Nearly Nab Suspects In Iroquois Burglaries

WATSEKA (JNS)—Burglary suspects must have felt a breeze Friday night as the long arm of the law swiped at them in a wild chase between Onarga and Loda.

However, at least two men managed to make a getaway after a tire on the car they were operating blew, causing them to ditch the vehicle and flee into a corn field, where they disappeared.

The chase began on the north edge of Onarga, where Harry Niemon, state trooper, Paxton, was cruising. He noticed a 1956 black and white auto speed around him. It had Ohio license plates.

Niemon motioned for the driver to pull over. However, the car sped away and was chased at speeds up to 100 miles an hour until about two miles from Loda, when the tire blew.

The chase wasn't entirely unsuccessful because a search of the car uncovered burglary tools and some items stolen earlier that night from the Tasti-Freez in Gilman. Included in the loot were coins taken from a juke box.

IROQUOIS COUNTY authorities have been on the lookout for a car with Ohio plates following burglaries which took place either Thursday night or early Friday.

According to Sheriff Phil Brown, the burglaries took place at the D. A. Terry's Cities Service Station and Hitchings Grocery, both in Loda. Kisser Standard Service Station, Onarga, reported money stolen. The attendant at the latter station said men from a car with Ohio plates were in the service station just before money in a pinball machine coon box was missed.

IN OTHER SHERIFF'S office activities, an investigation of a car theft at 507 E. Locust St. is under way. The car belonged to Lois Schweigert of that address. The vehicle was a 1955 model.

The theft of 50 to 60 white Pekin ducks from George Gersch of Clifton was reported over the weekend. The ducks weighed between 4½ and 6 pounds. They were kept on his farm north of Clifton.

On Sunday night, the sheriff's officers recovered a 1954 car, which had been reported stolen in Iroquois County on Saturday night. The car was found abandoned a quarter mile north of the junction of Route 1-24 east of Watseka.

Other committeemen visiting the tents and observing the judging are Edgar Patch, Clyde Gibson, Henry Schroeder, Gene Stopher, Ed Hanlyn, William Jardine, Roy Wilcox, Robert Tate and Lloyd Graham.

$3½ Million Budget Adopted For Schools

Tax Levy Rate Again $1.40, Same As Last Year

$3½ million tentative budget and appropriation ordinance for the 1959-60 fiscal year was adopted by the Kankakee Board of Education Monday night.

The estimated total expenditure of $3,506,420.67 compares with $3,072,054.07 the past year.

The educational budget is substantially the sarse as last year with the tax levy rate again $1.40, which is the maximum. The estimated valuation of the district used by the board to arrive at expected tax receipts, however, is $120 million this year, compared to $122 million a year ago. Thus, the expected tax revenue in this year's budget is estimated at $19,-950 lower that last year.

ON THE OTHER hand $71,375.61 more in state aid is expected this year.

"Salary increases and the 15 additional teachers needed on the faculty this year will more than exhaust this additional revenue," Roy Strasma, president of the board of education, commented.

Income and expenditures for this fiscl year in the educational fund are estimated at $2,-965,804.07 and $2,365,804.07 last year.

Administrations costs are expected to drop from $74,875 last year to $71,355 this year.

A $153,345 boost in the cost of instructional services, $130,000 will be in teachers' salaries. Instructional service costs are expected to cost $1,733,190 this year, compared to $1,580,845 a year ago.

OTHER COMPARABLE expenditures in the educational fund are as follows, the current year's estimated amount first, last year's second:

Operation of plant, $210,000, $203,500. Maintenance of plant, $15,975, 67,125. Fixed charges (pensions, insurance, rent), $30,906.25. Debt service, $8,000, $8,000. Capital outlay, $110,000, $50,000. Auxiliary agencies (librarians, nurses transporation, athletics, etc.) $174,224.17, $174,569.70. Contingent, $10, 141.50, $79,943.12

The State Legislature has removed payments on pre-1953 bond issues from the schools' building funds.

"This mean," Strasma explains, "that the .375 maximum building fund le , is available for building purposes. This increase revenue will make it possible for the school district to pay in full from the 1959-60 budget for the Thomas Edison School addition."

WITH THE TAX levy rate for the building fund remaining at .750 last year to the total maximum of .375, the estimated building fund receipts from taxes is $320,625 this year, compared to $225,135.75 for the past year.

Two new members were seated and the Kankakee Board of Education was reorganized Monday night.

Mrs. Ruth Topping and Wilburn Moore became members of the board following the canvass of the ballots of the Aug. 3 election. They succeed Paul Davidson and Victor N. Cardoso.

Roy Strasma, board member since 1951, and president of the board since 1953, was reelected president. Vernon McBroom was named clerk of the board, replacing Paul Davidson.

STRASMA NAMED THE following committees to serve for the coming year, the first named as chairman:

Finance: Richard Ackman, Hess, Topping, Herbert Hess.

Education: Mrs. Topping, Mc-Broom, Richard Ackman.

Transportation: Hess, Wilburn Moore, Mrs. Topping.

Insurance: Ackman, Hess, Mc-Broom.

Buildings and Grounds: Hess, Ackman, Moore.

Athletics: Ackman, Moore, McBroom.

Supplies and Purchase: Moore, Ackman, Topping.

Hot Lunch: McBroom, Topping, Hess.

Strasma publicly thanked Davidson and Cardosi for the time they have given the school district during their three-year term and, in appreciation, presented each with a three-year season ticket to Kankakee High School athletic events.

CARDOSI EXPRESSED appreciation for the cooperation and the courtesies accorded him by the board and the administration and offered his continuing help whenever needed.

Davidson said he is proud of the faculty of the school system and of the board, administration and board to remember that "the No. 1 goal os all of us is to see that every child in this spread among the young minds of our community."

President Strasma welcomed the new members, commenting that the board feels they have a contribution to make to the school system and looks forward to having their cooperative efforts.

2 Beat Man, Steal Car At Momence

Illinois and Indiana police are looking for two at-foot Negro suspects in connection with the armed robbery and beating of Harold Coghlan, Momence, at 11:15 p.m. today.

Mrs. Thomas Simpson told Kankakee County sheriff's officers that the two men stole Coghlan's car on Route 114 east of Momence after they had held him at gunpoint and with a knife and then beat him.

The Coghlan car is a 1954 Oldsmobile, white top, blue lower, with dealer license Illinois 14458.

The subjects, Mrs. Simpson said, had another car, a 1952 Buick, blue over white.

Report Attempt On Life Of Castro's Brother, Raul

HAVANA (UPI) — Reliable sources reported today that an attempt was made Sunday night to kill Paul Castro, brother of Premier Fidel Castro and commander-in-chief of Cuba's armed forces.

The sources said the assassination attempt was made when the younger Castro was attending the wedding of a revolutionary army friend.

The would-be killer entered the church as the wedding was about to begin, maneuvered into position in front of Castro, and pulled a gun. Several bearded rebels, their attention attracted by his odd behavior, sprang on him and disarmed him.

The would - be assassin was presumably arrested, but their has been no official announcement on the subject.

Expect Blast At Dictators From Herter

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, flying here today for the Inter-American Conference of Foreign Ministers, was reported considering a strong declaration of U.S. opposition to dictatorships.

Herter was due late this afternoon in the Chilean capital after a night's stopover in Puerto Rico. Leaving Washington, he said the conference should take a candid look at the issues plaguing the Caribbean area and adopt measures to deal with them.

Puerto Rico's Gov. Luis Munoz Marin, who talked with Herter in Washington Sunday, said the secretary likely would make clear that the United States does not coddle dictators.

Numerous Latin Americans have accused the United States of showing open favoritism to such dictators as former President Fulgencio Batista of Cuba, Marcos Perez Jimenez of Venezuela, now an exile in Florida, the Dominican Republic's Rafael Trujillo and Nicaragua's Luis Somoza.

Presumably any U.S. declaration will be worded in general terms with no names called. Both Trujillo and Somoza are still in office, and any direct attack on them would bring accusations of U.S. interference in domestic affairs of other nations, as well as imperil relations between Washington and the Dominican and Nicaraguan governments.

Labor Department Reports Figures For Last Month

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. employment climbed to a record 67,-594,000 in July, the Labor Department reported today.

Unemployment during the month declined to 3,744,000 persons, a smaller than normal drop.

The employment figure was up 252,000 from June while the unemployment figure was down by 238,-000.

The figures did not reflect the steel strike which has idled 600,000 workers in steel mills, iron ore mills, and Great Lakes carriers and related industries.

The report said weekly earnings of factory workers declined to $90.09 during July, but still were $6.59 higher than a year ago.

SECRETARY OF LABOR James P. Mitchell hailed the new employment and wage figures as meaning that "more Americans have better jobs at higher wages than ever before."

Together, he said, they mean that the economy "is rising to new heights and is producing more and better things for a higher lying standard for all of us."

Seymour Wolfbein, the department's job expert, said the report reflected "continued basic improvement in the employment situation."

He said a 500,000 reduction in the ranks of unemployed is expected in August, but that there

The project appropriation was approved last Friday by the House Appropriations Committee. The bill still must be approved by the Senate.

Building Inspector Appointed For County

Kankakee County Board of Supervisors hired a county building inspector this morning, and accepted a letter of resignation from Richard Tyson, a consultant to the county engineer.

Allan LeVeque, 276 S. Fulton Ave., Bradley, was appointed county building inspector when the Board of Supervisors met in the courthouse.

His appointment is effective Aug. 15, and his salary was set at $110 a week, with a $100-dollar-a-month car expense allowance.

LeVeque will help administer the county building code. He will work with Thomas French, building code official.

French's monthly car expense allowance was raised by the supervisors today from $100 to $125.

LeVeque is a native of Kankakee, and has lived in this area all his life except for the time he spent in the armed forces. He is employed as an electrician.

In his letter of resignation, Tyson stated that the building code was well established now, and operating efficiently. He said he saw no further need for his services as a consultant.

Supervisors accepted the resignation, and expressed gratitude to Tyson for making his services available.

The consultant's post was created in May about a month prior to the time the new building code went into effect, at a monthly salary of $250.

A repcot from French's office showed that 61 building permits were issued during July, bringing in total receipts of $2,192.

Start Closed Hearings On Auto Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate lawmakers start closed door hearings today on Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers, with Republicans demanding that the public be admitted.

The hearings have heavy political overtones. They were billed as a preliminary inquiry demanded by the Republican members of the committee on their allegations of corrupt or improper practices by some of Reuther's subordinates. The UAW usually supports Democratic candidates.

The committee is composed of four Republicans and four Democrats, including John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), a likely contender for his party's presidential nomination next year.

REUTHER MADE public a telegram to the committee chairman, John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), demanding that the doors be opened. He accused its Republican members of seeking to use the inquiry as a device to smear his union.

McClellan told a reporter he personally would be reluctant to make it a public hearing until he knew more about it. He said the Republican members never have been given the full nature and scope of evidence they plan to produce.

The investigation had been announced by the Republicans as designed to explore the affairs of Richard T. Gosser, senior international vice president of the UAW. Peter Zvara, a former international representative, and some other past and present UAW officials.

Predict House Will Pass Ike-Approved Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican congressional leaders predicted today that the labor bill backed by the President will pass the House.

House GOP Chief Charles A. Halleck predicts that outcome even though he is making its first appearance at dition — the annual horse pulling the Kankakee fair it likewise is a contest. bit of a rarity throughout the northern states.

Highlighting Eddie Mack's troupe is the comedy team of Bob Serbenas and Susie. Frequent television performers, the two offer the spectacle of bewildered Bob Serbenas suffering under the furious scolding of Susie. Heading the troup will be Jimmy "Hats" Lee, comedian and master of ceremonies, who will act as interlocutor.

While the Kankakee County tractor pull took over the grandstand spotlight this afternoon, fair-goers Wednesday afternoon will see an event with long county fair tradi-

The horse pull will share afternoon billing with the annual 4-H chicken scramble and the first session of the Western Horse Show. The latter is set for 3 p.m.

The evening program will begin at 8 p.m. performance will be Eddie Mack's Showboat Minstrels, one of the few professional minstrel troupes touring the country.

The minstrel, which has more than a century of entertainment behind it, will feature colorful costumes, humor and favorite songs.

Ask Senate Override Ike Housing Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee in a surprise move voted 8-7 today to override President Eisenhower's veto of the $1,335,000,000 housing bill.

The full committee had been expected to accept a recommendation from its Housing subcommittee that the effort to override be dropped.

The subcommittee had written a pared-down $1,650,000,000 bill in an effort to meet the President's objections to the original housing legislation.

However, two Democratic senators who led the move for a compromise bill in the subcommittee reversed themselves today and voted for the attempt to override. They solicited votes in view of the lack of any word from the administration that it would accept even the trimmed-down measure.

Minstrel Show Top Event On County Fair Program Tonight

One of the most important factors to a county fair — the weather — continued favorable in the Kankakee County Fair today as warm sunshine bathed the grounds south of the city. The annual event is in its fourth day.

The varied program, which is the favorite one, tonight offers a "first" for the 15-year-old fair — a minstrel show. Taking the stage before the 8 p.m. performance will be Eddie Mack's Showboat Minstrels, one of the few professional minstrel troupes touring the country.

The minstrel, which has more than a century of entertainment behind it, will feature colorful costumes, humor and favorite songs.

Halleck of Indiana said he expects that outcome even though he said, "Mr. Hoffa's people are here with all sorts of threats, trying to get the bill killed outright."

Halleck referred to James R. Hoffa, president of the International Teamsters Union. By the Hoffa Bill, he said he meant the one sponsored by Rep. John F. Shelley (D-Calif).

Shelley's bill is less far reaching than the Landrum-Griffin measure which Eisenhower has endorsed.

THE REPUBLICAN congressional chiefs made their forecast as the House headed into its most bitter fight in a decade over the shape of management-labor control legislation.

