MANIAC HURLS FAMILY OVER CLIFF

PRETTY JUNE WEDDING AT FIRST M. E.

MISS ELIZABETH C. COLLIER
IS BRIDE OF GEORGE M.
GALLOWAY

PARENTS HONORED

Occasion Is 25th Wedding Anniversary Of Parents Of The Bride

The First Methodist Episcopal church was a scene of rare beauty Friday afternoon, June twentieth, when a large company of invited guests assembled to attend the ceremony which united in marriage one of Kankakee's fair young women with one of Aurora's promising young business men.

Promptly at four o'clock the familiar but ever-thrilling strains from Lohengrin announced the approach of the wedding procession. The groom, Mr. George Mills Galloway, entered from the choir vestibule with his best man, Mr. James Russell of Memphis, Tenn., and proceeded to the altar where he awaited the bride, Miss Elizabeth Cameron Collier, who was accompanied by her father, Mr. John S. Collier, and preceded by her sister, Miss Agnes Cameron Collier, her sole attendant and maid of honor.

Dr. Wm. H. Craine performed the impressive single ring ceremony. Mrs. E. L. Longpre gracefully presided at the organ, playing "In Summer" by Stebbins, and Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" as a prelude to the wedding march. The wedding party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march after which Mrs. Longpre closed the service with "The Pivotal Chorus" from Tannhauser.

After the ceremony, the ushers, Mr. Gordon Seymour, of Elgin, and Mr. David Dorman of Aurora, guided the guests to the parlors of the parish house where a reception was held for the newlyweds, and also in honor of the silver anniversary of the bride's parents who were one of the couples who were united in a notable double marriage ceremony at Mokence, twenty-five years ago. The other couple of this double wedding were Mrs. Collier's sister, Mrs. C. F. Jackson, and her husband, Prof. Jackson who now are at their summer home on the Isle of Shoals off the coast of Maine and were unable to be present to re-enact the scene of 1905. However, several guests were present yesterday who attended the wedding at Mokence a quarter of a century ago. Among these guests were the following: E. C. Drayer of St. Louis and Mrs. F. McKinstry of Mokence, brother and sister of Mrs. Collier, respectively; Mrs. Effie C. Gruver of Watoka; Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Vining and Miss Myrtle Vining. Mr. E. P. Vining Jr., all of Kankakee and Mrs. R. N. Montague of Kansas, Ill.

LUTHERANS TO CELEBRATE
Sunday, June 22, St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Kankakee, joins with some thirty other Lutheran congregations to celebrate the 400th anniversary of the Augsburg Confession at Lincoln Field. This is a confession of the Lutheran Church. Often the inscription is found on Lutheran church buildings, U. A. C. This stands for Unaltered Augsburg Confession. What is this Augsburg Confession? Why the many celebrations?

The Augsburg Confession is the first specific confession of the Lutheran Church. The celebrated theologian, Ernst Sartorius, said of it: "It is a confession of the eternal truth, of true ecumenical Christianity, and of all fundamental articles of the Christian faith."

WILL IS FILED
The will of the late Marwood G. Bates, Kankakee, was filed in probate today. The entire estate is left to the wife, Carrie E. Bates, who is also named executrix.

PROUD PARENTS
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Salkeld Jr., of North Harrison avenue are the proud parents of a son born last evening. Mrs. Salkeld was formerly Miss Frances Glines of Glenn Ellen, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Cahan are the parents of a twelve pound boy born Friday morning. The proud parents have named the new arrival John Richard.

PAY TRIBUTE TO CONQUEROR OF BOTH ENDS OF THE EARTH

SWORD OF HONOR

Gift Of People Of His Home
State Will Be Presented
This Afternoon

Richmond, Va., June 21—(AP)—Virginia's arms were outstretched today its most famous son of the generation—Dick Byrd.

From the far corners of the old dominion his fellow citizens came to pay tribute to the conqueror of the ends of the earth. The loving interest of the folks at home which has followed him to the ice-bound reaches of both polar regions and across the Atlantic was manifestly present.

Plans for the homecoming of the son of Winchester, Va., whose exploits have kindled romance in the hearts of the peoples of every nation, were simple, but were clothed in the atmosphere that makes praiseworthy of kinship and life-long friends greater than the plaudits of a nation.

