JAP SURRENDER DEMANDS SPURNED

Japs Reorganize For Philippine Campaign

Alarmed Military Authorities Urge Farmers To Return To Their Work

Washington, Feb. 12.—(AP)—A full-scale Japanese reorganization was reported today by the war department, which said the enemy evidently was reorganizing to begin an awaiting reinforcements before resuming the offensive on the Bataan peninsula front.

The invaders meanwhile have occupied the island of Masbate, near the center of the Philippine archipelago, a communiqué said, indicating the first recent extension of the Japanese occupation of the islands.

The Japanese are appealing to the Filipino farmers as "Dear Brethren," the communiqué said, to return to their farms and resume work on sugar and other crops.

Enemy Reorganizing
The communiqué, No. 103, based on reports received here up to 8:30 a. m. CWT, said:

"There was very little ground or air fighting on Bataan during the past twenty-four hours. The enemy is evidently reorganizing his forces and awaiting additional supplies and reinforcements before resuming the offensive."

"The island of Masbate, near the center of the Philippine archipelago, has been occupied by Japanese troops."

"Reports reaching General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters from the occupied areas of Luzon indicate that Filipino farmers who were evacuated from their homes by Japanese invaders have crowded into Manila or have hidden in the mountains to escape harsh treatment at the hands of the Japanese soldiers. As a result there is a great scarcity of labor to tend the crops, and food supplies are becoming scarce."

"This condition has so alarmed the military authorities that Lieut. General MacArthur, commanding the Japanese army in Luzon, has issued the following proclamation:

"Return to Your Farms"
Return promptly to your farms. Our dear brethren who are swarming in the seat of hostilities, return promptly to your farms and harvest your crops and sugar cane. Now you cannot get supplies or commodities from the overseas countries."

War Correspondent Has Thrilling Experience Over Burmese Jungle

Editors Note: Daniel De Luce, Arizona-born Associated Press foreign correspondent, who has served across Europe from London to Turkey and saw the Nazi conquest of Greece, rode in a Blenheim bomber on a two-hour British and American raid on the Japanese at Moulmein and Martaban.

In the following dispatch he tells of the attack in the first witness account by an American correspondent of the RAF and Yankee volunteers in action over the Burmese jungle.

By DANIEL DE LUCE
An advanced British air base in Burma, Feb. 11.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Young bomber crews and fighter pilots from the British empire and the United States have been sent into action together as aerial artillery and cavalry with wings to help lead the jungle front where the spectacular battle for Burma is under way.

I rode with them today and witnessed from a Blenheim bomber a typical daylight attack escorted by British Hurricanes and American Tomahawk fighters.

Kankakee 'Chutists'

Pets. Boris Ruel and Jerry Hasbargen of Kankakee have completed a course in parachute packing, ground training and jumping from a plane in flight and qualified as parachutists. Formerly with Co. L, 129th Infantry at Camp Forrest, they were transferred to Fort Benning, Ga., for the parachute training. The above picture was taken a few moments before a leap. Their first jump was at 1,500 feet, then ones of greater distance, and finally they participated in mass jumping.

The original quota for the war fund here was $14,100. Drive leaders are anxious to close the campaign as soon as possible and urge persons who have not yet donated to mail their contributions this week-end to the American Red Cross, P. O. Every telephone subscriber who had not previously made a donation to the war relief fund has been called by a group of 20 women.

Secretary Max Jaffe reported many have enrolled in one of the 12 first aid classes now functioning under tutelage of several doctors and Red Cross certified instructors. Including Mrs. Chester Perrodin, Shirley Lane, Robert Bedard, Raymond Nourie, S. W. Reagan, Albert Neff and E. A. Use Of Tin Cans Is Restricted After March 1
Washington, Feb. 12.—(AP)—A sharp reduction in the supply of tin cans, posed a fresh wartime problem today for America's housewives, already facing sugar rationing, doing without silk hose and walking to the store to save tires.

The war production board announced that after March 1 such common products as pork and beans, coffee, dog food, beer, tobacco and oil must not be packed in tin containers. Use of tin cans for certain "secondary" and "special" products will be restricted to the 1940 output, and the manufacture of small-size cans will be eliminated.

No limit was set, however, on the use of tin for preserving such perishable products as important fruits and vegetables, tomato juice, milk and fish.

Critical Metals
Tin is on the list of critical metals as a result of the war in the Pacific. America customarily has obtained most of its tin from Malaya. WPB experts estimated that the new order would cut the use of tin by can manufacturers as much as 40 per cent, saving at least 15,500 tons a year.

Assurance that "the public need have no fear that there will be any shortage of the essential food products" came from Paul S. Willis, president of the Associated Grocers Manufacturers of America. He said that warehouse stocks of canned food were so large that the public would not notice the effect of the order for some time.