With a week of wide-open floor battling scheduled, the House called up the Shelley and Landrum-Griffin proposals along with a third measure labeled by sponsors as a middle-of-the-road bill. All three are aimed—with varying degrees of stringency—at curbing racketeering and abuse of power in the labor-management field.

The outcome was anyone's guess. The first votes may come late Wednesday or Thursday.

Halleck and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate GOP leader, talked with newsmen after their weekly White House session with Eisenhower.

ASKED WHAT KIND of threats he was talking about, Halleck replied:

"Well, political recriminations, at the polls, the threats that everybody who has been around here knows about. I don't think anybody has been threatened with any bodily injury and I don't know as it's had any effect."

As for the presidential reaction to the forecast that the Landrum-Griffin bill will pass, Halleck replied: "I would say he was quite happy."

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell sat in on the White

Firemen Fight New Flames Of Forest Blaze In West

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Smoke hung over Northern California mountains today as firemen fought new flames in forests near Klamath Falls, Ore., and about 100 miles north of San Francisco.

Every able-bodied man in Ukiah turned out Monday to save the city of 15,000. Women and children used garden hoses and buckets to wet roofs as wind-swept embers cascaded down from flames just beyond city limits.

A ranger said fires near Ukiah had been set by children and hunters.

In southern California, 500 men fought the Decker Canyon blaze near Lake Elsinore after it claimed 2 homes, injured 27 and burned 1,600 acres.

For five weeks blazes in tinder-dry California forests and brushland have kept firemen on the run. The state got less rain and more than usual heat last winter and hopes for more are not due for months.

Police said 619 are known to have perished, 459 are still missing and 963 are injured.

An earlier police announcement of 223 dead was attributed to a telegraphic error.

Almost Gone Begonia Wins First At Fair

That flower plant you've about given up on—
DON'T!—it may be a flower show winner next year!

That's the advice today of Mrs. Harry Van Vleck, 330 N. Washington Ave.—and no one is better qualified to give such advice as she.

A year ago Mrs. Van Vleck was among the volunteer workers at the First Church of God food tent at the Kankakee County Fair. During the fair a friend, Mrs. Al Robbins of Limestone Township, left a slip from a begonia plant at the stand for Mrs. Van Vleck.

Somehow the slip got forgotten in all the hustle and bustle and for two days it sat in its pot near a cupboard door, occasionally getting knocked over by hurrying feet. When Mrs. Van Vleck remembered it, rescued it and took it home the slip was on its last legs.

NONETHELESS, SHE repaired it, nurtured it and finally nursed it back to health.

This week at the Kankakee County Fair the begonia, now nearly 4-feet in height, won the best of show award in the floriculture division!

Mrs. Van Vleck was probably the most surprised person in the show when the judges made their selection. Just a week ago a 6-inch long blossom on the plant fell off—and she felt her chances at the show went with the loss of the bloom.

The Kankakee woman, showing at the fair for the third time, also won two firsts and a third. Another plant that she was planning to pin her main hopes upon never did get to the fair.

A few days ago her young great grandson got hold of it—and ruined it beyond repair.

Mrs. Van Vleck's entry was judged best specimen in potted plants in addition to best of fair. Lambert Glad Gardens of Cherokee showed the most outstanding exhibit in cut flowers and E. Duane Elbert of Forrest won the special award for the most outstanding arrangement—an honor he won last week at the Iroquois County Fair.

Salesman's Car Looted Of $4,000 In Clothes, Gilman

WATSEKA (JNS)—The theft of an estimated $4,000 worth of baby clothes samples from a salesman's car at Gilman Monday evening is being investigated today by state police and sheriff's deputies.

According to the Iroquois County sheriff's office, a car belonging to John A. Olson, McHenry was taken from in front of Strasma's Cafe in Gilman about 9:15 p.m. and driven three blocks east of the cafe. The car's contents were then transferred to another car and Olson's car was abandoned.

Olson told the sheriff's deputies he had checked into the Strasma motel earlier in the evening and stopped at the restaurant about 8:30 p.m. When he went out to get his car shortly after 9:15 p.m. he found it missing and called state police in Pontiac. They in turn called in the Iroquois County sheriff's department to work on the investigation.

Meanwhile, a Gilman resident had seen the clothes being transferred from one car to the other and notified Gilman police but by the time an officer arrived at the scene, the thieves had departed.

Emergency March Of Dimes Drive Starts

Some 22,000 Kankakee County families received appeal letters Monday for the emergency March of Dimes campaign, being conducted nationwide during the next two weeks.

The local chapter of the National Foundation hopes these letters will bring in $8,000, which is what it needs to take it out of the red, according to Dr. C. H. Wheeler, chapter vice chairman.

"Because this is an emergency, and a local one," Dr. Wheeler said, "every dime contributed will be used here for the care and rehabilitation of local polio patients.

Kankakee County chapter has been giving aid to 10 persons, afflicted with the illness during the past decade.

Threee new cases developed during the past year, and bills for these cases are what have caused the deficit.

"Failure of the 1959 March of Dimes in January to meet its goal is the reason for this emergency appeal," Dr. Wheeler stated. He added, "It's not possible to get sufficient help from the emergency fund at national headquarters for it, too, is almost depleted, because other chapters across the country failed to make their goals in January.

Donations should be sent to post office box 84, the vice chairman said.

Couldn't Get Into Tavern, Breaks Window

Someone who really had "the thirst" was quite irritated about 2:30 a.m. today, when he couldn't get into the Ed Seeley tavern in Momence Township.

The man reportedly tried the door and knocked on the windows of the tavern, but got no response because it was closed.

He then went to Seeley's home, about 20 yarad away, picked up a flower pot off the porch and pitched it through a picture window.

The intruder then raced away in his car.

What Rambler's Success Means To Every Motorist

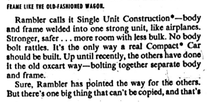
"It'll be the most imitated car in America next year!"

I've built this business over the last 10 years. My company has hauled all kinds of cars from the factories to dealers. I've had a ringside seat on the auto business.

When I read recent reports about the new smaller cars others plan to bring out, I say to myself—"Rambler already has what the others are merely talking about."

I see where the rest of the industry is going to copy Rambler's way of building cars when they rush out their smaller models.

IN ITS AIRCRAFT, STRUCTURAL MEMBERS AND FUSELAGE ARE ONE AND THE SAME. IN RAMBLER, STRUCTURAL MEMBERS AND BODY ARE ONE AND THE SAME.



ORDINARY CONSTRUCTION USED BY OTHER CARS—BODY IS BOLTED ON SEPARATE FRAME LIKE THE OLD-FASHIONED WAGON.

Rambler calls it Single Unit Construction"—body and frame welded into one strong unit, like airplanes. Stronger, safer . . . more room with less bulk. No body bolt rattles. It's the only way a real Compact* Car should be built. Up until recently, the others have done it the old oxcart way—bolting together separate body and frame.

Sure, Rambler has pointed the way for the others. But there's one big thing that can't be copied, and that's Rambler's 20 years of experience with Single Unit Construction. It stands to reason nobody else is going to get that "know how" overnight.

RAMBLER SIZE STANDARD

Reports out of Detroit say that the new crop of smaller cars will be about the same wheelbase as Rambler, but what I want to know is—will the others be able to match Rambler's inside space? Ease of entry? If the others can't beat Rambler's room and comfort with their oversized cars, how are they going to do it with smaller ones?

ALL OUT FOR GASOLINE ECONOMY

Everyone knows that Rambler is the economy leader. And economy is what most motorists want today. So, it's only natural that the others would try to imitate Rambler economy. But can they match Rambler's performance?

At least one of the small cars is planning to put the engine in the rear. Through the years, I've hauled a lot of the American Motors experimental cars from the factory to the Proving Grounds . . . watched them tested . . . talked to the engineers. So I know Rambler has weighed the pros and cons of all types of engines . . . liquid and air-cooled . . . all types of cylinder combinations. And, Rambler decided the engine belongs in front. The greater safety and better handling of the front-engine design is what convinced them.

CAN'T IMITATE BASIC EXCELLENCE

There's one thing the others can't even begin to imitate . . . Rambler's basic excellence. That's the all-round "balance" of quality, economy, maneuverability, room, comfort and performance that Rambler has.

It's this balance—the proper combination of everything motorists want—that is the secret of Rambler's basic excellence. And it's something no quick imitation can duplicate.

No wonder I'm hauling more than twice as many Ramblers from the factory this year. Fact is, in June, Rambler was 3rd in sales in the U.S.A.

Sure, Rambler will be the most imitated car in America next year. But who wants an imitation when you can get the original?

School Board Approves Purchase Of Lot For Franklin Playground

Purchase of a lot to fill out a half-block playground at Franklin School was approved at the Kankakee Board of Education meeting Monday night.

The lot at 656 E. Willow St., was bought from John and Jeannie Meli at $8,500.

In other financial actions, the board accepted the financial report for the period ending Aug. 10 and approved special bills:

THE FINANCIAL report showed an overdraft of $759 in the educational fund; a balance of $5,907.88 in the building fund; a balance of $8,608.77 in the bond and interest fund; a balance of $1,050.97 in the transportation fund and a balance of $2,715.81 in the night school fund.

Special bills allowed were $60.60 in the educational fund to the state of Illinois for federal surplus property under the federal defense education act; and, from the building fund, $9,719.70 to Azzarelli Construction Co., for the tunnel and replacement steam line between the high school and East Junior High School; $3,213.67 to Atkins, Burrow and Associates for architectural services on the tunnel and on the Edison Elementary School; and $100 to Edwin W. Sale, school attorney, reimbursement of money he advanced on the contract for the lot at 656 E. Willow St.

Stanley Weber, director of the Kankakee School District summer school, reported that the district had started and completed courses in the 1959 summer school. Income from tuition and fees totaled $6,279; expenditures fee teacher salaries and educational supplies totaled $5,956.76, leaving a balance for the current session of $322.30.

SUPT. KNECHT reported that several possibilities of moving the central office from the high school building are being considered and he recommended that the matter be postponed until the next meeting.

He advised the board that Edwin Sale, board attorney and program chairman of the Rotary Club has invited the school board to the Rotary meeting Aug. 27 when the chairman of the guidance department of Evanston High School will be guest speaker.

Knecht also forwarded an invitation from the Kankakee Junior Achievement "Achiever's in Action night" at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 27 in the new JA Center at 147 S. Indiana Ave.

Herbert Hess, buildings and grounds committee chairman, reported on the progress of sodding the high school football field and recommended that contracts be asked for cutting down dead elm trees.

The board voted to pay the lodges and clerks of the Aug. 4 election $15 each for their work. It adopted a resolution to post the results of the election.

Knecht announced that the office of state superintendent of public instruction has extended recognition of Kankakee School District for the 1958-59 year.

Yohnka Wins Economy Run On Tractor

An 8-year-old Allis Chalmers owned and operated by Charles Yohnka, Kankakee farmer, won the annual tractor economy run at the Kankakee County Fair Monday—and it did it rather handily.

Yohnka, who was third last year with a WD 45 switched to a WD this year. The tractor traveled 491 feet 2 inches with the seven ounces of gasoline alloted to it to win by nearly 50 feet. The win was worth a trophy and $50 for the stocky Kankakee farmer.

The rest of the field was bunched with only feet separating the winners. In fact, the field was so bunched that but 11 feet separated the second and sixth place winners.

Second place went to Raymond Kime, Kankakee, driving a 63 Massey Ferguson. Third was William Strang, Kankakee, with a Massey Ferris, 44. Robert Feeisters, Sheldon, Ill., with a Farmall finished fourth. Fifth place went to J. R. Herriott, Piper City, with his Minneapolis Moline entry. Donald Kerouac, Bradley, ranked sixth with a 44 Massey Harris. Seventh place went to Gerhard Ohrt, Kankakee, with a Case.

Kime's second place distance, for pulling the sled with its nearly 1,200 pounds, was 444 feet 2 inches. Stang's distance was 441-4, Forestier's was 438-10, Herriott's 434-10, Kerouac's 427-6 and Ohrt's 393-10.

Second place was worth $40, third $30, fourth $25, fifth $20, sixth $15 and seventh $10.

Walter Peckelsma was superintendent of the competition and his assistants included Donald Stautzenberg, Everett Kinney, Lawrence Moore, Perry Longtin and Lester Barrie.

Polio Victims Need Your Help

An appeal for funds to help those stricken with polio comes at a time when the crippling disease is once again a serious threat to American people.

Polio is far from a beaten scourge. The Salk vaccine remains effective in 75 to 90 per cent of cases where it has been administered as a preventive.

But 1959 so far has turned out to be the worst polio year since the vaccine was introduced. Cases on record are nearly double 1958 totals for the comparable period.

The sad fact is that the Salk vaccine has been widely ignored as a protective measure, particularly among the lower economic groups.

Even now there are many individuals right here in Kankakee County stricken by the disease who are still fighting toward recovery. Their plight is all the more grave because the Kankakee County chapter of the National Foundation is broke.

Officials of the Kankakee chapter, in pointing out that there are 53 polio patients in the county still fighting to overcome disabilities, refers to the cost of one case to illustrate why additional funds are needed. Expenses of hospitalization, treatments, medicine and medical care for this patient have already reached a total of $3,881.

The Kankakee chapter in appealing for contributions in this "New March of Dimes" stresses that every cent collected will be used to provide care for patients in this county.

It is imperative that residents of the county make generous gifts to the current drive for funds. It is just as imperative that all persons who haven't received Salk vaccine should begin the shots immediately.

Labor Measure Up For Action

If you have any opinion on the kind of labor legislation that should be adopted by the present Congress you had better let members of the House of Representatives know what it is right now.