Byrd's arrival is scheduled for this afternoon. Richmond and Virginia will greet him at the station and along the line of march from there to the executive mansion, where Governor Pollard will officially accord him the commonwealth's welcome—a commonwealth which has welcomed home George Rogers Clarke, Meriwether Lewis and Matthew Fontaine Maury from adventures beyond the horizon.

From the mansion Byrd will go to the Maury monument to pay homage to another Virginia explorer, navigator and geographer. He will lay a wreath at its base.

A golden sword of honor, the gift of the people of the state, will be presented to him at a public reception tonight in the Shrine Mosque.

Sunday Admiral Byrd will go to his Winchester home. Winchester postponed its welcome that the state might acclaim him first.

With Admiral Byrd, his wife, his mother, Mrs. Eleanor Bolling Byrd, and his two brothers, former Governor Harry Flood Byrd, and Thomas B. Byrd, will come from Washington to take part in the celebration. They were present for the New York and Washington greetings.

Washington, June 21—(AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd turned toward home today and the plaudits of old friends and neighbors.

PROGRESS AT NEW THEATRE IS WATCHED

MERCHANTS SEE GENERAL IN-CREASE IN BUSINESS FOR KANKAKEE

ATTRACTS VISITORS

Strand Will Be Finest Theatre In This Part Of State When Completed

Kankakee business and professional men, particularly those in the downtown district, are keenly watching progress in the construction of the new Strand theatre at the corner of Oak street and North Schuyler avenue. The theatre, which is being rapidly erected by the E. H. Moroff Construction company, will be a big boon to business in general in Kankakee.

The theatre, which will have a seating capacity of 1,300, will attract many visitors to Kankakee within a radius of fifty miles or more who seek high-class entertainment in an ultra-modern theatre. Many of these people, including even some from Kankakee, have been travelling to Joliet, Chicago and other distant cities wherein beautiful theatre edifices have been erected. After next October, which is the tentative opening month for the Strand, it will be no longer necessary for them to go elsewhere for superb entertainment.

Some figures
As one business man explained today, if the Strand is filled only once daily—365 days of the year—it will attract half a million patrons a year. To be exact, multiply 1,300 (capacity of the Strand) by 365 and you have 474,500!

Now, this same business man claims, there will be anywhere from 25 to 30 per cent of the total annual attendance of the theatre that will be visitors attracted to Kankakee by its beautiful amusement palace. That will be anywhere from 118,625 to 167,000 people!

The same individual contends that surely all of these visitors will not merely get out of their cars, attend the theatre, then hop into the cars again and drive straight home. The larger portion of them, he says, will walk about downtown looking in store windows and do some shopping. Most of them will at least pay for parking their cars and for a bit of refreshment.

More figures

This statistical-minded person—his full of statistics—also tells us that surveys show that every out-of-town theatre patron will spend at least 50 cents in addition to visiting a theatre in a strange town. Figuring at that small sum, it will mean anywhere from $59,313 to $83,500 a year in extra business for Kankakee! None of this, of course, includes the admission price to the theatre which will also be banked in Kankakee and a large part of it spent right here.

All of the above-named figures are strictly conservative and the probabilities are that the financial benefits to the city through the attraction of visitors to the Strand will be many times those amounts. The figures are based solely on filling the theatre with 1,300 people only once a day throughout the year. Sundays and holidays are bound to bring many times more than that number.

4th Largest Capital
Theodore C. Young, director of real estate for the Paramount-Public corporation, which holds a 15-year lease on the Strand, says:

"The motion picture industry, within a period of the past ten years, has risen to a formidable position in American business. Some say it is the fourth largest of our industries in point of capital investment."

"If the location for the proposed theatre is wisely chosen, and the need of such an improvement has been firmly established, the real estate values within that area have always been found to climb."

One example
"In one little town in New England, with a population of about 40,000 plans were prepared and announced making regarding a proposed new theatre. Almost immediately there seemed to be a considerable increase in business activity. Residents of the suburban area, and in this case there were about 30,000 within a radius of eight or ten miles, found it desirable to move to the new town."

IMPORTANT SHARES IN ANOTHER TUMBLE ON STK. EXCHANGE

New York, June 21—(AP)—The speculative markets again broke under severe selling pressure today, ending the third week of almost steady declines. Important shares on the New York Stock Exchange tumbled $2 to $15, scores reaching new low levels for the year, or longer.

