SENATOR ATTACKS
LITERARY DIGEST
PROHIBITION POLL

Washington, April 1.—(AP)—Assaulting prohibition pool being conducted by the Literary Digest, Senator Joseph P. Kamp, Washington, today in Senate advised prohibitionists to refrain from participation in it.

The senator said to the senate that women in his state were being sent principally to men and to vice.

"My personal judgment," Jones concluded, "is that prohibition has nothing to gain and everything to lose by this poll and that those opposed to prohibition have everything to gain and nothing to lose by it and therefore I think it will be wise for those believing in prohibition to take no part in it."

JOHN J. RUCKRIGEL OF ASHKUM EXPIRES

John J. Ruckrigel, a prominent man and former president of the Farmers Trust and Savings bank of Ashkum, died this morning at 3 o'clock following a week's illness of pneumonia.

Mr. Ruckrigel was born in Louisville, Kentucky, in December, 1873. He retired from the bank about three years ago.

His wife he is survived by Mrs. Glenn of Kempton and Mrs. of Chicago, one brother, H. J. O'Grady, Illinois, two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth McGilvary of Mississippi and Mrs. Emma Fowler of Iowa, and two grandsons. He was the brother-in-law of Senator Richard Menzies.

Funeral services will be held at the Methodist church at Ashkum on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in the Ashkum cemetery.

Abe Martin

"She seems to be a dandy girl, but I'd have to see her washed up before I'd propose," said Lon Moon, Jr., today as he left an orangeade stand. Investigations are like rabbits. They make a lot of noise on the way, finally slow down, double back and hunt a hole.

VIC GETS FOOLED
Vic Mazuzan, night patrolman, was ailing a good natured grievance today. He was "April Fooled" as early as 5:30 o'clock this morning when he was called for "special duty" today, only to receive an "April Fool" greeting as he reported at headquarters. He is blaming Night Sergeant Henry Endres and Desk Sergeant Mike Quigley for the joke.

TIRE STOLEN
Peter Camille, 99 East Jeffery street, reported to police last night that a new Goodyear tire had been stolen from his car while it was parked in the 200 block East Oak street.

BOY QUESTIONED
Charged with having struck another boy in the face with a rock, Barnum Bishop, 12, was picked up at the Lafayette school this afternoon and taken to headquarters for questioning. His story seemed to show that there was no quarrel between the boys, that they were good friends, and that the blow was accidental. Accordingly, he was sent back to school.

By The Industry Says
Will H. Hays

New York, April 1.—(AP)—The Movie Industry today had a new code of ethics.

The code, which has been adopted by the motion picture producers and distributors of America, Inc., was announced by Will H. Hays, president of the organization, and provides:

The use of liquor in American life shall be restricted to the actual requirements of characterization or plot.

Acts of murder or brutality shall be presented only in such a way as will not inspire imitation.

Methods of crime shall not be presented in explicit detail.

Scenes of passion shall not be introduced nor essential to the plot. The sanctity of the institution of marriage and the home shall be upheld.

Pointed profanity, obscenity in word, gesture, reference, song, joke or by suggestion and indecent or undue exposure are forbidden.

Revenge in modern times shall not be justified as a motive under the rule "Hamlet" and "Othello" which have revenge for their plot motive should be shown for they are not laid in modern times.

Another rule declares that "no film or episode may throw ridicule on any religious faith and ministers of religion in their characters as ministers of religion should not be used as comic characters or as villains."

Mr. Hays said, "the adoption of the code marks the latest and greatest step taken in the motion picture industry in the direction of self government to the end that the theatrical screen shall conform not only to the highest standards of this art, but to the wholesome instincts of life."

FORD'S PRIVATE RADIO STATION DENIED LICENSE

Washington, April 1.—(AP)—The radio commission has refused to renew the license of station WAV, operated by the Ford Motor Co. at Dearborn, Mich., to maintain communication with its ships on the lake.

The license expires tomorrow and the Ford company has been granted a hearing here April 8 on the question of renewal. The commission contends the station is a private enterprise not complying with the public service requirements of the radio law. Public utility radio companies, the commission declares, can furnish the required service.

PUBLICITY DRIVE

Bert E. Burroughs, Historian Of Kankakee, Writes Data For The Booklets

The Publicity Department of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce is putting into effect during the month of April, a plan to popularize the points of scenic and historical interest in Illinois. The State Chamber is determined that the people of Illinois shall know something of the resources and advantages, and the beauties of their own state.

