as at least 1,000, and on the Mexican border there are entrances into the United States at most points along a boundary of 1,744 miles."

To meet this situation Secretary Mellon in recommendations approved by the president, proposed that the entry into the United States of all persons should be prohibited except at points of entry designated by the president.

The treasury secretary said that a unified border patrol under the coast guard, which patrols the coastal lines, should be created to guard the border between the designated points of entry and prevent the entry of all persons and merchandise.

At the immigration, quarantine and other federal offices of entry the usual customs, immigration, quarantine and other federal officers would be stationed to see to it that all of the laws were enforced.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Reserving judgment on its ultimate prohibition conclusions, the law enforcement commission—in a preliminary report sent to congress today—recommended that the National Prohibition law be immediately strengthened in the interest of promoting observance of and respect for all law.

"If on no other grounds than to give the law a fair trial," the commission said, "there are obvious and uncontested difficulties, pointed out by experience, which may, and as we think, should be met so as to make enforcement more effective."

These difficulties were declared by the Hoover commission to be: Division of enforcement between the Treasury and Justice departments.

Possibilities of defeating padlock injunctions by means of concealing ownership of property used for manufacture and sale of illicit liquor. Congestion of petty prosecutions in the federal courts leading to wholesale disposition of accumulated cases under circumstances impairing the dignity of and injuring respect for those tribunals.

"Without prejudice to any ultimate conclusions," the report said, "we think that in the interest of promoting observance of and respect for law, the National prohibition law may well be strengthened and its effectiveness increased in these important particulars."

As to observance, the commission declared that "it is wholly impossible to get off observance of the prohibition act from the large question of the views and habits of the American people with respect to private judgment as to statutes and regulations affecting their conduct."

"We must not forget the many historical examples of large-scale public disregard of laws in our past," the report said, adding that we must bear in mind the Puritan's objection to administration, the Whig tradition of "right of resolution," the conception of natural rights, classical in our policy, the democratic tradition of individual participation in sovereignty.

Asserting that as to enforcement there were no reliable figures to show the size of the problem, the commission said the reported arrests in the last fiscal year of upwards of eighty thousand persons from every part of the Continental United States "indicates a staggering number of what might be called focal points of infection."

Attention was directed that there also were 18,700 miles of boundary and shore lines for the United States "at every point of which infection is possible."

"The number of smuggling roads from Canada is reported as at least 1,000, it was added.

"To deal with the enforcement problem of this size and spread," the report continued, "the federal government can draw only on a portion of the personnel of three federal services, whose staffs aggregate about 23,000.

"Approximately one-tenth of this number is in the investigating section of the prohibition unit. Of the

SUNDOWN STORIES

The Little Black Clock with its magic powers of turning the time forward or backward, was doing as he had promised and was turning the time back to the time of the day when the clock was first made.

Only a little while before the children had gone to a picnic with him up the air, and now he had turned the time back to the time of the day when the clock was first made.

The pictures were not so very remarkable. They were not much better than pictures John and Peggy had seen in the papers.

John and Peggy watched one man making a picture of a goat, and another making a picture of a goat, and another making a picture of a goat.

"You're seeing the first writing in the world," said the Little Black Clock.

"Up to this time there has been nothing written. No one has known how to write. Not one at all."

"But these people are writing, and they have no letters, yet they are writing pictures to show what words they mean."

"The man who cut the picture of the goat is writing the word 'goat'."

"The children thought how wonderful it might be to be able to write without having to learn how to spell or write letters, and yet they thought it might be difficult to have any more writing than this."

It was rather a puzzling question!