The selling again embraced the leading commodity markets. At Chicago, July wheat sagged more than a cent a bushel to the lowest level in about 15 years. Cotton broke sharply on the New York market, recording losses of about $2 a bale. At London, bar silver again dropped to new low levels.

Selling was not in especially large volume on the stock exchange, sales for the two-hour session barely aggregating 2,000,000 shares, but the market was almost entirely without support.

U. S. Steel Common tumbled $4 a share to $154, a new 1930 low, $1 under the previous low established earlier in the week, and only $4 above the November minimum. It closed at $155.25. American Can, however, closed at $116.12, virtually the lowest of the day, off nearly $6. Several issues rallied $1 to $2 a share in the final dealings, but many failed to show recuperation.

American Telephone dropped more than $4 to $202, only 75 cents above resistance level established early in the week, but closed at $203. Westinghouse Electric lost about $6, then rallied nearly $2.

VISITORS PRAISE FIRE DEPARTMENT

A party of eighteen, including fire chiefs and firemen, going through Kankakee on their return from the short course for firemen at the University of Illinois, stopped at the central fire station in Kankakee last evening for a short visit. Firemen and chiefs from Harvey, Bloom Island, Steger, Midlothian, Downers Grove, North Chicago, East Moline and other cities were included in the party.

Fire Chief Emil Goudreau took the visitors for a tour through the new city hall building. They were highly enthusiastic over the new building and the new fire equipment and praised Kankakee for having one of the best equipped fire departments in the state.

Fire company No. 1 made a run this morning about 10 o'clock to the Dionne home, 243 North Wall street. Electrical wiring became shorted in some manner, blowing out the fuses. No damage was done.

SERIOUS TRAIN WRECK AVOIDED

What might have been a serious wreck on the Big Four railway near Aroma Park was averted last night by W. H. Lowe of Aroma Park who, with Fred Lade, night agent, removed an obstruction from the railway.

Just before 10 o'clock, Mr. Lowe found a piece of iron sticking up just a little above the rail. If a train had been coming from the opposite direction, it is said, the whole train might have been derailed. Mr. Lowe and Mr. Lade removed the obstruction with a chisel and a sledge hammer.

VISITORS THANK POLICE OFFICER

William Kirk, High Priest of Midway Chapter No. 358, R. A. M., Chicago, has written to John Stack, chief of the Kankakee Police Department, to express the chapter's appreciation for the courtesy shown them by Traffic Officer Gene LaFontaine during the recent Masonic meeting here. Mr. Kirk writes:

"I wish you would kindly extend to your motorcycle officer the appreciation of the members of Midway Chapter for his courtesy in assisting us in getting our caravan of autos through the traffic and to the Masonic Temple on Saturday afternoon, June 16."

"The 136 members of our chapter and other chapters who made the trip to Kankakee enjoyed the visit very much and we heard a lot of very good comments relative to the hospitality in your city."

Mrs. Ed Meyer of Gilman was a Kankakee shopper yesterday.

BANDITS GET $65 CASH AND JEWELRY AT BEECHER TODAY

Beecher, Ill., June 21—(AP)—Three armed bandits entered the White Lily lunch stand north of this village on the Dixie highway at 2:15 o'clock this morning. They escaped with $40 taken from the cash register and relieved the customers who were in the place of about $25.

One of the waitresses in the stand lost a diamond ring and a wrist watch which attracted the fancy of one of the bandits.

YOUNG NEGRO JAILED

Werley Cliff Fined For Threat
To Kill Married Woman
He Was "Going With"

The Chevrolet automobile used by George Ackerson and his companion known only as "Slim" when they came to Kankakee Wednesday night for the purpose of burglarizing the Volkman jewelry store in a stolen car, it was revealed today.

John Stack, chief of police, has received a telegram from the Automobile Protective and Information Bureau, Chicago, stating that the car was stolen in St. Louis, Mo., and was the property of a man named Theodore Yeager of that city.

Ackerson's photograph and picture prints have been taken and a number of prints made. These are being sent out today to Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, and a number of other cities in an effort to learn Ackerson's previous record. It is believed that developments will show that Ackerson has a prominent criminal record.

Werley Cliff, young colored restaurant dish washer residing at 735 North Evergreen avenue, who has been arrested by Kankakee police on various charges during the past year, was back in the police court this morning. The charge of disorderly conduct and threatening to kill was made by Mrs. E. H. Harwell, wife of Robert Harwell, 838 North Wildwood.