If the people of Illinois know their own state, they will let the rest of the world know about it also. The result will be an advantage coming to the entire state and every locality within it. Historical and beauty spots of the state are to be marked and properly advertised in booklets. A tourist guide of roads and places of interest is to be published and distributed thickly throughout Illinois, and all through the county. Travel is to be encouraged by Illinoisans throughout Illinois. There is much of historical and artistic interest in every part of Illinois, of which every citizen should have accurate and personal knowledge. Many have roamed through Europe in search of travel experience that could be duplicated in this state. They may know Italy, France and England, but do not know what their own great state of Illinois possesses of scenic and historic value.

The Illinois Chamber of Commerce is determined that all Illinoisans know their own state. In collecting material for this interesting booklet, the state is divided into twenty-five districts. Kankakee County is in District No. 14. It comprises Kankakee, Will, and Iroquois Counties. In cooperation with newspaper editors and historians in these three counties, the Kankakee Chamber of Commerce, through the able assistance of Bert E. Burroughs, Kankakee's historian, will collect and prepare the data, which is to reach the Publicity Department of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce before May 1. It is planned to issue these booklets before the tourist season of 1930 gets into swing.

This plan, involving the collecting of authoritative data on all points of scenic and historical interest in Illinois, will include a great number of photographs. The information gathered will also be used in newspaper stories throughout the state, in magazine articles, radio broadcasts, speeches, etc. The primary purpose of these efforts is to increase all tourist travel, both by residents of Illinois, and by tourists of other states through our state. This plan, when successfully carried through, will prove profitable to Illinois industries, to Illinois merchandising organizations, and in the development of various Illinois commodities. The Kankakee Chamber of Commerce and Mr. Bert E. Burroughs will be performing a great service to the three counties mentioned in preparing interesting facts and stories, and collecting attractive pictures in this territory.

SHIN PLASTERS ON EXHIBIT AT 1ST TRUST BANK

A very interesting and valuable collection of fractional currency, commonly known as "shin plasters" is on exhibition at the First Trust and Savings Bank. This collection which has been the property of the bank executives for more than forty years, was formerly in the possession of the First National Bank before it merged with the Eastern Illinois Trust and Savings Bank in 1916 to form the First Trust and Savings Bank.

There are 39 pieces of this paper money in the collection, and it includes three cent, five cent, ten cent, fifteen cent, twenty-five cent and fifty cent sizes. They were issued during the Civil War period because of the shortage in small change.

Aside from their historical associations, the collection is considered valuable and the bank on several occasions has been offered considerable for it.

As Head Of The Family
President Hoover Will Answer Census Taker

Washington, April 1.—(AP)—As "head" of the first family of the land, President Hoover expects to answer the questions of the census taker tomorrow.

Asked at press conference today whether he or Mrs. Hoover would provide the information, the chief executive replied: "As head of the family I expect to give that information."

J. Sterling Moran, census supervisor of the District of Columbia, will appear at the White House at 1 p. m. to enumerate the family.

Moran will carry under his arm the same type of big brown portfolio that will be used by all the house to house enumerators. He will ask the President the same questions that will be asked of every other family but he admitted today that one of them puzzled him.

It is the third question: "Is your house owned or rented?"

Moran has not decided how he will record that since the White House is neither owned nor rented by the Hoovers.

"What was your age at your first marriage?" "Have you been in school the past year?" "Are you able to read and write?"

President Hoover will be asked to give the name of the state where he was born and where his father and mother were born.

The next series of questions concerns aliens and will not be asked the President.

But he will be interrogated on his occupation and the firm for which he works. In answer to this Moran will write down the "United States Government."

The President will be asked whether he is employed or unemployed and whether he is a war veteran.

Director Stuart of the census bureau said today that the answers President Hoover gives to questions would be considered strictly confidential as will be those asked the ordinary citizen.

The first two questions which supervisor Moran will ask President Hoover will be:

"What is your name?" "What is your relationship to the family?"

Other personal questions are:

"What is your race?"

"What was your age at the last birthday?"

"Are you single or married?"

CENSUS WILL MAKE CHANGE IN CONGRESS

REAPPORTIONMENT OF REP.
REPRESENTATION WILL FOLLOW

GAIN AND LOSE

Some Widely Scattered Parts Of Country Will Gain And Others Lose

Washington, April 1.—(AP)—Important changes in the membership of the house will automatically follow the fifteenth decennial census, the taking of which begins tomorrow.