The labor issue is up for House consideration this week. Union leaders are applying pressure on the lawmakers to vote against the Landrum-Griffin bill. Sentiment is split over support for other suggested measures.

One thing is for sure. The country has shown that it wants some kind of labor reform legislation, without delay.

The 1959 labor reform bill, to be useful, to serve as a big step along the way, does not have to incorporate within its bowels features to combat every conceivable transgression charged to racketeering labor. Congress is not going home for good, just for the fall.

Neither the country as a whole nor any fair-minded segment within it can sensibly believe that it is proper for any lawmaker to listen to the complaints against labor reform uttered by James Hoffa, president of the Teamsters union, and his top lieutenants.

For some seasons now, the nation has heard the Senate Rackets Committee build a case against Hoffa and a number of other labor officials in the Teamsters and certain other unions, on the score of both racketeering and financial shenanigans.

Fortunately, these men constitute a minority in the Teamsters and in the labor movement as a whole. But Hoffa and others are extremely powerful. Plainly they regard themselves as above the law.

The entire point of labor reform is to make sure that new Hoffas cannot rise in the future to plague both union men and the general public which must pay tribute.

It may be hard for union members to accept the fact, but an effective labor bill will help union labor, not hurt it.

The people of this country expect action on reform. They would not like to read that it had failed to materialize.

Education Costs Still Climb

An intensive school population has already doubled the cost of education on all levels in the last decade and may quadruple it in the next 20 years. These forecasts were made at a conference at Columbia University, which looked beyond such normal sources as local real estate taxes for the public schools and tuition and contributions for the colleges and universities to meet the cost squeeze in education.

Resistance to property taxes requires new sources of revenue to bring in 10 per cent more for the public schools each year, it was suggested. The only available sources are state or federal moneys and the question is whether the state would find ways to increase school funds from its own revenues, or abdicate its responsibility to the federal government. The tendency, unfortunately, is to let Uncle Sam do it.

Total expenditure for higher education in 1949-50, including all costs, is $2,400,000,000. The Council of Financial Aid to Education, which made the survey, predicted the figure would become $9,000,000,000 by 1969-70. Tuition and fees account for 21 per cent, support from government 50 per cent, private gifts and grants 21 per cent, endowment earnings 8 per cent and other sources five per cent.

Government—that is, the taxpayer—is already footing half the bill. Without any increase in his share, he will have to pay out much more.

Safety Belts In Cars

Speed doesn't kill; auto safety slogans not withstanding. Actually, it is the violence of reduction of speed which causes most of the highway fatalities.

You could drive across the country at 120 miles an hour (although I don't recommend it) and still remain perfectly healthy. But, crash into a brick wall at that speed and you're likely to wind up in the morgue.

Col. John Q. Stapp, director of the Air Force Aero Medical Field Laboratory, has subjected himself to crash stops from 632 m.p.h. to zero in 14 seconds. That's the same effect as smashing into a brick wall at 120 m.p.h.

Yet Col. Stapp suffered no disabilities. Because he was strapped into his seat by a safety belt, he actually came to a gradual stop, comparatively speaking.

THE HUMAN body is really a pretty durable contraption. It can survive jolts far greater than those experienced in most auto crashes—providing it doesn't strike some hard or sharp object.

For a split second after a crash, a body flies forward still uninjured, until it strikes something solid. It is this impact that causes injury or death.

Now speed is a contributing factor, there's no doubt about that. Nor is there any doubt that safety seat belts would prevent many deaths and injuries.

The American Medical Association, the Public Health Service and the National Safety Council endorse the use of seat belts. And the Department of Health, Education and Welfare recently ordered installation of belts in its 500 automobiles.

A CORNELL University study and estimates that 5,500 of the 30,000 with seat belts.

lives lost each year in auto accidents could be saved by the use of belts. Major injuries could be cut by 30%.

The Cornell University study covered two groups of accidents. The accidents were virtually identical except that in one group the drivers wore safety belts.

The frequency of injury was 75.5 per cent in the group without belts per cent in the group with belts.

Who Finances Anti-American Groups?

WASHINGTON—To what extent is Communist money back of the racist and "hate" literature being so widely spread throughout the world? Are the bombings of synagogues in the southern part of this country in some way related to an international conspiracy? If so, have not the people of the South been unjustly stigmatized and blamed for something with which they have had nothing to do? It is a Communist objective, of course, to foment discord and internal friction within all free countries.

The latest and most significant piece of information on the subject of "hate" literature has just come out in a formal report filed at the plenary assembly of the World Jewish Congress held in Stockholm, Sweden, only a week ago. It says in part:

"There is evidence that anti-semitic organizations, institutions or individual adventurers in this world field have established interlocking international relationships in order to facilitate the dissemination of racist material on an international scale.

"THUS AUSTRALIA has been regularly supplied with material of the vilest kind exported from the United States and the United Kingdom, while, from Australia itself, anti-Semitic literature has turned up in Turkey in quantities sufficiently significant to alarm the Jewish community.

"From Sweden there has come a ceaseless stream of anti-Semitic material ostensibly produced and distributed by a single individual, which has turned up in Germany, South Africa and various Latin American states, all areas carefully chosen because, for historical reasons, this material might make an impact.

"This by no means exhausts the story of the international effort to revive anti-Semitism; we have cited only a number of conspicuous examples which we have brought to the notice of the governments concerned and to the United Nations.

"These governments have invariably received our representatives with the utmost sympathy but, with rare exceptions, have equally invariably expressed their legal inability to deal with a phenomenon which we do not doubt they find deeply distressing."

IN ANOTHER statement placed before the Stockholm meeting by its director of international affairs, Dr. M. L. Perlzweig of New York City, reference is made to the attitude of the Soviet Union towards Jewa from that country who were invited to attend the World Jewish Conference. The Moscow government claimed that the acceptance of the invitations was entirely up to Soviet Jews, but although the invitations were sent to Jewish religious communities, their reply was that, since the assembly would be dealing with "political matters," it would not be proper for them to attend. The Stockholm report adds:

"Disquieting reports are reaching us regarding the position of Jewish religious life in the Soviet Union. We hear that synagogues are being closed, particularly the Great Synagogue in Czernowitz. Many Jewish tourists are welcomed to the Soviet Union, but among those who were refused visas, were a number of rabbis. All this is relevant to the answer we received from the Soviet Union."

On April 30, 1958, this correspondent wrote a dispatch calling attention to the bombing of a Negro school and a Jewish synagogue in Jacksonville, Fla., and pointed out that the anonymous telephone warnings used phrases about "mongrels" and other words from the vocabulary of Communist agents.

On Oct. 14, 1958, this writer noted that the bombing of a Jewish temple in Atlanta followed the pattern of similar incidents in Miami, Jacksonville and other parts of the South. Yet, as pointed out then, it is conceded widely that there is less anti-Semitism in the South than in any other part of the United States.

ON DEC. 15, 1958, reference was made in these dispatches to a statement made by then Sen.-elect Kenneth B. Keating of New York after a tour of the South. He said there was a "strong suspicion that the bombing of schools, homes and places of worship in the South may have been fomented by Communists.

Then on Jan. 26, 1959, this correspondent called attention to a series of five articles published by a New York newspaper. They were written by one of its staff reporters, David Burk, and in them he told the results of several months of investigation into "the men and the groups tailored into the network of hate and violence" in this country. He said there was "a mass of evidence of direct liaison between agents of the United Arab Republic and leaders of the American race groups held responsible by United States authorities for the Atlanta bombing."

It seems strange, also that there is a big problem of unity of Negroes in the United States, claiming to be "Moslems," who is fighting the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and is preaching anti-semitism and anti-Americanism as its creed. A newsmagazine in its Aug. 10 issue says:

"The Moslems' are of rising concern to respectable Negro civic leaders, to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the police departments in half a dozen cities, and to the FBI."

Where are all these anti-American organizations getting their money? This is a question that has not yet been answered.

Deflated Incentives

A phrase sometimes summarizes a lot of thinking and a mountain of facts, in an address recently delivered by Lewis S. Rosenatiel of Schenley Industries, he said:

". . . We have an inflationary world, an inflationary country and an inflationary set of taxes, which add up to deflated incentives."

Rosenstiel was speaking of his own industry, but these conditions affect all industries and all walks of life. The motion picture star who will only make one picture a year dramatizes the real curse of inflation, namely, that it deflates incentive. The question must arise in everyone's mind: What is the use? And the answer depends upon the psychology of the person. The man who labors to save money for his family, which used to be the basic excuse for working hard, now finds it very difficult to save because of the ravage of inflation.

ALTHOUGH FIGURES MAY SHOW increased deposits in savings banks and such places, they must be offset against loans and obligations. The net worth of each person in no manner shows that the rewards for hard work go to those who work hard. The highest rewards go to those who are in rackets which make it possible for them not to pay taxes until they are caught.

The keystone of the capitalist system is reward for incentive. The keystone of the Soviet system is a series of rewards for incentives and for obedience to authority. The realistic reward under the capitalist system is personal liberty; the realistic reward under the Soviet system is an opportunity to rise in the hierarchy of the government and the Communist party.

IF YOU WANT TO CATCH THE difference by ear, listen to such a symphony as Beethoven's Third, Fifth or Ninth and then listen to the music of the television show, "Peter Gunn," which has attracted so much attention that recordings are being sold. Or, if you cannot stand Beethoven, listen to Dimitri Tiomkin's music for "High Noon," which drives a man frantic and dirty relentlessly, overpoweringly. Then listen to the "Peter Gunn" music.

You will catch an entire era of history in these contrasts. Those who lack incentive to go forward, collapse somewhere along the way morally and physically and the beard does not help at all.

I have recently read "The Big Bankroll," by Leo Katcher.. It is the story of Arnold Rothstein, the banker for the rackets; the inventor of many of the rackets; the forerunner of those who today are prosecuted by the Kefauver committee.

It is the story of incentive gone awry like the wild cells that produce cancer. Such a person could only develop in a sick society, for what Rothstein did with extraordinary brilliance was to diagnose each and every ill of a sick society and to take full advantage of them. A psychologist who studied him could not discover all the weaknesses of individuals and took advantage of them. Rothstein's incentive was strong; according to the book, it was money, but money is never enough for a man. Obviously, he was driven by power motivated such men as Hitler or Stalin.

REMOVE INCENTIVES FROM our way of life and we become a sterile, impotent, unproductive people. Our incentives are money, status, respect, power. Remove the money incentives and status and power are automatically removed. In Great Britain, it is different because achievement might bring a decoration or a title from the queen. In the United States, the most that one can get by way of acknowledgement of achievement might be an honorary degree from a university or a favorable obituary. It is because we have removed all incentives but money, that so much emphasis is placed upon money in our civilization. It is unfortunate but true.

Now taxes are deflating that incentive. There are no Horatio Algers in this generation. Perhaps our young people will have to follow Van Cliburn and go to Moscow to win status and a reward.

Summer Chore Routine

MEMO TO MOTHERS:

If you want summer "vacation" to leave you limp, you had better get busy and work out some kind of routine for your children to replace the routine they are used to during the school year.

Ruth Millett

Leave them with no routine at all and homelife is going to be completely disorganized and you are going to be a wreck.

Instead of letting them sleep until noon, or each child get up at a different hour, insisting on breakfast at a different time, set a time for getting up.

If you don't want them to start worrying about what they are going to do all day, make out a weekly list telling what chores each child is supposed to do each day, to use up some of their excess time and energy.

In addition to taking care of their own rooms, they can pitch in and do any number of jobs that you have done through the school year.

They can fend a hand with the yard work, window washing, floor waxing, garage cleaning, etc. And they'll do it without argument if you let them know ahead what you expect them to do and make it clear that the work must be done before they have the neighborhood kids over for a game of baseball, or take off for the swimming pool.

Three months is far too long a time for children who are used to a regulated routine of school to live with no routine at all.

They will be happier, and so will you, if you work out some kind of daily routine for them to follow.

Let children do exactly as they please, day after day, and pretty soon nothing pleases them.

No-Trump Problem Solved

By OSWALD JACOBY

The change from the standard 16-18 point no-trump to the more effective 15-17 creates a minor problem with the 18-point hand, but it can be solved rather easily. Simply open one of a suit with a balanced 18 points and jump if your partner responds.

Sometimes this will get you to game with only 25 points in the combined hands, and sometimes you will make this 25 point game, also. In any case there are almost three times as many 15 as 18-point hands, so the 15-17-point bidder gets in many more no-trump openings.

East won the first trick with the king of spades and shifted to a club. South went right up with the king and knocked out West's ace of spades with the queen.

Now, since the diamonds broke 3-3, there was no defense against the three no-trump contract in spite of all finesses being wrong, but South actually made an overtrick.

West shifted to the ten of hearts. Dummy's jack forced East's queen, and South won with the king. He took his jack of spades and played the king of diamonds.

West took his ace, but that was his last trick.

Voice Of The People

KANKAKEE—In regard to the last few nights letters to the voice of the people, I was just wondering who paid Mr. Dandurand to write up such a nice letter concerning the hospital, or what he expects to get out of it. I am one of many I have talked to, who agrees whole heartedly with Mrs. C. P. Hurling.

We, too, called several doctors, after finding out ours was out of town, one evening when our baby had severe stomach cramps. After an hours calling we finally got one. She said to take the baby to the emergency room at St. Mary's hospital, and to go to the emergency door. We too went to the emergency door, only to find it locked, and no bell to ring. So we took her through the front entrance. The policeman in the lobby was the only one that showed any courtesy at all. He put us on the elevator and saw to it we reached the emergency room.

The doctor told us on the phone that she would be there when we arrived, but, you guessed it, she wasn't and she didn't intend to come at all if she wasn't sure it was necessary.

The nurse (if you can call her that) on duty pointed to a table on which we laid the baby. She took the baby's temperature, and then she phoned the doctor and told her to come, the baby was sick.

