War Minister Of Vichy Dies In Air Crash

By HERBERT R. KING
Vichy, France, Nov. 12.—UPI.—Gen. Charles Huntziger, minister of war in the Vichy cabinet, was killed today in an airplane crash in southern France. He was en route to report to Marshal Henri Philippe Petain on his important inspection tour of North Africa.

Huntziger, a slight, dapper man, and a pilot with more than 3,000 flying hours to his credit, had been on a 7,500-mile flight in Africa where he saw Gen. Maxime Weygand, the Vichy proconsul. There had been reports that Huntziger's report to Petain might decide whether Vichy would yield to German demands for order of Weygand who has been regarded as strongly opposed to the Axis program in Africa.

Two members of the war office staff were believed to be on the plane with Huntziger when it crashed near LeVigan, about 100 miles northwest of Marseille, after a flight across the Mediterranean in bad weather from Algiers.

Forced Stamp Plan System Of Savings

Plan Originated By Secretary Wallace
Is Considered

By JACK BELL
Washington, Nov. 12.—A formula for applying the brakes to inflation and prices through a forced stamp plan system of savings was reported under consideration in administration circles today.

The plan, said to have originated with Vice President Wallace, was being studied by some congressional leaders with the thought that it might provide not only a curb on threatened inflationary price increases but also might open a relatively untapped field for treasury borrowing.

As reportedly outlined by Wallace and others, the scheme would require the sale of all purchases of designated commodities to pay for a fixed quantity of defense savings stamps in order to obtain possession of the article they were buying.

To Complete Purchase
Thus a man who desired to get a small $10 radio might be forced to buy $1 worth of defense savings stamps in order to complete his purchase. When a consumer had accumulated sufficient stamps, he could turn these in on a government

Federal Agents Hunt Evidence Of Sabotage

Mill Located West Of Peoria; Four Believed
Dead, Fifth Missing

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 12.—In an explosion heard 40 miles away, a powder mill operating under a war department contract blew up today in wood hills, west of Peoria, causing several casualties.

Only four men were killed, blown to bits by the force of the blast. None of the other workmen was injured. Although several were treated on the grounds for bruises and scratches.

The dead
Harold Honts, who had lived on the grounds after his discharge from the army Sept. 1.

Harold Windish, 27, Elmwood farmer.

Lloyd Dalton, Elmwood.

Arthur Kendall, Edwards.

Federal agents took charge and hunted for evidence of sabotage at the plant, located near Edwards, 12 miles west of here, and operated by the Western Powder Manufacturing company, a subsidiary of the Western Cartridge company.

Two buildings destroyed
Company spokesmen said the plant was producing a specific type of powder for the war department. At least two buildings were destroyed in a double explosion, apparently starting in a hydraulic press unit and followed immediately by a bigger blast as the corning mill 600 feet away went up, touched off by a fragment.

Some Peorians thought broken windows and china were signs of an earthquake. In panic they put in calls for the fire department, jamming telephone lines.

The plant was composed of from ten to 15 small buildings, widely scattered and with collapsible walls intended to localize damage.

The powder mill employed from 30 to 60 workers, but only a few had gone on duty when the explosion rocked the countryside at 8:16 a. m. Normally the company manufactured black powder for central Illinois coal mines.

Coroner Harold F. Diller and State's Attorney Lester F. Carson went to the site.

At Toluca, 40 miles northward, the blast was heard. Windows were broken for 20 miles around, as far away as Pekin and Chillicothe.

A workman, with swollen lips and grimy clothes, said he was pinned in a tree by the blast, but federal men would not permit him to complete his story.

That eye witness said there was a deep rumbling noise, which was the

Famous Brooklyn Racketeer Ends His Own Life

Abe (Kid Twist) Reles
Plunges From Sixth
Floor Hotel Room

New York, Nov. 12.—UPI.—Abe (Kid Twist) Reles, Brooklyn racketeer whose confessions sent two members of murder, inc., to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison, committed suicide today.

Reles, who was one of the leaders of the murder syndicate which Kings County District Attorney William O'Dwyer has said was responsible for more than 80 gang killings throughout the country, jumped from the sixth floor window of his room at the Half Moon hotel in Coney Island.

Although police said Reles had jumped from the window, it was reported in other quarters that the former gang leader may have been killed trying to escape from other murder, inc., gangsters who wanted to end his "singing."

The report said that Reles had ripped up several bed sheets, tied them together to make a rope and had fastened one end to a radiator, the other out a window. When he had reached the fifth floor, the report said, Reles' weight on the sheets was too great and they were ripped from the radiator.

Police declined comment immediately on this report.

The body was discovered when William Nicholson, secretary of the Coney Island selective service board, which has headquarters in the hotel, looked out a window and saw the body on the first floor extension roof, known as "the deck."

Reles admitted participation in 11 gang killings but turned informer to save himself from the chair and accounted for the executions of Martin (Bugsy) Goldstein and Harry (Pittsburgh Phil) Strauss. Three others, Harry (Happy) Malone, Frank (The Dasher) Abbando, and Irving Nitzberg are awaiting execution.