A reapportionment of representation in conformity with the growth and shifting of the nation's population will be made for the first time in twenty years and will become effective with the congress elected in 1932.

Under the terms of the reapportionment bill passed last year, the census bureau estimates that seventeen widely scattered states will lose an aggregate of 23 members of the house and that eleven states will gain by the same number.

It is expected that the representation of the larger cities will be increased, and since these are usually regarded as opposed to prohibition a careful watch is being kept for the effect of the re-apportionment upon the liquor issue.

The census bureau estimates that the states to gain in representation are: Arizona, Connecticut, Florida, North Carolina, Oklahoma, and Washington, one each; California six; Michigan 4; Ohio, 3; and New Jersey and Texas, two each.

The states which probably will lose representation are: Alabama, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Vermont, and Virginia, one each; Missouri 3; Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky and Mississippi, two each.

The nation's 130,000 census takers tomorrow will begin their task of enumerating the approximately 130,000,000 inhabitants of the country.

Particular interest will attach to the result of the unemployment questions to be asked and information that is being sought with respect to the farming industry.

HUNTING TO CAPTURE
132 PRISONERS

WILL APPEAR HERE

Speaks Under Auspices Of The Legion At Armory On Sunday, April 6

Most of us are familiar with the name and fame of Sergeant Alvin C. York of Tennessee, the outstanding hero of the World War.

At last after ten years of silence on York's part the details of his extraordinary feat in the Argonne are coming out.

It will be recalled that on October 8th, 1918, York accompanied a detail of eighteen American doughboys in a sortie behind the German lines. Some German machine guns were holding up the left flank of the 82nd Division. The machine-guns had to be silenced at all costs. The order was issued. The little American force worked its way behind the German machine-gun battalion and attacked from the rear. Most of the doughboys were killed or scattered or forced to take cover. Then came York's great chance. Standing out in the open within twenty-five yards of the machine-guns single handed he gave battle. "Everytime I see a German I jes' leched him off" he explained later. Simple, when you know how. And "I jes' knowed if they got their heads up and they would get me. So I had to keep their heads down. And I did." There it is. He kept their heads down. He killed twenty-eight, captured thirty-five machine guns and brought in one hundred and thirty-two prisoners.

A Turkey Shooter

This much is known of his great fight. But here is an illuminating sidelight on the man who single handed whipped the German machine-gunners. In the midst of the fight, six Germans led by an officer single file leaped out of an old gas pit on the right and charged. York was changing to his automatic pistol. He shot the sixth German first, then the fifth, then the fourth, then the third and so on until the front man dropped dead at his feet. For quick thinking, coolness and deadly shooting, surely this is the outstanding feat of arms of the World War.

Asked later, why he shot the rear man first, he explained in his picturesque mountain dialect. "I'm a Turkey-shooter; and whenever we shoot turkeys we always shoot the rear ones first so that the front ones will keep a comin'; and then we get them all. I jes' knowed if I shot the front Germans first, the rear ones would drop down and pump a volley into me and get me; so I picked off the rear ones first."

Won Medal of Honor

There in it's stark simplicity and logically explained is the story of one of the most extraordinary and heroic fights in military history; a fight which won York The Congressional Medal of Honor and a number of other high allied decorations.

While all of this was going on thirty-five machine-guns were blazing away at York; and in the next few minutes he shot them up and put all of them out of action.

Extraordinary, unbelievable, but true. And he was an American doughboy. He comes to the Armory to address the people of Kankakee on April 6, 1930 8:15 p. m. He has only consented to go on the lecture platform because of repeated requests from every section of America for him to tell his story. It is stated that he is a gifted orator with a great story to tell. He will tell us how he did it in the Argonne. The chance of hearing the outstanding hero of the World War tell his own story is a chance that nobody should miss.

TWO WILLS FILED IN PROBATE TODAY

The wills of Mary Ellen Dunn, Kankakee, and Stuart Hazlett, Bloomington, were filed in probate court today.

In the Dunn estate, Josephine Joyce, the executrix, is directed to sell all real estate owned by the deceased in Salina township for the best possible price. Out of the proceeds the testator directs that $500 be spent for her mass for the repose of her soul and that the balance of the estate be divided equally between her husband, John James Dunn and the following: Amelia Ann Hoffman, John William Dwyer, David Edward Dwyer and Josephine Elizabeth Joyce.

