SONS LOCATE FATHER AFTER LONG SEARCH

PARENT REFUSES FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE; EVEN A DRINK OF WATER

LEFT 23 YEARS AGO

Sons Believe Father To Be Under
Influence Of A Woman
Who Lives In Same House

They found their father after a search of twenty-three years, only to be turned away from his home without friendly recognition, financial assistance or even a drink of water.

The experience of Theodore and Fred Rumm, 301 North West avenue, this city, who went to Springfield, Ill., Monday to look for their missing parent.

They found their father, John Rumm, a former resident of Kankakee, living at 2005 North Ninth street, Springfield, apparently in good health and excellent financial circumstances, the owner of a new automobile and a home filled with furniture and with money in the bank.

Living in the house with their father, they found Mr. and Mrs. George Hansen, who seem to have a friendly relationship with the father. The two sons believe that their father is living as a man and wife with Mrs. Hansen, while her husband occupies the same house. They believe that their father's unusual behavior is directly due to her influence.

Left Family
Twenty-three years ago, when Theodore Rumm was 3 years of age and when Fred was still an infant of three months, John Rumm deserted his wife and their four children, having previously been employed in Kankakee as a railroad man. He disappeared entirely from their knowledge, leaving his wife to rear her children as best she could. Two of the children have since died, and the mother passed away eight years ago, having exhausted her strength to provide for her children.

Pred Rumm had been in California working for six years and upon his recent return to Kankakee, the two brothers decided to renew the search for their father which had been going on for many years. After many inquiries they went to Springfield Monday with the results given. They returned home last evening, feeling quite bitter against their father and resolved never to show interest in his affairs again. "We've gotten along without him for twenty-three years," they said today. "We can get along without him in the future."

Recognized Father
Although they have no remembrance of their father, the two sons immediately recognized him when they saw him walking home from work yesterday afternoon. They have at home a picture of him which their mother kept all these years in spite of her husband's desertion. The sons recognized him from this picture then went up to him and asked his name. "John Rumm" was the answer they received.

The elder Rumm at first pretended that he did not know the boys, but they believe that he recognized them or at least suspected who they were as a sister of Mrs. Hansen in West Kankakee had sent a telegram to their father previously, informing him that his sons intended to visit them.

During the conversation that followed, however, the elder Rumm admitted that he was their father.

FATHER OF SEVEN COMMITTS SUICIDE

Nashville, Ill., July 30.—(P)—At an inquest here late yesterday into the death of J. A. Meyer, 45, former Nashville night policeman whose lifeless body was found in a pasture one mile east of this city yesterday morning, the coroner's jury returned a verdict that the man came to his death from a self-inflicted wound from a 22 caliber rifle found near the body.

WOULD PROHIBIT RUSSIAN IMPORTS

Washington, July 30.—(P)—The troubled aspect of Russian imports engaged the treasury officials today as Assistant Secretary Lowman considered the latest appeals against the order barring importation of pulpwood from the Soviet republic.

While agitation continued for wholesale prohibition of imports from Russia, authoritative words came that the American government would not take such action.

The recent order barring shipments of Russian pulpwood from the ground it was partially produced by convict labor, met with determined protests yesterday from the Amtorg Trading corporation, which handles Russian trade interests in this country, and from American paper manufacturers, ship owners and charterers as well as an organization of stevedores.

The appellants asked that if the order were not cancelled its application be postponed 90 days to prevent serious loss to the manufacturers, shipping interests and laborers.

A decision on these appeals was promised within two days.

FIRST BRITISH DIRIGIBLE IN ELEVEN YEARS HEADS FOR AMERICA

With four officers and its crew of 40 men, Great Britain's great new dirigible, the R-100, sister ship of the largest air liner in the world, is bound for Canada, the first transatlantic flight undertaken by an English airship in 11 years. Bound for Montreal, the great ship left Cardington, England, after numerous trial flights and improvements in its construction since it was completed several months ago.

