CONFESSION OF HITCH HIKER

M. F. Tatman and Myrtle Hopper
Are Held in Jail At Danville: Suspects

BULLETIN
Danville, Feb. 7.—(Special)—The three suspects in the LaHogue bank robbery case confessed to the bank robbery case, according to an announcement made by State Highway Patrolmen William V. Thompson and Emil Thompson. The trio was brought to the Iroquois county jail from Danville this morning.

Danville, Feb. 7.—M. F. Tatman and Myrtle Hopper were arrested here on Thursday at her home here in connection with the robbery earlier in the week at LaHogue, Ill. Two men escaped with $1,000.

The arrest resulted from information given by George Burns of Danville, who was arrested on the highway five miles east of LaHogue shortly after the holdup. The car in which Burns was riding and which contained also Tatman and the woman was of a different make than the one reported used in the robbery and Emil Thompson of Onarga, state highway policeman, set the pair as hitch-hiker.

Taken to Watseka, county seat of Iroquois county, Burns is said to have confessed. He told police that the robbery had been planned in the Hopper home Wednesday night and he told where Tatman and the woman were going. So, when the pair arrived at the Danville house, police were waiting and they were arrested and a total of $900 found in their possession.

Points Searched Area
Danville, Feb. 7.—Central Illinois State Police were searching a section of the state until late today afternoon for two bandits who obtained an undetermined amount of loot from the State bank at LaHogue, a village five miles east of here in Iroquois county, Thursday morning.

The robbery occurred at 11:30 a. m. Two men, one middle aged, the other younger, both roughly dressed, drove up to the bank in an old model Ford sedan.

They were observed to enter the bank and suspicious of those living near were not aroused.

Once inside the institution, the two men, Charles Pool, cashier, at the point of guns, to hand over money and currency available.

No effort was made to enter the vault as papers were taken.

After they had obtained the money from Mr. Pool, the two drove out of the bank, re-entered their car once more and drove away.

The alarm was sounded.

Detective Ahrens, agent for the Standard Oil company of Oilman, was in the bank at the time of the holdup, assisted starting the search of the bandits.

The telephone in the bank was torn from the wall.

MILITARY DICTATOR FOR PRISON

COL. PATRICK J. HAMROCK IN CONTROL OF THE COLORADO PEN

TO CHECK OUTBREAKS

Warden Crawford Will Keep His Position; Grim Task Faces Officials

Onton City, Colo., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Within the gray granite walls of the Colorado state penitentiary a restless prison population awoke today to find itself under control of a military dictator—a man who rose from a sick bed to strike with the mailed fist at a riotous group of convicts who in four months have taken 13 lives and caused inestimable property damage.

The mass, austere in manner and curt in speech, is Col. Patrick J. Hamrock, bred to army traditions and by his own admission "a fighting Irishman." He led troops and won honors in the Sioux Indian campaigns, in Cuba and in France.

The dictatorship was declared yesterday by a hurried state board of correction which just had worded a public statement refusing to comply with a demand by Governor William H. Adams that it resign. Its edict of military rule in the walled city said that, while Warden P. E. Crawford would retain his post, Colonel Hamrock would be given entire charge of the guards and prisoners.

A grim task faced the new "special deputy warden" on his first day in full charge.

Yesterday Warden Crawford received a tip that three convicts and some nitro-glycerine were secreted within the prison walls. Members of the state law enforcement department turned the prison topsy-turvy in an effort to locate the possible means of a new revolt, but without result. Colonel Hamrock will prosecute the search today.

The sanguinary riot of last October was led by an arch-conspirator, Danny Daniels, and a desperate handful of convicts instigated a widespread mutiny in which 13 guards and prisoners lost their lives.

The prisoners barricaded themselves in a cellhouse, and guards, held as hostages, were coolly murdered and pitched out the windows at each refusal of the warden to guarantee freedom to the mutineers.