The entire Hazlett estate is left to the widow, Isabella, who is also named executrix.

Mrs. Gabriel Joubert has returned home from Chicago where she has been visiting with relatives.

Jaybirt Writes To Charlie Judd

If only the Rank and Filers could be taught to think, wouldn't it take a load from the one man political campaign. After reading the following letter, Charles is rather happy to think that he is only the chief assister instead of the main head man.

Ambs-a-doe Charles:
Subject-Bull-a-ton 38000—Gen'l Order XXX.

Dear Charles:

I'm outta slang fer to call my Rank and Filers with fer the bone head things they are pulling when they git out amongst the voters. Just to gov ya a idee of what I got to put up with from the reports my workers are sending in. Here's one I just picked up carless like from the rest.

Report from Vote Getter worker No. 976-3 p. m.

Honorabl Jaybirt—the Great, Most Respected of the High Dictator Supreme.

No. 976 has the honor to report as follows. Listened to 30 voters so far to day. (Hav had no chance to git word with em yet.) Said voters all seem to be thinkin backwards for several years which seems outta ordinary. Voter No. 29 seen me comin up to him ten feet away, mo of em seem to no who I am before I git two em. Voter No. 29 ses to me. Now Len kane be so durned bad, specuualy, since he's blamed fer everything that's happened since he's bin in politiks.

Voter No. 29 ses, I dont remembet enny delegashuns or public meetings being held here or sent to Springfield beginn fer concrete roads, but we got 229 miles a fine concrete roads in our Kankakee countie just the same. An evry town and village in the countie is comin with a concrete road cepin two that had a hard road leadin to em. Voter No. 29 ses, ya kin blame Len fer these concrete roads in our countie as sure as yer rattlin yer false teeth when yer sayin it two.

Voter No. 29 ses, I did se history once, when Governor Small appered before the Kankakee board to ask em to hurry with the rite a way fer 40 foot No. 40 to chieago ses he cud help mak this road a fact while he was Governor cus he had his doubts about our Countie gittin much concrete road from the State after he was outta office.

Voter No. 29 ses, he blame him fer leasatin what is goin to be the biggest instatushun of his kind in the world near Manteno. Lokats in his hospital there ment wurk fer hundreds a men in our countie last year, wurk fer hundreds of same this year an steady wurk fer a good many fer years to cum. Yur, we gotta blame Len fer that sure.

Voter No. 29 ses, long as he's gun to be blamed fer evry thing comin or goin, less blame him fer shape that Kankakee countie is in now. Ya no they burnt up the last Court house bonds soon time ago and the countie has a assessed valuation of 11 million dollars to day an cud go out an borrow a million an a quarter a dollars enny time an plenty fellas glad to lend it too.

An, sen, this here voter No. 30 butts in (fore I cud ketch ma breath) an ses, Gosh, yer rite old voter, ya know a fellas kinda liable to fer git all those things unless he thinks backward sum. Voter No. 30 ses further, I wouldn't mind bein blamed fer all them things an bein called Len fer it itself, cause ther always was and always will be outers holletin in an round outside.

Now, Hon. Jaybirt, as I above stated, I never has a chance to git not one wurd during the conversashun. Both backward thinkin voters menshuned herein ses, an if that's all ya gotta talk about, we'll be movin an afore I cud anser they was gone.

Most High Dictator, please advise how to hand voters like the too cases reported herewith. Submitted with most respect two our Most High Dictator.

Sined Rank and Filer No. 976.

P. S. no use to report on the other 28 voters cause they all felt the same way two.

Now Charles,

I ast ya, wudden a wurk report like abuv, give ya sik hed ake in the ankles. Louis Emmerson shure otta spreahate me afer me goin thru a fire lik this. When I hey time, I'm gonna send him copes up all my bull-a-ton and letters to impress him.

Signed—JAYBIRT the Great. (ceel).

