LINK HOFFA TO PAYOFFS

Report Blasts Teamster Head

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Rackets Committee, firing the second blast of a double-barrelled attack, charged today that Teamster President James R. Hoffa used union funds "to pay off a long-standing debt to the Chicago underworld."

The committee also charged by inference that Hoffa received "some or all" of a $17,500 cash payoff made by Detroit laundry owners to obtain a favorable union contract.

President Will Address Nation

To Urge Effective Legislation On Radio And TV

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will make a nationwide broadcast Thursday to urge Congress to pass legislation to regulate radio and television.

The first section, filed prematurely Tuesday after its contents leaked to newsmen, reviewed 21 cases in which Hoffa was linked with crime, corruption and Communist elements.

THE COMMITTEE predicted that Hoffa "will successfully destroy the decent labor movement."

major radio and TV networks.

Press secretary James C. Hager said the White House had asked for 15 minutes on the networks "to permit the President to talk to the nation on the need of the Congress to enact this year effective labor reform legislation."

Hoffa said he would "place my record of achievements for the workers beside the record of Jack Kennedy (Sen. John F. Kennedy D-Mass.) or Bob Kennedy (Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy) anytime."

Another attempt to get a headline in Jack Kennedy's campaign for president was made by the House of Representatives Tuesday night and Paul A. Roy, Director of Labor Service, was formally sworn in as a new fire chief to his duties immediately.

The contract signing and swearing in of the chief brought to a formal close a disagreement which had been hanging fire for 18 months. At the last board meeting on July 21, the village board had agreed to a contract prepared by attorneys for the village and fire district and

In our form of government the supreme authority rests with the people and they exercise that authority by casting ballots on election day.

A typical campaign that precedes an election in this country is conducted cleanly, vigorously, with every effort bent on winning. Once the ballots have been counted, the issues decided, everyone gets back on the job accepting the decision of the majority.

On Monday electors in Kankakee School District 111 voted to select two members for the school board. These two, Mrs. Ruth Topping and Wilbur Moore, will now join the four other board members in the important task of directing affairs of the district.

The responsibilities of the board members have multiplied in recent years. The aims of education are higher than ever before. It seems obvious that the nation's destiny in the nuclear age of space may well depend on the superior product of our educational system.

Along with the growing demand for this superlative product has come problems created by increasing population and enrollment, and mounting costs of operation. Competition for the tax dollar is greater than ever before. Just as the schools seek more tax money so do other units of government that wish to provide the services that the people demand.

Nor has the task of the school board member been simplified with the finding of any sure formula for attaining these high educational goals. In fact, even among educators, there are varying theories as to educational methods and techniques.

School board members must seek expertise in finance, spending millions of dollars that are collected from the people through taxes. They are concerned with the personnel work, employing the teachers and other staff members who guide the education and training of our children.

They are called on to decide matters concerned with state and federal legislation as it involves the schools; they are administrators and policy-makers; they must be acquainted with building costs and real estate matters; they need to know something about transportation, competitive athletics, the selection of school books and many other facets of public education.

School board members are obligated to take leadership to provide ever-improved educational programs and facilities for learning. Although sensitive to the wishes of the general public, they must maintain independence of action and independence in policy-making.

Serving as they do without pay, the school board member personalities to the highest degree the accepted image of a public-spirited citizen.

Remembering To Remember

As individuals we all prize the human capacity for memory. Yet in this bustling age, with its intense glare upon the immediate, there is need for more reliance upon memory than we now exhibit in many aspects of life.

In our own lives, in our links with family, and in the larger settings of community and nation, it is important that we draw upon memory to provide a vital continuity.

For that man is most likely to live fullest who brings to bear upon his immediate life the great weight of experience pulled not only from his own memory but from the stored memory piled up by humanity in the long course of history.

Men gain a legitimate sense of security from these links. It is comforting, rewarding, balancing to know—and to keep remembering—the story of one's own family. Your life is steadily enriched by the warmth of family traditions, by the feeling of continuity they give.

That feeling is valuable, too, in the wider context of existence. Your life as a worker, as a citizen, even as a pursuer of the arts of leisure, takes on more meaning and enjoyment if you see it in the perspective of time.

Those who make no attachments to the past, who ignore the ties to tradition in family, in their daily endeavors of whatever kind, in the national setting, miss a crucial part of the substance of their lives. And their personal contribution to the stream of history is correspondingly diminished.

Men who try to live to themselves, and wholly for the present, may pride themselves that they are sturdy islands, self-sufficient. But they are forgetting that the most salient single fact about an island is its isolation.

Only a sad ignorance can find self-sufficiency in its lonesome detachment.

End To The Dust In Moscow

Life was not exactly a bed of roses to begin with for the personnel charged with putting America's best foot forward at the U.S. cultural exhibit in Moscow.

The numerous minor but irritating obstacles from Red officials, and the goings-over in the Soviet press were bad enough.

But then came the dust.

Dust from a crumbling concrete floor which had not had time to set properly.

Dust that covered guides, spectators and exhibits alike.

Americans and Russians' knowledge of each other is heavy enough without the added handicap of dust.

But an asphalt topping has now been laid over the floors. Let's hope that the ground is finally prepared for some good hard selling of America to the critical Russian citizen.