R-100 MAKES RAPID TIME OVER OCEAN

BRITISH DIRIGIBLE MAY REACH GOAL, MONTREAL,
THURSDAY NIGHT

3,385-MILE TRIP

Passengers And Crew Not Allowed To Smoke; R. S. Booth In Command

London, July 30.—(P)—Great Britain's mightiest dirigible, the R-100, today plied above the North Atlantic toward Montreal, which she expects to reach sometime tomorrow night or early Friday.

Since leaving her base, Cardington, England, at 3:45 A. M. yesterday (9:45 P. M. Monday by Eastern Standard Time), the airship has made splendid progress.

Advices from the R-100's wireless and from ships at sea, told of the progress on a 3,385 mile trans-Atlantic journey by the first British airship to cross the ocean in 11 hours.

The ship made 60 miles an hour when not bucking too strong winds. The six powerful Rolls Royce motors hummed evenly. The crew and passengers settled down to a normal life, eating, sleeping and chewing gum in lieu of smoking. No one may smoke because of the danger of igniting the inflammable gas which fills the bag.

The airship's route in general is the great circle followed by steamships.

With both short wave and long wave wireless sets, the airship kept in constant communication with steamships or the British air ministry, checking her course and obtaining weather reports.

Forty-four persons, including eight passengers, are aboard the craft. Most noted among them are Sir C. Denistoun Burney, the designer, and Major E. H. Scott, famous airship commander. The commander of the flight, however, is squadron leader R. S. Booth.

The great ship was making good progress and had averaged well over 50 miles an hour throughout the more than 30 hours she has been in the air.

According to the North Atlantic Weather Chart most favorable weather conditions prevailed in the mid Atlantic over which the R-100 now is proceeding.

MAN HELDUP AND ROBBED LAST EVE

A. L. Hammond, 554 East Hickory street, was heldup and robbed about 9:45 o'clock last evening by three armed men who took his wrist, a flash light and between $5 and $6 in cash. The holdup occurred at the foot of Baker's Hill on route 17 east of Kankakee.

Mr. Hammond reported the incident to Sergeant Mike Quigley at police headquarters immediately after the holdup and officers searched the vicinity but were unable to find the men described by Mr. Hammond.

Another holdup near Tucker was reported to Sheriff Ed Hoenicke about a half hour after the Hammond robbery. The sheriff responded to the call but was unable to find either the robbers or the person who had phoned about the robbery.

FOSTER THE MURDERER OF JAKE LINGLE

POLICEMAN WHO CHASED
SLAYER MAKES POSITIVE
IDENTIFICATION TODAY

BEFORE GRAND JURY

Reporter's Executioner Was Traced Through Revolver
Which He Threw Away

Chicago, July 30.—(P)—Frank Foster, Chicago gunman indicted for the slaying June 9 of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, Chicago Tribune Reporter, today was identified positively as the slayer of the newspaperman by policeman Anthony Ruthy who pursued Lingle's assailant across Michigan boulevard from the tunnel, scene of the assassination.

Lingle was slain as he was about to board a suburban train for the race track, by a killer who fired one shot into the reporter's head then fled through the tunnel onto Michigan Boulevard. Patrolman Ruthy, on duty at the Michigan Boulevard intersection, gave chase, but he was eluded in the maze of alleys and by-passes on lower Wacker Drive.

Ruthy's identification of Foster broke with dramatic suddenness in court today as attorneys for Foster sought to obtain his release on bail. The patrolman said he was positive Foster was the man he chased through traffic after Lingle had been slain.

The patrolman did not say why the identification had not been made previous to today's hearing.

Through serial numbers on the killer's gun, a sporting goods dealer was traced and admitted selling the weapon with 11 others to Foster, then a member of the Moran gang of North side hoodlums.

On the basis of this information Foster was indicted for the murder and his arrest ordered. Before the indictment, however, Foster fled to Los Angeles where he was arrested and returned to Chicago.

Ruthy's identification came today as Foster's attorneys were before Judge Daniel Trude with a petition that Foster be admitted to bail pending trial. Murder charges in Illinois permit holding defendants without bail unless counsel can show weakness in the state's case.