IN CAMPAIGN

VOTERS DISGUSTED WITH VILE AND OBSCENE TALKS OF JAYBIRT

WILL CAUSE DEFEAT

Anti Candidates' Political Ravings
On Platform Were 90
Per Cent Unprintable

The editor of the Kankakee Daily News used up about two columns of space last night shedding large tears over what he claims were attacks on the Miller-Judd ticket. Of course, this was just a sham in order to conceal the real source of mind slinging which has emanated from the mouth of the anti leader, Jaybirt. The editor of the News is well aware of the fact that the entire campaign from the regular Republican standpoint was conducted in a clean and dignified manner. If he is not aware of it, just let him consult or interview any man or woman who attended any of the regular Republican rallies, which were held in Kankakee county. At no time or at no place was a single sentence uttered or a word spoken but, what was constructive and dignified. The speakers and the candidates without exception confined themselves strictly to the public issues involved and at no time did they indulge in any personalities.

Contrast this with the foul and repulsive mouthings of Jaybirt in all his political utterings during the campaign and especially at the meeting held on West Court street last Thursday night, when his filthy language reached its peak. The so called "addresses" of Miller, Irwin and Alfred Huot were so vile and filthy as to be 90 per cent unprintable. The language used and the suggestive remarks made would have made a debauched inmate of a hardy house hang his head in shame. Despite the fact that there were women and children in the audience, the grammar was so bad that self-respecting people were filled with complete disgust. The audience was practically unanimous in the expression that the speeches were the most vile and foul they had ever listened to. In fact many could not believe that such a thing could go on in a civilized and dignified community.

The editor of the Daily News knows that an effort was being made in the early part of the campaign to conceal the fact that Miller is the leader of the Emerson group. A young attorney, who, at least has some sense of decency was used at the first few meetings. However, the Miller leadership could not be starved off long and was replaced by the vile and obscene language with all of the verbal corruption at his command. This has sounded the death knell of the anti cause. Respectable people began leaving the Miller standard in droves, until a flood of protesting voters.

Already the Miller henchmen have given up hopes. If the anti candidates who follow Miller's dictations ever had a chance in the beginning that chance has gone glimmering.

Thursday night's meeting on the West Side and the report of the rally in Friday night's issue of the Daily News, although a large part of the unprintable matter was left out, has had a tremendous effect against the anti. In every part of the county voters, who had been inclined to support the Miller-Judd ticket, have had a sudden and definite change in mind. If the election were to be held tomorrow, Miller and his vile propaganda would not carry a single precinct in Kankakee county. We think this will be true next Tuesday, April 8th.

The editor of the Daily News, can talk about mind slinging all he wants to, but he cannot convince the public that the present Miller campaign has not been one of the rankest, vilest, and most indecent campaigns that has ever been waged in Kankakee county.

Coal City

High School News

The Current Events magazine is taking a straw of students all over the United States to find out how much opinion there is in favor of congress establishing a national anthem by law. Some time ago the freshmen English and history classes had the opportunity to vote on this proposition. The ballots checked up as follows:

"Star Spangled Banner," 27 votes.
"America, the Beautiful," 32 votes.
No action should be taken by congress, 2 votes.

Dramatics in Latin II

The second year Latin class recently dramatized a sketch from Caesar. The main plot was the "Gauls States Rescuing Caesar for Aid Against Ariovistus." The scene takes place with Caesar in front of his tent in Gaul. He has just come from a meeting of representatives of the Gallic tribes, who have assured him that his victory over the Helvetians is to the advantage of Gaul as well as of the Romans. He then dictates orders to several clerks and talks it over with the officers when he is finally confronted by a group of Gallic chiefs.

The following students took part: Caesar, Lucille Johnson. Labinius, Esther Beerup. Diviciacus, Merle Wilson. Principes, Mary Paluszky. Jessie Willis acted as artist and furnished us with the necessary scenery.

Varied Occupations At C. C. H. S. The girls of the foods classes have been making different kinds of biscuits and muffins.

The freshmen English classes have been making a study of the explanatory type of conversation; in other words, the students are telling how to make things, ranging from fudge and jelly roll to willow whistles and sling shots. On Tuesday the students worked out original plans for designing customs for plays, flower gardens, bird houses or attractive rooms.

Lots of Pep At Coal City High One of the best pep meetings this year was given Tuesday afternoon in preparation for the Wilmington-Coal City game in Joliet that evening. It was planned by a committee of students representing each class and Miss Schleuter.

The program started out with a bang when Coach Watts presented the silver cup which our second team won for first place in the Des Plaines Valley conference. The following boys played on this team: William Vilt, Joe Gervase, Eddie Helma, Joe Cerney, Victor Togliatti, Eddie Stewart, Ray Reid, Russell Schennum.

