SECRETARIES IN DEFENSE OF TREATY

STIMSON AND ADAMS BEFORE TWIN COMMITTEES AT NAVAL HEARING

"U. S. FARED WELL"

In Recent London Naval Confer- ence, Represents "Fair Settlement"

Kankakee, May 14.—Two secretaries of the London Naval Conference, Secretary Adams and an admiral, Secretary Stimson, were before the Naval Committee of the Senate today to defend the treaty which they signed at London. Secretary Adams, before the Naval Committee, testified that if the treaty was not accepted, the cost of building a fleet of battleships would be around $1,000,000,000, but he insisted even that would be better than the old game of "cat and mouse" which had been going on for three days before the treaty was signed. Secretary Stimson, before the Foreign Relations Committee, testified that the treaty was "very satisfactory" and that although he was on record as favoring eight-inch gun cruisers he favored the variety of big and little guns provided by the new treaty. He described the six-inch gun as "inferior in bad visibility" and added that "you don't have good visibility in the Pacific."

Admiral William V. Pratt, commander of the battle fleet, followed Stimson with a declaration that the treaty was "very satisfactory" and that although he was on record as favoring eight-inch gun cruisers he favored the variety of big and little guns provided by the new treaty. He described the six-inch gun as "inferior in bad visibility" and added that "you don't have good visibility in the Pacific."

"I have a very definite opinion which has just come to me. I prefer a six inch but I would like to tell you in private," said the admiral.

Secretary Adams, under a driving question of questions by Johnson of California, told the Foreign Relations Committee that the American proposal for a new battle fleet was a "trading point" at London, that the cruiser settlement was the best obtainable, and that no official records of most of the negotiations were kept because they were necessary.

Both secretaries emphasized the difficulties facing the London Conference, and insisted the United States got all that was humanly possible out of the negotiations. "You can't blame the delegation for not signing the treaty right off the bat," said Stimson, "when we started with only two cruisers. All we could do was lay the framework for future equality."

The treaty represents a fair settlement, said Adams. "The old road of competitive building has nothing to offer."

SEARCH FOR A WOMAN IN CASE OF SLAIN MAN

Celivland, May 14.—(P)—Search for a woman said to have threatened Dr. Alfred P. Scully with death if he married another woman, was begun in Chicago and California today by private investigators retained by friends of the physician who was slain in his office two months ago.

At the same time detectives seeking to unravel the mystery planned to question Mrs. Eunice Rockwell, 32, who has arrived here from Miami, Florida.

It was she who told of the "other woman" investigators said. Friends of Dr. Scully revealed the story of the clandestine love affair in the life of the supposed bachelor after Mrs. Rockwell arrived here seeking recognition of her 13 year old boy, who she claims is Dr. Scully's son, and a share of Dr. Scully's estate.

Mrs. Rockwell, who announced she used the name at the suggestion of Dr. Scully, said she married him at the age of 17, while a student at Baldwin-Wallace college, Berea, O. The son was born to them a year later, she said.

Records at Baldwin-Wallace college show that Eunice Mitchell, (Mrs. Rockwell's maiden name), was registered there through 1915 and 1916, and that she left before the end of the next term.

DAVIS DENIES HE SET STORE HERE ON FIRE

DEFENDANT ALSO DENIES THAT HE FORCED FORBES IN ARSON

CLAIMS "FRAME-UP"

Stock Valued At $6,000 Was Insured for Only $4,000 He Tells Jury

Denying that he had threatened Harold Forbes with a shotgun and that he had said "I'll blow your guts out," Frank Davis, Chebanse, on trial for arson, took the stand today in his own defense today. Forbes testified for the state against his former "pal" and told the jury that he was in the firing of a store on South Schuyler avenue last September was enacted under threats from Davis.

Davis intimated that Forbes committed the crime and then framed the defendant because of a grudge over a $25 debt. The stock in the store was bought by Davis at an auction sale in St. Louis and was valued at $6,000. The insurance covering loss by fire was for only $4,000.