Police authorities, while seeing Foster and even after his arrest, have never charged Foster with the killing proper, but sought him in an effort to trace possession of the gun with which the reporter was slain.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license was issued yesterday afternoon in the office of the county clerk to Harney H. Hawkins, 30, Chicago; and Emma Taylor, 60, Chicago.

OIL STATION ROBBED WHILE CROWD IS NEAR

While several hundred people were across the street at the miniature golf course, the Standard Oil company's service station at Indiana avenue and Bourbonnais street was robbed Monday night by three armed bandits who took $65 from D. A. Clark, the attendant in charge.

The three men were in an automobile which was driven up close to the station. Two of the bandits got out of the automobile while the third remained inside. One man stood in the door of the station and kept a watch on the occupants of automobiles nearby, while the other walked up to Clark, produced a gun, ordered the attendant to put up his hands. He then went through the cash drawer.

Besides taking the $65 in cash, the bandit took six gasoline coupon books, three of which are worth $10 each, and the other three are good for $25 each. The two men then returned to their companion in the waiting car and sped away.

ABAIR DIVORCE SUIT DISMISSED

The divorce suit of Arminine Nierde Abair versus Fred Abair, heard before Judge A. W. DeSelm in the circuit court yesterday, was dismissed for want of equity.

In the original bill filed by wife on April 1st, 1930, desertion was charged against the husband. Besides a divorce, she asked that he be given the custody of the three children, Eleanor, 16; Edward, 14; and Louise, 11; and that the husband provide for their maintenance and education.

In the answer filed by the husband through Attorney Anker C. Jensen on May 5th, he charged her with adultery with one Wesley Boudreau and one William Perry.

U. S. BUILDS LARGER SHIP THAN R-100

THE AKRON, NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION, WILL COST
$5,375,000

TO CARRY 16 GUNS

America's Dirigible Will Be Second To None In The World When Completed

Washington, July 30.—(P)—As the world's largest dirigible forced her way across the Atlantic today workmen had passed the halfway mark in the construction of a United States airship larger even than the R-100.

Since aeronautical experts hold nearly every lighter-than-air ship is obsolete by the time it flies, development of the navy's ZRS-4 may make the R-100 an out-dated craft.

Besides being nearly one-third larger than the British dirigible, the American ship named the Akron, will incorporate half a dozen revolutionary features designed to increase its effectiveness. Where the R-100 holds only 5,150,000 cubic feet of gas, the Akron will hold 6,500,000. The Akron will be 785 feet long as contrasted with the R-100's 709 foot length.

The R-100 has cruising radius of about 6,000 miles, but the Akron will be able to fly 10,580 without refueling.

In the Akron, for the first time, there will be an airplane hangar, housing five fast fighting planes for scouting or protective purposes.

Because inflammable hydrogen is the lifting gas in the R-100, the British dirigible's motors must be hung outside the hull of the ship. Eight motors, with shafts running to propellers outside, will be inside the hull of the helium-inflated Akron. These propellers will have a swivel arrangement so they may be used to either push or pull, raise or lower the big gas bag.

For the first time a United States dirigible will carry guns when the Akron takes flight. It will be equipped to carry sixteen 50 calibre machine guns. The average machine gun fires bullets of only 30 calibre.

The Akron is scheduled for completion by next June at a cost of $5,375,000, while a sister ship, the ZRS-5, costing $2,450,000, probably will be finished in the latter part of next year.

DISMISS SUIT TO RECOVER ON NOTE

The suit of John Leuth, surviving partner of Leuth Brothers, against Harry Goodknecht and his mother, Eliza Goodknecht, to recover on a note of $241.75, was dismissed in the county court this morning by Judge Henry P. Ruel when the jury returned a verdict of no cause for action.

The defendants claimed that the note had been paid several years ago. The jury took the case at 3:00 o'clock yesterday afternoon and did not return a verdict until 11:00 o'clock last night. The sealed verdict was affirmed by the jury this morning.

Both clubs were under injunction when agents made a second raid and arrested the four employees on charges of violating the dry law.