We waited approximately three quarters of an hour before the doctor finally arrived, and all this time the nurse (I use the word loosely) didn't utter one word to either of us, or the baby, until my husband started wrapping the baby up to take her home again. Just then the doctor arrived and told me to take the baby's clothing off, all of it. The baby was perspiring a lot, and I didn't care to undress her. It wasn't that warm in that basement room, but I did as I was told, and thanks to her, the baby suffered with a cold for a week afterward.

The doctor said she couldn't find anything wrong, but she still wanted us to leave the baby in the hospital. We weren't about to do that. We knew by the way things were there that night, that she would get a lot closer attention at home.

There isn't anything but take her temperature, but, you might know, we received the bills, one for the use of the emergency room, and the other I guess for getting the doctor out of bed.

I don't honestly know what the hospital would do without the insurance companies, because a working man couldn't possibly pay what they ask. Thank God, for the insurance companies!

I'm glad I've had the opportunity and reason to write this, it has been sticking in my craw ever since it happened.

We are another family who will be glad to see another hospital come in. I only hope it's run with a little more discretion.

Girl Who Almost Missed Show Wins Fair Talent Contest

"JERRY," THE FELLOW IN the middle, was in the midst of tellios Mrs. Wayne Rich (left) that he was just "thrilled to pieces" to learn he had received top honors, qualifies for a 10-day trip to New York and an audition for the Ted Mack Amateur Show. (Journal photo)

Eleven-year-old Lana We..., an Weiss, an entrant who almost got lost in the shuffle and missed the payoff performance, has won the Venita Rich Talent Revue contest at the Kankakee County Fair.

Lana, no stranger to Kankakeans because of her extensive entertaining during recent years, was aided in her victory by her companion, Jerry, the "dummy" she uses in her ventriloquism act.

The ventriloquist act was judged winner of the contest Tuesday night over 43 other acts that appeared in the competition. For Lana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Weiss, 719 W. Water St., it will mean a trip to New York City and an audition for the Ted Mack televised amateur show.

LANA WAS among 23 acts which appeared during the afternoon performance. Mrs. Rich announced that five would be chosen from the 22 to appear with 22 others in the evening performance. At the conclusion of the afternoon program she read the names of five acts the judges had chosen—Charlotte Hester of Wilmington, Mary Lou Eberhart of Watseka, the Rockettes of Crescent City, the Four Teens of Kankakee and the Schwark-Schmidt-Fairchild-Jackson tap dance quartet.

What Mrs. Rich failed to notice was that because of the outstanding talent the judges had chosen six acts for the evening and Miss Weiss was also in the group. She led in the group. The omission wasn't discovered until late afternoon.

It was early evening by the time Mrs. Rich managed to locate the ventriloquist. She had left the fair grounds at 4 p.m. to change clothes for the evening performance.

Lana's trip to New York will not come until June, 1960. Reason for this is that Mrs. Rich's tour of county fair shows continues into October and by that time most of the winners will be in school. The trip, thus, is delayed until the school term is over.

Mrs. Lich said that Lana will make the trip by chartered bus with about 30 other acts. Along with some mothers and other adults the group will number about 60. The trip will be a 10-day affair. The trip will be a 10-day affair to Niagara Falls, a trip down the Hudson River, a week in New York City and a visit to Philadelphia on the return trip.

Lana has made numerous appearances during her eight years of performing—at PTA meetings, at club and organization parties, at church events, etc.

Since her victory Tuesday night she already has received some other invitations for the next few weeks.

Mrs. Rich labeled the Kankakee Fair talent "outstanding," and remarked that the caliber was much better than that of her last show, that being in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Seventy-six individuals participated in the show. Each will receive a certificate of participation.

Expect Nixon In Wisconsin Primary Vote

MILWAUKEE (UPI) —A former governor and a former state Republican chairman predicted today that Vice President Richard Nixon will enter Wisconsin's presidential preference primary "irrespective" of whether Gov. Nelson Rockerfeller's name is on the ballot.

Former Gov. Walter Kohler, Kohler, Wis., and former state GOP chairman Philip G. Kuehn, Milwaukee, agreed that Nixon will enter Wisconsin regardless of whether the New York governor announced a presidential candidate.

Kohled said Nixon is his "personal choice" and he would be "deeply honored" if the vice president asks him to be a Nixon-pledged delegate.

Vincent Mercurio, Milwaukee Republican chairman, also expressed interest in running as a delegate for Nixon.

Mercurio said that most of the people "officially connected with the Republican Party in Wisconsin" favor Nixon. "Satat Chairman Claude Jasper has said that he will be neutral but I believe Nixon is his personal preference."

Indiana Boy, 17, Found With Carnival, Momence

The ambition of a 17-year-old Indiana boy to join a carnival and do some traveling was foiled today when he was picked up by Momence police and delivered to the Kankakee County jail, to await the arrival of his father.

Sheriff Henry Kluth of Clinton called the sheriff's office here at 11:29 p.m. Monday, and said it was suspected that Vincent Deien of Carlyle was with the carnival, due to arrive in Momence Monday night.

Pat Barker, Momence police chief, was notified, and he checked the carnival trucks that had arrived, but the boy was not present.

Early today Chief Barker checked the trucks that arrived during the night and found Deien.

The youth's father was notified, and said he would come to Kankakee immediately to get him.

Financial Report Reflects Rise In School Costs

The continuing increase in the cost of school operations is reflected in the annual financial report of the treasurer of Kankakee School District 111.

Walter J. Charleton, treasurer, submitted the report Monday night and it was accepted by the board of education.

The total disbursements for the fiscal year July 1, 1958-June 30, 1959 were $2,849,664.51. This is an increase of $343,708.31 over the $2,512,356.20 disbursements of the previous fiscal year.

Rise in costs is general with a few reductions noted. Custodians' supplies, freight, express and drayage costs dropped from $17,240 to $15,833. Costs of stationery and supplies went down from $43,191.98 to $42,615.60. Capital outlay for new equipment was reduced from $33,031 to $22,852 and repairs and replacements dropped from $82,073

Charlie Woore Has 'New Home' At County Fair

One of the happiest fellows at the Kankakee County Fair is Charles Woore of Momence. The latter has been heading the farm crops and fruits and vegetables shows at the county fair for nearly 20 years. This year, for the first time, his show is in a building all its own. Here he shows one of the prize winning FFA exhibits to young Dafley Jonsen of Herscher—perhaps encouraging the 4-H lad to enter his show next year. Barn Burns To Ground Near Manteno

MANTENO (JNS)—Manteno firemen were on the job about four hours Monday night as they battled a barn blaze on the Darrell Stauffenberg farm about two miles north and two miles west of this community.

The fire of unknown origin leveled the farm building and destroyed its contents, hay, which kept smoldering four hours after the wooden structure collapsed.

According to authorities, a neighbor to the west of the Stauffenberg farm, which is owned by a Chicago woman, called in the alarm at 7:15 p.m.

Fire fighters found the blaze out of control when they reached the scene. The roof had already caved in and the walls were ablaze.

The firemen managed to save a 65-foot milk shed adjacent to the ruined building. There were no cows in the shed at the time.

The absence of wind during the fire aided firemen in keeping the flames from threatening any of the other farm buildings.

The Stauffenbergs were not at home when the barn ignited.

Okay Appropriation For Civil Defense

A $5,000 appropriation for civil defense was approved this morning by Kankakee County Board of Supervisors, following a recommendation from the finance committee.

The money has already been ear-marked to help defray part of the expenses for a $13,500 disaster warning siren system in the county.

The appropriations follows close on the heels of a civil defense ordinance passed by the board at its July 14 meeting, authorizing a CD tax levy of 5 cents on every $100 assessed valuation.

Half the designated money will refund the county through federal CD agencies, it was announced.

Donald Gray, finance committee chairman, pointed out that the $2,000 will have to come out of the next fiscal budget, because it was not included in the present one.

OTHER BUSINESS concluded by the board this morning:

Two appointments were made to the county tuberculosis sanitorium board—Dr. Raymond Malott, for one year, and Dr. Charles Allison, for three years.

Received notice from the three Circuit Court judges in the 12th Judicial District that supervisors would have to appoint a grand jury at their next meeting. The number of petit jurors was also specified: 850 for Kankakee County, 600 for Iroquois County and 1,200 for Will County.

Received a report from the county veterinarian that 342 head of cattle had been tested for tuberculosis and 61 for brucellosis, with no reactors in either category.

Just prior to adjournment the board's zoning committee was directed to make a report at the next meeting of all information and recommendations regarding zoning.

The ordered report was on request of Victor Cardoni, assistant supervisor for Kankakee Township, who said that a zoning ordinance was a vital adjunct to the building code now in effect. "The two ordinances will be very effective in helping to preserve property values in the county," Cardosi said.

Think Long Will Convert Rebuke Into Victory

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Aides of Gov. Earl K. Long predicted today that he would convert an apparent rebuke by the Louisiana Legislature into a political victory.

Somehow, they hinted that the rebuke—the Legislature's decision to adjourn a special session, called by Long, less than an hour after it started Monday night—may even have been engineered in part by the fiery 63-year-old chief executive.

Speculation that Long may have had something to do with the abrupt adjournment by both the House and Senate heightened when reporters found the governor in good spirits, laughing and joking, shortly after the abbreviated session.

Long showed no trace of the wildness he displayed when the Legislature thwarted him two months ago. That was over a relatively minor issue. But he became so infuriated he took the floor two straight days to rant and curse and hurl personal insults at friends and foes alike.

Two days later he was drugged, trussed up and flown to a Texas mental ward.

Bound To County Court On Drunk Driving Charge

John Lambeth, 47, Aroma Park road, was bound to County Court this morning on charges of driving while intoxicated and having no operator's license. He appeared before Justice of the Peace George Genotte, who set bail at 1,500 property bond of $500 cash bond. He was arrested about 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Genotte also fined Wayne A. Orwig, 17, of RR 1, Bonfield, $10 and costs on a charge of speeding. Orwig was involved in an accident with a gravel truck driven by Francis Hummel, 32, of Cabery about 1 p.m. Monday at the Lehigh Stone Quarry.

There was no Sunday in China 50 years ago. Now they observe one day of the week as a day of rest.

Toll Fund Thefts Probed By Jurors

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A federal grand jury today began investigation of a shortage of Rock Island Centennial Bridge toll funds which officials said may total $150,000.

Two unidentified witnesses, about seven agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and a movie were expected to be the principal elements in the grand jury hearing.

A projector and a screen were taken into the grand jury room but the film to be shown was not described by authorities.

Police are taking tolls on the bridge between Rock Island, Ill. and Davenport, Iowa. All 13 regular toll takers have been suspended.

U. S. DIST. ATTY. Harlington Wood Jr. said he was aiming at conclusion of the investigation and a report by Thursday.

U.S. Dist. Judge Charles G. Briggle is available to receive the report during the vacation of Judge Omer Poos.

Wood said hearings would suspend after today for a study of the evidence Wednesday by his staff.

FBI agents from the Springfield office on hand to testify were James Handlosser, Joe L. McKinstray, John W. Lewis, Robert Trout, Louie Dean and Charles R. Wood Jr.

STATE'S ATTY. Bernard Morain of Rock Island County has started toll takers pocketed sums and by stratagems prevented mechanical recording of all vehicles crossing the bridge.

He said federal prosecution was decided upon because the alleged thefts involve a conspiracy to defraud the United States government which authorized governmental action at the bridge.

FBI men were called in on May 25 and set up headquarters at the hotel at the foot of the bridge on the Davenport side to keep an electronic count of all vehicles crossing.

LABOR BILL—

House conference. Halleck said that in spite of reports to the contrary in some places, Mitchell is for the Landrum-Griffin bill.

Halleck also predicted that the Landrum-Griffin bill wouldn't bog down in a dispute with the Senate, which has passed its own version of a labor measure. He said he thinks differences could be composed, as they were when the Taft-Hartley labor law was enacted.

ARRAYED IN FAVOR of the most restrictive of the three bills were President Eisenhower and a Republican House minority.

Supporting what its sponsors called a moderate middle-of-the-road approach were a majority of House Democrats headed by Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex).

A smaller group of Democrats was supporting a third measure, backed by AFL-CIO chieftains and making fewer changes in present law.

In advance of showdown voting later this week, the balance of power appeared to reside in a small but potent coalition of Southern and Midwestern conservatives of both parties.

THE NATION got a preview of the forthcoming House debate Monday night as Rayburn spoke over a radio network and supporters of all three measures discussed them on a television program. Eisenhower's bid had was best for the nation.

The programs followed up Eisenhower's radio-TV appeal last Thursday for passage of a bill strong enough to outlaw management racketeering practices which he called "a national disgrace."

Rayburn contended that "powerful interests" are using the public demand for a cleanup of racketeering as a smoke screen behind which they can impose crippling legal restraints on the honest, legitimate interests of the working man."

The bill Eisenhower is backing, Rayburn said, "would throw the weight of the federal government so heavily on the side of management" that it would harm the rights of honest, law-abiding workers.

He appealed for passage of legislation to end "the worst abuses in labor-management relations without trampling on the just rights of anyone."

St. Anne Church To Hear Bible Institute Speaker

ST. ANNE (JNS) — Hubert R. Bates, assistant to the dean of men, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, will speak in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday at 10:45 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Born at Hope, Mich., Bates graduated from Moody Bible Institute in 1948 and received his B.A. degree (Greek major) from Wheaton College, Wheaton. He is now working on his master of theology degree at Wheaton.

Bates served in the Air Force for four years in the South Pacific during World War II.

He joined the staff of Moody Institute in February, 1954.

calculations might be upset because of layoffs induced by the steel strike. The government counted 4,000,000 "unemployed," but workers who are laid off as a result of a strike are tallied as jobless

HE SAID THE relatively small drop in unemployment in July was caused largely by the slowdown in the south and south central states which curtailed farm work. Nonfarm jobs throughout the nation spurted to a record 60,769,000.