Marriage And Work

"We can't seem to make our daughter see the importance of equipping herself to earn a living," writes the mother of a high school graduate.

"When we talk to her about going on to college or taking a business course she simply says, 'If I want to be a housewife and am not interested in a career, why should I bother?' Can you give us an answer to that? We're stumped completely."

Get your daughter to list all of the married women she knows, both old and young and put a star by the names of all of them who are now working or have had to work sometime after they were married.

Get her to notice the many reasons why they continued to work or went back to work. Husband not making enough to support a family. Husband ill. Husband dead. Wife bored after children are gone from home. Wife separated or divorced.

The number of wives who are working or have had to work during some time during their marriage should be an eye-opener to your daughter.

So should the many varied reasons why they found it necessary to earn a pay check.

Still another eye-opener should come from having her compare the types of jobs of those who were "trained to earn a living" with those who married right out of high school with no particular job training at all.

It shouldn't take her long to figure out that today marriage is no guarantee that a woman will never have to earn a pay check. And that when a woman has to work she has a far better chance of getting a good job that pays well if she has training that fits her for a certain kind of work.

Khrushchev's Visit A Futile Gesture

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower certainly deserves an "A" for effort in trying to maintain world peace—but his decision to invite Soviet Premier Khrushchev to visit the United States will probably prove, through no fault of the President, as futile a gesture as the "summit" conference of 1955 at Geneva.

Memories are short, but only four years have passed since Mr. Khrushchev, then Premier of the Soviet Union, visited the United States. He was the first Soviet leader to visit the United States since the end of World War II.

At that time, the Soviet Union was a superpower, and the United States was a superpower. The two superpowers were engaged in a cold war, and the world was in a state of tension.

Mr. Khrushchev's visit to the United States was a gesture of goodwill, but it was also a gesture of defiance. He was telling the United States that the Soviet Union was not a satellite of the United States, but an equal superpower.

His visit was a success in that it showed that the Soviet Union was willing to engage in dialogue with the United States. But it was also a failure in that it did not lead to any significant changes in the cold war.

Today, the situation is the same. The Soviet Union is still a superpower, and the United States is still a superpower. The cold war is still on, and the world is still in a state of tension.

Mr. Khrushchev's visit to the United States was a futile gesture. It did not lead to any significant changes in the cold war, and it did not lead to any significant changes in the world.

Nixon At Armageddon

Three facts seem to stand out clearly in all the fold-out of the Nixon tour in Russia. I use the phrase, fold-out, not critically but factually, because the nature of a state visit is, what it always has been, a hastily arranged tour for political or economic purposes. Therefore, the student of the current situations must seek beyond the parade for results and accomplishments.

1. The main objective, to a summit conference has been that Nikita Khrushchev uses every event not only for propaganda purposes but for his private type of buoyancy and in the end, nothing is accomplished. The first Geneva summit conference on Germany (1955) was a total failure for this reason. Khrushchev closed it into absurdity.

However, Khrushchev was then competing with Bulganin for leadership. He actually barged into that conference, the official delegate being Bulganin. Also, he had not yet broken the power of Malinikov, Molotov and Kaganovich and had plenty of opposition in Moscow. He posed a role and got away with it, but he spoiled the chance for further conference.

2. Nixon has handled himself in Soviet Russia with rare skill. He showed no fear of crowds; he exhibited unusual dexterity in impromptu debate; he turned the peace propaganda wheel into an American instrument; he possesses one of the stuffed-shirt qualities which foreigners expect from American officials. Enormous numbers of Russians had an opportunity to see him and the general report is that they liked him. Whereas the Russian propaganda machine was at work to trip him into anger or error, he avoided or rather evaded all their little tricks, including the bum cement they used on the American fair buildings. It takes a special kind of personality to keep one's temper without losing one's dignity—Nixon apparently has it, or has trained himself to meet this type of situation.

3. Whereas both Mikoyan and Kozlov, who were in the United States, saw everything they wanted to see, the Russians tried to limit Nixon's visit. They did to a certain extent. But he fought them tooth and nail and the Russians discovered that they were not dealing with a samby-samby Westerner who fear war more than life itself. Both Vice President Nixon and Adm. Rickover told them where they got off when they tried to cover up or change the rules or play the usual babyish tricks which seem so important to Russians and make them not feared but distrusted throughout the world. They discovered that Americans are not easily pushed around. They can be generous but not suckers. Nixon reacted as much as he could out of the agreements concerning these visits. And it has all been beneficial to this country.

Fundamentally, the reasons for the visits of Mikoyan, Kozlov and Nixon are identical. The United States and Soviet Russia have, for a year, been close to war—as the tank, as John Foster Dulles said, "the sword of Damocles" hangs over the world. The objective is to use psychological steps to minimize the prospect of war. Such a program could be worked out without comment except that the Russians like tricks. They are, after all, a nation of chess players.

THE RESULT OF THIS is a different picture of an American than has appeared in the literature and cartoons in Russia. Here is no fat capitalist with a huge cigar in his mouth, green dollars falling out of his pockets, demanding war for his own profit. Here is a youngish, proletarian, the son of a grocer, a grocer in the country, asking for peace. It unquestionably will lessen the Russian people's fears of the United States.