MRS. IDA HARVEY ASKS A DIVORCE

A bill for divorce by Mrs. Ida Harvey versus Edmond Harvey was filed today in the office of Circuit Clerk Joe Tolson by Attorney Charles W. Kurtz. A temporary injunction, asked by the wife to prevent her husband from molesting her, was granted today by Judge A. W. DeSelm. Mrs. Harvey resides at 1191 South Schuyler avenue.

The bill asserts that the couple were married at Kankakee January 12, 1907, and that they lived together until March 18, 1930. There is one son, Edward Harvey, age 21.

Mrs. Harvey charges habitual drunkenness and claims her husband while under the influence of liquor attacked her on several occasions and threatened to kill her. After she left him, she claims, he annoyed her on the streets and at various places.

Four representatives of the bank at Geneva, Ill., which was recently heldup and robbed by four armed bandits, viewed Clint Williams in the county jail last night in the hope of identifying him as one of the bandit gang.

AMERICANS AT CHINA IN PERIL

COMMUNISTS AND OTHERS
BOMB AND RANSACK PUBLIC PROPERTY

WARNING IS ISSUED

U. S. Government Demands That
Its Citizens Lives And Valuables Be Protected

Washington, July 30.—(P)—Concern was expressed in Washington today over disquieting reports from war-torn sections of China in which Americans still remained.

Official sources have disclosed that two American missionaries remain in the burning city of Changsha, left behind by American, British and Japanese gunboats. The missionaries, both men, were unnamed in the meagre reports. Both refused to leave.

Meanwhile cables from the American legation at Peking told of an American warning sent the Nanking government against endangering American lives at Talian, where the Nanking forces have been carrying on bombing raids.

"Efforts are being made to have the American citizens at Talian withdrawn," the Nanking foreign office was told by American Consul Adams at Nanking, "however, the American government expects that every precaution will be taken to avoid loss and injury to American lives and property, and should any losses or injury be suffered by American citizens at Talian the American government reserves all rights in the matter."

Only four Americans remain in Talian and consular officers said they were continuing efforts to have them leave. American mission property there is valued at $250,000.

Shanghai, July 30.—(P)—Communists today continued systematic destruction of foreign property in Shanghai, capital of Chinese Province, while they awaited a reply to their demand for $1,000,000 (about $430,000 at current exchange rates) to retain from burning the entire city.

The Reds ceased their indiscriminate burning of all property when they forwarded their demand to bankers and merchants but kept up the carnival of looting foreign institutions and business places and then applying the torch to buildings after distributing to street rabble the loot from the houses of "foreign devils."

Filing the loot in the streets, Communists permitted the mobs to help themselves. What little resistance was offered came from well-to-do Chinese, who were robbed and then either slain or roughly handled.

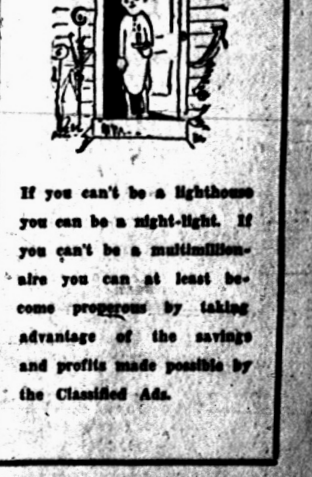

A large part of the city lay in ruins. The fate of Yale college, perhaps the best known foreign institution, remained undetermined. Apparently doomed to destruction were the large office buildings, foreign consulates and residences on an island in the Siang river adjoining the walled city. Among these were the offices of the Standard Oil Company of New York and the Texas company and the British consulate.

Most of the foreigners left the city yesterday on British, American and Japanese gunboats. Because the river was receding rapidly the gunboats were forced to withdraw, leaving millions of dollars worth of foreign property unprotected.

Whether there had been loss of life among the foreign inhabitants was not known, but about 50 were removed on the gunboats before sacking of the city commenced.

Changsha is considered one of the richest and most modern of interior China cities.