Evidence in the case was concluded at noon today and the attorneys began their final arguments this afternoon. Attorneys John A. Mayhew of this city and C. N. Saum of Watseka are defending Davis. State's Attorney T. R. Johnston is prosecuting. The case was delayed in going to the jury by the fact that Davis and Forbes were each kept on the witness stand for several hours.

The jury in the case is: Charles Walker, Adolph Fortier, Sidney Hanse and Arthur King. Kankakee, Earl Goyette, St. Anne; Lon Kavaney, Bradley, Elmer Riegel and Joseph Bunte, Bonfield; Edmund Selk, Grand Park; Lawrence Marino, Aroma Park; Will Cammey, Bourbonnais; Alfred Jarvis, Mokena.

Witnesses in the case today other than Davis were: O. R. Patchett, E. P. Gerrity, Roy Godwin, Emil Mock, Mrs. Jennie Davis and Dorothy Rosendahl.

Principal Paul Gerhardt and eleven pupils of the Clifton high school civics class attended the trial yesterday.

"BATTERY" CASE QUIETLY SETTLED

An assault and battery case, heard in Judge Bert L. Fitzgerald's court this morning, turned out to be only a battery case.

The contestants, Ben Cremer, 741 North Cottage avenue, Hobie Heights, and Harold Lockwood, 657 North Hobie avenue, seemed to have differing opinions as to the ownership of an automobile battery, and the discussion grew to such intensity that Mrs. Maud Lockwood, mother of one of the contestants, swore out a warrant against young Cremer, charging him with assault and battery.

During the hearing, it appeared that the contestants parties were related by marriage and the court immediately advised them to go home and settle the case by themselves, saving the cost of a court hearing. Before he dismissed the case, he had brought about a burying of the hatchet, the contestants shaking hands and agreeing to be friends again.

John Wray, 1361 Kensington avenue, was arrested last night by Officer Gene LaFontaine for driving with no license plates, speeding, and running a through street. Hearing was set for Saturday night.

H. O. Danham, representing a Rochester, New York, firm was arrested by the traffic officer last night for running the through street at Court and Fifth. Ray Dilling, 273 North Ninth, also was arrested by LaFontaine for speeding on West Court.

Picnic Was Held At "Snipper" Radeke's Cottage Along Kankakee River

The annual picnic for the members of the Kankakee Police Department and for Sheriff's officers, given by Chief of Police W. J. Riley and Sheriff Ed Hoennick, was held this afternoon at Ernest "Snipper" Radeke's cottage on the Kankakee river southeast of the city. Between 30 and 40 were in attendance.

As retiring police chief, Mr. Riley was presented with a beautiful Elgin strap watch, a gift from the entire police department, Mayor Louis E. Beckman, Bert Fitzgerald, police judge, Dr. C. K. Smith, city health officer, and Mrs. Pearl McCormick, police matron. Judge Fitzgerald made the presentation, reading from a yard or so of notes.

Among the guests were Sheriff Naman R. Tolle and Deputy Sheriff Ed Bricker of Watseka. Officers Sipple and Dinninger of the state highway police of Joliet, Chief and Mrs. W. J. Riley, Sheriff and Mrs. Ed Hoennick, Judge and Mrs. Bert E. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Pearl McCormick, State's Attorney T. R. Johnston and William Cantlin, special investigator; I. P. Hodge and Bruce Brown of the press, Fire Chief Emil Goudreau, Mayor Beckman, Dr. C. K. Smith, Clarence Reese of the park board, besides the officers of the police department and sheriff's office.

Officers Ed Imming and Cecil C. Smith, who won the eating championship last year, were served among the first with fried chicken, baked beans, potato salad, ice cream and other foods so that they might have the opportunity of duplicating the feat again this year.

Those who watched their efforts were disappointed, however, as both were badly beaten by Judge Fitzgerald and Mike Quigley.

Officer Vic Mazuran was the only police officer who missed the dinner. He remained at police headquarters to act as desk sergeant. Once a year, Vic says, he has the opportunity of being Chief of Police, desk sergeant, patrolman and city detective, all at the same time.

Officer Hank Andrews furnished the paper napkins for the picnic.

