WOMEN CONFUSED WHEN CAR STALLS ON I. C. CROSSING IN CHEBANSE; ONE KILLED

STATE HOSPITAL NURSE, MOTHER OF THREE SMALL CHILDREN, DIES; MOTHER-IN-LAW IS SERIOUSLY INJURED; CAR THROWN 75 FEET IN CRASH.

Confused when the car in which they were riding stalled on an Illinois Central railroad crossing two blocks south of the Chebanse depot, Mrs. Jannie Jackson, 36, a mother of three children, and the mother of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Cora Jackson of Chebanse, were killed and her mother-in-law was severely injured when struck by a north-bound local passenger train at 5:40 o'clock last evening.

The younger Mrs. Jackson was taking her mother-in-law home after leaving the State hospital at 4 o'clock. They drove south on highway 25 and were in the act of driving across the tracks slowly. The younger woman then noticed the train approaching from the south. The car was squarely on the track at that time. She attempted to shift the gears to back off the crossing and killed the engine of the Chevrolet sedan.

The younger Mrs. Jackson then opened the door of the car and started to get out, but changed her mind and remained in the car. The two women awayed their bodies back and forth in the front seat and the car was slowly backing away from the crossing when it was struck at the front of the hood.

Hurted 75 Feet

The car was completely demolished and was thrown about 75 feet north by the impact. The older woman was found pinned under the top of the car by the train crew.

The train, consisting of four coaches, was slowing down for a station stop at the time of the crash and when brought to a stop the last coach was almost upon the crossing.

Taken In Hearse

John P. Hickey, local funeral director, was returning with an empty hearse from Champaign and happened the accident. He placed a younger woman in his hearse and, at her order, drove to the State hospital where her husband and children were. Mr. Hickey made the run from Champaign to the hospital in eight minutes but the woman lapsed into unconsciousness just as she reached the institution. She died at 9:14 o'clock last evening of shock and hemorrhage.

The older woman was placed on a stretcher, and put on the train where her injuries were dressed at St. Mary's hospital. She was later returned to her home in Chebanse and is reported to be on the road to recovery today. Mr. Hickey stated that the younger woman was conscious and talked coherently until arriving at the hospital. She inquired of Mr. Hickey the nature of her injuries and, when told that he believed them fatal, she began to pray.

Inquest Held

Dr. O. A. Schmidt of the State hospital staff, at the inquest conducted this morning by Coroner Octave J. Cartier, stated that the woman suffered double fractures of both legs in addition to numerous body and scalp wounds. He said that death was due chiefly to shock and great loss of blood.

Reville Jackson, husband of the deceased, stated that his wife was a careful driver. He is an attendant at the hospital. His wife was born Nov. 14, 1894 in Williamson county.

Was Eye Witness

Harold J. Forbes, Chebanse, who was sawing timbers near the crossing noticed the approaching train at the time the car stalled on the track. He attempted to run to the car to aid in pushing it off the track, but was too late. He stated that the engineer of the train had

The vote was 37 to 34. A proposal by Senator Swanson, democrat, Virginia, to remove the national origins repeal provision, previously attached to the Harris bill two days ago on a motion by Senator Norbeck, Republican, North Dakota.

Senator Norbeck immediately after the reversal of decision introduced a separate bill providing for repeal of this immigration basis which he contends is discriminatory against Germany and the Scandinavian countries.

Washington, April 24—(AP)—The senate today voted to cut down immigration from Europe to this country from 130,000 annually to 50,000.

The vote was 41 to 37.

GOV. KOHLER WINS POINT IN HEARING

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR SUMS OF MONEY HIS FRIENDS SPENT IN CAMPAIGN

JUDGE "TAKES HAND"

Charged With Narrowness By Prosecution Following His Remarks

Sheboygan, Wis., April 24—(AP)—The principal point on which prosecution of Gov. Walter J. Kohler under the state corrupt practices act is based, was questioned at his trial today by the presiding judge, Gustave G. Gehrz, as follows:

Speaking as he testified, informally, Gehrz suggested the argument of defense attorneys that the millionaire governor cannot be charged with excessive expenditures in his successful 1928 primary campaign as he merely supported supporters to use their own money in his behalf. The prosecution had insisted that the governor authorized agents to act for him.