The secondary food products, cans for which will be limited to last year's number, include apples, peaches, pineapples, prunes and other fruits and vegetables not regarded as of primary importance. Special products covered by the order take in medical, chemical, dental and industrial supplies.

EARLY RISERS
The canteen committee of the Red Cross met an Illinois Central troop train at 4 o'clock this morning, giving the boys bags of apples, candy bars and cigarettes.

War Department's Report Of Kankakeean's Death Wrong
The War department in Washington today admitted an error in announcing the death of Lieut. Richard Rush, Kankakee, in "flying fortress" crash in Brazil on Saturday.

The admission came after a request by the Republican-News for information and it was said that the error resulted from a mistake in transmission of the serial number on an identification tag carried by one of the victims of the crash.

The Republican-News request for information came after it was discovered that Richard Rush, former Kankakee youth, was killed in the crash of a bombing plane at Patterson field, Ohio, last August.

Defenders Of Singapore Will Not Yield

Fight On Against Extreme Odds Despite Battle Lines Are Moving Closer

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Bloody fighting raged nearer to the smoke shrouded streets of Singapore today as British troops, scorned a demand for surrender, fell back after bitter counterattacks during the night while Japanese planes smashed at a fleet of 25 evacuation ships in Singapore harbor.

The Rome radio, whose reports have often been premature, broadcast a Tokyo claim that the Japanese flag was flying over the Raffles square in the center of Singapore.

Simultaneously, a Tokyo broadcast said Japanese troops in the northwest outskirts of the city had launched an attack to drive out the British "remnants."

The Tokyo report implied that there had been a halt in the offensive while the British rejected a demand for capitulation and that the battle for the city had not yet been won.

Defenders Counter-attack
British defenders of Singapore launched four desperate counterattacks against Japan's siege armies and the Singapore radio told empire listeners—with music—that radio communications were still in British hands as late as 8:30 p. m. (8:30 a. m. central war time).

An hour after the Singapore radio proclaimed defiance:
"We are not only going to fight. We are going to win! We shall emerge from this struggle!"

The broadcast said the Japanese radio was attempting "to obscure the real position on the island of Singapore behind extravagant claims."

C. Yates McDaniel, of the Associated Press, the last foreign correspondent remaining in Singapore, said British infantry charged the Japanese and drove them back at several points.

McDaniel's dispatch, filed from a ship lying offshore, under repeated attacks by Rising Sun dive bombers, said however that the battle lines were moving steadily closer to Singapore.

"We were dive bombed half a dozen times, but we are still afloat and may get away tonight," McDaniel said.

Pastor Says U. S. Has Wavered From Democracy Ideals
The Rev. Theodore S. Buchmueller, pastor of St. John Evangelical church addressed the Exchange club Wednesday noon in McBroome's cafe.

He spoke of the need for a much firmer religious foundation among the people of this country in order to be better prepared for trying days ahead.

Touching on the general apathy toward governmental problems, he showed how far people have veered from their forefathers' ideals of democracy and how important it is to salvage the remnants of that ideal before they completely unravel in a fast-changing world.

The clergyman was introduced by Vice President Gordon Chagnon. Al Schuster was a guest. The Exchange board will meet tonight in the office of President Victor Lauridsen.

Mother Here Recently
This information had been given to Mrs. Evelyn Burton, 1080 Cobb boulevard, friend of the Rush family, by the youth's mother Mrs. Anna Rush of Tucson, Ariz., when she latter was on a visit to Kankakee two weeks ago.

This Richard Rush was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Rush, who formerly lived at 315 South Evergreen avenue, and later at 1088 East Merchant street, several years ago when Mr. Rush was assistant superintendent of the E-Z-Way Store company, now the Florence Store company.

The family left here about 12 years ago and went to Ypsilanti, Mich., where Mr. Rush entered the employ of the United Store company. He died there several years later and Mrs. Rush moved to Tucson.

Heard on Radio, Too
The War department's announcement of the casualty list caused press services to carry the error and subsequent radio announcements making the same mistake were heard by a number of Kankakee people.

Booming Hog Market Boosts The Prices

Producers Believed To Be Withholding Shipments To Market

By WILLIAM FERRIS
Chicago, Feb. 12.—A booming hog market, which carried prices to the highest February level in 18 years, was attributed in livestock circles today to the ability of producers to withhold shipments to market. This has created an artificial scarcity, livestock circles said, and has forced buyers to bid their bids higher.

Earlier this week two leading packing companies, according to livestock reports, stopped slaughtering hogs. Operations were resumed only after the market had advanced. The average price for hogs sold at $12.70, this compared with $12.40 a week ago. An average of $12.92 immediately prior to America's entry into the war.