Early on the crisp, gray morning of Oct. 4 the besiegers, noting no more shots came from the cellhouse, rushed the building to find Daniels dead, a suicide. About him lay his companions, whom he had slain before taking his own life.

MANY DEAD IN COLORADO MINE BLAST

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION ROCKS
THE MOUNTAIN SIDE DURING THE NIGHT

CAUSE NOT KNOWN

Sixteen Bodies Taken Out Of Various Slopes Of Coal
Mine

BULLETIN
Salt Lake City, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Discovery of four more bodies in the gas swept mine of the Standard Coal Mining Company at Standardville, Utah, shortly before noon today, brought to 20 the list of dead in an explosion there late last night.

Three of the bodies were found in slope number 3 of the mine, said information received by the Salt Lake Tribune, and another, that of mine boss Duke, in slope number 2.

With five men rescued alive earlier today and four who escaped from the mine last night shortly after the blast, this reduced to one and possibly two the number of workmen still missing.

BULLETIN

Salt Lake City, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Five of the ten entombed miners in the Standard Coal Company's mine at Standardville, Utah, were rescued alive today.

With 16 bodies located in the mine, which was swept by an explosion late last night, the fate of five men remained undetermined this morning. Four other men came out of the mine after the explosion, of the total of 20 who were working on the night shift.

Salt Lake City, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Eighteen mine workers were dead today and the fate of eight others was unknown as rescue crews scoured into the lower pockets of a coal mine at Standardville, Utah, following a terrific explosion which rocked the mountain side late last night and crumbled the walls of the mining tunnels.

Of the eighteen bodies located in the various slopes of the mine, 16 had been identified. Four men escaped alive.

The dead:

Angus Barney, R. T. Springer, J. L. Jensen, Carlisle Smith, Roy Briggs, T. L. and P. P. Pritchett, brothers; Will McQuire, Tobe Wintner, Frank L. James, O. Brady, Odell Powers, J. D. Duke, Barney Johnson, William Watson and Clawson Elliott.

Those rescued alive were Rubbo Monroe, Andy Dougherty, Gerald Daneky and an unidentified man who was overcome by Monoxide gas which flooded the mine after the explosion. The bodies were not immediately taken from the mine, rescue crews leaving them to search deeper in the workings in hopes of finding additional men alive.

Cause of the terrific blast was not determined but the men who escaped and mine officials believed that the deadly gas made it virtually impossible for any of the remaining eight men in the mine to escape, unless by accident a cave-in of the tunnel cut off the fumes.

State Mine Officials and Officers of the Standard Coal company, owner of the mine, left Salt Lake City immediately for the scene of the disaster and assumed charge of the rescue crews. As news of the blast spread, relatives of the victims gathered and watched with anxious eyes as the bodies were carried from the mine.

Taft Shows Improvement

Washington, Feb. 7.—Physicians attending former Chief Justice Taft in an official bulletin at 11:30 a. m. today said that he was continuing to improve.

It was added that Mr. Taft was taking more nourishment and was comfortable.

The text of the bulletin follows: "The chief justice continues to improve. He is taking more nourishment and is comfortable. Signed: Dr. Thomas A. Clayton and Dr. Francis R. Hagner."

Mr. Taft, it was said at the home, went to sleep last night about 8 o'clock and rested unusually well throughout the remainder of the night.

Horace D. Taft, of Watertown, Conn., brother of the former chief justice arrived early today to be with his brother during his illness.

Mr. Taft spoke for a few minutes who arrived at the house early in this morning to his brother Horace.

The attending physicians although encouraged by the former chief justice's improvement would not commit themselves as to whether this change in his condition would continue. They were confident, however, that for the present at least the difficulties encountered over having him take nourishment were passed for the time at least.

Mrs. Taft, following the custom she has observed since returning with her husband from Asheville, N. C., took a brief drive during the morning.

Horace Taft also left the house after seeing his brother and was gone for some time.