After he presented the cup, Mr. Watts explained that the teams playing in this league next year will be divided into two classes, heavyweight and lightweight. No boy over 135 lbs. will be allowed to play on the lightweight team.

The next feature of this pep meeting was a dramatization of an imaginary court scene in which Wilmington charged Coal City with invading their forces in Joliet and escaping with a shield, 12 baskets and 6 fowls. After the jury had heard both sides of the case the 12 jurors withdrew and brought in a verdict of guilty. The penalty imposed by the good-natured judge was that Coal City should not play basketball from July to October.

The following students took part: Judge, James Gomora. Prosecuting attorney, Howard Schennum.

Plaintiff, Joe Gervase. Attorney for defendant, Art Teas. Defendant, John Kauriari. Four girls, Phyllis Rothlisberger, Marie Olrot, Verna Berta, Mary E. Casper, sang the new high school song "We're Following You." This, followed by some snappy yells concluded the program.

Personals Mrs. Maurice Schennum is recovering from her recent illness. Mrs. Allen Gilmour spent Thursday in South Wilmington. Miss Rita Shields spent the week end in Atlanta, Ill.

Miss Jessie Wharris spent Sunday in Joliet.

C. H. Root, county superintendent of schools, spent Friday in town. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McClure and children of Los Angeles, spent Sunday here.

Mrs. Walter McKinley spent Saturday in New Lenox.

Mrs. Robert Carbone of Chicago spent the week end in the home of her mother, Mrs. Jean Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Rossi and daughter of Riverside spent Sunday in town.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

These pictures tell the story of VOSS superiority

The New VOSS

the only washer that cleans by the HAND WASHING METHOD.

The Floating Agitator a patented Voss feature, which makes possible the Hand Washing Method.

SEE IT IN ACTION TOMORROW!

It is not merely "another" washer, for it is equipped with the exclusive patented Voss Floating Agitator—the one and only mechanical device which cleans by the hand washing method.

"No longer is there need to separate even your daintiest things to be washed by hand, for fear of injury. The Voss will wash them as gently as you could by hand. And even the heaviest, dirtiest garments are washed quickly and cleanly by this positive natural washing action.

Look again at the small illustrations at the top of this announcement. They make clear the supreme advantages of the Floating Agitator. It rests lightly on the clothes and washes them through the clean, active sudsy water at the top of the tub—away from the dirt, which settles to the bottom. It washes the natural way—just as you would wash by hand.

The new Voss has balloon roller wringer, porcelain enamel tub, enclosed mechanism running in oil bath, specially designed motor, and other advanced features.

THEATRES

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT
Majestic — "Chasing Rainbows" starring Charles King with Bessie Love in this all-talking, singing, technicolor extravaganza.
Luna — "The Sacred Flame" all-talking starring Pauline Frederick with Conrad Nagel, Lila Lee, Walter Byron, William Courtney, Alice B. Francis and Dale Fuller.

MAJESTIC
"Chasing Rainbows" Bessie Love and Charles King play together again in "Chasing Rainbows," an original story by Bessie Love, which opened yesterday at the Majestic theatre. That should be welcome news to those who have seen this couple in "The Broadway Melody."

"Chasing Rainbows" is a backstage story with real human interest, and it is doubtful if there is another pair of players on the Cinema Coast who can handle a vehicle of this kind with such finesse and artistry as these two. Miss Love plays a performer in a road show whose love affair with a fellow player, Charles King, progresses backstage, in cheap boarding houses and en route from one night stand to one night stand. There is singing and dancing in this picture, and plenty of comedy to keep things going at a fast clip. The exigencies of life in a road show provide an excellent and novel background for both the comic and tragic aspects of the moving story.

LUNA
"The Sacred Flame" Picture goes at the Luna theatre yesterday had the pleasure of hearing Conrad Nagel sing in the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production "The Sacred Flame" starring Pauline Frederick, which plays at the Luna until Wednesday.

The composition he introduced the theme song which carries the same title as the picture itself. The oration of Grant Clark and the staff of Warner Bros. some of the With the Show, "Weary River," "Everybody Happy?" and other telephone attractions.

Mr. Nagel's singing voice is as pleasing as the speaking voice which is so agreeable remembered by talking picture patrons. His years of stage training are also responsible for his fine diction.