Testifying against Cliff, Mrs. Harwell stated that she had intended going to a dance last evening but that Cliff told her he would not allow her to go and threatened to kill her if she did. She also stated that on last Saturday evening Cliff tried to force her to go home from a dance.

Cliff denied that he had threatened to kill her, but admitted that they had a "fuss" and that he threatened to "whip" her if she went to the dance. When asked what business he had in ordering about a woman married to some one else, he answered that he had been "going with" Mrs. Harwell for three years.

Cliff was fined $10 and costs and as he had no money to pay he was sent to the county jail for 30 days. Mrs. Harwell was ordered to respect her marriage vows.

John C. Mullen, 464 South Indiana avenue, a barber who, it is claimed, learned his trade while an inmate of the state reformatory at Pontiac, was arrested this morning by William Cantlin, special investigator for States Attorney T. R. Johnston, on a statutory charge.

The warrant was issued yesterday by Judge Bert L. Fitzgerald at the request of the mother of a 15 year old Mokence girl. The alleged crime, according to the warrant, was committed on June 16.

Officer Cantlin has learned that Mullen was convicted of forgery at Toledo, Cumberland county, Illinois, three years ago, and served 11 months at Pontiac. He was still under parole.

Carl Johnson, Bradley, was arrested last evening by Officers Imming and Andrews on a charge of drunkenness. He was fined $5.00 and costs in the police court this morning.

Air Mail Aviator Crashes In

BULLETIN
Victoria, Texas, June 21—(AP)—An airplane believed to be that of Colonel Roberto Fierro, Mexican army aviator, on a non-stop flight from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., to Mexico City, passed over Victoria, at 12:45 p. m. today. The plane was flying high in a southeasterly direction.

BULLETIN
Roosevelt Field, N. Y., June 21—(AP)—With Mexico City—2,300 miles away—as their goal, Colonel Roberto Fierro, one of Mexico's foremost aviators, and his mechanic, Arnulfo Cortes, took off at 1:30:15 a. m. (E. S. T.) today on an attempted non-stop flight.

They hoped to reach the Mexican capital in sixteen hours, thus achieving the first non-stop flight between New York and Mexico City.

Colonel Fierro is 33 years old and is chief of the civil aeronautics department of the Mexican government.

BULLETIN
Montgomery, Ala., June 21—(AP)—Col. Roberto Fierro, Mexican army aviator, passed over Maxwell Field at 7:15 a. m. (E. S. T.) on his non-stop flight from New York to Mexico City.

Maxwell Field aviators said the Mexican coast was at an altitude of about 2,000 feet and his motor seemed to be functioning perfectly. They estimated that he had averaged approximately 130 miles an hour for the flight so far. He passed directly over the field.

Medora, Argentina, June 21—(AP)—Succored by a lonely shepherdess, Henri Guillaumet, French air mail aviator, endured the hardships of a plane crash, a fall down a precipice, an Andean blizzard, starvation and days without sleep, and lived to tell the tale today.

An airplane brought him here during the night from a mountain village, Pareditas, where he was discovered yesterday by a provincial police official, more dead than alive. He had been missing for a week, and a widespread search for him would have been abandoned today in the belief that he and the plane had fallen in the Andes for days.

A medical examination revealed that the flier was suffering from various injuries, principally severe bruises, incurred when he lost his footing on a mountainside glacier and tumbled 400 feet down a precipice.

Guillaumet set out a week ago yesterday from Santiago de Chile with mail and cargo for Mendoza, Argentine border city, over the Andes. A forced landing was made on the side of a winter-swept mountain.

The plane turned over and was destroyed, but Guillaumet crawled out unhurt. He spent the night beneath the wings of his plane, remaining awake so as not to freeze to death. Saturday the weather cleared somewhat and he saw an airplane fly high over him. He signalled but was not perceived.

Sunday he started to march thru the mountains toward Mendoza. He slipped on the ice and fell 150 meters down a precipice, losing what provisions he had with him and receiving injuries. Half starved and afraid to sleep, he marched Tuesday and Wednesday until Thursday he stumbled into the presence of a lonely shepherdess minding her flock. She was amazed but dressed his wounds, gave him food and found him a place to sleep.

Her ministrations partially restored Guillaumet and gave him strength to go further. She directed him toward Pareditas where he finally was discovered Friday by a provincial policeman.

News of his safety was greeted jubilantly both here and in Chile, where his disappearance has been a news sensation of the past few days.