Almost simultaneously with the encouraging word from the Taft bedside the house today adopted a resolution expressing its profound regret over the illness of the prominent American. A resolution along the same lines was adopted yesterday by the senate.

The house resolution was offered by Representative Bakkhead, democrat, Alabama. It expressed "a hope and prayer" that the chief justice soon be restored to health.

PUBLIC SERVICE EMPLOYEES ENJOY A FINE EVENING

An unusually large crowd numbering nearly five hundred employees of the Public Service were in attendance at the annual southern district meeting of the National Electric Light Association, held at the K. of C. hall last evening.

The decorations in the hall were effectively carried out in keeping with the Valentine season. This affair was honored by the presence of the Vice President of the Mid-West Utilities Co. W. S. Vician who was the guest speaker of the evening. He was introduced by the District Manager W. P. Crowley.

Mr. Vician chose as his subject, "Public Relations" and brought out the importance of publicity as the main point of his talk, to keep the public well informed of utility work and the work out in the district. He also told of the amount of money invested in the Utility Co., contrasting this with the wealth of the United States and the world itself.

He spoke of the value of serving the public with a smile and to put one's whole being into one's relations with the public. His talk was made most interesting by the humorous stories which he told throughout his speech, helping to bring out his point more clearly to his listeners.

A fine program followed, the first number, a playette entitled, "Selling gas for house heating." Those taking part were Miss Helen Collins and E. Nelson of Oak Park. F. Frederickson of Evanston and Miss Mary Quigley of Kankakee. The story dealt with a coal dealer and how a salesman for gas heating appliances sold this coal dealer one for his home. Another playette entitled "Power must always flow" was put on by F. Frederickson and E. Nelson and a lineman takes in their work and was expressed in a very interesting manner. Both sketches were interesting and put on in a lively everyone present.

A male quartette from Harvey entertained with a group of selections, and "I Want a Girl" finding exceptional favor with the guests. A violin selection by F. Scrafin of Harvey accompanied at the piano by Miss Hazel Dooley also of Harvey was enjoyed, after which a fine chorus was served by the following committee, Misses Bernice Asher, Irene Beedy, Ruth Schelder, Grace Van Horn, Merle Dugan, Gertrude and Angeline Lambert and Mary Quigley with Miss Alice Lindgren as chairman. The Valentine decorations were also effectively carried out in a unique way in the serving.

The remainder of the evening was given over to dancing and a merry time ensued with Ray Tullit and his orchestra furnishing music for the occasion.

O. M. Penzance assisted by John Westerhoff and Thomas Haelen who were in charge of the affair received compliments for the thorough manner in which they handled last evening's program.

MILFORD BANK IS CLOSED BY STATE

The First National bank of Milford, in Iroquois county, closed yesterday evening according to reports which reached this city today.

It was stated that the bank was closed by State Auditor Oscar Nelson upon the request of its directors in order to protect depositors. Frozen assets and farm paper are believed responsible for the bank's condition.

Fred Vennum, Milford, is president of the institution.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Notice that the First National bank at Milford, Ill., had closed its doors "for the protection of depositors and others" appeared on the locked door of the bank this morning.

It was signed by the board of directors. Bank examiners are expected to make an investigation today.

The last statement of the bank, Dec. 31, 1929, showed a healthy condition. An accident to F. D. Vennum, Watseka, one of the directors, and the recent resignation of F. C. Patterson, cashier, caused uneasiness among depositors and a small run on the bank Thursday morning, it is said.

Mr. Vennum, found unconscious in his car in the garage at his home Wednesday morning, is slowly recovering at Iroquois hospital in Watseka from what is believed to be the effects of carbon monoxide gas.