The rise in employment during July marked a continuation of post-recession gains, it was the second month in a row that the number of jobs climbed to a new high.

Long-term unemployment, people out of work for at least 15 weeks, continued to drop, edging down by 110,000 to 817,000.

The number of farm jobs fell by 406,000 to 6,825,000. A dip of 100,000 would have been normal.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market bounced back vigorously today from Monday's setback but prices were below early best in quiet trading early this afternoon.

Pivotal issues rose from fractions to about a point while some of the "wonder stocks" which have suffered severe losses regained 2 or 3 points.

The early advance swept all sections of the list with gains running to as much as 3 points or so. Brokers called it a technical recovery based on the fact that traders regarded many issues as bargains at the low prices prevailing at Monday's close.

The electronics - missile - rocket group made the widest moves to the upside.

The overall gain at noon was only about a quarter of Monday's loss, the sharpest since last November.

Texas Instruments snapped back about 2.

Polaroid was up more than 4 and Litton Industries around 3.

Du Pont rose about 2. Youngstown Sheet remained ahead more than a point.

Government bonds were steady. Prices as of 1 p.m.:

The ranch was a gift to the Boy Scouts many years ago by Waite Phillips who also donated the Phillips Building in Tulsa, Okla., to provide income for the ranch.

This is the second year that local Explorer scouts have gone to the ranch and three former members of the Rainbow Council have gone as a complete post.

Father Digs Son Out Of Cave-In

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A desperate father dug frantically with his bare hands for almost an hour Monday to free his 4-year-old-son, trapped by a ditch cave-in.

The boy was screaming something awful, the father, Ira Curtis said later. When the screams stopped, tension rose.

"He must be gone, he couldn't have lasted that long," a youth said quietly.

But finally Curtis, with the help of other rescuers, got young Billy out—alive. He was taken to a hospital, where an examination showed he had only a few bruises and bruises.

Three boys were playing in a ditch near Billy's home when the walls suddenly caved in. Billy's older brother, Donald, 9, was buried to his neck.

Sleeping Child Must Be Covered

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

Do you remember what it feels like to pick up a sound asleep child? His little body is limp and floppy. You must hold up his head for him, his legs hang down, you must gather up his arms, or they drag too. Then perhaps you remember how it feels when he wakes up in your arms. Suddenly he is limp no longer. He holds up his own head and his arms and legs as well. Instead of a sack of meal in your arms you have a wiggly child His muscles are once again taut and do what he wants them to do.

The difference between the limp relaxation of sleep and the tense muscles of being awake is due to what we call muscle tone All the time during life the muscles are using food and oxygen, how much they use varies a lot. During sleep they use the least of all and during very vigorous exercise they use the most. There are all sorts of gradations in between. The harder a muscle works the more food and oxygen it uses up. Always when a muscle works it produces heat—like is the heat that keeps us warm.

During sleep muscles relax, use little food and produce relatively little heat. Therefore the body has a tendency to cool down during sleep, from a temperature that is quite comfortable to be awake in is not comfortable to sleep in unless we help out the body by preserving that heat that it makes in its relaxed sleeping condition. That's why it's necessary to throw a blanket over a child who falls asleep on the couch or in his playpen.

If you don't cover him up and help him keep the small amount of heat his muscles are generating he will become chilled. You will find his hands and feet becoming bluish and cold. If he gets quite cold he will begin to shiver. This is nature's way of making his muscles work to warm him up.

At the other extreme muscles sometimes work so hard in vigorous exercise that the body becomes too warm. Then nature pulls out another of her tricks. She makes the youngster sweat. The evaporation of the sweat cools the body down.

We want to go along with nature and help her out wherever we can. Cover a sleeping child for adult, too, for that matter) and take off as many clothes as possible when a youngster is likely to get overheated from his own strenuous activity. Sweating is a good healthy mechanism for cooling down a hot body, but if a hot sweaty child suddenly stops exercising and sits in a cool breeze he is apt to cool down too fast and too much. So long as a child is exercising vigorously his sweat will keep him reasonably cool, but when he rests he doesn't need to cool down so rapidly. If possible dry him off and give him fresh clothes. If this is not possible at the moment insist he put on a jacket until the cooling produced by his sweating catches up with slowed down rate of heat production from his now quieted down muscles.

Cover your child when he sleeps even in summer, take off extra clothes when he plays vigorously even in winter. Insist on a sweater when he rests all hot and damp.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Summer appetites have a way of lagging from time to time. If your wee one's appetite is on the wane, these suggestions may spur him on to lick the platter clean. (1) Let him get almost "begging" hungry. (2) Feed him in the coolest spot you can find. (3) You'll fare better with favorites. (4) Try rotating colors and kinds of food . . . a cinch with so many Gerber goodies to choose from.

Summer appetites almost always get a lift when the menu features Gerber Strained or Junior Fruits. And small wonder! For they have the singing colors and true-to-nature flavors that only the juiciest, sun-kissed fruits can provide. Like all Gerber Baby Foods, they're specially processed to preserve the utmost in vitamin values. All Gerber Fruits are extra refreshing when served slightly cool. Gerber Junior Fruits make a delightful topping for a toddler sundae or a Gerber Pudding.

Precautionary measure. Even though you think your baby or toddler is completely tanned at this late date, don't leave him exposed to this hot August sun for more than 20 or 30 minutes at a time. (Some of the worst burns come about through overconfidence.) P.S. Beware the slightly cloudy day. One is apt to expose baby longer, and forget that the sun still has some burning power, even through a haze.

Good news for toddlers—Cookies with added protein! Yes, the new Gerber Cookies are more than "sugar 'n spice." They provide twice as much protein as most other cookies because they contain protein-rich soy flour and nonfat dry milk. What's more, they're glazed with a delicate icing that's enriched with important B-vitamins. Think of it! Vitamin in the icing so they can't be lost in baking. Scrumptious as a snack or dessert. P.S. Older tots will like 'em too. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

A Rigid Temperament Must Be Avoided

BY DR. PAUL POPENOE

When a child faces an unpleasant task, he may react in one of three ways. He may go towards that person, against that person, or away from that person.

In the first case, he's saying, in effect, "I love you. I need you, so I'm sure you won't hurt me."

In the second place, he is saying, in effect, "You'd better look out. If you try to hurt me, you'll get the worst of it."

In the third place, he says, "I'm too inoffensive to be worth hurting. Anyhow, I can live without you. I can live within myself and so there's nothing you can do that will really hurt me."

THIS WAS THE scheme worked out by the late psychoanalyst, Karen Horney, and any reader will recognize some truth in it. I believe. At one time or another, any normal person reacts in one or another of those three ways. If you know how to pick out the right line each time, if you're flexible and discerning enough to know which way to move, you'll get along well.

Some children grow up, however, with one of these reactions so habitual that they can't move in any other direction. A girl who has never learned anything exc. pt to approach p—ple with extravagant tastes. Don't do anything that will make the parents think you attach their son largely through sex appeal. Be courteous, thoughtful, sincere, and you can't go wrong.

Q. I suppose there are more children in the world reacting in one of these two ways. The supposition is that the other people will be scared off. Maybe he won't care, however, maybe he'll just knock you down, literally or figuratively.

OTHER PEOPLE run away and hide or try to do so, along the line of reaction number three. These may end up in an institution for mental diseases.

Mrs. A has written me asking, "What is a neurosis?" Every writer has a different definition but Dr. Horney's scheme gives one clue. Her idea is that neurosis is marked by rigidity of conduct. You become neurotic by picking out either one of these lines I have described, for example, and using it not merely when it is appropriate but on all other occasions when it is not appropriate.

This rigidity of behavior is far too common and very damaging. If you think you're leaning a little too much in that direction yourself, write me, with stamped, self-addressed envelope, and ask for a Free copy of a bulletin, "Suggestions for Decreasing Rigidity." Applying the instructions given in it, you will be able to get along a great deal better with other people.

Q. I've been going steady with a man who is now going to take me to visit his parents—and I'm scared!

A. So is he. So are they. Don't give the impression that you dress sexy—you've no extravagant tastes. Don't do anything that will make the parents think you attach their son largely through sex appeal. Be courteous, thoughtful, sincere, and you can't go wrong.

Market's Peace Scare Brings Many Doubters

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's peace scare is bringing forth a bevy of doubters.

Everyone hopes that Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks can live up to advance billing and lead to a thaw in the cold war. But just how much of a thaw is likely and how it would affect American industry is another matter.

Those who doubt that more than a temporary thaw can be expected have precedents for their views. They can point to the last summit meeting in Geneva where Soviet promises were made — and later broken.

And if the forthcoming talks bring more promises, there's considerable difference of opinion as to how much of a cut in defense spending would follow.

SOME BELIEVE the most that could happen would be a drop in defense spending of around 10 billion dollars a year. That is the amount that it left in the two years after the end of the Korean war.

Those two years saw the 1953-54 recession. But they also saw the start of the business boom that lasted into 1957.

And with the launching of the first sputnik came the big buildup in U. S. defense spending that has thrown the federal budget out of kilter and stifled hopes for tax cuts.

SUPPOSING THAT the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks do lead to a cold war thaw that looks trustworthy, what would happen to the economy?

If defense spending can be cut by 10 billion dollars or more, the first to feel it decisively will be the defense industries. And the men to feel it may be the taxpayer—and pleasantly.

That makers of armaments would be hurt is accepted as a truism by stock traders. But many companies making weapons also are heavily involved in the space age. The urge to conquer outer space may well go on unabated with or without a cold war thaw.

COMMUNITIES with defense investment factories are a mainstay would be hit hard by a 10-billion-dollar drop in defense spending—supposing that to be the result of the summit talks.

But others point to the big upsurge in the over-all economy in 1955 when defense spending was 10 billion dollars less than in 1953. Consumers' peacetime needs more than took up the slack.

The biggest hope this time would lie in the chance of a cut-in federal spending that would justify a comparable cut in federal taxes.

If this puts more money into consumer pockets, many economists hold that increased civilian spending would keep the over-all economy on a high level and might again lead it to new highs.

FBI Arrests Man Charged In Bogus Bill Ring

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Federal agents have arrested a sixth member of an alleged counterfeiting ring.

Authorities seized Ralph M. Johnson, 34, in his suburban Shrewsbury home Monday. A warrant was issued charging Johnson with counterfeiting.

Agents quoted Johnson as saying he printed $60,000 worth of $10 bills.

The ring was cracked, agents said, when the wife of the ring leader pulled a $5 bill from his pocket as he was sleeping and tried to pass it — failing to notice that one side was blank.

Agents said the ring financed its operations by passing $1,200 in bad checks in St. Louis County, then passed $10,000 in bogus $10 bills in a week in Chicago to New Orleans — but not in St. Louis.

Crowley, Cleared Of Slaying, Found Dead

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP)—Seven weeks ago, Joseph P. Crowley, a former Yale football star, was cleared in a sensational Tokyo trial of slaying his brother-in-law.

Today Crowley himself lay dead, felled on his 50th birthday. Authorities indicate he may have died from barbiturates.

Crowley's body was found by his son Joseph Monday on a bed in his home in Hamden, a New Haven suburb. He wore trousers and a sweater. Authorities said he probably died Sunday night while his family was at its summer home.

Coroner James Corrigan said an autopsy revealed conditions "consistent with barbituric aid or barbiturate poisoning."

But the coroner said the autopsy was inconclusive. A toxicologist report expected today should clear up the cause of death, he said. Police suspected no foul play.

Crowley's death came just as he was rebuilding the life he'd led up until May 1958—that of a prosperous businessman whose standing in the New Haven area was enhanced by his exploits nearly 20 years ago as a Yale football hero.

Crowley's wife Betty is a daughter of the late T. A. D. Jones Sr., a famed football coach of years ago and a one-time All-America player.

It was T. A. [illegible] of Crowley's business partner and Betty Crowley's brother, that Crowley was accused of killing in suburban Tokyo last year.

Red Sox outfielder, Gene Stephens, also slides into third base, running from first base during the rundown. Runnels was out. The action occurred in the first inning. (Unifax)

Rocky's Rockin' 'Em Once More

Mays Having Bad Year But He's Still Good

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pity poor Willie Mays.

He's having a bad year. He's hitting under .300. His home run output is way below par. Even his fielding has been somewhat less than spectacular.

San Francisco fans can't understand all those raves that emanated from the East where Willie Mays was the pride of the Polo Grounds. Last year while Mays was struggling to reach .350 and hit 30 home runs (he finished with .347 and 29 homers), it was a rookie, Orlando Cepeda, who became the darling of Seals Stadium.

This year Mays continued to be just a mirage, an over-rated player. The real thing, the new darling, has been another Willie—Willie McCovey.

McCOVEY CAPTURED the fancy of the fans by hitting four home runs in his first eight game as a Giant. He won game after game since his elevation from Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League late last month.

McCovey gave the Giants a much-needed shot in the arm with his prodigious hitting. But Willie Mays hasn't been exactly loafing either during the past week.

Take Monday night, for instance. Shut out by Larry Jackson for eight innings, the Giants rallied for three runs in the ninth to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2. All Mays did was drive in the first Giants run with a single and score the winning run on a double by still another Willie — Willie Kirkland.

THE VICTORY, fifth in the last six games, extended the Giants' first place lead over the idle Los Angeles Dodgers to two games. Milwaukee, also idle, fell three games back. No other National League team was scheduled.

It was Mays who either scored or drove in the key run in each of the last five Giants victories. It's the only game they've lost since Tuesday, Aug. 4. Mays sat on the bench with an injury.

8 New Tennis Courts Nearly Completed In Parks

Work has been completed on seven of eight tennis courts at five Kankakee parks and finishing touches on the eighth, at Strasma Park, are expected to be completed sometime this week.