87 THOUSAND IN KANKAKEE TRADE AREA

FIGURES BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SHOW LARGE
HOME POPULATION

KANKAKEE IS GROWING

86.2 Percent Of Population Is Native Born, 12.3 Percent
Foreign Born

As a result of the recent final official census figures given out by the U. S. Government for Kankakee and the immediate surrounding community, W. A. Speicher, president of the Kankakee Chamber of Commerce, advises the Chamber has compiled the following interesting information, which it is believed should be given to the public, thereby permitting every one to give Kankakee a boost at every opportunity. The following table gives the population within a three mile radius of the Court House and is considered Kankakee home trading population:

City of Kankakee, 20,634; West Kankakee, 1,601; South Kankakee (Swannell & Halkett Subdivision), 210; Commercial Subdivision, 86; Sunnyside Subdivision, 66; Hobbie Heights, 518; Bradley, 2,047; Bourbonnais, 696; hospital employees, 344; St. Viator's college boarding students who reside here approximately ten months of each year, 225; Aroma Park, 376; total, 27,901.

The official population of Kankakee county is 50,077 and what is considered Kankakee's immediate trading area of 25 miles north and approximately 40 miles east, south and west, shows a population of approximately 87,000 people. Native born in Kankakee is estimated at 86.2 per cent, white foreign born 12.3 per cent, and the colored population is estimated at 1.5 per cent.

These population figures are significant, inasmuch as Kankakee is now in the 20,000 class, with its immediate population of a three-mile area showing 27,901. Kankakee and its environs are growing and it can not be disputed that the past ten years has shown a healthy growth. Civic leaders predict and feel confident that by the time the year 1940 is reached, an unprecedented gain in population will be realized.

Father, A War Veteran, Had Only Been Released From Hospital Yesterday

New Haven, Conn., June 21—(AP)—Ray C. Spang, of Ansonia, mentally unbalanced, today threw his wife and all four of their children to their deaths over the edge of West Rock, a high cliff in this city's park system, and later jumped to his own death.

Spang, who was 35 years of age, was a war veteran and recently returned home from the Brooklyn naval hospital. He had been employed by a manufacturing concern in Seymour, the adjoining town to Ansonia.

The dead:
Ray C. Spang, 35, father; his wife, 33; Helen, aged 15; Lorraine, aged 7; Raymond aged 5; Donald, aged 2.

Searching parties located all of the bodies and preparations were made to remove them from among the rocks.
Maury Bogdanoff, who was playing ball with other boys on the diamond in the little park, said he was looking up at a man who was standing on the edge of the cliff, when he saw the man drop a child over the edge.

He said he was frightened and ran to a telephone and called the Grand hospital. The hospital had an ambulance on the way to the rock before the police had started.

Ernest Derube, a fireman who swung on a rope near Spang, when the latter crawled down to a ledge of rock 70 feet below the top, said the man talked rationally to himself but would answer few questions. Spang would not consent to crawl over and take hold of the rope and be hauled up. He then jumped to his death.

Martin and James Curry, brothers of Mrs. Spang, said Spang was released from a soldiers hospital in New York yesterday.
Mrs. Spang and the children were so happy upon the return of husband and father that it was proposed they all go on a picnic today. The brothers assumed that Spang brought the family here in his automobile.

The man clambered 75 feet down the face of the rock after he had thrown his victims over and set down on a protruding ledge. He was there more than an hour, occasionally tossing a pebble into the air. A city fireman was lowered to within a few feet of the man and to engage him in conversation. He was not successful he reported later.

Child Haven In Yard Mother Modernized

Sand Box, Swings, Slides In Fenced Yard Made Play Ground

The value of a well designed yard for children was brought out with convincing force by the work of a busy young woman, widowed and left with a two-year-old boy. At first glance the easiest way to augment her little income, had seemed to be through selling her home. But she rebelled so at the thought of depriving her baby of the use of that pleasant back yard, that sparks of ideas flew and among them was one that she determined to test for its practicality.

Her house and yard were being so rapidly surrounded with apartments, that the yard seemed like an oasis in the desert of brick walls. Probably when her baby grew into a bigger boy she could sell her place to these apartment houses, but she had already decided to keep her boy's place in mind and perhaps be able to furnish such spots for others.