REAR ADMIRAL BYRD ARRIVES AT CANAL ZONE

Balboa, Canal Zone, May 14.—(P)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, homebound from his south polar exploration arrived at Balboa this morning.

The Rear Admiral and his small group of companions who had remained at Dunedin, New Zealand, came into port aboard the liner Rangitiki to an enthusiastic welcome by the people of the Canal zone.

The famous explorer who is now enroute to the United States from his historic airplane flight over the southpole, probably will remain in the canal zone about two weeks assembling his comrades so that all may return to New York to receive the American nation's acclaim together.

Those aboard the Rangitiki with the Rear Admiral were Russell Owen, New York Times correspondent; Lloyd Brekner, Charles Lofgren, William C. Haines and Richard Kontner.

The Rangitiki arrived in Balboa Harbor an hour and a half later than had been expected.

Byrd was attired in his white Rear Admiral's uniform.

As the ship came into port airplanes circled his ship in hearty greeting.

The Rear Admiral's arrival here marked the first time that he had set foot on American territory since his departure on his great adventure a year and a half ago.

Talking to newspaper men in the smoking room of the Yangtiki, Rear Admiral Byrd said that he had no immediate plans for the future except to complete scientific data which "will take a tremendous long time."

"The expedition was most successful in scientific explorations," he said. "I am mighty glad to come here and will go on the morning of the nineteenth for a stay in the interior." He planned to fly to the Island of Boquete near the seashore in a commercial plane for a stay.

WEST POINT GRID STAR ON HIS WAY

WAR DEPARTMENT ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF CHRISTIAN K. CAGLE

BECAUSE HE IS WED

Wife Arrives in New York And Has Hard Time in Dodg- ing Cameramen

West Point, N. Y., May 14.—(P)—The war department's acceptance of the resignation of Christian Keener Cagle as a cadet was received shortly before noon today at the United States Military Academy and Cagle prepared to leave promptly.

He had to close his accounts with the Academy treasurer and then take a physical examination which he passed.

Meanwhile Maj. Gen. William R. Smith, superintendent of the academy, declared that if a cadet makes a statement in the future that he is not married, when he is, he will be tried for the offense.

This cannot be done in Cagle's case because papers which he signed on return from leaves, saying he had not broken academy rules during his furlough, have been destroyed. Hereafter these sworn statements will be saved until graduation.

"I think he is a very foolish boy," General Smith said, "to throw away his commission and his future opportunities."

Cagle, General Smith said, is the fourth cadet whose marriage while at the academy has been revealed within the last twelve months.

New York, May 14.—(P)—Miss Marian Haile, indicated by Gretna, Louisiana, records to be the wife of Christian K. Cagle, resigned West Point cadet, arrived in New York today to join her husband, insisting that she was "Miss Haile."

Nobody met Miss Haile at the Pennsylvania terminal, when she stepped off the train alone at 10:45 a. m. Although Cagle was said yesterday at West Point to have planned to leave the military academy this morning and join her in New York.

Covering her face with her hands and fleeing from pillar to post in the train sheds to avoid the camera men whose flashlights boomed in her wake, the young woman dashed through the concourse and jumped into a taxicab in which she was soon lost in traffic.

Two passengers were also hurt in the crash. Sims, employed as a pilot by the United States Airways, had just taken off from the Denver airport. The ship was a "Fleming" cabin plane and was bound for St. Louis.

Sims formerly had complete charge of the local airport which he sold to the Koerner brothers. He conducted an aviation instruction school here and was pilot of the "Miss Kankakee," a plane which he flew in a tour over the state under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. ## ANOTHER GOLF COURSE PLAN IS ANNOUNCED

WILL BE CONSTRUCTED ON PROPERTY KNOWN AS BERGERON FARM

18 HOLE COURSE

With Club House, Swimming Pool Tennis Courts, And Other Fine Equipment

Another plan for the construction of an eighteen hole, semi-public golf course in the vicinity of Kankakee was announced today by Allen Skolnick, local agent for Chicago interests who are promoting the proposition. This project is separate from that announced recently by the Fairview Development company for a golf course on the Danforth and Barr properties just north of Mound Grove cemetery.