"What's wrong," Gehrz asked, "if you ask another person to spend your money and asked another to help—that's agency."

His discussion followed an unexpected order that Governor Kohler leave the stand and that the jury be sent from the room.

The judge, taking over the arguments of attorneys, explained that "every party has a right to spend money providing its cards are laid on the table. Under the law the only responsible persons are the candidate, the party committee and the personal campaign committee."

Finally, Gehrz told the state's attorney that "we must try this case through the standpoint of the candidate directly violating the law or violating it through his own consciousness." He previously had denied a suggestion that he was taking a "narrow view" of the proceedings.

The arguments, lasted more than an hour. As they continued, Prosecutor Walter Corrigan said that even trivial gifts might be important.

Judge Gehrz interposed: "The triviality of the gifts might be questioned as to their political intent."

Supporting his statement that the involved questioning of Kohler was necessary, Harold M. Wilkie special state prosecutor argued that while the spontaneous acts of Kohler supporters would not be a violation, there was a question as to the degree of spontaneity.

"We regret," he said, "to see the court take such a narrow view as to emasculate the whole case—and we frankly believe there is danger of that."

"I am taking no narrow view," Gehrz replied sharply, "but am merely attempting to smoke you out."

Harry Butler defense attorney, interposed to say that "the seriousness of a case in which a governor might be sent to the penitentiary prohibits any liberality of conception. We have to narrow it down to actual proof."

SPIRIT OF UNREST IN OHIO PENITENTIARY FLAMES INTO REVOLT AGAINST DISCIPLINE

TWO THOUSAND CONVICTS THREATEN OPEN WARFARE IF NOT RELEASED; DISORDER PREVAILS IN PRISON YARD AND A COMPANY OF INFANTRY IS CALLED OUT.

BULLETIN

Columbus, O., April 24—(AP)—Attorney General Gilbert Gettman left Ohio penitentiary hastily this afternoon to confer with Governor Cooper on a proposal to temporarily suspend Preston Thomas as warden. The action was taken when several thousand prisoners announced they would revolt against Thomas' rule. They charged the warden with "cruelty" and held him responsible in part for the 318 fatalities in the prison fire disaster.

Guards reported to the guard room late this afternoon that a gang of the roaming convicts had gathered around the cells of Company K, an outfit of unruly and desperate criminals and threatened to break down the doors if K company is not let out by 3 P. M.

C. J. Quinlan, of Cleveland, one of the ring leaders of the convicts' resistance campaign, was taken from the cell blocks by guards and paced in another part of the prison.

Only four guards are on duty in this section and they are armed only with clubs.

The guards quoted Quinlan as saying that there would be violence if the prisoners' demands were not met.

An Invitation

You are cordially invited to attend our Open House, each day the balance of this month, including Sunday, in observance of the First Anniversary of the dedication of the B. F. Hertz Memorial Temple. Members of the Hertz staff will conduct visitors through the establishment and will explain its many advantages and exclusive features.

After our first year as occupants of this modern mortuary, we find that our many years of study and planning, which resulted in the construction of this edifice, is being appreciated by the public for what it is, representative of the most advanced and most approved thought in mortuary designing.

The B. F. Hertz Memorial Temple accurately reflects the desire and ability of Mr. Hertz and his organization to render the finest, most up-to-date service possible — and at prices no higher. Although it includes every facility for the comfort and convenience of those bereaved, the use of the entire establishment is without any extra charge.

Come and see for yourself a mortuary which ranks with the most complete and outstanding institutions of its kind in the middle west.