Courts at Cobb, Beckman, Aldiner and McIlroun Parks were filled with players over the past weekend and Monday.

The court at Strasma Park, near Aroma Park, is ready for play but workmen have not yet put up the fence or installed the net.

All the courts are for public use at any time.

Giardello, Vejor Fight Tonight

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—Veteran middleweights Chico Vejar and Joe Giardello of New York clash here tonight in a 10-round outdoor bout at Midway Stadium.

The match has been billed as an elimination affair with the winner moving into top contention for one of the middleweight crowns.

Giardello, who knocked out St. Paul's Del Flanagan here earlier this summer, is favored to beat the former art student.

Durelle Vows He'll Be Real 'Killer' This Time

MONTREAL (AP)—Yvon Durelle vowed today that if he floors Archie Moore first again he's going to finish him off and grab the old master's light heavyweight crown.

"I'll go after him with all I've got," said the fighting fisherman from Lake Anne, N.B. "He won't get off my hook."

The rugged Canadian and British Empire 175-pound ruler gets a second crack at Moore's world title at the Forum here Wednesday night. He's a 3-1 underdog despite the facts he dumped the American four times, three times in the first round, before being knocked out in the 11th round last Dec. 10.

"I GOT BAD ADVICE from my seconds that night," Yvon said bitterly. "After I had Moore down three times in the first round they told me to box in the second round. Me box? I don't know how to box. I should have gone right after him. I would have had the championship if I did."

The 29 - year - old challenger is grim compared to his happy-go-lucky attitude before the first fight. He said his fishing boats have been losing money lately and he's fuming over his $15,000 guarantee for the fight, a puny sum compared to Moore's $175,000 guarantee.

Just talking about the figures got him so upset Monday that he staged short-lived revolt against signing a return bout contract. This pact calls for each fighter to get 30 per cent of the receipts for another fight if Durelle should beat Moore Wednesday.

AFTER TELLING newsmen that he would toss the return contract out of the window, he changed his attitude following talks with Manager Chris Shaban and Truman Gibson, president of the National Boxing Enterprises of Chicago. Television rights were sold for $100,000. The fight will be seen on a national network starting at 9 p.m. (CDT) but will not be shown in Canada and some U.S. border cities.

Near End Of Line

Time, Weight Are Archie's Worst Foes

BY OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Time, tide and the tortures of making weight Wednesday night well could spell the end of ancient Archie Moore's seven-year reign as light heavyweight champion of the world.

The muscular marvel from San Diego won fighter of the year and fight of the decade honors last year when he came off the deck four times to stop Yvon Durelle. It was one of the ring's greatest displays of gamesmanship.

But it just may go the other way at Montreal Wednesday night despite the 3 to 1 odds favoring old Arch in this rematch.

It isn't so much, according to veteran fight men, that Archie is 43 going on 49 or that Durelle, the lusty fisherman from Canada, is riding a rising tide. They see Moore's eclipse in the fact that once again he has been forced to pare his 200 pounds plus down to the 175-pound limit.

"THE CAN HAND out all that bunk he wants to about having learned a reducing method from an Australian aborigine," explained one canny fight manager. "But after a while, even if the process is seemingly effortless, that constant reducing has to take its toll."

The feeling is that, even in a body which has been hardened muscularly, such reducing must leave a quickly tiring shell.

"Archie is ready to be taken," asserted another. "The time comes for everybody, sooner or later, and Moore is no exception. You've got to remember that Durelle, while he may not be the best boxer in the world, or anywhere close to it, is a lot younger at 29 and is as strong as a gorilla."

Making weight has ruined many a good fighter who insisted on going through the ordeal. Most others, tiring of the struggle, simply move up into a heavier weight class. Ray Robinson for years struggled to stay in the welterweight division where he had a lock on the competition. But after repeated doctor's orders that weight making could be severely injurious to his health, he moved up into the middleweight bracket.

AGELESS ARCHIE can't be rapped too readily on the basis of his age, which remains a deeper boxing mystery than the names of the fighters contended by Frankie Carbo. He claims he was born in 1916, which would make him "only" 43. His mother set the date as 1913, which would make him 46. Others contend that even this date is about three years short of the actual mark.

Nobody can contest the fact, however, that he has been boxing as a recognized professional since 1936—a mere matter of 23 years. How many years he laced on gloves before that in unrecognized bootleg bouts is once again anybody's guess.

His Hitting Revival Fans Indians' Hopes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rocky Colavito, the guy who must hit if the Indians are to win the American League pennant, is back on the beam and all Cleveland fans are breathing easier today.

In 25 games before Monday night, Colavito managed only 17 hits in 94 times at bat for a .181 average and the Indians dropped from a first place tie with Chicago to three games in back of the league leading White Sox.

IN FIVE TIMES at bat Monday Colavito, hammered a home run, a double and two singles. He drove in two runs during the Indians' 6-4 victory over Kansas City.

The triumph lached the Indians up to within 2½ games of the idle White Sox.

In the only other league acheduled game, the New York Yankees defeated the Boston Red Sox 7-4 in 10 innings for their fifth straight triumph.

THE YANKEES staged a real Merriwell finish to defeat the Red Sox. Held to four hits and no runs through eight innings by Frank Sullivan, and trailing 4-0, they put together a walk, hit batsman and four singles to score four runs in the ninth to tie. Elston Howard, Heck Lopez, Cletis Boyer and pinch hitter Norm Siebern got the hits, all singles.

In the tenth, two walks and singles by Yogi Berra, Howard and Lopez, off loser Al Schroll and Nelson Chitsum, produced three runs for New York.

Whitey Ford, fourth Yankee pitcher, was credited with the victory, his 12th against six defeats.

Three days of Little League state baseball tournament festivities begin here Wednesday with the arrival of Chicago Cubs rookie outfielder George Altman.

The Kankakee Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the state meet.

By 5 p.m. Wednesday all four state finalists, Archer Manor, Forest Park, Elgin's Nationals and Taylorville are expected to be in Kankakee. Altman will arrive just in time for the state tourney banquet which starts at 6:30 p.m. at the Civic Auditorium.

Bill McMullen, Jaycee in charge of the banquet, will pivk up Altman at Wrigley Field Wednesday afternoon following the Cubs-Los Angeles Dodgers game.

THE TOURNAMENT which the Kankakee Jaycees All-Stars won last year en route to the national finals, will open Thursday at 2:30 p.m. with the Taylorville and Forest Park games at Beckman Park.

The presentation of the flag will be made by the national champion Kankakee American Legion color guard and formal introduction of the two teams will follow. Mayor Ed P. Madison will throw out the first ball.

The second game, between Elgin and Archer Manor will be played at 5 p.m. with the championship game coming Friday at 4:30 p.m.

Altman has been in organized baseball for only two years but has been a regular, off and on, with the Cubs most of this season.

He was voted by the Chicago baseball writers as the most outstanding rookie in the Cubs' spring training. He had a spring training batting mark of .400.

ALTMAN BROKE INTO professional baseball in 1956 with Burlington in the class B Carolina League. His batting average was only .263 but he walloped 19 home runs and had 67 RBIs.

Altman went into military service at the end of the 1956 season.

When he returned he went to the Pueblo, class A ball, in the Western League.

With Pueblo, Altman had a fine season, with 112 hits in 345 times at bat for a .325 batting mark, driving in 78 runs and hitting 14 homers.

The 6-4, 196-pound speedster is 26 years old and is from Goldsboro, N.C. He is a graduate of Tennessee A. and I. University.

Part Of Alumni Field Gets New Turf

Alumni Field's gridiron, which has resisted grass-growing attempts now for several years, has been given a face-lifting.

About 2,180 square yards of marion and bluegrass sod was transplanted on the field, where Kankakee High School and the two junior highs play football, last week, Herbert Hess reported to the Board of Education Monday night. Hess is buildings and grounds committee chairman of the Board of Education.

The center strip of the gridiron, which has been bare by mid-season of each football season for several years, was removed to a depth of about two inches. Sod purchased from a Chicago area grower was then laid by school maintenance employes under the supervision of Norman Woehrle, greenskeeper at the Kankakee Valley Elks Club. Equipment was furnished by the golf club.

THE PROJECT was completed in less than two days.

Woehrle and James Holmes of Kankakee, who is general manager for the National Golf Association in the Midwest, were consulted a couple of weeks ago when it became apparent to school authorities that grass seed planted last spring was on the advice of another agronomist had again yielded nothing but weeds. They confirmed the suspicion that the new foliage was nothing but knotweed and advised reseeding.

The Board had turned down a proposal last spring to sod the field, deciding instead to stay planting as had been done so futilely the last three or four years. Hess said the new sod will be firmly rooted well before the first football game Sept. 18 and the firm which supplied the sod virtually has guaranteed that it will, with proper care, stand the wear and tear this season.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The new head of Rosenaohn Enterprises Inc. wants heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson to come here, "immediately" to complete a deal for a Sept. 22 return bout against Floyd Patterson, but Johansson seems in no rush to accept.

"There is no reason for me to go there," said Johansson at Goteborg, Sweden. "I am the world champion, and they have to come here if they want anything."

JOHANSSON'S statement was made Monday just before Vincent Velella, new president of Rosenohn Enterprises, disclosed he has enabled the champion an invitation to come here expense-free to "close the deal immediately."

Velella wired Johansson that a decision must be made now concerning "three possible locations, two of which offer large guarantees." Velella told the champion that these "firm cash guarantees" and assurance of large closed circuit television make it certain the bout can be held as originally planned on Sept. 22, but warned that present doubt about Johansson's intentions are "seriously hurting the prdmotion."

Johansson said he was willing to fight Patterson Sept. 22 "if everything is in order," but added that he is "very disappointed" over the American conditions."

New York D.A. 'Sure' Johansson Won Honestly

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ingemar Johansson's knockout of Floyd Patterson was "strictly on the level," in the opinion of Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan, but Hogan has a lot more questions he wants to ask about the promotional side of the June 26 bout.

Hogan made that clear Monday after Frank Erickson, convicted gambler and bookmaker, was quizzed in the DA's office for about an hour.

Erickson, pudgy 64-year-old New Yorker who once ran a bookmaking business whose annual handle was estimated at $20 million, probably will testify today or Wednesday before the New York grand jury which is investigating underworld influence in boxing, Hogan said.

Hogan stressed that he is not investigating the action in the ring that night at Yankee Stadium when Johansson's thundering right fist knocked the heavyweight crown off the brow of New Yorker Patterson.

In "fairness" to both battlers, Hogan said, he wanted to make it clear that there is not "a scintilla" of evidence to indicate any possibility of a "fix" in the bout.

The new turf is reported to have the same grass mixture as that which has been used at Comiskey Park in readying the baseball diamond for Chicago Cardinals football games.

Total cost of the project was not revealed at the board meeting.

Motor City Open Starts; 169 In Field

DETROIT (AP)—A bulky field of 169 golfers made qualifying necessary today for the $25,000 Motor City Open golf tournament.

The Professional Golfers' Association restricts the starting field to 150 and had 80 players here exempt from qualifying. That left 89 players to compete today over the Meadowbrook Country Club course for the 70 remaining spots.

LATE WITHDRAWALS included Chandler Harper, Bo Wininger, Don January and Ernie Vossler. But of the top 15 money-winners in the current tour, only one will be absent. Youthful Ken Venturi, recent winner of the Chicago Open, is passing up the Motor City event to be with his family.

No one dares pick a favorite. The field is so classy that host professional Chick Harbert has predicted that the 72-hole course record of 273 will be threatened.

DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF and Mangrum each shot 273, bettering Lloyd Mangrum each shot 273, bettering par by 11 strokes, in their deadlock for the 1949 tournament. That was the year Middlecoff and Mangrum went 11 holes to a sudden death playoff without deciding the championship.

Darkness set in, the match was called and Middlecoff and Mangrum became co-champions.

U.S. Cindermen Win In Sweden

5 NFL Exhibition Games On This Week

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The Pittsburgh Steelers, who would rather beat the Cleveland Browns than any other team, play host to the Browns tonight in the first of five exhibition games this week involving National Football League teams.

The College All-Stars, made up of this year's leading NFL draft choices, tangle with the champion Baltimore Colts in Chicago Friday night in the 26th annual All-Star game.

Three night games are carded for Saturday. The New York Giants play the Philadelphia Eagles at Hershey, Pa.; the Detroit Lions play the Chicago Cardinals at Norman, Okla.; and the Green Bay Packers meet the Chicago Bears at Milwaukee.

THE STEELERS have high hopes this year in the Eastern Division race because they wound up the 1958 season as the hottest team in the NFL. Pittsburgh finally got rolling after obtaining Bobby Layne, winning six of its last seven games. The other ended up in a tie.

Cleveland is coming back from one of its most bitter disappointments. Just when the Browns appeared to be the Eastern title wrapped up, they dropped two in a row to the Giants, the last in a playoff.

The Browns are 16-2 in the league against the Steelers and 3-0 in exhibition play. They shut out the Steelers in their first exhibition game last year 10-0.

Only 9 Beat Par In Western Amateur Golf

PORTLAND, Ore (AP) — The narrow fairways of Waverly Country Club took their toll as the week-long Western Amateur Golf tournament opened Monday. Only nine players managed to better par.

Arthur Butler, chemical firm executive from Pasadena, Calif., and Dick Yost, former Walker Cup player from Portland, led the way with identical scores of 35-34 —69 on the par 36-36—72 course.

THE OREGON Amateur champion, Don Krieger, Portland, was next at 35-35—70, followed by six players at 71.

They were Bob Pratt, the Houston University golfer from Renton, Wash.; Dale Morey, 1953 Western Amateur champion from Indianapolis; Ron Luceti, San Francisco; and three Portlanders, Robert Donnelly, Ron Isaacs, and Jerry Cundari.