MRS. DENOYER WINS $3,200 JURY AWARD

BANK ADJUDGED GUILTY OF FRAUD AND DECEIT
IN NOTE CASE

COURT IS RECESSED

First Case Monday Is Conduct Vs.
Desmarquette DeSelm Anderson Marriage

Mrs. Alphonine Denoyer was awarded a verdict of $3,200 by a jury in circuit court last evening which found officials of the American Trust and Savings bank guilty of fraud and deceit in misrepresenting the security of three $1,000 notes which Mrs. Denoyer, a depositor at the bank, purchased in 1924.

Mrs. Denoyer was represented by Attorneys C. D. Henry, Vernon Butts and Irwin Taylor. They proved that she had bargained with a teller at the bank for the purchase of three notes secured by first mortgages. The three notes in question were sold to her as such for $3,045 to bear interest at six and one-half per cent.

Interest unpaid.

Last fall Mrs. Denoyer learned, when the interest was 13 months past due, that her notes were secured by second mortgages instead of first. She immediately started suit.

Judge A. W. DeSelm caused the jury today, until 9 o'clock Monday morning. The first case on Monday day will be an attachment suit brought by A. R. Condit vs. Marie Desmarquette and others. This will be followed by an appeal in the claim of Alvina Dancy vs. the estate of the late William Blood. Attorney T. R. Johnston will appear for the appellee and V. A. Parish and E. P. Harney for the estate.

Annals Marriage

The court last evening annulled the marriage of Jule and Lyle Anderson upon the petition of the wife who was represented by County Judge Henry F. Ruel.

Mrs. Anderson had been married to Earl Ragins and last secured was notified that he had secured an interlocutory decree of divorce in California. Although the divorce decree did not go into effect under the California law for a year, Mrs. Ragins was under the impression that she was divorced and married Ragins. Shortly after the second marriage she learned that she had married while her legal status had remained as Mrs. Ragins. The couple separated immediately and the wife petitioned for an annulment of her marriage to Anderson.

SEED CORN TESTS SHOW POOR GRADE

UNIVERSITY EXPERTS PESSIMISTIC OVER 1930 CROPS IN COUNTY

POOR GERMINATION

Farm Adviser Collier Urges Farmers To Take Warning
Now, Before Spring

Professor J. C. Hackleman, University of Illinois crop specialist, notified Farm Adviser John S. Collier today that fifty samples of seed corn from Kankakee county tested last week have shown very low germination and the corn crop in this area this year will probably be even poorer than was indicated by the germination tests made last month which showed only 50 per cent.

The seed crop for this area now tests only 40 per cent germination, according to Professor Hackleman. Farmers should be quick to heed this warning, Mr. Collier stated, and either be sure that they secure only the best seed or change their crop. They should make their plans now instead of waiting until planting time.

Mr. Collier, through the Soil and Crop association of which he is the manager, has conducted the same tests of corn and achieved about the same results as the university experts. The association's germinator has been kept in operation continuously and much disease has been found in the seed. A wild scramble for good seed is expected in the spring. The seed corn in Livingston county is also very bad this year.

There are about 130,000 acres of crops planted in this county every year and good seed must be procured to safeguard this crop. Soy beans are reported to be in a very bad condition in the state south of Champaign county, showing about 18 per cent moisture.

Mr. Collier urges dairy farmers to cull out all cows in their herds which do not produce more than 7,000 pounds of milk annually and to fatten these animals up for butchering by practicing strict economy in all departments, farmers will not suffer by conditions this year.

'Y' CAMPAIGN WILL START ON MONDAY

TEAM CAPTAINS AND DIVISION
MANAGERS CONFER
TODAY NOON

APPEAL TO PEOPLE

Board Of Directors Issue Statement Relative The Work
Of Y. M. C. A.

Team Captains and Division managers in the Y. M. C. A. Campaign held an important conference today noon, at which time plans were completed for the campaign.

Each of the twenty teams will consist of five men—a captain and four other workers. Nearly all of the teams have been fully recruited. The others will be completed by their team Captains today.

The campaign opens on Monday evening, February 10th at supper time, when all workers will come together to get their assignment of work and full instructions regarding the campaign.