The outcome of the matter was that with the promise of children to care for from six mothers as a start, she felt safe to carry out her plan. The mothers she talked to were enthusiastic at the prospect of having their own children outdoors, part of every day, within easy reach, and being healthfully employed. The matter of the hourly rate, which was reasonable, seemed not to appeal them in the least.

Provided Sand Box

She met the question of keeping an active group of children safe from escape to the street, by setting women were fencing on the two sides of the yard that needed it. This happy thought saved her from the trouble of having to build a fence without in the least disfiguring the landscape. Another advantage was that it could be set in, and possibly, later, could be removed with the least possible disturbance and without the loss of the yard. The gate properly placed, there was small possibility of active little rascals making an escape.

Realizing how much long quiet time her own baby had played in the sand box, she had the carpenter make a few more, and by adding a few more to it, the capacity was extended to comfortably accommodate four or five children, at a time. Plenty of nice clean sand was available from the near-by lake and with a few wooden spoons, sawdust, and a few other things, pieces of lumber for boy-builders, the sand-box was ready for business. Incidentally, these pieces of lumber were later found to be quite useful to the children, who used them for crabs, building foundations, and many other things that their imaginations pictured.

Swings and Slides Next

The next investment was in swing and slide equipment. The might very well have bought fascinating and safe equipment, but the mother, being a thrifty one, decided to make her own. She found that a simple contrivance of a few boards and a few nails, and a few other things, would make a swing set that was as good as any that could be bought. The slide was made of a few boards and a few nails, and a few other things, and was as good as any that could be bought.

House Came Cheap

Therefore, the house was purchased for a far smaller down payment than is ordinarily necessary. In acquiring any piece of property, couples who are saving money for the down payment, usually the price of a lot on which their house is to be built, or 20 per cent of the value of the total property, know how difficult it is to save rent money and pay rent regularly at the same time. It is an enormous relief when the time comes that they can move into the house they are buying, so their rent money actually purchases something more than temporary shelter. The shorter the time of waiting can be, the better the couple can be.

Not all the modernizing needs to be done at once. The couple purchasing property like this has a choice of several methods of modernizing. They can have the modernization drawn up by a local architect, or especially when made by a local Modernizing Bureau, then the modernizing of the property may be made by local building agencies not on the basis of the value of the old property, but on the basis of the value of the new. The mortgage, then, furnishes the money where the value of the old property is increased value of modernized property over obsolete property, that they can pay for the new property. The former, and will make every opportunity to do so. In order to make the modernization, the building agencies must have proof of the quality of modernization. The advantage to the purchaser of having the whole transaction handled by an agency such as a local Modernizing Bureau that not only takes on the new purchase, but also supervises the work accomplished as well, is evident.

Make Changes Gradually

If the people prefer, however, or if the property is in such a condition that such a procedure is possible, they may move into the house, making only minor repairs that are absolutely necessary at first, pay off the mortgage gradually, and also, year by year, make such additions and changes as are necessary. One year the new bathroom fixture, another year the new parlor, another year the garden fence, and so on.

In the modernizing of the house in the cut, the first and most important thing was the covering of the old siding with new siding, and

MODERNIZED FOR A BRIDE

Before Modernizing

It's the Woman Who Pays and Pays and Pays

... when she is required to live in and keep up an ugly, obsolete, inconvenient OLD HOME

THE children are off to school; the men folk are off to work, but the woman of the home remains behind. It falls to her lot to prepare the meals and make the home attractive for the rest of the family.

If there are conveniences, comforts and beauty already built into the home, this domestic duty is a pleasure to perform—if these things are lacking the job is plain back-tiring hard labor with a feeling of shame and humiliation added to her lot, while she tries to perform routine tasks without the assistance of Modern Appliances and tries to make the family comfortable in badly arranged, cold rooms and tries to put up with old floors, dirty walls, dowdy light fixtures plumbing and furnishings.

If yours is such an abode there is an immediate remedy at hand in the form of a Building-Furnishing-Finance and Supply organization that stands ready to rejuvenate old homes into new homes so that the woman who really pays for the inconvenience and ugly surroundings no longer has to do so. It's a paying operation whether you do it or not.

PATRONS OF INTER-STATE FAIR WILL FIND MUCH IN THE WAY OF ENTERTAINMENT

People of all types and inclinations will find multitudinous things to interest and to entertain them at the Kankakee Inter-State Fair, which is to be held the week of August 11 to 18. Attending the Fair is like stepping into the Arabian Nights of modern times, particularly in the evening.