According to Mr. Skolnick, the course will be built on the C. E. Kelly property on route 49 and the Tucker road, this property being known as the old Bergeron farm and recently purchased by Mr. Kelly. The Bergeron Grove, well known in this vicinity for an open-air dance platform, is a part of the property.

The course will be known as the "Indian Oaks Country Club," Mr. Skolnick said, and will be equipped with a club house, restaurant, swimming pool, playground, tennis courts, and other modern equipment. He stated that $135,000 will be spent in improving the land that the valuation of the property is about $190,000, as a golf course.

For the course, 220 acres has been set aside. In connection with the project, some 200 lots will be offered for sale, these lots being located along route 49, along the Tucker road, and along the east side of the rectangular piece of land. The club house and other buildings, according to present plans, will be located in the grove.

With the beginning of the project, Mr. Skolnick said, about 100 memberships in the club will be sold at about $300 each, then additional memberships taken at an increased sliding scale price. When 1000 memberships are reached, the property will be turned over to the members. The course, the promoters plan, will be self supporting from daily fees for public play and from the swimming pool, tennis courts, and other equipment.

With the fast and constant expansion of the Chicago territory, Mr. Skolnick stated, golf courses around the city are being absorbed for subdivision purposes, until golfers are forced to go out from the city more and more. He pointed out that the proposed new course is only about an hour's drive from the city, and predicted that it would be much patronized by Chicago golfers. Mr. Kelly, owner of the 220 acre tract, is reported to own a total of 500 acres of that vicinity, and is also the owner of the new service station just opened on the Tucker road.

Much of the travel between the Kankakee and Chicago was by the round-about way of the Chicago-Danville-Vincennes trail during the late thirties and forties or until the railroad came. The principal objective of the traveler on nearing Chicago was the "Ten-Mile House," located at 79th street and Vincennes avenue. From there it was ten miles to the business district and one could drive it, do his trading, and recon the place by nightfall and put up and be ready for the trip home in the morning. At this time Chicago was depended upon for all necessary household supplies. It was also the market for cattle and the general produce of the pioneer farmers. It was not unusual in the forties to see a flock of five to eight hundred turkeys being driven overland to the Chicago market. The late Martin VanDeKarr of Aroma, speaking of this phase of early-day marketing, said that turkeys would drive with but little difficulty the main thing to look out for being a suitable roosting place in the trees at nightfall. A turkey without a tree to roost in when sleepy time came just naturally "went loco."

James Hyrns used to tell what a great gusto in his later years of the infant industry of pioneer days which thrived without the aid of protected schedules. Timber was plentiful along the river and a settler's spring time was profitably spent in getting rails for fencing. Mr. Dillen says he one winter split out 1100 of these rails to William Baker for fencing deer, it being agreed upon and understood that they were to deliver the rails at the Baker homestead that spring, when the water was in the creek, they made the rails a job to raft and shot them down right into Uncle Billy's dooryard. The deer taken in exchange for the rails was butchered and eaten without the savor of salt.

The overall style is that of a vintage advertisement illustration.

MOTHER LOVE IS INCENTIVE FOR HOSPITAL

MOTHER OF GIRL WHO DIED
HERE VISITS KANKAKEE
TODAY

IS FOR EPILEPTICS

Chicago Philanthropist Donates Million Dollars Toward
New Institution

A mother's love for a daughter who had been an invalid for 22 years and who died 28 years ago at the Kankakee State Hospital is the incentive for the effort now underway in securing monetary gifts for the founding of the Illinois Mental Hospital for epileptics in Chicago.

The mother, Mrs. Valone Man-kake, age 72, is in Kankakee today, interested in all parties in the movement for the new hospital. She is the daughter of the late John Mankake, general director of the drive for the new institution, Mrs. George W.
Hill, Chicago. The proposed hospital will be a research hospital, mental and epileptic clinic and will be located at Chicago.

Mrs. Manke herself operates a profitable business and has agreed to turn over 10 per cent of the profits from the business to the foundation for maintenance and upkeep. One Chicago philanthropist has already donated one million dollars toward the building. Construction will probably be started next summer.