Livestock circles, in reasoning that farmers were withholding hogs, offered these statistics: According to the department of agriculture, the 1941 fall pig crop was the largest on record—more than 30,000,000 head as compared with 28,000,000 head in 1940. Pigs raised in autumn are coming to market now.

Hogs offered for sale in 12 leading markets in the week ended Jan. 31 totaled 364,000 head. The following week the number declined to 290,000 head, and this week receipts in the first three days were below last week.

Earlier in the year, receipts were running well ahead of 1941 and in January hogs slaughtered under federal inspection amounted to 8,000,000 head against 4,317,314 head in January, 1941.

About 84 per cent of all the hogs produced in the U. S. come from Florida.

Cost Of Mrs. Lincoln's Clothes Is Related In An Old Account

Columbus Feb. 12.—(Wide World)—It cost a lot of money to dress Mrs. Abraham Lincoln in the style demanded by Washington society and her own tastes down to a white point lace handkerchief at $20 and a white lace parasol at $20.

These were the values set by Mrs. Lincoln herself in 1867 when she forwarded to W. H. Brady, of New York, various articles of dress she wished to sell before her husband's departure for the front.

As detailed in the Columbus Morning Journal on Oct. 5, 1867, Mrs. Lincoln was desperately in need of money. Instead of the $100,000 she had expected as her husband's salary for four years of his second term, she received $25,000 for one year of his service; and this $25,000 was needed to care for certain obligations.

"Her present income, she states, is $1,700 a year, of which $300 comes from the rent of her old house in Springfield, Ill., the 1867 paper said. It appears from this that Mrs. Lincoln not only saved no money while he occupied the White House but really lived beyond his income."

Government efforts to restrain the advance have been confined so far to placing ceilings on prices it would pay for dressed pigs and land bought primarily for lend-lease purposes.

Packers who sell to the Surplus Marketing administration, government purchasing agency, received only last week that the agency would make no future pork and land purchases at quotations above those prevailing the last week of January.

The agency added "other measures" would be adopted unless prices remained below these levels. Best hogs yesterday brought $12.90 a hundred pounds, peak of the current advance. The average price sold at about $12.70. This compared with $12.40 a week ago and an average of $12.92 immediately prior to America's entry into the war.

Hogs offered for sale in 12 leading markets in the week ended Jan. 31 totaled 364,000 head. The following week the number declined to 290,000 head, and this week receipts in the first three days were below last week.

Earlier in the year, receipts were running well ahead of 1941 and in January hogs slaughtered under federal inspection amounted to 8,000,000 head against 4,317,314 head in January, 1941.

About 84 per cent of all the hogs produced in the U. S. come from Florida.

Mrs. Clark, rather than Mrs. Lincoln could appear in the procession. Although in her overwhelming sorrow she was by an ungovernable desire to dress her true name and her own identity from being lost. The newspaper also published a story on October 19, 1867, describing an "account incredible" Mrs. Lincoln's dressings with a Chicago publisher with whom she pledged to sell her wardrobe. The publisher, however, the construction was not made of the account.

A French weaver, Joseph Jacquard of Lyons, improved the loom of that day and made it possible to weave the intricate designs of the dress. Mrs. Lincoln was in Chicago when she was in the White House. Ben Chapman Seeks Comeback in Major Leagues

Would Accept 50 Per Cent Cut In Previous Pay

By FREDERICK WILLIAMS

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 12.—(UP)—Ben Chapman, released from major league baseball last season after 12 years of big time, is ready and anxious to get back.

The former American league star, who set a modern league record in base stealing in 1931 by swiping 61 during the season, says "no body ever wants to leave the majors and don't believe it when they say they are glad to get out."

Chapman, now 33, says he has "plenty of baseball, real major league stuff, for three or four more seasons." Draft exempt—he has wife and two infant boys—he's willing to take a cut, say around 50 per cent. Draft exempt—he has wife and two infant boys—he's willing to take a cut, say around 50 per cent.

The happiest man in town, outside of possibly Coach "Pop" Dale, is Ralph Hart, St. Paul's sports editor, who keeps such a close eye on the team that it is rumored he even ticks the athletes in at night to be sure they get enough undisturbed sleep to carry on their basketball successes.

square division with a war time strength of 22,000 men was to be cut to a triangular organization of about 19,000 men. Brigade units were eliminated, so that orders from a commanding general passed directly to the regiments.

The newer setup would contain three infantry regiments, two for the front lines and one for reserve, thus suggesting the triangle. The square organization contained four infantry regiments.

Purpose of the reorganization is to facilitate speedier execution of orders in the field.