Reles had been held in "protective custody" with other state witnesses at the Half Moon since the murder, inc., trials started.

One underworld report said that Reles' nerve had broken at the prospect of testifying against Louis (Leopke) Buchalter, who is charged by the state to have ordered murder, inc., to do many killings for him.

Man Who Stole $400 Diamond Ring Asks For Probation

Whether probation will be granted to Lon Pippin, 32, 595 North West avenue, who has pleaded guilty in circuit court to grand larceny, was to be decided this afternoon at 3 o'clock by Judge Luther B. Bratton.

Arrested last Oct. 7 for the theft of a diamond ring from Mrs. Walter E. Eckenstein, Kankakee, and subsequently indicted, Pippin appeared before Judge Bratton to ask release on probation.

When Attorney John A. Mayhew, representing Pippin, indicated that his client would make restitution, Judge Bratton said that this would have to be done before probation would be considered, and gave Pippin until 3 o'clock to do so.

State's Attorney Joseph J. Tolson said there would be prosecution if restitution was not forthcoming.

Mr. Eckenstein, represented by Attorney Francis J. Householder, testified that the value of the ring is $400.

Pawn Ticket Provides Clue To Murder

Saginaw, Michigan Taxi-cab Driver Held For Slaying Girl

Saginaw, Mich., Nov. 12.—(P)—A pawnshop receipt for a $5 loan on a woman's wrist watch provided the solitary clue that led to the arrest of Winford W. Smith, 35-year-old taxicab driver, in connection with the rape slaying of Wandamary Wheatley, 20-year-old telephone operator, Saginaw county sheriff's officers said today.

Sheriff Hugo A. Muehlenbeck said Smith declared in a formal statement last night to Assistant County Prosecutor Roland Montgomery that he bludgeoned the girl to death the night of Nov. 3 when she threatened to inform police of his attack.

Father of Infant
Smith, father of a four-weeks-old daughter, was held under heavy guard at Flint, 33 miles away.

Shortly after his arrest late yesterday a crowd of approximately 200 persons gathered at the Saginaw county jail, but sheriff's officers said no attempt was made to enter the building.

Sheriff Muehlenbeck said Smith's arrest resulted from the finding of Miss Wheatley's wrist watch at a local pawnshop. On the pawn ticket was written a fictitious name, but

Blames County Authorities For Overcrowding Hospitals

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 12.—(P)—Blaming county authorities for the over-crowding of state mental hospitals, welfare director Rodney H. Brandon contended today that 20 per cent of the patients now under state care should never have been committed to an institution.

Outlining the welfare department's plan to release many of the patients under old age assistance and in private homes, Brandon told the Illinois Conference on Social Welfare that "If I have my way about it we'll never build another bed for the hospitalization of the mentally ill in Illinois."

Unpleasant Neighbors
"About a fifth of the patients we now have never should have been committed to an institution. They were sent there by county courts in many cases not because they had any psychoses, but because they were unpleasant neighbors to the people in the local communities. The county care of them over to us to take them to be with them."

"I'm convinced that if we built 100,000 new beds in the mental

Rudolf Hess Breaks His Long Silence

Nazi Dictator Originally Counted More On Starvation Than Invasion Of England

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
London, Nov. 12.—Prime Minister Churchill declared today Adolf Hitler had failed to bring Britain to her knees through a starvation blockade and thus might be forced into attempting invasion "as soon as he can screw up his courage and make arrangements to take the plunge."

The prime minister told a cheering house of commons that it had been learned through Britain's No. 1 prisoner, Rudolf Hess who flew from Germany to Scotland "that Hitler originally counted more on starvation of the British than on invasion."

Any such hopes, Churchill declared, crumbled through an improvement in Britain's shipping situation. This was high-spotted by the prime minister's report that:

1—"In 1943 we shall have sufficient shipping to undertake overseas operations."

2—"Almost 1,000,000 tons of axis shipping were sent to the bottom of the sea in the four months ending in October."

3—"During that same period Britain's shipping losses dropped almost two thirds."

Most Not Relax Efforts
Speaking with cautious confidence, Churchill promised that better food for Britain's workers would result from an improvement in exports and bigger crops at home but he added:

"Satisfactory as the results are there must be no relaxation of our efforts, not only because of the ever-present menace to importation from abroad but it may yet be that as the war develops military operations may make more extensive demands upon our shipping."

He did not elaborate that theme to explain whether such military operations be in Africa or in the movement of troops for action on the Russian front.

He avoided all mention of the government's frequently criticized aid to Russia.

During the speech, Churchill flatly told critics he did not intend to change his cabinet "at the present moment."

He promised, however, fullest facilities for war debate "not only this week but the whole of next week and into the week thereafter."

The king, wearing his uniform as admiral of the fleet, said the parliamentary session "has been memorable."

Query Troops On Willingness To Serve Abroad

Only "Yes" Or "No" Is Answer Desired By War Department

By RICE YAHNER

With Army in the field, Nov. 12-13—The war department is asking members of the armed forces whether they would be willing to serve overseas, it was disclosed today.