Melle Logan was born an epileptic.
She never talked until she was three years of age. She required constant care all of her life before she was finally committed to the Kankakee State Hospital two years prior to her death. The mother traveled far and wide with the child in an attempt to cure her. Melle was extremely ill, moved by compassion and was treated by 32. The girl predicted the exact hour of her own death in the letter written to the mother and also predicted that her nurse at the local institution, Jenette Hay, would die three days after Melle's death, according to the prediction of her patient, following a source of typhoid fever.

After Melle's death, Mrs. Manke devoted her life to the cause of epileptics. She has been a leader in the movement for the new hospital. She has been a leader in the movement for the new hospital.

Any information on the proposed

POLICE DISPERSE
U. OF C. STUDENTS

Chicago, May 14.—(AP)—University of Chicago undergraduates held a riotous session on the campus last night as a protest against activities of the new detail of night watchmen, who student leaders said, have been endeavoring to curb the rights of the students.

Just what inspired the demonstrations was not made clear. Some said rioters had been searching for students, others that the Black Friars theatrical club had been in-sulted, and still others that ordinary campus activities had been interrupted by the special watchmen.

Much stress was laid on the wet and dry phase by one group but other demonstrators claimed that they had not been indicted by action drinking. It was explained today that the special watchmen were looking for rioters with weapons rather than for students with Hanks.

The protest meeting, held around a huge bonfire near the campus circle, first was broken up by police and fire department agents, but not until after a lively street fighting, during which several of the students were taken into custody but later released on the business manager of the University who reported no damage had been done.

The Daily Maroon, official student paper at the University, published an editorial today explaining the demonstration and criticizing the "officious attitude" of the night watchmen. One of the student leaders said the students last night tended to seize the watchmen and give them a ducking in the campus circle. But he would not find them.
The students also protested the presence of the night watchmen back stage during the production of a play by the University.

be in a little play at a church. After

DIXIE GOLF QUEENS SET FOR SEDGEFIELD TILT

Seven holes have already been laid out for the miniature course which is expected to be completed soon.
The course will be open every day
from noon until 10 o'clock at night.
Large flood lights are being installed
for night playing.

Even expert golf players take pleasure in perfecting their skills on the miniature course. The longest hole is 30 feet. The only club in making the entire round is a putter. It is expected that the course will be a great advantage to the beginner in golf.

Everything is arranged exactly as on a regulation course, including bunkers, holes, hazards, greens, except that it is in miniature.

Another reason for the popularity of these courses is the minimum playing fee. The charge for the local course will probably range anywhere from 35 to 75 cents for a round. The new enterprise for a long time has been the free use of clubs and balls so that the golf fans who go in for this sport will have no equipment to buy or any membership fee
to pay.

About the only things the regulation golfers will miss on the miniature course is a locker room and a 19th hole. It will hardly be necessary to leave the course for a drink for any hole. The game is perfectly safe and is recommended for young and old.

A complete 18-hole golf course on a city lot. Such a course, the first of its kind in this vicinity, is being constructed at the south-east cor-

street.

This type of course is now com-the southern states. The course is being built here by a syndicate of Yesterday evening at 8 p. m. the

was well attended by the public.
Quite a few high school students showed their appreciation of classi-flaw which of course, was on ac-

was the Fisherman's Song, a violin solo played by Daniel O'Loughlin, accompanied by Ruth Hauer.

EIGHT AMERICAN DEBUTANTES BOW TO THE ROYALTY

London, May 14.—(AP)—Eight American debutantes will achieve one of society's pinnacles tonight with presentation to King George and Queen Mary in the first royal court of the year at Buckingham palace.

Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, wife of the ambassador, will make the presentation. The girls, in court dress, will curtsy their acknowledgment of the royal favor.

For the first time in two years King George will be present. Last year the Prince of Wales stood by the side of his mother, Queen Mary, during the ceremony. Eight-hundred British and foreign guests will be present.

