Real Estate Rehabilitation Required Now

Remodeling Of Old Structures Short Cut To Increased Production

By RICHARD KENDRICK
United Press Staff Correspondent
Chicago, Jan. 26 (UP)—Expanded war production since United States entry into the war has intensified the need for rehabilitation of both industrial and residential property, according to the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

In a recent survey covering 248 cities, the association found that 92 per cent of all defense areas require modernization of old dwelling units, while 53 per cent feel the need for reconditioning industrial facilities. Usable industrial space exists in 76 per cent of the cities.

Remodeling of old structures, both industrial and residential, is considered by the association as an economic short-cut to increased war production by which both critical materials and present real estate values can be saved.

Home Builders Seek Aid
Although government officials have given assurances of financial aid for any industrial rehabilitation found necessary, the war effort, such as aid is still being sought for reconditioning old dwellings by the Home Builders Emergency committee in which the association is cooperating.

War-time restriction on sale of new automobiles and tires, it was found, has put a sudden demand on dwellings near defense areas or on existing transportation lines.

In view of this problem, the association's committee on housing and blighted areas will meet in Washington next month to find ways and means for rehabilitating older residential neighborhoods as a war-time source of needed dwelling units.

Business Rents Stable
Regarding available space, it is estimated to note that the survey revealed the same cities which have older industrial structures available for reconditioning also have old dwellings on hand for modernization.

The survey showed that larger cities, 75 per cent with a population of 500,000 and over, feel the need for rehabilitation of industrial space most sharply.

Regionally, the report "no more industrial space available" comes most often from New England and from the Central Atlantic region.

Statistics released by the association revealed that rents of single-family dwellings headed apartments in most regions have risen considerably. North central and southeast regions were exceptions. Rental values of business property and office buildings have remained stationary in a great majority of the cities in every region.

MacArthur In Thick Of Fight On Birthday

Registers Spectacular Victory In Directing Counter-Attack

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—General MacArthur, the jaunty Beau Sabreur of an already historic Philippines campaign, celebrated his sixty-second birthday today in the thick of the fighting on a crucial war front.

His personality, martial spirit and record as a soldier make it evident that he would prefer no finer setting for the occasion.

MacArthur and his indomitable little army of American and Filipino troops made the birthday anniversary a double auspicious event by registering a spectacular victory yesterday in a counter-attack which shattered the lines of a heavily superior enemy.

The War department, normally restrained in its language, used the words "smashing success" to hail the MacArthur triumph which further dislocated the Japanese timetable conquests in the south Pacific.

"Brilliant Maneuver"
The official communiqué's reference to the operation as a "brilliant maneuver" testified to the admiration of official Washington and the nation for high last ditch fight in the Philippines.

Personal friends among army officers assumed as a matter of course that the anniversary found MacArthur at field headquarters on the uncharted field peninsula actively directing the continuing struggle.

They dismissed the notion that the man of the general's mettle could be persuaded to direct the fight from the relative security of Port Moresby, on Corregidor island.

However, the general's wife and his young son, Arthur, were believed to be on Corregidor. Although the wives and families of most service personnel were evacuated from the islands before the war's outbreak, Mrs. MacArthur stayed behind with her husband.

Appropriation Bill Largest In U. S. History

Measure Calls For Over 17 Billions To Finance Navy's Objective

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—Congress received today a $17,722,565,474 appropriation bill largest in the nation's history to finance the navy's war objective of attaining unquestioned supremacy above, below and on the seas through a gigantic ship and plane building program.

In sending the huge outlay proposed to the house for debate the appropriations committee dealt in superlatives—superlatives and "stage-gestures"—to describe its aims, but expressed full confidence in their accomplishment "with untireable dispatch."

An accompanying 313-page transcript of testimony before the committee by Secretary of Navy Knox and high ranking naval officials disclosed the conviction that 1942 would prove the critical year in the battle for victory.

"If we can hold our own, and even advance a little, then we will be ready for whatever the expanded production will enable us to do in 1943 and 1944," said Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the fleet.

Navy's Hopes
Just what that expanded production is intended to "enable us to do" was laid down later by Admiral H. R. Stark, chief of naval operations, in a terse over-all summation of the navy's hopes and plans to:

1. Increase its power to the point of unchallengeable supremacy wherever it may operate.

2. Gain command of the sea by destruction of the enemies' sea-going forces.

3. Cooperate with our own military forces and with the naval and military forces of our allies.

4. Destroy or shut off the enemy's commerce in order to effect economic strangulation, thereby promoting disaffection inside his borders.

The omnibus measure carried an additional $4,292,225,500 in new appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30 and $13,430,339,974 for the year beginning July 1. On top of vast sums already voted for this year, it would swell the 24-month navy total to $24,751,758,471.

It dwarfed even the previous record appropriation of more than $12,500,000 for army planes which was passed by the house only last week.

Close to 50 per cent of the total appropriation will go to construct 850,000 tons of warships plus 500 small craft and 1,799 miscellaneous naval vessels such as patrol boats and swift-raging, death-dealing torpedo boats which already have been authorized by congress.

A gauge of how much the expansion will add to the punch of Uncle Sam's two-ocean fleet. Rear Admiral W. H. D. Towers, chief of the bureau of ordnance, told the committee that 150,000 tons authorized less than a month ago would permit construction of two aircraft carriers, two light cruisers, 16 destroyers and 23 submarines.

Rear Admiral J. H. Towers, chief of the bureau of aeronautics, said the navy was increasing the number of the fleet's plane carriers and auxiliary carriers, and that it planned to speed up naval air factory production of planes from "300 a month to 1,500 a month, 18,000 a year."

Sugar Rationing Will Probably Start In February
Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—The government made ready today to ration sugar at the rate of approximately a pound per person per week, probably starting early in February.

Lean Henderson, the price administrator, announced Saturday that ration books were being prepared. He said there was a shortage of one-third in the sugar supply, which in 1941 was sufficient to provide a per capita home consumption of a pound and a half a week.

He hinted that some attempt would be made to recover stocks held by hoarders, saying "consumers who are in possession of abnormally large stocks of sugar are warned that they will not be permitted to gain an advantage from their supposed foresight."

Speaker Sam Rayburn rang the school bell and swept the buildings to help pay for his education at East Texas Normal School.