ANOTHER 18-HOLE round today trims the field of 107 to 50. This is the last of the 18-hole days. Thereafter, it will be 36 holes a day. On Wednesday, medal play will cut the field to 16 for match play the rest of the wee

Records Fall In Pan-Am Swim Trials

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Trials for the United States swimming team in the Pan-American Games entered their final day today with records a dime a dozen.

The program for today included preliminaries and finals in the men's 220-yard freestyle; women's 220-yard breaststroke; men's 220-yard breaststroke; women's 440 yard freestyle; men's platform diving and men's 1,650-yard freestyle.

A TOTAL OF FIVE new records were set in action Monday but two of them lasted only a few hours before they were eclipsed.

The competition was so keen that Bill Yorzyk, who set a new American record for the 22-butterfly strike in afternoon preliminaries, lost his record and his place on the team in the finals only a few hours later.

Yorzyk's record of 2:33.5 for the event was shaded by Mike Troy, Indianapolis, in the finals as he first of a two-game series. Moe Drabowsky (3-8) will go for Chicago against Johnny Podres (9-7).

Marietta Clinches Industrial Loop Flag

American Marietta clinched the championship in the YMCA Industrial Softball League Monday night by shutting out Simonz 7-0 at Bird Park.

In other league games second place David Bradley whipped Simonz 13-6, General Foods nipped A. O. Smith 9-8 and Roper Stove pounded Gould Batteries 14-8.

Tom Martin pitched a two-hit game and Chuck Birr pounded a two-run homer as Marietta blanked Simonz.

Birr's four-bagger came in the fifth inning with one mate aboard. AM tallied five times that inning. The winners ended with six hits off losing pitcher Ed Brazier

A fine relief pitching job by Clarence Green coupled with a nine-run splurge in the fourth, fifth and sixth frames put Roper within one game of third place.

GREEN CAME ON in the sixth and struck out five of the remaining six batters.

Bob Mosin had two hits in three at bats for Gould's. John Heddith went two-for-three for Roper

General Foods and A. O. Smith were even in hits with 10 apiece. They were tied 8-8 until the seventh frame when GF pushed the winning tally across.

Bob Sieber was the winning hurler while Marv Kuntz absorbed the setback.

Paul O'Connell whacked a two-run homer in the opening inning. Bob Harms followed with one aboard. He scored on a base hit by Ernie Thee. Thee completed 20 of 28 passes and rolled up 339 yards in the Cards 35-26 victory over Toronto last Wednesday.

Thee then connected on a first down pass to Bob Hasset who took it on the Lions 35-yard line. Thee then hit Hasset with one on the fourth inning. In the sixth he poked one with two teammates on the bases. Then in the seventh he kissed another one with two aboard.

He was three-for-three, had 12 total bases and eight RBIs, nearly

Cards Have Surplus Of Quarterbacks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League are the latest to join the "rich quarterbacks" club.

The Eastern Division champions of New York Giants, and the Washington Redskins already have beamed over their abundance of quarterback talent. The Giants have veteran Charley Conerly, Don Heinrich, and George Shaw, recently obtained from Baltimore, and Utah's Lee Grosscup. They also moved all-pro halfback Frank Gifford into the spot in training and have not been disappointed.

THE REDSKINS have Eddie LeBaron, the little veteran, plus his understudy Ralph Guglielmi and newcomer Eagle Day, the ex-Mississippi star who has been the surprise of the Skins camp.

Now the Cards, who gave breadand-butter back Ollie Matson to the Los Angeles Rams to bolster their line and defensive backfield, have four quarterbacks whom Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy says have "not an eyelash of difference between them."

At the top of the quartet is Mr. C. Reynolds, the 1958 rookie who sat the NFL on its collective ear as he propelled Ivy's startling "triple wingback" formation last year. He gained 1,422 yards completing 103 of 195 passes attempts.

ALSO LIKES . . . . Ex-Rice star Ronny Hill, who saw only limited action last year, Huston Patton and Hunter Enis. The Rice completed 20 of 28 passes and rolled up 339 yards in the Cards 35-26 victory over Toronto last Wednesday.

Teens Need To Know Money Management

By FAYE HENLE

This summer an army of some six million teenagers are "trying their wings" via a summer job.

I'm frankly amazed at the paychecks some of these youngsters draw. It puts responsibility upon parents.

It is up to you to teach your teener to handle his earnings wisely. Sound principles of money management are as important as any legacy you could leave your child.

You should also be aware that his affluency could affect you both come income tax time next April.

Family budget experts from the American Bankers Association offer you this guide:

Have your teener figure his expenses either for the summer or for a year. Show him how to divide those expenses into major categories—clothing, recreation, hobbies, etc. Next, have your teener figure his weekly income the best he can. Now decide how much help, dollar-wise, he can expect from you. This will give him an idea of how much spending is involved in conducting what to him is complex living.

Don't give your youngster the idea he should spend all he earns. Encourage him to set aside a regular sum for savings. Bank experts point out that adults strive to save more than 10 per cent of their incomes. This should serve as a guide for the more mature teenager who hopes to meet all of his expenses on his own. The youngster with less financial responsibility should be taught to save more.

Now your young budget-maker is ready to work out his weekly spending plan. First deduct savings. Exactly as you set the savings goal, set spending goals, too. If your child has a "dream project," hi-fi equipment, a pet or so forth, show him how to realize those goals by setting up a separate savings fund from any weekly left-over cash.

Bankers tell me that the early teens is none too soon to learn how to use the services of a commercial bank. Personal savings and checking accounts. Give your child the idea that when his money is in a savings account it is working for him, earning interest. Teach him that when he uses checks for what to him are major purchases this helps him to record how he has spent his money.

Most important should be your encouragement to make him stick to his decisions, to save and spend as he has set his goals. If these goals are not too severe, your success will be greater.

I know of one teener whose parents insisted that she bank half of her earnings from a steady summer job. She followed through on this faithfully. When summer was over, however, she spent a couple of rough hours figuring, for her own peace of mind, how she had fiddered away the other half of her salary.

Watch to see what your teeners total pay will be, for the Internal Revenue Service has the following rules which you must both abide:

If your child is under 19 or a regular student, you may claim an exemption for him only if you provide for over half of his support even though his earnings are over $600.

Any minor earning $600 or more a year must file an income tax return. If his gross income is less than $600 and income taxes were withheld from his weekly pay, he is entitled to a refund. If your child defaults on his income tax payments, you are responsible.

Says War Over Berlin Is Less Likely To Start Now

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

GENEVA (UPI)—The Berlin showdown has been postponed for months—perhaps for years.

A nuclear third world war over the divided city is less likely now than at any time since Nov. 27, 1958, when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev rocked the West with his ultimatum to get out of Berlin in six months.

In the opining of informed and responsible Western diplomats, easing of the Berlin crisis was the main achievement of the Big Four foreign ministers conference which ended here last Wednesday.

THE BERLIN crisis and the Khrushchev time-bomb were "talk out" in Geneva, in the belief of Western diplomats. And the 10-week deadlock of the Western and Soviet foreign ministers led indirectly to the exchange of visits between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

When Khrushchev sprang his ultimatum last November, the West was caught by surprise. Worse still, it was caught without any agreed policy.

The North Atlantic Treaty (NATO) Allies at their Christmas meeting in Paris talked tough about never being driven out of Berlin. But there was a lack of decision in their tough talks.

They had no plan of action in case the Kremlin cut off access routes to Berlin. Further, it was doubtful whether public opinion in Britain and some other European NATO countries ever would have tolerated a nuclear world war over Berlin.

THE HECTIC "peace missions" of Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to Moscow, Paris, Bonn and Washington in the spring merely pointed up the Western state of jitters without achieving much in the way of a United Western policy.

But the Geneva foreign ministers talks, which opened May 11, ushered in a new phase in East-West relations.

Khrushchev let it be known that his six-month ultimatum was elastic—that it didn't much matter to him whether it was stretched out a couple of months or perhaps longer, provided East-West talks were going on.

The May 27 deadline, when Russia should have lowered the boom on Berlin, passed without so much as a delay to a truck on the Berlin Autobahn while the foreign ministers talked in Geneva.

Obviously pretty obvious to the West that Khrushchev himself preferred talks to H-bombs.

Rackets Group Downs National Union Leaders

Editor's Note: This second of several dispatches on the work of the Senate Rackets Committee. It tells how the committee's disclosures toppled many union leaders from power.

BY WILLIAM J. EATON
By United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Rackets Committee's findings have led to the ouster of at least a dozen national union leaders in the past 2½ years.

Dave Beck, expresident of the Teamsters, was the best-known victim of the committee's inquiry into labor-management misdeeds.

But many others were ousted in the wake of the Senate investigation that sent a shock wave through the American labor movement and touched off bipartisan demands for union reform legislation.

As a direct result, the AFL-CIO booted out the Teamsters on charges of racketeer-domination and ejected the Bakery & Confectionary Workers and the Laundry Workers unions on the same counts.

Top officials of the United Textile Workers, Jewelry Workers, Operating Engineers, Distillery Workers were toppled in a house-cleaning campaign by the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee.

THE RACKETS Committee failed to "get" Teamsters President James R. Hoffa but may have laid the groundwork for his eventual removal by court-appointed monitors on the basis of testimony it received.

Beck, who was being pushed out of his top post by Hoffa anyway, decided against running for re-election after being accused of "taking" hundreds of thousands of dollars of Teamster money. He was later convicted of income tax evasion and pocketing the funds from sale of a union-owned Cadillac.

The Rackets Committee acted as godfather of one new union—the American Bakery & Confectionary Workers (AFL-CIO). This organization was formed when the old bakers' union refused to oust President James G. Cross after he was charged with misuse of union funds. As a result, the Cross-led group was bounced from the AFL-CIO.

Those other union leaders left office during or after committee charges that he mishandled union funds.

—Jewelry Workers' President Joseph Morris and Secretary-Treasurer Hyman Powell both quit after they were accused of using their union posts for personal gain and tolerating exploitation of Puerto Ricans in New York.

—MEAT CUTTERS Vice President Max Block resigned under pressure after the committee accused him of failing to account for union funds.

—Bakers Vice President George Stuart, accused of milking Chicago area locals of $40,000, resigned after testimony before the committee on his alleged misdeeds.

—Operating Engineers' Vice President Victor Swanson was ousted by the union. Later testimony indicated that he shared profits of $47,000 as the result of a land deal swung with union funds.

Carpenters' Union President M. A. Hutcheson and two other top officers in his union have been indicted in an Indiana highway scandal, but not yet tried.

Meanwhile they have been re-elected to office, Hutcheson has retained his seat on the AFL-CIO Executive Council although he refused to answer questions by the Senate group and was later cited for contempt by the committee.

Expect Senate To Uphold Ike's Housing Veto

Vote Scheduled For This Afternoon; Five To Shift Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate vote to uphold President Eisenhower's housing bill veto appeared to be virtually assured today.

Five key Republican senators announced that they would support the veto action.

All five originally had voted for the $1,375,000,000 bill when it passed the Senate. Democratic supporters of the legislation had counted their votes and those of a few other Republicans to help override the veto.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) told newsmen he expected the vote on overriding to come late this afternoon.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R - Ill.), predicted the Democrats would fall short of the necessary two-thirds and that the vote thus would sustain the President.

Democrats would say only that they expected it to be close.

EVEN IF THE SENATE votes to override, the House appeared unlikely to do so.

A sudden shift in Democratic strategy Tuesday brought the decision to seek a showdown on the veto before doing anything about passing new housing legislation.

The housing subcommittee voted 8-4 "all week" to recommend not trying to override the veto.

Federal Grand Jury Returns First 'Sin Strip' Indictments

CHICAGO (UPI) — A federal grand jury Tuesday returned its first indictment in its inquiry into conditions in the Calumet City "sin strip."

The indictment was returned against Patricia Plum, 22, Hammond, Ind., who was charged with perjury when she testified about her activities in the suburb.

Miss Plum testified June 16 that she was employed at the Chatterbox Lounge as a hostess and that her duties did not exceed that capacity.

She denied she had ever been in the back room of the lounge for the purpose of prostitution.

Police Chief Raymond Malak of Calumet City testified before the jury for 25 minutes Tuesday. He said he told the jury he was feeling all he could to control crime in the suburb but was limited by only a 15-man police force for a population of 25,000.

Says Crowley's Death Accidental

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Joseph P. Crowley's death was accidental, the result of a combination of liquor and sedatives, a coroner says.

Crowley, a businessman and former Yale football star, was recently acquitted of manslaughter charges by a Tokyo court in the death of his brother-in-law and business associate, T. A. D. Jones Jr. 45.

Gladiolus Festival Opens In Momence Thursday Night

Focal point on entertainment in Kankakee County—which has been at the Kankakee County Fairgrounds south of the city the past several days—Thursday evening turns to Momence and the community's 22nd annual gladiolus festival.

The festival opens Thursday and will continue through Saturday night.

Actually, the county fair and the glad festival overlap a few hours this year for the first time in history. The fair ends Thursday night with a program of midget auto racing. The glad festival officially opens at 4 p.m. Thursday when the doors to the flower show swing open.

THE FLOWER SHOW will be open from 4 to 10 p.m. on Thursday and from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. Quartered in Momence High School it will feature the regional show of the Illinois Gladiolus Society in the gymnasium and the special Momence Woman's Club exhibit of flowers, arrangements and table settings in various other rooms in the school.

Festival activities on the streets of Momence will get udder way at 6:30 p.m. with the annual kid's parade. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kelson, co-chairmen of the parade, report it will be led this year by the band from Great Lakes Naval Training Station. The line of march is expected to include miniature floats, pets and nearly every type of costumed youngster conceivable. The parade will follow its usual pattern, forming at the Edward Chipman library and then moving down Washington street to the festival grounds.