Voice Of The People

BOURBONNAIS—After reading the letter published in the Sunday Journal, I feel that I should write and say that my experience at St. Mary's hospital was always pleasant, and I am inclined to wonder what makes people think they will be getting any better service from the "new hospital," although I am not opposed to a new hospital.

From what I read, we will continue the same doctors there as at St. Mary's, and it remains to be seen if there will be any better service. In an emergency, every one seems to become frustrated except the people who are not involved, by consequence we become angry when we think things move too slowly. Perhaps we think we are charged more than we should be. I would like to see a doctor or a hospital at a time like this.

So I would like to pass along a little quotation I read years ago. "To be not understood is the common fate of all, at times. Before you pass judgment of another, empty your mind of any foregone conclusion."

Perhaps we should always try to understand before we understand.

Faint Heart Never Wins

One East stuck in his nonvulnerable diamond overall North and South had no chance to buy the hand for four spades. West had too much distribution.

West decided a club cue bid was in order.

North might have gone right into the doubling business and if he had done so he would have picked up 100 points but North hated to give up a vulnerable game and he also thought he might get East and West on higher.

East wanted no part of any further defense and he decided he thought he might have a good chance to beat five spades assuming his partner's cue bid had been honest. So East doubled.

East was right. He won the opening diamond lead and gave his partner a club ruff whereupon the ace of hearts set the hand.

Also, West felt that even a slam was possible for his side once East raised his heart bid. Therefore, when South jumped to four spades

It's picnic time and nobody knows this better than the city dweller, who with many others heads for the wide open spaces for outdoor fun, frolic and, cookery.

Of course, highway congestion can often lend a damper to the festivities and actually think of the time that could be saved by planning this summer fun right at your own home.

Home or away, a picnic menu must be planned and this is where the homemaker puts her creative abilities to work. Let's not be stereotyped in planning a summer menu... brighten up these hot, humid summer days with a new idea in picnic planning.

Starting with the meat, what will be your choice? Did you ever consider a grilled center-cut ham slice? If not, here's your chance to try something new as well as experimenting with an unusual type of outdoor grill.

Most portable grills are designed for outdoor cooking because of size. However, on the market today a small charcoal-burning grill is available which is specifically designed for porch or patio use and can be picked up and will travel at a moment's notice.

This grill is called an hibachi and has a Japanese origin. It is just the perfect size for four hamburgers, a center-cut ham slice or three to four chops.

There is no fancy preparation for this meat cut. Place a pinch of salt and pepper on each side of the ham slice and cook for about 10 to 15 minutes on the first side and about 10 minutes on the second side.

The accompaniment for the ham slice is hidden in foil-wrapped packages. The anxious dinner Sherry Herns.

Invitation Improves Red, U.S. Relations

MOSCOW (UPI)—The climate of Soviet-American relations improved sharply and suddenly with the announcement that President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev will exchange visits.

The mutual agreement, reached during Vice President Richard M. Nixon's tour of eastern Europe, effectively consummated Khrushchev's often-expressed desire for a face-to-face meeting with Eisenhower.

THE STORY WAS headline news from Berlin to Bangkok, and would reaction was generally favorable. Even those who held no high hope of agreement felt that it would be a good thing for Khrushchev to see the United States and gauge for himself its desire for peace.

Khrushchev is a firm believer in the advantage of personal contacts between world leaders. There was widespread belief that his meetings with Eisenhower will be a prelude to Big Four summit talks.

THE ENTHUSIASTIC reception that greeted Nixon on most stops in his tour of Russia also was a favorable augury for the President's visit. The vice president was virtually unknown in Russia before Saturday to visit Mrs. Colvin's mother, Mrs. Tille Bruner, and other relatives and friends.

Miss Geraldine Olson was dismissed from St. James Hospital, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., on Sunday and went to the home of her sister, Mrs. Irene Hall, Cabery. She will remain here to convalesce at the home of Mrs. Joe Angimman.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gray of Monticello, Ind., visited Mrs. Tille Bruner on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Melby and children of Williamsport, Md., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Melby's sister, Mrs. Tille Bruner, and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Gish and family of Milwaukee, Wis., were weekend guests at the home of his mother, Mrs. Cecilia Gish.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Adams and their guests, the Keith Snelsons, Liverpool, N. Y., Mr. and Charles Adams of Bloomington, the Corwin Berry family of Peoria and the Lloyd Lovell family of Cabery held a picnic supper Thursday in the village park.

Mrs. Walter Scott and Mrs. Della Hertz of Wellington visited Mrs. Opal Kordaske on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hanson and daughter, Linda, of Urbana spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Hanson's mother and grandmother, Mrs. Pearl Bray and Mrs. Harriet Drew.

Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Tille Bruner included the Harold Colvins of Miller, S. D., Mr. and Mrs. Ouis Smith of Pontiac, Randy and Greg Mulberger of Columbus, Ohio.

Now Many Wear FALSE TEETH

With Little Worry

For a long time, people have been afraid of wearing false teeth dropping, slipping, or wobbling. FALSE TEETH, however, are now made of a new material, called "Denture Bond," which is so strong and so comfortable that it is almost impossible to get them loose or broken. They are also made in a way that makes them look just like the real teeth.