Several enlisted men and officers in one of the armored divisions participating in the Carolina maneuvers said they would be willing to serve overseas, it was disclosed today.

Whether the questioning was a sampling or throughout the personnel could not be determined.

However, the second armored division has been the most strenuously trained and is almost fully equipped. One other armored division, the first, has been on field maneuvers for three months. Two more are training in camps, and others are soon to be formed.

The tanks of the first and second divisions, maneuvering for the first time in terrain suitable for mechanized forces, played significant roles in a 30-hour, virtually non-stop simulated attack ending yesterday.

Literally "cut to pieces" two slower infantry divisions, reinforced by mechanized cavalry and one of the new anti-tank groups.

334 Division Revis Chicago, Nov. 12—(AP)—Klank-clad soldiers of the 334th division have "cut off" today to visit with their families and friends or to rest after an Armistice day of parades and maneuvers.

Tomorrow they begin a three day march back to their training base at Camp Pease, Tenn. They will follow approximately the same routes as when they came here.

The 334th members of the homecoming 33rd yesterday helped give Chicago a 1941-model Armistice day parade, complete with German semi-automatic rifles, quarter ton "Jeeps," command cars with two way radio communication, "prime movers" hauling 155 mm howitzers, three inch anti-aircraft guns, 800,000 candlepower searchlights, 75 mm field guns, 37 mm anti-tank guns, machine guns, anti-aircraft guns, as well as "motorized" bands.

In the evening at a dinner given in their honor at a hotel, they were welcomed by Governor Dwight H. Green, who was commander in chief of the division when it was sent to the national guard, and speech prepared for the banquet, Green asked them "to go forth from this banquet tonight with the assurance that the loyalty of the citizens of the State is given you as an unending pledge."

"We are determined by joining you in national defense we will show the whole world that America has no second weak."

A few blocks away, Mayor Kelly threw open the doors of the city hall for a mammoth "open house" party for the service men in the city.

An estimated 15,000 soldiers, sailors, marines and girls jammed the building, so that the doors had to be closed and another thousand turned away.

They danced to the music of three bands in the black long corridors of the floors, witnessed a continuous stage show put on by stage and floor show stars from the city, ate up some 12,500 sandwiches, 600 dozen doughnuts and washed them down with the better part of 400 cases of carbonated beverages as well as firing out the 1,000 recruited dancing partners.

BIG HARP CLASS

Columbia, Mo.—(INS)—Despite the recent prominence of the imperative bugle and the swing-bat-trumpet, the delicate harp is coming into its own. Students at Stephens college here have evidenced such interest in the ancient instrument that they now comprise the largest harp class in the country's educational institutions.

234 Division Revis Chicago, Nov. 12—(AP)—Klank-clad soldiers of the 334th division have "cut off" today to visit with their families and friends or to rest after an Armistice day of parades and maneuvers.

Tomorrow they begin a three day march back to their training base at Camp Pease, Tenn. They will follow approximately the same routes as when they came here.

The 334th members of the homecoming 33rd yesterday helped give Chicago a 1941-model Armistice day parade, complete with German semi-automatic rifles, quarter ton "Jeeps," command cars with two way radio communication, "prime movers" hauling 155 mm howitzers, three inch anti-aircraft guns, 800,000 candlepower searchlights, 75 mm field guns, 37 mm anti-tank guns, machine guns, anti-aircraft guns, as well as "motorized" bands.

In the evening at a dinner given in their honor at a hotel, they were welcomed by Governor Dwight H. Green, who was commander in chief of the division when it was sent to the national guard, and speech prepared for the banquet, Green asked them "to go forth from this banquet tonight with the assurance that the loyalty of the citizens of the State is given you as an unending pledge."

"We are determined by joining you in national defense we will show the whole world that America has no second weak."

A few blocks away, Mayor Kelly threw open the doors of the city hall for a mammoth "open house" party for the service men in the city.

An estimated 15,000 soldiers, sailors, marines and girls jammed the building, so that the doors had to be closed and another thousand turned away.

Don't Discuss Child If He Can Overhear

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

Regardless of how much school or college education they have, parents, grandfathers and other relatives are prone to talk before guests about the "cute" remarks of the young child in his presence—about as if it were a pup.

It seems not to occur to them that they are doing the younger serious harm. Either he is made very self-conscious or becomes conceited. If he grows conceited, he is destined later on to suffer from self-consciousness and feelings of inferiority.

You see, the child so talked about is having to live with the "cute" remarks of the young child in his presence—about as if it were a pup.

BRITISH WEDDING RINGS REDUCED TO 9 CARATS

London—(UPI)—This ring is three words meant before the war. The placing of a band of 22 carat gold on the finger of the woman. And 22 carat it was, whatever her station in life.

Today new needs of all classes are having to be content with 9 carat gold rings and a large section of the market is flooded with fraudulent rings which have appeared on the market, stamped it as true, but fraudulent in that they do not bear a hallmark and offend against the Wedding Ring Act of 1935 which made a gold wedding ring illegal unless it bore one of these marks—a leopard's head, anchor, York rose, sword or bell—the hallmarks of the only six assay offices in England and Scotland.