Abounding in free attractions, midway features and 1001 other things, "The World's Greatest Outdoor Entertainment" as the Kankakee Fair is known, also presents much of real worth to those who are interested in the more serious side of life.

Many thousands of dollars in premiums will be awarded in divisions completely covering livestock, poultry, farm products, hogs, sheep, cattle, rabbits, show and dairy horses, fruit, vegetables, and grain. Nor is the lady slighted. Competitions will be held in culinary, cakes, canned goods, preserves, textiles and fancy work.

Those who follow agricultural pursuits as a hobby will hail the Kankakee Fair as a godsend. There are classes for flowers, pigeons, pets, canaries, cats, family garden contests and the like.

A more instructive manner of passing the time could scarcely be imagined than to examine the many commercial exhibits in the Art Hall and elsewhere about the grounds. Exhibits of labor-saving farm implements and machinery are also worth seeing whether you live on a farm or not.

With such a wide diversity of entertainment, competitive classes, exhibits and other things to see, a person should have no fear of being bored at the Kankakee Fair!

WHEAT SITUATION IN WESTERN STATE

Menendez of Kansas City writes—June 20—The following is a comment on an article in last night's papers, predicting an early heavy run of new wheat.

"I do not agree with the article that appeared in the press last night, about movement of wheat. On my recent trip I have never found so much bound wheat. It is sitting in the fields now in stacks. There are various reasons for this:—First—there is a variation in the heads of over one foot. There are so many short heads, caused by a second growth coming, which is still green; while the other is almost ripe. To get it all they have to bind it. If they would combine it, they would lose short heads; and if they did get it, they would have a mixture of green wheat. The second reason: For the bound wheat is that as they can get into it earlier and they have such a vast amount of soil in different sections. The farmers are anxious to get into the fields and save the grain.

The third reason is:—On account of root rot or take all disease, there is a lot of wheat very weak, with head well filled and liable to go down. To save all this wheat they have bound it. On account of the scarcity of threshing machines, it will take a long time to thresh; unless they use combines and there is great difficulty and delay in threshing bundles wheat through combines, also the large section of the country in the southwest where they use combines more than anything else, only has half the wheat they had last year and this is the territory that poured the volume of wheat into market last year. First: Because they had a big crop; and second because the market was building and prices received were satisfactory. This year the farmer is getting from 70 cents under for his wheat and is therefore in no great hurry to put it on the market, and there is more stock of storage than ever before to the extent that they are talking about fixing up old horse barns where the horses were kept when they were in use, and converting the stalls into bins, and putting wheat there, so I don't think there will be anything near the movement of wheat there was last year.

MYSTERY KILLINGS Baffle POLICE

New York is stirred by a series of murders in lonely sections of Queens, L. I., supposedly committed by an insane person, who writes letters to the New York newspapers telling them of his deed. One such letter was received before police found the victim's body. Upper right, Joseph Moynahan, College Point grocer, the maniac's first victim; left, Miss Catherine May, the grocer's companion, when he was shot in "lovers' lane"; lower right, Noel Sowley, who was found dead near his car. The killer declares in notes that he has killed a third man and that 14 more are marked for death.

PRETTY JUNE WEDDING

The bride was very lovely in a costume of egg-shell satin with accessories to match. The whole ensemble, including the long filmy veil was rich and effective. The gown was simply adorned with points of old ivory lace, an heirloom in the family while her veil was trimmed with hand-made Carrickmacross lace, especially designed and made to order in Belfast, Ireland. She carried an exquisite shower bouquet of Brides' roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor looked decidedly fetching in long, formal gown of peach overlaid with orchid, with orchid picture hat and carried an arm bouquet of Canterbury bells and gypsophila.

Tables were supplied at the doors where the guests were invited to register by two friends of the bride, the Misses Charlotte DeSelm and Eula Clifton.

The guests at the reception were served by the following young ladies who added much to the charm of the occasion by their colorful costumes and gracious service. Miss Rebecca Halsey, Miss Eleanor Holder, Miss Mildred Howard, Miss Eula Clifton, Miss Jessie Vandervort, all of Kankakee; Miss Ruth Cole of Aurora Park and Mrs. James Russell of Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Galloway were classmates at the University of Illinois where he is a member of the Theta Nu Epsilon fraternity. The bride is a graduate of the Kankakee high school and has been active in the younger society of the First Methodist church. Her going-away gown was a brown and beige ensemble with accessories to match.