Seek Wild-Eyed Stowaway From Hold Of Ship

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police and immigration officials searched today for a wild-eyed man who burst from the steaming hold of a tropical freighter and fled the memory of a stowaway companion who had died.

The fearful man was uncovered by a crew of tough longshoremen who fell back in horror at the fifty apparition which had just opened and addressed them in a raving whisper.

He snatched a roll from the hand of a dockman and wolfed it down. The longshoremen silently pointed the direction he asked and watched him head for water—and freedom.

None moved to stop him.

"He looked like a maniac," one said.

SEVEN HOURS later, late Tuesday afternoon, the crew found the other half of the story—the naked body of a man, his gaunt hand clutching his parched throat, wedged in the cargo at the bottom of the hold.

Officials said the man who survived the gruesome voyage apparently died so because he had strength to climb to the top of the cargo where the heat and fumes were less intense.

The longshoremen said he told them, in a dry whisper: "I've got to see my family here."

Fifty, and unknown, his hair 15 degrees during the voyage. There was no evidence the two men had boarded with any supply of either food or water.

BESIDE THE dead man, who apparently had pulled off his own clothes in his dying agonies of thirst, was a Cuban passport in the name of Sergio Manuel Ceporoy Miro, 31. Immigration officials said the man to whom the passport had been issued was arrested here for indecent exposure last December and had voluntarily returned to Cuba on the one-way passport.

La Salle founded the city of New Orleans in 1718.

Continue Hearing In Tregoff Case

WEST COVINA, Calif. (AP)—The preliminary hearing for Carole Tregoff on a charge she helped her physician—her husband—murder his wife has been put off a week.

The hearing was reset for Tuesday so Miss Tregoff's recently hired attorney could familiarize himself with the case.

The 25-year-old divorcee went to court for the first time in the service. Last Sunday Dr. Charles J. Kinrade, retired pastor and former professor at Illinois Wesleyan University, was guest speaker.

The pastor, the Rev. O. J. Hensley, said Miss Tregoff testified she and her family are vacationing during August in Florida and along the East Coast.

Rev. Gustafson To Speak At Wesley Church Sunday

The Rev. David Gustafson, assistant pastor of First Methodist Church, will be guest speaker at Sunday services at Wesley Methodist Church, 301 N. Main St., Sunday, Aug. 9.

Regular services will be held at 9:55 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. in the church. The Rev. Gustafson is a member of the Wesleyan University faculty.

Attaining tenderfoot rank were Vernon Bertrand, Terry Hawkins and Leroy Smith. Blaine Burson, cum laude, presented neckties and rings to former Cub Scouts.

Harold Posing and Herman Rodgers presented a troop flag to the group. Ray Toepke, troop chairman, presented the awards.

County Fair To Open Saturday

Whatever a person's interests—it's quite likely that sometime between Aug. 8 and 13 he can have them satisfied at the Kankakee County Fair.

The annual attraction, which opens Saturday, features a varied program in sport and entertainment that will range from a championship rodeo to motor auto racing—with a barn dance broadcast, talent show, horse pulling, tractor pulling and a tractor economy contest sandwiched between the events.

One of the first activities and one of the most important events of the fair, however, will not take place in front of the grandstand. On opening day a group of judges will gather at the radio tent to select the 1959 Miss Kankakee County Fair. The queen and her attendants then will reign over the week of festivities making appearances at the grandstand program each evening.

ADDED IMPORTANCE to the queen selection this year is the fact that she also will represent the county in statewide competition in January to find the "Miss Illinois County Fair."

The fourth annual championship rodeo is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday in three performances—and as riders from the West arrive to add points for the national championship there will be a hold barred. The rodeo performances are set for Saturday afternoon, Sunday afternoon and evening.

Saturday night the rodeo will give way to a direct broadcast from the fairgrounds of the National Barn Dance over a Chicago radio station. Two broadcasts are scheduled, one at 7:30 o'clock and the other at 9:30 o'clock.

The rodeo will feature guest appearances of famed cowboy singer and actor Rex Allen, and it's quite likely the movie and television "Master Cowboy" will also be shown.

SUNDAY'S ACTIVITIES will also include an innovation at the fair as a non-denominational church service will be held at 10:30 a.m. in front of the grandstand.

Fair officials won't waste any time on Aug. 10 in presenting a crowd pleaser for the fairgoers. At mid-morning of the day the second annual tractor economy run will be held with entries open to the world.

The emphasis on local competition will continue throughout the day as the Fair Association attempts another "first," a talent show.

House Group To Complete Civil Rights Bill Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Judiciary Committee leaders said they expect to finish work today on a civil rights bill.

That prediction came from both Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) and Rep. William M. McCulloch (R-Ohio), senior GOP member, despite a last-minute effort to reopen the issue of racial discrimination in government contract employment.

With Congress expected to adjourn within a month, time is running out for passage of a bill to broaden the 1957 Civil Rights Act, especially in fields related to school integration. Even if the committee finishes a bill today for House action, it faces a possible Southern delay in the Rules Committee. Civil rights legislation has made slower progress in the Senate.