The Board of Directors issued the following statement today noon regarding the work of the Y. M. C. A. and why the people of Kankakee back up the institution.

Character is a civic and business asset.

Growth in population, in square miles, in number and variety of industries, in commercial outreach and importance, in banking facilities and resources, in public utilities, in homes, schools and churches—these all indicate city expansion.

But material progress and prosperity are only the reflection of the manhood that is the motivating power of our civic and commercial growth. It is "the man behind" that pushed the community to the front. Man of character power make a city dynamic.

Behind every plan, every project, and every program there must be a brain and a character. Behind every desk, every counter, every machine in the man, it is the human equation that counts.

Ralph Waldo Emerson said: "The supreme test of a city is the kind of men it brings forth."

"That makes a city great and strong? Not architecture's graceful strength, Not factories' extended length, But men who see the civic wrong And give their lives to make it right And turn its darkness into light."

The Kankakee of today is what the men of yesterday made it. The Kankakee of the future is in the hands of the youth of today. It is true but tremendously true to say that the youth of today are the leaders of tomorrow—the heads of homes, of business enterprises, of political expression, of social and civic movements, of moral and commercial interests, or religious organizations. The paramount problem and project before every city seeking expansion is the conservation and character training of youth.

Homes and lots, streets and sidewalks, shops and stores, office buildings and law book buildings do not make a city. MEN make a city. That which improves the character of men, makes them better mentally, morally and physically, makes the community better. Good men make a good city. They make it better socially, politically, commercially.

The Young Men's Christian Association is in the business of making better manhood.

Better men physically through the gymnasiums, swimming pools, shower baths, athletic features, social hygiene and recreational facilities.

Better men mentally through its reading rooms and libraries, its forums, educational clubs and classes in practical studies.

Better men socially, morally and spiritually through its open door of welcome to young men of every class and creed; its wholesome environment, its clean companionship, its Bible classes and religious meetings, its altruistic service program.

The Young Men's Christian Association not only says to a young man that he should be good—but good for something and it shows him how.

The Y. M. C. A. is the cheapest and most effective form of community insurance.

The Y. M. C. A. works on the danger hours in a young man's life—the leisure hours.

What a young fellow does in his work hours goes into his pocketbook; what he does in his leisure hours goes into his character.

We may vote more bonds to build more schools, pave more streets, construct better sewers, provide more parks and playgrounds, erect more office buildings, stores and factories, raise more funds to advertise our city and bring more industries to attract more capital and to open more

GRAIN MARKET

BY JOHN F. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago, Feb. 7.—Sharp prices witnessed in the Chicago wheat market today faded to none in the face of increased selling that took place on the price bulge. Export business in wheat from North America was persistently absent today, and Argentine offerings to Liverpool were on a radically cheap basis. On the other hand, the chinese stimulating influence here came from definite steps taken toward forming a wheat market stabiliza-

Wheat closed nervous, at the same as yesterday's finish to high 100¢ higher. Corn closed unchanged to 20¢ up, oats 1¢ to 1 1/2¢ ad advanced, and provisions showing 10¢.

Despite temporary upsets resulting from unlooked for downturns in the Liverpool wheat market to day, many wheat traders here believe buyers on a big scale and a bumper crop took a strong upward course in the stock market in addition to stimulating influences of money to give the three aggressive backing that hereafter would be before to farm board price stabilization policies, the Chicago market today showed itself responsive to signs of easier money conditions in European countries that impeded wheat. Talk was heard from important trade sources that chances were improving for abandonment of the trans-Atlantic practice of only to hand Atlantic prices of only to hand to mouth buying.

More or less impeding today's wheat price gains however was selling on account of assertions that whereas the federal farm board would maintain the present loan basis for wheat already on hand, the board will not guarantee any loan price for the next crop. This was taken to mean July delivery of wheat, inasmuch as a considerable amount of new domestic wheat is marketed in July.