Eastern Honeymoon

The young couple departed by motor for various points in the East, including Washington, D. C., and New Jersey. They will be at home after July 8th in the Parkway apartments in Aurora where Mr. Galloway holds a responsible position in the sales organization of the American Well Works.

Many telegrams and beautiful cards of congratulations were received by both Mr. and Mrs. Galloway and Mr. and Mrs. Collier from all over the United States and abroad. They were also the recipients of many handsome tokens of esteem from friends near and far.

The floral decorations for the occasion were profuse and lovely. Ferns and palms were a background for baskets of madonna lilies, delphinium, and excelsior roses in the church auditorium while the parlor decorations included charming combinations of corn flowers, coreopsis, white daisies and rosy morning glories, the dining room table bore an exquisite bowl of Japanese iris, columbine and Kilmorye roses, all the windows being brightened with potted pink begonias.

Among the out-of-town guests in attendance were the following: Mrs. Cora Galloway and Miss Josephine Galloway, mother and sister of the groom, of Champaign; Miss Margaret E. Mills of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. George Cameron, River Forest; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gwynne, Berwyn; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Benson, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Morrison, Fairbury; Miss Eloise McKinstry, Chicago; Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Winters, Champaign; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Seymour, Mr. Gordon Seymour, Miss Carol Seymour, Irgin; Mr. and Mrs. C. Dwyer, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. J. Scheller, Mr. R. W. Ruth, Mr. E. J. Koebke, Miss Velma A. Scheller, Mr. and Mrs. David Dorman, all of Aurora; Rev. and Mrs. R. N. Montague, Kansas; Miss Lois La Tourrette, London Mills; Mr. James P. Bates, Kewanee; Mr. Theodore McCullough, London Mills; Miss Hazel Hughes, Kansas; W. O. Hendrix, Miss Melva Hendrix, Buckingham; Mrs. C. H. Rumley, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Oster, Grant Park; Albert Stehr and Daughters, Bonfield; Mrs. Chas. Monson, Miss O. N. Chamberlain, Watseka; Mrs. Alice B. Buntain, Mokenca; Mrs. Mary Folds, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Hertz, Mokenca; Mrs. Wm. Cole, Miss Florence Cole, Aurora Park; Mr. W. H. Kimmelschue, Miss Rosella Kimmelschue, Manteno; Mr. Ralph Hertz, Miss Iris Hertz, Mokenca; Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Scheller, Kansas City, Mo.; Miss Jane Spolun, Chicago; Mrs. Carrie Allison, Kansas, Ill.

Mrs. H. S. Schofield and Mrs. B. L. Fitzgerald assisted in ushering the guests to the dining room. The daisies for the decorations were gathered from an open field by Mrs. A. R. Beard and her daughter, Ethel June, at a special request since daisies formed the principal decoration at the wedding twenty-five years ago.

Salt in History

Salt was known to all European nations at a very early period, and the word for salt is almost the same in all languages of Europe. There is mention of salt in the earliest history of the Hebrews, the Greeks, the Hindus and the Egyptians.

"The theatre, after several months, was finished and its doors opened to the public. At no time in the history of Main street was there such an increase in business. Merchants immediately became aware of the fact that new faces were being brought to the town daily and new business was brought to their doors by the theatre.

"There were many other things that happened in this town which started the merchants thinking. Real estate values developed overnight. Adjoining property owners recognized the importance of the new enterprise and made plans for new buildings to replace frame houses that had long outlived their usefulness. Exactly six months after the theatre opened almost a

Local Skepticism

Until the last week or ten days when the Strand building really started to assume shape, local people were rather skeptical of the proposition, having had some previous experience in theatre proposals. A monument, justifying their skepticism, now stands at the corner of South Dearborn and Merchant street.

J. A. Roeder and Edward Olsen, in charge of the Schuyler Avenue Building corporation, builders of the Strand, are cognizant of that skepticism. However, they state, the building will be rushed to completion with all possible speed as they possess a guaranteed lease for the theatre proper from the Public corporation for a term of 15 years with

The story of the city of Harbin resembles that of an American mining or oil town become important overnight. For many years its place on the map was an insignificant one, but with the construction of the railroad in 1903 it became a flourishing city. Because of its strategic position Harbin became an important Russian military center during the Russo-Japanese war.