SOME REPUBLICAN members of the House Judiciary Committee more than a week ago joined Southerners in knocking the government contract provision out of the pending bill. President Eisenhower had proposed establishment of a commission to push enforcement of the provisions in government contracts against job discrimination.

It was learned, however, that at recent closed committee sessions there has been talk of reconsidering this vote and restoring the commission section.

Chairman Celler confirmed that.

Last year $10 billion was spent for new construction in this country. Housing equipment and supply companies invested over $28 million in daily newspapers to insure that they reached the major portion of their market.

State Warns Local Areas Of Vice Problems

DANVILLE—Two state officials disclosed Tuesday that Danville and Vermilion County law enforcement authorities have been warned twice about evidence of gambling and prostitution.

State Police Chief William Morris revealed that he has written two letters to city and county officials asking that action be taken on the vice complaints.

Joseph P. Bibb, state director of public safety, under whose jurisdiction the state police operate, declared:

"Our policy in such matters is to send a series of three letters to law enforcement officials in the county or city concerned. Two letters have been sent by Chief Morris. If a third letter is needed, we give local authorities a final warning to clean up the situation. If no action is taken, then we will go over their heads and order raids by state troopers."

Morris explained that state police investigators make monthly surveys in every county in the state.

If they find something that needs to be taken care of, we send the first letter to the mayor, police chief or sheriff," he added.

Should the situation prevail the next month, Morris said another warning letter is sent—with state-directed raids following up on the third.

2 Boys Hurt In Accidents Involving Cars

A boy hitting a ride on the back of a truck this morning was taken to St. Mary's Hospital for treatment of a skinned nose and abrasions to his left arm when he fell off the truck and a 3-year-old boy is being treated at the hospital for a head injury received when he ran in front of a car Tuesday night.

Most seriously injured was Danny Deichand, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Deschard of 303 N. Cottage Ave. He was humped on the head and had a possible broken foot.

According to police who investigated, Danny suddenly jumped out of his wagon and ran across Cottage avenue near his home at 6:27 p.m. Tuesday. Dorris I. Love of 559 S. Moore Ave., who was driving along the street, turned into the opposite lane of traffic to attempt to avoid the boy but was unsuccessful. The boy's father took him to the hospital.

At 10:20 a.m. today John Francis Raymond, 5, fell while trying to hitch a ride on the back of a truck as it pulled out of a parking space in the 200 block of S. East avenue. Raymond, who lives at 290 S. East Ave., was taken to St. Mary's Hospital by the fire department ambulance.

14 Governors Ask Highway Compromise

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Fourteen Republican governors lined up today in support of a proposal that President Eisenhower compromise with the Democratic-dominated Congress to keep the interstate highway program going.

The GOP executives agreed informally at a meeting called by Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois to support a strongly-worded resolution by their party.

The House Ways and Means Committee has not been able to agree on any formula to provide the necessary funds. Members have fiddled with several proposals, including a billion dollar bond issue. But the avoidance of a gasoline tax increase had Republican as well as Democratic support.

The judging rings behind the grandstand will be used for the dairy and beef shows. Sheep and swine show rings are set up in the livestock tents.

A THIRD CATTLE shed has been added to the permanent buildings at the fairgrounds. The new building is 34 by 300 feet and is located between the two other buildings of the same size.

The county Home Bureau women have erected a permanent kitchen and have a steel roofed eating area now under construction.

21 Divisions Central Europe's Guard

By BIRMINGHAM (AP)—France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and the United Kingdom are to contribute 21 divisions to the NATO shield which will guard Central Europe.

The seven German divisions are to be reduced to 13 divisions. The other three are to be reduced to 13 divisions.

Gen. Valuy noted that the British and Belgian forces contain large numbers of foot soldiers. In these days of atomic battlefield weapons, the NATO shield is a formidable force.

Gen. Valuy was asked what he considered his major problem. "My major problem is to have enough men in addition, there are seven 15 and 12 per cent of warlike men. East German divisions, 95,000 strength. Next: The Soviet."

Under NATO policy this land force would meet any Soviet aggression as close to the frontiers of the 70-mile long Iron Curtain as possible and hold them there until the rest of Europe could mobilize.

In discussing NATO policy a briefing officer at Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers, Europe (SHAPE), said, "I've had no offensive plans at this headquarters."

The job of these 21 divisions is to guard the three main invasion routes into the heart of NATO from the east—the North European plain, the Middle European gap in central Germany, and the Danube Valley in the south.

The shield force consists on paper of five U.S. divisions, four from the United Kingdom, two from France, seven from Germany, two from Belgium, and one of a Canadian division.

Gen. Jean-Etienne Valluy, who has been a French soldier for 42 of his 60 years, is commander in chief of the Allied forces in central Europe with headquarters at Fontainebleau.

In an interview, Gen. Valluy said that if he had to undertake a land war in Europe tomorrow there would be three divisions he would like to have.

CLIFTON (JNS)—Installation of new mercury vapor street lights for Clifton has been delayed again because of a meeting of the village board Monday night. The Westinghouse Electric Co., Danbury, Conn., reported a delay because of production difficulties. Twelve new ornaments for the lights are to be installed on Main street.