FILIBUSTER IN SENATE OVER THE RIVERS-HARBORS

By MARGUERITE YOUNG (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—Threats of a filibuster in the Senate against the Rivers and Harbors bill were encountered today by warnings that the House would keep Congress in session this summer until the controversial measure is enacted.

Representative Thion of Connecticut, the Republican leader in the House, conceded that the report is more to keep Congress going until the bill is passed than a very reasonable deduction.

Senator Vandenberg, Republican of Michigan, who is fighting a provision for the Federal Government to operate the Erie Canal in New York over the Erie Canal in New York, reiterated that there would be some long talk in the Senate before this Christmas Bill will go through.

Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, and one of the leading proponents of the Erie Canal provision, replied that he too is ready to filibuster until the bill retains that provision.

The bill is now under consideration by the Senate Commerce Committee. It will reach a decision on the row over the Erie Canal and on two other major issues, including a House provision for Federal operation of the Illinois Waterway and several provisions for Great Lakes developments.

Confined with threat of an all-out filibuster, Senate Power of the bill are standing their ground; but move long talk in the Senate before this Christmas Bill will go through.

Our proposal advanced is that the bill must provide that the Army Engineers make a survey of the feasibility of Federal operation of the Erie Canal, and the latter, authorizing the president to order the acquisition "at his discretion" of the engineers' report is favorable. Here again, however, the bill is at odds-Copeland urging that the President, and Vandenberg insisting it must.

TO DETERMINE IF MONOPOLY EXISTS; RADIO MANUFACTURE

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—A suit to determine whether any monopoly exists in the radio equipment manufacturing industry was filed today by the Federal Trade Commission.

The radio corporation, he explained, was established to create enough patents in one concern to make possible the creation of sending stations and the manufacture of receiving sets. Licensees to make the radio, he added, have been issued to 34 companies, while 14 have been issued to 34 companies, while 14 have been issued to 34 companies.

An announcement that the suit had been filed in Wilmington, Delaware, was made last night by the Federal Trade Commission. The defendants, in addition to the three already mentioned, were listed as the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the Western Electric company, the General Motors Radio corporation and the General Motors corporation.

The government in its petition alleged that through a "novel method of cross licensing patents," the defendants have created a combination or pool through which they exercise joint control over the radio industry and that competition among them has ceased and a license exists outside can obtain a license.

Efficacious Love

The heart of man the world over is crying for a love adequate to deal with all his problems, and to cure all his ills. And the only place where we can be certain of that love is Calvary. It is for you and me to decide what we are going to do with it. We may accept what Christ offers, and take our stand by His side as the sons and daughters of God. Or we can reject what He offers, but in doing that, we must remember that we are rejecting the sublimest manifestation of the love of God that this earth contains.

Trial by Stupidity

The criminal prosecution and punishment of animals was formerly common. A cock was burned at the stake for the "unnatural and heinous crime" of laying an egg. Pigs that killed children—and it seems that pigs used to kill children—were hanged, no doubt as a warning to other pigs. There are records of an eight months' trial of weasils by St. Jean-de-Maurienne in 1587. Many such prosecutions were held—Winthrop D. Lane in The Bookman.

Bunyan's Wicket Gate

In the village of Elstow, England, there is abundant material visibly associated with John Bunyan. The isolated church tower contains the very bells in the ringing of which Bunyan rejoiced. Above all, there must be mentioned the wicket gate which figures early in the story of "Pilgrim's Progress."

The wicket gate of the "Pilgrim's Progress" is commonly represented as a garden gate or a turnpike gate, but really the term denotes a small doorway cut out of a large door. Concealed behind a tree at the west end of Elstow church is just such a doorway in the broad wooden surface of the great door.

Through this lowly opening Bunyan must often have passed when a boy.

The Wood Makers. The ancient Britons, we are told, dyed themselves blue with woad. The manufacture of dye from woad is still carried on, although it is not used for its original purpose. Huge, cumbersome wooden rollers drawn by horses are used to crush the plant, and in the village of Parson Drove, in the Fen country, a woad mill is still in season, using its processes probably differing little from those of two thousand years ago.

Woad has its uses in newer industries, and for certain purposes its value still remains superior to all modern substitutes.—London Mail.