ROYALTY WILL prevail Thursday night when coronation ceremonies will be held at 8 o'clock on Memorial Field at the high school. Sandra Pope will be crowned queen of the festival and Cathy Tallman princess.

Miss Pope's attendants are Janice Koopmans, Judy Trudeau, Sharon Morse and Joy Schimmel. Attendants to the princess are Penny Peterson, Linda Sue Parrish, Phyllis Sikma and Marlene DeYoung.

The coronation will be followed by a concert by the combined Navy band and the Momence Municipal band.

Friday afternoon will find thousands pouring into the city to view the annual float parade. Scheduled for 5:30 p.m. the parade will be led by the U.S. 5th Army band and will mark the annual competition between floats for cash prizes.

That evening the Wichert Male Chorus will present a 7:15 o'clock concert on the athletic field after which the 5th Army band will appear in concert and the Air Force drill team from Chanute Field will give an exhibition.

American Legion Day will be Saturday with the afternoon parade launching activities. In the line of march will be the floats which appeared Friday, drum and bugle corps, legion and VFW color guard units and a variety of other entries.

Saturday night the climax to the festival will come with the annual drum and bugle corps competition on the athletic field. More than $3,000 in cash prizes will be awarded to winners in the competition.

Chemical Firm To Build Near Joliet

CHICAGO (AP)—Amoco Chemicals Corp. announced today that construction will be started immediately on a plant to produce multimillion pound quantities of the chemical trimellitic anhydride.

The plant will be built at a company-owned site south of Joliet.

George A. Harrington, general manager of development, said the unit "is expected to be on stream by mid-1960."

Trimellitic anhydride, introduced by Amoco about a year ago, is used in the fields of protective coatings, plastics and adhesives.

Ike Will Not Intervene In Steel Strike

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he has no intention of intervening in the four-week-old steel strike unless it develops into a national emergency.

Eisenhower told his news conference that he couldn't think of anything more objectionable than for any agency of the federal government — except the mediation service—to step into labor-management negotiations without development of an emergency situation.

He said the law provides for free, untrammeled negotiations without intervention by the federal government, other than mediators.

Told there had been a suggestion that the steel strike must be settled before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev comes here Sept. 15, Eisenhower ridiculed the idea.

He said: Don't we want Khrushchev to see the United States as a freedom-loving country?

It would be a shallow kind of thinking to believe the strike must be settled before the Soviet leader arrives, Eisenhower said.

He remarked that democracy is at its strongest when there is cooperation between labor and management rather than strikes. But he said he didn't want regimentation to bring about such cooperation.

President Says Khrushchev Can See Defenses

Ike Holds First News Conference Out Of Washington

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is being invited to see some military installations during his visit to the United States if he wishes.

Khrushchev told a Moscow news conference last Wednesday that if he is invited to see an American military installation "I would not go." He added he would go to America as a peaceful man and would not have any rocket sticking out of his pocket.

The Soviet leader will be given a wide range of choice on the kind of installations open to him, the President told a news conference. If he does not want to see any establishments, that's okay too.

Discussing the Khrushchev visit beginning in mid-September, Eisenhower said he intends to tell the Soviet leader that U.S. bases abroad are purely defensive and threaten no one.

HE ALSO PLANS, Eisenhower said, to ask why Khrushchev does not permit progress in improvement of East-West relations which Eisenhower considers necessary for a summit conference.

Eisenhower said he is most anxious for Khrushchev to see the fine, small, modest homes in which Americans live, including those in such specific places as the Levittown housing development and the community around the Fairless steel plant in Pennsylvania.

The President did not specify which Levittown and some of his audience took him to mean the one on Long Island, which would provide two widely separated examples. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said later, however, that Eisenhower was talking about the Levittown near the Fairless plant.

EISENHOWER said he would like to take Khrushchev on a flying trip around Washington, D.C., in his "chopper"—his helicopter—so Khrushchev could see the fine homes which have developed in the areas around Washington.

Khrushchev should also go into the great farming regions of this country and see farms that are run by individual free men, Eisenhower said. He added that he would like the Soviet Premier also to go into the little town where he was born—Denison, Tex.—and hear from the people there how Eisenhower worked in the early years of his life.

In response to a series of questions about the Khrushchev visit here next month and his visit to the U.S.S.R. later, Eisenhower also said:

1. HE HOPES his talks with Khrushchev will produce a better atmosphere between the Soviet

Just Can't Beat The Stork In Wilmington

WILMINGTON (JNS)—When it comes to beating the stork to the hospital, it appears Wilmington area wives will have to grow wings.

Mrs. Carol Root of this community lost twice Tuesday night in her race to the maternity ward. She and her husband, George, set out on an 18-mile dash from the home here to Silver Cross Hospital, Joliet.

They stopped once when Mrs. Root, 26, gave birth to a 4-pound 9-ounce girl in a farmyard en route.

A COUPLE STARTED for the hospital again, but shortly after a few miles farther, when Mrs. Root gave birth to a 4-pound 12-ounce girl.

They made it to the hospital without stopping a third time. Mrs. Root and the twins are reported doing well.

This was the third time since July 26 that Wilmington area mothers-to-be failed to get to the hospital on time.

Former Wilmington Police Chief Ronald Woodruff delivered his own daughter on Aug. 1 in his home. And on July 26, Wayne C. Milton and his wife of Ritchey got as far as Wilmington when their daughter was born in the family car.

Violence Will Gain Nothing, Says Faubus

Three Negro Girls Enter Classes In Hall High School

By JOURNAL WIRE SERVICE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Police clubbed segregationists today in a short, violent battle over Integration of Little Rock's public high schools.

The violence came after a rally on the Capitol lawn where only a few minutes before Gov. Orval E. Faubus had told some 1,000 segregationists to avoid trouble.

Some 200 segregationists began their march on Central High School soon after the rally broke up. It was at Central that mob violence erupted over intergation in 1957.

Police rushed from Hall High School where three Negroes had been integrated this morning without incident.

Police Chief Gene Smith and 20 policemen met the flag-waving, chanting men, women and children at an intersection near Central, nineteen before the school was scheduled to be opened to integration.

Smith ordered the crowd to disperse. The crowd jeered.

Police then swinging billy clubs. Six of the segregationists, all men, were arrested.

In contrast with the scuffle at Central there were no demonstrations earlier in the day when three Negro girls walked quietly by themselves into Hall High School.

Some 20 spectators watched them from lawns of homes across the street.

Fifty or more police with nightsticks and pistols guarded Hall High today against violence. Adjoining streets were barricaded.

THE GIRLS who integrated Hall today are Elfie Jones, Elsie Robinson and Estella Thompson. Jefferson Thomas, 18, who attended Central in 1957, is the Negro who will integrate that school today.

The three girls arrived at Hall in an automobile. They got out, and without a personal guard, walked perhaps 200 yards up the driveway to the entrance of the school and went in.

About 150 white students were gathered at the entrance of the school. They glanced curiously at the Negroes as they went in.

About 50 spectators gathered on a knoll near Hall High merely stared. Residents of the area sat around on the front porches or stood on their lawns to watch.

Faubus implored bitter segregationists Tuesday night in a surprise

4-H Clubs Parade At Fair Tonight

Today is 4-H Day at the Kankakee County Fair.

And tonight at 6:30 o'clock those attending the grandstand show will see the more than 1,000 members of the 29 home economics clubs and the 14 agricultural clubs parade with their club banners flying. In addition, they will see many of the county's 4-H prize livestock also pass in review as the club members and their leaders are followed in the line of march by the exhibits.

Late this afternoon 4-H girls will have their annual chances to win cash prizes when the chicken scramble is held in front of the grandstand. This evening the 4-H boys will have their opportunities at special prizes when the annual pig scramble is held.

FOUR-H JUDGING AT the fair, in the meantime, will come to a close today with the sheep show. Earlier in the fair the 4-H swine, dairy, dual purpose, beef, dog, grain-flowers-garden shows were held among agricultural club members and the judging of entries in the home economics division of 4-H was also completed.

Sharing the limelight with the 4-H members today are the Western horses and their owners. The first section of the annual Western Horse Show is scheduled for 3 p.m. following the horse pulling contest and the 4-H chicken scramble. This evening at 7:30 o'clock the second session of the Western Horse Show will be run off.

The horse show is approved by the Illinois State Stock Horse Association and will feature five classes this afternoon and eight this evening. The latter classes will include junior pony parade, handy horse, men's open pleasure, champion saddle stock horse, flag race, open western pair, musical chair and the open parade (single) classes. Prizes totaling $1,247.50 await winners in the two shows.

FINAL DAY OF THE six-day Fair is coming up Thursday and it is expected to be one of the best-attended days of the fair. Time of the tractor pulling contest (open) has been advanced to 12:30 p.m. because of the large number of entries anticipated. Nearly 50 tractors showed up for the county pull Tuesday and most of them will be back Thursday along with other entries from outside the county.

Judging of livestock will end during the day and will be culminated by the livestock auction sale in the afternoon. The auction, which has been a great success since it was launched a few years ago, will see 4-H and FFA members putting some of the prize animals up for sale.

The fair will reach its climax with a full program of midget auto racing Thursday evening with the helicopter aerial trapeze act which has been on each afternoon and evening performance during the fair, making its final appearance as an added attraction.

Lawyers Talk Steel Strike Negotiation

NEW YORK (AP) — The steel strike negotiations are "mostly a lawyers' job" in their current phase, says the nation's top mediator.

That's the appraisal given to newsmen by Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, as the nationwide strike of half a million workers went into its fifth week.

Finnegan is sitting in on contract talks between representatives of the industry and the United Steelworkers Union of America. The talks continued today.

Finnegan said Tuesday that no attempt has yet been made to grapple with money issues. The negotiators are still considering contract language, he said.

Commenting on Union President David J. McDonald's absence from the negotiations Monday and Tuesday, Finnegan said:

"Right now it's mostly a lawyers' job — apparently that's the way Dave feels about it, and that's all right."

McDonald stepped out of the negotiations temporarily after last Friday's session, and is now touring strike centers. He complained that the industry's negotiators were not of high enough ranks.

Foreign Ministers Of Americas Meet Today

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Foreign ministers of the 21 American republics begin talks today on tensions in the Caribbean area. A drive toward enforcement of human rights was slowly taking shape.

The conference was to begin with a welcoming address by Chilean President Jorge Alessandri. U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was to reply on behalf of the foreign ministers.

Keen interest in the human rights issue was demonstrated Tuesday night when El Salvador's Alfredo Ortiz Mancia circulated a proposal for creation of an Inter-American Commission of Human Rights. It would be set up by the Council of the Organization of American States.

THE PROPOSAL also asks the Inter-American Council of Jurists to prepare a study of fulfillment of the principles of human rights and representative democracy in the Caribbean.

Carlos Tovar of Ecuador was readying a separate project calling on the jurists to draw up an Inter-American treaty guaranteeing human rights that would bind the members to observe its provisions.

The declaration now in effect has no binding force.

Uruguay and Venezuela also have specific items on the conference agenda dealing with human rights. So has Cuba, which has called for an Inter-American Court of Human Rights.

THE GENERAL argument here is that if human rights and representative democracy can be encouraged, tensions resulting from the presence of dictatorships will tend to disappear.

The ministers are expected to consider the various proposals before Mahoning County Judge Edgar Diehm and was held under with caution, however, in view of $35,000 bond for preliminary hearhemisphere tradition of not interfering in each other's affairs.

Cote New Secretary Of Kankakee Community Chest

KENNETH W. COTE

Kenneth W. Cote, 37, 505 Fairmount Ave., has been named executive secretary of the Kankakee Community Chest. He succeeds Sam Mount who resigned July 15 to accept the executive secretaryship of the Joliet-Will County Community Chest.

Mrs. Hulda Hesson, Community Chest president, in announcing the appointment, said Cote, a native Kankakeean, was chosen from among 11 applicants, of whom four were interviewed personally.

"Cote's lifetime residency has given him a thorough understanding of our community and his eight years in numerous volunteer positions in the Kankakee Community Chest gives him a solid knowledge of the organization and its agencies," Mrs. Hesson said.

COTE HAS PROGRESSED through the ranks of the Community Chest volunteer workers from solicitor, to vice president of the board of directors. He was a member of the Chest budget committee for three years, one as vice chairman, and served on the public relations and personnel committees. Contributing to the Community Chest's progress, Cote was the first chairman of the popular "Come See" tours which give volunteers a first-hand observation of Chest agencies and how Community Chest money is utilized.

Other firsts in the Community Chest for Cote are chairman of the Community Services Clinic which trains volunteers in the functions of various social welfare agencies, enabling them to direct fellow workers to the proper agencies for aid of any kind; and chairman of the Community Chest Planning Board, which provides a two-way street between the contributors and the agencies, determing what services donors want from the agencies, as well as the needs of the agencies.

COTE ATTENDED the Midwest Conference of the United Community Funds and Councils of America this year and has served on national committees of labor participation in UCFCA.

His interest in Kankakee's social

Congress May Yet Approve Gas Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Congress, which keeps saying no on extra gasoline taxes, still may say yes before going home.

Congressional leaders have said repeatedly that they can't go along with President Eisenhower's request for a 1½ cent a gallon tax hike to finance the highway construction program.

And the House Ways and Means Committee, struggling behind closed doors for an answer to the highway dilemma, has voted down the two proposals calling for smaller boosts in the levy.

However, several congressional leaders now believe that despite the nine previous votes, the committee ultimately will wind up reversing itself and launch a successful drive for enactment of a tax increase.

Congress is under heavy pressure to find more money for the highway trust fund, which finances construction of the 41,000 mile network of interstate superhighways.

The Eisenhower administration has warned that if nothing is done it can't make the scheduled $2,200,000,000 apportionment to the states for the year beginning next July 1.