Officials from the Central Illinois Public Service Co. met with the village board to sign a new street lighting contract to be installed when the new lights are installed. The board approved a request for a new street light at W. First Ave. and Forest St.

The board decided to call for bids removal of 15 trees from village property. Bidders were asked to submit bids in writing with location of trees and good of village insurance with Shirley Platt, village clerk. Bids reported that last year $94.50 was spent for tree removal.

The fire department monthly report showed one fire call answered, a grass fire on the Illinois Central railroad right-of-way. The fire was 500 feet of hose and six firemen's hats were reported.

It was announced that bids would be opened Aug. 11 for maintenance work on 16 streets in the arterial street system. The work is to include 7,500 gallons of asphalt, 4,500 gallons of road oil, chips and base alone.

The board asked the tiling committee to speed up any repairs needed before fall. It was reported they had difficulty in getting tiling equipment.

It was also reported to the board that insurance had been purchased covering all village workmen, property and equipment.

Convicts Hold Iowa Poet And Family In Home Eight Hours

ANAMOSA, Iowa (AP)—Iowa police today held a poet and his family in their home by two knife-wielding escaped convicts.

The prisoners, recaptured, were back behind bars today at Anamosa Men's Reformatory and may face additional years on their sentences.

At 3 p.m. Monday, Mrs. Engle was in the kitchen. The men entered, an hour later their daughter, Sara, 14, returned from a horseback ride. She became the second captive. Then the father and daughter Mary, 11, returned from Iowa City where Engle teaches.

THE CONVICTS, Donald Sills, 25, and Larry Morrison, 21, had taken all of the kitchen knives. These were their only weapons.

The Engles sat on chairs while one of the men searched unoccupied drawers in a bedroom. Engle urged his family to remain calm.

"We were scared to death," Mary said. "They promised they would let us go if we gave them $500."

The men were bound and gagged by the convicts before they fled. Sara had smuggled a pair of scissors to a nearby bridge and used them to cut herself free, then freed her parents and sister.

The telephone line to the home had been cut, and the Engles went to a neighbor's home to notify authorities.

The prisoners were captured Tuesday.

Saddle Bronc Riding. In the old days, the bronc buster was a itinerant specialist, traveling through the ranch country breaking wild or new horses to the saddle for so much a head. Today, the saddle bronc rider is still an itinerant specialist. But he no longer breaks horses to ride. Others bring their head between their knees, requiring a rein much longer than average. If the rein is too long, the slack will throw the rider badly off balance and the horse will do the rest. Five time bronc riding champion Casey Tibbs got started breaking wild ranch horses for his rancher father while still a school kid. His friend and closest rival for the title 100 most of those five years, former champion Bob Coppenhaver, was playing hockey from school at 12 to work the wild horse breaks along the Columbia river. But there's as much difference between breaking a horse to ride and winning a rodeo bronc as there is between little league baseball and the world series. Saddle bronc riding is an exciting sport. The things that would seem a help to the bronc rider—the stirrups, the saddle, and the rein denied to bareback riders—may make the business of sticking the horse a little easier. But they also make it considerably more complicated. Take the rein for example. It's caught under a rolling bronc. That's why most bronc riders saw the horn off their regulation association saddles. Like the bareback rider, the saddle bronc man must spur his horse over the shoulders, first jump out of the chute. And the scoring is the same. With the horse marked from 65 to 85 points according to how well he bucks and the cowboy scored from 1 to 20 on how well he keeps spurting and in general control of the situation. The ride is longer, lasting ten seconds as opposed to the eight second limit in bareback riding. If the bronc stomper pairs off with a horse he's unfamiliar with, he'll ask another cowboy where to take the rein. The information is never refused and always accurate, even though it may help a rival beat the man who gives it. In any other sport this kind of sportsmanship would probably win a trophy. In rodeo it's taken for granted. The stirrups too are only half help and half hazard. They give the rider more balance and help absorb the shock of the bucks, but the stirrups, the saddle, and the rein denied to bareback riders—may make the business of sticking the horse a little easier. But they also make it considerably more complicated. Take the rein for example. It's

It's Fair Time—Even In Moscow

It's fair time in Kankakeeland—and in Moscow where the American exhibit is attracting crowds.

Despite a shortage of money, cement floors which crumbled and filled the air with dust, sharp criticism in the Soviet press and other stumbling blocks, the American exhibit is a popular success. This can be seen from the number of people who have visited the exhibit since it opened in the heart of the 1,500-acre Sokolniki Park. The huge, golden geodesic dome—which the Russians will purchase together with the rest of the exhibit buildings—has become a symbol to the people who are flocking to the fair especially to see the consumer goods and housing.

Their curiosity is demonstrated by a woman, below left, who reaches over the protective railing to open a book on display in the American home show. At the right, crowd peers around pillars of the modernistic fashion pavilion to glimpse American models. The exhibit plays host to 70,000 persons daily.

Renovate Blair House For Possible Khrushchev Stay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Blair House, President Eisenhower's official guest residence, is getting a face lifting but it is not known yet whether Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will stay there or at the Russian embassy during his visit next month.

If Khrushchev picks Blair House he will be the second high-ranking Russian official to reside in the dignified four-story home of light brick and dark shutters across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House.

Then Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, traveling as "Mr. Brown" on a super-secret wartime mission, lived there for two weeks in 1942, only the second VIP ever to stay at the stately, federal-style mansion.

See Okay Of Compromise Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today he expected President Eisenhower to go along with a compromise housing bill cutting $25 million dollars from the measure he vetoed as "inflationary" and "extravagant."

Sparkman, chairman of the Senate subcommittee, said his group went as far as it could go in meeting the President's objections. The total of $1,000,000,000 in loans and grants carried in the revised bill would exceed the President's proposal by 20 million dollars.

Edgar A. Guest Dies In Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—Poet Edgar A. Guest died early today at his home here.

The 77-year-old poet laureate of Michigan had been ill for several years. His physician said death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.

Guest, who has been called "the poet of the plain people," had been writing verses for more than 50 years. His physician said death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.

His most famous book of poetry, "A Heap O' Living," sold more than a half a million copies and was a best seller.

Would Ask Soviet Premier To Church

MONTREAL, N.C. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham thinks it may be difficult to impress Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev when the Russian leader visits this country.

But Graham offered one suggestion Tuesday. He said President Eisenhower should take Khrushchev to church with him. Graham said the Khrushchev visit will give Americans a chance to show off their religion.

Arthur Godfrey Resumes TV Work

With Waikiki Beach and the Pacific as background, Godfrey Tuesday made a portion of his hour-long comeback show to be presented Sept. 16.

He can't wait Saturday for a 10 day visit.

Strike At Wood River Oil Plant

WOOD RIVER (UPI)—Members of a Whiting, Ind., local set up picket lines around the Standard Oil refinery here this morning.

Local union members, who were not on strike, did not take part in the picketing, were honoring the line.

The pickets were members of Local 1, Independent Petroleum Workers Association, Whiting, Ind. The local union, 111 of the Central States Petroleum Union, signed a contract last May, Central States Association, Future Nurses Association, and other petroleum unions negotiate together for wages, but for other benefits.

The Whiting union has been on strike since early July.

Says California Forest Fire Started By Man

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (UPI)—A 10,000-acre fire blating out of control in the San Bernardino National Forest was "definitely set by man," the U. S. Forestry Service reported today.

Elwood Stone, fire investigator for the service, said it was still not known whether the destructive four-day blaze had been purposely or accidentally set. It started Sunday in a stable near Lake Gregory.

More than 1,700 fire fighters battling the blaze today were reported to have 40 per cent of the 25-mile perimeter contained. They hoped for total containment and possible control by late tonight.

No homes have been destroyed.

How New Laws Could Affect Kankakee County Residents

Several laws enacted by the 71st Illinois General Assembly could directly affect Kankakee area residents.

In many cases, it's up to local governmental bodies to pass rulings to make the state laws effective.

For instance, if county boards of supervisors wish to, they can enact a 1/2-cent sales tax for business houses outside incorporated districts.

Cities have held this power for several years and find it a boon to municipal financing. The Kankakee County board of supervisors has not yet enacted this law.

ANOTHER NEW law gives the city a better break in the collection of municipal sales tax. Previously, the state kept out 6 per cent for costs of collection and administration. The last Legislature cut this down to 4 per cent.

Residents throughout the state have already been affected by laws which raised the state sales tax a half per cent and increased state taxes on beers, liquors, wines and cigars.

PROHIBIT KNOWING and willful false testimony, with a penalty of from $50 to $100 as a fine, or imprisonment in the county jail up to a year, or both.

Prohibit willful refusal to yield a party telephone line in an emergency, with a fine from $100 to $500 or 90 days in jail, or both; prohibit falsely claiming an emergency to secure use of a party line, with a $25 to $100 fine, or 10 days in jail, or both.

MAKE IT UNLAWFUL to remove, deface or destroy serial numbers or other identification marks from merchandise other than automobiles (a separate law covers vehicles) for the purpose of concealing a sale.

Repeal a law allowing persons to use bicycles, scooters or motorcycles, with motors of under 5 horse power, without driver's licenses.

ALLOW COUNTY boards, park districts, villages or incorporated towns to set absolute maximum speed limits on streets or highways under their jurisdiction.

Increase the sheriff's fee for attending court from $10 per day to not less than $10 nor more than $14.

PERMIT county boards to designate a member other than the board chairman as chairman of the board of review (the body which reviews assessment complaints).

Provide that motor fuel tax money may be used for operation of traffic control signals, as well as their construction or maintenance.

Bus Firm Getting Ready To Move Out

Officials of the South Suburban Bus Co. were auditing books and checking records this morning prior to moving their operations out of Kankakee. Bus service in the tri-city area ended with the last run at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Prospects for any return of intra-city bus service appear dim. The Union Bus Terminal, at 233 N. Schuyler Ave., will continue to operate as terminal for the Greyhound and Trailways lines inter-city buses with hours from 7:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. Operating the terminal will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kamman.

AS FOR LOCAL BUS service, both Paul Robertson, chairman of a special Chamber of Commerce committee named to study and work on the problem, and Kankakee Mayor Ed J. Madison, see no chance of any other transportation company being interested in coming into the community unless they also would be guaranteed a break-even proposition.

He explained that the city could not subsidize a bus company without a referendum vote of the people. It is with regret we are unable to keep this type of bus company operating in our community.

ROBERTSON pointed out that the committee, civic officials and business and industry leaders have met numerous times in an attempt to solve the bus service problem. SAID ROBERTSON, "There is a need for adequate bus service in our community, not only from the standpoint of business, but also for school children and older people unable to drive." He said, "The bus committee of the Chamber of Commerce would welcome any suggestions to bring bus service back."

MAJOR Madison said, "I don't foresee any chance of any other transportation company being interested in coming into the community unless they also would be guaranteed a break-even proposition."

Emergency Appeal For March Of Dimes

Maiders will go out Saturday for a Kankakee County March of Dimes emergency appeal. Clarence Borer, county chairman of the National Foundation, has announced.

The special "broomstick drive" is to meet current obligations the county chapter has incurred adding polio victims, Borer said. He explained that the past nine months have averaged over $3,000 each plus continuing aid for some polio victims going back three and four years.

Issue Reminder Of Deadline At Olivet College

A reminder of the Aug. 15 deadline for application to Olivet Nazarene College for freshmen and transfer students has been made by the college's admissions office. As of Aug. 1, the college reported 436 applications compared to 327 on the same date a year ago. Only 401 applications were received up to the start of school last year.

The registrar's office has also asked new students planning to enroll in the college's early morning, late afternoon and evening class program who will be taking a degree course to make application by Aug. 15. Regular registration will be held prior to the start of classes Sept. 1.

Fine Magazine Salesman $30 On 2 Counts

An Indianapolis magazine salesman was fined $30 and costs on each of two counts Tuesday night following complaints of residents of the St. George area. Jack B. Allen, 24, was arrested by a sheriff's deputy and appeared before Justice of the Peace Roy Beach. Allen was fined on counts of disorderly conduct and driving too fast for conditions.

Eldon Siros, 42, of R.R. 1, Borer, was released on $50 bond Tuesday evening by Justice Beach upon appearing on a charge of driving a car without the owner's consent. His case was continued until 8 p.m. Aug. 11. Siros was picked up by Chicago police Monday after a complaint had been received by Norman Rusher, 456 S. Yates Ave., claiming Siros had borrowed his car Friday and had not returned it when he was supposed to. Siros was returned to Kankakee Monday afternoon by a sheriff's deputy.

NEW TOLL ROAD

VERSAILLES, Ind. (UPI)—A firm in Earl Hayden has been found a new source of income. Motorists trying to avoid a bridge started cutting through Hayden's barn lot and garden. Hayden, after getting nowhere trying to stop them, started charging a $5-cent toll. The drivers immediately complained to state police, but were told the Hayden toll road was perfectly legal.

THANK YOU!

We thank all the individuals and many groups of people who actively contributed to the success of our campaign. We express our sincerest appreciation to those of you—the parents and citizens of School District 111—who have supported our effort with your vote. That we owe our deepest debt of gratitude to you, goes without saying. It was only through YOUR effort at the polls that the attempt to achieve independent, non-partisan representation on the School Board has become a reality.

Your strength at the polls yesterday cannot be over estimated. It was truly remarkable. In last year's School Board election, barely 600 votes were cast. Yesterday, you cast over 7,500 ballots. District 111 has never seen a comparable turnout at a School Board election. Such an expression of individual conviction is a magnificent tribute to the democratic tradition.

We can repay your vote of confidence only by repeating that our aim is to bring unbiased, independent thinking to the many problems confronting our school system. We promise again, as we have before, honest, interested representation on your School Board.

Six Win Blue Ribbons In Cattle Feeding Project

Six Iroquois County 4-H'ers took blue ribbons in the county's five steer project at the fair Tuesday. Five of the six were from the Wellington 411 Club which has strongly backed the project since its start four years ago.

The blue ribbon winners, each receiving $10.50, were Richard Rush, Blanche Gillette, John Lee, Dewey Cox, and James Bennett, all of the Wellington club, and Ralph Koester, Danforth.

The youngsters purchase five steers to begin their project and feed them out to the best of their ability keeping accurate records on feed costs and gain.

AT FAIR TIME they get the final weighing. The records are checked and the cattle are sold to local commission men and sales barns. This is the sales price and, of course, determine whether the project cover made a profit.

In Rush's project the average cost per 100 pounds for his steers was $16.42. They averaged 2,477 pounds gain per day at a cost of $16.42 per 100 pounds.

Blanche Gillette won the second blue ribbon the second time in 431. His five Herefords were on feed for 215 days. Rush's break-even point was $23.34 and he sold them for $28.80 per 100 pounds.

Lee made the highest profit on his project even though he paid the third highest for his steers originally. His purchase price was $30 per 100 pounds. The average weight was 300 pounds and they were fed for 282 days. The steers gained an average of 2.16 pounds per day at a cost of $12.92 per 100 pounds.

BLANCHE GILLETTE won her second blue ribbon the second time in 431. His five Herefords were on feed for 215 days. Rush's break-even point was $23.34 and he sold them for $28.80 per 100 pounds.

At the beginning of this century, on the average day, 15 million newspapers were purchased. Today, 57 million newspapers are purchased on the average day.
